Chapter 799 - 799 Supreme-Grade Innate Spiritual Treasure

Lin Mo smiled. The Qilin's words were like a calming pill for him.

This was equivalent to turning a death tribulation into a great calamity. It was a good sign.

The two of them sat on the ground with the Dao Law of Fate revolving around them. The two of them deduced it together and felt the endless changes in their fate.

With their combined efforts, Lin Mo's next encounter could be predicted, but the two of them could not see it.

!!

There were hundreds and thousands of endings, with endless variations.

This was because any action, decision, or even mentality that Lin Mo made could affect the outcome.

In addition, there were also creatures involved in this matter. Their thoughts would also determine the ending for Lin Mo.

Fortunately, among these countless endings, there were very few dead ends.

Most of the time, it would be a close call. The result of the deduction was that he had the help of a benefactor, which surprised Lin Mo greatly.

This was good. He could also complete the system mission without worry.

"Little girl, you stay here and cultivate. I'll take you away," said Lin Mo as he patted the Qilin's forehead and stood up.

"Be careful. Some results are a dead end. If you feel that something is wrong, just come back quickly." The Qilin was still a little worried.

Although the result of the deduction was that there would be no danger, what if...

“Trust me!”

Lin Mo responded and left the Inner World with his will.

Immediately after, a terrifying energy fluctuation spread all over.

Countless soul powers locked onto him, and the space was sealed again. These Supreme Saints and Absolute Saints were very patient.

After seeing him hide in the Inner World, preparations were made in advance.

As expected, Lin Mo appeared not long after and was immediately trapped. The attack was about to arrive. Once it hit, his cultivation would be crippled.

Even though he had the God Devouring Body, he could recover by devouring a large amount of heaven and earth spiritual qi after escaping.

However, he did not want to suffer such humiliation, so he decided to communicate with the Inner World and escape.

Suddenly, a burst of multi-colored divine lights came from the horizon. The sealed space shattered, and the pressure that filled the sky and the plains disappeared.

The Great Saints and even the peak Great Saints were all sent flying by this divine light.

The attack on Lin Mo disappeared as it was melted by the multi-colored divine light.

“Who... who dares to attack?”

“The Bai Clan of the Southern Continent Heavenly Domain? We promised the Emperor-to-be that we wouldn’t do anything. Why are you still interfering?”

At this moment, all the masters were furious as they looked into the distance.

Hearing this, Lin Mo was stunned. Could it be that the benefactor in the deduction was from the Bai Clan?

“What Bai Clan? I don’t know them.”

A familiar voice spoke out with a hint of contempt.

Hearing this, a smile finally appeared on Lin Mo’s face. It was a familiar face. It was the Rainbow-Winged Bird that he had recruited at the Five Elements Mountain.

“Senior, you are finally here...” Lin Mo sighed softly. It had been really dangerous just now. If it wasn’t for the Rainbow-Winged Bird, he would really have died.

“Who are you?” An Absolute Saint shouted. innread.com

At the same time, some creatures felt that it was someone who had been sent by the Bai Clan to reprimand the Bai Clan for not abiding by the agreement.

“If he isn’t from the Bai Clan, why would they help this kid?”

“That’s right. It must be the Bai Clan. The Bai Clan broke the agreement first. Do they really think that we are weak?”

Many Supreme Saints and Absolute Saints condemned the bird, thinking that he had been sent by the Bai Clan.

“Brat, you can decide what you want to say about this matter,” said the Rainbow-Winged Bird as it looked at Lin Mo.

It did not care whether it was exposed or not. Since it had agreed to join Lin Mo’s faction, it would allow Lin Mo to decide.

“Thank you for your help, Senior.”

Lin Mo, who had been worried that he would not have a chance to interrupt, was overjoyed. When he saw that everyone was looking at him, he cleared his throat.

“I, Lin Mo, have officially established the Molin Chamber of Commerce in front of all the heroes of the Northern Continent. It has just been established, and there are three elders.

“One of them is this senior, Rainbow-Winged Bird, a creature from the Five Elements Mountain in the ancient battlefield.”

As soon as he finished speaking, countless sneers were heard, mocking Lin Mo for overestimating himself.

But soon, many creatures reacted. They looked at the man who was shrouded in the multi-colored divine light in shock.

It was the legendary extinct creature, the Rainbow-Winged Bird.

It was hard to believe that there were still beings that were alive in the ancient battlefield and possessed intelligence.

“Nonsense. It’s impossible for the beasts in the ancient battlefield to develop intelligence,” said a Great Saint.

However, as soon as he finished speaking, a disciple reported on his own encounter on the battlefield.

Coincidentally, he had also been to the Five Elements Mountain and knew that all the creatures there had intelligence.

However, without the permission of the Five Elements Mountain, they had not been able to step out of the specific range.

The Rainbow-Winged Bird in front of him might really have come out from inside...

“How is this possible...”

The group of Saints was shocked. They scanned the disciple with their soul power. After confirming that he was not lying, their eyes gradually became solemn.

...

“Sir, do you really want to interfere in this matter?”

A supreme elder of the Hidden Dragon Pavilion stepped forward with his hands clasped together towards the bird.

He couldn’t understand. Lin Mo was just a junior. It was already a great opportunity for the Bai Clan to recognize him and send an Emperor-to-be to protect him.

However, they had just discussed this matter with the Bai Clan, and found that the Emperor-to-be did not want to take action against Lin Mo.

In the next moment, an Absolute Saint jumped out and joined the Molin Chamber of Commerce that Lin Mo had established...

“Don’t you understand what he’s saying? I’m an elder of the Molin Chamber of Commerce,” said the Rainbow-Winged Bird, as his eyes turned cold.

A multi-colored divine light flashed and swept over Lin Mo to protect him.

“Do you know about the Bai Clan that they are talking about?” Rainbow-Winged Bird asked Lin Mo. It was troublesome to have an Emperor-to-be hiding in the shadows.

If what the other party said was true, then he could take Lin Mo away today.

However, if an Emperor-to-be were to make a move, Lin Mo would really be trapped in the Inner World.

“I have a good friend from the Bai Clan in the Myriad Souls Mound in the Southern Continent Heavenly Region. He introduced me to the Bai Clan.”

Lin Mo spoke frankly without hiding anything. He told everyone.

This was the reason why the Bai Clan had come forward to protect him. At the same time, he was also shocked.

The Bai Clan was so powerful that the entire Northern Continent was afraid of them. It was extremely terrifying...

However, on second thought, perhaps an Emperor-to-be was enough to make countless people fear him.

This was because if a master of this level was truly determined to take revenge, no faction would be able to stop him.

No faction would dare to take on such a risk.

This was also the reason why these people had agreed to not allow the Emperor-to-be to attack...

“No wonder it was a death tribulation at the beginning, but it was a life and death situation later on...” Lin Mo muttered to himself.

“Congratulations on completing the mission. The Molin Chamber of Commerce has been officially established. Please continue to strengthen your influence.”

[ Mission Reward: One of the Four Immortal Slaying Swords, the Supreme-grade Innate Spiritual Treasure, the Immortal Vanquishing Sword!]

Lin Mo suddenly felt his soul tremble. The Immortal sword Broken Moon in his qi center was actually trembling at this moment.

In the depths of his consciousness, an endless stream of sword qi appeared, and a strange-looking scarlet longsword appeared.

As soon as it appeared, Lin Mo felt a thick, vicious aura spreading.

His soul was wrapped in the vicious aura, and a dense killing intent surrounded him. However, his appearance did not change at all.

Even the Rainbow-Winged Bird beside him didn't notice anything unusual.

It was staring at its surroundings because more than ten Absolute Saints had appeared and were now approaching...

In the distance, there were even more masters, but they chose to wait and see first.

Because of the intimidation from the Bai Clan, not many forces dared to make a move at this moment.

The only ones who still chose to attack were those who had a blood feud with Lin Mo, such as the Gongsun family and the Behemoth Clan.

The rest were all relatively strong forces.

They didn't fear the Bai Clan. After the Bai Clan had intervened, they had decided to not attack.

The Bai Clan had masters who were proficient in the Great Dao of Karma. They had predicted that someone would help Lin Mo, so they agreed.

After the intervention of many parties, the current situation was established.

Tens of thousands of miles away, there were many masters of the Mu family here, looking at the huge formation that covered the sky.

Mu Yuzhu was a little worried. She looked at the middle-aged man next to her. He was the patriarch of the Mu Clan, and he was very powerful. He was one of the strongest in the Northern Continent.

"Ancestor, are you not going to help?" Mu Yuzhu asked as she looked at the formation that covered the sky.

Some elders of the Mu Clan tried to persuade him. The Mu Clan was not the Bai Clan, so they did not have such strong combat strength.

It wasn't worth it to make enemies with the other powerful forces of the Northern Continent just to win Lin Mo over.

Not far away, the Saintess of Snow Valley stood tall and slender as she looked at Lin Mo, who was in danger.

Even with the help of the Rainbow-Winged Bird, the situation was still not optimistic.

She looked at the Lord of Snow Valley and said, "Valley Master, Song Lianxue and Mao Zhu are in his Inner World. Should we interfere?"

"Let's attack together. Kill it and capture Lin Mo," shouted an Absolute Saint.

"Don't act rashly. If necessary, hide in the Inner World," warned the Rainbow-Winged Bird. In the next moment, its figure disappeared.

The multi-colored divine light bloomed. It was a peak Absolute Saint, a step away from Emperor-to-be. Its combat power was very strong.

It was extremely brave. Anyone who approached it was hit by the multi-colored divine light and immediately spat out blood.

Some of the weaker ones were even severely injured and on the verge of death.

The elder of the Hidden Dragon Pavilion was furious and attacked with all his might. He was at least a Seventh Heaven Layer Absolute Saint.

However, he felt a little weak at the moment. Because he was old, his qi and blood were depleted.

It was difficult to unleash peak combat strength, but the Rainbow-Winged Bird had abundant blood and qi and even had the ability to break through to the Emperor-to-be level.

“Boom!”

The moment the two sides clashed, spiritual qi surged and laws continuously eroded each other.

The commotion did not seem big, but the danger within could not be underestimated.

“Boom!”

The space cracked and a storm gathered in the void. However, it was suppressed by the Rainbow-Winged Bird, and a colorful tail feather appeared in its hand.

A powerful pressure spread, causing many of the creatures in the formation to be suppressed until they could not breathe.

At this moment, even Great Saints were nothing more than ants in its eyes, much less those who were Saints. It could destroy them with a flip of its hand...

“So your original form is as a Green Flood Dragon. Not bad, but unfortunately, you’re too old and your blood essence is declining,” said the Rainbow-Winged Bird as it shook its head, and a multi-colored divine light appeared in his palm.

The light appeared, and with a boom, the Green Flood Dragon transformed into its true form, resisting with its powerful physical body and laws.

With just one strike, he spat out a mouthful of blood and staggered back.

However, the Rainbow-Winged Bird wasn't willing to let it go. It raised its hand and attacked, as it pressed forward.

“Roar!”

The Green Flood Dragon roared at the sky. Inch by inch, the scales on its body broke, and bright red blood sprinkled down, nourishing the earth.

At the same time, a white lion appeared and its huge claws attacked the bird from behind.

“Clang!”

Facing the sneak attack, the Rainbow-Winged Bird was not afraid at all. The feathers on its body emitted a divine light.

At this moment, it seemed to have turned into a sharp sword that could sweep through everything. The white lion's claws were instantly torn apart.

“Roar!”

A painful roar mixed with fresh blood filled the sky, causing everyone to be shocked.

Who would have thought that the Rainbow-Winged Bird would be so powerful that it wouldn't be at a disadvantage even when surrounded by so many Absolute Saints?

People even felt that if it had more time, it could even kill all the Absolute Saints present...

“Actually, we can just sit down and talk. There's no need to fight to the death,” said the Rainbow-Winged Bird.

Then, he transformed into a human that was holding a colorful sword in his hand. Sharp sword qi spread around his body and firmly protected Lin Mo.

“Kill them!”

What responded to him was the spear of the elder of the Gongsun family.

The other masters also made their moves, especially from the Hidden Dragon Pavilion. They sent out another master, whose aura was not much weaker than the Rainbow-Winged Bird.

“Oh, there’s someone who can be seen...”

Seeing this person, the scornful look on Rainbow-Winged Bird’s face finally disappeared.

Someone who could truly compete with him had appeared. He was in the same realm as him and was also trying to break through to the Emperor-to-be realm.

If it succeeded, it would be like a fish leaping over the dragon gate. From then on, it would have endless longevity and accompany this world.

“Fellow Daoists, I’ll be the main attacker. You guys assist from the side,” said the elder from the Hidden Dragon Pavilion.

At this moment, the Gongsun family and the Behemoth Clan were still attacking. Both of these clans had a huge grudge against Lin Mo.

The rest of the forces, including the Hidden Dragon Pavilion, attacked Lin Mo for their own benefit.

These forces were not afraid of the Bai Clan. They wanted to capture Lin Mo and obtain the Kun Peng and Qilin spells.

Of course, there were also the treasures that Lin Mo and the Qilin had obtained in the Chaos Dao Palace.

Something that was left behind by the World Tree must be a very rare treasure.

The Rainbow-Winged Bird was very strong. It had the upper hand against the Hidden Dragon Pavilion elder, even if the other party had help.

But at the same time, Lin Mo was in danger.

With the Absolute Saint attacking continuously, taking down Lin Mo was the most important thing no matter what the outcome of the battle was.

Seeing this, he had originally wanted to watch the battle, but now he had no choice but to escape.

He hid in the Inner World and waited for the results of the battle with the Rainbow-Winged Bird.

“There’s no need to rush. There are still other fellow Daoists so I’ll play with you today,” sneered the Rainbow-Winged Bird.

...

He seemed to be sending a voice transmission as he looked into the depths of the ancient battlefield.

“Buzz!”

The Hidden Dragon List that had been split into two lit up, and a woman walked out from the shattered space.

Her body and mind were empty as she stared ahead.

“What? Here comes another one...” Someone was shocked.

The faces of the people from the Gongsun family and the Hidden Dragon Pavilion changed. It was already so difficult to deal with a single Rainbow-Winged Bird.

If a master with the same combat strength came, they would not be able to take Lin Mo down without an Emperor-to-be.

“Senior Qin Ya?”

Lin Mo was overjoyed. Finally, he did not have to hide in the Inner World.

“Give me back my magic weapon.” Qin Ya chuckled and reached out to Lin Mo for her magic weapon.

“Magic weapon?” Lin Mo was stunned.

Then, he remembered that when he had been looking for Qin Ya, he had taken away a zither.

It was a zither that had been made from parasol trees and divine silk.

However, the system's introduction had said that it was not a magic weapon at all. There were no runes engraved on it...

"I didn't expect that even your esteemed self would be alarmed. This farce is a little too big..."

"That's right. Even the Phoenix Girl is here. Do you still want to continue? "

"It's time to end this farce..."

A few jokes could be heard, which eased the originally stifling atmosphere a little.

At the same time, all the creatures present were filled with respect and shock. Countless questions arose in their minds, but they did not dare to speak...
