

Reincarnation Of The Strongest Sword God

Chapter 3561: Whole City in an Uproar

Chapter 635 – Whole City in an Uproar

The regional announcement was repeated three times, its arrival causing all players in Zero Wing's Residence to fall silent for a moment.

"An Advanced Guild Residence?"

"What's going on?"

The Zero Wing members present couldn't help but doubt their eyes as they read the regional announcement in their notification window.

It wasn't uncommon to see Advanced Guild Residences outside the Eternal Realm. On the contrary, they were practically everywhere.

However, for an Advanced Guild Residence to appear in the Eternal Realm, and in the Crystal City of Secrets no less, it was an incredibly unbelievable situation.

"Is this the reason?" Fervent Samsara asked as he looked at Heavy Abyss in astonishment.

An Advanced Guild Residence might be of little significance to players outside the Eternal Realm, but it was a matter of great significance for players living in the Eternal Realm.

Guild quarters!

This was one of the privileges available only to Advanced Guild Residences and above. Guild quarters allowed guild members to have their own private residence within the Guild Residence. With it, no matter how far players traveled, so long as they remained in the Eternal Realm, they could immediately teleport back to their guild quarters on demand. Such a privilege was invaluable in the Eternal Realm.

"This..." However, Heavy Abyss was similarly stunned by this situation.

Her suggestion to Fervent Abyss was based entirely on the astounding growth rate of Zero Wing's Vice Guild Leaders. It wouldn't be an exaggeration to say that the several Vice Guild Leaders' growth in strength was unprecedented. Not to mention, Zero Wing was willing to go to great lengths to nurture its internal members, which could be seen by how it had arranged for fifth-floor experts other than herself to train its internal members.

With how generous Zero Wing was toward its internal members, if she and Fervent Samsara became Zero Wing's internal members, they might just be able to further develop their skills and strength.

But Zero Wing suddenly coming into possession of an Advanced Guild Hall was definitely beyond her imagination.

However, before anyone could react, everyone inside the Guild Hall was forcibly teleported to the Residence's front plaza. At the same time, the Guild Hall started to rapidly transform before everyone's eyes. Then, after just ten seconds, a ten-story Guild Hall took shape before the Zero Wing members in the plaza.

"Quick! Secure some guild quarters right away!"

"Buying GCPs at a high price! Buying GCPs at a high price!"

Following the appearance of the new Guild Hall, the Zero Wing members promptly snapped out of their dazes and charged into the building, wanting to be the first to exchange a guild quarter.

Meanwhile, after many Zero Wing members arrived at the Guild's exchange point, they were once again shocked by the items made available for exchange using Guild Contribution Points.

"Crazy! Zero Wing must be crazy!"

"Oh my god! Fifty Combat-ranked Secret Treasure Sets! Am I hallucinating?"

"Mana Purification Technique?! Wasn't this thing rumored to be available only to the various major Guilds' core members?"

Everyone couldn't believe their eyes when they saw the list of items that could be exchanged in the Guild Warehouse. Be it the Behemoth Combat Secret Treasure Set or the rumored Mana Purification Technique, none of them were things ordinary players like themselves could come into contact with. In fact, even the various pseudo-apex powers' executives wouldn't necessarily have access to these items.

Yet, Zero Wing was now making these items available for exchange. Moreover, the only condition to exchange these items was to be an internal member...

"What should we do now, Boss Samsara?" one of the fifth-floor experts from the Samsara adventurer team asked.

Previously, even when faced with the Skylight Association's lucrative offer to recruit them, they had only felt a hint of temptation. After all, the conditions offered were merely "nice-to-haves" and not "necessary" in their opinions. However, it was a completely different story for Zero Wing's internal benefits. They would be blatantly lying if they said they didn't want them.

"No wonder our dear Guild Leader never paid much attention to the management of outer members," Fervent Samsara said, taking a deep breath after he finished looking through the warehouse's exchange list. "It seems it's time we have a proper discussion with that Guild Leader of ours."

When the Samsara adventurer team joined Zero Wing, it had only done so on a superficial level. Nobody in the adventurer team ever considered becoming a part of Zero Wing. Zero Wing's executives also didn't seem to care about this matter, choosing to let them "free range" in the Guild. Of course, they were more than happy with such an arrangement. It was also why they didn't rush to join the Skylight Association.

However, after seeing the benefits Zero Wing offered to its internal members, it had become very difficult for them to sit still. It was especially so when they saw the Mana Purification Technique. This was something that they must have if they wished to progress further as Tier 6 players in the future.

"Let's go and negotiate with the Guild Leader as well, Commander Abyss. We can forge a much better Divine Body if we can exchange this Mana Purification Technique."

Similar to the Samsara adventurer team, many of the fifth-floor experts in Heavy Abyss's team were also tempted by Zero Wing's internal benefits.

"At worst, we'll offer to sign a ten-year contract with Zero Wing. So long as we can get our hands on the Mana Purification Technique, even serving Zero Wing for a decade wouldn't be a problem."

Their desire for the Mana Purification Technique was blazing hot. Meanwhile, their interest in joining the Skylight Association could be described as lukewarm.

"Okay. I'll try to talk to him," Heavy Abyss said, sighing helplessly. Her original intention was to distance herself from Zero Wing's internal affairs as much as possible. She also didn't wish to get involved in the war between Guilds that was bound to happen in the future. But she would be lying if she said the Mana Purification Technique didn't tempt her.

...

While two of Zero Wing's Three Overlords were making their move, news of Zero Wing's Residence being upgraded quickly spread across the Crystal City of Secrets, causing many independent experts to grow restless.

They could still resist Zero Wing's temptation if it was only a matter of Secret Treasures. But the privilege to teleport back to the city was something they could not resist.

The Eternal Realm was massive. Even with the help of Flying Ships, it would take several hours to travel between neighboring NPC Cities. Moreover, as players' levels increased, they would also need to travel farther and farther away from NPC Cities to grind in suitable maps.

As for the Underground Crystal Palace, it simply couldn't be used as a reliable grinding spot due to the entrance cooldown. Not to mention, each time they re-entered the secret land, they would have to start from the first floor. Players under Level 160 might be able to more or less rely on the Underground Crystal Palace for EXP, but it was simply unrealistic to try to level up in the secret land past Level 160. Ultimately, they would still have to go to the high-level maps in the fields.

Meanwhile, when it came to grinding out in the fields, the ability to teleport back to a city would become extremely important. Not only would it allow players to cut their travel time in half, but they could also use this ability to escape from danger.

Shortly after the upgrade of Zero Wing's Residence, news of Zero Wing's internal benefits also started to spread across the city. Upon learning of the items Zero Wing's internal members could exchange for, many fifth-floor experts and adventurer teams that were previously against getting involved in the struggles between Guilds promptly jumped out of their seats and contacted Zero Wing.

Of course, as these fifth-floor experts and adventurer teams were reluctant to abandon their freedom completely, they didn't outright choose to become Zero Wing's internal members. Instead, they offered to be in Zero Wing's service for anywhere from several years to over a decade. In return, they asked for the privilege to exchange for the Mana Purification Technique.

...

"Over 200 fifth-floor experts have contacted me thus far, Guild Leader. Are you really not going to consider their suggestions?" Hidden Soul couldn't help but ask Shi Feng when she saw the partnership conditions the various adventurer teams and solo experts had sent her. "Also, Samsara and Heavy Abyss have asked to meet you. They should be wanting to discuss this matter as well."

A force of more than 200 fifth-floor experts. Even if these experts didn't become internal members of Zero Wing, simply having them based in Star Lake City would bolster Zero Wing's strength significantly. The current situation was a good example. Even though most of the fifth-floor experts currently in Zero Wing weren't internal members, in the eyes of the various powers, Zero Wing's threat level in the Crystal City of Secrets was no less than that of pseudo-apex powers.

“Fervent Samsara and Heavy Abyss, is it?” Shi Feng, who was fiddling with the golden heart in his office, chuckled when he heard Hidden Soul’s report. “So they’ve finally started to grow restless. Very well. Have them come to my office. It just so happens I also want to meet them.”

Chapter 3562: Primordial Chaos Body

Chapter 636 – Primordial Chaos Body

Zero Wing’s Residence, Guild Hall, top floor:

Under Hidden Soul’s lead, Fervent Samsara and Heavy Abyss arrived in front of the Guild Leader’s Office. At this time, though, both of them wore solemn expressions, the calmness they previously wore in the lobby nowhere to be seen.

The Guild Hall’s top floor had always been off-limits to non-internal members of the Guild. Adding on the fact all of the Guild Hall’s primary functions could be accessed from the first floor, outer members of Zero Wing had never really cared whether they could access the Guild Hall’s top floor. Not to mention, every Guild had its own secrets, so it was understandable for Zero Wing to have some secrets that it might not want non-internal members to know on the top floor.

However, after arriving at the Guild Hall’s top floor, Fervent Samsara and Heavy Abyss found that compared to the lower floors, this place was akin to a completely different world.

Indeed!

The top floor of Zero Wing’s Guild Hall could only be described as a whole other world!

After all, even though the Crystal City of Secrets had yet to see any players successfully getting promoted to Tier 6, they had seen at least a dozen Tier 6 players present on the top floor of Zero Wing’s Guild Hall. Moreover, each of these Tier 6 players were akin to bona fide Gods, and simply standing in the presence of these players’ residual mana caused the two of them to suffocate.

It should be known that the two of them were among the strongest experts operating in the Crystal City. Even though they were still at Tier 5, they were more than strong enough to fight Tier 6 players of the same level. Yet, every one of the Tier 6 experts loitering in the top floor’s hallway instilled a sense of danger in them.

When players reached the fifth-floor standard, also known as the Extrasensory Realm, their sixth sense would become incredibly accurate. If their senses told them a player posed a threat to their lives, it meant that they would have trouble even escaping from said player, let alone match or defeat the other party in a fight.

With such a frightening force at Zero Wing's disposal, it wouldn't be an exaggeration to say that even if all of the Crystal City's powers banded together, they still probably wouldn't be a match for Zero Wing. Yet, despite Zero Wing having such a force, none of Zero Wing's outer members were privy to this information.

At this time, Fervent Samsara and Heavy Abyss were already close to losing their confidence in negotiating better conditions for themselves.

Meanwhile, after opening the doors to the Guild Leader's Office, Hidden Soul said to Fervent Samsara and Heavy Abyss, "Head on in. The Guild Leader is waiting inside."

Although Hidden Soul did not personally involve herself in the Guild's basic operations, she had still heard of Zero Wing's Three Overlords, particularly Fervent Samsara and Heavy Abyss. In terms of influence over Zero Wing's outer members, Fervent Samsara and Heavy Abyss had exceeded even Zero Wing's Guild Leader.

...

Zero Wing's Guild Leader's Office:

When Fervent Samsara and Heavy Abyss stepped into the room, a dense wave of Eternal Energy washed over them, invigorating their mind and body. Immediately afterward, they couldn't help but be shocked by the scene in front of them.

Currently, inside the spacious office, a young man could be seen sitting behind the sole desk in the room, holding a pulsating golden heart in his hand. Despite being a Tier 5 player, the young man exuded an aura comparable to the Tier 6 experts in the hallway. Meanwhile, the golden heart the young man held released a dense cloud of Eternal Energy into its surroundings every time it pulsated.

What dense Eternal Energy! Heavy Abyss mentally exclaimed when she felt the Eternal Energy surrounding her. If I try to construct an Epic Divine Body in such an environment, I can probably raise my success rate by a minimum of 30%!

"That's a...Primordial Chaos Body?" Unlike Heavy Abyss, Fervent Samsara's attention was focused on the pulsating golden heart in Shi Feng's hand. His reaction toward the heart was so intense that even his voice trembled when he spoke. "How is this possible?!"

"A Primordial Chaos Body?" Shi Feng was a little taken aback by the words from Fervent Samsara's mouth. "Do you recognize this thing?"

The reason Shi Feng was openly researching the golden heart in his office was to intimidate Fervent Samsara and Heavy Abyss.

Currently, Zero Wing was in urgent need of capable experts to accelerate its development. It was especially so now that Billowing Water had used her City Building Order as collateral. If Zero Wing could establish a Guild City on the Western Continent, the Guild would need many fifth-floor experts to help defend its city.

Meanwhile, during Shi Feng's previous life, Fervent Samsara and Heavy Abyss were incredibly strong and famous individuals. If he could get them to become Zero Wing's internal members and move into Star Lake City, many fifth-floor experts would also move with them. At that time, Zero Wing would no longer have to worry about lacking experts to use.

However, Shi Feng didn't expect someone to recognize the golden heart he had taken out for display.

Shi Feng wasn't ignorant of the Primordial Chaos Body. It was a kind of Godly Relic that came into existence along with the Greater God's Domain. According to rumors, Primordial Chaos Bodies possessed unimaginable strength, and Primordial Gods had relied on them to construct their Divine Bodies.

However, such Godly Relics had thoroughly disappeared from the Greater God's Domain during the Mythical Era. If any Primordial Chaos Bodies still existed in the modern era, they could most likely be found in the ruins of Primordial Gods. This was why the various powers were fanatics when it came to exploring Primordial God ruins. They were so desperate that they wouldn't let even clues pertaining to Ancient God ruins slip past them.

"I was fortunate enough to see a Primordial Chaos Body once in an Ancient God's Legacy," Fervent Samsara said, taking on a respectful tone when he spoke to Shi Feng. "The one I saw was a golden brain. Similar to the golden heart in your hand, the brain felt like a living object, and it naturally diffused liquid-like Eternal Energy into its surroundings. The Ancient God in question used the Primordial Chaos Body to create a Divine Body suitable for himself. As for the Ancient God's name, many people have heard of it. In modern times, he is known as the God of Four Elements."

"No wonder." Realization dawned on Shi Feng when he heard Fervent Samsara's explanation.

The God of Four Elements might be vastly inferior to the Goddess of Space, but the Four Gods Secret Art he developed was publicly acknowledged as a Secret Art capable of rivaling Gold Combat Techniques, and players could use it to transcend tiers. Moreover, the God of Four Elements was rumored to be an Ancient God capable of rivaling Primordial Gods in strength.

“I have a presumptuous request, Guild Leader Black Flame.” All of a sudden, Fervent Samsara looked at Shi Feng with a serious gaze and solemnly said, “Can you let me experience the Primordial Chaos Body once? I am willing to accept any conditions.”

“Are you crazy, Samsara?” Heavy Abyss couldn’t help but look at Fervent Samsara in astonishment. She didn’t think the other party would dare make such a bold request.

The Primordial Chaos Body was so well-known that even a solo player like herself had heard about it. She also knew how precious it was. Hence, should any power get its hands on a Primordial Chaos Body, apart from its core executives, there was no way it would let other players use it.

Not to mention, according to rumors, it cost a mind-boggling five million units of Seven Luminaries Crystal to use the Primordial Chaos Body each time. This was a sum that could cause any conglomerate to wince in pain.

Meanwhile, Fervent Samsara was only an outer member of the Guild. Moreover, did he not see the Tier 6 experts in the hallway outside? Even among Tier 6 players, the individuals in the hallway were far above the average.

“Sure, I can agree to your request. Moreover, I can extend this offer to not just Samsara, but you as well, Abyss,” Shi Feng said, a smile suddenly forming on his face.

Chapter 3563: Zero Wing’s Condition

Chapter 637 – Zero Wing’s Condition

As soon as Shi Feng finished speaking, silence befell the room. Even Fervent Samsara, the person who had made the request to Shi Feng, was evidently surprised by Shi Feng’s response.

“Me, too?” Although Heavy Abyss’s face was hidden behind her helmet, her astonishment was apparent.

“Of course,” Shi Feng said, smiling.

It was undoubtedly a pleasant surprise that Fervent Samsara could recognize the golden heart as a Primordial Chaos Body. As a thank-you to Fervent Samsara, Shi Feng didn’t mind letting the other party experience the Primordial Chaos Body’s effects once.

Not to mention, Shi Feng didn’t really have a choice.

The Primordial Chaos Body's value was comparable to a Book of Eternity. In fact, it was even more valuable in certain aspects. With Zero Wing's current strength, it would be a disaster for the Guild if news of the Primordial Chaos Body got out.

"Please state whatever conditions you have, Guild Leader Black Flame! I'll do my best to fulfill them all!" Fervent Samsara said without hesitation.

Heavy Abyss also looked at Shi Feng with curiosity.

She would be lying if she said she wasn't interested in the Primordial Chaos Body. After all, it was one of the few items that could let players reach the realm of Primordial Gods in the Greater God's Domain. Moreover, unlike players who relied on Divine Artifacts, the strength they gained via the Primordial Chaos Body would belong entirely to themselves.

"My conditions are simple," Shi Feng said, chuckling. "In addition to becoming Zero Wing's internal members, you only need to use one billion GCPs or five million units of Seven Luminaries Crystal to exchange it."

"One billion GCPs or five million units of Seven Luminaries Crystal?" Fervent Samsara nearly choked when he heard Shi Feng's condition.

Of course, he wasn't surprised at the condition of needing to become an internal member. After all, no sane power would give away such a precious opportunity to an outsider. In fact, simply becoming an internal member could already be considered a lax condition.

The only problem was the payment of one billion Guild Contribution Points or five million units of Seven Luminaries Crystal. He could afford neither of these two payment methods. It was especially so for the five million units of Seven Luminaries Crystal. Even conglomerates would have difficulty taking out such a large sum on short notice, let alone an individual player like himself.

Shi Feng's condition similarly stumped Heavy Abyss. Even though there was an opportunity to experience a Primordial Chaos Body's effect placed right before her, she lacked the money and resources to secure it.

"Of course, I am aware neither of you can afford to make such a large payment right away," Shi Feng added when he noticed the awkward looks on Fervent Samsara and Heavy Abyss. "I can loan the two of you the necessary resources once you become internal members of Zero Wing. That way, you two can get promoted to Tier 6 quickly and avoid missing out on the Eternal Realm's many opportunities."

"I appreciate your understanding, Guild Leader," Fervent Samsara said, growing ecstatic when he heard Shi Feng's words.

“Can we experience the Primordial Chaos Body immediately after signing our contract at the Guild’s headquarters, Guild Leader?” Heavy Abyss asked for further confirmation.

Honestly, she found it hard to believe Shi Feng would offer them such loose conditions. If they were dealing with any other power, she wouldn’t even be surprised if she was required to sell herself to secure this priceless opportunity.

“Yes. Once you arrive at Zero Wing’s headquarters in the real world and sign your contract, you can log in and come to me straight away,” Shi Feng said, nodding.

The cost to use the Primordial Chaos Body might be outside the means of most other powers, but it was still bearable for the current Zero Wing. After all, the Guild had just acquired 50 million units of Seven Luminaries Crystal from the Nameless City’s treasury not long ago.

Moreover, once Fervent Samsara and Heavy Abyss became Tier 6 players, Zero Wing’s overall strength would increase drastically. After all, in terms of combat standards, the two of them were far above Azure Shadow and the others. Even in the Crystal City of Secrets, they could be considered top-ranking experts.

Meanwhile, after receiving Shi Feng’s assurance, Fervent Samsara and Heavy Abyss promptly agreed to Shi Feng’s conditions. Then, after contacting their subordinates, they logged out of the game and hurried over to Star Lake City right away, not wanting to waste even a single second.

Shi Feng wasn’t surprised to see the two’s behavior. If he wasn’t worried he might waste a costly opportunity, he would have probably spent five million units of Seven Luminaries Crystal right away to experience the rumored Primordial Chaos Body.

But now that he had obtained a Medium World Fragment, he naturally had to make proper use of it first.

After Fervent Samsara and Heavy Abyss left, Shi Feng called out to Hidden Soul, who had been standing guard outside the room, and said, “Have the Guild’s Grandmaster Magicians construct a Mana Gathering Array and a large-scale Grandmaster Magic Barrier in the Guild Hall’s underground secret room. The sooner, the better.”

A Medium World Fragment was extraordinary. If he tried to use it without sufficient precautions, it would most likely cause a huge commotion outside. Normally, players would only use a Medium World Fragment inside a Great Grandmaster Magic Barrier to ensure absolute secrecy. However, as he didn’t have any Great Grandmaster Magic Barriers on hand, he could only make do with a Large Grandmaster Magic Barrier.”

“Okay, I’ll get it done right away,” Hidden Soul said, nodding.

Meanwhile, after Shi Feng was done making arrangements, he logged out of the game as well to rest. The fight with the Gorgon Queen had greatly affected him mentally. Even though he had rested offline for some time already, he still hadn't made a full recovery. He was still in need of one or two days of rest.

...

Star Lake City, Zero Wing Training Center:

Although Star Lake City had only been promoted to a second-tier mobile city not long ago, its population had already increased by several million. Whether it was powers based in the neighboring towns or nearby third-tier mobile cities, all of them had sent many of their talents to Star Lake City. More specifically, they had sent their talents to join Zero Wing. This, in turn, caused the Zero Wing Training Center to become incredibly popular. Even at night, the line outside the building stretched across several streets.

"Have Silk Radish and Jade River come to my office, Angel. Have the Guild's recently contracted Grandmaster Forgers and Engineers come as well," Shi Feng said while drinking a bottle of Life Potion. Though, when he saw the tired look on Pace Angel's face, he couldn't help but feel a little apologetic toward the other party.

In terms of management capabilities, Gentle Snow and Hidden Soul were undoubtedly more skilled than Pace Angel. However, as they were currently busy with matters in the Eternal Realm, they couldn't afford to take care of the Zero Wing Training Center's matters. And as Fire Dance still wasn't familiar with Zero Wing's internal affairs, Pace Angel ultimately had to manage the entire training center by herself.

"Okay, I'll contact them right away," Pace Angel said, nodding. Then, she started contacting the forging and engineering departments.

Meanwhile, after Shi Feng disconnected the call, he took a seat behind his desk and, through his quantum watch, pulled up an ancient design dropped by the Gorgon Queen.

The Silverwing Flying Ship Design!

Items such as the Medium World Fragment and Primordial Chaos Body might let Zero Wing produce top-tier experts, but the Silverwing Flying Ship Design was an item that could enable Zero Wing to compete against the Holy Race for hegemony over the Eternal Realm!

Chapter 3564: Meeting of Talents

Chapter 638 – Meeting of Talents

Zero Wing Training Center, Guild Leader's Office:

Twenty-four young men and women were gathered in the office that was half the size of a basketball court. The oldest among these individuals was just nearing 25, while the youngest was just nearing 16. Apart from their youthfulness, these youths had another thing in common—they were all incredibly talented Lifestyle Players.

Placed in any upper-ranking hegemonic power, these youths would be put on a pedestal and receive full support in their development. Many powerful experts would also be willing to pay a high price to acquire customized tools and equipment from these youths.

At this time, though, these youths all wore anxious expressions as they stood in the spacious office.

It was true that they were top talents of their respective corporations or families. It was also true that should they join an upper-ranking hegemonic power, they would receive priority nurturing. However, their value as individuals remained insignificant when compared to the young man seated before them.

Zero Wing's Guild Leader, Shi Feng!

He was a legendary figure in the region of the continent they currently resided in. He had played a key role in elevating Star Lake City from a third-tier mobile city into a second-tier mobile city and made Zero Wing a highly sought-after partner for the various upper-ranking powers. In the future, he might even be able to help Zero Wing move into a first-tier mobile city.

"Do you think we can be selected, Big Brother?" a 16-year-old girl anxiously asked the tall and robust young man beside her. "We only managed to come in fourth and fifth in forging success rates this time. I also heard that Jade River is receiving personal guidance from Guild Leader Shi Feng. Now that she has been promoted into a Grandmaster Forger, if the Guild Leader is only looking for four forgers, we'll most likely get disqualified..."

The current Zero Wing was extraordinarily popular in the area. Many corporations and powerful families had sent their combat talents to Zero Wing. But because Zero Wing could only afford to recruit a limited number of players, competition for these limited slots was incredibly intense.

Meanwhile, as Zero Wing was recruiting even fewer Lifestyle Players, competition among Lifestyle Players was even more intense. If the chances of a combat player getting selected were one in a thousand, the chances of a Lifestyle Player getting selected were one in ten thousand.

Moreover, even after making it into Zero Wing, one still couldn't relax. After all, more and more talents were bound to join Zero Wing in the future. Once Zero Wing filled up the residential slots it had in Star Lake City, it would have to start sending some of its members to third-tier cities to make room for more talented individuals. At this point, the only way Zero Wing members could guarantee themselves a place in Star Lake City was if they became an internal core member of the Guild.

Now that Shi Feng had suddenly gathered them here, it was their best opportunity to prove their worth. If they could get selected for whatever task Shi Feng had for them, it would make becoming a core member much easier for them in the future.

"Don't worry. While our success rates aren't high, seeing as Guild Leader Shi Feng has gathered so many of us here, I'm sure we will be given a fair test. If we're lucky, it is still possible for us to be chosen," the tall young man going by the name of Huo Rong replied anxiously.

In the family they came from, he and his little sister were considered the most talented forgers in their family's history, and they took pride in that fact. However, when they applied to join Zero Wing, they quickly understood that they weren't anything special.

When they applied to join Zero Wing, over a million other forging geniuses had also done so. Among them, quite a few were already Grandmaster Forgers despite being under twenty years of age. It was only through sheer luck that they managed to stand out from the competition and get recruited. Had they formed even a little worse during the recruitment test, it wouldn't have been strange for them to get disqualified.

At this time, the other Lifestyle geniuses in the room similarly felt anxious. It was especially so for Silk Radish and Jade River, whom Shi Feng had specifically summoned.

Unlike the other Lifestyle Grandmasters present, they didn't get into Zero Wing by surviving an intense competition. Instead, they had gotten in because of their connection with Aqua Rose. They had also only become Lifestyle Grandmasters recently because of all the resources Zero Wing had poured into them.

So, if Shi Feng wanted them to compete against the other Lifestyle Grandmasters present, they highly doubted they could achieve a pleasant result.

"No need to be nervous," Shi Feng said, chuckling when he saw the anxious faces before him. "I might have called you here for a project, but I don't need you to complete it if you can't. I just want to see how much you can accomplish."

The Silverwing Flying Ship was a highly complicated work requiring multiple classes to complete. It possessed enough firepower to outgun even a Tier 6 player, and the difficulty of its construction easily exceeded even that of Legendary Equipment. The requirement for Magicians was especially high, as even Grandmaster Magicians would find it challenging to construct the required magic arrays.

Not to mention, a Secret-Silver Flying Ship simply wasn't something a few dozen players could complete within a reasonable amount of time. At the very least, several hundred players would be needed for the task. It simply wasn't something Zero Wing could attempt at manufacturing at present.

As for why he had summoned Zero Wing's internal Lifestyle members, it was to see how much of the Silverwing Flying Ship's crucial components they could complete. That way, he could prepare the necessary resources for these young geniuses to tackle the parts they couldn't manufacture.

Meanwhile, everyone sighed in relief when they heard Shi Feng's explanation. Then, they couldn't help but start to wonder what kind of project Shi Feng had for them to only expect them to be able to complete a certain portion.

"Come over and take a look. Afterward, tell me how much you can complete," Shi Feng said as he pointed at the component designs on his desk. However, these designs were limited to the Silverwing Flying Ship's core components.

The Silverwing Flying Ship Design consisted of several hundred components, of which thirty-something were core. These core components were also the most challenging to overcome. Meanwhile, by sharing only the core components, he could conceal the Silverwing Flying Ship to a large extent, as it would be impossible to tell that these core components were for a Flying Ship just by looking at them.

Following Shi Feng's instructions, everyone gathered around the desk and analyzed the various designs on display. Everyone did their analysis carefully, afraid they might miss minor details that could cause problems with the final product.

After eight hours, the twenty-four Lifestyle Grandmasters finished their analysis. Then, with the help of the office's God's Domain Simulation Cabins, they quickly performed a rudimentary simulation.

Once everyone finished their respective simulations, Shi Feng said, "Well then, what are your completion rates?"

"I can complete 50% of the forging designs!"

"I can complete 60% of the engineering designs!"

"I can complete 65% of the forging designs!"

Hearing everyone's report, Shi Feng couldn't help but be pleasantly surprised. Nobody reported a completion rate lower than 50%, and everyone's problems were concentrated on the power source's magic arrays. In that case, he would only need to collect materials for the power source and have everyone practice constructing it repeatedly.

At this time, a tall young man suddenly stepped forward from the group. Then, while scratching his head, he anxiously said, "I can complete the forging designs at a 20% success rate..."

"Twenty percent?" When Shi Feng first heard the percentage the tall young man reported, his first reaction was to ask why the young man could only complete so little of the forging designs. However, before he could voice his doubts, his attention was quickly drawn to two of the young man's words. "Success rate?"

Completion rate and success rates were two entirely different concepts.

If a Lifestyle Player reported that they only had a completion rate for a project, it meant that they could only manufacture a certain portion of the project. As for the remaining portion, they wouldn't be able to manufacture it no matter what.

On the other hand, if a Lifestyle Player reported a success rate for a project, it meant that they could manufacture the entire project. Even if the success rate was only 20%, it was still infinitely better than nothing.

"What is your name?" Shi Feng couldn't help but ask as he looked at the tall youth.

Chapter 3565: Pseudo-Divine Artifact Forger

Chapter 639 – Pseudo-Divine Artifact Forger

"A 20% success rate?"

"Is that guy bluffing? I doubt even Great Grandmaster Forgers can get a 40% success rate. He's only an Advanced Grandmaster, and his forging success rate even ranked fourth among us previously, yet he's now claiming he can achieve a 20% success rate?"

"He's probably trying to catch the Guild Leader's attention."

Following the tall young man's answer, many of the other young geniuses in the room couldn't help but start a hushed discussion among themselves.

Although nobody present knew that the designs Shi Feng shared were for a Secret-Silver Flying Ship's core components, as Lifestyle Grandmasters, they could still identify the complexity of these designs. Meanwhile, their knowledge told them that some of these designs were already beyond the means of Lifestyle Grandmasters to manufacture. So, when everyone heard the tall youth saying he could manufacture all of the forging designs, their immediate reaction was to doubt his claims.

Of course, everyone could also understand why the young man would lie about his capabilities.

The current Zero Wing was akin to the midday sun in Star Lake City. It was the power with the most residential slots for Star Lake City. As a result, many geniuses and paragons from the hundreds of nearby third-tier mobile cities and thousands of towns sought to join Zero Wing.

Furthermore, the benefits Zero Wing offered to its core members were tempting even to the various corporations and powerful families. So long as one could become a core member of Zero Wing, one could spend Guild Contribution Points to exchange for precious resources such as Stardew. It was even possible to exchange for the right to enter the Eternal Realm.

The Eternal Realm was a Realm that countless players sought to enter in the current Greater God's Domain. The opportunities available in the Eternal Realm were beyond any other Realm. There had even been rumors of ordinary Lifestyle Players becoming VIPs in conglomerates and pseudo-apex powers after learning a unique recipe or design in the Eternal Realm.

Unfortunately, as there still wasn't a way for players to reach the Eternal Realm from the outside, Lifestyle Players outside the Eternal Realm could only look on in envy.

So, now that Zero Wing was offering its members an opportunity to enter the Eternal Realm, how could they not be excited?

Of course, they had only learned about these core member benefits after becoming internal members of Zero Wing and signing a God's Domain Contract and a Guild Contract. This was also why they had worked so enthusiastically after joining Zero Wing. It was all so they could become core members as soon as possible.

"Huo Rong," the tall young man answered anxiously. He could naturally hear the hushed discussions behind him, and he couldn't help but grow worried Shi Feng might come to the same conclusion as his peers. It was especially so after he had heard all of his peers reporting completion rates of about 50 to 60 percent only.

Honestly, at this point, even he couldn't help but start to doubt his simulation results.

However, it was a fact that he had ended up with a 20% success rate after conducting numerous simple simulations via the God's Domain Simulation Cabin. Hence, this result should be absolutely correct. After all, the God's Domain Simulation Cabin could perfectly simulate various matters from God's Domain.

Even though the simulation cabin was incapable of replicating lifestyle procedures as well as it could combat, which could usually achieve over 90% uniformity, its simple simulations still shouldn't be too far off from the real deal. At the very least, instances where one could successfully manufacture an item via the simulation cabin but couldn't in God's Domain shouldn't exist.

Huo Rong? Melting Flame? Shi Feng's curiosity was piqued when he heard the young man's name. "Do your forging success rates fluctuate significantly? For example, do you experience situations where you get only half the average success rate when you're unlucky, and 10 or 20 percent higher than the average when you're lucky?"

"Mhm." Huo Rong nodded in surprise. He didn't think Shi Feng would know of his forging circumstances. "When I'm lucky, I can achieve success rates 10 or 20 percent higher than others. But if I'm unlucky, I'd be fortunate if I can even achieve a 10% success rate."

Honestly, Huo Rong felt very distressed about his own unique situation. If he could stabilize his erratic forging success rates, he could have long joined a conglomerate with his younger sister and become internal members there.

"Okay, I understand." Shi Feng nodded and smiled. "Since it's the simulation cabin's result, it should be correct. In that case, may I know if you are interested in becoming a core member of Zero Wing?"

"A core member of Zero Wing? Me?"

Huo Rong was stunned. Originally, he had been worried Shi Feng would refuse to believe in his result and have him manufacture the items in God's Domain. After all, he had only managed a 20% success rate in the simple simulations.

In God's Domain, having a 20% success rate didn't necessarily mean players could absolutely succeed in manufacturing an item every one out of five tries. Instead, the numbers were much more down-to-earth, and players would be fortunate to even succeed once or twice out of thirty tries.

Meanwhile, the designs Shi Feng shared required materials so precious that even the various major powers would have difficulty obtaining them. At best, they could only take out a few sets on short notice, which should also be true for Zero Wing.

In that case, even if Huo Rong could perfectly transfer his simulation success rate to God's Domain, his chances of manufacturing the items were slim. At that time, not only would he make a fool of himself, but he would also be at risk of getting kicked out of Zero Wing.

"That's right." Shi Feng nodded. "And it's not just you. Anyone who has achieved a 70% completion rate can also become a core member of Zero Wing."

Huo Rong's name was known by all in Shi Feng's previous life. One could even say that his name was recorded in the annals of the Greater God's Domain's history. Only, by the time Huo Rong had risen to fame, he was already much older than he was now. Moreover, at the time, Huo Rong didn't belong to any of the various major powers. Instead, he was only a member of an ordinary hegemonic power.

Meanwhile, Huo Rong's fame wasn't because he was unbelievably talented. Even at his peak, he had only managed to develop his forging skills to the Basic Great Grandmaster standard. Craftsmen like Silent Wonder and Silk Radish would leave him in the dust if compared only in ranks.

Instead, the reason for Huo Rong's fame was his ability to produce items sought after by even the various apex powers. Or, more specifically, he had manufactured items that were outside the abilities of even Craftsman Forgers.

Pseudo-Divine Artifacts!

Or, more specifically, Replicas of bona fide Divine Artifacts. Moreover, the precision of these Replicas was so high that they could reach the Fragmented Divine Artifact rank. Compared to Replicas that could only achieve ranks such as Legendary and Fragmented Legendary, Huo Rong's Divine Artifact Replicas were in a completely different realm.

Hence, when the Greater God's Domain's various powers learned that a Pseudo-Divine Artifact had come from the hands of a Great Grandmaster Forger, they couldn't help but be dumbfounded. After all, even Craftsman Forgers could only manufacture Legendary Weapons and Equipment at a very low success rate, let alone Pseudo-Divine Artifacts.

Yet, Huo Rong had accomplished this miraculous feat not just once, but three times, silencing everyone who thought he had only gotten lucky.

As for the reason Huo Rong could produce Pseudo-Divine Artifacts, it was because he possessed a Divine Craftsman Talent that nobody else had. Even Huo Rong himself had only discovered this Talent after getting promoted into a Great Grandmaster Forger.

Meanwhile, the Talent's effects were simple. It granted Huo Rong a minimum success rate of 10 to 20% when he was manufacturing weapons and equipment above the Epic rank and reduced his success rate by 10% when he was manufacturing weapons and equipment at the Epic rank or below. If he was manufacturing items that weren't weapons or equipment, his success rate would increase or decrease depending on the rank of the materials used.

The existence of this Talent was why Huo Rong had been ignored for a long time.

Grandmaster Forgers were very common for the Greater God's Domain's various powers. Meanwhile, these Grandmaster Forgers would be tasked with producing Epic Weapons and Equipment most of the time, and very rarely would they have an opportunity to manufacture weapons and equipment above the Epic rank.

Even if such a project fell into the hands of Grandmaster Forgers, those selected would usually be Advanced Grandmaster Forgers with a good track record. For someone like Huo Rong, who couldn't even produce Epic Weapons and Equipment at a decent success rate, there was no way he would be given an opportunity to produce items above the Epic rank.

"My little sister, Huo Ling, is also as talented as I am in forging, Guild Leader. Although she didn't achieve a 70% completion rate, she is only one step short of becoming a Great Grandmaster Magician. If she can become a Great Grandmaster Magician, I believe she can fully complete the forging designs as well," Huo Rong said as he pointed at a 16-year-old girl standing nearby.

Only one step short of becoming a Great Grandmaster Magician? Shi Feng's eyes brightened as he turned to look at the girl Huo Rong was pointing at. Then, he eagerly asked, "Is that true?"

TL Notes:

[1]Huo Rong and Huo Ling:

Just a heads up-

Huo Rong(火熔) will be Melting Flame in the game.

Huo Ling(火铃) will be Flaming Bell in the game.

Chapter 3566: Eternal Magic Armor's Trial Production

Chapter 640 – Eternal Magic Armor's Trial Production

"If you don't believe me, I can have my sister draw a magic array to prove herself right now, Guild Leader."

Huo Rong couldn't help but panic a little when he heard Shi Feng's sudden question, and he hurried to offer an explanation.

Everyone else present was similarly surprised by Shi Feng's reaction, and they couldn't help but wonder why Shi Feng would express such great interest in a girl who was still one step short of becoming a Great Grandmaster Magician. After all, he didn't even react in such a way when hearing about Huo Rong's ability to fully manufacture the forging designs he provided.

There was a vast difference between Half-step Great Grandmaster Magicians and true Great Grandmaster Magicians. Over 99% of Advanced Grandmaster Magicians in the Greater God's Domain could never be able to take the final step.

Hence, while Great Grandmaster Magicians were incredibly rare in God's Domain, Advanced Grandmaster Magicians who were one step short of becoming Great Grandmasters were not. It wouldn't even be an exaggeration to say that such Advanced Grandmaster Magicians were a dime a dozen. Take the current Zero Wing, for example. So long as Zero Wing gave the word, many such Advanced Grandmaster Magicians would be ready at its service.

"No need. I believe you. Also, very few people can become an Advanced Grandmaster Magician at such a young age, so she is indeed qualified to become a core member of Zero Wing," Shi Feng said, shaking his head. Then, he swept his gaze across the other youths in the room and asked, "Is anyone else here an Advanced Grandmaster Magician?"

Following Shi Feng's question, the other youths in the room turned to look at each other, but none of them raised their hands.

"That's a shame." Shi Feng sighed as he looked at the silent crowd.

Half-step Great Grandmaster Magicians were indeed common in the Greater God's Domain, but Half-step Great Grandmaster Magicians who were also Advanced Grandmaster Forgers were not. Such talent remained precious to the various powers, and it was especially so for the current Zero Wing.

Since returning from the Nameless City, Shi Feng had desperately sought to materialize the Eternal Magic Armor Equipment Set. After all, the Eternal Magic Armor's forging process wasn't particularly complicated. Apart from needing sufficient knowledge of magic arrays to engrave the intricate Eternal Battle Array, the only other major challenge was procuring a large supply of Eternal God Crystals. So long as these two requirements were met, any Grandmaster Forger could produce the Eternal Magic Armor.

Originally, Shi Feng had planned to produce the Eternal Magic Armor himself. But as the Guild Leader of Zero Wing, he had many things he needed to do, and he couldn't afford to spend too much time on manufacturing items. Ultimately, he would need other Lifestyle Players to manufacture the set. Only then could Zero Wing have a long-term supply of the Eternal Magic Armor.

Meanwhile, although Shi Feng had not heard of Huo Ling's name in his previous life, the fact that she met the Eternal Magic Armor's manufacturing requirements would naturally catch his interest.

“Since there is no one else, apart from Huo Rong and Huo Ling, anyone who has achieved a completion rate of 70% or above can apply with Pace Angel to become a core member. Once you do so, Pace Angel will give you a set of coordinates in the Greater God’s Domain. Head to the coordinates at the designated time, and someone will bring you to the Eternal Realm.”

After saying so, Shi Feng got out of his seat and left his office. Meanwhile, the youths remaining in the office immediately exploded into an uproar.

“Crap! It was actually true?!”

“The Eternal Realm! I can’t believe we get to go to the Eternal Realm!”

“Dammit! I only managed to get a 65% completion rate this time! If only it was higher!”

Although they had long heard that core members could travel to the Eternal Realm, it wasn’t until Shi Feng said it himself that they truly understood that the opportunity was real and that it wasn’t just a slogan to motivate guild members. This situation caused those who failed to meet Shi Feng’s requirements to feel envious and disappointed.

“This is great, Radish! We are going to the Eternal Realm!” Jade River said excitedly to the person beside her.

Silk Radish nodded in response, though she still couldn’t help but feel like she was dreaming.

Originally, with the appearance of a monster such as Huo Rong, Silk Radish felt their chances of becoming a core member of Zero Wing would fall to zero. However, she didn’t expect those who achieved a 70% completion rate would get to become core members as well. Meanwhile, as luck would have it, both she and Jade River achieved a 70% completion rate in their simulations, securing them a spot among Zero Wing’s core members and an opportunity to enter the Eternal Realm.

Nowadays, there was nobody who didn’t know about the Greater God’s Domain’s Eternal Realm. Everyone knew the Eternal Realm was a place of countless opportunities, and the growth players could achieve there was far superior to other Realms. The speed at which players could earn money was also many times faster.

Take the current market value of Eternal Coins, for example. Just one Eternal Gold Coin was enough for a person to live extravagantly in Star Lake City. One could even stay in the God’s Domain Association’s high-end living quarters for a month.

Ever since they moved into Star Lake City, their daily expenditure had increased significantly. It was especially so after Star Lake City became a second-tier city. But if they could develop in the Eternal Realm, not only could they earn enough money to cover their own living expenses, but they might also make enough to bring their families into Star Lake City.

...

About a day later, a group of youths wearing Zero Wing's Guild Emblem appeared inside Zero Wing's Residence in the Crystal City of Secrets. These youths looked astonished and curious as they took in their surroundings, their behavior making it seem as if this was their first time seeing the Eternal Realm.

However, the appearance of these youths did not garner any attention from the players inside the Residence.

Ever since Zero Wing's Residence got promoted into an Advanced Residence, many players have sought to join Zero Wing. In just one day, Zero Wing had gained an additional several tens of thousands of experts. Even the Guild's fifth-floor experts had increased by more than 200. By now, Zero Wing had already become a first-class power in the Crystal City of Secrets.

Meanwhile, after joining Zero Wing, these experts promptly got busy earning Guild Contribution Points. So, even if someone noticed these youths were new faces, nobody could be bothered to spare them a second glance.

"The Guild has already prepared all the designs and materials you need in your designated Special Forging Rooms and Special Engineering Rooms. The rest is up to you now," Shi Feng said, smiling at the youths before him. "For every component you successfully produce, the Guild will reward you with 5,000 GCPs and 10 Eternal Gold Coins."

The gathered youths immediately gasped when they heard Shi Feng's words. The youths who were more knowledgeable about the Eternal Realm were especially astonished by Shi Feng's generosity.

In the current Eternal Realm, a titled expert would be considered wealthy if they had one Eternal Gold in their possession. As for fifth-floor experts, most of them would only have several Eternal Gold in savings. Yet, Zero Wing was now offering each of them ten Eternal Gold for every component they produced. If they managed to produce several components, they could instantly become wealthy players in the Eternal Realm, and their expenses in Star Lake City would no longer be a concern.

"Alright, head off to your respective workshops. As for you, Flaming Bell, come with me," Shi Feng said before taking Flaming Bell, also known as Huo Ling, to one of the Guild Hall's underground secret rooms.

Zero Wing's Guild Hall had become much bigger after being upgraded into an Advanced Guild Hall. However, the place with the densest Mana and Eternal Energy remained the rooms surrounding the core secret room, which housed the Guild's core magic array. To take full advantage of this situation, Shi Feng turned two of these rooms into a Special Forging Room and a Special Private Room, and the environment found inside these rooms was far superior to the average Special-ranked room.

When Flaming Bell stepped inside the Special Forging Room, she was immediately stunned by the room's environment. Whether it was the room's Mana or Eternal Energy, both were at least twice as dense as what could be found outside. Simply standing inside the Special Forging Room made her feel as if she had ascended to a higher plane of existence.

While Flaming Bell was immersed in the feeling of omniscience, Shi Feng took out a thick and heavy tome from his bag.

Meanwhile, the tome was none other than the Eternal Magic Armor Equipment Set Design he had acquired from the Holy Race.

"Take a look at this and see what kind of success rates you can achieve," Shi Feng said in a serious tone as he pointed at the tome on the forging table.

Chapter 3567: Skylight Association

Chapter 641 – Skylight Association

"This is...a Fragmented Legendary Battle Array Equipment Set?"

Flaming Bell was greatly shocked when she started studying the Eternal Magic Armor's design. Although young, her knowledge of God's Domain was comparable to that of executives of upper-ranking hegemonic powers.

Originally, she thought that with Zero Wing being a new Guild, its foundation should be inferior to the various upper-ranking hegemonic powers, and the Guild would be amazing if it even owned an Epic Equipment Set Design.

After all, mainstream players in the current Greater God's Domain were only geared in a full suit of Epic Weapons and Equipment, and only the elite members of the various powers would get to use Epic Equipment Sets. As for Fragmented Legendary items, these were items reserved for only a small number of elites.

There might be many titled experts in the Eternal Realm, but there still weren't many players with Fragmented Legendary items. Most titled experts could only dream of owning a Fragmented Legendary Equipment Set, let alone Fragmented Legendary Equipment Sets that came with battle arrays.

Honestly, in the current Greater God's Domain, if any upper-ranking hegemonic power could get its hands on 20 Fragmented Legendary Equipment Sets that could be used to form a Small Bronze Battle Array, they would immediately regard these equipment sets as one of their most prized possessions.

"What do you think? How likely are you to succeed in producing it?" Shi Feng asked when he saw that Flaming Bell had finished studying the design.

Shi Feng dared not act recklessly with the Eternal Magic Armor's production. After all, each production attempt cost six Eternal God Crystals. Even if he had over 10,000 Eternal God Crystals right now, he still couldn't afford to mess around. If Flaming Bell's production success rate was too low, he would rather delay the set's production.

"Fifty percent!" Flaming Bell answered tentatively after giving the matter some thought. "That is my current limit. But if I can work in this environment, I am confident I can become a Great Grandmaster Forger in three months. My success rate should reach 90% or more at that time!"

Whether it was the opportunity to produce the Eternal Magic Armor or the opportunity to work in this Special Forging Room, she did not wish to give up any of them. However, she dared not lie, either, so she could only pray that Shi Feng gave her a little bit more time.

"You can raise it to 90% in three months?"

Shi Feng couldn't help but look at Flaming Bell in surprise. He didn't think the girl would be so talented, so much so that she would dare to promise she could get promoted into a Great Grandmaster Forger in three months. It should be known that Great Grandmaster Forgers were regarded as bigshots, even in the Greater God's Domain. Although their status was not as lofty as that of Great Grandmaster Magicians, many upper-ranking hegemonic powers still sought to work with them.

Not to mention, Flaming Bell's current production success rate had also exceeded his initial expectations by 10%.

"Okay, I'll leave the Eternal Magic Armor's production to you. All of the materials have already been prepared. For every set you successfully produce, you will receive 1,000 GCPs and 2 Eternal Gold Coins. If you can complete 500 sets in fifteen days, you will receive an additional 50,000 GCPs and 100 Eternal Gold Coins!"

"Thank you, Guild Leader!" Flaming Bell grew ecstatic when she heard Shi Feng's words. "I won't let you down! I'll also make sure to produce 500 sets in fifteen days! I won't take any payment if I fail to do it!"

"Just make sure you study the design properly. It won't be easy to make 500 sets in fifteen days," Shi Feng said, chuckling.

In reality, he had only set the goal of making 500 sets in fifteen days as a way to motivate Flaming Bell. He didn't really expect her to achieve it. After all, even he could only barely accomplish such a task. Seeing as Flaming Bell wasn't even a Great Grandmaster Magician yet, she would definitely need more time to engrave the equipment sets' magic array.

Of course, if Flaming Bell could achieve the goal, it would greatly help Zero Wing. After all, 500 Eternal Magic Armor Equipment Sets were already enough to fully activate the Eternal Battle Array, letting 500 Tier 5 players to rival Tier 6 players. At that time, Zero Wing should no longer have any problems defending its city on the Western Continent.

Shortly after Shi Feng concluded his conversation with Flaming Bell, he suddenly received a call.

"Big Sis Qilin brought a group of people to the Residence, Guild Leader. She says those people are from a Guild called Skylight Association and that they wish to discuss something important with you," Gentle Snow said. "Do you want to meet them?"

"Ink Qilin brought someone here?" Nodding, Shi Feng said, "Alright, take them to the lounge."

Ink Qilin was a vice commander of Scarecrow Fox. Meanwhile, Scarecrow Fox had been working closely with Zero Wing in the Underground Crystal Palace during this period. Out of respect for their partnership, it would only be reasonable for him to meet with Ink Qilin's guests.

Moreover, Shi Feng was relatively knowledgeable about the Skylight Association. It was a very famous yet mysterious power in the Eternal Realm during his previous life. Its rise in the Eternal Realm was very sudden, and on the surface, it could even rival the Nine Great Pseudo-Apex Powers in strength. Its Templar Legion was especially famous.

The Templar Legion consisted of 1,000 members. At its peak, every member was a Tier 6 titled expert or above. Every one of them also wielded a special power that allowed them to exhibit strength rivaling Tier 6 Gods temporarily. When the Templar Legion moved as one, it was virtually unstoppable in the Eternal Realm.

Overall, the Skylight Association could be considered one of the Greater God's Domain's latest overlords after the Eternal Realm's appearance.

...

Zero Wing's Residence, VIP Lounge:

When Shi Feng arrived at the lounge, he saw Ink Qilin and River Light quietly seated on a magic stone sofa. Presently, they have reached Level 169 and Level 168, respectively. Meanwhile, seated across them was a gray-haired old man who looked to be in his sixties or seventies. Compared to Ink Qilin and River Light, the old man was much higher in levels, reaching Level 171 already.

It was apparent that Ink Qilin and River Light felt great pressure when facing the old man, as both had beads of sweat covering their foreheads.

There were also about a dozen middle-aged men and women standing behind the old man. Not only were they all at Level 170, but they were also experts who had climbed to the realm of Saints. Placed in any upper-ranking hegemonic power, these individuals would definitely be given the position of Elder. Yet, they now behaved like soldiers awaiting instructions as they stood behind the old man.

Meanwhile, following Shi Feng's appearance, these soldier-like middle-aged players simultaneously turned to look at him, their gazes sharp as knives.

"No wonder Miss Qilin has pushed Zero Wing so strongly to Paradise." When the old man heard Shi Feng entering the room, he opened his eyes and took a moment to scrutinize Shi Feng. Then, he sighed and said, "Young people nowadays are truly amazing. You're only in your thirties, yet not only have you mastered Gold Combat Techniques already, but your current strength even rivals true Tier 6 players. You're even more terrifying than Paradise when he was young."

"You jest, Elder Sword. I am still far behind the Divine Spear," Shi Feng said, immediately recognizing the gray-haired old man as Nineteenth Sword, one of the Greater God's Domain's current Ten Great Swordsmen. In addition, the old man was also one of the few solo experts who had managed to be awarded a position among the Ten Great Swordsmen. As for the "Paradise" mentioned by the old man, he was the holder of the title Divine Spear, and he currently ranked among the top ten of the Divine Glory List. "May I know what you have come to discuss on behalf of the Skylight Association, Elder Sword?"

"Something good," Nineteenth Sword said, chuckling. "Zero Wing's growth in the Eternal Realm is obvious to all, so the Skylight Association has sent me to invite Zero Wing to become a part of the Skylight Association."

Chapter 3568: Mythical Race

Chapter 642 – Mythical Race

"Become a part of the Skylight Association?" Shi Feng wasn't particularly surprised to hear Nineteenth Sword's words. Instead, he asked out of curiosity, "May I know what price the Skylight Association is willing to offer?"

Many up-and-coming powers in the Greater God's Domain would receive invitations from the various major powers. Or more specifically, the various major powers saw potential in these up-and-coming powers and wished to make them into their subordinate powers. This was also one of the more common methods the Skylight Association had used to expand its influence in the Eternal Realm during his previous life.

Meanwhile, Zero Wing's growth in the Crystal City of Secrets was clear for all to see. The Guild's current influence in the city was completely different from before. So, it was only natural for some powers to be interested in making Zero Wing their subordinate.

Only, what caught Shi Feng by surprise was Nineteenth Sword's appearance.

Nineteenth Sword was known for being a lone wolf in the Greater God's Domain, going so far as to turn down invitations from apex powers. Yet, now, not only did Nineteenth Sword enter the Eternal Realm, but he had even joined the Skylight Association. This was something that did not happen during Shi Feng's previous life.

"Capital injection will naturally be essential," Nineteenth Sword calmly said. "For starters, Skylight will invest 200 billion Star Coins and 1,000 drops of Stardew in Zero Wing. Then, it will progressively invest an additional 1 trillion Star Coins and 2,000 drops of Stardew to help Zero Wing expand rapidly in the Crystal City of Secrets.

"Of course, these are only the basic investments. The real benefit for experts such as yourself will be an opportunity to convert into a Mythical Race. The Skylight Association can offer Zero Wing 100 of such conversion slots. In return, the Skylight Association seeks only 51% of Zero Wing's shares.

"I doubt you will need me to tell you how valuable the Mythical Races are, right?"

When Nineteenth Sword finished speaking, the eyes of Ink Qilin and River Light immediately brightened. It was especially so when they heard the words "Mythical Races."

The existence of Mythical Races was akin to legends!

The various races in the current Greater God's Domain had only appeared after the Mythical Era. Or, more specifically, they were the descendants of the Mythical Era's races, and humans were no exception. Meanwhile, compared to the Mythical Era's races, even the elven and demidragon races, which were considered the most gifted among modern races, would be considered below average.

For example, according to the Grand Library's records, the Mythical Era's elves were easily ten times better at manipulating the various magic elements than modern elves due to the purity of their bloodline. They didn't even need to focus their minds to perceive the magic elements around them. Instead, they could see the various magic elements with their naked eyes.

Another example would be the subdivisions of the human race, such as the Brave Ones and the Divine Eye race. Brave Ones possessed bodies that were nearly as tough as that of dragons, making them natural-born warriors. Meanwhile, members of the Divine Eye race possessed dynamic vision several times superior to normal humans, making them natural-born hunters.

If they could convert to any of these Mythical Races, they could definitely achieve a qualitative improvement. They might also match, or possibly even surpass, Golden Masters in combat standards.

“Are you perhaps talking about Holy Ring City’s Mythical Races, Elder Sword?” Shi Feng asked.

The Greater God’s Domain’s Mythical Races had long gone extinct, so it shouldn’t be possible for anyone to convert to a Mythical Race. Even if it could be done, these methods should involve Legacies left behind by Ancient Gods or Primordial Gods.

Meanwhile, out of all possible avenues Shi Feng could think of, the only way the Skylight Association could obtain 100 Mythical Race conversion slots currently would be through Holy Ring City, a Neutral City situated in the Eternal Realm. It would also be one of the cities where all powers in the Greater God’s Domain sought to occupy.

However, only a small number of powers could truly ever move into Holy Ring City. This was because human players weren’t the only ones who could enter Holy Ring City. Holy Race players could similarly do so. But as Holy Ring City could only accommodate a limited number of players, only the Guilds that managed to secure one of the city’s 16 Guild Residence slots could let a fixed number of their members enter the city freely. As for everyone else, they would need to obtain an entry slot via the World Ark.

The World Ark was a super-large Level 170 to Level 200 World Mode Regional Dungeon. It was situated incredibly far from any NPC City, and all players and powers could go there to compete for the opportunity to enter Holy Ring City. It wasn’t something the Skylight Association could monopolize.

“It seems you are very well-informed, Guild Leader Black Flame,” Nineteenth Sword said, a hint of surprise flashing in his eyes. Then, he confidently continued, “Indeed, I am referring to Holy Ring City’s Mythical Races. Many pseudo-apex powers have already set their sights on Holy Ring City. Many Holy Race powers will also be participating in the competition. So, ordinary powers shouldn’t even consider participating in the competition, let alone exchange for the right to convert to a Mythical Race. If Zero Wing wants any conversion slots, joining the Skylight Association will be essential. Otherwise, with Zero Wing’s current strength, even stepping into the World Ark will not be possible.”

"If that's all the Skylight Association has to offer, I'm afraid I will have to disappoint you, Elder Sword," Shi Feng said, chuckling as he looked at Nineteenth Sword's confident look. "Skylight's offer is a little too low for Zero Wing to accept."

"Low?" When Nineteenth Sword saw Shi Feng's nonchalant expression, he smiled and asked, "Young man, do you know how intense the competition at the World Ark is? Not even the Crystal City's various pseudo-apex powers can guarantee they can secure 10 conversion slots, let alone 100. If you refuse this offer today, you will definitely come to regret your decision in the future."

"Regret?" Chuckling, Shi Feng said, "It's just 100 conversion slots. That's not enough for me to feel regretful."

Holy Ring City's Mythical Race conversion slots were indeed precious, but they were insignificant compared to the resources he currently had on hand. Not to mention, his aim wasn't merely the Mythical Race conversion slots, but also Holy Ring City itself.

Meanwhile, silence enveloped the lounge following Shi Feng's statement. His words especially shocked Ink Qilin and River Light.

Madness!

Absolute madness!

By now, they had already more or less heard about the situation at the World Ark. It wouldn't be an exaggeration to say that it was a place only pseudo-apex powers and above could set foot into. While Zero Wing might be a dominant force in the Crystal City of Secrets, it remained insignificant compared to the powers vying for Holy Ring City.

Now that Shi Feng had turned down Nineteenth Sword's invitation, Zero Wing might not even be able to enter the World Ark, let alone Holy Ring City.

After all, Nineteenth Sword was responsible for overseeing the Skylight Association's affairs at the World Ark. So long as Nineteenth Sword gave the word, any Zero Wing member would be killed on sight if they set foot into the Regional Dungeon.

Most importantly, to prevent the various Holy Race powers from monopolizing the World Ark's resurrection camps, the various human powers had agreed to join forces and wrestle control over these camps when they activated in four days. If Zero Wing couldn't get a share of these resurrection camps, its members would face significantly greater difficulty exploring the World Ark.

"Good! Youngsters nowadays are much bolder than my time." Standing up, Nineteenth Sword took one last look at Shi Feng and said, "I hope Zero Wing can still be so tough four days later!"

After saying so, Nineteenth Sword left with his entourage, showing no intention of staying any longer.

Chapter 3569: Activating the Medium World Fragment

Chapter 643 – Activating the Medium World Fragment

“You really shouldn’t have reacted so impulsively, Guild Leader Black Flame,” Ink Qilin said worriedly to Shi Feng after seeing Nineteenth Sword leave. “The Skylight Association is very powerful in the Eternal Realm; even the various pseudo-apex powers are wary of it. Not to mention, Elder Sword is known for his arrogance. Now that Zero Wing has rejected his buyout offer, he is bound to target Zero Wing at the World Ark.”

Nineteenth Sword had rejected all of the invitations he had received from the various apex powers thus far, so it was a huge deal for him to join a non-apex power like the Skylight Association. Yet, when he came in person to make Zero Wing a buyout offer on the Skylight Association’s behalf, he had faced such an outright rejection. With his prideful personality, there was no way he would let this slight go.

Not to mention, the World Ark was a high-level World Mode Regional Dungeon that was bound to be the focus of the various players and powers in the future. At that time, there wouldn’t be just one city’s worth of players and powers competing over the map, but many cities instead. There were also the Holy Race’s various players and powers.

Although Zero Wing currently already had over 100,000 members and over 200 fifth-floor experts, such numbers were nothing in the competition over the World Ark. If Zero Wing wanted to thrive in the Regional Dungeon, the wisest choice would be to partner with the Skylight Association.

“Don’t worry, Vice Commander Qilin,” Shi Feng said, chuckling. “The current Zero Wing is no longer the same as before. The Skylight Association is not worthy of Zero Wing’s fear.”

The Skylight Association indeed grew to an extraordinary extent during his previous life. But the current Zero Wing similarly shouldn’t be underestimated, either. Not to mention, even with the limited resources he had during his previous life, he still managed to fight Demon’s Gate, an apex power, to a standstill. So, why should he be afraid of a non-apex power like the Skylight Association?

“If you feel that the Mana Purification Technique is sufficient as a trump card, I advise you to reconsider, Guild Leader Black Flame,” Ink Qilin said, wryly smiling when she heard Shi Feng’s nonchalant response. “I don’t know how, but the Skylight Association has also managed to secure many copies of the Mana Purification Technique for its elites. This is also how the Skylight Association has thrived at the World Ark.”

“Skylight has also acquired many copies?” Shi Feng was a little surprised to hear this. He found it hard to believe that an up-and-coming power like the Skylight Association could get its hands on many copies of the Mana Purification Technique.

In the current Eternal Realm, only the various apex powers should be able to get their hands on a considerable amount. As for Zero Wing, it had only gotten lucky and secured a large number from the Nameless City.

“In short, be careful of Skylight, Guild Leader Black Flame,” Ink Qilin said cautiously. “There is no way Skylight is an ordinary existence. Despite the various apex powers offering various resources to recruit him, Elder Sword still turned down all of their offers. Yet, Skylight has somehow managed to convince him to join.

“Moreover, it isn’t just Elder Sword. According to Scarecrow Fox’s intelligence, many of the Greater God’s Domain’s top adventurer teams and famous individuals have also joined Skylight. Skylight’s forces have also killed several of the Nine Great Pseudo-Apex Powers’ legions at the World Ark already, and these were legions led by Vice Guild Leader-individuals we are talking about. Nobody knows exactly how powerful the Skylight Association is right now.”

“Thank you for your reminder, Vice Commander Qilin,” Shi Feng said gratefully. “I will take note of this.”

“Okay. I still have to take care of the Great Commander’s mission, so I’ll be taking my leave as well,” Ink Qilin said, nodding before leaving Zero Wing’s Residence with River Light.

Meanwhile, a moment after Ink Qilin and River Light left, Gentle Snow stepped into the lounge.

“Should we head to the World Ark with Azure Shadow’s group in four days, Guild Leader?” Gentle Snow suggested.

The Nine Great Pseudo-Apex Powers were second to only the various apex powers. Meanwhile, their legions led by Vice Guild Leader-level individuals were so strong they could survive against even Divine Glory experts. Yet, the Skylight Association had managed to kill multiple such legions.

“No need. Let them focus on preparing for their test,” Shi Feng said, shaking his head. “If we want to stand out in the Eternal Realm, it is best if we rely on ourselves. How’s the secret room’s renovation coming along?”

“The barrier has been set up as you requested. Not even Tier 6 experts should think of breaking it in a short time,” Gentle Snow answered with a look of curiosity. She couldn’t understand why Shi Feng would ask to erect such a powerful barrier for a single room. The barrier was already strong enough to protect the average city.

“It’s done already?” Shi Feng smiled when he heard Gentle Snow’s answer. “In that case, have Soul’s group gather there in an hour. The same goes for you.”

“Why are we gathering there? I don’t think it will be necessary if we’re gathering for a sparring session.” Gentle Snow asked in confusion. “After learning the Advanced Bronze Purification Technique, everyone is busy trying to master World Laws. Many of them are also very close to mastering a Law already.”

Shi Feng couldn’t help but chuckle when he heard Gentle Snow’s concerns. Then, he said, “Naturally, it is to help you all master more Laws. Of course, I won’t object if you all decide you don’t want this opportunity. I can always enjoy it by myself.”

“Master more Laws?” Gentle Snow was momentarily stunned. “Really?”

World Laws played a vital role in determining a Divine Body’s Completion Rate and strength. The more World Laws a player mastered, the higher their Divine Body’s Completion Rate and strength would be.

In reality, many of Zero Wing’s executive members could already get promoted to Tier 6. But they all had great ambitions, so they wished to make more progress in World Laws before creating their Divine Body and getting promoted to Tier 6.

But mastering World Laws was not an easy task. Apart from gaining assistance from various Legacies, they could only rely on themselves to comprehend and experiment.

“Of course. When have I ever lied to you?” Shi Feng said, chuckling. “Hurry up and notify the others.”

“Okay! I’ll go and inform them right away!” Gentle Snow said hurriedly. “Also, you’re not allowed to monopolize this opportunity, Guild Leader!”

While Gentle Snow left to contact Hidden Soul and Zero Wing’s other executives, Shi Feng made his way to the secret room protected by a Large Grandmaster Magic Barrier.

The secret room was the size of a football field, and it was more than enough to accommodate the activities of over a hundred players.

It’s all up to you now.

After arriving in the secret room, Shi Feng took out the Medium World Fragment from his bag. Then, he injected a God Crystal into the fist-sized void fragment.

Chapter 3570: World Law Paradise

Chapter 644 – World Law Paradise

When the God Crystal merged with the Medium World Fragment, wisps of silver-gray mist emanated from the fist-sized void fragment and spread across the room like ripples across a pond. In only a few moments, dense mist filled the entire room, darkening the room.

Meanwhile, standing amidst the darkness, Shi Feng couldn't help but be astonished by the unprecedented experience he was currently experiencing. More specifically, he could currently see everything in his surroundings with incredible clarity, particularly the magic elements around him.

In God's Domain, players' perception of the various magic elements would increase and decrease with the mana density. Yet, even though the room's mana density remained the same as before, his perception of magic elements had undergone a qualitative transformation.

Are these the effects of a Medium World Fragment? Shi Feng was greatly shocked as he looked at the countless magic elements moving around him.

The level of his Mana Affinity already ranked at the top of the Greater God's Domain, but even then, it only allowed him to vaguely see the movements of the magic elements around him. In comparison, after activating the Medium World Fragment, not only could he see the surrounding magic elements with great clarity, but even their movements had seemingly slowed down by a lot.

The magic elements in God's Domain moved at great speeds. Even with Level 6 Mana Affinity, he could normally only catch glimpses of a magic element's movement. Observing a magic element move was no different than observing a shooting star for him. So, one could just imagine how challenging it would be to analyze a World Law that was weaved by countless magic elements.

This was also why despite there being countless experts in the Greater God's Domain, Saint-ranked experts remained exceedingly rare.

But, at this time, Shi Feng found the movements of the magic elements around him had slowed down by more than half. This made it many times easier to observe and analyze the World Laws they weaved.

While Shi Feng marveled at the Medium World Fragment's amazing effects, over a dozen Zero Wing members entered the secret room. Apart from Gentle Snow, there was Hidden Soul, Su Qianliu, Wordless Ember, Sleeping Quicksand, Rampant Blade, Wu Xiaoxiao, Midsummer, Fire Dance, Jun Luosha, Firecloud, Happy Snow, Lin Yaoyue, Zhuo Yalin, Crimson Heart, and Cleansed Rue.

Lin Yaoyue, Zhuo Yalin, Crimson Heart, and Cleansed Rue were originally members of Mysterious Moon and Hundred Flower Palace. But ever since Zero Wing became the Miniature Ancient World's overlord and brought many of the Asura Mercenary Alliance's executives into the Eternal Realm, many of the mercenary alliance's Guilds had chosen to merge into Zero Wing. Among them were Mysterious Moon and Hundred Flower Palace.

Shi Feng naturally welcomed the addition of the two first-rate Guilds. It was especially so for the individuals Lin Yaoyue, Zhuo Yalin, Crimson Heart, and Cleansed Rue. All four of them possessed exceptional talent, and it was especially so for Crimson Heart and Cleansed Rue.

During Shi Feng's previous life, Cleansed Rue's fame was on par with Gentle Snow, being one of their God's Domain's Four Goddesses. After entering the Greater God's Domain, she even became a Saint-ranked expert who had mastered three Basic Laws; she was only short of merging the three Basic Laws into an Advanced Law.

Unfortunately, due to Hundred Flower Palace's lacking foundations, Cleansed Rue ended up having her potential restricted. Had Hundred Flower Palace been as strong as an upper-ranking hegemonic power and provided Cleansed Rue with a full set of Legendary Equipment, she could have rivaled Tier 6 Gods in strength.

As for Crimson Heart, Hundred Flower Palace's First Vice Guild Leader, her achievements were even more extraordinary than Cleansed Rue. Firstly, she managed to develop an Exclusive Absolute Technique that rivaled Gold Combat Techniques. Secondly, with a full set of Legendary items, she managed to force a Tier 6 God into retreating after fighting for an entire day, which, in turn, allowed Hundred Flower Palace to occupy an ancient ruin in the Void Sea.

Originally, Shi Feng thought Hundred Flower Palace would remain only as Zero Wing's ally like in his previous life. He never thought that Crimson Heart would somehow manage to persuade Shadow Flower, Hundred Flower Palace's mysterious Guild Leader, to incorporate Hundred Flower Palace into Zero Wing.

Mysterious Moon's decision to merge into Zero Wing did not surprise Shi Feng at all. After all, Mysterious Moon was just your average first-rate Guild. On the other hand, while Hundred Flower Palace might be a first-rate Guild on the surface, whether in quantity or quality, its experts could already rival super-first-rate Guilds.

So long as Hundred Flower Palace waited for their God's Domain's World Passage to fully open and enter the Greater God's Domain, it would be akin to an aquarium shark returning to the ocean. It would quickly grow into an ordinary hegemonic power in the Greater God's Domain, and it might even have hopes of rivaling upper-ranking hegemonic powers in the future.

Hence, Shi Feng was very much surprised by Hundred Flower Palace's addition to Zero Wing.

But since Hundred Flower Palace had already merged into Zero Wing, he naturally had to make full use of Crimson Heart's and Cleansed Rue's potential.

"What is this place?! I can actually perceive the movements of magic elements here!" Cleansed Rue exclaimed as soon as she stepped into the secret room.

Cleansed Rue had been repeatedly shocked by Zero Wing's strength since Hundred Flower Palace's merger into Zero Wing. In addition to having the ability to bring its guild members into the Eternal Realm, Zero Wing also had a frightening number of fifth-floor experts in the Eternal Realm. Compared to Zero Wing, the so-called Five Great Super Guilds of their God's Domain were nothing but jokes.

Moreover, after joining Zero Wing, they also got to spar with the Guild's fifth-floor experts daily, achieving rapid growth. Take Crimson Heart, for example. Right now, Crimson Heart was already a pseudo-fifth-floor expert, and it shouldn't be long before she became a bona fide fifth-floor expert. As for Cleansed Rue, she was a titled expert already, and she also shouldn't have any trouble achieving the fifth-floor standard in the future.

Originally, Cleansed Rue thought she had already seen everything Zero Wing had to offer and that nothing else could shock her. But after entering this secret room, she realized that Zero Wing still had more shocking secrets she had yet to discover.

Currently, getting promoted to Tier 6 was no longer a problem for her. The only problem was whether she could construct a Divine Body at the Gold rank or above, which required her to master at least one Basic World Law.

However, mastering a Basic World Law was easier said than done. To accomplish such a feat, not only did players need to have sufficient Legacy Guidances, but they also needed to fully familiarize themselves with the movements of the various magic elements. If there was even a slight error in their analysis and manipulation, they would never succeed at mastering a World Law.

Meanwhile, players in God's Domain could normally only rely on their senses to perceive the movement of magic elements. It was impossible to do so with the naked eye. Yet, not only was it possible to see magic elements moving in this secret room, but the movement of the room's magic elements was also much slower than normal.

This secret room was essentially a paradise for mastering World Laws.

At this time, Cleansed Rue wasn't the only one in shock. Gentle Snow, Hidden Snow, and everyone else was similarly stunned. They never thought they would get to observe World Laws under such circumstances.

"The benefits of the environment here are self-explanatory. However, I can only keep it active for a limited time, so make use of it while it lasts," Shi Feng suddenly said as he swept his gaze across the dazed individuals before him. "The Guild has also prepared sufficient Seven Luminaries Crystals for all of you. If you decide you are ready to get promoted to Tier 6, you can retrieve your share from the Guild Warehouse at any time."

After saying so, Shi Feng distributed some Eternal God Crystals to everyone before leaving them to their own devices. As for how much they could achieve in this secret room, it was all up to their individual potential.

While everyone was busy analyzing World Laws, Shi Feng made his way to a corner of the room and took out a golden heart from his bag.

Let's hope I can get something out of this!

After making a silent prayer, Shi Feng injected five million units of Seven Luminaries Crystal into the Primordial Chaos Body.

...

TL Notes:

[1]

Lin Yaoyue = Clear Sky

Zhuo Yalin = Nightingale

Chapter 3571: Superior Divine Body

Chapter 645 – Superior Divine Body

Starlight Continent, First-Tier Mobile City, Galaxy City:

A plane measuring over ten thousand meters in length was currently parked above the city's airport, dwarfing the many supersonic passenger planes traveling to and away from the city. Needless to say, the gigantic plane attracted the attention and shock of many in the airport.

The Greater World was composed of numerous continents. For the average person, they would usually never leave the city they resided in, let alone travel to a different continent. But for those looking to travel to other continents, supersonic passenger planes were no longer sufficient. Instead, FTL(faster-than-light) passenger planes would be required.

However, FTL passenger planes were incredibly costly, and only the various conglomerates could afford to own such planes. Even then, they would be limited to owning only a few, and they would normally only use these planes for their own development purposes. Outsiders shouldn't think of hitching a ride on a conglomerate's FTL plane.

Yet, the group of people that had just alighted from the FTL plane clearly weren't here on official business. Judging by their varying casual attires, they were evidently tourists who had come to visit the Starlight Continent. It also didn't seem like they had flown here using their own organization's exclusive FTL plane. This was a level of extravagance that even the Galaxy Conglomerate had never done before, so how could Galaxy City's inhabitants not react in shock?

Meanwhile, walking among the tourists were about a dozen or so young men and women. These youths were akin to well-trained warriors, each giving off an astonishing presence. After arriving at Galaxy City, these youths promptly started to scrutinize the city around them, gathering as much information as they could with their eyes.

When these youths walked along the streets of Galaxy City, many passersby subconsciously turned to look at them. After all, not only did these youths possess sharp temperaments, but every one of them was also a three-star mental strength grandmaster. Even in a first-tier city like Galaxy City, experts of such caliber remained incredibly rare. Not to mention, walking in the lead of these youths was a middle-aged man whose mere presence suffocated even nearby mental strength grandmasters.

"This is such a backwater place. Whether it is in development or energy density levels, this city can't even compete with our continent's second-tier cities," a tall young woman said, a hint of disdain flashing in her eyes as she surveyed the city around her. "Are we really going to develop in that so-called Star Lake City from now on, Big Brother Samsara?"

Their group operated a mercenary unit in the real world under Fervent Samsara's leadership. Even among the Greater God's Domain's Twelve Sanctuaries, their mercenary unit was rather well-known, and many conglomerates would usually hire them to fight against other powers. So, it wouldn't be an exaggeration to say that their mercenary unit thrived in the Twelve Sanctuaries. Although they recently had to put their mercenary activities on hold because Fervent Samsara got dragged into the Eternal Realm by chance, they could promptly resume their activities once the Eternal Realm's coordinates were found.

Yet, even though the Eternal Realm's coordinates had yet to be discovered, Fervent Samsara had suddenly gathered them together and insisted they move to a backwater place like the Starlight Continent to develop. On top of that, they wouldn't even be operating from one of the Starlight Continent's first-tier cities. Instead, they would be setting up base in a newly-promoted second-tier city.

No matter how they racked their minds, they simply couldn't understand why Fervent Samsara would make such a decision.

"I already told you that I won't force you if you don't want to come. Since you're here already, stop asking questions," Fervent Samsara sternly said as he glanced at the youths behind him. "I still can't tell you why I am moving into Star Lake City. But if you join Zero Wing later, I will ask the Guild Leader if I can share this information with you."

The Primordial Chaos Body!

This was an item Primordial Gods used to construct their Divine Bodies. Although Shi Feng never explicitly mentioned it, Fervent Samsara knew he must never share this secret with a third party, even if it was someone he deeply trusted. After all, even the slightest information leak could bring about disaster to them.

"I didn't mean to question your decision, Big Brother Samsara," the young woman hurriedly said when she saw Fervent Samsara suddenly becoming stern. "But we all have families that rely on us for money and resources. We're just worried we can't continue to provide for our families if we suddenly join Zero Wing."

The other youths in the group agreed with the young woman's words.

Every member of their mercenary unit came from a small family. Their families had to go through great effort to nurture them to their current states, so it was only natural that they repaid their debt now that they had become capable experts. But it cost a lot of money and resources to let their family members live in first-tier cities. If joining Zero Wing negatively affected their income, they might lose the ability to support their families.

Not to mention, they had gone through a lot of trouble to develop their mercenary unit to its current prosperous state. For them to join an up-and-coming Guild, which they had never even heard about until recently, would be no different than having them start all over again. The hardships they had experienced in the past really weren't something they wished to go through another time.

"Don't worry. When have I mistreated you all?" Fervent Samsara said, chuckling when he saw everyone's worried looks. "If you join Zero Wing with me, I guarantee you'll be better off than you are now."

The current Zero Wing might seem like it was still an upstart power with an uncertain future, but Fervent Samsara was certain Zero Wing would eventually become a major player in the Greater God's Domain. It might even become a pseudo-apex power in the future. Meanwhile, the best time to join Zero Wing would naturally be when the Guild was still starving for manpower.

Of course, he couldn't just join Zero Wing by himself. If he wished to step into Zero Wing's core circle and hold influence in the Guild, he would need more people to help him.

...

Crystal City of Secrets, Zero Wing's Residence, underground secret room:

After Shi Feng injected five million units of Seven Luminaries Crystal into the Primordial Chaos Body, divine patterns lit up all over the golden heart. Immediately afterward, segments of information flooded his mind, making him feel as if his brain was about to explode.

After this situation continued for nearly half an hour, the Primordial Chaos Body finally stopped transmitting information. Meanwhile, Shi Feng's face was pale and sweated profusely. Yet, despite looking clearly exhausted, excitement filled his eyes.

Incredible! I didn't think the Primordial Chaos Body would hold such a Legacy! No wonder the Primordial Gods would create their Divine Bodies with the help of Primordial Chaos Bodies! Shi Feng mentally exclaimed as he watched the golden heart's divine patterns fade out of existence.

In God's Domain, all players seeking to get promoted to Tier 6 needed to construct a Divine Body suited to them. Meanwhile, players could construct two types of Divine Bodies: ordinary Divine Bodies and Superior Divine Bodies. However, this was a secret most players weren't privy to, and it was something Shi Feng had only come across by luck during his previous life.

In the current God's Domain, whether it was players or Gods, the Divine Bodies they created were only Divine Bodies. Only Primordial Gods and a small number of Ancient Gods had constructed a Superior Divine Body for themselves. This was also why there was such a huge difference in strength between the two groups.

During his previous life, Shi Feng had only gotten the opportunity to construct a Superior Divine Body because of a Primordial God Legacy he obtained.

Different from ordinary Divine Bodies, Superior Divine Bodies could not be constructed without the guidance of a Legacy. Even if he had experience constructing a Superior Divine Body, he couldn't construct one without the necessary Legacy.

Originally, he thought he would not get to construct a Superior Divine Body in this life, and the most he could achieve was construct an ordinary Divine Body that was at the Legendary rank. After all, the opportunity he had come across in his previous life was not something that could be actively sought after.

But now, he actually had another chance to construct a Superior Divine Body!

Chapter 3572: Divine Body of Legends

Chapter 646 – Divine Body of Legends

After calming his emotions, Shi Feng started to carefully analyze the new information in his brain. There were many different ways to construct a Divine Body, so even though he had experience constructing a Superior Divine Body, he couldn't treat the matter with light regard.

Meanwhile, from what he gathered after briefly looking through the information he received, the guidance provided by the Primordial Chaos Body was most certainly different from the guidance he received from the Primordial God Legacy in his previous life.

For starters, the Primordial God Legacy in his previous life had provided him with step-by-step instructions on how to construct a specific Superior Divine Body. All he needed to do was meet all the target requirements, and he would have himself a Superior Divine Body.

On the other hand, the Primordial Chaos Body only provided him with a general method of creating a Divine Body. He would still need to complete the vital sections by himself. As for what kind of Divine Body he could create, it would depend on the World Laws he had mastered.

According to the Primordial Chaos Body's Legacy, the more World Laws he mastered, the stronger his Divine Body would be. He could even construct a Superior Divine Body if he had mastered a sufficient number of World Laws.

Of course, before aiming to construct a Superior Divine Body, he would first need to deal with the basic portion of the Primordial Chaos Body's Divine Body construction method, which would not be easy.

When he created his Superior Divine Body in his previous life, including the core magic arrays, he had to engrave over a thousand Grandmaster Magic Arrays and manipulate them simultaneously. However, compared to the Primordial God Legacy's method of creating Superior Divine Bodies, the Primordial Chaos Body's method was even more astonishing.

After glancing at the information provided by the Primordial Chaos Body, he found that he needed to construct over 1,900 Grandmaster Magic Arrays just for his Divine Body's core. On top of that, he also had to construct some additional Grandmaster Magic Arrays at vital nodes situated across the Divine Body, and these nodal magic arrays numbered roughly one-tenth of the core magic arrays. After factoring in both types of magic arrays, he would need to construct over 2,000 Grandmaster Magic Arrays.

Even at a rough estimate, the Superior Divine Body construction method provided by the Primordial Chaos Body was at least twice as complex as the step-by-step method he obtained from the Primordial God Legacy in his previous life.

As if that wasn't enough, he also had to thoroughly research the magic arrays suggested by the Primordial Chaos Body. Otherwise, he would not be able to merge the World Laws he had mastered with his Divine Body and construct the nodal magic arrays.

One hour... Ten hours... Thirty hours...

It was not until the evening of the next day that Shi Feng withdrew from his mind.

Sure enough, constructing a Superior Divine Body of my own isn't going to be an easy task. If I wasn't already a Great Grandmaster Magician, the Seven Luminaries Crystals I spent would have been for nothing, Shi Feng inwardly celebrated as he looked at the complete Divine Body Magic Array in his mind.

The process of researching the 1,900-plus Grandmaster Magic Arrays wasn't particularly difficult. Any Grandmaster Magician could do it with enough time. What made the process challenging was having the insight to tell that these Grandmaster Magic Arrays involved every Basic World Law in existence.

Indeed! Every Basic World Law in existence!

The intricacy of the 1,900-plus Grandmaster Magic Arrays was simply unbelievable!

It was common knowledge that when players constructed a Divine Body, it would be as if they were creating a miniature world within themselves. However, this miniature world would be an incredibly broken one, and it only existed to enable players to execute Law Projection.

This was because the Divine Body players created only involved a small portion of the Basic World Laws that existed. It was also the same case with the Superior Divine Body that Shi Feng had created in his previous life.

However, when Shi Feng constructed the Primordial Chaos Body's Divine Body Magic Array, he felt he was constructing a God's Domain with complete Basic Laws. It was simply incredible.

In fact, he might not even need to achieve a 90% Completion Rate to exceed the Legendary rank. In that case, completing the Hundred Refinement Mana Body quest would be a piece of cake.

In his previous life, he was able to construct a Superior Divine Body because of the Law of Destruction he had mastered. Or rather, the Primordial God Legacy's Superior Divine Body was created based on the Law of Destruction. Thus, he would be able to construct the Superior Divine Body so long as he mastered the Law of Destruction.

The same was also true now. So long as he converted the Law of Destruction into the required nodal magic arrays and merged them with the Divine Body Magic Array, he would be able to immediately reclaim his previous life's achievements.

However, as a Great Grandmaster Magician, Shi Feng was also aware that he would be wasting the Primordial Chaos Body if he did that.

Unlike the Primordial God Legacy's Divine Body Magic Array, the Primordial Chaos Body's Divine Body Magic Array was fully capable of adopting multiple Advanced Laws. Meanwhile, the more Advanced Laws he merged into the magic array, the more World Power he could influence when he got promoted to Tier 6.

Now that I have mastered all the foundational magic arrays, I should try merging the Law of Destruction and Law of Space with them. Hopefully, I have enough resources to fund my attempts. When Shi Feng looked at the Seven Luminaries Crystals in his bag, he couldn't help but lose confidence.

Although he wasn't looking to construct a Divine Body right away, if he wanted to operate the Divine Body Magic Array supplied by the Primordial Chaos Body normally, he would need to supply it with Seven Luminaries Crystals. Or, more specifically, every time he attempted to merge the nodal magic arrays, he would need to spend Seven Luminaries Crystal to see if the Divine Body Magic Array could operate normally. While such experiments might not cost as much as it did to construct a Divine Body, each attempt would still require 50,000 units of Seven Luminaries Crystal.

Normally, when a Grandmaster Magician was looking to develop a new Grandmaster Magic Array, they were unlikely to succeed without making a few thousand attempts. Even Great Grandmaster Magicians would need at least several hundred attempts.

Aside from the 10 million units of Seven Luminaries Crystal needed to fund Fervent Samsara's and Heavy Abyss's opportunity to experience the Primordial Chaos Body, Shi Feng only had a little more than 35 million units of Seven Luminaries Crystal remaining. Among them, he would have to save about 10 to 20 million units to fund the Tier 6 promotion of guild members. So, all in all, he didn't really have a lot of Seven Luminaries Crystals to waste.

However, Shi Feng didn't hesitate to proceed with his experiments. Right now, constructing a Superior Divine Body was of the utmost importance. Everything else was secondary. Even if he ended up wasting all of his Seven Luminaries Crystals, he simply needed to obtain more.

Following this, Shi Feng used an Eternal God Crystal and, under the Medium World Fragment's assistance, started converting the Law of Destruction and Law of Space into Grandmaster Magic Arrays to merge with the Divine Body Magic Array.

One time... Two times... Three times...

On the third day after the Medium World Fragment was activated, quite a few people in the secret room started to joyfully prepare for their Tier 6 promotion. Shi Feng, though, remained seated in his corner.

Another failure...

Shi Feng felt as if he had gotten ahead of himself when he looked at the Divine Body Magic Array that had refused to operate normally even once.

He had gone through hundreds of attempts in the past two days, expending over 20 million units of Seven Luminaries Crystal. However, not once did he manage to get the Divine Body Magic Array to operate normally. In other words, he couldn't settle for a defective product even if he wanted to. The difficulty of converting two Advanced Laws into magic arrays was far greater than he initially anticipated.

Fortunately, as if the Main God System had decided to take pity on him, on the next nodal magic array arrangement he tried, the moment he finished drawing the last magic array using the mana of the Seven Luminaries Crystals, the Divine Body Magic Array lit up brightly. It was a scene that had never occurred before in his past several hundred attempts, and it was evident that the Divine Body Magic Array could function normally already.

TL Notes:

[1]The Primordial God Legacy mentioned here is referring to the Legacy Guidance that Shi Feng had received via the "Ancient God's Eye" in the main story. However, as I have previously mentioned, the author never really offered much clarification in the main story, so I ended up assuming that "Ancient God(上古神灵)" and "Primordial God(古神)" were the same thing.

Chapter 3573: Challenging the Tier 6 Promotion

Chapter 647 – Challenging the Tier 6 Promotion

Shi Feng grew ecstatic when he saw the magic arrays on the Magic Array Scroll lightning up.

Currently, excluding the 10 million units he had to save, he had less than 15 million units of Seven Luminaries Crystals left to spend. However, if he continued with his experiments, Zero Wing might start to have trouble funding its members' Tier 6 promotion.

There were many fifth-floor experts in the current Zero Wing, and the Guild's total member count even exceeded 100,000. However, unlike other Guilds, because Zero Wing's sphere of activity in the Eternal Realm was limited to the Crystal City of Secrets, it had a very limited income of Seven Luminaries Crystals.

If he were to spend all of Zero Wing's Seven Luminaries Crystals, the Guild would have difficulties producing Tier 6 players in the foreseeable future.

Fortunately, he had finally achieved success. With over 14 million units of Seven Luminaries Crystal remaining, Zero Wing should have no trouble affording its members' Tier 6 promotion.

Just when Shi Feng was about to officially begin constructing his Divine Body, Hidden Soul suddenly approached him.

"You're finally done with your work, Guild Leader," Hidden Soul hurriedly said when she saw that Shi Feng had finally stopped drawing on Magic Array Scrolls. "Had you continued working any longer, I might have had to interrupt you."

Everyone had been focused on improving their mastery of the magic elements in the past two days. And because everyone's method of going about doing so was different, Hidden Soul did not dare to disturb Shi Feng for fear of interrupting him at a critical moment and ruining all of his progress.

"Did something happen?" Shi Feng asked when he saw the mix of joy and anxiety on Hidden Soul's face.

"Yes." After taking a deep breath, Hidden Soul explained, "Some time ago, Mu Huangwu messaged us saying that Azure Shadow's group has successfully passed Night Watch City's test. They even monopolized the top ten positions. But as a result, they became a hot topic in Night Watch City, and quite a few powers have started to look into this situation. Mu Huangwu estimates that it won't be long before those powers find out about Zero Wing's involvement."

"So, they've begun investigating already?" Shi Feng wasn't particularly surprised by this piece of news. Smiling, he said, "Tell Mu Huangwu that he can leak some information. Just say that Zero Wing has sold some Secret Treasures to the Green God Corporation and allowed Azure Shadow's group to receive a huge boost in strength. Of course, make sure to do this covertly."

Azure Shadow's group had experienced meteoric improvements during their training in Zero Wing. It was especially so after they received the Advanced Bronze Mana Purification Technique. Although they weren't fully equipped with Legendary items, they were already close to rivaling Tier 6 Gods. And if they were to fight against the various upper-ranking hegemonic powers' Tier 6 paragons, even if they were inferior to those paragons by one rank in combat standards, so long as those paragons hadn't learned a Mana Purification Technique yet, they could achieve victory handily.

Fortunately, due to the nature of Secret Treasures improving players' Mana Protection, they could be used as a cover to explain the abnormal mana strength of Azure Shadow and the others.

As for the matter of Night Watch City's various powers showing interest in this matter, it was something Shi Feng had long anticipated. It was also something he had hoped would happen.

It hadn't been long since Zero Wing had established itself in Star Lake City, so the Guild was in urgent need of various resources and Star Coins. While Zero Wing could easily acquire these things if it sold its Secret Treasures to the Eternal Realm's various powers, Zero Wing would be funding its competition if it did that. It might be fine to sell a small portion, but if the numbers grew too large, Zero Wing's advantage in the Eternal Realm would diminish significantly.

However, it would be a different story if Zero Wing sold its Secret Treasures to Star Lake City's neighboring cities. Most of the powers based in these neighboring cities didn't have any presence in the Eternal Realm. So, it wouldn't affect Zero Wing's influence to sell Secret Treasures to these powers. Moreover, if Zero Wing were to sell its Secret Treasures through the Miniature Ancient World, it could sell its Secret Treasures at a high price and avoid getting heavily taxed by trading via the Eternal Chamber of Commerce.

Not to mention, Zero Wing could use these transactions to apply pressure on Silver Frost City, killing two birds with one stone.

"Mhm. I'll notify Elder Mu," Hidden Soul said, nodding. "Also, one more thing. The Skylight Association has officially moved into the Crystal City yesterday, and it has recruited five upper-ranking hegemonic powers and twenty-three of the city's top 30 adventurer teams. Right now, it should have over 300 fifth-floor experts and over 300,000 members under its command. Vice Commander Qilin has advised us to be careful and said that we should avoid the World Ark for the time being."

"What an extravagant move." Shi Feng was a little surprised to hear Hidden Soul's report on the Skylight Association.

The fact that these adventurer teams had agreed to join the Skylight Association must mean that Skylight had offered them a much more irresistible offer.

She was aware of the conflict between Zero Wing and the Skylight Association. Now that the Skylight Association had recruited many experts in the Crystal City, if Zero Wing were to head to the World Ark to develop, a direct confrontation with the Skylight Association would be inevitable.

“Of course we’re going! Why wouldn’t we?” Shi Feng said, chuckling. “The resurrection camps are crucial for development at the World Ark. If we miss this chance, it’ll be difficult for us to catch up in the future. Now that some of our people have already started their Tier 6 promotion, wouldn’t it be a waste not to compete?”

“If that’s the case, I’ll go and get ready,” Hidden Soul said, deciding to challenge her Tier 6 promotion right away.

Currently, she had already mastered two Basic Laws thanks to the Medium World Fragment’s help. Originally, she had planned to master a third Basic Law before challenging her Tier 6 promotion. That way, she could construct an Epic Divine Body with 100% certainty. But for the sake of the World Ark, she decided not to delay her Tier 6 promotion any longer.

The Medium World Fragment’s effects were admittedly astonishing, but it only allowed players to tap into the potential they had accumulated over time and achieve rapid growth. Once players exhausted their untapped potential, their growth would slow down significantly, and they would need significantly more time to achieve any notable growth. However, the current Eternal Realm was overflowing with opportunities, and time was an incredibly precious resource. If she were to delay her Tier 6 promotion for too long, she would miss out on many of these opportunities, effectively putting the cart before the horse.

“Okay, you go and do that,” Shi Feng said, not bothering to dissuade Hidden Soul from her decision. After all, he was fully aware that reaching Tier 6 was just the beginning.

After Hidden Soul took her leave, Shi Feng took out an Eternal God Crystal and absorbed it without hesitation. Then, he took out the Primordial Dragon Legacy Crystal he had obtained from Kalisha.

Whether I succeed or fail, it all comes down to this!

After taking one last look at the completed Divine Body Magic Array, Shi Feng injected 100 Eternal God Crystals into the Primordial Dragon Legacy Crystal.

Chapter 3574: Choice of Divine Body

Chapter 648 – Choice of Divine Body

Zero Wing's Residence, underground secret room:

As soon as Shi Feng finished injecting the 100 Eternal God Crystals, the Primordial Dragon Legacy Crystal promptly transformed into a red streak of light that flowed into the depths of his mind. Simultaneously, the scene before him transformed into a boundless darkness.

A moment later, a golden dragon suddenly appeared amidst the darkness, the dragon's body measuring over 10,000 meters in length. Aside from having a titanic body, the golden dragon also radiated an aura so powerful that it easily surpassed any Ancient God Shi Feng had encountered thus far.

In front of the golden dragon, it wouldn't be an exaggeration to say that the average Ancient God was a speck of dust. Simply the breaths of the golden dragon were enough to stir the mana within a several million-yard radius. And if the golden dragon exhaled strongly, its breath could most likely shatter the World Barrier of a God's Domain.

"You have one opportunity to receive my guidance, Adventurer. What do you wish to learn from me?" the golden dragon asked as it gazed upon Shi Feng, its eyes looking like it could see through all of Shi Feng's secrets.

"Esteemed Golden Dragon, may I ask that you let me experience this magic array that I have created?" Shi Feng asked as he looked at the golden dragon.

Due to the Hundred Refinement Mana Body quest, he needed to construct a Divine Body at the Legendary rank. Combined with his aim to construct a Superior Divine Body, he naturally wouldn't dare to act recklessly.

While the Divine Body Magic Array he created could function normally now, how strong the Divine Body would be exactly also remained unknown. If he wished to find out, he would need to construct a Divine Body with it and experience it for himself.

Not to mention, even if he had a functioning Divine Body Magic Array on hand, it wasn't a guarantee that he could construct a Divine Body successfully.

It might still be tolerable if he successfully constructed his Divine Body. At worst, he could abandon the opportunity to get promoted to Tier 6 and wait a month before challenging his Tier 6 promotion gain. But if he failed to create one, he would need to wait for several months before he could challenge his Tier 6 promotion again.

Meanwhile, if the Primordial Dragon Legacy Crystal could let him experience the Divine Body Magic Array he created, he could get a rough estimate of what rank the Superior Divine Body he created would end up at. Moreover, the experience should also increase his construction success rate.

Of course, if the Primordial Dragon Legacy Crystal couldn't provide such guidance, he could still switch to a more extravagant method to test his Divine Body Magic Array.

"Simple."

After taking a look at Shi Feng's Divine Body Magic Array, the golden dragon held up one of its claws over Shi Feng.

Immediately, under the golden dragon's manipulation, Shi Feng started to experience the process of constructing a Divine Body using his Divine Body Magic Array. The process was methodical and specific, from engraving the necessary magic arrays to the guidance of mana into the engraved magic arrays. Every step was also executed flawlessly and without any fanfare.

When the Divine Body's construction ended, Shi Feng felt himself becoming vastly stronger than before. If he were to return to the outside world in such a state, he could easily devastate a large area with his every move. But this feeling of power quickly disappeared, indicating the end of the Legacy Guidance.

It's still slightly weaker than my last Superior Divine Body?

After carefully analyzing his experience, Shi Feng felt that although his new Superior Divine Body allowed him to exhibit strength much greater than he could exhibit in his previous life, it was mainly due to the Mana Purification Technique he had mastered. Not to mention, the World Power he felt the instant he completed his new Superior Divine Body was slightly weaker than when he completed his former Superior Divine Body. In other words, his new Superior Divine Body's upper limit should be inferior to that of an Epic Superior Divine Body.

Subsequently, after his consciousness returned to the secret room, Shi Feng carefully made some minor adjustments to the nodal magic arrays' arrangement.

Fortunately, the Divine Body Magic Array was also activated successfully this time. So, he promptly spent 100 Eternal God Crystals for another trial.

According to Kalisha, the Primordial Dragon Legacy Crystal could be used up to ten times, each use costing 100 God Crystals. So, he had ten chances to try.

Once he expended all ten uses of the Legacy Crystal, he would need to conduct his experiments via actual construction attempts. And if he couldn't produce satisfactory results within a certain period of time, he would have no choice but to forgo constructing a Superior Divine Body and settle for an ordinary Legendary Divine Body to complete his quest.

Meanwhile, Shi Feng was rather fortunate on his second attempt, as he constructed a Superior Divine Body slightly stronger than the Epic Superior Divine Body in his previous life. The new Superior Divine Body had evidently exceeded the Epic standard already.

However, for safety's sake, Shi Feng still chose to expend all ten Legacy Guidance opportunities, consuming 1,000 Eternal God Crystals in the process. This was a cost that could cause any power to suffer a heart attack.

Only the second, fifth, and tenth attempts managed to surpass my past life's Divine Body... Shi Feng couldn't help but grow hesitant as he looked at the ten successful Divine Body Magic Arrays he had drawn.

The outcome of his ten attempts was better than he anticipated, as three of the ten attempts had yielded a Superior Divine Body stronger than what he had in his previous life. But what rank these three Superior Divine Bodies could achieve remained uncertain.

Because he could only experience each Divine Body for a brief instant after it was completed, there was very little information he could base his judgment on.

Firstly, if he were to rank the three Superior Divine Bodies by the World Power he sensed, the fifth attempt would be the strongest, while the tenth attempt would rank second, and the second attempt would rank last. Though, in reality, the difference between the three was tiny.

Secondly, if he were to judge the strength of their mana, the second attempt would be the strongest, while the tenth attempt would rank second, and the fifth attempt would rank last. The rankings were essentially flipped.

Lastly, if he were to judge them by the density of their mana, the tenth attempt carried the densest mana, while the second and fifth attempts were tied for second place.

It seems a gamble is inevitable.

After hesitating for a moment, Shi Feng decided to construct the tenth attempt's Divine Body.

While the amount of World Power influenced was a good indicator of a Divine Body's strength, Shi Feng also understood that mana was the foundation of everything in God's Domain. Furthermore, his understanding of his Divine Body Magic Array had grown with each passing attempt. This, in turn, allowed him to continuously perfect the magic array.

Meanwhile, even the tiniest improvements were noteworthy when it came to Divine Body construction. Logically, no matter how bad his tenth attempt turned out to be, it shouldn't be worse than his first attempt. Not to mention, the tenth attempt's Divine Body possessed significantly denser mana than the second and fifth attempts; it wasn't a minute difference like in the World Power influenced.

After making his decision, Shi Feng followed the step-by-step instructions he learned through the Primordial Dragon Legacy Crystal and began earnestly engraving the Divine Body Magic Array with Seven Luminaries Crystals. And because he already had experience engraving the magic arrays, while he didn't manage to replicate the Legacy Guidance's perfection, he still managed to engrave all 2,000-plus Grandmaster Magic Arrays without error.

After Shi Feng engraved the magic arrays, he took a few deep breaths to calm his nerves. Then, using the two Advanced World Laws he had mastered, he began guiding the Seven Luminaries Crystals' mana into the Divine Body Magic Array, powering it and using it to create a complete miniature world.

The process of guiding mana into the Divine Body Magic Array and activating it was much more challenging than the engraving process. Not only was it more time-consuming, but it also placed a huge toll on his Concentration and tested his control over mana.

Had Shi Feng attempted to manipulate the 2,000-plus Grandmaster Magic Arrays with his base Tier 6 Advanced Concentration, he would have definitely failed. But with the help of an Eternal God Crystal and the Mental Condensation technique, he managed to elevate his Concentration to the Tier 6 Peak standard, which was just barely enough to let him manipulate the 2,000-plus Grandmaster Magic Arrays. As a result, though, he felt as if he was crossing a log bridge while carrying a thousand kilograms on his back; he would slip and fall if he let his focus slip for even a moment.

One minute... Three minutes... Ten minutes...

After manipulating the Grandmaster Magic Arrays for over ten minutes, even with the help of the Eternal God Crystal, Shi Feng still exhausted himself to his limits. The system had even warned him to log off and rest as soon as possible.

Almost... Just one last step...

Shi Feng bit his tongue to keep himself conscious. If he were to fall unconscious here, all his efforts would have gone to waste. The advantages he had accumulated in the Eternal Realm would also vanish.

Fortunately, most of the Divine Body's core magic arrays had already been activated, and there were only five more to go.

Five... Four... Three...

Just as Shi Feng was about to black out, the sound of a system notification rang in his ears.

Chapter 3575: Star Soul

Chapter 649 – Star Soul

System: Congratulations! You have successfully constructed a Superior Divine Body. The constructed Superior Divine Body's Completion Rate is at 96% and has reached the Tier 6 standard. The constructed Superior Divine Body is evaluated to be at the Legendary rank. Do you wish to get promoted to Tier 6?

Legendary?

Shi Feng was both shocked and pleasantly surprised when he saw the system notification. He didn't think he would actually make the right choice.

System: Warning! Your Concentration has fallen to a dangerous level. You will be forcibly logged out and prohibited from logging in for twelve hours.

"Promote!"

When Shi Feng noticed his vision gradually darkening, he chose to be promoted to Tier 6 without hesitation.

Once players finished constructing their Divine Bodies in God's Domain, if they couldn't decide whether they wanted to be promoted to Tier 6 within a few minutes, the system would assume they didn't wish to be promoted by default. Meanwhile, once players abandoned the opportunity to get promoted to Tier 6, not only would they need to spend another 100,000 units of Seven Luminaries Crystal when they wished to be promoted in the future, but they would also have to wait for a month before they could challenge their Tier 6 promotion again.

In the ever-changing Eternal Realm, A month's time was enough for any expert to be disqualified from the frontlines. Not to mention, only by reaching Tier 6 could players truly start to explore the Eternal Realm's many vital regions.

Currently, many powers already had experts who were qualified to get promoted to Tier 6. The only reason they still didn't have any Tier 6 players was because they feared their experts might encounter failure during their promotion. After all, the penalty for a failed promotion was many times more severe than the penalty for abandoning a successful promotion. Hence, the various powers forbade any of their experts from challenging their Tier 6 promotion until they were 100% confident in success.

Meanwhile, after Shi Feng gave his response, he promptly logged out of God's Domain.

...

Star Lake City, Zero Wing Training Center, top-floor living quarter:

After climbing out of his gaming cabin, Shi Feng dragged his exhausted body over to the fridge, took out a small bottle, and consumed the drop of Stardew inside. Immediately, his tired expression started to recover.

Now, all that's left is to hope Snow and the others can succeed, Shi Feng thought as he looked out the window at the long line of people waiting outside the Zero Wing Training Center.

Although Zero Wing had acquired unimaginable wealth from the Nameless City's treasury, most of this wealth couldn't be used immediately. Meanwhile, Zero Wing had recruited many guild members in both Star Lake City and the Eternal Realm's Crystal City of Secrets recently. This, in turn, had increased Zero Wing's expenditure significantly. It was especially so on Star Lake City's side.

Currently, members recruited in the Crystal City of Secret could enjoy all of the benefits Zero Wing had to offer. They even had fifth-floor experts leading them on expeditions to the Underground Crystal Palace and Dungeons out in the fields. They didn't have to worry about money or equipment in the slightest.

In comparison, as most of the internal members recruited in Star Lake City were scattered across the Starlight Realm's various kingdoms and empires, Zero Wing couldn't even offer them a proper place to train in God's Domain, let alone provide them with a stable supply of weapons and equipment. To make matters worse, most of them were only Tier 4 players.

For the sake of developing these internal members, Zero Wing had no choice but to purchase items from the Eternal Chamber of Commerce at a high price before letting these members exchange for these items at a low price. With the revenue Zero Wing was currently generating via the Secret Crystal Trading Firm and the sale of Common Secret Treasures, it could still afford to provide for a few thousand internal members using such a method. But as Zero Wing's internal member count continued to increase, it would need to further increase its income.

Meanwhile, if Zero Wing wished to make more money to sustain its development, securing territory in the World Ark would become imperative.

The World Ark was the only place players could reliably obtain entry passes for the Holy Ring City. But if players died in the World Ark, they would be automatically resurrected in a nearby NPC City's Resurrection Temple, and they would need to spend more than ten hours traveling back to the Regional Dungeon. So, exploring the World Ark could be said to be a very troublesome task.

Of course, the World Ark's automatic resurrection problem wasn't without a solution. There were many resurrection camps in the World Ark. If players occupied and registered themselves at one of these camps, they would be automatically resurrected at the registered camp if they died inside the World Ark. Not only would this save them a lot of travel time, but they could also halve their death penalty. Because of this, the resurrection camps were essential for players looking to explore the World Ark.

Meanwhile, so long as a power could occupy a resurrection camp, even if they only charged players a fee of one Eternal Silver a day, they could still make a fortune. In Shi Feng's previous life, if powers managed their resurrection camps well, they could stand to make two to three fortresses' worth of revenue from each resurrection camp. Moreover, these were fortresses situated on high-level maps they were talking about.

The only problem was whether a power could occupy a resurrection camp for a long period.

Unlike towns, cities, and fortresses, the World Ark's resurrection camps had no defensive facilities. Players could only rely on themselves to defend their resurrection camps from invaders. Meanwhile, as the Holy Ring City was of utmost importance to both human and Holy Race powers, it went without saying that competition over the World Ark's resurrection camp would be intense, so much so that it could be equated to a Realm War. If a power didn't have sufficient strength, occupying a resurrection camp would be out of the question.

While Shi Feng was resting his mind, Pace Angel suddenly contacted him.

"Guild Leader, a man going by the name of Fervent Samsara says he is here to join the Guild. He came with a group of roughly twenty people. He says he already has Vice Guild Leader Soul's approval," Pace Angel said. "But I can't get in touch with Vice Guild Leader Soul right now. Should I register them?"

That's quick of him. Shi Feng was a little surprised to hear Fervent Samsara's name. Immediately, he said, "Go ahead and register them. Afterward, have them come to my office."

Shi Feng had previously heard Fervent Samsara saying he would bring some companions to join Zero Wing with him and that these companions were all Tier 6. Since they had arrived so soon, he could get them to help him with some matters.

Meanwhile, Pace Angel disconnected the call and quickly registered Fervent Samsara's group once she received Shi Feng's answer.

...

Roughly half an hour later, Fervent Samsara's group entered Shi Feng's office under Pace Angel's guidance. Upon entering the room, the youths following Fervent Samsara immediately scrutinized Shi Feng with curious eyes.

“So, he’s the rumored Lord of War Goddesses?” the charming and candid-looking young woman standing next to Fervent Samsara exclaimed as she looked at Shi Feng.

After they had chosen to join Zero Wing, Fervent Samsara shared the fact that Shi Feng was Zero Wing’s Guild Leader Black Flame with them, looking to have them be in awe of Zero Wing. After all, few people did not know of Black Flame’s deeds in the current Greater God’s Domain.

“Enough from all of you. Especially you, Bygone. Don’t disgrace the Star Soul adventurer team’s name,” Fervent Samsara said as he glared at the young woman beside him.

When Fervent Samsara officially announced he would join Zero Wing, Shi Feng had shared his true identity with him. The revelation shocked him greatly, as he never thought Zero Wing’s Guild Leader had started from nothing and didn’t have any powers backing him. But it was also because of this that he grew even more confident in Zero Wing’s prospects, going as far as to persuade his companions to join Zero Wing with him.

“I’m sorry for the unsightly display, Guild Leader Black Flame.” After glaring at the young woman named Bygone Magic, Fervent Samsara apologized to Shi Feng. Then, he asked, “May I know what you have summoned us here for?”

“Star Soul?” Shi Feng suddenly stopped the work he had on hand and looked at Fervent Samsara’s in surprise. “You all are from the Star Soul adventurer team?”

Although Shi Feng had long known Fervent Samsara was extraordinary and the companions he brought would most likely be extraordinary as well, he didn’t think they would be of such extraordinary origins.

There were eight legendary adventurer teams in the Greater God’s Domain. These were all adventurer teams that had accomplished miraculous achievements.

Meanwhile, Star Soul was one of these legendary adventurer teams, and the whole adventurer team only consisted of twenty members. Yet, despite having so few members, not only did Star Soul successfully help a Holy City fend off one of the Greater God’s Domain’s Twenty-Two Taboos, but the adventurer team had also heavily injured said Taboo-level monster. When Star Soul accomplished this feat in Shi Feng’s previous life, its fame instantly spread across the Greater God’s Domain.

However, because Star Soul’s members normally kept their identities a secret, nobody had any concrete information on the adventurer team’s members.

Chapter 3576: Zero Wing Branch Guild

Chapter 650 – Zero Wing Branch Guild

Star Soul's name might be somewhat well-known among the Twelve Sanctuaries, but outside of the Twelve Sanctuaries, only conglomerates would be aware of the adventurer team's existence. So, Fervent Samsara found it hard to believe Shi Feng would have heard of Star Soul before.

"I've heard of you all in the Sanctuaries," Shi Feng explained after calming his initial surprise. "I heard that every member of your adventurer team is incredibly strong and that you all can slay even Tier 6 Gods."

Star Soul had aided the various conglomerates in many crusades in the Twelve Sanctuaries during his previous life. Among them included raids of Tier 6 Gods. However, after Star Soul's well-known battle against one of the Twenty-Two Taboos, the adventurer team stopped accepting commissions completely, and its name gradually faded into obscurity.

Although many people speculated the cause of Star Soul's disappearance, most agreed that it was likely due to the adventurer team's final battle. In the fight against the Taboo-level monster, Star Soul lost more than half its members, including its commander and vice commander. These individuals had permanently lost their qualifications to log into God's Domain, and even God's Domain's many resurrection methods were ineffective against them. This had most likely led to the adventurer team being incapable of continuing its activities.

Even so, Star Soul remained a legend in the Greater God's Domain.

After all, the Greater God's Domain's Twenty-Two Taboos were publicly regarded by the various powers as existences that should never be provoked. Simply being able to escape from one of these Twenty-Two Taboos was already an incredible feat. Yet, Star Soul had managed to heavily injure one of these existences.

"You exaggerate, Guild Leader Black Flame. We simply got lucky while helping those conglomerates with their raid," Fervent Samsara answered. Then, he repeated his question, "May I know what you need us to do for you?"

Hearing Fervent Samsara's question, Shi Feng got straight to the point and said, "I hope you can head to Gazing Moon City of the Starlight Realm's Ancient River Kingdom and establish a branch for Zero Wing there."

The Eternal Realm might be crucial for the Greater God's Domain's various powers, but it was still only a small part of the Greater God's Domain.

Currently, while it might seem like Zero Wing had become one of the Crystal City of Secrets' leading powers, apart from fifth-floor experts, it couldn't even come close to matching ordinary hegemonic powers in other aspects. If no changes were made, Zero

Wing's advantages would instantly disappear once the various powers located the Eternal Realm. It might even have difficulty protecting its current territories.

Hence, Zero Wing needed to expand its development in the Greater God's Domain. It was especially so now that there wasn't much time before the World Passage of his home God's Domain opened.

Once the World Passage was fully opened, whether it was the Ancient River Kingdom or the surrounding kingdoms and empires, all of the powers based in these countries would invade his home God's Domain and occupy the resources there.

Every God's Domain was the foundation of development for the world it was tied to. If a world were to lose its God's Domain, all of its inhabitants would face much greater difficulty surviving in the Greater World in the future.

The reason for this was that the inhabitants of each world could only create a God's Domain account in their own God's Domain. If a world lost its God's Domain, it would mean that future generations could no longer create a God's Domain account easily.

Not to mention, every God's Domain had some unique Legendary- and Inferior Divine Artifact-rank materials. The World Bosses that periodically spawned was also a stable source of Fragmented Legendary Weapons and Equipment. And, while not a reliable source, the occasional Legendary Quest that emerged was also an opportunity for players to obtain Legendary Weapons and Equipment. These were all items crucial to a Guild's development.

"Guild Leader Black Flame, it might not be difficult for Star Soul to establish a foothold in the Ancient River Kingdom, but I'm afraid developing a Branch Guild there isn't going to be easy," Bygone Magic, who was Star Soul's vice commander and the young woman standing next to Fervent Samsara, said. "Even if we have the necessary resources and offer attractive benefits to recruit members, the local powers won't just stand by and watch as we take a cut of their profits. They will try to drive us out at all costs. We simply don't have the ability to keep guild members safe out in the fields with only so few of us."

While it was important for a Guild to recruit new members, it was even more important for the Guild to have the ability to help these new members level up. While Star Soul was strong enough to fight against hegemonic powers, it simply didn't have the necessary manpower to protect guild members grinding out in the fields from ambushes. Not to mention, Star Soul's members needed to level up themselves as well. They couldn't afford to play nanny around the clock.

"You don't have to worry about this," Shi Feng said, chuckling. "Once you arrive, just focus on recruiting members. You won't have to participate in low-tier battles. All you need to do is protect the Guild's Residence and one particular building. In return, your GCP compensation will be three times higher than the Eternal Realm's members. In addition, you can also exchange for items limited to only internal and core members."

Shi Feng was not at all worried about whether Zero Wing could develop itself in the Ancient River Kingdom. His only concern was whether Zero Wing had enough combat power to protect the Hundred Refinement Building.

Originally, he had planned to wait for Zero Wing's forces in the Miniature Ancient World to grow stronger and for his home God's Domain's World Passage to fully open before opening the Hundred Refinement Building to the public. At that time, with Mysterious Moon and Hundred Flower Palace's strength, defending the Hundred Refinement Building shouldn't be too big of a problem.

"Items exclusive to internal and core members?" Bygone Magic had her interest piqued when she heard Shi Feng's words.

She knew that Zero Wing's internal members had access to incredible items. Not only could they exchange for the Behemoth Set, a Combat-ranked Secret Treasure Set, but they could also exchange for Mana Purification Techniques, items which were incredibly rare even in the Eternal Realm. These items were also one of the reasons they had followed Fervent Samsara to Zero Wing.

"Here is the exchange list. You can take a look for yourselves," Shi Feng said as he shared with everyone present information on the Extraordinary Secret Treasure Sets and Bronze Mana Purification Techniques that only Zero Wing's core members could exchange. Then, he smiled and continued, "If you don't have any more questions, you can head to Gazing Moon City right away."

Chapter 3577: Tier 6 Sword Law Saint

Chapter 651 – Tier 6 Sword Law Saint

Zero Wing Training Center, internal members' lounge:

The lounge was half the size of a sports stadium, and its walls were fully covered by holographic screens that vividly depicted tall mountains, flowing waterfalls, and lingering mist. There was also a restaurant, various training equipment, and many of the latest virtual gaming cabins prepared in the lounge.

After leaving Shi Feng's office, the members of Star Soul were led to this lounge by Pace Angel, many of them wearing shocked faces. Of course, the reason for their shock wasn't the lounge's environment but something else entirely.

“What kind of origin does Zero Wing have exactly, Big Brother Samsara? Those items are simply...terrifying,” Bygone Magic asked Fervent Samsara immediately after seeing Pace Angel leave.

Following Bygone Magic’s question, everyone else from Star Soul also looked at Fervent Samsara. At this time, all of the contempt they previously held toward Zero Wing had vanished without a trace.

After all, the items made available to Zero Wing’s core members were simply too frightening.

Even now, Secret Treasures remained incredibly precious in the Eternal Realm. According to their intelligence, the various powers’ elites would be fortunate to have a full set of Common Secret Treasures at this stage of the Eternal Realm, and it was only the main force members of upper-ranking hegemonic powers who could get their hands on a couple of Combat Secret Treasures.

As for the Mana Purification Technique, it was something completely outside the reach of most upper-ranking hegemonic powers. Only conglomerates and pseudo-apex powers could get their hands on some.

The fact that Zero Wing could let their internal members exchange for Combat Secret Treasure Sets and Common Mana Purification Techniques was already highly unbelievable. Originally, when they heard about this from Fervent Samsara, their immediate reaction was to doubt him. After all, such an act of generosity was outside the capabilities of even pseudo-apex powers. It didn’t make sense an upstart Guild could afford such a feat.

However, when they saw the item exchange list exclusive to Zero Wing’s core members, they couldn’t help but wonder if they were hallucinating because of jetlag.

The Dragon’s Fury Set, an Extraordinary Secret Treasure Set!

Bronze Mana Purification Techniques!

These were items that they doubted even apex powers could afford to share with their executives, let alone core members.

“I don’t know,” Fervent Samsara said, shaking his head. Then, in a definitive tone, he continued, “But I can tell you one thing, and that is if you become an executive of Zero Wing, your future achievements should be no less than that of the various pseudo-apex powers’ chosen ones.”

Fervent Samsara knew very clearly that be it the Dragon’s Fury Set or the Bronze Mana Purification Techniques, neither of these things was Zero Wing’s biggest trump card. Instead, the Primordial Chaos Body was the true killer.

The Primordial Chaos Body was directly related to the strength of Primordial Gods. It was a Godly Relic that could change a player's Divine Body. It might even have something to do with the rumored Superior Divine Body, which, according to rumors, could only be constructed with the help of a complete Primordial God Legacy.

Meanwhile, once a player constructed their Divine Body, it wasn't as if they couldn't change it. So long as they were willing to pay the price, they could reconstruct their Divine Body. Only, under normal circumstances, nobody would be willing to do so. After all, if a player's Divine Body didn't undergo a qualitative transformation, it wouldn't affect their strength much. However, it would be a different story if a player could upgrade their ordinary Divine Body to a Superior Divine Body.

If Bygone Magic and the others could become Zero Wing's executives, it was entirely possible that Shi Feng would allow them to experience the Primordial Chaos Body. At that time, if they could successfully construct a Superior Divine Body, it wouldn't be out of the question for them to match Ancient Gods of the same level in strength.

"Achievements no less than the pseudo-apex powers' chosen ones?"

The eyes of Bygone Magic and the others lit up when they heard Fervent Samsara's words.

In the first-tier mobile city they came from, the various pseudo-apex powers' chosen ones were existences that ordinary citizens like themselves could never hope to reach.

After all, every pseudo-apex power's chosen one was slated to take over the management of their respective Guild's Divine Artifacts and become a Taboo-level existence in the future. At that time, they would be tasked with safeguarding the resources of an entire Realm. They were also the reason the special-tier mobile cities' powerful families got to enjoy the status they currently enjoyed.

"Alright, enough talking. Quickly log back into God's Domain and head to Gazing Moon City," Fervent Samsara said, smiling when he saw the yearning looks on Bygone Magic and the others. "The sooner you complete the Guild Leader's assignments, the sooner you'll become an executive of Zero Wing."

Hearing this, Bygone Magic and the others promptly borrowed one of the virtual gaming cabins in the lounge and logged into God's Domain. They also secretly vouched to perform well in the Ancient River Kingdom and earn as many GCPs as they could.

As for Fervent Samsara, he also logged back into God's Domain to prepare for his eventual experience of the Primordial Chaos Body. He did not wish to waste this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity.

Meanwhile, after Shi Feng rested for six hours, he returned to his room and logged into God's Domain once more.

...

Crystal City of Secrets, Zero Wing's Residence, underground secret room:

When Shi Feng came back online, he could feel a tremendous change in his surroundings. However, he quickly realized that it wasn't his surroundings that had changed. Instead, it was the sensitivity of his five senses being amplified dozens of times. Meanwhile, following this change, he no longer felt like an insignificant ant when he perceived the world around him. Instead, he felt as if he had become equal with the world.

Is this the effect of a Superior Divine Body with two Advanced Laws merged? Shi Feng was greatly shocked when he sensed the rich mana radiating from his body. Its density and purity were already on par with the mana of Seven Luminaries Crystals.

Although he had previously gotten to experience a complete Superior Divine Body with the Primordial Dragon's help, those experiences only lasted for a brief moment. Not to mention, the density of his current mana was not only superior to any of the ten simulated Superior Divine Bodies, but the strength of his mana was also slightly superior to that of Ancient Gods.

However, after Shi Feng looked at the bonuses he received from his Tier 6 promotion, the improvement to his mana suddenly felt inconsequential.

System: Congratulations! You have become a Tier 6 Sword Law Saint (Sword God). All Basic Attributes +12,000, all Resistances +1,000, Mana recovery rate increased by 500%, Mana Strength increased by 200%, Concentration increased by 200%, Stamina recovery speed increased by 100%, HP recovery speed increased by 100%, Concentration recovery speed increased by 100%, all physical, magical, and mental attacks received that are below the Tier 6 Peak standard will be weakened by 60%, all Basic Attributes increased by 270%, and reaction speed improved by 200%. Rewarding 500 Legacy Skill Points.

System: The God of Time's curse has been weakened. There will no longer be an experience gain penalty. The curse will only double the gravity you experience now.

System: Congratulations! You have completed the third phase of the Legendary Quest Hundred Refinement Mana Body. You have obtained the qualifications to be the Hundred Refinement Building's owner, and all of the Hundred Refinement Building's functions will now become available to you. Rewarding 100 Free Legacy Skill Points.

With my current strength, even soloing a Level 170 God shouldn't be a problem, Shi Feng thought when he finished reading the system notifications. Even though he wasn't fully equipped with Legendary Weapons and Equipment right now, he was confident he could suppress a Tier 6 God of the same level. Moreover, it would be without the use of Law Projection.

Meanwhile, after looking at his Attributes, Shi Feng turned his sights to the Tier 6 Legacy Skills he could learn.

Tier 6 Skills and Spells were of utmost importance to Tier 6 players. Every additional Tier 6 Skill or Spell players learned would increase their overall strength by a large margin. Meanwhile, the stronger a player's class in God's Domain, the stronger the Legacy Skills and Spells they could learn at each tier.

Previously, Shi Feng already found it astonishing that he was allowed to learn a Tier 5 Super Spell when he got promoted to a Tier 5 Sword Law Saint. However, when he saw what he could learn at Tier 6, he couldn't help but take a deep breath.

Chapter 3578: Ten Tier 6 Players

Chapter 652 – Ten Tier 6 Players

When Shi Feng saw the three Tier 6 Super Legacy Spells he could learn, he didn't know whether he should laugh or cry.

[Sword Law World]

Requires: Sword

Tier 6 Super Legacy Spell

Create Chains of Law using World Power to weaken all enemies within a 30,000-yard radius by 30%.

Duration: 10 minutes

Cooldown: 30 minutes

Learning condition: 300 Legacy Skill Points

[Divine Shadow]

Requires: Sword

Tier 6 Super Legacy Spell

Allows the caster to transform into 100 Judgment Swords. Each Judgment Sword will carry 200% of the caster's Attack Speed and 300% of the caster's Strength.

Cooldown: 3 minutes

Learning condition: 300 Legacy Skill Points

[Divine Aurora]

Requires: Sword

Tier 6 Super Legacy Spell (Super Large Destruction Spell)

Exert the Law Break effect once on a 500*30,000 yard area.

Cooldown: 1 natural day

Learning condition: 300 Legacy Skill Points

Every one of these three Super Legacy Spells was incredibly terrifying. Moreover, unlike other Tier 6 Super Spells, these three Tier 6 Super Legacy Spells did not have any limitations.

Indeed!

None of them had any strength limitations!

Normally, Tier 6 Super Spells would have a strength limit clearly defined in their descriptions. No matter how strong a player was, they could never exceed this set limit. However, the Sword Law Saint's Super Legacy Spells did not have such limits defined.

Take Sword Law World, for example. Its description simply stated that it could weaken all enemies within range by 30%. In other words, the Super Spell could take effect against even Ancient Gods, and affected Ancient Gods would be weakened in all aspects by 30%. The Super Spell's effects would not diminish simply because of an Ancient God's extraordinary strength.

As for Divine Shadow, each of the Judgment Swords it created would possess 200% of the user's Attack Speed. In a sense, the Super Spell provided a 100% increase in Attack Speed, which was an incredibly rare and powerful effect. With Shi Feng's Attack Speed, the Judgment Swords he created would be so fast that not even Tier 6 Gods of the same level could keep up with them. On top of that, each Judgment Sword would carry 300% of his Strength, and it was a modifier without any upper limits. If he were to fight the Nameless City's Gorgon Queen again, he did not doubt he could heavily injure the Primordial Godkin with a single use of Divine Shadow.

As for Divine Aurora, it was similarly an astonishing Super Spell. Although it had a short and simple description, any player who had a good understanding of God's Domain would know that the world of God's Domain was composed of many World Laws that prevented it from being destroyed easily. If he were to use Divine Aurora against a player, getting injured would be the least of said player's worries. If the other party failed to defend themselves adequately, they might cease to exist in God's Domain permanently. Not to mention, Divine Aurora's range could practically cover an entire map. So long as he cast the Spell, there would be no escape for his enemies.

Long story short, each of the three Super Spells had their respective strengths. If he could learn all three, he would become a natural disaster for his enemies. Unfortunately, he currently only had a little over 700 Legacy Skill Points, so he could only afford to learn two of the three Tier 6 Super Spells.

After hesitating for some time, Shi Feng ultimately chose to learn Sword Law World and Divine Shadow, leaving Divine Aurora for the future.

Sword Law World and Divine Shadow were incredibly useful in battles of all scales. They also complemented each other well. If he had access to both, they should be enough to let him deal with most situations.

Shortly after Shi Feng finished learning the two Super Spells, multiple mana pillars suddenly appeared in the secret room, one after another.

One... Two... Three...

A total of nine mana pillars appeared in the secret room, their presence illuminating the room brightly.

Nine of them succeeded?? Shi Feng couldn't help but be a little surprised to see nine mana pillars emerging so soon.

It should be known that most players would need at least two or three days to construct their Divine Bodies. The only reason he managed to complete his Divine Body so quickly was due to the Primordial Dragon Legacy Crystal's Legacy Guidances. Logically, even if he had left God's Domain for twelve hours to rest after completing his Divine Body, it should still be some time before Gentle Snow and the others could complete their Divine Bodies.

Not to mention, the construction of a Divine Body was a challenge where even fifth-floor experts weren't guaranteed success. Although Gentle Snow and the others had the Medium World Fragment's assistance, their chances of success still shouldn't be very high.

Originally, Shi Feng thought that he would be fortunate if he could bring three or four Tier 6 players with him to the World Ark. Yet, contrary to his expectations, nine people had succeeded in their Tier 6 promotion.

"Tier 6! I am finally at Tier 6!" Hidden Soul exclaimed, an unprecedented excitement coloring her face as she sensed the frightening mana she radiated.

“So, this is what being at Tier 6 feels like?” Standing nearby, Gentle Snow also couldn’t help but analyze her Divine Body in wonder. When she tried punching and kicking at empty air, her every movement caused the Large Grandmaster Magic Barrier protecting the secret room to tremble. Her current strength was vastly superior to her strength at Tier 5.

Interesting! So, this is what having God-ranked mana feels like?? Crimson Heart curled her lips upward when she looked at the trembling magic barrier.

At this time, Gentle Snow, Hidden Soul, and Crimson Heart weren’t the only ones immersed in joy and surprise. Wordless Ember, Sleeping Quicksand, Fire Dance, Jun Luosha, Cleansed Rue, and Rampant Blade were also happily familiarizing themselves with their new bodies.

Meanwhile, as none of these nine individuals did anything to suppress their Divine Might, it felt as if nine Tier 6 Gods currently stood in the secret room. Moreover, as each of them radiated mana denser than even that of Tier 6 Gods, the mana in the secret room instantly reached a solid state. If not for the Grandmaster Magic Barrier protecting the others in the room, this mana would have definitely suffocated them.

While Gentle Snow and the others were busy researching their newfound strength, Shi Feng suddenly received a call from someone he hadn’t heard from in quite a while.

“Long time no see, Miss Frey. What made you remember me all of a sudden? Do you have some good news for me?” Shi Feng joked when he saw Frey’s smiling face through the screen.

“As a matter of fact, I do,” Frey said, nodding with a smile. “I wish to procure your help with something, Guild Leader Black Flame. Might you be interested?”

Chapter 3579: World Ark

Chapter 653 – World Ark

“Help you? With what?” Shi Feng curiously asked as he looked at Frey.

He was more or less aware of Frey’s current circumstances. Due to her accomplishments in the Courtyard of Space, Frey’s influence in the Red Dragon Nation had increased substantially. As a result, she was now tasked with managing three NPC Cities and one NPC Fortress occupied by the pseudo-apex power, and the forces under her were achieving rapid development every day. Hence, he found it hard to imagine Frey would need any sort of assistance from him.

“The Seven Luminaries Alliance has recently invited the Eternal Realm’s various pseudo-apex powers for a meeting in the World Ark’s inner area. The invitation mentions a joint coalition to deal with the Holy Race’s invasion,” Frey leisurely explained. “As for the World Ark’s importance, I’m sure you are already aware of it, right? It is crucial to both the human race and the Holy Race.”

“An invitation to the World Ark’s inner area?” Shi Feng had his interest piqued.

The Seven Luminaries Alliance might be an apex power, but it would rarely interfere with other powers’ affairs. Most of the time, it would take a neutral stance in the Greater God’s Domain, and the only times it would call for collaboration with other powers were usually for major events.

Of course, even when such rare events occurred, not just anyone could participate in them. Without an official invitation from the Seven Luminaries Alliance, anyone who tried to get a cut of the action should be prepared to face severe consequences. It wouldn’t even be an exaggeration to say that doing so would be no different than making an enemy out of the Seven Luminaries Alliance.

“It is likely to have something to do with the inner area’s resurrection camps that will soon activate,” Frey added. Then, she got straight to the point, saying, “Those invited have invited many other powers to attend the meeting with them, and I am no exception. What do you think, Guild Leader Black Flame? Think you can spare some time for me? If you are interested in the World Ark’s resurrection camps, then you shouldn’t miss this opportunity. If your forces and mine work together, we can likely secure ourselves a spot in the inner area. ”

“Since you have already said so, I naturally can’t miss it, Miss Frey,” Shi Feng said, accepting Frey’s offer without hesitation.

Competition over the World Ark had been extremely intense during his previous life. It was especially so for the competition over the inner area’s resurrection camps. Those were places where only pseudo-apex powers and above could step into.

Although he was confident he could secure a resurrection camp for Zero Wing, it would only be limited to the World Ark’s outer area. With Zero Wing’s current capabilities, the inner area’s resurrection camps were completely out of the question.

After all, Frey had already mentioned that the Seven Luminaries Alliance was spearheading the campaign for the inner area’s resurrection camps. Uninvited powers that dared to poke their noses where they didn’t belong, retribution would swiftly come for them.

In fact, the Seven Luminaries Alliance wouldn’t even need to make a move. It simply needed to do nothing, and the Holy Race would gladly deal with the interlopers on its behalf.

It should be known that the Holy Race's various powers had only revealed a small portion of their true strength thus far. Meanwhile, the Seven Luminaries Alliance was a big reason the various human powers could trade blows and survive against the Holy Race in his previous life. Without the Seven Luminaries Alliance holding back several of the Holy Race's strongest powers, the various human powers would have long been annihilated.

Now that Frey was inviting him to join the Seven Luminaries Alliance's campaign, Shi Feng naturally couldn't miss it.

...

"Great. We'll meet outside the World Ark's Horizon Mountain Range," Frey said, nodding before disconnecting her call with Shi Feng.

Meanwhile, after seeing Frey finishing her call, Unrestrained Lionheart, the Grand Wizard standing beside Frey, worriedly said, "The competition this time isn't going to be simple, Vice Guild Leader. Zero Wing might have secured itself a place in the Crystal City of Secrets, but I heard it provoked that person from the Skylight Association. If we come across the Skylight Association at the World Ark, the other party will definitely cause trouble for us."

The Skylight Association's rise in the Eternal Realm was extraordinary, so much so that it had been invited to the Seven Luminaries Alliance's meeting this time. This proved that the Seven Luminaries Alliance recognized the Skylight Association to be at the level of a pseudo-apex power.

While the Red Dragon Nation might be a pseudo-apex power as well, Frey could only mobilize a portion of the Guild's forces this time. Compared to the forces the Skylight Association had mobilized to the World Ark thus far, her forces were much more inferior.

"I know." Looking at Unrestrained Lionheart, Frey faintly smiled and said, "I invited Zero Wing precisely because it has offended the Skylight Association."

"You did it on purpose?" Unrestrained Lionheart was confused.

"You should know of the intense competition in the Guild, right? If I want to compete for the top three Vice Guild Leader positions, I must have sufficiently strong allies," Frey explained. "Although Zero Wing is still not strong enough, it has incredible potential. It is especially so now that Black Flame can command so many Tier 5 War Goddesses. If he can progress further, he might even rival the various pseudo-apex powers' chosen ones. It will benefit me greatly if I can receive Zero Wing's and Black Flame's support at that time.

"Also, while Black Flame might have provoked the Skylight Association, does that make the Red Dragon Nation a pushover?"

Upon hearing Frey's reasoning, Unrestrained Lionheart more or less understood her decisions.

Zero Wing's overall strength might be inferior to even upper-ranking hegemonic powers right now, but the Guild had a high-end combatant like Black Flame. Even alone, Black Flame's strength could greatly help them in raiding World Mode Regional Dungeons and World Bosses.

Now that Zero Wing was in danger, it was the perfect time for them to get the Guild to owe them a favor. As for the matter with the Skylight Association, it wasn't a big problem at all. After all, the Red Dragon Nation was also a pseudo-apex power. The Skylight Association wouldn't dare to recklessly provoke or go to war with it.

...

World Ark, outer area, Horizon Mountain Range:

The Horizon Mountain Range was a majestic mountain range extending across the World Ark. It was shrouded in a layer of thunderclouds, and countless lightning bolts bombarded it like rain. Each of these lightning bolts carried power at the Tier 6 standard and could heavily injure Tier 5 Legendary monsters. The thunder they generated also echoed across dozens of kilometers, intimidating the nearby Legendary monsters from getting close to the mountain range.

At this time, though, hundreds of thousands of players were gathered at the mountain range's entrance. Each of these players was at Level 170 and above, and many of them were equipped with Fragmented Legendary items and a mix of Common and Combat Secret Treasures. Even if these players were placed in the Crystal City of Secrets, their equipment standard would be considered top-notch.

"The Seven Luminaries Alliance is going as far as to mobilize a complete Luminous Battle Array? The Holy Race is going to suffer this time."

"I know, right? The full Luminous Battle Array can let 500 Tier 5 experts gain Tier 6 strength. Who can possibly stop a force of 500 Tier 6 players?"

"Several of the Nine Great Pseudo-Apex Powers have also appeared this time, and the forces they mobilized are similarly astonishing. Each of them has mobilized more than 10,000 members. And although they don't have something as powerful as the Luminous Battle Array, they still have 100-man battle arrays to let their members achieve near-Tier 6 standards. They're way stronger than the other pseudo-apex powers."

When the members of the invited powers saw the 500 figures guarding the Horizon Mountain Range's entrance, they couldn't help but be awed by the Seven Luminaries Alliance's strength.

“It’s nearly time. Why isn’t Zero Wing here yet? Go and take a look for me, Lionheart,” Frey said, frowning.

“I’ve already contacted the members at the World Ark’s entrance. They say they haven’t seen any Zero Wing members thus far,” Unrestrained Lionheart said, shaking his head helplessly.

As Frey and Unrestrained Lionheart stood anxiously outside the Horizon Mountain Range, dozens of Flying Mounts appeared in the distant sky. The crowd gasped in amazement as the Flying Mounts drew closer, revealing a thousand players equipped with standardized Fragmented Legendary Equipment Sets.

The players’ equipment linked with each other to form a battle array, and the combined aura they exuded made it feel like a legion of a thousand Tier 6 experts had just arrived. The sheer presence of these players was so overwhelming that many players down below started to suffocate.

Chapter 3580: Tier 6?

Chapter 654 – Tier 6?

“So, this is Skylight’s Templar Legion?”

“Incredible! I didn’t think Skylight’s main force would be comparable to the Nine Great Pseudo-Apex Powers already!”

When the crowd in front of the Horizon Mountain Range’s entrance saw the approaching Skylight Association members, they experienced a mix of shock and awe. It was especially so for the powers that never had any dealings with the Skylight Association before today.

For the gathered powers, a force of several dozen Extraordinary Flying Mounts and above wasn’t anything significant. Even a collection of 1,000 Fragmented Equipment Sets was something the various pseudo-apex powers present could easily take out.

But it was a different story for Fragmented Legendary Equipment Sets that came with battle arrays. Even the Nine Great Pseudo-Apex Powers could not take out a thousand such sets in the Eternal Realm.

Of course, everyone could also tell that the Fragmented Legendary Equipment Sets worn by the Skylight Association members could not create 500-man Large Bronze Battle Arrays. Instead, these sets could only form 100-man Medium Bronze Battle Arrays that could only let Tier 5 players gain near-Tier 6 combat power. Nonetheless, it was still a very frightening collection of equipment in the Eternal Realm.

Shortly afterward, the Skylight Association's Flying Mounts descended in front of the mountain range's entrance under everyone's gaze, and its members quickly gathered on the ground in organized ranks. Their movements resembled well-trained soldiers, and it didn't look like they were members of an upstart Guild.

Meanwhile, after the Skylight Association's members put away their Flying Mounts, the organized legion separated into two, opening a path for three individuals. Of the three individuals, walking in the lead was Nineteenth Sword, while following behind him were a man and a woman. Upon seeing these three individuals, everyone present fell silent for a moment.

"Heavy Shield Titan! Mjolnir Milia!"

Unrestrained Lionheart couldn't help but gape in shock when he saw the two individuals walking behind Nineteenth Sword.

"So Skylight managed to recruit these two as well... No wonder the capital's pseudo-apex powers are wary of provoking it..." When Frey saw Nineteenth Sword's group of three, a hint of fear appeared in her eyes.

As one of the Greater God's Domain's current Ten Great Sword Gods, Nineteenth Sword's strength need not be said. As for Heavy Shield Titan and Mjolnir Milia, while they weren't as strong as Nineteenth Sword, they were still veteran Divine Glory experts. Titan, in particular, was an expert who had mastered two Gold Combat Techniques already, and he was only some ways away from entering the ranks of the Ten Great Guardian Knights.

Similar to Nineteenth Sword, both Titan and Milia used to be solo players. Even though the various pseudo-apex powers had made many lucrative offers to them, none had managed to catch their attention. So, seeing them operating under the Skylight Association now was very surprising.

Meanwhile, with Nineteenth Sword, Titan, and Milia operating together, even the Red Dragon Nation must be wary of them. Not to mention, they also had the Skylight Association's Templar Legion backing them. Among the gathered forces, the overall strength of the Skylight Association's forces should only be second to the Seven Luminaries Alliance.

"How interesting. It seems Skylight is rather serious about the resurrection camps this time." Amidst the crowd, an imposing middle-aged man clad in dark-gray armor and carrying a blood-red axe revealed a look of intrigue as he scrutinized the Skylight Association's forces. Then, he looked toward the two-meter-tall female Blood Elf standing next to him and smiled wickedly, saying, "I heard you are rather close with Zero Wing's Guild Leader, Aurebeth. Nineteenth Sword has already stated he is going to deal with Zero Wing. Are you sure you're not going to join my side? With my help, ensuring Zero Wing a place in the World Ark shouldn't be a problem."

The middle-aged man's words were calm and arrogant. However, none of the surrounding experts refuted or ridiculed him. On the contrary, everyone did their best to avoid looking at the middle-aged man, afraid they would catch his attention.

Indeed, the appearance of Nineteenth Sword's group of three was astonishing. But the middle-aged man was no ordinary expert, either.

Garut the Blood Emperor. In addition to being one of Azure Fang's Two Great Vice Guild Leaders, he was also crowned as one of the Ten Great Berserker Gods this year. In terms of combat standards, he was not at all inferior to Nineteenth Sword and Titan.

Furthermore, Garut had behind him several hundred experts equipped with Fragmented Legendary Equipment Sets that could form 100-man Bronze Battle Arrays. While his team's overall strength might be inferior to the Skylight Association, the difference wasn't significant. Not to mention, Azure Fang was a pseudo-apex power with a long history. Its foundations vastly surpassed that of the Skylight Association. So, nobody knew what other cards the Blood Emperor had up his sleeve.

"You can keep your kind intentions to yourself. I am only here to fulfill my agreement with the Guild Leader," Aurebeth said as she glanced at Nineteenth Sword's group. Then, she closed her eyes and continued, "Also, Guild Leader Black Flame doesn't need my help."

The name of Black Flame rang loudly in his ears. It was especially so after Black Flame had defeated Sleeping Spark, the Star Dynasty's strongest chosen one, becoming one of the Sacred Glory List's top powerhouses. In the future, there was no doubt Black Flame could enter the ranks of the Divine Glory List.

However, Black Flame's strength was one thing, while Zero Wing's clash with the Skylight Association was another thing altogether.

Simply a comparison in numbers would put Zero Wing far behind the Skylight Association, let alone a comparison in overall strength. Even if Black Flame was strong enough to match Nineteenth Sword, the Skylight Association still had Titan and Milia. If those two were left unchecked, they could deal devastating damage to Zero Wing's forces. And even if Aurebeth decided to intervene, the best she could do was distract those two for some time. So, Garut found it hard to imagine what could possibly allow Zero Wing to not fear the Skylight Association.

However, Aurebeth did not bother to explain herself. She simply rested her eyes while waiting for time to pass.

"Not saying, huh?" Garut did not get angry at Aurebeth's behavior. Instead, he calmly smiled and said, "Have it your way, then. The Guild Leader is planning to rectify the Crystal City's situation after the expedition this time anyway. When that time comes, I'll have plenty of time to learn about Zero Wing."

While Garut and the various pseudo-apex powers' executives were waiting for the Seven Luminaries Alliance to initiate the meeting, a dragon that was over a hundred meters in length flew over from the distant sky, its appearance immediately attracting everyone's attention.

"A Tier 5 Dragon?"

"Why would a Tier 5 Dragon appear in this place?"

"Wait, there are people riding on that dragon!"

When everyone got a closer look at the approaching Frostflame Dragon, they couldn't help but be astonished.

Dragons were incredibly rare in the Greater God's Domain. Meanwhile, as one of God's Domain's apex races, dragons possessed immense strength. It was especially so once they reached Tier 5 and above. Under normal circumstances, a Tier 5 Dragon could already rival Tier 6 Divine monsters, requiring many Tier 6 experts working together to slay it. Even for the various pseudo-apex powers present, they would need to mobilize at least a 100-man team with a Medium Bronze Battle Array to stand a chance against a Tier 5 Dragon.

Yet, now, someone was using a Tier 5 Dragon as a Mount. How could they not be surprised by this situation?

Meanwhile, the Frostflame Dragon whipped up a storm under everyone's gaze as it descended in front of the Horizon Mountain Range. Then, when the players riding atop the Frostflame Dragon hopped onto the ground, the players gathered in front of the mountain range were stunned once more.

"Tier 6?"

Chapter 3581: Apex War

Chapter 655 – Apex War

"Am I dreaming? Ten Tier 6s?"

"I've never seen this six-winged Guild Emblem before. Which Guild are these players from?"

"Ten Tier 6s! I doubt even the Nine Great Pseudo-Apex Powers can take out so many!"

A hundred experts had jumped off the Frostflame Dragon's back, of which ten radiated Divine Might. When everyone felt the Divine Might of these ten players, they couldn't help but fall into a daze.

It was very easy to distinguish Tier 6 players from Tier 5 players so long as they weren't trying to hide the fact that they were at Tier 6. It was especially so if they did not restrict their Divine Might. Any player below Tier 6 would experience immense mental suppression when standing in the presence of a Tier 6 player's Divine Might. Even if a Tier 5 player's Concentration had reached the Tier 6 standard, they would still feel strong oppression, and they must divert some of their attention into resisting it.

"Guild Leader Black Flame?"

Shock colored Frey's beautiful eyes as she watched Shi Feng put the Tier 5 Frostflame Dragon away. As for Unrestrained Lionheart, he couldn't help but doubt his eyes as he looked at Zero Wing's members.

Tier 6 was currently the primary goal of the Eternal Realm's various powers. However, achieving it wasn't easy, as the Tier 6 promotion required a significant amount of Seven Luminaries Crystal and had an unreliable success rate.

Before the various powers could ensure a higher promotion success rate, they wouldn't dare let their experts challenge their Tier 6 promotion. Otherwise, they would risk throwing away the precious advantages they had built up through their head start in the Eternal Realm.

Moreover, even if the various powers had some experts capable of reliably completing their Tier 6 promotion, the best they could hope for was a few players successfully getting promoted to Tier 6 in the near future. A force of ten Tier 6 players was something not even the Red Dragon Nation would dare think of having in the near future, let alone now.

It should be known that there was a qualitative difference between Tier 5 and Tier 6 players. Even though the various pseudo-apex powers present had experts equipped with Fragmented Legendary Battle Array Equipment Sets, these experts could only achieve near-Tier 6 combat power.

In a situation where the difference in combat standards wasn't significant, a Tier 6 player could easily go up against dozens of Tier 5 players in a battle array. Only with the help of a Large Bronze Battle Array would it be possible for several Tier 5 players to distract a Tier 6 player.

Moreover, this was under the assumption that the Tier 6 player in question was only equipped with Fragmented Legendary items. If the Tier 6 player was equipped with a Legendary Weapon, it would take dozens, if not a hundred, Tier 5 experts to resist them, even with the help of a Large Bronze Battle Array.

Currently, if Zero Wing's ten Tier 6 experts worked together, after factoring in Shi Feng's extraordinary capabilities, they could probably match even the Seven Luminaries Alliance's complete 500-man Luminous Battle Array.

While Frey and everyone else were immersed in shock, Nineteenth Sword couldn't help but frown as he gazed at Shi Feng's group.

"I'm afraid we're going to have difficulty dealing with Zero Wing, Elder Sword," Titan, carrying a thorny shield on his back, whispered to Nineteenth Sword as he watched Frey approach Shi Feng's group.

If they were outside the Eternal Realm, a force of ten Tier 6 players would be trivial. After all, even ordinary hegemonic powers would have dozens of Tier 6 players, let alone pseudo-apex powers.

But in the current Eternal Realm, it wouldn't be an exaggeration to say that Tier 6 players were one-man legions. Even as a Divine Glory expert who had mastered two Gold Combat Techniques, Titan could, at most, go up against one or two Tier 6 players equipped with only Fragmented Legendary items. If the other party was equipped with a Legendary Weapon and at the fifth-floor standard, the best he could hope to accomplish was to distract one of them.

If all ten of Zero Wing's Tier 6 experts were to fight together, the Skylight Association's chances of victory would be slim. That wasn't to say the Skylight Association was made up of unskilled players. It was just that the difference between Tier 5 and Tier 6 players was just that big. Otherwise, the Greater God's Domain's various powers wouldn't determine a Guild's strength based on the number of Tier 6 experts it had.

"I know. Our current priority is to occupy a resurrection camp. Everything else comes later," Nineteenth Sword said as he took a long look at Shi Feng. Then, he turned away and stopped paying attention to Zero Wing's team.

The resurrection camps of the World Ark's inner area were vital for the Skylight Association to enter Holy Ring City. Therefore, before securing a resurrection camp, he had never intended to do anything else.

...

Meanwhile, over at Azure Fang's team, Garut looked astonished as he scrutinized Zero Wing's team.

"It seems I have really underestimated Zero Wing. No wonder it dares to go against Skylight," Garut commented with a smile. "It's a pity that even Tier 6 players would have limited effect on the upcoming battle. Otherwise, I would have really liked to partner with them."

Hearing Garut's comment, Aurebeth, Azure Fang's Saintess, remained quiet. Though, a hint of astonishment still flashed in her eyes when she took a glance at Shi Feng.

...

Shortly after Zero Wing's team arrived, an elderly Grand Wizard emerged from the World Ark's inner area and stood before the Seven Luminaries Alliance's forces. The Grand Wizard looked considerably old, having white hair and a white beard. Even the aura he gave off felt decrepit.

"Apologies for the long wait. I am Gray Eagle, an Elder of the Seven Luminaries Alliance." After surveying the crowd gathered in front of the mountain range, the old man spoke in a voice that resonated across the skies. "As some of you may have guessed, apart from the matter regarding the inner area's resurrection camps, another reason the Seven Luminaries Alliance has invited you all here today is to discuss forming a joint resistance against the Holy Race's various powers."

When Gray Eagle started to speak, the various powers' representatives promptly perked up their ears, wondering what kind of plan the Seven Luminaries Alliance was concocting this time.

"The Holy Race is incredibly strong. I am sure those of you who have fought in the World Ark should know this by now," Gray Eagle continued when he saw that everyone was paying attention. "According to our investigations, the Holy Race has ten royal powers, and each is as strong, if not stronger than our apex powers. Previously, as you have only been competing in the outer area, none of the Holy Race's royal powers have bothered to intervene, but the activation of the inner area's resurrection camps has garnered the attention of one of them."

Before Gray Eagle even finished speaking, the various powers' members were already in shock. It was especially so for those who had experienced clashing with the Holy Race in the World Ark's outer area.

"Each royal power is as strong as our apex powers? And there are ten of them?"

"Is this going to be an Apex War?"

Frey and the other pseudo-apex powers' representatives had difficulty digesting the information Gray Eagle shared.

Although they had long known the Holy Race was powerful, they didn't think it was this strong. It should be known that their Greater God's Domain only had several apex powers. Yet, the Holy Race had ten apex power equivalents. Moreover, one of these apex power equivalents would even be participating in the battle over the World Ark this time.

An Apex War!

This was a taboo in the Greater God's Domain, and it was a battle that non-apex powers should never think of interfering in. The last time an Apex War occurred, countless powers faced permanent elimination, and among them was a pseudo-apex power and five upper-ranking hegemonic powers.

If the battle over the World Ark's resurrection camps turned into an Apex War, how were they supposed to compete?

Chapter 3582: Seven Luminaries Alliance's Foundation

Chapter 656 – Seven Luminaries Alliance's Foundation

Following Gray Eagle's words, the hundreds of thousands of experts gathered before the mountain range fell silent. Even Shi Feng couldn't help but be surprised by the old man's revelation.

Even a royal power has gotten involved?? Shi Feng experienced a mild headache as he tried to digest Gray Eagle's words.

Currently, the various human powers still knew very little about the Holy Race's might, and even the Seven Luminaries Alliance was no exception. The Seven Luminaries Alliance might have uncovered the existence of the Holy Race's royal powers, but it still didn't understand the true extent of these royal powers' strength.

When the war between the two races officially began in his previous life, the strength the Holy Race's royal powers exhibited could easily be described as horrifying, with even the weakest royal power being able to rival the Seven Luminaries Alliance!

It should be known that the Seven Luminaries Alliance was the Greater God's Domain's oldest apex power. It was so strong that even Demon's Gate, an organization made up of a bunch of lunatics, only dared to pick small and inconsequential fights with it; never would it dare to escalate any confrontations to the level of Realm Wars.

Yet, despite being so powerful, the Seven Luminaries Alliance was only roughly equal with the Holy Race's weakest royal powers.

Honestly, the only reason humans had managed to trade blows with and survive against the Holy Race in his previous life was that only four royal powers had participated in the invasion. Had one or two more royal powers involved themselves with the war, not only would humans lose complete control over the Eternal Realm, but even a portion of the Twelve Sanctuaries would have been taken over.

So, the fact that one of the Holy Race's royal powers had decided to get involved with the competition over the World Ark definitely wasn't good news for the various human powers.

"There is no need to despair," Gray Eagle continued as he looked at the depressed crowd. "The reason the Seven Luminaries Alliance has invited everyone here today is to help you secure a resurrection camp and establish yourselves in the World Ark."

"What do you need us to do, Elder Gray Eagle?" an Assassin, the representative of Flaming Bee, asked.

Upon hearing Flaming Bee's representative's question, everyone else perked up their ears, wondering what they had to do to secure themselves a place in the World Ark's inner area.

Normally, a war between apex powers was one that even pseudo-apex powers couldn't hope to involve themselves with. It wasn't because they didn't have as many experts as apex powers. Instead, it was because of the qualitative difference between their apex combatants. So long as they didn't have a way to bridge this gap, trying to defend a resurrection camp from an apex power would be nothing but a pipe dream.

After taking a moment to scan the crowd, Gray Eagle faintly smiled and said, "The Seven Luminaries Alliance has been active in the World Ark's inner area for quite some time already. As soon as the resurrection camps were activated, we immediately occupied six camps that were closest to the Holy Race's side. Our presence there will largely prevent the Holy Race's powers from invading our side."

Everyone immediately grew excited when they heard Gray Eagle's words.

The World Ark had multiple entrances. A portion of these entrances were on the human race's side, while a portion was on the Holy Race's side. Moreover, these entrances led to distinctly different sections of the World Ark, and it was the same as the inner area.

If the Seven Luminaries Alliance was willing to position itself at the forefront of the human side, the Holy Race would have much greater difficulty interfering with the human race's resurrection camps. After all, even if the Holy Race chose to sneak past the Seven Luminaries Alliance's defensive line and attack the resurrection camps behind it, the greater distance their resurrected forces would have to travel would make it a lot easier for the various human powers to defend their resurrection camps.

"But the Holy Race won't let us get away with occupying those six resurrection camps easily, so we hope that all of you here can help us defend those six camps first," Gray Eagle said. "So long as we can thoroughly secure our hold over those six camps, we will leave the rear line resurrection camps to you. As for how many camps each of you can occupy, it will depend on your own capabilities. If nobody has any questions, you may follow me to our camps."

Following Gray Eagle's words, everyone fell silent, all wondering if they should go along with the Seven Luminaries Alliance's arrangement.

"Azure Fang is fine with this arrangement, but what if other apex powers try to snatch our resurrection camps?" Garut asked.

Although Gray Eagle spoke in a calm tone, his voice exuded confidence and resolution, allowing everyone present to understand that no human power would dare to break the rules.

Immediately, over ten thousand of Flying Mounts flew toward the six frontmost resurrection camps on the human side of the World Ark's inner area.

...

World Ark, Deadzone Forest:

The World Ark was a Level 170 to Level 200 World Mode Regional Dungeon. It covered a massive area, and it was separated into many map zones of varying levels. Among them, the Deadzone Forest was a Level 180 to Level 190 map situated in the World Ark's inner area.

Even though Shi Feng's team rode on the Tier 5 Frostflame Dragon, many Level 180-plus Legendary-rank soul monsters in the Deadzone Forest still chased after them.

All of the Deadzone Forest's soul monsters were made up of death energy and couldn't be damaged by normal physical attacks. If players wished to harm these monsters, they would need to expend a large amount of mana to wear down these monsters' death energy first. Only then could their physical attacks start to deal damage.

If players were to clash with the Deadzone Forest's monsters, they would need to end the fight as quickly as possible. Otherwise, they might deplete their mana and lose their ability to damage the monsters. Once that happened, it would only be a matter of time before they exhaust their Stamina and Concentration and die.

Fortunately, the Tier 5 Frostflame Dragon had no trouble shaking off the pursuing soul monsters with its speed, and Shi Feng's team safely arrived at a small basin lined with countless tombstones. This basin was one of the resurrection camps that had recently been activated in the World Ark's inner area.

When Shi Feng and the others arrived at the basin, they saw multiple Grandmaster Magic Arrays covering it, each maintained by 1,000 players. Meanwhile, inside the basin, not only were there tens of thousands of players, but there were also hundreds of Magic Elven Cannons set up. Each of these Magic Elven Cannons could exhibit power at the Tier 6 standard, and they had a firing range of 5,000 yards and a blast radius of 500 yards.

In addition, there were also hundreds of Dark-Gold Combat Puppets stationed across the basin's perimeter. Each combat puppet was twenty meters tall and possessed Strength rivaling Tier 6 Berserkers. They also possessed Defense that made them nigh-impenetrable to damage from weapons under the Legendary rank.

"The defenses here are already on par with that of Holy Cities..." Frey couldn't help but be shocked when she saw the resurrection camp's defensive measures.

However, the shock Frey and everyone else experienced was quickly replaced when they entered the resurrection camp and got a closer look at the players inside.

Of the many Seven Luminaries Alliance members stationed in the resurrection camp, more than 20 were bona fide Tier 6 players. There were also 200 Tier 5 players radiating auras on par with Tier 6 players, and they were even equipped with Fragmented Legendary Equipment Sets that could form an incomparably rare 100-man Advanced Bronze Battle Array...

Chapter 3583: God Hunter

Chapter 657 – God Hunter

"Is that the rumored Sacred Glory Battle Array?" Unrestrained Lionheart couldn't help but be awed as he looked at the 200 Tier 5 players radiating auras on par with Tier 6 players. "No wonder so few powers can survive after getting dragged into an Apex War."

The Seven Luminaries Alliance had three mighty battle arrays in its possession, of which the one with the greatest renown was the 500-man Luminous Battle Array. When used at full capacity, the Luminous Battle Array could strengthen Tier 5 players to a point where they could match Tier 6 players. In other words, the complete Luminous Battle Array could be used to create a force of 500 Tier 6 players.

However, while the Luminous Battle Array might be the most famous of the three battle arrays, it wasn't the strongest. Instead, the Sacred Glory Battle Array, an Advanced Bronze Battle Array, ranked above it.

Although the Sacred Glory Battle Array was only a medium battle array and could only accommodate up to 100 players, it could let each Tier 5 player in the battle array to create a powerful Law Projection superior to that of the average Tier 6 player. Besides that, the battle array also gave players a tremendous boost in Basic Attributes, putting them on par with Tier 6 players fully equipped with Fragmented Legendary Equipment and one piece of Legendary Equipment.

With the help of the Sacred Glory Battle Array, a Tier 5 player could overwhelm an ordinary Tier 6 player in battle.

Moreover, unlike the Luminous Battle Array, the Sacred Glory Battle Array's effects weren't limited to Tier 5. Tier 6 players could also benefit from the Sacred Glory Battle Array, albeit much less than Tier 5 players.

According to rumors, if 100 Tier 6 players activated the Sacred Glory Battle Array, each would gain a 10% increase in Physique and Basic Attributes. And although Tier 6 players wouldn't even get to share their senses, these bonuses were still significant improvements for Tier 6 players nonetheless.

Currently, although the Sacred Glory Battle Array wasn't being used by Tier 6 players, it still allowed the Seven Luminaries Alliance to gain an additional 200 experts capable of overpowering the average Tier 6 player. This was an overwhelming advantage that no pseudo-apex power could overcome in the current Eternal Realm.

"Does the Seven Luminaries Alliance even need our help? They can easily defend this place with the forces they have," Frey muttered and sighed dejectedly when she saw the difference between the Seven Luminaries Alliance's forces and the various powers that had come to assist with the resurrection camp's defense.

The Seven Luminaries Alliance had occupied six resurrection camps, so the various powers' forces were split into six legions and sent to assist each camp. Among them, the legion sent to reinforce the Deadzone Forest's resurrection camp consisted of 80,000 players, with the weakest member being a titled expert. In addition, 3,000 of these players could employ the help of 100-man Medium Bronze Battle Arrays.

On paper, the various powers' forces outnumbered the Seven Luminaries Alliance's forces. However, in terms of overall combat power, the Seven Luminaries Alliance's forces wouldn't even need to break a sweat to obliterate them.

Is this the strength of an apex power? Fire Dance similarly couldn't help but be shocked when she saw the Seven Luminaries Alliance's defensive forces.

Ever since she joined the Green God Corporation, she had participated in many battles across the Greater God's Domain, and she felt that she had already learned much of what there was to learn. But after coming to the Eternal Realm, she had her worldview shattered time and again, and it was especially so this time.

Even without including the Seven Luminaries Alliance's experts, the several hundred Dark-Gold Combat Puppets in this resurrection camp were probably enough to eradicate any Realm Empire. Yet, these Dark-Gold Combat Puppets were only one of the defensive measures prepared for the resurrection camp. Moreover, this was only one of six resurrection camps occupied by the Seven Luminaries Alliance...

At this time, Fire Dance wasn't the only person from Zero Wing stunned by the Seven Luminaries Alliance's might. Everyone else was in a similar situation, and they were once again made to realize how far of a path Zero Wing still needed to travel to reach the apex.

Of everyone present, Shi Feng was the only one unfazed by the resurrection camp's defensive measures.

The Seven Luminaries Alliance was the Greater God's Domain's oldest power. Its foundations far surpassed the other apex powers. In his previous life, the human race could have never withstood the Holy Race's invasion if it wasn't for the Seven Luminaries Alliance shouldering the frontline.

Shortly after the various powers' forces arrived, a young woman from the Seven Luminaries Alliance approached them and stood on an elevated platform. The young woman had a silver ponytail reaching down to her waist, and she had a gaze that was as sharp as a knife. She was a Level 173, Tier 6 Ranger, and she was equipped with exquisite mail armor and carried a strange longbow made entirely out of crystals.

"I am Verdant Rainbow, the commander-in-chief of this resurrection camp. Since you all have agreed to the Seven Luminaries Alliance's conditions, you should know of the camp's significance. Once the battle begins later on, the Seven Luminaries Alliance will take on the brunt of the enemy forces. You all simply need to take care of any rabble that manages to slip by," the young woman stated loudly as she surveyed the crowd before her.

"Personally, I only have one condition for you all: do not let any Holy Race player set foot into the core circle. If any manages to do so, chase them out at all costs.

"You can also earn Contribution Points from the Seven Luminaries Alliance for every Holy Race player you kill. Once the battle is over, you can spend these points to exchange for weapons and equipment. The top five contributors of this camp will also get to exchange for one Legendary Weapon or Equipment. So, I hope you do not disappoint me!"

Upon hearing Verdant Rainbow's words, apart from a few ignorant youngsters, everyone else couldn't help but be awed by the Seven Luminaries Alliance's generosity.

The value of one or two Legendary items might not be significant to the various pseudo-apex powers, but it was a different story for thirty Legendary items. If it were them, they would definitely hesitate to give away thirty Legendary items for a single battle. After all, Legendary items were incredibly rare, and it was especially so in the Eternal Realm.

Rumor has it that the Seven Luminaries Alliance's warehouse has the biggest and most complete collection of Legendary Weapons and Equipment in the Greater God's Domain, and any class can find a corresponding weapon or equipment in it. Blood Emperor Garut licked his lips as he looked at Verdant Rainbow. It seems I can't afford to take it easy in this battle.

Besides Garut, Aurebeth also couldn't help but look at Verdant Rainbow, a hint of interest flashing in her eyes.

For experts of their caliber, weapons and equipment were of utmost importance. However, getting their hands on highly compatible Legendary items wasn't easy because every Legendary item had different compatibility with different classes.

Generally, the best way to obtain Legendary items of high compatibility would be to get them custom-made. The only problem was that very few individuals could enjoy such a service, even among the various pseudo-apex powers. Meanwhile, if custom-made items weren't an option, the next best option would be to find non-general Legendary items, also known as class-specific Legendary items.

To actually open up its warehouse... It seems the Seven Luminaries Alliance is serious this time. Shi Feng was also tempted by Verdant Rainbow's words.

In the hands of the right class, class-specific items would usually perform 10% to 20% better than general items, even if both possessed the same Attributes. This was because class-specific items could not only enhance and make it easier to use the Skills and Spells of their corresponding classes, thereby increasing their users' Skill and Spell Completion Rates.

However, compared to the Seven Luminaries Alliance's rewards, what surprised Shi Feng, even more, was that the Ranger named Verdant Rainbow had appeared in this place.

Verdant Rainbow might be unknown to most players in the current Greater God's Domain, but she was incredibly famous during Shi Feng's previous life. Her title was even known by all throughout the Greater God's Domain, as it was one of the few titles in the Greater God's Domain's history that carried the word "God."

God Hunter!

Chapter 3584: First War

Chapter 658 – First War

"Is that woman strong, Guild Leader?" Hidden Soul asked out of curiosity when she saw Shi Feng scrutinizing Verdant Rainbow.

Hidden Soul understood Shi Feng to a certain degree, so she knew that most experts couldn't catch his attention. Even when the other party was a powerful and influential person in the Greater God's Domain, Shi Feng would, at most, take a few extra glances at them. He would never bother to scrutinize them.

Normally, those who could gain Shi Feng's scrutiny would be individuals of extraordinary strength. Or, more specifically, individuals who could threaten his life.

"Yes. Very much so," Shi Feng quietly said and nodded. "I dare say she's among the top ten strongest players in the current Eternal Realm."

"Top ten?" Hidden Soul couldn't help but take a closer look at Verdant Rainbow upon hearing Shi Feng's evaluation. Then, she skeptically continued, "Although she is currently at Tier 6, her mana and aura still feel weaker than Azure Shadow's group. The various apex powers should have also sent some of their old monsters into the Eternal Realm. Even if she is slightly stronger than the various apex powers' younger generation, I doubt anyone of the younger generation can rank among the Eternal Realm's top ten."

Hidden Soul was no longer as ignorant regarding the Greater God's Domain as she was when she was still operating under the Flower of Seven Sins. While she might not know how many experts the various apex powers had under their command, she knew every major power operating in the Greater God's Domain had a group of old monsters operating behind the scenes.

In terms of age, even the youngest of these old monsters were probably over a century old, while the older ones had mingled in the Greater God's Domain for centuries already. Meanwhile, because of the combat experience they had accumulated and the foundation they had built for themselves, they had a vast advantage over players of the younger generation, and it would take the younger generation a lot of time and effort to catch up to them.

Moreover, the stronger a power was, the more so this would be. After all, most of these old monsters had similarly been regarded as paragons and chosen ones during their younger days. The talent they possessed was not at all inferior to the current younger generation.

Admittedly, not many powers and players were currently present in the Eternal Realm. But even in this limited population of players, it would still be incredibly difficult to rank among the top ten in strength. In Hidden Soul's opinion, even Shi Feng couldn't necessarily accomplish this feat, so the odds of a woman younger than Shi Feng accomplishing it should be even lower.

"It might be impossible for others, but not for her," Shi Feng said, shaking his head and wryly smiling when he saw the skeptical look on Hidden Soul. "As for why that is the case, it is because she currently possesses the World String, a Divine Artifact. It wouldn't even be an exaggeration to regard her as a Taboo."

Verdant Rainbow was a legendary name in Shi Feng's previous life. During a defensive siege against the Holy Race, Verdant Rainbow had single-handedly slain sixteen Ancient Saints and one Holy Ancestor. Her achievement was so astonishing that she scared away the royal power attacking the Holy City she defended. But who could blame them?

To the Holy Race, Ancient Saints were the equivalent of the human race's Ancient Gods, while Holy Ancestors were the equivalent of the human race's Primordial Gods.

Yet, with one bow, Verdant Rainbow had shot down sixteen Ancient Saints and one Holy Ancestor. Such an achievement could only be found in the Grand Library's records in the modern Greater God's Domain. In fact, Verdant Rainbow's achievement might be even more incredible than these records.

It was why the twelve rulers of the Twelve Sanctuaries had unanimously agreed to award Verdant Rainbow with the title of God Hunter.

In terms of significance, a title awarded by the Twelve Sanctuaries' rulers was far more valuable than a title awarded by the Seven Luminaries Alliance. Not only was it a representation of strength and status in the Greater God's Domain, but it also came with blessings from the Greater God's Domain.

Although the current Verdant Rainbow had yet to become as strong as she was when the Holy Race invaded the Twelve Sanctuaries in Shi Feng's previous life, the fact that she was already in possession of the World String meant that she could stand shoulder-to-shoulder with Ancient Gods.

This was also why Shi Feng was so surprised to see Verdant Rainbow.

"A Divine Artifact? Is the Seven Luminaries Alliance insane?"

After hearing Shi Feng's words, Hidden Soul couldn't help but gape in shock as she looked at the strange-looking crystalline longbow on Verdant Rainbow's back.

For players like herself, Divine Artifacts were things they could only dream of obtaining. Although Shi Feng had handed the Fragmented Divine Artifact-rank Chaos Windblade to Gentle Snow sometime ago, Hidden Soul still felt that Divine Artifacts were far out of her reach.

Meanwhile, Divine Artifacts were items regarded by the various pseudo-apex powers as their greatest trump card. They would never take out their Divine Artifacts to a fight unless they were facing an existential crisis.

Hence, Hidden Soul found it unbelievable the Seven Luminaries Alliance would let someone take a Divine Artifact into a fight over just one resurrection camp.

It should be known that Divine Artifacts were items that could be dropped on death. In fact, they would have a considerably great chance of dropping in battles between players. After all, players could use curse-type tools or special barriers to drastically increase their opponents' death penalty. On a large battlefield, players could even lose all of their weapons and equipment if they died multiple times.

There was also no way to hide a Divine Artifact from others in battle. It might be hard to tell a weapon or equipment's exact rank outside of battle, but once in battle, so long as a player wasn't an inexperienced amateur, they could quickly determine the rank of their opponents' weapons and equipment based on the other party's combat performance.

Not to mention, the might of a Divine Weapon was vastly superior to Legendary and Fragmented Divine Weapons. The moment Verdant Rainbow took action, everyone would be able to tell she was wielding a Divine Weapon.

Defending a resurrection camp with a Divine Weapon was no different than waving a winning lottery ticket in a crowded street. Was the Seven Luminaries Alliance not afraid of getting robbed?

"That's not for us to worry about," Shi Feng said when he saw Hidden Soul's drooling look. Then, he switched to the team chat and said, "Miss Frey, once the battle begins, have all of your people gather near our Tier 6 members and do not move more than a hundred yards away. Otherwise, we will have difficulty rescuing you."

"Aren't you being a little too cautious, Guild Leader Black Flame? We will only be dealing with the rabble who manages to slip through," Unrestrained Lionheart said as he looked at Shi Feng in confusion. "Not to mention, if we restrict our movements to 100 yards around you, we will have trouble chasing the Holy Race players out of the camp's core circle."

The rules for occupying a resurrection camp were simple. So long as a Guild could ensure it had the most members present in a resurrection camp's core circle for 24 hours, it would immediately gain ownership of the resurrection camp. No interruptions were allowed during this period. If a Guild failed to maintain its numerical advantage even once, the whole occupation process would have to start all over again.

But once a resurrection camp was occupied, if other Guilds wished to occupy it, they would need to ensure nobody but their own members were present in the core circle. Moreover, they needed to keep it that way for 24 hours. If so much as one member from the resurrection camp's owner entered the core circle, the occupation process would be canceled, and it could not be restarted until the core circle was cleared out. Even if the invading Guild had more members in the core circle, it still wouldn't matter. Hence, for those seeking to occupy a resurrection camp, it was crucial they be the first to occupy it.

Currently, their task was to chase away any Holy Race player who managed to enter the resurrection camp's core circle. If they had to limit their movements to within 100 yards of Shi Feng's team, they would have difficulty exhibiting their strength.

Just as Shi Feng was about to explain his decision, several of the Dark-Gold Combat Puppets stationed along the resurrection camp's perimeter suddenly went on alert as numerous red dots appeared on their 20,000-yard warning map.

These red dots came in different sizes. The greater the size, the greater the target's energy levels, the greater the target's strength, and the greater the threat the target would pose to the Combat Puppet.

"I got 1,043 high-energy alerts!"

"The Holy Race's army is here! Estimates show at least 1,043 Tier 6 experts!"

- Chapter 3585: Holy Race Army |

Chapter 3585: Holy Race Army

Chapter 659 – Holy Race Army

Following the Dark-Gold Combat Puppets' alert, the several Large Grandmaster Magic Barriers protecting the resurrection camp seemingly came to life as they lit up with numerous magic patterns.

Immediately afterward, the several thousand Tier 5 magical class experts presiding over the magic barriers each took out an ancient scroll. Then, they began manipulating the magic array drawn on the scroll with all their might, their actions causing all mana within a 10,000-yard radius to congregate and form a mana storm in the middle of the resurrection camp.

As soon as the mana storm finished forming, the mana density within the resurrection camp rose rapidly, increasing by threefold in only three seconds. Players present within the camp even felt their control over mana improving greatly.

"What dense mana!"

"A Great Grandmaster Mana Strengthening Barrier?! The Seven Luminaries Alliance has even taken out such a strategic barrier?!"

"As expected of the most transcendental apex power. I've only ever seen pseudo-apex powers using portable Great Grandmaster Mana Strengthening Barriers on their primary Guild Cities in the Void Sea. Yet, the Seven Luminaries Alliance is using one just to defend a resurrection camp...”

When the various powers’ experts saw that the resurrection camp’s magic barriers and mana had been greatly strengthened, they promptly recognized the ancient scrolls the Seven Luminaries Alliance’s members had taken out, and they couldn’t help but be amazed.

Great Grandmaster Magic Arrays were extremely precious in the Greater God’s Domain. It was especially so for Large Great Grandmaster Magic Arrays that required 1,000 players to maintain. Meanwhile, the rarity of portable Large Great Grandmaster Magic Arrays was even greater, and even pseudo-apex powers would have difficulty getting their hands on a full set.

Apart from Great Grandmaster Magicians being incredibly rare, another reason for this was the scrolls used to house the Large Great Grandmaster Magic Array.

Scrolls were much more fragile than the walls of towns, cities, and fortresses. If players wished to engrave something as powerful as a Great Grandmaster Magic Array onto a set of scrolls, the scrolls in question would need to be of very high quality. At the very least, they must be made from Legendary materials.

Meanwhile, the average Large Great Grandmaster Magic Array would need at least 1,000 scrolls to house it completely. Even for a pseudo-apex power, it would put a huge dent in their coffers if they were to produce a full set of such scrolls. Because of this, the various pseudo-apex powers only had a very limited number of portable Large Great Grandmaster Magic Arrays. Unless they were looking to defend a location of great importance, they would never use these portable magic arrays.

They’re here? When Shi Feng saw the resurrection camp’s magic arrays going into full swing, he couldn’t help but glance at the dark forest in the distance.

While Shi Feng was gazing at the distant forest, the various powers’ executives started to prepare their forces for battle. As for the Seven Luminaries Alliance’s side, Verdant Rainbow flew straight to the edge of the magic barriers with the rest of the Alliance’s Tier 6 experts and quietly gazed at the distant sky.

Not long after, in the direction Verdant Rainbow was looking at, a train that was 30 meters wide and 2,000 meters long appeared. The train traveled across the sky rapidly, and following behind it was a dense swarm of Holy Race experts. These Holy Race experts flew with the help of wings made up of holy patterns, the glowing wings brightly illuminating the gloomy sky.

Shortly after its appearance, the sky train arrived within a few thousand yards of the resurrection camp and directed its side toward the camp. At the same time, numerous barriers made of holy patterns lit up across the train's entire length, protecting the 300-plus energy cannons and 1,000-plus Holy Race experts within the train's carriages.

When the human players within the resurrection camp saw the Holy Race experts aboard the sky train, they couldn't help but be dumbfounded. After all, of these Holy Race experts, over a thousand radiated auras stronger than Tier 6 Divine monsters despite being only at Tier 5, and over 50 were at Tier 6. That was more than twice the number of Tier 6 experts the Seven Luminaries Alliance had stationed in this resurrection camp.

"No need to fret. The Holy Race's Legacies are more comprehensive than ours, making it easier for them to advance to Tier 6. But we humans are superior when it comes to strength utilization. The combined might we can exhibit also far exceeds them," Verdant Rainbow calmly stated to everyone, unfazed by the sky train and the Holy Race experts aboard it.

"We will deal with the Holy Race's Tier 6 experts. The rest of you only need to focus on the others," Verdant Rainbow continued. "Once gaps start to appear in the barriers, all forces are to barricade them immediately. Do not let any of the Holy Race's pseudo-Tier 6 experts inside!"

The various powers' members felt slightly relieved when they heard Verdant Rainbow's words.

They might not be a match for the Holy Race's pseudo-Tier 6 experts in one-on-one combat, but they had the numerical advantage. If several of them fought against one of the Holy Race's pseudo-Tier 6 experts, combined with the help of a Bronze Battle Array, they could still achieve victory.

Aside from a difference in Basic Attributes, Tier 6 players had access to Tier 6 Skills and Spells that Tier 5 players did not. The effects of the combat techniques they used would also be stronger. Even with the help of a Bronze Battle Array, Tier 5 players would have difficulty mitigating these differences.

"It looks like a tough battle is inevitable." Frey's expression grew serious when she saw the Holy Race army that covered the sky. Immediately, she had the Red Dragon Nation's 100-man battle array team prepare for battle.

Apart from the Holy Race experts aboard the Voyage Train, over 200,000 Tier 5 Holy Race experts were still waiting to invade the resurrection camp as soon as the opportunity appeared. These experts might not be as strong as those on the train, but they still radiated auras close to that of Tier 6 Divine monsters. They weren't opponents the average fourth-floor expert could hope to resist in one-on-one combat.

Meanwhile, on Azure Fang's side, Garut and Aurebeth each led a 100-man battle array team to the edge of the resurrection camp, their eyes focused on the Voyage Train's energy cannons.

During this time, a young man with a dark-blue holy eye imprinted on his forehead appeared on top of the Voyage Train. Then, before the various powers' battle array teams could get into positions, the three-eyed young man waved his hand and shouted:

"Fire!"

Following the young man's command, the Voyage Train's 300-plus energy cannons fired on the resurrection camp simultaneously. In response, Verdant Rainbow commanded the resurrection camp's Magic Elven Cannons to fire at the Voyage Train.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Suddenly, it was as if the sun had risen in the Deadzone Forest as blinding light drowned the area around the resurrection camp. Deafening explosions also rang across tens of thousands of yards. Meanwhile, as a result of this exchange of cannon fire, the energy barriers of both sides shook violently, and the area between them turned into an empty void.

After the first round of bombardment, subsequent rounds quickly followed. Following each bombardment, the distance between both sides also shortened. When the gap shortened to less than 1,000 yards, cracks finally started to appear in the barriers on both sides.

"Charge!"

"Stop them!"

Commands to charge into battle were issued on both sides simultaneously.

...

- Chapter 3586: Whose Attack Is That?

Chapter 660 – Whose Attack Is That?

Less than a thousand yards currently separated the two sides. For any Tier 5 expert, this was a distance they could cross with just several steps. For Tier 5 Holy Race experts with superior Basic Attributes, fighting at this distance would be no different than Tier 4 players fighting within a hundred yards of each other. Naturally, this distance would be even more negligible for the pseudo-Tier 6 Holy Race experts.

In the blink of an eye, the Holy Race's Tier 5 experts were already within 500 yards of the resurrection camp, while the pseudo-Tier 6 experts were already within 200 yards.

As for the Tier 6 Holy Race experts aboard the Voyage Train, although they remained in their positions, they started attacking the resurrection camp's magic barriers, preventing the barriers from recovering and widening the existing cracks.

Seeing more than 50 Tier 6 Skills targeting the magic barriers, the various powers' members inside the resurrection camp couldn't help but feel unnerved.

The magic barriers were their greatest defensive measure. If the cracks in the barriers became overly large, they would allow more Holy Race experts to infiltrate the resurrection camp, increasing the difficulty of dealing with the Holy Race experts. It would be especially so for the Holy Race's pseudo-Tier 6 experts. Each of them was capable of great destruction, and it would be a nightmare for Tier 5 players to fight them without the assistance of a battle array.

Optimally, each crack in the barriers should only allow five or six pseudo-Tier 6 Holy Race experts to enter at a time. If it was only that many, their 100-man battle array teams could easily send them flying back out of the cracks before they could react. But if ten or more pseudo-Tier 6 experts entered at the same time, their battle array teams' attacks would no longer have enough firepower to send all of them flying out of the magic barriers. And if some of these pseudo-Tier 6 experts manage to gain a foothold within the resurrection camp, they would become much harder to deal with.

When the Tier 6 Skills were about to connect with the magic barriers, though, Verdant Rainbow suddenly drew her longbow to its limit and fired a glowing silver arrow into the sky. Once the silver arrow flew out of the magic barriers, it turned into hundreds of chains that spread out to form countless flat World Barriers, the barriers blocking more than half of the incoming Tier 6 Skills.

At the same time, the rest of the Seven Luminaries Alliance's Tier 6 experts used their Tier 6 Skills and Spells one after another, blocking the rest of the Holy Race's Tier 6 Skills and preventing any further damage to the magic barriers.

"What an incredible defensive arrow!"

Everyone, whether human players or Holy Race players, couldn't help but be stunned by the arrow launched by Verdant Rainbow.

Usually, Tier 6 experts originating from apex powers could exhibit power at the standard of Tier 6 Gods when they used Tier 6 Skills. If several dozen of these Tier 6 experts attacked together, the combined might of their attacks could overwhelm even the defenses of Ancient Gods at the same level. Yet, Verdant Rainbow had stopped over 20 of such Tier 6 Skills with a single arrow, without the help of any Skills or Spells. If speaking solely in terms of defensive capabilities, Verdant Rainbow was definitely at the standard of Ancient Gods.

“Is that woman Verdant Rainbow, the Seven Luminaries Alliance’s chosen one of this generation?” When the three-eyed young man in charge of the Holy Race army looked at Rainbow, he quickly identified her based on the intelligence his organization had collected. He also couldn’t help but be a little surprised as Verdant Rainbow was a lot stronger than the reports stated.

However, the three-eyed young man’s surprise lasted only briefly before he resumed commanding the Tier 6 experts on his side to attack the magic barriers for a second time. It was as if he did not care that Verdant Rainbow’s team could neutralize all of their Tier 6 experts’ attacks.

Subsequently, an intense exchange of firepower occurred between the Holy Race and the Seven Luminaries Alliance’s Tier 6 experts. In the meantime, under the support of the Voyage Train’s cannon fire, the Holy Race’s Tier 5 experts recklessly charged through the gaps of the magic barriers, paying no heed whatsoever toward the attacks coming from the human players inside the barriers.

In just a few seconds, multiple groups of pseudo-Tier 6 Holy Race experts successfully infiltrated the resurrection camp. In response, the Dark-Gold Combat Puppets, Sacred Glory Battle Array team, and many other battle array teams charged forward to engage these pseudo-Tier 6 Holy Race experts in battle, intending to expel them out of the magic barriers before more of them could gather.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Because of their massive numerical disadvantage, even though the pseudo-Tier 6 Holy Race experts had superior Basic Attributes, they failed to react to all of the attacks directed at them and ended up getting hit numerous times.

However, following the end of the first round of bombardment, everyone on the human side couldn’t help but be shocked by what they saw.

“How can this be?!”

The number of attacks each of the Holy Race’s pseudo-Tier 6 experts had received would normally be enough to blow even Tier 6 tanks into smithereens. Yet, these pseudo-Tier 6 Holy Race experts had lost less than one-third of their HPs.

In fact, before anyone on the human side could react, multiple heals had landed on the Holy Race’s pseudo-Tier 6 experts, instantly bringing their HPs back to full.

Upon seeing this scene, even Garut and Aurebeth couldn't help but knit their brows.

While they remained confident they could win against the Holy Race's pseudo-Tier 6 experts in one-on-one combat, they definitely couldn't defeat their opponents quickly with how frightening their Defense was. Unless they could somehow prevent their opponents from being healed, killing them would be impossible, and they could only watch as more Holy Race experts infiltrate the resurrection camp.

Tier 6 Holy Bodies?? Verdant Rainbow's complexion darkened a little when she noticed the peculiarity of the pseudo-Tier 6 Holy Race experts.

Unlike the Eternal Realm's various pseudo-apex powers, the Seven Luminaries Alliance possessed an in-depth understanding of the Holy Race. Meanwhile, based on the Alliance's investigation and research, Holy Race players innately possessed Physique that was much stronger than human players. Combined with the Attribute Strengthening effect of Holy Aura, even the tanks of human players could not hope to match Holy Race players of the same tier in Defense and the various Resistances.

But still, it should be impossible for a Tier 5 Holy Race expert to take so little damage after getting hit by more than a dozen attacks from Tier 5 human experts. She even saw that these Holy Race experts didn't bother to dodge the attacks coming at them, choosing to resist them directly. Meanwhile, the only explanation she could come up with for this situation was that these Tier 5 Holy Race experts possessed Tier 6 Holy Bodies.

The Holy Body of Holy Race players was similar to the Divine Body of human players. It was qualitatively superior to the Tier 5 body in Physique, Resistance, and damage reduction. As a result, Tier 5 players would have great difficulty damaging anyone with a Tier 6 Holy Body. Unless they could overcome the upper limit of the Holy Body's damage reduction, the damage they could cause would be considerably limited.

"It's too late to notice now." When the three-eyed young man using Tier 6 Skills aboard the Voyage Train saw the panicking human experts within the resurrection camp, he curled his lips in disdain. "Do you think those rabble powers you've fought thus far can compare to a royal power like us?"

Compared to the human race's Greater God's Domain, the Holy Race's Greater God's Domain was much bigger in size, and the competition there was much more intense. Yet, even under such conditions, only ten royal powers existed, and they ruled over the Greater God's Domain like an emperor. Among them, each royal power had varying trump cards.

Meanwhile, the ability to let Tier 5 players have a Tier 6 Holy Body was only one of many trump cards the various royal powers possessed.

Now that the first batch of Tier 5 experts with Holy Bodies had infiltrated the magic barriers, so long as they held on for some time, many more experts with Holy Bodies would join them.

It also wouldn't matter if the Seven Luminaries Alliance's Tier 6 experts decided to take action. After all, if the human experts chose to do so, their Tier 6 experts could simply take advantage of the situation to attack the magic barriers, creating more cracks in the barriers and letting even more experts infiltrate the resurrection camp.

However, just when the second batch of experts with Holy Bodies tried to infiltrate the resurrection camp, several dozen dazzling stars shot through the cracks and targeted these experts. Although these experts had promptly reacted to these oncoming stars and entered defensive stances, the collision still sent them flying over 200 yards back and depleted over half of their HP...

"Whose attack is that?!"

The advancing Holy Race experts were immediately startled by this sudden turn of events.

- Chapter 3587: God-ranked Expert |

Chapter 3587: God-ranked Expert

Chapter 661 – God-ranked Expert

Deadzone Forest, Resurrection Camp:

Immediately after several dozen Holy Race experts with Tier 6 Holy Bodies were sent flying, the other Holy Race experts present couldn't help but turn to look at the origin of the dazzling stars, a hint of panic appearing in their eyes. The various human powers' experts also turned toward the origin of the stars, their hearts filled with shock and curiosity.

The first batch of pseudo-Tier 6 Holy Race experts that had infiltrated the resurrection camp had already thoroughly displayed the strength of a Holy Race expert with a Tier 6 Holy Body. Even when struck by over a dozen attacks from Tier 5 human experts, they barely lost one-third of their HP.

It should be known that the Tier 5 human experts in question weren't ordinary Tier 5 players. Not only did they possess Basic Attributes at the Tier 6 standard, but even the weakest among them could use Advanced Silver Combat Techniques. They could probably already exhibit power at the Tier 6 Peak standard in all their attacks. If over a dozen of these attacks landed on a Tier 6 human tank, they would absolutely perish if they did not activate a Lifesaving Skill. Simply put, the reason the pseudo-Tier 6 Holy Race experts had lost only one-third of their HP definitely wasn't because the human players attacking them were weak.

Meanwhile, the several dozen dazzling stars clearly originated from one attack. Yet, each of those stars had managed to deprive a pseudo-Tier 6 Holy Race expert of more than 50% of their HP. The might they displayed was simply unfathomable.

After everyone turned to look at the origin of the dazzling stars, the first thing that caught their attention was a cloaked young man carrying a longsword by his waist and wielding a black longsword with crimson patterns in his right hand.

"Black Flame?"

"Guild Leader Black Flame!"

"A God-ranked expert?"

Many of the human experts present recognized Shi Feng immediately. It was especially so for those familiar with him, such as Frey, Unrestrained Lionheart, and Aurebeth. And, without exception, everyone couldn't help but be shocked and confused as they looked at him.

The name of Black Flame was no longer a stranger to the Greater God's Domain's players. As one of the Sacred Glory List's top powerhouses, many powers and experts felt that Black Flame had a strong chance of entering the Divine Glory List in the future.

Previously, when Black Flame revealed his status as a Tier 6 player, he had also caused quite a huge commotion. However, compared to his current feat of sending several dozen pseudo-Tier 6 Holy Race experts flying, the commotion he previously caused was insignificant.

Tier 6 players might currently be considered apex existences in the Eternal Realm, but there also existed significant differences between Tier 6 players. It was similar to the difference between titled experts and fifth-floor experts. If they were only talking about a single Realm, titled experts could indeed be considered apex existences and mainstays of the various powers.

However, if the scale was expanded to cover the entire Greater God's Domain, titled experts would seem ordinary, and the various powers would consider only fifth-floor experts as core members.

Meanwhile, Black Flame's attack had undoubtedly reached the standard of Tier 6 Gods. Moreover, it wasn't just a normal attack from a Tier 6 God. After all, the attack was much stronger than that of the Seven Luminaries Alliance's Tier 6 experts, and it should be known that they were all equipped with Legendary Weapons. The Seven Luminaries Alliance's Tier 6 experts would probably have to use Tier 6 Taboo Skills or Curses to match Black Flame's attack. And if the attack was at that caliber, it was already enough to heavily injure Level 180 Divine monsters.

Furthermore, as everyone present was not an ordinary expert, they could tell that Black Flame's attack was only a normal attack as it did not exhibit any mana fluctuations. The only players capable of achieving such a feat in the Greater God's Domain would be the rumored God-ranked experts.

God-ranked experts!

Typically, Tier 6 players must be fully equipped with Legendary Weapons and Equipment to achieve this standard. But after reaching this standard, players would become capable of trading blows with Tier 6 Gods, and upper-ranking hegemonic powers would have to start to treat them seriously. It also wouldn't be an exaggeration to say that one such individual could be equated to an entire pseudo-upper-ranking hegemonic power. As for pseudo-apex powers, they would also do their best to recruit such individuals.

A God-ranked expert, huh?? Verdant Rainbow's eyes lit up with joy as she looked at Shi Feng, who stood close to the resurrection camp's core circle. She never expected Zero Wing to give her such a surprise.

Just now, Verdant Rainbow was very close to commanding the Seven Luminaries Alliance's Tier 6 experts to expel the Holy Race's pseudo-Tier 6 experts. After all, the camp's magic barriers were designed to defend against external attacks. If too many pseudo-Tier 6 Holy Race experts infiltrated the resurrection camp, not only could they cause devastating damage to the Tier 5 experts inside the camp, but they could also sabotage the magic barriers from the inside, causing them to fail before they reached the end of their 24-hour duration.

"Good! With a God-ranked expert here, none of those pseudo-Tier 6 Holy Race experts should think of infiltrating the camp!" a black-clad elderly man casting a Tier 6 Defensive Spell said, sighing in relief. "At this rate, we should have no trouble holding on until we occupy the camp."

The other Seven Luminaries Alliance members nodded in agreement, their tense expressions loosening significantly.

The forces the Sun Dynasty, the royal power attacking them, dispatched had far exceeded their expectations, so their chances of successfully defending the resurrection camp were originally very low. However, things were different now that they had a God-ranked expert.

Setting aside whether they could defeat the Sun Dynasty's army, they should have no trouble defending the resurrection camp until the end of the occupation process. At that time, they would have completed the mission assigned to them by the higher-ups.

...

While Verdant Rainbow and the others were feeling relieved, the three-eyed young man standing aboard the Voyage Train knitted his brows slightly.

"Where did that God-ranked expert come from? Why do we have no information about him?" the three-eyed young man coldly questioned the people around him after double-checking the intelligence reports he had received.

"There is nothing wrong with our information, Your Highness. That human isn't a member of the Seven Luminaries Alliance," a tall young man standing nearby hurriedly explained. "Going by the information we've collected on the human race, he should be Black Flame, the Guild Leader of an upstart Guild in the Eternal Realm. He has also recently become one of the Sacred Glory List's top powerhouses."

"How fortunate of the Seven Luminaries Alliance," the three-eyed young man coldly said. "But since this punk dares to stick his head out for the Seven Luminaries Alliance, we need to teach him what it means to make an enemy out of the Sun Dynasty. Have the Three Fist Saints take care of him. I do not wish to see him still existing in God's Domain by the end of this battle."

"Isn't that too much, Your Highness?" The tall young man broke into a sweat when he heard the three-eyed young man's words. "The Three Fist Saints are here to ambush the Seven Luminaries Alliance's chosen one. It simply isn't worth having them target Black Flame."

The Three Fist Saints were Core Elders of the Sun Dynasty, and every one of them was a God-ranked expert. To devastate the Seven Luminaries Alliance's younger generation and make a great contribution to the Sun Dynasty, the three-eyed young man had deliberately invited the Three Fist Saints to erase Verdant Rainbow from God's Domain.

But if the Three Fist Saints were to prematurely expose themselves to deal with Black Flame, the Seven Luminaries Alliance would definitely take precautions to protect Verdant Rainbow. At that time, it would become nigh-impossible to target her.

"You don't need to worry about this. Have the Three Fist Saints move out. I do not wish to see the other five occupy a camp before me," the three-eyed young man said without hesitation, giving the tall young man a dissatisfied glare.

"Understood! I'll notify the three Elders right away!" The tall young man dared not say anything else and quickly contacted the Three Fist Saints.

...

TL Notes:

[1]God-ranked expert:

The “God-ranked expert” term that will appear from this chapter onward will be referring to “experts capable of rivaling Tier 6 Gods” rather than merely “experts who had reached Tier 6.”

Chapter 3588: Fist Saint

Chapter 662 – Fist Saint

Meanwhile, standing among the Holy Race army were three elderly men with many holy patterns covering their bodies. Despite the three old men radiating near-solid Holy Auras, hardly any of the surrounding Holy Race players noticed them as they quietly advanced with the army. Even the few Holy Race experts who noticed the three old men simply deemed them ordinary.

This was because despite the thick Holy Aura they radiated, the three old men’s Life Rating was only at the Tier 5 standard. While it was true that their superior Holy Auras would grant them stronger strengthening effects, they could, at best, rival the average Tier 6 human expert. In the Holy Race army, such experts were a dime a dozen, so there was no reason to pay any particular attention to the three old men.

However, if any of the Tier 6 experts aboard the Voyage Train saw these three old men, they would know that the three elders were, in reality, bona fide Tier 6 players. Moreover, their Holy Auras could strengthen their Physique and Basic Attributes to match Tier 6 Dragons. Paired with their Legendary Weapons and Equipment, they could easily match the human race’s Tier 6 Gods.

If these three old men were to work together to execute an Advanced Silver Holy Art, they could annihilate even a Tier 6 player’s soul.

When the three old men arrived within 500 yards of Verdant Rainbow, the Seven Luminaries Alliance’s chosen one, they immediately prepared themselves to take action. Once the Voyage Train’s energy cannons fired again, they would use the distraction created to close the gap and execute their Holy Arts against Verdant Rainbow, forcing the Seven Luminaries Alliance’s chosen one into permanent retirement.

However, as the three elders were waiting for the right opportunity, they suddenly received a message that caused their eyebrows to twitch.

“We are to eliminate Black Flame instead?” After reading the message, the elder with no hair on his head couldn’t help but grow a little dissatisfied. “His Highness really knows how to make trouble for us.”

“Isn’t that better? Rather than eliminating a heavily guarded chosen one, it would be much easier to eliminate an upstart Guild’s Guild Leader,” the elder with a long beard said, chuckling. “Regardless, we can still repay that person’s favor.”

“In that case, let’s do it!” the elder with holy patterns in his eyes said. Then, after taking a deep breath, he began slowly advancing to where Shi Feng was.

Seeing this, the two other old men quickly followed.

Although they were known as the Three Fist Saints, only one of them actually went by the name of Fist Saint, and that was Earthen Fist Saint, the person with holy patterns in his eyes. When Earthen Fist Saint gathered his Holy Aura in his fists, his punches could devastate the land and tear apart the sky. Even the human race’s Tier 6 Gods would stumble by half a step when receiving his punches.

As for how the three of them came to be known as the Three Fist Saints, it was because all three of them fought using gloves, and they happened to slay a Tier 6 God from the human race when working together in the past.

Now that Earthen Fist Saint had decided to target Black Flame instead, they naturally wouldn’t raise any objections.

Three minutes later, the three old men arrived within 400 yards of Shi Feng. At this time, the battle had become much more chaotic as the Holy Race army had moved much closer to the resurrection camp. Explosions kept occurring all over both sides’ energy barriers, neither side giving up on bringing down the opponent’s energy barriers. After all, once the opponent’s energy barriers failed, they would be able to cause maximum damage to the other side.

In the meantime, many Holy Race experts kept fearlessly charging through the gaps in the resurrection camp’s magic barriers. As more and more gaps appeared in the resurrection camp’s barriers, even Shi Feng could only afford to target the Holy Race’s pseudo-Tier 6 experts, leaving the rest to the others.

However, even after seeing this, the Three Fist Saints did not rush to attack Shi Feng. Instead, they patiently infiltrated the resurrection camp with the other Tier 5 Holy Race experts.

...

Meanwhile, inside the resurrection camp’s magic barriers, all of the various powers’ members capable of exhibiting power at the Tier 6 standard worked together with the Seven Luminaries Alliance’s Dark-Gold Combat Puppets and Sacred Glory Battle Array team, trying their best to restrict the Holy Race experts from causing havoc inside the magic barriers.

Among them, the main combatants responsible for resisting these Holy Race experts were the various pseudo-apex powers' new-generation chosen ones and Vice Guild Leaders. Out of all these talented individuals, the one with the most outstanding performance was Azure Fang's Blood Emperor Garut.

Meanwhile, with the help of Torrential Thunder, Garut had already killed over 20 Holy Race experts thus far.

When Garut saw three elderly Holy Race experts crossing the magic barriers through a gap near him, he charged at the trio and swung his axe at them without hesitation.

Torrential Thunder!

Immediately, Garut's crimson axe transformed into a huge thunderbolt that threatened to wash over the three elderly Holy Race experts.

However, the instant Garut executed his attack, his sixth sense immediately warned him of danger. Although initially confused by this unexpected development, when Garut saw that the three elderly Holy Race experts remained unaffected by his Torrential Thunder's space-time suppression, he instantly broke out in a cold sweat. He also couldn't fathom how this situation could have happened.

While he might only be at Tier 5 right now, he was in possession of the Peak Hidden Class Dragonblood Warrior and the Demidragon Bloodline. In addition, he was equipped with the Legendary-rank Blood Axe and a full set of Legendary Equipment. Even if he were to face off against a true Tier 6 player, he could still put up a good fight. Not to mention, when he executed Torrential Thunder against the pseudo-Tier 6 Holy Race experts previously, he managed to immobilize all of them and send them stumbling several steps backward without exception.

Yet, when he used the same attack against the three elderly Holy Race experts, the trio didn't get immobilized in the slightest. This led him to think of one frightening possibility.

God-ranked experts!

Chapter 3589: Experts Meet

Chapter 663 – Experts Meet

Three God-ranked experts?

Garut's eyes twitched when he saw that the three elderly men were unaffected by his Gold Combat Technique. He retreated almost instinctively, not daring to be anywhere near the three.

Most players in the Greater God's Domain only knew that the term "God-ranked expert" represented players capable of rivaling Tier 6 Gods and that they shouldn't try to offend these existences. They didn't know exactly why they should fear and try to avoid offending God-ranked experts.

However, it was a different story for the various upper-ranking hegemonic powers and pseudo-apex powers. They had a much better understanding of God-ranked experts, and they knew exactly why players shouldn't offend these existences.

Soul Annihilation!

Once a player reached the standard of Tier 6 Gods, they would become strong enough to annihilate even the Immortal Souls of Tier 6 players. While there wasn't a 100% success rate, the fact that the possibility existed was more than enough to instill fear into the various upper-ranking hegemonic powers and pseudo-apex powers.

It was not easy for the various powers to nurture their talented newcomers. The resources spent were one thing. A more crucial problem was finding talented individuals to recruit and nurture. If their young talents suffered Soul Annihilation, they could no longer log into God's Domain for the rest of their lives. Their talent would also become meaningless.

If a power had all of its mainstays eliminated from God's Domain one after another, it would only be a matter of time before it faced destruction. Unless, of course, it was willing to pay an astronomical price to resurrect the dead players. But the price of resurrecting players who had suffered permanent deaths was incredibly costly even to the various apex powers, let alone the various pseudo-apex powers and upper-ranking hegemonic powers.

Currently, as Garut was only a Tier 5 player, even one God-ranked expert would be enough to annihilate his soul, let alone three. If he tried to fight these three God-ranked experts, his retirement from God's Domain would be virtually guaranteed.

"You reacted quite quickly. It seems you should also be a power's chosen one," the old man with the long beard commented when he saw Garut abruptly retreating. "In that case, die!"

Ignoring the effects of Garut's Torrential Thunder, the bearded old man punched out with his right fist, his movements slow and silent. However, when Garut saw this seemingly ordinary punch, he immediately felt the approach of death, and he had no idea how he should even resist it.

The bearded old man's punch might seem ordinary to the average person, but as an expert who had mastered two Basic Laws, Garut could tell that the old man's punch was anything but ordinary. This was because the old man's fist was actively disrupting and scattering the magic elements around it.

It should be known that Skills and Spells relied on the flow of magic elements to form, so the bearded old man's punch could essentially nullify any Skills and Spells it came into contact with!

Am I going to die, just like that?

When Garut saw the energy fist that came from the bearded old man, he couldn't help but feel a little depressed.

In reality, with his strength and talent, he could already challenge his Tier 6 promotion and complete it without fail. Meanwhile, so long as he was at Tier 6, even if he were to face off against a God-ranked expert, he was confident he could trade many blows with the other party. He could even escape with his life if needed.

However, for the sake of creating a better Divine Body, he had chosen to delay his promotion. Because of that, he was now going to have his soul annihilated...

But just as the energy fist was about to connect with Garut's retreating figure, a tall and lithe figure suddenly appeared between them. The figure belonged to a female Blood Elf, and as soon as she appeared, she swung the longsword she wielded at the energy fist.

Subsequently, it was as if time had stopped flowing in the Deadzone Forest, and all mana within a several thousand-yard radius disappeared, causing everyone to experience a sense of suffocation. Then, a speck of scorching white light formed at the tip of the Blood Elf's longsword as it collided with the bearded old man's energy fist.

Boom!

Immediately, a deafening explosion echoed throughout the resurrection camp, followed by a powerful shockwave that shattered a huge chunk of the magic barriers.

"What the heck?"

"How is that a fight between Tier 5 players?"

Everyone in the resurrection camp immediately had their attention attracted toward the Blood Elf and bearded old man. But when everyone saw that the two individuals were only Tier 5 players, they couldn't help but gape in shock.

It should be known that the Seven Luminaries Alliance's barriers were strengthened by a Great Grandmaster Mana Strengthening Barrier. Normally, even Tier 6 players would need to attack it several hundred times to create a crack. Yet, now, the shockwave created by two Tier 5 players had made a hole so large that it could let several dozen players through it simultaneously...

“Aurebeth?”

Garut couldn't help but be stunned as he looked at the Blood Elf before him. He never expected Aurebeth to come to his rescue. He also never expected Aurebeth to be able to block a blow from a God-ranked expert.

“A Limit Breaker?”

When the bearded old man saw that Aurebeth's hands were only trembling slightly from blocking his attack, he also couldn't help but be a little surprised.

It might look like he had nonchalantly threw his punch, but it was actually enhanced by a Silver Holy Art. If it connected, even a Tier 6 player might get killed on the spot or, at the very least, become heavily injured. Yet, despite being at Tier 5, Aurebeth remained standing even after blocking his attack. Not only that, but she didn't even stumble or take any damage. Apart from Aurebeth being one of the rumored Limit Breakers, he couldn't think of anyone else who could accomplish such a feat.

“We absolutely cannot let this girl live!” Earthen Fist Saint coldly stated as he looked at Aurebeth. “Old Ape, you stay here and get rid of her. Old Scorpion and I will take care of Black Flame!”

“Leave it to me,” the bearded old man named Heavenly Ape Saint said, nodding.

After Heavenly Ape Saint finished speaking, he stopped hiding his strength and unleashed a frightening aura onto his surroundings, his aura immediately immobilizing Aurebeth and Garut. Then, he readied himself to execute an all-out punch against Aurebeth.

According to the information they had gathered, the human race's so-called Limit Breakers were all owners of Primordial God Legacies. If these individuals were allowed to grow to their full potential, they would become extremely frightening existences that even the Sun Dynasty would have to be wary of. Now that a budding Limit Breaker had appeared before them, they naturally had to eliminate her.

While Heavenly Ape Saint was creating a commotion, Earthen Fist Saint and the bald elder used the opportunity to close in on Shi Feng. They intended to eliminate him before the various human experts could react and provide support.

“Can you block his attack again, Aurebeth?” Garut couldn't help but ask when he saw Heavenly Ape Saint was preparing to throw another punch.

Now that the three elderly Holy Race experts had exposed themselves, the Seven Luminaries Alliance definitely wouldn't let them run rampant in the resurrection camp. So long as Aurebeth could stop Heavenly Ape Saint's second attack, the two of them would have a much greater chance at survival.

“Do you really think I’m a Tier 6 Sword God?” “Aurebeth answered as she kept her eyes on the bearded old man before her. “I had to exhaust myself completely just to use that attack. I can’t even move right now, let alone fight.”

“It seems we’re doomed, then...” When Garut saw that Aurebeth indeed couldn’t move, he understood that Aurebeth had truly exhausted herself and their fates were sealed.

Just as Garut was thinking of putting up a final struggle, though, a peerless beauty suddenly appeared in front of them. At the same time, several figures also appeared around Earthen Fist Saint and the bald old man.

“A Tier 6 player?” When Heavenly Ape Saint saw the female Berserker who had appeared before Aurebeth and Garut, a hint of contempt appeared in his eyes. “Do you think you can block my attack?”

After saying so, Heavenly Ape Saint immediately punched out with his fist, sending a gigantic fist flying forward.

“How would I know if I don’t try?”

In response, the female Berserker simply smiled and raised the greatsword she wielded. Then, while stirring up a chaotic storm around her, she swung the heavy weapon down at the approaching fist.

Chapter 3590: Snow Goddess

Chapter 664 – Snow Goddess

Boom!

When fist and sword collided, the resulting shockwave destabilized the space within the magic barriers and caused the Tier 5 experts within a several hundred-yard radius to stumble backward.

She blocked it?

Looking through the smoke clouds, Aurebeth couldn’t help but be astonished when she saw the greatsword-wielding peerless beauty standing firmly.

The others nearby might not be aware of how frightening Heavenly Ape Saint’s Strength was, but Aurebeth, who had clashed once with the bearded old man, knew of it very well.

Heavenly Ape Saint's punch might seem inconspicuous, but there was no doubt it carried the power of Tier 6 Gods. If the average Tier 6 expert tried to block it, they would die on the spot unless they were a tank with a Lifesaving Skill activated.

This was also why Garut had felt he would face certain death if he received Heavenly Ape Saint's punch.

If Aurebeth hadn't previously used the Primordial God-ranked Mana Technique Dark Moon, she would have died when she tried to block Heavenly Ape Saint's punch.

As for the female Berserker, while she might be a Tier 6 Berserker God, even if Heavenly Ape Saint's punch didn't outright kill her, it should have still caused her substantial damage. After all, she had only blocked the punch with a normal attack. She never used any combat techniques or Skills.

Yet, the female Berserker was unscathed, displaying unbelievable Strength.

Another God-ranked expert?

Apart from Aurebeth, Garut was similarly shocked by the peerless beauty's performance. He was especially shocked to see the six-winged emblem the woman wore.

God-ranked experts were exceedingly rare in the Greater God's Domain. Each stood at the very apex of the Greater God's Domain, and their existences were few and far between, even among the various apex and pseudo-apex powers. Naturally, because of their extraordinary strength, most God-ranked experts were well-known individuals in the Greater God's Domain.

It was one thing for Zero Wing's Black Flame to be a God-ranked expert. After all, Black Flame's name had already been known across the Greater God's Domain for quite some time, and many people acknowledged that he could most certainly become a God-ranked expert.

But how in the world did another God-ranked expert emerge from Zero Wing?

What Garut found even more unbelievable was that, despite being a Vice Guild Leader of the pseudo-apex power Azure Fang, he had never even heard of the peerless beauty before him.

"How interesting. No wonder you dare to come forward."

Standing in mid-air, Heavenly Ape Saint couldn't help but be a little surprised when he saw another God-ranked expert appearing. However, his surprise lasted for only a moment before he retracted his fist and took a step forward.

Immediately afterward, Heavenly Ape Saint vanished from where he stood, leaving behind hundreds of afterimages as he threw one punch after another at Gentle Snow from varying directions. Since he couldn't overpower Gentle Snow in Strength, he would overwhelm her with speed.

Heavenly Ape Saint might be of the Holy Race, but he knew that the human race's Berserker class was a Strength-focused class that lacked dexterity. It was unlike the Holy Race's Fistfighter class, which was balanced in all Basic Attributes.

Not to mention, Gentle Snow was a Berserker armed with a greatsword, a weapon with obvious pros and cons. The large weapon might give her attacks a lot of power, but its Attack Speed was at least 10% to 20% slower than other Berserker weapons.

Meanwhile, the usual tactic a Berserker like Gentle Snow would employ against an opponent with high Attack Speed would be to move around constantly to reduce the number of attacks she needed to face. It was a tactical retreat, so to speak.

However, if Gentle Snow did that, she would fall right into his trap.

As a God-ranked expert himself, Heavenly Ape Saint understood there was no easy way to conclude a battle between God-ranked experts quickly. Even if he managed to overwhelm Gentle Snow with his high attack frequency and land some attacks on her, there was no way he could kill her in a short time. In that case, rather than waste his time against Gentle Snow, the smarter thing to do would be to annihilate the souls of the human race's chosen ones, particularly Limit Breakers like Aurebeth.

Limit Breakers were usually individuals with Primordial God Legacies, and they would become incredibly tough opponents to deal with once they advanced to Tier 6. If Aurebeth was allowed to develop, she would definitely become a thorn in the Sun Dynasty's side when it came time to occupy Holy Ring City.

However, contrary to Heavenly Ape Saint's expectations, Gentle Snow did not choose to kite him. Instead, she calmly held up the Chaos Windblade horizontally before swinging it at the several hundred afterimages around her.

Silver Combat Technique, Twelve Extreme Slashes!

Immediately, twelve sword lights flew toward the oncoming energy fists.

Is she crazy?? Heavenly Ape Saint couldn't help but be confused when he saw Gentle Snow standing her ground.

While it might be incredible for a Berserker to execute twelve attacks instantaneously, Gentle Snow would have to be crazy if she thought she could stop several hundred of his punches with just twelve slashes. She would be fortunate if she could even block half of them. As for the rest, they would most certainly connect with her body.

It should be known that each of his punches carried the power of a Tier 6 God. If over a hundred of them connected, it wouldn't even be strange if Gentle Snow got eliminated on the spot.

Aurebeth and Garut were similarly stunned when they saw Gentle Snow's actions. They couldn't understand why, of all the methods she could have used, she would try to fight Heavenly Ape Saint in speed. What she was doing was no different than throwing an egg against a rock.

However, when the twelve sword lights fanned out, Aurebeth and Garut were quickly stunned once more.

This was because powerful storms could be seen stirring in the places where the sword lights had passed through, and these storms generated wind blades that collided with the surrounding energy fists, causing them to melt away like snow.

Meanwhile, these wind blades were none other than the result of the Chaos Windblade's hidden ability, and this hidden ability was what gave Gentle Snow the confidence to stand her ground against Heavenly Ape Saint's rapid attacks.

By the end of Gentle Snow's Twelve Extreme Slashes, not only did all of Heavenly Ape Saint's afterimages and energy fists disappear, but Heavenly Ape Saint himself had also reappeared 500 yards away from Gentle Snow with his right arm trembling slightly.

"Die!"

Before Heavenly Ape Saint could even process what had just happened, Gentle Snow promptly followed up her small victory with another attack.

Bronze Combat Technique, Triple Sword Flash!

While only a Bronze Combat Technique, Triple Sword Flash was the fastest offensive combat technique in Gentle Snow's repertoire. When she paired it with her Chaos Windblade's Strength and God-ranked Mana, her attacks could overwhelm Tier 6 Gods of the same level.

Subsequently, three sword lights tore through space as one and instantly arrived before Heavenly Ape Saint. They moved so fast that even Tier 6 Assassins would have trouble reacting to them.

However, Heavenly Ape Saint was an expert at the Extrasensory Realm. While startled by the attack that even his five senses had trouble tracking, he followed the warning from his sixth sense and instinctively gathered all his strength and punched out.

Holy Art, Heaven Bombardment!

For a brief moment, an illusory giant several hundred meters tall appeared in Heavenly Ape Saint's place and punched at the oncoming sword light.

Boom!

Following a loud explosion, Aurebeth and Garut's eyes went wide as they saw Heavenly Ape Saint getting sent flying several hundred yards away. And although the bearded old man landed on his feet, his arms were shaking, and his HP had fallen by roughly 5%. He had obviously lost to Gentle Snow in a competition of Strength, and the difference was far from a little.

After looking at his trembling arms, Heavenly Ape Saint hurriedly shouted into his team chat, "Old Scorpion, help me! I can't hold this place by myself!"

His exchange with Gentle Snow might seem like it had lasted for some time, but only two seconds had passed thus far in reality. If he didn't ask for help, he'd become a corpse before the minute was even over.

But even after Heavenly Ape Saint waited for some time, he did not receive a reply from Tailless Scorpion, the bald old man he had called out to. Just as he was about to get angry, Tailless Scorpion finally made a response.

"No! You come and help me, Old Ape!?! I'm the one who's having trouble holding on!"

Chapter 3591: Zero Wing's Experts

Chapter 665 – Zero Wing's Experts

Tailless Scorpion's words stunned Heavenly Ape Saint for a moment. Then, while defending against Gentle Snow's attacks, he angrily said, "Stop joking around! I'm facing a God-ranked monster here!"

When it came to combat standards, he was indeed superior to Gentle Snow. In fact, Gentle Snow wasn't even at the Extrasensory Realm, so she couldn't appropriately respond to most of his attacks and evasive maneuvers. However, when it came to the Strength Attribute, Gentle Snow was superior to him by a large margin. The strength of her mana was also no different than that of Tier 6 Gods. These factors combined allowed her to exhibit significantly stronger Skills and combat techniques.

Not to mention, Gentle Snow could whip up powerful storms every time she attacked, and these storms covered a large area. Because of this, even when Gentle Snow was only using Bronze Combat Techniques, it felt like she was a Tier 6 God using a Tier 6 Skill.

While Heavenly Ape Saint might have God-ranked strength, that was only true when he was using Advanced Silver Holy Arts. Moreover, even when using Advanced Silver Holy Arts, he could only fight against a Tier 6 God who wasn't using any Skills or Spells. If he tried to fight a Tier 6 God who was using Tier 6 Skills and Spells, he would not be a match whatsoever.

Currently, he would lose about 5% of his HP every time he traded blows with Gentle Snow. Even if he had various Grandmaster Recovery Potions in his bag, he wouldn't last long against her.

Meanwhile, Tailless Scorpion was only ambushing Black Flame with Earthen Fist Saint. Even if multiple Tier 6 human experts attacked them, it should still be child's play for them to deal with their opponents.

However, after hearing Heavenly Ape Saint's angry rant, Tailless Scorpion responded with an even angrier shout.

"God-ranked monster?! So, what?! You only have to deal with one on your side! Do you know how many I have to deal with here?!" Tailless Scorpion said in a mocking tone.

"How many?" Tailless Scorpion's words caught Heavenly Ape Saint once more, and he couldn't help but feel that the other party was intent on messing with him.

Even in the Holy Race's Greater God's Domain, experts on the level of the human race's Tier 6 Gods were incredibly rare. So, even less needed to be said for the human race. While an ancient apex power like the Seven Luminaries Alliance might have many such experts under its command, the most it could afford was to station one God-ranked expert in each camp.

Even if many human powers had joined forces with the Seven Luminaries Alliance this time, each resurrection camp shouldn't have more than two God-ranked experts.

As for the resurrection camp they were currently targeting, the fact that there were three God-ranked experts here could already be considered an anomaly. So, how could Tailless Scorpion and Earthen Fist Saint possibly be going up against multiple God-ranked experts?

Refusing to believe Tailless Scorpion's words, after blocking another one of Gentle Snow's Triple Sword Flash, Heavenly Ape Saint quickly turned to look at a location roughly 1,000 yards away. Only, what he saw dumbfounded him.

How can this be?!

Currently, Tailless Scorpion and Earthen Fist Saint could be seen fighting against eight Tier 6 experts. But contrary to Heavenly Ape Saint's expectations, his two comrades did not have the upper hand in battle. Instead, they were being beaten into submission. As for why this was happening, it was because all eight of their opponents possessed mana rivaling Tier 6 Gods.

On Earthen Fist Saint's side, he faced four opponents, of which one was a female Assassin who moved so quickly that his senses utterly failed to keep up, and one was a female Cleric providing support from the side. As for the remaining two, they were a male Swordsman and a spear-wielding female Berserker who could trade blows with him evenly. Because of these four opponents, Earthen Fist Saint was so preoccupied that he didn't even have time to speak. Even then, he was still losing HP rapidly.

As for Tailless Scorpion, he was in an even more precarious situation. Simply resisting the joint attacks of the male Berserker and female Swordsman he faced already took a huge toll on him. Yet, he still had to guard himself against the sneak attacks of a female Assassin and a female Elementalist. If not for the Grandmaster Recovery Potion he had just consumed, he would have long been killed already.

However, the fact that Tailless Scorpion and Earthen Fist Saint were being cornered still wasn't the part that surprised Heavenly Ape Saint the most.

What truly surprised Heavenly Ape Saint was that whether it was those eight Tier 6 experts, the female Berserker facing him, or their elimination target, Black Flame, they all wore the same six-winged Guild Emblem.

All ten of these God-ranked experts came from the same Guild... How was this even possible?

At this time, Heavenly Ape Saint wasn't the only one finding this situation unbelievable. Everyone was shocked by this situation, whether it was the human players in the resurrection camp or the Holy Race players attacking the camp's magic barriers from the outside.

...

"Ten God-ranked experts?! What kind of Guild is this?! Why haven't I heard of it before?!" Chalk Splendor, the three-eyed young man commanding the Holy Race army from the Voyage Train, bellowed.

According to the Sun Dynasty's investigations, the human race's Greater God's Domain only had several apex powers. Among them, the one with the deepest foundation was the Seven Luminaries Alliance, which was why the Sun Dynasty had made ample preparations for the attack on the human race's resurrection camps this time. Chalk Splendor had even recruited the help of the Three Fist Saints of his own accord to surprise the Seven Luminaries Alliance.

Yet, a power even more frightening than the Seven Luminaries Alliance had suddenly appeared in the resurrection camp he was assigned.

Ten God-ranked experts.

That was probably as many God-ranked experts as the Seven Luminaries Alliance had in total in the World Ark. Yet, he knew nothing about this power. How could he not be furious?

...

However, compared to the Holy Race players, those familiar with Zero Wing, such as Aurebeth and Frey, were even more shocked by this turn of events.

Since when did Zero Wing become so strong? Frey was in disbelief as she watched Zero Wing's members suppress the Three Fist Saints.

The others present might not be aware of Zero Wing's circumstances, but Frey had watched Zero Wing take its first step out of a miniature world.

At the time, apart from Shi Feng, Zero Wing didn't have any other fourth-floor experts, let alone God-ranked experts. It also wasn't anywhere close to rivaling ordinary hegemonic powers, let alone upper-ranking hegemonic powers and conglomerates like the Galaxy Conglomerate.

Yet, Zero Wing now had ten God-ranked experts under its command. Although most of them barely reached the threshold of God-ranked experts, they were still experts that the various pseudo-apex powers had to treat with great caution. They were also existences that Frey, a Vice Guild Leader of the Red Dragon Nation, had to treat with respect.

Meanwhile, over on the Seven Luminaries Alliance's side, the Alliance's members were both shocked and overjoyed. After all, a force of ten God-ranked experts was more than enough for them to win this battle.

...

"I'm afraid the Three Fist Saints won't last much longer, Your Highness. Should we retreat? Or..." the elderly man standing beside Chalk Splendor asked quietly.

The battle's current situation was clear for all to see. Once the Three Fist Saints were defeated, Zero Wing's God-ranked experts would be free to cause havoc on the battlefield. At that time, even retreating would become a challenge for the Holy Race army.

Of course, that wasn't to say that their army was under any threat of annihilation. After all, they were from the Sun Dynasty, one of the Holy Race's ten royal powers. The Sun Dynasty had foundations superior to the Seven Luminaries Alliance, and it had made ample preparations to secure the World Ark's inner resurrection camps. Their army, in particular, even had a Divine Artifact prepared.

"It seems it is time I show these aliens what true power is!"

Instead of calling for a retreat, Chalk Splendor took a step forward before jumping off the Voyage Train, a crescent blade appearing in his right hand as he made his descent. Then, just as he was about to land, his body started rapidly growing in size.

Thirty meters... One hundred meters... Three hundred meters...

A 1,000-meter-tall version of Chalk Splendor appeared outside the resurrection camp in the blink of an eye. Then, before anyone could react, Chalk Splendor punched out at the resurrection camp's magic barriers, his fist instantly shattering the Large Grandmaster Magic Barriers maintained by thousands of Tier 5 magical class players.

Chapter 3592: Sunlight Blade

Chapter 666 – Sunlight Blade

The battlefield fell deathly silent following the destruction of the resurrection camp's Large Grandmaster Magic Barriers. The various human experts, in particular, were filled with shock and fear as they looked at the thousand-meter-tall giant responsible for this destruction.

It should be known that the resurrection camp's barriers were 1,000-man Grandmaster Magic Barriers. They had also been strengthened by a Great Grandmaster Mana Strengthening Barrier. Under normal circumstances, they should last a long time, even when attacked by multiple Tier 6 Gods. Yet, the giant that had abruptly appeared outside the camp had shattered all these barriers with one punch...

"An Ancient God?"

"How can the Holy Race summon an Ancient God?!"

The various human powers' executives couldn't help but be stupefied as they looked at Chalk Splendor's mountainous figure. Even battle-seasoned chosen ones like Aurebeth couldn't help but feel a sense of powerlessness at this moment.

It should be known that the current Chalk Splendor was no different from the Greater God's Domain's Ancient Gods. His figure was towering and reached into the clouds, and even 100-meter-tall Tier 5 Dragons would look like infants before him. As for Tier 5 players like themselves, they were no different than ants before Chalk Splendor, and he could probably kill many of them with a single stomp.

Meanwhile, with Chalk Splendor's participation and the destruction of the resurrection camp's magic barriers, there would no longer be a battle to speak of. What followed next would be a one-sided slaughter.

"Is that the rumored Sunlight Blade?"

"The Sun Dynasty must be crazy! Why would it mobilize one of its Seven Arcanas just to capture a resurrection camp?! Are they not worried other royal powers would steal it?!"

The Seven Luminaries Alliance's Elders fell into a daze as they looked at Chalk Splendor's thousand-meter-tall body and the resplendent crescent blade he wielded.

As one of the Holy Race's ten royal powers, the Sun Dynasty possessed many Divine Artifacts. However, according to the Seven Luminaries Alliance's investigation, the Sun Dynasty only regarded seven of its Divine Artifacts as its most prized possessions, which were also labeled as the Seven Arcanas. Each Arcana was a top-tier Divine Artifact and could easily rank among the human race's Greater God's Domain's Ten Great Divine Artifacts.

Meanwhile, the Sunlight Blade was one of the Sun Dynasty's Seven Arcanas. When paired with the Moonlight Blade, which was similarly regarded as an Arcana, they could let a Tier 6 Holy Race expert gain an Ancestral Holy Body and fight Primordial Gods of the same level.

Even when used separately, the Sunlight Blade and the Moonlight Blade could let Tier 6 Holy Race experts rival Ancient Gods. In the Sunlight Blade's case, its Sunlight Body Skill granted the user a 90% damage reduction, a 10,000% increase in HP, and a battle recovery of 2% HP per five seconds. If a Tier 6 Holy Race expert activated Sunlight Body, even Ancient Gods could only damage them slightly.

Based on the information the Seven Luminaries Alliance collected, once the Sunlight Blade's wielder activated Sunlight Body, even Divine Artifact wielders would have great difficulty killing them, and the only way around it would be to wait until the Skill's duration ended. Hence, the Sunlight Blade was also known as the Immortal Blade.

"Get ready to withdraw, rainbow. This battle is over," one of the Seven Luminaries Alliance's Elders said to Verdant Rainbow with a gloomy face. "There is nothing we can do to the Sunlight Body when it is active, and it has a duration of one hour. We simply can't last that long."

In reality, the Seven Luminaries Alliance wasn't completely helpless when it came to dealing with the Sunlight Blade. One example would be Divine Afterglow, one of the Seven Luminaries Alliance's most prized possessions. If they had Divine Afterglow's power, even if the Sun Dynasty mobilized both the Sunlight Blade and the Moonlight Blade, they could still defend the resurrection camp.

However, setting aside the fact that Divine Afterglow was currently being used to protect the Seven Luminaries Alliance's town on the Western Continent, even if it wasn't in use, there was no way they would use such a valuable item to protect one resurrection camp.

"I understand." Verdant Rainbow nodded. Then, she promptly issued a command, saying, "I will distract him while you all find a way to safely evacuate."

Verdant Rainbow had read the report on the Sunlight Blade, so she knew they stood no chance against it. It didn't matter, even if the World String she wielded was also a Divine Artifact. After all, Chalk Splendor could simply shrug off her attacks with his Sunlight Body and eliminate everyone else in the resurrection camp. So, the only thing they could do now was to withdraw and minimize losses, preventing more people from suffering Soul Annihilation.

The Seven Luminaries Alliance's Elders promptly went into action after receiving Verdant Rainbow's command, organizing the various teams into an orderly withdrawal while coordinating their movements with the several hundred Dark-Gold Combat Puppets in providing cover for everyone.

"You want to leave? It's too late for that! Die!"

When Chalk Splendor saw the human forces retreating, he promptly swung the Sunlight Blade at the Dark-Gold Combat Puppets covering the humans' retreat.

With only a single swing of the Divine Weapon, several dozen Dark-Gold Combat Puppets, which could normally resist the attacks of Tier 6 players with ease, were cut in half. The mountain range several dozen miles away was also bisected from the waist, several mountain tops briefly becoming airborne before crashing back down.

Subsequently, just as Chalk Splendor was about to target the retreating human forces, Verdant Rainbow angrily bellowed:

"Your opponent is me!"

Verdant Rainbow no longer hid the World String's power as she summoned strings of cyan-colored energy to form a bolt of silver lightning. Then, the summoned lightning quickly transformed into a silver arrow, which Verdant Rainbow proceeded to release at the gigantic Chalk Splendor.

When the silver arrow separated from the World String, it quickly split into a thousand lightning bolts that flew at Chalk Splendor. Then, these lightning bolts converged into 100 dark gray lightning bolts, each carrying power so strong that they could rival the Skills and Spells used by Ancient Gods. And should even one of these dark gray lightning bolts be allowed to connect, it could instantly destroy multiple large maps or knock a Tier 6 God unconscious.

When faced with a hundred of these terrifying lightning bolts, even bona fide Ancient Gods would have to be careful.

Meanwhile, these dark gray lightning bolts were the product of String of Divine Punishment, one of the World String's Profound Skills. When paired with Ninefold Heart, a Gold Combat Technique that allowed her to merge nine sources of power into one to exhibit ninefold power, even Ancient Gods wouldn't be able to come out unscathed after blocking it.

"Do you think you are worthy of being my opponent?"

When Chalk Splendor saw Verdant Rainbow's attack, he simply scoffed and threw a punch.

Gold Holy Art, Setting Sun!

Immediately, Chalk Splendor's fist turned into a miniature sun as it collided with the oncoming lightning bolts. Then, when both sides collided, the dark gray lightning bolts were deflected to the surroundings, forming an area of absolute nothingness around Chalk Splendor. Be it the players, the land, or the sky, everything within a several hundred-yard radius of Chalk Splendor ceased to exist.

A moment later, an earth-shattering noise echoed across the battlefield as a gigantic fist-shaped hole appeared in a mountain several dozen miles away. The several thousand Tier 5 human experts who happened to be in that location were also obliterated, and even the Fragmented Legendary Weapons and Equipment they dropped were reduced to nothing.

Subsequently, silence spread across the entire Deadzone Forest...

...

TL Notes:

[1]Divine Afterglow(神国余辉):

Divine Afterglow(神国余辉) can be roughly translated as "Divine Nation's Afterglow," but I don't know if this is referring to the Golden Kingdom(黄金国度) or something else entirely.

I'll come back to make changes if necessary when I have more information in the future, but for the time being, I will be assuming that Golden Kingdom and Divine Afterglow are two different items.

...

Chapter 3593: First Battle Against a Divine Artifact

Chapter 667 – First Battle Against a Divine Artifact

How can this be?

Verdant Rainbow couldn't help but be stupefied when she saw the devastation caused by the energy fist that had flown right past her body.

Verdant Rainbow was well aware that even with the World String, there was no way she could defeat Chalk Splendor in direct combat. All she could do was try to distract him and minimize the losses of her allies.

However, what Verdant Rainbow didn't expect was for her full-powered attack to be utterly useless against Chalk Splendor. In fact, if she hadn't evaded Chalk Splendor's energy fist, she would have even died on their very first exchange.

"Is this the power of one of the Sun Dynasty's Seven Arcanas?"

The Seven Luminaries Alliance's Elders were similarly shocked by the fact that Verdant Rainbow couldn't even distract Chalk Splendor.

It should be known that even without the World String, Verdant Rainbow would still be an undisputed God-ranked expert. With the World String, she could rank among the Eternal Realm's top ten experts. She could even rank among the top five if they were comparing purely in terms of Attack Power.

Yet, despite being such a powerful expert, Verdant Rainbow couldn't even serve as a distraction to Chalk Splendor. This situation was so unbelievable that they couldn't help but suspect the World String's status as a Divine Artifact.

"So, even after all that, we still won't be making it out alive?" Garut wryly smiled as he looked at the gigantic fist-shaped hole in the distance.

Previously, after escaping from the Three Fist Saints with his life and seeing Zero Wing's ten God-ranked experts, Garut thought that their side had won and the battle would be smooth sailing moving forward. However, he never thought the tides of the battle would change once again so quickly and suddenly. It truly felt like he was riding on a rollercoaster of fate.

Meanwhile, if even an expert as powerful as Verdant Rainbow could do nothing against the Holy Race's three-eyed youth, it goes without saying that nobody else could do anything against him. In fact, every human player on this battlefield might have to say goodbye to God's Domain by the end of the battle.

After all, if Chalk Splendor could obliterate a mountain several dozen miles away, even high-tiered Random Teleportation Scrolls could not let them escape safely. Chalk Splendor could easily penetrate space and time to obliterate any player who tried to escape through a space-time passage.

As for the Zero Wing members distracting the Three Fist Saints, they also felt the threat of death looming over them after seeing Chalk Splendor's attack, their complexions turning incredibly gloomy.

"Hahaha! That's what you aliens get for trying to oppress us with numbers! You all are doomed now!" Heavenly Ape Saint couldn't help but laugh when he saw Chalk Splendor taking action and the gloomy expression on Gentle Snow. "Now that His Highness has taken action, all of you will fall here today!"

"If His Highness had taken the Sunlight Blade out on loan, why couldn't he have used it earlier?" Tailless Scorpion grumbled. While he felt fortunate over this turn of events, he also couldn't help but feel a little resentful. After all, he currently only had one-third of his HP remaining. He might have gotten killed by Fire Dance's group of four had Chalk Splendor taken action any later.

"The Sunlight Blade is incredibly precious, so His Highness will naturally try to avoid using it if he can. The penalty on his contributions will also be less severe," Earthen Fist Saint said after putting some distance between himself and Hidden Soul's group of four. "But the strength of these aliens truly is astonishing to force His Highness to use the Sunlight Blade. They can die with honor."

Heavenly Ape Saint and Tailless Scorpion nodded in agreement. They similarly couldn't help but feel a hint of admiration toward the human experts they fought.

The Sunlight Blade was a priceless treasure that only the Sun Dynasty's successors were qualified to use. Moreover, each successor was only granted limited chances to use the Sunlight Blade. In the past, whenever these successors used the Sunlight Blade, it would always be for fighting against the chosen ones of other royal powers.

So, the fact that the human experts here could get Chalk Splendor to use the Sunlight Blade meant that they could rival the various royal powers' chosen ones already.

Meanwhile, after dealing with Verdant Rainbow's attack, Chalk Splendor immediately directed his attention toward Zero Wing's Tier 6 members.

"You alien scum! How dare you make me use the Sunlight Blade?! All of you die!"

After saying so, Chalk Splendor threw a punch in the direction of Gentle Snow and the others, the chilling killing intent he radiated immobilizing all Tier 5 experts within a several thousand-yard radius.

When the Sun Dynasty's members saw Chalk Splendor's rage, they were not surprised by it.

If Chalk Splendor had only taken the Sunlight Blade out on loan and did not use it, he would, at most, expend some Guild Contribution Points. It wouldn't affect the limited number of uses he had over the weapon. And if it wasn't for Zero Wing's members, the Sun Dynasty could have easily captured the Deadzone Forest's resurrection camp without Chalk Splendor having to use the Sunlight Blade.

But because of Zero Wing's members, Chalk Splendor was forced to waste one of his usage rights over the Sunlight Blade, which would, in turn, reduce his chances when competing for the Guild Leader position in the future. So, it was only normal for him to be furious at Zero Wing's members.

Meanwhile, just as Chalk Splendor's energy fist was about to reach them, Gentle Snow readied herself to use Chaos Incarnation and resist with all her might. However, before she could do so, numerous sword lights soared across the sky like shooting stars and struck the oncoming energy fist.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

The sword lights struck the mighty fist one after another, causing booming sounds to reverberate across the sky and everyone's hearts to tremble.

Following each collision, the trajectory of Chalk Splendor's energy fist could also be seen deviating slightly. After being bombarded by several dozen sword lights, the mighty energy fist that even Verdant Rainbow was powerless against flew past Gentle Snow's group and struck a canyon several dozen miles away, instantly transforming the canyon into a bottomless crater.

"Guild Leader?"

Gentle Snow's eyes were full of disbelief when she saw the familiar sword lights.

She, or more specifically, all of Zero Wing's executive members, were very familiar with those shooting star-like sword lights. This was because they were the product of Shi Feng's trademark move, Sword's Orbit. It was a combat technique that could be used both offensively and defensively. Thus far, outside of Shi Feng, they had not seen anyone else using this combat technique before.

"Black Flame!"

"Guild Leader Black Flame?"

When looking at the man proudly standing in mid-air and the longsword marked by crimson patterns he wielded, the various human powers' experts, especially those familiar with the player named Black Flame, couldn't help but gape in shock.

"Am I dreaming?"

Frey couldn't help but doubt her eyes as she looked at the incomparably familiar figure in the distance.

A Taboo-level existence!

A Taboo-level existence capable of deflecting Chalk Splendor's attack!

Chapter 3594: Astonishing Strike

Chapter 668 – Astonishing Strike

"Who exactly is Black Flame, Elder Gray Eagle?"

When Verdant Rainbow saw the mighty energy fist getting deflected completely, unprecedented shock filled her eyes. Then, as soon as she snapped out of her daze, she promptly questioned the Elder responsible for escorting the various powers' experts to the Deadzone Forest's resurrection camp.

From what she could tell, the combat technique Shi Feng just executed wasn't particularly complicated. At best, it was an Advanced Silver Combat Technique that any fourth-floor expert could master. It paled in comparison to her Ninefold Heart.

Yet, such a simple technique had successfully deflected Chalk Splendor's energy fist. Even if the energy fist was merely the result of a normal attack from Chalk Splendor, it was still astonishing nonetheless.

At the very least, she would have difficulty replicating the feat if she relied only on Ninefold Heart.

"Me?" Gray Eagle, still feeling shocked over this series of developments, couldn't help but be surprised when he heard Verdant Rainbow's question.

Gray Eagle was only an Outer Elder of the Seven Luminaries Alliance. His status in the Alliance was vastly inferior to Inner Elders, let alone a chosen one like Verdant Rainbow. Normally, he wouldn't even have the opportunity to talk with Verdant Rainbow, let alone have her take the initiative to ask him a question.

"Do you not know?" Verdant Rainbow asked with a frown.

Gray Eagle's primary responsibility as an Outer Elder was to collect and organize information for the Seven Luminaries Alliance, so he was expected to know everything there was to know when it came to matters relating to the Seven Luminaries Alliance. It was especially so for the battle revolving around the World Ark's inner resurrection camps this time. After all, if the Seven Luminaries Alliance didn't properly understand the various powers' strength, it would be difficult to ensure all six resurrection camps were at the same standard in terms of combat power.

Of course, the various powers would more or less keep some of their trump cards a secret. But as an Outer Elder of the Seven Luminaries Alliance, Gray Eagle should still have some general information about these hidden trump cards.

"I do know a little!" Gray Eagle hurriedly said. "Black Flame is currently Zero Wing's Guild Leader. He also ranks among the top five of the latest Sacred Glory List."

"The Sacred Glory List's top five?" When Verdant Rainbow heard Gray Eagle's answer, she couldn't help but grow a little incensed as she felt that the other party was messing with her.

If Black Flame was only one of the Sacred Glory List's top five experts, where would that put her?

The bottom of the Sacred Glory List?

Or was it the bottom of the Luminous Glory List?

"This is based on his last public performance," Gray Eagle hurriedly explained. "We still do not know how strong he is exactly."

"I understand." Verdant Rainbow sighed, feeling very dissatisfied with the information Gray Eagle provided. After all, if not for Shi Feng taking action today, she would have missed the opportunity to get acquainted with such a powerful expert. "Once we're done with this battle, I want you to utilize all available resources to investigate him. I want to know everything there is to know about him. Do not let even a single battle video slip by!"

Verdant Rainbow could also be considered a Taboo-level expert as she wielded the World String. Because of this, compared to the other players present, she had a much better idea of how astonishing it was exactly that Shi Feng managed to deflect Chalk Splendor's attack with just an Advanced Silver Combat Technique.

It should be known that Shi Feng didn't even possess a Divine Artifact on him. After all, if he wielded a Divine Artifact, there was no way he could have hidden it once he started attacking seriously.

For a Tier 6 player without a Divine Artifact to deflect Chalk Splendor's attack, even if it was only a normal attack, they must have a heaven-defying secret. Meanwhile, in Verdant Rainbow's opinion, there was an 80% chance Shi Feng's strength came from a Primordial God Legacy and a 50% chance Shi Feng had constructed a Superior Divine Body.

Regardless of which it was, it presented hope for her to further improve herself.

"Understood!" Gray Eagle hurriedly responded.

...

On the other side, Garut the Blood Emperor was filled with shock and realization as he looked at Shi Feng's figure in mid-air. He finally understood why Aurebeth, someone who was usually cold and indifferent toward others, would show such interest in Shi Feng, so much so that she would think nothing of Zero Wing's provocation toward the Skylight Association.

So this is the secret you've been hiding all this time!

Garut couldn't help but gnash his teeth as he glared at Aurebeth. Fortunately, he had found out Shi Feng was a Taboo existence before it was too late. Otherwise, he would make the mistake of offending Zero Wing once he started expanding into the Crystal City of Secrets.

Taboo-level experts were the apex of apex existences in the Greater God's Domain, and they served as the foundation of the various pseudo-apex powers.

Garut wouldn't have to worry about offending Zero Wing if it were outside the Eternal Realm. After all, Azure Fang had more than just one or two Taboo-level existences. Moreover, they were all at Level 230 or above and much stronger than the current Verdant Rainbow.

However, inside the Eternal Realm, Azure Fang did not have even one Taboo-level existence. So, if he provoked Zero Wing, he couldn't even imagine what would become of Azure Fang's Branch Guild in the Crystal City of Secrets. He might also be at risk of suffering a permanent death, which would remain true even if he got promoted to Tier 6.

The reason Taboo-level existences were feared by the various pseudo-apex and apex powers was that they could annihilate the souls of Tier 6 players with 100% certainty, and only Tier 6 players wielding a Divine Artifact could avoid such a fate. However, Divine Artifacts were incredibly rare, and even a pseudo-apex power like Azure Fang wouldn't casually allow a Vice Guild Leader like himself to wield one.

...

While the various human players were immersed in shock, Chalk Splendor turned his attention toward Shi Feng.

“Interesting! Truly interesting! I never expected to meet someone like you here!” Chalk Splendor said, excitement and enthusiasm filling his eyes. It looked as if he was a starving wolf who had just seen a juicy cut of meat. “I, Chalk Splendor, can give you a chance. Give me a copy of all your Legacies, and I can spare your life. I will even spare the lives of your Guild members.”

Similar to Verdant Rainbow, Chalk Splendor also understood that Shi Feng was no ordinary expert and the other party must possess a Primordial God Legacy. Meanwhile, whether this Legacy was related to a Combat Technique, a Mana Technique, or a way to construct a Superior Divine Body, it would be invaluable nonetheless.

While a Holy Race player like himself wouldn't be able to benefit from this Legacy directly, he could research it and find ways to put it into practice. And should he succeed, he would stand a much better chance when competing for the Sun Dynasty's Guild Leader position in the future.

“Spare my life?” In response to Chalk Splendor's confidence and demand, Shi Feng very plainly said, “You are nothing more than a second-rate Holy Child of the Sun Dynasty. Do you really think you are invincible in the Eternal Realm?”

The Sun Dynasty would nurture over a dozen successors every generation, also known as Holy Children. Meanwhile, as one of the ten royal powers of the Holy Race's Greater God's Domain, there was no way the Sun Dynasty would let their core Holy Children enter the dangerous Eternal Realm. Only bottom-ranked Holy Children would brave the risk and enter the Eternal Realm.

So, the fact that Chalk Splendor was in the Eternal Realm indicated that his standing among the Sun Dynasty's Holy Children was low. At best, he would be at the standard of second-rate Holy Children.

“You bastard!” Chalk Splendor instantly exploded into fury when he heard Shi Feng's words.

Indeed, as Shi Feng surmised, Chalk Splendor's standing among the Sun Dynasty's Holy Children wasn't optimistic. Out of the Sun Dynasty's fourteen Holy Children, he ranked near the bottom at twelfth place. It was a major sore spot for him, and it was why he had come to the Eternal Realm to fight for achievements. Meanwhile, Shi Feng's words had undeniably pierced this sore spot.

Immediately, Chalk Splendor executed the Setting Sun Holy Art at Shi Feng without hesitation, bringing forth another miniature sun onto the battlefield.

In response, Shi Feng raised his sword and flew toward the miniature sun.

Dark Moon!

This would be the first time Shi Feng was using the Dark Moon after constructing his Superior Divine Body, and it would also be the first time he could use the Mana Technique at its full capacity.

Suddenly, as the miniature sun descended onto the battlefield, a dark crescent blade of light emerged and cut across the sky.

Boom!

TL Notes:

[1]At the very least, she(Verdant Rainbow) would have difficulty replicating the feat if she relied only on Ninefold Heart:

Just to recap, the attack Verdant Rainbow blocked was executed with Setting Sun(Gold Holy Art). So, Verdant Rainbow is saying/thinking that it's not exactly impossible for her to block a normal attack from Chalk Splendor if she executed Ninefold Heart with a Skill/Spell/something else.

Chapter 3595: Superior Divine Body's Effects

Chapter 669 – Superior Divine Body's Effects

Following the collision between the miniature sun and the dark crescent moon, cracks formed across the sky above the resurrection camp. Countless stars could be seen beyond these cracks, proving that the Eternal Realm's World Barrier had been damaged. The resulting shockwave of the collision had also caused all players within a several-mile radius to shudder.

“Aren't they a little too strong?! This is the World Barrier of a Realm we are talking about!”

“Is this a fight between Taboos?”

The various human experts were stupefied when they saw the stars scattered amidst the Deadzone Forest's cloudy sky.

Every world and Realm possessed a World Barrier that isolated them from the rest of the Greater God's Domain and protected them from invaders.

Depending on the size of a world or Realm, the strength of its World Barrier would also differ. The World Barriers of miniature worlds were among the weakest, while the World Barriers of the various Realms were among the strongest.

However, even a miniature world's World Barrier was not something Tier 6 players could damage easily. As for the standard God's Domain's World Barrier, while there were precedents of players damaging them, it was a feat most Tier 6 players should never think of accomplishing.

As for the World Barrier of a Realm, most players present had never seen one being damaged. Yet, now, merely the shockwave generated by the clash between Chalk Splendor and Shi Feng was enough to crack the Eternal Realm's World Barrier. It was simply unbelievable.

"He's unscathed? How can that human be unscathed?"

"Isn't that His Highness's Setting Sun Holy Art? Could that person also be a Divine Artifact owner?"

Many of the Holy Race experts couldn't help but be surprised when they saw Shi Feng coming out of the clash unharmed.

Chalk Splendor might be ranked twelfth among the Sun Dynasty's Holy Children, but now that he wielded the Sunlight Blade, he wasn't an existence the average Taboo-level expert could hope to match. If the average Taboo-level expert tried to defend against his Gold Holy Arts, even if they weren't outright killed, they would still sustain heavy injuries. Yet, Shi Feng came out unscathed after blocking Chalk Splendor's Setting Sun.

He blocked it?!? Verdant Rainbow was also stunned as she looked at Shi Feng.

Verdant Rainbow had personally gone up against Chalk Splendor's Setting Sun previously, so she knew just how powerful the Gold Holy Art was in Chalk Splendor's hands. It had completely deflected her full-powered attack, and if she hadn't dodged quickly enough, she would have even been heavily injured.

Yet, despite not having a Divine Artifact-ranked weapon, Shi Feng had managed to neutralize Chalk Splendor's Setting Sun completely. The extent of his Strength was simply incomprehensible.

What a powerful Legacy!? Chalk Splendor was similarly caught off guard by this development, his brows furrowing slightly. He didn't think his full-powered attack would fail to injure Shi Feng. If Shi Feng was so strong, it would increase the difficulty of capturing him significantly.

"Miss Rainbow, I will distract this Holy Child while you take care of the rest of the Holy Race Army," Shi Feng said to Verdant Rainbow via the team chat.

Hearing Shi Feng's words, Verdant Rainbow promptly snapped out of her daze and gratefully said, "I will have to trouble you with him, then, Guild Leader Black Flame."

Chalk Splendor was undeniably the toughest opponent on this battlefield. His presence alone had even forced her to call for a retreat. So, if Shi Feng could keep Chalk Splendor busy, dealing with the rest of the Holy Race army would become much easier.

After Verdant Rainbow finished speaking, she promptly commanded the Seven Luminaries Alliance's Elders to lead a counterattack on the Holy Race army. The human army might have sustained significant damage because of Chalk Splendor, losing several hundred Dark-Gold Combat Puppets and over a hundred Magic Cannons, but if Chalk Splendor was taken out of the equation, it was still possible for the remaining human army to defend the resurrection camp.

Subsequently, Verdant Rainbow drew the World String and executed Ninefold Heart against the Voyage Train. She intended to break the Voyage Train's defensive barriers and bring both sides back to parity.

"Don't even think of touching the Voyage Train!" When Chalk Splendor saw Verdant Rainbow firing a lightning arrow at the Voyage Train, he promptly ignored Shi Feng and swatted at the arrow with his palm.

For experts of their caliber, they would only need one attack to shatter most defensive barriers. Although the Voyage Train possessed powerful defensive barriers, if Verdant Rainbow's arrow struck them, they would fare no differently than how the resurrection camp's barriers had fared against his fist.

Hence, even if it meant risking an attack from Shi Feng, Chalk Splendor needed to block Verdant Rainbow's attack. Not to mention, the Sunlight Body was titled the Immortal Body. He didn't have to fear taking a hit from anyone.

However, before Chalk Splendor's palm could get in the way of the lightning arrow, numerous star-like sword lights struck it, forcibly altering its trajectory. As a result, Verdant Rainbow's lightning arrow flew past Chalk Splendor's palm unhindered and pierced through the Voyage Train's defensive barriers, shattering them completely.

In the blink of an eye, both sides were on a level playing field again.

"You despicable bastard! How dare you hinder me?!"

Chalk Splendor glared at Shi Feng with wrathful eyes before promptly executing Setting Sun against Shi Feng again.

Now that the Voyage Train's barriers were shattered, the Holy Race army could no longer attack from safety and would have to engage the human army directly. Even if the Holy Race army ultimately won, it would have sustained significant losses, which would, in turn, adversely impact his contributions.

Meanwhile, in response to Chalk Splendor's attack, Shi Feng executed Dark Moon again without hesitation, the collision of their attacks causing more cracks to form in the sky.

"So what if you're a Limit Breaker?! I refuse to believe you can keep on stopping me!" After seeing his attack blocked again, Chalk Splendor bellowed as he executed another Setting Sun at Shi Feng.

At this point, Chalk Splendor already understood that so long as Shi Feng was present, he would not be able to intercept Verdant Rainbow's attacks. Only after eliminating Shi Feng could he start to deal with the other humans.

Meanwhile, although Shi Feng's Dark Moon was astonishingly powerful, it was bound to be costly to use. This was also a common flaw among the human race's combat techniques and Mana Techniques. In terms of cost-effectiveness, they simply couldn't compare with the Holy Race's Holy Arts.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

The rapid exchanges between Shi Feng and Chalk Splendor caused the state of the sky to rapidly switch between dazzling bright and pitch-black, and nobody could stay within 1,000 yards of them.

How can he still use that move?

After more than a hundred exchanges, Chalk Splendor's expression started to turn ugly, and he couldn't help but look at Shi Feng in confusion.

Even if Holy Arts didn't cost as much Stamina and Concentration to use as combat techniques and Mana Techniques of the same caliber, Chalk Splendor still felt a little tired after using a Gold Holy Art over a hundred times in quick succession. Yet, even though Shi Feng had clearly used a Primordial God-ranked technique an equal number of times, he looked no different than he did at the start of their battle.

This Legendary Superior Divine Body truly is incredible. When Shi Feng sensed the Stamina and Concentration he had expended thus far, he similarly couldn't help but be surprised.

Although Shi Feng had constructed a Superior Divine Body in his previous life, it only ended up at the Epic rank. Previously, he had assumed that a Legendary Superior Divine Body only provided a slightly greater boost to Physique and Mana than an Epic Superior Divine Body. However, after using Dark Moon continuously, he finally realized what separated a Legendary Superior Divine Body from an Epic one.

The Legendary Superior Divine Body's Stamina and Concentration recovery speeds were at least double that of the Epic Superior Divine Body. The same goes for ease of manipulation. Previously, when he executed Dark Moon at Tier 5, it felt as if 1,000-kilogram weights held his arms down, and moving them was a huge challenge. But now, it felt like he was merely swinging a 100-kilogram greatsword. While it was still tough, it was much better than before. Combined with his amazing Stamina and Concentration recovery speeds, he could easily execute Dark Moon two or three hundred times consecutively.

Dammit! I can't keep wasting time on him!?Chalk Splendor thought as he abruptly turned away from Shi Feng and threw his fists in the direction of the human army, sending out several hundred energy fists. He did not give Shi Feng any opportunities to execute Sword's Orbit.

At this point, Chalk Splendor understood that the Holy Race army would be doomed if he wasted any more time fighting Shi Feng. After all, Verdant Rainbow could kill Tier 6 Holy Race experts like it was child's play with her Divine Weapon, let alone the weaker Holy Race experts.

"So, you're finally getting serious."

Shi Feng smiled when he saw Chalk Splendor ignoring him. Then, he smiled as he pulled the Feather of Oath out of his bag.

Chapter 3596: War Goddess Battle Array

Chapter 670 – War Goddess Battle Array

Deadzone Forest, Resurrection Camp:

While Shi Feng and Chalk Splendor clashed in the sky, an intense battle also took place on the ground.

Tier 6 human experts fought against Tier 6 Holy Race experts, Dark-Gold Combat Puppets fought against pseudo-Tier 6 Holy Race experts, and Zero Wing's nine Tier 6 members fought against the Three Fist Saints and over a dozen Tier 6 Holy Race experts!

At the same time, the Voyage Train eliminated thousands of Tier 5 human experts with every round of cannon fire, while Verdant Rainbow rained countless lightning arrows on the Tier 5 Holy Race experts, permanently erasing several hundred Holy Race experts from God's Domain with every volley of arrows she fired. Although some of the targeted Holy Race players managed to react to Verdant Rainbow's arrows and defend themselves with their weapons, the impact still depleted all of their HP instantly regardless.

After both armies clashed for only three minutes, the battlefield's total casualties had already exceeded 100,000. The intensity of the battle far surpassed the intensity of any team battle. Even the casualty count for fifth-floor experts had already exceeded 10,000.

"All Elders, target the Voyage Train!" Verdant Rainbow commanded as she switched her target to the Voyage Train.

The Voyage Train's several hundred cannons might have long cooldowns, but their attacks were incredibly powerful. Even when the human army was positioned loosely, the cannons together could eliminate several thousand players each time they fired. The human army was already at a numerical disadvantage, to begin with, so giving the Voyage Train free reign would put the human army at an even greater disadvantage.

Upon receiving Verdant Rainbow's command, many of the Seven Luminaries Alliance's Tier 6 Elders immediately began bombarding the Voyage Train with attacks.

In response, the Holy Race's 50-plus Tier 6 experts also promptly moved to intercept Verdant Rainbow and the Seven Luminaries Alliance's Elders' attacks. However, their effort was futile as none could block Verdant Rainbow's attacks, and her lightning arrows landed squarely on the Voyage Train.

Although the Voyage Train possessed powerful defensive capabilities, Verdant Rainbow still destroyed over a hundred of its cannons with her lightning arrows. So long as she fired another two or three volleys, all of the Voyage Train's cannons would be rendered useless.

But before Verdant Rainbow could attack the Voyage Train again and secure a small victory for the human army, she suddenly felt a chill crawling down her spine. Then, she immediately noticed Chalk Splendor's thousand-meter-tall figure throwing several hundred energy fists at the human army, the gigantic fists akin to meteors raining down from the sky.

"Everyone! Dodge!" Verdant Rainbow instinctively shouted. At the same time, she drew the World String and executed Ninefold Heart, hoping to block as many energy fists as she could.

The pairing of the World String and Ninefold Heart yielded incredible results, as every lightning arrow Verdant Rainbow launched carried as much power as the descending energy fists. Unfortunately, Verdant Rainbow only had enough time to launch several dozen lightning arrows, whereas Chalk Splendor had thrown several hundred energy fists at the human army.

The several hundred energy fists also covered a combined radius of over 10,000 yards. Combined with the speed of their descent, even the Seven Luminaries Alliance's Tier 6 Elders wouldn't be able to escape out of their range in time, let alone the tens of thousands of human experts and ten thousand Holy Race experts caught within range.

"All of you, die!" Chalk Splendor sneered as he looked at the struggling human experts.

Previously, Chalk Splendor had only chosen to leave Verdant Rainbow and the others alone because he wanted to incapacitate Shi Feng as quickly as possible. However, if he was serious about targeting the human experts, not even Shi Feng could stop him.

After all, while Shi Feng might be able to deflect his attacks, that was with the use of over a dozen sword lights for each of his attacks. If Chalk Splendor launched several hundred energy fists simultaneously, Shi Feng would need to instantly launch several thousand sword lights to counter, which was simply impossible.

It also wouldn't matter even if Shi Feng used Dark Moon. The Mana Technique could, at best, block a small portion of his energy fists. Meanwhile, although each energy fist might only contain the power of the average Taboo-level expert, their large size allowed them to cause destruction on the scale of Large Destruction Spells. Even if only a handful of energy fists ended up landing on the battlefield, at least 10,000 human experts would cease to exist.

Is His Highness crazy?! Why is he targeting us as well?!? Heavenly Ape Saint's complexion turned pale when he looked up and saw the descending energy fists.

Of the several hundred energy fists Chalk Splendor had thrown, over half were targeted at the heart of the battlefield. If they connected successfully, even God-ranked experts would get vaporized on the spot. Moreover, there was a real possibility they would suffer Soul Annihilation.

The other Holy Race experts fighting in the heart of the battlefield similarly despaired. They never thought Chalk Splendor would be so ruthless as to use an indiscriminate large-scale attack on his own allies.

However, just as the energy fists were about to land on the battlefield, six pillars of light suddenly appeared in the sky. At the same time, everyone's hearts skipped a beat as they felt six distinct and powerful auras washing over them. In front of these six auras, even the Three Fist Saints' auras paled in comparison.

Upon turning to look at the origin of the six intimidating auras, everyone on the battlefield gasped.

"Tier 6 War Goddesses?!"

"Am I hallucinating? How are there six Tier 6 War Goddesses here?"

Everyone instinctively thought they were hallucinating when they saw the six War Goddesses in the sky.

War Goddesses were the human race's trump card. They were also the epitome of technique. They could exhibit the power of Gold Combat Techniques with their every move, and those who had reached Tier 6 could even fight Tier 6 Gods. Moreover, these weren't your average Tier 6 God they were talking about. Instead, they were Tier 6 Gods who were armed to the teeth.

In addition, as War Goddesses leveled up, they would also master increasingly frightening Skills, Spells, and Gold Combat Techniques. Upon reaching Level 180 and beyond, they would even start to have Advanced Gold Combat Techniques in their repertoire.

Currently, all six Tier 6 War Goddesses in the sky were at Level 187. Simply in terms of levels, they were more than ten levels higher than Chalk Splendor. Not to mention, these Tier 6 War Goddesses radiated auras far stronger than any of the Tier 6 War Goddesses they had seen outside of the Eternal Realm, and each felt only slightly weaker than Chalk Splendor...

"Disappear!"

The instant the six War Goddesses appeared, they uttered a word in unison. Then, they moved their bodies as if they were dancing.

Gold Combination Technique, Thousand Stars.

In the blink of an eye, the six War Goddesses created a thousand afterimages across the sky, each afterimage colliding with one of Chalk Splendor's energy fists. Then, all of Chalk Splendor's energy fists disappeared as if they had never existed...

As expected of one of the Goddess's most prized possessions. No wonder she can fight Primordial Gods just by summoning twelve War Goddesses. Shi Feng couldn't help but be astonished when he saw the War Goddesses thoroughly neutralizing Chalk Splendor's indiscriminate attack.

Originally, Shi Feng thought the War Goddesses could, at best, neutralize the attacks targeted at the center of the battlefield. After all, he had yet to repair the Feather of Oath, whereas the Sunlight Blade Chalk Splendor wielded was a complete Divine Artifact.

However, it would seem that he had underestimated the Feather of Oath. Now that he had reached Tier 6, the Feather of Oath could finally exhibit its true potential and summon six Tier 6 War Goddesses. Meanwhile, when these six Tier 6 War Goddesses entered their War Goddess Battle Array, the buffs they received were enough to put them on par with Tier 6 Gods of the same level. Paired with a Gold Combination Combat Technique, they could fight Taboo-level existences in the truest sense.

Chapter 3597: Might of Gold

Chapter 671 – Might of Gold

Who is he exactly?

When Verdant Rainbow saw all the energy fists getting blocked, she couldn't help but look at Shi Feng in shock.

Originally, she had already found it astonishing that Shi Feng could put up a fight against Chalk Splendor despite not having a Divine Artifact. Now, he had even summoned six War Goddesses capable of contending with Chalk Splendor. It was as if he was a one-man army.

In fact, with the strength Shi Feng had displayed thus far, Verdant Rainbow wouldn't even be surprised if he could rank within the Divine Glory List's top 100. Yet, she had never heard of such a powerful expert until today.

However, before Verdant Rainbow could snap out of her daze, Shi Feng suddenly swung his hand forward. Then, the six War Goddesses promptly surrounded Chalk Splendor and began bombarding him with various attacks, thoroughly preventing him from launching further attacks against the human army.

While the War Goddesses were keeping Chalk Splendor occupied, Shi Feng suddenly said to Verdant Rainbow, "I need you to distract Chalk Splendor for a moment, Miss Rainbow. Can you do that for me?"

"You want me to distract him?" Verdant Rainbow was surprised by Shi Feng's sudden request.

At this time, the six War Goddesses had already thoroughly suppressed Chalk Splendor, the latter unable to even complete a punch before getting counterattacked. So, Verdant Rainbow couldn't understand why Shi Feng would need her help.

"We won't outlast the Sunlight Body's duration. If we want to win this battle, our only option is to heavily injure Chalk Splendor while we still can," Shi Feng explained. "You don't need to keep him occupied for too long. Just five or six seconds will do."

It was evident this was Chalk Splendor's first time using the Sunlight Blade's Sunlight Body. Meanwhile, if one wasn't used to controlling such a large body, one would have difficulty exhibiting the Sunlight Body's true potential, and one could only rely on the Sunlight Body's size and incredible raw power to fight.

However, as one of the Sun Dynasty's Holy Children, Chalk Splendor shouldn't need much time before he familiarized himself with the Sunlight Body and learned how to control it effectively. At that time, the six War Goddesses could no longer suppress him. After all, if comparing in Strength and reaction speed, the Level 187 War Goddesses were far inferior to Chalk Splendor.

Hence, before Chalk Splendor could adapt to the Sunlight Body, it was necessary to deal a heavy blow to him. Only, the six War Goddesses would need some preparation time to do so.

"Six seconds?" When Verdant Rainbow heard Shi Feng's words, she immediately nodded and said, "If it's only that long, I can do it."

If she was asked to confront Chalk Splendor in her current state, she would lose with 100% certainty. But if she only needed to distract him for five or six seconds, she could accomplish it easily. After all, the World String she wielded was a Divine Artifact. It was just that the World String wasn't designed with offense as its priority. Hence, her Strength was inferior to Chalk Splendor.

"Good! Then, begin immediately!"

When Shi Feng heard Verdant Rainbow's confident response, he promptly had the six War Goddesses distance themselves from Chalk Splendor and enter a six-pointed formation. Subsequently, the War Goddesses put away their weapons, closed their eyes, and began linking their mana with each other.

"Do you think I'll just let you prepare an ultimate move?!"

Anyone could tell that the six War Goddesses were preparing for a powerful attack, and Chalk Splendor was no exception. Immediately, he executed Ancestral Holy Fist, a Gold Holy Art, at the War Goddesses.

Unlike Setting Sun, Ancestral Holy Fist allowed him to throw out a hundred lightning-fast energy fists with a single punch. While each energy fist was not as powerful as Setting Sun's singular attack, they could overwhelm enemies with speed and numbers.

World Chains!

In response to Chalk Splendor's attack, Verdant Rainbow immediately activated World Chains, which was another one of the World String's Profound Skills.

When activated, the Profound Skill would summon eight World Chains to bind and suppress targets within the targeted area. The more chains a target was bound by, the stronger the chains' suppression. If a target was bound by all eight chains, the target would have their Basic Attributes suppressed by 50% and Defense suppressed by 100% for thirty seconds. World Chains was a powerful Skill for suppressing enemies, and its only flaw was its long one-hour cooldown.

Immediately, eight purple-gold chains appeared within a 3,000-yard radius of Chalk Splendor out of the void and promptly wrapped themselves around Chalk Splendor's gigantic body.

One chain... Two chains... Three chains...

When all eight World Chains wrapped around Chalk Splendor, they restricted his movements and reduced his Basic Attributes by 50% and Defense by 100%. Moreover, no matter how much Chalk Splendor struggled, all he could do was watch as the six War Goddesses merged their mana.

The World String's World Chains truly is an unreasonable Skill. Not only do the summoned chains restrain the target's movements, but each chain is individually strong enough to immobilize an Ancient God. Even a Primordial God would probably have a headache if caught by all eight chains, Shi Feng inwardly exclaimed as he looked at the massive World Chains that covered the sky.

In terms of offensive power, the World String was vastly inferior to the Sunlight Blade. But when it came to crowd control, it ranked at the top among Divine Weapons. If caught, even Ancient Gods would be immobilized for the Skill's full thirty-second duration, let alone Chalk Splendor.

If the Divine Weapon that Chalk Splendor currently wielded was something other than the Sunlight Blade, Verdant Rainbow could have probably eliminated him long ago.

Meanwhile, Verdant Rainbow quietly observed Chalk Splendor while her consciousness focused on manipulating the World Chains to amplify their suppression effect.

Previously, Verdant Rainbow had not bothered using World Chains against Chalk Splendor simply because there was no point in doing so. She didn't have any way to heavily injure or kill Chalk Splendor, so all she would accomplish was disable Chalk Splendor for thirty seconds. That wasn't enough time for her to change the situation of the battle.

But now that Shi Feng had a way to deal with Chalk Splendor, Verdant Rainbow naturally wouldn't continue saving the World Chains Skill.

Before anyone realized it, five seconds had already passed. Everyone on the battlefield was engaged in a heated battle, and even a moment's inattention could lead to their fall. So, nobody could afford to let themselves be distracted by their surroundings.

When Shi Feng saw that the War Goddesses had completed their preparations, he couldn't help but grow excited.

Subsequently, the six War Goddesses vanished, and a 1,000-meter-tall phantom of a divine goddess appeared in their place. The goddess wielded a spear made out of lightning, and as soon as she materialized, she held up her spear, poised herself, and cast the weapon at Chalk Splendor.

Advanced Gold Combination Technique, Goddess's Shadow!

This was the strongest combination technique that the six Tier 6 War Goddesses could execute after reaching Level 180.

Boom!

An earth-shattering explosion reverberated throughout the World Ark, and the World Barrier within a several dozen-mile radius of the explosion's epicenter was thoroughly shattered by a lightning arc that spanned across thousands of yards.

At this moment, everyone on the battlefield stopped what they were doing, utterly stupefied by this scene. Even the Holy Race experts were no exception.

Chapter 3598: Frightened Chalk Splendor

Chapter 672 – Frightened Chalk Splendor

World Ark, Outer Area, Rune Hills:

A 100-man team of Tier 5 players was currently clashing against several hundred hazy Specters. On the players' side, they were all above Level 170 and fully equipped with Fragmented Legendary items and Common Secret Treasures. As for the Specters' side, they were all at the Tier 5 Legendary rank. The Specter Lord leading them was even a Level 175 Regional Boss whose Basic Attributes were on par with Tier 5 Dragons, and it had a body that measured over a dozen meters tall.

Normally, even a 1,000-man team of Tier 5 experts would find fighting against such a powerful group of monsters impossible. Yet, the 100-man team had no trouble dealing with these monsters. Meanwhile, leading this team of players was a female Shield Warrior, and she was none other than Ink Qilin, one of the Scarecrow Fox adventurer team's vice commanders.

With the use of Frost Protection, Ink Qilin effortlessly deflected the Specter Lord's attacks while accurately piercing the Regional Boss's weak points with her spear one time after another. This one-sided exchange infuriated the Specter Lord, and it relentlessly targeted Ink Qilin, completely ignoring the other players nearby.

“Everyone, increase your output against the Boss!” Ink Qilin shouted in the team chat when she saw the Specter Lord’s remaining HP.

Hearing this, the Scarecrow Fox members responsible for damaging the Regional Boss promptly upped the intensity of their attacks.

Finally, several minutes later, the Specter Lord fell and dropped dozens of items that radiated astonishing mana. Among them, several were Combat Secret Treasures, and everyone couldn’t help but grow joyful when they noticed this. However, before everyone could celebrate, Ink Qilin promptly issued a command to retreat. Then, she swiftly collected the Regional Boss’s loot before running away from the several hundred Tier 5 Specters with her team.

“Snatching Regional Bosses here truly is a pain,” River Light complained as he looked at the group of Holy Race players that had just appeared in the distance. “Thankfully, we managed to kill this one quick enough.”

As a World Mode Regional Dungeon, the World Ark’s monsters had astonishing loot. Loot here was at least twice as good as loot in the Underground Crystal Palace. Moreover, there was no time limit, and players could grind here for as long as they wanted. For a top-tier team like theirs, the World Ark was akin to heaven.

However, because of this, competition in the World Ark was also unlike anywhere else in the Eternal Realm. Not only did they have to be wary of the various powers’ teams, but they also needed to be cautious of the Holy Race’s players. In such a situation, securing Regional Bosses was no different than trying to win the lottery.

“It’s a pity the Seven Luminaries Alliance has locked down the inner area. Otherwise, with our team’s strength, we could have explored the inner area instead of competing with all these teams out here,” Ink Qilin said, sighing.

“Even if the Seven Luminaries Alliance opens up the inner area, I doubt we can afford to explore the inner area for the foreseeable future,” River Light said, shaking his head. “Each camp can only resurrect a limited number of players at a time. The powers occupying those camps will definitely prioritize their own members, so it’s unlikely they’ll let us register at their camps.”

“That’s true.” Ink Qilin nodded. However, when she thought about how the various pseudo-apex powers’ members could freely explore the World Ark’s inner area, she still couldn’t help but grow a little envious.

“The Great Commander is close to Nineteenth Sword. Once the fight over the inner area’s resurrection camps concludes, maybe we can ask the Great Commander to persuade Elder Sword. If the Skylight Association lets us register at their resurrection camp, we'll be able to explore the inner area and solidify our position among the Eternal Realm's first-rate adventurer teams. At that time, we can definitely be of significant help to the Great Commander," River Light said with a hint of hopefulness.

While Ink Qilin and the others were fleeing from the pursuing Holy Race players, an explosion suddenly came from a distance. Then, when they turned toward the explosion's origin, they couldn't help but be dumbfounded.

This was because they saw a gigantic lightning arc sundering the distant sky and revealing a patch of darkness decorated by stars.

"That's...where the inner area is...right?" River Light muttered as he looked at the shattered World Barrier in the distance.

"Mhm... That is where the inner area is at..." Ink Qilin nodded, similarly shocked by this situation.

The World Ark's Rune Hills were located hundreds of miles from the inner area. It was also obvious that the terrifying lightning arc originated from the depths of the inner area, so the lightning arc's origin should be at least a thousand miles away from their current location. They simply couldn't imagine what kind of battle was taking place in the inner area's depths to generate a commotion so frightening that they could see and hear it from where they stood.

...

If players in the World Ark's outer area could experience the commotion taking place in the inner area's depths, it goes without saying players fighting in the inner area could experience it as well.

"Crap! What is going on over there?!"

"Even a battle between Tier 6 Gods shouldn't cause such a huge commotion. Who is fighting over there?"

An uproar quickly occurred among the Seven Luminaries Alliance's various resurrection camps as everyone looked in the direction of the terrifying lightning in curiosity and confusion. They simply couldn't fathom what was taking place there.

...

Meanwhile, over at the Deadzone Forest's resurrection camp...

Chalk Splendor coughed out large mouthfuls of blood as he held onto the gaping hole in his chest, his complexion looking incredibly anemic. His HP had also fallen by a massive 20%.

“His Highness is injured?”

“The Sunlight Body actually got damaged?”

The Holy Race experts on the battlefield fell into a daze as they looked at the 50-meter-wide hole in Chalk Splendor’s chest. The Sun Dynasty’s Tier 6 Elders found this situation especially unbelievable.

As Elders of the Sun Dynasty, they had a much better understanding of the Sunlight Blade’s capabilities. Some of them had even grown up listening to the achievements crafted by the Sunlight Blade.

Once the Sunlight Blade’s wielder activated Sunlight Body, they should theoretically become immortal. So long as the Skill remained active, even Ancient Saints of the same level could only deal several hundred thousand damage to the Sunlight Blade’s wielder. Yet, now...

What is that combat technique?? Verdant Rainbow’s eyes widened in shock as she looked at the fading silhouette of the divine goddess.

Originally, she thought the War Goddesses’ all-out attack could, at best, injure Chalk Splendor slightly. After all, the Sunlight Blade was one of the Sun Dynasty’s Seven Arcanas. There was no way it could be dealt with easily. Yet, contrary to her expectations, the War Goddesses’ combat technique had pierced Chalk Splendor’s body completely and shattered even the World Chains she had used to restrain Chalk Splendor. The combat technique’s destructive power was simply unprecedented.

At this time, even Shi Feng was greatly shocked by this outcome. He never imagined Goddess’s Shadow would be so frightening as to pierce the Sunlight Body completely. It was as if the Goddess of Space herself had descended onto the battlefield.

However, Shi Feng quickly understood why the combat technique could achieve what it did.

If the six War Goddesses had relied on the Goddess’s Shadow technique alone, there was zero chance they could have heavily injured the Sunlight Body. It was only due to the World Chains’ suppression that the technique achieved such a mind-blowing result.

Only, the heavily-injured Chalk Splendor didn’t have the leeway to consider such matters. At this time, only fear existed in his heart as he looked at the six War Goddesses.

Run!

Run away!

Almost out of instinct, Chalk Splendor turned his gigantic body around and fled.

Chapter 3599: Astonishing Battle

Chapter 673 – Astonishing Battle

“Not good! He’s trying to escape!”

The instant Verdant Rainbow saw Chalk Splendor turning his body, she immediately knew what was going through his mind, so she hurriedly shouted a reminder to Shi Feng.

However, by the time Verdant Rainbow finished her words, Chalk Splendor had already vanished from where he stood. Then, by the time everyone had reacted to the situation, he had already appeared several thousand yards away. His speed was so fast that Tier 5 players couldn’t react to it, and even Tier 6 players could barely catch his figure.

Run! I must run away! I cannot die in this place! Chalk Splendor kept reciting these words in his mind as he frantically gathered all his Holy Aura toward his feet. At this time, the only thought in his mind was how he could flee this battlefield with his life.

He was one of the Sun Dynasty’s Holy Children. He had a boundless future ahead of him. He was an existence standing atop tens of millions of people. If he failed to capture the resurrection camp, he would, at worst, have a lower chance of becoming Guild Leader in the future. However, if he were to die to those War Goddesses, it would mean eternal ruin for him.

The Sunlight Blade, as a Divine Artifact, might be able to reduce his chances of getting Soul Annihilated by even Holy Ancestors and Primordial Gods significantly, but he dared not take the risk.

During the earlier years of the Holy Race’s Greater God’s Domain, items that could resurrect players who had suffered Soul Annihilation had indeed existed in relatively large quantities. However, fewer and fewer of these items spawned over time, so their supply quickly dwindled with use.

In the current generation, even a royal power like the Sun Dynasty only owned several dozen such items. Meanwhile, when considering the Guild’s future development, there was no way the Sun Dynasty would use one of these priceless treasures on a twelfth-ranked Holy Child like himself.

In other words, if he were to suffer Soul Annihilation here, he shouldn't think of setting foot into God's Domain for the rest of his life. Moreover, as the Holy Race's real world was much crueler than the human's Greater World, he would be fortunate if he was only reduced to a servant. If unlucky, he would be banished to the distant and terrifying interstellar borders.

Hence, Chalk Splendor dared not gamble with his life. Even if he still had nearly 80% of his HP remaining and could easily shrug off the attacks of Ancient Gods, he still chose to run away.

"Don't even think of escaping!"

When Shi Feng saw Chalk Splendor's heavily injured state, he realized this was a massive opportunity and promptly executed Flowing Space to chase after the other party.

Normally, Shi Feng would have no chance of killing Chalk Splendor if Sunlight Body was active. After all, there was a reason the Holy Race had regarded the Sunlight Body as the Immortal Body.

However, now that the Sunlight Body was heavily damaged, Chalk Splendor had lost his battle recovery effect on top of 30% of his Basic Attributes and 50% of his Defense. In such a situation, Chalk Splendor was no more than a Mini-Boss that couldn't recover any HP.

Meanwhile, it should be known that Chalk Splendor was one of the Sun Dynasty's Holy Children. In terms of potential loot, killing him would be no different than killing a Tier 6 God. Most importantly, killing him would be a great achievement.

The Seven Luminaries Alliance might have merely recruited the various powers to help it defend against the Sun Dynasty's siege, but if someone could kill one of the Sun Dynasty's Holy Children, it would be a massive contribution to the human race.

Meanwhile, going by Shi Feng's understanding of the Seven Luminaries Alliance, even if the Alliance didn't award him with a Fragmented Divine Artifact, he should be able to secure several pieces of Legendary Equipment compatible with his Sword Law Saint class. At that time, even if he were to face wielders of Divine Weapons, he could put up a good fight. He wouldn't need to rely solely on Dark Moon and could fight with his Skills and Spells.

Hence, for a better future, Shi Feng did not hesitate to swing his sword after catching up to Chalk Splendor.

Tier 6 Super Spell, Sword Law World!

Tier 6 Super Spell, Divine Shadow!

Goddess-ranked Mana Technique, Dark Moon!

Immediately, Sword Law World reduced Chalk Splendor's Basic Attributes by an additional 30%, while Divine Shadow transformed Shi Feng into 100 Judgment Swords that attacked Chalk Splendor with 200% of Shi Feng's Attack Speed and 300% of Shi Feng's Strength. In addition, one of these Judgment Swords even executed Dark Moon.

Under normal circumstances, even if Shi Feng could reduce Chalk Splendor's Basic Attributes by 30% with Sword Law World, it would do little to help him as the Sunlight Body's Defense was simply too powerful to overcome. He would have difficulty damaging Chalk Splendor, even with Dark Moon.

However, Chalk Splendor was currently heavily injured. After Sword Law World further weakened him by 30%, Shi Feng's Judgment Swords became incredibly effective against him. The one he used to execute Dark Moon even managed to deal over a million damage.

For Tier 6 Divine monsters with trillions of HP, they wouldn't even bat an eye if they lost a million HP to an attack. However, for the current Chalk Splendor, who didn't even have one billion HP, this was a terrifying amount of HP to lose. Not to mention, each of the other Judgment Swords could also cause over 100,000 damage to Chalk Splendor.

As a result, even though Chalk Splendor desperately tried to defend himself, his HP still depleted rapidly. From time to time, the six War Goddesses would also intercept and attack him, causing his HP to plummet even quicker.

Meanwhile, when one of the Sun Dynasty's Elders saw this situation, he quickly snapped out of his daze and shouted, "Not good! Quickly protect His Highness!"

Hearing this, the Holy Race's many experts also snapped out of their daze. Only, nobody dared to step forward to help Chalk Splendor. It wasn't because they were cowardly or held any negative opinions about Chalk Splendor. It was simply because Shi Feng was a Taboo-level existence; nobody dared to brave the risk of having their soul annihilated.

Because of this, a strange scene was created on the battlefield.

Despite Chalk Splendor, the Holy Race army's commander-in-chief and a Holy Child of the Sun Dynasty, getting hunted down by Shi Feng alone, the rest of the Holy Race army merely stood by and watched.

"Dammit! Dammit! You forced me to do this!" Chalk Splendor cursed Shi Feng in a begrudging tone when he saw he had less than 10% of his HP remaining.

If Chalk Splendor wished to escape to safety, his only option now would be to retreat to one of the Sun Dynasty's resurrection camps. Powerful barriers and tactical weapons heavily protected these camps. Even if Shi Feng was a Taboo-level existence, he shouldn't think of breaking through the defenses of these camps. It might even be possible to kill Shi Feng if he wasn't careful.

However, in the current situation, Chalk Splendor knew there was no way he could reach any of these resurrection camps alive. So, his only option now would be to swallow a bitter pill and use a desperate move.

Hence, as soon as Chalk Splendor finished speaking, he raised the Sunlight Blade and activated Sun's Brilliance, summoning golden flames that engulfed his body.

Sun's Brilliance was the Sunlight Blade's third Profound Skill. It could also be considered a Desperation Skill. When activated, Sun's Brilliance would destroy all matter within a 10,000-yard radius. But in return, Chalk Splendor would lose five levels and one hundred points in all Basic Attributes. He would also enter a weakened state for ten natural days.

"Do you think you're the only one with a Desperation Skill?"

When Shi Feng saw the golden flames that engulfed Chalk Splendor and his surroundings, he knew that the other party must have chosen to self-destruct and activate Sun's Brilliance. Immediately, he canceled Divine Shadow and reverted to his human form. Then, he unsheathed the Shadow Incinerator and slashed at the oncoming flames.

Profound Skill, The End!

Goddess-ranked Mana Technique, Dark Moon!

Suddenly, a crimson lotus flower bloomed from the Shadow Incinerator and transformed into a blazing crescent moon that lashed out at the oncoming golden flames, the two sources of flames generating powerful heat waves when they collided. Then, just when it seemed like both attacks would enter a stalemate, the blazing crescent moon cut through the golden flames and Chalk Splendor's neck. Immediately afterward, the crescent moon exploded into a gigantic lotus flower of flames that consumed a 10,000-yard radius.

When the flames subsided, Shi Feng could be seen standing proudly in mid-air, whereas Chalk Splendor had lost all of his HP, and his gigantic body fell into the massive void that had appeared in place of the lotus flower.

In the clash of desperation...

Shi Feng emerged victorious!

Chapter 3600: War Harvest

Chapter 674 – War Harvest

World Ark, Deadzone Forest, Resurrection Camp:

When Chalk Splendor started to flee from the battlefield, the Holy Race army quickly fell into disarray as everyone realized the battle was lost.

Immediately, while relying on the Voyage Train's cover provided, the Sun Dynasty's executives began to tactically retreat from the battlefield. As for the other Holy Race experts, they became walking ATMs for the various human experts as they failed to put up adequate resistance.

"Target the Tier 6 experts! Do not let any of them get away!" Verdant Rainbow commanded when she saw the Sun Dynasty's executives withdrawing from the battlefield.

Although the outcome of the battle was already decided, Verdant Rainbow knew this was only the beginning of the competition in the World Ark's inner area. If the Seven Luminaries Alliance wished to secure an advantageous position in the inner area, it must eliminate as many of the Holy Race's Tier 6 experts as possible. After all, even when operating solo, these Tier 6 experts could effortlessly eliminate a 100-man Tier 5 team.

While the Seven Luminaries Alliance might not bat an eye at its Tier 5 members losing a couple of levels, it was a different story for the loss of weapons and equipment. Even with its capabilities, the Seven Luminaries Alliance would have trouble replacing its members' weapons and equipment if too many were lost in a short period. This, in turn, would affect the Alliance's development in the World Ark's inner area.

Hence, it was imperative that they eliminated as many Tier 6 Holy Race experts as possible so that more of the Alliance's Tier 5 experts could survive in the upcoming struggle.

The executives of the various human powers also understood this point. Thus, they promptly gave up on chasing after the fleeing Tier 5 Holy Race experts and led teams to target the Holy Race's Tier 6 and pseudo-Tier 6 experts.

In only a moment, one-third of the Holy Race's Tier 6 and pseudo-Tier 6 experts had fallen. Among them, nearly half were killed by Verdant Rainbow.

Dammit! Our losses are too severe!? While clashing against Gentle Snow and tactically retreating, Heavenly Ape Saint's complexion turned incredibly ugly when he saw the Sun Dynasty's Tier 6 experts falling one after another.

If they had only suffered defeat in this battle and lost a bunch of Tier 5 experts, executives like himself would, at worst, receive a scolding and have some of their Guild Contribution Points deducted. However, it was a different story if they lost a large number of Tier 6 and pseudo-Tier 6 experts. The experts killed by Verdant Rainbow were especially concerning.

As Verdant Rainbow was a Taboo-level existence, even the Tier 6 players she killed would have a high chance of suffering Soul Annihilation, while the Tier 5 players with Tier 6 Holy Bodies had a 100% chance of suffering Soul Annihilation. If too many of these players suffered a permanent death, it would deal a heavy blow to the Sun Dynasty's operations in the Eternal Realm.

Currently, even Earthen Fist Saint, who hadn't shown much expression thus far, couldn't help but grow livid over this situation.

For the Sun Dynasty, fallen Tier 5 experts were easy to replenish. It wouldn't be an exaggeration to say that the Sun Dynasty could have as many Tier 5 experts as it wanted in the Eternal Realm. However, it was a different story when it came to replenishing Tier 6 and pseudo-Tier 6 experts. After all, it wasn't an easy task to get promoted to Tier 6. Not only did the promotion require a significant amount of resources, but the success rate was also very low. Almost 99% of Tier 5 experts would be stumped by it.

The conditions to have a Tier 6 Holy Body while still being at Tier 5 were also stringent. In fact, the process was even more challenging than getting promoted to Tier 6 directly. It was just that these pseudo-Tier 6 experts were looking to have a better future and chose not to rush to complete their Tier 6 promotion.

Now that one-third of these experts had fallen, their superiors in the Sun Dynasty definitely wouldn't let them off the hook easily.

However, before Earthen Fist Saint and the Sun Dynasty's other executives had time to mourn their inevitable punishment, a gigantic lotus flower of flames suddenly appeared in the distant sky and reduced a 10,000-yard radius into nothingness.

"His Highness...died?"

"His Highness got killed?!"

Everyone from the Holy Race army couldn't help but doubt their eyes when they saw Chalk Splendor's gigantic body disappearing into the void. The Sun Dynasty's Elders were especially dumbfounded. They never imagined Chalk Splendor could be killed with Sunlight Body active.

Chalk Splendor died?!

Verdant Rainbow was similarly stunned when she saw that only Shi Feng remained proudly standing amidst the dark void.

Originally, even after seeing Chalk Splendor becoming heavily injured, Verdant Rainbow still didn't think Shi Feng could kill Chalk Splendor. At best, Shi Feng could chase Chalk Splendor all the way back to the Holy Race's resurrection camps.

After all, Chalk Splendor was a Holy Child of the Sun Dynasty. When dealing with others outside, he would be regarded as the Sun Dynasty's face. Unless the Sun Dynasty did not care for its reputation, it wouldn't let Chalk Splendor be killed easily and would provide him with plenty of lifesaving measures.

Yet, Chalk Splendor still died. It was also possible to see the items he dropped after dying, so Verdant Rainbow couldn't even dispute this matter even if she wanted.

Meanwhile, when Garut saw this scene, he was similarly at a loss for words.

Taboo-level experts were terrifying existences. Yet, Shi Feng had managed to slay one. With such strength, even outside of the Eternal Realm, Shi Feng would be regarded by the various pseudo-apex powers as an existence to be feared.

...

While everyone was in a daze, Zero Wing's Tier 6 members used the opportunity to attack the Three Fist Saints with their strongest moves.

With a swing of the Chaos Windblade, Gentle Snow sent Heavenly Ape Saint flying. Then, she activated Chaos World to suppress the Three Fist Saints and executed her strongest attack against Heavenly Ape Saint.

Absolute Technique, Five Extreme Flashes!

Five sword lights merged into one, combining to form an attack that neared the Ancient God standard.

At the same time, Crimson Heart, who had originally been clashing against Earthen Fist Saint, abruptly cast her spear at Heavenly Ape Saint.

Tier 6 Legacy Skill, Boundary Breaker!

Absolute Technique, Blazing Sky!

Immediately, a blazing spear pierced through space, forming a pincer attack on Heavenly Ape Saint with Gentle Snow's sword light. Although Heavenly Ape Saint managed to block Gentle Snow's attack, the impact of the collision paralyzed him briefly, and he ended up letting the blazing spear pierce through the back of his heart. Then, before he could recover his posture, Gentle Snow suddenly appeared before him and dissected him into pieces, ending his life on the spot.

Concurrently, Hidden Soul and Fire Dance ambushed Tailless Scorpion, who had already lost most of his HP from the battle thus far, instantly plundering what little HP he had remaining.

In the blink of an eye, out of the Three Fist Saints, only Earthen Fist Saint remained standing against Zero Wing's nine Tier 6 members.

Earthen Fist Saint was greatly frightened by this sudden development. Hurriedly, he took out a gray crystal ball and activated it, his body instantly transforming into several dozen streaks of light that dispersed in all directions, the speed of his withdrawal making it impossible for anyone to chase after him.

Meanwhile, the unforeseen fate of the Three Fist Saints caused the battle to become even more one-sided in the humans' favor.

...

On the other side of the battlefield, Shi Feng breathed a deep sigh of relief when he saw Chalk Splendor's body disappearing.

Thank goodness I acquired the Sacred Phantom Ring a while ago. Otherwise, this fight really would have ended with mutual destruction today, Shi Feng thought as he picked up the Sacred Phantom Ring from the ground before him. Then, when he looked at the place where Chalk Splendor died, a look of shock and joy immediately surfaced on his face.

"The Sunlight Blade?"

Two items could be seen floating at where Chalk Splendor died. Among them, one was none other than the Sunlight Blade, Divine Artifact wielded by Chalk Splendor.

...

