

Sweetheart 81

Chapter 81

Kathy quickly packed her stuff as she had to report for work at the hospital in the afternoon.

Knowing that it's useless even she refused to go, she accepted the reality instead.

Alexia sent her off reluctantly.

"I've never thought that you'll will leave me one day." Tears welling in Alexia's eyes.

Kathy gave her a hug, "We can still come out for dinner anytime, and you, don't forget about me just because you're busy in love."

"I don't have one, I wish I have someone to fall in love with too! It's already spring now, I've been waiting for ages." Alexia whined.

Kathy smiled, "I don't know Mr. Johnson well, but you have to beware of him."

Probably because Johnson was close to Joseph, Kathy assumed that they had similar personalities, anyway, neither of them were someone easy to mess with.

"It doesn't seem like it's easy to see through this." Alexia whispered.

"I'm always here to listen."

It was almost time to go, Kathy took a taxi to the hospital. It was consultation time, so the hospital was crowded.

Kathy's eyes widened in shock, staring at the thick books which were filled with knowledge that she had barely accessed to.

"Noted, Dr. Joseph." Kathy replied and carried the books.

However, Joseph quickly took the books from her hands and placed them in his backpack.

"Now, go home."

"Oh."

Walking out from the hospital together, Joseph had long legs, Kathy almost had to trot to keep up. Joseph helped her to carry the books and even carried her bag on his back.

Kathy paused, and secretly snapped a photo using her phone and posted in on weibo.

"Well, someone is really handsome."

When they were about to get in the car, Lily showed up.

She was here waiting for Joseph.

"Does that mean you have to pay me rent if you stay in my house?" Joseph squinted, his voice was cold.
Kathy was stunned, if really counted like this, then she would be carrying even more debt.
Joseph took her card, "Since this is what Mrs. Joseph wants, I'll take it."
Kathy looked at him, how she was supposed to survive in the future...
Although she usually worked beside Joseph, she sure would have some daily expenses.
Looking at Kathy's expression, Joseph smirked.

Lily's birthday party was held at a luxurious hotel in the city, Kathy and Joseph arrived at night.
This was Kathy's first time attending such an occasion, she was a little nervous and she was holding on Joseph's arm.

"If you decline me, I'll be disgraced." Billy eyes darkened a little when he saw Kathy's hesitation.

Kathy looked around and whispered, "I don't know how to dance."

As soon as she finished her words, her body was suddenly embraced by someone familiar, and she was dragged into Joseph's arms.

"Mr. Hilton, I'm afraid that you can't do as you wish." Joseph sneered.

He then held on Kathy's waist tightly and brought her to the dance floor.

Kathy was stunned, when she came back to sense, her hand was already on Joseph's shoulder.

"Joseph, I really don't know how to dance, so don't embarrass me!" Kathy almost cried out, people around her could dance so well, she felt like she was a landlubber in the sea.

She was sent to a dancing class by Angela when she was young, but she was persuaded to quit in less than one week!

"Follow my steps." Joseph frowned, he was stepped on several times by Kathy, and his tone was a little angry.

Kathy wimped out, lowering her head to keep up with Joseph seriously.

Joseph’s face was expressionless, he turned back and walked off.

Lily immediately got off the bed and hugged him from behind.

Joseph mercilessly pushed her to the floor. Lily bit her lips, with tears rolling in her eyes.

She had already dressed like this, and Joseph still felt nothing for her?

“Where is she?” Joseph narrowed his eyes, his tone was intimidating.

Lily bit her lips and didn’t reply.

Tonight she was determined to get Joseph onto the bed!

“She’s neither prettier nor younger than me, Dr. Joseph, wake up, you and I are the perfect match.” Lily said and approached him again.

The anger within Joseph’s eyes surfaced, this time, he fiercely grabbed Lily’s neck.

Lily’s eyes widened, her face turned pale and she struggled.

But Lily still didn't speak.

She was willing to pay an even great price in order to get Joseph.

Joseph became less indifferent at once and slightly smiled.

"You said it yourself." Joseph's look became eager.

Kathy did not understand the emotion in his eyes until they returned to the villa and she was pinned down by him.

"Mrs. Joseph, I'm yours, huh?" He said in a dangerous and ambiguous voice.

Kathy could not help trembling and wanted to shake her head, but she nodded when she met Joseph's eyes.

"Be good."

As a result, she was fucked by him till dawn.

How on earth did she provoke the wolf.

At the weekend, the two stayed at home. Kathy was so tired after making love with him all night that she could only lie in bed.

Joseph brought breakfast in, smiled and said, "Mrs. Joseph is a little behind."

Kathy glared at him, "You are too strong!"

"Well, so, is it comfortable?" As Joseph approached, the desire in his look was about to burn again.

Kathy retreated unconsciously and wrapped her thin body tightly.

Yes... It's pretty comfortable... But she was too tired after that.

Kathy was speechless. She really didn't know.

Angela brought her up alone. Their life was not rich, but more than enough. She might have some savings.

"Hi, it has nothing to do with the membership fee. I chose Kathy because I saw her picture." Billy Hilton explained, "I just didn't expect to be pre-empted."

"It seems that our Kathy was in demand! You're not still thinking about Kathy, are you?" Alexia's eyes wandered between the two.

Kathy said in a quiet voice, "Alexia, a lot of girls like Billy Hilton."

"But the girl I like doesn't like me." Billy Hilton looked at Kathy.

Alexia has discovered Billy Hilton's mind, "Billy Hilton, since she doesn't like you, nothing forcibly done was going to be agreeable."

"Really?" Billy Hilton didn't care.

Alexia felt much better. Billy Hilton sent her back.

When they walked out the bar, Kathy saw that the driver who sent her here had already driven the car back and Joseph came over.

In that aspect, Joseph seemed to be hard to restrain.

She lowered down her head, not daring to look at him.

From the bedroom to the bathroom, the daylight was too bright, she could clearly see his every movement, felt his strength, she never had this kind of feeling before...

And yet it made her even more confused.

After breakfast, Joseph told her to change her clothes as he wanted to bring her to somewhere.

"Where're we going?" Kathy asked, but Joseph acted secretive and didn't tell her.

The surrounding buildings became familiar when the car drove into the Joseph Bay.

She still remembered that this was where their newlywed house located.

So it had finally done renovating?

It had been almost three months since she got married to Joseph.

Angela saw Peter when she sent Kathy out, she sneered, "Who is this?"
"Auntie." Peter greeted her and went downstairs.
He paused a while when he passed by Kathy.
Kathy ignored him.
"Kathy, I heard that he's getting married, is it with that woman?" Angela couldn't hide her gossipy nature.
Kathy nodded, walked out of the residence, not expecting that Peter hadn't left yet.
He was standing beside the car, obviously waiting for her.
"Anything you want?" Kathy couldn't help but stop as she was blocked by Peter.
"I want to ask you for a favour." Peter looked at her.

Chapter 90

Kathy dropped her eyes.
Perhaps it was because she had got used to Joseph reporting everything to her for this period, so she suddenly felt lost without hearing from him.
“What? Then why don’t you go find him!” Alexia said and was about to pay the bill.
Kathy held her back, “He should be in the hospital, don’t disturb him.”
“You’re his wife, just disturb him! Kathy, you make me so mad! Tell me, do you like Dr. Joseph?”
Kathy paused, she had never thought about this question.
She just felt that the chances of being in love between her and Joseph were too small.
He was a well-known doctor with a strong background and influential power. They got married just because they were taking advantage on each other to cope with family pressure.
She had never thought that they would become a real couple one day.

It was just that something seemed to be slowly go out of her expectation.

“Kathy, I think you should ask your own heart, if you really like Dr. Joseph, there’s nothing impossible about it.”

Kathy smiled, “Even if I like him, he’ll not like me, there are so many people who like him.”
