Chapter 171

When Jayla thought of how Penny had once set up her Auntie Kiki like this time and again, and how Christ was also so indiscriminate in right and wrong and would only protect Penny, the little fire in her heart rubbed off.

“Mr. Birkin, when you asked me to apologize to Penny, did you decide that I was the one who did wrong? If the wrong person is Penny, shouldn't she apologize to me too?!”

“If you make a mistake, you should apologize!” Christ paused and then said, “No matter who made the mistake tonight, the person who did the wrong thing should apologize!”

“Good, then let Penny apologise to us!” Jaden spoke coldly as he smoothly put his mobile phone into Christ's hand.

Penny was really quite intoxicated by the performance just now, and didn't even notice that he was secretly recording it.

Jaden always liked to speak with evidence, and Penny was not good for them, so how could they meekly wait to be framed by her!

The video on Jaden's phone had just been tapped and Penny's malicious voice rang out.

“Christ is very fond of you now, but if he knows that you poured that hot fish soup over me, do you think he would still like you?!”

“Christ is mine, even if Kiki gave birth to you, she won't be able to be Mrs. Birkin again!”

From the video, it can be clearly seen that Penny opened the lid of the bucket, then picked up the bucket and poured most of the hot fish soup on the back of her hand.

Christ looked at this video in his phone incredulously, but this kind of video was impossible to fake, just now, it was indeed Penny who had framed Jaden and Jayla!

He dreaded to think that Penny, whom he had always believed in so much, would set up two children so viciously!

He had always thought that Penny was simple and kind, and that it was all others who were harming her, and that she would never harm anyone else.

Now it seemed that Penny was not what he thought she was.

Christ couldn't help but think, even Penny could set up two small children, six years ago, she said Kiki killed her child, wasn't that also a set up?

Almost immediately, Christ dismissed this idea, when the police found skin flakes on Penny's body under Kiki's fingernails, Kiki must have pushed Penny!

Seeing the video, Penny was straight away dumbfounded, how could she have ever thought that two five year old kids would be savvy enough to take a video of her spilling her guts just now!

Jaden took his mobile phone, looked at this Christ, one word at a time, "Mr. Birkin, now that the facts are in the eyes, the person who did wrong should apologize to me and Jayla!"

"I"

Penny's face was flustered, and after a moment of contemplation, she still planned to use her best act of pity to muddle through in front of Christ.

She nestled into Christ's arms and cried so pitifully, "Christ, I was wronged, I was really framed, you must believe me! Christ, you said that I am the kindest girl in the world, I couldn't even hurt a small animal, how could I possibly frame someone else?"

In the past, whenever Penny cried in his arms, Christ would be heartbroken, feeling especially sorry for her and saying some warm and soft words to comfort her.

But at this moment, looking at the tears on Penny's face, he only felt annoyed and disgusted.

His face was gloomy, "Penny, are you unjustly accused? The video was clearly captured, is it possible that Jaden and Jayla forced you to pour fish soup on yourself, and they also forced you to say those words?"

Penny was momentarily speechless, she looked at Christ in a daze, for a moment, she didn't know what to say.

"Penny, don't come here again." After a moment of silence, Christ added, "Let's, first, calm down."

Penny's fist suddenly tightened, what did he mean? Why did she feel like Christ was saying this as a prelude to a breakup?

No, she would not break up with Christ, she had come this far with great difficulty and she would not allow anyone to stop her from becoming Mrs. Birkin!

"Christ, let me stay here, okay? You haven't been to see me for a long time."

"Penny, you go back first!" Christ really did not want to look at Penny one more time, the thought of Penny's sinister and vicious appearance in the video just now made his stomach churn uncomfortably.

After Christ said this, he called the driver directly, who came over and asked Penny to leave, who was upset but could only leave obediently.

She glanced at the back of her hand with red eyes, he had just kicked her out without even caring, whether her wound hurt.

Penny gritted her teeth and looked at Jaden and Jayla, these two brats had harmed her so much, she wouldn't let it go!

Instead of waiting for Kiki, Christ waited for Seth, Kieran, and Freya.

Freya was torn, but decided not to give Christ the chance to bully Kiki.

What happens in the future was beyond her control, but at the very least, tonight, Christ won't be able to use the two little ones to force Kiki into submission.

During this period of time, Seth mostly only used the phone to contact Freya, face to face with Freya, in his heart, he still had a guilt that he could not get rid of.

He said that in this life, he would only love a woman, and he would keep his body for her. He never thought that drunkenness would lead him astray, and since he took Karida for the boss the other day.

However, there were some things that have to be turned over. If he had been afraid to face the boss, he would have given an opportunity to men with bad intentions towards him!

Having not seen Freya for a long time, Seth was particularly eager to seek presence in front of Freya.

He directly ignored Kieran's presence, and when he reached the Swedayle Garden, he stepped forward and clutched Freya's hand, "Boss, I heard you've been on a blind date recently, how can you be on a blind date, are you planning to abandon your husband and son?"

Freya didn't know what to say for a while.

Without waiting for her to say anything, Seth continued, "Boss, can you stop dating? The babies are so cute, do you want them to call another man their daddy? If they have a stepfather, they'll have a stepmother, I don't want the babies to be abused by their stepfather!"

"Sethy, I won't go on another blind date." Freya said rather seriously.

Even if she were to go on a blind date, she would still be sabotaged in every way by Kieran, which was simply a waste of time and a waste of affection.

"Really?!" Seth was so excited, "Boss, I knew it, you don't want the babies to call someone else daddy! The babies' kindergarten is having a parent-child sports day tomorrow, let's go together, okay?"

Seth secretly thought, "Parent-child sports is good, this kind of parent-child activities can cultivate the relationship, after a parent-child sports, Boss would definitely be immersed in the warmth of the family, and then they could logically get back together!"

Chapter 172

The more Seth thought about it, the happier he became.

Freya didn't think much of it, she thought that it was natural for parents to accompany their children in such parent-child sports.

Even if she didn't love Seth, there were some events that parents need to attend together and they still had to cooperate fully.

In the past, when she was abroad, she or Kiki accompanied the two little ones to every parent-child activity in the kindergarten, and the two little ones were said by many people to be children without a father, but now, the two little ones finally didn't have to be said to be children without a father.

She was so relieved.

The light in Seth's eyes fell into Kieran's eyes, and he gave Seth a glance without moving a muscle, for it was only after Freya had agreed to consider him properly that he would let Freya and Seth accompany the two little ones to the parent-child sports day!

Freya rubbed Jayla's little head and said softly, "Okay."

Kieran's handsome face was dark, well, Freya, very good!

Receiving Freya's affirmative answer, Seth suddenly smiled, "Boss, I'll pick you up for lunch tomorrow and we'll go there together afterwards."

When Seth saw that Kieran was still standing here, he bravely said, "Uncle, it's so late, why don't you go back to rest?"

Kieran coolly swept Seth a glance, funny, Seth was with his wife, how could he go back to sleep now?

"I can't sleep." After a moment of silence, Kieran said in a cold manner.

Freya's heart thumped, he must not say something like he couldn't sleep without holding her!

She didn't want him to pollute the innocent minds of the two little ones!

Luckily, Kieran didn't say anything excessive, but just gave her an ulterior glance.

The look in his eyes was deep and hot, which made her face burn.

Freya lightly coughed uncomfortably, she took Jaden with one hand and Jayla with the other, "It is indeed late, Sethy, Mr. Fitzgerald, you all should go back to bed early, I should also put Jaden and Jayla to bed."

People's psychology was really strange. If Freya didn't ask, neither Kieran nor Seth would be willing to give in first and leave the place, but when Freya let them both go, both of them, mentally, were surprisingly balanced.

Since they had both been given expulsion orders by Freya together, Kieran and Seth did not continue to struggle, and the two of them glanced at each other rather tacitly before turning around and leaving together.

After putting the two little ones to bed, Freya went to her computer to deal with some emails she had received.

She was already busy enough with her part-time job in the theatre now, and the blind date had wasted a lot of time in the past two days, and she hadn't even visited Josiah in the hospital for a long time.

Tomorrow afternoon she would go to the kindergarten for a parent-child activity, so she would definitely have to take time off work. If the activity ended early, she would go to the hospital to see Josiah.

Mum must be hoping that Josiah would wake up sooner rather than later.

Thinking of her and Josiah growing up together, Freya's eyes could not control the wetness.

She and Josiah were twins, she had a very high IQ and was a genius in the eyes of many people. And Josiah was must smarter than her.

Although Josiah was born a few minutes after her, he gave her a feeling of an older brother. She had never seen a more gentle and sunny man than Josiah.

He was so elegant, so talented, he should have lived a life of glory and freedom, but he could not spend his life lying in a cold bed.

Josiah, you should wake up earlier.

In high school, many girls were particularly obsessed with the kind of novels in ancient languages that she had been obsessed with, and they all loved one line.

The stranger was like a jade, the gentleman was unmatched in the world.

Many people said that only Josiah could afford to say this.

Freya wiped away the wetness at the corner of his eyes, Josiah, wake up, I really miss you.

As she was lost in her own thoughts, Freya's mobile phone suddenly rang.

Seeing that it was the caretaker she had hired to look after Josiah calling, she hastily picked up the phone.

The nurse hardly ever called her, so Freya was nervous. Could it be that something had happened to Josiah?

As expected, there was a distinct anxiety in the caretaker's voice, "Miss Freya, it's not good, Mr. Josiah has disappeared!"

"What?!" Freya couldn't control her voice in shock, "How could Josiah suddenly disappear?!"

"Miss Freya, I'm sorry, I went to the supermarket to buy something in the evening and when I came back, I found that Mr. Josiah had disappeared"

"I'm going to the hospital now." Freya was in such a hurry that she couldn't be bothered to say much to the caretaker, she hung up the phone and rushed outside the flat.

Before she had even left the house, her mobile phone, which was ringing again, was a call from Maximus.

Freya realized something and as soon as she picked up the phone, she asked in a cold voice to Maximus, "Maximus, it was you who took Josiah away, right?!"

"Freya, I called you to talk to you about this, and I didn't expect you to know about it already."

Maximus's voice, with a pretentious and affable smile, was such that Freya got goose bumps.

"Maximus, take Josiah back to the hospital! Josiah is in such a condition that he can't be disconnected from his oxygen, and if you force him out of the hospital, he'll die!"

"I know that if I pull out the oxygen, Josiah will die, so for now, I haven't pulled out his oxygen."

The laughter in Maximus's voice gradually dissipated and was replaced by a clear threat, "However, I can't guarantee that I will never pull out his oxygen!"

"Maximus, what the hell do you want to do?!"

Freya's fingers tightened abruptly, Maximus would have captured Josiah, it must be for her, and this time, what did he want from her?

Maximus didn't speak immediately, he seemed to sip his tea before saying slowly, "Freya, come back and stay for a few days, you haven't been home for a long time, I miss you very much."

"Freya, don't worry, although Josiah has left the same hospital as before, I am now providing him with medical conditions no worse than before, as long as you do a few things for me, I guarantee that Josiah will be safe and sound."

Freya couldn't help but remember that the last time she went back, she almost died at the hands of Timothy.

There were some things that once done, there was no turning back. This time, if she returned to the Stahler family, she really would not be able to get out in one piece.

Maximus's voice continued, "Freya, Josiah's life is in your hands now, so I hope you can think about it for Josiah. Freya, tomorrow night, do you want to come home and have dinner with us?"

Chapter 173

"Maximus, a tiger doesn't even eat its son, Josiah is your own son!" Freya roared out.

She was Maximus's daughter, and she had called him as father for nearly twenty years, but he had driven her to the brink time and again.

"So what? He's just a living dead man, it's better to just die!"

Maximus' voice did not have a trace of the warmth of a father's voice, "Freya, I ask again, tomorrow night, do you want to come home and accompany us to dinner?"

For Maximus and Aleksandra, Freya really wanted to vomit even if she looked at them one more time, but now, she simply had no other choice.

In Maximus's view, Josiah, who had become a vegetable, was just a living dead person, dispensable; Josiah was the most precious warmth to her.

Her mother was gone and she could not afford to lose her brother, Josiah, again.

Besides, in this world, there were miracles, what if one day Josiah woke up?

She was still waiting to talk and laugh with the sunny boy he once was and see the most beautiful sights of time together.

She also had to tell him that he had adorable nephew and niece and they both loved him.

She had so many things to say to him!

Freya covered her mouth hard to keep from crying out, and after a long, long time, Freya said softly to Maximus, "Okay."

In order to keep Josiah alive, even if there was a mountain of fire ahead, she was still willing to turn back.

Freya felt that she was already very strong, and she tried hard not to let her tears fall, but after hanging up the phone, big tears still couldn't stop rolling down from the corners of her eyes.

It was said that a woman would never be able to see what the true color of that man she married until she had experienced something.

Freya covered her face and whimpered lowly, Mother, look what you've married!

That, the man I called as father for so many years, he is so ruthless!

That man was trying to drive her and Josiah out of the way!

The man she had called as father for nearly twenty years was not worthy of being her and Josiah's father!

In his eyes, he could only see the interests of Alisha and Karida, Maximus was just the father of Karida and Alisha!

Freya took out from inside the drawer the pair of earrings that Bernice had given her on her 18th birthday.

It was a famous piece by Smith, which was not that expensive at the time, but she really liked it.

After she received the birthday gift from Bernice, she nestled in her arms and pouted, saying that she would wear these earrings and marry her beloved Remy.

At 18, that year changed a lot.

She did not get to wear the earrings given to her by Bernice to marry Remy, but after her birthday, she heard the news that Bernice had died of illness. Of course, only now did she learn that Bernice had not died of illness, but had been brutally killed.

At that time, she and Josiah almost dried up their tears at Bernice's grave. She thought that the loss of her beloved mother was already a pain that life could not bear, but she did not expect that the misfortune would not come alone.

Just a few days after her mother died, Josiah was involved in a tragic car accident.

Josiah's life was saved, but he was turned into a vegetable.

The doctor said that he might wake up in a few months, maybe a few years, or possibly, he would not for the rest of his life.

Holding Josiah, who was lying motionless on the hospital bed, Freya cried so much that she was trembling.

Looking at the once sunny and gentle young man withering away as if he had lost his soul, every tear that Freya wept hurt like a cone of pain.

Life, many times, was more tragic and gloomy than one could imagine. She had not yet recovered from this series of blows, her beloved Remy cheated on Alisha, she was designed by Alisha to become pregnant with a strange man's child.

“Mum

Freya clutched the earrings in her hands. Once, she wished that she had never been eighteen, but the appearance of the two little ones made her find light in the boundless darkness, but this time, when she returned to the Stahler family, it was likely that she would have to leave the two little ones behind forever.

“Mum, is it hurt?” Freya shouted over and over again, “Mum, it must hurt you to marry a heartless man like Maximus, Mum

Freya turned her face as she glanced at the screen of her phone which had gone black.

In fact, she hurt.

When Bernice was still alive, Maximus was still able to treat her well. Daughters, who had an innate admiration for their fathers, could rejoice for many days at a single compliment from Maximus.

But the father she once admired most had long since become a different person.

This man who had harmed her time and time again was no longer worthy of being her and Josiah’s father!

“Mom, don’t worry, I won’t let Maximus hurt Josiah, I will protect him well

Even if, she was doomed, she would give Josiah a chance to see the light of day again.

Last night, Freya fell asleep while crying. She thought that if she cried so hard, her eyes would be swollen the next day, but surprisingly, not only were her eyes not swollen, but she didn’t even have any dark circles under her eyes the next day.

Because she was thinking about going to the Stahler’s in the evening, Freya was distracted in work.

After spending some time in the office, she simply took the day off straight away.

She took out all the money she had and planned to give it to Kiki together in the evening, so that she could help Seth take care of the two little ones together.

As for the money she owed Kieran, if she could still get out of the Stahler family in one piece, she would definitely pay it back later, but if she could not come back, she would have to renege on the debt.

In fact, she also wanted to say to Kieran, Mr. Fitzgerald, I really like you, I also think clearly, I don’t want to run away from my heart anymore, I want to be with you.

But the words, no longer necessary, were spoken.

There was no telling what the future might hold, so why should she, in vain, add to his troubles?

Good luck, Mr. Fitzgerald!

Someone as nice as you would certainly be happy.

It was almost noon after Freya finished the business at hand. Thinking that she had to go to the kindergarten's parent-child sports day with Seth, Freya took a taxi and hurriedly headed to the kindergarten.

Freya had been so busy in the morning that she hadn't had time to check her phone, and only after she got in the car did she realise that she had received several messages.

There was one from Kiki.

Freya, it's not easy to meet someone who believes in you unconditionally, so just take Mr. Fitzgerald.

Freya pulled her lips and smiled lightly, Kiki and her really had the same thought. She indeed couldn't resist Mr. Fitzgerald anymore, unfortunately, she didn't have the life to take Mr. Fitzgerald away.

In a trance, she had already arrived outside the kindergarten. She had agreed to meet Seth outside the kindergarten yesterday, but she did not expect that the person standing outside the kindergarten was not Seth, but Kieran.

Chapter 174

Freya didn't know what Kieran was doing over here, but since she had run into him, she always had to say hello.

After getting out of the car, Freya walked straight up to Kieran, "Mr. Fitzgerald, why did you come over?"

"Let's go, the parent-child sport day is about to start." With that, Kieran naturally took Freya's hand and headed inside the kindergarten.

Was Mr. Fitzgerald coming to the Parent-Child sport too?

Freya's mind was a bit confused, whose parent was Mr. Fitzgerald attending the parent-child sports day as?

Was it possible that Mr. Fitzgerald had an illegitimate child outside?

With this thought flashing through her mind, Freya hastily withdrew her hand, "Mr. Fitzgerald, I still have to wait for Seth, you can go in first."

Just as Freya finished saying this, her mobile phone rang, and it was Seth calling.

In Seth's voice, there was obvious guilt and apprehension, and a touch of indescribable unease, "Boss, I'm sorry, I can't do what I promised you and the babies. I have some urgent business to attend to today, so I can't go over to the parent-child sports day."

It was so rare to have a chance to cultivate a relationship with Freya that Seth was naturally looking forward to it, but at noon, Karida came to the door and insisted that he accompany her, otherwise, he would post the photos of the two of them together that night on the internet.

Seth hated being threatened, but he had to admit that threat really worked, because he was afraid that Freya would see those photos.

Every time he thought of that night, Seth wanted to castrate himself, how could he have had sex with Karida! Moreover, she had even taken pictures of that!

After hearing Seth's words, Freya was disappointed, not that she wanted to join Seth in the event, but, she was afraid that the two little ones would be sad.

However, Freya was still very reasonable and she said softly to Seth, "Sethy, you go ahead and get busy, I'll just accompany Jaden and Jayla to the sports day."

On Seth's side, there was a short silence, and after a long time, he said in a low voice, "Boss, I'm sorry."

"Sethy, it's okay! You go and get busy, I'm going in."

After saying this, Freya walked towards the kindergarten.

Freya knew that this afternoon, most likely, would be her last with the two little ones, and she was sad, but she was an optimistic person and soon she was back to her sunny self.

As it was the last afternoon with them, it was of course all the more important to spend it happily and make more fond memories.

"Let's go."

After Freya finished her phone call, Kieran came forward and took her hand again.

"Mr. Fitzgerald, you"

Freya wanted to ask him which child's parent he was attending the parent-child sports day today, but before she could do so, she heard him say in a soft voice, "Freya, today, I'll accompany you."

Freya's palm suddenly became very warm, and that warmth flowed down her palm, spreading rapidly to all her limbs.

He said that he was accompanying her today.

She thought that she was destined to be alone today, as she had been before, for the two little ones' parent-child sports day, but she didn't expect to have someone by her side.

Freya did not refuse Kieran, because she knew in her heart that the two little ones must not want just her to participate in their parent-child sports day.

On the way, Kieran seemed to have been staring at his phone. She inadvertently glanced at Kieran's mobile phone, she found that the message sent to Kieran, surprisingly, was from Jaden.

That little brat, what could he talk to Mr. Fitzgerald about?

When he went to Jaden and Jayla's classroom, Kieran took a call and he went to the hallway, saying that he would go to the classroom later to look for her and the two little ones.

Freya couldn't stand around and eavesdrop on his phone call, so she took the lead with her bag and went to the two little ones' classroom.

“Jaden, Jayla, this time, it won’t be just your mother coming to the parent-child sports day, will it? I told you that you are children without a father!”

Freya had just walked into the classroom of the two little ones and she heard a shrill voice.

Freya frowned slightly as she saw a fat boy looking at the two little ones with a thou incomparable look on his toes.

Freya knew this fat boy.

Danny Pearce.

When they were abroad before, Danny and the two little ones were classmates, and at that time, he liked to take the lead and mock the two little ones for being children without fathers.

She didn’t expect that this time when she brought the two little ones back to home, Danny would also go back to study.

“We have a father! We are not fatherless children!”

Jayla glared at Danny in exasperation, so angry that she was in no mood to eat the chocolate in her hand.

Danny was such a nasty little fatty, he liked to take the lead in mocking them abroad!

But it was true that when they were abroad, they didn’t have a father, and now, they did! Only just now she called her father and he said that he couldn’t come over today.

On Jayla’s little face, there was a clear loss. Even if she had a daddy now, Danny would still be proudly mocking her and her brother if he didn’t come over today.

“You have a father?” Danny looked around, “Jayla, you say you have a father, show us!”

“That’s right, if you have a father, bring him to us! What’s the use of just talking about it, we don’t believe you have a father if we can’t see him!” As soon as Danny’s words left his mouth, several young boys who were embracing him started to clamour for Jayla to show them her daddy.

Jayla was so angry that her face turned red. It seemed that today she could only let Danny continue to be pleased with himself, she really couldn’t get her father to come out to them.

Seeing that Jayla just puffed up and didn’t say anything, Danny was even more pleased, “What, you can’t pretend anymore, can you? My mother told me that you and Jaden are the children without a father! Your mother herself doesn’t even know which man is your father!”

Jayla could tolerate what others said about her, but she could not tolerate what others said about her favourite mummy.

Jayla raised her chin and snapped at Danny, “Danny, I forbid you to say that about my mommy!”

“Jayla, what can you do!”

Danny rolled up his sleeves and looked like he wanted to fight, Jaden protected Jayla, “Danny, if you have the guts, come at me, I won’t allow you to bully my sister!”

Danny was already six years old this year, plus fat and tall, so if he fought, Jaden was really no match for him.

Danny didn't put Jaden in his eyes at all, he rubbed his nose and looked like street bully.

"Okay, Jaden, today I'll teach you a good lesson!"

Chapter 175

With that, Danny raised his fist and pounced at Jaden's face fiercely.

"Brother!"

Jayla was so anxious. When he was abroad, Jaden and Danny had fought many times, and each time Jaden was beaten up by Danny.

Jaden's IQ was far beyond that of his peers, but children win and lose fights based on strength, not much to do with IQ, and he could not beat the taller Danny.

Of course Freya would not let anyone beat up Jaden in front of her, she hurriedly stepped forward and grabbed Danny's hand.

"Boy, it's not like Jaden and Jayla have messed with you, you can't hit them!"

Freya would not bully a child just because she was an adult, so she was quite nice when she said this to Danny.

However, just as Freya said this, Danny's mother Wendy rushed over, pushed Freya away and tightly shielded Danny in her arms.

She pointed at Freya's nose in righteous indignation and scolded, "You're an adult bullying a child, you don't even mind being ashamed!"

Freya knew Wendy, who was notoriously spirited and unreasonable, and who, on the strength of her husband Wilfred Pearce's comparative wealth, did not regard others at all.

Freya didn't like Wendy, but she also didn't want her to misunderstand that she was bullying Danny, she tried to explain to Wendy, "Wendy, I didn't bully your son, I just didn't want him to hit Jaden!"

"Freya, you shamelessly bully a child, you still have sense?!" Wendy disdainfully glanced at Jaden and Jayla, "Besides, my son didn't say anything wrong just now, who are you to say that about him?! If your son hadn't made my son angry, would my son have beaten him?!"

Hearing these words from Wendy, Freya's face instantly chilled.

It was true that unreasonable children raised by unreasonable parents.

In fact, children were like a piece of white paper, their hearts were the purest, but if parents were misguided or do a bad example, they would follow suit and lose their initial purity and goodness.

"Yes, I'm not wrong!" With Wendy backing him up, Danny said, "Jaden and Jayla are the children without a father! Their mother misbehaved and gave birth to them with a wild man!"

"I forbid you to say that about my mommy!" Jaden said with a black face.

"I'm just telling the truth, what, I can't tell the truth?!" Danny arrogantly made a face at Jaden.

Jayla was so angry that she stomped her foot, "Danny, you have a foul mouth! My mother is the best mother in the world!"

"Who did you say had a foul mouth?!" Wendy glared fiercely at Jayla, "How can girl talk like that? Your mother is shameless and you are uneducated. I'm telling you, if you dare to say one more word about my son, I won't spare you!"

"Wendy, you have a foul mouth!" Freya did not expect Wendy to dare to threaten a child in public, and even if she was good-tempered, she could not bear it anymore.

"Jayla is just a child, you're a grown-up bullying her, shame on you!"

"Freya, what do you mean by that? How dare you say I have a foul mouth?! Do you think you're great just because you've hooked up with a few men? I'm telling you, this kindergarten is sponsored by Wilfred, if I'm not happy, I can expel this two bastards anytime!"

Wendy shook the LV bag in her hand as she threatened Freya word for word, "Freya, ask your children apologize to my son! Otherwise, I'll have the kindergarten expel them now!"

"Wendy, we didn't do anything wrong and won't apologize! It's you and Danny who should apologise!"

Hearing Freya's words, Wendy jumped straight up, "What?! You want me and Danny to apologize to you?! You're just dreaming! Freya, I'll give you three minutes, if you don't admit your mistake properly, I'll let my husband go to the headmaster now!"

Seeing Wilfred walk in through the door, Wendy hurriedly shouted, "Honey, come here, someone is bullying me and our Danny!"

"Who has bullied you and Danny?!" Wilfred's face was full of flesh, and he was not a virtuous person at first glance.

"It's her! She and her bastards scolded our Danny and wanted our Danny to apologise to them!" Wendy told a different story.

"What?! What a bully! I'll get the headmaster to expel these two bastards!" Wilfred said, and dialed the headmaster's number.

"Mr. Pearce, please be reasonable, it was Danny who bullied Jaden and Jayla, you can't turn right and wrong upside down like this!" Freya stepped forward and said without being condescending.

Nowadays, kindergartens were everywhere and it was easy to change to another one, but if the two little ones were expelled in such a situation, it would surely leave a psychological shadow that was hard to erase, and she could not let her babies be bullied like this.

"I'm reversing right and wrong?!" Wilfred roared at Frey, "This kindergarten is sponsored by me, even if I have turned right and wrong, what can you do?!"

After Wilfred finished his call, he then said, “We just can’t stand anger, you and your bastards made our Danny angry, and I, as a father, have to take it out on him! If you have the guts, have your children’s father come over and take it out on them too!”

Wilfred’s words were infuriating, but right now, Freya couldn’t really get Seth to come over and take it out on the two little ones.

When Wilfred saw that Freya didn’t say anything, he was even more pleased, “I’m telling you, it’s a foregone conclusion that these two kids will be expelled today, but even if they are expelled, they still have to apologize to my precious son! Otherwise, I won’t spare you!”

“I don’t apologize! We are not wrong and we will not apologize! You apologize to my mommy!”

Jaden and Jayla said almost in unison.

Jaden and Jayla both had self-respect, how could they easily admit defeat when Wilfred was bullying them in front of all their classmates! What was more, these people had spoken so harshly about their favourite mummy, they were so angry that they couldn’t stand it!

“Don’t apologize?!” Wilfred narrowed his eyes dangerously, “Get the hell out of the kindergarten!”

“Mr. Pearce, we paid the tuition fee, even if you have sponsored the kindergarten, you are not qualified to expel them!” Freya held her chin high and said word for word, “Also, I would like to advise you not to spoil your son too much!”

“You’re lecturing me?!” Wilfred snorted coldly, “You even dare to lecture me, do you believe I will make it impossible for you to stay in Hance City?!”

“Who are you going to make it impossible to stay in Hance City?” As soon as Wilfred’s words left his mouth, a chilling voice rang out at the classroom door.

Chapter 176

His straight long legs took a step forward, Kieran was as reserved as a god descending. Looking at Kieran who walked into the classroom without a hitch, Jaden hooked her lips invisibly.

Well, he and his Uncle Kieran had agreed that today, he would call him Daddy first.

It was not that he liked to compare with others, he just could not see Danny being so proud of himself, he wanted to show Danny that he and Jayla had a father too! Moreover, his father was much more handsome than Danny’s father!

Wilfred also saw Kieran, he knew Kieran, but this knowledge was only from the financial magazines where he had seen this noble and cold face of Kieran.

He had made a lot of money over the years, but compared to Kieran’s wealth, his wealth and power were not comparable to Kieran’s at all.

He had also wanted to have some connection with Kieran, but unfortunately the people he knew were not able to enter the circle that Kieran was in and did not have the doorway to know Kieran.

How could he have ever imagined that he would be here, meeting this man who was so high up and seemingly out of reach?

Was this a sign from the heavens, allowing his business to go to the next level?

When he saw Kieran, Wilfred couldn't be bothered to continue lecturing Freya and Jaden and Jayla, he hurriedly greeted him and said respectfully and flatteringly to Kieran, "Hello, Mr. Fitzgerald, I am Wilfred from Zhengfeng Group, it's a pleasure to meet you."

With that, Wilfred extended his hand to Kieran in a rather excited manner.

Kieran had no intention at all to shake hands with Wilfred, his eyes, ice-blade like, swept over Wilfred's face as he asked the words he had just said again, "Who are you going to make it impossible to stay in Hance City?!"

After hearing this from Kieran, Wilfred realised that he was so excited just now that he had forgotten to answer Kieran's question, no wonder Kieran looked unpleasant.

Wilfred glanced at Freya and the two little ones and hurriedly said to Kieran, "Oh, Mr. Fitzgerald, I was just saying to tell this woman to take these two children and get out of our Hance City!"

Wendy didn't expect her to be able to see the famous Mr. Fitzgerald in reality, she was also excited, she was eager to show off, "Yes, Mr. Fitzgerald, my husband just tried to teach this shameless woman and two bastards a lesson! Don't misunderstand, my husband definitely didn't mean to offend you!"

"My mummy is not shameless, I forbid you to say that about my mummy!"

Seeing that these two people were talking badly about Freya in front of Kieran, Jayla puffed out her cheeks and growled.

"Shut up!" Wendy gave Jayla a disgusted look, "Mr. Fitzgerald is here, it's your turn to speak! It's true that a child without a father is just uneducated!"

"A child without a father is just uneducated!" Danny made a face and said maliciously to Jayla.

"A child without a father?" Kieran's eyes, slowly swept over Wendy's face, and Wendy only felt that, on her face, a layer of ice had instantly formed.

Wendy felt as if she should say something more to leave some good impression on Mr. Fitzgerald, and before she could say anything, she heard Kieran say in a cold voice, "Who told you that they are children without a father?!"

"Mr. Fitzgerald"

Wilfred was just about to say something bad about Freya and her children to Kieran when his eyes, inadvertently, swept past Jaden's face and he suddenly realised something was wrong.

These two kids looked so much like Mr. Fitzgerald's.

Wilfred's mouth was half open, he looked at Jaden and then at Kieran, when he compared them like this, he was even more struck by lightning.

Could it be that Mr. Fitzgerald was the father of these two kids?

Just as this thought flashed through Wilfred's mind, he heard Jaden say, "Daddy, you've finally come over, if you don't come over, everyone will really think that Jayla and I are children without a daddy!"

Daddy?

Wilfred and Wendy both almost couldn't control their gasps of shock, this wild child. He was calling out for Mr. Fitzgerald as daddy?!

When she heard Jaden suddenly call Kieran Daddy, Jayla couldn't help but be stunned, but how smart was Jayla, she instantly understood why Jaden called Kieran Daddy.

Jayla, in fact, did not like to bully others, but she hated being bullied even more. Since Danny and his family bullied her, she had to bully them too.

Jayla stepped forward, she hugged Kieran's arm and said pitifully, "Daddy, why did you only come! I was bullied so badly just now!"

Wilfred and Wendy looked at each other, Mr. Fitzgerald was really the daddy of these two children?

If Mr. Fitzgerald was the father, then Freya was Mr. Fitzgerald's woman?!

By the way, what did they just say?

They said that Freya was indecent, shameless, hooked up with men, and didn't even know which man was the father of her children.

Yes, they also said that Jaden and Jayla were uneducated bastards.

Wilfred and Wendy really wanted to swallow back what they had just said, but what was said was like water that could not be taken back.

Freya also did not expect Jaden and Jayla to suddenly call Kieran Daddy, she could not help but be stunned, she actually did not want people to misunderstand the relationship between the two little ones and Kieran, however, one does need to be a bully, otherwise, people will only think you are good and can be bullied.

She had never wanted to hurt the family of Wilfred, but they, time and again, had bullied the two little ones, and there was no need for her to continue to put up with it.

It was true that Danny was just a child, but in this world, adults were not the only ones who could hurt people, and a misguided child could hurt people as much as an adult. If she and the two little ones apologised to Wilfred's family this time, Danny would certainly bully them more severely in the future, and there would even be school bullying.

She would not give someone the chance to hurt her babies over and over again!

"How did they bully you?" Kieran asked with concern as he scooped Jayla into his arms.

Wilfred had never thought that the man who was described by the outside world as so ferocious that he would have such a gentle side of him, and was a bit taken aback.

To think that Kieran loved his children so much, but just now they

Wilfred couldn't control a shiver.

"Mr. Fitzgerald, it is a misunderstanding."

Wilfred was afraid that Kieran would take care of him, so he hastily explained with a smile, "Mr. Fitzgerald, just now, my wife and I and Danny were just joking with the two kids! I know I'm wrong, I won't make such jokes again, I hope you won't take it to heart!"

"What jokes! They are clearly the bastards born to a shameless woman and an unknown man!" Danny said angrily with his chin held high.

Chapter 177

Hearing Danny's words, Wilfred really wanted to slap his son to death.

However, he only had Danny as his son, and he couldn't afford to slap him to death, he could only pretend to give him a hard slap.

"Brat, what are you talking about! How can the two kids be bastards! If you dare to talk nonsense again, I'm going to break your leg!"

For the first time, Danny, who was so arrogant and willful, couldn't stand it and burst into tears.

He covered his face in aggression and complained to Wendy, "Mommy, Daddy hit me! He hit me! Mum, I didn't say anything wrong, so why should he hit me? Jaden and Jayla are just bastards who have no father! You and Daddy have just said that they are both unwanted bastards! Their mother is indiscreet and shameless, and they are shameless too!"

Wendy was shivering with fear, she had heard of Kieran's name, the "living hell" of Hance City, Danny cursed his wife and child in front of Kieran, this was looking for death!

Wendy reached out her hand and hurriedly went to cover Danny's mouth.

Just now, Danny was already aggrieved to the point of collapse after receiving that slap from Wilfred, and now his mother, who had always loved him, not only did not help him speak, but even stopped him from speaking, he was even more furious.

He opened his mouth and took a vicious bite out of Wendy.

Wendy was in pain, but she didn't dare to remove her hand, she was afraid that Danny would say something else that would make it impossible for her and Wilfred to leave safely.

Danny was known as bully, and when he wanted something done, he was going to do it!

When Wendy did not remove her hand, he continued to bite, causing blood to come out of Wendy's hand.

Wendy finally couldn't hold on and removed her hand, Danny punched and kicked Wendy, "You all bully me! You all bully me! You don't love me at all! How dare you bully me for Jaden and Jayla the two bastards!"

“Who are you calling bastards? If you talk nonsense to me again, I’ll beat you to death!”

Wilfred’s eyes were rounded as he glared viciously at Danny and threatened him.

Danny didn’t listen to Wilfred’s threats at all, he sat down on the ground at once, stretching his fat little legs and crying out, “You guys are bullying me! You all bully me! If you can call them bastards, why can’t you let me say it! They’re just bastards that nobody wants!”

Wilfred’s heart trembled as he gritted his teeth and grabbed Danny off the ground and punched him hard on the buttocks.

“Brat, you talk nonsense, I’ll beat you to death!”

“Mr. Fitzgerald, this brat is talking nonsense, I’ll teach him a good lesson! Mr. Fitzgerald, don’t worry, he won’t dare to bully the two kids anymore!”

Wilfred said to Kieran while punching Danny.

When Wendy saw that her precious son had received such a severe beating, she was so distressed that tears flowed down her face. Wiping the tears from the corners of her eyes, she said to Kieran, “Mr. Fitzgerald, please forgive us. We promise we won’t dare to talk nonsense again!”

“Freya, Jaden, Jayla, I apologise to you, please forgive us, okay?”

Freya did not want to bully people too much, she lightly looked at Wendy, “Wendy, that is it, I do not want to see Danny bullying Jaden and Jayla again in the future!”

Wendy nodded in a hurry, “Freya, don’t worry, I will definitely discipline Danny properly in the future!”

After getting Freya’s understanding, Wilfred and Wendy took Danny, who was still crying hysterically, to the classroom upstairs.

Although Wilfred was bullying, he was not completely unaware of the situation.

As he walked out of the classroom, he couldn’t help but think of what Freya had just said.

Spoiling a kid too much will ruin him.

A moment ago, he didn’t think it made sense, but now, it made sense to him.

Today, the person that Danny offended was Freya, who was able to show mercy, but what if one day, the big man that Danny offended was not willing to show mercy?

At this thought, Danny broke out in a cold sweat.

His family was used to being bullying, and when they had a child, they spoiled him in every way, letting him be bullying, always thinking that to spoil a child was to love him.

If they continued to spoil Danny like this, sooner or later Danny would be ruined!

It was time to discipline the kids!

Moreover, the should discipline themselves, he had, over the years, made a few bucks, gradually lost his mind!

They always thought they were invincible, but in fact, they were nothing!

Freya and Kieran came over early and there were no other parents in the classroom, so the incident did not cause any impact in the kindergarten.

The children in the middle class, who were also not used to seeing Danny so arrogant and always bullying others, were immediately filled with unspeakable admiration for this handsome uncle who was even more handsome than a star when Kieran arrived and defeated Danny.

What made them worship even more was the parent-child sports day in the afternoon. Under the leadership of Kieran, Jaden and Jayla actually won the first place in all the events!

They also wanted to come first with their mum and dad!

Freya didn't expect them to win the first place in all the events in today's games and was in an incomparably relieved mood. When she was abroad, she and the two little ones were at the bottom of the table.

Well, it was a good feeling.

Anyway, whatever happened next, today, she had a good time.

Of course, if she could ignore the eyes of the female parents and teachers who were glued to Kieran's body, she would be in a better mood.

The kindergarten had prepared a number of prizes and Jaden and Jayla were holding them with a look of satisfaction.

It was not that the prize was worth much, but, rather, it was an acknowledgement that they were really so happy and joyful.

First!

First in running, first in long jump, first in high jump

Could they not be proud of the father-son unity event where Kieran ran with the two little ones in his arms, all beating the parents who were just holding one child!

After being pleased with themselves, Jaden and Jayla felt a bit sorry for Seth again.

They could not help but like their uncle and in future, they would have to like their daddy more too.

After Kieran sent Freya and the two little ones back to the Swedayle Garden, Kieran thought that Freya would chase him away as she had done before.

However, Freya actually offered to walk him downstairs.

As soon as the door to the flat was closed, Freya suddenly hugged him tightly behind himself

Chapter 178

He was flattered.

Kieran turned around and hugged Freya, but Freya thought he didn't want her to hug him like that and she pressed her head gently against his back, "Mr. Fitzgerald, let me hug you."

"I want to hug you."

Kieran's chest was as soft as a million pieces of cotton floating around. Last night, she said she would think about what happened between them, was she willing to accept him?

Ecstasy instantly engulfed Kieran, he no longer wanted to suppress his feelings, he turned around and embraced Freya tightly into his arms.

Kisses fell down.

Freya, who had always been thin-skinned, was still uncomfortable with such closeness, and she tried to push him away subconsciously with the force of her hand.

But thinking that in a few moments she would be going to the Stahler family, with a long road ahead and a high probability of a road of no return, she no longer resisted.

Originally, she did not intend to say those words, but when her feelings got so deep that she could not help herself, Freya finally said those words.

"Mr. Fitzgerald, I think I am in love with you."

What Freya got in return for these words was an even more frantic kiss from Kieran.

He had always been calm and restrained, as if he were detached from the world and free from its joys and sorrows, but in front of her he was always as excited as a young boy in love.

"Freya, I rejoice that you like me."

Kieran held her tighter, this was his girl, he could finally, rightfully, kiss her, he couldn't get enough of it.

Freya closed her eyes, she knew that there was no such thing as eternity in this world, but she really hoped that this moment could be the end of the earth.

In fact, my feelings for you, Mr. Fitzgerald, are not just like, I guess that would be considered love.

She loved him very much, and she did not love Remy this deeply.

What should I do, Mr. Fitzgerald? It seems that my heart is stuck on you and I can't pull it out!

Tonight, Freya was tempted to offer herself.

However, she had to go back to the Stahler's now, otherwise, her brother, Josiah, would really become a corpse.

Freya broke out of Kieran's arms with a red face, she looked at him shyly, and eventually, all her shyness turned into boundless fondness.

She couldn't leave his arms or, say goodbye to him.

"Mr. Fitzgerald, get some rest early!"

Having said that, Freya turned quickly and went into the flat, closing the door tightly behind her.

In fact, she wanted to hold him for longer, but she was afraid that if she continued to hold him like this, she wouldn't really want to leave.

Kieran didn't think much of it, he took it as Freya's shyness after expressing her feelings.

He touched his lips with some intent, the woman had confessed her love to him tonight!

Well, he was jubilant.

Since, she had confessed her love to him, it was time for him to prepare a proposal.

He would give his beloved girl a grand wedding.

After hearing Kieran's footsteps leaving, Freya dialed Kiki's number.

The matter of going to the Stahler's, Freya did not tell Kieran, but she would not hide it from Kiki.

"Kiki, Josiah has been taken away by Maximus."

"What?! What the hell is he trying to do?!"

Maybe she had cried enough last night, at this moment, Freya's heart was surprisingly calm, "Kiki, Maximus just wanted to threaten me, he said he wanted me to do a few things for him."

"That old bastard, how shameless he is!"

"Maximus is indeed shameless, but I can't leave Josiah alone." After a pause, Freya continued, "Kiki, I will return to the Stahler's in a while, I need you to look after Jaden and Jayla, , if if I can't come back, you can tell Sethy, from now on, let Jaden and Jayla follow him."

"Freya, you can't go there!" Kiki was so anxious, she just couldn't fly to Freya's side immediately to stop her, "Have you forgotten what happened last time? Maximus will get you killed! Freya, you must think carefully, Maximus and Alisha are not good people, they will get you killed!"

"Kiki, if you were me, you would definitely go there too."

Hearing Freya's words, Kiki fell into silence. Indeed, if it were her, she could not possibly ignore her own brother's life.

She didn't want anything to happen to Josiah, but she didn't want Freya to go down the road of no return either!

Freya was the thorn in Alisha's eyes, how could Alisha let go of such a good opportunity to torture Freya!

"Freya, isn't there any other way? We can think of other way!"

"Kiki, I really have no choice, I can't find Josiah, and I'm afraid that Maximus will really be heartless and pull out Josiah's oxygen! If Josiah is gone, I can't even face seeing my mother, even if I have to die!" Freya's voice was choked with sobs, and she lifted her face hard to keep her tears from falling down.

Freya tugged on her lips to make her voice sound lighter, “Kiki, don’t think too much about it, maybe things aren’t as bad as we thought! Maybe I’ll come back unharmed after a few days at the Stahler’s house! We should think of things in a more positive light.”

Kiki didn’t believe her words at all, but she also didn’t want to make it harder for Freya, she could only say it again, “Freya, don’t go there, Maximus will really get you killed!”

“Kiki, don’t persuade me, please take care of Jaden and Jayla.”

Freya felt that she was really a very irresponsible mother. The two little ones had always wanted a complete family, and now that they had a father finally, they might have to lose their mother.

Jaden, Jayla, I really love you all, but I also love Josiah very much. It is a responsibility that I cannot shirk to keep Josiah alive, and I think that one day, you will understand me.

Freya didn’t dare to go to the two little ones’ room to say goodbye to them, she knew that by this time, Kiki would be back soon, she hung up the phone and then walked quickly outside the flat.

When Freya went to the Stahler’s, Maximus and Aleksandra had already been waiting inside the living room.

Maximus’s face still wore a hypocritical smile.

As soon as he saw Freya, he pushed an agreement in front of her, “Freya, sign it!”

Chapter 179

Equity Transfer Agreement.

Freya knew that Bernice had a twenty percent share in the Stahler Group, and after Bernice’s death, this twenty percent of her shares were left to her and Josiah.

It was just that over the years, Freya and Josiah had never received a single cent of dividends from it.

Recently, there had been a lot of internal turmoil in the Stahler Group and Maximus was desperate to grasp absolute control of it, which was why he was forcing Freya to sign this share transfer agreement.

Freya did not want to sign this agreement. This was what her mother left, why should she transfer it to someone like Maximus!

“Freya, I am Josiah’s father, and the ten percent of shares under him should be kept by me. This is ten percent of the shares under you, so you should let me keep it for you too!”

Maximus paused and then said, “Freya, don’t think too much about it, I am doing this for the sake of making our family better.”

Freya looked at the share transfer agreement on the table and sneered, this home was Karida and Alisha’s home, what did it have to do with her!

“Maximus, I remember that my mother once said that this ten percent of the shares she was leaving for my marriage. The transfer of the shares must be signed on by me and my future husband together in order for it to take effect.” Freya’s eyes looked at Maximus calmly, “Maximus, I don’t have a husband yet, I’m only afraid that your calculations will be in vain.”

In fact, even if she did not transfer her shares to Maximus, Freya would not be able to enjoy such benefits as dividends, but after all, she was still unwilling to just give away what her mother had left her to Maximus!

“Freya, I naturally know that.”

Maximus looked as if he had it all figured out, “You don’t have a husband now, but if you get married, don’t you have one?”

Hearing these words from Maximus, a very bad feeling arose in Freya’s heart.

She then heard Maximus say with a smile, “Freya, you’re not too young now, you should get married. Aleksandra and I have always been very concerned about your marriage, and she has recently worked hard to find you a good family.”

Freya didn’t believe that Aleksandra would be so kind as to find her a good family!

Aleksandra smiled even more hypocritically and disgustingly than Maximus as she lovingly took Freya’s hand, “Freya, I’ve been having afternoon tea with the rich wives in my circle every day recently for your wedding, and I finally found a rich man for you.”

“I showed Mrs. Ward a picture of you the other day, and Mrs. Ward liked you. Destiny is really a wonderful thing, how Mrs. Ward took one look at your photo and decided you were her future daughter-in-law!”

Mrs. Ward

It couldn’t be Emmanuel’s mother, could it?

Freya had seen from the news that Emmanuel had married Claudia, however, Emmanuel had an older brother who seemed to be called Kyle Ward.

Kyle was even more excessive than Emmanuel when it came to playing with women, and he looked worse than Emmanuel.

If she was really forced to marry Kyle, it was estimated that in less than a month, she would have to be played by Kyle to death!

Noticing that Freya’s face was pale, Aleksandra said even more vigorously, “After Mrs. Ward got your photo, she showed it to her eldest son Kyle! Guess what? Kyle said that he fell in love with you at first sight and wanted to marry you right away!”

Aleksandra smiled like a loving mother, she gently patted the back of Freya’s hand, “I told you, my Freya is pretty and has a good personality, so you don’t have to worry about finding a husband. Kyle has been charmed by my Freya!”

“Freya, Mrs. Ward and I have already discussed it, you will stay at their house tonight, you go and cultivate relationship with Kyle first. Tomorrow is Saturday, it’s not late to get married next week.”

“Freya, I know that you have quite a bit of prejudice against me, but I am really doing it for your own good, otherwise I wouldn’t have gone to all the trouble of finding you such a nice family!”

She read on the news the other day that Kyle’s wife died of a sudden illness.

When they saw this news, several female doctors in their office were still discussing the fact that Kyle’s wife, instead of dying of illness, had been tortured to death by Kyle.

She heard that Kyle’s wife, who had even visited their hospital once before, had a gruesome injury in a hidden part of her body.

How long had this wife of Kyle’s dead wife been married to Kyle?

Right, it seemed like it was only been half a month, and she died so badly, just now she thought she would be tortured to death by Kyle in a month, she really underestimated Kyle’s fighting power.

Freya did not want to marry Kyle, not at all, but she knew in her heart that Aleksandra and Maximus were not discussing this matter with her, they had already made a decision, and if she refused, Josiah would not survive the night.

Maximus and Aleksandra looked at each other, and he hurriedly said to Freya, “Yes, Freya, Aleksandra has found you a really good match! I’ve met Kyle, he’s polite and has a good face, and his family is known as a wealthy family, you’ll be lucky to marry him!”

Freya sneered.

Freya really wanted to say, “Maximus, if you think Kyle is good, you can marry Alisha and Karida to him.” But in the end, Freya did not say these words.

There was no point in saying it.

Maximus’s voice continued, “Freya, don’t worry, as long as you marry into the Ward family and live well with Kyle, I will definitely take good care of Josiah. After all, Josiah is also my child.”

See, the old fox had really shown his true colours. He was just using Josiah to threaten her, so that she would meekly be obedient.

Freya looked coldly at Maximus, suddenly, she hooked her lips and smiled coldly, “Good, I’ll marry him!”

After a moment of silence, Freya smiled, “Maximus, I really hope that Josiah and I are not the children of your family!”

If she and Josiah were not Maximus’s children, at the very least, she would be able to tell herself that her real father who would not be so cruel to her, that her real father actually loved them.

Unfortunately, in this world, there were no ifs.

She didn’t know if it was Freya’s illusion, but after she had said this, she saw Maximus’s face, surprisingly, turn pale for a moment, but soon, Maximus returned to his smiling face.

The door to the living room was suddenly pushed open and Alisha walked in with a smile on her face.

Chapter 180

She looked at Freya condescendingly, “Freya, congratulations, you’re going to be Mrs. Ward next week!”

“Oh, no, tonight, you should be considered Mrs. Ward. The license is important, the de facto marriage is also important. Freya, may you have, for the rest of your life, a night to remember.”

Alisha lowered her eyes as she rummaged through her bag and pulled out a bottle, “Freya, for you, your new wedding present.”

“Freya, isn’t that touching? The two of us are fighting to the death, but when you are married, I am being so generous and give you gifts, I’m touched myself.”

On top of this bottle, there were no markings, and Freya could not see what it contained, but she could guess that it was definitely not something good.

Freya did not take the bottle from Alisha’s hand, she raised her eyelids, “Alisha, thank you for your kindness, however, I have no intention of accepting your kindness.”

Freya was too lazy to be superficial with Alisha, and Alisha no longer pretended to be a good sister, she forcefully shoved this bottle into Freya’s hand, and when she saw that Freya wanted to throw the bottle away, she smiled wistfully, “No! Freya, don’t throw this bottle away! You know, what you’re throwing away is not just a bottle, but also Josiah’s life!”

Freya’s fingertips, uncontrollably, trembled as she did not throw the bottle away after all.

Seeing Freya clutching this bottle obediently, the smile on Alisha’s lips became more and more wanton, “Freya, are you wondering what’s inside this? Since this is a new wedding gift for you, I won’t hide it from you.”

“This is the kind of stuff that will make your wedding night even more wonderful. Last time at the charity party, Claudia was force-fed by Emmanuel with this kind of stuff, but unfortunately, I prepared a whole one for you and you didn’t even have the chance to take it.”

“But it doesn’t matter, last time you missed out on one, this time, it’s a bottle. Freya, eat it, I promise you, tonight will be something you will never forget!”

Alisha’s voice, which sounded gentle, was so unpleasing to Freya that it was like a poisonous snake that was wrapped tightly around her heart.

The kind of medicine that Claudia took at the last charity gala, Freya heard about it later. It was said that Claudia had hemorrhaged that night and was taken to the hospital, where she was resuscitated for several hours before she saved her life.

She didn’t know how much of this stuff Claudia had eaten that night, but she knew in her heart that if she took this whole bottle tonight and then had sex with Kyle, she would just have a blood crash and the Great Gods couldn’t save her.

“What, you don’t want to eat?”

Alisha narrowed her eyes, the malicious glint in her eyes was like a needle stabbing Freya, “It doesn’t matter if you don’t dare to eat, I’ll let Gary remove Josiah’s legs now!”

“Alisha, you’re despicable!”

Freya stared hatefully at Alisha and said word for word, “Alisha, I’ll eat it, and I’ll marry Kyle, but I hope you’ll also keep your promise and let Josiah go!”

With that, Freya unscrewed the cap on the bottle and poured all the contents inside into her mouth.

When Freya ate them, she roughly counted them, inside this bottle, there were at least a dozen of them, this stuff was particularly powerful, tonight, she really couldn’t escape.

In fact, after putting life on the line, Freya didn’t care so much about the blood crash or whatever.

She was just afraid that, in the grip of something like this, she would, like an animal, take it upon herself to pester Kyle, she found disgusting.

Seeing Freya swallow the bottle of medicine by all means, the corners of Alisha’s lips could not help but curl up into a satisfied smile.

“Freya, don’t worry, what I want is for you to die forever! Josiah is just a living dead man, whether he dies or lives has nothing to do with me! As long as you follow Kyle obediently, I promise, he will be safe and sound!”

Seeing Freya’s face, because of that thing, tinged with a bright red like a coloured haze, Alisha was so happy that she almost burst out laughing.

Tonight, Freya would be completely ruined!

The last time she drank that mango juice with one of these by mistake at a charity party, she thought she had amazing self-control and couldn’t even bring herself to want to find a man and go crazy for a night.

This time, Freya had eaten so many pills in one go, she didn’t want to be a chaste woman!

That night, she met a normal man, but she got hemorrhaging and with a somewhat troublesome gynaecological condition.

When Freya met Kyle tonight, she would definitely have to shed more blood, and even if she was not tortured to death, she would have to be left with the roots of an incurable disease.

When the time came, how could Freya steal Kieran from her!

The man she loved could only be hers, Freya, this stupid bitch, was nothing!

Alisha couldn’t wait to see Freya in trouble, she reminded Aleksandra and Maximus somewhat eagerly, “Dad, Mom, Kyle must be waiting impatiently now, why don’t we hurry and send Freya there!”

Just as Alisha finished saying this, Aleksandra’s mobile phone rang.

After answering the call, Aleksandra joyfully put down the phone, “Freya, we’re sending you out, the Ward family’s driver is already waiting outside.”

Freya turned her face away and looked at the black silence of the night sky, she suddenly felt the urge to run away from the battle, but thinking of the boy who had called her as sister for nearly 20 years, she finally suppressed the urge to run away.

Josiah, I am actually a coward, there are some things that I would be afraid of. I don't want to be ruined by the hands of Kyle and this group of people from the Stahler family, but I want you to be well more than anything.

Josiah, if tonight, it is destined to be a calamity for me, I hope you can wake up soon.

There is no need to feel guilty or to avenge me; I only wish you to live well.

Tonight, Freya wore a thick tweed coat and walked in the courtyard, still feeling cold.

She thought it should be a cold heart. When the heart was cold, no amount of heavy clothing could warm this cold and icy heart.

Freya actually wanted to call Kiki and the two little ones, but, fearing that there might be unnecessary accidents, Alisha forcibly grabbed her phone.

As soon as Alisha took her phone, she boarded her WeChat.

Although Alisha did not have Kieran's WeChat, she knew he was Kieran as soon as she saw Fitz's WeChat name.

Alisha hated it so much that she gritted her teeth. She had known Kieran for five years and he hadn't even added her to WeChat, but she didn't expect Freya to become WeChat friends with him after only knowing him for a month.

Alisha clicked on the dialog box and sent over a message.

"Let's break up!"
