Chapter 141

Chapter 141 Take Me Away

Caroline felt relieved with Kenny around—she could worry less.

With two hours remaining, she immediately went online to search for a clothing factory up for sale.

She found three factories and made appointments with their owners before heading to the kindergarten to pick up her children.

Fifteen minutes later, she parked her car at the kindergarten entrance.

She arrived early, with ten minutes still left before the class ended.

As she stepped out of the car, she spotted Daniella hurrying to the door.

Shortly after, Alice came out, holding Axel's hand.

Daniella tried to grab Axel's hand, but he evaded her, refusing to comply.

"Axel, your dad is busy, so he asked me to come to pick you up. Can you be nice?" Daniella asked patiently.

"No," Axel firmly held onto Alice's hand, unwilling to let go.

Alice found herself in a dilemma and squatted down, coaxing Axel. "Axel, your mom is here to pick you up. Can you go home with her, okay?"

Axel pursed his lips and simply replied, "No."

Daniella felt embarrassed. "Axel, please don't embarrass me in front of so many parents."

Axel took two steps back, keeping his head down.

Daniella impatiently tried to grab him.

Fear washed over Axel's face, causing him to grow pale.

In an attempt to break free, he accidentally stepped on Daniella's foot. She released him due to the pain, and he ran toward Caroline, who was wearing shades.

Caroline was stunned to see Axel running towards her. 'Why is he running toward me?'

Soon, Axel was before Caroline. His eyes were red as he pleaded, "Please take me with you."

When Caroline saw Axel's terrified face, she recalled what her children had told her.

Daniella abused her son.

Caroline's heart inevitably softened before she carried Axel.

Daniella rushed over to Caroline and sternly shouted, "Give me my child!"

Caroline pursed her lips and taunted, "Ask your child if he wants to go with you."

Daniella's face contorted, and she retorted, "Who are you? It's none of your business!"

Axel's flushed face showed how fast he spoke.

Daniella glared at Caroline, paying no attention to Axel's words.

"I'll say it again. Give me my child!" Daniella demanded.

"I won't give him to someone who abuses him," Caroline replied firmly.

The surrounding parents overheard their exchange, leading to discussions among them.

"She abuses the child?"

"No wonder the child doesn't want to go with her earlier."

"Is she the boy's mother? I think she's a stepmother."

"It's better if the child goes with his father's friend. Maybe he'll get beaten up if he goes back with his mother!"

"Yes! Children's reactions don't lie."

Daniella's face turned livid as she glared at Caroline. "Don't let me find out who you are! If I do, you'll suffer!"

With that, she quickly ran away, unable to handle the criticism.

Caroline looked at Axel, who had buried his head in her arms. Her heart softened, "Your mom is gone.

"No" Axel muttered. "She's not my mother."

Chapter 142

Chapter 142 How Do We Settle This?

Caroline was taken aback, but soon she understood.

It was not unusual for children to hold grudges against their mothers and refuse to acknowledge them.

Putting Axel down, Caroline smiled and said, "Okay, I'll believe whatever you say. Now, go back to the kindergarten and wait for your father to pick you up, alright?"

Caroline knew exactly whom Axel resented, but she didn't want to involve the child in any petty

Despite everything, she couldn't help but feel a strange affection for Axel. Her heart softened toward him, and she didn't push him away.

Axel had promised Tyler not to trouble Caroline, so he could only give her a longing look before.

heading back into the kindergarten.

After class, Caroline picked up her children and got into the car.

However, she wanted to wait for Evan before leaving

Liora pointed in Evan's direction, but Tyler quickly covered her mouth to stop her from speaking.

Confused, Caroline looked at them through the rearview mirror and asked, "What's going on?"

Liora immediately shook her head and giggled. "Nothing, Mommy. Tyler and I are just playing."

Caroline smiled and said, "Alright, stay seated. We're going home now."

Evan noticed the redness in Axel's eyes inside the Maybach and frowned. Concerned, he asked, novelbin

Axel, were you bullied in kindergarten?"

"She wanted to take me away," Axel replied briefly.

Evan soon understood who Axel was referring to

Although he hadn't resolved things with Daniella yet, he knew she was acting audaciously.

Evan dropped Axel home and then asked Reuben to find Daniella's location before rushing over to Daniella was complaining to Grayson at Xander Residence about how Evan had prohibited her from seeing Axel.

Grayson's face turned livid as he spoke. "It's been five years. I held myself back when he canceled the marriage. But now he stopped you from seeing your child."

Daniella wiped her tears and explained, "Grandpa, I accidentally touched Axel the other day. I love.

him so much. Why would I hit him?"

"There, there. I know your temper," Grayson comforted her, feeling sorry for her. "You're so loving.

Of course, you'd never hit a child."

Daniella sobbed. "Grandpa, I'm so sad..."

"I'll call him now.

Grayson was about to call Evan, seething with anger. However, hurried footsteps came from the door before he could dial the number.

Two bodyguards rushed in, grabbed Daniella forcefully from the sofa, and dragged her toward

Evan

Grayson stood up abruptly and screamed at Evan, "What the hell are you doing?"

Evan ignored Grayson and gestured to Julian. "Hit her."

Julian nodded and approached Daniella, delivering a harsh slap to her face.

Dizzy from the blow, Daniella screamed and begged for mercy, "Evan... Ah! Don't hit me. It hurts so bad—Grandpa, help me. Save me!

"Evan, stop!" Grayson rushed forward, attempting to pull Daniella back to him.

But Reuben stepped in, blocking Grayson's path. He raised a tablet and showed Grayson a picture of Axel's red face from the slap

Grayson was struck dumb when he saw the terrifying mark on Axel's face.

Wide-eyed, he pointed at the tablet and stammered, "T—This. _"

Evan glanced at Grayson coldly and asked, "How should we settle this?"

Grayson's lips twitched and he spoke firmly. "I'm sure it's not Ella. She's kind, gentle, and considerate. She would never hit kids."

Evan anticipated Grayson's response and motioned to Reuben, who played a video.

The video showed Daniella hitting Axel hard with a rolled up magazine before the maid and nanny in the living room.

Grayson's heart skipped a beat as he witnessed her actions and saw her hideous face

"Do you still want to defend her?" Evan's face turned ferocious, and he strongly wanted to harm

Daniella

Grayson knew letting her off easily wouldn't be right.

His face grew stern, and he pushed Reuben away, walking up to Daniella.

Without saying a word, Grayson slapped her twice, his anger evident.

Daniella was already feeling dizzy. She staggered from the force of the slaps, looking at Grayson. in disbelief. Her voice trembled as she said, "Grand Grandpa?"

Grayson barked, "How berserk! He's your son!"

Overwhelmed with emotions, Daniella pleaded, "Grandpa, I made a mistake. I lost control of myself. Please, send me to a mental hospital I'm so depressed that I'm about to go mad!

"I can't control my emotions... You know that... Evan grew colder toward me after I gave birth to the child. I'm a woman, and I need my husband's love-

Disgusted, Evan interrupted, "Who is your husband? I don't mind helping you if you can't zip it"

Daniella immediately fell silent.

Although Grayson felt disappointed with her, he couldn't bear to see his granddaughter humiliated. He gnashed his teeth and composed himself, then looked at Evan.

Daniella was stupefied. She never hired a hacker.

But no one would believe her no matter how she explained herself now.

At Bayview Villa.

Caroline was about to play with her children when there was a knock on the house’s door.

Lily went to open the door and was surprised to see a face that greatly resembled Evan’s. She asked, “Who are you?”

Axel nervously pursed his lips and looked at Lily. “Is this Tyler’s house?”

“Yes.”

“Ms. Smith, who is it?” Caroline called out from inside.

Lily responded, and soon, Liora ran over without wearing slippers.

Seeing Axel, she exclaimed, “Axel, why are you at my house? Are you here to play with me?”

Lily was stunned, thinking, Is this Mr. Jordan’s son?’

Caroline and Tyler got up, walked over, and invited Axel inside.

Axel couldn’t help but size up the warm decoration of the villa. Their house was different f his.

Caroline squatted before Axel and asked, “Boy, why did you come over on your own?*

Axel clasped his fingers anxiously, trying to find the right words to explain.

Understanding Axel’s dilemma, Tyler stepped forward to help him. “Mommy, don’t you think Axel and I look alike?”

Chapter 144

Chapter 144 Don’t You See We Look Alike?

Caroline was puzzled by Tyler’s words and said in a daze. “Yeah, I know.”

“Mommy, did you know that Axel isn’t the wicked woman’s son?” Tyler shared some shocking news.

Caroline’s mind went blank. What does he mean he’s not her son? Wasn’t Daniella pregnant at that time?’ she thought

Caroline asked with a frown. “Ty, what do you know?”

Tyler’s face lit up with a smile. “Mommy, why don’t you do a maternity test with Axel?”

Caroline’s breathing became chaotic Why should I do that? What do they know? What are they keeping from me? Didn’t my first child die in childbirth?”

Caroline felt nervous, and her eyes turned red.

She pointed toward Axe with a trembling hand, her voice hoarse. “Are you my child?”

She couldn’t bring herself to acknowledge him

After five years, she finally started healing from the pain of losing her child. Now, her children were telling her that her other child was right before her.

She felt like she was in a dream and couldn't gather her thoughts.

Caroline's drastic reaction surprised Axel. He regretted not breaking the news to her more gently.

It seemed she had received a devastating blow.

Liora reached out and hugged Caroline's neck, comforting her tenderly. "Mommy, please don't cry.

I'll comfort you."

Liora's voice helped Caroline regain her composure.

Suddenly, she stood up, grabbed her bag from the sofa, and carried Axel toward the door.

Lily was worried about Caroline's state, so she immediately went over and said, "Carol, let me take the wheel"

Caroline shuddered as she handed the key to Lily. "Angelbay Hospital!" she said.

Lily nodded and waved at Tyler and Liora, and the five of them rushed to the hospital.

During their journey, Caroline called Neil for help in getting the results quickly.

After hearing the news, Neil was stunned for a while. He had met Axel before, but the resemblance to Evan was too striking to consider he resembled Caroline.

Contemplating the possibility of Axel being Caroline's child, he wondered how Daniella had swapped the children back then.

Neil made arrangements for the necessary steps, but they would have to wait until the next morning for the results

Looking at Axel with mixed emotions, Neil squatted down and asked gently, "Axel, can you tell me how you found out you're not Daniella's son?"

Axel anxiously kept his head low, clutching the hem of his shirt. His voice carried a sense of gloom, evoking sympathy "Does Mommy hate me?"

"No!" Caroline retorted anxiously. I'm overwhelmed with emotions. I thought you were gone.

Finding it hard to explain her complex feelings, she admitted to feeling shocked, surprised, nervous, and frightened.

Axel explained, "She never hugged me. Instead, she would hit me hard with a rolled-up magazine. novelbin and curse me with the meanest words.

"She even called me a bastard once, so I secretly did two DNA tests."

"Two?" Neil was puzzled. "Why two?"

"Dad and I matched 99.99%, but it was zero with Daniella.

"I did two tests because I feel like Daddy doesn't love me. Sometimes I sense he sees me as a burden...

As Axel spoke, his voice softened, revealing the pain he had held inside. Caroline felt an excruciating pain in her chest, making breathing difficult.

Chapter 145

Chapter 145 I'll Take You Home

Why did they treat this child so poorly?

Axel was unlike children his age, lacking their childish innocence.

Caroline's eyes welled with red, intensifying her hatred for Daniella

Neil gently touched Axel's face Axel, we all love you very much. We'll gradually make it up to you for the things you've been missing. Now, I'd like to give you a ride back to Villa Rosa. Is that okay?"

"Neil!" Caroline was agitated. "Don't send him back! I don't want him to return to that cold family."

Neil sighed. "Carol, this isn't the time to act irrationally Axel has to go back. If not, Evan might. novelbin grow suspicious. He won't harm you, but can you guarantee the Jordan family won't?"

Tyler's eyes narrowed upon hearing Neil's words.

I still need to resolve two matters, and now I have another issue to deal with. How much did my poor mommy suffer even before I was born? Tyler thought.

Tyler felt sorry for Caroline once again.

Suddenly, Liora burst into tears "Mommy... Is Axel my older brother or younger brother?"

Liora's sudden action instantly broke the somber atmosphere.

Caroline looked at her teary daughter in bewilderment and helplessly hugged her. “Lia, why do you ask?”

“I. I’ve been the youngest for so long. And I’ve been wishing to have a younger sibling... for a very long time too...” Liora sobbed.

Everyone burst into laughter,

Liora cried even more pitifully, gazing at their smiling faces. ‘I know. I’m the youngest again.’”

Neil pinched Liora’s face. “Lin, it’s fine even if you’re the youngest. The youngest gets the most love.”

Liora soon stopped and blinked, asking innocently, “Really?”

Neil smiled gently. “Yes.”

“Okay! I don’t want to be the elder sister. She then looked up at Caroline. “Mommy, is Axel the eldest or Ty?”

Caroline replied, “It’s Axel.”

Caroline recalled being under local anesthesia during the C-section, and the doctor had prevented her from seeing her first child.

Her second child was Tyler, and the third was Liora

After giving birth to Liora, she gradually lost consciousness.

Suddenly, Caroline was overcome with deep fear. It seemed that Daniella had bribed the doctor to take away her first child, Axel, at that time.

She never got the chance to see him before fainting. The doctor had apparently orchestrated it to keep her from witnessing her child being taken away.

Axel gently tugged at Caroline's clothes, saying, "Mommy, I should go back now."

Caroline regained her composure, looking at Axel with reluctance and determination

"Axel, I'll get you home," she said.

Neil's advice was right. She couldn't act irrationally now, or the Jordan family might find her, and she could lose her children forever.

Axel shook his head "Mommy, you don't have to force yourself if you dislike Daddy."

His sensible words only deepened her pain, but she took a deep breath to calm herself.

"Axel, I'll act quickly. Don't forget to call me," she instructed, sharing her contact number with him.

Chapter 146

Chapter 146 Why Keep It a Secret

Neil gave Axel a ride back to Villa Rosa and asked him, "Axel, do you blame me for not letting you stay?"

Axel obediently replied, "No, I don't. I'm already content to be reunited with Mommy."

He didn't want to cause any trouble for Caroline and felt he could keep an eye on Evan better if he stayed at Villa Rosa.

As long as Caroline refused to reunite with Evan, Axel was determined to intervene and prevent any harm.

He was willing to do anything Caroline asked of him.

After a brief silence, Neil said, "Axel, your mother and I are left with no other options. We can't disclose much to you. But you must believe that we care about you deeply.*

Axel couldn't contain his happiness, realizing how much his mother truly cared for him.

At the same time, he couldn't help but be curious about the situation between Evan and Caroline.

Evan returned home after Axel, who was visibly frightened by something.

Did Daddy find out that I went out? he wondered.

The fear on Axel's face took Evan aback.

He suppressed his anger for Daniella, calmly approached Axel, and squatted. "Axel, why didn't you tell me she hit you?"

Axel tightly clenched his clothes, and tears welled up in his eyes. "I would get beaten up if I told you."

Those words ignited a deep rage in Evan.

"I won't let her hurt you again. I'll take care of you from now on," he reassured Axel, rubbing his head affectionately and offering a charming smile.

Axel was stunned. It was the first time his father smiled at him.

He asked, "Daddy, you don't hate me?"

Evan's hands stiffened as his heart skipped a beat.

He had ignored Axel so much that he thought Evan hated him.

Evan hugged Axel. "Axel, I never hated you. The only person I hate is your mother"

Axel's body was tense in Evan's arms.

After a long while, his body slowly turned soft.

The next day, Caroline woke up to her phone ringing after a restless night.

She received the DNA test results from the hospital

Anxiously, she took a few deep breaths before opening the report.

Upon reading it, her defenses were shattered.

The series of number 9s left her breathless.

Overwhelmed with surprise and bitterness, she hugged her phone tightly and cried for a long time.

Her child was still alive in the same city where she was.

With tear-filled eyes, she shared the good news with Lily, Neil, and Paige.

When Paige received the news, she was momentarily at a loss for words, sitting on her bed in astonishment.

After a while, she regained her composure.

She then texted Caroline: [Are you sure you're not going out to celebrate?]

On Thursday, Caroline and Kenny bought a clothing factory. They retained the existing technical support and invested in new equipment.

Back at the company, Kenny's secretary collected resumes from job applicants, especially elite candidates. These resumes were then handed to Caroline and Kenny

Later that day, they appointed managers for certain departments and held the first high-level meeting for TYC Fashion. Caroline finalized the fashion brand's positioning and initial sales channel with the managers.

After the meeting, Caroline was busy discussing the direction of the first clothing design with the design department in the conference room.

Meanwhile, Evan stood smoking by the French window at MK.

Reuben noticed and commented, "Mr. Jordan, the newly established TYC Fashion across the street has recruited its staff. Today is their first day in business."

Evan narrowed his eyes and asked coldly, "How many shareholders do they have?"

Reuben replied, "Two. The majority shareholder is a wealthy woman, but her identity and net worth are unknown."

Evan sneered. "Establishing a large company at the early stages of her brand will only put her under tremendous economic pressure. No matter how rich she is, she won't last long. Eventually, the company will close down and go bankrupt.'

Reuben was rendered speechless, wondering, Um Boss, did you forget she bought the entire building in one go?"

She did not have to pay high rent for the good spot. As long as she did a good preliminary promotion and controlled the quality of her brand, these problems would never trouble her.

Tyler and Axel were playing with Liora in the kindergarten's toy classroom.

Tyler smiled at Axel. "Do you want to come over and play this weekend?"

Axel shook his head. "I don't know."

He wasn't sure if Evan would be home. Axel couldn't reveal that he had gone to Caroline's house if he was.

Tyler glanced at Liora, who was focused on her Lego play, and then moved closer to Axel.

Craftiness appeared on Tyler's face. "You're my brother, so when are you going to pay me for looking for Mommy?"

Axel pursed his lips. "Tonight"

"I'm in desperate need of money. I have to find some evidence, and it will require quite a lot of manpower and money."

"Can I help?" Axel looked up at Tyler

Curious, Tyler asked, "Are you a hacker toon What are you good at?

"I can recover hidden or corrupted records, track things down, and bypass top security keys."

Tyler was shocked. "Who taught you all that?"

Axel lowered his gaze. "Zen, the top hacker in the world."

Excited, Tyler inquired, "Did you meet him on a hacker website? Can you introduce him to me?"

Axel nodded. "Sure, but you need to tell me what you want to do."

Tyler concealed his smile as an idea sparked in his mind. "I want to know what happened to Mommy back then. Why was she forced to leave with Lia and me?"

He then smiled and looked at Axel. "And how were you swapped at that time?"

Axel gazed at the Legos in silence. "Can you include me?"

"Of course!" Tyler eagerly desired to work with his brother on that extensive investigation. How Axel inquired, "And how about you? Who taught you?"

Tyler replied, "No one. I learned it on my own. I'm skilled at investigating people."

Axel nodded "Then you should start looking into Daniella and her acquaintances. I'll handle the damaged files."

Liora appeared unhappy, pouting. "What are you whispering about? You're not playing with me.

"We're coming!" The two boys chimed in simultaneously.

At night, Tyler avoided Caroline and sat down before the laptop to investigate everyone associated.

Upon receiving the document, Axel activated an emulator and entered the software code he had previously installed on Daniella's phone.

He began his work—he needed other people's information for accurate data comparison. The process would take a while to recover the data.

On Friday, as soon as Axel learned that Evan was going on a business trip, he texted Caroline.

Axel: [Mommy, can I come and play tomorrow?

She wondered if Scott had finished his study. If he was around, he would have a better way.

After contemplating for a while, Caroline texted Scott.

Caroline: [Scott, are you back from abroad?]

Following her staged death and departure abroad, she learned that Scott had gone to Huspines to further his studies six months later.

He had spent some time in a few countries before settling in Ylesir.

During his free time, he would take the children out for fun, compensating for their lack of fatherly love.

Paige often teased Caroline about their relationship, encouraging her to marry Scott, a kind man she would regret losing to another woman.

Caroline did consider their affair, but at the time, she prioritized her studies and making money.

There was no room for romantic thoughts.

Scott received Caroline's text when he got off the plane at Angelbay Airport.

He happily smiled, immediately responding: [Do you or the kids miss me?]

Caroline blushed upon reading his text, noticing how much more open-minded he had become during his time abroad.

He playfully teased her now.

Caroline awkwardly replied: [The kids do always talk about you.]

Scott sighed, feeling that she was still avoiding the topic.

Scott: I see. I just got off the plane. Where are you?]

Caroline was taken aback.

Caroline tensed. Scott noticed her reaction and frowned.

Scott turned to look at Reuben and saw Evan standing before the car, wearing a gloomy expression.

Scott greeted them with a light smile. "It's been a while, Mr. Jordan, Reuben."

Evan's gaze fixated on Caroline, and he seemed to be scrutinizing her while narrowing his eyes.

Reacting to the situation, Scott pulled Caroline into his arms. "Mr. Jordan, I'll leave with my Scott nodded politely. "Mr. Jordan, my girlfriend isn't happy. We'll go now. Goodbye."

After that, they hugged each other tightly and got into the car.

Evan was infuriated by the unpleasant scene. As the car left, his face darkened.

Reuben asked hesitantly, "Mr. Jordan, I don't think Ms. Shenton would behave that way, right?"

Evan snorted, suspicious of Caroline's avoidance.

"Did you find anything about that woman?" Evan demanded icily.

Reuben braced himself and replied, "Not a clue."

"Send more people to stalk the two kids when they pick up Axel after school this afternoon. I

Evan narrowed his eyes as he watched where the car headed.

He knew that she was Caroline.

Caroline blushed at his remark.

"It'll be 5:00 pm. soon. Let's pick up the kids," Scott tried to ease Caroline's uneasiness

Caroline nodded. "After picking them up, why don't you come to my house and eat with us?"

"Sure." Scott smiled and agreed.

Classes at the kindergarten ended at 5:00 pm.

As soon as Tyler and Liora walked out the door, they saw Scott

Liora's eyes lit up, and she excitedly threw herself into Scott's arms. "Papa Wilson!"

"Lia." Smiling, Scott lifted Liora and extended his hand to Tyler. "Ty."

Tyler was thrilled to see Scott and gladly held his hand

"Papa Wilson, did you just get back?" Tyler asked.

"Yeah, your mother even came to the airport to pick me up." Scott replied.

"That's what she should do," Tyler teased, looking at Caroline.

Caroline felt awkward and helpless.

Tyler liked bringing her together with Scott.

"Yeah," she replied..

Then, they heard a girl's voice.

"Tyler, Liora, is this your father? Aren't you guys fatherless?"

Caroline felt a pang of bitterness hearing Liora’s words. Liora never asked about her father, but she novelbin must have imagined having a father who could protect her like the other children.

Caroline looked at Scott, who carefully carried the child into the car.

As they settled in, Lily addressed Caroline, “Carol, I know it’s not my place, but I’ve observed things over the years, and I feel I should remind you. Doctor Wilson is caring and attentive, especially to the kids. Considering him might be best for their sake.”

Caroline fell silent momentarily. “Lily, I still need to sort things out. I don’t want to burden Scott.”

Lily reassured her, “Doctor Wilson knows that too, but he’s willing to support you regardless. You need someone to share the pressure.”

Caroline looked down. “I already owe him so much.”

“Then why not give him a chance? You don’t have to shut yourself off from happiness, Lily urged.

Caroline glanced at the harmonious scene in the washroom, remembering how he stood by her despite her previous rejection. She considered the possibility of accepting him.

Meanwhile, Evan received a text and location from Julian at an international five–star hotel.

Julian: [Mr. Jordan, we followed them to Bayview. They are staying in the Third Villa]

Evan extinguished his cigarette.

Evan: [Send me the resident’s information in ten minutes.]

Julian: Understood, Mr. Jordan.]

Evan drummed his fingers rhythmically on the sofa.

Bayview Villa was situated in the city center, with each villa costing over 4,000,000 dollars.

Evan texted Julian, instructing him to keep an eye on Third Villa and obtain a photo of the resident.

After dinner at Bayview, Caroline asked Scott to join her in the study. She wanted to share Axel's problem with him and not keep it a secret any longer.

She handed him a glass of juice and sat down on the sofa.

Scott looked at her with tender, clear eyes, asking, "Do you have something to tell me?"

Caroline nodded. "Do you remember my baby who died during childbirth?"

"Yes, I do," Scott replied.

"He's not dead, Caroline stated firmly. "In fact, he's living with Evan"

Scott was taken aback. "Are you sure?"

Caroline then explained the whole situation to Scott, leaving him deeply confused.

"It could be Daniella." Scott sighed. "Do you think we should get a psychologist for Axel?"

Caroline nodded, acknowledging her responsibility as a mother for how he turned out. She expressed her desire for him to be physically and mentally healthy.

Scott offered, "I can try if you don't mind I have a certificate in children's psychology."

Caroline looked at him, surprised. "You do? I didn't know, given that you're a surgeon." Scott chuckled and said, "I forgot to mention it earlier."
