My Sweetheart

Chapter 691 We are of the Same Family

Kathy was silent, and didn't come to her senses for a long while.

She knew Joseph's ability. He can definitely let her brother continue to serve his sentence.

However, she didn't want her brother to go in again.

She found him with great difficulty. ,

"Even so, I want to stay with my brother." Kathy murmured.

Joseph's eyes finally burst into an icy chill, "Kathy, will you never look back and leave with him?"

There was a determined look on the woman's beautiful face, without any hesitation.

When this woman was cruel, she was more calm than when she was stubborn.

Joseph's face changed, and in the end there was nothing but apathy on it, "Kathy, if you don't go back with me, I can only use some methods."

"What if I refuse? Are you going to force me again?"

That time, after all, cast a shadow on her heart.

"So, listen to me." He lowered his eyes and his face was sullen.

At this time, the elevator door opened. It was not on the eighth floor, but still on the same floor. Her brother came outside.

He rushed over as soon as he received the notice from the bodyguard.

"Kathy." He coldly looked at Joseph's hand that was holding Kathy, "Joseph, your people are all here. Do you must take my sister away?"

Seeing Marlon, Joseph was not surprised, his tone was full of mockery, "Actually, after you taking her away from me, you know that I would bring her back."

He paused, "If you really want us to break up, you should send her back to London immediately. There, I might not be able to get close for a while. But you keep her here, so you just use her to contain me."

Joseph glanced at Kathy and nodded. His voice was low, "Okay, we live here."

There was always a faint smile on Kathy's face. She didn't object.

The man had been looking at her. And suddenly his eyes became cold. When she smiled, she seemed to be wearing a mask.

At night, Kathy realized that she was facing a very embarrassing problem. She will sleep in a bedroom with Joseph...

If she were in Joseph Bay, she could let him sleep in the guest room openly. But according to the current attitude of Mathew, it will make them feel that she was demonstrating.

She should leave a way open for the future.

So after taking a shower, she calmly said, "Joseph, I'm sorry that you need to sleep on the floor. Don't worry, I will make a bed on the floor for you."

His bedroom layout was very spacious, but there was not even a larger sofa. This sofa was very crowded when she slept on it.

Wearing a large black bathrobe, he twitched his lips and said, "You behave virtuous, but let your husband sleep on the floor? Kathy, do you misunderstand the word 'virtuous'?"

Kathy put on a false smile. "We are a couple who have been divorced a long time ago. You have been lying to me. I have shown extremely forbearance... What are you doing!!"

The man already turned off the ceiling light and turned on a bedside lamp. Then his tall body lay on the bed, "I only promised not to touch you. As for sleeping on the floor? Kathy, even if I have sexual desire for you all the time, I will keep my word. Unless you seduce me, otherwise I can control myself."

Kathy pursed her lips. It was okay to sleep together. She wasn't worried that he will break his promise.

So she also lifted the quilt and went to bed, but was taken into a hot embrace as soon as she lay down.

Kathy suddenly quivered, "Joseph, you said you wouldn't touch me!"

The man adjusted her position and let Kathy to lean more comfortably, and said warmly, "Do you need me to show you the meaning of 'touch'?"

Listening to Kathy's voice, Jaydon only felt his heart softened. He was about to speak, and a few men in black suits suddenly ran over from the corner of his mouth. His eyes suddenly became cold.

Kathy did not hear his answer for a long time, nor did he hang up the phone, so she asked in confusion,
"Dr Young, what's the matter?"

But what she heard was not Jaydon's voice, but a thick and indifferent male voice, "Young master, master ask us to take you back, please."

Then the phone was hung up.

Kathy was stunned. Those people was from the Young family?

She remembered that Jaydon and Mrs Young had left the Young family, so what happened now?

Kathy sat there for a while, and then got out of bed quickly. She hurriedly took a suit and put it on. After washing herself, she opened the bedroom door and went out.

She ran down the stairs, but she suddenly stopped.

In the bright living room, sunshine filtered in through the floor-to-ceiling windows. The light was soft and hazy.

The handsome and elegant man was sitting on the sofa, looking down at the tablet in his hand. The young girl next to him was holding a magazine. Her head was almost in the man's arms, and there was a smile on her beautiful face.

They should be discussing something and were all in good spirits. This scene looked very harmonious.

Although the man had always been indifferent toward Maryam, but he didn't reject her. At first glance, they seemed a bit like a loving newly married couple.

Kathy was expressionless, and then continued to step down the stairs.

Her movement was a bit loud, so both of them heard her footsteps.

Chapter 694 Don't Hurt Her Again

Joseph parked his car in front of the Young family's villa, He looked at the time with a sullen handsome face, "Kathy, you only have ten minutes."

Kathy got out of the car quickly, just as she didn't hear it.

After ringing the doorbell, an elderly servant soon came over and said, "May I ask who you are?"

Kathy smiled, "I'm Jaydon's friend, I want to ask him something."

Kathy followed her in. The villa was very quiet. She thought it would not be easy to see Jaydon. But when she came in, she didn't see anyone and the servant took her directly to Jaydon's bedroom.

She just knocked on the door, and the door was suddenly smashed by something, and then there was the sound of the cup falling to the ground, "don't you understand what I say? Get out!"

Kathy bit her lip, and after a while, she said in a low voice, "Dr Young, it's me."

It was quiet for a while, and then the door was slowly opened.

Kathy's eyes widened. She had never seen Jaydon like this before.

He looked fierce, even if he had restrained a lot in front of her now.

Jaydon looked at the woman standing in front of him. She looked at him helplessly, "Dr Young, you...what happened to you?"

He was wearing a white shirt, but his eyes were filled with sadness and deep hostility.

"I'm fine. Why did you come here? Joseph came with you?"

As he said, he walked out and took her out immediately, "I will send you out."

Kathy didn't move, "Jaydon, what can I do to help? Even if I can't help, my mother might be able to help..."

Jaydon looked at her deeply. The delicate and handsome man smiled faintly at the moment, and his voice was very hoarse, "Nothing. I might stay in the Young family in the future."

Vivian raised her head and kissed the man's face, and explained, "Don't worry. I have been wary of him, nothing happened."

Seeing that Marlon's face was not so cold, Vivian raised her delicate cheek and rubbed his chin, "Don't be angry, okay?"

He put his arms around her slender waist, and firmly pinched her chin with his other hand. His handsome face was so charming, and he was bewitching her, "Do you know why I am angry?"

She suddenly dared not look directly into his eyes. This man could bewitch people with ease. However, it was very aggressive. Her heart was beating, but her tone was dull, "Marlon, I counted and found your sentence seems to have not expired..."

"Well, so if my identity is discovered, you will also be implicated." A joking smile touched the corner of his mouth.

Vivian turned pale, and hugged the man tightly, "I won't let you have an accident."

In Joseph's residence.

Kathy read the news on the Internet. She originally didn't pay attention to it, but because a familiar face made the headlines, she took a few more glances.

Darius Ross, who was a president of an overseas listed company, had recently been exposed to various scandals, and the company's stock price had also been dropped sharply.

Kathy knew he was Vivian's boyfriend.

She hadn't contacted Vivian for a long time. Vivian also didn't respond to her on the phone or WeChat. This friend seemed to have disappeared suddenly.

Kathy recently asked other colleagues in the hospital and found out that she had also left.

This assistant had been with her for three years. Apart from being colleagues, they were still very good friends. Kathy was very worried about her.

Chapter 696 Am I not Good to You?

Kathy frowned. She really felt that the fish soup had a strong fishy smell.

Joseph calmly looked at her wrinkled face. He had drunk Maryam's soup. It tasted deliciously, not at all inferior to the chef that Joseph family specially invited.

She didn't want to call Mathew Grandpa just now.

Maybe she just didn't want to be with him, so she found so many excuses, even a bowl of fish soup became her excuse.

Maryam pouted her small mouth, her crisp voice was a little unstable, "Sister-in-law, I know you have opinions on me, but this is the soup that grandpa personally gave you. Although grandpa usually looks cold, he really loves you. You should let go of the things in the past..."

When Kathy just wanted to refute that she hadn't opinions on her, but she was overcome with a feeling of nausea. She couldn't help it, and immediately went to the bathroom.

She really shouldn't have had that bowl of soup just now, she really couldn't stand the taste...

Maryam stared blankly at Kathy who left and her tears could not help falling. Her delicate face was full of forbearance and grievances, "Joseph, I'm sorry, I don't know my sister-in-law hates me so much. She even doesn't want to eat the food I cook."

Mathew suddenly threw his chopsticks on the table, and the smile on his face disappeared immediately, leaving only a cold mockery, "I really can't get along your wife. I have pleased and apologized to her, I have done everything. Your grandfather has never been embarrassed like this in my life. If she doesn't want to live here, you can take her back to Joseph Bay or somewhere. You have many places to live anyway."

Joseph's black brows furrowed and his face was gloomy. He stood up and said indifferently, "Grandpa, she's just angry with me, don't take it to heart."

Mathew was already angry. "She even vomited when she just drank some soup. Does she hate us so much? If she is angry with you, you two should argue in the bedroom. Maryam is busy every day to please her. , Or she still thinks I hurt her before, so I need to please her in the future!"

Maryam hurriedly persuaded, "Grandpa, don't be angry, my sister-in-law is not angry with you. She just hates me, because I have been too close to Joseph recently. She should be jealous. Women are all like this."

In the next second, Joseph's face suddenly became colder, "Maryam, you shut up."

Kathy lowered her head. She pulled her hand back with great strength and rubbed her red wrist. She sniffed and then wanted to leave.

But the man's big hand clasped her shoulder tightly.

He just wanted to turn her body around, but when they were pulling and pushing, Kathy only felt dizzy for a while. Then she didn't have any strength at all, and was about to fall down.

Joseph suddenly panicked, holding her waist up and picking her up. His voice suddenly changed from angry to panic, "Kathy..."

She was fine just now. Why she fainted all of a sudden?

He didn't know when she had become very pale, which looked scary.

Joseph immediately hugged her up to the bedroom on the second floor, and when he passed the living room, he immediately ordered the servant to let the doctor come over.

Kathy was put on the bed by him. When she opened his eyes, she saw the man was surprised and angry.

A thought immediately broke into her mind, and her eyes widened.

"Joseph." She called his name, and there was a subtle tremor in her voice that could not be ignored.

He thought she was uncomfortable, so he leaned over immediately, "What's wrong? The doctor will be here later. Be good, wait a while."

In fact, she didn't feel very uncomfortable. She was nauseated and dizzy just now, but now she lay down for a while and felt fine.

Kathy grabbed his shirt and curled her fingers. She opened her lips several times and then she said softly, "I caught a cold last night, so I had a cold. Don't let the doctor come here. I am a doctor, so I know my body. I just need to take some medicine and take a break, then I'll be fine."

Joseph scolded her, "Nonsense, when did you catch a cold?"

Kathy was a little afraid to look into Joseph's eyes, and said lightly, "You keep the air conditioner on every night to let me sleep in your arms. It's not surprising that I have a cold."

Joseph paused suddenly. There was a bit of annoyance on his face.

He adjusted the temperature for her, and asked the servant to change the quilt, and then he held her tightly.

Kathy closed her eyes tiredly, "I just want to rest when I have a cold. I'll be fine after a while. Don't let the doctor come."

Joseph put her in the co-driver, and she quickly leaned in the seat and fell asleep dazedly.
The man frowned and looked at her. She was getting more and more lethargic recently, or was she just uncomfortable?
Kathy woke up when the car stopped and opened her eyes in a daze, "We arrived?"
While talking, she unfastened her seat belt.
Joseph leaned over and grabbed her hand, and asked lowly, "We go back to Joseph Bay, okay?"
Kathy blinked, and it took a long time to recover. She shook her head, "No, we live in the old house."
"You don't like it there."
Kathy turned her face, "I want to live in the old house during this time."
Joseph squeezed her chin strongly and gradually tightened his fingers, "Kathy, go back to Joseph Bay, it is our home."

She didn't like living in Joseph's residence. Why she insisted on living here?

Kathy just lay on his shoulders, closed her eyes and lazily said, "I'm tired, take me back to the room."

Joseph lifted her all the way. Kathy was really tired. Although she took a break in the car just now, she didn't sleep well because of the uncomfortable posture.

She took a bath and changed to her pajamas before she fell asleep.

"Kathy, are you uncomfortable? Why do you always want to sleep, huh?" He frowned.

Recently, he always obeyed her. He should insist on going to the hospital for a physical examination just now. Even if there was nothing wrong, she should have a general check-up.

Kathy closed her eyes, buried her cheeks in the quilt, and said lowly, "I am on my period, so I'm very tired."

After a pause, she added specifically, "Some women are easily sleepy when they are on their period. Don't make a fuss all the time."

Chapter 699 Stopped Pleasing Her

Kathy knew that Joseph only made a diagnosis without performing operations. He was reducing his workload to accompany her.

Or...because her attitude had become soft after she got pregnant again, so he didn't want to please her anymore?

No, just making a phone call didn't mean that she was pleasing him...

Her chin rested on her knees. She listened to the cold female voice coming from the phone over and over again, but no one answered.

She also got angry and became a little stubborn. She made four or five calls, but no one answered. Finally, she threw away the phone and stood up and went back to the bedroom.

She had insomnia at night. It was too cold when the air conditioner was turned on, but she felt uncomfortable if she didn't turn it on. She was always uncomfortable no matter how she slept. She had slept for a long time in the afternoon, and now she was even more irritable and couldn't sleep at all.

When she got up the next day, she could only see Maryam and Mathew when she went downstairs to eat breakfast, but she didn't see the man who appeared in front of her almost day and night this month.

Kathy asked the servant to serve a bowl of porridge. She bowed her head, ate a few mouthfuls, and asked faintly, "Maryam, where is your brother?"

She probably didn't rest well and her voice was a little hoarse.

Maryam's black and white eyes rolled. It seemed that this question was difficult to answer. Kathy glanced at Mathew, but Mathew didn't respond and just drank soy milk intently.

Kathy gradually had no mood, and she didn't continue to ask wittily.

Maryam said in a low voice, "Sister-in-law, it's not that I don't want to tell you, but because it's Joseph's work, so I can't talk nonsense. When Joseph comes back, you can ask him."

Kathy thought this woman's subtext was too easy to understand. She meant that even if Joseph comes back, he won't tell her.

She sneered and said nothing.

Chapter 700 Don't Be Willful

Joseph looked down at her clean cheeks without any pores. Kathy opened her eyes quietly. He didn't know what she was thinking.

He couldn't see through her, he didn't like this feeling very much.

Joseph threw away the hair dryer, pinched her cheek with his fingers, and bowed his head to kiss her.

Kathy's long eyelashes touched his face. She did not struggle, nor did she have any anger or disgust. She was silent but well-behaved.

The next second, Joseph immediately buckled her waist and pressed her under him, "Kathy."

When she came to her senses, Kathy immediately turned her face to avoid his next movement, "Joseph, don't forget what you promised me. If you dare to touch me, I will leave tomorrow!"

Joseph curled his eyebrows and his tone suddenly became gloomy. "You didn't allow me to touch you but you allow me to kiss you. Kathy, are you hypocritical?"

Kathy calmly said, "Then I won't let you kiss next time. Then I won't be hypocritical."

The man pressed on her and looked at the woman in nightdress under him. The shoulder strap had been pulled off by him just now, and her beautiful breasts were partly hidden and partly visible.

His Adam's apple rolled and his jaw was set.

It took Kathy a lot of strength to push him away, "My hair is dry. I want to sleep."

She slid between the sheets again and faced the window.

Joseph looked at the woman who was too quiet and pain gradually clutched at his heart. There was only more than a month left...

If...

He came over to hug her tightly and whispered in her ear, "Kathy, listen to me, don't go out during this period."

Kathy sat up suddenly and stared at him with clear eyes, "Where are you going?"

When Joseph watched she exploded suddenly, his heart missed a beat. His handsome face was expressionless. "I just go to deal with something about the hospital. You didn't ask me before. What's the matter?"
