Chapter 211

Chapter 211 Is It Useful

Caroline put down the design sketch and looked up. "Investment firm?"

Naomi said, "Yes. He is probably here to discuss a collaboration because he is optimistic about our company's prospects."

Caroline smiled at Naomi. "You think so?"

Naomi said in all seriousness, "I think that you may choose not to engage. We have enough funding from the presale revenue to initiate the next batch of clothing production and establish the storefront. Since we have a strong cash flow, why should we share it with others?"

Caroline asked, "I shall ask you in a different way then. Do you think money or connections will grant you a firm position in Angelbay?"

Naomi kept quiet for a moment. "There is no lack of wealthy people in Angelbay."

Caroline said, "Hence, we can only progress further with connections. Here, look into the firm owner and the firm's track record. We can take our time to meet them"

Naomi nodded 'Thank you for the guidance, Ms. Shenton. I'll get to it right away."

In the MK parking lot, Alex was about to leave his parked car when another car hit the back of his vehicle.

He glanced over and saw a familiar figure hastily stepping out of a red Mercedes Benz.

Because the person was wearing sunglasses, Alex couldn't immediately identify them.

As he exited his car, the woman walked toward him in high heels and took off her sunglasses.

When Alex looked up and their eyes met, he was left completely astonished. "It's you?" they said in unison.

Paige glared at Alex in contempt. "You scumbag! Tell me, how would you like me to compensate for this?"

Alex's lips twitched. "How am I the scumbag when you're the one who left after sleeping with me the other day?"

"I'm the one who left?" Paige was furious. "Was I supposed to stay and cuddle with you if I didn't leave?"

Alex scrutinized her and pondered for a short while. "That's not a bad idea either..."

"You scoundrel! Pervert! Scumbag!" Paige berated Alex for being shameless.

She took out her phone to call her insurance company, She didn't want to deal with this accident privately with Alex anymore. It was making her feel really disgusted!!

It was her first time, and the damned man did not even say a word!

Paige thought about it, and her eyes reddened with tears.

Alex realized her mood was off and suspected she might be upset about losing her virginity. This issue bothered him for a while. He had wanted to meet her but didn't know how to apologize.

Alex said after Paige got off the call, "Paige Watson

"Why do you address me by my full name?" Paige said unpleasantly.

"I'm sorry that I didn't know you. Alex appeared slightly embarrassed as he rubbed his nose.

Paige pursed her lips. "Do you think that the apology is useful now?"

Alex appeared troubled and at a loss for words.

"Shut up if you don't know how to speak!"

"No... I'm just not ready yet," Alex explained

Paige was stunned. "What do you mean by 'not ready yet'?"

Alex said in all seriousness, "I will take responsibility for this matter, but can you give me some time?"

Paige sneered. "You're taking responsibility for me? I wouldn't dare to let someone like you be in charge! Birds of a feather flock together. Who knows if you're going to be a philanderer like my boss!

"I'll just regard it as if a dog has bitten me. I won't entrust my prime years to you because of this!"

Alex frowned. "Evan is not that kind of person. You've misunderstood."

"No? He paid no attention to Carol and instead flirted with Daniella, even though Carol had feelings for him. Don't tell me you're unaware of this unless you're too blind to see!"

"Why do you have to speak so harshly? Don't say these hurtful words without understanding the situation. I know Evan's personality well, and I've never seen him so devoted. How could he possibly do something like this had Daniella not deceived him?"

"He did it anyway, right? Men like you love making up excuses," Paige said in contempt.

Alex realized his explanation was futile. He took a deep breath and said, "I'm fickle, but I have my limits too, Paige. If you don't mind, please give me time. I will take responsibility for you."

"Am I supposed to thank you?" Paige rolled her eyes.

"You need time to take responsibility, huh? I couldn't care less about your insincere trick!" she thought...

Alex was rendered speechless by the ineffective communication.

After dealing with the car, Alex went upstairs to meet Evan. As he reached the office entrance, he immediately heard an angry voice. "What kind of bullshit is this? Get out of here if you can't do this!"

"Yes, sir. I will work on it right now, Mr. Jordan!"

The planning department employee ran out of the office in a panic and left after greeting Alex.

Alex glanced at the disordered office and playfully asked, "Who got you all riled up, Mr. Jordan?"

Evan looked at Alex and said coldly, "What brought you here?"

Alex asked back, "Why are you venting your anger at me, too?"

Even sat down and said in a rigid tone, "You seem to have a lot of free time."

"It's okay. However, what's going on with you?" Alex picked up the folder on the floor and put it on Evan's desk.

Evan lit a cigarette and took a puff but did not utter a word.

Alex asked, "Is it because of your mother?"

"You seem to have a lot of questions," Evan retorted.

Alex smiled. "I'm just showing my concern for you. Tell me if something is keep it bottled up inside?"

Evan's gaze turned gloomy. "She had children with another man." bothering you. Why

Alex realized that Evan was displeased by Caroline's matters again. No smoke again other than Caroline

Alex asked, "How do you know she had children with another man?"

"The DNA test report of the two children," Evan replied.

"Ah..." Alex said nonchalantly.

Evan frowned. "Is there nothing more to add?"

Alex shrugged. "Don't need to! You allowed Ms. Love to move in with you, yet you won't allow Caroline to have children with another man?"

"Nothing happened between Daniella and me!" Evan snarled

"However, is Caroline aware of that?" Alex asked.

Evan kept quiet

Alex lounged on the sofa, looking relaxed. "Hey Evan, ever come across loving someone wholeheartedly? If you truly love her, learn to embrace all of her."

"If you were in my shoes, would you be so rational?"

"No, but I will follow my heart. I think that you should question yourself whether you love the Caroline who saved you or the current Caroline,” Alex answered.

I can't discuss this issue now.” Evan refused to answer.

Alex raised an eyebrow. “If that is the case, move on as long as you don't regret this.”

Evan squinted. How could he move on after looking for her for so long? He couldn't accept her having kids with another man or her talking about their children vaguely with him.

Caroline got a call from Paige at 4:00 p.m. right after a meeting. She answered, “Hello, Paige.”

“Carol, quickly check the news! Find out if that's Ty and Lia's school!” Paige urged with worry Caroline was surprised and immediately switched on the news, setting aside her phone.

The headline ‘School Bus from Angelbay Kindergarten in Accident, Children's Safety Unknown’ appeared on the screen.

When Caroline saw the condition of the school bus, her knees gave way. She was sure it was the bus her kids were on. Her kids....

Noticing Caroline's condition, Naomi hastily helped her to stand. “What happened, Ms. Shenton?”

Caroline was suddenly brought back to reality and quickly headed to the elevator, regaining her balance.

Naomi was completely stunned.

After ending the call, Paige became anxious. She grabbed her bag and rushed out of the office. She ended up sharing the elevator with Evan and Alex Observing Paige's expression, Alex asked with confusion, "Is everything okay? Are you feeling unwell?"

Paige trembled, stepped into the elevator, and spoke to Evan 'Mr. Jordan, there's been an accident. involving the kindergarten school bus. Caroline has gone there in a hurry, and I'm concerned about her driving safely, given her distracted state.

Evan's face turned pale. "Could you repeat that?"

Alex furrowed his brow in concern and quickly checked the news on his phone. Moments later, he handed his phone to Evan.

Evan's eyes went bloodshot as he witnessed the damaged school bus. His intense presence. seemed to chill the entire elevator. As soon as the elevator stopped, Evan swiftly exited with Alex and Paige right behind him.

Ten minutes later, Caroline reached the location, her ears catching the sound of an endless ambulance siren.

The teachers had already guided the children to a safe area, and parents were slowly arriving.

They left promptly after reuniting with their children.

Caroline scanned the crowd for a long time but couldn't locate her three kids. Her worry grew by the minute—she was really concerned about her children.

“Tyler’s mom?” Suddenly, a voice called out.

Caroline turned around and saw the teacher standing there, looking anxious. The teacher had Axel and Liora by their hands.

Caroline rushed over to the two kids without hesitation. After checking that Axel and Liora were unhurt, she hugged them tightly.

“It’s great that you’re fine...” Caroline said shakily.

Liora bawled and said, “Mommy, I can’t find Tyler

Axel’s expression was tense. “I’m sorry, Mommy.”

Caroline was stunned. She loosened her grip slowly and heard an intense buzzing sound in her ears

“What?” Caroline’s mind went blank. “What do you mean you can’t find him?”

Alice explained, “Here’s what happened, Ms. Shenton. Tyler wasn’t hurt and left the bus with us. He was right there with us 15 minutes ago, but when I checked on all the kids, he wasn’t there anymore. We’ve already got the school security and staff searching for him, but we haven’t found.

him yet.”

“Seriously? With all these teachers and childcare workers around, you couldn’t even keep an eye on one child?”

Alice seemed panic-stricken. “I apologize. Everything was so chaotic then, but we’re committed to finding Tyler!”

“Does it even matter to mention that now?” Caroline roared.

Chapter 214

Chapter 214 Hope Was Shattered

“Carol!” Paige called out.

Caroline gazed at Paige with trembling eyes. Alex and Evan hurried over together.

Evan approached solemnly, his relief evident as he saw Axel unhurt. His gaze shifted to Liora, but Tyler was nowhere in sight.

Caroline turned to Alice and asked, “Did anyone check the nearby surveillance cameras?”

“We’ve had someone look into that,” Alice replied.

Caroline propped up her forehead, and tears welled in her eyes. “Why are all the children still here except Tyler?”

“Please try to stay calm, Ms. Shenton. It’s possible that Tyler is playing somewhere and will return.

on his own soon.”

“My son isn’t the type to do that! He doesn’t wander alone!” Caroline’s voice trembled.

Noticing Caroline’s distress, Liora hugged her mother, tears streaming down her face. “Mommy. Please, don’t be like this. I’m scared, Mommy.

Axel tightly clenched his fists, his expression showing guilt. He knew he was also responsible for not keeping an eye on Tyler.

Paige understood the situation and stepped forward, reaching out to Caroline. "Carol, let's contact the police first, okay?"

Police...

Caroline gathered her thoughts, recalling something. She turned to Axel, her voice shaky. "Axel, can you track Ty?"

Axel looked sympathetically at Caroline. "He didn't have any electronic devices with him today."

Plus, he was still learning tracking techniques from Tyler.

Caroline fell silent, her hope dwindling.

Paige held Liora and exchanged worried glances with Caroline before looking at Evan, who remained distant.

"Mr. Jordan, please help," Paige pleaded. novelbin

Evan picked up Axel in preparation to leave as if he were oblivious.

Caroline's phone rang abruptly, making her body jolt. She quickly retrieved it, answering the call

"Are you looking for your son?" Wayne's ghastly laughter echoed.

Caroline's face turned pale. "Did you kidnap my son?"

"Yes! Do you want your son back? Wayne laughed maniacally.

"Where are you now?" Caroline stood up abruptly and looked around.

"Do you have money right now? I'll give you the address, but you must bring one million dollars. Don't involve the police or your son will be harmed Because of your trick, I'm already being pursued. If I can't survive, neither will your son!"

“Sure! Just don’t hurt my son. I’ll bring the money now,” Caroline agreed to Wayne’s demands.

“So, you were pretending to gather money before, huh? Now the price has gone up to two million dollars!” Wayne remarked.

“Two million dollars it is! Give me the address, Caroline agreed again.

“Sure. Meet me at Harbor Bay.” Wayne replied before hanging up abruptly.

Caroline put away her phone and turned to Paige. Take care of Liora, Paige. I need to find Ty!”

“No! I’m coming too! I can look after Liora while we’re at it!” Paige said anxiously.

Caroline was too troubled to argue, so she nodded and headed toward the car.

Alex glanced at Evan. “Aren’t you going with them, Evan?”

Evan sneered “Why would I? He’s not my child.”

“Daddy, please help,” Axel pleaded.

Evan coldly rejected, “No.”

“Axel, if your father won’t help out and something bad happens, Caroline won’t care about him.

anymore.”

Evan glared at Alex, but the latter shrugged. T’m telling the truth.”

Evan gritted his teeth, concerned about Caroline's condition. After a brief moment of thought, he novelbin swiftly scooped up Axel and hurried to the location.

Alex followed closely behind

Twenty minutes later, Caroline received Wayne's call just as she stepped out of her car at the harbor. "What's happening? Why did you bring so many people here?"

Caroline was taken aback. "I'm alone. What are you talking about?"

"Then explain the two black cars that just pulled in," Wayne demanded

Caroline turned and saw Evan and Alex's cars. Why are they following me? she wondered.

Caroline clarified, "That's the child's father, not the police!"

"Fine, or else I'll start cutting the rope, Wayne threatened.

"Rope?"

Caroline quickly looked up. She spotted a small figure swaying in the wind, tied to the tallest crane at the harbor. It dangled several tens of meters above the solid ground below!

Fear gripped Caroline's knees, and she collapsed to the ground, covered in a cold sweat

"W-Wayne, please let my son go! I beg you!" Caroline's voice quivered uncontrollably.

Paige looked ahead after she got out of the car and screamed, "Ty! Ty is up there!"

Paige could not imagine how scared Tyler was when an ordinary adult would be terrified to be up there!

Liora cried loudly after seeing Tyler.

Wayne said sternly in the call, "Prepare everything that I've asked for if you want me to release your son!"

"I'll give it all to you! Where should I stop my car? How do I wire you two million dollars?"

"Do you see the building under the crane? Bring the car over and put the car key in the building!"

"Sure!"

Caroline clumsily stood up and was about to rush towards the car when a strong grip grabbed her

"Think he'll free Tyler if you go? Who knows? He might take you too." Evan's tone was firm.

"Should I just stand idly by while Ty is left hanging high above?" Caroline retorted.

Evan's expression turned serious. "Does getting anxious really help?"

"I don't care if it helps! Evan, let go of me, please!"

"I can't just watch you walk into danger!" Evan's tone was icy.

Caroline couldn't hold back her tears. "Then what should I do? Ty needs to be rescued, and if you don't do it, then I will!"

Evan's gaze narrowed. "Why should I keep saving your child?"

"What do you mean 'your child'?" He's your son, too!" Caroline's glare was intense.

At that critical moment, she wanted to be honest. She wanted her child to be safe and alive. She was willing to do whatever it took to ensure his safety, even if it meant losing custody.

For a fleeting moment, Evan believed Tyler might be his son due to Caroline's performance. Yet, the memory of the DNA report shattered that belief.

He indifferently said, "Do you truly expect me to believe you?"

Chapter 216

Chapter 216 Enlightened

Caroline was stunned. "What do you mean? Do you think I'm deceiving you?"

"Or else?" Evan asked

Caroline struggled free from Evan's grip abruptly. She appeared deeply disappointed and said coldly. "Evan! Remember what you said today! You will regret your words and actions today one day!"

Upon saying that, she got into the car and drove to the low-rise building.

Paige looked at her solemn-looking employer in contempt as she carried the crying Liora. "Mr. Jordan, you've broken Carol's heart this time and enlightened me."

She turned around and watched Caroline's car closely.

Alex heaved a sigh, approached, and said, "Evan, it didn't seem like she was acting earlier.

Evan's cold expression fixated on the small figure suspended in the air. He tutted and remarked, "I don't think the things I've verified would be fake."

Caroline left the car key on the table inside the low-rise building. She then transferred two million dollars to Wayne's account.

After finishing these tasks, Caroline hurriedly called Wayne.

"I received the money. Clear out from here. I'm leaving first!" Wayne instructed Concerned, Caroline asked, "And my son?"

"Save him once I'm gone," Wayne replied, his tone annoyed.

Caroline couldn't bring herself to say more. She turned, following Wayne's instructions, and left the building.

A few minutes later, she saw Wayne entering it..

Later, he emerged from the building, ready to leave. He opened the car door.

As Wayne prepared to get into the car, Caroline's heart raced as the sound of police sirens reached her ears

Fear surged through Caroline. The police are here? Wayne...

"How dare you fuck with me, you bitch! Since you won't cooperate, claim your son's corpse then!"

He pulled out a remote control from his pocket.

Caroline had an ominous feeling. Her eyes widened in shock as she screamed, "Don't! Wayne! Don't

"Ty!"

"Tyler!"

Paige and Liora's screams in the distance interrupted Caroline.

Caroline looked at the tiny figure falling at full speed, and her pupils constricted in shock.

"No! Don't!"

The tiny figure crashed heavily to the ground, splattering blood everywhere.

Caroline's ears hummed loudly in shock, rendering her unable to hear anything.

"No... It can't... novelbin

Looking at the blood, Caroline felt as if energy was drained from her body, and she dropped to her knees

"This isn't how it's supposed to be Caroline muttered, her gaze blank.

She crawled forward until she spotted Tyler. He was lying in an odd position in a pool of blood, still dressed in his clothes from this morning.

Caroline fainted.

"Mommy, why do you walk so slowly?"

A childish yet familiar voice echoed in the darkness..

Caroline looked for the source of the voice and found Tyler looking at her, carrying his backpack.

"What are you looking at, Mommy? Let's go. Axel and Liora are waiting for me."

Tyler's urging sounded very real.

Caroline took a long time to recover from her surprise and looked at her son incredulously. "Ty?" Tyler cocked his head in puzzlement. "What's going on with you, Mommy?"

Chapter 217

Chapter 217 Where Are You Going

Caroline burst into tears instantly. “Ty, is that you?”

She couldn’t believe her son was standing before her, safe and sound. She remembered him falling from up high....

Tyler appeared frustrated. “Mommy, what are you talking about? Who else can it be if not me?”

Caroline wiped away her tears after receiving an assuring response. “Nothing, Ty. I was just blabbering. I’m coming.”

“Come, Mommy.”

Caroline nodded and walked toward Tyler.

After walking for a while, she realized she could not reach Tyler’s side!

Caroline looked up in terror. “Ty

“You’re slow, Mommy. Walk faster.”

Caroline took a deep breath and ran toward Tyler.

The further she ran, the further Tyler was.

“Mommy “Tyler’s dark eyes were filled with disappointment. “Mommy, why aren’t you here yet?”

“I’m coming!” Caroline answered. “Don’t move. Wait for me.”

Tyler’s voice grew softer, and his tiny figure disappeared suddenly.

“Ty?

Caroline sat upright from the bed in the hospital, screaming, “Ty!”

She breathed heavily, her face a ghastly pale, and her body trembled.

Her scream awakened Paige, who was sleeping on the sofa..

Paige hurriedly came over. "Are you awake, Carol? Did you have a bad dream?"

Caroline gradually regained her composure. She looked up at Paige, her movements stiff.

"Paige..."

As soon as she spoke, the memory of Tyler's tragic death flooded into her mind. Fear widened her eyes, and she swiftly grasped Paige's arm. "Where's Ty? Is he okay?"

+15 BONUS

Paige reassured her, saying. "Take a deep breath and listen to me first, alright?"

Caroline was filled with panic. "Is Ty dead?"

Her eyes were red, and she couldn't be comforted. "Tell me! Is Ty dead?"

"Please, Carol, don't think like this. Ty is alive!" Paige explained.

"You're lying to me, right? I saw Ty! He was lying in a pool of blood!"

"Carol, that was fake! Wayne faked it on purpose. Calm yourself down, and I'll take you to see Ty. okay?"

Caroline was stunned. "No! Paige is lying! I couldn't have seen it wrongly!"

Caroline pushed away the blanket. "Take me to see the child if you claim he is still alive! Take me to see him!"

She got out of bed and walked out of the room barefooted

Paige caught up in haste. "Slow down, Carol!"

As Caroline stepped outside, a tall figure appeared. When she looked up, she saw Evan gazing at her seriously. novelbin

His stern expression reminded Caroline of his harsh remark. She frowned and said coldly, "Leave me alone!"

Evan stood at the entrance, unmoving, and asked, "Where are you headed?"

"I'm going to see Ty!"

"I'll let you see him if you get back on the bed and be good."

Caroline glared at him. "Who do you think you are to order me around? I'm going to see my son. Go away!"

Evan squinted, then lifted Caroline into his arms and headed directly for the bed.

Caroline shrieked and fought wildly, yelling. "Release me, Evan! Let me go!"

She repeatedly punched Evan

Keeping his anger in check, Evan forcefully laid Caroline on the bed and asked, "Do you understand the danger you're putting yourself in? Do you even know what is going on with your body?"

Chapter 218

Chapter 218 Merciless and Refused to Help

"It's none of your business! Evan, why are you stopping me from seeing my son! I won't forgive you for the rest of my life if Ty is gone! It was you who did nothing! You were merciless and refused to help!" Caroline shouted.

Paige stepped forward to explain after noticing Evan's displeased expression. 'Calm down, Carline. I'll show you Ty, okay?'

She pulled out her phone and made a video call to Alex swiftly.

It did not take long before Alex picked up the call, and his face appeared on the screen

"What is it?" Alex's voice echoed.

Paige said, "Turn the camera to Ty and let Carol... Huh?"

Caroline grabbed the phone before Paige could complete her sentence. She stared at the screen closely. Tears welled up in her eyes as she saw Alex's camera focused on Tyler, lying quietly on the bed.

Ty is still alive... she thought.

He had no bandage or catheter; only an IV was on the back of his hand.

She cried, asking, "What's wrong with him?"

"He received a strong dose of anesthesia, so he's still unconscious," Paige explained with a sigh.

Caroline felt calmer. She slowly lowered the phone and inquired, "Who fell then?"

"It was a doll filled with sand, dressed like Ty, and the liquid was just chicken blood," Paige clarified.

She had been terrified at that moment, too. The truth hit her when she reached the scene and found the doll.

She had to admit that Evan was sharp for realizing Tyler wasn't really tied up there.

Thus, he had prevented Caroline from falling into the trap. He had also arranged for the police to come in the same way.

Evan was certain Wayne wouldn't commit murder after discovering Wayne cherished his son, his only family.

After learning that, Evan executed his plan and had the police apprehend Wayne as he tried to escape.

However, he hadn't anticipated Tyler's fake death affecting Caroline so deeply that she would lose consciousness.

Witnessing Evan's sudden loss of control and his swift dash to lift Carol astonished Paige.

Because of this, Paige made a significant effort to change her opinion of Evan.

Caroline shut her eyes in exhaustion and said hoarsely, "I'm sorry for being too agitated earlier."

She said that to apologize to Evan

Caroline had always been clear about right or wrong. She would apologize if she was wrong, even if she was displeased by Evan's earlier behavior

Paige caressed Caroline's back. The matter has already passed, Carol. Take care of yourself. Then you can take care of Ty.”

Caroline massaged her temples. “I’m fine.”

Evan sneered, “Is it fine being anemic and ridden with chronic gastritis?”

Caroline snapped, “Those are not severe issues. Stop making a big fuss out of nothing.”

“It is a severe issue! The doctor said that you will be in big trouble if you don’t manage your gastritis.” 1

Caroline was rendered speechless

Paige did not comment further when Caroline kept quiet novelbin

Chapter 219 Filthy

After a while, Caroline couldn’t help but ask, “Why do you keep staring at me?”

Evan sat gracefully in a chair, crossing his legs. “Let’s talk about us.

Caroline evaded the topic. “There’s nothing between us to discuss.”

“Really? Then explain why you warned me that I’d regret it,” Evan asked

Caroline said, “Words spoken in a moment of desperation hold little truth.”

Evan’s expression was calm as if he had predicted that Caroline would not tell the truth.

“I won’t force you if you don’t want to explain it. But I believe you’d like to know about Axel, right?”

Evan said.

Caroline looked at him. “What are you trying to say?”

“Axel is our child.”

Caroline did not wish to beat about the bush. “So what if he is?”

“I’m not planning on letting Axel meet you anymore,” Evan said

Caroline was stunned. “Why not?”

Evan scoffed. “Do you think you deserve to be Axel’s mother?”

Caroline chuckled. “What? Do you think the child is yours alone? He is my son, too! You don’t have the right to stop him from meeting me! I still have visitation rights!”

“You know that Axel is your son too, huh? However, you divide your motherly love that Axel deserves to two bastards who shouldn’t exist!”

‘Bastards?’

Caroline held her breath for a moment and looked at Evan in shock

Yes! She wanted to keep their children’s background a secret, but she would never allow someone to call them bastards! novelbin

Caroline was so furious that she stood up and slapped Evan.

However, Evan lifted his hand and firmly grasped Caroline’s wrist. He gazed at her with cold, indifferent eyes. “Are you upset because I’m correct?”

“Evan, you’re a jerk!” Caroline reprimanded.

“I’m a jerk?” Evan got up in anger and pulled Caroline before he flung her to the bed.

He leaned over her and grabbed her bosom ferociously. “I shall let you have a taste of the jerk then!

Caroline wanted to push Evan away, yet Evan held her hands so tightly with one hand that she could not move.

“Let go of me, Evan!” Caroline snarled.

Evan exerted more strength in his ‘grip. “Was this how the two bastards’ father touched you?”

He moved his hand to another spot on Caroline’s body. “Or like this?”

Intense feelings of humiliation washed over her, and she could not hold back her shakiness,

“Let go of me. I’m begging you!”

Evan felt his heart sank at the sight of Caroline’s tears.

The anger in his eyes was drowned by coldness as he loosened his grip over her with a sneer. “Did you really think I’d sleep with you? You should know that I m a neat freak. I find another man’s woman filthy!”

Evan turned around and left after saying that.

Caroline hugged herself, yet she could not stop shaking

Kenny and Neil came to the hospital at night and kept Tyler company with Caroline.

Tyler had yet to wake up, and his face was pale.

Kenny said angrily, “How dare that scoundrel inject such a high dose of anesthesia in a child!”

Caroline wiped Tyler's hands with a towel gently with a quill in her eyes.

"Carol. Listen to me and increase security measures. We can't let dangerous situations like this happen again."

Chapter 220

Chapter 220 Make Our Own Judgment.

Caroline nodded, "Sure."

In truth, her brother was right. Her children would not be caught in this situation again had she not taken it lightly.

Neil explained, "I've talked to the police. They said Wayne caused the accident. He didn't hurt the other kids, just Tyler. He also revealed the real mastermind—Daniella. She's at the police station.

Grandpa is helping her."

"Who is that shrew? I'm going to beat her to death!" Kenny was filled with righteous fury.

Neil glanced at him. "She is a member of the Xanders. Are you going to do it?"

Kenny choked on his words. He was new in town but knew about the three influential families in Angelbay.

He would get himself killed if he were to go against the powerful Xanders.

Kenny cowered and said, "Uh Sufficient resources ensure sustainability. Let's conspire first."

Caroline's expression chilled as she thought of Daniella. She understood she had misjudged Daniella's cruelty. Daniella had not only mistreated Axel but also manipulated another person to harm Tyler!

Caroline looked at Neil and said, "I would like to go to the police station, Neil."

Neil kept quiet for a moment and said, "Sure. I'll take care of Ty."

Caroline stood up and told Kenny, "Will you drive me there, please?"

Kenny said, "Let's go!"

Daniella was growing restless in the interrogation room. novelbin

Her grandfather hadn't hired a lawyer yet, but she had already spent over half a day at the police station

"Wayne, you fool!" she cursed inwardly.

She thought Wayne, who studied abroad, would be intelligent. However, he foolishly revealed everything!

All of a sudden, the door of the interrogation room opened.

The police officer said, "Ms. Love, someone is here to see you."

Daniella was delighted and convinced that her grandfather had sent someone!

She stood up, walked to the door, and glanced at the police officer in contempt. "I told you not to detain someone casually, or you might lose your job."

The police officer said righteously, "We will make our own judgment if you're right or wrong!"

Daniella grunted as she exited the interrogation room with pride. Regrettably, instead of the lawyer, Caroline was standing nearby.

She abruptly stopped, feeling the temptation to retreat to the interrogation room.

Despite knowing she couldn't resist Caroline, Daniella steeled herself to confront her, driven by her ego.

She said, "What are you-"

Before Daniella could finish her sentence, Caroline slapped her

"You're the most forgetful person when it comes to being hit." Caroline stared at Daniella coldly.

Daniella covered her burning cheek and glared ferociously at Caroline. "How dare you hit me at the police station?"

"Why not? Will the police help a bitch with no sense of decency? Caroline said mockingly.

"Why do you claim I harmed your son without any evidence? Are you going to convict me for being guilty with just Wayne's testimony?" Daniella's eyes were bloodshot from anger.

Caroline said, "You're capable of making up everything and avoiding legal liability, but do you know that every evil act of yours will haunt you one day!"

Caroline took a step closer to Daniella and glared at her. "Remember this, Daniella! If you dare to do anything to my children, I will make you suffer for the rest of your life!"

"Crazy woman!" Daniella backed away in fear.

She turned with a ghastly pale face and swiftly ran into the interrogation room, locking herself inside.

Caroline looked away and exited the police station.
