

Chapter 9 Louis is missing

After leaving the Camellia Party, Galen returned to the villa.

Mrs.G was so disappointed when she saw that Galen came back so soon. "Why did you come back so early?There are so many beautiful ladies in the Camellia Party..."

When Galen heard this, Bena's lovely and pretty face came to Galen's mind.

He couldn't help smiling at the thought of her exasperated look when she fell into the swimming pool.

Facing the curious eyes of the old lady, he stretched out his hand and clenched his fist against his lips. "No, all of them are crooked melons and cracked dates, especially the girl of the T's family. Don't take women like that in here again."

Then he turned and went upstairs.

Mrs.G wondered, "Is Bena ugly? She is obviously a very pretty girl!"

...

It is still a little cold in early spring, Bena came home and changed her soaked clothes quickly.

Bena began to cough.

She lay in bed, looking at the ceiling, feeling dizzy.

She would never forget Galen pushed her into the water, and she couldn't help scolding -bud guy!

"Ah!" Galen, who was reading the papers, suddenly sneezed.

Bena really had a bad headache, so she got up and went downstairs to buy medicine.

There is a pharmacy in the community. On the way back after Bena bought the medicine, she saw a group of children gathered at the intersection.

They formed a circle and nobody knew what they were doing.

Bena walked over and vaguely heard a tragic voice.

She became nervous, and she seemed to hear miserable meows.

She walked quickly past, only to see a little white short-legged cat surrounded by the children, and the children were still holding stone to smash the cat.

The cat's leg seemed to be injured and bleeding.

It's eyes were red and he looked very pitiful.

Bena's eyes fell on the cat, and her eyes gradually became tearful.

She couldn't help but think of her past life. She once had a kitten called Candy.

From the day Candy was born, Bena began to take care of it. Candy accompanied her through the hard seven years after being driven out of the T's family.

No matter how hard the days were during that time, she felt that there was still a little warmth in her life.

However, one day, Tiana secretly came to her rental house to steal her design while she was not at home. Candy was brutally murdered after it seeing Tiana!

After returning home, Bena wept bitterly when she saw the messy house and Candy lying on the ground dying of the body.

She lowered her eyes and hid the tears from her eyes.

She stepped forward to stop them and said, "What are you guys doing?!"

"Run! Someone is coming!"

When the children saw adults coming, they were scattered.

Bena stepped forward carefully and picked up the delicate and poor kitten.

"Poor little darling, how about going home with me?"

The kitten sobbed and lay down in Bena's arms, its eyes full of uneasiness.

Bena went home with the kitten in her arms.

After cleaning the wound, the dirty kitten showed its true beauty. It turned out to be a cat with very pure white coat and very cute appearance.

Bena gently smoothed its fur. It is very soft and beautiful. Although there are wounds on it, it can be seen that the cat should have been taken good care of before.

The cat did not reject Bena, and enjoyed nesting on Bena's leg and letting Bena touch it.

Bena noticed that there was a golden bell on the cat's neck, with a design engraved on it, which was too small for her to see clearly.

"Little darling, will your master come to you?"

Bena asked the cat.

The cat with closed eyes enjoyed being held in her arms by beautiful women and ignored Bena.

Bena happily named the cat. "Well, you are so fat, how about call you chubby!" If no one is looking for the cat, she will keep it.

The cat responded with a meow meow, which made Bena thought the cat likes its new name very much. In fact, the cat just wants to say that it has a royal name!

That night, in the villa of the G's family...

The servants lowered their heads, and dared not to breath.

Galen looked at them coldly. As a soldier, he has a very strong aura. No one can look him in the eye if he is angry.

"I can't believe you can't take care of a cat! You're all useless!"

A depressed atmosphere pervaded the whole villa.

Galen's cat Louis has been missing for a whole day!

Louis was very naughty, So when it disappeared people thought it was playing somewhere else. The servants didn't realize that Louis was gone until the cat wasn't seen all day.

Then searched the whole villa but couldn't find it!

When Galen came back and knew that his beloved cat was gone, he was naturally furious.

Louis was a cat brought back by his mother when he was a child. He grew up with Louis, and their relationship was very close. He had already regarded Louis as his family.

Louis is missing. He is more anxious than anyone else.

"Go look for it!"
