Thea and the triplets excused themselves, said a quick goodnight to everybody, and left with Delta team and Xavier. When they got to the pack house, they went to gather Arella, Ophelia, and Cassandra.

"Alpha Jett wanted to have the summit at his pack house," Alpha Ulric said when everyone was settled in the oath room. "I suggested a neutral territory. We agreed on the school. He said he wanted to meet with New Dawn about his missing slaves. He wants to discuss the situation and how we're going to behave moving forward. He said we could invite whatever allies we have. I assume he has plans to take everyone out at once, but we're not telling anyone about this until it's over. Girls, can you see how many people they bring as backup? Where they are?"

"Each Alpha brings his Beta and their best warriors," Cassandra said. "They're all in the room with you, nowhere else."

"They think they have enough. They don't bring extra people," Arella said. "Because of the poison."

"Then we're looking at over sixty hostels," Alpha Ulric said. "That's a lot of people to paralyze. Do you think you can do it, Thea?"

"Let me try it on all of you right now," Thea said.

Thea focused. It took time to figure out how to do everyone at once. She figured out she didn't have to isolate the spines. Instead, she could push the bocking energy into their necks, and it would get the spines. She practiced until she felt confident. 3

"I won't be paralyzing everyone in the room, though," Thea said. "I need to avoid you guys. Give me a second."

This time she chose five people in the room not to paralyze. It was more difficult. She ended up paralyzing two of the five she was supposed to avoid.

"I don't think I'll be able to do everyone at once. Not without friendly fire. Maybe if one of you starts talking to distract them, I can do a few groups at a time."

"If you need to paralyze the entire room at once, then unparalyze us one by one, that would be fine," Liam said.

"I don't like the idea of Thea being unprotected," Conri said. "They could have contingencies."

"If I'm in the room," Xavier said. "I won't be affected while you're paralyzing everybody else." 1

"You're right," Thea said. "His body works differently. He'd be able to protect me while I'm unparalyzing you guys."

"I'm okay with that," Alaric said. 1

"Will they let a vampire in?" Liam said.

"We can hide the fact that he's a vampire. The bigger question is, will any of them recognize Xavier as Alpha Knight's dead son?" Alpha Ulric said.

"What packs will be there?" Xavier said.

"At least Crescent Moon, Mead Moon, Storm Moon, Far Side, Eclipse, Cold Moon, and Ice Moon," Thea said. "Possibly Moonrise and Chaste Moon. They were invited to the meeting Alpha Jett called to talk about banding together against New Dawn, and they didn't seem against it. Alpha Ford from Moonbeam will be there as a Trojan Horse. He's the one who told us who pledged an alliance with Crescent Moon."

"Moonlit didn't have a relationship with those packs," Xavier said. "Unless they had dossiers on us, they wouldn't know who I am."

"So we could bring you as one of our warriors if they don't suspect you're a vampire," Thea said.

"I can wear contacts to hide my eyes," Xavier said.

"We can scent you, so you smell like a wolf," Conri said.

"Will that be enough?" Thea said to the girls.

Their eyes glazed over then they nodded.

"Xavier is in the room with you," Ophelia said.

"We'll only be able to bring a few warriors with us," Alpha Ulric said. "The rest of you will be just outside the school, waiting, scents masked. We'll mind link you when it's time to come in."

"Who are we going to give each pack to?" Kai said.

"Let's pull up a map and see who shares borders," Beta

Walter said.

They went over logistics, and Thea continued practicing her magic. Eventually, they called it a night.

Alaric carried Thea up to their room. Xavier followed them until he got to his room next to theirs.

"Xavier," Thea said. "Are you comfortable going to the summit tomorrow?"

"Yes," he said. "I'm happy to protect you."

"Are you comfortable with killing again?"

"These aren't innocent people," Xavier said. "They've all hurt innocent people, and they intend to kill you tomorrow. It would be wrong not to stop them."

Thea felt his sincerity. "Let me know if it's too much."

He nodded and went inside his room.

Thea and the triplets went to their room.

"You are so hot in this dress," Alaric thought to her. "As much as I want to ravage you, you need to sleep."
