

Read The Abandoned Husband Dominates Chapter 397 Online

Chapter 397: Hailey Wreaks Havoc At The Wedding!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

“What nonsense is Lauren’s mother up to again?”

Jordan frowned, knowing that his new mother-in-law hated him because of Brad. However, he didn’t expect her to embarrass him at his wedding.

Marissa, who was also dressed to the nines today, said to the guests with a microphone in hand.

“Everyone, thank you for coming to attend the wedding of my daughter, Lauren, and son-in-law, Jordan. There may be some of you who don’t know that Lauren is marrying her live-in husband, Jordan Steele today!”

Salvatore and Tim were immediately displeased.

“Why must that old hag emphasize that Mr. Jordan is marrying Lauren as a live-in husband? Isn’t she obviously out to embarrass Mr. Jordan!?”

Despite the awkward situation, Jordan had a calm look on his face but he wasn’t bothered by the looks that the crowd was giving him. Only the poor would be concerned if others thought they were poor. The rich wouldn’t care what others thought of them.

Marissa continued, “Of course, this son-in-law of mine is very outstanding himself and he used to be the president of a listed company who has had his heyday.”

The guests began discussing among themselves and many of them did not know exactly what company Jordan was the president of before.

Marissa said, “Since he’s going to be my daughter’s live-in husband, the wedding is naturally going to be a little different from a normal wedding. As Lauren’s mother, I naturally have some requirements for my son-in-law.

“First, after you marry into our family, you’ll be responsible for cooking all three meals for my daughter and granddaughter every single day. You also have to take care of their daily necessities. Are you willing to do that?”

Jordan had been doing that for three years prior to this so he nodded and said simply, “Yes, I’m willing.”

Marissa continued, “Second, after you marry into the Howards, you mustn’t have friends of the opposite sex. You must be home by ten at night and you can’t go out for meals or watch movies with the opposite sex. Are you willing to accept that?”

Upon hearing her words, many of the guests burst into laughter. “Does the Howards’ son-in-law have to follow such rules?”

Jordan was speechless but he nevertheless nodded and said, “I’m willing.”

“Third, after marrying my daughter, you may not go through my daughter’s cell phone, diary, and other personal, private belongings without her permission. My daughter can have meals and watch movies with the opposite sex as she pleases, and you are not to have any objections.”

As soon as she named the third condition, everyone was in an uproar.

“Damn it, these requirements are really harsh. Doesn’t this just mean that the man can’t have any interaction with the opposite sex except for his wife while the woman can see any man as she pleases?”

“Yes, Miss Howard can stay out all night and her husband can’t even question her about it. Isn’t that too unfair on him?”

“Hehe, told ya it isn’t that easy being the live-in husband of the Howards.”

Before Jordan could speak, Lauren flew into a rage on the stage and she hissed, “Mom, what kind of conditions are those?”

Lauren was infuriated because the wedding, which was originally supposed to be romantic, was ruined by her mother.

Marissa was making it sound like Lauren would really stay out with other men and cheat on Jordan after they got married. She had a vague feeling that the guests at the wedding were already looking at her that way.

Martin was just as exasperated. “Marissa, what are you trying to do!?! What nonsense are you spouting!?! Stefan, quickly drag your wife down the stage, and don't let her embarrass us any further!"

Brad, who was seated in a wheelchair, started laughing because he knew that his mother had deliberately said those words to irk Jordan.

"Haha, it would be awesome if Lauren could make a cuckold of Jordan Steele. Hahaha."

Brad knew that Jordan's ex-wife, Hailey, had cheated on him so if he were to face the same thing again in his second marriage, he'd probably break down.

At this moment, Stefan slowly got up and acknowledged, "Yes, Dad."

Just as Stefan was about to go on stage to pull Marissa down, a beautiful guest suddenly stood up and hollered at the stage.

"Jordan Steele, you're such a good-for-nothing! You're the scion of the Steeles, what are you becoming someone else's husband for? You're an embarrassment!"

The person who spoke was Hailey!

"Hailey Camden?"

When Jordan saw Hailey, he froze for a moment, not expecting that he would run into his ex-wife on the day of his wedding!

Hailey's words made the scene extremely lively again.

“Hey, who are you? How dare you disrupt the wedding hosted by the Howards? You’re really brazen, huh?”

“This woman is super pretty, is she here to crash the wedding?”

At this moment, Salvatore rushed over and grabbed Hailey in a bid to drag her away.

Struggling to break free, Hailey exclaimed, “Let go of me! Jordan Steele has ruined my wedding twice. Why can’t I take revenge on him!?!?”

Jordan couldn’t help but recall how Hailey and Tyler’s wedding had been disrupted and terminated halfway by Jordan’s appearance, as well as the revelation of his identity as the chairman of the Ace Corporation.

When she married Cayden, her wedding was also ruined because of Jordan’s exposure of Cayden’s scandal, which led to Cayden being stabbed.

It seemed that Hailey wanted to take revenge on Jordan!

Jordan walked down the stage and said to Hailey, “Hailey Camden, you’re out of your mind. What are you doing here?”

Throwing her head back in confidence, Hailey said, “Why can’t I come here? I gave birth to a son for you and you didn’t even inform me that you’re getting married. What if you abandon me and our son in the future?”

There was an even greater commotion as soon as she said that.

“What? The groom has a child with this woman? So she’s his ex-wife!”

“Far out, this guy is very lucky with women. His ex-wife and fiancée are both stunning beauties!”

“Haha, things are getting exciting now. I wonder how this is going to end.”

At this moment, the bride, Lauren, suddenly spoke up slowly.

“Miss Hailey Camden, hello, I’m very glad to see you here. It’s my mistake to have not given you an invitation personally. As for your child with my husband, please rest assured that I’ll treat him as my own child and provide him with the best living conditions. I’m making this promise as a Howard.”

The guests gasped in awe and surprise.

“She’s really worthy of being a Howard. How magnanimous!”

“Although Lauren and Hailey Camden are both gorgeous, they’re worlds apart when it comes to manners, graciousness, mannerisms, and temperament!”

“Hah, how can a woman from a third-tier family in a second-tier city compare with the greatest beauty of DC?”

“You...” Hailey was at a loss for words.

She hated how magnanimous Lauren was because she felt that it made her seem petty and hypocritical!

At this moment, Brad had already arrived at Hailey's table in his wheelchair. He dragged Hailey back to his seat and barked, "Hailey Camden, are you nuts? How dare you ruin my sister's wedding? You'd better sit down, or I'll take back the 230 million dollars that I gave you!"

Having no other choice, Hailey bit her lip and took her seat obediently.

At this moment, Martin walked onto the stage himself to calm everyone down and cease the commotion. The moment he spoke, order was restored and the originally chaotic scene instantly became silent!

No one dared to speak again and some even covered their children's mouths, for fear that they would spout nonsense!

That was how tyrannical Martin was!

Chapter 398: Hailey Humiliates Jordan and Lauren!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Martin walked onto the stage with the microphone in hand and a benevolent look on his face.

"Thank you all for coming today. My daughter-in-law was just cracking a joke with you guys just now and it was purely for your amusement. Please don't take her seriously. In fact, my granddaughter and grandson-in-law met each other four years ago and they share a four-year-old daughter.

“However, we were against their relationship at that time and after four years of trials and tribulations, we’ve finally realized that Jordan is a very loyal and driven person. That’s why we agreed to let them get married.”

As soon as he said that, there was endless discussion among the crowd.

“So it turns out they already have a child together. This punk is really something! Even after fathering her child, he has to be put under probation for four years. It really isn’t easy being the Howards’ son-in-law!”

Martin continued, “We won’t be accepting gifts for today’s wedding. Many friends and families have been presenting me with monetary gifts just now but I hereby declare that we will not be accepting a single gift today. Thank you all for your goodwill.”

The guests began discussing again.

“Someone of high status like Mr. Howard Sr. indeed shouldn’t be accepting any gifts. Otherwise, given his power in the world of business and politics, I’m afraid someone would give him a gift that’s worth over a million dollars!”

“Hah, over a million? You must be underestimating the Howards. I’m sure some people would dare to give gifts that are worth 15 million dollars!”

“Yeah, as long as the Howards accept the gifts, they’ll have to work for others. They can easily earn that money back.”

Martin looked at the crowd and said, “But I saw that many of you have come bearing gifts. Since ancient times, giving gifts to newlywed couples has always been customary. And so, we will graciously accept non-monetary gifts.”

As soon as Martin said that, the guests at the scene immediately got excited.

A middle-aged woman quickly got up and said, “Mr. Howard Sr., I’m the CEO of Feather women’s watches and I’ve brought a red, limited-edition women’s watch that our brand has just launched. There are 900 18-carat gold beads on it that rotate with the dial, and together it forms the face of deer with the pre-paved track. I believe Miss Howard will definitely like it.”

Everyone was shocked.

“Feather women’s watches are akin to Hermes. That watch is probably worth more than a hundred grand, huh?”

“How impressive it is that they’re receiving the watch directly from the brand’s CEO. Unfortunately, it’s a gift for the bride and not the groom. Haha.”

Martin smiled faintly at her and said, “Thank you for the gift.”

Likewise, Lauren thanked her profusely.

Soon after, Russell also stood up and said, “Mr. Howard Sr., since it’s Miss Howard’s wedding today, I have a Graff ruby here, which I won at the Sotheby's auction in 2014. I'd like to present it to Miss Howard today as a gift. I wish her a happy marriage!"

Russell took out a delicate little box and opened it to reveal the sparkling ruby to everyone.

"Wow! Graff ruby! I remember that it was auctioned off at a price of nearly $9 million in 2014! The price has long since doubled!"

"Oh my, almost $9 million? As expected of the richest man in Houston, Russell Miller is really wealthy!"

"Damn it, why did Old Russell stand out so quickly? He should be presenting his gift as the finale. Now that he's given a $9-million gift, who would dare to stand up to present their gifts?"

Lauren was aware of Russell's relationship with Victoria and Jordan, and she also knew how valuable the ruby was. In response, she said, "Mr. Miller, your gift is too valuable, I can't accept it."

However, Russell insisted, "Miss Howard, I got to where I am today thanks to Mr. Howard Sr.'s help. I'll take it that you're looking down on me if you don't accept this gift."

Having been put in a difficult position, Lauren looked helpless. "Grandpa, this..."

Martin laughed and said, "Yes, Russell and I were business partners before this and he still owes me a large sum of money. Just take this ruby as his repayment. Haha."

After cracking that joke, Martin decided to just accept the gift. He had not only given Russell an out, but he also made sure that others wouldn't have anything to say about it afterward.

Following Russell's gift, there was a short silence for a while since no one had prepared a gift as expensive as that ruby.

In the end, a young man broke the awkward tension with a gift that was worth tens of thousands of dollars, after which the guests continued to present their gifts one after another.

However, looking at the guests who gave gifts, Salvatore and Tim felt terrible.

Salvatore said, "They're all giving gifts to Lauren Howard. None of them are for Mr. Jordan!"

Tim said, "Yeah, it's the wedding of two people after all. Would it kill them to include Mr. Jordan? They even specified that the gifts are for Lauren without even mentioning Mr. Jordan at all. This is infuriating!"

They weren't being sensitive. In fact, many of the guests had already sensed it.

Elle and Dakota, who were sitting far away from them, didn't even bother hiding their laughter.

With a smirk, Dakota laughed and said, "That former brother-in-law of yours, Jordan, is behaving like a fool out there. So many people have brought gifts but not a single one is for him."

Elle sighed and said, “Yeah, it seems like this wedding is only for Lauren. I really pity Jordan. This is exactly what happened during the wedding when he married my cousin. After they get married, Jordan won’t have any status anymore. She’ll definitely cheat on him unrestrainedly. Ah, I wonder what Lauren’s character is like. Will she cheat on Jordan like my cousin did?”

While snacking on some nuts, Dakota smiled and said, “What are you worried for? Isn’t it right for him to be made a cuckold? He deserves it for being a live-in husband. I’d cheat on him too. Hmph!”

Other than Dakota, the others also mocked Jordan.

“Haha, nobody cares about this groom. None of the gifts are for him and he doesn’t have a presence here at all.”

“What groom? He’s more like the bride. Miss Lauren is the one who wears the pants in the relationship, haha.”

Hailey stood up again at this moment!

Grabbing onto Hailey’s hand, Brad growled at her. “Hailey Camden, what are you doing? Are you trying to create trouble again? Sit down!”

In response, Hailey took out a beautiful rose gold necklace from her bag.

“Who’s creating trouble? I’m giving a gift!”

Brad was instantly stunned the moment he saw the valuable necklace in Hailey’s hand.

‘Isn’t she here to make a scene and ruin the wedding? Why did she prepare a gift?’

Hailey suddenly said, “Jordan Steele! You’re so incompetent. It’s your wedding today and not a single person here is giving you a gift!”

Jordan cursed in his head, ‘You bitch, what are you trying to do? You’re not done, are you!?!’

“Also, Jordan, your wife, Lauren Howard, is the bride today but she isn’t wearing a single piece of jewelry except for her wedding ring. It must be because you’re too poor to buy her anything!”

Indeed, the Howards had a rule that stipulated that men had to be the ones to prepare the jewelry that the bride was to don during the wedding. The women of the Howard family were not to buy their own jewelry.

Hailey suddenly smiled wickedly and took out the rose gold necklace.

“This necklace is worth a few hundred thousand dollars. Jordan bought this for me previously. Miss Howard, I’ll gift you this necklace on Jordan’s behalf!”

Everyone was shocked that Hailey was going to give something that she had used to Lauren!

Chapter 399: Shocking Everyone!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

Upon hearing this, Brad immediately shouted at Hailey, “My sister doesn’t want something that you’ve used before. Sit down!”

Jordan felt rather embarrassed on the stage too.

“Haha, the groom’s ex-wife is quite generous. She’s giving him an out. Otherwise, Miss Lauren Howard won’t even have a decent piece of jewelry.”

“Yes, the rules of many wealthy families in DC are that the groom has to be the one to get the jewelry for his bride.”

How could Jordan not know that Hailey was deliberately trying to make him and Lauren look bad? It was clear she was jealous and she still wanted to be with Jordan!

Jordan said coldly, “No, keep the necklace for yourself!”

Afterward, Jordan asked Salvatore who was on the stage.

“Salvatore, where’s that bag that I left in the hotel and asked you to take previously?”

In response, Salvatore piped up, “Are you referring to the plastic bag from Target? I left it in the trunk of my car and it’s in the parking lot of the hotel.”

“Okay, go bring that bag over here. It contains the gift that I brought for Lauren.”

“Alright.”

Salvatore said while scurrying over.

However, at this moment, all the guests started giggling.

“The groom’s gift for Miss Howard is actually in a Target bag?”

“Haha, is the gift from Target? Did he buy her socks that cost 10 bucks a pair?”

It seemed that everyone despised Jordan and belittled him, judging from the way the live-in husband was being humiliated by everyone at his wedding!

Jordan did not say anything and waited quietly for Salvatore. Soon, Salvatore came over with the Target plastic bag.

Jordan was just about to reach out to pick it up when his mother-in-law, Marissa, beat him to it. Snatching the bag, Marissa flew into a rage.

“You disgraceful son-in-law! If you’re too poor to give my daughter any gifts, you can choose not to give her anything. Lauren will be elegant and beautiful even if she doesn’t wear any jewelry! But I will never allow you to give my daughter these things that are going to degrade her!”

As he said that, she tossed the plastic bag far, far away.

Jordan suddenly panicked and got off the stage. He then leaped over to catch the Target bag.

Marissa was even angrier. “How disgraceful! You even leaped onto the ground in front of the guests for a stupid bag! Oh God, what sins have I committed in my last life to have my daughter marry such a man!?”

The guests roared in laughter.

‘Must he go all out to catch a lousy bag from Target?’

‘He doesn’t even care about his image as a groom.’

Lauren, on the other hand, couldn’t bear to watch anymore.

Instead, she denounced Marissa, “Mom, how can you do this? Jordan is my husband. Even if he gives me something that costs ten dollars, I’ll like them too. You’re being too rude!”

“You... you silly girl. Don’t you even feel embarrassed? You only care about what you like. Have you ever spared a thought for the Howards’ pride?” Marissa lectured Lauren.

At this moment, Jordan had already picked up the Target plastic bag and walked over.

“Lauren, here is a necklace for you.”

As he said that, he took out a very exquisite box from the bag, and the moment everyone saw it, they felt that something was amiss.

The packaging of the box was obviously of superior quality and it definitely wasn’t something that could be bought at Target!

Jordan humphed coldly. Those stuck-up snobs obviously didn’t know that it was the most expensive necklace in the world!

It was the ‘A Heritage In Bloom’ necklace that Jamie had found in the safe of Jamie’s suburban house previously!

Taking extra care, Jordan slowly opened the box and the moment the necklace was revealed, countless people felt that they were blind!

“Oh my God! What is this thing!?!”

“Ah, I’m blinded! This color and vibrancy are driving me mad!”

Hailey and Marissa were both dumbfounded!

Picking up the necklace, Jordan showed it to Marissa.

“Mom, this necklace is named ‘A Heritage In Bloom’ and is made from a 507-carat, pure Type Ila ‘Cullinan Heritage’ diamond, which was cut from its ore. The designer has incorporated many oriental elements in it, creating this exquisite design. May I put this necklace on for your daughter?”

“Ah, I forgot to mention that this necklace is worth 200 million dollars.”

Everyone was flabbergasted the moment he said that!

“200 million dollars! Oh my god, 200 million dollars for a necklace!?! Is this a real existence?”

“How is he a live-in husband? He’s much richer than his bride!”

Marissa was stunned too. ‘Weren’t Jordan’s assets and valuables frozen? What’s up with this necklace?’

“Could this be a replica? It’s the most expensive necklace in the world and it’s priceless. You may not be able to buy it even if you can afford it. If you give my daughter a counterfeit necklace, it will be a disgrace to the Howards!”

Jordan humphed coldly and said, “For all those present, does anyone here know how to appraise and authenticate treasures?”

At this moment, a middle-aged man raised his hand, stood up, and came over to Marissa.

He said respectfully, “Mrs. Howard, I am the president of Vans Jewelry and a professional gemstone appraiser. I’ve been in this business for forty years. I believe that I can help you.”

Marissa knew that there were hidden experts among the guests so she frantically smiled and said, “I’ll have to trouble you then.”

Jordan gave the necklace to the middle-aged man who kept singing praises about it after checking it carefully.

“What a finely crafted piece. These diamonds and jades are definitely not counterfeit! 1, 2, 3...26, 27. The necklace is recombinable through its strings. There are indeed 27 ways to wear it!

“Mrs. Howard, this necklace is, indeed, the most expensive necklace in the world and it’s worth 200 million dollars!”

Marissa was a bit stunned. She initially wanted to humiliate Jordan at the wedding. She wanted to let everyone present know that Jordan was a live-in husband who sponged off her daughter. However, who would have thought that Jordan would give her daughter a necklace worth 200 million dollars!?!

Lauren was stunned too. “Jordan...”

Jordan smiled, took the necklace, and then personally put it on Lauren’s neck.

The moment it was completed, everyone started applauding!

“How compatible! Only someone as noble as Miss Howard would be worthy of the world’s most expensive necklace!”

“Yes, a beauty and an exquisite necklace. What a perfect match.”

At this moment, Hailey was standing like a fool, holding the rose gold necklace worth a lot less than 200 million dollars.

She was biting her lip, filled with jealousy!

“Damn it! Jordan you bastard, how am I worse than Lauren?”

“You’re giving her a necklace worth 200 million dollars and you gave me a necklace worth a few hundred thousand dollars? You’re making me seem so cheap! This necklace shouldn’t belong to Lauren!”

In fact, Jordan felt the same inside.

‘This necklace should belong to Victoria...’

Chapter 400: Victoria Gives A Wedding Gift!

Translator: Atlas Studios Editor: Atlas Studios

The reason that Jordan didn't take out this necklace earlier was because he intended to give this world's most expensive necklace to Victoria!

Victoria was the woman he loved the most, and previously, Jordan had given her the world's most expensive pair of diamond earrings. Coupled with the world's most expensive necklace, Victoria must be incredibly beautiful and noble...

Of course, with Lauren's beauty and noble aura, she was also able to carry the necklace perfectly.

Jordan smiled at Lauren and took her hand in a bid to help her to the stage.

However, a Perry Express delivery man suddenly barged in. He was holding a beautifully wrapped gift and was arguing with the doorman at the door.

"Sorry, you can't enter without an invitation. Put the gift here."

The courier deliverer said, "Please be accommodating. The customer gave me a % 2,000 tip, and instructed me to personally hand this gift to the bride and groom."

Jordan felt a sense of kinship towards employees of Perry Express.

He instructed Salvatore, "Let that courier deliverer come in."

Salvatore immediately said to the doorman, "Let him in!"

Without further ado, the courier quickly ran to Jordan and Lauren.

He asked, “May I ask if the two of you are the couple getting married today, Mr. Jordan Steele and Miss Lauren Howard?”

Jordan and Lauren nodded somewhat curiously.

The courier deliverer said, “This is a wedding gift from someone who wishes you conjugal bliss.”

Jordan and Lauren looked at each other, wondering who the person who had sent the gift in such a bizarre manner was.

The Howards had deliberately lowered the standard of requirements for guests. Those who were related to them would be allowed to enter. Even those who had nothing to do with them, like Hailey, could easily get an invitation just by spending some money.

There shouldn't be a case where someone had no choice but to send the gifts in because they couldn't enter to give their blessings. However, Jordan still took the gift and removed the red packaging, only to see a familiar box.

The moment he saw this box, Jordan and Salvatore both froze for a while!

“This box is...”

Jordan and Salvatore immediately recognized what the box was for!

“No...”

Jordan tensed up!

He quickly opened the exquisite box, and sure enough, it contained exactly the two things he expected!

Apollo Blue and Artemis Pink!

The most expensive pair of colored diamond earrings in the world!

They were the things that Jordan had given to Victoria!

“Victoria...”

Jordan’s emotions were completely out of control. He knew that Victoria had been wearing those earrings.

They were sent by Victoria!

“Excuse me, please let me take a look!”

The moment the president of Vans Jewelry saw the pair of colored diamond earrings, his eyes widened and he immediately scurried over to authenticate them!

Jordan also wanted him to authenticate it.

If they were authentic, it would prove that the diamond earrings were a gift from Victoria!

The president of the jewelry brand was full of incessant praise after careful observation.

“My gosh! It’s really Apollo and Artemis! These are the most expensive colored diamond earrings in the world, which cost % 57.4 million in total!”

“Who is so generous to give such an expensive gift?”

It was indeed authentic!

Jordan suddenly found a note at the bottom of the box and immediately picked it up.

There was only one line of words on it.

“Jordan, I wish you a happy marriage!”

The cursive was beautiful, thin and clear. It was Victoria’s handwriting!

“Victoria!”

Jordan could not contain his emotions and burst into tears at some point. His tears had already fallen onto the paper.

Seeing his reaction, Lauren and Hailey were both stunned too.

Jordan actually cried.

This man was a tough guy who would never cry regardless of how aggrieved he was.

Yet, he cried because of a gift.

“Hey, why is the groom crying?”

“Damn it, I’d cry if I received a % 57.4 million gift!”

These superficial people would never know that Jordan cried because the gift was from Victoria!

As Jordan held the note with Victoria's wishes with trembling hands, his vision gradually turned blurry.

“Victoria, why did you leave...”

Jordan knew that Victoria was definitely safe and aware that he was getting married. However, Victoria chose not to stop him and instead gave him her blessings. She wanted Jordan and Lauren to be together!

“Why...”

At this moment, Lauren took the tissue handed over by her maid, Felicia, and personally wiped Jordan's tears.

“Honey, who sent this?”

Jordan didn't want Lauren to know the truth so he replied, “My mother.”

Hailey was enraged. “What's wrong with Jordan's mother? Your son is becoming a live-in husband and you gave them earrings worth $57.4 million. When he married me back then, you didn't give me a single thing and he even sponged off the Camdens for three years!”

Hailey was already green with envy when Lauren received the most expensive necklace in the world just now. Now that the world's most expensive diamond earrings were in Lauren's hands too, Hailey was incredibly jealous!

Lauren was overjoyed too. “So it's from your mother. These diamond earrings are so beautiful, and they come in two colors.”

“Honey, will you put them on for me?”

Jordan wiped his tears and said, “Alright.”

As Jordan gently squeezed the blue-colored diamond earring with his hand, he felt that there was still Victoria’s scent on it. In his mind, he was imagining what Victoria would look like when she took the earring off!

After freezing for a moment, Jordan personally put it on Lauren’s ear. He then put the pink earring on Lauren’s other ear.

At this moment, there were countless flashes of light as everyone picked up their phones to take pictures of Lauren!

257 million dollars worth of jewels were now donned by Lauren alone!

The gold diggers were so jealous that they were about to vomit blood!

At this moment, seeing Lauren wearing the pair of colored diamond earrings, Jordan suddenly thought of the scene of Victoria wearing the earrings.

Perhaps because he missed Victoria too much, he thought of Victoria when he looked at Lauren!

Lauren’s smile turned into Victoria’s!

“Victoria...”

Jordan couldn’t help himself and went forth to kiss Lauren!

Lauren was a little surprised but she was soon happy and surprised.

The guests in the room began applauding one after another too.

Besides, Hailey was so furious that she stomped her feet and hollered, “Jordan, you’ve gone overboard. If you try to disrupt my next wedding, I will definitely kiss another man in front of you too! I’ll drive you to your grave!”

At this very moment, a couple with a noble aura who was about 30 years old, suddenly arrived at the door.

“Sir, Ma’am, do you have an invitation?” The doorman at the door asked.

The middle-aged man said, “No.”

“Sorry, if you don’t have an invitation card, you won’t be allowed to enter.”

The doorman spoke very politely because he could tell that the middle-aged man had a powerful aura.

The woman beside him was elegant and gorgeous!

The middle-aged man laughed and said, “It’s my younger brother’s wedding.. Why do I need an invitation to enter?”