Chapter 631: You Need Me

Kathy gaped. When she came back to her senses, Joseph's scent had already fulfilled her mouth.

His kiss was aggressive and overbearing, and she couldn't escape at all.

His enlarged face was attached to her. As soon Kathy finally returned to her senses, she pushed him away.

However, her strength couldn't be compared to his. Soon, the honks sounded behind their car, so harsh and unpleasant to hear.

"Joseph, are you nuts?" Kathy glared at him in anger.

The man's face was still tightened. He gazed at her gloomily.

He helped her fasten the seat belt and said in an ordering tone, "Sit still."

"No. I want to get off." Kathy wanted to pull away from the seat belt. However, Joseph had already stepped on the gas fiercely. The car roared away.

"I don't live in this neighborhood!" Noticing that Joseph wasn't driving to the Bridges House, Kathy looked at him.

Joseph kept silent. Until half an hour later, the car stopped in front of an apartment.

Joseph pushed the door open and got off, but Kathy was motionless for a long while.

She roughly figured out that it was Joseph's apartment, wondering why he had brought her here.

Probably Zofia was also staying here, wasn't she?

At the thought of it, Kathy didn't want to move at all.

Joseph was running out of patience. He opened the door of the passenger seat, dragging Kathy out of his car directly.

"Do you want me to carry you in?" He squinted dangerously, emanating a frightening aura.

"Isn't Miss Marshall home?" Kathy asked ironically.

"No worries. She doesn't stay here." Joseph curled up his lips into a rare smile.

However, this smile looked quite horrible in Kathy's eyes.

"I'll take a taxi and go home." Kathy turned away.

Joseph seemed to have sensed her movements already. He easily grabbed her wrist. Next second, he carried her in his arms directly.

The chill raised from her ankles. Kathy shivered and held Joseph.

“Stay still.” His words were full of warnings.

"Let me send you back home." Jaydon looked down at Kathy.
She didn't wear any coat, so he took off his jacket and put it on her shoulders. He held her in his arms and took her into his car.
However, Kathy subconsciously pushed him away.
A hint of coldness flashed across Jaydon's eyes. He could tell that Kathy didn't want to stay in his arms.
"I want to be myself." Kathy didn't look at him, lowering her head.
"I won't talk to you on the way. Get in." Jaydon opened the door of the passenger seat for her.
Kathy pressed her lips. After a long while, she finally sat in gradually.
On the way, Jaydon didn't talk to her as he promised. Kathy was leaning against the back of the seat, feeling that all her strength was fully sucked out. She gradually closed her eyes.
Joseph's kiss kept flashing through her mind. His scent and temperature completely enveloped her.
When she suddenly opened her eyes, she found that they had arrived at the Bridges House.
Jaydon gazed at her face.
"Thank you for sending me home," said Kathy in a light tone.
She was about to get off, but Jaydon reached out his hand to stop her.

“Jaydon?”

“Why did you go to see him?” asked Jaydon in a solemn tone.

Kathy was taken aback, meeting Jaydon’s eyes. She didn’t answer, though.

She didn’t know how to explain her relationship with Joseph.

They hadn’t had anything to with each other long ago.

But just now, what happened between them was way too ambiguous.

“I almost had an accident. Coincidentally, Dr. Joseph was there,” Kathy answered in a flat tone.

That was the fact.

“Is it a coincidence for real?” Jaydon’s tone was cold.

Chapter 633: He Understood

In the following days, Kathy stayed in Booth Group. When she was sleepy, she would take a nap in the lounge. Basically, she was busy dealing with Booth Group's crisis.

Until the third day, Kathy received a call from Jaydon.

"Kathy, I'm sorry. I have a lot of surgeries recently, so I haven't contacted you." Jaydon's voice contained the unconcealed tiredness and hoarseness.

"I'm also quite busy recently." Kathy closed her eyes, all kinds of data and words fulfilling her mind.

Suddenly, she felt that it was so pleasant to deal with the patients.

"What's wrong?"

"I've been in Booth Group working recently."

On the other end of the line, Jaydon paused. It seemed that he had changed a place to talk.

"Do you need any funds? I can help you..."

"Jaydon, I've troubled you too much. No, thanks. Really," Kathy interrupted his words.

"In the following months, I'll be transferred abroad." Jaydon's voice sounded a bit disappointed.

Upon hearing it, Kathy was quite calm.

Coincidentally, she couldn't make any time seeing him in recent days.

Now, she didn't have any idea how to face Jaydon.

She didn't know how to continue being together with him. She had thought that she could disobey her will and try to love him.

However, as soon as Joseph showed up, she clearly realized that only Joseph was the man who could mess up her emotion from the beginning to the end.

"Let's talk after you come back, then."

"I might need to be gone for several months. I'm going to the North Pole."

"That far?" Kathy was shocked.

"Yes. I'm missing you, Kathy," Jaydon muttered.

"Jaydon, why don't we just separate for a while?" Kathy said, trying to be hard-hearted.

"I don't agree. Kathy, I would never agree! Wait for me to come back!" Jaydon's voice contained the hysteria.

Kathy pressed her lips. "Okay. I'll wait for you to come back."

Chapter 634: You Can't Come and Go so Freely

In her heart, Kathy truly had a lot of questions to ask him. She wanted to ask how Ella had passed away, if he had been together with Zofia, if the child was his, and what his relationship with Annika now.

However, she couldn't find any right to ask him those questions. If his answer upset her, she'd rather never know anything at the beginning.

"Don't be regretful after Booth Group is doomed."

Joseph turned around, quickly disappearing from Kathy's sight.

However, his words were branded on Kathy's heart, making her frozen.

Right then, her cell phone rang. It was a call from Karl.

"Hello, Dad."

"Hello, Kathy. I'm afraid I can't go back to Country F in a short time. But don't worry, Reece Bridges the bastard wouldn't go back either. I'm afraid you need to take care of Jennifer for a while."

"I will. Have you encountered any trouble?" Kathy asked nervously.

"Yeah. I've trapped that bastard. I'll get back the power in Europe from his hands gradually."

Kathy was surprised. She hadn't expected that Karl could come this far.

Reece was the only child in the Bridges family. As a matter of fact, all things of this family belonged to him. If Karl managed to take back those things from Reece's hands, Kathy was curious to know who would succeed those things in the future.

However, Kathy didn't worry about those matters too much. The thing that she was worried about was that Reece would expose the evidence of her mother's crime.

Besides, if this matter had something to do with him, could they also gather the evidence of his crime?

However, Karl was Reece's father. Kathy was afraid that Karl wouldn't be willing to do that.

After hanging up the phone, Kathy couldn't calm down at all.

Her mother was framed. It was Reece who had committed the crime.

However, upon her capability now, she couldn't find anything.

Suddenly, she thought of Alberta. Probably she could ask Alberta to help her look into the matter.

Alberta was quite efficient. However, all things that Reece had done were carried out abroad. Hence, she couldn't find quite a lot of useful information.

“Mr. Joseph, what do you want?” Kathy suppressed her anger and asked patiently.

“Sit down,” Joseph ordered.

Kathy pressed her lips, standing motionlessly.

“If you want to know any latest news about Jaydon, you must stay here with me.”

Kathy turned to look at the man. After a long while, she sat back down.

Joseph was dealing with the documents. He had a lot of duties. Besides seeing the patients, he would do other jobs at the same time. He even had to squeeze the time to break every day.

Time passed by. After talking business with Alberta, Kathy gradually felt sleepy.

She hadn’t had enough sleep in the past few days. The temperature in Joseph’s office was just right and it was very quiet. Kathy felt that her eyelids became heavier and heavier...

After reading a report, Joseph looked up, only to find Kathy titled her head while leaning against the sofa, facing him.

Right then, she didn’t look so aloof as usual. Her outlines were softened.

His tightened face was relaxed slightly as well. Putting down his report, he approached her step by step. Then he stopped one meter away from her.

“Kathy...”

His mutter was still full of doting as it was before.

Kathy didn’t wake up until two hours later. She rubbed her eyes and suddenly widened them.

She wondered when she had fallen asleep.

And... she was sleeping on Joseph’s lap.

She screamed and sat up, turning to look at Joseph, who looked a bit surprised with a slight frown.

“You...” Kathy was about to question him. From the corner of her eyes, she saw the notebook in front of him. She couldn’t utter any sound at all.

She met a group of doctors' gaze.

It turned out that Joseph was in a video conference.

Immediately, she turned around and cast a glance at Joseph. Then she lay prone down and hid from the camera.

"Go ahead." Kathy managed to control her emotions and looked at him soberly.

However, Joseph didn't say anything.

In the line of sight, it was the long-built man who was approaching step by step. Kathy suddenly trembled, only to realize that at some point, Joseph was already standing behind her, and his hands were wrapping around her slender waist.

His palm was slowly pressing down on her lower abdomen. Last time, she was not sure about Joseph's intentions, but this time, she really knew what he wanted completely.

He wanted to have sex with her.

The tears fell suddenly, and she couldn't help but push him away.

The next moment, she raised her hand and wanted to slap his handsome face, but the man's palm clasped her wrist first.

Kathy's eyes were blurred with tears as she looked at his cold and handsome face.

"You are already with Zofia." She said angrily.

How could Joseph how could he let her be a mistress?

"Well, so what?" Joseph narrowed his eyes and his words were cruel in the extreme.

Kathy felt a great weight of sorrow inside her.

She wanted to struggle away from him, but he simply had her in his grip.

"Can't Zofia and Annika satisfy your sexual desire?" Kathy's voice already tinged with despair and sorrow.

Joseph frowned slightly, and his smile on his thin lips grew cold, "They, neither of them, are you."

"Since you don't want to, then go back." Noticing the disgust on Kathy's face, Joseph's desire disappeared completely.

As soon as he released his hand, Kathy instantly stumbled and fell down. Her eyes were red and she seemed to have no strength to even stand up.

Thinking of Jaydon, if it was because of her he had been transferred to the North Pole...

Chapter 637 More Like Torture

After leaving Booth Group, Kathy got into the car, but didn't start the engine for a long time.
She remembered Joseph's apartment address, of course, but it took her a long time to step on the gas.
The rush hour had passed, but there was still traffic congestion, so Kathy drove slowly.
It wasn't until more than an hour later that she drove to Joseph's apartment.
She had seen advertisements for this mansion on the streets of Country F. Security was tight, but probably because Joseph had informed them, Kathy got in unhindered and went straight to the top floor.
She wondered if she would be free when he went back to City N, since Joseph would not be in Country F all the time.
In that case, suddenly she felt less uncomfortable.
She didn't know why they came to such a state.
Kathy smiled bitterly. She didn't even move her things, but she went straight to the master bedroom and opened the closet. Then she found several sets of new women's pajamas were neatly placed, all in her size.

Just as she was stunned, there was a commotion in the living room.

Kathy went out barefoot, and Joseph had just come in. He unbuttoned his shirt with one hand. When he saw her, his thin lips curled into a smile, "Good girl."

Kathy leaned against the door and looked at the succinctly decorated house. Compared to their wedding room in City N, there was no warmth here.

"Are you planning to live in Country F for a long time?" Kathy asked offhandedly.

Yes." Joseph's words made Kathy, who had been a little cheered, suddenly depressed.

Kathy didn't know when he had walked up to her. He lowered his head and kissed her lips and smiled lightly, "unhappy?"

"No." Kathy put on a fake smile.

"Zofia will know about our relationship, right?"

"No."

Chapter 638 Never Turn Back

Perhaps because of the pain, or perhaps because of the lack of strength, Kathy didn't stand up.
She bit her lip and dropped her eyes because she didn't want to betray one's weakness in front of Joseph.
Half a day later, Joseph finally sighed and picked her up from behind.
Kathy remained motionless for a long time before she said in a dumb voice, "I will break up with him."
This is what she thought all along, that she was not good enough for Jaydon.
Joseph, as if he hadn't heard, just carried her back to bed, put on a robe and went out on the balcony.
The spring temperature is already a bit stifling, and the sound of robins cannot be heard in the big city with its tall buildings.
He slowly lit the cigarette at his fingertips and took a deep puff.
The fresh smell of smoke lingered repeatedly between the nostrils until it penetrated from the throat into the viscera.
He would like to look back, but between them, in addition to a clear glass, there was a long, long distance between them.
No longer able to turn back.
Standing at the highest point, the dazzling night scenery can easily be printed into the eyes, as if everything is under their control, including - Kathy.
But he did not feel a little bit of pleasure, not at all.

He thought of the days after their marriage three years ago, and even after the divorce, when they were intimate and entwined and much happier than they were now.

After a cigarette gradually burned to the end, he finally turned around and pushed open the door, directly changed into a shirt and left the apartment.

Kathy was a little surprised that even at such a desperate time she could still fall asleep and get up at seven o'clock on time to see her mother and then go to work at Booth Group.

Kathy smiled awkwardly, "Are you awake?"

Joseph walked to her with his long legs. His eyes were deep and his face was impassive.

"You've been sitting out all night?"

Kathy stepped back slightly. She nodded and then immediately shook her head, "No, I just came out to get some water."

A faint smile was on Joseph's face, "There's a glass of water at the bedside too."

Kathy was stunned, avoided his gaze, and let out a deep breath. She suddenly hugged his waist and whispered, "It's still early, you can go back to sleep for a while."

In fact, she wasn't sure if this move would work on Joseph.

But Joseph's reaction still made Kathy relieved that he didn't push her away, instead he wrapped his arms around her thin waist and took her back to her room as well.

After lying down, Kathy gradually felt somewhat sleepy. She turned over and shrank towards the side of the bed. Then she heard Joseph's deep voice, "Kathy"

"Hmm?"

"You're pleasing me." His tone was definite.

She was sleepy and Joseph's voice was so low that Kathy didn't hear it too well and mumbled, "What?"

Joseph did not speak, but reached out and held her tightly in his arms.

Kathy moved restlessly and soon fell into sleep.

But in the darkness, Joseph did not close his eyes. She curled into a small ball in his arms and her whole face almost buried in his chest. He could not see her expression at all.

So he moved slightly and lifted her little face up. When the morning light outside the window filtered in, he clearly saw the dark circle under her eyes.

In fact, he could feel that she had been insomnia these days.

At that moment, like being touched gently by something, Joseph was suddenly overwhelmed by a hint of sadness.

How long didn't she have a good night?

He didn't wake her up and moved gently.

Hearing this, the man's deep gaze fell on Kathy and his thin lips curled slightly.

"I'll arrange to remove the news, but you need to accompany me to a place." He raised his chin and used a tone of command.

Kathy sneered in her heart. Could she refuse?

"Okay."

Joseph had already stood up and his tall figure approached. His handsome face stopped less than a millimeter away from her lips. His tone was seductive. "I'll give you an hour to prepare."

Kathy nodded. When she thought that she didn't have anything in Joseph's apartment, she went back to the Bridges House and simply packed her luggage. It had been a long time since the family had been occupied, and it was very deserted.

Karl dealt with Reece in Europe, and the date of his return was unsettled. Kathy still felt worried.

Before leaving, Kathy wanted to go to the hospital, but it was too late. Joseph asked her to go to his apartment, and Kathy hurried over again.

She still needed to pack some trivial daily necessities. Kathy was putting the phone charger into her suitcase when Joseph's leisurely voice was heard behind. "There's no need to bring a phone."

The footsteps were getting closer and closer. The man reached out his hand and threw the phone charger to the side.

His palm grazed her arm. The moment their skin touched, he could clearly feel her coldness.

His finger paused. He frowned slightly and repeated, "That's enough."

Kathy quietly pulled out her hand and raised her eyes slightly. "I want to know about Mom."

Joseph clearly did not agree.

Kathy suddenly laughed in self-deprecation." That's right. If something happens, you'll know. There's nothing you don't know anyway."
