

The Abandoned Husband Dominates

1241 Squid Game!

Soon, everyone heard that they were going to play a game and came out.

Salvatore and Dragon walked towards Jordan in a hurry. Salvatore did not even have time to wash his face as he said anxiously, “Mr. Jordan, why did I hear that you’re going to play some game? They even said that you’re not allowed to leave until you finish playing the game. What does Randall mean?”

Dragon also looked serious. “Looks like Randall wants to take revenge on us for embarrassing him last time in the name of playing games.”

Park Sora had just put on light makeup and put on her clothes. She skipped over excitedly and said, “What game are you playing? I like to play games!”

Salvatore said, “This game is not fun. If you lose, you’ll be shot! Randall is really hypocritical. If he wants to take revenge on our Mr. Jordan, he can just say it directly. Why must he use such a method?”

After all, Randall was a man of high society who came from a big family. He was also Jordan’s uncle. Although he had to teach Jordan a lesson, he could not cause trouble for Jordan openly.

Hence, he thought of a way to take revenge by playing games. Since it was a game, whoever lost would be punished. Jordan would have nothing to say when he was shot.

At this moment, Victoria had also woken up. She was wearing an elegant, blue floral halter dress, revealing her impressive figure. She had just washed her hair and had yet to dry it.

Jordan could not help but grit his teeth when he saw Victoria's fitting outfit. Although this was Victoria's normal attire, Jordan was furious. He cursed secretly when he thought of Victoria and Randall's scandalous incident .

"Victoria, you changed your clothes for Randall, right? After I leave, you can have a good time with him, right?"

Jordan could no longer look Victoria in the eye.

Victoria's attire was actually her pajamas and not meant for Randall. She had heard the commotion outside, so she had rushed out.

When she saw Randall, Victoria immediately walked forward. "Randall, I heard that you want Jordan and the rest to play games. If they lose, they'll be shot by a sniper. Why are you playing such games? They're here for me. Since I won't be the chief anymore, let them leave quickly, okay?"

Victoria knew that Randall wanted to make things difficult for Jordan. Jordan had stood up for Victoria yesterday, and Victoria wanted to speak up for Jordan now.

Randall glanced at Victoria's impressive figure and could not help but smirk. He said softly, "Darling, are you in such a hurry to let Jordan go? Is it because you want to consummate our marriage?"

boxn ov el. c o m

Victoria lowered her head in embarrassment. She had promised Randall yesterday that as long as Jordan left, she would sleep with him and become a real couple with him. She would be at his disposal.

Randall wrapped his arm around Victoria's waist. Victoria quickly pushed Randall away because Jordan was not far away and could see them.

Randall scoffed softly, "Victoria, don't worry. It's just a game. Besides, we're all mutants. Jordan has also been injected with serum. He'll be fine after two shots. With our powerful bodies, the punishment is only child's play like doing push-ups, right?"

“But...”

As the saying went, knives and guns had no eyes. Even if Jordan had been injected with serum and was shot, he would still be injured.

Victoria herself was shot and almost died, so she was still afraid of bullets.

Randall extended his hand. “Alright, there’s no need to say anymore. I’ve already decided.”

As he spoke, Randall walked towards Jordan and the others. At this moment, the mutants had all gathered around the Immortal Lake, waiting for Randall.

“Chief!”

Everyone bowed respectfully when they saw Randall.

Randall looked at Jordan and the rest and said, “It’s rare for the weather in the Immortal Lake to be so good recently. Don’t be in a hurry to leave. Let’s play a game together.”

Park Sora looked curious. “What game do you want us to play?”

Randall looked at Park Sora with a smile and said, “Sora, it’s all thanks to you that I thought of playing this game.”

“It’s like this. Previously, Park Sora recommended a popular drama called ‘Squid Game’ to me. I went to watch it. There’s a game called ‘Red Light’ in it. I like it very much.”

“I believe everyone has heard or played the game Red Light before. It’s very simple. After shouting Red Light, no one can move. If they move, it means that they have lost.”

“In television dramas, the loser will be shot to death by a sniper. I also want to imitate it, so I arranged for a sniper from afar.”

Following Randall's finger, everyone suddenly saw a few snipers lying in hiding on the high platform in the distance.

Park Sora was shocked. She said to Jordan immediately, "Brother, it's true. This is really the scene in 'Squid Games'. In that drama, everyone has to reach their destination within the specified time. There's a huge doll that will turn around and shout 'Red Light, Green Light'. It's equivalent to China's '123 Wooden Man'."

"When she turns around and shouts, everyone has to sprint forward as much as possible. When she turns around, you have to stop immediately and not move. Otherwise, she will discover you!"

Randall smiled. "That's right. I followed Squid Games and got someone to make a huge doll. Come on, bring it up!"

Soon, a few people carried a huge heavy object up. When they lifted it up, they saw that it was a terrifying little girl doll.

Randall introduced, "Not only is this doll huge, but it also contains very high technology. She can quickly and accurately identify if a person has moved or not. Once she recognizes that you're moving, she'll shoot red dots of light at you. In that case, the sniper above me will immediately shoot at you.

"The rules of the game are similar to those in television dramas. Everyone has to walk from the starting point to the finish line in five minutes. If anyone doesn't reach their destination in the specified time, they will be shot.

"Of course, we're all mutants or people who've been injected with serum. Even if we're shot, it's not a big deal. Therefore, we won't be eliminated in one go. Even if we're shot, we can continue the game. We just have to walk to the other side in five minutes. Hehe."

Listening to Randall's introduction, Jordan could not help but feel that Randall was deliberately torturing him! In five minutes, he wanted Jordan to be shot more than once!

Randall looked at Jordan, “Eh? Why isn’t Rong Bingshao here? How about this? We’ll send four people from each side and split into two groups. You lead one group, and I’ll lead the other. How about that?”

Park Sora was a little nervous. “If Rong Bingshao is here, we can easily use his godly speed to quickly complete the game. What should we do now?”

1242 Brother, Save Me!

Although Park Sora knew that Randall was deliberately making things difficult for them, she was very excited.

This was because she was the youngest and was at the age where she liked to play games. Moreover, this game was a game from a South Korean television drama. She was the one who had recommended it to Randall.

With a golden mutant like Jordan around, she did not have to worry about losing.

Judging from Randall’s confident look, he probably already knew that Rong Bingshao had snuck away. Otherwise, he definitely wouldn’t dare to suggest playing this game.

That was because with Rong Bingshao’s godly speed, he could lead Jordan’s team to victory instantly.

Jordan wished he could beat Randall up right now to vent the hatred in his heart. However, since Randall said that he wanted to teach the other party a lesson in the game, he would do it in the game!

Jordan looked at Randall with a murderous expression which screamed, “Come at me!”

Randall could sense Jordan’s hostility towards him, but he did not take it seriously.

“Hehe, he must have predicted how I would teach him a lesson, so he can’t wait to eat me up now.”

Randall thought to himself. He did not think that Jordan could defeat them without Rong Bingshao.

One had to know that Randall had sent out two purple mutants.

Soon, both parties arrived at the red line at the starting point. The two teams stood on the left and right respectively, with a distance between them.

Jordan’s team consisted of Jordan, Park Sora, Dragon, and Salvatore. From the mutants, Randall sent out the purple mutant Grachev, the purple mutant Shirley, and the black mutant, Linus.

Initially, he wanted to send out three purple mutants, including Victoria. However, seeing that Victoria had been pleading for Jordan, he believed that she would not attack Jordan and the others according to his wishes even if he let her go on stage. Hence, he decided not to choose her.

On Jordan’s side, Dragon said softly, “Master, I’m guessing that this game won’t be as easy as it usually is or as peaceful as in television dramas. As we move forward, Randall’s people will definitely attack us...”

boxn ov el. c o m
Hah!

As Dragon was speaking, Grachev suddenly roared from Randall’s side. Then, he saw that his body was filled with flames.

Grachev entered a berserk state!

When Salvatore saw this, he said in surprise, “Dragon is right! That bastard Grachev has already entered a berserk state. He can throw a fireball at us at any time!”

Park Sora looked at Jordan excitedly and nervously, “Brother, I’m so afraid of Grachev’s fireball. You’ll protect us, right? I don’t want to be shot by a sniper!”

Jordan’s expression was cold. He did not say anything. You want to play tricks in the game? You’re not qualified!

Soon, the countdown began.

“Three, two, one, go!”

“One, two, three, wood... en... man...”

The giant puppet also began to make a mechanical sound. At first, it spoke slower. As long as the sound did not stop, they could move.

As the puppet made a sound, Park Sora was the first to excitedly step into the red line and run towards the finish line in front.

Salvatore and Dragon followed closely behind.

Randall’s men also walked unhurriedly.

Jordan paused for a moment and was the last to move.

Originally, both sides were walking forward in peace. Just as the puppet said the last word, Grachev suddenly raised his hand!

“Hehe, I’m sorry, everyone!”

Grachev was about to throw a fireball at Jordan.

He threw it out when “red light” was said, which was the time when no one could move.

However, once one was hit by Grachev’s fireball, even if it was just a little, it was impossible for him not to move or scream. Once he moved, it would be a violation of the rules of the game and he would be shot by a sniper.

However, just as he was about to throw the fireball confidently, a monkey suddenly appeared in his hand!

“Ah! What the hell is this!”

Grachev did not throw the fireball. Instead, he was shocked and threw the monkey away.

However, at this time, no one could move.

Randall’s doll was indeed high-tech. He immediately detected the only moving Grachev.

A red dot appeared on Grachev’s body.

Bang!

The sniper above had no choice. According to the rules, he still shot Grachev in the arm.

“Ah!”

Grachev let out a soft cry and did not fall. He could still withstand it in the berserk state, but this was a bullet after all. Grachev was still made of flesh and blood, so it was impossible for him to be fine.

“Haha, Grachev’s been shot,” Salvatore said with a smile.

Everyone remained motionless, but they were talking.

Park Sora said, “This idiot even wanted to hit us with a fireball. Now he’s asking for it, haha.”

Randall grumbled, “What the hell is this Grachev doing?!”

“I’m sorry, Chief. A monkey suddenly ran out just now. I was distracted. It won’t happen again.”

Randall said coldly, “If a little monkey can startle you, your mental endurance as a purple mutant is too poor!”

At the rebuke, Grachev's expression was very ugly.

The giant puppet turned around again and shouted a little faster, "123, red light..."

This time, Grachev was about to throw the fireball again, but nearly a hundred little monkeys suddenly jumped on his hands and body!

Waa... waa...

The little monkeys kept screeching.

"What the hell!"

Grachev was so frightened by this group of little monkeys that he collapsed to the ground.

He was a hero who had beaten Siberian tigers, so he was naturally not afraid of monkeys. But suddenly, so many little monkeys appeared out of nowhere. This was very scary!

The sniper shot Grachev again!

"Don't move!"

Randall reminded Shirley and Linus, but it was too late. When they saw the monkeys, they took a step back in fear.

The doll accurately sensed their movements and marked them with red dots.

Bang!

The sniper shot Linus in the leg.

Bang!

The sniper fired at Shirley, but she was smart enough to instantly shift into mirror form. The bullet hit the mirror and was immediately deflected. She wasn't hurt.

"Haha, how satisfying!"

Seeing that Randall took the initiative to attack them, but was severely injured, Park Sora couldn't help but laugh. However, because of her laughter, her body also moved.

A red dot appeared on her slender arm.

"Ah! Brother, save me!"

Seeing the red dot on her neck, Park Sora knew that she would be shot by the sniper in the next second. She quickly turned around and ran backward, pouncing on Jordan.

1243 I'll Enforce the Rules!

Park Sora had developed a sense of dependence on Jordan now. The first thing she thought of when she was in danger was that Jordan could save her. She really felt like she was her father.

Naturally, Jordan would not let Park Sora get shot in front of him. He had promised Park Anya that he would protect her.

Jordan had already expected the sniper to shoot at Park Sora. He immediately took out an ashtray and blocked Park Sora.

Bang!

The bullet flew toward Park Sora's hip. He thought that it would hit her directly, but an ashtray suddenly flew out of thin air. The bullet hit the ashtray and embedded itself completely. It did not penetrate it.

Then, with the force of inertia, the ashtray mixed with bullets hit Park Sora.

"Ooff."

Park Sora hugged Jordan and called out softly. When she turned around and saw that the bullet had hit the ashtray, she relaxed immediately.

“Brother, thank you. You saved my life. If the bullet hits my butt, it’ll be troublesome! I won’t let any doctor take the bullet out from me unless it’s my brother, hehe.”

Park Sora knew that Jordan was in a bad mood and wanted to make him happy. Rong Bingshao had already sent Park Sora a message to tell her about it.

Jordan looked at the innocent and cute Park Sora and said, “Don’t move anymore, or the sniper will hit you again.”

Park Sora was hugging Jordan tightly now. She said while smiling, “I don’t want to move now either.”

Not far away, Randall could not help but be secretly shocked when he saw the situation on Park Sora’s side. “An ashtray? It’s even a bulletproof ashtray? Could it be made of vibranium? Why did it suddenly appear? Did Jordan throw it from his body? That can’t be right. If Jordan did it, it’s impossible for his hand to not move. Once he moves, this doll should be able to detect him.

“Also, why are there suddenly so many monkeys? Could it be... there’s a plane above?”

Randall also adhered to the rules of the game. He did not dare to look up now, but his guess was that Jordan had arranged for an invisible plane to send a monkey or an ashtray down.

boxn ov el. c o m

“Damn it. Jordan must have predicted that I would deal with him in the game in advance, so he called his subordinates to help him from the sky. Hmph, it’s useless. Jordan, if I don’t teach you a lesson, I won’t let you leave the Immortal Lake!”

Seeing that Grachev and Shirley could not even protect themselves and could not do anything to Jordan's people, Randall decided to do it himself.

Soon, everyone saw the mutated gorilla suddenly appear!

123...

The giant doll turned around again and cried out.

Everyone moved again. Salvatore saw the gorilla not far away and immediately shouted, "Mr. Jordan, it's that gorilla! It's coming towards you. Be careful!"

The mutated gorilla charged at Jordan ferociously with a hammer.

Randall smirked. He had been controlling the gorilla the whole time. Once the "wooden dummy time" started, the gorilla would lunge at Jordan with a hammer. He did not believe that Jordan would not dodge!

Once Jordan dodged and was shot, Randall would hypocritically say that he was just letting the mutated gorilla tease Jordan and would not really attack.

However, Randall did not have the chance to tease Jordan this time.

When the mutated gorilla passed by Randall, a huge rock suddenly fell from the sky!

Boom!

Boom!

One of the boulders hit the gorilla, while the other hit Randall's body!

"Ah!"

Randall screamed and was crushed by the boulder.

Now that “red light” was said, no one could move. Randall was in a dilemma. He could either take action and push the huge rock off his body, or endure it and be pressed down by the huge rock.

“Damn it, damn it, which bastard threw the boulder!”

Randall was so angry that he pushed the boulder away with all his might.

Then, a red dot appeared on Randall’s body. The giant doll detected that Randall had violated the rules of the game.

He moved!

However, in the next second, no one heard any gunshots.

The snipers above also fell into hesitation. Should they hit their master?

According to the rules, he should be hit, but if they hit Randall, who could guarantee that he would not be angry? How could they survive in the future?

At this moment, Jordan was furious. “What is this discrimination! Why should we be shot if we move? When you move, Randall, you’re not shot. Is this game fair?”

Jordan originally wanted Randall’s subordinates to personally shoot Randall until he was in a pathetic state. Since his subordinates did not dare, Jordan did not have to wait anymore! After all, he had waited the entire night. He could not wait to settle scores with Randall!

Walking straight over to Randall, Jordan said with a fierce gaze, “Your people won’t dare to hit you. I’ll enforce the rules of the game for them!”

As he spoke, a gun suddenly appeared in Jordan’s hand. Then, he aimed at Randall’s lower body and fired three shots in a row!

Bang! Bang! Bang!

“Ah! Ah! Ah!”

Randall did not expect Jordan to shoot him at all. Moreover, Jordan had shot him in that spot. He was caught off guard and fell to the ground.

At that moment, Victoria covered her mouth in shock. She did not expect Jordan to really shoot his uncle!

The mutants also rushed forward. The battle was about to begin!

“Bastard Jordan, how dare you touch our Chief!”

“None of you will leave the Immortal Lake alive today!”

The people from the Mutant Tribe all surged forward and blocked Jordan and the others.

Randall endured the pain and was even more furious. Initially, he wanted to shoot Jordan a few times and make him leave dejectedly. Then, he would share the joy of a family with a beauty like Victoria.

However, it was over now. He had lost the qualifications to have fun with Victoria!

Jordan’s three bullets had completely destroyed his manhood!

Randall shouted angrily, “Kill him! Kill this lawless beast! He’s no longer a member of the Steeles. He has nothing to do with me. Kill him! Arghhhh... It hurts...”

Randall had wanted to start a war with Jordan a long time ago. However, due to their uncle-nephew relationship, he was too confident in himself to go overboard.

However, since Jordan had shot him first, he had an excuse to get rid of him!

Just as the mutants were about to attack Jordan, Victoria, who was wearing a halter dress, walked over.

“Stop!”

Victoria stood in front of her brothers from the Mutant Tribe. She did not want to see the two sides start fighting because Jordan's strength was definitely inferior to Randall's in the Immortal Lake.

Just Grachev alone could kill all of Jordan's people.

Victoria walked toward Jordan personally. She was also very angry as she questioned, "Jordan, why did you do this?! Why did you shoot your uncle so ruthlessly?! Do you have a conscience?!"

1244 Complete Explosion!

Victoria took the initiative to interrogate Jordan on behalf of the Mutant Tribe. She hoped to deal with this matter by scolding him instead of fighting.

So she deliberately scolded him fiercely, "Jordan, if Randall hadn't arrived in time yesterday, you and I would have died. Your uncle just saved your life yesterday. Is this how you 'repay' him today? In the past, no matter how many times you provoked your uncle, he never touched you. But you actually returned kindness with ingratitude and treated him like this!

"How can you face your uncle! Apologize to him!"

Victoria hoped to mediate the matter as a middleman. However, to her surprise, Jordan was not grateful.

Instead, he slapped her!

Smack!

When Jordan heard Victoria's words, he slapped her face in anger!

"Did I let him down? Or was he the one who let me down?"

Victoria was also very angry. She felt that Jordan did not know what was good for him. She came out to beg for peace on his behalf, but he was still ungrateful. She questioned, "How did he let you down?! Last time, you caused him to lose face in the capital and even lost his position as the Chief. What's wrong with him teaching you a lesson today? You've been injected with serum and won't die after being shot twice. Why can't you tolerate it?!"

Jordan wished he could slap Victoria again. He said angrily, "He slept with you on the night I broke up with you! Moreover, it was in the room next to mine! The two of you shamelessly tossed and turned the entire night! You're the one f*cking letting me down! Is this how you both 'help' me?!"

Victoria took a step back after hearing this. Her stubborn expression instantly disappeared and she no longer had the confidence to respond.

Just... How did Jordan know about this!

Victoria lowered her head. Indeed, she was too ashamed to answer Jordan's question.

On the other hand, Randall, who was on the ground, suddenly smiled. He did not feel guilty at all. Randall smiled and said, "Hehe, no wonder your face was filled with killing intent when I saw you today. So you knew about this.

"Jordan, so what if I slept with Victoria? So what if I stole your woman? You should have perished together with the Rong family in the past. You shouldn't have come back alive!"

boxn ov el. c o m

Jordan was furious. He walked toward Randall and was about to attack, "You're the one who deserves to die!"

"Enough!"

At that moment, Victoria appeared again and stood in front of Jordan. She said, "Jordan, what right do you have to be angry? What right do you have to insult us like this? Yes, I had sex with Randall after I broke up with you. We did it openly. We didn't let you down! Did I cheat on you? As for being in the room next to yours, or being miles away from you, what difference does it make? We didn't do it on purpose, and we added a soundproof door so you wouldn't hear. Is there any point in you caring about that?

"Jordan, please be more mature and stop being unreasonable!"

Jordan could not help but find it ridiculous. "Heh, I'm immature? I'm the unreasonable one?"

Victoria replied. "Yes! You are being unreasonable! Put away your pride as a Deity! It will harm you! In this era, Deitys are useless. You're not a mutant. You have no right to be so arrogant. Anyone here can kill you."

Hearing this, Salvatore recalled how Victoria promised Emily to him. He quickly coughed twice and reminded her. "Victoria, stop talking. No one here can kill Mr. Jordan..."

Salvatore did not want Victoria to say anything that would make Jordan angry. Otherwise, she would definitely regret it when she found out about Jordan's true strength in the future.

Faced with Victoria's mockery, Jordan sneered twice, "Hahaha, Victoria, as expected of an incomparably noble purple mutant. In your eyes, not only am I inferior to Randall, but I'm also inferior to any member of the Mutant Tribe, right?"

Victoria said, "It's useless no matter how jealous you are of your uncle. The reality is that Randall is stronger than you, so you should forget about me as soon as possible and forget what I said yesterday. It's impossible to survive in this world just by relying on love. Moreover, love is not eternal. It also needs a certain strength to exist.

"Just treat me as Hailey Camden. I've fallen in love with a man with more strength. Please leave the Immortal Lake immediately and never come back!"

Victoria's words were very harsh. She also hoped to cut off all contact with Jordan in this way so that she could save him.

But if anything, Victoria's words made Jordan even angrier.

At this moment, he no longer hid anything. He wanted to display his golden strength in front of everyone!

“So that’s how it is.”

With that, Jordan charged at Randall!

Didn’t Victoria say that Jordan could not compare to Randall? Then, Jordan would let her see who was inferior to whom!

Jordan looked at Randall and recalled the dirty deeds Randall had done to Victoria in the video sent by Rong Bingshao. He did not hold back and conjured magma directly to smash Randall’s body!

“You slept with my woman? Die!”

Boom!

Boom!

Boom!

The fiery lava directly smashed into Randall’s body. Randall’s body retreated again and again, and his body began to burn.

Pfft...

Randall kept vomiting blood.

Fortunately, Randall had a very strong defense. Otherwise, if it were anyone else, they would not be able to withstand Jordan’s powerful attack.

At this moment, everyone was shocked.

“Magma! Where did this magma come from!”

“I think it was thrown by Jordan. How did he do it?”

Most people did not understand what was going on.

Victoria was stunned as well. She did not know how Jordan did it.

Randall looked terrified as well. How on earth did Jordan create such scorching lava to attack him? When he saw that the situation was not good, he quickly instructed Grachev, "Grachev, kill Jordan!"

"No!"

Victoria knew how powerful Grachev was. Yesterday, she was almost killed by Grachev. To be precise, she thought that both she and Jordan were almost killed by Grachev, so she wanted to stop him.

However, Grachev ignored Victoria's obstruction and threw a fireball at Jordan!

Boom!

Boom!

Jordan scoffed when he saw Grachev's attack. "I didn't have time to deal with you yesterday and let you escape. Alright, I'll return the favor on behalf of Salvatore and Dragon today!"

Salvatore and Dragon were excited. Park Sora also stretched out her hand excitedly. "Me too! Grachev hit me yesterday too. Sob sob sob, it hurts."

Victoria looked at Park Sora, Dragon, and Salvatore. To her surprise, the three of them did not panic when they saw Jordan challenging Grachev. Instead, they looked expectant.

Logically speaking, as Jordan's subordinates, they should be very nervous and stand up to protect Jordan.

Unless...

"Do they think Jordan will win?"

Victoria thought of this answer and couldn't help but be horrified!
