Chapter 71 Compromise

“Joseph...” His heart softened when Kathy spoke in a soft and coquettish tone.

“Since when did you start the investigation? I have no clue about it.” She asked him.

“That’s because you didn’t pay attention on me.” Joseph sneered at her.

Kathy was confused as they were supposed to be just contract couple, were they supposed to put so much attention on each other?

The disappointment beyond her eyes slipped through, “Anyway, thank you for helping me this time.” Kathy said.

“NCHV was under my property, I will still investigate no matter who is involved.”

“I see.” Kathy’s disappointed grew even deeper.

So it wasn’t just because of her.

But it was better for them as they were not supposed to be too close in the first place.

Kathy was lying in Joseph arms dizzily. The aftereffect of alcohol was gushing up and her cheeks were flushed.

The drunken Kathy looked much more gentle and vulnerable than usual.

Joseph squinted as he remembered that Kathy drank a lot. He lifted her face with slight anger, “How dare you drink so much even knowing that you can’t drink?”

“I thought Johnson brought me here to socialize...” Kathy frowned.

“If Johnson really brought someone stupid like to socialize, then NCHV will sure collapse soon.” Joseph smirked.

As expected, Kathy felt embarrassed.

She knew that she was not good at business but did Joseph really need to be so honest.

“No matter how bad the situation will be, I still have you.” Kathy sulked.

“You trust me that much?”

Kathy nodded confidently, she really had a feeling that Joseph was invincible.

Joseph smiled, his slender fingers pressed against Kathy’s face, and she slowly closed her eyes and completely drunk.

Back to the old mansion, Kathy was carried inside by Joseph. The bathroom was ready and Joseph instructed the maid to bath Kathy.

Chapter 72 Business Trip With Him

Alexia taught her some knowledge before. She told her when Joseph got horny and if he didn't take care of it himself, then taking a cold shower was the best way.

Looking at his back, Kathy spoke faintly, "Do you want to take a cold shower?"

Joseph's face was straight. Didn't this woman know that her voice was charming?

"Shut up!" He forced himself to close his eyes.

Kathy didn't dare to utter a word anymore, but she subconsciously moved closer to him.

Kathy was proven innocent and officially went back to NCHV.

But this time, everyone looked at her differently.

It was filled with fear and reverence.

After all, this matter was apparently investigated by Johnson himself, so everyone know that Kathy was special.

A week later, Joseph accompanied Kathy to go to the court to testify against Sammy Champs.

Outside the court, they ran into Peter and Herbert.

"Kathy, you are really cold-blooded." Peter spoke coldly.

Kathy frowned, "I'm not even close to your one ten thousandth."

"At any rate, my mum had taken much care of you. Do you know that if she really goes to jail, she won't be able to bear it!" Peter clenched his fist with his eyes reddened.

“If you really care so much about Auntie Champs, then why don’t you agree with my conditions, I don’t think it is difficult for you, it just depends on whether you are willing or not.” Kathy entered the court indifferently after finished her words.

Peter was stunned. Apologized publicly? It was impossible for him to do so as the current president of Herbert Group.

“Peter, Kathy really has changed.” Herbert squinted.

“If my mum really goes to jail, I won’t let her go!”

Two hours later, the trial was over and without any surprise Sammy was punished and sentenced to five years in prison.

Peter applied for a delay of imprisonment, and the judge granted her permission to get treatment first due to her current poor mental condition.

“I don’t agree.” Kathy declined.

Why on earth she had to go on a business trip with him just because he wanted her to do so.

“I heard your opinion, but I don’t accept.” Joseph’s voice became deeper.

Kathy hung up the phone straight away. This man was a tyrant!

She took a deep breath while looking at the email. It was a direct order from the President’s office and since it was Joseph’s request, there was no way she could reject.

This made her feel even mad as she didn’t promise to go on a business trip with him from the beginning.

She didn't go home after work but directly went to eat hotpot with Alexia.

"Kathy, what you did really hurt Joseph. Wake up!" Alexia persuaded. Going on a business trip with Joseph was a rare opportunity that countless people wanted to grab on.

But it was spurned by Kathy like this...

"Don't you think he's gone too far? I didn't even promise to go with him last night, and he directly gave me an order today. He didn't even care about my feelings."

What she needed was being respected and understood but now everything was decided by him alone and she couldn't even reject.

Chapter 74 Become The Real Husband And Wife

Just that when Joseph asked her like this, she couldn't help but reply him coldly, "I just don't want you to interfere my job."

"You're my wife." Joseph said with a deep voice.

"That's just a title."

As soon as she finished her words, Joseph suddenly carried her up. Kathy screamed and could only hug his neck.

She was thrown onto the bed and was pressed down by Joseph.

"Since Mrs. Joseph is dissatisfied, should I do something to make us the real husband and wife?" Joseph said with his long fingers curled and pressed against Kathy's chest.

Kathy was blushed with shame and she raised her foot to kick him away.

Joseph had predicted her reaction, and held her ankle with his other hand. Kathy couldn't move an inch.

Moreover, Joseph's hand was injured, so Kathy didn't dare to push any harder.

"That's not what I mean!" Kathy was irritated.

"Then what do you mean?" Joseph asked her patiently.

"We supposed to have clean relationship." Kathy said with a deep voice.

Kathy was stunned, so this man pretended to be asleep?

“You need to get up...” Kathy said while trembling, she had nowhere to escape.

Joseph responded, but didn’t let go of Kathy with his chin resting on her shoulder.

The doorbell rang. Kathy immediately pushed him away.

She had ordered room service. They set off to the conference room after having breakfast.

As an expert, Joseph was assigned to a special seat, as for Kathy, she was seated on the other side.

Since she had done preparation beforehand, she somehow managed to catch up with the conference.

Joseph was sitting on the front row, occasionally asking and answering questions. He was so eye catching when he was on the stage.

Kathy was attracted by his charm.

At that moment, a man sat down next to her, his voice was somewhat familiar.

“We meet again.” Billy twitched his lazy peach blossom eyes.

Kathy was stunned and surprised.

This was a very professional question in medical field. Kathy wasn't a specialist in that field and she didn't know much about neurosurgery. Was Joseph did it purposely?

She gave him a whining look.

But Joseph's face remained extremely cold, she bit her lips, felt like she was going to be embarrassed.

At that moment, Billy who was beside her took the microphone.

"Levetiracetam is an anti-epileptic drug, it almost never cause foetal deformities. The best way is to take folic acid and vitamins as supplement during pregnancy."

Kathy was confused, didn't Billy just say that he wasn't an expert.

"This gentleman is right..." The host quickly took over the microphone and walked back to the stage.

Joseph's gaze still remained on the two of them.

Kathy lowered down her head, she could clearly sense Joseph's anger even they were so far away.

"I've helped you again, Ms. Kathy, so it seems like one meal won't be enough." Billy teased her.

"Two meals then." Kathy was not in the mood to reply him.

Kathy's eyes widened, she immediately pushed him away, but her hand just happened to grip his pecs.
Kathy lowered down her head, her cheeks blushed in shyness.

“What should I do with it?” Joseph narrowed his eyes, and suddenly rolled over, holding Kathy's hand.

Kathy closed her eyes, a strange feeling surged all around her body, although she didn't drink but she felt like she was drunk.

“Joseph, let go, I go cook you some soup.” Kathy said and escaped from his embrace.

But this time, Joseph hugged her into his arms again.

“Can't you feel it?” He asked in a low and hoarse voice.

Kathy was stunned. Of course she could feel it.

But, she couldn't do it.

“You want it too, don't you?” He spoke out her inner thoughts.

Kathy could only feel tingling numbness as if electric shock passed by her body. Joseph was too seductive, she couldn't resist anymore.

Chapter 78 Pissed Off

Electric shock flowed through her fingertips, Kathy met Joseph's scorching gaze. Those blushing memories last night flashed in her mind.

"You..." She wanted to scold him but her voice turned soft and sounded cute.

"Mmm, delicious." Joseph smirked.

Kathy was stunned, she felt his scent spread from her fingertips to her entire body when she withdrew her hand.

She lowered down her head, she was too shy to look at him.

The next few days, they were busy attending all kinds of meeting and forums. The two of them barely had time to talk. Joseph was always surrounded by people while Kathy always kept a distance from him.

A week later, the meeting finally ended successfully, a celebration dinner would be held at a high class hotel tomorrow night.

Joseph finally could rest the day before celebration dinner, but he went out in the afternoon and told Kathy to rest well and not run around.

But then she received a call from Billy. Joseph wouldn't be back until night, so she could have dinner with Billy tonight.

They met up at a western restaurant nearby the hotel.

Kathy was stunned when she flipped over the menu, one dish here would cost one month of her salary.

The food was served quickly, and Kathy was a little sullen due to Billy's words.

The people around Joseph were all much better than her.

But right now what bothered her was how should she pay the bill later.

Billy had ordered a bottle of wine, which seemed to cost 5-digit numbers.

Kathy walked to the counter, holding her card, and her hands couldn't help but tremble.

Billy's put his hands in his pocket, with a smile his eyes, "Kathy, thanks for the meal."

Kathy gave him a fake smile, she then swiped her card and entered the password, but the manager said it awkwardly, "Sorry, Miss, your card balance is not enough."

Billy raised his eyebrows. Didn't Joseph give her a bank card?

He took out his card and handed over, "Swipe mine instead."

Kathy frowned, and just when she was about to decline, her shoulders were embraced by an arm. She looked up and saw Joseph directly took away Billy's Card and handed out his own card.

It's him...When did he see her.

"I'm not angry yet, what are you angry about?" Joseph narrowed his eyes.

"Am I angry?" Kathy turned over and didn't want to admit it.

But Joseph lifted her cheeks, her heartbeat became uneven when she met Joseph's intimidating gaze.

"Why did you meet with Billy?"

Their relationship should be ended after the blind date but Billy took the initiative to sit beside Kathy at the previous meeting.

The darkness under his eyes flickered away.

"It's none of your business." Kathy's tone was cold.

She didn't interfere with him, so why should he interfere with her.

As soon as Kathy finished her words, Joseph gripped her even tighter, it hurt Kathy until her tears almost burst out.

She struggled but it was no use.

"Say that again? Is this none of my business?" He pushed with his long arm, and Kathy was slammed to the wall, she was trapped by Joseph and had nowhere to escape.

She deadly bit her lips, didn't utter a word.

"Mrs. Joseph, you are not allowed to see Billy again." Joseph's tone was like giving a command.

"Why?"
