Five days later, Goddess Yun Zi could no longer hold on. Her body had been severely corroded by the purple light, so she withdrew from the Purple Light World.

Only by restoring her corroded body could she re-enter the Purple Light World.

As days passed, Goddess Yun Zi repaired her body outside the Purple Light World, but she never saw Ye Tian come out, which surprised her greatly.

By now, more than ten days had passed. Although Ye Tian was much stronger than her, he was still within the realm of a Divine General, and his body had not achieved the Chaos Body.

Moreover, she possessed the Ice Purple Holy Body, one of the top ten physiques even in the chaos, yet she could only last for five days. How could Ye Tian last so long?

“Could it be that the Son of Ten Thousand Laws has some treasure to resist the purple light?”

Goddess Yun Zi thought this, but quickly shook her head. The purple light was very special; it could penetrate all treasures and defenses, directly invading the flesh. She didn’t believe Ye Tian had any treasure capable of resisting the purple light.

Moreover, the purple light was beneficial for cultivation. If a treasure blocked it, the cultivation purpose would be lost.

She believed that Ye Tian couldn’t possibly give up cultivation just to last a bit longer.

“Perhaps his physique is stronger than my Ice Purple Holy Body!” Goddess Yun Zi thought.

On the twentieth day, Goddess Yun Zi re-entered the Purple Light World, entering at the same place as before.

Entering the Purple Light World, Goddess Yun Zi saw Ye Tian cultivating there.

From Ye Tian’s condition, although he was still corroded by the purple light, it seemed he could last even longer.

Seeing this, Goddess Yun Zi was shocked.

However, she focused entirely on her cultivation, ignoring Ye Tian. After all, she couldn't stay long in the Purple Light World, so she dared not waste any time.

Since it was her second time entering the Purple Light World, her body had developed a certain immunity to the corrosion of the purple light. Thus, this time Goddess Yun Zi lasted for six days before exiting the Purple Light World.

Before leaving, Goddess Yun Zi found that Ye Tian was still holding on.

Forty days! Sixty days! Eighty days! Ye Tian continuously broke Goddess Yun Zi's understanding, lasting even longer than some weaker mid-stage Destiny Realm Heavenly Monarchs.

Three months later.

Half of Ye Tian's body had been corroded by the purple light. Although he could continue, Ye Tian felt it was unnecessary, so he chose to exit the Purple Light World.

Three continuous months of refining the purple light had brought Ye Tian benefits equivalent to tens of thousands of years of arduous cultivation in the outside world.

Ye Tian's Profound Void Technique finally broke through, advancing from the seventh level minor accomplishment realm, greatly enhancing his physical strength. Although he was still an eight-star Divine General, he was much closer to the peak of the eight-star level.

After resting for more than ten days in the outside world and completely restoring his body, Ye Tian re-entered the Purple Light World.

This time, Ye Tian cultivated for a whole year before finally choosing to exit the Purple Light World.

Years passed, and countless Divine Generals and Heavenly Monarchs arrived at the Purple Light World, treating it as the best place for cultivation.

However, some Divine Generals and Heavenly Monarchs also perished in the Purple Light World.

Logically, how could such powerful Heavenly Monarchs fall in the Purple Light World? The primary reason was the intense corrosion from the purple light. In the depths of the Purple Light World, there were some special treasures that contained relatively mild purple light. While these also corroded the flesh, the degree was so low that they were considered excellent cultivation resources.

Additionally, some areas in the depths of the Purple Light World saw a sudden increase in the intensity of the purple light's corrosion by several times. This led to some Heavenly Monarchs being severely injured in an instant, unable to leave the Purple Light World and thus perishing.

Although some Heavenly Monarchs and Divine Generals fell, there were also the fortunate ones who found treasures in the depths of the Purple Light World, significantly boosting their strength.

For instance, a late-stage Destiny Realm Heavenly Monarch obtained a spirit herb containing purple light. After consuming it, he broke through his bottleneck and advanced to the peak of the Destiny Realm, his strength soaring.

Some Divine Generals also encountered fortuitous opportunities and advanced to the Destiny Realm, becoming Destiny Realm Heavenly Monarchs.

However, most remained cautious, cultivating only on the outskirts of the Purple Light World, without greed.

In the blink of an eye, a hundred years passed.

One day, news spread that shocked the entire universe.

A Heavenly Monarch from the Heavenly Monarch Rankings had fallen in the Purple Light World! Heavenly Monarchs on this ranking were incredibly powerful. Ordinary peak Destiny Realm Heavenly Monarchs were like ants in their eyes, easily obliterated with a wave of their hand.

It was akin to comparing some ten-star Earthly Venerables to seven or eight-star Divine Generals. There was no comparison. Countless ten-star Earthly Venerables couldn't possibly defeat a seven or eight-star Divine General, and the Heavenly Monarchs on the ranking were that powerful, far surpassing other Heavenly Monarchs.

Such a terrifying Heavenly Monarch, capable of defeating weaker True Monarchs, had fallen in the Purple Light World, which was truly shocking.

Soon, detailed information arrived.

It turned out that this Heavenly Monarch from the ranking entered the core area and stayed there too long. Part of his body was corroded while he was waiting for a spirit herb. At a critical moment, he was attacked by several terrifying purple light creatures. Unfortunately, he entered an area with extremely dense purple light, his body completely corroded. Combined with his severe injuries, he ultimately perished.

Though this Heavenly Monarch fell, it attracted more Heavenly Monarchs to the core area of the Purple Light World, as the opportunities there were greater.

Heavenly Monarchs on the ranking were immensely powerful. The opportunities in the universe were essentially useless to them. They had entered the universe for a long time without much action, and their strength had hardly improved, making them very frustrated.

Now, the treasures in the Purple Light World were highly beneficial to them. How could they resist? Thus, some of the Heavenly Monarchs from the ranking entered the core area of the Purple Light World, including Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu from the Void Sky Hall.

However, all this had little to do with Ye Tian for the time being. Although he considered himself very strong, he wasn't arrogant enough to compete with the Heavenly Monarchs from the ranking. Such beings could crush him with a single finger.

At this moment, he focused all his efforts on breaking through to the seventh layer of the Profound Void Technique, aiming to achieve the major accomplishment realm of the seventh layer. If he succeeded, he would reach the peak eight-star Divine General combat power.

In the blink of an eye, three hundred years passed.

On this day, Ye Tian finally broke through his bottleneck. The seventh layer of the Profound Void Technique reached the major accomplishment realm, and his combat power ascended to the peak eight-star Divine General level.

The Divine General Rankings on the Ancestral Stele updated, and Ye Tian's peak eight-star Divine General combat power shocked the entire universe.

“The Dao Child of Ten Thousand Laws actually reached the combat power of a peak eight-star Divine General!!!!”

Throughout the vast universe, countless Divine Generals and Heavenly Monarchs were utterly shocked.

Before this, although Ye Tian's progress had been swift, it hadn't been too heaven-defying. After all, in the chaos, with enough resources, strength could be enhanced quickly.

Take, for example, a Dao Ancestor. If they truly wished to cultivate a Divine General, they could elevate a one-star Divine General to an eight-star Divine General within a thousand years. This demonstrated the terrifying power of resources and the Dao Ancestor's legacy.

Of course, a Dao Ancestor would not forcefully accelerate the cultivation of their disciples, as it could damage their foundation.

However, even a Dao Ancestor couldn't make a Divine General reach the peak eight-star Divine General combat power in a short period.

In the chaos, true peerless geniuses could achieve the combat power of an eight-star Divine General in a short time, but the gap between an initial eight-star Divine General and a peak eight-star Divine General was immense, even larger than the gap between previous realms.

Even Dao Ancestors' personal disciples and other peerless geniuses needed long years to reach the combat power of a peak eight-star Divine General.

But how long had Ye Tian been cultivating? Not even hundreds of thousands of years, which was a relatively short time.

For instance, Yun Zi, a top-tier disciple among the Dao Ancestors' personal disciples, was still an initial eight-star Divine General. The time required for her to reach the peak eight-star Divine General was still unknown.

For a moment, many Divine Generals and Heavenly Monarchs discussed Ye Tian.

"The talent of the Dao Child of Ten Thousand Laws is terrifying! Reaching peak eight-star Divine General in such a short time, won't he soon step into the nine-star Divine General realm?"

"A nine-star Divine General can defeat an ordinary peak Destiny Realm Heavenly Monarch. They are extremely rare in the chaos. Even a Dao Ancestor's personal disciple requires long years and countless opportunities to achieve this. The Dao Child of Ten Thousand Laws, living in the Grand Universe, doesn't enjoy many opportunities. Reaching the peak eight-star Divine General must have consumed countless resources. His progress might slow down in the future!"

"Anyone who can quickly become a peak eight-star Divine General is exceptional. Do not underestimate the Dao Child of Ten Thousand Laws with common reasoning. He is, after all, a Dao Ancestor's personal disciple, and a native being of the Grand Universe. Ordinary native beings have no chance of becoming a Dao Ancestor's personal disciple, so he must be extraordinarily talented."

"Moreover, don't forget, once the Dao Child of Ten Thousand Laws transcends, his potential will rise significantly. A nine-star Divine General transcender's potential far exceeds that of an ordinary nine-star Divine General!"

“That’s right, the Dao Child of Ten Thousand Laws is a native being of the universe. He already has the potential to transcend. If he transcends, his potential will increase dramatically. This is a huge advantage!”

“If we were native beings of the universe, wouldn’t we also have the potential to transcend and increase our potential by one or several levels?”

“Haha, cultivating as a native being of the universe is much harder than in chaos. Achieving transcendence in the Grand Universe is even harder. Ordinary initial or mid eight-star Divine Generals find it extremely difficult to transcend.”

“For us, if we were in the universe, achieving transcendence would be incredibly difficult!”

Ye Tian didn’t pay attention to others’ discussions. He continued cultivating in the Purple Light World, though he changed his location, delving deeper into the Purple Light World.

After all, the outermost purple light could hardly corrode his body anymore, and its effect on aiding cultivation had diminished.

Therefore, Ye Tian had to delve deeper into the Purple Light World.

Year after year passed as Ye Tian continuously cultivated within the Purple Light World without venturing out to explore.

He preferred a cautious approach, given the extreme dangers of the Purple Light World. Despite its countless opportunities and treasures, the risks were too high. Even top-tier Heavenly Monarchs from the Heavenly Monarch Rankings faced the possibility of perishing there. As a peak eight-star Divine General, he knew his status was comparatively insignificant.

Ye Tian also understood that advancing from a peak eight-star Divine General to a nine-star Divine General was immensely challenging. His progress with the Profound Void Technique was slow, and further improvement seemed unattainable without reaching the Destiny Realm, where it could be more easily advanced.

Thus, relying on the Profound Void Technique to enhance his strength as a Divine General was nearly impossible.

His physical body showed little improvement, and the enhancement of his soul strength was minimal. His divine force had almost reached its limit. To elevate the Void Sky Dao Body, he needed to inscribe Dao patterns, but he couldn’t collect enough chaos divine abilities to do so. Therefore, improving the Void Sky Dao Body was also quite difficult.

Consequently, it was very challenging for Ye Tian to quickly enhance his strength.

This difficulty wasn't unique to Ye Tian. Other eight-star Divine Generals, upon reaching this level, found it extremely hard to further improve their capabilities, explaining why nine-star Divine Generals were so rare.

For an eight-star Divine General to significantly increase their strength quickly, there were only two viable directions.

First, enhancing the mastery of great divine abilities. Ye Tian's great divine abilities, such as the Great Immortality Technique and the Great Destruction Technique, had already reached the major realm. Advancing them further would lead to another transformation in strength.

If Ye Tian could master an extreme divine ability, his strength would undergo a genuine metamorphosis. In fact, if he could master one extreme divine ability, even if other aspects of his power remained stagnant, he could instantly reach the ranks of the nine-star Divine Generals.

In the chaos, most nine-star Divine Generals possessed extreme divine abilities. Without one, it was nearly impossible to advance to the nine-star level, making this a significant bottleneck.

This highlighted the immense importance of Limit Talents. However, advancing a great divine ability to the extreme level was incredibly difficult, and it had to be one of the Three Thousand Great Divine Abilities. Weaker versions from the universe, even at their extreme levels, wouldn't be very powerful.

Currently, the Great Immortality Technique, the Great Destruction Technique, and the Eternal Light Divine Ability provided significant boosts to Ye Tian's combat power. Although the Great Divination Technique was impressive, it didn't enhance combat abilities, so Ye Tian didn't devote much effort to it.

"The Great Immortality Technique offers the greatest boost to my strength. I'll focus on improving it first!" Ye Tian decided.

As for the chaos divine abilities, they were still in their embryonic stages and couldn't increase their power. Thus, to some extent, they were less effective than great divine abilities at the major realm.

If not for the fact that chaos divine abilities could enhance the Void Sky Dao Body, he wouldn't spend time cultivating them.

In the following days, Ye Tian continued to temper his body with the purple light while comprehending the Great Immortality Technique.

With his extraordinary comprehension and his God-level super comprehension talent, aided by the Great Divination Technique for deducing insights, Ye Tian's progress in understanding the Great Immortality Technique was swift. Although reaching the extreme level was uncertain, achieving the perfected realm was not difficult.

In the blink of an eye, a thousand years passed.

Ye Tian had not yet cultivated the Great Immortality Technique to the perfected realm, but a significant event occurred in the Purple Light World.

At the center of the Purple Light World, on an inconspicuous mountain peak, there grew a red spiritual herb that appeared extraordinary.

Suddenly, a figure appeared here, emanating an incredibly powerful aura. This individual had reached the peak of the Destiny Realm, not just any peak Destiny Realm Heavenly Monarch but one of significant strength, capable of ranking within the top ten thousand Heavenly Monarchs in the Grand Universe.

He was known as Heavenly Monarch Light Span. By chance, he had mastered a great divine ability called Light Span, which made him famous. He excelled in escaping, moving at great speeds, allowing him to easily flee from any danger using this divine ability.

Because of this, he entered the Purple Light World without worrying about his safety. He believed that even if he encountered some terrifying Purple Light creatures, he could escape safely.

“Ziyang Grass, not bad luck. This is a renowned spiritual herb in the Purple Light World. It can refine the soul, enough to increase my soul strength by one percent!” Heavenly Monarch Light Span exclaimed excitedly.

However, he cautiously examined his surroundings first. Finding no danger, he approached the mountain peak and carefully picked the Ziyang Grass.

At that moment, a sense of utter despair descended.

Boom! The ground cracked open, and numerous purple bugs emerged, instantly filling the space.

These purple bugs were all at the Destiny Realm. Some were at the weaker end, not even a match for a six or seven-star Divine General, but some had reached the top-tier Heavenly Monarch level.

If it had just been this, Heavenly Monarch Light Span would not have been afraid, as his strength was enough to annihilate a group of peak Destiny Realm experts.

But the next wave of purple bugs was terrifying, their aura reaching the Half-Step True Monarch level. Even though they were not on the Heavenly Monarch Rankings, their sheer number was overwhelming.

“Escape!”

In utter terror, Heavenly Monarch Light Span fully activated his Light Span divine ability, transforming into a beam of light to flee.

However, at this moment, beams of purple light enveloped the void, trapping the area. Heavenly Monarch Light Span’s speed drastically decreased as the terrifying purple light invaded his body, causing severe injuries.

The next moment, numerous purple bugs surrounded him, continually devouring his flesh and blood.

Boom! Boom! Boom! Heavenly Monarch Light Span fought back with all his might, employing various techniques. Although he managed to kill many purple bugs, he was ultimately overwhelmed and killed by the powerful bugs.

Soon, these purple bugs dispersed in all directions, slaughtering all living beings in their path.

“Dao Child of Ten Thousand Laws, quickly leave the Purple Light World!”

Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu sent a message.

Upon receiving the news, Ye Tian didn’t question it and immediately left the Purple Light World.

He knew Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu wouldn’t send such a message without reason. Something significant must have happened, and leaving immediately was the correct decision, rather than investigating further.

Even if the message was wrong, he wouldn’t have lost anything.

Outside the Purple Light World.

A group of Divine Generals and Heavenly Monarchs gathered. Normally, there weren’t many people here, as most were inside the Purple Light World. Now, however, everyone had come out, looking extremely panicked.

As more and more people emerged from the Purple Light World and discussed what had happened, Ye Tian gradually learned the truth even without asking Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu.

“Purple Spirit Gold Bugs!”

These were special purple light creatures within the Purple Light World. A single Purple Spirit Gold Bug wasn't much of a threat, but the key issue was their sheer number. Swarms of Purple Spirit Gold Bugs had surged out from the core area of the Purple Light World, attacking Divine Generals and Heavenly Monarchs alike. Even Heavenly Monarchs on the ranking list couldn't withstand so many Purple Spirit Gold Bugs and could only flee.

If surrounded by the Purple Spirit Gold Bugs, one's body would soon be eroded by the purple light they emitted, making escape impossible.

So far, no Divine Generals had perished because they mostly stayed in the outer regions of the Purple Light World. However, the Heavenly Monarchs in the core areas weren't so lucky; many had fallen.

Swish, swish, swish! Numerous powerful individuals quickly fled from the vicinity of the Purple Light World, fearing the Purple Spirit Gold Bugs might charge out. If that happened, it would spell disaster for all living beings in the area.

Thus, no one dared to approach the Purple Light World.

Ye Tian also retreated to a safe distance, worried about potential problems.

After a while, Ye Tian saw Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu. He appeared somewhat disheveled, evidently having encountered the Purple Spirit Gold Bugs, but he hadn't sustained any serious injuries.

Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu, being exceptionally powerful and fast, wouldn't have been in trouble unless surrounded by too many strong Purple Spirit Gold Bugs. Nevertheless, he dared not stay in the Purple Light World any longer.

Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu returned to the group of disciples from the Void Sky Hall, standing not far from Ye Tian.

Ye Tian approached and asked, “Senior Brother Peng Yu, what's the situation?”

Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu's expression was grim as he said, “It's very troublesome. There are a lot of Purple Spirit Gold Bugs, and almost all of them are at the Destiny Realm. Some of the stronger Purple Spirit Gold Bugs have even reached the Half-Step True Spirit Realm. True Spirit beings are called True Monarchs and are far more powerful than Heavenly Monarchs.

“These Purple Spirit Gold Bugs don't possess high intelligence and haven't condensed their own True Spirit, but their physical bodies have reached the True Spirit level, making them formidable Half-Step True Spirits. A single Half-Step True Spirit Purple Spirit Gold Bug isn't as strong as a ranked Heavenly Monarch, but they can rival powerful top-tier Heavenly Monarchs.

“And there are just too many of them. Even I wouldn’t be certain of escaping if surrounded.

“For now, I don’t think anyone dares to enter the Purple Light World.

“Additionally, we’re still not sure if the Purple Spirit Gold Bugs can break out of the Purple Light World.”

Suddenly, Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu took out the corpse of a creature. It was unmistakably from a Purple Spirit Gold Bug, its aura incredibly powerful, making Ye Tian’s heart tremble.

“This is the corpse of a peak Destiny Realm Purple Spirit Gold Bug!” Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu said.

While the others marveled at the bug’s strength, Ye Tian used his copy talent to examine the Purple Spirit Gold Bug. What he discovered shocked him.

The Purple Spirit Gold Bug’s talents were similar to other creatures, including strength, speed, and defense. However, it had two unique talents that Ye Tian had never seen before.

“Purple Light Talent: God level” and “Purple Armor Talent: God level” were two talents intrinsically linked to the Purple Light World. The Purple Spirit Gold Bugs could release a purple light to attack enemies, likely due to the God-level Purple Light Talent. The Purple Armor Talent seemed to be a special defensive talent.

Ye Tian immediately copied both the God-level Purple Light Talent and the God-level Purple Armor Talent. He believed these talents would greatly assist him, enabling better survival in the Purple Light World and possibly helping him venture deeper.

After copying these talents, Ye Tian seized the opportunity to leave the area. Others also fled, fearing attacks from the Purple Spirit Gold Bugs.

Your Talent is Mine #Chapter 884: The Purple Spirit Armor! - Read Your Talent is Mine Chapter 884: The Purple Spirit Armor!

TL: Etude

In a region far from the Purple Light World, Ye Tian found a continent where he concealed himself and began to merge with the God-level Purple Light talent and the God-level Purple Armor talent.

An hour later, Ye Tian had completely merged with these two talents.

At this point, he had an immense understanding of the Purple Light talent and the Purple Armor talent.

In fact, these two talents were not particularly powerful. For example, the Purple Light talent, which could release a kind of purple light capable of corroding the flesh, appeared quite terrifying.

However, if faced with a strong individual who could immunize against the purple light, the Purple Light talent would be nearly useless, even inferior to a standard God-level talent.

The Purple Armor talent was similar in nature. While it was highly effective against purple light, its defensive capabilities were far inferior to God-level defensive talents, only slightly stronger than Mystic-level defensive talents.

However, the combination of the Purple Light talent and the Purple Armor talent allowed Ye Tian to easily resist and refine the purple light, aiding him in tempering his body.

These two talents couldn't directly enhance Ye Tian's strength but could significantly increase his survival chances in the Purple Light World, making it as if the Purple Light World was his private garden.

Of course, this was contingent on his ability to contend with the Purple Spirit Gold Bug clan; otherwise, he wouldn't dare to venture into the Purple Light World.

"Brother Peng Yu, how is the Purple Light World?" Ye Tian asked via transmission.

Soon, Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu replied, "The Purple Spirit Gold Bugs have not broken out of the Purple Light World!"

Hearing this, Ye Tian immediately headed towards the Purple Light World and soon arrived outside it.

The Divine Generals and Heavenly Monarchs who had initially fled had mostly returned since the living Purple Spirit Gold Bugs couldn't leave the Purple Light World. As long as they didn't enter, they wouldn't be in danger. So, what was there to fear?

"Dao Child of Ten Thousand Laws!" the disciples of the Void Sky Hall respectfully greeted.

"Where is Brother Peng Yu?" Ye Tian inquired, not seeing Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu.

Heavenly Monarch Black Armor responded, "Dao Child, Brother Peng Yu just went into the Purple Light World again!"

"What!" Ye Tian was shocked. "Isn't the Purple Light World filled with Purple Spirit Gold Bugs? How did Brother Peng Yu manage to enter?"

“He went to collect the corpses of the Purple Spirit Gold Bugs!” Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu emerged from the Purple Light World, appearing beside Ye Tian with a smile.

“Corpses of the Purple Spirit Gold Bugs?” Ye Tian asked, somewhat puzzled.

At this moment, Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu took out a pile of Purple Spirit Gold Bug corpses and said, “These corpses can be refined into Purple Spirit Armor. The Purple Spirit Armor can allow us to enter and resist part of the purple light corrosion.”

“If all the Divine Generals and Heavenly Monarchs wore Purple Spirit Armor, they naturally wouldn’t fear the Purple Spirit Gold Bug clan. The Spirit Armor is a type of armor researched by the Dao Origin lineage. I still need to visit the Heavenly Monarchs of the Dao Origin lineage to help refine a batch of Purple Spirit Armor.”

The Dao Origin lineage! Ye Tian knew that this faction was a significant force, not inferior to the Void Sky lineage, possessing three Dao Ancestors.

The Dao Origin lineage excelled in crafting artifacts; everything in the chaos was crafted by them, and they held a high status within it. Even some Dao Ancestors sought their assistance in artifact crafting.

Although the Dao Origin lineage within the vast universe wasn’t particularly strong, their crafting skills were unrivaled. No other force could compare to them.

This time, it was the Dao Origin lineage that quickly researched and developed the Purple Spirit Armor from the Purple Spirit Gold Bugs. They used the Purple Spirit Armor to resist the purple light.

“The Dao Origin lineage is truly formidable!” Ye Tian marveled. If it had been up to him, he wouldn’t have thought of this method of crafting. But the Dao Origin lineage had figured it out within a few hours—that speed was astonishing!

A few days later, Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu brought a batch of Purple Spirit Armors. However, the disciples of the Void Sky Hall had to pay a price to obtain a piece of Purple Spirit Armor. Alternatively, they could hunt the Purple Spirit Gold Bugs themselves and seek the Dao Origin lineage to craft the armor.

Ye Tian, however, received a set of Purple Spirit Armor for free, a gift from Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu.

Curious about the Purple Spirit Armor, Ye Tian accepted it.

“According to Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu, the Purple Spirit Armor came in several tiers. Even if the number of weaker Purple Spirit Gold Bugs was sufficient, it could only be used to craft a lower-grade Purple Spirit Armor. Ten peak Destiny Realm Purple Spirit Gold Bugs could craft a middle-grade Purple Spirit Armor, while the bodies of ten half-step True Spirit Realm Purple Spirit Gold Bugs could craft an upper-grade Purple Spirit Armor.

What I have is a lower-grade Purple Spirit Armor, but it's enough to resist part of the purple light," Ye Tian murmured.

In reality, he didn't need the Purple Spirit Armor much because he had God-level Purple Light talent and God-level Purple Armor talent, making him equivalent to a Purple Spirit Gold Bug.

The Purple Spirit Gold Bugs could live in the Purple Light World indefinitely. Even though he couldn't live there permanently due to his species, he could survive there for a long time.

Nevertheless, he refined the lower-grade Purple Spirit Armor.

After refining it, Ye Tian understood the principle behind the Purple Spirit Armor. It turned out that the Purple Spirit Armor activated a portion of the Purple Armor talent's power, thereby resisting part of the purple light corrosion.

"The Dao Origin lineage is impressive, being able to activate the Purple Armor talent's power from dead Purple Spirit Gold Bugs. By that logic, they should also be able to activate the Purple Light talent's power to create a weapon that can release purple light," Ye Tian thought.

However, even if the Purple Light talent was activated, the released purple light's power would be weak. It would be extravagant to use it against the Purple Spirit Gold Bugs, and it would be useless against Heavenly Monarchs.

Therefore, crafting the Purple Spirit Armor was the best way to utilize the Purple Spirit Gold Bug corpses fully.

In the following days, many Divine Generals and Heavenly Monarchs purchased a set of Purple Spirit Armor.

Heavenly Monarchs were the main force against the Purple Spirit Gold Bugs, while the Divine Generals only did the cleanup work. Although they dared to enter the Purple Light World, they only wandered around the outskirts and didn't dare to venture into the depths.

With the assistance of the Purple Spirit Armor, the Heavenly Monarchs penetrated deep into the Purple Light World. Through joint efforts, they killed the Purple Spirit Gold Bugs one by one.

While the number of Purple Spirit Gold Bugs seemed infinite, there were actually just so many. As the Heavenly Monarchs slaughtered them, most of the Purple Spirit Gold Bugs perished, reducing the pressure on the cultivators considerably. Consequently, many major forces sent large numbers of people into the Purple Light World.

Moreover, due to the Purple Spirit Armor, some Divine Generals dared to enter the inner areas of the Purple Light World. At the very least, they could rely on the Purple Spirit Armor to resist the purple light's corrosion.

Ye Tian also entered the Purple Light World.

This time, he didn't enter the Purple Light World to cultivate but to delve into its depths to seek resources.

He knew that some spiritual herbs and grasses deep within the Purple Light World contained gentle purple light. The corrosion on the body was minimal, yet they could greatly temper the body, making them supreme treasures.

Therefore, Ye Tian intended to venture deep into the Purple Light World to collect these resources, preparing for future cultivation of the Profound Void Technique.

Your Talent is Mine #Chapter 885: The Innate Origin Land! - Read Your Talent is Mine Chapter 885: The Innate Origin Land!

TL: Etude

In the Purple Light World, after Ye Tian delved deeper, the purple light entered his body and he refined it one by one. The degree of corrosion was almost negligible.

Previously, although Ye Tian had not entered the inner regions of the Purple Light World, he had been able to estimate the duration he could stay based on the level of purple light corrosion.

Before, he estimated he could only stay in this position for a month. Now, he felt he could remain for several decades without any issue.

“With the Purple Light Talent and Purple Armor Talent, I can almost ignore the corrosion of the purple light!” Ye Tian said excitedly.

Immediately, he remembered his purpose this time and calmed down, carefully searching for various resources.

“There's a strong purple light fluctuation over there!” Ye Tian sensed it and exclaimed with joy.

Sensing purple light fluctuations was difficult. Those Destiny Realm Heavenly Monarchs who had fallen due to the purple light were because they couldn't detect these fluctuations, leading them to enter anomalous areas and suffer severe purple light corrosion.

However, where the purple light was dense, there were both risks and opportunities because such places often birthed treasures.

Swoosh! Ye Tian flew towards that direction and soon arrived in a forest. His gaze fixed on a giant tree in a specific area of the forest.

In Ye Tian's perception, the purple light within a one-mile radius of this giant tree was extremely dense, ten times more concentrated than the surrounding area.

Soon, Ye Tian saw a spiritual herb, shaped like a ginseng, entirely purple, hidden 30 meters beneath the tree's ground.

Using the Great Divination Technique, Ye Tian divined for any dangers and, after confirming safety, flew over. He used his Purple Armor Talent to resist the purple light corrosion and retrieved the purple ginseng.

Then, Ye Tian left that area.

"This spiritual herb is extraordinary, containing a dense, gentle purple light energy!" Ye Tian said happily.

Usually, when he used the purple light to temper his body, 99% of the energy corroded his flesh, and he could only use 1% of the energy. The tempering effect was not very good.

But using this spiritual herb to temper his body, he could utilize at least 50% of the energy. Additionally, the abundant energy from the herb would allow him to refine it for a long time.

This single spiritual herb was equivalent to what he needed for a thousand years of tempering.

And refining this spiritual herb would take him at most one day.

One day to equal a thousand years of hard training—such a rapid cultivation speed!

"I possess God-level Purple Light Talent and can sense the density of the purple light. I can easily locate areas with spiritual herbs and treasures, collecting them much faster than others. The only concern is my safety." Ye Tian thought.

In the following days, he cautiously collected various spiritual herbs and grasses. He did not venture into the core areas. Though he encountered some Purple Spirit Gold Bugs, he easily evaded them using the Spatial Shifting Technique and Eternal Light Divine Ability.

However, he still faced several dangers, encountering Gold Bugs that almost trapped him.

Over three months, Ye Tian collected a total of 35 types of spiritual herbs and grasses in varying quantities, their value beyond imagination.

One day,

Ye Tian emerged from the Purple Light World, planning to cultivate for a while.

Greed represented danger. If he continued to stay in the Purple Light World, he could indeed obtain more treasures and resources, but he might also encounter danger and meet his demise.

For safety's sake, Ye Tian had to leave the Purple Light World.

Outside the Purple Light World, Ye Tian began secluded cultivation at the temporary base of the Void Sky Hall.

In the closed-door chamber, Ye Tian took out various spiritual herbs and grasses, fully activating the Profound Void Technique to refine their purple light energy.

Days passed by like this.

In the blink of an eye, more than three months had gone by, and Ye Tian had refined all the spiritual herbs and grasses.

“In over three months, I refined 35 kinds of spiritual herbs and grasses, nearly seventy to eighty plants in total. I finally pushed my Profound Void Technique to the seventh layer's perfected realm, advancing my strength once again. However, I still couldn't break through the barrier between the peak eight-star Divine General and the nine-star Divine General!”

Ye Tian felt a bit regretful, but he understood the vast difference between a peak eight-star Divine General and a nine-star Divine General.

An early stage nine-star Divine General could easily kill a peak eight-star Divine General. Even if dozens of peak eight-star Divine Generals attacked an early stage nine-star Divine General together, they would only manage to hold their ground, not defeat him.

After all, a peak eight-star Divine General might still have some weaknesses. But an early stage nine-star Divine General was almost invincible, with no weaknesses in attack, defense, or speed, making it impossible to fear group attacks. In fact, the number of Divine Generals was meaningless against an early stage nine-star Divine General.

At this time, Ye Tian pondered how to proceed with his cultivation in the future.

Regarding the Profound Void Technique, he had already cultivated the seventh layer to the perfected realm, which fell within the scope of the Destiny Realm. Breaking through to the eighth layer was almost an insurmountable barrier, comparable to transcending the Grand Universe. It required an immense amount of resources, something he couldn't achieve temporarily.

“Temporarily, I must give up the Profound Void Technique. Even the purple light can hardly temper my body anymore. My physical body has reached its limit. Unless I transcend, I can’t use the Profound Void Technique to break through for now.

The potential of the Void Sky Dao Body is still significant, but I can’t condense Dao patterns in the short term.

It seems I must cultivate a great divine ability to its extreme level!” Ye Tian thought.

He initially intended to continue his secluded cultivation to fully cultivate a great divine ability to its extreme level. However, just one year into his seclusion, an astonishing piece of news came from the Purple Light World.

A purple light gate had appeared in the birthplace of the Purple Spirit Gold Bugs. Those densely packed Purple Spirit Gold Bugs had emerged from that purple light gate, which had an extraordinary origin.

It was the Gate of Innate Origin! In the chaos, there were various origins, such as all kinds of innate origin items. But once an origin grew strong enough, it either birthed a universe or formed an Innate Origin Land.

The Innate Origin Land existed outside time and space. Only an Origin Gate could connect to an Innate Origin Land, each with unique rules.

The Purple Spirit Gold Bugs, born in the Innate Origin Land, possessed such terrifying abilities.

The Purple Light World resulted from the purple light leaked from the Innate Origin Land, transforming this world and creating its unique environment.

The appearance of the Innate Origin Land was a significant event. In the chaos, it would attract the attention of a group of True Ancestors, as the Innate Origin Land represented a great opportunity, an extraordinary chance.

However, currently, no one dared to enter this Innate Origin Land because the purple light corrosion on the body was too dreadful. Even Destiny Realm Heavenly Monarchs on the Heavenly Monarch Rankings dared not rashly enter the Innate Origin Land, as they would easily fall.

TL: Etude

The appearance of the Origin Gate attracted the attention of all the forces across the entire universe. Although they did not dare to pass through the Origin Gate for the time being, they spent a tremendous amount of resources to clear the dangers in the Purple Light World.

Previously, the Purple Light World had drawn the attention of many Heavenly Monarchs, but not all of them had arrived. For instance, the top-ranked Heavenly Monarchs had not come. Those few Heavenly Monarchs were the truly powerful ones, far surpassing Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu.

When these Heavenly Monarchs arrived, wielding Half-Dao artifacts, they entered the Purple Light World and, with minimal cost, completely annihilated the Purple Spirit Golden Bugs and some other powerful Purple Light creatures.

As a result, the danger level of the Purple Light World was significantly reduced.

At the Void Sky Hall encampment.

Ye Tian met with Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu again. At this moment, Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu looked both excited and expectant.

“Senior Brother Peng Yu!” Ye Tian greeted politely.

“Dao Child, the Void Sky lineage is sending more people!” Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu announced.

“What!” Ye Tian was shocked. “Wasn’t the second batch of personnel supposed to take a long time to arrive? It’s only been a short while.”

“Under normal circumstances, it would indeed take at least several billion years for the major forces in the chaos to send the second batch of personnel. However, the appearance of the Origin Gate has made the True Ancestors in the chaos impatient. While the Dao Ancestors remain indifferent, the True Ancestors care too much. They are willing to pay a certain price to let a small number of powerful individuals enter the universe. This price is something they can afford,” explained Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu.

“Why?” Ye Tian asked.

Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu elaborated, “Dao Child, you may have heard some information about the Origin Gate, but the true secrets are unknown to most people. The Origin Gate leads to the Innate Origin Land. Although the Innate Origin Lands are different, they share a common feature: they contain great opportunities.

It is said that some peak eight-star Divine Generals, if they enter the Innate Origin Land and obtain great opportunities, can advance to the early stages of nine-star Divine General combat power, or even hope to reach the mid-stages of nine-star Divine General.

If a Heavenly Monarch enters the Innate Origin Land, they are aided in condensing a Supreme True Spirit, laying the strongest foundation to step into the True Spirit Realm! Therefore, for those powerful Divine Generals and Heavenly Monarchs, the Innate Origin Land is extremely precious.

For instance, our Void Sky lineage does not have an Innate Origin Land because such lands cannot exist perpetually. Once the origin is exhausted, the Innate Origin Land collapses.

This is similar to our refining and consumption of innate origin objects; they are one-time use items.

Such a great opportunity is highly valued by the Void Sky lineage and other Dao Ancestor lineages. In the chaos, some peak eight-star Divine Generals and invincible Heavenly Monarchs at the peak of the Destiny Realm have all gone mad, eager to enter the universe.”

“But the purple light is dangerous. How perilous must that Innate Origin Land be? Once inside, wouldn’t they risk being eroded by the purple light and dying?” Ye Tian voiced his concern.

“Hahaha, don’t worry. Some experts outside who are skilled in divination have already found a way. They are even crafting some items that will allow us to safely enter the Origin Gate.”

“It’s just that the great fortune to be obtained after entering the Origin Land will depend on one’s own efforts!” Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu stated.

Time slowly passed, and in the blink of an eye, a century had gone by.

On this day, the origin of the universe trembled, and numerous figures appeared within the universe.

At the same time, the Divine General Rankings and the Heavenly Monarch Rankings on the Ancestral Stele underwent significant changes.

For instance, Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu, who was originally ranked eighteenth on the Heavenly Monarch Rankings, suddenly dropped out of the top fifty.

The Divine General Rankings also saw substantial changes. Ye Tian, who was previously ranked first, suddenly fell out of the top ten, landing in the eleventh position. The top ten were now entirely composed of nine-star Divine Generals, including one mid-stage nine-star Divine General.

Moreover, there were many more peak eight-star Divine Generals, but Ye Tian’s strength was so formidable that none of the other peak eight-star Divine Generals could surpass him.

As for Goddess Yun Zi’s ranking, it was disastrous, dropping out of the top hundred.

This time, those entering the universe included well-known geniuses from the chaos, many of whom had cultivated for billions of years and were naturally powerful. However, they had reached a bottleneck, finding it difficult to advance further.

But with the emergence of the Innate Origin Land, they were drawn to enter the universe, seeking to establish a stronger foundation for themselves.

From the Void Sky lineage alone, at least dozens of Divine Generals and over a hundred Heavenly Monarchs arrived. This was the maximum number of slots the Void Sky lineage could secure. Those qualified to enter the universe were not ordinary individuals.

Among them were descendants of True Ancestors and Dao Ancestors, the true disciples of the Void Sky lineage.

True disciples differed from personal disciples of Dao Ancestors. Personal disciples were personal disciples of Dao Ancestors, while true disciples were those with high talent and strength, earning a high status within the Void Sky lineage, far surpassing other disciples.

Personal disciples of Dao Ancestors had to be true disciples, but true disciples were not necessarily personal disciples of Dao Ancestors. However, each true disciple was exceptionally powerful, with the weakest being eight-star Divine Generals.

Most of the true disciples from the Void Sky lineage arrived, the strongest among them being the top true disciple of this generation, Divine General Zuo Lang! Divine General Zuo Lang was an early-stage nine-star Divine General and the son of a True Ancestor from the Void Sky lineage. His strength and status were exceedingly high, and he had been cultivating for an extensive period, striving to break through to a mid-stage nine-star Divine General. Otherwise, he would have long entered the Destiny Realm.

The status of true disciples and personal disciples of Dao Ancestors differed slightly but significantly, with true disciples still required to address personal disciples as Dao Child, following the rules of the Void Sky lineage.

The second batch of Divine Generals and Heavenly Monarchs from the Void Sky lineage soon arrived at the Void Sky Hall, where Ye Tian met them.

“Greetings, Dao Child of Ten Thousand Laws!” The Heavenly Monarchs respectfully greeted him.

Even the highly esteemed true disciple, Divine General Zuo Lang, respectfully said, “Greetings, Dao Child of Ten Thousand Laws!”

Ye Tian exchanged a few words before discussing the matter of the Origin Gate with the various Heavenly Monarchs.

At this moment, a Heavenly Monarch spoke. This person was the foremost Heavenly Monarch of the Void Sky lineage, also a disciple of a Dao Ancestor, though not a personal disciple, but an official disciple. Despite this, his status was not as high as Ye Tian’s.

This Heavenly Monarch was the disciple of another Dao Ancestor of the Void Sky lineage, who was in turn a personal disciple of Dao Ancestor Void Sky.

However, no one dared to underestimate this Heavenly Monarch. After all, being the top Heavenly Monarch of the Void Sky lineage in this era indicated immense strength. Even on the current Heavenly Monarch Rankings, he ranked sixth.

He was Heavenly Monarch Tun Yue!

Chapter 887: Ten Chaos Divine Abilities!

TL: Etude

“The Dao Ancestors left us some items to resist the corrosion of the purple light. However, they were all one-time use treasures with a short duration. And they weren’t free; we needed to exchange them for points from the Void Sky lineage!” Heavenly Monarch Tun Yue addressed the crowd.

“Heavenly Monarch Tun Yue, is the Void Sky lineage points system going to be activated?” Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu asked curiously.

“Yes!” Tun Yue nodded and then took out a light orb, which instantly merged into the main hall of the Void Sky Hall. He said, “This is the Void Sky lineage points sub-system given by the Dao Ancestors. It contains a vast array of treasures. As long as they are not particularly rare, they can be exchanged.”

Upon hearing this, the crowd’s faces lit up with desire, wishing they could rob all the treasures within that light orb. But this was only wishful thinking, as it was impossible to achieve. With the means of the Dao Ancestors, how could they possibly crack the light orb? Otherwise, Heavenly Monarch Tun Yue would have done it himself.

As the points system activated, disciples of the Void Sky lineage across the Grand Universe began exchanging some treasures. The most sought-after treasures were undoubtedly those that could resist the corrosion of the purple light.

The Purple Spirit Armor, while able to resist the purple light, was not very effective. It worked in ordinary places, but if one wished to enter the Innate Origin Land using only the Purple Spirit Armor, it was nothing but a dream.

The Void Sky lineage points sub-system offered three types of treasures to resist the purple light.

The first was the Purple Scale Garment, which resembled a Daoist robe. It could automatically change shape and color, looking far more aesthetically pleasing than the Purple Spirit Armor and was much more practical, being dozens of times stronger in resisting the purple light. However, the Purple Scale Garment was not cheap; one piece cost 100 points, which was beyond the reach of ordinary disciples.

Besides the Purple Scale Garment, there were also the Myriad Purple Beads and the Purple Crystal Crown, priced around 50 points each.

In terms of resisting the purple light, all three treasures were similar, but their duration varied. In the purple light world, all three could last for a long time. However, in the Innate Origin Land, the Purple Scale Garment could last for several dozen days, while the Myriad Purple Beads and the Purple Crystal Crown could only last for about ten days.

No matter how good the treasures were, they couldn’t guarantee complete safety. Entering the Innate Origin Land still posed a risk of falling.

Ye Tian first registered an account and received the points belonging to a Dao Child disciple. As a personal disciple of the Dao Ancestors, he received 1,000 points immediately. Ye Tian then transferred 300 points to Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu, which he owed for purchasing the Three Thousand Thunder Movements Chaos Divine Ability.

At this moment, Ye Tian still had 700 points left. This amount seemed substantial but was not much in reality. For instance, buying a Purple Scale Garment required 100 points for just one piece, which could only last a few dozen days in the Innate Origin Land. After that, it would be useless against the purple light, necessitating another purchase of the Purple Scale Garment.

It was clear that one might need several Purple Scale Garments.

Additionally, Ye Tian checked the prices of some system treasures. The most ordinary Chaos Divine Abilities required 500 points. Those listed among the Three Thousand Chaos Divine Abilities cost at least 2,000 points, and some extraordinary ones needed tens of thousands of points! And this was just for purchasing the Chaos Divine Abilities. Acquiring the corresponding high-grade innate origin items would require even more points.

Thus, 700 points were not much at all.

Ye Tian was unsure about the situation in the Innate Origin Land, so he didn't rush to buy the Purple Scale Garment. Instead, he planned to accumulate more Void Sky points.

In the Void Sky lineage, there were many ways to obtain Void Sky points, such as completing tasks. However, it was challenging to find tasks here. Alternatively, one could trade with others to gain Void Sky points or use their own treasures to trade with the system for points.

However, the third method was the most foolish.

The system's buy-back price for treasures was half or even less than their normal price. For example, if Ye Tian had a treasure that the system would buy for only 10 points, purchasing it from the system would cost at least 20 points. Selling it to another person might fetch around 18 points.

Therefore, trading with other disciples for points was undoubtedly the best method.

Thus, Ye Tian conducted transactions within the Void Sky Hall, trading Black Obsidian Gold.

Black Obsidian Gold was an incredibly precious resource that many people desired. Previously, Ye Tian only used it to trade for Chaos Divine Abilities. Those who didn't have Chaos Divine Ability inheritances couldn't trade Black Obsidian Gold with him. But now, Ye Tian used Black Obsidian Gold to trade for Void Sky points, allowing any disciple of the Void Sky lineage to trade for some Black Obsidian Gold.

As time passed, Ye Tian's Void Sky points steadily increased.

1 point! 2 points! 3 points! After half a month, Ye Tian had accumulated over 60,000 points.

With so many points on hand, Ye Tian grew more confident and began purchasing Chaos Divine Abilities and the corresponding innate origin items.

Ye Tian wasn't foolish; he didn't buy the extraordinary Chaos Divine Abilities, as they were too expensive. Even if mastered, they would only be in their nascent form, at best comparable to a perfected Great Divine Ability, offering little help to his strength.

Moreover, his current goal was to master various Chaos Divine Abilities, condense the Dao's nascent forms, and inscribe Dao patterns onto the Void Sky Dao Body. Therefore, the power of the Chaos Divine Abilities was irrelevant.

He needed quantity, not quality.

"Vajra Subduing Demon Divine Ability, containing the Vajra Dao and Subduing Demon Dao. Bought!"

"Extreme Saber Divine Ability, containing the Speed Dao and Saber Dao. Bought!"

"Void Sky Sword Divine Ability, containing the Void Sky Dao and Sword Dao. Bought!"

One by one, Chaos Divine Abilities and their corresponding innate origin items fell into Ye Tian's hands. In no time, his 60,000 points were nearly exhausted, leaving only about 100 points.

In return, he acquired ten Great Divine Abilities and their corresponding innate origin items. These were carefully selected Chaos Divine Abilities that didn't overlap with his existing ones. Although the contained Daos weren't very powerful, the Sword Dao and Saber Dao stood out, being weapon Daos that Ye Tian had never encountered before in Chaos Divine Abilities.

Once he condensed the nascent form of the Saber Dao, Ye Tian's mastery of the Dao of the Saber would greatly increase, and the Heavenly Saber System would become even more formidable.

Of course, mastering so many Chaos Divine Abilities would take Ye Tian a long time, so there was no rush.

At this moment, news from the Innate Origin Land finally arrived.

Chapter 888: Great Fortune, the Secret of the Ninth Stage of Life

TL: Etude

TL Note: Tiers of life are now changed to 'stages of life' or 'xth-stage lifeform'.

The Innate Origin Land connected by the Gate of Origin in the Purple Light World was not too large, yet not small either, roughly equivalent to a former great world in size.

Aside from the fearsome erosion of the purple light in the Innate Origin Land, the only other threats were the various purple light creatures, most notably the Purple Spirit Gold Bugs. However, the number of Purple Spirit Gold Bugs had significantly dwindled; most had rushed out of the Innate Origin Land and were killed in the Purple Light World.

As a result, the remaining Purple Spirit Gold Bugs posed little threat.

The true opportunity lay in the various innate origin items within the land, which could enhance physical potential, temper the soul, and cause the soul to evolve.

The greatest fortune in the Innate Origin Land was the Innate Origin Pool. Entering the Innate Origin Pool allowed one to reshape their body and soul, completing a life evolution.

In the chaos, most lives below the Destiny Realm were below the seventh stage, with the exceptional ones reaching the seventh or eighth stage. For instance, Ye Tian had also achieved the eighth stage of life, aided by the Void Sky Dao Body for his life evolution.

However, the eighth stage of life was not the limit; there existed the ninth stage of life.

But achieving the ninth stage of life could not be done through cultivation. Even the Void Sky Dao Body and the Profound Void Technique could not create a ninth stage of life, nor was there any method to cultivate to this level.

In the chaos, the ninth stage of life could only be innate. Most ninth-stage lives were born at the Destiny Realm, thus leading to the rarity of ninth stage of life-level Divine Generals.

The Innate Origin Pool, however, had the power to defy fate, allowing Divine Generals to reshape their bodies and become ninth-stage lifeforms.

Naturally, the Innate Origin Pool also held an unimaginable allure for Heavenly Monarchs, as many were still at the eighth stage of life, struggling to break through to the ninth level.

The news of the Innate Origin Pool drove countless Divine Generals and Heavenly Monarchs into a frenzy, willing to pay any price to purchase large quantities of Purple Scale Garments and other items in preparation for entering the Innate Origin Land.

However, another piece of news soon followed: using the Innate Origin Pool to reshape one's body was extremely dangerous, almost a certain death.

This Innate Origin Pool differed from the normal ones; it contained terrifying purple light energy. While it enhanced the transformation of the body, if one could not withstand the erosion of the purple light energy, their body would not only fail to transform but would also collapse.

Apart from one Heavenly Monarch who achieved the ninth stage of life, all other Heavenly Monarchs perished in the Innate Origin Pool, including dozens from the Heavenly Monarch Rankings.

The Heavenly Monarch Rankings listed exceptionally powerful figures, geniuses and formidable talents even among the Dao Ancestor forces, each with the potential to become True Ancestors.

Yet, they had fallen.

For a time, many hesitated, afraid to recklessly enter the Origin Pool.

Nevertheless, many still ventured into the Innate Origin Land. Even without entering the Innate Origin Pool, they could still collect other resources. Overall, the Innate Origin Land remained a place of opportunities, worth the risk for everyone.

Ye Tian bought ten Purple Scale Garments and arrived in the Purple Light World, ready to enter the Innate Origin Land.

Though some Heavenly Monarchs from the rankings perished in the Innate Origin Pool, few true Heavenly Monarchs from the Dao Ancestor forces died.

For instance, Heavenly Monarch Peng Yu and others did not seek death. The Dao Ancestor forces understood the significance of the Innate Origin Pool. Only some Heavenly Monarchs from the True Ancestor forces, ignorant and unprepared, foolishly attempted to evolve their life stages through the Innate Origin Pool and consequently perished there.

The only Heavenly Monarch who successfully transformed and advanced to the ninth stage of life was from the Dao Ancestor forces.

As a Dao child of the Void Sky lineage, Ye Tian quickly learned about the secrets of the Innate Origin Pool.

“Many Heavenly Monarchs and Divine Generals likely don't realize that the Innate Origin Pool merely offers the hope of advancing to the ninth stage of life. To fully transform, one still needs a supreme physical body secret technique, specifically the kind created by the Dao Ancestors, to ensure a complete transformation of the physical body. Without this supreme secret technique, even if they can survive, they won't be able to advance to the ninth stage of life."

Ye Tian pondered this. He possessed such a supreme physical body secret technique—the Void Sky Dao Body. With it, he didn't need any other techniques and could fully utilize the Innate Origin Pool to advance his life to the ninth stage, provided he could withstand the erosion of the purple light energy within the pool.

Every Dao Ancestor-level force had certain methods to resist the purple light erosion, but the cost was prohibitive. Without sufficient points, one couldn't exchange for those treasures. The Purple Scale Garments, for example, were inadequate as they merely blocked the purple light energy. To absorb the energy of the Innate Origin Pool, one must absorb the purple light energy. Once the purple light energy entered the body and eroded it, the Purple Scale Garments couldn't expel it.

Because of this challenge, the Divine Generals and Heavenly Monarchs of the Dao Ancestor-level forces dared not rashly enter the Innate Origin Pool and could only wait for an opportunity.

However, the energy of the Innate Origin Pool was not infinite. It could only support a few dozen individuals to advance to the ninth stage of life. Once the energy was depleted, this great fortune would be lost.

Ye Tian understood that he had no significant advantage over those Heavenly Monarchs. If they found a way to resist the purple light energy, the Innate Origin Pool would be beyond his reach. Therefore, he needed to enter the Innate Origin Pool first. His advantage was considerable; he possessed the Purple Light Talent and the Purple Armor Talent.

Moreover, his Purple Light Talent and Purple Armor Talent far surpassed those of other Purple Spirit Gold Bugs because he had copied numerous talents from the Purple Armor Bugs, integrating them into his body. Although he hadn't yet advanced to the Super God level, he had become much stronger than before.

The Purple Light Talent and Purple Armor Talent were Ye Tian's true trump cards.

Deep within the Purple Light World, a purple gate hovered. Ye Tian arrived here, saw the grand purple gate, and, clad in his Purple Scale Garments, entered without hesitation.

Whoosh! Passing through the purple gate, Ye Tian entered the Innate Origin Land.

Boom! The dense purple light eroded him, causing Ye Tian to frown deeply. The purple light energy here was several times denser than in the Purple Light World. Without the Purple Scale Garments, even a Heavenly Monarch couldn't last more than a few breaths.

“What terrifying purple light energy! The purple light energy of the Innate Origin Pool must be even more dreadful. Heavenly Monarchs wouldn’t last a single breath there. No wonder so many perished in the Innate Origin Pool!” Ye Tian thought to himself.

Ye Tian continued to traverse the area and soon arrived at the Innate Origin Pool.

Chapter 889: Ninth-Stage Lifeform, Early Stage Nine-Star Divine General

TL: Etude

At this moment, only a few individuals cultivated within the Innate Origin Pool, while more people observed from outside. The vast Innate Origin Pool resembled a lake, with dense innate origin energy emanating from it. However, many dared not linger here; they often took a glance and left immediately.

Ye Tian’s arrival attracted considerable attention.

“It’s the Dao Child of the Void Sky lineage, the Dao Child of Ten Thousand Laws. He’s here too!”

“Could he also be here just to take a look?”

“He must be here just to observe. Is he really going to enter the Innate Origin Pool? He’s a peak eight-star Divine General, too far from a Heavenly Monarch. Even Heavenly Monarchs don’t dare to enter the Innate Origin Pool. If he dares to go in, wouldn’t that be suicidal?”

“Look, he’s walking towards the Innate Origin Pool. Oh my god, he stepped into the Innate Origin Pool!”

Everyone was shocked when Ye Tian entered the Innate Origin Pool.

The reason was simple: Ye Tian was a personal disciple of the Dao Ancestor! As a personal disciple of the Dao Ancestor, his potential was exceedingly high. As long as he didn’t fall, he would surely become a True Ancestor in the future, with even a slim chance of becoming a Dao Ancestor! It could be said that Ye Tian, even without entering the Innate Origin Pool, still had overwhelming potential. There was no need to take risks.

However, Ye Tian risked his life to enter the Innate Origin Pool.

“Dao Child, don’t enter the Innate Origin Pool!” a Heavenly Monarch from the Void Sky lineage hurriedly reminded him.

However, Ye Tian had already entered the Innate Origin Pool, ignoring the other’s advice.

Boom!!! Upon entering the Innate Origin Pool, extremely dense origin energy mixed with purple light energy began to corrode him. Under this corrosion, the luster of his Purple Scale Garment continuously dimmed, unable to last long.

Ye Tian controlled the Purple Scale Garment, releasing a trace of innate origin energy into his body. Boom!!!! Terrifying changes occurred. His flesh began to rapidly transform, not in strength but in the level of life itself.

However, along with this transformation, the purple light continued to corrode his flesh.

“Purple Light Talent, activate!”

“Purple Armor Talent, activate!”

With these two talents related to purple light, combined with the Void Sky Dao Body, Ye Tian easily resisted the purple light energy. Unless others had special means, even those on the Heavenly Monarch Rankings couldn’t compare to him.

The transformation in his life stage caused countless cells in Ye Tian’s body to continuously destroy and regenerate.

No spiritual medicine could compare to the Innate Origin Pool. This was truly advanced life energy, the purest origin energy. Even the Dao Ancestor couldn’t create such innate origin.

Before long, the Purple Scale Garment on his body couldn’t hold up. Ye Tian hurriedly changed into a new Purple Scale Garment.

Currently, with his strength, he could only absorb a bit of innate origin energy. Without the Purple Scale Garment, he would be covered by endless purple light energy. Even with his Purple Light Talent and Purple Armor Talent, he wouldn’t be able to withstand it.

As time passed, Ye Tian consumed one Purple Scale Garment after another, and the transformation of his life stage accelerated.

Ascending from an eighth-stage lifeform to a ninth-stage lifeform was a major transformation, a superlative elevation of life. It was not something that could be achieved in one go. Therefore, Ye Tian needed a long time to complete this transformation.

“I underestimated the process of transforming from an eighth-stage lifeform to a ninth-stage lifeform. Ten Purple Scale Garments are simply not enough!” Ye Tian thought to himself.

If he left the Innate Origin Pool now, all his previous efforts would be wasted. Exiting the transformation process halfway would also affect his foundation, which would take a long time to recover.

By the time he recovered his foundation and wanted to return to the Innate Origin Pool, its energy might have already been depleted.

“I need to ask the disciples of the Void Sky Hall for help!” Ye Tian thought.

So, he sent a message to the nearby disciples of the Void Sky lineage, exchanging Purple Scale Garment from them.

If it had been someone else, they probably wouldn’t have been able to obtain the Purple Scale Garment, but Ye Tian was a personal disciple of the Dao Ancestor. Moreover, he had truly survived in the Innate Origin Pool. No one dared to refuse Ye Tian.

Soon, one piece of Purple Scale Garment after another fell into Ye Tian’s hands.

At the same time, the news of Ye Tian cultivating in the Innate Origin Pool spread, causing a massive uproar.

In the War God Tower, Goddess Yun Zi was astonished when she heard the news about Ye Tian. “The Dao Child of Ten Thousand Laws actually entered the Innate Origin Pool. Did he gather treasures to resist the purple light energy so quickly?”

Divine General Zuo Lang of the Void Sky lineage, upon learning of Ye Tian’s entry into the Innate Origin Pool, wanted to challenge him. However, he restrained this impulse, as his analysis indicated he couldn’t survive in the Innate Origin Pool. Even if he were stronger than Ye Tian, entering the Innate Origin Pool was often unrelated to strength. Many Heavenly Monarchs had fallen there.

To enter the Innate Origin Pool, there was only one way: to withstand the purple light energy. Without this, trying to advance to the ninth-stage of life was courting death.

The former Divine Generals on the Divine General Rankings went crazy, each preparing frantically. If Ye Tian succeeded in advancing to the ninth stage of life, he would undoubtedly become a nine-star Divine General. They didn’t want to be surpassed by Ye Tian!

Days passed, and Ye Tian approached the most critical moment in the Innate Origin Pool.

Many were curious whether Ye Tian could break through the barrier and become a ninth-stage lifeform. Being able to endure the Innate Origin Pool for long didn’t necessarily mean one could break through the life stage. If one couldn’t endure, previous efforts would be wasted, and they might even fall in the Innate Origin Pool.

“It’s close! So close!”

Ye Tian continually monitored the situation within his body. Though his flesh was severely corroded, his life force was as vast as billions of suns, each ray of which could illuminate a great world.

His life stage had entirely surpassed the eighth-stage of life, even comparable to an ordinary ninth-stage lifeform. At this moment, his flesh had already successfully transformed, leaving only his soul, which had transformed 99%. Just one final transformation remained.

Once his soul transformed, crossing into the ninth-stage lifeform soul, he would entirely become a ninth-stage lifeform.

“Break through for me!”

Ye Tian’s soul transformed into a humanoid sun, infinite golden light flashing. Invisible shackles broke apart under the immense soul power.

These were the soul shackles, the final restraints binding a ninth-stage lifeform. But these final shackles vanished under the impact of the Innate Origin. Without relying on the Innate Origin Pool, breaking these shackles with his own power was nearly impossible.

The shackles shattered, and the ninth stage of life was achieved! In an instant, Ye Tian’s life stage began to transform, and his physical strength also started to change.

This was a major breakthrough, a significant transformation in power.

Every second, Ye Tian’s strength progressed, an enhancement surpassing all.

A few hours later, Ye Tian completed the transformation and stepped out of the Innate Origin Pool.

He didn’t want to stay in the Innate Origin Pool for too long. In case of any changes, even as a ninth-stage lifeform, he couldn’t withstand the endless purple light.

At the Ancestral Stele, Ye Tian’s ranking on the Divine General Rankings hadn’t changed, but his realm had.

He was no longer a peak eight-star Divine General but an early stage nine-star Divine General. However, in terms of combat power, he was the weakest among the early-stage nine-star Divine Generals.

Nonetheless, Ye Tian had entered the ranks of the early-stage nine-star Divine Generals.

Chapter 890

TL: Etude

“Having reached the early stage of the nine-star Divine General, I am now fully qualified to transcend!” Ye Tian murmured to himself.

Transcending from the Grand Universe would elevate his potential far beyond that of an ordinary transcender. However, once transcended, he would no longer be able to progress at the level of a Divine General. After transcending, he would quickly reach the Destiny Realm, yet he still had much potential to tap into at present.

The early stage of the nine-star Divine General was far from his limit; he even aimed to elevate his strength to the peak of the nine-star level. The greatest creation of the Innate Origin Land was the Innate Origin Pool, which was designed to create ninth-stage lifeforms. Since Ye Tian had already become a ninth-stage lifeform, the Innate Origin Land no longer held significance for him.

However, others still yearned to enter the Innate Origin Land. As time passed, numerous Divine Generals and Heavenly Monarchs entered, and many ninth-stage lifeforms were born one after another.

During this period, Ye Tian secluded himself in the Void Sky Hall for deep cultivation.

One day, the consciousness incarnation of Dao Ancestor Void Sky, the Dao Ancestor of the Void Sky Lineage, arrived at the Void Sky Hall and appeared before Ye Tian once again.

“Master!” Ye Tian bowed.

He was surprised that Dao Ancestor Void Sky had come again. For a Dao Ancestor, few matters could attract their attention; even the Innate Origin Land was not enough to interest them. In fact, the Ancestral Stele was also useless to the Dao Ancestor, though it held significant value for the forces under the Dao Ancestor’s command, which was why they would appear.

Previously, Ye Tian had met Dao Ancestor Void Sky because he had qualified to become a personal disciple, necessitating the Dao Ancestor’s presence. But now, Ye Tian could not fathom why Dao Ancestor Void Sky would visit him again.

“Ye Tian, you have done well. In such a short time, you have advanced to the early stage of the nine-star Divine General level, and your Void Sky Dao Body has also made significant progress,” Dao Ancestor Void Sky praised.

“Thank you, Master!” Ye Tian responded.

“Ye Tian, I have come this time to advise you that if you are confident, it would be best to transcend after becoming a ten-star Divine General, or at the very least, reach the peak of the nine-star level. I can see that you have had fortuitous encounters, possessing numerous innate and Limit Talents, as well as high comprehension talent. The peak of the nine-star level should not be an obstacle for you. Your only disadvantage lies in resources.

“In the Grand Universe, many rare resources are scarce. However, as a Dao Disciple of the Void Sky Lineage, you have the authority to exchange and purchase some precious resources. Therefore, the Void Sky Lineage has enough qualifications to support you further,” Dao Ancestor Void Sky stated solemnly.

“A ten-star Divine General, Master? Isn’t the limit at the peak of the nine-star level?” Ye Tian was astonished.

“No, the true limit is the ten-star level. However, ten-star Divine Generals are nearly mythical. For most peerless geniuses, reaching the peak of the nine-star level is already an unattainable dream, let alone becoming a ten-star Divine General. Throughout countless ages, while rare, ten-star Divine Generals have existed, though they are ancient.

“In the most recent eras, not a single ten-star Divine General has emerged, so no one knows that above the peak of the nine-star level, there is still the ten-star level. However, ten-star Divine Generals have no variation in strength; once you reach the ten-star level, you cannot improve your strength any further.

“Ye Tian, as a native lifeform of the Grand Universe, your potential will be stronger than a ten-star Divine General if you transcend. The reason I urge you to aim for the ten-star level is not for potential, but for another reason.

“You should know that to become a Dao Ancestor, one must rely on the Ancestral Stele. Without it, it is nearly impossible to achieve unity with the Dao.”

Dao Ancestor Void Sky revealed, “While the Void Sky Dao Body has some chance of achieving unity with the Dao without the Ancestral Stele, it remains speculative. Even I am not entirely certain. But if you advance to the ten-star Divine General level, you can be assured: you will not need the Ancestral Stele to achieve unity with the Dao.”

“What? A ten-star Divine General can achieve unity with the Dao without the Ancestral Stele!” Ye Tian’s pupils contracted in disbelief.

“Indeed!” Dao Ancestor Void Sky affirmed. “The potential of a ten-star Divine General is unimaginable. Achieving unity with the Dao without the Ancestral Stele means that once you become a ten-star Divine General, you are guaranteed to become a Dao Ancestor.

“In truth, using the Ancestral Stele to achieve unity with the Dao is a compromise. While it allows one to become a Dao Ancestor, it somewhat erodes the foundation, and the unity is not perfect. Consequently, after becoming a Dao Ancestor, the increase in strength is extremely slow.

“However, Dao Ancestors who rely on their own abilities to achieve unity with the Dao are immensely powerful. Even I find it difficult to match such Dao Ancestors. When I advanced to the Destiny Realm, I did so as a peak nine-star Divine General. It was a great regret, which is why I created the Void Sky Dao Body, hoping to nurture a Dao Ancestor who could achieve unity with the Dao on their own. You are the most promising candidate.”

“Master, I will do my utmost to reach the ten-star Divine General level!” Ye Tian promised.

“Do your best. Since you have cultivated the Void Sky Dao Body, if you evolve it to a sufficient degree, you might only need to reach the peak nine-star Divine General level to have a 30-40% chance of achieving unity with the Dao and becoming a Dao Ancestor in the future,” Dao Ancestor Void Sky said.

Dao Ancestor Void Sky did not linger long and soon left. However, before departing, he guided Ye Tian on cultivating the Void Sky Dao Body. Ye Tian had been exploring the Void Sky Dao Body on his own, and there were many aspects he did not fully understand. The guidance from Dao Ancestor Void Sky would expedite his progress, especially in inscribing Dao patterns, significantly faster than before.

In the following days, Ye Tian devoted himself to comprehending the Chaos Divine Ability. Meanwhile, the Innate Origin Land bustled with activity. Hundreds of years later, Goddess Yun Zi of the War God Tower successfully used the Innate Origin Pool to reach the ninth-stage of life, shocking many.

A thousand years later, Divine General Zuo Lang of the Void Sky Lineage also advanced to the ninth stage of life, achieving mid-stage nine-star Divine General combat strength. However, Divine General Zuo Lang’s potential was limited to this level, though the mid-stage nine-star Divine General was considerably stronger and had much greater potential than the early stage. This seemingly small difference could later translate into the gap between a high-level True Ancestor and a top-tier True Ancestor.

In the blink of an eye, ten thousand years passed.

One day, news spread from the Innate Origin Land that the Innate Origin Pool had completely depleted its energy. However, more than twenty ninth-stage lifeforms had been born within the Grand Universe, including six Divine Generals. The rest were all Heavenly Monarchs.

Subsequently, a small number of Heavenly Monarchs and several early-stage nine-star Divine Generals expended great resources to leave the Grand Universe with the help of external True Ancestors. Their goal was to leverage the great opportunities of the Innate Origin Land and they did not wish to remain in the Grand Universe indefinitely.

Yet, many Heavenly Monarchs and Divine Generals chose to stay within the Grand Universe, preparing for future opportunities.

“Divine General Zuo Lang has left?” Ye Tian soon received this news but did not pay much attention to it. It was clear that Divine General Zuo Lang found the cultivation environment of the Grand Universe far inferior to the chaos and felt unqualified to compete for the Ancestral Stele’s spot. Therefore, he was unwilling to stay in the Grand Universe.

After all, he was only a Divine General, with the Destiny, True Spirit, and True Ancestor realms still ahead. It was uncertain how long it would take him to become a True Ancestor, possibly not even by the time the battle for the Ancestral Stele began.

Not everyone had the confidence of Goddess Yun Zi. Divine General Zuo Lang lacked such confidence. Becoming a nine-star Divine General had taken countless years, and his true talent was not particularly high.

With Divine General Zuo Lang’s departure, Ye Tian’s name rose once again on the Divine General Rankings, making him the top Divine General of the Void Sky Hall once more.
