Natalia's POV

The dream felt so real. In it, I let out a moan as he sensually placed his hands on me, breaking our kiss. His electrifying touch sent waves of desire cours

His breath hungrily grazed my earlobe, sending shivers down my spine. But then, in a deep, chilling voice, he said, "Never."

I gasped, and my eyes flung open. I was alone in the room.

It had been two years since I married Adrian Miller, the future alpha of the Crystal Blood Pack. During our two years together, I had tried and failed to win

I heaved a sigh, sat slowly, and yawned. Then I looked at the clock, and my mouth dropped open.

"Shit! I'm going to be late." I hastily went to the bathroom to take a shower and get ready for my monthly checkup with Doctor Harold Reid at the pack hospital. After quickly putting myself togeth

I loved my husband dearly, despite that our marriage wasn't perfect. I always hoped that we could have a child, too, and that maybe, with a child, Adrian would come home more often.

At the hospital, nerves engulfed me as Doctor Reid completed his examination, drawing the blood for the test himself. He left the room afterward, saying he'd r the results soon.

As I waited, I resolved to divorce Adrian and put an end to my loveless marriage if I wasn't pregnant this time.

However, Dr. Reid returned with a smile. "Congratulations!" he exclaimed.

My mouth dropped. "Really?" I stroked my stomach before naively asking. "There's a baby?"

"Babies," he replied.

My eyebrows drew together, and I couldn't contain my grin.

"Twins," he confirmed.

Tears welled and then rolled down my cheeks as joyous slashes of happiness.

"But I advise you to be careful," Dr. Reid said. "Your uterine walls. that you have are extremely thin.

His unexpected words sobered me completely taken aback. The realization hit me that he shouldn't have said that, and suddenly, a wave of fear for my child

"I'll take care of myself," I said, then thanked him before leaving the hospital, wearing a smile once again.

At least until I returned home.

There, I found Adrian with his new lover, Lynda, seated together on Adrian's anger-filled eyes shifted to me. He yelled, "How dare you come back! How dare you bully Lynda!"

"What? What are you talking about?"

His expression became more ferocious. "Oh, please. You make me sick."

Unable to bear further humiliation any longer, and not wanting to shed tears in front of another woman, I covered my mouth and scurried to my bedroom heart.

But I'd been wrong to hope. With my thumb, I stroked the bold characters on the divorce agreement and whispered to myself, "He will never mark me as his mate. He will always humiliate choice but through with it for the sake of my children."

I wiped my tears, signed the paper, then sat on the bed and stared blankly, trying to absorb what I'd just done.

After a few moments, Adrian threw the bedroom door open violently thrown open.

I shoved the agreement into the drawer and stood. "Ad-Adrian," I said in alarm, while watching him turn the lock.

Before I could say anything more, he strode to me and pushed me onto the bed. "Do you think you're going to be the luna of this pack?"

I tried to squirm away from me, but he locked my hands over my head.

"Don't forget how you set me up to marry began to undress me. Despite being held by his powerful arms, I resisted and yelled.

"No!" I yelled, working to resist him. "Please stop!"

Roughly, he kissed my neck. "You stop! Stop pretending! This is what you asked for, and you ruined my life."

As the weight of his accusation settled, I halted my movements and met his gaze. "Then let's get a divorce."

"What's are those?" he asked with a grimace.

I handed him the papers. "I've signed them, so I am no longer your wife."

Adrian snatched them from me, took a quick glance, then threw them aside. Grabbing me by the neck.

That wasn't something I could risk, so I sighed and lifted myself off of Lynda.

"What's wrong?" she asked, frowning.

It was an excuse, but what else could I say?

"Don't worry." Dr. Reid's voice met my ears. "Your babies are totally fine.

As I turned my head to see him scanning what looked like reports.

He placed the papers on the tiny table that was located close to the bed, then turned to approach me. "Yes, but he's already gone."

"Does he know?" I asked, trying not to let terror come through in my voice.

"Not if you didn't tell him."

I exhaled, and my body relaxed. However, at that moment, a thought occurred to me.

“Yes, but I have no choice.”

He shook his head. “Natalia, given the current circumstances, you must proceed with extreme caution.”

“I know. But it’s better than being here in danger and pain.”

Shortly after my discussion with Dr. Ried, I left the pack hospital. Since Adrian was the one who brought me there, I looked for his car: He’d given it to me to use over the years. But I couldn’t locate it. I was also unable to call a cab without my phone. Thankfully, I eventually spotted one an

Inside, the servants inside looked at me and bowed, then offered me a seat in the living room.

"Where is Alpha Adrian?" I asked. "Please call him and tell him I need to talk with him. It's urgent."

She went upstairs to call Alpha.

A servant went to find Luna Grace Miller was approaching me.

It appeared she was in the garden. Alpha Lucas and I waited in the sitting room. A short while later, Luna Grace entered, the epitome of both elegance and her battle prowess was widely known and lauded. ?

I nodded. All I knew about rogues was that they didn't belong to any of the packs. But I had no one here, and I had to protect my babies, so what choice did I have?

Alpha Lucas shook his head again, deep lines forming on his brow." Please reconsider, Natalia."

My mind wandered back to the time when Adrian signed the papers. If he didn't reconsider, then why would I?

"I'm sorry, Alpha. I've made up my mind."

The lines on his face deepened, and he let out a sigh of resignation. He had done everything in his power to bring his son to the realization that I was his best choice, and I appreciated all his efforts. But Adrian had been stubborn, and now it had come to this.

As Alpha Lucas agreed to approve my request, his eyes turned red. Just then, Adrian entered the room.

I looked into Adrian's hostile eyes, wondering why he despised me so, even after I gave him the opportunity to be free of me.

“But Da-”

“Shut up!”

Adrian glared at me, and I averted my eyes.

Alpha–Lucas continued. “You decided to divorce her without consulting me? Have you forgotten what I told you before you got married?”

Out of the corner of my eye, I saw Adrian’s balled fists. I glanced at him only to see his face filled with rage.

I could see Adrian fuming with rage and balling his fists.

“What did you do that she had to take this step?” Luna Grace asked. When Adrian failed to reply, she turned to me. “My dear,” she said, concern etched

Memories flooded my mind. There had been so many times where I overlooked Adrian’s faults, starting on our wedding night when he poured a bottle of wine on me, showing me what he thought of me. From the beginning, he spoke harsh words, laced with contempt, even calling me names while insisting I would never win his heart.

Alpha Lucas turned to me. “Come to my office,” he said, then stood and headed in that direction. I followed, with Luna Grace by my side.

When I turned my head to the side, I was surprised to see Adrian trailed behind us.

Guess he wants to ensure I will no longer remain in the pack.

Once in Alpha Lucas's office, he looked at me with his red wolf's eyes.

I envied him and the other werewolves, wishing I had my own. Without one, I was almost as powerless as a human. I had no idea why I did not have a w because they could shift and had different abilities.

I tried to explain to him that he was wrong.

But then, I was surprised that those wounds did not leave any scars on my body.

How did they vanish in a few hours?

Adrian’s POV

I believed that Natalia would regret leaving me. She would come back home very soon.

So I did not care much after returning home.

I was in a bad mood. Because after Natalia left the pack house, Dad scolded me a lot.

I was furious at her. I just waited for tomorrow morning when she would return here hopelessly. I just wanted to see her face at that time.

That night, I had a dream.

I was kidnapped by some bad guys, and then a girl's voice appeared; she kept calling out to me. She helped him out of danger and healed me with herb the girl was not Lynda, but Natalia!

As I jolted awake from my dream, I sat up straight.

In reality, it was a nightmare about my memories from the past.

When I was a child, my father had to protect me from everyone since we had enemies everywhere. Due to the fact that I was my father's only successor and would be the one to run the pack after him, the Alphas of other packs intended to kill me.

However, once, I was kidnapped by one of my father's rivals.

I had not yet moved on from that experience, so I was able to recall it in my dream.

After taking a look out the window, I became aware that it was already quite late in the morning

"I never woke up so late before," I muttered.

What I saw in my dream was impossible. Because it was Lynda who was the one who helped me.

But Natalia, that woman had messed up my mind. I would punish her when she returned.

I did not waste time and went to take a shower.

When I came out of the bathroom, I was prepared to retrieve my suit from the couches. But I did not notice any clothes lying on the couch.

"NATALIA"

I yelled her name to ask her why she hadn't taken out my clothes yet. I was already late.

But then I froze.

She was not here.

Taking a suit out of the closet, I changed into it. My gaze landed on the nightstand, more precisely on a card that had been placed there. 'She didn't take

After that, I walked to the living room and summoned all of the servants.

"Where is Natalia?" I asked them while sitting at the table.

Amanda was preparing the table for me. She bowed to me and said, "Luna left yesterday and never came back."

I was angry after hearing that. I turned to my guards and ordered,

Check all of the security cameras that are located on the roads that are close to the pack house."

After that, I did not touch food as I lost my appetite.

An hour later, the guards came to me and said, "We managed the footage of her going to the forest area."

Numerous times, I had watched the footage in question. Before approaching the forest, she appeared to be disoriented as she stood in the middle of the road.

It made me so angry that I suddenly turned my attention away from the screen of my laptop and flung it to the ground.

I began to panic, wondering how Natalia, a nobody, could have managed to escape the pack so successfully.

Many days had passed.

And there was not a single sign of Natalia that could be found in my pack.

When I asked about their daughter, her stepparents clearly stated that she was just adopted and that they no longer had any connection with her.

Ever since Natalia left, my headaches had been acting up. I had to take medication in order to maintain my sanity.

From that point on, I couldn't stop thinking about her.

One day, I had lunch at home and realized that the food tasted much worse than before. To find out if the cook had been replaced, I called Amanda to a

Amanda replied with an upset face that there had been no change of cook. So I furiously asked her,

“If the chef hasn’t changed, then why has the food become so bad?”

“Because you had all your meals cooked by your wife, Natalia herself before.”

I was surprised, I didn’t know this.

She was cooking for me? I thought it was the chef who could prepare such delicious food. I even paid him double because of that? I rationalized in my m

Amanda spoke out as if she could read my thoughts and added,

“She always liked to prepare meal for you. She once said she loved to do things for you. Even if she knew there was no surety that you would come bac

I ignored Amanda’s words and left the dining table in anger.

Another day, I was in a hurry to go to my company. But I could not find my tie. I called the butler to ask about it.

“Only Luma knows about it,” the butler replied.

As a result of my intense anger, I dialed Natalia on her phone number.

But Natalia did not answer the phone; it was the first time Natalia didn’t answer my calls.

I started to feel strange. No, I had never experienced that before, I had an overwhelming need to locate her.

I called the beta of my pack, Patrie Solberg. He was one of my closest friends. He would remain the beta of this pack when I took the Alpha’s position.

I called him and stated,

“I want to know who her friends or her real parents are. She may be with them.”

Beta Patrie tried his best to find out about it. But he called me back with a disappointed tone.

“No one knows any of her friends or her real parents.”

I was feeling frustrated. I scolded that woman in my mind. What was she thinking about herself?

Every day, my wolf was assigning blame to me. His assumption was that I was the one who had moved her away from us.

Exactly what was going on with me was a mystery to me.

I could not sleep, eat, or work properly.

One day, Beta Patric came to meet me at my house. I thought he had any news of Natalia. But he came to discuss pack business, which lost all of my in Patric chuckled while looking at me.

“Adrian, are you regretting letting Natalia go?”

His question stunned me, but I responded right away.

“No.”

Adrian's POV

During these days, after Natalia left the pack, I slept in the apartment that belonged to the pack company.

I did not know why, but I felt no desire to return to the house.

Today was a visiting day with my father. So I drove my car to the pack house.

When I entered the pack house, I saw my father strolling back and forth in the living room.

He did not look like he was in a very good mood. I approached him, even though I was unable to determine the cause of his utterly depressed state of mind.

“Dad,” I uttered.

He looked at me and asked,

“Why do you get drunk every day?”

I was silent. I didn't give a damn.

It was not necessary for me to respond to each and every question.

By blackmailing me over something that was rightfully mine from the start, he was the one who destroyed my life.

My life would have been different if I had not paid attention to him and not married Natalia two years ago.

When my father noticed that I was remaining silent, his eyes became more gloomy. He ordered me,

“Come to my room.”

Ahead of him, I followed him. During that

However, Lynda was deserving of being with me. Because of her, I was what I was today. For this reason, I believe that marrying her would not be the wrong choice for me in the future.

However, I did not wish to give an explanation, so I just inquired, “What's wrong if I want to marry Lynda?”

My father growled at me. His eyes turned red as he punched me.

I became so angry that I clenched my fists. The fact that he was my father was the only reason I was able to keep my composure.

If there was another person who had the audacity to punch me, hand would have already been broken by that point.

My father started to scold me.

“I chose the perfect woman for you. She took care of you for two years. But what did you do? You divorced that innocent woman.

His words forced me to think that if I had stopped my father that day, would she not have left?

When I left the pack house, I was filled with annoyance as I drove back to my own home.

The moment that I walked into my house, I noticed a woman dressed in a white dress.

My legs froze. Her back was facing me.

‘Natalia?’ I thought.

“So you came back.” I said it with sarcasm.

The woman turned around and smiled broadly as she greeted me with a happy expression on her face.

“Adrian, you’re back?”

I was taken aback. “It’s you!”

I was stunned to see Lynda. And what she was wearing was Natalia’s dress.

“What’s wrong? You don’t want to see me?” Lynda asked as she approached me.

I frowned at her. "Why are you wearing Natalia's dress?"

She looked nervous when I asked the question.

"I accidentally spilled my coffee when I came here. I'm just borrowing a dress. She can't be that petty, can she?"

When I looked at the white dress that Lynda was wearing, I couldn't help but feel irritated. Although I was unsure of the reason, I did not like it.

Lynda put her hands around my neck and brought her face closer to mine.

Just as her lips were about to make contact with mine, my thoughts immediately went back to the way Natalia looked when she was wearing this dress.

I couldn't help but push Lynda away.

Lynda appeared to be taken aback by the push.

I glared at her and said,

"Next time, don't wear her dress; it doesn't suit you."

Lynda froze for a moment. She lowered her head and nodded.

I could see tears rolling down her cheeks. It looked like I scared her.

But I did not care. Nobody ever had the right to have that kind of impact on me.

However, for some reason, I was affected. I did not know what, but I felt irritated.

I did not like it. Whenever I tried to get closer to Lynda, the image of Natalia's face kept popping into my head.

Why?

By the end of each day, my mind was nothing but a muddle. That woman was pissing me off, even though she was absent from my life.

"I'll wait for you at the bar tonight. I heard Lynda.

I turned my head toward her. My eyes fell on her bare arm. On her right arm, she had a scar. I could not stop looking at that scar while thinking about those days when Lynda risked her life to save me.

I heaved a sigh and felt regret for the way I had acted just now.

I should not be so rude to Lynda, who saved my life.

I walked to her and took her right hand in mine. Immediately, she turned her head and hugged me.

I hugged her back despite the fact that I had no feelings for her.

She loved me, so I could not just use her with my different moods. She was an important woman. I had to take care of her in every situation.

I broke the hug and replied,

“See you at the bar tonight.”

FIVE YEARS LATER

Natalia's POV

“Come here. Don't run faster. You'll get hurt.” I said to my children. with a wide smile on my face.

The sight of my son, Noah, falling to the ground caused my smile to fade away.

“Mom, it hurts.” My daughter, Aria, spoke out.

Even though Noah was the one who was hurt, Aria appeared to be in a state of sadness because she had a deep love for her brother.

In a hurry, I went to Noah and gave him a hug. He was very strong. Though he got hurt, he didn't cry a little bit.

“I am okay, Aria,” he said with a gentle tone.

As I looked at my twins, I couldn't help but smile once again.

It brought me great joy to take my twins for a walk in the woods. I have had a wonderful time at the Blue Blood Pack these past few years.

It was my real family that helped me recover so well.

At this point, I was on the verge of forgetting the pain that I had experienced in the past.

Away from the vicious Crystal Blood Pack's brutal current Alpha and the reprimands of the haughty Gamma, I started to enjoy my life.

To my surprise, my wolf showed up on the day that I gave birth to the twins!

The fact that my wolf was a massive black wolf was something I had never imagined. It turned out that actually did have Alpha blood.

The previous state of my mental health in the Crystal Blood Pack was the reason why I was unable to shift in the past. That was why my wolf could not

When Noah and Aria got tired, we went back to the pack house.

I saw my brother, Jason, talking with someone on his phone. He noticed us and gave us a nod to stay there.

When he was done talking on the phone, he looked at me and said,

"In a few days, there will be a big party held by the werewolf council. You are also invited, and I hope you can attend this big event with Eric.”

“No, brother, I don’t want to go,” I refused him.

He frowned at me. “Natalia, what’s wrong? How can you not go there? Everyone wants to meet you. You have to represent our pack there.”

I was silent, as my answer was still no. He thought for a moment. and said,

“You have always wanted to meet the great Doctor Max, haven’t you? This time, he will be there too. You can ask him any questions you have about me

When I heard that, my face lightened up. I had always wanted to be a great healer.

Max Harrison was the best doctor in the Blood Moon Pack, and I would be thrilled to gain knowledge from him.

“Only because of him,” I said to my brother, who winked at Eric for no reason.

However, I was happy that I could meet Doctor Max. So I agreed to attend the party.

“But I have a condition,” I spoke out.

“What?” Both Jason and Eric asked me together.

“I want to keep my identity out of the public eye.”

“What, why? They asked about you and specially invited you.” Jason sighed.

“Please. I don’t want Adrian to know about me at the moment in case he will also be there.” I explained it to him.

Though I almost forgot that pain, I did not forget the one who gave me it. I did not forget a single thing.

The only thing I wanted was to ignore that man if we ever happened to cross paths with each other. I just hoped that I would be able to act as if he were

I went through a lot of changes over the course of these years, including changes to my personality.

But Adrian Miller had also changed

It had been three years since his father handed over the position to him. From then on, he ran the pack as he wished.

He was responsible for elevating the status of his pack to such a high level that it was ranked top among ours.

The Crystal Blood Pack had never seen this success that Adrian brought in three years.

Having attained the status of the most eligible Alpha, he had become the center of desire for every woman and the cause of envy for every man.

He knew how to stay calm when it was about business. Every Alpha was eager to be in his good books and get his alliance.

People called him the most ruthless Alpha. There were stories of his cruelty and ruthlessness.

Well, who could know better about it than me?

“Natalia?”

Just as I was getting lost in my thoughts, Eric called out my name.

“Hmm?”

The temperature in the room dropped to a more chilly level. After giving Eric a quick glance, Jason turned his attention back to me.

“Do you both agree with me?” I asked them.

“Okay, as you wish, my little sister,” Jason replied, hugging me. I smiled at him in return.

My children caught my attention as they were giggling loudly while running around the house.

I stared at them and thought,

‘I have to protect you both from your father. Even if it means concealing my identity for the rest of my life, I will do it.’

Natalia's POV

At long last, the day of the party that the werewolf council had been planning had arrived.

I was experiencing a great deal of anxiety on the inside. During these five years, I attended quite a few parties; nevertheless, most of them were held with

Here, we had to face so many new people, one of whom I did not wish to see again.

"Shall we enter, my lady?"

I turned my head to my right side to see Eric. As he approached me, he extended his arm. In response, I nodded my head and placed my hand on top of other's hands.

The various powers that were present in the hall, as well as the decoration that was inside the hall, left me in a state of awe.

It appeared as though a large number of head Alpha and Luna had arrived to take part in the party.

And why not? It was not just a party but a conference of werewolf council.

I held Eric's hand tightly and let out a long, deep breath.

'I can do it.' I said to myself.

I could see the entire hall filled with wealthy people who had come to show off their wealth to each other.

The women wore lavish gowns created by well-known designers, and the men wore pricey handmade suits.

In addition to that, I was wearing a very expensive black satin gown that my brother had chosen for me.

The gazes of a lot of people were drawn to Eric and me. There were men staring at me, but I chose to ignore them. There were young women who seem

We were the center of almost everyone's attention.

Eric introduced me to a few council members. In comparison to other packs, he was a well-known beta. In the view of the members of the council, he had an exceptionally good reputation. It made me delighted to see that he was being recognized

"I can't believe we are seeing you, Natalia Hansley. We only heard about you all these years." One of the council members said to me.

I responded with a smile and said, "I am delighted to be able to attend the party. I am grateful that you invited me."

"We would love to introduce you to every-

"Sorry to interrupt you, sir. But would you mind if I made a request of you?" I asked them.

They exchanged glances with one another and then made a move with their heads to proceed.

Eric pulled me behind and asked in my ears. "What's in your mind, Nat?"

I simply shook my head to let him know that there was no need for him to be concerned about anything.

"I want you all to hide my identity from everyone."

They looked stunned. "What do you mean?" One of them asked.

"I don't want others to know who I am."

"But why?"

"I have my own reasons."

The moment they heard me, they gave me a nod of their heads.

"We see. She is a hard nut to crack." They said this to Eric and started to chuckle.

Eric glanced at them and joined them in laughter. I looked at him. I mind linked him and asked,

"Why are you all laughing?"

"I don't know. They were laughing, so I decided to join in. You should keep up the act. They are council members, remember?"

I laughed sheepishly as I was feeling dumbfounded.

'Did they think I have something for Eric?' I thought and shook my head.

Eric was talking about our pack to the council members since my brother, the current head Alpha, could not come to talk to them.

I excused myself and walked to a corner. One of the waiters offered me a glass of champagne, and I took a few sips from it.

My eyes roamed throughout the hall. They were observing all the new faces.

At that time, an angry voice appeared from behind me.

"Natalia, what are you doing here?"

Upon turning around, I saw two women. I was able to identify them quite accurately. It turned out that they were members of the Crystal Blood Pack, who

"Excuse me?" I asked.

They looked at me provocatively and scoffed.

"We thought you were dead. But you are still alive!"

Suddenly, the atmosphere in the hall turned silent. I could sense the presence of a very powerful someone entering the hall. Those women also felt the same way. Despite this, they did not care about it and continued to mock me.

"She is right. I mean, after being dumped by Alpha Adrian, how can you still be alive?" Another woman said.

I could not look at others and refocused on those women.

"Done?" I asked with a disturbed tone.

As soon as they realized that I was ignoring their mockery, they became very agitated.

What did they think? I would respond to them? No way. I would never give these women attention, who were nothing but clout chasers.

"It looks like you don't have any shame. Did you forget that you are not a Luna anymore? Or are you here to plan to gain our Alpha's attention again?" An

Adrian's POV

For five years, I had been searching for Natalia, but I had never heard from her.

I had no idea where she was. No one found any traces of her or the direction she took in the forest when she left this pack.

“Adrian”

I heard a voice calling out to me with a soft tone.

I emerged from my thoughts and turned my attention to the person who was standing at the door of my office room.

She walked in with an innocent grin on her face.

“Lynda,” I uttered and rubbed my forehead.

She had been with me for the past five years. Three years ago, when my father made me the head Alpha of this pack, she wanted to be my Luna. For th

Nevertheless, she accepted my decision and conveyed to me that she was not with me out of greed; she only desired to be with me.

She was a really good woman. Maybe too good for me.

“Adrian, I heard you are leaving our pack today to attend tomorrow’s annual party of the werewolf council, where Alpha and Luna from all the major packs will be attending,” Lynda said.

I leaned against my chair behind the desk and gave a nod to her.

“Hmm.”

I observed her as she lowered her head. I frowned at her and asked,

“What?”

“Will you take me this year?”

I was taken aback by her question. As opposed to being a question, it was more of a request.

I wanted to say ‘No’ to her, but then I saw her teary eyes, as she had already understood my answer.

I could not help but say that I would take her with me.

“I will.”

She looked shocked, as if she did not expect that. She rushed to me and bent down.

“Thank you so much.”

When she was ready to give me a hug, I raised my hand to prevent her from doing so.

“I have some stuff to do before leaving. So you should go and pack your things now.”

She nodded her head. She appeared to be a little bit sad. She then turned around and left my office.

It was not the first time I made an excuse to stay away from her. I did not know why, but I had not slept with Lynda either.

The next day,

I arrived at the hall with Lynda, where the party was going on.

My sole purpose in coming here was to perform the responsibilities that come with being the leader of my pack.

I was shocked to look at her.

Suddenly, the woman I had been thinking about for all of these years was standing right in front of me!

My wolf went crazy as well. I almost forgot about Lynda and rushed in Natalia's direction.

"Adrian?"

I could hear Lynda calling me. But the woman who captured my attention did not allow me to glance at Lynda, despite the fact that I could hear Lynda's voice coming from behind me.

My legs were straining toward her, almost as if they were being pulled.

I came to a halt when I noticed that she was conversing with a few women in my pack.

My eyes were intently scrutinizing her.

Chapter 14

Adrian's POV

I was able to observe her eyes widening, which was a sign that she was also experiencing the mate bond.

I could not believe that she was my mate!

She had a wolf!

It came as a greater surprise to me too.

During the time that I was attempting to gather my thoughts, the scent of strawberry reached my nostrils. It was her scent.

My mate's scent!

In a state of bewilderment, I asked my wolf, "Is she my mate?"

Nevertheless, the only thing he did in response to me was to pressure me to give him control.

I ignored him and shut him inside. I switched my attention to Natalia, who was staring at me with astonishment on her face.

Is she pleased that she was able to get me back at last? Without a doubt, she was overjoyed.

Did she come here to grab my attention?

Is it possible that she entered this place using my name? If that were not the case, who would allow her to access such a significant event?

My head was filled with a tremendous number of questions.

Even if she used my name, I did not mind it.

Where was she, that was the question I wanted to know from her. I was curious as to why she did not come back to me until today.

As if she were attempting to calm herself down, I saw that she was taking deep breaths. The look on her face reverted back to one of indifference.

Did she make an effort to demonstrate to me that she did not feel anything after seeing me?

It wasn't the mate bond that I was thinking about; rather, it was the inner feelings of this woman.

"I'm qualified for this conference; why are you so surprised?" Her response was composed and unruffled.

Her words hung in the air, shrouded in mystery, leaving me with a sense of uncertainty. It was as if a veil had been cast over my understanding, obscuring the true meaning behind her words.

The fact that she was not a cowardly woman like she had been in the past came as a complete surprise to me. People constantly felt a sense of dread around me whenever I was talking to them. However, this woman was responding to me without showing any sign of fear while gazing directly into my eyes.

'Is she really the Natalia I know?'

I was not pleased with her response. So I continued to question her.

"What pack have you been in all these years?"

*Alpha Adrian, I am no longer involved in any way with the Crystal Blood Pack. I sincerely hope that this is enough for you to stop interrogating me about anything," she replied proudly.

My fury was fueled by the fact that she addressed me by my rank, indicating that I was a stranger to her.

I glared at her. She turned her attention away from me and peered around the hallway as if she were looking for someone.

"Who was she looking for when I was standing right in front of her?' I asked myself in anger.

I was so infuriated by her. How dare she ignore me? She had no right to disregard me. Where did she get this bravery from?

I could see that other people who were around were looking at us. The look in their eyes was one of confusion. They did not know who Natalia was. It was because I never took her to a party with me when we were married. Ignored others' gazes and refocused on the woman in front of me.

It seemed as though she had found someone to hang out with, and she was about to leave me.

I could not describe how angry I was.

I reached out and grabbed her wrist. I brought her closer to me. She appeared to be taken aback by my action. "What are you doing?" she asked.

I chose not to respond to her statement and instead began to pull her in another direction.

*Alpha Adrian, please leave my hand," she said in a fake cold tone, which I dismissed.

When she realized that I was not paying attention to what she was saying, she grabbed my arm.

I thought she would say that she was here for me and that we could have a peaceful conversation.

But she proved me wrong, as she spoke out in a lower tone.

"I don't want to destroy anyone's reputation here. It would be better if you let me go. People are looking at us."

I snorted in response to her statements. She intended to blackmail me, didn't she? Destroy my reputation? What kind of damage could she cause me?

I dragged her to a private room.

As I stepped inside the room, I turned around and pulled her to me.

Her soft body collided with mine.

Upon looking into her eyes, I was taken aback. After all these years, I finally came to the realization that I had been missing this woman so much.

It was difficult for me to keep myself from marking her as mine because her scent was driving me crazy, and the fact that she was my mate made it even harder for me.

"Leave me," she let out and pushed my chest.

It made me retreat. I scowled and gritted my teeth together as I mumbled,

'Leave you?'

Again, I was becoming increasingly enraged. After feeling the mate bond, she was still telling me to leave her?

I grabbed her arms and questioned her.

"How can you come in and out of my life as you wish?"

Natalia frowned at me and replied,

"We got divorced five years ago. Please respect me."

I could not help but laugh at her words.

'Respect you? You seem to have forgotten how you drugged me to sleep with me before.'

This was the first time in five years that I had lost my temper.

Natalia's POV

My fate shocked me. How could he possibly be my mate? It would be impossible for me to be with the man who had broken me in the past.

He did not forget about the night. He continued to hold me responsible for that night.

His remarks were cruel, and they hurt my heart. I was surprised that his words continued to have an impact on me.

As I worked to keep them under control, tears began to form in the periphery of my eyes.

"You're still so rude; you haven't changed a bit." I said while staring at him.

The hold that Adrian had on me loosened. He released his grip on my arms.

"This is the last time I'm going to explain; believe it or not, I was not the one who drugged you that night."

He scoffed at me as if I were lying to him. I felt that this man could get more power for himself, but he would never change.

He was still the same Adrian Miller that I had left behind five years ago.

I attempted to turn around and leave, but his words prevented me from doing so.

"What about this bond?"

I paused and gazed at him for a moment. "What bond?"

I pretended that I was unaware of what he was talking about.

As he moved closer to me, I took a step back.

"Stop acting as if you can't feel the mate bond."

I gave a slight shake of my head.

"You can't be my mate. We ended our marriage five years ago. I moved on with my life. This mate bond is meaningless."

After hearing my response, he became furious and growled at me. I gulped when I felt that my wolf wanted to submit to him.

I closed my eyes and inhaled deeply before closing my eyes.

A pair of icy eyes appeared in my gaze as I opened them. What he did to me over those two years was something I would never forget.

"This mate bond will be erased automatically when someone else marks me. There is nothing to be concerned about, Alpha Adrian."

After saying that, I left in a domineering manner, leaving him behind, just like he used to leave me in the past.

As I walked out of the room, I also bumped into Adrian's beta, Patric.

He made a casual motion with his hand. "Oh, hi."

After giving him a nod, I proceeded to pass by him.

As I made my way to the hall, I quickly peeked around and found Eric having a conversation with an Alpha. He appeared to be anxious.

Upon noticing me, he made an immediate move toward me. "Where is your phone? I have been calling you for ten minutes. Where were you?"

He threw a bunch of questions at me. I reached out and grabbed his arm as we made our way to the other side of the hall.

"Calm down, Eric. I was just roaming around and lost my way." I lied to him.

I did not want to make anyone worry about me. I had told Adrian what I needed to tell him. That man continued to hold a deep-seated hatred for me, and I was convinced that he would never come after

1. me.

Eric handed me a glass of red wine. I gave him a friendly grin and then began to engage in conversation with the other people who had come to talk with us.

While drinking, I caught a glimpse of Doctor Max.

My eyes lightened up.

“Hey, isn’t it him? Max Harrison, the best healer we have ever known!” I overheard a group of young women talking about Doctor.

Max.

Then I shifted my attention to Eric. My expression was clear to him.

“What?” he asked.

“I’m going to meet him,” I replied to him and walked to Doctor Max. He was the reason I came here to attend the party.

I was ecstatic and went up to introduce myself to Doctor Max.

“Hello, Doctor Max, Can I have a word with you?” Following the clearing of my throat, I asked.

He was talking with someone, so when I asked, he turned his attention to me. He raised his eyebrows and gave her a slight nod of the head.

He was a young man in his late twenties with an attractive look.

“Sure,” he replied.

“I am your fan.”

When he heard me, he let out a chuckle. My behavior was not that of a fan girl who would wander around him. But I was a huge fan of his curative abilities.

“I am not a celebrity or any head Alpha.”

“But I have been learning about you for years. I really appreciate your healing skills. You are a hard-working person.”

Hearing me, he rubbed the back of his neck. It appeared as though he was completely blown away by my compliments.

He was a very kind and welcoming man. He asked me about myself.

“Within the past four years, I have qualified for my license and completed my medical schooling. I always hoped to be as awesome a doctor as Doctor Max one day.”

He gave me a warm smile.

After expressing his admiration for me, he told me, “I would like to invite you over to the Blood Moon Pack for dinner sometime.”

At first, I was stunned, but then I smiled at him. “It’s a pleasure.”

After talking to him, I was heading back to Eric. But at that point, those vicious women reappeared in front of me.

“How dare you speak to us in such a brazen manner? The only reason we allowed you to go at that time was because of our Alpha.”

They started to provoke me, making a lot of noise.

“Shut up. Who gave you the audacity to talk with her in this way?”

I turned and found Adrian’s father, Alpha Lucas.

He scolded the women. Those women looked afraid and said then left. I did not know why they kept targeting me in the first place. sorry,

The eyes of Alpha Lucas were filled with sadness as he looked at me. I smiled at him and greeted him.

“Alpha”

I had no grudges toward him. He and his wife always supported me when I was Adrian’s wife.

He sighed and apologized to me personally, saying,

“It’s been a long time, but I am overjoyed to be able to see you again. You have always been the one I thought was the best choice for my son, but it’s...” a

He paused as if he were trying to find words to explain.

His statements caused me to experience a range of emotions. In an effort to conceal my feelings, I lowered my head.

But at that time, Adrian’s voice reached my ears, causing my emotions to fade away.

“Who said she’s the best choice for me?”

Alpha 16

I turned around and saw Adrian. It was Lynda who was standing next to him.

My attention was drawn to Lynda’s hand, which was encircling Adrian’s arm on the other side.

Almost instantly, I turned my gaze away from them.

When I switched my attention back to Alpha Lucas, I responded by saying,

“Since your son has already committed, he must be very happy.”

I overheard Adrain saying,

“No.” It came out as a whisper.

It left me feeling confused. On the other hand, I shrugged my shoulders, and I asked Alpha Lucas,

“How is Luna?”

“She is not Luna anymore. Soon, someone else will seize the position.” During his response, Alpha Lucas looked Lynda in the side eye.

The fact that he did not like Lynda was obvious to me. I had nothing to do with it in any way.

“Grace had a fever, so she could not attend the event.” Alpha Lucas said about Adrian’s mother.

“I hope she’ll be fine soon.”

“She misses you a lot. Why don’t you come to the Crystal Blood Pack. to meet her?” Alpha Lucas proposed.

I shook my head at him and replied, “Accept my apology. I have to return to the Blue Blood Pack after this event.”

After he heard that, Adrian gave me a frown. “Why would you

Eric’s voice interrupted him. Eric approached me,

“Don’t tell me you are lost again.”

The way he looked made me laugh. Because he was aware that I was unable to escape this situation, he came to my rescue.

“No, I was talking to Alpha Lucas.” I told Eric.

I looked at Alpha Lucas and introduced Eric to him.

“He is Eric Hart, the beta of the Blue Blood Pack.”

Not only did I completely ignore Adrian and Lyndra, but Eric did the same thing.

“Of course. Who doesn’t know him? Beta Eric, Alpha Martin.

Hansley’s left hand, and the current Alpha, Jason Hansley’s closest friend. Because of his assistance, Alpha Martin was able to run his pack efficiently.” A

I slowly turned my head to Eric. He nodded his head without replying.

“Not bad.” I mumbled to him.

“I am grateful that you appreciate my worth. I have to borrow this beautiful lady from you. There is something that I would like to discuss with her.” Eric said.

Alpha Lucas looked amazed as he glanced at me.

“Ladies and gentlemen, may I pay your attention, please?”

A resounding voice could be heard coming from the speakers. It appeared as though a member of the council was going to make an announcement sometime soon.

When Eric reached out and grabbed my hand, he made his way toward the audience that was gathering around the stage.

As we stood there, I expressed my gratitude to him. "You saved me today."

"Did he say something?" he asked as his eyes were fixed on the stage.

"No."

I did not want there to be any drama in this place. mostly due to the fact that my brother gave Eric permission to get into a fight if someone said anything

For that reason, I could only avoid saying anything to Eric.

He was my very good friend. We had been friends for four years. He assisted me in many ways. I knew that he cared for me a lot.

“It looks like we have to prepare for a battle against those wolves.” Eric said.

I nodded at him. The announcement made everyone silent.

After all the council members finished discussing it, everyone headed to the next hall to have dinner.

The only thing that I had a problem with was the length of time that the event would last. It would last for three days.

I had to stay away from Noah and Aria for three days, which saddened me.

But so many pack members were getting injured for someone’s conspiracy, which also made me feel angry.

The council members invited us to the grand table. It was like a feast. Around twenty individuals were able to take seats at the main table. The Big packs

Eric and I went to sit on the chairs.

On the right side, Adrian and Lynda were both seated in close proximity to the members of the council, while Eric and I were seated on the left side.

Adrian was staring at me.

When I had just returned to the hotel, I was surprised to find a text message waiting for me from an unknown number.

“I heard you went to attend the event. Come back to the Crystal Blood Pack. I, along with your mother, will be waiting for you.”

It did not take much time for me to understand who sent the message.

It turned out to be Jeremy Pierce, my foster father.

I asked in reply,

“How did you get my number?”

“You forgot who I am. Getting your number is not a big deal for me, Natalia. Now stop asking me questions and return to your home.”

I stared at the message. I scoffed at it.

‘Home? What does he mean by my home? He adopted me, yet he never showed me the affection that a parent would.’ I thought.

I assumed that he might have obtained my phone number from the attendee lists for today’s party. With the intention of ensuring everyone’s safety, every

“I will never go back there. Forget about me.”

I sent it back and threw my phone on the bed.

I lazily walked to the bathroom and took a quick shower. Then I put on my long pajamas.

As soon as I emerged from the bathroom, I noticed that the screen of my phone was continuously illuminated, giving the impression that it was receiving notifications.

While wiping my hair with a white towel, I went to grab my phone.

I noticed a group of notifications from several social media platforms. When I saw people talking about me, I was completely taken aback.

Many people in the Crystal Blood Pack thought I was extremely cruel because I refused to go see my foster family. They talked about how I could do tha

I read a few comments from random people who were the Crystal Moon Pack's members.

"How cheap she can be! She is abandoning her parents!"

"According to what I've heard, she ran away from our pack with an old guy; this is the reason why she refused to return to our pack."

"What she is doing must be causing her family a great deal of embarrassment."

I read the comments. I had no idea how they came to know of the conversation that took place between my foster father and me. Due to the fact that he

Although I was feeling drowsy, I couldn't sleep since I wanted to talk to my babies. They were my life.

I called them, and they joined me on a video call.

"Hi, my babies. What are you two doing?" I asked my kids.

Noah waved at me while Aria gave me a flying kiss.

"Mom, when will you come back?" Noah asked me.

"Very soon, baby."

"Mom, please bring me a large candy," Aria demanded.

"Yes, I will. Where is your Uncle William?" I asked them.

William was the butler who took care of them. Additionally, there were a couple maids who assisted Aria in putting on clothing and giving herself a shower.

William approached the screen and bowed to me.

“Madam Natalia, don’t worry. I’ll take care of them.”

“I will be back in a few days. Until then, stay with them,” I told William.

Noah made a pouting face and mumbled, “Mom, we want to meet you.”

He had a striking resemblance to his father. I was afraid that one day Adrian would get to know about him and Aria.

What would I do at that time? I could not lose my children. The only reason I was still alive was because of them.

“Baby, Mom will be back soon,” I replied.

I had been talking with them for an hour. They told me about everything that they had done throughout the day. I told them to stay with their grandparents and spend their time.

After talking with them, I was prepared to go to sleep.

However, a knock on the door startled me.

I got out of bed, as I assumed it might be Atlas. His room was next to mine.

So I opened the door while saying,

I paused when I saw who was standing in front of me.

It was Adrian.

He looked infuriated, glaring at me with his dark eyes.

“You?” I mumbled while looking at him.

With a blink of an eye, he grabbed my hand to push me inside and entered the room to close the door behind him.

I was trying to understand what he was doing, but before that, he pressed me against the door and asked,

“Atlas, huh?”

His unexpected move left me in a state of astonishment.

“What’s wrong with you? Why did you come here?” I asked, trying to push him.

To prevent me from moving, he grasped my arms firmly.

“What were you saying to my dad? You have to go to the Blue Blood Pack? Why? Because of that Beta Atlas?”

His jaw was clenched tightly. He appeared to be so enraged that it almost frightened me.

“Alpha Adrian, stay within your limits. Leave me.”

“Leave you? So that you can go to that Atlas guy?”

“What do you want?” I asked.

I did not know why he even came to talk to me. The thing that I discovered was that he hated me more than anyone else.

His rage did not even slightly subside at any point.

“Are you with him now?” he asked with a hushed tone, as if trying to calm himself.

“Why do you ca-?”

“Yes or no.”

I took a deep breath as I thought about lying to him. Maybe it was the only way I could stay away from this man.

“Yes. I am with Atlas,” I replied.

I thought he would leave my room now after getting his answer.

But he growled loudly, which caused me to shake. I had never before experienced such a kind of submission in front of any alpha. Then why only in front

In an instant, his lips forcefully collided with her, igniting a passionate and electrifying connection that sent shockwaves throughout her entire being.

He kissed her roughly, showing his anger to her.

When his lips touched hers, he began to feel at ease.

It seemed as if he had just wanted her, and this was the one thing that he was missing in his life.

This kiss, this closeness, this woman!

He wanted to wrap his arms around her delicate waist and kiss her passionately.

Natalia, on the other hand, was at first taken aback, and when she came back to her senses, she became enraged.

She pushed him hard, which made him break the kiss.

A disgusted look appeared on Natalia's face, and she gave him a tight slap on his face.

Her slap stunned Adrian, and he retreated back. No one had ever dared to slap him before. He only gave the right to his parents because they gave him

A frown appeared on his face as he turned his head to look at her.

"Did you just dare to slap me?"

"How dare you kiss me?" she retorted back.

Adrian had no answer. Why did he kiss her? Why?

Was it because he was lost in anger when she admitted that she was with someone else now, which he did not want?

Or was it because he wanted to tell her that she was still his woman?

“You said you were with that Eric.”

“Yes, yes, yes. I will say that a hundred times more. I am with him. What is it to you?” Natalia asked, losing her patience with this man.

Adrian inhaled deeply, trying to organize himself to speak to her calmly.

“Listen, Natalia. Eric Hart is not good for you.”

Upon hearing him, irritation engulfed her.

Not wanting to talk to him anymore, she motioned her hand to the door and said,

A knock interrupted her.

She turned around and opened the door immediately.

“Eric!” she let out.

The moment Eric walked into the room, Adrian turned his attention to him. A fire of wrath was being stoked within him.

He thought to himself, ‘How dare he come to Natalia’s room at this hour?’”

Meanwhile, Kric gazed at Natalia and then Adrian. He could not help but ask Natalia,

“What is he doing here, Nat?”

Adrian’s brows shot up in outrage. He could not believe that another man was calling Natalia by a nickname in front of him.

Because of the way Natalia talked about her relationship with this man, he felt the urge to kill this man right this moment.

A whirlwind of emotions swept through Adrian's being, each one more intense than the last.

Anger, jealousy, and betrayal mingled together, creating a storm within him. He clenched his fists, his knuckles turning white with the force.

"I was just telling him to leave," Natalia mumbled to Eric while lowering her head. She did not know how to control this situation anymore. The kiss had a

During the time that the two men were talking to one other, Natalia kept her gaze fixed on the floor.

When Adrian left the room, she felt a wave of relief flood over her.

Eric turned to her, and she spoke out,

“Thank you, Eric. You helped me today.”

Eric did not utter a single word as he kept staring at her.

Natalia made her way to her bed and sipped a glass of water that was placed on the nightstand.

When she was in the middle of drinking the water, Eric approached her and questioned,

“Do you still have feelings for Adrian?”

Alpha 19

“Feelings for him?” Natalia whispered to herself.

Did she still have feelings for him?

The answer was clear to her.

The memories of the past floated back to her mind as tears scrambled in the corner of her eyes.

FLASHBACK

“Natalia, do you still love that man?” The Luna of the Blue Blood Pack, Jade Hansley, asked.

It had been eight months since Natalia returned to this pack.

Jade had been observing her daughter for a long time. Natalia looked very depressed and pale.

When she and her husband, Alpha Martin Hansley, got back their daughter eight months ago, they were really happy. Even though her name was Jessica, they started calling her 'Natalia' because that is what she preferred.

They wanted nothing but a smile on Natalia's face. They tried to give her the lavish life she deserved, which she had been missing all these years.

Natalia, on the other hand, never forgot her past. Every night, she cried alone in her room. It was not unaware of anyone.

"No, Mom," Natalia replied with a low tone.

She stood by the window of her bedroom. She was staring at the tree near her window. Two birds lived there in a nest. She was amazed by their level of Jade turned Natalia around by grabbing her hand.

"Stop thinking about that man. He doesn't deserve you."

Natalia gave her a sad smile. "No, mom. Maybe I wasn't meant for him after all.

Jade was taken aback by her response. Jade cupped her cheeks and tried to make her understand:

"Don't feel like that. Why are you usually so depressed? Here, you are not by yourself. Your loved ones are at your side. Your babies will be with you too

Natalia slowly placed her hand on her belly. She breathed a sigh of relief.

Her mother was right. Just two weeks. She would no longer be alone after that.

She hugged her mother, who always tried to motivate her.

After talking with her, her mother left her room.

Natalia returned her gaze to the window.

In these months, she never heard Adrian think about her. Because if he had truly thought, he would have sent someone to search for her here.

'How can you be so cruel, Adrian? Natalia thought as tears rolled down her cheeks.

When she left the Crystal Blood Pack, she thought she would survive without Adrian and that she did not need anyone.

However, she found that she was never able to forget him after leaving him. She never stopped thinking about him. She grieved just for him every day, a

Her family assumed she was hurt because of her past, but what they did not know was the pain she felt every day because of her pregnancy.

The pack doctor had warned her that the amount of pain she would have to endure with her pregnancy could even take her life..

But Natalia loved her unborn children. She had been quietly bearing all of the suffering.

She took a promise from the doctor that he would keep it a secret from everyone.

In the late afternoon,

Natalia was making her way towards the corridor. She was wondering when the two weeks would be over. She hoped it would pass quickly.

Suddenly, she heard her brother Jason's angry voice. She was close to his bedroom.

Her steps halted as she tried to overhear the reason for her brother's anger.

"How dare he?" Jason said with an angry tone.

"Calm down, Jason." Beta Eric, Jason's best friend, said to him.

Natalia was unable to comprehend what they were saying. She moved in the direction of the door. She noticed that the door was slightly opened. She tri

"That man should die. He did so wrong with my sister. How dare he live such a happy life?" Jason asked,

Natalia did not have to think much about who he was talking about,

"Jason, don't you think what is happening is right for everyone?" Beta Eric asked.

“Right? My sister is constantly grieving for that bastard, while he is proudly living with his mistress,” Natalia felt her heart quiver when she heard Jason.

‘He is living with Lynda? Is he going to marry her? Does his family accept them together?’ So many questions rush through her head.

A twinge of pain shot through her, and she retreated a few feet.

“Why am I thinking about him? Isn’t it what I want? I wanted to leave him. He said he didn’t love me. Then why do I care? Why?” She mumbled to herself as she went back to her room.

She broke down in tears as memories of her and Adrian’s filled her mind.

All of a sudden, she began to feel pain in her stomach.

“Aahh!”

She touched her belly when she felt the searing sensation in her lower abdomen. She believed that it was a daily pain that she endured every day.

But her knees started to tremble with anguish. Her body lost balance and collapsed to the ground.

She cried out loud when she saw blood on the floor coming out of her body.

“MOM!”

She screamed in pain and called her mother. She was afraid that she would lose her children.

Her mother and a few maids hurried to her room. They were horrified to see Natalia covered in blood and laying on the floor.

Everyone contacted Alpha Martin and Jason in mind link. They immediately managed to take Natalia to the pack hospital.

“It’s a very critical situation. Who should we save? Mother or children?” The nurses asked the pack doctor.

The pack doctor was going to go ask Natalia's relatives when she shook her hand and requested him with a shaken tone.

"Please, save my children."

The operation went long.

Natalia's family wanted Natalia to be saved. They were outside the operation room, worrying and praying for her since the pack doctor asked for their sig

When they heard the sounds of crying babies, their hearts skipped in fear of losing Natalia.

They thought they had lost her.

The pack doctor came out of the operation room. Two nurses came out with him. They were holding two babies.

"No, no. My daughter can't die." Jade cried out.

Since the doctor had specifically told them that only any one of them could survive, she thought Natalia had died.

"Doctor, couldn't you save my daughter? Where is she?" Alpha Martin asked.

The doctor smiled at him and replied,

"Don't worry, your daughter is a blessing from the Moon Goddess.

She came out of the mouth of death!"

When Natalia opened her eyes, her mother was there, sitting next to her.

Natalia looked around, trying to find her babies.

Her voice cracked as she asked her mother, "Mom, where are my babies?"

In haste, she tried to sit up, but she moaned in pain over it.

“Don’t sit up. You have stitches.”

Natalia bit her bottom lip in pain and looked at her mother with a sacred look.

“W–Where are they?”

At that time, her father and Jason entered the cabin. Natalia’s eyes fell on their hands.

She felt relieved when she saw her babies for the first time.

Alpha Martin and Jason walked over to her and placed the babies on the bed next to her.

Luna Jade smiled at Natalia and said, “Your babies are completely fine, my baby.”

Natalia gazed closely at her children. All the heaviness in her heart had left when she saw their faces.

She whispered, “My babies,” as she kissed each of their foreheads. and then pulled them closer to her.

In her entire life, she had never experienced such joy.

Natalia cradled her newborn children in her arms and closed her eyes. Tears slid down from the corner of her eyes.

“Hey! Don’t cry,” Jason said to her.

forget about the divorce, and perhaps they would be able to begin their relationship again.

In spite of this, her hope was dashed the very next second as her brother spoke out.

“And what happens after that, Dad? Tell her. Tell her that when that bastard heard her name, he said he didn’t want to talk about her. He doesn’t care if

Natalia was shocked. How much pain would she be able to tolerate? Why could she not forget him after all the things he had done to her? Why was she

“Jason,”

Alpha Martin glared at him. Jason lowered his head.

One more time, Alpha Martin turned his attention to his daughter. He was a strong Alpha who developed his pack by himself. He felt a deep love for her d “Dad, why did you do that? You didn’t have to.” Natalia said while crying.

When Luna Jade watched her child cry, she could not help but shed tears as well. Every single one of them was concerned about her future. She looked

“If you want that man, I can go to him and beg him for you,” Alpha Martin told her daughter.

Natalia’s eyes widened.

“DAD”

“MARTIN”

Luna Jade, and Jason both spoke out at the same time when they heard him.

Natalia shook her head immediately. “No, Dad. Please. Don’t say that. My father is a proud Alpha, and I don’t want to see him lose his respect for me to anybody else. As of right now, I no longer love that man.”

Alpha Martin held her hand firmly. It was not easy for him, either. But he did not want to suffer the loss of his daughter for a second time.

“He doesn’t know about the babies. Let me call hi-”

“No, Dad. I swear, I will forget him. Make sure he doesn’t know about my children. They are only mine. I will try to be happy in my life. I have you, Mom, a

She made the decision to put an end to her feelings for him forever.

The next day,

All the doctors were taken aback when they discovered that all of the stitches in Natalia’s belly had healed.

They were shocked. They could not just believe in their eyes.

Natalia did not have a wolf who could help her. And any ordinary. wolf could not heal themselves like this fast either.

Then how did Natalia do that?

Natalia was surprised, too.

As time passed, Natalia began to live happily with her babies and her family.

One night,

Natalia had the urge to go to the forest. She did not have any idea why. But she was feeling really strange.

“What’s happening to me?” she asked herself as she walked inside the woods all alone.

However, she did not expect any answer from inside her.

“Shift”

Her legs froze, hearing her wolf for the first time.

She could not believe that she also had a wolf.

She started experiencing agony in each and every bone. She let out a scream of anguish. She had the feeling that her entire body was on fire. It was like

In a few minutes, a black giant wolf shifted on the grass under the moonlight.

She howled for the first time. It was like she was fulfilled now. She was not a wolfless werewolf anymore.

“You are not wolfless. You are a blessing. You will be the biggest healer every male wolf wants to be with. You will be the cure of their every wound,” her

“I don’t want anyone in my life now. I am happy with myself. I don’t want to be anyone’s cure,” Natalia said to herself.

END OF FLASHBACK

“No,” Natalia spoke out after recalling her past.

“I don’t have any feelings for that cruel man in my heart,” she replied to Eric.

Eric did not ask any more questions and left her room. He knew Natalia thought of him as her friend.

But he had feelings for her. Natalia was the only person who was unaware of the fact.

He really hoped that she could be with him, not Adrian.

The next day,

A photo of Adrian and Natalia was sent to every member of the Crystal Blood Pack.

In the photo, they are really close. It was a photo that clicked at last night’s party, when Adrian dragged Natalia to a private room. But from the angle from

All of the members of the Crystal Blood Pack started to blame Natalia, as they thought Lynda would be their future Luna.

When Natalia saw that, she was dumbfounded. On all social media sites, the pack members were trolling her, criticizing her, and blaming her for no reas

Suddenly, Natalia got a text from Lynda. A frown appeared on her face as she read the message.

“My first gift to you.”
