Chapter 671

“Fillip!”

Freya was directly dumbfounded by the situation; she hadn't expected Fillip to seek death in any way.

She rushed over quickly and tried to pull Fillip, but Fillip had longer legs than her and he was too fast for her to pull.

Seeing Fillip standing fixedly in front of the truck, waiting for it to smash his body into the ground, Freya's heart was so scared that it almost burst out from inside her chest.

The truck was getting closer and closer to Fillip, and Freya was too frightened to look at the scene in front of her.

She thought that Fillip was destined to be run over by the truck and bleeding profusely. Surprisingly, in the nick of time, the truck braked violently.

“What's wrong with you? Swallow your own pills if you want to die, don't come to me! You're crazy!”

The truck driver cursed, moved the front end quickly and drove off to the side, fearing that he would be pestered by Fillip, a desperate madman.

Seeing that Fillip had not been hit by the truck, Freya could not help but let out a long breath of relief.

Fearing that Fillip might not be able to think straight again, she hurriedly went over and pulled him towards the road with all her strength.

“Fillip, calm down, don't go crazy!”

Fillip, however, as if he had not heard Freya's words, he murmured demonically, “Lucy is cold down there, she's afraid of the dark, I'm going to stay with her, I'm going to stay with her”

Step by step, Fillip was about to walk towards the middle of the road again, Freya was so anxious that she had a bright idea and hurriedly yelled at him, “Fillip, if Lucy sees you looking for death like this, she will be very disappointed!”

“You've disappointed Lucy enough when she was alive, can't you continue to disappoint her when she's gone?!”

As expected, after hearing Freya's words, Fillip paused.

He lifted his face, his red-blooded eyes devoid of the slightest focus, as if, instead of being a flesh-and-blood human being, he was merely a soulless shell.

The biggest reason for all the tragedies in Lucy's life is because of Fillip.

Freya liked Lucy from the bottom of her heart, so after Lucy left, she hated Fillip to death, but now, looking at this man in front of her as if he had died a thousand times long ago, she suddenly didn't hate him that much anymore.

But there were some things she couldn't help but say to Phillip.

She hooked her lips, her eyebrows smiling, but with obvious sarcasm.

"Phillip, you didn't cherish Lucy when she was alive, and now that she's gone, you're looking for death, for whom? Is it meaningful?"

"Phillip, if Lucy had a spirit and saw you like this, she would be disgusted from the bottom of her heart. How could she have fallen for a man like you back then?"

Phillip stiffly moved his lips, and in his eyes, shock and distress gushed out like a tidal wave, and he looked at Freya with bloodshot eyes, like a beast on the verge of extinction.

Suddenly, he tugged the corners of his lips in self-deprecation, "Yeah, Lucy thinks I'm disgusting. She thinks I've had sex with Regina, she must think I'm extra extra disgusting!"

"But I didn't! I didn't touch Regina! I've never touched anyone else but her!"

Phillip clutched his head, his words seemed to be speaking to Freya, but in fact, it was more like he was talking to himself.

"I haven't touched anyone else, I really only have Lucy! I was just too slow in love, I didn't see my heart clearly."

"I loved Lucy, I really, really loved her, I would have ripped my heart out for her, but now, she doesn't want it."

"She doesn't want to be buried with me, she doesn't even want to see me again when she dies! Lucy hates me, she hates me! Lucy doesn't want me!"

"Lucy, how can you not want to be buried with me! We're husband and wife, we should be buried together! Lucy, I won't keep you waiting for me for long, I'll be there for you soon! When the time comes, please don't ever leave me again, let alone ignore me."

"Lucy, I'm the one who's wronged you, but you've been so cruel to me! You've gone and taken my heart, too"

"Phillip, come on." Freya wasn't used to comforting others, and she didn't want to comfort Phillip.

But thinking that Lucy had once told her that her greatest wish was for Phillip to be well, she still said softly to Phillip, "Phillip, Lucy asked me to tell you a few words."

"Lucy has something to tell me?" In an instant, Phillip's eyes were lit up with starlight, and he excitedly grabbed Freya's arm, asking impatiently, "What does Lucy have to tell me? What does she want to say to me?"

"Phillip, you saw those last words that Lucy left for you. She said that she believed you would become the greatest fashion designer. Lucy told me that she was prouder than you of every award you won."

"In her mind, you are the most talented man and she wants to see that one day you can lead Nirvana and stand at the top."

“Fillip, Lucy also said that she wanted you to be well, to live well, to see you well, and that even if she died, her heart would rejoice.”

“Fillip, in the future, don’t die again, Lucy must not want to see it.”

“Live well

Fillip murmured these words over and over again, his eyes sad, “How can I live well when she is no longer here!”

“However, I will not fail to meet her expectations of me. I will become the greatest fashion designer, and in the future, all my work will be for her.”

Hearing these words from Fillip, Freya finally breathed a sigh of relief.

No matter how hard he felt inside, he must not end his life so easily again now that he had a goal.

In the near future, Fillip really led Nirvana to the top, Freya did not expect, when he became the world’s premier costume master, he held all the honors and died with Lucy.

Freya was about to leave, but Fillip suddenly spoke up, “Freya, does Lucy hate me?”

Freya turned and looked at him with immense seriousness and said, “No, Lucy doesn’t hate you, she appreciates you.”

“Fillip, Lucy is grateful to you. Because when she was fifteen and her mother died, you gave her a chocolate when she was most upset. She said that it was the warmth she could never forget.”

Because there is so little warmth, that little bit of warmth is engraved in Lucy’s heart.

Freya’s eyes could not control the wetness, what a silly girl! That little bit of warmth was enough for her to remember for the rest of her life, and what a poor girl!

In her life, she had had so little warmth.

“Chocolate?”

Fillip suddenly thought of something, and his face changed.

Chapter 672

He didn’t initially want to give that chocolate to Lucy.

The day that Lucy’s mother died happened to be Valentine’s Day, and he was, at that time, silently in love with Regina.

He bought flowers and chocolates for the girl he loved, following the usual ingratiating technique of the boys at school.

Only, on that day, the flowers and chocolates were still in his hands.

Regina said that her mother made her have to spend Valentine’s Day with Kieran.

At that time, Phillip fell head over heels in love with this unrequited love. He thought that Regina was close to Kieran because of his mother's pressure, until later, she became Kieran's fiancée and had a marriage contract with Simon, he still did not feel that Regina was dating two men.

The girl he liked was so good at everything, and there must be something heartbreakingly hopeless about the fact that she would be tangled up with him while having an engagement with someone else.

Now, as if coming to his senses, Phillip suddenly understands how ridiculous he was, at the beginning.

When she was young, Regina swayed between him and Kieran, not because of her mother's coercion, but because she truly liked Kieran.

She likes Kieran, yet enjoys the vanity of his working for her.

After he was forced to marry Lucy, Regina still sought him out whenever she had a problem. She once said to him in a pitiful voice, "Phillip, you're married, what can I do! I have to get married and have children too, I can't be your and Lucy's mistress for the rest of my life."

He also felt that he could not let her be a mistress, so even if she later had a marriage with someone else, he felt that he had wronged her.

In fact, it's not like that at all.

Regina was just using his pity for her to get him to do anything for her.

And the box of chocolates was failed to give away in the first place. He grabbed a few chocolates at random, not expecting to come across the little girl crying so sadly at her mother's funeral.

At that time when he gave Lucy chocolates, he really didn't carry a trace of pity.

He was a cool-headed man by nature and had thought that old age, sickness and death were commonplace. When Lucy was so sad, he didn't feel much pity for her, he just thought she was ridiculous.

Did she cry so sadly that her mother can come back?

He gave her chocolates purely as a tease for like puppies and kittens, but to his surprise, they became warmth she would never forget.

Even, because of this little bit of warmth, she married him against all odds and, in the end, died a horrible death in loneliness and despair.

With wetness in his eyes, Phillip wanted to smash himself to death with a stick.

It turns out that it's not ridiculous to cry when you lose your closest loved one. After he lost Lucy, he almost shed all his tears for several lifetimes!

Phillip shed tears and suddenly burst out laughing in a pale voice.

Freya didn't know what he was up to again, but she didn't want to meddle anymore, and since Phillip had said he wouldn't seek death, there was no need for her to stay here.

Coolly withdrawing her gaze from him, Freya walked quickly towards where her car was parked.

Mr. Fitzgerald had just called her home for dinner! If she didn't get back soon, he would have to go into a tizzy too!

The night was getting thicker and thicker, and by the time Freya returned to Kelsington Bay, it was almost nine o'clock, long after dinner time.

She could almost imagine how irritated Mr. Fitzgerald would be, but she wouldn't be afraid, because Mr. Fitzgerald, despite his bad temper, was easy to be coaxed.

Life is too short, she doesn't want to continue to angry with him, she will make up with him, she will coax him well, she wants to be with him for a long time.

Surprisingly, when Freya walked into the living room, Kieran did not have an angry face waiting to break her legs.

He leaned on the sofa, with Jaden and Jayla nestled in the crook of his arm, left and right, listening to his stories.

Jayla is a real fan of little stories. She has heard the stories of Little Red Riding Hood, the Ugly Duckling and Cinderella, and then she wants to hear the stories of Snow White and the Daughter of the Sea.

Kieran had simply brought out all his patience for several lifetimes, telling this little girl the childish fairy tales that he disliked so much.

In fact, Jaden also particularly dislikes these childish fairy tales.

But Daddy's arms were so warm that he couldn't help but want to be close to him, and he listened patiently to his daddy's story.

The light inside the living room, spilling over the three of them, was so warm that it almost brought tears to Freya's eyes.

In her life, her greatest hope was that the four of them would never be separated. She really hoped that every night they would be able to stay together in this place and enjoy themselves.

"Uncle Simon, that's not how Mummy tells the story of the Big Bad Wolf and the Little White Rabbit!"

Jayla is a child who likes to ask questions. Seeing that the story told by Kieran was completely different from the one told by Freya, she could not help but raise her questions again.

"Oh? And what did your mummy say?"

Jayla looked at Kieran solemnly and said, "The Big Bad Wolf didn't eat the Little White Rabbit! Mummy said that the Big Bad Wolf originally wanted to eat the Little White Rabbit, but the Little White Rabbit was so beautiful that the Big Bad Wolf fell in love with the Little White Rabbit at first sight, and not only did he not eat the Little White Rabbit, he even helped the Little White Rabbit to grow carrots. From then on, the Big Bad Wolf lived a happy life of gnawing carrots with the Little White Rabbit every day."

The corners of Kieran's lips twitched, the big bad wolf would eat carrots?

How can Freya mislead the little girls!

“What your mummy said is not correct, the big bad wolf cannot eat carrots, he will only eat meat.” Kieran corrected Jayla rather seriously.

“But Mummy says the Big Bad Wolf would gnaw on a carrot for love! The power of love is great!”

Kieran continued to try to pull Jayla’s thinking back on track, “The big bad wolf wouldn’t be that stupid, it’s a carnivore, it would starve to death if it didn’t eat meat. Only a fool would eat the so-called love as a meal.”

Hearing Kieran’s words, Jaden silently said in his heart, only Jayla, a big fool, would believe Mummy’s bullshit story.

Jayla, however, does not find the Big Bad Wolf silly at all.

She raised her chin and looked slyly at Kieran and asked, “Uncle Simon, if you were the big bad wolf and Mommy was the little white rabbit, would you gnaw on the carrot for Mommy? Uncle Simon, you said the big bad wolf is silly, you definitely won’t chew the carrot for Mommy!”

Just now, Freya opened the door very gently, and Kieran and Jayla were discussing happily and did not notice Freya entering.

Jaden, who had his eyes and ears on all directions, had noticed, and he quietly glanced at Freya and asked Kieran a rare question, “Uncle Simon, would you chew carrots for Mommy?”

Chapter 673

No, I’ll eat your mummy, down to the last scrap of bone.

Kieran subconsciously wanted to say that, but thinking that Jaden and Jayla were both underage, he said rather seriously, “No, I don’t like carrots.”

Jaden saw Freya at the door and sneered, and the corners of his lips, too, could not help but curl up into a bad smile.

“Uncle Simon, I can’t believe you wouldn’t chew a carrot for Mummy! You’re not as attached to Mummy as the Big Bad Wolf is to the Little White Rabbit!”

When Jaden said this, Kieran wisely realized that something was wrong, and indeed, as soon as he turned his face, he saw Freya standing in the living room doorway sneering so hard that her face was about to twist.

Kieran, “.....”

Didn’t these two kids promise to help him get Freya back, why are they still digging a hole for him to jump into now?

When he met Kieran’s threatening eyes, Jaden, who was not afraid of anything, couldn’t help but shiver, he got out of Kieran’s arms, “Mommy, Uncle Simon, I’m sleepy, I’m going to my room to sleep first!

“Mummy’s back?” Jayla smiled with arched eyebrows, and like a cheerful little bird, she swooped into Freya’s arms for a goodnight kiss.

“Mummy, Uncle Simon has told me so many stories! I love listening to Uncle Simon’s stories so much!” Jayla turned her face, “Uncle Simon, will you tell me the story of the Red Queen again?”

“Jayla, you’re sleepy, go to your room and sleep.” Jaden walked up to Jayla with an iceberg face, took her hand and walked in the direction of their bedroom.

“I’m not sleepy! I still have to listen to Uncle Simon’s story!” Jayla said with a pout.

“Jayla, you’re not listening to a story, you’re being a third party!” Jayla paused and then said, “You’ve been acting as a third party for Mummy and Uncle Simon, you don’t want younger siblings anymore, do you?!”

“I do.” Jayla gave Jaden a pitiful look, her brother was so fierce, would she have a younger sibling and her brother would not like her anymore?

“Go to bed in your room if you want a younger sibling!”

Jayla obeyed good advice as she crisply said to Freya and Kieran, “Mummy, Uncle Simon, I’m so sleepy!”

As if to prove that she was really sleepy, Jayla even yawned playfully.

Freya was speechless. Jayla’s acting skills were getting worse and worse, she just said that she was not sleepy. Who would believe that she was sleepy now?

Sure enough, the next second Freya heard Jayla say again, “Mommy, I’m so sleepy for you and Uncle Simon to give me a little sister, you guys have to work hard!”

Freya almost choked to death on her own saliva. She was not going to give birth to this man who forced her to take that kind of medicine!

After explaining to Freya, Jayla followed Jaden towards their room.

Jayla wants her little sister very much, but when she thinks that her brother will not love her after she has a younger sibling, she cannot help but feel a little sad.

As soon as she entered the room, she blinked her big wet eyes at Jaden and said, “Brother, you want your younger siblings so much, do you not like me as your younger sister?”

“Brother, when we have younger siblings, I’ll be so miserable if you only like them!”

To prove that she was really pitiful, Jayla even flattened her little mouth in aggravation.

At Jayla’s words, Jaden really was speechless.

He also knew that Jayla’s pitiful look must have been faked, but he still couldn’t control his heartache.

He rubbed Jayla’s little head, “Jayla, don’t worry, no matter how many younger siblings we have in the future, you will be my most beloved sister.”

Jayla is a kind little girl who feels that in the future, when she has younger siblings, if Jaden loves her the most and doesn’t love their younger siblings as much, their younger siblings will be so miserable again.

She cocked her little head in distress and thought, "Brother, you'd better love your younger siblings more, and I need to love them more too, otherwise they're so pathetic."

"Alright, let's love our younger siblings together." After saying this, Jaden was also a bit distressed, even if they wanted to love their younger siblings, they had to have them first!

And they wonder when Mummy and Daddy will make them a younger sibling.

Thrown in the living room, Freya has not yet recovered from the motivation of Jayla earlier.

It was only when a cold object was shoved into her palm that she withdrew her thoughts.

She was a little curious about what was in her palm, but she wanted to settle the score with Kieran first for what she had just done.

"Brother, you're amazing! Saying you want to get back together with me but you won't even chew a carrot for me, what kind of fondness do you have for me!"

Kieran, "....."

What does it matter if you like carrots or not!

"Brother, you just don't like me! Even the big bad wolf can gnaw on a carrot for the little white rabbit, but you won't, you're not as good as the big bad wolf!"

"Freya, if I were the big bad wolf, I would indeed not be nibbling on carrots."

Kieran's eyes looked deeply at Freya and said word for word, "I will eat the little white rabbit straight away!"

This word from Mr. Fitzgerald's mouth is really impure! What's going on inside his head all day long!

She blushed and said to him, "You are dreaming! Brother, don't forget, you're not my boyfriend anymore, we've broken up!"

"Freya, I'm not your boyfriend, I'm your fiancé. You've already agreed to my proposal."

"That proposal doesn't count! The proposal ring was thrown away, I won't agree with your proposal!"

No sooner had Freya said this than she felt the object in her hand, she subconsciously looked down and she found that there was a pink diamond ring lying quietly in her palm.

That was, that night, the ring with which Mr. Fitzgerald proposed to her.

Freya's eyes were red, "Brother, didn't you already throw this ring away?"

"Yes, I did throw it away. But that night, I picked it back up."

"Freya, in fact, even when I was at my angriest, I couldn't really throw away the proposal ring I gave you."

Kieran didn't like to say warm and soft words, but in order to make this woman willingly fall into his arms, he still said, "Freya, I can't let you go."

Freya remembers that that night, after Mr. Fitzgerald left, it was raining heavily outside.

It was not easy to find such a small ring, and he must have been out in the rain for a long, long time to retrieve it.

Freya's chest, hot and fluttering, could no longer afford to continue messing with him.

In fact, he had always liked her, liked her very, very much, he just thought she didn't love him enough.

Freya wanted to hug Kieran, but when she thought of something, her face instantly went cold again.

Chapter 674

Her eyes, with their inextricable sadness and sorrow, were so big and watery that it seemed that if she blinked, tears would roll down her face.

When he saw Freya's appearance, Kieran instantly panicked.

He carefully grabbed her hand, "Freya, what's wrong with you?"

The more Freya thought about it, the more aggrieved she became, and her tears rolled down abruptly.

She scrambled to wipe away the tears from the corners of her eyes and turned her face to the side, "Brother, you're forcing me to take that kind of medicine!"

"I know you think I'm not worthy to give you children! Yes, I'm even cheaper than a prostitute in your heart, how could you possibly let me give you a child! Don't worry, I will never give you a child in my life!"

Listening to Freya's accusation, Kieran couldn't help but remember that he had, indeed, forced her to take that kind of medicine before.

How cold he was then, how regretful he is now.

That morning pill is very damaging to the body, yet he forced the girl he loved most to take that drug more than once.

Ripping him to pieces would not even be enough to make up for the wrong he has done.

"Freya, I'm sorry, I'll never force you to take medicine again."

Kieran hoisted her into his arms with force, his voice hoarse as he murmured in her ear, "Freya, I love you, I want you to give me children, I just hate that you don't love me. But now, I want to believe that you have me in your heart."

"Freya, I don't ask for too much, but if you have even a hint of me in your heart, in this life, you will never want me to let go!"

"Who's going to give you a baby!" Freya said with a flushed face.

"Freya, you know who it is." Kieran spoke solemnly and affectionately, "You, in this life, only you!"

With that, he leaned his face down and kissed her on the lips.

In fact, he wanted to last the kiss until the end of time, but he knew that Freya hadn't eaten dinner yet, and he couldn't let her go hungry, so he forced himself to let her go.

He carried her to the front of the table, "Freya, eat!"

"Jaden and Jayla both want younger siblings, so you should eat more."

Originally, when Kieran brought the dish to her mouth, Freya was quite touched, but now after hearing his words, she suddenly didn't want to eat it.

This man, at first glance, has bad intentions!

Feeding her is just a way to take advantage of her!

She wouldn't have given him a child!

This evening, Kieran and Freya failed to have a baby as Freya was on period.

Kieran did remember when Freya's period was, and it didn't seem like more than a few days since the last time.

He knew that it was all about the morning-after pill, the kind of pill that can disrupt a woman's period and cause severe menstrual pain. Seeing Freya shrinking in the corner of the bed at night with her stomach covered in pain and covered in cold sweat, Kieran wanted to kill himself.

He'd have to be a real jerk to force her to take those pills!

He would rather it was him who was in pain now.

Only, pain cannot be transferred, he can only forcefully hold Freya into his arms, carefully coaxing her, his heart hurts more than her stomach.

After Freya left, Phillip did not continue to linger on the road.

After Lucy had gone, he was really hopeless, but after hearing Freya's words just now, he suddenly wanted to live again for once.

Live to be the greatest designer of all time, live to live up to the expectations of Lucy.

After returning to his and Lucy's villa, he went to the bathroom to take a shower, and only afterwards did he notice in the mirror that his temples, surprisingly, had grown so much grey hair.

It turns out that, in this world, there really is growing gray hair overnight.

But even if his hair went all gray, Lucy would not return.

"Lucy, I won't keep you waiting long. I'm as good as my word, and I'll be coming to you soon."

Even though Phillip has grey hair at his temples, it still does not detract from his handsomeness, and he does not care what others think, he is only worried that Lucy will dislike him.

"Lucy, I've gotten so much older. By the time I get to you, I'll be even older, but Lucy, you'll always be so young now."

Phillip's ruddy eyes committed wet, "Lucy, when the time comes, will you think I am too old? Lucy, I'm afraid you'll think so"

After Phillip had tidied himself up, the villa's doorbell suddenly rang.

He wrinkled his eyebrows, he couldn't really imagine who would come to his and Lucy's villa so late at night.

He does not welcome anyone to come. This place, his and Lucy's home, holds the most of their memories and he does not want any outsiders to intrude.

The person outside the villa is Regina.

Delaying until Phillip came out to open the door, she dialed his number directly.

The phone rings.

Phillip subconsciously glanced towards his mobile phone screen, and when he saw the note that was familiar, he couldn't help but sneer and hook his lips.

He would not let Regina step into his and Lucy's home, he was afraid that it would dirty Lucy's eyes.

After a moment of silence, Phillip grabbed his mobile phone and headed outside the villa anyway.

Phillip has always been responsive to Regina's requests, and the fact that he doesn't open the door or answer the phone makes Regina's mind anxious to the extreme.

She did not attend Lucy's funeral, but she had heard many people say that Phillip had changed a lot after Lucy's death, as if, he had lost his soul.

She did not believe that Phillip, who loved her dearly, would be so greatly affected by Lucy, but she could not help but feel panic in her heart.

After all, the semi-finals of the International Costume Design Competition will be held soon, and if anything goes wrong on the Phillip side, Court will really have to be crushed to death.

She cannot lose!

What's more, she can't lose to Freya!

Regina was pacing anxiously when Phillip walked to the door.

Upon seeing Phillip, she changed her face and instantly collected the anxious look on her face, she said to him, "Phillip, why didn't you answer the phone just now! Do you know that I couldn't find you for the past few days, I was so worried about you?"

"Phillip, I know it's a bit hard for you with Lucy gone, after all, you were married for a long time. But Phillip, one has to look ahead, I know you have actually always loathed Lucy, in fact, with her gone, you are also free."

Phillip sneered in his heart, why did he feel that, after Lucy left, his heart was locked into a prison? How could he not get out?

Regina came forward, she hugged Phillip's arm, "Phillip, don't ignore me again, okay? After Lucy left, you didn't even answer my calls, I would have thought that you cared about Lucy a lot."

"Phillip, I'd be jealous."

After a pause, Regina lifted her face and looked at him with affection, "Phillip, I've come over to look for you, why don't you invite me to your home?"

"Regina, this is my home with Lucy."

Phillip finally spoke, but there was no trace of warmth in his voice, only a coldness of detachment and disgust.

Listening to Phillip's voice, Regina's heart stuttered uncontrollably.

He said this was his and Lucy's home.

He didn't used to be like this, he used to be extremely disgusted with Lucy, how could he admit that the place where Lucy had lived could be his home!

Regina was confused to the extreme, she knew that people are not grass, they have heartless, but even if Phillip might be a bit sad because of Lucy's death, he shouldn't treat her so badly!

All these years, Phillip has been guarding her like a loyal dog.

Even if the whole world would betray her, Phillip would not betray her.

No, there is also Steven.

"Phillip, what do you mean by that?" Regina spoke with a trembling voice, her face carried a clear aggravation, "Phillip, you don't love me anymore, do you? You're in love with Lucy, aren't you?"

"Phillip, have you forgotten how Lucy forced you to marry her? Phillip, it's Lucy who has been ruining our relationship!"

"Phillip, I don't care what's wrong with you tonight, but you mustn't treat me so badly in the future. Phillip, my feet hurt, let's go inside and sit for a while, okay?"

Seeing that Regina lifted her feet and was about to walk inside the villa, Phillip grabbed her wrist.

He lifted his eyelids, his eyes not half warm, "Regina, don't go in! If you go in, Lucy will think it is dirty!"

Regina's face suddenly turned pale; in all her years of living, she had never been so humiliated, and this humiliation came from the man who had been most loyal to her.

Even if Regina was calm, she could not remain calm and unruffled after hearing Phillip's words.

Her voice became uncontrollably shrill as she looked at him incredulously and asked, "Phillip, what did you just say?"

"Regina."

Phillip's voice was soft but carried a heavy warning, "Don't show up here again! Not even outside the villa, Lucy will think it is dirty!"

Regina's body stumbled so violently that she would have had to fall to the ground if the car behind her had not held her up.

She leaned against the car door, her breath still not easing after several ragged breaths, and in her eyes was undisguised hurt and pain.

"Fillip, what do you mean by that? How can you break my heart like that?"

"Fillip, you've changed your heart, you've really changed your heart, haven't you? You are no longer the Fillip who loves me deeply, you are not the Fillip who would do anything for me, you don't love me anymore, you only have Lucy in your heart!"

Regina said this purely as a retreat, she knew how much Fillip liked her, normally, he couldn't bear it if she frowned, now, she was on the verge of tears, she didn't believe he would not coax her.

The unexpected thing is that Fillip did not want to coax her in the slightest. His eyes, which fell coolly on her face, did not seem like he was looking at the apple in his heart, but rather like he was looking at a self-important clown.

Regina was almost frantic at the sight of Fillip. She had grown up with endless glory and adoration, especially with her flawless face, which had driven countless men crazy.

She could not believe that any man would look at her with such contempt and disdain.

Regina's body trembled violently, she frowned, and there was even more of a weak and pathetic willow about her.

Fillip still did not coax her.

His eyes, like hailstones, smashed into her face, "Regina, you're right, I don't love you anymore, I only have Lucy in my heart."

"Perhaps, I never really loved you. What I chased was nothing more than an unrealistic dream of my youth."

"Dreams may be beautiful, but they are too ethereal; I want the warmth of reality more than anything else. Regina, I loved Lucy and I only hated that it was only after her death that I came to my senses."

He really regretted it.

Regina's eyes were round with shock, she wanted to say something to win back Fillip's heart, but for a moment, she didn't know what to say.

Until now, she still did not want to believe that Fillip would abandon her and fall in love with Lucy.

What's so great about Lucy!

Whether it was her family background or her looks, what qualifications did Lucy have to compare with her! She didn't believe that Fillip could be so blind!

"Regina, in the future, don't appear in front of me again, I'm afraid I'll get sick too."

He thinks she's disgusting?

Regina almost stared out of her eyes, Phillip, who loved her so much, would find her disgusting?

Regina doesn't believe it!

She stepped forward, her voice trembling as she asked Phillip, "Phillip, you have a fever, don't you? Yes, you must have a fever and are talking nonsense!"

Regina reached out her hand to probe Phillip's forehead, and before her hand could touch his forehead, he shook her hand away violently.

In his eyes, disgust overflowed, "Regina, don't touch me, it is dirty!"

Originally, Regina still wanted to coax Phillip and win back his heart, but now, when he said something so unpleasant, she couldn't stand it.

Her eyes chilled, "Phillip, what do you mean by that! You think I'm dirty? You said that you would treat me well and protect me for the rest of your life! Phillip, you promised me so much before, what do you mean by that now?"

"Phillip, you've failed me, you've wronged me!"

"Regina, in this life, the only person I've failed and apologized to is Lucy! You are not yet worthy!"

Without waiting for Regina to speak, Phillip went on to sneer, "Regina, you should also stop saying such disgusting things in the future, I'm afraid you'll end up disgusting even yourself!"

"Regina, you don't love me, yet you still want me to do anything for you. You are disgusting."

Regina could not stand still by the overpowering aura on Phillip, but she was still unwilling to lose such a big bargaining chip of his, "Phillip, I do have you in my heart! I care about you so much, how can I not have you in my heart!"

"Phillip, I couldn't be with you openly before just because you were a married man! How can I be a mistress for someone else!"

"Heh!" Phillip laughed coldly, "Regina, you have me in your heart?"

"If you really have me in your heart, you should call Simon now and tell her that the person you love is me!"

"I"

Regina's face was as white as paper, she had done everything she could, but she still hadn't gotten Kieran's heart, how could she possibly call him now and say such things!

He didn't like her already, and if she said something like that, she'd have even less of a chance in life!

Phillip actually did not want to really let Regina call Simon, who Regina actually loves, to him, it has long since ceased to matter.

He just couldn't see Regina acting like every man in the world should love her deeply.

He could not see, more than that, Regina saying that Lucy was bad.

Regina was indeed beautiful, and he was after her in the first place because his friends all agreed that she was the most beautiful of all the girls they knew.

Regina's features are impeccably beautiful, graceful and elegant, occasionally revealing a little girl-like innocence, and a compelling sensuality between her words.

But in Phillip's mind, Lucy is more beautiful.

Lucy's features may not be as bright and beautiful as Regina's, or even, a bit bland, but that bland face just looks comfortable.

She sits quietly, and when she smiles slightly, her beauty is stunning and captivating.

"Regina, since you can't do it, in the future, don't say you have me in your heart! I hate it when people make me sick!"

After saying this, Phillip didn't want to look at Regina one more time, turned around and walked quickly inside the villa.

"Phillip!"

Phillip's words really embarrassed Regina to the core, but thinking of the semi-finals and Court, she still gritted her teeth and rushed up and hugged Phillip tightly behind herself.

At this moment, Phillip had already reached the inside of the villa's front door, and after he noticed that Regina had also stepped into the front door of his and Lucy's villa, his face suddenly paled.

He knew that Lucy must have hated Regina extremely much, especially, before she died, she also heard the kind of sound that Regina made on the phone.

Now, Regina's feet stepping on the mud of their family villa, Lucy must be angry.

"Phillip, don't leave me, okay? Phillip, you said that you wouldn't let me lose! The semi-finals are about to start, this tournament is very important to me, can you not let me lose?"

The smile on the corner of Phillip's lips was cold to the extreme, see, she finally revealed her true face!

Talking about having him in his heart and caring for him, it was because he can help Robin advance!

"Phillip, Freddie is Robin's biggest opponent, help me in the semi-finals, help me get Freddie out of the game, OK?"

"Regina, Lucy wants me to be the greatest fashion designer ever."

Phillip's voice was so indistinct that it seemed to come from the distant sky, "The greatest fashion designer will not show favoritism. Besides, even if I were to show favouritism, the person I would help would not be you."

"Regina, if Robin is really capable, he can naturally win and lead Court to glory, but if he is not capable, he can only lose!"

After Lucy's death, Phillip learns about the relationship between Freddie and her.

Between Freddie and Lucy, it was really innocent and pure. Freddie was a big fan of Lucy, and that night, it was just their first meeting!

The more he thought about the past, the more Phillip's heart twisted. How many things had he done to hurt the girl he loved?

All the hard things he said were like a cruel knife that stabbed hard at the girl he loved most.

When she was seriously ill and about to die, she was stabbed so badly that she bled and stabbed so badly that she never breathed again.

This evening, Regina was already furious with Phillip, and his mentioning of Lucy made her even more furious, almost breaking down and going crazy.

In particular, he doesn't promise to help her anymore.

And from what he said, if he was showing favouritism, it seemed that the person he was trying to help was Freya.

Since, the path of seeking help from Phillip is no longer feasible, she can only use other means to defeat Freya.

Regina stared hatefully at Phillip's cold back, "Phillip, you'll regret it! You will definitely regret it!"

She has always dared to love and hate. Since Phillip cannot be used by her, she will destroy him! Together with Freya, she will destroy him!

Because of the pain she endured most of the night, when she went to the hospital the next day, Freya was haggard.

Her nerve endings were still kind of sharp, and she had just entered the hospital and she felt a number of odd glances fall on her.

There were also patients and doctors talking about her.

Freya felt a bit puzzled, she didn't seem to have done anything bad that was unjustifiable.

Freya was just about to go to the office to ask Cindy and Stephanie what was going on, but a large pot of ice water was poured over her.

Even in early summer, the taste of this large tub of icy water poured over her body was not pleasant, especially since Freya was still having her period.

Stephanie and Cindy also heard the commotion and rushed out from the office. Seeing Freya, who was shivering from the ice water, Cindy swung her fist and was about to punch the young girl who had splashed Freya with ice water.

"What's wrong with you! Why did you throw water at Director Stahler!"

The girl didn't show any weakness, "She deserved it! If it wasn't for her, Lucy wouldn't have died! She seduced Lucy's husband and killed Lucy, not to mention I threw a pot of ice water on her, even if I threw a pot of acid on her, she still deserved it!"

Freya got goosebumps from the icy water, and her brain hurt, but she still understood what the girl meant.

She said that she had hooked Phillip up and got Lucy killed.

But these, obviously, are falsehoods!

Freya knew that the young girl in front of her was a fan of Lucy's, and she could understand her feelings of defending Lucy, but she disapproved of her reckless behaviour.

"Apologize to me!" Freya looked at the girl and said word for word, "I did nothing wrong, yet you somehow slandered me and splashed me with water, apologize to me!"

"Apologize?" Several young girls rushed out from a side corridor, and the one who walked in front of the most even pushed Freya hard.

"Who are you to ask us to apologize to you? You killed our Lucy! That's a living human life! You owe our Lucy a life, and you should pay for it with a life!"

"Yes, you shameless mistress, you should pay for our Lucy's life! Our Lucy is still so young, she suddenly died, it must be you and that scum who conspired to kill our Lucy! Give us back our Lucy!"

Freya listened with a dumbfounded look on her face, as she was just about to say that she was not a third party, a girl lifted the mobile phone she was holding in front of her and when she saw the picture on her phone screen, instantly her face changed.

Chapter 675

"Regina, this is my home with Lucy."

Phillip finally spoke, but there was no trace of warmth in his voice, only a coldness of detachment and disgust.

Listening to Phillip's voice, Regina's heart stuttered uncontrollably.

He said this was his and Lucy's home.

He didn't used to be like this, he used to be extremely disgusted with Lucy, how could he admit that the place where Lucy had lived could be his home!

Regina was confused to the extreme, she knew that people are not grass, they have heartless, but even if Phillip might be a bit sad because of Lucy's death, he shouldn't treat her so badly!

All these years, Phillip has been guarding her like a loyal dog.

Even if the whole world would betray her, Phillip would not betray her.

No, there is also Steven.

"Phillip, what do you mean by that?" Regina spoke with a trembling voice, her face carried a clear aggravation, "Phillip, you don't love me anymore, do you? You're in love with Lucy, aren't you?"

“Fillip, have you forgotten how Lucy forced you to marry her? Fillip, it’s Lucy who has been ruining our relationship!”

“Fillip, I don’t care what’s wrong with you tonight, but you mustn’t treat me so badly in the future. Fillip, my feet hurt, let’s go inside and sit for a while, okay?”

Seeing that Regina lifted her feet and was about to walk inside the villa, Fillip grabbed her wrist.

He lifted his eyelids, his eyes not half warm, “Regina, don’t go in! If you go in, Lucy will think it is dirty!”

Regina’s face suddenly turned pale; in all her years of living, she had never been so humiliated, and this humiliation came from the man who had been most loyal to her.

Even if Regina was calm, she could not remain calm and unruffled after hearing Fillip’s words.

Her voice became uncontrollably shrill as she looked at him incredulously and asked, “Fillip, what did you just say?”

“Regina.”

Fillip’s voice was soft but carried a heavy warning, “Don’t show up here again! Not even outside the villa, Lucy will think it is dirty!”

Regina’s body stumbled so violently that she would have had to fall to the ground if the car behind her had not held her up.

She leaned against the car door, her breath still not easing after several ragged breaths, and in her eyes was undisguised hurt and pain.

“Fillip, what do you mean by that? How can you break my heart like that?”

“Fillip, you’ve changed your heart, you’ve really changed your heart, haven’t you? You are no longer the Fillip who loves me deeply, you are not the Fillip who would do anything for me, you don’t love me anymore, you only have Lucy in your heart!”

Regina said this purely as a retreat, she knew how much Fillip liked her, normally, he couldn’t bear it if she frowned, now, she was on the verge of tears, she didn’t believe he would not coax her.

The unexpected thing is that Fillip did not want to coax her in the slightest. His eyes, which fell coolly on her face, did not seem like he was looking at the apple in his heart, but rather like he was looking at a self-important clown.

Regina was almost frantic at the sight of Fillip. She had grown up with endless glory and adoration, especially with her flawless face, which had driven countless men crazy.

She could not believe that any man would look at her with such contempt and disdain.

Regina’s body trembled violently, she frowned, and there was even more of a weak and pathetic willow about her.

Fillip still did not coax her.

His eyes, like hailstones, smashed into her face, "Regina, you're right, I don't love you anymore, I only have Lucy in my heart."

"Perhaps, I never really loved you. What I chased was nothing more than an unrealistic dream of my youth."

"Dreams may be beautiful, but they are too ethereal; I want the warmth of reality more than anything else. Regina, I loved Lucy and I only hated that it was only after her death that I came to my senses."

He really regretted it.

Regina's eyes were round with shock, she wanted to say something to win back Phillip's heart, but for a moment, she didn't know what to say.

Until now, she still did not want to believe that Phillip would abandon her and fall in love with Lucy.

What's so great about Lucy!

Whether it was her family background or her looks, what qualifications did Lucy have to compare with her! She didn't believe that Phillip could be so blind!

"Regina, in the future, don't appear in front of me again, I'm afraid I'll get sick too."

He thinks she's disgusting?

Regina almost stared out of her eyes, Phillip, who loved her so much, would find her disgusting?

Regina doesn't believe it!

She stepped forward, her voice trembling as she asked Phillip, "Phillip, you have a fever, don't you? Yes, you must have a fever and are talking nonsense!"

Regina reached out her hand to probe Phillip's forehead, and before her hand could touch his forehead, he shook her hand away violently.

In his eyes, disgust overflowed, "Regina, don't touch me, it is dirty!"

Originally, Regina still wanted to coax Phillip and win back his heart, but now, when he said something so unpleasant, she couldn't stand it.

Her eyes chilled, "Phillip, what do you mean by that! You think I'm dirty? You said that you would treat me well and protect me for the rest of your life! Phillip, you promised me so much before, what do you mean by that now?"

"Phillip, I couldn't be with you openly before just because you were a married man! How can I be a mistress for someone else!"

"Heh!" Phillip laughed coldly, "Regina, you have me in your heart?"

"If you really have me in your heart, you should call Simon now and tell her that the person you love is me!"

Chapter 677

There it is a picture of her and Phillip clinging to each other.

In fact, a hug is really nothing, between friends, there will also be sincere hugs, what’s more, last night, Phillip hugged her, just because, he mistook her for Lucy.

Seriously, the media has deliberately misinterpreted the reports.

The relationship between her, Phillip and Lucy was reported in several media outlets in Arkpool City, with some discrepancies in the writing and so on, but the story is basically the same.

She shamelessly hooked up with Phillip, and she set up the death of Lucy in order to get to the top.

In order to help her, Phillip hid the evil she had done, simply declared to the public that Lucy had died of illness.

In fact, Lucy was poisoned by her.

After she poisoned Lucy to death, she couldn't wait to go on a rendezvous with Phillip, and it didn't take a few days since Lucy's death, they were shamelessly cuddling.

Originally, Lucy was in the prime of her life and suddenly died, her fans were already unable to accept it. Now, with this photo coming to light and the media's deliberate misinterpretation, the anger of Lucy's fans reached its peak.

Especially, during this period of time, the scandal between her and Joshua was still rumoured, she inexplicably became a big scum girl dating two men.

Looking at the media reports, the wording of which was more unpleasant than the others, Freya was outright exasperated.

Why don't these media reporters go write novels!

With a picture of a hug, they can imagine all this relationship, it's a waste of talent not to write a novel!

Apparently, last night, she and Phillip were followed by someone.

To be precise, someone was following her and, it seemed, she was being bugged.

Last night, when Mr. Fitzgerald helped her change into her pajamas, he found that a sticker that children play with was stuck on her clothes, and inside that sticker, there was a miniature bug.

Freya knew that only Regina would do such a boring thing.

However, she felt that Regina should not have overheard any important information from her, after all, she didn't seem to say anything confidential yesterday.

Later on, Freya realised that she was very wrong. Sometimes, words spoken without thinking, the listener would turn it into the sharpest knife to attack you.

In fact, it was not the first time that Freya had been discredited, and she did not care, but the only worry was that there were many people online to ask them quick the tournament..

This tournament, whether for Freddie or for World, is crucial. Robin and Regina have been suppressing Freddie for so many years, and this time, she will never let them get away with it!

After seeing Freya look at the photos on her phone screen and then take out her own phone to search for news for a while, the girl asked in a harsh voice, "Freya, your affair with Phillip has been found out, what else do you have to say?!"

"Don't you talk nonsense here! How could our Director Stahler be with Phillip!"

Cindy shouted excitedly, she looked even more anxious than Freya, "Our Director Stahler doesn't even want a man as good as Joshua, how could he possibly approach a married man!"

When she first saw that photo exposed online, Cindy's mind was also confused, but almost immediately, she chose to believe Freya.

In front of Joshua, Freya was not even moved, she could not possibly think of destroying someone's family.

What's more, poor Freya was still being forced by that demon Simon! How could Freya dare to tangle with someone else when Simon was so terrifying!

Cindy wanted to yell out the words that Freya was oppressed by Simon, but she knew that Freya did not want others to know about the illicit relationship between her and Simon, so she finally forced herself to swallow back the words that were on her lips.

"That's right, I definitely don't believe Director Stahler would have anything with Phillip!" Stephanie also shouted excitedly, "It's normal for friends to hug each other, the media is shameless and knows how to write nonsense, and you guys are also blind, aren't you!"

Being called "blind" by Stephanie, the girls became irritated, "Who are you calling blind? You're the ones who are blind! Your whole family is blind!"

"Freya has done such a shameful thing and you still help her to speak up, you are not only blind, you are also brain-damaged!"

"I see that you and Freya are the same, you both like to hook up with men!"

The girl who had splashed Freya with ice water rushed forward, she grabbed Freya's arm with force, "Freya, think about it with your own conscience, after you did such a thing, can you stand up to Lucy?"

"Our Lucy has a light personality and hardly has any friends, you are the only friend she has ever interacted with and she helped promote you when launched your brand. She was so nice to you, but what have you done?"

"Your conscience won't it hurt if you hurt our Lucy so much?"

"Freya, you killed our Lucy, you should pay for our Lucy's life! A person like you doesn't deserve to be a doctor! Doctors are there to heal and save people, but you used your profession to poison and kill Lucy, a person like you is worthy of death a million times over!"

Those girls spoke so harshly that neither Cindy nor Stephanie could tolerate it.

Freya held their arms down to stop them from continuing to stand up for her.

On her body, it was so cold, Freya still couldn't control her shivering, but she still straightened her back and said to the girls word by word, "I didn't harm Lucy! What's more, I didn't ruin Lucy's relationship with Phillip!"

"I'm a friend of Lucy's and I'm also her primary care doctor, and there's not so much as a conspiracy theory that she'll die, she's just sick."

"You didn't poison Lucy?" The woman was so angry that she jumped up, "Lucy was unwell and sought treatment from you, yet you prescribed poison to her! Freya, how come you're not the one who died!"

Freya felt that these girls were really quite incomprehensible, but she tried her best to remain calm.

“There is no way I can prescribe poison to Lucy. You can look at it first, I am, here, in oncology, and the fact that Lucy would come to me proves that she is very sick and that her life is at stake.”

“You guys are Lucy’s fans, you should know Lucy’s character well, she doesn’t like to argue, she likes quiet the most. If she knows that after she’s gone, you guys are still arguing like this for her, it must be very hard for her.”

“Fillip is the man Lucy cherishes the most, if you really care about your idol, stop attacking the man she loves the most.”

The girls were still a bit upset, “Fillip is your lover, of course you speak for him! Freya, do you dare to say that the woman who was cuddling with Fillip was not you?”

Chapter 678

“The woman in the photo is me.”

Ignoring the anger of the few girls opposite, Freya then said word for word, “But a hug, indeed, doesn’t mean anything.”

“That night, when Fillip was drunk and I happened to pass by the roadside, he was worse than dead from losing Lucy and nearly committed suicide, and when I appeared, he took me for Lucy to get such a hug.”

“It was said in the media that Fillip and I hooked up last year, and at that time, I was with Kieran. With a man as good as Kieran, how could I have anyone else in my eyes!”

“Fillip and I are innocent of any wrongdoing, even a journalist is not qualified to smear me and Fillip with a photo like this! I will prove my innocence!”

Those girls were true fans of Lucy, and after seeing the news and learning that their idol had gone through so much injustice, they couldn’t wait to kill Freya with their hands.

But at this moment, looking at Freya, who was shivering in the cold, stubbornly saying that she and Fillip were innocent, they suddenly believed that she was innocent.

One of the girls whispered, “I heard that Freya and Mr. Fitzgerald were very much in love, and when Mr. Fitzgerald was alive, she couldn’t have been tangled up with Fillip, right? Even if Mr. Fitzgerald is gone, I don’t think she would really do something like hooking up with someone else’s husband.”

“But the internet clearly says that it was Freya who killed our Lucy

“Since we love Lucy, we should trust her vision, and the only good sister Lucy has ever admitted to shouldn’t be too bad.”

The girl who poured ice water all over Freya suddenly lifted her face and said to Freya with great seriousness, “Freya, if you can really prove your innocence, I will pour ice water all over myself for your crime! But if we find out that it was really you who killed Lucy, we will not spare you!”

Having said this, with a dashing wave of her hand, she took a few of her companions with her and headed outside the hospital.

“Director Stahler, how are you?”

After those girls left, Stephanie and Cindy both came over nervously to check on Freya’s condition.

Freya’s face was pale and her body was shaking, and when they saw her like this, they were worried from the bottom of their hearts.

“Director Stahler, I have clean clothes here, I’ll go and bring them for you to change into first.” Stephanie said, and walked quickly inside the office.

Cindy looked at Freya rather heartily, she felt that it wasn’t just because she had been splashed with ice water that she would feel so bad!

Could it be that that demon Simon had bullied her again last night?

Cindy silently gave Freya a sympathetic look. Director Stahler was so pitiful, she hadn’t escaped the clutches of Simon and was being bullied like this, really all the unlucky things had happened to her!

Thanks to Stephanie’s clothes, Freya didn’t have to go to work in a wet suit.

She didn’t continue to read the news online for discomfort; she could guess how badly the internet had called her out on this one.

To be honest, cyber violence is really quite scary. Freya is really worried that after she was poured with ice water today, she will be poured with a bucket of acid for no apparent reason.

However, she will not sit back and wait for dirt to be thrown her way all the time.

Freddie had to compete in the semi-finals and not only compete in the semi-finals, but also storm into the final to win the title.

Their dreams, as well as Freddie’s future, cannot be left in the dust just because of Regina’s malevolence.

Freya racked her brains to figure out how on earth she could win.

Thinking of the sound she heard in her room the day Lucy died, Freya’s eyes suddenly lit up.

Fillip’s mobile phone had a recording function, and at that time, when he played the sound that Regina had created, she heard it clearly.

Regina wanted to be Mr. Fitzgerald so badly, she must have been afraid that the recording would come to light.

If Fillip hadn’t deleted that recording, they could have used it to force Regina to clarify to the public how innocent she and Fillip were!

Regina had bugging and listening devices on her body, and what she said to Fillip last night must have been recorded, and maybe there will be a video too, and as long as they get the full video, she doesn’t have to suffer these inexplicable stigmas anymore!

Only, Freya was a little worried that Phillip had deleted that recording.

That recording is a lifelong pain for Phillip, he certainly never wants to hear that recording again in his life, most likely, he has long deleted that recording.

Although he knew that the possibility of Phillip leaving that recording was very slim, Freya still held on to a slim hope and called him.

She dialed Phillip several times in quick succession, but no one answered.

Freya heard from Cindy that there were more and more messages on the official blog of the International Costume Design Competition asking them to withdraw from the competition, and even Mr. Hans had spoken out saying that the models chosen by Freddie were of bad character, and that his own character was up for consideration, and that the Costume Competition did not need contestants of bad character to enter!

Already, the group on World was already a target, and after Mr. Hans spoke out, even Freddie was attacked by netizens, and the calls for World to get out of the tournament became more and more intense.

Although Kiki's fans tried their best to help their idol to voice out, but later on, it was said that Freya likes to hook up with men. What if even Director Quinn was also hooked up with her, after that, Kiki's fans also started to yell for Kiki to draw a clear line with Freya.

Kiki went online and she posted a tweet.

Freya, I believe in you and will always support you.

Kiki's words caused the scolding from her fans to gradually die down, but Lucy's fans turned to attack Kiki, saying that she and Freya are all the same, both like to hook up with men and are shameless.

When other people scolded Freya, Freya didn't care, but when they scolded Kiki like that, she was really angry.

Freya wanted to personally go down and tear up those who cursed Kiki, but only after receiving several pacifying phone calls from Kiki did Freya resist the urge to go into battle herself.

She felt quite sorry for Kiki, always dragging her into it.

But Kiki really made her feel so warm and fuzzy.

No matter what happens, she will support her unconditionally and believe in her, even if people attack her with the most unpleasant words, she will still stand up to all the pressure and shield her from some of the storm.

She actually wanted to protect Kiki too!

Kiki has suffered so many wounds that she is the one who should be most loved and protected.

Unable to contact Phillip, after work, Freya planned to go to his and Lucy's villa to look for her.

Just after arriving at the underground garage, Freya received a message from Kieran.

“Freya, I saw the photo of you and Phillip hugging.”

Freya’s heart thumped, she was not afraid that others would misunderstand her, she was only afraid that Mr. Fitzgerald would not believe her.

Chapter 679

Freya tapped her fingertips as she typed the words, “Brother, there’s nothing between me and Phillip,” before she could send it, she received another message from Kieran.

He said, “Freya, I believe in you.”

Freya’s heart was so soft, and amidst the warmth and softness, there was a touch of indescribable emotion and joy.

Mr. Fitzgerald believed her.

No matter how much gossip there is in the world, the man she loves most and her best friend believe in her and that, for her, is the greatest happiness of all.

Freya deleted the sentence she had just typed, and she smiled with her eyebrows arched as she quickly typed down another sentence and sent it out.

“Brother, you are so good.”

Kieran had a full day of video conferencing.

As soon as the meeting was over, he found out from Bradley about what happened online today.

When he saw so many slanders on the internet deliberately attacking Freya, Kieran’s handsome face was so dark that it was terrifying.

The entire president’s office did not dare to breathe a word, for fear of being affected by the terrible anger of the president.

Bradley also warily waited for his boss to have a fit. Surprisingly, after the boss sent a text message, he suddenly looked at the phone in his hand, and that noble and cold handsome face showed a smile.

Bradley’s jaw dropped, this change was too fast!

Kieran repeatedly recalled these words, the more he looked at them, the warmer his heart became. When he raised his face and saw Bradley staring at him in a daze, he realised that he had just laughed in a somewhat silly manner.

His handsome face instantly chilled down, but because his heart was too soft, the cold, hard aura on his body was no longer as appalling as it was a moment ago.

“Bradley, find out all the media that have reported on this incident inaccurately, and by the way, inform them that they can continue to report blindly, but in the future, there will be no place for them in Arkpool City!”

“Yes!” Bradley respectfully answered. His boss was forcing those media to apologize to Miss Stahler!

If his boss cares so much about Miss Stahler, why does he keep breaking up with her?

Bradley wanted to ask Kieran, "Boss, are you and Miss Stahler still not back together?"

But barring that, he thought of the rare smile on Kieran's face just now, and he instantly understood.

They had been back together!

Having been instructed by Kieran, Bradley naturally had to complete his task properly.

He was just about to leave the president's office and Kieran's voice rang out in the air again, "Send Phillip up!"

Fearing that his boss would get anxious and wait, Bradley rushed straight to Phillip's office and called him over.

When he saw Phillip walk into the president's office, Bradley silently shed a tear of sympathy for him.

Phillip even dares to hug Miss Stahler, he's looking for abuse!

"Simon, what do you want from me?"

Phillip's eyebrows were pale, his temples were still white, but he was not as disheveled as he had been two days before. He did not know about the illicit relationship between Simon and Freya, so naturally he could not imagine that he was looking for him for the online scandal.

Kieran did not speak immediately, his eyes slowly swept over Phillip, when he saw the gray hair at his temples, he could not help but frown.

Kieran had also heard about Lucy, and he did not expect that Lucy's death would have such a great impact on Phillip.

He hadn't really seen this depth of feeling in this subordinate of his.

Nor did he ever think that such love really existed in this world.

He thought that even if he loved a woman very much, he should be able to live well after the loss.

It wasn't until the day he walked out of the rubble with a bloodied and motionless Freya in his arms that he realised that he was actually more deeply in love than Phillip.

"Phillip, I'm sure you've seen the news this evening."

Phillip faintly froze, "Yes, I saw it, those rumours are all false, there is nothing between me and Miss Stahler."

"Hmm." Kieran responded lightly, "However, I think you know the person who took the photo."

"Find a way to clarify this matter, my woman cannot suffer an injustice!"

Simon's woman?

Until Phillip left the president's office, he did not even come back from the shock.

Freya and Simon?

How could they be a pair?

However, Phillip is not a gossipy person, and even if he finds this a bit unbelievable, he will not probe too much into it.

After losing Lucy, he found himself more and more at peace. In this world, everyone will have different choices, and other people are not qualified to dictate, so long as he has no shame and no regrets in his heart.

Phillip had already felt that he was guilty of wronging Freya in this matter, and after Kieran said this, he was even more determined to find a way to clear Freya's name.

He thought that he knew who had had the picture taken.

Phillip stood in front of the huge floor-to-ceiling window, his eyes obscure. He took out his mobile phone and was just about to call Regina, but he realised that his phone had run out of battery.

Yes, last night, he had watched his and Lucy's wedding photos hundreds and thousands of times and had forgotten to charge his phone.

After charging his phone for a short while, Phillip switched it on and dialed Regina's mobile number.

As soon as the call was answered, Regina's voice with obvious worry came through, "Phillip, I saw the news today. How are you? Are you alright? Phillip, I believe that you and Freya are innocent of each other."

"Regina, let's meet."

Phillip found that the woman he once wanted to protect for the rest of his life had turned out to be the existence that disgusted him the most, and with every additional word he spoke to her, the disgust in his heart grew a little more.

If it wasn't for the sake of returning Freya's innocence, in this life, he really wouldn't want to say another word to Regina.

"Okay, Phillip. Where are you? I'll come over to you now."

"No need, I'll come over to you." Phillip said indifferently, "You go downstairs in your neighborhood, I'll go there."

After saying this, Phillip hung up the phone straight away.

When Phillip went to the downstairs of Regina's block, Regina was already waiting down there.

Although Regina had a falling out with Phillip last night and she had planned to ruin him so that he would be forced to withdraw from judging the competition, she was a smart woman and she still had to maintain a bit of harmony on the surface.

"Phillip, I'm sorry, last night I was too impulsive, I shouldn't have said those things to you. But Phillip, you were so heartless to me, it really made me feel bad."

"Regina, I didn't come over here today to talk nonsense to you."

Fillip raised his eyebrows in disgust as he said succinctly, "Regina, I know that you deliberately had people smear me and Freya. Clarify all this and clear Freya's name! Otherwise, I will not spare you!"

Chapter 680

Regina's heart was beating wildly and almost immediately, she regained her calm and collected demeanour.

"Fillip, I don't know what you're talking about! I was shocked to see the news online today too, but Fillip, I believe you wouldn't do such a thing."

"Fillip, I have no doubt in you while you doubt me so much, what should I feel!"

"Regina, stop pretending! Aren't you tired of wearing a fake face all day?"

Fillip really hated this hypocritical look of Regina, "I know, you had someone take the photo last night."

"Regina, you want Robin to win, and when I don't agree to help you cheat, you want to force that group on World out of the game. Regina, this behaviour of yours is disgusting!"

"I didn't!" Regina hastily denied it, her eyes were filled with tears as she looked at Fillip with pity, "Fillip, how can you misunderstand me!"

"We've known each other for so many years, would you not know what kind of a person I really am? Fillip, I do want to win, and I want you to help me, but I would never do something so dishonourable!"

"Fillip, what do you take me for! Is it because you think that all the dirty, evil things are done by me? Fillip, I'm not that bad, I'm really not that bad!"

As she said that, Regina's tears rolled down in big drops, how she looked aggrieved.

Last night, Regina came back and thought for a long time. She felt that Fillip was really cruel to her now. But thinking of how good he had been to her in the past, she still didn't want to believe that he would suddenly not care about her anymore.

He used to care for her so much! He couldn't even spare her a frown.

Back then, she merely said, Fillip, Lucy is pregnant and it's hard for me.

He then did not hesitate to remove the child of Lucy.

In his eyes, Lucy was nothing compared to her, but after Lucy's death, she could not be plucked out of his heart.

She did not believe that Lucy would have such a strong influence on him. She preferred to believe that Fillip was just irritated by Lucy's death and was a little out of sorts for the time being, and that when he eased up, he would still stand by her side unwaveringly.

In the past, when Fillip was foolish, Regina's tears, in his heart, were pearls, but now when he saw her drop tears, he only felt sick in his stomach and intestines.

Afraid that he might not be able to control his vomit, Fillip still turned his face away from Regina's performance of tears.

When she saw Phillip's face, Regina felt that he could not bear to see her shed tears.

Regina carried hope, and she cried a little more fiercely, with a heavy nasal note in her voice.

"Phillip, I don't know why you've suddenly become so annoyed with me, stop hating me and let's be fine, okay?"

"Phillip, I know you have me in your heart, in the future, I will treat you better, let's not fight anymore, okay?"

"Phillip, don't say you don't want me! I don't believe that you don't have me in your heart! If you didn't have me in your heart, you wouldn't even want your child with Lucy just to make me happy! Phillip, stop deceiving yourself, you only feel guilty towards Lucy, you don't love her at all, you only have me in your heart!"

Phillip's brain went blank.

The death of his and Lucy's child was his scales of rebellion, and he did not expect that Regina would not be afraid to touch his scales of rebellion.

In his life, the thing he regretted most was killing his own child in a brain-damaged manner because of those few hypocritical tears of Regina.

Because of Lucy's lack of cooperation, he also let the doctor treat her so badly, and even, deliberately, made her suffer.

Perhaps if he hadn't forcibly removed the child from Lucy's belly, she wouldn't have gotten that damn disease!

Regina's voice continued, "Phillip, stop deceiving yourself, okay? You're only hurting the person you love most by saying such cruel things to me!"

"Phillip, in the future, love me well, okay?"

With that, Regina nestled into Phillip's arms.

As if something dirty had touched him, Phillip pushed Regina away with a fierce force in his hand.

He was so strong, plus Regina really didn't expect him to be so hard on her even after all she had said, she was unprepared and her body fell heavily to the ground.

She was wearing a white dress today and when she fell, her leg scraped hard off the ground.

Regina's self-esteem was severely bruised, she was aggrieved and resentful, she raised her face and looked at Phillip with teary eyes, "Phillip, you're crazy, aren't you! Do you know what you're doing?"

"You're hurting me! You're hurting the woman you love most!"

"Regina, you really shameless! I made it very clear to you last night that I don't love you, I only have Lucy in my heart."

"I don't believe it!" Regina yelled, "Phillip, I don't believe that a person's heart can change easily! The other day you said that you would treat me well for the rest of your life, you"

“Regina, issue a statement telling everyone that it was you who deliberately framed me and Freya! Those reporters who deliberately smear Freya were also paid by you!”

“I didn’t!” Of course Regina didn’t want to admit the things she had done, “Fillip, I didn’t make a mistake, why are you forcing me to admit it?!”

“Fillip, are you going to push the woman you love the most to the brink of extinction because of your guilt over Lucy? Fillip, if you push me like this, you will be heartbroken when you wake up!”

“Regina, stop saying you’re the woman I love the most, it’s cheap to be so self-absorbed!”

Fillip’s handsome face was covered with a layer of cold frost, “Also, my love for Lucy is not guilt, it’s a heartfelt love!”

Regina’s fingertips uncontrollably trembling, she had gotten used to Fillip’s devotion to her, even if she didn’t love him, she couldn’t stand him saying he loved other women.

“Fillip, you love Lucy? Heh! Do you know how dirty Lucy is? What kind of a place is the entertainment industry? Do you know how many times she’d slept with director in order to get a role?”

“And yet you treat her like a treasure, Fillip, you’re simply possessed! I’m telling you, I saw with my own eyes that Lucy had entered the hotel with a director, and they Fillip slapped Regina’s face hard, and Regina’s voice stopped abruptly as she stared at him with round eyes. She could not believe that this man who loved her deeply would beat her for another woman.
