Chapter 331

Chapter 331 Let's Talk

"Father!" someone shouted not far away after the female worker's remark

Caroline and the elderly man turned their heads to see a middle-aged man in a suit and leather shoes hurrying towards them, looking nervous

Caroline was taken aback when she saw the man, wondering, 'Is that Joseph Gull from Merlin School?'

She recognized him from her search for schools for her children. He was the principal of an internationally renowned school that included elementary, middle, and high schools.

Joseph approached the elderly man anxiously and asked, 'Father, why did you come here alone?'

Sam Gull smiled warmly and replied, "I decided to take a leisurely stroll and check out the newly imported materials for our children's school clothes."

Joseph smiled and sighed. "Father, you could have left this to me."

"That's not necessary." Sam interrupted Joseph. "I've already found a suitable fashion company."

With a grin, Sam turned his attention to Caroline and asked, 'Miss, would your company be interested in handling our small order?'

Caroline composed herself and replied calmly, "Sir, you're too kind. As for a potential partnership, I suggest you get to know my company before making any decisions."

Upon hearing their conversation, the female worker was bewildered, "This old man has a school?"

She swiftly adjusted her attitude and approached them. "Sir, I apologize if I offended you. May I introduce the fabric materials to you?"

Sam glanced at her indifferently and then turned to Joseph. "Son, go and discuss it with this lady.

She seems nice."

"Of course, Father," Joseph nodded and looked at Caroline. "Miss, may we have a conversation?"

Caroline couldn't refuse now, so she followed Joseph into a lounge with Paige

In about ten minutes, Joseph decided to collaborate with Caroline. They exchanged contact information and confirmed the contract signing date before Caroline left with Paige.

Paige was still in shock. "Carol, this is a significant order! Did you notice something just now?"

Caroline smiled, "No, I didn't see anything unusual, but I know that the attendees at this event are connections."

Caroline continued. "As it turns out, he happens to be the former principal of Merlin School. It's a substantial order, but I'm not aiming for immediate profits. What I want is a long-term partnership and to build my brand's reputation."

Impressed, Paige gave her a thumbs-up. "Carol, you're astute! You're starting to look like a compassionate entrepreneur.”

Raising her eyebrows, Caroline looked at Paige. “Would you be interested in becoming a part of my company? I could use your skills.”

Paige quickly waved off the idea. “No, I don’t have that much money.”

Caroline chuckled. “Of course, I’m not asking you to invest. You’re talented, and you’ve established yourself in MK. You can join us with your skills, and I can offer you some equity shares as a reward. How does that sound?”

Paige novelbin was taken aback, with gratitude written all over her face. “Carol, you’re so kind! If I ever face financial difficulties, I’ll definitely come to you.”

Caroline stopped trying to persuade her and arrived just in time for the runway show in the hall.

She looked for Kenny and Alisa and spotted Kenny sitting not far from Evan.

The other seats were occupied except for the two next to Evan, so Caroline and Paige approached and joined them.

As Caroline walked over, Kenny waved and greeted her, saying, “Caroline, come join us!”

Chapter 332 You’ve Neglected Your Duty

As soon as Kenny said that, Alex suddenly got up and took another seat.

There was only a vacant seat beside Evan now.

At the same time, Alex patted the vacant chair beside him and asked Paige to sit beside him.

Kenny glared at Alex. “You did it on purpose, didn’t you?”

Alex laughed it off. “I can’t get the air-con there. I’m feeling too hot, so I changed my seat.”

Kenny’s lips twitched as he scolded, “You motherfucking did it on purpose sit there!”

Alex looked at him provocatively. “Why don’t you change your seat instead?”

Kenny cursed softly, “Fuck! I won’t let Caroline suffer if Alisa isn’t here.”

Evan glared at Kenny upon hearing that.

You want Caroline to Feeling the cold, Kenny shuddered but stubbornly refused to admit defeat. He snorted before he fell silent

Caroline was put in a dilemma. She pushed Paige. “Go ahead. I’ll sit here.”

Paige stopped glaring at Alex. “Got it. Don’t fight with Mr. Jordan.”

At that time, music was played for the runway show. Its noise gradually ruined the tense atmosphere between Caroline and Evan

After a long while, Evan spoke up hoarsely. “Congratulations on winning this battle. You learned something from staying with me for three years.”

Caroline disagreed. “Well, your final statement seems to be praising yourself instead.”

“Isn’t that true?” Evan smirked. “Did you ever see me take in any useless people?”

Caroline scoffed. “Yeah, you never took in useless people, but it’s useless trying to educate dumb people. You can’t say you made me who I am now. If it weren't for my insight, I wouldn't have picked you to be my superior for three years.

"Evan, you should know that a superior like you is very hard to serve."

Evan's face sank. "Would you make so many sacrifices and serve them if it were someone else?"

Caroline replied calmly, "Don't you know me well? I just care about money."

Evan snorted. "The outsiders may believe you, but I don't. After all, your gaze back then exposed

'How shameless!' Caroline cursed inwardly.

"Evan, stop flattering yourself!"

"I never say anything I'm unsure of."

Evan smiled elegantly when he heard the indignation in her tone. He added, "Don't you think only the weak ones will always avoid their feelings?*

Caroline was fuming with anger now. "Save that for yourself. You're the one who's been looking for me for five years instead of me."

Evan narrowed his eyes and gnashed his teeth. "Well, you're well aware of that!"

Caroline quipped, "So, what about that? I've already left you."

"You haven't changed your mind after learning that Axel is your child?" Evan asked aloofly.

Caroline paused. "If you can let him go, I don't mind taking him home and providing him with a complete family."

Evan's face turned tense because of her words. "Do you want my son to call Neil 'Dad'?"

“Why not?” Caroline refuted. “He’ll treat Axel as his son and be very nice to him!” novelbin “Caroline, don’t push it!” Evan’s eyes betrayed his fury.

Caroline refused to back down, and she met his eyes. “You were the one who made my son treat Daniella as his mother first, didn’t you?”

“Evan, I did nothing wrong. You wronged Axel and made him turn out this way.

“I hate you for failing him as his father! I hate you for forcefully controlling Axel and prohibiting him from meeting me!”

As soon as Caroline finished speaking, she suddenly heard a loud gunshot behind her.

Evan’s face turned fierce. He immediately threw himself on Caroline and protected her.

The hall was a mess now with all kinds of screams.

Caroline’s face turned pale as she shuddered endlessly, clutching Evan’s clothes tightly.

Chapter 333 I’ll Take You Out of Here

Two gunshots echoed immediately after that.

Caroline screamed frightfully.

However, Evan kept a stern expression as he took hold of Caroline’s arms and guided her to sit on the floor.

The surrounding guests started running away, shoving and pushing chairs. The chairs then knocked against people.

Evan held Caroline tightly in his arms and spoke calmly. “Don’t be scared. I’ll get you out of here!”

Alex’s scream came from behind. “Evan! Watch your back!”

Evan immediately turned around and saw a thin man trying to stab them with a sharp knife. Thus, Evan pulled Caroline up and quickly protected her behind him

The man with the knife slashed Evan's arm.

Caroline widened her eyes and screamed, "Evan!"

The attacker shouted crazily, "Fuck! You guys must die! I want to kill all fucking capitalists like you!"

Evan looked indifferent as he covered his arm and kicked the attacker's chest before the latter could slash him again.

Consequently, the attacker fell head first.

Evan's bodyguards rushed to him and quickly subdued the violent man

Julian lowered his head guiltily. "Mr. Jordan, we came late!" novelbin

Evan spoke coldly. "Send him to the police station!"

Julian became doubtful. "Don't we have to take him back with us to punish him?"

Evan replied icily, "I wasn't his sole target. Just let the police deal with him."

Julian answered, "Okay."

Caroline immediately inspected Evan's bleeding wound. She tried her best to keep calm, but her hands were shaking-

Evan looked at her. "You don't have to be scared."

Caroline's eyes soon turned scarlet. She failed to control her temper and roared, "Are you out of Afterward, she averted her gaze, biting her lower lip and forcefully tearing his sleeves.

Then, she quickly ripped a piece of fabric from her dress and used it to bandage his wound and stop the bleeding.

When Evan saw her concern, he smiled “I don’t want you to get hurt.”

Caroline’s hands tensed, and bitterness coursed through her.

Tears welled in her eyes, so she lowered her head and softly uttered, “I don’t want to hear you speak!”

Evan chuckled, gazing at her affectionately. “Alright, I’ll stay quiet.”

Paige was not far away from them. After calming down, she wanted to go to Caroline, but Alex.

stopped her.

She glared at him. “What are you doing? I want to see Carol!”

Alex nudged his chin in their direction. “You’d better not disturb them now.”

Paige smacked his hand away. “You’re really Mr. Jordan’s good buddy.”

Alex raised his brows and pulled her into his arms, consoling her by patting her back. “You’re scared, aren’t you?”

She was scared and burst into tears when he asked her that.

“It’s so scar

scary... Pug... That gunshot was right beside me. I thought I was going to die.”

Twenty minutes later, Caroline and the others went to the hospital with Evan because of the latter’s injury.

Julian came back fast and informed the culprit was merely trying to take revenge on society.

Everyone was at a loss for words and did not want to mention that frightening accident again

Evan's wound was not long, but he needed five stitches.

After that, they walked out of the hospital.

Caroline said, "I'm going home."

Evan did not stop her. He merely nodded and watched her leave.

Alex asked someone to give Paige a ride home while he stayed with Evan. He looked at Evan with

"Am I blind?" Evan refuted coldly.

Chapter 334 You Fall in Love With Him Again

Alex frowned and said grumpily, "Hey, you weren't looking at Caroline so coldly!"

Evan looked at him disdainfully. "Don't disgust me.

Alex smiled. "I'm just joking. How about this? Let me tell you something since you're hurt."

Evan became somber. "Don't beat around the bush Talk!"

Alex said, 'Caroline is going to celebrate Paige's birthday with her tomorrow at Starry Campsite. Dude, I risk being dumped by telling you this.'

Evan asked, "Is that all?"

Alex looked at him suspiciously. "Aren't you going?"

Evan remained silent and turned to get out of the car, leaving Alex behind.

Thus, Alex was confused

When Evan was back at Villa Rosa, he saw Axel dozing off in the living room. “Why aren’t you in bed?”

Axel immediately opened his eyes when he heard Evan’s voice. “I was waiting for you”

Evan said, “It’s late. You should be in bed. I’ll go with you tomorrow to see your mother.”

Axel was stunned

Before he reacted, Evan added, “Don’t turn me down or tell her!”

Axel pursed his lips. He helplessly kept his head low and caught sight of Evan’s bandaged arm.

Axel looked up again and asked in worry, “Daddy, you’re hurt?”

Evan nodded. “Yeah, I protected your mother.”

Axel asked anxiously, “What happened? Is Mommy alright?”

Evan’s face turned gloomy. “So, is she the only one you care about?”

Axel shook his head and answered honestly, “No.

Evan averted his gaze with satisfaction.

When he was about to go upstairs, he stopped and looked at Axel in confusion. He squinted and asked, “Axel, have you lost weight?”

Axel’s answer came a bit slow. “I don’t know.”

Evan frowned. “Is the maid’s cooking bad?”

Axel immediately denied that. “No, I’ll eat more.”

Evan questioned again, “Are you feeling unwell?”

Axel lowered his head and softly uttered, “No, I’m not.”

However, he was. Lately, he had been becoming drowsy quickly and constantly felt fatigued. His hunger had vanished, too.

Today, he had even slipped and hurt himself, and the wound kept bleeding.

He didn’t know how to share this with Evan, nor did he want to make Evan anxious.

Evan softened his tone. “You have to tell me right away if you’re sick.”

Warmth engulfed Axel, thinking. Daddy cares about me.”

“Okay.”

When Caroline returned to Bayview Villa, she received a text from an unfamiliar number.

It was a document with the cloth materials that were hard to buy in the market.

There was even a statement.

[G, I’m Alisa. Angelbay City is very pretty but full of dangers.]

[At first, I planned to have fun for two days before I told you about the cloth materials. But I can’t stay here after what happened tonight. I’m going back to Ylesir tonight.]

[G, I wish your company great success and look forward to the day your company becomes the top internationally.]

When Caroline read Alisa’s text, she smiled and texted Alisa back, Caroline: [Thank you, Alisa. I’ll buy you a meal if we meet again.]

After that, Kenny came from outside.

When he saw Caroline stand there and grin foolishly, he pursed his lips. “G, don’t tell me you’re in love with him again!”

Caroline was stunned. She looked up at Kenny helplessly. “What nonsense is that?”

Kenny pointed at his eyes. “I saw it! You cried because of him.’

Awkwardness overcame Caroline. “You got the wrong idea. I was just scared, okay?”

Kenny snorted. “But your action exposed everything.”

Caroline laughed miserably. “I still can’t forget about this relationship just because I want to.”

Kenny said, “Stop being dumb. Did you forget how he treated you back then?”

Caroline replied, “I know. I won’t have second thoughts no matter what.”

Chapter 335 I’ll Go On My Own

Kenny said, “Fine! Don’t forget what you said. If not, you’ll be hurt again.”

Caroline nodded and went upstairs to her children’s room

Neil was still telling a story to the children softly when he saw Caroline come in. He immediately shushed her.

After that, he put the book down and quietly walked out of the room. He closed the door and asked in concern, “Carol, you’re pale. What happened?”

Caroline touched her face and replied honestly, “Nothing. It’s just that there was a criminal at the exhibition.”

“A criminal?” Neil raised his voice and inspected her, holding her arms. “Are you hurt?”

Caroline pressed his arms down. “Neil, I’m fine. Don’t worry. I was just scared.”

Neil sighed in relief. I’m glad to hear that. You scared me.”

Caroline smiled before she became serious. “Neil, the next week is approaching.”

Neil’s face sank. “I know. I’ll organize Grandpa’s birthday party and expose Daniella’s vulgarity to everyone.”

Caroline was still worried about that affair. “Neil, I think it won’t be that simple.”

Neil touched the tip of her nose dotingly. “Carol, you’ve gone through too much recently. We’ve been preparing for this for such a long time. Nothing will go wrong. Don’t worry.”

“I still think that’s not enough.” Caroline frowned. “Currently, the only thing we can pin on her is her impersonating me. We still don’t have enough evidence for the heinous things she did to me.”

Neil chuckled. “We have to go one step at a time. The fact she impersonated you and took your child away is enough to ruin her reputation. Can she still stir up any trouble without Grandpa’s protection?”

Caroline was silent briefly. “Okay. That’s the only thing we can do now.”

Neil replied, "Alright, you're tired. Wash up and rest. I'm going home."

"Okay, be careful."

"Sure."

Caroline was about to turn in at 11:00 p.m., but Scott texted her.

Caroline clicked on the text and saw some research information and words.

[I'm sorry. I was so busy recently that I didn't text you. I saw the news of your company and your relatives. When I'm back, I'll take you out to relax.]

She felt overwhelming emotions upon reading the message. His question and concern warmed her, but she could not forget what Paige had said.

She sighed and texted him back

Caroline: [It's already resolved. Study well, and don't worry too much about me.]

She then got his text again.

Scott: [Take good care of yourself. I'm unsure when I'll return]

Caroline [Okay, I'll go to bed first. Goodnight.]

Scott: [Okay, goodnight.]

The next day, Caroline woke the children up early. After breakfast, they were going to set off to pick Axel up.

Before leaving, she called Axel, and the latter soon picked it up.

"Mommy." He sounded weak.

Hearing that something was wrong, Caroline immediately asked, "Axel, what's wrong with you?"

Axel immediately cheered up. "I'm fine, Mommy. I just woke up, so I was still in a daze."

Caroline heaved a sigh. "That's good. I'll come and pick you up now. Can you get out of bed and eat something first?"

"Er... I... I'll go on my own." While speaking, he looked up and glanced at Evan, who was coming downstairs

Caroline pondered and agreed to it. "Okay, I'll wait for you at the campsite. Remember to take a thick coat with you."

"Will do, Mommy."

Chapter 336 Focus

An hour later, Caroline reached the campsite with the children first.

Starry Campsite was a spacious campsite with a lot of entertainment activities.

When they walked past the horse-riding ground, Liora pointed at the pony and exclaimed,

"Mommy, can I ride this pony?"

Caroline held Liora's hand and walked slowly. "Sure, but we have to wait for your godmother to come first."

"She's here." Tyler suddenly spoke up and looked ahead.

Caroline looked over and saw Paige trot over while holding Alex's hand, greeting them enthusiastically.

When Paige reached Caroline and the children, she gasped for breath and said, "We're not late, are

www

"Yes, you're not late, but a bit slow." Tyler smiled elegantly and mocked Paige

Paige glared at him. "You're just like your father!"

When she made that statement, Alex looked at Tyler with confusion. The latter had just stopped smiling.

Alex wondered, "He behaves like Evan and doesn't take after Neil at all."

When Caroline noticed Alex staring at Tyler, she became anxious that Alex might see through anything.

Paige realized she had misspoken, so she immediately changed the topic.

"Pug, do you know how to ride a horse?"

Alex snapped back to his senses and raised his brows. "Well, I've been doing that recently."

"No, you were not-" Halfway through her sentence, Paige blushed

She shyly and angrily punched him. "Are you out of your mind? You're the horse instead!"

Caroline was rendered speechless as she watched them flirtatiously. "Did I just watch their lovey-dovey moment?"

Caroline held her children's hands and led Paige and Alex to their campsite. After learning that Alex wanted to tag along, she had even booked another tent.

When she reached there, she immediately saw Evan standing before the tent and watching the Paige was stunned, too. She then turned to glare at Alex. "Pug, you betrayed me?"

Alex lied calmly. I'm unsure either. Maybe Evan sounded me out."

Caroline sighed.

Now, she had no reason to drive him away. After all, it was Paige's birthday, and Evan had protected Caroline the night before.

The group walked forward, and Caroline greeted Axel. "Sweetie."

Axel turned around and let go of Evan's hand. He quietly walked to Caroline and said quiltily, "Mommy, Daddy-

"It's fine." Caroline interrupted him I'm glad you can come have fun with us."

Axel nodded and looked at Tyler and Liora. They were staring at Evan with displeasure.

Axel did not feel the urge to talk to them for a moment.

Liora pouted and snorted at Evan harshly. She then held Axel's hand and said, "Axel, let's go and play in the tent."

Evan frowned slightly when he saw the three children walk past him. "Why do Tyler and Liora hate me so much?"

Evan turned away and looked at Caroline, who had walked to the barbecue set. He then said coldly. "Don't you find Tyler and Liora a little rude?"

Caroline was stirring the charcoal as she calmly replied. "They don't generally behave this way. They're discriminating against you."

"Discriminating against me? Evan sneered. 'I have never harmed them " Caroline stopped and turned to look at him. "That's what you think, but the kids don't think so. We don't usually come out and have fun. Since you're here, you'd better not look so cold."

She continued stirring the charcoal but failed to set up the fire after a long while Paige was setting the picnic blanket. Seeing that, she wanted to help Caroline, but Alex stopped.

her. "Focus."

He could not let her ruin the chance for Evan to talk to Caroline alone.

Chapter 337 It Isn't Suitable

Paige angrily stepped on Alex's feet. I know what you're thinking!"

Alex grimaced as he rubbed the back of his feet. "Can you be more gentle?"

"Oh, you're disgusted by me now, huh?" Paige raised her voice. 'Yeah, that's who I am. Why do you ask me to change?

"And stop pestering me if you prefer gentle women more. Pug, don't make me mad today!"

When Alex successfully diverted Paige's attention, he immediately smiled apologetically.

"Okay, I'm wrong. Come. Let me hug you.

Paige pouted and snorted before throwing herself into his arms. novelbin

Their little scene rendered Caroline and Evan speechless.

Evan felt a surge of disdain as he turned around and grabbed the tongs from Caroline. Allow me,” he said.

Feeling uncomfortable, Caroline quietly moved to the other side to enjoy some fruit.

The triplets were sitting in the tent face-to-face.

Liora had her arms crossed as she stared at Axel solemnly. “Axel, you’re going to be a traitor now, aren’t you?”

Axel could only explain softly, “No, I didn’t say anything. It was Daddy who suggested driving me here and that I couldn’t turn him down.”

He spoke so much because he did not want to infuriate her.

Tyler tried to persuade Liora. “Lia, it’s useless for you to be mad since he’s here. We may as well enjoy ourselves.”

“No, I don’t want to!” Liora was angry now. “Scumbag Daddy didn’t rescue you the other day! I hate him

Although she yearned to have a father, he was too cruel. She felt that it was better to give up on him.

Tyler then lay on his side. “What do you think we should do then?”

Liora blinked and dwelled on it before suddenly sitting up straight. “I’ve got an idea!”

“What is it?” Tyler inquired with shock

Liora got up and walked out of the tent. “Come with me!”

The triplets walked out of the tent After Liora looked around, she walked to another’s tent.

Tyler and Axel looked at each other before they followed her

Liora walked to a chubby woman and yanked at her clothes, greeting the woman sweetly, “Madam

The woman looked down and saw a delicate, charming girl. Thus, she squatted down and smiled at Liora. "Girl, what's wrong?"

Liora pointed at Evan, who was trying to set up a fire. "Madam, do you see that man?"

The woman looked over. "The handsome man in a suit?"

Liora nodded eagerly, "Yes! He asked me to bring you over to help him start a fire."

With that, she gently tugged at the woman's sleeve and pleaded, "Madam, could you assist him? We might go hungry if he can't start the fire."

Observing this, the woman blushed slightly and replied, "Well, isn't that a bit inappropriate?"

But her friend chimed in. "Olivia, just go ahead. He asked the girl to come to you. I'm sure he's interested in you"

Olivia's blush deepened. "Oh, okay. I'll go and help him."

Liora chuckled and said, "Thank you, Madam"

Olivia replied. "You're welcome."

She then walked to Evan

Frowning, Tyler pulled Liora to the side. 'Lia, it's wrong for you to fool people like this."

Liora pouted. "But I don't like to see scumbag Daddy here."

Tyler continued reprimanding her seriously. "It's fine if you dislike him, but you can't involve others. Mommy will scold you if she learns about this."

Liora's eyes turned red. "I'm sorry, Tyler. I'm wrong. But I've already said that..."

Axel sighed. "Lia, you have to apologize.

Liora looked at Olivia, who had reached Evan. "Is it too late now..."

"No! You should do it now!" Tyler and Axel said in unison.

Chapter 338

Chapter 338 Apologize

Just as Liora was thinking about how to apologize, Olivia had already approached Evan. "Hey handsome, let me help you with the fire," she said shyly.

Evan stared at Olivia suspiciously. Before he could say anything, she grabbed Evan's hand.

Evan immediately retracted his hand and looked at Olivia unhappily. He warned her coldly. "Don't touch me!"

Olivia looked at Evan even more shyly. She raised her hand and patted his arm lightly. "Oh, you don't have to be so polite around me. I understand."

Evan frowned. "What are you talking about?"

Olivia was blushing so much that her face was almost as red as a tomato. She pursed her lips to suppress her smile and nudged Evan with her body "You know, I accept your feelings, so you don't have to act shy around me."

Evan was rendered speechless.

Seeing this scene, Caroline and the others were also stunned

What was going on?

Paige exclaimed. "Oh my god! The boss oozes so much charm that he's somehow attracted at random woman to come over and offer him help willingly!"

Alex held back his laughter. “Look at Evan’s face right now. It’s so funny it’s killing me!”

Paige took a closer look at Evan, whose face had turned as black as charcoal. She couldn’t help but burst out laughing. novelbin “Yeap! He’s waaay too charming“”

Caroline did not find it funny. On the contrary, she felt that Olivia was acting a little strange.

As Caroline pondered, she looked in the direction where Olivia had come from. Some distance away, she spotted Liora getting dragged back by Tyler.

Seeing the aggrieved look on Liora’s face, Caroline immediately understood what was going on.

She stood up with a cold expression and walked toward Liora.

Startled, Liora looked up at Caroline pitifully and mumbled, “Mommy.

Caroline lowered her voice with a frown and asked sternly, “Lia, did you arrange for that lady to come here?”

+15 BONUS

Tears streamed down Liora’s face, and she muttered, “Mommy, yes. I’m sorry. I’m really sorry...”

The anger inside Caroline suddenly surged. “Lia, do you realize how frightening your actions are?”

Liora burst into tears. “Mommy, I only did that because I don’t like him being here...”

“Even so, you’re not allowed to behave like this! Caroline refused to indulge her childish ways.

Liora needed to change her ways. Otherwise, she might do something even more serious next time!

“Mommy... he doesn't even treat you well. Why do you put up with him being here...” Liora's chubby little hand kept wiping her tears as she lamented.

“It's your godmother's birthday today. Since your godmother hasn't said anything about wanting him gone, how can I chase him away?” Caroline retorted.

“Also, if you don't like someone, you don't have to talk to them. You can just choose to ignore them. You should never involve other innocent people like that!”

Liora's cries attracted Paige, Alex, and Evan's attention.

Upon seeing Liora's tear-streaked face and her breath hitching, Evan's heart suddenly clenched as if someone had tightened their grip around it.

The inexplicable heartache made him feel distraught.

Why did he feel so uncomfortable about Caroline and Neil's child crying?

Paige walked quickly to Liora's side and picked her up. “Carol, why are you scolding Lia?”

Caroline's expression was cold. She felt angry at the thought of her daughter's actions just now, and to some extent, she blamed herself for it.

Seeing that Caroline was silent, Paige asked Liora, “Lia, tell me, what happened?”

Liora sobbed and said, “I did something bad. Mommy was right to scold me. I. I should apologize to that lady.”

Paige was stunned. ‘So Liora is the reason that woman came over. No wonder Carol scolded her. Carol really can't stand for this kind of thing.’

Paige advised, "Lia, all right, stop crying now. Go and apologize to the lady first. I'll take you horseback riding later, okay?"

Liora wiped away her tears and got down from Paige's arms. With sniffing breaths, she walked over to Olivia

Olivia looked at Liora in surprise as the little kid approached her. "Hey kiddo, why are you crying?"

Liora's tiny body trembled as she stammered, "I'm sorry. I lied to you. He wasn't actually looking for you. I lied so you would come over here. I'm sorry."

Olivia said, "It's fine. The fire has already started, so I'll head back first. Don't cry, kiddo."

Caroline walked up to Olivia and nodded apologetically. "Sorry to cause you so much trouble. I apologize for my daughter's behavior."

"It's okay! Don't worry about it!" Olivia waved her hand and left Caroline looked at Liora and said. "There's one more apology to make."

Liora lowered her head and turned to Evan, saying. "Scum- I'm s-sorry!"

After witnessing this sequence of events, Evan finally understood what was going on.

He raised his hand and paused for a moment before placing his large palm on Liora's little head.

His voice carried a rare gentleness as he said, "Alright, don't cry anymore."

Liora suddenly froze, and her sobs lessened.

Her scumbag daddy's hands were warm, and he was being so gentle to her.

Liora raised her head and looked at Evan properly for the first time. With just one glance, she was captivated. He somehow seemed different from before.

Only when Evan frowned slightly did Lidra quickly lowered her head, turned around, and ran into the tent.

Caroline followed her daughter into the tent. Her heart ached after reprimanding Lia. She felt it was necessary to have a good chat with Lia now,

After enjoying the barbecue and resting for a while at noon, the group moved on to the riding field.

Caroline knew how to ride a horse. When she went out with Evan to meet clients, she often participated in such activities.

When it was time to choose horses, Caroline communicated with the horse trainer and chose

After accompanying them for a few rounds. Caroline went to choose her own horse Walking into the stable, Caroline looked around and picked out a white horse.

The staff helped lead it out, and she turned around and mounted it.

The staff member asked, "Ma'am, can you ride it on your own? Our horse trainer isn't here right now."

Caroline glanced at the relatively docile-looking horse she was on and replied calmly. "Don't worry about it. I can manage."

The staff member said. "Oh, alright."

With that, he handed the reins to Caroline.

Caroline squeezed the horse's stomach slightly with her legs to cue it, and the horse trotted off with a couple of snorts

As soon as Caroline left, a shout suddenly came from not far away. "Wait!"

The staff member turned around to look at the horse trainer, who had just returned. 'She's already gone. She won't hear you even if you shout like that."

The horse trainer glared at the staff member. "Are you crazy? How could you allow a client to ride that horse?"

The staff member was puzzled at the trainer's outburst. "What's wrong with that horse?"

The horse trainer said, "You just started working here, so you wouldn't know! That horse is the wildest one we have here! It's completely uncontrollable unless ridden by someone with excellent horse-riding skills! Once it starts running, it'll go out of control!"

The staff member's face turned pale, and he exclaimed in fear, "I didn't know about this! What should we do now?"

The horse trainer cursed under his breath. "Fuck Damn it! I'll rush over and see if I can stop it!"

With that, the horse trainer hurried into the stable

Back at the resting area, Paige gulped down a mouthful of water and complained, "Horseback riding is hard work. I'm all worn out."

Alex patted the seat beside him. "Then sit down and take a rest. Let's watch your bestie in action."

Paige sat down and looked at Caroline, who was riding a white horse valiantly on the field. She praised proudly, 'As expected of my Carol She's so good at riding! Unlike someone who doesn't

After saying that. Paige shot a disdainful glance at Alex.

Quickly reacting. Alex pointed at Evan and said, "Someone else here isn't riding a horse. I'm not.

the only one."

Chapter 340 Stay Away From Me

Evan shot Alex an annoyed look and said, "You have way too much time on your hands.

Alex rubbed his nose. "Oh, come on. I was just joking."

that?

"What is that?" Surprised, Paige asked, "Is that horse trainer chasing after Carol?"

Evan and Alex turned to look at the horse trainer speeding after Caroline. The horse trainer's anxious expression told them something was awfully wrong.

Immediately after, two more horse trainers on horseback chased after them from the stable.

Seeing this, Evan stood up from his seat and walked toward the staff member with a grim expression.

Alex and Paige hurriedly followed suit

Evan questioned urgently. "What's going on?!"

The staff member stammered. "The horse that lady's riding is the wildest one in the stable..

Before the staff could finish speaking, a loud crash was heard from a distance, accompanied by Caroline's cries.

Evan and the rest turned around and saw that the white horse had already rushed out of the novel bin racecourse with Caroline on its back.

Evan pursed his lips tightly. "You guys stay here and watch the kids!"

With that, he quickly fetched a horse from the stable, mounted it skillfully, and chased after

Caroline

"Damn it! Evan! You haven't fully recovered yet!"

By the time Alex reacted and shouted, Evan had already rushed out on his horse,

Paige stomped her feet anxiously. "Alex! Alex, go get the car ready! We need to go after them! Carol is heading toward the dense forest! It's easy to get lost there!"

"Dense forest?!" Alex was stunned momentarily. "Okay! I'll go get the car now!"

Meanwhile, Caroline was almost scared out of her wits as the horse galloped wildly. Her internal organs felt like they were going to scatter within her from the constant jostling.

She had tried tightening the reins but couldn't control the horse with her strength. If she pulled sideways, she would be thrown off!

As Caroline watched the scenes whizzing past and felt the pain of leaves slapping against her, her fear and desperation grew.

"Caroline!"

Evan's voice suddenly echoed amidst the howling wind.

Caroline did not dare to turn around and look behind her. She could only reply with a trembling voice, "Evan! Don't follow me!"

Frowning. Evan tightened his grip on the reins and sped up to Caroline's side "Caroline! Listen to me! Press down on the horse's neck and grab its mane with one hand. Use your other hand to gently pull the reins to the right."

Caroline felt a lump in her throat when she saw Evan chasing after her.

However, she did not have time to think too much. She had to try her best to stabilize her body and do as Evan instructed.

Caroline grabbed the horse's mane, and the horse neighed in pain. Perhaps she hadn't used the right amount of force.

It suddenly stopped, and its front half reared up.

Caroline lost her grip on the reins and was thrown off the horse's back.

Evan's expression darkened. He quickly stepped on his horse's back and lunged toward Caroline.

He caught Caroline as she landed, and both of them tumbled down the slope.

With a loud bang, Caroline and Evan crashed into a big tree.

The intense impact made Caroline's vision black out momentarily. Dizziness and nausea swept over her. But she could clearly sense that someone behind her was holding her tightly, sharing some of her pain.

Caroline pushed through the haze in her head and forced herself to sit up. Then, she turned to look at the person behind her.

Evan had tightly closed his eyes, and his complexion had turned pale.

His handsome face bore small cuts from the tree branches, his white shirt had been stained red by his blood, and his knuckles were completely covered in blood
