Chapter 1111

Freya was taken aback by the situation. She had thought the person who appeared out of nowhere was Caelan, and was just about to give him a hard kick. But unexpectedly, when she looked up, Kieran's face came into sight.

His face reminded her of the image of him making out with Regina last night.

A surge of depression swept over her. She simply looked away, not bothering to pay attention to him.

"What have I told you?!" Kieran spoke first. His cold voice was heavy with warning and a complicated emotion that Freya couldn't read, "I have told you not to get close to Seth again!"

Kieran's aggressive attitude really irritated her. How could he treat her so badly while being nice to Regina?

Violently pushing him away, she took out her notebook and quickly wrote, "None of your business!"

Kieran had already been irritated by that photo tonight, and now was even more upset by Freya's words.

He was just about to rage when he saw her writing something again, "Mr. Fitzgerald, it's late. If you have nothing important to tell, I'll go back to rest."

Freya turned around. She opened the door and headed inside the small clinic.

Dolly had already gone back to the small hotel. The small clinic was quiet and unspeakably cold. Freya was about to close the door when Kieran rushed in like a gust of wind.

Freya, "..."

Was Kieran a rascal?

"Mr. Fitzgerald, I only treat patients here! If you are here not to see a doctor, please get out!"

"Yes, I am!" Kieran withdrew his stare from Freya's notebook. After saying this, he really wanted to give himself a thump on his head. What kind of disease did he suffer from?

Brainless?

It seemed like he was getting more abnormal after meeting this ugly creature.

Freya really didn't want to treat Kieran. However, as a doctor, she had to take his pulse or something, since he had said so.

She grasped his wrist in disgust and took his pulse. And as always, he had a fligid face and a healthy body.

The moment Freya's hand rested on his wrist, he felt a current of excitement rushing through his wrist, rapidly to his limbs, electrifying him to the point of, well, forgetting what day it was.

"Done."

Freya wielded her writing brush energetically, "You're sick."

Seeing this, Kieran raised his eyebrows. Before he spoke, Freya wrote again, "Brain damage."

Brainless...

Brain damage...

Kieran thought that he and this ugly woman were kind of on the same page.

"The disease is beyond my business scope, Mr. Fitzgerald. You may leave now."

When Freya's hand left his wrist, Kieran felt that his heart was taken away too.

He stared at Freya's hand in a somewhat bewildered manner; and driven by some unknown desire, his big hand, surprisingly, covered hers.

Freya really wanted to hold his warm, strong hand with all her might.

But at the thought that his hands would only carefully hold Regina, and that he would only pamper Regina with all his heart, she was indescribably angry.

She shook off Kieran's hand. With a huff, she tried to highlight the words "You're sick!" in her notebook.

However, before the tip of her pen touched the paper, Freya already felt her head spinning.

Before she figured out what was going on, she was already pressed by him on the small sofa inside the room.

Even their breaths were almost entwined.

Freya's reason shattered in an instant, and all she wanted was to tangle up with him all night.

Just when she couldn't resist the urge to kiss him, Kieran's misty eyes suddenly became as clear as a mirror.

He shook Freya off almost hastily, and then quickly took steps back to maintain a relatively safe distance from her.

He must have gone crazy! The woman he loved most was still suffering in the power of Caelan. He had looked for Freya everywhere, and now he was being seduced by an unashamedly ugly woman!

He would have been reduced to be as ignoble as the woman!

Freya was the love of his life, and he would never allow himself to let down his beloved girl for an ugly creature with an ugly heart!

"Get lost!" His thin lips moved slightly, and a voice that was cold to the bone sounded.

Freya was thrown to the ground by Kieran. Her bones ached as if they were falling apart.

Struck by this cold and austere tone, Freya felt a mixture of exasperation and amusement.

What a man!

He was the one who had taken the initiative to press her onto the sofa, and now he was the one who told her to get lost!

He was schizophrenic, wasn't he?

Freya was not willing to show any weakness. She wanted to tell him to get lost even more viciously. But unfortunately, she could not utter a word.

As expected, before Freya could write anything, Kieran had already gotten lost with the full force of wrath.

After Kieran left, Freya was still all fired up. She grabbed a book on the table and smashed it hard in the direction he had left, and slammed a chair there before she felt a little more comfortable.

Okay, she admitted—she was a bit cowardly.

She couldn't really smash it on him. Thus, she could only vent her anger on nothing.

She was so angry!

How irritating it is that she couldn't beat such a terrible man to death!

Anger had swept over the two of them, while at Kelsington Bay, the atmosphere was vastly different.

Jaden and Jayla were sitting beside Regina, diligently patting her legs and kneading her back.

"Mommy, you know what? Jayla and I had dinner with that ugly woman this evening!"

"Ugly woman?" Regina stiffened, afraid that Jaden and Jayla would find the woman was Freya.

"Yes!" Jayla replied sweetly, "Mommy, that ugly monster is hilarious. She is not as elegant as Mommy when eating."

Regina straightened her back gracefully. Well, Jayla was right. Freya, that ugly bastard, was no match for her!

"Mommy, I know you hate that ugly woman. How dare she angered Mommy last night. She's way out of the line!"

Jayla crossed her arms and looked righteously indignant, "I hate that ugly woman so much!"

Hearing Jayla kept cursing Freya, Regina felt overjoyed. But she still had to suppress the joy in her heart and pretend to be elegant.

"Jayla, in fact, that ugly woman is pathetic! She's so ugly that she has a twisted mind. I forgive her!"

"I can't forgive her because she bullied Mommy!" Jayla put down her hand and she came over to Regina, "Mommy, Jaden and I went over there to help Mommy teach that ugly woman a lesson. Mommy, do you know what we did to her? I'm sure that she must be so tortured now that she'd rather die!"

Chapter 1112

Regina's eyes lit up as she asked with great anticipation, "Tell me, what did you do?"

Jayla smiled, "Mommy, remember the tickling powder in your lab? I took a big cartridge of it and secretly sprinkled it all over her! The itching powder you developed is the most powerful. She can't wash it off. And no antipruritic liniment works on that. I'm sure that the woman will scratch her face tonight."

"Jayla, I know you did it to retaliate for mommy. But no more next time, promise me? You are my good babies." At the thought of Freya being tormented by the powder, Regina was in high spirits, but she put on a strict motherly face and scolded Jayla.

"Okay, no more next time, Mommy!" Jayla said with a smile as she followed Regina's advice.

After a short while, she hugged Regina's arm again and acted adorable, "Mommy, I helped you teach that ugly woman a lesson. Will you also promise me something?"

Thinking of Freya's painful appearance, Regina was in such a good mood that she forgot the psychological shadow cast by the dark cuisine, and she asked without hesitation, "What is it?"

"Mommy, tomorrow will be the weekend, and we don't have to go to school. Can you take us to the amusement park?" Jayla asked pitifully.

Jaden also spoke with an expectant face, "Mommy, you promised to take me and Jayla to the amusement park a long time ago. You can't break your words."

Regina almost forgot that she had promised to take the kids to the amusement park a long time ago.

In that case, she certainly couldn't refuse now.

Going to an amusement park was not like drinking different mixtures of iced juices. She would not fear at all!

Regina beamed and said, "Well, I'll take you to the amusement park tomorrow."

With Regina's promise, Jaden and Jayla looked at each other and smiled in unison.

In fact, they were loath to bully that ugly woman. But when they would go to the amusement park tomorrow, they would give the fake mother a kick in the teeth!

After days of observation, they had this strong feeling that the fake mother was like the hateful Regina; and if she really was, she was supposed to be extremely afraid of heights, according to the information they had got.

Tomorrow would make a big impression on Regina!

The next day after breakfast, Jaden and Jayla gleefully took Regina's hand and went to the amusement park.

Regina really thought that taking two little kids to an amusement park would be nothing difficult. However, when she arrived, she realized how incredibly painful it could be.

Roller coaster, jet coaster, glass walkway and so on.

It was a real pain in the ass!

She had an extremely serious fear of heights. If she stood in a high place, she would become dizzy and indescribably uncomfortable. After a ride on a roller coaster, she could hardly stand stably.

She had tried not to go with Jaden and Jayla to ride. But every time she refused, they would put on the pitiful look and say things like “Mommy used to join us to play every time we came to an amusement park. But now you’ve changed. You are not like our Mommy at all.”

Every time she heard them say that she was not like their Mommy, Regina became uneasy. She could only grit her teeth and ride all the facilities with them.

After one more ride, Regina almost collapsed.

Strong willpower kept her from falling down.

Jaden and Jayla quietly glanced at Regina, whose legs were limp, and they pretended to be innocent. Neither of them went over to help her. Instead, they danced off down the road.

Moreover, they deliberately took the path with an artificial lake. From their observation, that was an advantageous place.

The artificial lake inside the amusement park was rarely approached; and for aesthetic reasons, it was ornamented with low guardrails.

Regina was now so dizzy that she didn’t even notice that the kids were leading her along that path. She just followed them stiffly and mechanically.

When she reached the artificial lake, a black figure suddenly burst out of the cobblestone path and crashed hard into Regina.

Regina was now completely unable to identify directions. Before she collected herself, she had already fallen into the lake.

The man had just moved deftly and had delicately kicked her in the leg, causing her leg to cramp uncontrollably, which made her unable to struggle even if she knew how to swim.

“Help... Help!”

Regina choked violently on a mouthful of water, coughing so hard that she couldn’t even shout out a cry for help.

Jaden stared coolly at Regina who kept flopping around in the lake. His stare carried a sense of coldness that a kid at his age wouldn’t have.

Jayla gripped Jaden’s arm hard in order to force herself not to show her excitement so obviously.

Regina, a shameless bully, had bullied the ugly woman and forced her to dive for the ring. Today, she would let Regina suffer for it!

“Jaden, Jayla, save... Save...”

Seeing that Regina was almost drowned, Jaden and Jayla only pretended to look panic-stricken and shouted, “Help! My Mommy has fallen into the lake! Help!”

The man who had just crashed Regina into the lake made another heroic appearance. He jumped into the lake to save her. He dragged her towards the lawn by grabbing her by the hair.

By the time he dragged Regina up, she had already passed out.

Jaden gave the man a wink and he began to administer first aid to her.

In fact, administering first aid to a drowning person involves quite a lot of techniques.

For example, there is strict force control when pressing on the chest. If the rescuer uses too much force, the drowner may be saved, but the drowner's ribs might have been broken, causing secondary damage to the drowner.

Jaden and Jayla were determined to torture Regina today. Naturally, they would not let that man show mercy to Regina.

After he had finished taking a series of first aid measures on Regina, Regina finally opened her eyes weakly.

Only after a few moments, the intense pain from her broken ribs caused her to faint again.

This man had really worked hard, breaking three of Regina's ribs in a cruel manner.

Jaden quietly typed on his phone, "Thanks for your hard work. I'll pay you more later."

When Regina woke up, it was already dark. Even though she had been sent to hospital for further treatment, the pain was so intense that she'd rather die.

She really hated those two kids. If they hadn't asked her to go to the amusement park with them, she wouldn't have been so miserable!

But the little kids were now at her bedside with snotty noses and tears. She couldn't find a reason to rage at them even if she itched to.

All that anger gathered in her heart and made her want to explode with rage.

Moreover, upon waking up, she noticed that her body had developed an extremely serious abnormality!

Chapter 1113

Itch!

The itch was not like a mosquito bite or an ordinary allergy, the outermost layer of the skin itching, but from the innermost layer of the body breeding, little by little spread on the body.

Regina stretched out her hand and scratched the back of her hand hard, but her scratching was like scratching an itch through a boot, and it didn't do much good at all.

Regina's belly was also particularly itchy, and she scratched so hard that it bled, but the itch continued unabated.

Seeing Regina's twisted face, Jaden and Jayla looked at each other and they knew that the itching medicine they had put on her had taken effect.

Jalay put on an innocent look of not knowing anything as she jumped hard onto Regina and hugged her arms tightly.

“Mommy, what’s wrong with you? You look so uncomfortable! Mommy, tell me what’s wrong with you! Mommy, don’t scare me and brother, okay?”

Jaden stiffly tugged at the corners of his lips as he tried to put on an innocent and cute look and also pounced hard on Regina, grabbing her arm in a deadly grip and shaking it, “Mommy, I am also worried about you!”

Regina did not want their concern.

She was a sick person now, okay? A very fragile one!

They pounced on her like this and she felt as if her ribs, which had just been reattached, had broken again.

The intense pain could not relieve the itchiness in her body, but it was the pain that made her feel more and more uncomfortable.

Both sides but hell, no matter what she did, she could not get relief.

And, to her misery, her face began to itch as well.

She subconsciously reached out her hand and tried to scratch her face as hard as she could.

But as soon as she scratched it hard, she suddenly came to her senses, it was her face! The face she had worked so hard to get!

Regina withdrew her hand with great difficulty, but if she scratched it, it still itched, but if she didn’t scratch it, the itch was even worse.

She screamed hysterically, “Doctor! Jaden, Jalay, call a doctor! I’m dying!”

“Okay, I’m going to call the doctor!” Jaden pressed the bell at the head of the bed hard and soon the doctor came in. She examined Regina’s body and found nothing out of the ordinary.

But Regina kept scratching herself in pain and the doctor wheeled her out anyway for a detailed examination.

Blood was checked and films were taken, but still nothing unusual was found.

Seeing how uncomfortable she was, the doctor gave her medication to stop the itching, but even with the medication, the uncomfortable feeling still continued unabated.

When she saw Kieran coming, Regina was like a drowning person who had grabbed the only driftwood in a deep sea. She grabbed his hand, “Kieran, help me. I don’t know what’s wrong, I feel so bad! I’m dying!”

“Daddy, Mommy is really sick! Please do something to help Mommy!” Jalay sobbed hard, like how sad she really was.

What she and Jaden used for Regina this time was a strengthened version of itchy medicine, without a three or five days, it can't stop the itch, moreover, even if she did some tests in the hospital, it can't be seen.

"Kieran, help me! Help me!" Regina's face became even more hideous, "Kieran, if I keep itching like this, I'll definitely die!"

"Quack doctors! Yes, the doctors in this hospital are all quacks! Kieran, can we change hospitals? I really can't hold out any longer!"

"Freya, I won't let anything happen to you." Kieran clutched Regina's hand in a seemingly affectionate manner, but the moment his eyelids lowered, there was an undisguised disgust in his eyes.

Regina wanted to say something else to Kieran, but her body was so itchy that scratching with both hands did not have much effect, and she could not care about anything else now.

Her heart, too, itched unbearably, and Regina scratched as hard as she could, so hard that she hit the spot where her ribs had been broken.

The pain that tore through her heart swept her body so hard once again that she couldn't support herself for a moment, and she actually passed out.

"You caused this?" Kieran said this as if he was asking the two little ones, but in fact his heart had long been certain beyond doubt.

"Yes!" Jalay spat out her tongue in embarrassment, "We just wanted to teach a lesson to the counterfeit woman."

"Well done." Kieran rubbed Jalay's head, "You guys, keep up the good work."

Being praised by Kieran, Jalay's cute face was instantly filled with a sly glow, as if she had the inspiration to fix the counterfeit woman again!

The two kids only wanted to abuse Regina, but Caelan's people were probably watching them from some dark corner.

Jalay's eyes darted around and she came up with another good idea.

"Daddy, why don't we have Medical Fairy come and give the counterfeit a cure! This itchy medicine's effect is indeed too harsh, in case it abuses the counterfeit, it will be a problem. Medical Fairy is so good at medicine, she can definitely make her not itch that much."

In fact, mentioning this opinion, Jalay also had a selfish intention.

She wanted Freya to live in Kelsington Bay so that she could observe close by whether she was their Mommy or not.

They didn't dare to get the counterfeit dead now, all their scruples were for fear that Caelan might harm Freya who he had taken, but if the Medical Fairy was Freya, they no longer had to fear anyone!

"Medical Fairy? That ugly?" Thinking of Freya, especially thinking of that night when he couldn't control himself, Kieran couldn't help but frown.

“Yes, Medical Fairy’s medical skills are amazing!”

Jalay quietly observed Kieran’s expression and continued to speak, “Daddy, the counterfeit Mommy’s body won’t heal for a while, why don’t we just let Medical Fairy stay at our house and cure her?”

“Daddy if you think it’s inconvenient for Medical Fairy to live on our side, you can let her stay at Cousin Seth’s house! Cousin Seth’s house is right behind us anyway, it’s convenient!”

Have that ugly live inside Seth’s villa?

Why does hearing such words make him so upset inside!

“You and Jaden go find that ugly woman!” Kieran turned around, and walked out of the ward.

Was this an agreement to have Medical Fairy live in Kelsington Bay?!

Jalay winked at Jaden, and the two of them called the driver and headed straight to Freya’s clinic.

When the two kids went over, Freya had just finished her dinner, and when she saw them, her mood could not be controlled to soar.

In order to communicate easily, Freya had recently bought a writing board, and she quickly wrote down, “Jaden, Jalay, what brings you here?”

“Medical Fairy, we came over because we want to ask you for help. Will you come and stay at my house?” Jalay hugged her arm and asked with an expectant face.

Chapter 1114

Naturally, Freya knew that Jalay was asking her to go and live in Kelsington Bay, that place was, in fact, also her home.

She missed it, she missed it in her dreams.

But now, she really didn’t want to go and live in Kelsington Bay.

In the past, she was the mistress of Kelsington Bay, but now, Regina had taken over.

“Jalay, I’m sorry, I can’t.” Freya half lowered her eyelids and stared at the writing board in her hands.

Rejected by her, Jalay couldn’t help but feel lost, but she was never indefatigable.

She hugged Freya’s arm tighter and she flattened her little mouth pitifully, “Medical Fairy, my Mommy is very sick, if you don’t go over to save her, she will surely die!”

“Medical Fairy, please, please go over and save my mommy, okay?”

Jalay was really a born drama queen, she didn’t need to brew her emotions, when she needed to cry, drops of tears could fall.

Freya still wanted to refuse, but seeing Jalay’s tears, she was so heartbroken that she could no longer write half a sentence of refusal.

Seeing Freya nod, Jalay was overjoyed, “Medical Fairy, I knew it, you’re the best! You won’t stand with my sadness!”

Freya looked at Jalay with complicated eyes, yes, she couldn’t let her kids be sad, but Jayla cared so much about Regina, Freya was sad in her heart!

After suppressing the thoughts that were churning in her heart, Freya took the medicine box and put in a few more ointments, and followed the two little ones to the car.

By the time Freya and the others got to Kelsington Bay, Regina had also returned from the hospital.

Regina really wanted to sleep until she didn’t feel anything on her body, but God forbid, she hadn’t slept for ten minutes before she woke up with that unbearable itch.

This time, all the itchiness on her body was concentrated on her face.

She loved her flawless face, but that itch was really too much to bear and she couldn’t help but scratch her face several times.

She scratched so hard that she made large blood marks on her face, and when she saw the frighteningly bright red on her palm, she couldn’t help but scream out.

“Kieran, my face! My face!” Regina screamed hysterically, “Kieran, help me! I don’t want to disfigure myself, I really don’t want to disfigure myself!”

“Freya, don’t worry, the doctor will be here soon, she’s very skilled, she’ll save you!”

“Kieran, why am I suddenly so itchy! What the hell is going on here! Did someone do this to me on purpose? Kieran, help me! Someone must have done this to me on purpose!”

“Freya, how could someone deliberately harm you? I’ve asked the doctor, and he said that when you fell into the water, you got covered in something unclean, and someone else fell into that lake before, and their condition was even worse than yours!”

Originally, Regina still thought that it was possible that the two little kids had harmed her, but after hearing Kieran’s words, she instantly dismissed that thought.

Those two brats had always thought of her as Freya!

They cared so much about Freya, how could they have harmed her!

It must have just been her bad luck to get something dirty on her!

Seemingly thinking of something, Kieran suddenly spoke, “Right, Freya, you’re so good at healing, you can even solve the withering silence on my body, can’t you prepare a medicine to stop your body from itching?”

“I

Regina was speechless, the real Freya surely could easily formulate a medicine to relieve the itch, but she really didn’t have that ability.

Regina put on a look of extreme pain as she pitifully grabbed Kieran's big hand, "Kieran, if it was usual, I would definitely be able to formulate the medicine! But now, I'm really too uncomfortable, I can't do anything at all!"

"Kieran, am I too useless? I can't even save myself!"

Regina was just about to take the opportunity to seek more comfort from Kieran, and the door to the room was suddenly pushed open.

Seeing Freya, who walked in slowly through the doorway, her face suddenly changed.

Kieran said he had found a very good doctor for her, but she had never imagined that the person he had found would be Freya!

How could she Freya so kind as to give her a cure?

"Kieran, how could it be her?" Regina covered in her arms, pretending to look terrified, "Have you forgotten that she tried to harm me many times? She has such a vicious heart, how could she possibly be sincere in curing me!"

"Freya, I won't give her the chance to hurt you!"

Kieran turned his face and stared coldly at Freya, who was standing at the side, "Treat her! If you let anything happen to her, I will not forgive you!"

Freya laughed coldly in her heart, "Kieran, you're so tyrannical, when I recover, I'll see which one of us can't forgive the other!"

Freya's heart was so upset that she didn't even bother to communicate with Kieran, she sat directly in front of the bed and took Regina's pulse.

"What are you doing?!" Regina fiercely retracted her hand and looked at Freya with a wary expression.

Freya couldn't help but roll her eyes widely as she slightly languidly and unhurriedly wrote on the writing board, "Take her pulse!"

"Freya, let her take a look at you! Don't worry, she won't dare to play any tricks! If she can't cure you, I will make her pay for it!"

Kieran had said so, so Regina couldn't continue to pretend, so she could only reluctantly put her hand in front of Freya.

Freya did not really want to cure Regina, and she took her pulse with some carelessness.

But as time went on, she slowly discovered something unusual about Regina's body.

Her intestines seemed to be extremely fragile, and if she play tricks, not only her bowels but also her urine would be incontinent!

If she became incontinent at such a young age, Regina's life would be completely ruined!

Even if Kieran was blind, she didn't believe that if Regina was incontinent in front of him, he would still be in love with her!

When she withdrew her hand, Freya heard Kieran's voice, "How is she?"

"I can make her not itch that much." Freya only said while taking out her acupuncture kit from inside the medicine box, "I'll give her acupuncture now!"

On the first day she studied medicine under Sebastian, he had told her that a doctor's duty was to treat the sick and save people, and to be compassionate all her life.

But with Regina, she really couldn't be compassionate.

She didn't mind, in front of her, being a bad doctor for once!

Looking at the silver needles in Freya's hand that were emitting cold light, Regina was so nervous that when the first needle fell on her body, she could no longer restrain herself and screamed out.

"It hurts! It hurts! Kieran, help! She's not a good person! She's trying to kill me! Kieran, help me! It hurts! I'm in so much pain!"

Kieran violently grabbed Freya's wrist with such force that it almost crushed her bones, "What did you do to her?!"

Chapter 1115

Freya was in pain and angry, the physical pain coming from her wrist made her tears almost uncontrollably fall down.

But she was unwilling to shed tears in front of Kieran, she lifted her chin hard and looked up at the ceiling, finally holding back her tears.

She knew that Kieran would treat her so badly for Regina because he cared about the previous Freya, that he thought of Regina as her, but she was still very sad and upset.

They had loved each other so deeply, they were both incredibly familiar with each other's bodies, how could he not be able to tell right from wrong!

"Let go of me!" Freya used her other hand to write down on the writing board with difficulty, "I was just giving her acupuncture!"

"It hurts, it hurts!"

Regina was still continuing to act, her tears falling down, "Kieran, don't let her treat me anymore, okay? She's really going to kill me!"

"My stomach hurts, my head hurts, my heart hurts, Kieran, what the hell did she do to me, why does my body hurt so much!"

The physical pain was too unbearable, and Freya tried to hold back her tears, but her eyes were still wet after all.

When he met the crystal tears in Freya's eyes, Kieran's heart trembled violently, and he could not help but let go of her wrist.

He even almost restrained himself from taking her into his arms and asking her if she was in pain.

Thinking that the woman in front of him was just a shameless ugly, he finally suppressed the thought.

He didn't want the ugly to think that he was letting her go because he was soft-hearted, and his eyes fell coldly on her face, "If you dare to play any tricks, I will make you pay the heaviest price!"

Freya was so angry that she wanted to burst into foul language, but she couldn't say anything, and writing such vulgar words on the writing board would easily set a bad example for the children, so she just glared at Kieran in anger and continued to give Regina acupuncture.

When she saw that Kieran was still letting Freya give her acupuncture, Regina's heart panicked to the extreme, and she was just about to do something to change her situation when Freya had already written several lines on the writing board.

"It's her body's problem that she hurts. She must co-operate with me to get proper acupuncture, otherwise, with her health condition, she will soon be incontinent."

Regina stared deathly at the writing board in Freya's hand for a long, long time before she found her voice.

"You're talking nonsense! I'm in perfect health! How could I be incontinent! You're just trying to hurt me! Don't believe this ugly, she's not a good person, she wants to kill me so she can take my place as your wife!"

"Kieran, this ugly is shameless and vicious, she wants to divide our relationship, don't believe her, okay?"

Hearing Regina's words, Jaden and Jalay's faces turned unpleasant.

In fact, just now, when Kieran grabbed Freya's wrist, the two of them wanted to make a move, but they had acted like they hated Freya in front of Regina, and if they made a move, they would be exposed, so they just resisted this impulse.

"I didn't mean to harm her! What I said was the truth!"

Freya wiped away the words on the writing board and continued to write down, "Has she had a precedent of bowel or urinary incontinence before? In fact, it's all a warning from her body that there's obvious damage to her intestines and other internal organs, and if she continues to delay, the consequences will be unthinkable!"

"Yes, Mommy didn't hold it in when she had diarrhoea before!" Jalay spoke as she tried to look worried, "I don't want anything to happen to Mommy! Please save my Mommy!"

The expression on Regina's face was unpredictable, she felt that Freya was not being kind in treating her, but she had to admit that Freya's medical skills were really impressive.

Freya could even tell that she was incontinent, could it be that what she said was true, that she might be incontinent in the future?

No!

If she really became like that, her life would be ruined!

If she couldn't hold it in public, she would be humiliated!

Regina's eyes fell inexplicably on Freya's face, she knew that she hated her to the core, but with Kieran around, she was sure that she wouldn't dare to harm her in this matter of healing!

Regina decided to accept Freya's treatment for the sake of her own health, as she would often come to Kelsington Bay in the future anyway, and when she recovered, she would have plenty of ways to make her beg for her life!

"I can save her, but I also need her cooperation!" Freya stared expressionlessly at Regina on the bed and continued to write, "If she insists on refusing treatment, when it drags on for too long, even if the Great Gods come, they won't be able to save her!"

"I'll accept the treatment!" Regina was afraid that Kieran would be disgusted with her because of something like incontinence, so she said in a hurry.

Not holding it in front of Kieran last time was the shame of her life, she would never allow it to happen again.

"Ugly Medical Fairy, I will cooperate with the treatment, please heal my body." After a pause, Regina continued, "Medical Fairy, can you really guarantee to heal my body?"

"Yes." Freya then wrote, "For a month, as long as you insist on acupuncture every day, I guarantee that even your usual diarrhea will improve in the future."

This was pure nonsense from Freya. It was indeed easy for her to cure Regina's illness, and it would not take more than three or five days to make her recover.

But her aim was not to cure her, but to completely destroy her body.

In a month's time, not only would Regina be incontinent, she would need several people to help her walk, and she would have to suffer from headaches and angina every day, and she would guarantee that she would suffer from illness for the rest of her life!

"What if I don't get well?" Regina bit her lip.

"If you don't get well, I'll do whatever you want!" Freya held the writing board in front of Regina. At the words on it, the corners of Regina's lips could not be restrained from rising.

She bet Freya wouldn't dare to do anything naughty!

The corners of Freya's lips curled up. A month later, it was not sure what will happen, if Regina wanted to deal with her, she had to be alive!

Regina cried and wailed for a while before Freya finished giving her the acupuncture.

In fact, normally acupuncture did not need to be so painful, but she had deliberately tortured Regina by stabbing several acupuncture points that caused severe pain, which was why she was in such pain.

After gathering the medicine box, Freya went downstairs to the living room, where Kieran was telling a story to the two little ones on the living room sofa. Looking at that warm picture, Freya's eyes started to get wet again.

She was just about to tell them that she would go back first, but the door to the living room was suddenly open and Seth came rushing in with an oversized food box.

The next second, he hugged Freya tightly.

Chapter 1116

Freya really didn't know what Seth was doing again in the middle of the night, and she subconsciously tried to push him away, but he hugged her tighter.

"Ugly girl, I haven't seen you during the day today, I miss you so much!"

Freya, "....." was that so exaggerated?

"Ugly girl, it's been so busy over at the hospital lately, I only came back from the hospital at night. I started making you a love night snack when I got back, I wanted to go over to the clinic to surprise you, but I didn't expect you were not there. I asked Dolly and found out that you had come over to my uncle's."

"Ugly girl, how is my boss's health? Are you tired after a busy day and having to treat her?"

Freya, "....." It was not like she could talk, he was holding her so tight, how was she going to get her to answer?!

Moreover, she didn't know if it was her illusion, she always felt that someone was staring at her with an extremely cold and austere sight behind her, making her feel that her back was also chilled.

It made her feel uncomfortable all over her body, as if she had done something very bad.

She couldn't stand the icy glare, so Freya subconsciously turned her face, and indeed, Kieran was staring at her coldly, as if she owed him hundreds of millions of dollars.

Freya was not that self-absorbed, she naturally knew that he would stare at her with such a look, not because he could not see her being close to others, he was jealous, he must think that she was not good enough for his nephew and did not want her to harm Seth!

The more Freya thought about it, the angrier she became, and she glared back without showing any weakness.

She was not afraid of him!

Seeing Freya and Seth hugging each other, Kieran was already furious, and now when he saw her glaring at him like a protest, he was even more furious that he wanted to kill her!

Before he could kill her, Seth grabbed Freya's hand again, "Ugly girl, look at you, you've lost weight! Come pm, let's have a love snack!"

"Ugly girl, didn't you say you liked egg yolk cakes? I learned how to make egg yolk cakes from the internet, and I made egg tarts!"

Seth said as he brought out two delicate little plates from inside the food box, “Ugly girl, try it! The egg yolk pastry with the egg tarts is really delicious! Oh, and the lotus root scented shrimp cakes, my specialty! And

Seth had already brought out eight plates of food from the food box.

Freya’s heart was warm, but she felt sorry.

Whether before or after her disfigurement, Seth had been too kind to her, but she could not give him anything.

Since she couldn’t give him anything, Freya didn’t want to keep hogging his goodness, but it was hard to get him to back off!

No matter how much she refused, this man was as indomitable as ever!

“Seth, thank you!” Since it was useless to refuse, it was better to eat first. Anyway, after she recovered and he knew she was his aunt, he would naturally know what to do and back off.

“Ugly girl, what are you talking about? Cooking for you is the happiest thing I can do! I want to cook you loving meals for the rest of my life!” Seth looked at Freya with deep affection, that handsome young face with undisguised adoration.

“Ahem

Freya was racking her brain on how to reply to Seth’s remark, and Kieran’s strange coughing sounded in the air.

It was as if Seth had only just noticed Kieran, and he pulled out a big smile at him, “Uncle Kieran, you’re here too! Are you hungry too? But these are all the loving evening snacks I made for the ugly girl, you can’t eat them!”

Kieran got up from the sofa with an expressionless face and walked to the front of the dining table, then took away the piece of custard that Freya was just about to pick up and ate it again with an expressionless face.

“It’s awful!”

Kieran continued to take the egg tart next to him and ate it with an expressionless face.

Seth was so angry that he jumped to his feet. How dare he eat it since it was awful!

But the psychological shadow of beating his uncle was too heavy for him to say this.

He could only watch as his precious and peerless uncle ate most of the food on the table in a noble and cold manner and continued to eat.

Freya looked at Kieran with dumbfounded eyes, what did Seth make that was so delicious? Although he was still eating elegantly, he really seemed to have eaten a bit too much!

Seeing that the food continued to dwindle, Seth could no longer hold back, “Uncle Kieran, this is the loving midnight snack I made for the ugly girl!”

Freya was afraid that Kieran would hold out, so she hastily wrote down on her writing board, "Mr. Fitzgerald, please stop eating, this is the midnight snack that Seth made for me."

Glancing at the words on Freya's writing board, Kieran's handsome face was directly covered by darkness, he coldly moved the plate in front of Freya away, "Want to have a midnight snack? Dream on!"

Without waiting for Freya's response, Kieran elegantly wiped his hands and ordered the maids to clean up the rest of the midnight snacks to the side, not giving her the chance to eat them at all.

Until the last plate on the table had been carried away, Freya still hadn't recovered from her shock.

Why did she feel that Kieran's words were more like saying, "Ugly, you want to be with my nephew, dream on?"

How come she hadn't realized before that Kieran liked Seth so much!

"Uncle Kieran!" Seth was going straight out of his mind when he saw his hard work all night go down the drain, "You give me back my loving midnight snack!"

Freya was a peace-loving girl, she didn't want any unnecessary strife and hurriedly wrote down on the writing board, "Seth, forget it, I'm not in the habit of eating midnight snacks, it's fine."

Freya felt that she had just spoken up for Kieran at any rate, but he didn't feel at all self-conscious about owing her a favour.

Not only that, he even turned to Seth with a dark, sullen face and said, "She's too fat! She should lose weight!"

What a woman couldn't stand the most was when someone called her ugly or fat.

Freya was already ugly enough now, she couldn't stand being called fat!

"Mr. Fitzgerald, you're going too far! I don't weigh as much as you, you're the one who's really fat!" Freya furiously put the writing board in front of Kieran, but she still didn't feel relieved when she wrote this, she wrote another sentence in anger, "You're fat!"

Kieran's figure was not really fat.

He was tall with a weight of seventy kilos, so when Freya said this, she was really a bit unconscionable.

This woman dared to call him fat, Kieran really wanted to teach her a lesson, but when he looked down, he met her red lips.

It was vibrant and charming like a poppy.

Suddenly, all the anger in his heart turned into an uncontrollable longing.

He leaned down, bewitched, and pressed his lips against hers.

Chapter 1117

“Medical Fairy, you must be thirsty after being busy for so long! I’ve squeezed mango juice for you, have a cup of mango juice!”

Hearing Jalay’s brittle voice, Kieran abruptly returned to his senses, fortunately, he merely lowered his head, so no one could see his intentions.

Hearing that there was mango juice to drink, Seth was happy, he took Freya’s hand and sat down on the sofa, “My baby is still sweet! Knowing that the ugly girl and I are thirsty, she’s squeezing juice for us!”

Jalay didn’t want to hurt Seth’s heart, but after looking at the lone cup of juice in her hand, she said truthfully, “Cousin, you’re thinking too much, I only prepared mango juice for Medical Fairy!”

Seth uttered, “Baby, why isn’t there any for me! You don’t love me anymore, do you!”

The corners of Jalay’s lips twitched, “You are less cute than Medical Fairy! My cup of juice is for the cutest person!”

Originally, being ignored, Seth was sad, but now, hearing Jalay praise Freya as cute, his face instantly became sunny again.

This was how it was when he liked someone, hearing her being praised was even happier than being rewarded himself.

Seth rubbed Jalay’s head, “You are right!”

He glanced at Freya again, with the usual boyfriend smugness, “My ugly girl is indeed cute!”

Jalay, “.....” Cousin, the ugly girl is probably mine!

Jalay felt that she would probably be the eventual winner, so she didn’t bother to argue with Seth as she pushed the mango juice towards Freya, “Medical Fairy, drink it! I am good at squeezing juice, try it. Is the juice I squeezed especially good?”

This was the juice Jalay had squeezed for her with her own hands.

Freya’s heart was so soft that she really couldn’t bear to refuse Jalay, but she couldn’t really drink this cup of mango juice.

She was allergic to mangoes.

She took the writing board and was just about to tell Jalay that she didn’t want to drink anything now, but Jalay picked up the cup of mango juice again and shoved it straight into her hand.

“Medical Fairy, drink it! If you don’t drink it, I’ll be very sad!”

Freya was resistant to the mango juice, and she subconsciously pushed the mango juice, and between her and Jalay’s push and send, the mango juice spilled out and just dripped on the back of her hand.

Freya quickly took the cup of mango juice and put it down, then took out her writing board and wrote down, “Jalay, thank you for your kindness, but I really can’t drink it now.”

Jalay didn’t even notice what was written on the writing board, but her eyes fell on the back of Freya’s hand, and her eyes instantly flushed red.

It was a rash!

She had taken the mango juice just to test the ugly girl on purpose, but she didn't expect the ugly girl to be allergic to mangoes too!

She had the same feeling as mommy, the same handwriting, and both allergic to mangoes.

If one thing was the same, it could be coincidence, but so many coincidences all coming together in one person could only mean one thing, she was Mommy!

"Jayla, what's wrong with you?" Seeing Jalay's eyes red, Freya was heartbroken, she continued to write down quickly, "Jayla, don't be sad, I'm really full tonight!"

As soon as Freya finished speaking, Jalay jumped into her arms.

She wanted to call out to Freya as "mommy", but she was afraid that Freya would not like her to call her that.

She could only hug her harder and harder and feel the warmth of her mommy's body.

Seeing Jalay crying so hard, Freya was so anxious, she wanted to comfort her some more, but she couldn't make a sound. Jayla was buried in her arms at the moment, and she couldn't see it even when Freya was writing with her writing board.

"Baby, don't be sad, ugly girl doesn't want to drink the mango juice, I can drink it!" Seeing Jalay's sad look with this shoulder twitching, Seth was also heartbroken, he took the mango juice on the coffee table and drank it down in one go.

"Baby, the mango juice you squeezed is delicious! You can squeeze it for her again tomorrow, she'll love it too!"

"Baby, don't cry! Ugly girl doesn't like little kids who cry, she won't like you if you cry like that!"

Jalay didn't want her crying look to be annoying to Freya, she hurriedly crawled out of her arms, showing her red eyes, "Medical Fairy, I like you so much, can you not dislike me?"

"You are so cute, how can I not like you!" Freya continued to write on the writing board, "It's getting late, I'll go back first. Jalay, you get some rest early."

Jalay was going to say, "Medical Fairy, can you not go back tonight? I wanted to sleep with you."

However, before she could say those words, she saw Freya's red-stained face.

And, the writing board in her hand.

Stunned, she looked at Freya, and her tears fell off again.

Mommy actually loved beauty, now, her face was ruined, she had become a mute, and Daddy was always bullying her, how sad she should be!

It was impossible for a good face to turn bad somehow, and how much suffering Mommy had suffered in places they couldn't see!

The more she thought about it, the more upset she became, and even though Jalay tried to hold back her tears, her tears still fell.

Seeing Jalay crying so hard, Freya suddenly panicked, she scrambled to wipe away the tears on her face, at this moment, she was incomparably disgusted with herself for being a mute.

Not being able to speak, even coaxing a child was extraordinarily difficult.

“Jayla, you don’t want the ugly girl go back, right?”

Seeing Jalay nod, Seth hurriedly added, “I also think it’s inconvenient for ugly girl to go back at this late hour. How about this, let her stay at my place first? I live right behind your house anyway, and you’ll be able to see her again early tomorrow morning!”

Jalay shook her head vigorously.

She did not want Mommy to stay at Seth’s house!

Even a blind man could see that Seth had bad intentions for Mommy.

“Cousin, there’s no need to bother you, just let Medical Fairy stay at our house.” Jaden spoke up at the right time, his eyes complex.

Seth didn’t continue to argue with Jaden, although he really quite wanted to spend time alone with the ugly girl tonight, he couldn’t bear to hurt the hearts of these two lovely babies.

He grinned and clutched Freya’s hand, “Okay, then, I’ll stay here tonight too! Ugly girl, do you like it upstairs or downstairs? Which room should we stay in tonight?”

“Ugly girl, tonight, let’s live together, shall we? Just thinking about living with you makes me so happy!”

Chapter 1118

Cousin Seth still wanted to stay in the same room with Mommy!

Jaden and Jalay looked at each other, and right then, they had an idea.

Jalay was just about to speak, and Kieran’s voice rang out in the air, “Seth, you’re staying with me!”

“With you?” Seth’s face was shocked and he boldly said to Kieran, “Uncle Kieran, I still want to chat with the ugly girl tonight and improve our relationship!”

Kieran’s face became unpleasant. He didn’t believe that a man and a woman could be in the same room together just to chat and improve their relationship!

Seeing that Kieran was not moved at all, Seth spoke up again, “Uncle Kieran, Boss is still waiting for you in the room! If you don’t stay with her, she will be very upset! Do you want to leave her alone?”

“Freya is already asleep.” Kieran didn’t give Seth any chance to refuse, he turned around and took the lead to head upstairs, “I’ll wait for you in the room next to the study!”

Damn it!

Seth wanted to growl.

Seth slapped his head hard, trying to wipe away all those nonsense thoughts in his head, it was really too damn scary! He always felt that tonight he was a sheep in a tiger's mouth.

Seeing Seth's defeated look, Jalay took a lot of effort to hold back her laughter.

It seemed that even if Daddy didn't recognise Mommy, he couldn't help but be attracted to her! Tonight, he was jealous!

Jalay jumped down from the sofa and hugged Freya's arm, "Cousin Seth, daddy is waiting for you upstairs! You should go and find daddy now! Medicine Fairy, will you sleep with me tonight? I can't sleep alone."

Jaden gave a disgusting glance at Jayla. He actually wanted Freya to sleep with him, but he felt that he was already a little man, so it would be too humiliating if he had to sleep with someone else!

Freya had no intention of staying at Kelsington Bay, but she wanted to spend more time with the two little ones so much that she eventually went to their room.

As soon as she entered the room, Jalay hugged her hard again.

"Mommy! Medical Fairy, you're my Mommy, aren't you?! I recognise you! You are my Mommy! Mommy, I miss you so much."

Jaden's eyes were red as he jumped into Freya's arms, "Mommy, I miss you so much too."

Freya half squatted on the ground, looking at the two little kids in her arms in a daze. She did not expect that they would have recognized her.

She thought that she would have to go through a lot more trouble to gain their trust, but she did not expect that these two little kids were far more intelligent than she had imagined.

Jaden, Jayla, Mommy misses you too, said Freya silently in her heart, as she hugged them hard, her heart was warm like never before.

"Mommy, where exactly were you taken by Caelan? How did you become like this?" The more Jalay spoke, the more upset she became, and the more her voice choked up, "Mommy, it was that bad man Caelan who bullied you, wasn't it? I must avenge you!"

"I won't spare that big devil either!" Jaden clenched his little fist and said word by word, "What he inflicted on mommy, I will get back a thousand times on him!"

Freya really wanted to hold these two little kids all the time, but for a mute person, holding two kids like this really affected communication.

Suppressing the reluctance in her heart, Freya gently let go of them, and took the writing board to the side.

"Jaden, Jalay, you don't have to worry, I will get better. I've already formulated the medicine to cure my throat, it's just that it hasn't recovered yet, so maybe if I drink it a few more times, I'll be fine."

"I will also find a way to cure my face."

Freya didn't tell the two little ones about Alistair. Caelan was so cunning, it wasn't that easy for them to get him out, so she didn't want the two little ones to worry too much either.

The world is so big, and Alistair is just a drop in the ocean, so if Caelan threw him into a place no one was there, even Kieran would feel it hard to find him.

There were some roads that Freya really didn't want to take, but she knew in her heart that the only way for Alistair to be safe and sound was to wait until Caelan reappeared and used her to get Alistair back.

Therefore, she did not want Kieran to know that she was Freya now.

In fact, she didn't want Kieran to know her identity, but she also had some personal feelings. She was angry that he didn't believe her, couldn't recognize her and bullied her.

She was even angrier at him for being tricked by Regina, for taking an impostor and holding her in his heart.

"Mommy, you don't want to tell daddy who you are, do you?" Jaden rather heartily saw through Freya's thoughts, "Mommy, don't worry, as long as you don't want to tell him, we won't tell Daddy! He always makes you angry!"

"Right, we won't tell daddy, so daddy can continue to be anxious!" After saying this, Jalay felt that Kieran seemed to be a bit pitiful, "Actually, Mommy, you shouldn't blame Daddy! Daddy just decided that you were captured by Caelan and couldn't have escaped, that's why he didn't want to believe that you were our mommy."

"What do you mean he's decided that it's impossible for me to escape?" Freya wrote down, "Didn't he think Regina was me?"

"That fake is really Regina!" Jalay couldn't help but exclaim, "Regina really does have nine lives!"

"Mommy, daddy actually already knew that Regina was not you, he just knew Caelan that big devil liked watching the show the most, if he was fooled by the counterfeit Mommy, the big devil would continue to watch the show, but if he recognized the counterfeit Mommy, the big devil would run out of patience to watch the show."

"When the Big Devil runs out of patience to watch the show, he will hurt you, Mommy. Daddy thinks that you are still in the hands of the Big Devil and he is afraid that you will be hurt, so he can only pretend that he is good with counterfeit Mommy."

"Mommy, daddy really loves you!"

Hearing Jalay's words, Freya's eyes couldn't control the redness. He did love her very much, but she didn't know if he could still, as always, love her when she had become so ugly.

Freya subconsciously touched her face, she kept reassuring herself and the two little ones that her face would get better, but she knew in her heart that it might not.

As she listened to the two little ones rambling to her, Freya soon fell into sleep.

The two little ones said that tomorrow, they would give her a big surprise.

She had been dreaming about what the surprise would be tomorrow.

Little did she know that early the next morning, she saw the surprise the two little ones were talking about.

Chapter 1119

The two kids surprised her with a person.

The living Kiki.

In fact, the fact that Kiki was still alive had been reported by quite a few media outlets, but recently Freya hadn't been watching the news much apart from seeing other people and researching the poison in her own body, so she didn't know about her being alive.

At first glance, seeing the living Kiki standing right in front of her, Freya's eyes instantly flooded with tears.

"Freya?! Are you really Freya?"

Kiki stepped forward and she hugged Freya in her arms with all her might, "I know you're Freya! You are Freya!"

When she received the message from the two little ones last night, Kiki was so excited that she stayed up all night, and early this morning, she rushed to the two little ones' room.

She had thought of a thousand images of her reunion with Freya, but she had never imagined that she would look like this.

Seeing Freya's face covered with red marks, Kiki was heartbroken, she examined Freya's body carefully, "Freya, how did you get like this? You're hurt too, aren't you?"

Freya shook her head gently, "Kiki, I'm fine."

"Kiki, you're still alive, that's great!"

After saying these words, Freya was stunned into instantly freezing in place, she could actually speak!

Although her voice sounded a lot huskier than before, it was an unexpected surprise for her to be able to make a sound.

The two little ones also heard Freya's voice, and they were so excited that they went forward and hugged Freya's arms left and right, "Mommy, it's great that you can talk!"

"Yes, it's so good to be able to talk." Freya spoke with a light smile. In the future when she was bullied by Kieran again, she would be able to fight back quickly.

"Freya, what exactly happened to you?" Kiki's face was filled with worry.

"Kiki, I was just captured by Caelan, he injected me with drugs that turned mute and disfigured me, but later, I looked for an opportunity to escape."

Freya said this in an understatement, but Kiki knew that she must have experienced many dangers.

“Freya, it’s good to be back, it’s good to be back.” Kiki murmured over and over again. No matter what Freya’s face had become, as long as Freya could live, she was already incredibly grateful to the heavens.

“Kiki, how have you been doing lately? Did you suffer a lot and a lot during the time you faked your death?”

Thinking of something, Freya hurriedly asked again, “Kiki, did Leah really get together with Quinn?”

“Freya, that was all a misunderstanding, Quinn and I have already made up.”

Speaking of Quinn, Kiki’s face took on a light blush, “He’s really good to me.”

“The time I was captured by Flynn, I did suffer some hardships, but they are all in the past. I cherish the time I have now, and we will all get better and better.”

The person who captured Kiki was Flynn.

Thinking of Flynn’s hatred for Kiki, Freya’s heart felt a pang of fear, fortunately, Flynn did not twist to cause a lifetime of irreparable damage to Kiki.

There are some things that the media reports that really can’t be trusted, and since Kiki said that there was nothing between Leah and Quinn, then there should really be nothing between them.

The two of them hadn’t even spoken for a while before Quinn hurriedly came after them.

Quinn followed everywhere Kiki went.

Before, Kiki had misunderstood him and he had worked so hard to coax her back, so of course he had to take good care of her.

What was more, during the time she was captured by Flynn, it was Christ who had been trying to rescue her, and Christ had even risked his life for her.

Therefore, he had to be doubly kind to her.

Kiki did not want to hide this from Quinn, and she just wanted to tell him that it was Freya who had returned.

However, before she could say this, a servant came over and said that Kieran had asked the ugly girl to give Regina acupuncture.

Freya looked at the time. Last night, she had indeed said that she would give Regina another acupuncture session before eight o’clock this morning.

In order to make Regina completely incontinent, Freya certainly had to try harder.

She thought that she was going to Kieran’s room to give Regina acupuncture, but to her surprise, both he and Regina were in the living room.

Wrapped in a thick cloak, Regina was nestled on the sofa in the living room. Kieran had a bowl of porridge in his hand, feeding it to her carelessly.

Seeing their lovey-dovey look, the anger in Freya's heart flared up. Jaden and Jalay glanced at each other, both of them tacitly thinking, "Daddy has started to cause trouble again."

Kiki silently covered her face. Why did she think Mr. Fitzgerald always cause troubles for himself?

"Doesn't she need acupuncture? It seems a bit inconvenient inside the living room." Freya suppressed the anger surging in her heart and spoke with a wry smile.

He didn't expect Freya to suddenly speak, and Kieran couldn't help but be stunned.

It was hoarse, soft, and tingly all the way to the bottom of his heart.

"Freya wants to eat first, and then have acupuncture afterwards." Kieran spoke briefly and succinctly, and after saying this, he continued to feed Regina her porridge.

"Kieran, last night, she stabbed me so much that it hurt." Regina spoke pitifully.

Kieran wrinkled his brows as he turned his face to stare coldly at Freya, "Who told you to make her hurt! If you dare to make her hurt again today, I won't spare you!"

Here it goes again!

Freya was so angry that she sneered in her heart. She knew that Kieran was deliberately pretending to be nice to Regina, but she was just not comfortable in her heart when he always treated her so badly for Regina's sake.

"Don't worry, I definitely won't make her hurt today."

Posing herself as a doctor, Freya walked up to Regina, "Does it still itch on you?"

"It doesn't itch anymore." Thinking that Freya had really cured the itch on her body, Regina felt more and more that, with Kieran around, Freya would cure her.

She could let Freya cure her, but during this period of time, she would definitely not let Freya feel better.

Regina looked at Kieran and softly spoke, "Kieran, why don't you let the Medical Fairy take my pulse first, my stomach is uncomfortable."

"Medical Fairy, didn't you say you would cure my tummy, why is my tummy more uncomfortable this morning?"

"The damage to your intestines is too severe, it can't be cured overnight, it's normal for the pain to be stronger during the healing process."

"Oh, so it's like that." Regina said pretending to look as if she had a sudden understanding, but the gleam of resentment in her eyes could not be restrained from coalescing.

Freya could talk, she was so good at healing, so maybe her face would get better sometime too.

No, she had to find a way to get in touch with Caelan, before Freya's face got better, she had to make Freya disappear completely!

Regina lifted her face, she glanced around.

Seeing the two kids pestering Quinn and Kiki for a chat, and Kieran looking out of the window, neither of them noticing her and Freya's side, a plan came to Regina's mind.

Chapter 1120

With the force in her hand, she knocked over the meal and porridge on the end table, and making up her mind, she grabbed a piece of ceramic chip and scratch the back of her hand viciously.

After doing so, she quickly threw the chip away and screamed hysterically, "Medical Fairy, what are you doing! Aren't you going to cure me, and why do you suddenly harm me? Kieran, help! She's going to kill me!"

"Kieran, let my master come and cure me. She's not really curing me at all. If I let her stay here any longer, I'll definitely be killed by her!"

Hearing Regina's scream, Kieran slowly turned around, and his eyes, numbly, fell on the back of Regina's hand, and when he looked at Freya, his eyes couldn't help but have a bit more severity.

"Who tells you to hurt Freya?! Apologise to Freya!"

"Kieran, what's the purpose of apologising! It doesn't mean anything at all!"

Regina raised her hand aggrievedly, "Look how my hand has been hurt! Kieran, you must get justice for me! You said that if anyone dares to hurt me, you will hurt him/her more ! Kieran, if you don't keep your word, I'll be very sad."

With that, Regina sobbed with sadness.

These two kids looked at each other, and their faces turned ghastly for a moment. They really did not expect, Regina in front of so many people, dared to conduct such behavior!

If daddy stood up for Regina and hurt mummy, it would be even harder for daddy to chase his wife!

"Freya, how do you want me to help you?"

"Kieran, doctors are supposed to help the world and save people, and she only thinks about harming people. There is no point in keeping her hands!"

Regina rolled her watery eyes, looking more and more benign and pitiful, "Kieran, don't misunderstand, I'm not that bad, and I just don't want anyone else like me to be hurt by her on purpose! Kieran, she is really too vicious and she don't deserve to be a doctor at all!"

Kieran didn't say anything, and he just leaned down without any haste and picked up a sharp and broken ceramic chip from the ground.

Even if he didn't say anything, seeing his action, the crowd understood that he wanted to do something.

He wanted to, personally, hurt Freya!

Kiki Hartsell was so anxious that she defended Freya, "Kieran, calm down! Put down what you're holding! Do you know who she is?"

“It doesn’t matter to me who she is, and all I know is that she hurts Freya and should pay the price!”

“Who says that the ugly girl hurts her!” Seth rushed down the stairs and pulled Freya into his arms, “I see it clearly from the stairway just now. She break the bowl herself and she cuts the back of her hand by herself!”

“She likes to abuse herself and she deserves the pain. What does this have to do with the ugly girl?!”

After saying this, Seth carefully clutched Freya’s small hand again, “Ugly girl, don’t be afraid, and I will not let anyone hurt you.”

“Not even, if it’s my uncle Kieran!”

Seeing Seth pulling and hugging Freya like this, Jayla couldn’t help but feel a little anxious, “cousin, let go of Medical Fairy! Look, you’re pulling her hand all swollen!”

“Little brat, what do you know!” Seth dotingly patted Jayla’s little head, “This means that the ugly girl and me love each other! We’re going to hold hands like this and walk for the rest of our lives!”

” Medical Fairy will not live with you for the rest of her life! She’ll only be with my dad ... ”

Realizing what she had said had revealed something, she hastily covered her little mouth to keep Freya’s identity from being revealed.

If they revealed Mummy’s identity and Daddy didn’t believe them, Mummy would definitely be more upset.

They could only hope that Daddy would soon find out this fact by himself.

“Take your hand out!” Kieran looked at Freya and ordered in a cold voice.

“Take out my hands for what?!” Freya was really angry with Kieran, “Take out my hands to be cut off by you? Kieran, you’re doing this to me for her. Why are you so cruel!”

“No matter what she says, you believe her, right? All right! Since you believe her so much, I will now make that I hurt her to be a fact!”

Freya rapidly grabbed a piece of broken ceramic chip and scratched fiercely at Regina’s arm, “That’s the real harm!”

After saying this, Freya proudly raised her little face, wearing her sneakers, and walked out of the living room with unparalleled grace.

Kieran felt that in order to keep his own persona of spoiling wife, he had to hurt her because she had hurt the counterfeit woman to bleed.

But looking at her stubborn and weak back, he couldn’t really do anything to her.

So he could only put on a worried face and clutched Regina’s hand, “Freya, how are you? Does it hurt a lot?”

Kieran, why are you so cruel!

This word repeatedly appeared in the mind of Kieran. He didn't know why the more he thought about her demeanor and actions just now, the more familiar he felt, so familiar that something, in his heart, could no longer be suppressed.

Because Kieran was so distracted, he was oblivious to the fact that he had scratched Regina's wound.

Originally, Regina was already in so much pain that she doubted her life, and when Kieran grabbed the wound with such great force, she only felt that the flesh on her body was about to rot open, and she didn't even have the strength to speak for a while.

"Kieran ... hurt ... so hurt ... "

After a long, long time, Regina finally gave her voice. But Kieran did not even look at her, and rushed outside the living room.

Regina looked at Kieran's back incredulously, and she subconsciously got up and tried to chase him back. But she forgot about her severely damaged ribs. When she moved, she fell directly on the floor, and she clearly felt that her ribs, again, were misaligned.

What was even more tragic was that she had fallen just above the small piece of broken ceramic chip, and, where the most ceramic chips had fallen is the place where her face had landed. It seemed that her eyes had been pierced by the ceramic chip, and in that instant, the pain was so great that she could not even scream.

"Mummy, what's wrong with you?!" Jayla put on a nervous look to help Regina, and but in the process of doing so, she put on a look of lack of strength on purpose.

After holding her up until her face left the ground, she violently withdrew her strength, causing Regina's face to make a second close contact with the broken ceramic chips, directly knocking her out from the pain.

Jayla stretched her hands innocently and looked at Jaden and Kiki Hartsell and asked, "Brother, Auntie Kiki, what should we do now?"

"Go watch the good show of course!" When Jaden finished speaking, he opened the curtains for french windows in the living room and looked outside eagerly.

With his keen eyes, he could see that just now, daddy had recognised mummy!

I'm looking forward to Daddy chasing his wife and being abused by Mummy all the way!
