Chapter 351

Chapter 351 He Has Arrived?

Caroline was startled by the commotion behind her.

By the time she looked behind, Jamie had already shoved her away and clutched Evan's throat.

She pinned Evan on the bed and shouted ferociously, "It's you! It's all you! You ruined me! I want you dead!"

Caroline was terrified and hastily threw away the chicken soup in her hand to stop Jamie. "Jamie! It's Evan! Let go of him!"

Evan did not move, and his face flushed from the suffocation.

His eyes were filled with pain and sorrow as he said with great effort, "Don't hurt her!"

Caroline ignored him and continued to hold onto Jamie. "Calm down, please? Evan's ribs are broken! Don't pin him down with your legs!"

Yet, Jamie disregarded Caroline, so the latter called for help.

Soon, the nurses came and called for the doctor after witnessing the situation in the room

The doctor came with a sedative and injected Jamie with it. Jamie lost her strength gradually and collapsed next to Evan.

The doctor rushed over to check on Evan, but the latter shouted coldly, "Get out!"

"Yes, Mr. Jordan!"

The doctor left the room and shut the door.

Meanwhile, Caroline saw the tears that rolled down Eva's face and his gloomy eyes. She felt suffocated because it was her first time seeing Evan in such sorrow.

He appeared strong and stern to her, yet he was so fragile now.

She could not bear to watch anymore, so she turned away.

"Do you find this amusing?" Evan asked hoarsely and sneered.

Caroline said weakly, "No."

"No? Have you ever seen a mother who would try to choke her son?" Evan scoffed.

Caroline looked at him and said comfortingly, "No, Evan. This isn't what she wants. She wasn't like this either when she first came in!"

"That is because of my face that looks similar to his!" Evan clenched his teeth in anger.

Caroline kept quiet. She had no idea what exactly had happened in between, so she did not know how to comfort him.

She approached, carried Jamie to the sofa to lie down, and helped Evan to sit up with suppressed perhaps from the pain of his injury.

"Go to work. I'll get Reuben to send my mother home when she is awake."

Evan shut his eyes gently after saying that. novelbin

Caroline understood he did not wish to see anyone now, so she nodded and left.

Reuben stood close to the wall outside.

He said to Caroline, “Ms. Shenton.”

Caroline nodded and took a glance at the room. “Please take care of Jamie and Evan Don’t let Jamie hurt him again when she regains consciousness...”

She felt her heart wrench in pain at the thought of Evan’s lack of resistance.

She felt suffocated by the pain!

Caroline wanted to know what had happened between Evan and Jamie badly.

Reuben nodded. “Don’t worry, Ms. Shenton.”

She turned and left.

Caroline got Naomi to call a meeting with the whole fashion department.

TYC would be continuing to launch its fashion design, so the meeting was called to conduct screening and modifications.

The design of the second piece of clothing was selected after the hour-long meeting.

Caroline returned to the office with the design sketch for further modifications and detailing

Naomi knocked and entered the office at 3:00 p.m. She told Caroline, “The principal of Merlin School, Mr. Gull, is here to see you.”

Caroline looked up. “He has arrived?”

Joseph Gull entered, and Caroline held out her hand to him. "Hello, Mr. Gull."

Joseph smiled and shook Caroline's hand. "Your office has a very warm ambiance, Ms. Shenton."

Caroline said, "Thank you for your compliment."

They both sat on the sofa, where Caroline poured Joseph a cup of coffee. "Please drink, Mr. Gull,"

Joseph said, "Thank you I'm here today to check on your opinion on the students' summer school uniform."

Caroline said, "Frankly, it's my first time designing a school uniform. So, I would like to listen to your opinion, too."

Joseph looked at Caroline in astonishment because she was the first person who sought his opinion.

He did not answer immediately but said, "Tell me about your understanding of the summer outfit's fabric material first."

Caroline nodded and explained her opinion of choosing clothes for Liora and Tyler to Joseph.

Joseph was astonished. "You have children, huh?"

Caroline smiled nonchalantly. "Yes, three of them.

"I couldn't tell. I thought you were unmarried. How old are your children?" Joseph asked.

Caroline said, "Five years old."

"Pretty good. What are their interests?" asked Joseph.

Caroline said, "Computers My two sons are very gifted at coding."

Joseph's eyes lit up. "I wonder if I can meet them."

"Sure, you can set the time. However, we should continue to discuss the school uniform now," said

Caroline.

The discussion continued until 4:00 p.m. At that point, Joseph left the company.

Caroline rushed over to the hospital, where the exhausted Heuben handed Jamie over to her.

Jamie got into the car, and Caroline asked Reuben, "Is Evan alright?" novelbin

Reuben said, "Ms Shenton, I have an earnest request."

Caroline said, "Go ahead."

Reuben said, "Will you please text with Mr. Jordan if you're free? He waited for your text message all day yesterday and only ate one meal. He ate breakfast today but skipped lunch. He won't be able to recover if he keeps doing this.

"In addition, Mr. Jordan has yet to fully recover from the injury sustained from Mr. Jordan Sr.'s punishment."

Caroline's mood had finally calmed down, yet Reuben's remark stirred it up again.

"Noted. I'll bring dinner over after sending Jamie and the children home," said Caroline.

The only thing she could help was to send meals.

Reuben was stunned. "Ah... Sure..."

He did not expect that Caroline would come over later.

'Is she worried about Mr. Jordan?' he wondered.

At 6:00 p.m., Caroline made dinner for Jamie and the children. She ate quickly before going to prepare food for Evan.

Kenny entered the house and noticed Caroline was still busy in the kitchen.

He asked, "What are you doing, 07"

Caroline was startled by Kenny. "How did you appear so mysteriously?"

"You're the one distracted! Who are you cooking for?" asked Kenny.

Caroline shoved Kenny away. "No one. Please take the children on a stroll later."

Caroline left before the three children could react.

After dinner, the triplets ran upstairs, shut the door, and talked

Liora sat cross–legged and said. “Let her visit then. It’s no biggie”

Tyler and Axel looked at Liora in unison. Tyler said suspiciously, “Something is different with you, Lia,” Liora’s expression stiffened. “What’s different with me?”

Tyler said, “You hated it more than me when Mommy was meeting scumbag Daddy previously.

yet you suddenly changed your attitude. Is it because scumbag Daddy saved Mommy?"

Liora recalled the feeling of Evan caressing her head and making her feel safe.

Liora's ears flushed, and she asked, "Do you hate scumbag Daddy, Tyler?"

Tyler said, "I don't hate him as much, but I don't like him either."

Liora lowered her head and said, "M-Me too..."

Liora did not have the courage to say she liked her father because she worried her brother and

Caroline walked into Evan's room,

Caroline hid the packed food behind her. "Have you had dinner?"

"No. Have you brought food with you?" Evan saw the packed food Caroline kept hidden.

Upon learning he hadn't eaten, Caroline nodded and retrieved the packed food she had set on the bedside table.

"Are you going to work or eat first?" asked Caroline

Evan closed the laptop with a clap and said nonchalantly. Till eat

Caroline felt like she was back at being his secretary for a moment.

She placed the laptop on the bedside table, unboxed the food, and passed the chicken soup to

Evan

Evan looked at the bland food with a frown “Is this what you eat at home?”

Caroline said, ‘I made this especially for you because you should watch what you eat now.’

Evan appeared relieved and in a good mood after hearing that He would eat anything she cooked for him. He had frowned because he assumed she could not afford to eat well at home.

Evan scooped the chicken soup and ate slowly.

After dinner, Evan said, “Your cooking is just the same as before.”

Caroline packed up the container. ‘You sound like Criticizing.’

Evan smirked. “So, you’re also aware your cooking skill is not that good, huh?”

Caroline knew that Evan could never say anything pleasant. She packed up the container and said. “You can choose not to eat if you don’t want to!”

‘I wouldn’t need to cook for you then because I’m busy too” she thought.

Sensing Caroline’s agitation, Evan raised an eyebrow and asked, “Are you displeased?”

Caroline placed the food container loudly. T’m very busy, you know? It’s already good I can cook for you. Can you not nitpick?”

Evan pulled Caroline’s arm with a smile.

She was caught off guard and fell into his arms. She raised her head in astonishment and looked into Evan's enticing eyes.

Evan smiled, leaned over, and whispered into Caroline's ear, "I'm joking. I love the food."

Caroline blushed and was about to push Evan away and stand up when the door suddenly opened.

They both turned to see Reuben standing in the doorway, looking surprised.

"I'm sorry for bothering you!" He shut the door swiftly after that.

Evan's expression turned solemn while Caroline moved away in embarrassment.

"I'll be on my way then!"

Caroline grabbed the container and walked out swiftly. She had already shut the door before Evan could stop her.

Outside, Reuben turned and entered the room after he saw Caroline leaving in a rush.

"Mr. Jordan—"

Evan cast a ferocious look before he could finish his sentence.

His body shuddered, and he explained, "I have something to tell you, Mr. Jordan!"

"Speak!" Evan said in a displeased manner.

Reuben brought up the mailbox on the table and passed it to Evan. "Kenny has replied."

Evan took it, and his expression turned solemn when he saw the reply.

Evan threw the tablet on the floor, thinking, "He really thinks he's some hot shit!"

Reuben asked cautiously, "What should we do now, Mr. Jordan?"

Evan pondered briefly before he said. "Figure out a way to get in touch with John!"

"He might. Ill give it a try," said Reuben.

Evan nodded. He refused to believe that Kenny would not accept MK's offer with John's

The next day, Caroline headed to work with Jamie, where Naomi watched Jamie during her work.

In the secretary's office, Jamie stared at Naomi constantly Naomi was distracted from work because of Jamie's stare, so she offered the tablet to Jamie. "Would you like to watch something?"

Jamie took it but continued to watch Naomi.

Naomi frowned. "Is there something on my face?"

Jamie shook her head and said, "Why are you unhappy? Is it because work is tiring?"

LIL

Naomi was stunned and looked at Jamie in confusion. "Why do you ask?"

Jamie pointed at Naomi's face. "There's no glow in your eyes"

Naomi kept quiet. It was the first time someone asked if she was happy. Surprisingly, it was someone whom she had only met a few times without speaking.

'Does she care about me? she wondered,

Naomi shook her head. "I don't need that.

Jamie shook her head. "You should be happy."

"Why?"

"How is that related?" Naomi asked.

Naomi replied briefly. "I don't need that!"

Naomi believed Caroline cared for her only because she was her subordinate and capable of organizing Caroline's important matters well.

Caroline would not have cared about her if she lacked the capability!

Moreover, she had no need for such hypocrisy!

Jamie thought and said, "You need it. Because you're a good person, and a good person deserves to novelbin

Jamie picked up the tablet. "Because you gave me this"

Naomi darted a look at Jamie and scoffed in her heart. So you think I'm a good person just because of a tablet? That's so naive!"

Naomi did not speak anymore and returned to her work

Unfortunately, she was distracted from work for the rest of the day because she thought about Jamie's comment.

Before the end of the work day, Caroline summoned Naomi.

Naomi entered the office, and Caroline asked, "Naomi, did you forget to pass yesterday's meeting minutes to me this morning?"

Naomi lowered her gaze and said nonchalantly, "I'm sorry for not performing well.

Caroline stared at Naomi for a while before she suddenly chuckled. "It's fine. I believe that you're tired. After all, you've had a lot on your plate recently."

Naomi kept quiet and thought about Jamie's comment once again.

Caroline checked her watch. "It's time to get off work. Let's have a meal together. I have

Naomi nodded. "Sure"

At 11:30 p.m., Caroline took Jamie and Naomi to a restaurant opposite the company.

Caroline passed a contract to Naomi after sitting in a private room. "Take a look."

Naomi took it and looked at Caroline in astonishment after reading the document. “Shares?”

Caroline smiled. “Yes, but it’s just equity. You deserve to own equity in the company.”

“Ms. Shenton I’m just a secretary, reminded Naomi

“No. The contract clearly states that you will join HR starting tomorrow and hold the position of human resources department head Don’t decline my offer because the company needs a talented person like you. I’ve been observing you during your time working for me. You did a great job in training new secretaries and completed your tasks meticulously.”

Caroline had her own ulterior motive in promoting Naomi and giving her equity.

Firstly, Naomi was outstanding in her work, so she would be able to manage the company better in the HR department, Secondly and most importantly, she wanted to find out if Naomi was the arsonist.

Naomi did not speak much, but she would bring up Kenny in their conversations after the factory. fire, which made her doubt Kenny

What was the point of Naomi creating conflict? After all, Kenny treated her well.

Failing to understand the reason, Caroline could only promote Naomi to a higher position and observe Naomi’s actions in the company

She had to make sacrifices to achieve the desired outcome, or she could not make peace with the situation.

Naomi kept quiet for a long time and accepted the offer after noticing Caroline’s persistence.

“Thank you, Ms. Shenton,” said Naomi in gratitude.

Caroline said, “Don’t mention it. We shall work hard for the company together.”

Naomi answered with mixed feelings, “Sure.”

TYC’s pre–order number was more than twice MK’s in just a few hours.

It caused a great sensation in the fashion industry

The people speculated MK’s ability to maintain its leading position in the fashion industry.

A journalist hurried to TYC to conduct a solo interview with Caroline:

Caroline agreed to the interview and asked her assistant, Josie Gardner, to escort the journalist to the reception room, where they would meet.

The journalist, Paxton Parker, stood up and shook Caroline’s hand as soon as she entered. “Thank you for taking the time to do this today, Ms. Shenton.”

Caroline said with a faint smile, “It’s fine. Please take a seat.”

Paxton asked after sitting down, “We shall begin the recording soon. It’s a live–streamed interview.

We hope that you don’t mind. Ms Shenton”

Caroline frowned because she had not been notified prior.

However, she nodded.

Paxton nodded to the cameraman and began the interview officially.

Paxton asked, "Ms. Shenton, TYC has only been founded for two months, yet its current sales revenue has far surpassed MK. How do you feel about that?"

Caroline replied, "MK encompasses a wide range of industries and not just fashion. Hence, TYC and MK shouldn't be compared. In addition, I'm deeply grateful that TYC's performance is attributed to everyone's support and preference.*

Paxton asked, "You're too humble, Ms. Shenton. Why do you fix the price of all your clothing at 37 dollars? According to my knowledge, the material of your clothing is not cheap."

Caroline explained, "I'm the designer, so I want everyone to wear my design at an affordable price without compromising the company's interest."

Paxton nodded. "I heard that you have two children, Ms. Shenton. May I inquire why you are still engaging in flirtatious action with MK's CEO despite your current situation?"

Caroline looked at Paxton in shock. Why didn't you inform me that you'd ask this sort of question.

Evan clutched the tablet so tightly he could crush it

Reuben was scared out of his wits. 'Why did I decide to show him Ms. Shenton's interview, huh?'

Alex glanced at Evan’s tablet. ‘Oh no, I’m in trouble!’

Evan’s expression was tense as he asked in rage. “Is that funny?”

Alex’s expression turned serious “Not funny at all! Caroline has gone too far! You are so good to Alex approached Evan and continued. “Evan, I think it’s time for you to think this through! I believe Caroline has no feelings for you anymore. It would be best for you to marry someone

Alex said, “I’m here to visit you, of course. Why else?”

Evan sneered. “I’m not dead yet, so you may get out of here!”

Alex hastily sat next to the bed and said, "I'm not leaving. You're lonely, and I'm here to keep you company as your best friend. Oh, right, how are you planning to deal with MK's fashion branch?"

"Caroline's company is gaining momentum too quickly. It's strange. Why isn't there any negative

Reuben thought, "That is because Mr. Jordan hired someone to deal with troublemakers for her."

Evan threw the tablet on the bedside table and said, "I'm planning to connect with John."

"John? Isn't he hard to find?"

Evan shared the same thinking and nodded. "Hmm, it's on you."

Alex stood up. "Sure, I shall make a move first!"

Alex left and texted Paige to ask her for dinner before he left the hospital.

In the afternoon, Evan chose to call Caroline to talk about the interview after considering it for a long time.

Caroline picked up and said coldly. "Anything?"

Evan frowned. "Are you going to explain to me about the interview?"

"What else is there to say? Was I not telling the truth?" Caroline was triggered by the incident and sounded angry.

Evan's expression turned cold. "So, you think that I'm pestering you?"

“I don’t! Why do you get to step back in a relationship so casually? What do you take me for?”

Caroline leaned against the chair weakly. “What do I take you for? Have you questioned yourself about what you take me for then? You regarded me as your mistress five years ago and searched for me frantically only after you discovered I had saved your life.

“What if you were still clueless about the incident? You’d still be in a loving relationship with

Caroline was stunned by his remark. ‘Are you using Axel to threaten me since you can’t do anything to the relationship? Are you only pleased if you keep us together by force?’

Alex and Paige had dinner together.

Alex leaned against Paige’s shoulder during the meal and sighed in dejection.

After dinner, Paige headed to Bayview Villa

Caroline was about to head out for a stroll with the children when she saw Paige driving into the "Godmother is here!" Liora ran over to Paige's car and raised her hands in joy when Paige opened the door. "Hug me, Godmother!"

Caroline picked up Liora, caressed her nose, and said. "My precious Lia, are you heading out?"

Liora nodded obediently. "Mommy is taking us on a walk. Will you join us?"

"Sure!" Paige carried Liora and approached Caroline. "Can I join, Carol? I have a favor to ask from you

Caroline was surprised that Paige would seek her favor. "Sure, here.

During the walk, Paige chatted briefly with the children before she told Caroline, "Carol, will you please help to reach out to Ms. Salvatore?"

Caroline was stunned. “Are you seeking my mentor’s help in designing clothes?”

Paige said, “Yes. Pug would like to get me custom-made clothing. Heh.”

Caroline smiled. “Is it for the engagement or the wedding?”

Paige blushed. “I don’t know about that, but Pug’s intention is pretty good.”

“Sure! I’ll make the call for you now.” Caroline took the task with delight.

She sent a text message to Joan. [Are you busy?]

Joan had told Caroline not to bother her on usual days and to send a text message if she needed something.

Joan called back a few minutes after the text message was sent.

Joan asked smilingly, “How can I help you, G? Keep it short because I’m on a date in Spain.”

Caroline knew that her mentor was fooling around with men again.

Caroline recounted Paige’s request to Joan.

Joan answered smilingly, “You don’t have to plead to me for such a trivial matter. However, I can’t Caroline informed Paige, and the latter beckoned to talk to Joan.

Paige was delighted “Awesome. I’ll pass your number to him.”

“Alright, I won’t charge the design fee. Consider it my wedding present to you.”

Paige blushed “Thank you, Ms. Salvatore. There’s no definite date yet.”

Joan laughed. “See you at the end of the month, my dear. Tell G that I’m going back to my date.”

Paige looked at Caroline, who nodded in turn. Thus, she said, “Sure, bye!”

After hanging up. Paige appeared emotional. “Rumor says that Joan is not easygoing and that it’s hard to commission her. The people have no idea how nice Ms. Salvator is!”

Caroline kept her phone and teased Paige. “Isn’t that because of me?”

Paige hugged Caroline’s arm. “It’s all because of you, of course. Thank you, Carol!”

“Don’t mention it, silly,” said Caroline.

Paige was her best friend, so she hoped that Paige would be the happiest bride wearing the wedding gown designed by her mentor.
