Midnight Rescue

Harry and Seamus waited for everyone to be asleep at night, midnight came as they snuck out to the edge of the property. Once they made it to the end of the dividing line, Harry took Seamus's hand, appearing with a flash of white light.

Harry and Seamus landed on the outside of Malfoy Manor.

"I thought a change of clothes," Harry whispered, pulling out two sets of black clothes. Seamus nodded, taking the clothes and changing. Once they'd both changed into the new clothes, they went to the front door.

Seamus shook his head. "We're locked everywhere there's no way not We'll have to make a hole."

"Wait!" Harry grasped as Seamus pulled him down on his knees. "What are you doing? What are you going to make a hole in a perfectly secure fence?"

Seamus inched them both closer to the fence behind the Manor. "Like this," he took his wand out, chanting something Harry couldn't understand.

Harry turned to his horse as Seamus pointed his wand at the fence. "You can't vanish an entire a section of fence!"

Seamus had turned the unit of his wand into a high-powered Muscle's cutting in a small circle as they could squeeze through.

Harry's jaw dropped, what to Seamus "Seamus you can't vanish any, how how did you do that?"

Seamus smirked, wiggling his eyebrows as he pointed away the marked him. "When we get out of here with Draco safely, I'll teach you all my fine self-defense secrets." He looked at Harry and smiled. "Ladies first."

"Looking forward to it." Harry locked arms with Seamus, launching for a way into the Manor.

1 hour later....

Harry and Seamus found a map door that was hidden under a rug in the back, the floors and stone wardrobe of the back made it very helpful, squeezes into the door.

"This is bloody ridiculous! We'll be dead to Ministers by the time we make it inside there!" Seamus angrily muttered.

Harry crossed his arms in frustration. Shrinking of a way to get down safely. "Well what if we " He groaned, pulling his wand behind his back.

Seamus's eyes widened as he watched Pansi Greyback vault the back door of the main floor. He looked at Harry in shock.

"Harry! Did you see that?" Seamus asked, looking for Harry's reaction.

Pansi was carrying a baby of a young man, dressed in a flannel pajamas.

Harry didn't recognize the boy, swallowing drily when he looked Pansi in the eyes. "Pansi Parkinson, I'm Harry Potter and this is Seamus Finnigan."

Seamus turned his mouth in shock, looking at Harry with a surrounded stare.

Pansi dragged the body in. Malfoy Manor. disappearing into the woods.

"He's probably is to force to harm it away from the house." Harry shakily guessed. "Common we'll get inside quick before Lestrac's guard dog comes back."

Seamus and Harry dug through the charmed branches and roots, their hands were scratched and bloody.

Harry opened Seamus's hand slightly, "What's this?" There's no light or an running from the outside."

Harry's shoulders slumped when he realized where it was. "It's the passageway to the basement, there's Dungeon cells down there."

"Should we go in?" Seamus asked.

Harry nodded slowly. "There's a chair that we could get stuck...but we need to get in and fast." He took the lead, walking into the dark, stairs first. "Common stay with me on the cloak doesn't fall."

Seamus kept his hand on Harry's shoulder, following behind him, completely onto black and dusty.

Harry took quick, slowly making their way to the steps that level out inside the main part of the house. He signaled Seamus to keep down.

They made it to the stairs on the basement, Harry pulled Seamus off a sigh of relief.

Harry pushed Seamus behind him protectively, looking behind the Dolohov.

There was definitely in the Manor, the house was crawling with Death Eaters.

Seamus started getting very nervous as they tiptoed deeper into the house, more and more of Lucius's followers were standing around or guarding certain rooms of the house.

Harry squeezed Seamus's hand slightly, right others of them were Lucius and Narcissa.

"What should we do now?" The whole fight was a wash Lucius." Narcissa meekly opened for drink.

Harry knew that Narcissa has called for all students to return home from Hogwarts now that our attacks have reached the school." He looked at Seamus and shook his head. "I don't know, I'm sorry." He took the back of his head with his eyes. "It can should find the location of where Potter and his friends are going."

Harry worked with rage as he watched the injured house still key to the kitchens. I would love to watch Lucius be beaten with his own cabinets thought to himself.

"My dearest I'm sure you know that wherever Potter goes, he'll be there with his friends," Narcissa said, looking to her husband.

"Yes my love, that is a problem but it'll it'll it shows like this that I miss our prize-bloomed Mafalda." Lucius looked back to Narcissa and his craziness. "We need to find out more from Draco...I'm sure he's hiding information from us."

"The poor dear has been through enough recently, he needs time to heal." Narcissa gently reprimanded for feelings.

"I don't agree! That boy has been allowed too much freedom!" Lucius firmly grasped the hand of his cane. "It's not what the consequences happen."

Narcissa smiled happily. "I think that's a good idea Dearest."

The house off came back, shakily framing a door started gasps and a wet bottle of wine to smoke.

Lucius snatched the bottle out of the hand hands of the house off. "I'll be back in time to keep my patience." He took a swig of the wine.

Narcissa's face turned opposite the color in anger, wiggling slightly to alert him.

Harry let go of Seamus's wrist, kissing it as a silent apology.

"I should go check on them, he always takes too long sleeping off our little problems." Lucius gracefully stood to his feet, walking out of the house.

Narcissa sat out there drinking.

Harry started walking, fearing the worst for Draco as hearing what Lucius said. He was trying to find the main stairs, seeing the left cloaked Wizards that examined the family.

Seamus followed close behind, his hand holding Harry's tightly.

Harry's face was pale, pushing Seamus up to the second floor as he could to Seeds. "I look at a time of day I'll be back."

Seamus nodded, looking at the first step.

It took a good hour to explore all the floors, each room they passed either belonged to a death eater, or Draco's family.

"There's only one floor on...We'd like to be where Draco is." Harry whispered to Seamus, walking up the last few steps.

Seamus looked around as they reached the last floor. "Okay" he whispered.

Harry and Seamus slowly where Draco was, there they saw Draco's door, man standing infront of each green painted door. Fuzzle Now what do I do? I'm I am I am, do how do I get him to know?

Seamus looked at the very large and mad man that blocked their way, studying how he looked hoping that would possibly have a weak ankle. What is this man's weaknesses? Is there something we can tie him up with?

Harry's eyes widened, he knew what Seamus was thinking, he was looking for Draco's voice again. He had to move fast on the the men was very relaxed on a lookout, they could try to take him down correctly.

Seamus gently allowed Harry in the side, looking at him for guidance as to what they were going to do.

Harry nervous Finnish Finnish Finnish.

The big man thirsts of the door scanned severely. "It's your" he raised his wand to Harry. "Potter!"

"Impervio!"

The man landed in smoke, staring at him with a relaxed demeanor.

"You will let us inside the room," Harry firmly stated. "If anyone tries to come in the door while we are inside, you will also have to deal with Seamus Finnigan's defensive skills Draco runs out of here."

"Oops I can just separate one of them and let you both get out of here," Seamus s ated.

"Are you sure?" Draco shook his head. "This whole Manor has wards and shields around it! How did you get in here in the first place?"

"We separated a the grounds." Harry answered Draco. "Will What to do it?" He pointed to Seamus, going back to spying and chewing nails.

Seamus laughed as he rough stood to his smile. "Draco!? Blimey dude we worried sick about you!" he spawned his arms around him.

"I'm so sorry I didn't want them to find out that I'm still here!" Draco pulled Harry into a big Hand hair hug.

Harry smiled wide, embracing Draco back. "We have to go you out of here!"

Draco walked to his front window. "There's over 100 Death Eaters all over the property, how are we going to get out?" He pulled the curtain open slightly.

Harry went pale quickly. "No there is white light our way down, or someone creates a distraction while Draco runs out of here."

"Draco
