

Talented 1301

Chapter 1301

Darcey's voice was heavy with malice, "I'd like to see if this little slave is more important in your heart or your life is more important!"

"Oh, as long as you break this little slave's legs and make a clean break with her, you will, from now on, not be a slave!"

"From now on, you'll be my best friend, you'll be able to eat and live just like me, have endless money, and you'll be one of the most honourable people on this island! Not only that, I will also have your leg cured, you will never have to be a cripple again!"

"Live well, or, die miserably, Leo, which will you choose?!"

Jayla suddenly raised her face, she stared at Darcey in annoyance, she really didn't expect that a girl not older than her by a few years would already use such cruel means to threaten others.

Live well, die miserably

No one wants to die miserably.

To be thrown into the wolf pens and torn apart by the wolves is a horrible death to think about.

Leo, for sure, did not want to die that miserable death.

She didn't want, either, her best friend to die that miserable death.

Leo tightened his face and didn't say a word.

Seeing this, Darcey took another step forward, and she looked at him with a puzzled expression, "Is it hard to make a choice? This little slave, in your heart, is actually so important?"

"Leo, let me tell you, the wolves we have on this island are all incredibly ferocious, I'll have someone throw you into the wolf pen, it won't bite you to death, it'll bite off your flesh one bite at a time and let you bleed to death!"

Jayla wasn't that timid, but she still couldn't restrain herself from shivering when she heard Darcey's words.

When they die, no one will do them justice, let alone pay for their lives, or even have someone to collect their bodies.

When they first arrived, they saw that a slave had accidentally angered his master, who had shot him so many times that he was thrown into the sea to feed the fish.

Feeding the wolves is better than feeding the fish!

Darcey was not scaring them when she said that she would feed Leo to the wolves, there was a real possibility that she would do that.

Jayla is actually a somewhat proud little girl who feels that it is better to wait for Leo to take the initiative to bring up the stick to break her leg than to take the initiative to ask for it herself.

That, at the very least, would have been a relatively perfect end to their friendship.

“Leo, you break my leg!” Jayla spoke softly, she wanted to try to raise a smile so that she could show him that she was not at all afraid of having her legs broken.

But the thought of breaking her leg would hurt so badly and painfully that she couldn’t muster a big smile after all.

On the contrary, she had a smile on her face that was worse than tears.

“Jayla, aren’t you afraid of pain?” Leo spoke with an expressionless face, but a child of over seven years old, now, already had the ability to hide his emotions perfectly.

“No.” Jayla’s face went white, but she still tried to raise her lips and spoke, “Not afraid at all.”

With those words, she gently lowered her face.

She knew that Leo had made his choice and that he was going to break her legs.

She doesn’t blame Leo for this, really, not at all.

Being torn apart and eaten by wolves is truly horrible, and breaking her legs is, relatively speaking, the best way to end up.

Although, she really didn’t want to, walk with a limp or even stand up for the rest of her life.

Jayla felt that she was really quite strange. She also wanted her friend to be well and not to be hurt by the evil wolf, but she still felt sad and upset when she thought of him taking a stick and breaking her leg viciously.

Hearing Leo’s words, Darcey’s heart was overjoyed, she knew it, people all are life conscious, she threatened him with his life, he would definitely not ignore her again for this annoying little slave!

“Leo, you don’t have to break her leg all at once! You can hit her a few more times!”

Darcey spoke brittlely, her voice with an obvious pleasing tone, “Leo, as long as you break her legs and ignore her, I will really treat you as my best friend!”

“The ChapmanWallace family is one of the richest families on this island, and after you become my friend, you can have whatever you want!”

“slave is not even worthy of being your friend!”

“Send me to the wolf pen!” Leo spoke in waves, as if, what he said was not to go to the wolf pen to send to death, but just to say in a cloudy manner.

“What?!” Darcey’s eyes rounded in shock, and for a moment, her expression became rigid, and even, she slightly suspected that her ears were out of order.

She spoke stiffly, "Leo, what did you say just now? I didn't hear you clearly, say what you just said again!"

"Send me to the wolf pen!" Leo's face was expressionless, and in his voice, it was as if he still carried a touch of carelessness.

Darcey's eyes widened, almost to the point of staring out of her eyes.

She stared at him incredulously, how she dared not think that he would rather go to the wolf pens and be cruelly eaten by hungry wolves than break the legs of this little slave!

Jayla's face was also filled with shock, obviously, she also did not expect that Leo would make such a choice.

After a brief moment of shock, there was an indescribable feeling of warmth and emotion.

She knew that Leo was typically cold on the outside and warm on the inside. Although he always ignored her, in fact, he already considered her as his best friend.

How could a man whose leg was broken for her, a man who would rather starve himself than leave her hot buns, break her leg!

Jayla felt very guilty because, she had underestimated Leo's friendship for her.

Leo is willing to be foolish, but Jayla is not willing to let him be so foolish.

She spoke with red eyes, "Leo, you can't go to the wolf trap! You break my legs! It's just two legs anyway, just break them as you please!"

"It's okay if you break my legs, it's really okay! If you don't break my legs, you'll get bitten by a bad wolf!"

"What will I do if you get bitten to death and I'm here alone! And your mother, she's still waiting for you to come home."

"Jayla, you will not be alone, your parents will soon find you." Thinking of his mother, a quick flash of sadness passed through Leo's eyes, but in an instant, it was replaced by stubborn determination.

He fondly withdrew his eyes from Jayla and coldly spoke to Darcey, "I'm going to the wolf pen! Don't hurt Jayla again!"

Darcey was so angry that her heart beat violently, she was furious that Leo cared so much about Jayla.

But no matter how angry she was, she didn't want to send Leo to the wolf pen, but she loved face the most, so many servants, had already heard what she said, he had already made a decision that he would rather feed himself to the wolves than hurt Jayla. If she didn't feed him to the wolves, the servants would have to laugh at her.

She, Darcey, the most noble little princess of Anla Island, could not bear such ridicule!

Darcey raised her chin high, her face full of the superiority of being above people.

"Send him to the wolf pen and feed him to the wolves!"

Chapter 1302

“No!”

Jayla grabbed Leo’s hand with a firm grip, as if, as soon as she let go, he would be devoured by a vicious wolf and she would never see him again.

“Break my legs! Leo, break my legs quickly! If you don’t break my legs, I’m really going to get angry!”

Jayla tried to talk to him about what was at stake so that he would change his mind.

“Look, Leo, even if you break my legs and I can still live, it’s not really much of a loss. But if you go to feed the wolves, you’ll really never come back! Leo, you choose to let yourself go and feed the wolves, so we really suffer so much!”

“Jayla, you can’t become a cripple!” Leo’s eyes calmly looked at Jayla and spoke in one word.

A man like him, born in the mud, is by nature an ant, and when he is crippled, so is he.

But Jayla is different, she is the sweetest little princess in the world, she should be wearing a princess dress, with the sweetest smile, shining, not like him, not seeing the light.

“Leo, I forbid you even more to feed the wolves!”

“Jayla, if you become crippled, your loved ones will be sad.”

Hearing Leo’s words, Jayla’s tears restrained from rolling down.

Her families will be upset when she is crippled, and won’t his family be upset when he is sent to feed the wolves?

His mother has a very serious heart condition, and they are dependent on each other, what would his mother do if he died!

“Leo, you big fool!”

Jayla wiped away the tears at the corners of her eyes as she quickly stepped forward, snatched the stick from Darcey’s hand and smashed it hard into her own legs.

Anyway, what Darcey wanted was to break her legs, and as long as her legs were broken, Leo would not have to be sent to feed the wolves.

He had broken his leg once for her, and this time, she was willing, too, to break hers in order to protect him!

“Jayla!”

Leo’s pupils suddenly tightened, his legs were a bit lame and he didn’t walk that conveniently, but at this moment, he didn’t know how he did it, he actually rushed to Jayla and pounced tightly on her legs.

She dropped the stick so hard that it failed to break her legs and landed on his back instead.

“Leo!”

Jayla, this time, was holding the idea of breaking her own leg with all her might, and she was particularly ruthless in her strike, as she landed this stick, a strand of blood seeped out from the corner of Leo's lips.

"Leo, how are you?"

Seeing Leo lying helplessly on the ground, Jayla was so anxious that she couldn't restrain her tears, she hugged him hard and cried so hard that she couldn't catch her breath, "Leo, who allowed you to block for me! Do you know that I will beat you to death!"

"Oooh"

This blow from Jayla struck Leo so hard that he could not speak for a moment, and he took a while to ease up before he regained his voice.

He wiped the bright red from the corner of his lips and lifted his face, his brows clear, cold and detached, but with a reassuring warmth.

"Jayla, I'm fine."

Looking at the tip of the little girl's red nose, Leo's heart suddenly contracted, and the pain in his heart was actually more painful than his back.

"Leo, do you think I'm stupid! You're bleeding, how can you be fine?! Leo, I'm really angry at you for being like this!"

She knew that he wanted to stick his neck out for her, but she, Jayla, could also stick her neck out for her best friend and go through fire and water.

"Jayla, I'm not lying to you, I'm not in pain, I'm not in pain at all." Leo paused and then spoke, "I'm a man, I'm not afraid of pain!"

Listening to Leo's words, Jayla cried harder, she cried so hard that she couldn't speak straight away and could only sob incessantly.

Her white and tender face is covered with tear marks.

"Jayla, don't you cry."

Leo's eyebrows were knitted tightly, he found that he especially could not see Jayla cry, as long as she did not cry, he was willing to give her all the vitamins.

Jayla didn't want to cry in front of such an annoying Darcey, but she simply couldn't restrain herself and she continued to shed tears one after another.

"Leo, I'm angry, I'm really angry!" After Jayla found her voice, she pouted her mouth in exasperation, with a good angry look.

"Leo, you're so unloving, I'm really angry! I'll never talk to you again! If you ever stop me from breaking my legs again, I won't have you as a friend!"

With that, Jayla grabbed the stick that had fallen to the ground and tried to smash it against his body again.

“Jayla, stop it!”

Leo coughed hard, and he went to block the stick in Jayla’s hand again regardless.

Jayla was afraid of hitting him again and hurriedly threw the stick in his hand aside.

She was furious and angry, and her big, watery eyes were so red they looked like they were bleeding.

Leo grabbed her wrist in a deadly grip, not wanting to let go of her in the slightest, “Jayla, if you want to break your legs, you’ll have to break mine first!”

Jayla covered her face and crouched straight to the ground, whimpering and crying.

How could she possibly be willing to break her best friend’s legs!

Seeing such a deep friendship between Jayla and Leo, Darcey’s face carried a hint of anger.

She glared angrily at Leo and spoke word by word, “Leo, if you don’t break Jayla’s legs, you will definitely regret it! Now, you can play the hero, I don’t believe you will still be this heroic when you see the vicious wolf our family has raised!”

“Send me to the wolf pen!” Leo looked at Darcey without any half-hearted fear in his eyes, “I will obediently wait to be pounced on by hungry wolves, but please keep your word too and don’t hurt Jayla again!”

“Leo

Darcey was so angry that her teeth itched and she ground her teeth hard, eventually, to the point where her grooves hurt.

But she really wanted to be friends with Leo, even though he had angered her time and again, she wanted to give him one last chance.

“Leo, I’ll give you one last minute to think about it, if you get thrown into the wolf pen by my men, your life will be completely ruined! You

“Send me to the wolf pens!”

When she saw that Leo was so insensitive, she didn’t want to talk to him any more. Why don’t you drag him to the wolf pen!”

“Yes, Miss.”

At Darcey’s command, several tall servants rushed over and grabbed Leo in a deadly grip.

Jayla pounced on them and tried to push them away, but their strength was too great and she was no match for them with this strength.

“Leo! You guys hurry up and let go of Leo!”

Before Jayla could grab Leo, her shoulder, too, was viciously grabbed, and Darcey’s eyes swept down on her face resentfully, “Jayla, don’t worry, I’ll let you enjoy the tragic sight of Leo being eaten by the vicious wolf!”

Chapter 1303

Darcey winked at the maids on the side and they forcibly grabbed Jayla and Leo and headed for the wolf pen at the back of the villa.

The wolf pen was not far from the villa and soon, Jayla and Leo were brought outside the wolf pen.

Outside the wolf enclosure, there are guardrails made of steel and standing aside, you can clearly see inside.

Inside are six dire grey and black wolves, fierce as they look.

Darcey raised her chin proudly and looked at Jayla and Leo with disdain, "See? This is the wolf raised by our ChapmanWallace family! Leo, throw you in, in less than a minute, you'll be torn apart by the vicious wolves! Do you really want to die a miserable death for the sake of Jayla, an ugly monster?!"

"You talk so much nonsense!" Leo spoke indifferently.

"You!"

Darcey was almost angry, the same pretty little girl, he was willing to be torn apart by vicious wolves for Jayla, but he always treated her with all kinds of dislike, what exactly was she not better than Jayla?

Darcey gritted her teeth, she felt that Leo could be so stubborn, it must be because he didn't know the seriousness of the problem yet.

When he sees with his own eyes the bloody image of a vicious wolf pouncing on his food, he is bound to back off.

With this in mind, she hastily ordered the keeper, who was respectfully standing by, "Send a sheep in to feed the wolves!"

The keeper didn't dare to delay at all and hurriedly took a live sheep from a sheep pen not far away and sent it inside the wolf pen.

Originally, those few wolves, still resting leisurely inside the wolf pen, saw this sheep being brought in, and their eyes instantly emerged with an eerie green light.

There was no suspense, the sheep was torn apart by them in a flash, screaming in agony.

Darcey's face, already high in the air, and seeing the bloody images in the wolves' circle, she became more arrogant.

"Leo, what about it? Now, do you still want to go to the wolf pen and feed the wolves?"

Jayla's face was already as white as paper.

The image of the wolf tearing the sheep apart just now echoed in her mind over and over again like a magic spell.

When she thought that Leo would also die in such a way in the mouth of these wolves, Jayla's body could not restrain herself from trembling, and her heart hurt.

She had been in danger many times, but never, ever had she faced death so close.

One moment, the lamb was alive and well, but in the next, all that was left was its bloodstained hide.

It's disastrous.

"He's not going to feed the wolves!"

Jayla was afraid that Leo would again disobey Darcey without fear of death and spoke up before him. After saying this, she hurriedly turned her face to look at him, "Leo, don't go to feed the wolves! I beg you, don't go feed the wolves, okay?"

"Leo, I know you care about me as a friend, but I care about you too! Please, break my legs! Leo, I beg you!"

"Are you worried that if I get my legs broken, I won't be able to get married in the future and I'll cry? It's okay Leo, if I really can't get married, when we grow up, you can marry me!"

"Leo, it's better to die than to live. Even if I break my legs, at least I'll still be alive, but if you're eaten by wolves, you'll really have nothing! Leo, please break my legs, okay?"

Jayla was so anxious that tears were falling from her eyes. She desperately hoped that Leo would change his mind, but looking at his face, which did not have a half-hearted change of expression, she knew that he would not be swayed.

"Jayla, don't cry!"

Leo really couldn't bear to see Jayla's eyes red with tears, "Jayla, you won't really be able to get married until you cry and get ugly!"

"Jayla, be well."

After saying this, Leo no longer paid attention to Jayla, but spoke to Darcey word for word, "You can send me in now!"

"Leo!"

Darcey was so angry that she jumped to her feet, and seeing so many servants around her waiting for her orders, her face became more and more ugly.

It was really humiliating to say no, but throwing Leo into the wolf trap was something she really couldn't do.

She didn't know what was wrong with her, she was a noble person, she was a star attraction, the children on this island, they all fought to be friends with her and flattered her in every way.

She didn't care that much about being friends with those kids, but the first time she saw Leo, she wanted to be friends with this stubborn teenager who didn't give a damn about her.

In his eyes, he could only see Jayla as a friend.

The more she thought about it, the angrier Darcey became. She grabbed the whip that the maid was holding for her and lashed it fiercely at Leo's body.

Her whip, which was made of fine iron and she was strong, struck Leo's back with this blow, directly splitting the skin and flesh.

Darcey's heart pumped, and her already unattractive mood grew even darker.

However, she was also more certain of one thing, she really did not want to send Leo to feed the wolves.

Never mind, the life of her fancy friend was more important than losing face once in a while, and besides, these servants, who would dare to laugh at her!

Leo is reluctant to be friends with her because he likes being friends with Jayla so much that he can only see Jayla in his eyes.

If Jayla is no longer there

Darcey admired her intelligence to death, as long as Jayla disappeared completely, Leo would definitely be willing to be friends with her!

Darcey's eyes were massive as she smiled brightly and instructed the servants, "Hang Jayla, the ugly bastard!"

"I'm going to roast this ugly bastard into a roast suckling pig before I send it to the wolf pens to feed the wolves!"

Roast suckling pig?

Jayla is so angry!

She's so cute, how come she's a roast suckling pig!

She didn't want to be roasted, but hearing this from Darcey, she was scared but relieved at the same time.

She was most adept at reading people and she could tell that Darcey wanted very much to be friends with Leo.

She could roughly guess what she was thinking, and now, if she wanted to get her killed, she wouldn't have sent Leo off to feed the wolves.

Darcey often abused her servants, and the servants were afraid of being scolded by her, so they worked extraordinarily efficiently. Soon, they hoisted Jayla onto a high wooden stake.

Her feet, which were more than a metre above the ground, and a large pile of firewood on the ground beneath her, were obviously intended to light a fire to burn her to death.

Seeing Jayla being hoisted up, Leo could no longer maintain a calm demeanour.

He shouted at Darcey, "Let Jayla go! Don't you want to feed me to the wolves? You feed me to the wolves, don't hurt Jayla!"

Leo tried to put Jayla down from the stake, but he was being held down by several servants, plus he was in so much pain from his back injury that he was no match for them.

He could only listen with anxiety as Darcey commanded the servants, "Light the fire!"

Seeing the fire spreading rapidly over the firewood at Jayla's feet, in that instant, Leo felt that his heart was about to die from the pain.

Chapter 1304

Jayla was actually scared.

The fire burned fast.

At first, just a few tiny clusters of fire, and soon, a large pile of firewood all burning.

Her feet, which were a good distance from the pile of firewood, still had a clear burning sensation on the soles of her feet now.

Jayla loves beauty the most, and when she thought that her lovely little feet would soon be turned into roasted pig's feet, and that her whole body, even her face, would be charred and blackened, her heart was indescribably sad.

And she had special desire to cry.

But right now, she couldn't cry.

Before, she thought that Leo disliked her as a friend very much, but now, she had been sure that he cared a lot and cared for her as a friend.

And she especially cares for Leo as a friend.

If she cried out in fear, Leo would be even more upset.

She didn't want Leo to be that upset.

So, with all her strength, she held back her tears, but her big, watery eyes could not be restrained from reddening.

"Jayla!"

Leo was so anxious that he shouted, he turned his face and yelled at Darcey in a cold voice, "Darcey, you kill me! You can kill me by a thousand cuts, but let Jayla go! I forbid you to hurt her!"

Leo's body pushed hard, he could not shake off the maids who were gripping his shoulders hard, he leaned his face down and bit one of them hard on the wrist.

The servant took the pain and subconsciously let go of him, he turned his face again and bit the wrist of another servant fiercely, the servant withdrew his hand on reflex, after his body got free, he rushed towards Jayla like crazy, despite the severe pain on his back.

"Jayla, don't be afraid, I will save you!"

"Leo, leave me alone! You run! Run! My daddy must be chasing me this way, as long as you find my daddy on the island, you'll be safe!"

"Jayla, I won't leave you alone!"

Leo stubbornly rushed to the pile of fire, he wanted to put it out, only, there was no fire extinguishing apparatus nearby and he could not find anything to put it out.

Seeing that the flames were about to reach Jayla's feet, Leo gritted his teeth and lunged straight for the pile of fire.

He knew that even if he pressed himself against the fire, he would not be able to put it out, but he still wanted to do everything he could to protect Jayla with his flesh and blood.

"Leo, get out of here! You leave me alone!"

When Jayla saw that Leo had thrown himself on the fire in such a reckless manner, she was so anxious that tears fell from her eyes.

She wanted to stop Leo, but she was hanging so high, she could not protect herself, and she could not stop him at all.

Darcey obviously did not expect Leo to make such a move either, and she was so angry that her beautiful and delicate face twisted and turned into a shape.

With a strong flip of the iron whip in her hand, she barked at the maids on the side, "Stop him for me! No matter what, today I will burn Jayla, that ugly bastard!"

There were a few servants who were closer to Leo, and at Darcey's command, they rushed up and pulled him back, and he didn't end up flinging himself onto the fire.

Seeing that Leo was not caught in the fire, Jayla was finally relieved.

Darcey also breathed a sigh of relief, but afterwards it was even more difficult to contain her anger.

She raised the iron whip in her hand and pointed it viciously at Leo, "Leo, don't you care about this ugly monster and like to be friends with this ugly monster? I'll burn her to ashes today! I'll see how you can still be friends with her!"

"Darcey, let Jayla go!"

Leo tried to break the grip of the two servants, but this time, they were using almost all their strength to hold him, and he simply could not break free.

The flames had touched the soles of Jayla's shoes.

The flames swept through, and her shoes, which were originally tinged with some dirt, were instantly tinged with a layer of grey and black.

Leo stared at Jayla for an instant. If this continued, Jayla would be disabled for life, even if she didn't burn to death!

When he thought of Jayla, such a cute little girl, whose body was burnt and unable to walk, begging for life lying on a hospital bed, Leo's heart hurt so much that he couldn't breathe.

He bit his lip to death, his forehead was bruised, but he had exerted all the strength of his life, and he still could not save Jayla.

“Jayla, how does it feel to be burned by a blazing fire?”

Darcey lifted her face, she maliciously curled her lips and stared at Jayla with a smirk, “Isn’t it particularly special?”

“Jayla, you ugly bitch, how dare you grab something from me, you’re simply looking for death!”

“Darcey, you psychopath! Even if you burn me to death, Leo won’t be friends with a psychopath like you!”

Jayla’s face was so frightened that it turned white, but she still spoke with a stiff tongue to Darcey.

She knew in her heart that she and Leo, no matter how clever, they were just two children, and that they could not even think of getting out in the face of so many people with malicious intentions.

Anyway, there was no way Darcey was going to let her go today, so instead of crying and begging her for mercy, she should have scolded her!

Even though she was at a disadvantage, she still looked like a high and mighty princess.

“Darcey, you call me ugly, but in fact, you are the ugliest ugly monster in this world! Take a look in the mirror and see how horrible and disgusting this ugly face of yours really is!”

“Jayla, who are you calling ugly?!” Darcey huffed and glared at Jayla, hating that she could not eat her alive.

“People with evil hearts are the ugliest looking! Darcey, you don’t take human life seriously, you kill at the drop of a hat, you’re hopelessly ugly! Yes, you are so ugly that God and man are outraged! You’re such an ugly, bad person that no one will ever want to be friends with you sincerely!”

“I have indeed fallen into your hands this time, but even if I die, I still have my loving daddy and mommy, the best brother in the world, Auntie Kiki who loves me as much as mommy does, and such a good friend as Leo.”

“But what about you? Darcey, even if you live a long life, you still have nothing! You only have a wicked, ugly face!”

“Jayla, shut up!”

Darcey was so angry that she waved the whip in her hand without any rules. Beside her, there stood several servants, and the whip in her hand, just threw them, causing them to grimace in pain.

After shaking the servants with the whip, Darcey still felt that she was not relieved, and she walked directly to Jayla with the whip.

“Yes, Jayla, I’m a malicious person! Now, I’ll show you clearly how wicked my heart really is!”

With that, Darcey flung a fierce whip at the fire at Jayla’s feet, and then, with the whip in her hand, carrying a blazing log, she heaved it towards Jayla.

Chapter 1305

With that look, she was clearly trying to make it harder for Jayla.

“Jayla!”

Seeing this scene, Leo’s eyes pained to the point of almost breaking, he struggled desperately to block this blow for Jayla, but he could not get close to her.

Jayla was so frightened that her body trembled, and on her forehead, fine beads of sweat seeped out, but she braced herself not to beg for mercy from Darcey.

Begging for forgiveness is useless, but it just makes Darcey even more complacent.

When she saw Jayla’s miserable face, her pretty face was full of indescribable smugness.

Who would have dared to think that a child so young would already have such a vicious heart.

The whip that Darcey swung did not land on Jayla, a stone viciously flew towards her whip, the direction of the whip she flung violently reversed, and the burning piece of wood that the whip rolled up actually flew viciously onto her shoulder.

“Ahhhhhhh!!!”

She could not restrain herself from screaming, she plucked away the piece of wood that landed on her shoulder, she was much stronger than children of her age and had good hands, but the piece of wood, still ignited the clothes on her shoulder, it took her a lot of effort to put out the fire on her clothes.

Luckily, she was wearing thicker clothing and the flames didn’t burn through her clothes and into her skin, but the pain of the wood hitting her shoulder so hard was still unbearable.

The whip she flung reversed its direction and hit her face even harder, and in the blink of an eye, a frightening red mark appeared on the delicate left side of her face.

Her hands were no better, the flames scorched her palms so fiercely that in a matter of moments, her palms were charred with a layer of skin.

“It hurts!”

Darcey covered her face with a look of pain.

Her hand was bruised and she covered her face with it so much that her palm hurt hysterically and she clutched it again, wincing in pain.

The hatred she felt for her intensified as she used her uninjured left hand to pick up the iron whip that had fallen to the ground and pointed it at her fiercely, roaring viciously, “Jayla, how dare you lay a hand on me, I won’t spare you!”

She was interrupting to order her subordinates to add more firewood and quickly burn Jayla into a roasted suckling pig, only, before she could give the order, she found that Jayla, who was hanging high up in the air, had been rescued.

The one who saved her was Kieran.

Jayla had been trying to be strong, and now nestled in her daddy’s arms, she couldn’t restrain her tears any longer.

“Daddy!” Jayla hugged Kieran with all her might and cried out with a loud wow.

Seeing his baby daughter being bullied into such a state, Kieran couldn't mention how heartbroken he was, he gently stroked her head, “Jayla, sorry, daddy is late!”

“Daddy, I'm so scared!”

In front of Darcey, Jayla has to put on a strong face, but in front of her daddy, she can show all her vulnerability and pamper herself to her heart's content.

“Daddy, she's going to burn me! Oooh, if you don't come over, Jayla will be burnt to a roast suckling pig! Oooh, I am so cute, how can I turn into a roast suckling pig!”

“Jayla, Daddy won't let anyone bully you again!”

At the first sight of Kieran, Darcey indeed could not restrain herself from being startled.

Even though she was not old enough, she could tell that the man in front of her was, well, powerful.

The aura on him was too powerful, not even, worse than her brother-in-law, whom she had always admired, especially the aura of reserve on his body, a look that had been in a high position for a long time, in short, very bad to mess with.

Darcey has always been a master of bullying and fearing, and when she met Kieran's cold, sullen gaze, she couldn't restrain herself from taking a step back.

But the thought that this was the chassis of their ChapmWallace family instantly added endless strength to her heart.

The ChapmWallace family, has countless elites, and she is still afraid of a man who comes alone to die!

Even if his noble aura was natural and extraordinary, she, Darcey, was not afraid of him!

Thinking that this man was not only Jayla's daddy, but also injured her, Darcey was instantly furious, she raised her hand and viciously pointed at Kieran, “You are Jayla's daddy, aren't you?!”

“Heh! How dare you come to my ChapmWallace family's territory to make a scene, you are simply the same as that ugly daughter of yours, you don't measure up to your own strength! See how I will teach you a lesson today!”

Darcey threw down the iron whip in her hand with force, even though it did not hurt Kieran and Jayla, but with her usual weapon in her hand, the aura on her body became more and more arrogant.

Seeing that Kieran did not say anything, Darcey became more and more proud, and her chin, too, was raised higher.

“Scared, are you? If you're afraid, kneel down and beg for mercy! Perhaps I can even make your death look good!”

Kieran still didn't say anything, he just swept an expressionless glance at Darcey.

His eyes, too, were particularly profound, unfathomable, and within this profundity, there was a soul-shivering coldness, an overriding aura that made people restrain themselves from submitting.

Darcey's chin had been held high, but when he swept her like that, her body still couldn't restrain herself from shaking.

After shaking it off, she felt funny again.

What is there to fear from an ugly man who comes to send his father to his death!

She's brain-dead to be afraid of a man with nothing but a slightly better face!

"On the count of three, if you don't kneel down for me, I will burn you now! No, I'll let the wolves bite you to death, leaving you dead and in pain! By then, even if you are scared to death, I will not give you any more chances!"

"One!"

"Two!"

"Three!"

She narrowed her eyes dangerously and was just about to drop a few more threatening words when Kieran's cool, faint voice rang out in the air.

"Afraid? I, Kieran Fitzgerald, have never been afraid of anything in all my years of living!"

Kieran Fitzgerald?

Hearing the name, the servants around Darcey's face all changed greatly.

Even though they had never left Anla Island, there were television and other entertainment facilities on the island, and Kieran's great name was as familiar to them as it was to them.

This face, too, is indeed the face of the living Hades of Arkpool City!

If they offended him, the consequences would be unthinkable! Not to mention Darcey, even Darcey's elder sister, Sylvie, couldn't protect them!

Darcey also thought the name Kieran sounded a bit familiar, but since she rarely watched TV, surfed the internet or anything, it wasn't that familiar.

She couldn't stand the thought that someone would dare to provoke her authority, and at that moment, she raised her iron whip and tried to whip it at Kieran.

"Not afraid, are you? Today, I'll let you know what it means to be afraid!"

Chapter 1306

Seeing that Darcey had dared to make a move against Kieran, the servants were so frightened that their faces turned vegetable. They tried to pull her back, but her movements were so fast that they could not pull at all.

However, the whip in Darcey's hand did not end up falling on Kieran's body, as he held Jayla tightly and nimbly dodged the whip she swung.

Darcey was determined to teach Kieran a lesson, and was certainly not happy that she hadn't beaten him up.

At that moment, she put all her strength into it and attacked him hard again.

This time, Kieran directly did not even dodge, as he carelessly stretched out his hand and directly grabbed the whip she swung over.

She could never have imagined that he could have caught the iron whip that she had swung with all her strength, and he was still unharmed.

The anger was so strong that it instantly engulfed her whole heart, she hated it so much that she kept grinding her teeth, the anger in her eyes became more and more fiery, if her eyes could kill, Kieran and Jayla, would have died a thousand times in her anger.

Seeing that Kieran had grabbed Darcey's iron whip, Leo however let out a long breath of relief.

He knew how powerful Kieran was, and now that he had come over, no one would be able to bully Jayla again.

Jayla is such a cute and delightful little girl, she should be held in the palm of one's hand and pampered for the rest of her life.

Leo half lowered his eyelids, looking at his legs that couldn't even stand up, his eyes, growing dimmer and dimmer.

Such a wonderful little girl could be pampered by many, many people, but only there should not be, an incompetent cripple like him.

He couldn't protect her.

"Let go!" Darcey puffed out her little cheeks and commanded Kieran in the air.

Kieran did not want to bully girl, but although Darcey was young, her heart was really bad, and he could not possibly indulge her and let her bully his precious Jayla at will.

With a slight force in his hand, Darcey's body, unable to control itself, lurched forward and almost fell straight to the ground.

When she made a fool of herself in front of so many servants, Darcey was even more furious.

She steadied herself and stared at Kieran fiercely, "Kieran, right? How dare you offend me like this, I will make you pay the price!"

Saying that, Darcey's hand was hard, and she wanted to violently draw back her iron whip and teach Kieran another hard lesson.

The servants watched Darcey's movements with trepidation, they looked at each other and decided to introduce a representative to stop her unknowing behaviour, otherwise, she wouldn't even know how she would die.

The maid representative stepped forward and trembled as she grabbed Darcey's arm, "Miss Darcey, stop it now! He is the famous Mr. Fitzgerald!"

"Mr. Fitzgerald?!" Darcey completely ignored the servant's advice, "Mr. Fitzgerald is nothing! I don't care about what Mr. Fitzgerald! Anyone I want to teach a lesson to, he can only kneel down in front of me!"

The maids silently rolled their eyes in their hearts, even she dared to offend Mr. Fitzgerald, in the end they didn't know who would be kneel down!

But in the spirit of her loyalty to the ChapmWallace family, she still whispered to discourage, "Miss Darcey, we can't offend Mr. Fitzgerald! I've heard many legends about him, he's really too scary! Legend has it that Mr. Fitzgerald drinks blood and he eats people! Miss Darcey, if we offend him, what if he eats us?"

Hearing this servant's words, Jayla was really quite speechless.

Her daddy was so handsome, how come he was rumoured to be a monster!

"Eat people?!" Darcey wrinkled her brows, she obviously didn't believe the servant's words, "I don't believe he can really eat people!"

"Even if he likes to eat people, here, he can't fight me, Darcey! Don't forget, the wolves we raise in the ChapmWallace family also eat people! I'd like to see if our ChapmWallace family's wolves are more powerful, or if he is more powerful!"

"Throw him to the wolves!"

The servants stood motionless in their places, funny, the living hell of Arkpool City, if they threw him into the wolf circle, they would have to be abused to go straight to the King of Hell!

"What are you standing around for? Can't you hear what I'm saying, can you? I told you to throw him to the wolves!"

"Miss Darcey, this"

The servants looked at each other, but no one dared to go forward and throw Kieran, who looked so powerful at first glance, into the wolf circle.

"Bunch of losers!"

Seeing that she had ordered for such a long time, the maids under her were slow to move, Darcey was so angry that she stomped her feet.

She grabbed the whip and stepped forward, then wanted to take matters into her own hands and stuff Kieran into the wolf pen.

But after extending her hand, she suddenly realised that the difference in height between the two of them looked so great that, without trying, the strength must also hang by a considerable margin.

Darcey was so angry that her teeth hurt, she directly took out her mobile phone and called her second sister, Laura, "Laura, someone is bullying me! I'm over at the wolf circle, so hurry up and bring your bodyguards over now and help me teach that old man a good lesson!"

After calling Laura, Darcey immediately reverted back to her accomplished and high-minded appearance.

But Jayla was so angry that her heart was beating hard.

Hilarious! Her daddy is handsome, young, handsome and charming, how is he an old man?

Unbearable!

"Darcey, who are you calling an old man?! You ugly bastard, even if you are young, you are still hopelessly and shockingly ugly!"

As a young girl who loves beauty, Jayla really doesn't want to attack other people's face, but Darcey is really too much, and she won't feel embarrassed to say even mean things to her.

"Jayla!"

Darcey glared at Jayla threateningly, "Jayla, don't be fooled! I'm telling you, you won't be complacent for long! The bodyguards under my second sister are all elites trained by our ChapmWallace family, you will have to suffer later!"

Jayla didn't take Darcey's threat in the slightest, she proudly rolled her eyes, "Darcey, you're thinking too much, I am not intimidated! Daddy, let's ignore the mad dog, okay?"

"If you get bitten by a mad dog, you'll get rabies and you'll have to get a vaccination, it's so messy! Daddy, can we go home?!"

"Jayla, who are you calling a mad dog?!"

Jayla directly did not bother to pay attention to Darcey, she trotted up to Leo and gently held him, then led him along with her towards the path ahead.

"Jayla, stop right there!" Seeing that they dared to leave, Darcey was so angry that she glared, "Leo, I forbid you to leave!"

"I want you to stay here and play with me for the rest of your life! I want to be your best friend!"

No one paid any attention to Darcey.

Darcey was about to explode with anger when she noticed that Laura had arrived with a large group of bodyguards and was rushing over in an aggressive manner.

"Laura, quick! Help me teach this old man, and this shameless ugly bitch, a hard lesson! I'll cut them to pieces!"

Chapter 1307

Just letting the bodyguards torment Jayla and Kieran, Darcey really felt very unsettled.

After thinking about it, she hurriedly spoke to Laura, “Laura, you tell the bodyguards to let the wolves out! I want to watch them get torn apart raw and die a horrible death!”

“Darcey” Laura had thought that Darcey was being bullied by some evil person, but now that she saw her fiercely asking her to let the wolf out, she instantly thought that it didn’t seem to be the case.

“Laura, what are you still standing there for! Hurry up and have the wolves released! Look at my face, how my face has been hurt by them! You love me the most, you have to avenge me!”

“Darcey, what the hell is going on here? What’s with this fire?”

Although Laura loved Darcey as her sister, she was not a person who could not distinguish between right and wrong. Noticing the wound on Leo’s back and Jayla’s shoes swept by the flames, she could not help but frown.

“Darcey, you’re bullying again, aren’t you!”

“I didn’t! They’re the ones who bullied me!” Darcey was afraid that if Laura didn’t stop her, Kieran would take Jayla and leave, she was so anxious that she rushed straight outside the wolf pen, “If you’re not willing to help me take revenge, then I’ll ask for it myself!”

With that, Darcey was about to grab the key from the keeper and open the door to the wolf pen.

Seeing Darcey’s action, Laura’s face suddenly changed.

If the wolves inside the trap were really released, the consequences would be unthinkable!

Because the bad wolves are not that humane, they will not only attack Kieran, Jayla and the others, they will also attack the ChapmanWallace family.

She used to think that although Darcey was a bit arrogant, she was still good by nature. She did not expect that her beloved sister had grown up crooked like this.

At a young age, they already regard human life as a matter of course, which is the sadness of their ChapmanWallace family.

“Jayla, Kieran, Leo, aren’t you all against me? No one will end up well if they go against me, Darcey! I’ll let the wolves out now and eat all of you! Let’s see how you can oppose me again!”

“Darcey, stop it!”

Seeing that Darcey was about to open the door of the wolf pen, Laura was directly anxious, her plain and innocent face was miserably white.

She quickly stepped forward and tried to stop Darcey, but she was finally a step too late, as Darcey had already unknowingly opened the iron door of the wolf pen.

A vicious grey wolf, hissing, bursts out of the gate and lunges at one of the maids.

Laura’s face turned pale and Darcey was also frightened, she had just had a momentary lapse of mind and had not thought she had caused a great deal of trouble.

Fearing that more wolves would rush out, Laura pushed Darcey directly out of the way and closed and locked the door to the wolf pen.

Although the other vicious wolves had not yet noticed the door open and burst out of it, the rush of a vicious wolf was enough to send shivers down the spine.

It was true that the bodyguards of the ChapmanWallace family had all undergone rigorous training, but they had never really fought a fierce beast face to face, and now, seeing the vicious wolf that had already treated everyone on the scene as his food, they did not dare to go forward easily.

The servant who was targeted by the vicious wolf was even more frightened with a pale face.

Fortunately, her body was still relatively nimble, she quickly dodged the attack of the evil wolf, who did not bite her neck at once, it did not chase after her again, after all, for it, there would be too much food to choose from on the spot.

It reversed its direction and then frantically lunged in the direction of Kieran and Jayla.

Darcey was still upset about what had just happened, but she was most concerned with saving face, and no matter how scared she was, she continued to put on a brutal and arrogant face.

“Jayla, suffer death! Our wolves of the ChapmanWallace family are all brave, today, none of you three will live!”

She gritted her teeth and spoke with a sullen face, “Leo, I’ll give you one last chance to cut off friendship with Jayla and be friends with me, and I won’t let the wolves in my family hurt you!”

“Or you die with them!”

Leo didn’t even bother to look at her.

Being directly ignored red-handed, Darcey’s heart was heavily wounded.

Especially in front of so many people, she naturally could not continue to pull her face down and ask Leo to be friends with her.

She spoke with a huff, “If you’re so insensitive, you can go to hell! You’d better be eaten by the wolves to the last crumb of your bones!”

“Jayla, Leo, you guys go behind me!”

Seeing that the vicious wolf was getting closer and closer to them, Kieran hurriedly shielded Jayla and Leo behind him.

Jayla also didn’t expect that Darcey would be crazy enough to let the wolf out in public, and she was shocked.

But even though she was trembling with fear, she did not want to, let her daddy, alone, risk his life.

If, by being eaten by a vicious wolf, she could buy time for Daddy and Leo to escape, she would rather be eaten herself.

“Daddy, I’m not going! I’m going to protect you!”

Jayla had just tried to protect herself in front of Kieran when he threw her directly into a patch of lawn behind him with the force of his hand.

There was no hint of panic on Kieran's face as he quickly pulled out the Swiss Army knife pinned to his waist and stabbed it unceremoniously at the vicious wolf's body.

Kieran struck out, steady, accurate and fierce, and with this stroke, he stabbed the vicious wolf directly in the left eye.

The wolf hissed in pain as it took several quick steps back, staring at Kieran like an enemy, not daring to make a rash move for a moment.

Perhaps the bad wolf was also a master of bullying and fearing, it wanted to hunt today, but the feeling Kieran gave it was really too horrible, it didn't even dare to continue to attack him.

Snarling angrily at him, it reversed course and resumed its hunt.

"Daddy, how are you? Did you hurt yourself?!"

Jayla got up from the grass and rushed to Kieran's side, nervously surveying him, fearing that he had wounds left by the vicious wolf.

"Jayla, I'm fine." Kieran spoke softly, but reassured Jayla in an instant.

"Daddy!" Jayla flung herself into Kieran's arms, "Daddy, I'm so scared! I never want to lose daddy! Jayla would rather feed herself to the wolves than have anything happen to daddy!"

Kieran took Jayla into his arms, he didn't say anything, he just gently stroked her fluffy head.

Once, he thought that he was not interested in women and was destined to be alone in this life, but to his surprise, he met Freya and she gave him such lovely three children, giving him unprecedented warmth and joy.

So he will devote his life to guarding these people he loves most.

Seeing that the evil wolf had already pounced on Kieran and had not yet bitten him to death, Darcey was so angry that she directly and viciously threw an iron whip at the breeder standing by.

Angrily, she yelled at the dire wolves, "Go and eat them! Tear them apart! Eat them down to the last scrap of bone! I want you to eat them all!"

The vicious wolf was still picking out its next prey, when it heard Darcey's voice, it hissed and lunged at her.

Chapter 1308

Darcey's face changed drastically, how could she have ever imagined that she had released the vicious wolf to hurt someone, and in the end, the one the vicious wolf wanted to tear apart was her!

"Don't come any closer! Don't you come any closer!"

Darcey waved the iron whip in her hand hard, trying to scare the wolf away, but the wolf was not afraid of the iron whip in her hand at all, and it still ruthlessly charged in her direction.

Darcey had seen the fierceness of the wolf countless times, and she knew in her heart that if it really pounced on her, she would definitely end up like the sheep in the wolf's pen just now, dying in pain and despair.

She was so beautiful, she still had a good life ahead of her, she absolutely could not, just like that, die in the mouth of a vicious wolf!

Darcey was really frightened, she couldn't care to continue thinking more, seeing the shivering breeder at the side, she subconsciously tried to hide behind her.

The keeper also saw Darcey's intention, and although she was afraid of her, her instinct to survive in the face of life and death overcame her fear of her.

She ran quickly to one side, keeping a large distance from Darcey so that she would not use her as a human target.

"Laura, help me!"

Even though she had already run a short distance, the wolf was still approaching her step by step.

The scene just now was clear to Laura.

She didn't want the loved ones she cared about to die in the mouths of vicious wolves, but she also didn't expect that Darcey would want to trade the lives of innocent people for a chance at life.

Only, no matter how disappointed she was in Darcey, this was, her own sister from the same mother, the family she wanted to protect for the rest of her life.

She clenched her fists and shielded herself in front of Darcey regardless.

As she watched the wolves approaching, Laura's face turned whiter and whiter.

"Laura, save me, save me! You can't let the evil wolf eat me!"

The vicious wolf was far away from their position and ran wildly over, taking some time. Darcey was really scared to death and her legs were so weak that she couldn't even escape.

Now that Laura was shielding her, her body, only just now, was not as stiff as it had been.

At this time, she was also able to clearly realise that even if Laura was protecting her, the vicious wolf might still hurt her.

And if she wanted to leave unscathed, she had to, ruthlessly, push Laura towards the evil wolf!

Darcey did not want to hurt her loved ones either, but at this time, she was really too scared, and she silently recited in her heart, "Laura, I am sorry."

She then did not hesitate to put all her strength into her body, pushing her hard towards the body of the approaching vicious wolf.

Laura's eyes rounded in shock as she turned her face suddenly and looked incredulously at Darcey who couldn't stop shivering.

She could never have dared to think that her third sister, for whom she could have risked her life and death, would be so cruel as to push her towards the vicious wolf.

She didn't expect to live today since she had fought so hard for Darcey, but she still felt chilled when she pushed her to death so impatiently.

Suddenly, she felt that she didn't know her third sister anymore.

Laura closed her eyes heavily, she died for her beloved third sister without regret, but from now on, the sisterly bond between them was really over.

The bodyguards under Laura also did not expect such a sudden turn of events. They wanted to rush over and protect her, but the speed of the vicious wolf was too much faster than them, and they could not save her at all.

In this instant, Laura's thoughts drifted far.

She couldn't help but remember that when Darcey was little, she always liked to nestle in her arms and pamper herself.

"Laura, I love you so much! You're the best sister in the world!"

"Laura, I need to grow up quickly, when I grow up, I will be able to protect you!"

.....

Laura's eyes were uncontrollably wet. That Darcey, who said she would protect her, had, after all, pushed her into the abyss of doom.

She had always felt that people should never forget their beginning intention.

In fact, more people, unknowingly, even they themselves, have forgotten what they once looked like.

Laura thought that this time, she was bound to die.

The hissing of the vicious wolf had reached her ears, and just when she felt that it would soon snap her neck, the sharp sound of a gunshot, suddenly rang through the air.

Laura's eyes snapped open and she saw that the wolf, which was still fierce and vicious, had a blood splatter haloing over its head as it collapsed to the ground with a crash, motionless.

And Jacob, with a gun in his hand, standing against the wind, his murderous aura revealed, looked in Laura's eyes, but it was like a god descending from heaven.

Laura gently pressed her heart, and here, as if for an instant, a flower blossomed, and a glance tipped the scales.

Seeing that the vicious wolf hadn't torn Laura apart, and thinking of what she had just done, Darcey hurriedly went forward and hugged her arm in a petulant manner, "Laura, it's so good that you're alright!"

"Just seeing you lunge to protect me and almost get eaten by a vicious wolf, I was about to die of fright! Laura, if you die for me, I will never forgive myself for the rest of my life!"

With that, Darcey flung herself into Laura's arms and burst into tears with a whimper.

In the past, when Darcey dropped her tears, Laura could not mention how heartbroken she was, but at this moment, watching her cry her last breath, she only felt ridiculous.

She said this as if, regardless, she had not been the one who had just pushed her towards the vicious wolf.

Laura let go of Darcey in a raw and cold manner, "Darcey, I'll have someone send you back, you take a good rest."

"Laura" Noticing Laura's coldness towards her, Darcey panicked slightly, "Laura, are you blaming me? I was really too scared just now, I don't know how I pushed you, I"

"Send Darcey back!" Laura didn't even look at Darcey, she just instructed the few maids at the side.

Laura's authority was much higher than Darcey's, and the servants didn't dare disobey what she said, they could only go up and coax Darcey to go back.

Darcey did not want to lose her second sister's care, and she was even more reluctant to let Jayla and the others go just like that.

She spoke at the top of her lungs to Laura, "Laura, you can't let them go! If they had behaved well, you and I wouldn't have been nearly eaten by hungry wolves!"

"Darcey, even though you're still a child, you shouldn't turn right and wrong upside down like this."

Laura's voice was detached and cold to the extreme, "I don't know how what they did I only know that you were the one who opened the gate of the wolf pen just now and let out the vicious wolves, nearly injuring people's lives!"

"Take her back!"

"Laura!" Darcey was upset, but Laura was determined not to help her, so she could only be sent back by the maids.

Kieran and the others had already gotten the news that Freya had been taken away by Cealan, and they had no desire to waste time here, they intended to hurry up and rescue Freya.

Jacob had just turned around and headed for the path ahead when Laura quickly chased after him and blocked him, her elegant and beautiful face with obvious joy and apprehension, "Hi! You saved me, I should repay you! How about I marry you!"

"Ahem"

Hearing Laura's words, Jayla almost choked to death on his own saliva.

His uncle was good-looking, not much worse than his handsome daddy, but her uncle was scary!

Although he had been particularly kind to her and Jaden, his Yama face was still so intimidating that no young girl dared to go near her for miles around, and she hadn't really expected that the soft-looking Laura would take the initiative to offer marriage to him.

Jayla quietly shot a glance at Laura.

Laura and Darcey are siblings from the same mother, but she gives off a completely different feeling to Darcey.

Darcey has a large bone structure and even with a beautiful face, she appears rather stout.

But Laura's bones are small, slender and soft, with a weak air. Moreover, her features, which are exceptionally well-born, are not of the bright and intense voluptuous kind, but of a particularly light kind of plainness.

Her neck, in particular, adds to her air of sophistication.

Moreover, Laura was pretty, and the more she looked at her, the more stunning she became. After Jayla had stared at her for a while, he couldn't take his eyes off her.

Beautiful! Really beautiful!

Jayla secretly sighed that it would be nice if Laura could really convince her uncle, who was determined not to get married, to be her husband!

Darcey is quite annoying, but even if they are close sisters, each one is still an independent individual, and Jayla will not inflict her annoyance on Laura.

Laura is not that kind of flamboyant and spirited nature, on the contrary, she is light and introverted in character, offering to give her body to a man, she has gathered a great deal of courage.

Hearing Jayla's cough, her face was instantly tinged with a distinct blush.

In particular, she was embarrassed to see that Jacob was ignoring her.

Jacob also did not expect a delicate looking young girl to suddenly rush over to him and say something about giving her body to him, even if he was calm and indifferent, he could not help but be surprised.

This girl got some nerve!

After a brief moment of surprise, Jacob returned to his fierce, cold, detached, rejecting look, really, not even bothering to give Laura a look.

Laura's face was getting flushed, she was thin-skinned, and after living for twenty-two years, it was really the first time she had confessed her love to a man and was completely ignored by him.

She could not resist the urge to run away.

But when she thought that for the first time in her twenty-two years of life, she had a crush on a man, she didn't want to miss out.

She continued to gather all her courage and spoke to him with a flushing face, "You haven't told me what your name is."

"My name is Laura, what is your name? I am serious, you saved me, you are my benefactor, I want to give my life to you!"

“No need!”

Jacob finally opened his golden mouth coldly, he didn't even look at Laura, turned around, and continued to walk ahead.

Hearing Jacob's words, Darcey couldn't tell how lost she was in her heart.

When he said it was not necessary, he meant it in two ways.

He had no intention, whatsoever, of getting involved with her, so he didn't have to tell her his name.

He was not interested in her, and she did not have to give her body to him.

Laura looks soft but is tough.

She gently reassured herself in her mind. Chasing men is not that easy, she has to keep up the good work!

Pressing down all the loss in her heart, she quickly rushed to Jacob, tried to raise a smile and spoke softly, “But I'm serious, I like you a lot! It's like, I fell in love with you at first sight.”

Inexplicably being blocked, Jacob's face darkened a lot, and his good-looking, sparse eyebrows could not be restrained from tightening.

He rolled his eyes and spoke expressionlessly, “Then you're paying for this so-called fondness wrongly! Because, I'm not interested in women!”

After saying this, Jacob didn't linger any longer as he lifted his feet and walked briskly towards the front.

The moment he took a step, the light from the corner of his eye clearly saw that Laura's starry eyes were wet for a moment, and the stars inside them were in pieces.

Seeing her red eyes, his heart was inexplicably blocked, but he had always been cold-hearted and good at controlling his emotions, and in an instant, all the waves in his heart dissipated.

Seeing the way Laura clearly wanted to cry, but tried to hold herself together to keep her tears from falling, Jayla couldn't restrain the sourness in her eyes.

Uncle Jacob is so mean, she is so beautiful, so sincere and so cute, why doesn't he have any pity for her!

He deserves to be a bachelor for the rest of his life!

Although she thought so, Jayla actually couldn't bear to see such a good uncle of hers end up alone, especially since Laura was so much to her liking, she didn't want her uncle to miss out on such a good marriage.

Seeing that Jacob did not notice her, Jayla quietly walked up to Laura and lowered her voice, “Laura, let me tell you, my uncle's name is Jacob Wells.”

“Is my uncle's name cool?”

Not expecting Jayla to return to comfort her, Laura hurriedly wiped away the tears at the corners of her eyes and nodded with a light smile.

“Laura, tell you another secret, my uncle has never been in love, he has no experience in love, that’s why he is so stupid, he doesn’t know how to face girls at all!”

“Oh yes, my uncle says he’s not interested in women, but it is a total excuse! His excuse for not being able to fall in love! He’s not interested in men either, so go for it, Laura!”

“Thank you, I will.” Cheered on by Jayla, Laura’s body was instantly filled with strength again.

Thinking of something, Jayla arched her eyebrows and spoke to her, “Laura, can I use your phone?”

Laura liked Jayla from the bottom of her heart, and although she didn’t know what she was up to, she trustingly handed the phone over to her.

After taking her phone, Jayla quickly entered something on it.

Her fingers leaping quickly, she spoke to Laura, “Laura, this is my uncle’s phone number, this is his address in Arkpool City, oh, and this is his birthday, that’s all I can think of for now, you must work hard and get my uncle!”

When Jayla finished, she even clenched her fist and made a cheering gesture to Laura.

Laura was already determined to chase after this man who made her heart flutter, and after being cheered on by Jayla, she was even more combative. She gritted her teeth and rushed to Jacob. Not waiting for him to react, she had already wrapped her arms around his neck, her lips pressed them.

Chapter 1309

“Ahem

Hearing Laura’s words, Jayla almost choked to death on his own saliva.

His uncle was good-looking, not much worse than his handsome daddy, but her uncle was scary!

Hearing Jayla's cough, her face was instantly tinged with a distinct blush.

In particular, she was embarrassed to see that Jacob was ignoring her.

Jacob also did not expect a delicate looking young girl to suddenly rush over to him and say something about giving her body to him, even if he was calm and indifferent, he could not help but be surprised.

This girl got some nerve!

After a brief moment of surprise, Jacob returned to his fierce, cold, detached, rejecting look, really, not even bothering to give Laura a look.

Laura's face was getting flushed, she was thin-skinned, and after living for twenty-two years, it was really the first time she had confessed her love to a man and was completely ignored by him.

She could not resist the urge to run away.

But when she thought that for the first time in her twenty-two years of life, she had a crush on a man, she didn't want to miss out.

She continued to gather all her courage and spoke to him with a flushing face, "You haven't told me what your name is."

"My name is Laura, what is your name? I am serious, you saved me, you are my benefactor, I want to give my life to you!"

"No need!"

Jacob finally opened his golden mouth coldly, he didn't even look at Laura, turned around, and continued to walk ahead.

Hearing Jacob's words, Darcey couldn't tell how lost she was in her heart.

When he said it was not necessary, he meant it in two ways.

He had no intention, whatsoever, of getting involved with her, so he didn't have to tell her his name.

He was not interested in her, and she did not have to give her body to him.

Laura looks soft but is tough.

She gently reassured herself in her mind. Chasing men is not that easy, she has to keep up the good work!

Pressing down all the loss in her heart, she quickly rushed to Jacob, tried to raise a smile and spoke softly, "But I'm serious, I like you a lot! It's like, I fell in love with you at first sight."

Inexplicably being blocked, Jacob's face darkened a lot, and his good-looking, sparse eyebrows could not be restrained from tightening.

He rolled his eyes and spoke expressionlessly, "Then you're paying for this so-called fondness wrongly! Because, I'm not interested in women!"

After saying this, Jacob didn't linger any longer as he lifted his feet and walked briskly towards the front.

The moment he took a step, the light from the corner of his eye clearly saw that Laura's starry eyes were wet for a moment, and the stars inside them were in pieces.

Seeing her red eyes, his heart was inexplicably blocked, but he had always been cold-hearted and good at controlling his emotions, and in an instant, all the waves in his heart dissipated.

Seeing the way Laura clearly wanted to cry, but tried to hold herself together to keep her tears from falling, Jayla couldn't restrain the sourness in her eyes.

Uncle Jacob is so mean, she is so beautiful, so sincere and so cute, why doesn't he have any pity for her!

He deserves to be a bachelor for the rest of his life!

Although she thought so, Jayla actually couldn't bear to see such a good uncle of hers end up alone, especially since Laura was so much to her liking, she didn't want her uncle to miss out on such a good marriage.

Seeing that Jacob did not notice her, Jayla quietly walked up to Laura and lowered her voice, "Laura, let me tell you, my uncle's name is Jacob Wells."

"Is my uncle's name cool?"

Not expecting Jayla to return to comfort her, Laura hurriedly wiped away the tears at the corners of her eyes and nodded with a light smile.

"Laura, tell you another secret, my uncle has never been in love, he has no experience in love, that's why he is so stupid, he doesn't know how to face girls at all!"

"Oh yes, my uncle says he's not interested in women, but it is a total excuse! His excuse for not being able to fall in love! He's not interested in men either, so go for it, Laura!"

"Thank you, I will." Cheered on by Jayla, Laura's body was instantly filled with strength again.

Thinking of something, Jayla arched her eyebrows and spoke to her, "Laura, can I use your phone?"

Laura liked Jayla from the bottom of her heart, and although she didn't know what she was up to, she trustingly handed the phone over to her.

After taking her phone, Jayla quickly entered something on it.

Her fingers leaping quickly, she spoke to Laura, "Laura, this is my uncle's phone number, this is his address in Arkpool City, oh, and this is his birthday, that's all I can think of for now, you must work hard and get my uncle!"

When Jayla finished, she even clenched her fist and made a cheering gesture to Laura.

Laura was already determined to chase after this man who made her heart flutter, and after being cheered on by Jayla, she was even more combative. She gritted her teeth and rushed to Jacob. Not waiting for him to react, she had already wrapped her arms around his neck, her lips pressed them.

Chapter 1310

It would be difficult for an ordinary person to get close to his body, for fear that he would be thrown into the sea to feed the fish before he could touch his little finger.

But this time, Laura got him way.

For he could not have dared to think that this soft-looking woman would have the audacity to kiss and hug him.

On Jacob's body, an endless stream of fierce aura instantly poured out, almost swallowing one's soul.

Subconsciously, he wanted to throw this woman out, but the moment her lips, pressed against his, he was as intoxicated as if under a compulsion for a moment.

It was the first time that Laura made such a bold move, and God knows how much courage she mustered up to take this step.

She actually, didn't quite want to let go of him, but it was the first time she had kissed a man, she wasn't much of a kisser, she didn't know, after lips to lips, what else to do, and with her blushing heart beating so hard, she hurriedly left Jacob's lips.

She took a step back, and even though she turned her face to one side, she could not hide the unnatural flush that grew on her face.

She coughed lightly, trying to sound slightly more natural, "I know you still have things to do, in a few days, once I've spoken to my big sister, I'll come to Arkpool City to look for you."

"You've been kissed by me, don't you dare try to renege!"

After saying this, with a flushing face, Laura rushed towards her place as if she was running away.

Jacob stood in a daze, until now, he still could not accept the fact that he had been forcibly kissed by a woman.

What a shame!

Jayla was the one who didn't hold back and snorted out a laugh.

Afraid of provoking the anger of her terrible uncle, Jayla hastily covered her mouth and spoke in a lustful manner, "Uncle Jacob, don't misunderstand, I really didn't mean to laugh at you being forcibly kissed by a young girl, I just had some discomfort in my throat, and I couldn't hold it in, so I laughed."

Leo gave Jayla a helpless look, she might as well not explain.

Kieran dotingly rubbed his baby's head, and then spoke to Jacob, "You've been kissed by a girl, so it's time for you to solve your marriage! Otherwise, when Freya and I have our fourth child, you'll still be a bachelor!"

Although Kieran said so, he really had no intention of having another child with Freya.

He was not with her when she had Jaden and Jayla. She suffered too much, and when she gave birth to Alistair, she was close to death.

If he could have children, a hundred would not be too many; the point is, he can't, and he won't risk the woman he loves most again.

Jacob still had an iron face, and now, in his heart, he was as upset as he could be.

He was such a proud man, naturally he couldn't stand being forcefully kissed by a young girl in front of so many people.

Besides, if she kissed him, she kissed him forcibly, and then she ran away irresponsibly.

Jacob's handsome face was turning pale, and when he saw that Kieran still wanted to urge him to say something, he spoke in a deep voice, "I told you, I'm not interested in women!"

He didn't bother to continue arguing with him, he didn't believe that his brother-in-law could still be a bachelor for life!

What a wonderful place to have a wife and children!

A life like that is not a wasted day.

Kieran is missing Freya again.

Along with missing it, in his heart, there was unspoken worry.

Cealan hated Freya, the last time she was caught by him with Alistair in her arms, she was worse than dead, and there was no telling how he would torture her this time!

He couldn't wait to get to her, to hold her tightly in his arms, to see if she was, in fact, safe and sound.

Jayla was also particularly worried about Freya's situation. She wanted to go with Kieran to save her mommy, but she knew in her heart that she was too weak, and if she went along, she would only cause trouble for her daddy.

So, she still obediently obeyed Kieran's arrangement and let Jacob take him and Leo back to the cruise ship first.

And Kieran, single-handedly, went to save his beloved girl.

Kieran had already locked on to Cealan's residence on this island, and Freya must be over there too, so he took advantage of the night to sneak in quietly.

Cealan's residence is heavily guarded, and Kieran's skill was so good that he entered without alerting the bodyguards and assassins guarding it.

He had now, entered the front courtyard and he was trying to look from room to room to find out where exactly Freya was when he heard the anxious voices of several bodyguards.

"Where's Miss Stahler? Wasn't she just inside the room? Why has she suddenly disappeared?!"

"I don't know! I just went to the washroom, and I didn't expect that in a few minutes' time, Miss Stahler would be gone! What can we do? The boss will be back soon, if he finds out that Miss Stahler is missing, we'll all be finished for sure!"

"Find her! Hurry up and find her! Even if we have to turn this place upside down, we have to find Miss Stahler!"

Kieran's heart thumped violently, as he had just quietly sneaked into this courtyard, he heard the conversation of the few bodyguards guarding the entrance.

Freya slit her wrists to protect Alistair and to keep from marrying Cealan.

Because she was injected with a strange drug, slitting her wrists would have been extraordinarily damaging to her body, and she remains unconscious.

She was in very poor health and even if she had woken up, there was no way she could have left this heavily guarded compound... what had happened to her to make her suddenly disappear without a trace?

Kieran gripped his heart hard, unable to catch his breath at the thought that Freya might now be experiencing some more torture worse than death.

He was about to leave quietly and hurry up to find out where Freya was when Cealan came over.

"What did you guys just say?! Who's missing?! Where's Stahler?! Where did you guys get Stahler?!"

"Boss, we don't know how Miss Stahler suddenly disappeared," Cealan's man spoke with trepidation, afraid that if he accidentally said something wrong, he would snapped his neck ferociously.

He knew that with Freya's current physical condition, it was impossible for her to leave alone, he just wanted to find his Stahler quickly!

Cealan swept a sorrowful glance at his frightened henchmen as he jerked open the door of the room in front of him and strode in as quickly as he could.

The warm bed where Freya had been lying was now empty, except for a large patch of red on the side of the bed, which looked extraordinarily frightening.
