

Taking Alpha's Twins Away After Divorce

Alpha 61

Alpha 61

Adrian did not waste his time in gathering his breath. Without any hesitation, he got out of the car as quickly as he could.

The buzz of the moment compelled him to move forward. The sound of raindrops seemed like nothing to him compared to the sound of his fast heartbea

In his rush to get to Natalia's car, he hardly paid attention to the damp ground beneath his feet.

The world around him became hazy before him. His own pounding heart blurred the edges of reality.

The closer he approached, the more he felt that it was shattering his heart, instilling fear in his mind, and frightening him from the inside.

Natalia's car looked like a mystery in silence under the rain, and Adrian was desperate to unfold it.

"Natalia, can you hear me?" He called out.

His voice came to her ears like a hand reaching out to rescue her from a dark imprisonment.

Inside the car, Natalia was feeling a whirlwind of emotions.

Her world, which was as fragile as a delicate glass and almost shattered by the disaster, suddenly felt serenity.

The sound of Adrian's voice, though clear and reassuring, seemed to come from a distant world, one that she was struggling to reconnect with.

She had lost her mind as the wounds in her body made her feel numb. However, his voice was like a promise to her that he would save her.

Her world had been turned upside down, and her head had turned into a battleground, fighting between reality and memories of the accident.

Her mind kept reminding her of the broken and sharp memories of the incident, each one a painful reminder of what she had endured.

How did that happen? Wasn't she feeling the weather, which reminded her of her past? Even a while ago, everything was fine.

But later, the screech of tires, the smashing of glass, and the feeling of the car spinning over—everything almost took her life away from her.

It was his voice that slowly pulled her back to consciousness. It was then that his face emerged from behind the shattered window, displaying a look of c

The moment Natalia's eyes fell on him, she was taken aback. The sight of him was so familiar yet so unreal! It made her jolt back to her senses.

When his eyes met hers, they were filled with worries and fears that he had not yet expressed.

"Natalia? Don't close your eyes," he shouted from outside the broken window.

He reached out his hand to touch her. As their fingers touched, a current of connection jolted through them. It was the mate bond between them..

After experiencing it, she realized that she had almost forgotten that he was still her mate.

Adrian growled loudly as he noticed her hand was wet with blood. Her hand was shaking, which was a clear indication of the pain she was feeling right n

His wolf wanted to take over him and hugged his mate in his arms in a protective way. He had found his mate after a long wait. How could he let his mate

Despite the fact that Adrian's hand was brushing against the broken window glass, he chose to ignore the pain. His hand extended toward the lock, and door.

Natalia's body slid to the side as soon as he opened the door, and he scooped her up in his arms immediately.

In her eyes, he saw a reflection of the difficult time, revealing to him both her weaknesses and her strengths.

"Don't worry. Nothing will happen to you," he said to her with an assuring tone.

His eyes fell on her head, which was filled with blood as it rolled down her face.

He was unaware of the feeling that he had felt at that moment. It was unknown to him. The accident almost took his life away from him.

He lightly patted her cheek and called her once again.

“Natalia.”

Natalia almost closed her eyes, but Adrian’s voice pulled her back to consciousness.

She realized what had just happened to her. As soon as she understood Adrian walking to his car, she gave a shake of her head. The state of his car wa

Adrian was completely clueless about what he was doing. He thought she needed to go to the hospital, but he forgot that his car would not start either.

“I—I don’t want to go. S—Save my driver. H—He is inside the car,” Natalia mumbled as she shook her head again.

Adrian ignored her mumbles and opened his car door. When he saw smoke streaming out of his car, which served as evidence that it had been complete

At that time, he heard the ringtone of his phone. He cursed himself for throwing away his phone in anger. As he searched for his phone while holding Na

“Adria-”

Adrian did not have the patience to listen to anything, so he cut Patric off by saying,

“Patric, come to the Moon Valley road right now.”

“Moon Valley? I am close to that road. What happened?”

Adrian glanced at the car where Natalia’s driver was.

“Arrange an ambulance and come here faster,” he yelled at him.

It was not the time to explain anything, so Adrian cut the call and waited for his beta to come as soon as possible.

He looked over to Natalia, who was quietly inhaling and exhaling deeply.

“I—I can walk. My 1—legs are fine, she said to him with a pain in her head.

But he did not listen to her. Instead, he held her tightly in his arms, refusing to let her go.

The rain had finally stopped falling. The blood stains that were on Natalia's body were wiped away.

All of a sudden, Adrian's eyes fell on her hands. He saw a burn scar on her right hand.

When he thought back to the girl who had saved him in the past, his heart began to beat more quickly than usual.

His eyes stared at her hand in confusion.

"Where did this scar come from?"

Alpha 62

Alpha 62

Natalia was stunned by the question. It was so painful that she could not even move her head to look at her hand because she was bleeding from her head.

To get a better look at what Adrian was talking about, she slowly raised her hand.

But the moment she saw the scar, she was caught off guard.

For what reason did the scar suddenly become visible after being concealed for so many years? Did something happen to her body? Why could her body

She did not want to talk about it. There was no need to pull the past into her life again.

She never regretted it. But the current state of affairs would only serve to make her feel more unhappy about the situation. So, after so many years, she did not want to talk about it because she did not want to think about it again.

"I-I was attacked by rogues and w-woke up without that memory."

"Whe-"

The sound of a car's horn cut through Adrian's conversation. When he turned around, he noticed that Patric had already arrived. Behind his car, there was Patric jumped out of his car when he realized what had happened on the road.

“What the hell!” Patric let out an exclamation upon seeing Natalia in such a terrible state.

Adrian did not waste any time in the ambulance. He rushed to Patric’s car. Keeping Natalia close to him, he sat in the backseat of the vehicle.

Patric went to close the back door when he saw them entering the car.

Natalia lifted her hand. Her hand was rembling.

“M–My driver.”

Patric was able to comprehend what she was saying. He gave her a nod and assured her by saying,

“They are trying to help him. Don’t freak out.”

In a few minutes, the ambulance paramedics managed to get the driver out, who had passed out.

“He is alive, still taking breaths, Patric stated to Natalia as he sat in the driver’s seat of the car.

Because she was experiencing a heavy feeling in her head, Natalia closed her eyes.

Adrian stared at her face as he was lost in confusion. He slowly lifted his hand and gently stroked the scar on her hand.

‘She said some rogues attacked her. When? After leaving my pack? Because I had never seen this scar on her body when she was with me.’ Adrian tho

Quite a few questions were going through his mind at the moment. He desired to know the answers. He was going to inquire about it later.

Patric stopped the car outside the pack hospital. Already waiting for them outside was Doctor Harold, along with a few other medical professionals. Because Patric had already informed him beforehand.

After getting out of the car, Adrian made his way to the opposite side of the vehicle. He held Natalia and lifted her once again.

When Doctor Harold observed Natalia with blood found in both her head and her hand, he appeared to be in a state of shock. The hospital staff suggeste Adrian laid her down and let them do what was best for Natalia.

When they took her to the operation room, Adrian waited outside. Doctor Harold said that she needed a few stitches on her head.

“Adrian, I know you are a very strong man, and you don’t feel pain. But the flanks of the glasses can infect your skin.” Beta Patric said to him.

Adrian looked down and saw that he was bleeding from both hands. It was the broken window that caused him to get injuries to his right arm. An injury was found on his left palm.

It came to his mind that he had become unbalanced when he attempted to bring Natalia’s car to a stop. He suffered an injury as a result of pressing his hand on the window of his car.

His eyes shifted on his shirt, which was covered with Natalia’s blood, but because of its black color, it could go unnoticed by others.

He let out a deep breath. In his entire life, he had never experienced fear on the level that he did now. In his lifetime, he would never want to go through

Patric observed Adrian for a while. When he noticed that Adrian did not appear to be concerned about his wounds, he approached a nurse who was on the verge of passing by and instructed her to examine and treat him.

The nurse gulped as she was feeling nervous in front of the head Alpha. However, she indicated to Adrian that he should accompany her to the next cabin so that she could treat his hand.

Patric forced Adrian to go and bandage his hand.

After half an hour, Doctor Harold came out of the operation room and found Adrian outside..

“She is lucky that her body did not get hurt much. Nevertheless, she suffered a head injury. According to my estimation, it will take her a week to recover from the stitches.”

Adrian peeked at the operation room and asked him,

“Is she okay?”

Harold was shocked by the caring tone of Alpha Adrian. He had never seen this side of him. When Natalia and he were married, he never showed any sign of concern for her. Furthermore “Yeah, she is fine. It’s just that she lost blood. The cuts in her head did not harm her memories. She is a fortunate lady.”

While Patric was standing behind Adrian, he was keeping a close eye on everything.

“Thanks, Doctor Harold,” he said, showing gratitude to him since he knew his Alpha did not know how to do that.

“When will she wake up?” Adrian asked Harold.

“Her stitches are raw, so we want her to stay unconscious. I think it will take her a few hours to wake up. You can meet her tomorrow; till then, she will be under observation.”

Alpha 63

Alpha 63

Despite the fact that Adrian desired to remain in the hospital, Partric advised him to return to his company’s apartment or to the pack house in order to ge

Since both of his parents were also in the pack hospital, he did not go to the pack house. His father had not yet been released from the hospital for his c

His car was destroyed on the road during the accident, so Patric told his driver to send him to his apartment.

While sitting on the backseat, Adrian looked outside the window. He was not feeling well. His wolf felt affected a lot by watching Natalia’s condition.

One thing Adrian felt today was that he could not resist the mate bond.

He believed that because of the mate bond, he was experiencing these kinds of feelings toward Natalia. In truth, he was not as affected by his father’s ill

The car pulled to a stop in front of his company’s apartment. Beta Patric’s driver got out of the car and opened the door for him.

Adrian exited the car. The driver gave him a respectful bow. With a nod, Adrian left for his apartment.

A frown creased his forehead as he approached the door.

Lynda was standing beside the door.

“What are you doing here?” Adrian asked her while taking out his house key from his pocket.

Lynda looked shocked when she glanced at his bandaged hands.

“What happened to your hands?” she asked with a surprised tone.

“Nothing,” he replied, opening the door.

He entered the house. Behind him, Lynda trailed along.

why are you

“You don’t tell me anything, Adrian. acting this way toward me? I am your fiancée. I have the right to know about what’s happening with you,” Lynda com

He sat on the couch in the large living room and then asked,

“How do you know that I will be here?” he asked her in a calm tone.

Lynda stood in front of him and replied, “I went to visit your dad in the pack hospital. Your mom said you haven’t been staying at the pack house for the la

“Hmm.”

That was the only response she got from him.

She gave him a close inspection. She saw bloodstains when his black shirt sank a little within his chest.

Her eyes grew wide. She leaned forward toward him and tried to touch his chest.

“What are you doing?” Adrian asked her while grabbing her wrists right away.

When Lynda realized that his shirt was soaked with blood, she turned to gaze at him in terror. She inquired, "Did you get hurt?"

To keep her away from him, he pushed her hands.

She hissed as if the push had hurt her. Adrian looked at her and saw that she was rubbing her right hand. His gaze landed on her hand's burn mark.

It reminded him of Natalia's scar. He shoved his thoughts and looked away from Lynda.

"What brings you here? Are you in need of anything? Didn't I tell you to contact my secretary?" he asked her.

Lynda stared at him. She tightened her fists as she asked,

"So you think I always come here to get something?"

Adrian got to his feet and replied,

"It's getting late. It's time for you to return home. We can discuss it tomorrow."

Adrian started to get to his bedroom after saying that.

But Lynda hurried over to take hold of his hand.

"Why are you avoiding me, Adrian?"

He lowered his head and looked at her hand, which was grabbing him. She did not let it go.

"You witnessed how that woman nearly broke my hand. You said you would take action against her. Then how come you haven't punished her yet? Wha

Adrian grasped her hand and pulled it away from his arm.

3.5

He frowned at her and asked,

"You were not that weak. Why did you not stand up for yourself at that moment?"

"As I told you before, I wanted to show her reality to you, Adrian.

Adrian averted his gaze from her. "I don't want to talk about it right now."

“You never seem to notice her faults. Why, Adrian? You said you hated her, didn’t you? So why are you unable to punish her?”

Adrian stared at the blank wall. The questions really hit his mind. But he came to the conclusion that it was because she was his mate.

It was his wolf who did not want him to go against her or harm her. His wolf always protected her from him.

“Nothing is like that. Good night, Lynda,” Adrian muttered.

Just as he was going to move forward, Lynda spoke out again.

“That nothing is like that is a good thing. Because that woman lacks morality. That Beta Eric was not enough for her. She needs more than just beta. She Adrian’s legs froze. Hearing Lynda, he felt infuriated.

He wanted to scold her and order her to keep out of Natalia’s business. But as soon as he turned to face Lynda, she threw a bunch of pictures onto the t

Lynda looked at Adrian and said,

“You can see the proof with your own eyes.”

Adrian couldn’t figure out what evidence she was referring to.

As he approached the table, his eyes fell on the photos.

Just by looking at the pictures, his blood started to boil almost instantly.

In a fit of rage, he grabbed the pictures and nearly fisted them as he stared at them one by one.

Natalia was hugging Alpha Jason outside the hotel. In one photo, Alpha Jason was kissing her head. In another one, Natalia had a smile on her face as

Alpha 64

Alpha 64

An angry growl came out of Adrian's mouth. Lynda's knees were trembling at the soles of her feet. In a few seconds, she fell to her knees in submission.

"Where did you get those photos?" Adrian asked her.

"O—One of my friends recognized her and clicked those photos. They said Alpha Jason was calling her baby. They looked very close to each other."

Adrian tightened his fists in anger. He had no idea why he was feeling so affected by that woman.

Didn't he know that Natalia was like this? She had children with another man. After everything that had happened, why was she still having such an impact on him? He was getting mad at himself. He turned his attentio

"When were the photos taken?"

Lyda raised her head and replied, "Last night."

"Then why did you wait for the whole day to show me these. photos?"

"She sent it to me an hour ago. She even said that she heard them talking about a cure. Natalia asked whether or not Alpha Jason had brought that with Adrian was silent for a while, then ordered her.

"Raise."

She got to her feet and tried to approach him, but he lifted his hand.

"Go back to your home. I don't want to talk about anything right now."

Lynda nodded her head and left the house. When she came out and walked to her car, she had a pleased look on her face.

"Natalia, you are such a fortunate woman! Adrian ruined my plan and saved you from the mouth of death. But how long? I have made another plan to de

She laughed and got inside her car.

Her driver turned to look at her to know why she was laughing all alone. But when she glared at him, he started to drive. He knew that she was not the soft woman she pretended to be in front of the head Alpha.

Meanwhile,

Adrian's mind was going insane.

He pulled out his phone and called the hotel. He asked for the CCTV footage from last night.

In a few minutes, they sent him all the videos. He went to his study room and opened his laptop.

While sitting on his chair, he watched the footage from the hotel's security camera outside the hotel.

When he saw Alpha Jason and Natalia giving each other hugs, his eyes darkened.

Adrian clicked on the footage inside the hotel. He was shocked that Natalia led Alpha Jason to her hotel room.

Adrian furiously closed his laptop. He stood up and walked to the window.

He dialed a number and said,

"Find out if Alpha Jason has Doctor Max's cure in any way."

After talking on the phone, he started to smoke while looking outside.

The moon was in an orange hue. It cast a dark moonlight that illuminated the whole forest. His eyes were fixed on it for a long time.

After half an hour, his men called him to inform him that the Blue Blood Pack and the Blood Moon Pack had created an alliance a few months ago. That

Adrian cut the call and stared outside, as he never looked away from it.

While standing there smoking, he did not know when the sky had cleared from the darkness.

Natalia opened her eyes and found herself in a hospital bed.

She tried to lift her hand but felt pain in her right hand.

"Be careful. Your hand is healing slowly."

She heard a female voice. She turned her head and found a nurse standing beside the bed.

She hissed in pain and lifted her left hand to touch her head.

"It's hurting," she mumbled and tried to sit up.

The nurse helped her sit, then placed a pillow behind her back to lean against it.

"Thank you," Natalia said to her.

The nurse smiled at her and said, "You were injured really badly last night. Alpha brought you here. He looked really worried for you and did not leave un Natalia looked away from her. She recalled how Adrian saved her last night. It was praiseworthy. She should thank him for that.

"You are lucky that you didn't get hurt much in your body; otherwise, there was a chance to get paralyzed as a result of this type of accident."

"Thanks for saving me."

"No, no. Doctor Harold himself treated you. You got a few stitches in your head, which will take some time to heal."

Natalia got to know about her health. She could only thank Harold for helping her, which she would definitely do.

Suddenly, the door of the cabin flung open. Natalia turned her head to the door and saw Adrian.

He glanced at the nurse, who bowed her head and left the cabin, leaving them alone.

Natalia's eyes went on his hands, which were bandaged. She understood that he got hurt while trying to save her.

She cleared her throat when she noticed Adrian approaching the bed.

"For what you did for me last night..." Natalia paused and exhaled, then continued, "Thank you, Alpha Adrian."

Her voice came out very formal, as if she were talking with another pack's alpha and showing her gratitude toward him.

"I don't need your thanks," Adrian said, throwing a few photos at Natalia.

Natalia flinched at his sudden action. She grabbed the photos that were scattered on the bed and felt shocked.

Someone had clicked photos of her and her brother.

“These photos-”

“Why did you sleep with that man?” Adrian interrupted her.

Her eyes widened upon hearing his question. She looked at him and shook her head.

“What are you saying?”

Adrian came close to her. She tried to move back, but she was already pressed against the bed with the help of the pillow, so she could not do that.

“Why?”

Natalia tried to calm herself and replied,

“You are misunderstanding.”

Adrian glared at her. When his eyes shifted to her head, he moved away from her.

He nodded his head and said,

“You did that to get the cure, didn’t you? If I had known that you would get the cure by sleeping with another man, I would have never let you help my da

#Chapter 65

Chapter 65

Chapter 65

Natalia's POV

As soon as I heard him say such gibberish, a sharp pain shot through my left side of the chest. I could not even place my hand over it since I was staring at the cruel man in front of me.

Just now, I was thinking about thanking him for saving my life. But the reality was that this man was nothing but a scumbag.

He was talking something like this about me and my brother. How ridiculous!

There was no way I would reveal my identity to him. However, what was his problem with me being with another man? Why was he assuming things? He even accused me of getting the cure by sleeping with another man!

"Cat caught your tongue? Oh, wait. What am I even expecting from you? A justification for sleeping with another alpha?"

I closed my eyes and tightened my fists around the white hospital bed sheet. I felt the fabric rough against my fingers. My nails almost pierced my skin while penetrating the white sheet.

Calm down. Don't lose your temper.' I told myself.

After opening my eyes, I saw he was still standing there, as though waiting for my reply. Despite his nonsense accusations, did he really think I would say something to him about it? Nevertheless, I was not his slave who would have to give justifications for every single action.

"I told you it's a misunderstanding. But if you still want to believe in your own cooking stories, then I can not do anything about it," I said to him.

I thought my voice would come out strong, but the accident made me very weak. My throat felt parched.

I looked at the glass of water that was set down next to the bed. I tried to lift my right hand but failed to do that. I was unable to get the glass to quench my thirst.

On the other hand, Adrian's eyes were fixed on me. Instead of helping me, he stood next to the edge, where I could reach out and touch the glass.

I raised my head and looked at him. His face was fiercer. It reminded me of the opposite look of his, which I confronted last night. Though I was in a haze at the time, I could see a little worry in his eyes after the accident. Perhaps it was only my illusion.

How could this man feel worried for me? Wasn't it an impossible thing? But then, why did he come to save me? He could have left me to perish and watch the scenario with his own eyes.

"What do you want from me?" I asked, feeling agitated.

I noticed him putting his hands into the pockets of his pants as he observed my expressions.

Could he not understand that I was thirsty? If he could not do anything, then at least help me get the glass.

"You can't give me anything. I know why you did it. You just wanted to show me that you were doing me a favor. Am I right?" he asked.

"What?"

"Don't act innocent. This body..." He paused and pointed his finger at my body with a cold look on his face, then continued.

"This body is good for nothing to me. You are no longer attractive. Who knows how many men have touched it in the past few years?"

Hearing his filthy statements, I wanted the ground to move so that I could bury myself.

Tears started to shuffle around the corners of my eyes. My heart was beating faster. It was not because of the mate bond or the nearness of my mate. The reason behind it was that my heart could not take it anymore.

I gathered up my breath and asked, "If this is what you think about me, then why did you save me? Why didn't you just let me die? Did you also want to show me your favor?"

He appeared to be stunned by my question. It was clear that he did not expect me to talk back with a confident tone. Why would I not talk like that? I didn't do anything wrong.

"You still have the audacity!" he muttered while gritting his teeth.

His eyes were demonstrating the fury that was seething inside him.

But I was confused as to why he was angry. He did that too when he saw Eric with me. How could I forget how he reacted when he saw me with Harold at the cafe? And now, his next target was Jason.

If I tried to guess, only one thing came to mind. Either he was conscious of his reputation, or he wanted me to live a life under his command.

Simply put, he wanted to play with my life as if I were his toy. If he wanted me to breathe, I would breathe.

"Stop acting innocent in front of me. Does that man know your reality? Or he was the one who approached you since he realized what type of woman you are. How can you cheat a beta with his own alpha? Do you have a little shame left inside you, Natalia?" he asked while shaking his head.

Tears streamed out of my cheeks. I tried to wipe them while averting my gaze from the ruthless man. But once again, I forgot about my wounded hand. I bit my bottom lip, trying to control my scream of pain.

"I'm regretting that I accepted your help for my dad. I regret saving a woman like you last night."

The moment the last sentence left his mouth, I felt my heart clench inside.

So he was regretting saving me?

I slowly lifted my head and met his gaze again. Adrian frowned at me and bent down toward me. His face almost touched mine, which made me move my head a little back.

Abruptly, his strong hand grabbed the back of my neck. I shut my eyes in misery. Because I had my head bandaged, the feeling of his palm moving toward my neck sent a stab of pain to the back of my head.

I did not let out a single word. My eyes were focused on his eyes, which were full of animosity for me.

"Do you know what I want right now? I want to kill you here, in this hospital bed."

My heart froze because of his words. My wolf also heard his intentions toward us. It was kind of a closure to her that he did not care for us.

With teary eyes, I glared at him.

"You are not my Alpha, and I should not be bound to give an explanation about my actions. I can be with anyone! want, and you are no longer my husband to stop me. Just wait for the moment when I leave your pack, Alpha Adrian. Because soon you will regret what you are saying right now."

Alpha 66

Alpha 66

Adrian left after humiliating me more with his cruel words. I was sitting on the bed while peering out the window. My heart was aching just thinking about how Adrian was accusing me.

I only did one thing wrong, which was falling for him in my past. If I hadn't fallen for him, I would not have felt like this.

I closed my eyes as I tried to connect with my wolf. She was mad at Adrian. She did not believe that he could treat his mate like that.

“Nancy, let’s go back,” I said to her.

My wolf was quiet inside me. She did not want to answer me about it, demonstrating that she did not agree with it. I knew how she was feeling for her m

At the end of the day, we were werewolves. We could feel our wolf, talk to them at the same time, and sense their sentiments. They were part and parce

But I was unable to pay attention to her silent reply. I could not fulfill her wish to be with our mate.

The sound of the door opening disrupted my train of thought. I turned my head and noticed Harold coming inside.

“Thank you for saving me again,” I said the moment he stepped inside the room.

With a light smile on his face, he approached me.

“It’s alright. It’s my duty,” he replied, giving me a poly bag.

I tried to lift my right hand, but Harold held my hand with a little pressure and advised,

“Don’t move your hand. It’s in the process of healing.”

He placed my hand on my lap, opened the poly bag, and then handed me my phone.

“Here is your phone. When they went to get your driver out of your car, they found your bag. There was a rule to check for security purposes. We found y

I glanced at my phone, which was resting on my lap. “What about my driver? How is he?”

“He is in a critical stage. He got hurt in his head.”

My lips parted in shock. Was it because of me? I was the one who told him to drive faster. What if I hadn’t told him to drive at that speed? Would he have been fine right now?

Harold noticed my trouncing look He patted his hand on my shoulder and made an effort to ease my worry.

“Natalia, don’t be upset. Our pack has the best doctors. He will be fine. It will take a long time for him to get well. But he will be fine; I can assure you about it.”

Hearing him, I let out a sigh of relief. “How much should I thank you?”

“You called me your friend. So you should not thank me frequently.”

Just as I was about to say that he was really a good person, I heard another man’s voice coming from the slightly open door.

“Natalia”

When I turned my head, I saw my brother.

“Brother!”

He rushed toward me with an anxious look. Harold immediately moved aside and went to close the door.

Meanwhile, Jason hugged me. Though I felt a little pain in my head from the sudden hug, I did not say anything to my brother. It was his love for me.

“My baby, how did all of this happen?” he asked.

My mind was at ease with it as if all I wanted was a warm hug from someone close to me. I hugged his waist tightly with my left hand as he stood beside

I wanted to cry while hugging him. I almost wanted to tell him how Adrian accused me about him. But I did not wish for any more trouble.

“I don’t know, brother. I was so scared.”

I shed tears in front of him. He broke the hug and wiped my tears.

“Don’t worry. You will be fine very soon.”

I nodded my head. Something broke into my mind.

“Brother, my scars...”

He frowned when he heard me. He glanced at my hand, which was covered by a half-sleeved hospital gown.

“What happened to them?”

“They came to be visible suddenly,” I murmured under my breath.

He was taken aback. I had no idea why, but at that moment, Jason turned to Harold, who was caught off guard by his hasty gaze.

I felt that he did not want to talk about it in front of others.

Harold walked to us and extended his hand toward Jason.

“Alpha Jason, nice to meet you. It’s Doctor Harold, the head doctor of this pack.”

Jason shook hands with him. Harold glanced at me and said,

“I know you are siblings. A few days ago, Natalia told me everything about her family. I must say, she is a fortunate woman to have a brother like you.”

Jason did not pay attention to it. Instead of discussing our family with him, he asked,

“How is her health?”

“She will be fine in a week. I gave her a high dose to heal the wounds quickly.”

After a brief moment, Jason let out,

“Arrange the papers for her discharge, Doctor Harold.”

Harold looked stunned by his declaration. “But she hasn’t recovered yet. She needs bed rest for a whole week to activate the proper medication.”

Jason turned to look at me. “Do you want to stay here?”

I immediately shook my head in response. “No.”

He shifted his attention back to Harold and said,

“I have doctors in my pack. I am sure they can help her when we get there.”

Although Harold had no say in this matter because it was the patient’s family’s decision, he did not want me to leave in that condition.

I wanted to assure him that I would be fine. So I cleared my throat and said,

“Harold, I will take care of myself. Thanks for everything. You are really a very good person.”

Harold stared at me for a few seconds, then shook his head. “I hope you will be healthy in a few days.”

I smiled at him with a nod. He then turned around and made his way to the door to leave the room so that he could proceed with the work on discharge p

My smile faded when I heard my brother speak to him, giving him a warning.

“I appreciate everything you have done for my sister. But I hope you will not raise your hope and always remain her true friend, Doctor Harold.”

Alpha 67

Alpha 67

I lifted my left hand and squeezed Jason’s sleeve.

“Brother!”

Harold turned his head to look at Jason.

“Of course not, Alpha Jason. How can I think of going after the princess of the Blue Blood Pack? She is my friend, and that’s my great fortune.”

Saying that, Harold glanced at me for the last time with a small smile and then left the cabin.

I felt bad for Harold. I was sure that he never thought anything like that about me. He was my private physician; he knew everything about my health, wh “Why are you sad? Do you like that guy?” I heard my brother.

I removed my hand from his sleeve and replied,

“What? No. But he is my very good friend. He was the one who first helped me hide the truth from Adrian. I told you that, remember?”

He sat on the edge of the bed and replied,

“That’s why I appreciated him. But as a man, I could see other men’s intentions too.”

“Do you mean he likes me?”

He chuckled and pulled my cheek. “Who doesn’t like you? You are my cute little sister.”

“Aaa! Leave my cheek.” I patted his hand, and I felt pain in my cheek from his pull.

“Okay, okay, sorry. Now get ready. We are leaving right now.”

Jason stood up, and his serious mood returned to his face. I wondered if all the Alphas had mood swings, as they always looked cold. Or perhaps they c

After leaving the cabin, Jason sent the nurse to me, who was in charge. She helped me put on my new clothing, which Jason had called his driver to arra

I had a little difficulty getting dressed. But thankfully, it did not take long time.

Jason returned to my cabin to take me with him. He put one hand around my shoulder and took hold of my hand with the other.

Everyone around us was looking at us. I ignored their looks. Their gaze reminded me of Adrian’s accusations.

The more I thought about it, the more I felt pain in my heart.

“Natalia!”

I heard Adrian’s mother’s voice as I walked through the lobby area with Jason on our way to the main gate.

Our steps halted as we turned to her.

“Mrs. Miller,” Jason greeted her.

She nodded at him, then shifted her gaze to me.

Her eyes widened as she noticed my bandaged head. She walked to me and pulled me into her embrace.

“What happened to you, Natalia? I thought you left the pack last night.”

I smiled at her sweet and soft tone. “I’m alright, Auntie. It’s just a little wound.”

Jason was standing next to me while observing Grace Miller. I knew my brother really well. The way he was looking at Adrian’s mother so calmly, I could “Where are you going?” she asked me as she broke the hug and glanced at Jason.

“I’m leaving the pack.”

“But you don’t look good to me. Please stay a few days here and take some rest.”

Jason raised an eyebrow upon hearing her request. Before he could say anything to her, I spoke out.

“No, Auntie. Thanks for asking, but I can’t stay here anymore. I have to go back to the Blue Blood Pack.”

She nodded at me with a defeated look. “Take care of yourself then.”

“How is Alpha Lucas? I’ve heard that Natalia helped him with his health.” Jason asked.

“Yeah, she came into our lives like a miracle. She helped us and saved my husband. He is under observation right now.”

I paid attention to Auntie Grace when she talked about Alpha Lucas. I was pleased to help him.

“We are getting late, Mrs. Miller. Nice to meet you,” Jason said to her, wrapping his arm around my shoulder once again.

I smiled at Auntie Grace and took my leave. Jason did not give her enough time to ask anything else.

“That loser and his family are a bad influence. If they hadn’t forced you to stay here, maybe you wouldn’t have to go through this accident,” Jason remark

“Brother, please. Uncle Lucas and Auntie Grace are both good people. They treat me like their daughter.”

“Yeah, sure,” he said, sounding sarcastic.

After getting inside the car and sitting beside me, he ordered his driver to start the car.

I glanced at my bag, which I had left in my car last night.

Jason followed my gaze and said,

“They gave me your bag when I signed your discharge papers.”

I unlocked my phone with my left hand. Almost immediately, I noticed a bunch of missed calls popping up on my phone's screen.

My parents, Jason, Eric, and my children—everyone had called

1. me.

Jason glanced at my phone. "Don't worry. I informed everyone that I was bringing you back."

"What about Aria and Noah? Did you tell them about my accident?"

"No."

"Thanks, brother."

He sighed, looking outside at the changing landscape.

It took a long time to travel from the Crystal Blood Pack to the Blue Blood Pack.

My eyes were closed as I leaned against the seat. We had long passed the Crystal Blood pack. It was already late at night. We were heading in the direc

"How do you get out of the car?" I heard Jason. He did not ask about it the whole day, as though he did not want me to remember the accident again.

I took a little time to reply. "Adrian came to my rescue."

Jason fell silent. It was like he was not pleased with my answer. However, it was the truth. I could not lie.

After a while, he spoke out again.

"Eric was worried about you. He wanted to come here when he heard about your accident. I stopped him."

I opened my eyes and mumbled,

"He is a caring person."

Jason turned to me and let out a lower tone.

"He doesn't care for anyone else as much as he cares for you."

Alpha 68

Alpha 68

Third POV

Adrian's mood was disastrous the whole day. He did not go to the hospital after talking with Natalia.

He decided he would not care for that woman again. He hated himself for feeling the way he felt last night for her.

back

"Alpha, we lost the deal. Some of our people betrayed us, secretary said, blowing his head.

his

Adrian threw the file away in anger. He got to his feet, which startled his secretary.

His secretary moved backward while lowering his head.

"How did we lose the project? Who dared to betray me?" Adrian, asked with a cold tone.

Stress was clearly visible on his face. Others would think that it was because of losing the project. However, the reason was something else.

"WHO?" he yelled.

His secretary almost fell to his knees. "Alphas from the east side wished to send their products to the Blue Blood Pack."

Adrian arched his brows. "What did you just say? Which pack?" he asked, gritting his teeth.

"B-Bue Blood Pack."

Adrian growled in outrage.

Hearing his growl, Beta Patric rushed to his office. The growl was loud enough to shake the whole floor in fear. Everyone learned that Alpha had lost his temper. No one would be able to save them from him.

“What happened?” Patric asked, looking at the file on the floor.

Patric could judge the situation in the office room. Adrian looked fiercer. His secretary was shaking in dread.

“What happened?” Patric asked, this time his question directed to Adrian’s secretary.

The secretary told him what had happened. Patric’s eyes widened while Adrian was fuming in anger.

“So that’s why Alpha Jason came to my pack. I thought he...” Adrian muttered in anger.

Alpha Jason had distracted a few of his pack members, who were businessmen too, and convinced them to sign a contract with him. But Adrian thought

Those people who crossed over his wish would definitely pay for it. However, he would not let Alpha Jason go.

Instead of getting angry at Jason for the business project, his blood was boiling for how he got closer to Natalia. The photos of both of them reflected in h

All of a sudden, he wanted to go to Natalia and scold her again.

He reached for his suit jacket, which was resting on the chair’s hand rest, and made his way to the door.

“Where are you going?” Patric asked him.

“Pack hospital,” he replied, leaving the office hurriedly.

The whole company was silent, as they were afraid that if they,

by any chance, offended Alpha Adrian, their lives would be in danger in no time.

Adrian went to the hospital in a few minutes. It was close to his company. People started to bow to him when they recognized him.

He paid no attention to them as he walked directly to Natalia’s cabin.

When he reached the cabin, he saw another woman lying on the bed.

He frowned at the woman and turned to the nurse.

The nurse bowed her head. “Alpha.”

“Where is Natalia?”

The nurse did not raise her head. She mumbled with a shaky tone,

“If you are asking about the previous patient, she left the hospital at noon.”

“What? Leave where?” he asked with a confused tone.

“I don’t know, Alpha. Someone came and helped her with discharge papers, and then they left together.”

Adrian left the cabin and went to Doctor Harold’s chamber.

He opened the door with a thud and walked to Doctor Harold, who was busy working on some papers on the desk.

Adrain grabbed his collar and made him stand up before Harold could let out anything.

“Alpha? What happened?” Harold asked with a shocked face. He could not understand how he made this mighty man angry.

“Who came to discharge her?” Adrian asked without wasting his time. His jaw was clenched, and his fist was tightened around Harold’s collar.

“Alpha, I don’t know.”

Adrian let go of his collar and moved his hand over his neck.

“Yeah, you don’t know. But you two were exchanging flowers and all.”

Harold looked away from him. “Alpha, you are misunderstanding us. We are just good friends.”

“Friends? Okay, I got it. Now tell me. Where is she?”

“She left the pack.”

Adrian’s hand tightened around Harold’s neck, which made him feel like he was losing his breath.

“Who gave you permission to let them leave the hospital?”

Harold closed his eyes, trying to take a deep breath.

“I—I am sorry, Alpha. But it is the rule that no one can stop a patient if someone close to them wants to take them away.”

“Who?”

“I don’t know him.”

Adrian tried to calm himself. He let go of Harold’s neck and took a step backward.

“If I get to know that you kill you.”

were lying to me about anything, I will

After warning Doctor Harold, Adrian left the chamber.

Harold started to cough the moment Adrian left his chamber. He was trying to halt it until he left.

He grabbed a glass of water and chugged down the whole of it. Alpha Adrian was this close to killing him.

On the other hand,

Adrian wanted to leave the hospital right then. But when he entered the elevator, he thought of visiting his father.

While walking to his father’s cabin, he was busy thinking about whom Natalia left with. Harold and the nurse told him that someone had come to take her away. Who could it be? He did not even ask if it was a man or a woman.

When he opened the door of his father’s cabin, he found his mother sitting beside his unconscious father.

The moment she turned to him, she was surprised.

“Adrian”

“How is he?” he asked, walking to the couch close to the bed.

He tried his best to subdue himself in front of his mother.

“His health is responding well.”

Adrian nodded his head and glanced at his father.

His mother stared at him for a while, then asked,

“Why didn’t you tell me about Natalia? She was in this hospital, and I didn’t even know about it. It’s good that I came across her today when she was lea

Adrian’s attention shifted to his mother. “You met her when she was inmvig?”

fur was midis ♪

was surprised to see las with het. that the way he was builting her, they seemed too harse moum machth other for a wery long bee

Alpha 69

Alpha 69

“Alpha Jason?”

Adrian was shocked to hear that. Did that woman dare to leave his pack with that Alpha?

“Yes, Alpha Jason. When I was Luna, I met his parents, Alpha Martin and Luna Jade, a few times. They are good people.” Grace said this to her son as Before Adrian could ask her about anything more, she started to talk again.

“In fact, they were supposed to come to our pack many years ago. Your dad wanted an alliance with them. Even they agreed with that, too. But who know

Adrian raised an eyebrow. “Are you saying that something happened or that they were so arrogant that they did not want to be here or that they seemed happy on the surface when in fact they did not want the alliance in the first place?”

Grace shook her head in refusal. “No. Later, we came to know the truth.”

Adrian furrowed his brows. “What truth?”

“Their newborn daughter died.”

His brows shot up. “They had a daughter?”

“Yeah. There was a rumor that their newborn daughter died in an accident. People then stopped talking about her since it would only hurt the child’s pare

Adrian was silently listening to her. He was not aware of this matter.

“From then on, everyone’s eyes were on their son, Alpha Jason. They gave everything to their only child and raised him with love. They were afraid that they would lose him too. Bu

Adrian stood up from the couch when his mother had finished talking.

He said to his mother,

“Mom, whatever happened to that family, I can show my condolences to them. But that doesn’t mean I need their son’s alliance.”

‘Not after what I had seen in the footage,’ Adrian thought in his head as he left his father’s cabin.

His mind was stirred up. Why did Natalia leave with that Jason? Wasn’t it just a one-night thing?

Thinking about her spending a night with another man caused him to lose his temperature again.

He was thinking of smashing everything that came before his eyes at that time.

He went to the reception area. Noticing him, everyone stood up from their chairs.

“Alpha”

They bowed their heads toward him.

“Show me the discharge papers of Natalia Pierce.” He told them.

“Natalia Pierce?” A woman mumbled as she tried to find it but failed to get any results.

“There was no girl named Natalia Pierce admitted to our hospital, Alpha.”

“Check carefully.”

“Oh yes, it’s Natalia M–Miller...” The woman stuttered, then paused when she saw the surname of the patient.

Adrian realized that when he brought Natalia to the hospital last night, he wrote Natalia's name as Natalia Miller' when he signed the paper for her to sta

He almost forgot that she was not a Miller anymore. She was no longer his wife.

He clenched his jaw as he remembered how worried he was for that woman. She did not deserve his concern.

"She was discharged from the hospital today. Here are the papers."

Adrian grabbed the papers and looked at the signature of the family of the patient.

He scoffed at the signature.

"Jason Hansley," he muttered.

He tossed the papers on the desk and left the hospital in anger.

How could that Jason sign over her family's place? Who was he to her? Husband? Boyfriend? Or a disloyal friend of her so-called fiance, Eric?

Didn't Eric announce his statement about being her fiance? Was he aware of what she was doing with his Alpha behind his back?

When Adrian arrived at his apartment, he walked to the bar area and opened up a bottle of wine.

3

He was so angry that he could destroy anything, so wine was th only thing to suppress his wrath.

While drinking, he was thinking about Natalia. He was in disbelief that the soft woman who used to roam around him t get his attention now turned out lik

After a while, he heard knocks on the main door. He stood up an made his way to the door while holding his glass.

When he opened the door, Lynda appeared in his sight.

Without getting his approval, she entered his house. She seeme to be really happy tonight.

"Adrian, why are you drinking alone? Let's have drinks togethe "Lynda said, strolling to the bar after placing her purse on th couch.

She poured a glass of wine for herself and came to him. "Cheers."

After clicking her glass with his, she gulped the drink.

Adrian stared at her, observing her carefully. Lynda used to be shy girl who did not know how to keep up in this high society. Bu now, she had even learn Lynda stepped backward while talking to him, keeping her eye connected with him.

"Adrian, remember the day when we met? You said you had been searching for me. I did not know why you said so. But you said was the owner of your heart."

Adrian was listening to her as he recalled the day.

"You said you were married, but you would divorce your wife for me. I was okay with it, too. As long as you love me, I can do anything for you. I even got "What do you want to say?" Adrian asked after chugging down his drink.

"When will you marry me, Adrian? At least declare me as your Luna so that I can get your name attached to mine," Lynda let out in a lower tone.

Her heels twisted, but before she could fall to the floor, Adrian went to hold her.

Her drink fell on the right side of her dress. She composed her balance as Adrian made her stand straight.

She wiped the drink over the scar on her hand while looking at Adrian.

"I have been with you for a long time. Just declare me your Luna already."

Saying that, Lynda wrapped her hands around his neck.

Adrian's eyes were on her scar. It reminded him of Natalia once again.

He shook his head and removed Lynda's hands from his neck.

Lynda got mad at him and left the house, saying that he did not love her anymore.

For some unknown reason, her words did not affect Adrian as much as Natalia's words did.

Although he wanted to give his name to Lynda, his heart was not agreeing to make her his Luna.

Alpha 70

Alpha 70

Natalia's POV

My family was worried about the condition of my health. That was the reason why they remained by my side from the moment I returned to my pack to th

My twins were scared when they saw my bandages. They had never seen their mother in so much pain before.

As Harold said, it took me a whole week to get well. Passing that week was not easy for me. However, with the help of my family, I got back to my health

"I can't understand the reason behind your body's sudden revelation of your scars. It seems that your wolf stopped covering it," our pack's old physician

I came to meet him after I had recovered my health. My parents sent me to him, saying that he was our well-wisher.

He was not any ordinary wolf but a hybrid who had wizard blood. He had every solution to any problem.

"That means if her wolf wants, she can reveal every scar that her body has been hiding for years?" My brother, Jason, asked.

Both of us came to meet the elderly gentleman. At that moment, we were seated on a mat made of black material, and the older man was seated in front

"No, it's not that fact. But I think the accident made her feel off-guard. We can say that it was a fear of death that shocked her to lose her strength." The "Really? How did she get her strength back again?" Jason inquired.

"The closeness of her mate. It can lessen her every fear."

After hearing that, I remembered how my wolf felt when she saw Adrian. She felt relieved that her mate had come to save her.

Fate trapped me as if I were a rat chasing after cheese. The moment I went to Adrian's pack, I found him as my mate. Why? Why did he have to be my m

“She doesn’t have a mate. So it’s meaningless. Give her another solution to stay strong in every situation. She is a powerful lady. I don’t want her to go through any situation like that again.”

The older man shook his head. “She has something that no one else has. She has a very special ability to hide her past and hunt for her future. When she was a little boy. It’s a bond between you two siblings.”

I turned my head to Jason, who was looking at the older man with a calm face. That man’s words reminded me of the day when Jason found me in the forest.

I held Jason’s hand. He glanced at my hand and patted over it with his other hand, indicating that he would do something about the scar on my right hand.

“Do something with her hand’s scar,” Jason said to the old man.

The old man looked carefully at the scar and shook his head, which took me aback.

“I am not a fortune teller who can tell your past or future. But with the ability I have, I can tell a little. It’s a crucial scar for you to remind you of your past again and again. It was invisible all these years, but you could have done in the past.”

+15 BONUS

Jason frowned at the old man. He did not like his words. “Do you mean that she had committed some sin, and because of that, she would have to bear it?”

The old man chuckled at Jason’s question. “I can see that Alpha’s family is very protective about their lost princess. But fate has its own plan, Alpha. Some “Stop beating around the bush, Qadir.” Jason alerted him, sounding a little annoyed, as though he could not understand what he was trying to convey.

“Alpha, your sister understood my words. She can give you the answer,” the old man said to him with a polite smile.

I told Jason that we should leave the house because I was not feeling okay there. I was feeling strange, as though the air in the house did not form well with

When we left the house, Jason helped me sit in his car, and then he got inside.

“What did he mean by all those things?” he asked me.

I was confused as well. So how could I reply to him? Why did that old man say to him that I understood it?

Did he mean that I wanted to get rid of Adrian, but the mate bond came to me as my destiny?

Everyone was unaware of the mate bond between me and Adrian. There was a reason why I was hiding it. If my parents learned about it, they would try

I did not want to marry at that time. In fact, after falling in love, what I got in return scared me to think about any other man.

I could not reply to Jason, and he did not force me either.

As we arrived at our pack house after a silent ride, Jason told everything to our parents about what the old man, Qadir, said to

1. us.

Eric glanced at me to understand what was going on. I shook my head in response and did not say anything in explanation.

“Natalia,” my dad said.

“Yes, Dad?” I asked, looking at him.

He was silent for a brief moment, then replied,

“I think it’s time for the world to know who you are.

Alpha 71

Alpha 71

“But Dad, I-”

I wanted to tell him that I was ready, but he cut me off and said,

“It is the right time. Next week, you will take over the company and accept the position of CEO.”

I could not cross over my dad’s words. If he said he wanted me to take over, I would have to.

“Your dad is right. You have learned enough. You can learn more after sitting in that position, too,” my mom said to me.

I nodded at them and turned to my brother. He smiled at me.

He placed his hand on my head. “Everything will be okay. If anyone will dare to say something to my sister after that, I will pull their eyes out.”

I assumed he was talking about Adrian. I wondered how Adrian would react when he learned the truth about my identity. I hoped he would regret all the a

As days passed, I rejoined the company and began to work again. I had a really busy schedule the whole week.

My babies wanted my time, but I could not give them proper time. I apologized to them because of that.

As time ran by, the day when I would inherit the company came.

This whole week, people heard about the new CEO. Today, they were going to meet her.

While standing in front of the mirror, I examined my appearance. The dress I wore was a sleeveless one and was cream in color. On top of it, I put on a long black coat. After letting my hair down, I put on a

To appear confident was important. I was unable to continue being the shy and weak Natalia. From then on, I would have to deal with the business world

Woman.

Two pairs of small hands held my hands and began to pull me. I lowered my head and found my twins smiling at me.

“My babies.” I squatted down and pulled them into my embrace.

I found it peaceful. They were my life.

“Mommy, we have a surprise for you,” Aria said to me.

I broke the hug and looked at Aria. “What surprise, baby?”

“First, this is for you.” Noah took out a red rose from behind, which he was hiding from me.

I stared at the rose for a while, then shifted my eyes to Noah. My eyes became blurry as tears crawled into my eyes.

When did my baby boy become so big? He was giving his mother a rose! How sweet of him.

1. "Thank

I accepted the rose from him and kissed his forehead. you."

I kissed Aria too, and I hugged both of them again. With my hand, I wiped the corner of my eyes.

Suddenly, my eyes shifted to the door. I caught a glimpse of Eric.

I understood who gave Noah the idea of giving me the rose. I smiled at him. He grinned at me and motioned for me to come. out of the room, then left.

I stood up and walked out of my room with my twins. When I reached the living room, I was surprised.

Everyone was standing together. I saw a beautiful cake. I realized this was the surprise Aria was talking about.

"Let's go, Mommy. Cut the cake." Aria pulled me towards the cake.

My parents, Jason and Eric—everyone smiled at me.

"What's this?" I asked them.

Jason handed me a knife and said, "A small celebration before you enter the company as a CEO."

I cut the cake and fed them pieces of the cake. I was over the moon. This small moment made me so glad that my mood cheered up thoroughly.

I took my leave from everyone. My babies gave me a thumbs up when I was leaving the pack house with Eric. They did not know much about business since they were just little kids. But there was pride in their eyes as if they knew their mother would do som "Nervous?" Eric asked while driving the car.

I nodded my head. "A little bit."

He reached into the glove compartment and pulled out the water bottle, which he then handed to me.

“Drink some water.”

I grabbed the bottle and chugged down almost half of the bottle.

“Feeling good?” he asked.

I nodded my head and turned my head towards him. “Thanks, Eric.”

“For what?”

“For helping me with office work and giving the idea to Noah.”

He glanced at me. “How do you know it was my idea?”

“I know you, Eric.”

His expression changed a little. He had a smile on his face as he asked,

“Really?”

“Yeah.”

“But I don’t think so. I think you have a misconception that you know me.”

I parted my lips at his statement. “Why did you say that? We have been friends for years. Why do you think I don’t know you?”

He chuckled at my questions. He pulled the car into the entrance area of our company. I realized we had reached the company.

He got out of the car and came to open the door for me. He extended his hand for me to hold. I accepted his hand and got out of the car.

“I will tell you someday about it,” he replied to my questions, which I asked him in the

, and then he started to walk while holding my hand.

I took a deep breath when I saw people around us begin to look at

US

It appeared as though Eric had already made the announcement that he would be coming with their new CEO, so they started to bow to me.

Some employees who had noticed me before looked shocked.

I even heard one of the women say,

“Natalia is our new CEO? How is that even possible?”

Alpha 72

Alpha 72

Unexpectedly, on my very first day as CEO of the pack company, an accident occurred.

As I was going to my new office room, I heard there was a meeting going on among the board of directors.

“I can only stay beside you. But you yourself have to handle everything,” Eric reminded me.

I nodded at him and decided to go to the meeting room directly.

On my way to the meeting room, I listened to what people inside the meeting were discussing.

I overheard them talking about how I was Alpha Martin’s illegitimate daughter and had just gotten back to take everything away from my brother, the actu

As Eric opened the door of the meeting room, I walked in confidently.

They were shocked to see me there. They glanced at Eric, who was glaring at them. In an instant, they got to their feet and bowed to him since he was the beta of this pack.

“I overheard you all. My bad,” I said to them.

My sassy tone made their eyes widen. Eric smirked as he nodded his head while looking down at the floor. He looked to be enjoying the scene, and my words sounded really well.

“Sorry, Miss Natalia! Accept our apology. We didn’t say that out loud to be audible,” one of the board members said.

It was obvious that they did not apologize for their words but only for their loud voices.

I looked at the people who were looking at me eye-to-eye.

I smiled at them and spoke out with a confident tone.

“Hello, everyone. Let me introduce myself to you. I am your new CEO. But I am not an illegitimate daughter, to your dismay.”

All the board members' eyes widened after hearing me. They might be thinking, How was it even possible? How could Alpha Martin get a legitimate daug

They glanced at Eric, who nodded his head to ensure the truth.

“He is Alpha Martin's lost daughter. She didn't die but only lost for some years. Now that she is back, we have to give her what she deserves. And for you Everyone bowed their heads in a hurry in front of me.

“Accept our apology. We were naive. We dared to offend Alpha's sister,” one of them spoke out.

“We didn't know that you were our lost princess. We never heard of your return. So we were unaware of your existence.” Another man said this while bow

I felt good when I saw them bowing to me.

“It's okay. If you are sorry, then work hard for me. I hope you all can help me run this company just like you used to help my dad.”

They felt relieved by my calm tone. They raised their heads and nodded in response.

Days started to pass, and news began to spread around the whole pack that Alpha's daughter had returned to the pack.

The pack members did not know me, but they began to talk about me and my appearance. There was a law that no one could use their phone to record

In fact, right then, many people wanted to learn about me. Some of the Alphas from another pack wished to visit the pack just to meet me. But my brothe

Though I was new in the business world, it took me a few months. to establish a good position.

People started to praise me for my business skills.

Those people who used to bow to me for being Alpha Martin's daughter and Alpha Jason's sister now begin to bow to me with all of their hearts for my w “Boss, are you saying we will go to the seaside now?” My secretary, Damia, asked, giving me a dumbfounded look.

I made her my secretary after becoming the CEO. She was a sweet and supportive girl.

“Yeah. I can’t put my trust in someone. I have tried before. But now I will have to inquire about everything myself.”

I knew my pack had a sea at our back and had always been in the seafood business.

So, I wanted to checko warehouse.

the aquatic products in the company’s

As we headed to the sea, we had to travel a long way.

It was late afternoon when we reached the seaside.

I went to the warehouse and found that there were actually of dead shrimp and fish, which made me mad.

“Who is the person in charge?” I yelled in anger.

The person came to me and bowed his head. He asked forgiveness for his careless action.

I doubted that he was not an innocent man. I assumed he was with someone to put down my company. So, I downgraded from his position and put anot

People said I developed a powerful aura. Under that aura, al staff were energized and changed their usual lazy style.

When I came out of the warehouse and made my way back to car, it was already evening.

While following behind me, Damia’s eyes fell on the yard.

“Boss, do you want to ride a yacht?” Damia asked while look at the yachts.

I turned to look at the yachts. One of them caught my eye. It v decorated with flowers and candles as though it were ready fo newlywed couple.

Something reflected in my mind as I kept staring at it.

Memories washed over me as I remembered how Adrian's parents prepared a yacht for us after our wedding. Since Adri refused to go on honeymoon, th

"Boss, are you listening?" I heard Damia's voice.

I averted my gaze from the yacht as it reminded me of how Adrian abandoned his newlywed bride that night, leaving her alone on the yacht to spend the lonely night in the middle of the sea.

Alpha 73

Alpha 73

Adrian's POV

"Adrian, should we cancel the pack meeting?" Beta Patric asked

1. me.

I stared at the folder lying in front of me over the desk.

It had been a few months since I was losing projects over the Blue Blood Pack. I had no idea what was wrong with my pack company. My employees ha hard work was going in vain.

I won every project in the pack meetings, but when it was about competing against the Blue Blood Pack, my company lost it.

There were rumors that a new CEO had taken over the Blue Blood Pack's company. The CEO was a female and the lost daughter of Alpha Martin.

He did not give the company to his son, Alpha Jason; instead, he handed it to his newly-found daughter, Jessica Martin.

I could not believe that a woman grabbed all of my projects after coming in just a few months. I could not deny that she had the potential to work in the business world.

However, it was like she was after my pack. She always chose the projects that I wanted to grab.

Why?

“Adrian,” Patric called out my name to gain my attention.

I rubbed my forehead and gazed at him. “What?”

“Did you hear me? Should we cancel the pack meeting?”

I met out

ative coming from the Blue Blood Pack?”

He thurvik hie hu, tuul. No one is coming from that pack Silver Moon Park will go there to see their presentation, Just like they wanted to come here to view ours.”

“Cancel it,” mattered

Patric was quiet for a brief moment as if observing me for a while.

“Are you okay?”

“Do you think I am okay? I just hate that pack’s people. First Eric, then that Alpha Jason, and now the new CEO. Such losers! They never dared to come here to face me but always snatched my projects behind my back.”

Patric chuckled when he heard me. I frowned at him.

“Do you think it’s funny?”

Patric placed his hands on the desk and bent toward it.

“Though you are my Alpha, we have been friends for a long time, Adrian. This project doesn’t matter to our pack since you developed it in such a high po

His words spiked my heart, which I did not like. I looked away from him.

“Go back to your work, Beta.”

He laughed at my cold tone. “You can make anyone afraid of you, but not me,” he said, standing up straight and walking to the door.

41 HONUS

I saw him grab the doorknob, but something prevented him as he stopped and turned to me once again.

“Stop thinking about her, Adrian. She is gone from your life. You yourself say you despise her. Then why do you keep thinking about her?”

I tightened my fists in response. Just hearing about her made my blood boil in anger.

She left my pack with that Blue Blood Pack’s Alpha. Who knew what she was doing with that man right now?

There were some times when I wanted to look for her in that pack, but those photos and footage stopped me. I had not deleted those videos from my lap

But my wolf turned out to be a traitor. He kept talking about her.

Why could he not forget about Natalia?

This was all happening because of this mate bond. Sometimes, I thought, if I had rejected her as my mate that day, would I still have thought of her ever

Just thinking about rejecting her made my wolf growl inside. My heart trembled at the thought of it. I believed it was due to the connection of our bonded

‘She must be trying to fix an Alpha to mark her since, without this way, she could not break an Alpha’s mate bond.’ I thought while clenching my jaw.

When Patric noticed that I was not replying to him and was lost in a train of thoughts, he left my office room.

It was evening when I left my company and went to the pack house to visit my father.

As I entered the pack house, I noticed Lynda sitting with my parents.

In the last few months, she had tried her best to impress my parents. I could say that she has succeeded in it.

My mother’s and Lynda’s laughter faded away as they noticed. me. I walked to a couch and sat opposite my parents. Lynda was sitting with my mother,

1. me.

I looked at my father, who looked calm. That Wolf Vine Cure really helped him. His wolf was healed by it, and now he was really fit. I could say that if a w

“How is everything going on in the company?” My father asked

1. me.

“Good.”

“I heard you lost a project again.”

I narrowed my eyes and asked, “Did you set up a spy in my company?”

He chuckled while shaking his head. “Don’t forget the company once run by me. Those people who had been working for me are still there.”

I sighed and gave him a nod. “Yeah, I lost it. But soon, I will take away everything I lost from that Blue Blood Pack.”

Lynda placed her hand over my hand and asked,

“Blue Blood Pack? You mean Alpha Jason’s pack?”

Her words reminded me of that day again. I did not know, but I could not forget that night– that accident, that feeling of losing her, and then her betrayal. I knew we were not together, and she was no longer my wife. Still, how could she sleep wi

At that time, my phone began to ring. I pulled out my phone from my pocket and saw it was my gamma.

I received the call and heard his voice.

“Alpha, I got a call from the Blue Blood Pack’s gamma. He said Alpha Jason invited you to a grand party he is throwing for his sister this weekend. Alpha

D

Alpha 74

Alpha 74

The whole week I spent thinking about whether to go to that party or not.

I wanted to reject the invitation, but every time I thought about that pack, Natalia’s face was reflected in my mind.

My father told me to go to that party. From my point of view, it was great news that Alpha Martin’s daughter was still alive and becoming successful, just

For a moment, I also felt that I had to see the woman who was after my pack. I hated her brother, and I felt that her brother was the one who provoked h

“What if we get to see her at that party?” My wolf asked me about Natalia.

I scoffed at his question. Who would believe that such a powerful wolf was head over heels for his mate? He was a stupid wolf who always nudged me to look for Natalia.

“Why do you like that woman so much? She is characterless. She doesn’t deserve you.” I reminded him while wearing a black coat over a white shirt.

I was getting ready to go to the Blue Blood Pack. I wanted to go to the party with Patric, but my mother persuaded me to take Lynda with me. She said L

I left my apartment and walked to my car. I noticed Patric sitting in the passenger seat next to my driver.

When he saw me, he waved at me. I nodded at him. My driver rushed out of the car and opened the back door for me. I sat in the backseat and lit up a cigarette. My driver started the car and headed to Lynda’s house to pick her up.

“I thought you would not agree to go there,” Patric murmured while looking at the road in front of him.

“That’s what I thought too.”

He turned his head to me and asked,

“Then what changed your mind?”

I had no answer to this question. What changed my mind? I also did not know the reason.

The car reached the villa that I bought for Lynda. I saw her walking to my car. She seemed to be waiting outside for me.

When she got in the backseat and sat beside me, she hugged my arm and asked,

“How am I looking today?”

I looked at her appearance. She was wearing a long, hot red dress that was sleeveless, showing her bare arms. I glanced at her scar and muttered,

“Good.”

My one word took her over the moon. She giggled seductively and whispered, “I have to look good. After all, I am Alpha Adrian’s fiancée.”

I ignored her last sentence and turned my head outside the window.

The car started to move and headed to its destination. We had to depart from my pack early in the morning since it would take a long time to get there.

It was evening by the time we reached the Blue Blood Pack.

Lynda continued to study her reflection in the mirror she had taken out of her purse. She asked me if I could take her to a hotel. When I asked her the re

I rolled my eyes, thinking that women really need a lot of time for make-up.

I told my driver to take her to a five-star hotel and rent a room for her.

After dropping Lynda off at the hotel, we headed to the hall where the party was taking place.

As the car came to a stop at the entrance to the hall, I observed other luxury cars parked there.

I recognized those cars. They were the other pack’s Alphas’ cars. I noticed that many of the pack’s Alphas had gathered here for the party. I was very aw

My driver opened the door for me and bowed his head.

I got out of the car and looked at the exterior decoration of the hall.

Patric stood next to me and turned his head toward me.

‘Alpha, let’s go,’ he said, gesturing his hand toward the door.

It was like he got back to his beta’s role.

When I entered the hall, everyone became silent as their heads turned in my direction.

I guessed that they did not expect me to come to this party.

“Alpha Adrian is here!”

People started to talk about me after a while. I paid no attention. to them and walked inside.

My eyes wandered around the hall as it scrutinized the guests of the party. I could see other Alphas who looked scared after seeing me, as if I would go

It was true that in the last few years, I had won many packs in the war. But that did not mean I would attack them in another pack by striking out the law.

The Blue Blood Pack's delta approached me with a gentle smile and said,

"Alpha Adrian, it's nice to see you here. Please enjoy the party. Alpha Jason will join the party soon."

I nodded at him. He walked to another Alpha to inform it.

I was looking for Alpha Martin to congratulate him on getting back his daughter. In fact, I was surprised to learn that she had never actually died but had instead been lost as a child.

All of a sudden, my wolf started to howl inside. Before I could comprehend anything, my gaze was drawn to a woman dressed in a black backless gown.

She looked stunning, as if no other woman could match her beauty. Her red lips and porcelain skin tone added color to her black appearance.

«19 BONUS.

I couldn't take my gaze away from her since just seeing her made my heart race.

No matter how much anger I was holding against her, I was completely lost in the beauty that seemed to have blossomed even more in a few months.

Patric's voice reached my ears as I fixed my eyes on the woman.

"Natalia!"

D

Alpha 75

Alpha 75

"She is also here!" Patric said, looking at Natalia.

I could not pay attention to his words as my eyes were on Natalia.

I saw her talking with a young woman who was standing next to her.

A few men walked to Natalia and shook hands with her. I did not like how they were looking at her. But she looked cold towards them as if she were the

“Oh, yes. How can I forget Beta Eric? Natalia is his fiancée. That’s why she is here.”

I heard Patric murmur. My gaze immediately shifted to the man who was walking toward Natalia.

“Beta Eric,” I muttered under my breath.

My gaze was fixed on him. He approached Natalia, and they exchanged smiles with each other. She was not this soft with other men a few minutes ago

“Adrian,”

I heard someone call out my name loudly, which grabbed everyone’s attention at the party.

I turned my head in the direction from which that voice was coming. I saw Lynda waving at me.

She had a bright smile on her face as she walked toward me.

It seemed like she had changed her clothes. Her dress was red, but more fitting than before. Her one hand was full– sleeve, and the other was sleeveless.

I stared at her until she came to me. People glanced at her to know who she was.

Lynda locked her arm with mine and grinned at me.

“I am back,” she said to me.

As she turned her head to Patric, she asked, “What did I miss?”

Patric glanced at me and shook his head, then walked to the bar area, leaving me alone with Lynda.

Lynda looked at me and inquired, “Why didn’t he answer?”

I lifted my hand to remove hers from mine, but her eyes fell on Natalia. She was looking at me.

The hand that I lifted to remove, placed over Lynda's hand and patted it.

I averted my eyes from Natalia and looked at Lynda, then smiled at her softly. "Nothing happened. It's such a boring party."

Lynda's eyes filled with light when she found my hand over hers. She moved close to me and whispered in my ear,

"Then I will make the night pleasurable after the party."

It was like whether I lost my desires or Lynda was a really needy woman. She always spoke like this, and I had to push her away from me. I was not like th

Everyone turned silent once again. I frowned to see who entered the party to stop them from what they were doing.

Alpha Jason had entered the party. Everyone in his pack bowed to him since he was the head Alpha of this pack.

I must say, he had a dominant aura that could shake anyone but me. I knew about his fighting skills in the war. He was the best Alpha for the Blue Blood

With him, his parents also stepped into the party. Everyone bowed to their former Alpha and fauna.

The elderly pair caught my attention. They still appeared to be capable of attending any pack parties with a courteous demeanor, despite the fact that it had been a few years since they had stepped down from their positions.

I wondered why they never came to our pack for a deal. My parents were not that bad to others. In fact, what I learned from them was that they really like Alpha Martin and his wife went to a few former royal couples. who seemed to be their friends.

Meanwhile, Alpha Jason walked to Eric.

Eric hugged him and left from Natalia's side. My brows arched when I saw Natalia hug Alpha Jason.

That man kissed her head and said something to her. She giggled as if he were giving her a compliment.

I stared at her with a clenched jaw.

How dare that man kiss her head? How could she laugh with that man like that?

I felt Lynda's arm loosen from mine. I glanced at her and found her shocked. She was also looking in Natalia's direction.

Lynda cleared her throat when she found me looking at her.

"I think Alpha Jason likes her. Maybe Eric gave that statement on social media to protect his Alpha's girlfriend."

I frowned at her after hearing her. She then said immediately,

"I am not saying these. I forgot to tell you. That night, my friend heard their conversations. They were talking about spending the night with each other."

Hearing her, my blood began to boil. I snatched my hand away from her.

My sudden action left Lynda speechless.

"Don't follow me."

I said to her as if she were the reason for my sudden anger.

I headed to the bar area where Patric was drinking while observing everyone.

"What happened?" Patric asked me.

I ordered a drink for myself and turned to look at Natalia once again.

"Do something, Patric. This woman is driving my mind crazy." "It's your fault. You wanted to make her your Luna. Now take it." Patric laughed as he thought I was talking about Lynda.

The bartender placed my drink on the bar counter. I grabbed it and chugged it down in one go.

"Bro, calm down. We are not in our pack." Patric alerted me.

Ignored him and continued to focus on Natalia. She was talking with another man.

That man gestured for her to come over to the bar area where I was drinking.

Her eyes briefly met mine, but she quickly diverted them and began to make her way toward my direction with that man.

She stood a few inches away from me. I shut my eyes as her scent touched my nostrils. It awakened my inner beast once again.

“What would you like to have?” The man asked Natalia.

I scoffed at her when I heard her say that she did not like to drink. She turned to me and asked, “Excuse me? Do you have any problems?” She asked as if she did not know me.

I glared at her and pointed my head at the man who was standing beside her.

“Is he your new target?”

The man’s eyes widened as if I offended him. He was about to say something, but Natalia lifted her hand to stop him and said to him, “Leave.”

When the man left the bar area, Natalia looked at me and asked, “So what were you saying?”

+

Alpha 76

Alpha 76

Natalia’s POV

I was talking with one of my board members when Adrian scoffed after hearing my reply. The man beside me wanted to tell him something, but I stoppe

I then turned to Adrian and looked at him.

“So what were you saying?” I asked him.

I was surprised that this man came to my brother’s party. I did not expect him to come. He was so arrogant that he only attended the meetings of the cou

Adrian placed the glass on the bar counter loudly, which could flinch anyone but me.

I stared into his eyes. They were full of hatred for me, which I wanted to enjoy.

“That was your new target, wasn’t it?”

I raised my brows and asked,

“What?”

“At first Eric, then his Alpha Jason, now that man. How many ladders did you have to climb to reach this far?”

His question astounded me. But I did not get angry at him.

Instead of giving him a mad reply, I smiled at him mockingly and turned to look in Lynda’s direction.

She was talking with some women who looked like they were from royal families. I was sure that she was telling them about her and Adrian’s relationship.

“I think you have some problems in your personal life, that is why you can’t focus on yours and think about others more.”

I turned my attention back to Adrian. He frowned at me as if he did not like my remarks. His jaw was tightly clenched as though he were controlling himself.

What would he do to me? Charge at me?

Someone cleared his throat. That time, I realized that Beta Patric was also there. He waved at me and said, “Don’t mind my Alpha. He is just Adrian cut him off with a glare.

I shrugged my shoulders and replied to him,

“Nice to meet you again, Beta Patric

After saying that, I left the bar area.

I shook my head as I thought about how Adrian would react when he got to know about my identity.

Though I was happy that he would be shocked tonight, his words hurt me again

I could be heartless against him, but not my wolf. She still wanted this man.

Even if I wanted to, I could not reject him because he was an Alpha Rejecting an alpha male was not in any she wolf's hands Only getting a mark from another wolf would work for me to break the unwanted bond

However, I was not ready to be with anyone right now.

Boss, Nosh and Aria are calling me approached me.

"What did they say?"

"They want to join the party."

" Damia said as she

I lowered my head sadly. I also wanted to tell the whole world that they were my children. But right then, I had no choice but to hide them from other Alp

This party was only for revealing my identity. If they learned about my babies, they would definitely ask me about their father. I could not give them any a husband. Because of this, even if they guessed that they were the children of my ex- husband, Adrian would still be opposed to it and would give my children an insulting title.

"Tell them that I will return to the pack house soon."

"Yes, boss."

Damia strode to a corner and called my children. She told them what I said to her.

After talking with them, she returned to me.

"They said you would have to make it up for them."

"Make it up? How?"

"They said you have to give your time to them tomorrow."

I chuckled as I thought of Noah's and Aria's angry faces when they said that. My babies were cute. They wanted my time. It was my fault that I was su buay in my professional life that I could not give my time to them.

“Okay, I will go out with them somewhere tomorrow,” I said to Damia, who nodded her head with a mulle.

At that time, I heard my brother’s volce.

Everyone started to gather close to the stage as he spoke out on the microphone,

“Ladies and gentlemen, thank you for coming here. Though f was the one who arranged the party, I am not the one who will announce anything, but jny d

Everyone started to clap for my father. When Jason handed him the microphone, he patted on the nie.

“It had been a while since I anngimeed something. Last time, I gathered you all to hand my pack to my son, Jason. But today, the matter is different.” My

My mother walked to him and hell his hand. My father spoke out once again.

“As you have heard, my daughter was not dead but lost. We kept that news hidden from other people for all of these years so that no one could hurt her,

My parents looked at me. I nodded at them with a smile.

“Today, I will Introduce you all to our daughter, Jessica Martin.”

I

My father extended his hand and said, “Come here, my child.”

Everyone turned their heads in my direction. I made my way to the stage with a slight smile on my face.

When I held my father’s hand and stood between my parents, everyone started to clap for me.

“Here is my daughter, Jessica, but I would like for you all to refer to her as Natalia Martin. My daughter likes that name, so I changed it for her.”

My pack members began to cheer for me. All the other packs’ Alphas stared at me. A look of amazement could be seen in their eyes and that did not go

Alpha 77

Alpha 77

Addian's POV

When everyone was congregating near the stage, Patric asked me to go there. When I was on my way there, Lynda came up to me, and we headed there together.

Since it was time for the announcement, people were excited to see the Blue Blood Pack's princess.

I almost forgot about her because my mind was on Natalia. I shook her thoughts away from my mind and tried to focus on the stage.

However, when Alpha Martin called her daughter on the stage, my mind completely shook.

I narrowed my eyes while looking at the stage. How could that even be possible?

Was I dreaming? Was I hallucinating Natalia in another woman's place?

I looked away from her and shook my head. I thought I drank a lot; that was why I was still thinking about Natalia.

But when Alpha Martin spoke out again, my heart froze.

"Here is my daughter, Jessica, but I would like for you all to refer to her as Natalia Martin. My daughter likes that name, so I changed it for her."

I slowly turned my head to the stage once again. My eyes fell on Natalia.

She was smiling at everyone while standing between Alpha Martin and his wife, Jade Martin.

How could she turn out to be the daughter of an Alpha? Not even an ordinary Alpha, but the former head Alpha of the Blue Blood Pack!

"Impossible!"

I heard an angry murmur coming from my left side. I recognized the voice. It was Lynda who spoke out in a lower tone. But I could not move my eyes fro

I saw her biological parents hugging her. Everyone clapped for them.

When Alpha Jason moved to them and stood next to Natalia, my eyes widened.

I realized what I had just done.

'I accused her about her own brother! Fuck!' I cursed myself in my head.

"I think something is wrong. How can she be from a royal family? She doesn't loo-"

I turned my head to the left side. My glare interrupted Lynda. Her eyes widened, and she looked away from me.

"You are the one who gave me those photos," I said in anger.

"Ad-Adrian, I didn't know this."

"Didn't you say your friend heard their conversation about spending the night together?"

"I-I..." Lynda paused and lowered her head. I wanted to growl at her in anger, but Patric held my hand and pulled me to a corner.

Enverar in watching you. What are you doing?" Patric asked

1. gimeri æt cōten and saw a few Alphas Bocking in my direction

1 tightmed may fists as wrath engulfed me.

"I know it's surprising to you. I am also shocked. I never thought she was a head Alpha's daughter. The Bine Blood Pack is not ever a small pack. It's our

I gave him a stem look. His brows shot up.

What? Are you regretting that you divorced an Alpha's daughter?"

I frowned at him. "Do you really think I care about her family's status?"

"Then what makes you so mad?"

I glanced at Natalia. She was talking with some Alphas as her brother, Alpha Jason, introduced her to them.

"She helped my dad with the cure, and I misunderstood her."

Patric was quiet for some time, as he thought it was better for him to shut his mouth right now.

However, he broke the silence after a while as he whispered to me,

"Everything is Lynda's fault."

I shifted my attention from Natalia and searched for Lynda. She was nowhere to be seen.

I felt bad that I talked to her angrily at that time. She was innocent in this matter.

“It’s all her friend’s fault. Find out which of her friends followed Natalia that night.”

“You have to ask her about it.”

“I have all the footage. Check on it. Find out who was present at that time. Find out their identities.”

“Okay,” Patric replied, dialing a number to find out about it.

I tried to calm myself and walked over to the Alphas, who were talking with Natalia.

Looking at me, Alpha Jason arched his brows. Regardless of his inner sentiment, in front of other Alphas, he composed himself and greeted me.

“Alpha Adrian.”

The other Alphas looked stunned as they turned to me. They stepped aside and gave me some space to stand beside them.

“Nice to see you, Alpha Adrian.” One of the Alphas said. Others bowed to me.

I could not help but sneer. There were some Alphas who ruled their own packs, and the members of those packs were obligated to bow down to them wi

I gave them a nod and looked at Alpha Jason, who stood straight and proudly, not caring to bow since he already had one largest packs under him.

“Alpha Jason,” I greeted him in return. My gaze slowly shifted beside him. Natalia was standing there.

She was looking at me. Her gaze was scrutinizing me as if she wanted to learn my reaction. I did not show her what she wanted to see.

I smiled at her and extended my hand toward her.

“I see. You are the lost princess of this pack, Jessica Martin.”

She glanced at my hand. Before she could react, his brother shook his hand with me and did not let his sister do it.

My attention moved to him. I could see anger in his eyes.

“Alpha Adrian, I am pleased to see you here. But I am protective of my sister.” Saying that, he let go of my hand.

“You mean overprotective?” I muttered.

He chuckled and let out his rude words in a warning tone.

“In truth, she has to go through a lot for someone who doesn’t deserve her. I always wondered how he would confront me. But then, I thought no one cou

D

Alpha 78

Alpha 78

Natalia’s POV

I saw my brother warn Adrian. He was staring at Jason with an indifferent face.

My brother was right. He was a shameless man. He still had the audacity to come in front of me and my brother after learning the truth.

It was his fortune that I did not say much to my brother about his nonsense accusations. Otherwise, my brother would have attacked him at this party.

Jason and Adrian were staring at each other as if they had been enemies for years. I glanced at other Alphas. Some of them look frightened by the two A

I shook my head and held Jason’s arm.

“Brother, I think Dad is calling us. Let’s go there.”

Jason understood what I was trying to do. He nodded his head as he also did not want to create a scene in front of others.

Nevertheless, his eyes shone with a blaze of vengeance toward Adrian.

I was afraid that Adrian would bring up my children in the conversation in front of others. I thought Adrian would say something in return to Jason.

But to my surprise, he was calm. It was evident that he looked insulted. However, he did not let out a single word and let us leave from his side.

“That bastard! Did you see his arrogance? How dare he come over to us and stand so proudly? My brother growled while we made our way to our father

I rubbed his arm. “Control yourself, brother. He was always like this. But I am happy that he got to know the truth.”

He stopped his steps and turned to me. He patted my head and assured me.

“Your brother will kill him if he dares to do something to you again.”

I gave him a nod. We went to our parents’ side. My mother held my hand and tugged me to another side.

“Are you okay?” she asked me with an anxious look.

“Mom, I am fine.”

She glanced at Adrian and said,

“Why did he go to you and Jason? What did that man say?”

“Mom, relax. He can’t do anything to me. You all are with me.

11

My mother let out a deep breath. Being a mother, she was really worried for her daughter. She had seen how her daughter wailed for that cruel man. The cries and sobs of her daughter during her pregnancy did not go unseen by her. She was afraid that Adrian would hurt her daughter again. I could feel her fear and pain.

I hugged her for a long time. “Mom, are you happy? You always wanted to tell others about me. Everyone now knows about my identity.”

She broke the hug and cupped

+15 BOWERS

“Of course, I am happy, my baby. For a mother, nothing beats the Joy of claiming her children as her own.”

Following a lengthy conversation with my mother, I then had a conversation with my father. Eric approached me and asked me to have a chat with my babies. I told him not to worry. He was a the impression that he would be a caring father one day, when he would get married and have his own children.

I turned my heels in another direction and made my way to the terrace. I thought about going to a silent place and talking to my twins.

When I went to the terrace, I was greeted by a beautiful moon that was shining its light on the entire globe.

I smiled while looking at it and dialed William's number.

Just as the call connected, Aria's voice reached my ear.

"Mommy, we are angry with you. You don't care for us."

I was surprised by her upset tone. "What happened, baby? Didn't Aunt Damia tell you that I would give you all of my time tomorrow?"

"Mommy, why are you so busy? We are both alone in the house. We do not like it. Grandpa and Grandma are also not here."

I bit my bottom lip. I felt sad that I could not call them here. Their mother was a helpless woman. I could not take them out as my children to the whole wo

"Baby, Mommy is sorry. Please wait for an hour. Have you had your dinner yet?"

"Tell Mommy, we don't want to eat," Noah said from beside Aria

"I am sorry, babies. I promise we will go out tomorrow. Tell me where you want to go. Mommy will take you there."

"Nowhere. We don't want to go anywhere," Noah replied angrily

I was quiet after hearing him. I was not a good mother. My babies were mad at me.

My wolf began to whine. I assumed she was also feeling my emotions.

"Mommy, we are sorry. Are you mad at us?" Aria spoke out in a lower tone.

They misunderstood my silence. They thought I was mad at them.

"No, babies. Mommy loves you both. How can she get mad at you? You both are her life."

"Okay, Mommy. Let's go to the park close to our school. My friends always go there with their parents." Aria requested.

“Okay, we will go there.” I replied with a happy tone.

I was glad to ease their anger. I instructed them to have dinner and sleep. They listened to me and said they would do what I told them.

After talking to them, I let out a breath of relief.

I decided to go back to the party since I had been here for quite some time.

As I turned to leave, I was stunned. My body froze when I saw Adrian leaning against a wall.

I realized he had been standing behind me for a long time; that was the reason why my wolf was whining a few minutes ago.

He was silent, but I could see his eyes were not calm. I looked away from him and tried to leave the terrace.

Just as I was about to step out, he grabbed my hand and pulled me toward him.

My body pressed against his, and I looked at him with wide eyes. “Why didn’t you tell me that he’s your brother?”

Alpha 79

Alpha 79

His question made me scowl at him. When he saw I was not responding to him, he asked,

“Why did yo-”

“Because you don’t deserve to know.” I cut him off and replied to him coldly.

After hearing my reply, he was silent for a brief moment.

“What happened, Alpha Adrian? Your mouth always runs so fast. But why are you so quiet today? Perhaps a cat caught your tongue.

I mocked him exactly the same way he used to mock me.

I looked into his eyes. I could not see the hatred he always tried to show me. Rather than being hostile, there was stillness inside them.

“Shocked that I am actually an Alpha’s daughter?” I asked sarcastically.

He nodded his head and muttered, “Very.”

I snatched my hand away from him and withdrew a step.

“Since you know who I am, I hope you will not bother me again.

I wanted to go back to the party, so I stepped aside to leave.

However, Adrian once again grabbed my hand, but this time, instead of drawing the closer, he turned around and pressed me against the wall that he had been leaning back against all this time.

FIN ROHUR

“What are you doing, Adrian?”

“Knowing that my accusations were false, why did you lie to me? Maybe I wouldn’t have said those things to you if you had told me the truth that day.”

Not wanting to talk to him, I tried to push him. But all the while, his eyes were on me. As if he were stone, he did not move a little. “You are a scumbag. Leave me.”

“You can call me names, I am giving you the rights. But you can’t leave without finishing talking with me.”

I stopped struggling and raised my head to look at him.

“Tell me how many things you keep hidden from me.” With a serious expression on his face, he inquired.

“Even if I hide something from you, it’s because you don’t have the right to know about it.” I retorted at him.

His eyes began to scan my face. I averted my gaze from him because I felt like my wolf wanted him closer.

He leaned his head lower to my level. I immediately tried to turn my head aside, but it made his chiseled nose rub against mine.

A reflection of my past, in which had yearned for his closeness, came to my mind. I closed my eyes, remembering the misery he caused me.

“A man like you can’t be changed. You never left a chance to insult me.” I muttered with anger.

He exhaled as if he felt something. He let out a lower tone.

“I am sorry.”

+1!

I froze upon hearing him. I slowly turned my head to face him realized our faces were very close to each other.

His breath touched my face. The cologne that I had missed so much after leaving him filled my nostrils.

But all of them could not mend my heart. I looked at him indifferently.

“Sorry for what?”

He moved his gaze away from me and replied,

“I should not have accused you like that. But you also should have told me the truth.”

I scoffed at him. “Didn’t I tell you that you were misunderstanding me?”

Adrian remembered my words and what I had told him that day His eyes widened, but in a second, he covered his expression and shut his eyes tightly.

For the first time, I saw him feeling guilty.

I believed he was guilty because now he knew my family status. He did not want to create a bad relationship with my family.

“You don’t have to worry about my family. I am a professional woman. I won’t show my anger towards your pack.”

Adrian let out a chuckle. It astounded me. He looked into my eyes and asked,

“Do you think Alpha Adrian needs to be in anyone’s good books?” I smirked at him and replied, “Didn’t I break your *** snatching a few projects from heart to say that? Keep your focus on your work, Alp Who knows when I change my mind and my target w from your company to your pack?

In the last few months, I have won every deal against Though I did not want any war against his pack, I wante make him feel defeated in front of me.

Adrian clenched his jaw. I almost laughed out loud. This I could never feel regret for anything. Lagain misunderstc His usual look returned to his face.

“What was your brother saying? I don’t deserve you? Wh do to you? Does he not know about her sister’s dirty secret: My smirk faded away the moment

“His sister cheated on the marriage and got pregnant with another man’s babies. Oh wait, isn’t the man his best friend.

I clutched my dress to control my anger. “Yeah, you are right his best friend. I slept with his best friend when I was stil-”

“NATALIA”

His yell prevented me from speaking as he grabbed my neck.. eyes turned red as if his wolf had taken over him.

Seeing his eyes, my wolf growled inside me. I did not want her take control over me. So I shut her inside and stared into his re eyes..

He never cared to show me his wolf; therefore, I had never seer him.

“Since I used to be a wolfless woman, you thought of me as useless. I will never forget those days, Adrian Mill

His hand loosened around my neck, but he did not remove it. He closed his eyes to control the wolf inside him.

When he opened his eyes, they were back to black.

“I heard your parents accept Lynda as their future daughter–in- law. Why don’t you marry her and have your own children? Stop bothering me.”

I grabbed his hand, which was still wrapping around my neck. I did not have to use much strength to move it away from my neck.

He moved aside to allow me to leave. I glanced at him, and I found him lost in his own thoughts.

left him there, leaving him alone under the moonlight.

Alpha 80

Alpha 80

While I was making my way back to the party, I tried to look for my parents. I wanted to go back to the pack house. Because I had lost my appetite, I did not want to w

If he wondered how I heard about his parents liking Lynda, it was because his mother called me a few months ago, after his father was back to full health, that I learned that his parents started to like Lynda. To express her gratitude, his mother gave me a call. At that time, she informed me that they w

I understood her thoughts. They only had one child. He was someone they did not want to lose. That is the reason why they were making an effort to be

My eyes fell on my parents, who were talking with someone. I strode to them and realized that it was Lynda who was with them.

“Your pack is very beautiful, and your pack members are kind too.”

I overheard Lynda talking with them.

“Yeah. Thanks a lot for your compliment. But I wish Crystal Blood Pack’s members were also kind like us,” I said and went to stand next to my mother.

My parents looked at me in bewilderment. I assumed Lynda had not introduced herself to them yet.

“Mom, Dad, she is Lynda from the Crystal Blood Pack. You know about her, right?” I reminded them.

Their soft expressions darkened when they recognized who she was. They turned their heads toward Lynda.

C +15 BONUS

So you are Alpha Adrian’s girlfriend?” My father asked her.

Lynda glanced at me and then turned her attention back to my Father. “Yeah, Uncle. It’s nice to meet you. Thanks for inviting us.

“But we didn’t invite you,” my mother told her directly in the face.

Lynda’s eyes widened. She felt humiliated. I smirked in my head. What did she think? My parents did not know about her wrongdoing?

“A—Adrian asked me to accompany him,” she mumbled, putting on an innocent look.

I rolled my eyes when I noticed her acting. “Of course. He asked you.”

“It was her wish to come here.”

We heard Adrian’s voice. When we turned our heads, we saw him coming toward us.

I ignored him and looked away. My mother held my hand tightly. She thought his presence would affect me. I patted her hand and smiled.

“It’s okay, mom. Your daughter has become stronger.”

She gave me a nod and drew serenity on her face.

The moment Adrian stood next to Lynda, my father looked at him with angry eyes.

I noticed Beta Patric came to join us. He stood beside us and greeted my father first.

“Alpha Martin, it’s been a long time.”

Beta Patric shook his hand with my father. I remembered that he had been in Beta’s position for a very long time.

“How is Alpha Lucas?” my father asked him.

“He is fine right now. All thanks to your daughter.”

Patric glanced at me. I gave him a nod. I had no grudges against him. Why would I behave inappropriately with him?

“It’s nice to meet you, Alpha Martin,” Adrian said, extending his hand toward my father.

However, my father did not accept his hand. The atmosphere turned cold.

Adrian looked at me and withdrew his hand.

“I used to think that Alpha Lucas had a very powerful son who would rule over so many packs one day. But I never thought you would turn out to be a foe.”

Lynda looked at him with wide eyes, then turned to look at Adrian.

Adrian frowned upon hearing my father. I was terrified he might speak impolitely to my father.

'This man did not even care to insult his father; will he care about mine?'

—

"Dad, let's no-

"You neglected a gem and ran after a stone. Don't you know, all the glitter is not gold?"

My father interrupted me, but his words froze me. I lowered my head as I did not want anyone to talk about these things again. But they were my parents. They had bitterness in their hearts toward the man who hurt m

+15 BONU

Lynda started to cough as if she choked on her own breath.

She strolled to a corner and grabbed a glass of water from a waiter. She did not try to come to our side later. I realized that she just wanted to escape fro

Meanwhile, Adrian was looking at my father. He did not utter a word.

I wondered what was going on in his mind.

"I know what you are talking about. But it's all their past." Patric tried to ease the situation.

Beta

My father nodded his head. "You are right. It's all about the past. I am still alive now to look after my daughter's future."

Adrian did not remain quiet anymore. He spoke out with a cold tone.

"Don't be concerned. I am not after your daughter. You can happily look after her future without any worry."

After making that statement, Adrian retreated, tucked his hands into his pockets, and then turned around to head straight toward the entrance.

Patric looked stunned. He gave my father a slight nod and proceeded to follow his Alpha.

When Lynda became aware that Adrian was leaving, she did waste any time and followed him down the path. All in the hall witnessed Alpha Adrian leaving having dinner with the head Alph something had offended that mighty man.

+1

My father turned to my side and hugged me. "I wanted to make sure he didn't cross your way again. He will leave our pack tonight, and your lives will be apart forever."

My mother rubbed my shoulder with a smile.

"My darling, life is like a book. There are many chapters in life, and when one ends, another begins."