Chapter 231 I Want to Be With a Woman

“Ms. Shenton, you.” The doctor heaved a deep sigh. “Mr. Jordan is very concerned about Ms. Smith, but you condemned him so. Of course, anyone would feel heartbroken because of that.”

When the doctor noticed Caroline’s distressed expression, he explained, “Ms. Smith’s case is quite unusual. The surgery is easy for any surgeon. Therefore, her situation shouldn’t have turned out like this.”

Caroline took a deep breath and said, “Is it because of her psychological factor?”

The doctor frowned. “It’s very unlikely.”

Caroline nodded in frustration “Okay, but I still insist on the conservative treatment.”

The doctor turned to leave since he had failed to persuade her.

Caroline walked into Lily’s ward. When she saw the latter’s pale face, she hesitated briefly.

At last, she decided to call Scott.

After a while, Scott picked it up. novelbin

Caroline walked to the lounge and said, “Scott, were you the one who performed Lily’s surgery?”

“I was the assistant instead of the main surgeon,” Scott answered directly. “Did something happen?”

Upon hearing that, Caroline was instantly relieved,

“The foreign doctor at the Grand East Hospital suggested performing another brain surgery for Lily,” Caroline explained.

Scott asked in answer, “What do you think?”

“I don’t know much about this area, so I would like to get your advice.”

“I think they must be very confident since they made such a suggestion,” Scott said. “It’s good if Lily can wake up sooner.”

Caroline said, “Okay, got it. Go ahead with your work.”

“Okay.”

After hanging up the phone, Caroline recalled the bad things she had said to Evan Presumably, he knew that Scott was not the main surgeon. Thus, her words were indeed unpleasant.

After a brief hesitation, Caroline texted Evan

Caroline: [I’m sorry because I didn’t watch my tongue. Thank you for your concern for Lily.]

After sending that message, she found something wrong with it. As such, she texted him again.

Caroline: [I mean nothing else. I just wanted to apologize for my inappropriate behavior.]

Evan received the text just as he got into the car.

His tense expression eased a bit as he read her initial message.

Soon, another text arrived, causing his eyes to darken.

Was she so eager to cut off her relationship with him? For whom?

Was it due to Kenny who aided her in starting her company? Or was it Scott who seemed to do nothing but care for her?

At present, she only seemed to be with Kenny to speed up her company's growth.

But beyond creating designs, what more could Kenny offer her?

Evan narrowed his eyes. He was curious to see how else Kenny could attract Caroline besides that special identity.

Evan raised his head and ordered Reuben, "Dig up Kenny's background."

Reuben inquired, "Mr. Jordan, do you have doubts about Kenny not being G?"

"Why do you ask so much now?" Evan sounded impatient.

Reuben immediately suppressed his curiosity. "I'm sorry, Mr. Jordan."

Evan averted his gaze and called Alex.

It rang for a long while, but Alex did not pick it up. When Evan was about to hang up, Alex answered the call.

The noise from the phone made Evan frown. "Where are you?"

Alex answered, "The bar! What can I do for you?"

"Come out and have a drink with me," Evan said unhappily.

"No, I don't want to!" Alex refused. "I want to be with a woman!"

After that, he hung up the call.

Evan was stunned. He wondered if he had misheard Alex.

'When did Alex become a kiss-ass?' he wondered.

Chapter 232 Let's See Who Gets Drunk First

Alex hung up before Paige placed a bottle of wine before him.

She sounded drunk. "Alex, why did you make a call? Are you trying to run away?"

Alex was rendered speechless. He then looked at Paige. "Miss, it never even crossed my mind. I promised to apologize to you, so I won't break my word."

"Of course, it's not that simple." Paige clicked her tongue. "Can I apologize to you after I you?"

"Do you think you can do that? You'll get locked up if you kill someone."

"Eh? Pixie?"

When Alex asked the question, a young, good-looking man approached them. He seemed to be in his early 20s

Paige brushed off Alex's question, standing up with a spark in her eyes.

"Why're you here? What a surprise! Join me for a drink!"

Paige warmly invited him to join her drinking party with Alex

Alex's expression changed

Spotting Alex, Pixie asked loudly, "Who's he?"

Quickly, Paige replied, "Oh, just an older guy. Pay no mind. He can't handle his drink and isn't much help."

Alex's lips twitched. Why did she think he was old and could not drink?

He just did not want to bully her.

Moments ago, she had greeted a guy, and now she was cozying up to another for drinks

Wasn't he sufficient company?

Somewhat annoyed, Alex picked up a wine bottle from the table and filled his glass. He looked at Paige and said, "Paige."

Turning, Paige asked, "What's up?"

"You want to drink, right?" Alex clinked his glass with hers. "Let's see who gets tipsy first."

Caroline returned to Bayview Villa and tucked her children into bed before returning to her room. novelbin

It was 9:00 pm, so she called Axel.

At that moment, Axel was sitting on the living room carpet, feeling nervous. He didn't understand why Evan had suddenly brought out a puzzle to play with him.

Playing with Evan was fine, but Evan seemed really tense like he had some sort of conflict with someone. This tension was affecting Axel's concentration on the puzzle.

Just as Axel was about to fit a puzzle piece, his phone buzzed in his pocket. The living room was so quiet that the vibration was quite noticeable.

Axel's heart raced. He knew it wouldn't be a stranger calling him. Tyler never called—he only texted. Thus, the caller must be Caroline.

Evan paused at the vibration, realizing it wasn't his phone. He turned his attention to Axel.

"Who's calling you this late, Axel?" Evan asked with suspicion.

Nervously, Axel set the puzzle piece down and retrieved his phone.

Upon seeing the caller ID, Evan's brow furrowed. It displayed Mommy'.

Axel hesitated to answer, glancing timidly at Evan

Evan's voice was cold as he commanded, "Answer it on speaker."

He was curious about what Caroline wanted to say to their son.

Axel answered the call with a mix of anxiety and switched to speaker mode.

"Mommy

"Hmm, yeah. I'm going to bed," Axel lied with shame.

It was the first time he lied to her.

"I'm sorry that I disturbed you. Did you remember to have some milk?" Caroline asked again.

Axel answered, "I haven't drunk it yet. Ms. Garcia will get it for me later."

"Ah, by the way, did your father ask you any questions lately?" Caroline asked with worry.

Axel understood what she meant and was about to interrupt her when he noticed Evan abruptly lifting his phone before him.

A line of words appeared on the screen: [Ask her what questions she's talking about.]

Axel clenched his phone nervously because of Evan's sharp gaze. "What kind of questions?"

"It's about Ty and Lia." Caroline wondered why Axel was a bit slow today.

His voice was low, and he did not talk to her excitedly like he always did

Axel's heart skipped a beat. "No, Mommy."

Caroline said, "That's great. This is our secret. I believe that you can help me keep it."

After that, Evan raised his phone before Axel again.

Axel's face changed when he saw the words on it. He asked with a shaky voice, "Mom... Mommy, when are you going to tell Daddy about Ty and Lia's backgrounds..."

Caroline frowned anxiously, thinking. There is something wrong with Axel's emotions. Besides, he asked more questions than their previous calls.

Caroline soon thought of Evan

It was very likely that he was beside Axel

Caroline tried to keep calm and answered, "Axel, Ty and Lia are your siblings even if you guys don't share the same father."

Axel abruptly heaved a sigh of relief. Luckily, Caroline discerned something wrong.

Axel said, "Understood, Mommy."

Caroline said, "Dear, I'm hanging up."

"Okay, Mommy, Good night."

After setting aside the phone, Axel prepared for Evan's interrogation.

However, to his surprise, Evan didn't ask Axel anything. He also didn't scold Axel for secretly staying in contact with Caroline.

Axel discreetly observed Evan and noticed that Evan's expression seemed stormier than earlier.

Three days later, Daniella was awakened by a call at Xander Residence.

She angrily answered the call. "Who's calling so early?"

The caller replied, "Ms. Love, I've got some leads on what you asked."

Hearing the voice, Daniella remembered.

She had requested help from a former colleague at MK's tech department to learn about Evan's search for someone.

Daniella sat up energetically. "Tell me."

"Mr. Jordan is seeking a woman. Seems they're close. I'll send her photo soon. And about the money...

"I'll pay, but keep digging. Find out her connection with Evan."

"Ms. Love, it's tough. We're limited to comparing photos. No other leads so far."

Daniella clicked her tongue. "Fine. Send the photo and your account number.

"Sure. Thank you, Ms. Love."

After ending the call, Daniella quickly received a photo.

The photo left her in shock. The woman in it felt extremely familiar. She was sure she had seen her somewhere before.

As she thought it over, a memory suddenly surged

Yes! She had glimpsed this same woman's photo in Evan's drawer.

If Caroline hadn't intervened, Daniella might have taken it out and examined it.

Afterward, there was a fallout between Evan and Caroline due to that incident.

Daniella stared at the photo. The woman's age was difficult to pin down. She wasn't young, yet far from old due to her undeniable charm.

Who was she in relation to Evan?

Judging by her looks and age, Evan wouldn't have fallen for her.

Could they be family?

The realization prompted Daniella to leave her bed. She hurriedly headed to Grayson's room after exiting her own.

She stood at the door and knocked. "Grandpa, are you awake?"

Grayson's voice came from within the room. "Ella? Come in if you need anything."

Chapter 234 She's Too Busy

Daniella opened the door and walked to Grayson with the phone. He was still sitting in bed is woman?"

She then pointed at the woman in the photo and asked, "Grandpa, do you know this Grayson took the phone and squinted as he examined it closely. However, just one glance sent him into contemplation. "She seems somewhat familiar, but I can't remember where I saw her."

Daniella said, "It's someone related to Evan. I saw her photo in a drawer in Evan's study before."

"Oh." Grayson looked at it again before he shook his head with regret "Ella, I can't recall who she is Daniella became slightly anxious "Grandpa, can you take a closer look? Is it Evan's relative or someone else?"

"Yes, he's looking for someone. Why are you anxious, too?"

Grayson stopped looking at the photo and returned the phone to Daniella.

Daniella answered, "I care about him, so I'm anxious for him."

Grayson said, "I don't want you to meddle in his affairs again. Go out. I want to rest for a little longer."

Daniella became frustrated.

"Since this old man can't remember anything, why did he fucking say he finds her familiar? I was excited for nothing!

'Well, old people are unreliable. I have to rely on myself.'

At Bayview Villa,

Caroline was about to give the children a ride to the kindergarten when Jamie blocked her.

“Don’t go.”

Jamie looked at Caroline pleadingly and held the latter’s hand, refusing to let go.

Caroline became confused. Jamie always stayed home alone. Why didn’t she let Caroline go today?

As such, she looked at Freya, who was not far.

Freya stepped forward and said, “Ms. Weiss only stays home and walks around the backyard. I guess she wants to go out for some fresh air. It’ll be good for her recovery to have a change of Liora went forward to hug Jamie’s leg. She then looked up and said, “Madam, Mommy can take you out for some fun How nice! She rarely takes Tyler and me out for some fun because she’s too busy.”

Caroline felt bitter when she heard that. After returning from abroad, she was overwhelmed with various tasks and didn’t get a chance to take the children out for fun

Hence, she squatted down and patted Liora’s back. “Lia, I promise to take Tyler and you out for fun

if there’s nothing important next week. Is that okay?”

She was uncertain about this week because Kenny was not around. She had to go back and forth between her company and the factory. 1

“Where are we going?” Liora asked excitedly.

Caroline dwelled on it briefly. “How about the amusement park?”

“Yeah! Mommy, I love you the most! Liora leaped up excitedly.

Jamie tilted her head. “What’s an amusement park? Can I go, too?”

“Sure” Before Caroline could speak, Liora started begging Caroline. “Mommy, can you bring her along too?”

Caroline was helpless. “Fine, I’ll take her along. Go upstairs and get your brother. We need to leave now.”

After that, Caroline looked at Freya. ‘Dr. Bailey, please come with us.’

Freya said, “Okay.”

After dropping the kids off at kindergarten, Caroline arrived outside the company.

“Jamie, I need to go to the company first. So, I can only take you to the park later. Is that okay?”

she asked Jamie.

Jamie nodded repeatedly. “I can go anywhere with you as long as I can come out.”

Caroline stepped out of the car, intending to go upstairs by herself. However, Jamie quickly joined her, standing by her side near the car. This made Caroline feel somewhat helpless.novelbin “Oh.” Jamie obediently got into the car.

Caroline told Freya, “Dr. Bailey, please keep an eye on her. Don’t lose sight of her.”

“Don’t worry. Ms. Shenton, Freya reassured before leaving with Jamie and the bodyguards.

However, they didn’t go far. They stopped near the company.

Soon after, Freya took Jamie to a nearby cafe for some coffee

Jamie nearly ordered everything at the cafe in addition to a glass of lemon water that Freya ordered

With November approaching, the morning temperature wasn’t high. Enjoying the sun’s warmth was quite pleasant.

So, Freya and Jamie chose to sit outdoors, waiting for Caroline.

Meanwhile, not far away, Daniella stepped out of her car in high heels. She was about to instruct her bodyguard to wait when a white figure caught her attention from the corner of her eye.

She subconsciously looked over but was stunned when she saw that person.

“Isn’t this... the woman Evan’s looking for?”

Daniella quickly got back into her car and observed Jamie’s actions.

Her bodyguard asked in confusion, “Ms Love, aren’t you going to the company?”

Daniella glared at him. “I didn’t ask you to go just yet. And cut the crap!”

The bodyguard looked away in dismay.

Daniella bit her fingers and stared at Jamie fiercely.

Daniella observed Jamie’s actions and captured photos. She wondered whether to send these

Just then, Caroline walked by her car, chatting on the phone.

This surprised Daniella. She saw Caroline head to the cafe and talk to that woman, wearing a

How did Caroline know the person Evan sought?

Evan was on the lookout for someone. Caroline should have information about it.

However, it was evident that Evan was unaware the person he sought was with Caroline.

Was Caroline intentionally concealing something?

Daniella snorted before she casually took a photo of those three people.

What a coincidence! She always discovered interesting things.

But she could not make it public. It would be more interesting after she learned the ins and outs of that affair.

At Villa Rosa

Evan received a call from Reuben at 8.00 p.m.

Reuben said, "Mr. Jordan, Kenny is currently in Ylesir. I asked the people over there to investigate it and found that he's now engaged in a passionate relationship with a woman."

It was a photo of Kenny hugging a sexy and hot woman and drinking with her at a bar.

Upon viewing the photo, Evan's expression slowly became somber.

Evan asked coldly, "What did the people at Caroline's company say? Does she know the reason Kenny went abroad?"

Reuben said, "Her company claimed that Kenny is going back to attend his mother's wedding.

"But our men found that Kenny's mother is single and has no intention of getting married."

Reuben was at a loss for words because of that affair.

"Mr. Jordan, Kenny's mother had gotten married several times. His mother is so frivolous, so Kenny is not a loyal man either."

Why does Ms. Shenton date such an unreliable man? Reuben complained inwardly.

Evan's eyes grew dim. "Got it."

After ending the call, Evan felt an urge and decided to send the photo to Caroline.

During that moment, Caroline was in the kids bedroom, sharing a bedtime story.

Tyler seemed annoyed due to the crude and childish nature of the tale. "Mommy, this story is old-fashioned"

Caroline was taken aback. "Isn't The Princess and the Pea nice?"

Liora kicked Tyler. "Tyler, you're not getting it. I enjoy this kind of story. I want to be a princess as well."

Chapter 236

Chapter 236 You Miss Me?

Caroline was embarrassed and found it to be slightly inappropriate.

Tyler was a boy whose intelligence level was higher than his peers. Naturally, a story like that would be uninteresting for him.

Caroline caressed Liora's face. "Storytime for tonight is over, my precious. I'll read you another story next time. It's getting late, and you have school tomorrow. Let's sleep."

Liora said, "Alright, Mommy. Goodnight, don't stay up novelbin

"Alright, Mommy."

Caroline turned off the bedside lamp, walked out of the room, and returned to her bedroom.

Jamie could sleep by herself now, so she did not need to sleep with Jamie these days.

Caroline lay on the bed and grabbed her phone from the bedside table to read some news.

Evan's message came into view, and she was surprised. She opened the message and saw a photo of Kenny hugging an attractive woman.

Is there an issue with this? Also, what does he want with sending this photo? Why is he intervening with Kenny's private life?' she wondered.

Caroline replied: [Are you bored, Mr. Jordan?]

He wanted to show her Kenny's character, yet she claimed he was bored.

Evan typed in anger: [Don't you think you should choose your partner wisely? Otherwise, you might get deceived for money and sex!]

Caroline chuckled.

Caroline: [What sort of man I'm into is none of your business, right? On the other hand, are you wise in choosing your partner? I remember you used to be deeply in love with a woman like

Daniella, right?]

Evan was angered instantly.

Evan: [However, I know how to make a wise choice! I sent you the photo to tell you that Kenny is probably using his mother's wedding as a cover-up. It might even be him who is getting married!

"Kenny getting married to an attractive woman? That would be impossible because Kenny is a non-marriage advocate. Evan is really bored to have even found out about the wedding of Kenny's mother,' she thought.

+15 BONUS

Caroline: [So what if he is getting married? It still won't change my relationship with him!]

Evan found the final reply to be an eyesore and tossed away the phone in rage.

Evan thought, I just can't talk sense into Caroline! I just wanted to remind her out of kindness, yet she regarded it as harassment! Why is she so despicable? She mingles with a man who is getting married soon!!

'Caroline has become so love-struck that she would compromise to this extent for a scumbag? What a fool!'

Caroline felt slightly puzzled after giving Evan the feisty reply. "Why did Evan mention the wedding of Kenny's mother being a cover up? Did he find something?"

She checked the time and realized that it was morning in Ylesir.

Caroline did not feel sleepy, so she waited until 11:00 p.m. to call Kenny.

Kenny picked up quickly and said in excitement. "It's rare of you to call me, G."

Caroline asked. 'How is your mother's wedding preparation? When will you be coming back?'

Kenny was stunned and explained in a flurry. "The day after tomorrow. Do you miss me?"

Caroline appeared puzzled by Kenny's panicked tone

However, she did not expose him. After all, it was his matter, and everyone had their secrets.

“No, I’m just checking in on you respectfully, right?” Carolien dismissed Kenny’s speculation mercilessly.

Kenny howled in sorrow. “You heartless woman. I managed your company and took care of your children!”

Kenny said, “Alright. You don’t have to reiterate my inferior position in your heart. Did the scoundrel reach out to you?”

“Yes. He sent me a photo of you hugging an attractive woman earlier.”

“Damn it! He has actually extended his influence to Ylesir! If that is the case, my effort to get him.

to think we’re together is wasted, right?”

Caroline remembered what Kenny had told Evan sometime ago.

“Discuss with me before you do something next time, so it won’t be embarrassing for both of us when it is exposed,” Caroline said in displeasure

Kenny giggled. “I won’t disobey my boss’ order.”

Caroline chuckled. “Alright, I’m going to bed. Go and get busy with your stuff.”

The next day, Caroline received Scott’s phone call early in the morning.

“Are you awake?” Scott asked smilingly.

Caroline rubbed her eyes and squinted to check the time. ‘Why is Scott calling at 6:00 am.?’

– Caroline said, “Woken by your call. What is it?”

Scott said, “Can you come to the door?”

Caroline was slightly stunned and hastily sat upright. She removed the blanket and walked to the window.

After she drew back the curtain, she noticed Scott holding a bouquet of champagne-colored roses downstairs. The rose color matched his light trench coat.

“I’m coming.” Caroline walked out of her room in shock.

After opening the door, she looked at the flowers and asked, “Why did you get me flowers? Is it for a special occasion?”

Scott looked at her and said, “The birthday girl is so busy that she has forgotten about her birthday.”

He stuffed the flowers into her arms.

Caroline did not realize that it was her birthday today.

She was about to speak when she noticed the necklace with pink diamonds on the roses.

“That’s “Locke’s Feeling? It is very costly!” Caroline gasped aloud

Scott smiled gently. "Do you like it?"

Caroline's eyes were moist with tears. "I love it. Tell me, Scott. How did you get it?"

"Uh... I'll tell you if you make me breakfast? Scott beat around the bush

Caroline looked affectionately at him. "How is my breakfast more precious than the precious necklace?"

Scott looked at Caroline with gentle affection and passion. "It is precious as long as you make it."

Caroline lowered her head shyly. "You must be joking. Take a seat while I prepare breakfast."

Scott accepted the invitation and walked to the living room.

Caroline placed the flowers gently on the table and entered the kitchen. She was just about to start washing the ingredients when Scott walked in. He had rolled up his sleeves after taking off his coat.

Caroline was kicked out of the kitchen. She had nothing else to do, so she headed upstairs to wake

Scott had already prepared breakfast by the time she came downstairs with the children after Liora ran over in excitement when she saw Scott. "Papa Wilson! I missed you! Where have you Scott picked up Liora and caressed her nose affectionately. "It has only been a few days. Do you

Liora hugged Scott's neck and cuddled close. "I missed you so much, Papa Wilson."

Tyler leaned against the stairs. "I haven't seen you talking about Papa Wilson, though."

Tyler smirked and raised an eyebrow gracefully. "Ah, let me ask you this. Do you not love Mommy?"

Tyler felt about his pocket and pulled out a bracelet embedded with little diamonds. He approached Caroline, grabbed her hand, and put it on for her while Liora gazed in astonishment.

Tyler smiled. "This is for you, Mommy."

Caroline gazed at the diamond bracelet in a daze. It took her quite some time to snap out of her surprise. "How much did you spend on the bracelet, Ty?"

"Money is not as important as heartfelt intentions, Tyler answered.

Caroline was rendered speechless.

Ty must have gotten the necklace for me from the money he made as a hacker, she thought.

She knew her son well enough to know he would not explain further if he did not want to.

Caroline planted a kiss on Tyler's forehead. "Thank you, my precious."

"Will Axel be coming today, Mommy?" Tyler asked,

Caroline kept quiet, her eyes dim. "I don't know if he will allow Axel to come, but I will let Axel know."

Tyler nodded. "Sure,"

After breakfast, Caroline and Scott sent the children to the kindergarten.

After the children were gone, Caroline asked Scott, "Can we talk about the necklace now?"

"I was probably lucky to encounter the designer when I arrived at the jewelry store, Scott explained calmly, as if he had gotten the necklace effortlessly.

"You went to Ylesir on purpose?"

"Not really." Scott did not want Carolin to feel burdened, so he said, "During my work trip."

Caroline explained, "No, it's because your gift is too valuable."

"Alright, I'm just teasing you. I'll be heading to the hospital later, and I'll come over to celebrate your birthday at night."

"Sure "

In the afternoon. Paige called when Caroline had just completed dealing with her tasks.

"Happy birthday, Carol!" Paige's excited voice echoed.

Caroline said smilingly. "Thank you!"

Paige said, 'Don't mention it! Don't prepare anything for tonight. I've booked a huge private room at a hotel to celebrate your birthday."

Caroline said. "It's just a birthday. No need for such a huge fuss."

"No! This is your first birthday back in the country. We must make it grand!"

Caroline was rendered speechless. Others would think that she was celebrating her 80th birthday or something.

"I understand. I shall seize the opportunity to get a free, expensive meal out of you then. Caroline accepted the offer.

Paige said, "See you tonight then I'll send you the address later."

After hanging up, Paige considered briefly before she texted Alex.

Paige: [Where are you, Mr. Price?]

Alex was having lunch with Evan in MK.

Alex was stunned after reading the text

Is today Caroline's birthday? Evan should know about this, right?' he wondered Alex decided to sound out Evan. He put down the phone, took a sip of coffee leisurely, and asked,

Evan, are you doing anything today?"

Evan glanced at Alex. "Get straight to the point."

Alex suppressed his smile. He has forgotten about it!"

Alex said. "Ah. it's Caroline's birthday today. I thought you might be picking out a gift for her."

Evan stopped writing and checked the date displayed on his computer. He frowned when he realized it was Caroline's birthday.

He did not remember it because she infuriated him last night.

Evan looked back at the document. 'I'm not giving her anything, and she may not take it even if 1

“There are so many

Evan furrowed his eyebrow in displeasure. “Why don’t you show your care to someone else Alex ignored the remark and continued to instigate. “I obey your command, you see. Speaking of which, do you not have feelings for Caroline anymore, Evan?

“Forget it if you don’t like her anymore. Let those men fight each other to give her gifts, then We’ll idea either!’ he thought.

The more Alex said, the more unpleasant Evan’s expression turned.

He struggled to accept that she had kids with someone else and kept it a secret, but this didn’t mean he had gotten over her, even after all these years.

No one knew how he lived through those five years.

Alex continued to instigate when he noticed that Evan was quiet.

“Evan, what do you think we should get Caroline as a wedding gift-

“Shut up Evan was livid.

Alex kept quiet and stared at Evan with interest.

After a long while, he heard Evan asking in an annoyed manner, "What do women like?"

Chapter 240 Nope

Evan was forcefully brought along to the shopping mall together with the dumbfounded Paige because of his remark

Alex used a brute excuse. "Women understand women best!"

Evan did not have any reason to reject it.

Paige glared at Alex the entire time as she struggled to walk, trailed by a group of bodyguards.

Shortly after, she spotted Evan walking ahead. She lowered her voice and asked with anger, "Why did you invite my boss to come along?"

Evan stopped walking and turned to look after hearing the whisper.

Paige immediately smiled and said, "How can I help you, Mr. Jordan?"

Paige's skillful change of behavior left Alex speechless.

Evan did not speak but continued to look around.

Paige seized the opportunity to pinch Alex's buttocks ferociously

Alex gnashed his teeth in pain. "What are you doing!"

Paige said. Tell me, why did you invite Mr. Jordan to come along? Don't you know that he and Carol don't get along?"

Alex said, "He proposed it, and I don't have a reason to decline as his friend."

Paige's lips twitched. "Will he come to Carol's birthday party tonight?"

“Can you not let him come?” Alex asked with a raised eyebrow.

Paige was complaining in her heart when Evan stopped before a jewelry store “Does she like this?” Evan asked Paige.

“No,” Paige said while shaking her head

Soon, Evan stopped in front of the luxury bag store. “How about this?”

“Nope.”

Then, he stopped in front of a luxury watch store. “This?”

“Nope again!” Paige shook her head.

Evan’s expression turned solemn, and he asked, “What does she like?”

Alex hastily said, “Caroline wears a watch, right? Let’s go inside and take a look, Evan.”

As Paige watched the two men entering the luxury watch store, she wanted to say, “She doesn’t like anything that you give, Mr. Jordan! Asking is pointless, right?”

However, it was her first time seeing Evan in a shopping mall. She figured that Caroline would be deeply moved if they were still good with each other

At 6:00 p.m., Caroline, Scott, and the children headed to the hotel’s banquet hall

Upon arriving at the entrance, she was surprised to find nearly all her company’s employees gathered there. This unexpected sight stirred her emotions, and she couldn’t help but wonder how Paige had managed to invite everyone.

The TYC employees saw Caroline from afar. They approached her to welcome her and were astonished by the handsome man and two adorable children beside her.

“Ms. Shenton, are these your children? They are adorable!

“Ms. Shenton, is this handsome man the children’s father?”

“Whoa, I envy you. You have a handsome husband and amazing children, Ms. Shenton!” novelbin

Caroline blushed and explained. This is Scott Wilson, and he is a doctor. This is my daughter

Liora and my son Tyler.”

Liora nodded at the people before her ‘Hello, everyone. My name is Liora Shenton, but you may call me Lia.”

With a graceful smile, Tyler said, “Hello, my name is Tyler Shenton.”

The female employees shrieked once again.

“They’re adorable! Ms. Shenton, can we play with them?”

Caroline looked at her children and nodded in approval when they agreed.

“Carol”

Paige’s joyous voice echoed. She turned and saw Paige making her way to her.

Paige held up the gift and said, “Happy birthday, my dear! How is it? Do you like the banquet hall 1 decorated especially for you?”

Caroline was moved to tears. “Paige, you spent so much money on this. I love it.” Paige sniggered and looked at Scott. “You’re back, Scott. Come and sit with me first.”
