Chapter 181 Will They Be Uncomfortable?

The teacher guided the children back to their classroom after playing outside so they could have some water.

As Axel reached for his water bottle, he felt moisture on the tip of his nose.

Before he could react, Liora shouted, "Axel You're bleeding!"

Tyler glanced over and saw Axel's nose was bleeding. Quickly, he grabbed a tissue and pressed it to Axel's nose. "Hold on. I'll get the teacher."

While still holding the tissue to his nose, Axel grabbed Tyler's shirt and shook his head. saying.

"It's alright"

Tyler looked concerned "This is serious-

Axel cut him off. "Really, I'm okay. I might just be a bit dehydrated Don't worry."

Worried. Liora asked, "Axel, has this happened before?"

Axel pressed his lips together. "I had a similar thing last night. but it stopped quickly."

Upon hearing this, Liora and Tyler felt relieved. They assumed that Evan would have taken Axel to a doctor if it had been a recurring problem.

Seeing that Axel's nosebleed had stopped after a while. Liora and Tyler let go of their concerns.

After dinner with the three children in Villa Rosa, Evan headed to the study

Reuben discovered that the legal owner of TYC was actually Caroline!

How did she manage to gather the funds to establish a fashion company in five years?

He was convinced that G and Caroline were connected somehow!

Not finding any info about Caroline during her absence was frustrating. All he knew was what Kenny had said before—that Caroline was really good at fashion and helped Kenny a lot.

Were Caroline and G acquainted with each other because they were in the same industry?

Evan sneered after going through all the information. He would like to see if G would show up at

He took out his phone to call Reuben. When the call was answered, he asked in a deep voice, "Did you say that Caroline's company is having a celebratory gathering tomorrow?"

Reuben said. "Yes, sit. It's at the Silver Hotel at 600 p m."

"Postpone the business gathering tomorrow night," Evan ordered.

Reuben was stunned for a moment. "Are you going to attend, Mr. Jordan?"

Evan frowned in displeasure, "What's the issue?"

"Nothing!" Reuben immediately replied, "I shall get to it right away!"

After hanging up the call, Evan sent a text message to Alex.

[Come with me to a celebratory gathering tomorrow at 6:00 pm, and don't ask questions]

Alex was shocked to receive the text message. Evan had really regarded him as someone who could be summoned at will.

I'm busy too, you know? he complained inwardly.

Alex wanted to reject, but a thought occurred to him. 'Hold on! Whose celebratory gathering is that?"

Alex agreed, motivated by curiosity.

Caroline and Scott were eating at a restaurant near the hospital. novelbin

Scott said, "Will the two children be uncomfortable there?"

Caroline answered with a faint smile, "No. They keep in touch with me.

"Great then." Scott said softly, "Oh right, I found two caregivers for you."

Caroline blushed. I'm sorry. I've been too busy with work recently and neglected the task of hiring caregivers. I'm sorry for troubling you to care for Lily."

Scott appeared frustrated. "Your family is my family."

Caroline nodded, glancing at the time. Seeing it was still early, she took a deep breath. "Scott."

Chapter 182 It’s Great That You Don’t Mind It

Scott was taken aback and asked, “What do you mean?”

Caroline steeled herself and explained, “We can start being together after Grayson’s birthday!”

Scott was astonished, his lips trembling as he questioned, “Could you repeat that?”

Caroline nervously took a sip of water. “You understand what I’m saying. Maybe it’s not exactly fair to you-

This isn’t about fairness,” Scott swiftly interrupted, his smile growing wider.

His clear eyes began to well up with tears. I’ve waited 1. six years to hear these words from

Caroline felt a sense of relief and said with a smile, “I’m glad you’re okay with it.”

“I’ve always been okay with it! I know you have things to sort out. I’ll patiently wait for the day.

when I can take care of you and your children,” Scott said in a reassuring tone.

Caroline blushed. “Haven’t you been taking care of us all this time?”

“It’s different,” Scott said smilingly. novelbin

Scott and Caroline visited Lily at the hospital after dinner, just before she returned to Bayview

Villa.

She shared her conversation with Scott with Paige

Over the call, Paige exclaimed, "Really? Is this happening for real?"

Caroline put the call on speaker and moved the phone a little farther. "Lower your voice a bit."

"I got it, I got it! Scott is finally getting a chance!" Paige's excitement couldn't be contained.

Caroline felt a touch of sadness. "Maybe I should have made this decision sooner, right?"

"No! Remember, you've been through a tough relationship. It's totally okay to be careful in this one. A man who truly loves you will understand waiting!"

Caroline chuckled. "You seem happier than I am, huh?"

+15 BONUS

"That's a must! You will be free from my boss' control if you are together with Scott!"

Caroline's smile froze.

Mentioning Evan caused a dull pain in her chest. She couldn't deny that she hadn't fully let go, but she needed Scott around for the sake of her children and herself

She knew she was selfish in this situation but believed she'd heal eventually.

Then, she could give her complete love to Scott

Caroline changed the subject, saying. "Don't forget about tomorrow night's party. I've sent you an e- invitation."

"Sure!"

The next day, Caroline visited the three children before school started

Liora immediately dived into Caroline's arms and hugged Caroline's waist tightly. "You're finally here to see me, Mommy!"

Caroline felt the urge to cry. "I'm sorry for being late, Lia."

Liora looked up and asked with her teary eyes, "Mommy, when can Tyler and I come home?"

Caroline wiped away her daughter's tears. "It's not time yet, baby."

Liora pouted. "I don't understand..."

Caroline choked up as she explained, "Is he treating you badly, Lia?"

"It's pretty good, but you're not there." Liora sobbed Caroline said, "You can see me anytime, but I am very busy now and can't take care of you. You'll be very safe with him, and I can set my mind at ease. I promise I'll take you, Tyler, and Axel home when I'm done with work. Will that be okay?"

She did not wish to let her children know about the negative side, so she explained it that way.

Liora shed tears. She was at a loss for words.

Tyler grabbed Caroline's hand with tear-reddened eyes. "Mommy, Axel and I can take care of Lia.

Caroline could feel Tyler's compromise in his calm remark.

Chapter 183

Chapter 183 He Tried to Get Me to Talk

Caroline felt sorry for her children, but she couldn't do more until she resolved things with Daniella and Grayson.

She couldn't bear her children being taken away again. She couldn't manage everything, so she had to leave them with Evan, even though it was tough.

Safety was her utmost priority.

Caroline embraced Tyler and Axel, their small group standing closely together.

With a gentle sniffle, she assured, "I'll always be here for you, my dear children. I can visit anytime you want. Just hold on a bit longer, alright?"

Tyler and Liora both nodded while Axel remained silent

Noticing Axel's lack of response, Caroline eased her hold on him and looked at him. "Axel?"

Meeting her gaze, Axel cautiously asked, "Will I get to go with you too?"

Caroline felt a pang of sadness but responded quickly. "Yes, my precious. You're coming with me too. How could I ever leave you behind?"

Axel smiled,

Unexpectedly, Liora chimed in "He tried to make me talk, Mommy!*

Caroline was puzzled "You mean your father?"

Liora nodded. "Yes. He asked me about your likes, but I didn't betray you because I'm clever Caroline recalled the roses. How far would he go to discover her preferences, even involving their children?

Does he still think that I'm the same person from five years ago? she thought.

Caroline rubbed Liora's nose. "You're becoming so smart that you notice when someone is trying to get you to talk, Lia."

"Of course! I'm your precious daughter, after all." Liora was proud of herself.

"Narcissist," Tyler said.

Liora glared at him. "It's okay to stay silent, Tyler!"

Tyler yielded and said, "Fine, fine. I won't speak anymore."

After spending time with the children, Caroline hurried to the company.

Later that night, the Silver Hotel buzzed with activity as TYC held a celebratory gathering attended by all staff members.

Just ten minutes before the event began, Caroline, Paige, and Kenny enjoyed desserts on the side.

Kenny observed Paige and questioned, "Why did you choose such a provocative outfit, Paige?"

Although introduced through Caroline, Paige and Kenny had become close friends over time.

Paige sniggered There are so many hot guys working in Caroline's company. I have no choice but to put in more effort in my dressing."

"Desperate to get married, huh?" Kenny teased.

Paige said in contempt, "Love is like a swamp, and I'm not foolish enough to step into it."

Paige suddenly noticed a figure that startled her until she sat upright. She glared at the hall entrance and shook Caroline, who sat next to her.

“D—Did you invite Mr. Jordan, Carol?”

Caroline, who was busy texting, looked up and followed Paige’s gaze. Her body tensed up abruptly at the sight of Alex and Evan walking into the hall.

“How did they get an invitation to come here? she wondered.

Caroline’s seat was not far from the entrance, so Alex and Evan noticed them easily.

Alex greeted, “Hey”

Caroline looked at them in puzzlement before her gaze landed on Evan’s cold face. He sent someone to investigate me, huh? He still hasn’t changed his annoying habit after all these years!

Caroline looked at Evan in displeasure and said, “Mr. Jordan, I don’t remember inviting you. May I inquire how you received the invitation?”

Evan sat down gracefully, then looked at Caroline with a smirk. “This has never been an issue to

Chapter 184 I’m Looking For G

Caroline could not refrain from trying to complain, yet Alex interrupted her.

Alex sat down and explained, “Evan is here to see someone, Caroline

Caroline was suspicious because the attendees were all ordinary staff members. How could there be someone important enough for Evan to visit in person?

Caroline smiled. "You're joking, Mr. Pierce. I believe no one here is worthy of Mr. Jordan's personal visit to my measly gathering

"Are you not, Ms. Shenton?" Alex asked Caroline with a smile.

Caroline refuted, "I'm not worthy

Evan's expression turned solemn, and he said bluntly. "I'm not here to see you. I'm looking for G."

Caroline was stunned by Evan's truthfulness

Kenny looked at Caroline and leaned close, whispering. "You're doomed. They are here for you!"

Caroline glared at Kenny in displeasure and warned him softly, "Stop whispering."

If Evan discovered more, it could cause problems. Since she was planning to give Scott a chance, she didn't want unnecessary connections with Evan.

Paige said, "Mr. Jordan, G is the leading fashion designer, so why would they show up in Caroline's company?"

Evan glanced at her, but Alex got to speak before him "Anything is possible, Ms. Watson."

Paige asked sarcastically, "What do you think is the likelihood of this?"

"90% chance," Alex replied.

Paige asked, "Where's the evidence?"

"The coinidents and booking number on the fashion website are the evidence, right?" Alex replied.

Paige quipped, "So, that made you conclude that G is acquainted with Carol?"

“I think so, yes.”

+15 BONUS

“Why didn’t you think that Carol is talented and capable of designing products that are on par with

G7”

“The probability of that will be a because their design concepts are different.”

“I shall say this back to you—anything is possible!”

Paige and Alex’s argument left the others speechless

Evan observed Caroline’s frustration and narrowed his eyes.

Paige and Alex suggested something significant: Caroline might either know G or actually be G!

Each designer had their own unique design concepts

Drawing inspiration from G’s distinctive design approach seemed impossible, even if one were to learn from G.

Evan tapped on the chair handle and pondered about how he could get Caroline to talk

A waiter walked over suddenly and asked Caroline, “Ms. Shenton, would you like this bottle of liquor?”

“Sure, pour everyone a glass.”

She wanted to use the liquor to distract Evan.

The waiter explained, “You have good taste, Ms. Shenton We have a promotion now. This bottle of liquor originally cost 27,000 dollars, but you can get it for 20,000 dollars now

Caroline was stunned. "How much is it again?"

The waiter said, "20,000 dollars."

She immediately dismissed it. "Forget it. I don't want it because I can't afford a 20,000-dollar bottle of liquor."

She needed to manage her money carefully. Her new company had just begun, and she had to cover both the costs of running it and taking care of her children.

Evan listened to her words and immediately dismissed the idea that Caroline was G

According to what was known, G was rumored to possess a net worth of billions. The rumor suggested that G's clothes were priced so low because money didn't concern them.

+15 BONUS

On the other hand, Caroline highly valued money. This made it unlikely that she and G were the same person

Kenny stood and picked up the bottle, briefly examining it. This is a special product from Turasia! The red wine is famous for its richness! Would you like to have it, Caroline? It's a gift from me to you!"

Caroline frowned. "Kenny, do you have an excess of money?"

Kenny replied, "I would spend as much as needed if you like it, but I won't get it if you're not interested."

Caroline shook her head. I don't want it. Please return it so they can sell it to others."

Evan observed their conversation and pulled out his phone to send an email to G

Chapter 185

Chapter 185 I Don't Think I'm Hiding

Meanwhile, the music at the venue came to a halt.

Amidst the silence, the email notification ringtone chimed

Evan's gaze fixed on Caroline and Kenny.

Shortly after, Kenny retrieved his phone, swiftly glancing at Evan when he noticed the incoming

email

Their eyes locked, and Kenny's expression turned visibly anxious. He quickly put the phone in his pocket, feigning nonchalance.

Evan sneered and concluded that Kenny was G

He won't agree to my higher offer, so it seems he's siding with Caroline. Why? Are you trying to prove your love only for Caroline despite the temptations? Evan pondered

Evan lifted his glass and downed his drink.

Observing the situation, Paige refilled Evan's glass, ensuring her best friend remained out of trouble.

In a playful tone, Paige instigated, "Drinking alone is no fun, Mr. Jordan. You should get Mr. Pierce to join you!”

She was about to pour a drink for Alex as she spoke.

Alex covered his glass swiftly. “Why don’t you drink with your employer then? Are you scared?”

Paige’s lips twitched. “I don’t deserve to drink with my employer in view of my status. You’re his friend. Why won’t you drink with him?”

“It seems that you’re sensible enough to know that Evan won’t drink with you. Hey, how about I drink with you then?” Alex was smiling in his eyes as he looked at Paige scornfully.

His gaze looked like a provocation to Paige!

Paige raised her voice and said, “Why are you looking at me like that?”

“I’m not. Just tell me if you’d dare to drink with me.”

+15 BONUS

Paige gnashed her teeth and braced herself.

“Sure! I’m going to get you drunk tonight!”

Caroline was rendered speechless. How did they end up drinking while in the middle of an argument?

With a soft sigh, Caroline picked up her glass and strolled to the hotel’s backyard. She preferred the calm there, away from the crowd.

Seated on a bench, she was ready to savor the moonlit night when a chilly sensation enveloped her.

Instinctively, she turned her head and saw Evan approaching.

She composed herself with great effort and was about to stand up when Evan said, "What are you hiding from?"

Caroline said, "I don't think I'm hiding."

Evan sat beside Caroline, crossed his long legs, and arrogantly said, "Don't you want to know how the children are?"

Caroline answered calmly, "Is there a point to ask? You're the one who decides if you want to tell, right?"

Evan sneered "How can you consider yourself a mother when you don't even ask about your children? What sets you apart from Daniella?"

As soon as Daniella's name came up, Caroline was filled with fury, her gaze locked onto Evan's face.

"Who are you to criticize me? Why make me bring up the past and argue? What sets me apart from Daniella?"

"If you hadn't doubted my behavior without reason before, I wouldn't be in this helpless situation

now. And how are you any different when you don't even know about Axel's condition?"

Evan's expression turned solemn.

The atmosphere was tense, and they stopped speaking.

+15 BONUS

After a long while, Evan suppressed his anger and asked, "Why must we quarrel when we speak?" Caroline sneered. "Haven't you noticed that you're the one forcing me to speak to you like this?"

Chapter 186

Chapter 186 Won't Show Weakness

There was no way to tell how Evan felt from his expression.

"I'm just here to ask you a question. What's your relationship with G?"

Caroline was rendered speechless, thinking. What do you mean what's my relationship with G? What relationship can I have with myself? Has Evan mistakenly assumed that G is someone else?"

Caroline said. "I'm not obligated to answer your question"

Evan looked at her scornfully. "G is wildly conceited with limited perspective. Even if he is extraordinarily talented in some ways, he won't go far."

"Why do you have to speculate a designer's progress from your businessman's perspective?" Caroline was amused. He regarded her as having limited perspective just because she refused to work for him.

Will I only be able to grow my influence by relying on MK? she wondered sarcastically.

She had never relied on him for the past five years, yet she still achieved her dream of becoming at top-notch designer.

Evan casually twirled his wine and remarked, "Unless he's content with designing without making a profit, he's bound to attract envy. In the near future, he'll likely face attempts to undermine his efforts.

“Let me be direct here. Without strong support, he’ll eventually be overwhelmed by rival merchants. You were my secretary for quite a while, so do I need to remind you about the cutthroat business world?”

Caroline couldn’t find fault with Evan’s observation.

The truth was evident. A company, especially a fledgling one, could find itself in serious trouble if it drew the attention of envious individuals resorting to malicious tactics.

Building influence alone wouldn’t be a simple task.

Caroline calmed herself and took a sip of wine. “Thank you for your kind reminder. I’ll stay alert.”

“There are things that are impossible to guard against.” Evan said. “My advice to you is to stay away from G. He is not someone you can control or protect with your capability

+15 BONUS

“Do you think that G is Kenny?” Caroline asked mockingly.

“I’ll hold on to my guess.” Evan met Caroline’s eyes and said, “There’s something else.”

Caroline said, “What is it?”

Evan stared at Caroline and said, “Are Tyler and Liora my children?”

Caroline smirked. “The children are with you. Is my answer stall necessary?”

After saying that, Caroline stood up and circled past Evan to return to the banquet hall.

The more desperate he wanted to hear it from her, the more she refused to disclose it to him

Evan's expression turned cold. He pulled out his phone to call Reuben and said, "Get two sets of paternity tests tomorrow."

you

Caroline found Paige drinking in the banquet hall and said, 'How much more are you going to drink?"

Paige waved her hand and stumbled for a few steps "Don't mind me, Carol. Go and attend to your tasks Even if I end up in a hospital tonight from drinking, I won't show weakness to Pierce."

Caroline found her secretary and ordered her to send Paige home after the celebratory gathering had ended.

On the other hand, Caroline left the hotel and drove to the clothing factory.

She remembered Evan's words and understood she would need to be meticulous in every step of the clothing production, including quality control.

The following day, a piercing scream jolted the man resting in the hotel's presidential suite.

As Alex awakened, a sudden kick struck his buttocks.

He tumbled off the bed involuntarily.

Simultaneously, he experienced acute pain accompanied by the sound of a sharp scream.

"Pierce, you bastard! What did you do to me?"

Chapter 187 Do You Want Him to Know?

+15 BONUS

Alex sat up and noticed Paige wrapping herself in a blanket while their clothes were scattered on the floor. He suddenly realized he had slept with Paige the previous night.

“I’m talking to you!” Paige shouted when Alex didn’t respond.

Rubbing his buttocks, Alex stood up. Paige’s eyes widened in shock as she noticed something “You...” Paige glared at Alex. “Are you an exhibitionist? Have you no sense of shame?”

Alex’s expression was calm. He picked up his clothes and dressed slowly while saying, “Why are you still feigning your innocence after you’ve used it?”

Paige gnashed her teeth in rage. “Do you think that everyone is like you? It’s my first time!”

Paige got out of bed swiftly and dressed before running out of the room.

Alex sighed when he heard the door slam. He would never intentionally sleep with a virgin, so how could that have happened accidentally?

After putting on his shirt, he flicked on the light. Immediately, his eyes caught a few dried bloodstains on the bed sheet.

His body froze, and he stared at the door in disbelief.

“She’s a virgin... for real?”

When Evan left the company in the afternoon, he immediately spotted Alex’s parked car and saw Alex sitting lost in thought through the partially open window.

Evan walked up to the car, opened the door, and got in, but even this didn’t snap Alex out of his state.

Concerned, Evan furrowed his brow and called out, "Alex?"

Alex turned his head slowly at the sound of Evan's voice.

With trembling lips, he hoarsely whispered, "Evan, your employee is..."

Evan was taken aback, his frown deepening. "Did you sleep with Paige?"

+15 BONUS

Alex swallowed his saliva. "Yes."

Evan understood Alex quite well. He was someone who had many partners, yet he had a principle against being with virgins.

If, by chance, he ended up with a virgin, he would take responsibility for his actions.

Knowing that Paige was Caroline's closest friend, Evan realized that if Caroline found out about this situation, he might be pulled into it.

With this in mind, he opened the door and warned before stepping out of the car, "Be responsible and keep me out of this!"

He shut the door firmly, putting some distance between himself and Alex.

Alex sat in the car, dumbfounded.

Caroline was eating in a restaurant near TYC under Scott's close monitor.

Caroline said, "You don't have to travel so far just to supervise me. I'll eat once I'm done working."

Scott smiled. "You may deceive others but not me. You used to say that when you were in Ylesir. Then, what happened?"

She had gotten a stomach condition.

Caroline relented. "Alright, I'll eat."

Scott poured Caroline a glass of water, feeling pleased.

Caroline said, "Scott, Evan came to the celebratory gathering last night."

Scott's grip tightened, but he said gently, "Noted, but you don't have to report this to me."

Caroline shook her head. "Since I've already made my choice, I shouldn't hide anything from you. On the other hand, he seemed uncertain whether Ty and Lia are his children"

Scott's gaze dimmed as he placed the glass of water before Caroline. "Do you want him to know?"

"I won't tell, but I won't stop him from investigating this, either." Caroline said, "After all, the children are safe with him currently* novelbin

Scott nodded.

Caroline gazed at Scott's kind face, unsure of his reaction. She thought no man would like to hear his partner discuss another man.

Chapter 188 Don't Make Things Difficult for Me

Reuben walked into Evan's office and reported, "Mr. Jordan, the businessman from Flortine is coming to Angelbay tonight Would you like to meet him?"

Evan looked up and asked, "What brings him to Angelbay?"

"He claimed that he is coming to consult an outstanding surgeon from Angelbay Hospital to treat his son's tumor."

"Look into the doctor that he wants to consult."

"Yes, sir."

Reuben was getting ready to leave when Evan asked, "Any news on the paternity test?"

"I've already arranged for someone to speed up the test results. You should have them in three days, Reuben replied.

"Noted. You may leave." Evan looked at the computer screen once again.

At the same time, his phone rang. An email response from G appeared, so Evan opened his email

inbox

G: [Please consider looking at other candidates, as my abilities are limited.]

Evan sneered

Evan: (If I understand correctly, you decided not to join MK because you've opted to join someone else, correct?

While assisting Caroline with the email reply, Kenny contemplated the response

Some time ago, Caroline had assigned him the task of rejecting multiple offers from MK. This matter had frightened him the previous night.

In Kenny's presence, Evan had sent an email and observed as Kenny quickly checked his phone for the email

Fortunately, Kenny had sent a response the previous night. Otherwise, Caroline's identity as G might have been exposed.

Suddenly, an idea struck Kenny, and he comprehended Evan's intention!

+15 BONUS

It was clear that Evan assumed Kenny was G!

Kenny couldn't contain his smile and swiftly replied with delight

G: [Now that you've figured it out, please don't complicate things for me, alright?

Evan scoffed upon reading the email. 'So, he's not concealing his identity anymore, huh?'

Evan: [Seems like you have strong feelings for your partner!!

G: [Absolutely! I swear to God! I'd risk my life for my partner!!

Evan was so furious that he nearly crushed his phone!

'Risking your life, huh? Are you trying to pursue Caroline? No one else is allowed to desire the mother of my children! he thought.

Kenny had an idea when he saw Evan's lack of response. He thought he should go all out since he already put in effort to act convincingly,

Since Caroline didn't want to be involved with Evan, he decided to help her upset the unfaithful man

Kenny pulled out his phone and called Caroline. As soon as she answered, he acted distressed and cried, "Caroline, help me!"

Caroline was surprised. "What's wrong?"

"My landlord is evicting me. Can I stay in your villa for a while?"

Kenny almost frightened her. She sounded a bit annoyed. "I thought something serious happened. Don't scare me like that again. I'll arrange help for you. You can move in tonight."

Kenny was thrilled. "Thanks a lot, boss!"

Caroline headed straight back to Bayview Villa after work to help Kenny with the move.

Kenny hurried over as soon as she walked in. "Hey, where are the kids, G7

Caroline replied, "They're at Evan's. Complicated story. Let's move your stuff now, and we'll chat later."

Noticing Caroline's reluctance, Kenny didn't pry.

After they finished unpacking, Caroline ordered some food delivery.

Ten minutes later, a knock sounded at the door.

Caroline moved to answer, but Kenny intervened. "I'll handle it."

He jogged to the foyer, opening the door to reveal the man. It was just as he had planned!

Evan's expression turned solemn when he saw Kenny. "Why are you-

"Uncle Kenny!"

Liora stuck out her head from behind Evan before he could speak

Kenny's eyes lit up, and he stretched out his hands to pick up Liora "Lia!! missed you so much! Where did you and Ty go? I have good news for you. We will be living together and get to see each other every day!"

Kenny's remark sounded harsh to Evan.

"What do you mean by living together soon? Are you moving in with Caroline? Is Caroline letting G move in with her just because he helped her? Evan thought Upon hearing the children, Caroline quickly stood up. She hurried to the foyer and was surprised to see the three kids accompanied by Evan, who was dressed in a black trench coat.

Why did he suddenly come over with the children?

A moment later, Caroline recovered from her surprise and said, "What brings you here?"

Tyler wore a meaningful smile. "Are you going to provide us with an explanation, Mommy?"

"Explanation? What explanation?" Caroline was puzzled.

Tyler entered the house and pointed at Kenny with his chin "Uncle Kenny mentioned that he would be living with us earlier."

Caroline chuckled. "Ah. Uncle Kenny-"

"Oh, Carol" Kenny suddenly interrupted Caroline and cast a look at her. "Let's not discuss this topic in the presence of an outsider, shall we?"

Evan was rendered speechless when he was regarded as an outsider.

Caroline glanced at Evan and figured that Kenny refused to disclose his personal matter due to pride, so she nodded. She caressed Tyler's head and said, "That's right. Uncle Kenny will be living here."

Liora cocked her head. "Is Uncle Kenny going to be your boyfriend, Mommy?"

Caroline was dumbfounded. "How-"

"Lia! Do you have any objections? Do you think that I'm not worthy of being your mother's boyfriend?" Kenny asked.

'Has Kenny lost his mind tonight? Caroline wondered Caroline frowned due to Evan's insinuation and stared at him. "My personal affairs are none of your business, Mr. Jordan."

Evan sneered "Shouldn't you set a good example as a mother?"

"I haven't brought any negative influence to my children's upbringing," Caroline refuted.

"No? According to my knowledge, Tyler and Liora are already aware of the two men close to you."

Caroline said, "I'm single. My regular social interactions shouldn't be a problem."

Kenny chimed in. "I don't think there's any issue. Caroline can have tens and hundreds of men close to her as long as she is happy, and I'll be fine."

Caroline understood Kenny was standing up for her, but why did he sound so erratic tonight?

Chapter 190 Please give me another chance

"Kenny, take the children to play in the living room," Caroline said.

Kenny was about to nod when he saw the tiny figure behind Evan "Who's that?" Kenny asked.

Caroline followed Kenny's gaze and spotted Axel standing quietly behind Evan. Axel's head was slightly peeking out.

Caroline quickly stepped forward and said, "Axel?"

Axel obediently took a step closer, responding with a soft "Hmm."

Feeling a sense of compassion, Caroline gently lifted Axel. "Come along with me."

She then looked at Evan, saying. "My house isn't big, but you're welcome to come in."

Evan walked confidently into the villa and headed straight for Kenny. His cold, hostile eyes sent shivers down Kenny's spine.

Nervously, Kenny held Liora while gripping Tyler's hand, all behind Evan Evan sat on the sofa, scanned the surroundings, and asked, "Is Ms. Smith here?"

Setting Axel down, Caroline replied, "Ms. Smith is at the hospital."

Evan's brow furrowed. "Hospital?"

"Yes." Caroline nodded sadly. "She was badly hurt during the children's abduction. She's now in a vegetative state."

Evan's expression tightened. "Why didn't you tell me?"

Caroline met his gaze. "What would be the use? Even Scott can't do anything to help her. So, what purpose would telling you serve?"

Evan pulled out his phone and sent Reuben a text. [Retrieve Ms. Smith's medical record and transfer her to Grand East Hospital as soon as possible]

Evan stood up after putting away his phone. "I'll leave the children to you, and I'll be back to pick them up tomorrow."

He left without waiting for Caroline's response,

Kenny looked at Caroline in puzzlement after the door was shut. "He asked a question, and then he's gone? Where did he go?"

Caroline looked at the departing car and muttered, "I don't know"

The next morning, Caroline sent the three children to the kindergarten.

She joined Kenny for an inspection at the factory afterward and returned to the company after confirming everything was fine.

Anne knocked and entered her office “Ms. Shenton.”

Caroline said while removing her jacket, “Go ahead”

Anne mumbled, ‘Ms. Shenton, I didn’t manage to complete the task you assigned me the other day. Ms. Watson and Mr. Pierce were gone when I got out of the restroom.”

Caroline walked to the office table and said, “Why are you only telling me now?”

Anne was avoidant. L. I forgot.”

Caroline looked at her coldly. “Anne, it’s important to understand your duties as a secretary.

Whenever your superior assigns you a task, you must report on it immediately, no matter how serious it is. I’m unsure if your behavior might cause issues in the future. Therefore, please go to the finance department to collect your three months’ salary and then resign from your position

Anne’s eyes widened in shock, and she vigorously shook her head. “No, please. Give me another chance, Ms. Shenton!”

Caroline responded. “I’m not being unfair, but how you handle tasks can impact the company. Since the company is in its initial phase, I need all my team members to be extremely careful.”

With teary eyes, Anne asked, “Are you really letting me go, Ms. Shenton?”

“If you can adjust your approach positively and handle things more effectively, you can return after showing improvement. I wish you the best.”

Anne's head drooped in disappointment, and she murmured, I understand, Ms. Shenton. I appreciate everything you've taught me during this time."

Caroline grew uneasy watching Anne depart. She once believed Evan was too strict with his team, but now, she understood managing was challenging.

Being too easy on her subordinates could breed laziness, yet they might hesitate to speak up due novelbin
