Chapter 1331

When Flynn returned to the courtyard with Kiki, the doctors had already been waiting there.

He carried her in his arms and quickly rushed inside the room.

Feeling thick blood sticking to his hands, his eyes, drenched in it, became more and more red as blood.

“She’s about to give birth! See how she’s doing! If anything happens to her, I won’t spare you!”

The doctors examined Kiki’s condition with trepidation. They had come in a hurry and had only heard that someone was in labour and that a normal birth would certainly be fine, but with the instruments they had brought over, they were also certainly unable to perform a caesarean section.

But how can she push if she is not awake for a normal birth?

They could not have given birth to an unconscious pregnant woman even if they had the power to do so.

“Mr. Wallace, this lady is in a very bad condition, she is unconscious, she can’t make any effort at all. I’m just afraid, she and the baby will eventually have to be suffocated to death!”

“Then let her wake up!” Flynn growled angrily, and was even more furious when he saw the doctors shivering incessantly but doing absolutely nothing.

He knew that this group of doctors, there was no way to make Kiki wake up quickly, he could only use the dumbest method.

“Kiki, wake up!”

Flynn threw a bowl of cold water directly on her face, and being stimulated by such icy cold temperature, she finally opened her eyes wearily.

As soon as she opened her eyes, Kiki couldn’t sleep, and in the blink of an eye, the pain that tore her heart out spread rapidly down her lower abdomen, making her, even with a breath, hurt.

Kiki covered her stomach in pain, at this time, she had no time to think too much, she only knew that she was in real pain, so much pain that she was about to die.

She also knew that she would certainly die if she fell into Flynn’s hands, but in her heart, she still had a slight hope that her child, she hoped, would live well.

She had lost two children, and this pregnancy, she carried two in one, and she felt that this was God’s compensation for her, as if, the two children she had lost, were back, but she did not expect that the child she had been looking forward to for so long, would finally be destroyed in the hands of this demon, Flynn.

Kiki was in increasing pain, she lifted her face, a pair of charming eyes, at this time, dense with a heavy blood mist.

Blame it on Flynn!

If it weren't for her, she wouldn't have faced such despair, let alone dragged Freya and the three kids into suffering with her.

"Doctor, hurry up and deliver her! Can't you see that she's in pain now?!"

Hearing Flynn's words, the doctors hurriedly performed a simple examination on Kiki while they quickly prepared to deliver her baby.

Fetal malposition.

The doctors didn't know the real relationship between Flynn and Kiki, and seeing how nervous he was about her, they just assumed they were a couple.

In large hospitals, difficult deliveries are somewhat difficult, and here, medical conditions are limited, and Kiki's fetal position is not correct.

A young female doctor spoke up with trepidation, "Mr. Wallace, to protect the adult, or, to protect the children?"

Flynn's body shuddered violently, he hadn't really thought that one day he would need to answer such a question.

Kiki was his enemy, if it wasn't for her, his younger siblings wouldn't have died in misery and despair, but let her die .....

He really couldn't do it.

"Protect the adult!"

"No!"

Although Kiki was in severe pain, she could still hear the sounds around her. She knew that even if she gave birth to the baby, Flynn might not let them live, but when faced with such a decision, she would still choose to let herself die without hesitation.

But where there was a slight chance of survival, she had to fight hard for her child.

She knew that Flynn, the devil, just wanted to kill her baby so that she would be left with a heart like a knife and in pain. She begged him and there was no way he would change his mind, so she could only plead bitterly to the female doctors who delivered her baby.

"Doctor, save ..... the baby! Please, please save ..... save my baby! Please ....."

Kiki lost her breath and almost passed out again.

But she knew that in this situation, if she did not exert herself, her baby, for sure, would have to be suffocated.

All she could do was grit her teeth and continue to push to keep from passing out.

Without a response from the doctor, Kiki couldn't help but feel anxious. She trembled and reached out her hand, then tried to grab the doctor's arm.

“Please, please, save my children, save them. You can’t protect me, please....”

When they met the tears in Kiki’s eyes, the doctors’ hearts were filled with sadness. They were also women and knew how important a child was to a woman.

They did not dare to agree to Kiki’s request without permission, they could only raise their faces and ask Flynn for advice.

“Protect the adult!”

The doctor no longer dared to have any doubts and concentrated on delivering Kiki’s baby.

Kiki’s fingertips were trembling and moving, if her children are gone, what’s the point of living!

“Doctor, please .....

“Miss, look how well Mr. Wallace treats you. I have come across many cases where, when it comes to protecting the adults and the children, many male heads of families have chosen to protect the children, but Mr. Wallace chose to protect you without hesitation.”

“You can see that Mr. Wallace he really loves you.”

The doctor’s reassuring words did not give Kiki any peace of mind, but made her tremble more and more.

Does Flynn really love her?

She doesn’t believe it!

He chose to protect the adult, but only so that she wouldn’t die so easily and better torment her!

Flynn is a psychologically twisted demon, she knows better than anyone that his greatest pleasure is to watch others die with nothing and, ultimately, in despair and pain!

He would, first, destroy everything she had now before he would send her to hell!

“Ahhhhhhh!!!”

Another pain came, Kiki didn’t want to show her vulnerable side in front of the demon, but it really was too painful, no matter how much she restrained herself, she had bitten her lip until blood was flowing, she still couldn’t restrain herself from crying out in pain.

The pain, which seemed to be never-ending, was suddenly broken by a somewhat weak-sounding cry.

“Mr. Wallace, it’s a girl! And another one, it’s a boy!”

Immediately afterwards, Kiki heard another loud and clear cry, and her eyes could not restrain from being filled with tears. Her two children had survived, but, in the hands of the devil, how long could they live?!

She was sorry for making them face such despair as soon as they were born!

She was also sorry for Freya, who was dragged into her trouble, as well as Jaden, Jayla and Alistair!

Chapter 1332

Flynn's brow was furrowed as he looked steadily at the two crumpled babies held in the doctor's hands.

Newborn children were dirty and really ugly, but he actually wanted to hold them.

They are Kiki's children.

Flynn couldn't help but reach out his hand, and when he was about to touch the two children, his hand, like an electric shock, withdrew; they were not his children.

"Mr. Wallace, look how beautiful these two children are, the girl must grow up to be as beautiful as this young lady and the boy must be as handsome as you!"

The doctor said, and carried the female doll she was holding in her arms to Kiki's side, so that she could have a look of them.

Kiki really didn't think that she would ever have the chance to see her baby, she looked greedily at her face and murmured softly, "Sophia ....."

In fact, Quinn is really quite patriarchal, when Kiki was pregnant, he always said that he wanted a daughter, saying she would be as beautiful as her, and he always talked to their daughter when he was lying on her belly, he never even thought, if he had a son, he would be as handsome as him.

Kiki greedily looked at the baby's face, and a mist of tears filled her eyes for a moment, Quinn, did you see that? As you wished, we have a daughter.

It's just that she doesn't look, as yet, pretty, but wrinkled and like monkey, but I'm sure our daughter will be extra special and pretty when she grows up.

Unfortunately, Flynn will not let her grow up safe and happy.

Kiki reached out her hand, she wanted to touch the baby, and thinking of something, she quickly took off the jade pendant around her neck and stuffed it into the baby's arms almost urgently.

The jade pendant was a talisman that Quinn had spent a lot of money for from a master for her protection.

It is engraved with the word 'Hartsell' and she now gives it to her baby, hoping that it will protect her.

Though she knew that falling into the hands of the devil and being safe was, indeed, a luxury.

Kiki also wanted to see her and Quinn's son.

Only, that doctor was just about to bring the children over for her to take a look, but Flynn ordered with an iron face, "Carry these two bastards away!"

Flynn didn't know what had gotten into him, seeing her care so much about her and Quinn's child, his heart ripped apart with pain.

Every pore in his body was uncomfortable and he did not want to continue this uncomfortable situation, so he preferred to keep his eyes off the ground and have the two children taken away quickly.

When she heard that he wanted the doctor to take the two children away, Kiki was completely anxious.

She struggled to get out of bed, but she had just given birth and had lost so much blood that she couldn't get up.

She could only, with all her strength, scream at the doctor, "Give me back my babies! Please, give me back my babies!"

Quinn hadn't even see their children yet, how could these people cruelly take her children away!

She would not allow them to hurt her child!

Flynn laughed coldly, "Yes, these two wild sons are your Kiki's children! They are so unlucky to be so incapable of reincarnation and become your Kiki's children!"

"Kiki, remember, if anything happens to these two children of yours, blame no one else but you for their bad luck in having you as their mother!"

"Flynn, what the hell are you trying to do to my children?! Flynn, I forbid you to hurt my children!"

"What?!"

Flynn smiled, and as he did so, his face looked more and more civilized, except that the grimace under his eyes made him look more and more ghastly.

"To take your two children, of course, and throw them out and feed them to the dogs!"

Kiki was shaking with hatred about what this devil was to do this to her children!

Her first child, which she was pregnant with, was almost seven months old, and in prison, was brutally clamped to pieces and killed.

The second child she carried might not even have had a foetal heart before he had died a tragic death at the hands of Dylan.

Now, she had given birth to a pair of children for Quinn, and they had just been born, and they were to be sent to the dogs again!

If she had known that giving birth to them would have brought them to such a tragic end, she would have preferred that they had died in her womb!

"NO!!!"

Kiki roared her heart out, "Flynn, you can't hurt my children like this! My children have never hurt you, how can you do this to them! You kill me! You kill me!"

"Flynn, even though I have a clear conscience in my life, and I never feel that I have wronged Dylan and Penny, I still ask you to kill me! Kill me! Don't hurt the innocent again!"

Kiki wanted to find something to end her life, but there was no sharp weapon around, and she could not even bite her tongue and use much strength to kill herself.

"Kill you?"

Flynn was still smiling, only, the smile on his face became more and more cold and cruel, “Kiki, if I kill you, how can you watch the people around you, die miserably!”

“Kiki, I still want you to watch the show, so you can’t die so early!”

Seeing that the doctor was about to carry her two children out of the room, Kiki didn’t know where she got the strength to do so, but she tumbled off the bed.

Kiki trembled and held out her hand to the doctor, “Give me back my babies! Please, give me back my babies!”

Seeing her in such a state, the doctors felt uncomfortable, but they didn’t dare to hand the baby over to her without Flynn’s say-so.

They could only turn their faces and ask Flynn’s opinion with their eyes.

“Dream on!”

Flynn no longer had any semblance of patience, and he spoke almost grumpily, “Take these two children and throw them out!”

“No!”

Kiki couldn’t get up, so she had to crawl to the door and go and snatch her baby.

When she moved her body, she brought out a large pool of blood that looked unspeakably frightening.

Her face, too, grew increasingly pale, and eventually, it was all so miserable that it turned grey. The more Flynn looked at this haggard face of hers, the more it stung, especially when he saw the blood underneath her, his heart was uncomfortable to the extreme, and with a fierce force in his hand, he grabbed her back roughly.

“Kiki, get your ass back in bed!”

“No!” Kiki struggled hard, “Flynn, let go of me! You give me back my babies! You devil, you .....

Kiki’s voice came to an abrupt end, and her body shuddered violently, she leaned straight back.

Chapter 1333

“Kiki!”

Flynn held her tightly with all his might, and when he saw that the doctors were still standing frozen in place, he shouted hysterically, “What are you doing? Can’t you see she’s fainted?”

“Save her now! If anything happens to her, none of you will live!”

The doctors were really quite speechless at Flynn’s behaviour.

If he hadn’t pushed her so hard, would she have become like this?

Now he had forced someone who’s just given birth to faint and he was anxious. Could this person be any more psychologically twisted?

Although they thought so, the doctors were afraid that Flynn would really go crazy and their lives would be in danger, so they rushed forward to treat her in a frenzied manner.

“How is she?!”

When Flynn saw that the doctors had been tossing and turning for so long, Kiki was still lying motionless on the bed, and he couldn't help but feel anxious.

“Mr. Wallace, Miss Hartsell's body is too weak, we will try our best to wake her up .....,” one of the doctors spoke with trepidation.

A normal person would not be able to withstand such intense stimulation after giving birth, and Kiki's body is obviously much weaker than normal people, so it's strange that she can withstand it!

Seeing that Kiki was not in fear of her life, Flynn's heart couldn't help but slowly fall back into place.

But the string that was taut in his body could not be loosened by the delay in her waking up.

He knew that Kiki was his enemy, and he should not be soft on her, let alone, half warm towards her, but, looking at her miserable, lifeless face, he could not restrain himself from reaching out and gently rubbing his hand over her face.

His svelte face was heavy with pity, and the heartache in his eyes could not be restrained.

What to do? The one who should be hated the most is the one who makes his heart flutter the most.

Flynn really thought he was crazy.

In the nearly two years that he had been separated from Kiki, he had told himself countless times that he didn't care about her at all, and that he had found many women, but when he really cuddled with those women, there was only an indescribable disgust in his heart.

But, the touch of her only makes him mad, uncontrollable in his love.

Flynn's fingertips twitched abruptly as he jerked his hand back from her face.

He couldn't go on like this.

She and Christ, who had made his own brother and sister killed, and yet he had his heart set on his enemy, he despised himself!

There were two other doctors standing at the door, one holding the girl baby and the other holding the boy baby. Originally, they had listened to Flynn's instructions and wanted to carry the two babies out, but having just seen how much he cared for Kiki, for a moment, they didn't know what to do with the two babies.

“Mr. Wallace, these two children .....,”

Hearing the doctor's words, Flynn turned his face violently and his eyes locked dead on one of the babies.

The two babies had been bathed and wrapped in little wrapped quilts and he could not tell which one was the boy doll and which one was the girl baby.

He casually raised his hand and pointed at one of the babies, "Throw it over the hill!!"

It was the girl baby he was pointing at.

The doctor's heart thumped hard.

Such new-born infants, thrown into the hills at such a season, have no life, only destruction!

A healer's heart is in her heart, and although she was afraid and terrified of Flynn, she could not bear to see such a fragile baby helplessly dying in the freezing snow.

She spoke cautiously, "Mr. Wallace, do you really want to send this girl to the mountain?"

"What, do I need your approval for the decisions I make?!"

Flynn had no more patience, and he coolly raised his hand to his man who was guarding the door, and that man understood and snatched the girl baby from the doctor's hand.

Flynn's eyes were gloomy as he watched his men disappear quickly from the doorway with that babies in their arms.

He could not restrain himself from rushing out and carrying the little girl back, but, thinking of the blood feud between him and Kiki, he forced himself to stand still in the end.

He knew that when Kiki woke up, he would be unable to restrain his soft heart again, and he could not be soft.

So, he took advantage of her unconsciousness to destroy one of her children first.

That way, at the very least, he could prove that he could be cruel to her.

Kiki, I will destroy you! I will destroy you!

I can definitely kill you and avenge Dylan and Penny!

Freya was worried about Kiki's current situation, she was afraid that Flynn would not allow anyone to deliver her baby, then, they would all die!

She was also scared, Kiki was carrying a big belly and had to be cruelly tortured by the devil, she was so anxious, but, it was not that easy for her to escape from this almost closed room.

"Mommy, there are two bodyguards guarding the door, we'll trick them into coming in later, I'll knock them out and we'll take the opportunity to leave!" Jaden leaned over to Freya's ear and spoke in a whisper.

He had LSD on him, only because of the limited size of his pockets, the amount of LSD he carried was very small, at most three or four people's worth, so he didn't dare to risk it by flashing his bottom card in front of so many people when he was on the road.

But he had paid attention to the neighbourhood when he was locked in.

This room, which was very remote, usually had few servants or bodyguards coming and going in the vicinity. If they managed to take care of the two bodyguards without attracting anyone's attention, they would have a chance to leave!

Seeing the worry written in Freya's eyes, Jaden softly reassured, "Mommy, don't worry too much, Auntie Kiki will be fine!"

Although Jaden was comforting Freya, his hand, however, could not help but tremble.

In fact, he was also worried about Kiki and the babies in her belly.

Jayla's eyes were tinged with tears as she kept staring at the door, she was also worried about her Auntie Kiki.

When she thought that Auntie Kiki was now suffering with her big belly, Jayla wanted to cry especially.

"Mommy, Auntie Kiki will be fine!" Jayla wiped a tear hard, she was saying this to Freya, and even more so to herself.

Freya knew that Jaden and Jayla said this to comfort her because they did not want to upset her.

But how could she not feel bad!

Flynn has no humanity at all, he hates Kiki to death, who knows what cruelty he will use to torture her this time!

She couldn't wait to see her.

Giving a wink to Jaden and Jayla, the two of them let out a rather silent cry of pain and fell to the ground, motionless.

Chapter 1334

"Somebody! Help!" Freya clutched Alistair in her arms and yelled at the two bodyguards at the door.

Hearing her voice, the two bodyguards glanced inside suspiciously through the transparent part of the door.

Seeing that her voice had caught the attention of the two bodyguards, she shouted again and again, "Help! My two children have suddenly fainted, please help them!"

"Help! I can't lose my children! Please help them!"

"Bitch, are you playing with us? How could they suddenly faint?!" Those two bodyguards were very wary and did not believe Freya's words.

"I'm not fooling you! They're epileptic! People go crazy when they're locked up in this shithole, let alone when they have epilepsy! Please, help them!"

Jaden and Jayla were really both good at acting, and after hearing Freya's words, their bodies, both of them, began to twitch hard, and their lips kept trembling, and they even spat out white foam.

Originally, the two bodyguards guarding the door still thought that Freya was playing a trick, but when they saw Jaden and Jayla in this state of non-stop convulsions and foaming at the mouth, their faces, too, could not help but be tinted with anxiety.

They all knew the identity of Jaden and Jayla, the son and daughter of the famous Mr. Fitzgerald of Arkpool City.

Flynn had also explained that the four of them, could not make any slip-ups, because, this was an important bargaining chip for him to bargain with Kieran.

He wanted to get something very important from Kieran's hands.

If something happened to Jaden and Jayla, Kieran would be furious, and then the boss's plans would be ruined.

With this in mind, the two men dared not delay any longer, and they quickly pushed open the door and rushed inside the room.

"Let's see what's going on!" One of the bodyguards half crouched down and just started to check Jaden's condition.

They had followed Flynn for so many years and had been injured countless times, they still had some of the most basic medical experience, but, before his hand could touch Jaden, the little kid, who had fallen motionless on the ground, raised his hand violently, and a handful of white powder, pounced on his face as much as he could.

"You guys ....."

The bodyguard knew he had been fooled and he was furious, only, before he could say the words that followed, he had fallen to the ground motionless.

His companion also saw that they were playing a trick, and at that moment, he tried to call Flynn to report to him, but, before he could dial the phone, Jaden quickly leapt up from the ground and kicked him viciously.

The bodyguard obviously didn't expect such a small child to have such good skills, he quickly dodged but was still kicked by Jaden, he was just about to dodge a second kick from his quick attack when he only felt a pain at the back of his neck, a fragrance hit his nose and he too fell to the ground motionless.

Freya withdrew the hand that landed on that bodyguard's neck, "Jaden, Jayla, let's go!"

This is the back yard, which is bare all around, and has obviously been deserted for a long time, usually, there is not even a person to clean the place.

The rooms in the backyard, all with old-fashioned wooden doors, have a piece of clear glass above them.

Freya looked almost from room to room, but found no trace of Kiki.

She desperately wanted to find Kiki, but she knew in her heart that she would have too big a target if she brought her three children along to look for her, and she was only afraid that before she found her, they would already be imprisoned by Flynn again.

God was helping her, as she was looking for Kiki in the backyard with the three kids when she spotted a dog hole in the corner, and she quickly grabbed Jayla, who was standing by, and told her and Jaden and Alistair to get out of here quickly.

Both Jaden and Jayla were uneasy about Freya being here alone, they especially wanted to accompany their Mommy, however, they were both sensible children, they knew that Alistair still had to be taken care of, moreover, they were too big a target to follow their Mommy and would easily attract the attention of others.

They were worried about Mommy and Auntie Kiki, but they, moreover, couldn't hold them back and, by leaving, were in a better position to bring in help to rescue them.

Flynn was really extra extra vigilant, when he caught them, he had destroyed all the communication devices on them, Kieran couldn't rush back to the country yet, even if he had his own men looking for them, it would be like looking for a needle in a haystack for them to find their whereabouts.

"Mommy, you must take care of yourself."

Jaden took Alistair from her arms, and then quickly led him, through the small hole in front of him.

"Mommy, Jayla and I and Alistair are waiting for you and Auntie Kiki to come home!" With these words, Jaden quickly left from the back of the hill with his younger siblings.

Freya's eyes looked firmly at the desolate courtyard in front of her, this time, no matter how difficult it was, she would take Kiki home with her.

Kiki was not locked up in the backyard as she was; most likely, she was taken by Flynn to where he lived.

The compound, really, was so big that it was really hard to find where Flynn lived.

She was about to go quietly to the front and enquire which courtyard Flynn lived in when she saw the two maids carrying the meal and coming her way.

She knew that the two maids were bringing meals to her and the three kids.

There were a number of broken walls around, and Freya scrambled to hide behind one to keep the two maids from finding her.

"It's so pathetic!"

Freya secretly clutched the ecstasy left behind by Jaden and quietly listened to the two maids' conversation.

"Yes, a newborn child thrown inside the snow, only to be, by now, frozen to death!"

"It's so pathetic! And I wonder if that woman will go crazy when she finds out about this!"

"I'm sure she'll go crazy! Who can bear to have their child, which they have worked so hard to have, frozen to death? I'm afraid that woman won't live for a few days if she falls into the hands of our boss!"

"She looks like she's running out of air right now! But our boss has given the word that the doctor must save her!"

“She must be saved? Why? Didn’t the boss especially want her dead?”

“Of course the boss wants her dead! He has a blood feud with her! But I heard that the boss doesn’t want her to die so easily, he wants her to die after she’s been tortured! Alas, that woman’s life is completely ruined! It would be better if she could die a painful death, but I’m afraid death would be a luxury!”

Hearing the two maids’ words, Freya’s heart jumped wildly, Flynn had taken Kiki’s baby and thrown it into the mountains!

A newborn baby is fragile! There was so much snow on the mountain, Flynn was trying to freeze her baby to death!

Freya could not hold back any longer, she quickly rushed out from behind the broken wall, two people were not good to control together, after she had stunned one of the maids, she quickly reached out and put her hand in a death grip on the other maid’s neck.

“Where exactly was Kiki’s babies dumped!”

Chapter 1335

“I .....

The maid’s skills were no match for Freya’s, and she didn’t even dare to move when she was pinned down like this.

Of course, Freya didn’t really want to strangle the maid, but in extraordinary times, one can only resort to extraordinary means.

“Say it! Where exactly was Kiki’s children thrown to!”

“All I know is that it’s in the back of the hill .....

Freya’s hand suddenly pushed so hard that the maid was in pain that she couldn’t speak.

She was betting that this gossipy maid would know more than just.

The mountain behind this courtyard was really too big, and going to a mountain that big to find two babies was like looking for a needle in a haystack, she had to ask for a more specific location!

“I want the exact location!”

Seeing a flash of struggle in the maid’s eyes, Freya knew that she had bet right, she definitely knew the exact location.

She pinned the maid directly against the wall as she spoke through clenched teeth, “Of course, you can choose not to tell me! I’ll send you to the hell now!”

“I ..... I say it!”

That maid was afraid that Freya had really strangled her, and she said, “The boss only let people throw that girl baby.”

The force on Freya's hand lessened considerably and the maid could finally speak fluently.

"The bodyguard who dropped that girl baby to is my hometown, and I heard him say that he dropped that girl baby at the stream halfway up the back mountain. It's easy to find there, if you go halfway up the hill and see the stream, you'll soon find the girl baby!"

The maid wasn't really that bad, and she really felt sorry for the girl. She hoped that Freya would find her quickly so that she wouldn't let such an innocent life die in the snow and ice.

It was just that so much time had passed, only that even if Freya had found the girl baby, she would have been frozen into a popsicle long ago.

Freya was worried about Kiki's baby, she didn't want to waste time with this maid, she was worried that she might tip off Flynn, she spilled the little bit of ecstasy she had left on her face, her head lolled and her body fell limply to the ground.

Releasing the maid, Freya dared not delay any longer as she rushed to the dog hole, intending to get out through it.

That dog hole was, really, a bit small. Luckily, Freya was thinner and had smaller bones, so she was able to get through it gently.

The sun is setting in the west and the wind is chilly.

Freya subconsciously tightened her jacket.

She was wrapped tightly around her body and still shivering from the cold, surely Flynn wouldn't be so kind as to wrap that girl baby tightly, she was still so small, how could she survive in such icy weather!

Kiki has lost two children before, so she loves children more than normal and looks forward to the two children in her belly coming into the world.

If, after the birth of the child, the bad news of the child ensued, she would have to go mad!

Kiki has a very serious depression, and after Quinn's careful companionship, she has managed to get better, and she can't bear to be hit that hard anymore.

Freya ran wildly, her ankles heavily cut by the thorns on the mountain, she was unaware of it, she only thought of finding the girl baby who had been thrown in the snow and ice.

At last she ran halfway up the hill and saw the stream that the maid had spoken of.

She rushed forward along the stream, but she had been running for some time now and still had not found the girl baby.

Just as she was about to lose hope, she finally came across a wrapped quilt.

Freya's heart was overjoyed, but as she drew closer to the small wrapped quilt, her heart, again, was drumming hard.

She was afraid that, what she saw, would be a cold corpse.

There were no infant cries.

If that child was still alive, she would have had to be crying out in such an abandoned environment, and that kind of quietness disturbed Freya to the core of her being.

With trembling legs, she took a step into the small wrapped quilt.

There were no babies in there at all.

Instead, there were a few drops of blood that had dried on the stone next to the small bag quilt.

Freya's body trembled violently, that baby couldn't have been eaten by some beast, could it?!

Freya did not dare to think further.

She also knew that the baby's name was Sophia, and she looked around in bewilderment and cried out, "Sophia!"

In response to her, there was only an empty, desperate echo.

Freya continued to walk along the stream, hoping that by some miracle she would find another living, breathing baby girl. The scene before her, reflecting the snow and the hazy moonlight, was quite clear, but it was late into the night and she had not found the fragile girl baby again.

"Sophia ....."

Freya's voice had roared until it was hoarse, she knew that a girl baby that small, who didn't know her name was Sophia, couldn't even speak, yet she kept shouting nonstop.

As if, as long as she kept shouting her name, there was still a trace of her in the world .....

When Kiki woke up, it was already the next morning.

Her head was so heavy it hurt, and her brain, it seemed, froze for a brief moment.

She looked around in bewilderment, and it was only when she saw Flynn's enlarged, demonic face that she suddenly remembered that she had fallen into a devil's den.

Freya, Jaden, Jayla, and Alistair are still alive and dead, and the two children she gave birth to have fallen into the hands of the devil once and for all!

Inside this room, there was no trace of her children.

"Flynn, what happened to Freya and the others?! Let them go! Where are my children?! You give me back my children!"

"Kiki, you're finally awake! I thought, you didn't want to wake up!"

Seeing Kiki wake up, Flynn was visibly relieved, but the words that came out were still chilling to within an inch of their lives.

"Flynn, don't bullshit here, how the hell are they doing?!"

Kiki hated it. When she thought of this demon, who always spared no effort to hurt her and those around her, she hated that she could not tear his face off.

Only now, she didn't even have the strength to stand up; she simply couldn't kill the demon.

"Oh, Kiki, there's something I almost forgot to tell you. That daughter you gave birth to, I've already had her thrown to the back of the mountain, I'm just afraid, even if she's not frozen to death by now, she would have been eaten by wild beasts already!"

"Lunatic! Flynn, you madman!"

Kiki didn't know where she got the strength from, she raised her hand and threw a slap at Flynn's face fiercely.

The thought of her baby girl, lying alone and helpless in the freezing cold, made her heart tremble with pain.

It hurt, and she wished, with this demon, die with it!

Chapter 1336

"Yes, I'm crazy! Kiki, you've always known that I am a madman, driven mad by you and Christ!"

Flynn reached out his hand and gently stroked over his face that was sore from Kiki's punch.

His svelte face twisted and grim with hatred, he raised his hand violently, and then tried to slap Kiki as well.

However, his hand, after all, did not land on her face.

He unnaturally withdrew the hand with its obvious stiffness, and he kept telling himself that it wasn't that he couldn't spare her, he just kept her for use.

"Flynn, give me back my daughter! You give her back to me!"

Kiki had no weapons on her, so she could only use her fists and feet to teach Flynn a hard lesson.

She didn't know martial arts, and she raised her fist and slammed it into him in an uncontrolled manner, even the eyes on the bridge of his nose were crooked.

"That's enough!"

Flynn roughly choked Kiki's wrist, "Kiki, if you also want that son you gave birth to to die, I'll make it happen for you now!"

Hearing Flynn's words, Kiki lost all her strength for a moment.

She was devastated by the loss of her daughter, but she, too, did not want anything to happen to her son.

She would rather die herself than wish them to live well.

But now, even if she were to die, she could no longer get her daughter back; she could only, with all her might, protect her son.

"Flynn, let him go! Please let him go!"

Kiki lowered her posture in a rare moment, “Flynn, no matter what you do to me, I’m really willing to do it all! I only beg you, please let my son go! Flynn, please .....

Flynn felt that he was simply schizophrenic. He was angry with Kiki for condescendingly disdainning him, and he was angry with her for begging him so humbly.

As if, the mere sight of this woman made him uncomfortable all over.

His heart was so upset that he couldn’t help but increase the force of his choke on her wrist, “Kiki, don’t worry, I won’t let your son die so easily! Christ hasn’t come yet! I still want, for you to play a game with me together!”

“Don’t worry, this game, it’s going to be extra special fun and leave you, well, wanting more!”

With that, Flynn’s face, inch by inch, pressed towards Kiki’s face.

Being so close to a demon made Kiki sick to her stomach, and she subconsciously turned her face away from him to keep a relatively cold distance.

Seeing her so disgusted by his approach, Flynn’s face grew harder and harder.

He cupped her chin furiously, his eyes hostile.

“Kiki, you don’t look down on me, do you? You are a divorced woman who has been in jail, why can’t you look up to me!”

The more Flynn spoke, the angrier he became, and he leaned his face straight down and kissed her fiercely on the lips.

Kiki’s heart was humiliated to the extreme, she did indeed despise Flynn, she had never despised a man so much, but before she could push him away, his cold, grim voice, with obvious threats, rang in her ears.

“Kiki, you could have pushed me away and rejected me, and I promise you, for the rest of your life, you will never see your son, your best friend Freya, and her three children again!”

Kiki was so hateful that she almost gnashed her mouth full of silver teeth, but Flynn’s words caught her soft spot precisely, she didn’t want to be touched by the devil, but those people she cared about most, she was even more unwilling to lose.

She could only close her eyes in death and let Flynn inch closer.

Just when she thought that she would not be able to escape today after all, he suddenly pushed her away in disgust.

“Dirty!”

Flynn’s face, with obvious disgust, “I don’t care to touch a divorced and imprisoned dirty woman yet!”

Flynn actually really didn’t think Kiki was dirty, he just hated his uncontrollable love for her, and, her undisguised disgust for him, as if, he was the most disgusting fly and mosquito under the sky, the most disgusting filth.

She felt that he was dirty, rather, he pushed her away first and trampled her dignity, fiercely, underfoot. Kiki didn't like to be called dirty, however, after hearing Flynn's words, she let out a long breath of relief. He was, at last, no longer insistent on touching her.

Flynn sat on the edge of the bed with a cold face, not saying a word. Suddenly, he dropped his face and glanced at the watch on his wrist.

"At this hour, Christ should be coming over soon. Let's go, Kiki, let's go play a fun game together!"

Just now, she had heard the name of Christ, she had not contacted him for a long time, but she knew that his heart, all along, was with her.

He would come over and do whatever it took to get her out, but she still didn't want him to come over.

This is a trap set by Flynn, using her as bait for Christ.

She had loved and hated him, but in the end, she gave up all her past loves and hates and befriended Quinn with all her heart, but in the end, she couldn't treat him as an irrelevant stranger, after all, they had such a heartfelt past.

So, between them, no contact, no deficit, is what is best for each other, and she doesn't want to owe him anything more.

"Flynn, this is between us, don't involve anyone else!"

Hearing Kiki's words, Flynn couldn't help but censure a cold laugh, "Someone else? Kiki, how can Christ be someone else! He is your former husband and the one who personally sent Penny and Dylan to hell!"

"He killed my next of kin for you, you are both responsible for their deaths, and none of you will stay out of it!"

With that, Flynn forcefully dragged Kiki towards the outside of the room.

Kiki's body was still so weak that she couldn't stand up at all, seeing that when she was dragged hard, she fell straight to the ground, a quick flash of annoyance passed through Flynn's eyes, in the end, he didn't continue to drag her outside, but carried her on his shoulder.

"Flynn, let go of me! You kill me, you kill me to avenge Penny and Dylan, please don't hurt anyone else!"

Kiki tried to break away from Flynn, but he was too stubborn and too strong for her to get out of his grip.

When he saw that Christ really did not bring any hands, the corners of Flynn's lips restrained from rising, arced cruelly, hideously like a devil.

"Christ, you're really in love with her!"

"Let Kiki go!" Christ's body was erect, in the past two years, he had lost a lot of weight, yet he looked more and more handsome, noble and cold, unbeatable.

"Christ, leave me alone! You get out of here!"

Kiki was afraid that Flynn would go crazy again, so she spoke up, "Christ, I hated you, and you saved me, we're clear! Go away! I don't need you to save me! Go!"

Chapter 1337

Flynn's men surrounded the courtyard, but Kiki knew that, with Christ's skills, if he wanted to leave now, Flynn could not stop him.

Having dealt with Flynn so many times, Kiki has some understanding of his character.

He is paranoid, he is twisted, he is ruthless.

Even if Christ stayed here and suffered for her, there was no way he would let her go.

So, there was no need, to take another life of Christ.

Seeing that Christ was still standing in the courtyard like a strong pine, Kiki was so anxious that she wanted to push him out.

"Christ, get out of here! I told you, I don't need you to save me! Between us, there is no longer any relationship! Go now!"

"Kiki, I'm not leaving!"

Christ's voice was very soft, but it carried a determination that could not be changed. He always gave people the impression that he was particularly cold, but at this moment the eyes he looked at Kiki were full of tenderness.

It was as if, he had never, ever been a, gentle man.

"Kiki, you're here, I'm not leaving!"

Even though, she had died to him, she did not love him anymore, but his heart, however, was still imprisoned by her, where she was, where his heart was.

His eyes, from Kiki's body, slowly fell on the body of the infant child being held by Flynn's bodyguard at the side.

The baby in swaddling clothes was so tightly covered that he could not see his face very clearly, but looking at the baby from afar, he still felt an urge to burst into tears.

If, however, his and Kiki's two children were still alive, both were much older than this child.

The oldest one was older than Jaden and Jayla, and the one who was later killed was older than Alistair.

This child is not his, but it is Kiki's.

Even though, he had lost two children, looking at this baby, his heart, it seemed, was made complete.

There is also unspeakable regret and pain.

He and Kiki, who should have been the most loving young couple with children around their knees, have shattered their happiness with his own hands.

In the end, he missed out.

“Flynn, Penny and Dylan were all killed by me and had nothing to do with Kiki! Let her go! As for me, you can kill me or not!” Christ stared coldly at Flynn, his face expressionless as he spoke.

“Christ, to be honest, I really don’t intend to let you leave alive today!”

Flynn smiled wistfully and then spoke, “Here’s the deal, Christ, I’ll give you a chance to behave and do as I say, and as long as I’m happy, I’ll give Kiki a way out!”

Flynn had already released Kiki from his shoulders, his almost vicious grip on her shoulders, and in his other hand a cold, shiny knife, held dead against her neck.

The cold tip of the knife was sharp, as if, death was close at hand.

For all this, Kiki did not have a half-hearted panic in her heart. After floating and sinking for half a lifetime and experiencing so much, she had long been unafraid of death, but she did not want Christ to die.

Even though she no longer dared to love him, she did not want to watch him die a miserable death in front of her.

And she knew very well how bad Flynn was, and if Christ let him do whatever he wanted, he would make him suffer the most gruesome torture and die!

“On your knees!”

Kiki was lost in her own thoughts when she heard Flynn’s bubbling, chilling voice.

He was, in effect, making Christ kneel down for him.

Kiki did not want him to kneel down for him.

Even though Christ had hurt her and wronged her, she still felt that a man as proud as he was should not kneel to anyone!

“Christ, go! You leave now!”

Kiki was so anxious that she wanted, with all her might, to move forward and let the sharp tip of the knife cut her neck.

But there was also a cold, gleaming knife, dead against her child’s head, and she dared not make a move.

All she could do was, keep telling Christ to go and not risk his life for her.

Christ did not speak, and he did not leave even more, but bent his legs and knelt heavily on the ground.

The moment he knelt down on both knees, Kiki’s eyes filled with tears, and she couldn’t restrain her voice from choking, “Christ, go away! If you don’t leave, I’ll hate you for the rest of my life!”

“Christ, get out of here! Do you want me to owe you before you’re happy? Get out of here!”

“Christ, I never thought that the famous Mr. Birkin of Arkpool City would have the day to kneel down and beg for mercy from me, Flynn!”

Flynn looked at Christ from above and could not restrain himself from laughing maniacally. Suddenly, he gave a wink to his men who were standing by the side, and they understood and threw the knife in their hands, on the ground.

Flynn half lowered his eyelids, his eyes were heavy with malice, “Christ, pick up the knife that has fallen to the ground and stab yourself, I won’t shout to stop, if you stop, I will immediately kill Kiki, and this child that she and Quinn have!”

“NO!!!” Kiki roared her heart out, she didn’t want anything to happen to her child, but Christ, was also a living human life, he didn’t have to, to die for them.

“Christ, go! Please, go! Christ, I’m begging you!”

Seeing Christ pick up the knife that had fallen to the ground, Kiki was so anxious that her body trembled, clearly, he was the person she used to hate the most, how come now, he had become the stupidest one again!

She would rather that he had been right and wrong, cold and unfeeling, than that he had fought for her, in spite of himself.

“Flynn, I will do as you wish! However, I also hope that you will keep your promise and give Kiki a way out!”

Christ knelt on both knees, Flynn was high above him, but even when he was on his knees, he didn’t look lousy, his upright spine made him look noble, and even, he pressed Flynn fiercely.

In fact, Christ wanted Flynn to let Kiki and the child leave first, and then he would leave them at his disposal.

However, he knew in his heart that the knife had already been placed against Kiki’s and that child’s neck, and he simply did not have the capital to negotiate with Flynn.

“Christ, this game is not played like that!”

Seeing Christ clutching the knife and stabbing it fiercely towards his heart, Flynn hurriedly stopped him, “Christ, don’t stab your heart! It would be meaningless if you stabbed yourself to death!”

“Christ, no! Christ, please go! Go now!”

The sharp knife was raised, and with a sudden force in his hand, Christ stabbed himself hard in the abdomen.

“NO!!!”

Kiki looked at the man in front of her who kept hurting himself, her tears, falling in big drops, she found that even though she was no longer in love, she still felt sad for him.

She was as sad as if it were dying.

But no matter how upset she was, she couldn't stop him.

Chapter 1338

"Christ, don't stop, keep going!"

Flynn's face was grim as he stared at Christ with a deadly stare and kept urging.

He had always wanted to kill Christ to avenge Penny and Dylan, but for some reason, seeing him risk his life and death for Kiki like this made him inexplicably uncomfortable in his heart.

Seeing Kiki's teardrops that kept rolling down, his heart grew more and more uncomfortable.

This woman, so so proud, with an unbreakable pride in her body, no matter how he tortured her, she would not shed tears easily, but for the sake of Christ, she wept like rain.

On what grounds!

Why does she always care so much about others!

Why should she make him feel so bad!

The more uncomfortable his heart was, the more the demon in Flynn's heart opened its teeth and claws, hating that he could not, let the world, blood flow into a river.

Kiki saw more and more knife wounds on Christ's body, and his clothes, too, were stained with large swathes of bright red, and she couldn't even care less that the knife in Flynn's hand was still pressed against her neck.

She struggled forward and then tried to stop Christ from continuing to hurt himself.

The sharp tip of the knife, cutting the skin of her neck, was oblivious to all this, she just charged forward regardless.

How could Flynn have expected that she would still dare to be so dishonest when the knife in his hand was so much against her? He was not on guard and actually let the knife in his hand, leaving a large slit on her neck.

The wound was not deep, but because she was so white and her neck was slender, it looked extraordinarily frightening.

Fearing that he might hurt her even more, Flynn scrambled to withdraw the knife from his hand, even, forgetting, to grab her in a death grip.

With her body finally free, Kiki frantically lunged in front of Christ to stop him from continuing his self-harm.

"Christ, put down the knife in your hand, put it down!"

Seeing that there was finally no knife against Kiki's neck, the corners of Christ's lips could not help but curl up into a pleased smile.

However, Kiki's child is still in Flynn's hands.

Although the two children Kiki had aborted before were not killed by his own hands, but everything, because of him, he could not protect their child, no matter what, he had to let this child be safe and sound.

“Kiki, I .....

Christ wanted to say to her, “Kiki, I’m fine, I’m really fine.”

However, before he could finish these words, a mouthful of bright red blood gushed out from his mouth.

“Christ!”

Kiki looked at the man who had almost become a bloody man in front of her and could not tell what she felt in her heart.

She is sure that, after one misunderstanding and hurt, she has completely died and does not love him, and she is also sure that she has fallen in love with Quinn.

But Christ had carried her love for the first half of her life, even though she didn’t love him, she couldn’t help but ache for him.

After spitting out this large mouthful of blood, Christ finally regained his voice, he lifted his face and smiled at Kiki, his thin and handsome face actually had a few gentleman-like warmth at this time.

“Kiki, I’m fine. I’ll protect you.”

“Christ, are you stupid! Who asked you to hurt yourself like that! Christ, you fool!”

Kiki held on to his wobbly body as hard as she could, she wanted to lift him up, but she was so weak that she couldn’t even stand on her own, so she couldn’t lift him up at all.

When he saw how nervous Kiki was about Christ’s body, Flynn’s eyes were instantly shaded.

In his hand, a gun appeared as if by magic.

And the blackened muzzle of the gun was aimed at the head of the tiny infant child in the hands of his men.

As soon as he pressed down, that little baby had to have its blood be spilled everywhere.

“Kiki, you really have feelings for Christ! You can’t let him go, fine, then I’ll kill you and Quinn’s precious son!”

“NO!!!”

Kiki jerked up and she then tried to grab the gun from Flynn’s hand, but he had already fired, so even if she went to grab the gun, there was no point in doing so.

Hearing the sharp and piercing sound of the gunshot, Kiki’s eyes abruptly widened, she wanted to protect her child with her body, but, this body of hers was really too indisputable.

She had just turned around when she fell to the ground in a heap.

She stared round in pain and despair, she thought that her child would surely die, but Christ, who was so injured that he could barely move, would rush towards the child like a gust of wind.

She hadn't even seen exactly how he had struck, and he had already snatched the boy from the bodyguard's hands, and then, tightly shielding him in his arms.

And the bullet that Flynn shot pierced his back heart hard.

He used his flesh and blood, for his child, to deflect the bullet that would have killed him.

The moment the bullet penetrated into the body, Christ got a clear look at the little baby's face.

It's so crumpled and ugly.

But it is barely possible to make out that for Quinn.

Looking at this baby in his arms, the man who bleeds without tears, reddened his eyes.

He finally held Kiki's baby.

As if, crossing the mountains and the sea, he too, had finally held, the two children he and Kiki had missed out on.

He really wanted to stand upright and take Kiki and this child with him, to get out of here safely, but now, he really didn't have the strength to stand.

His body, like a mountain tumbling down, fell stiffly backwards, and even as he fell heavily to the ground, he still held the baby in his arms high above him, preventing him from being harmed in the slightest.

In future, he will never be hugged again.

So will Kiki.

The moment the bullet pierced into Christ's heart, Kiki felt that everything around her stood still.

She could not hear the sounds around her, nor could she see the people of all shapes and sizes; all she could see was that his magnificent body, like a great tree that had been cut down, fell to the ground with a crash.

Kiki's body, sifted and trembling, her teeth were chattering and her heart was beginning to hurt.

The pain spread quickly to her limbs, her heart, her ribs, inch by inch, was deathly painful.

Her teeth were still chattering, and it seemed like a century had passed before she found her voice with difficulty.

"Christ!"

The sharp sound of a gunshot pierced the air, and Flynn's men, who had been neatly guarding the compound, fell to the ground in an instant, as if by appointment.

Even Flynn took a bullet in the heart.

Kieran, Quinn, Fabian, the men Christ had arranged outside, and the police officers Keegan had brought in all rushed in.

All this, Kiki couldn't care less, she could only crawl, step by step, with her hands and feet trembling, towards the body of the man who had fallen in a pool of blood.

"Christ! Wake up!"

Just now, when Christ hurt himself so much, Kiki kept dropping tears, but when she looked at him, who was already beyond cure, her tears dried up in an instant.

He, for one, will not survive.

Christ, who had been entangled with her for half a lifetime, who had made her love and hate her, could not live any longer!

Chapter 1339

"Christ!!!"

At this time, Christ really did not want to open his eyes, but when he heard Kiki's voice, he still lifted his eyelids with difficulty.

With trembling hands, he pushed the baby in his hands, towards Kiki's side, "Kiki, he's fine."

Kiki's eyes were so red for a moment that they almost curdled with blood, and she hugged the baby to death, choking back a silent sob.

"Kiki, don't cry ....."

Christ wanted to reach out and wipe away the tears from the corners of her eyes, but he could no longer lift his hand.

All he could do was, let his arms, helplessly, slip to the ground.

"Christ, hold in there! Quinn and the others have come over, we'll be able to get you to the hospital soon! Yes! I'll get Freya to come right away, she'll save you, you'll be fine! Christ, hang in there!"

"Kiki, I'm sorry."

Christ's eyes stared deeply at Kiki's face that had long been engraved in the depths of his soul, but he still could not get enough of it.

"No, Christ, you have not wronged me!"

Kiki grabbed his hand hard, she shook her head vigorously, he had, indeed, made mistakes in the past and was sorry for her, but the sacrifices he had made for her were more than enough, he really wasn't sorry for her anymore.

What he owed her, he had long since paid back.

"Christ, don't say anything, just hang in there!"

Seeing Freya running in from the front door, Kiki was like seeing a saviour, "Christ, Freya is here! Freya is the most powerful doctor, she can definitely save you! She won't let anything happen to you!"

"Kiki, let me finish my sentence."

Christ stubbornly spoke, "Kiki, in this life, I have made too many mistakes, I am not qualified to ask you to forgive me and stay with me."

"In the next life, Kiki, in the next life, give me a chance, okay?"

Next Life .....

Kiki wants to say, "Christ, as long as you get better and you hold on, I promise you the next life.

However, before she could say the words, or even, before she could nod, the hand she had grasped, had been withdrawn from her grasp and dropped heavily.

The sound of his hand hitting the ground was soft and gentle, but it was as if, with a knife, it had slashed hard at her heart.

She knew that in this life, even though she had fallen in love with someone else, and she wanted to grow old with Quinn, she could never forget a man called Christ.

Her heart, forever empty for him, was the most secret, yet deepest corner.

"Christ ....."

Kiki called out to him but got no response, so she hurriedly spoke to Freya who had just run over, "Freya, he's hurt! You have to help him! Freya, you're so good at healing, you won't let anything happen to him, right?"

Freya half crouched down as she slowly withdrew her hand from the end of Christ's nose, "Kiki, he's already gone."

Kiki lifted her face stiffly and numbly, her hand, trembling, covered his heart, and indeed, she could no longer feel his heartbeat.

"Christ ....."

Kiki suddenly covered her mouth, but no matter how hard she covered her mouth, she could not hide the lump in her throat.

Suddenly, she put the baby in her arms into Freya's arms, and she trembled as she stretched out her hands, hugging Christ as hard as she could, speaking like a vow, word by word.

"Christ, in this life, I don't love you anymore."

"But in another life, I will stay with you!"

"In my next life, I'll marry you!"

But his eyes had closed so tightly that he could not hear her promise of another life.

Flynn is a powerful man, but he can't resist Kieran, Quinn and the others, not to mention, the police.

His men, soon after, were maimed and he was restrained by the police.

Flynn knew that what awaited him was a lifetime of imprisonment without seeing the light of day. He had always been proud, so naturally he was not willing to endure that kind of life.

He jerked out the gun hidden inside his shirt, pointed it at his temple and pressed it.

No one expected him to have a gun hidden inside his clothes, so naturally no one had time to make a move to stop him.

Flynn's body, like a slow-motion shot in a movie, slid to the ground.

In the last moment before his death, what came to his mind was surprisingly Kiki's tear-stained face.

So much love and hate, he hadn't had time to sort it out before he had, once and for all, said goodbye to the world .....

The moment he closed his eyes, he suddenly became envious of Christ.

Even if Christ could not grow old with her, but if he died, at least he would still have her embrace.

But she wouldn't even initiate a touch on him, she wouldn't .....

At this time, Kieran, Quinn, Fabian and the others also noticed the situation on Christ's side.

Although Dave was Christ's special assistant, he had been with him for many years and had a brotherhood. Seeing his boss in that state, tears rolled down his face abruptly.

He had already thought that the man would end up like this, but when he really faced it, his heart was still hurt.

"Christ, I promise you the next life ....."

Kiki was still mumbling and whispering, Quinn walked up to her step by step, looking at her hugging Christ so hard, he was not jealous, more, he was sad.

Sad for his failure to protect the woman he loved most, and even more, sad for the loss of his good friend.

He loved Kiki into a demon, he wanted to be with her for life, but, listening to Kiki promise Christ the next life, he did not bother to argue.

Because he knew in his heart, Christ was worth it.

Today, if it wasn't for Christ's defiance for Kiki, he wouldn't even be able to have her in this life anymore.

Christ, in this life, I will take good care of Kiki. In the next life, let me do the things that defy life for you.

I might you, promise you and Kiki the next life.

"Christ ....."

Seeing Christ in this state, Kieran and Fabian, both knew that he had lost it.

Even a cold-hearted man like Kieran could not restrain his eyes when he saw his good friend turned into such a state.

Fabian even howled.

Freya hated him for what he had done to Kiki, but he had died for Kiki after all, and she was sad.

She walked over to Kieran and gently clutched his hand, silently offering him some comfort.

She knew that Kieran valued friendship above all else, and that he must be particularly upset in his heart right now, only that he had always been calm and introverted, and was not used to showing his emotions.

Freya kept telling herself that everything would be fine, that it would get better and better.

But, whatever the future holds, those who died will never return.

Christ will never to return.

She only hoped that in his next life, he would really have the opportunity to grow old with Kiki.

Chapter 1340

On the day of Phillip's funeral, it was snowing heavily, but on the day of Christ's funeral, it was windy and sunny.

In the bright sunshine, Kiki walked step by step to his tombstone with a bouquet of flowers in her hand to say her final goodbyes to him.

After she turned around, Quinn gently embraced her into his arms, he looked at the black and white photo of Christ on the tombstone and wordlessly said to him, "Christ, thank you. I will, take good care of Kiki."

Frank and Evie both had red eyes, and Kiki looked at Christ's parents who had turned white at the temples overnight, and her heart grew harder and harder.

She didn't know how to face them, but she, for one, should say sorry to them.

After all, if it weren't for Christ's efforts to save her, they wouldn't have had to suffer the pain of having their hair go white and their hair go black.

"Sorry ....."

Kiki walked up to Frank and Evie, half-lidded, and spoke in a soft voice.

"Kiki, it's not your fault, you don't have to say sorry." Evie clutched Kiki's hand, sincere and serious.

She sighed softly, "In fact, it's a relief for him to have Christ gone; after losing you, he had been unhappy. For him to leave like this, I think, in his heart, he is content."

Evie turned her face and glanced at her little daughter, who was already two years old, Harlow, in the maid's arms.

She doesn't blame Kiki, really, she doesn't blame her at all.

Because she knew in her heart that even if this hadn't happened, her precious son, probably wouldn't have lasted much longer.

After losing Kiki, it was as if he had no soul, he often hugged Harlow out of his mind, and on a few occasions, she heard him say to Harlow, "I'll leave Mom and Dad to you."

At that time, she actually knew that Christ, had already had the intention of leaving.

"Kiki, don't be sad for Christ. When Christ was alive, his greatest wish was that you would be well, that you would be well and happy, so that he could have peace of mind when he was underground."

"Kiki, be happy and joyful ....."

Listening to Evie's words, Kiki's eyes, again, could not control the redness.

Indeed, this is what Christ expects, so she will try to be happy.

Christ, I will, try to live a very, very good life .....

Both Freya and Kiki are doing very well.

Kieran and Quinn, who are cold-hearted and cold-hearted men on the outside, love the women they love as if they were their eyes.

After Fabian had pestered Cindy for a few years, he finally got her to come around and they had a new wedding after the one they had, which was too unhappy.

They were married to Emily and Josiah, and after all the twists and turns, the lovers finally got married.

Kieran actually wanted to give Freya a grand wedding, but she refused to do so.

She and Kieran had two weddings, both of which were too much for her.

Even though, now that all the obstacles around them have been cleared away, she was still reluctant to have another wedding.

They have three lovely children love each other dearly, and they are legally married in name only, and they don't need a formal wedding to be happy and blessed.

Kieran is known as a doting wife-lover, so if Freya insists on not holding the wedding, he naturally won't force the issue.

Anyway, with or without the formal wedding, everyone in the world knows that Freya is his woman, and no one dares to steal her from him.

He would, too, devote his life to being good to her, clutching her hand to his old life.

Jaden and Jayla have become more and more amazing as they have grown older.

At a young age, they have become the talk of the town.

For a while, Freya's biggest worry was dealing with the stacks of love letters Jaden and Jayla received.

However, there is one thing that Freya is grateful for, Jaden and Jayla have no hint of early love.

When Alistair was six years old, Freya finally developed an antidote and the gray hair on his body faded away, allowing him to grow up healthy and happy as a normal child.

Alistair's face, which had been covered by long white fur, could not be seen by Freya in those years.

Only after the gray hair had faded did she notice that he and Kieran, as well as Jaden, were practically carved out of the same mould.

Oh, Jaden has now changed his name to Sethaden Fitzgerald.

The name was thought up by Seth, who said he wanted his baby to have the word "Seth" in his name.

Although Kieran was very upset, but seeing that Freya quite liked the name, he could only grit his teeth and agree.

Jayla did not change her name, but only changed it to Jayla Fitzgerald in her family register.

Quinn and Kiki have never given up their search for their daughter.

Although left in the middle of the ice and snow, in a fatal state, they have always believed that their daughter is still alive.

Freya also believes that Sophia is still alive in the world and that one day she will return home and be reunited with them.

Later on, Kiki and Quinn finally got back their daughter, Sophia, who also had a heart-breaking story with Alistair, but those are for the next generation.

Now, all of them, they are doing very, very well.

Oh, Kiki and Quinn's son named Brian.

Originally, Quinn wanted to name him Elis Turner, but because of the clash of names with Emily's son, he gave him this rather lofty name instead.

Every year for New Year, several families, including Kieran, Quinn and Fabian, like to spend time together.

In the past, with Jaden and Jayla, the two slightly older children, in charge, a group of small children got along harmoniously.

But this year, Brian got into a fight with Fabian and Cindy's son, Jasper.

The two young kids fought to the death, neither one willing to give in first.

Freya and Kiki glanced at each other, and they were just about to go up to the two kids to persuade them to fight, when Brian spoke up angrily, "Jasper, I'm telling you, you don't want to steal brother Jaden from me! When I grow up, I want to be Jaden's bride!"

Jasper, with iceberg face, also spoke with a puff of anger, "Brian, Brother Jaden won't marry you, a big fool! I'm Brother Jaden's bride!"

Freya and Kiki looked at each other in disbelief, and Cindy, who was watching the scene at the side, almost dropped her jaw.

Well, none of these adults expected that these two little kids, fighting for the position of Jaden's bride.

They both wanted so much to say that neither of you could be the bride of treasure when you grew up.

Both are big idiots!

"Jasper, you're the big fool! Jaden likes me the most, don't you try to steal Jaden from me ....."

Brian and Jasper were having a great time fighting, while the adults at the side were having a good time laughing.

It's a long, long time to be happy .....
