

Talented 791

Chapter 791

Seeing that Kieran had no intention of stopping the car, Freya couldn't help but feel anxious. She turned her face, pale and pitiful, but her chin still held up stubbornly.

"Simon, let me off! I'm under no obligation to accompany you and Regina to pick out pregnancy and baby items!"

"I know that you especially hate me right now and want to bruise me to death, but you have no right to hurt me!"

"You dumped me! Why should I go shopping with you and your woman?!"

"It's over, you have your life and I have mine, I won't appear to bother you again, please can you leave me alone too?"

"But Freya, you're already bothering me!"

Disturbing my mind, disturbing my life!

When I don't see you, I miss you like crazy. When I see you, I can't help but want to possess you. You've torn my heart to pieces, so why do you want to leave in style?

Freya thought he was talking about the matter of bailing her out, and she hurriedly said, "Simon, I'm not bothering you! Even if your mother had asked you to bail me out, you could have left me alone! I don't want to owe you any favours, and in future, I don't need you to take care of me!"

"Even if I die, I don't need you to care!"

"Shut up!"

When Kieran heard her say something like that, there was an indescribable panic in his heart, as if, one day, she would really leave him completely.

"Simon, I really don't have any experience in picking out pregnancy and baby items."

Freya's voice, which sounded indescribably calm, carried sadness.

"I've never bought myself any maternity items, so I don't know what Regina needs now. Simon, I am not trying to gain your sympathy, but when I was pregnant with Jaden and Jayla, I was poor and had a hard time, I don't understand the luxuries you rich people have, so you'd better find someone else to go shopping for pregnancy and baby products with you!"

She put it mildly, but it was as if he could feel how much helplessness and torture she had endured back then, a young girl who had just come of age and was carrying children alone in a foreign country.

Obviously, the offer to let her accompany them to choose pregnancy and baby products was meant to humiliate her, but in the end, he found that the person who felt the hardest inside was still him.

So much so, that he didn't even have the strength to continue forcing her to accompany them to choose some pregnancy and baby products and continue humiliating her in this way.

Suddenly, he was particularly curious to know what she had gone through during those years without him.

Slamming on the brakes, Kieran unlocked the security lock, "Get out!"

Freya was afraid that he would change his mind and ask her to accompany them again to pick out some pregnancy and baby products. At his command, she busily pushed open the car door and got out.

Seeing her leaving in such a hurry, Kieran's eyes were instantly tinged with a layer of cold frost, "Freya, stand still!"

Freya's body stiffened. Had he really changed his mind again?

She turned stiffly, she was just about to say, "Simon, I won't go, don't you dare force me." but A file folder landed right at her feet.

The night was dark, and even if there were street lamps on the roadside, it still seemed dim, so Freya could not see the uncomfortable flush on Kieran's face.

He opened his mouth with a distinctly here and now.

"Freya, this is some information about Douglas and her daughter. Don't get ahead of yourself, I'm not giving you this information to help you."

Kieran thought of a wording before he continued, "It's from Mom."

"Well, don't worry, Simon, I won't make a fool of myself, ever again."

Freya will not refuse the information given by Kieran. World is her and Freddie and Kiki's common heart and soul, the prosperity of World carries the hope of countless orphans, she must make it better and better.

She also had to help wash away that stain from Freddie.

With a half-crouch, she picked up the bag of papers that had fallen to the floor, and she said politely and detachedly to him, "Simon, although this is what Mom told you to give me, I'm grateful. Simon, thank you."

After saying this, Freya turned around and took a step towards the front.

Kieran's eyes stared inexplicably at Freya's back until the tiny figure disappeared around the corner of the road, and only then did he step on the accelerator again.

On several occasions, he could not control his desire to get out of the car, grab her back, hold her down and kiss her hard.

He viciously told her, "Freya, you are my woman, and in this life, you will not be able to live with another man!"

However, thinking that he was just a pathetic stand-in, that she had never loved him, and now has with a new love, he used all his strength to finally suppress the urge.

Kieran had wanted to drive the car in the opposite direction, but in the end he was uneasy about her leaving alone.

What if, in the middle of the night, she had met a bad person?

So he drove slowly, following her at a distance, until he saw her get into a taxi then he turned the car around and headed in the direction of Fitzgerald's Group.

A man who has lost his love is in a bad mood, has trouble sleeping at night, and can only use work, temporarily, to numb his heart.

After Regina finished talking to Kieran on the phone, she put on her makeup, chose a purple dress she was most satisfied with and went to wait for him downstairs.

When she thought that tonight, she could stay with Kieran while hurting Freya, the corners of her lips could not be controlled to rise.

However, she stood downstairs and waited, so much so that her feet went numb in her flat shoes, but Kieran still did not appear in front of her.

Regina looked at the time, more than two hours had passed since she called him. Even if it was a traffic jam, at this hour, he should have come over long ago, but she did not see him.

She hurriedly grabbed her phone and dialed Kieran's number, "Simon, why haven't you come over yet? I've been waiting for you for a long, long time and my feet are numb. When are you coming over?"

Kieran raised his eyes carelessly, and only then did he realise that, being angry with Freya, he had forgotten about Regina.

He wasn't in the mood to accompany Regina on her shopping, but three days had passed and she hadn't kept her promise to abort the baby and was still trying to make a scene, so he had to take moves!

Chapter 792

With an expressionless face, he grabbed the car keys in front of him, and Kieran's voice was as cold as ice on a winter night, "Regina, I'm on my way!"

"Okay, Simon, I'll wait for you!"

Regina was as jubilant as an innocent little girl.

Satisfied, she hung up the phone and maintained her best smile as she awaited the arrival of her beloved.

This time, she didn't have to wait long, and within twenty minutes, the black Koenigsegg appeared in front of her.

She lifted the hem of her skirt, as elegant as a princess, stepping with small steps, walking step by step towards Kieran.

Regina had wanted to sit in the passenger seat so that she could appear slightly closer to him, but she sadly found that the passenger door would not open and she had to reluctantly sit in the back seat.

However, the thought of him being willing to accompany her on a rare shopping trip made her mood better uncontrollably.

What a great bonding opportunity to help their baby shop together!

Regina looked around and saw no sign of Freya.

Slightly bummed that she can't show her love in front of Freya!

But this is also good, without Freya, she can seize the moment and cultivate a good relationship with Kieran.

"Simon, I've been having nausea lately and I can't even eat, I've lost a few pounds. Can you go with me to buy some maternal milk powder later?"

"Oh, radiation protection clothing is also needed, I will often be on the computer and wear radiation protection clothing to better protect our baby."

"Simon, do you think I need to take calcium supplements now? I forgot to ask the doctor if I need to buy calcium tablets, let's go to the pharmacy for advice later."

.....

Kieran didn't even hear her clearly, now, only one sentence was full of his heart.

Freya's pregnancy was difficult.

That woman must have never worn a radiation suit, never drank maternity formula, never bought calcium tablets, right?

Regina was still chattering, "Simon, I heard that micronutrients should also be supplemented, that way, our baby will be healthier and smarter."

"Regina, let's go to the hospital." Really unable to stand Regina being so noisy, Kieran spoke coolly.

Regina looked confused, "Simon, what are we going to the hospital for? I just had my maternity leave two days ago. Are you not worried about our baby and want to accompany me to the maternity checkup yourself? Simon, you are so kind to me."

"Regina, you're overthinking it."

Kieran interrupted her beautiful fantasy without mercy, "I gave you three days. Now, three days have passed."

Regina didn't quite understand what he meant by that at first, and after she reacted, she instantly blushed, "Simon, you you"

"Regina, you didn't think wrong, we go to the hospital to remove the child in your belly. I told you, carrying my child without my permission, there is no need for it to exist!"

"No!" Regina shook her head vigorously, "Simon, you can't hurt our child! It is your child!"

“Simon, please, don’t hurt our child, okay? It is going to call you his father! Simon, if you hurt our child, you will regret it for the rest of your life!”

“Regina, I’ll only regret it for the rest of my life if I keep this child!”

“Simon, you won’t regret it! I know that you also love children, I love you so much, what’s wrong with me giving you a child!”

The worst point, he thought, would be that the person who was pregnant with his child was not Freya.

If Freya was really pregnant with his child, it would naturally be better, but Regina being pregnant with his child would only make him feel sick to his stomach.

Even if he had never touched her and she had only been artificially inseminated, the thought of his child being conceived inside her belly still made him feel sick.

He has never been a man of goodwill to change his decision for the sake of a supposedly innocent little life.

A child who is not expected to come into the world can only be a tragedy.

Rather, put an end to this tragedy in advance.

“Simon, I’m not lying to you, if I miscarry, I really won’t be able to get pregnant again! Simon, please, don’t let me lose my chance to be a mother, okay?”

“Regina, from the moment you took it upon yourself to conceive my child, you should have thought of the consequences.” Kieran parked the car in the underground garage of the hospital, expressionlessly opened the car door, with a cold aura as if from hell, “Everything is your own fault!”

“No! Simon, I’m not getting off! I’m not getting rid of my baby!” Regina cowered in the car, unwilling to get out, “Simon, you said before that you would treat me well for the rest of your life, you should keep your word!”

“Simon, I don’t understand why you, who once promised me a lifetime, have become like this! Is it because you’ve fallen in love with Freya? But Simon, Freya doesn’t love you at all!”

“Before, she only had Kieran in her heart, she used you as a stand-in, but now, she only has my brother in her heart! She’s going to marry my brother soon! Simon, you tried to kill our child for Freya, but what about her? Her heart has never been on you!”

“Regina, it has nothing to do with Freya. I just simply don’t want the child in your belly!”

Kieran originally wanted to grab Regina out of the car, but he was really disgusted with the physical contact with her, and after a moment of contemplation, he dialed Bradley’s phone number.

Bradley had also just arrived at the hospital’s underground garage when he received Kieran’s call, and he rushed over to his boss’ side.

The doctors at the hospital tonight had been arranged by him. He was excitedly waiting for his boss to abuse Regina, but, he did not expect that he would receive such a daunting task as soon as he arrived over here.

Dragging Regina out of the car.

He is very picky when it comes to touching women, and he is afraid that this dirty mess of Regina will stain his hands.

Although he was reluctant to do so, he met the stern gaze of his boss and dragged Regina out of the car.

“Miss Wells, I’m so sorry!”

Bradley spoke in a polite and courteous manner, but there was no semblance of respect on his face for Regina.

Regina stared hatefully at Bradley who was holding her in an unrelenting grip, “Bradley, let go of me! You’re just a dog, who are you to touch me!”

“Simon, you can’t hurt our child! You can’t be so cruel to it! Simon, please, let our child go, okay?”

Chapter 793

No matter how much she struggled, she was eventually dragged by Bradley to the pre-booked vip ward.

Bradley had found it unbelievable when he knew about Regina’s pregnancy before. After all, his own boss would be disgusted if he touched a woman other than Freya, and he did not believe that Regina would be pregnant with his boss’ child.

He was confused for a long time, until this evening, when he dared to ask Kieran on the phone, and learned that Regina had used artificial insemination to conceive the child.

And Regina was artificially inseminated with Simon’s frozen sperm.

Then what she is carrying, naturally, will not be his boss’ child.

Bradley had some mixed feelings, he was so frightened by Regina’s behaviour that he almost got feminophobic.

A woman like Regina would really dare to do anything to achieve her goals.

Using Simon’s child to force his boss to marry her, only she could think of such a ridiculous thing!

After Winnie pestered him, Bradley is incomparably repulsed by love, now, even more seriously afraid of such a terrible creature as women.

He glanced at Regina’s still-flat belly, and the more he looked at it the more mixed emotions he felt.

What is inside Regina’s belly is Simon’s child.

As far as he knew, the rest of the sperm that Simon had frozen had been destroyed by Regina, which meant that the child inside her belly was the only bloodline Simon had left.

He actually hoped that Simon could leave behind a bloodline, and he believed that when his boss recovered his memory, he would definitely want Simon to have offspring too.

However, Regina must have had something to do with the car accident, she was the one responsible for killing Simon, and Simon could not have wanted the baby in her belly!

Bradley let out a soft sigh, not that he was cruel, but this child indeed should not have come into the world.

But if the child's mother was someone else, he would have defended her to the death, but the child's mother was Regina, and he would only have pushed her into the operating theatre.

If this child came into the world and he knew that his real mother was the murderer of his real father, how would he be devastated?

Just let him disappear along with all the sins!

"I won't abort the baby! Simon, you can't do this to me! You can't hurt our baby!"

Regina was still screaming hysterically. On her floor, there were no other patients, the doctors were all found by Bradley. No matter how miserable she was screaming, no one paid any attention to her.

Regina screamed as she quietly checked the time on her phone, it was almost time, as soon as that man came over, no one was going to hurt the baby inside her belly!

But in her heart, she was still indescribably uneasy, what if the man came a little later than she expected?

By the time she was wheeled into the operating theatre and the cold iron jaws pierced in, it was irreversible!

She had to find a way to stall for time until the man came!

"Simon, don't let anyone take me into the operating room yet! Let me talk to you for a few more minutes, okay? Simon, I know I'm an abomination for carrying your child against your wishes, but since he's here, he's a living breathing life, so please give him a chance to see the sunlight of this world, okay?"

"Simon, look at Jaden and Jayla, how cute they are! Think about it, our child will be very much like you, he will be as cute as Jaden, can you bear to kill such a cute one?!"

Kieran's expression, for a moment, was dazed, but in an instant, he returned to that cold, hard look.

He and Regina couldn't have a child as cute as Jaden and Jayla.

Such a lovely pair of children was the fruit of his brother Kieran and Freya's love.

With love, a child is born as an angel; without love, a child is born only with sadness.

"Regina, behave yourself!"

After saying this, Kieran didn't even look at her. Bradley gave a wink to the doctor and they hurriedly pushed her towards the operating theatre.

Kieran did not care about Regina, so he could not have waited outside the operating theatre with his eyes wide open, waiting for her to come out from inside.

He was just about to turn and leave, but a slap was thrown hard into his face.

Joanna gasped and glared at him in exasperation, "Simon, who told you to take away Regina's baby? That is your own child! That is our Fitzgerald family's child! I think you've really been charmed by Freya!"

"Bring out Regina! Whoever dares to harm her, I will fight him to the death!"

Bradley was directly frozen, he did not expect that Joanna, who had always lived in seclusion, would come over.

The doctors heard her too, and they pushed Regina out of the operating theatre in a panic.

Seeing Joanna, Regina burst into tears and flung herself into Joanna's arms, unable to tell her aggravation, "Grandma"

"Good girl, you've been wronged! I will help you out!" Joanna lovingly patted Regina's back, "I will not let anyone hurt you and your child even if I have to risk my life!"

When Joanna spoke to Regina, she was gentle and patient, when she looked at Kieran, her face was only cold and stern, "Simon, you should be responsible for it! You must be responsible for Regina and the child inside her belly!"

Although Joanna is nearly ninety years old, she is still hale and hearty, and her words come out in full force.

The more she thought about what had just happened the angrier she became, and she picked up her cane and pounded it hard on Kieran.

The ones she loved the most were Kieran and Simon, but in her opinion, even if her precious grandson made a mistake, she had to teach him a hard lesson.

"Grandma, I won't have this baby!"

Kieran did not dodge, allowing Joanna's cane to smash into him one by one, "The child in Regina's belly must be removed!"

When the cane hit Kieran, Joanna was heartbroken, but listening to his bastard words made her even angrier.

Seeing that lecturing him was not working, she gritted her teeth and brought the cane down hard on herself straight away.

Seeing Joanna's action, both Kieran and Bradley panicked as they pulled her arms left and right, "Grandma, what are you doing?!"

"Simon, you still want to be a jerk, don't you?!"

Joanna clenched the cane in her hand, "You will not harm my precious great grandson again!"

"You must be responsible for Regina and my precious great grandson! Otherwise, I will die in front of you today!" With that, Joanna made a gesture to hit the wall.

Chapter 794

Kieran really doesn't like it when old people move to seek death, but he also has to admit that there are times when such tricks really work.

He and Bradley were able to stop Joanna now, but he knew her temper, and there was no telling what she might get up to when they were out of sight.

Many people think that Kieran is a cold-hearted and ruthless person, but in fact, he is also the most affectionate.

Especially, to one's loved ones.

Otherwise, he would not have married Freya, whom he had never met, just because of his grandfather's last wish.

Kieran and Simon were brought up by his grandfather and grandmother, even if he had lost his memory, his respect and love for Joanna could still not be completely eradicated, so naturally he could not bear to let anything happen to her.

"Grandma, stop it!" Kieran said somewhat helplessly as he lightened his tone.

"Simon, you're the one who's being nonsensical! No matter who seduced you, Regina is true to you, and what she has in her belly is your own child. Feel your conscience, how can you do this to her!"

Joanna heaved the cane in her hand, "When you first woke up, who was with you? Was it Freya? It was Regina!"

"Simon, I don't know why you've become obsessed with your brother's wife, and even tried to kill your own child for that woman! But I must make it clear to you that as long as I still have a breath, you will not want to be with Freya! Others may be incestuous, but we, the Fitzgerald family, cannot tolerate such shamelessness!"

Joanna was not much of a fan of Freya in the first place, and she would accept her in the first place only because she had a lovely pair of children.

Because of the two children, Freya would not be treated badly whether she stayed with the Fitzgerald family or chose to remarry, but Joanna couldn't see her with her other most prized grandson!

Taking a deep breath, Joanna said word for word, "Simon, I will absolutely not allow Freya to ruin you!"

"Grandma, it has nothing to do with Freya."

Even after breaking up with Freya, Kieran still couldn't let anyone say anything wrong about her, "Before I was with Freya, I forced her, and now we've broken up."

Kieran had already said that he had forced Freya, so Joanna could no longer accuse Freya.

She lifted her face and her sharp eyes stared at Kieran without a moment's hesitation, "It's good to break up! You and Regina get married and take good care of my precious great grandson! I've already seen the date, the first of next month is good, you can marry Regina!"

At this point, Joanna continued, "Simon, don't say you don't agree! If you dare not marry Regina, I will definitely bang her head against the wall and no one will be able to stop me!"

“Grandma, don’t push Simon, or he will only hate me more.”

Regina got off the operating table, and she clutched Joanna’s hand in aggravation, “Grandma, if Simon really hates the baby in my belly, I’ll just abort it, for his sake, I’ll put up with anything.”

” Joanna gently patted the back of Regina’s hand, “Don’t worry, as long as I still have a breath, I won’t let you suffer!”

“The descendants of my Fitzgerald family are not to be strayed, let alone aborted at will! If you want me dead, abort this child!”

“You can refuse to marry Regina, and you can abort the child, you don’t care about anyway!”

Joanna suddenly broke away from Regina’s hand and she rushed towards a wall with quick steps.

This sudden movement of hers startled everyone, and Kieran was quick to pull her back, his dark eyes filled with frustrated helplessness.

“Grandma, I’m marrying Regina.”

And just marry her, that’s all.

In this life, it was impossible for him to be with Freya. As for other women, it made no difference who he married.

When she received Kieran’s affirmative answer, a small smile finally appeared on Joanna’s serious and cold face.

She patted Kieran’s hand with a serious tone, “Simon, I know you’re blaming me for pushing you, but when time goes by, you’ll understand that I am doing it for your own good.”

“Freya is not suitable for you, her heart is not in you, but Regina truly loves you. I know Regina’s character, she is the best woman for you.”

Kieran’s eyes, a little bit drifted away, and Kieran didn’t even hear clearly what Joanna said behind.

Inside his head, over and over again, there was only one phrase.

Freya’s heart is not in him.

Indeed, no matter who she gave her heart to, she would not give it to him.

Regina’s brain went blank, she still couldn’t believe that just now Kieran had agreed to marry her.

No matter who he has in mind, once she becomes his wife, no one will ever take him away again!

Moreover, she believed that as long as Freya and her three children were gone and she tried to be good to him, his heart, sooner or later, would fall to her completely.

The joy in Regina’s heart was already hard to restrain, but she still put on a terrified look.

She rubbed her hands together nervously, “Grandma, you really need to stop pushing Simon, I do want to marry him, but I don’t want him to marry me because he was forced to.”

He didn't want to hear her continue to disgust him, so Kieran spoke coldly and impatiently, "Regina, I will marry you!"

How many of these so-called high class celebrities don't wear this disgusting masquerade?

Sooner or later, it doesn't matter if he has to marry a hypocritical and disgusting woman.

Anyway, he doesn't care who marries him.

The time he thought he and Freya were in love, he was really full of joy and wanted to get married with her.

Unfortunately, his vivid and beating heart was completely trampled into dust by that heartless woman.

Since then, he has had no heart.

Joanna's aim was successful and she intended to leave space for the children.

"Simon, you and Regina have a chat, I'll go back now and have someone prepare your wedding!"

Joanna resented Bradley being an eyesore here, and when she left, she went ahead and shoed him away.

The doctors also withdrew with good sense, leaving Regina and Kieran alone in the corridor.

She reached out and gently hugged Kieran's arm, "Simon, will it really be our wedding on the first day of next month?"

Chapter 795

"Regina, we will get married, but only get married."

Kieran coldly took Regina's arm away, not giving her any respect, "You and the child in your belly have nothing to do with me!"

After saying this, Kieran didn't even look at Regina before he coldly turned around and left.

Listening to his desperate words, Regina's face went white for a moment, but in an instant, she was back to that noble and subdued look.

Kieran is clearly saying that even if they get married, it will only be a loveless and sexless marriage, he doesn't care about the child in her belly, and he doesn't care about her.

But, so what?

As long as she could marry him and become his wife in name only, they were destined to be entangled in this life.

Moreover, she believed that when the child is born, she will use the child to get closer to him, and one day, he will be tender to her.

And Freya will just have to go to a cold, dank hell to be with her three children!

Last time, she failed to kill the baby in Freya's belly in that hospital, which was a great regret, but it won't happen again!

The child in Freya's belly, Jaden, Jayla must die! No one will be able to steal this unique position from the child in her belly!

Regina knew that Joanna cared most about the family's reputation and the ability of her offspring.

Although Joanna is sometimes a bit childish, she is definitely not an old lady who doesn't understand anything.

The juniors she likes are the most talented ones in the Fitzgerald family, and if Court's team can win the International Fashion Design Finals, Joanna will definitely think more highly of her!

She knew that even if Freddie entered the competition, the costumes he was designing now might not be able to outperform Robin's The Empress Dowager, but what she wanted was foolproof!

By the time Freddie is forced to withdraw from the tournament, it will be Robin and the third place finisher from the last tournament, who, simply does not have what it takes to go head to head with Robin!

The winner of the Grand Final will only be her Court's team!

She will hold the title of champion and marry the man she loves the most, so that everyone will be impressed by her!

After taking the information given to her by Kieran, Freya went straight back to the studio.

The studio was so destroyed in the last fire that they are now using an office building in Quinn's name.

At this time, the staff had already left work, and inside the studio, only Kiki and Quinn were left.

The nature of Freddie's assault on a minor child is so bad, coupled with the overwhelming online demand for his punishment, that there is no way the police department will release him.

Freya didn't expect to get Freddie out on bail. As long as she got out first, she would find a way to prove his innocence, and when the time came, the police station would naturally release him.

Just now Quinn and Kiki also went to the police station to bail out Freya, however, Kieran went there first, so they could only go back to the studio to wait for her.

"Freya, are you alright?" When she saw Freya, Kiki greeted her with concern, "Did the police give you a hard time?"

In fact, what Kiki wanted to ask was whether Kieran had bullied her, but she was afraid of stirring up her sadness, so she only asked so politely.

"Kiki, I'm fine, Freddie will be fine too, we're not that easily defeated!"

Freya was just about to take out the contents of the file bag, but Kiki put the pile of information in her hand.

"Freya, this is something Quinn found out, it should help us."

Hearing Kiki's words, Freya hurriedly took the information.

The information was all about Douglas, who had previously served time in prison for stealing.

He would steal at the time because he was a gambler and owed a lot of money. After he was released from prison, not only did he not change his ways, but he owed even more money.

After reading the information brought by Quinn, Freya opened the document bag given to her by Kieran.

There wasn't much inside the folder, just a paternity report.

Between Douglas and Fern, there is no blood relationship.

Seeing this information, Freya only instantly thought a lot. Douglas owed a lot of money, Fern was not his real daughter, so could the injuries on Fern's body be left by him?

He must have received a lot of money this time when he agreed to help Regina with her work.

If they could prove that Douglas had committed child abuse and forced Fern to frame Freddie, then Freddie would not have to be in prison.

Freya was about to make a phone call to ask Jaden how things were going on his end, but she heard Quinn's grumpy low curse, "Damn, Hans is really shameless too! How dare he post such a tweet!"

"What tweet?" Freya asked subconsciously as she hastily opened her phone and tapped on the page.

This is a tweet just posted by Mr. Hans two minutes ago, which is roughly about how he feels that the International Costume Design Competition is sacred and cannot be desecrated, and that it is an insult to the competition for social scum like Freddie who has seriously harmed underage girls to participate in their competition.

He said he would quit the judging panel if the competition organisers did not disqualify Freddie from the competition.

The International Design Competition Grand Final attracted a lot of attention from the internet because it was the first year it was hosted by Fitzgerald's.

The tweet by Mr. Hans has just been sent out and the number of visits has reached over one million, with netizens calling for the organizers to show their attitude and that social scum like Freddie must be withdrawn from the competition!

Looking at the tweet, Freya's face could not help but look pale.

She knows that Freddie is innocent, but everything is about evidence, if they can't find tangible evidence in his favour, as long as Fern bites the bullet that Freddie is a pervert who wants to assault her. Plus Mr. Hans has already made such a stern statement, Freddie can only be disqualified from the finals!

If Freddie is unable to participate in the final, the number of returns to World will definitely continue to rise, and more and more customers will demand compensation, only that they simply can't pay that much money in compensation at once, and World will have to declare bankruptcy!

Kiki's face also looked pale, "Mr. Hans is very close to the Wells family, he will definitely help Regina, we can't let them get away with it!"

Not long after Mr. Hans tweeted, Daniel and Henry also tweeted.

They expressed their appreciation of Freddie's talent, but could not accept his evil behaviour. With sharp words, they demanded the organisers to disqualify Freddie from the competition, or else they would quit the judging panel.

With three judges pressuring the organisers at the same time, and so many voices from the netizens, as the organisers, the Fitzgerald's couldn't help but take a stand!

As long as Fitzgerald's official account made a sound, Freddie and World is completely finished!

Chapter 796

Freya felt that with Kieran's personality, he would also support the disqualification of World.

After all, he was so disgusted with her that he could not wait for her to be disliked by the world.

Surprisingly, she waited for a long time, but did not wait for Fitzgerald's official blog to issue a statement.

As she watched more and more people on the internet denouncing Freya and Freddie, Kiki was furious.

Quinn was incomparably angry that those pissed his wife off.

He grabbed his phone and started calling Daniel.

He had a good personal relationship with Daniel and was his boss, so even if he called him in the middle of the night, Daniel would have to crawl out from under the covers to answer.

Daniel had just fallen asleep after tweeting, and he received a call from Quinn. He said with some dissatisfaction, "You are rude to call me in the middle of the night, disturbing my sleep!"

"It's rude to disturb your sleep? So you're polite when you're making it impossible for me to sleep?!"

"What do you mean by that? You're newly married, how could I have made it impossible for you to sleep? It should be your beautiful bride who is responsible for your sleep!"

"You made my wife angry, and she wouldn't let me sleep in her bed. Would you say you were rude?!"

"Me?" Daniel was flabbergasted, "I can't look up to the beautiful Miss Hartsell enough, how dare I make her angry?!"

Originally, Quinn was already cranky enough when he saw this brainless tweet from Daniel, but now that he heard him say something about admiring the beautiful Miss Hartsell, he was more upset.

What Miss Hartsell! It's obviously Mrs. Turner!

And who wants a psychologically twisted old bachelor like him, admiring his wife!

"You tweeted that!" Quinn didn't want to bullshit with the disliked Daniel as he said succinctly, "Delete it!"

After saying this, Quinn hung up the phone straight away.

Daniel looked at his fading black phone screen, still unable to come back from his dumbfounded state.

He was a purely artistic person with a rather simple mind, and for a moment, didn't figure out why Quinn had asked him to delete the tweet.

But thinking that it was his boss' order, he could only delete the tweet.

After deleting the tweet, Daniel suddenly remembered that the beautiful Miss Hartsell was one of the founders of World.

His mouth opened in realization. No wonder his boss said he had upset the beautiful Miss Hartsell.

Daniel is an artist with a righteous heart, and he would tweet this because he can't stand to see this kind of bullying of girls by Freddie, but he trusts the character of Quinn and Kiki more.

They are both very nice people, and he was sure that their friends could be nice.

Perhaps, there is really some misunderstanding here.

He should give Freddie a chance to defend himself.

After thinking about it, Daniel tweeted again: Expect a different kind of truth.

Almost at the same time, Henry also received a call from Kieran, who just told him to check his mailbox.

What Henry's mailbox received was a screenshot of Douglas and Fern's paternity test results, as well as something Jaden had found out from the internet.

When Henry saw that information, he fell into deep thought.

After a long time, he and Daniel operated, as it were, by deleting the previous tweet and re-posting it.

Justice may be late, but it will not be absent.

Mr. Hans has been friends with the Well family for many years and he has always been an unwavering supporter of Regina, he just didn't expect to receive a call from Jacob after he was entrusted by her with the tweet.

He had always thought that what Regina meant was what Jacob meant, but he had never thought that he and his sister were not on the same side at all.

Mr. Hans couldn't figure out what was going on between the two siblings, but one thing he did recognise clearly was that Jacob, was the only one who was the head of the Jacob family.

So, after hanging up the phone, he decisively deleted that tweet and sent out a tweet exactly like Daniel's.

After Quinn's call, Freya and Kiki knew that Daniel would definitely delete the tweet, only they didn't expect that both Mr. Hans and Henry had also deleted the tweet and posted this somewhat biased tweet towards Freddie.

Freya couldn't figure out why Mr. Hans and Henry's operation was so strange, but she was relieved that they were no longer forcing the organisers to speak out and make Freddie withdraw from the competition.

The public also noticed their operation of deleting the tweets, and initially, it was decided that it was because they had received benefits from World that they had withdrawn the tweets.

Some of the more sensible netizens are vocal in their comments, they feel that people in the position of Mr. Hans, Henry and Daniel, fame, money, are not lacking, how could they see in the eyes of the benefits given by World!

These sensible comments were not expected to have an unexpected effect this time, as more and more people agreed with what they said, especially after seeing the new tweets posted by the three of them. More netizens felt that the three judges' tweets were saying that there would be a reversal in the case of Freddie's assault on the girl.

Many sensible netizens scrambled to leave comments below the three judges' tweets.

"Do you mean by this that Freddie may have been framed?"

"I think there's a real possibility that Freddie was framed, after all, it's always been Douglas Knight's side of the story, and we should give him a chance to defend himself."

"Yeah, Douglas doesn't seem to have come up with any definitive evidence that can prove that Freddie assaulted the girl at all. If a few words and a diary can convict Freddie, then isn't it true that Douglas said we bullied his daughter and we should also go to jail?"

"I also don't think it's possible for Freya to force a little girl to commit suicide by jumping off a building. How many times has Freya been smeared before! Didn't it all prove later that she was set up!"

"Yes, I also think that this matter is not that simple. Freya also has children, and I don't think a mother could do such a heavenly thing to her children!"

"We also expect a different kind of truth!"

.....

Of course, more people were still blaming Freya and Freddie.

After all, it was Fern herself who said that Freddie had not succeeded in assaulting her, but had suffered many injuries, and it was she herself who said that she would jump from the building because she had been forced to by Freya.

People don't believe a child that young is lying, and more importantly, something like jumping off a building is no joke, one mistake and you could be missing an arm or leg and ruined for life.

There's no way Fern would set up Freya by jumping off a building!

Just as netizens were bickering in the comments section, a video suddenly appeared online.

Chapter 797

Freddie and Freya's child abuse case was so hot that the video, titled "Freddie and Freya Abuse Children", instantly broke a million hits once it was posted online.

Freya also saw the video.

To be honest, when she initially saw the name of the video, her first thought was that she and Freddie were proved to be the murderer?

After thinking about it, she thought it was funny that neither she nor Freddie had ever hurt anyone, so they were innocent!

With a nervous and apprehensive feeling, Freya still clicked on the video.

The video titled She and Freddie Child Abuse, but the main characters in it are really not them.

The main character in it is Douglas.

Inside the hospital ward, Fern was lying on the bed, clutching her mother Lia's hand, looking at Douglas with a frightened expression.

Lia did not suspect Douglas, she felt that Fern was shaking so badly, it must be because Freddie and Freya had bullied her and left too much shadow in her heart.

Lia was supposed to go out on some errand, and she patted Fern's hand gently and walked out of the ward.

As soon as she went out, Fern's tiny body instantly shook like sieve chaff.

Although she was particularly scared, she still had the courage to say to Douglas, "Dad, lying is wrong, I don't want to lie anymore, in the future, don't let me harm others, okay?"

"Fern, you bastard, are you bargaining with me?! I'm telling you, if you don't listen to me and help me get the money, I'll get you and your mother killed!"

"But Dad, Uncle Freddie really didn't bully me, I've only seen him on TV and in pictures, and I set him up."

Before Fern could finish her sentence, Douglas smashed the phone in his hand directly into her face, and her nostrils, instantly, oozed blood.

"Fern, the one I pushed down from the stairs the other day was you! But if you dare disobey me, next time, the one I push down from the stairs will be your mother!"

"Dad, don't you hurt my mom! I'll listen to you, I'll do anything you say"

After watching this video, Freya's mood could not be calmed for a long time. She got a lot of information, she thought that Fern lied and was forced by Douglas, but she could not imagine that it was Douglas who pushed Fern downstairs.

Even if he is not the real father, after living together for so many years, they should still have feelings for each other. What kind of a heart should one have to be so cruel to his daughter!

When you have a dog, you get attached over time, and in Douglas' heart, Fern is not as good as a dog!

Jaden and Jayla are working hard at the table.

After watching this video put on the internet, the situation on the internet was instantly reversed, and Jayla's eyes were full of admiration when she looked at her brother.

"Brother, you're amazing! How did you get this video?"

"I didn't think Douglas was a good person, so I had Uncle Bradley install a camera in their ward, and I never thought I'd actually catch something."

Jaden's fingertips nimbly moved across the keyboard as he uploaded several more videos to the internet in quick succession before taking a slight break.

The reporter had previously gone to Fern's neighbourhood to interview their neighbours. The ones interviewed, who should have been arranged in advance, took Regina's money and all spoke with a clear conscience about how harmonious the family relationship was and how well Douglas treated his children.

The facts are completely different.

This afternoon, Jaden, Jayla and Bradley quietly went to Fern's neighborhood and asked many neighbours, who all said that when Lia was at home, everything would be fine, but if she was not at home, Douglas would beat or scold Fern, and many times they heard Fern's miserable cries.

Douglas gambles and is addicted to alcohol. When he loses money and gets drunk, he takes it out on Fern.

The fact that Fern is not Douglas' biological daughter has long been no secret in the community. Before he got married, he liked the young and beautiful Lia, and even when she was pregnant, he promised to treat her well, but after he got married, he took her daughter and used her as a punching bag.

Lia is busy at work, often working overtime or travelling for business, and she is completely unaware that her daughter is living this life worse than death.

The neighbours were not in a position to meddle, and as Douglas was vicious, they did not dare to tell Lia the truth.

This time, some neighbours saw that it was Douglas who pushed Fern down from the stairs, and they didn't want to keep silent anymore before they agreed to video record. They all wanted to give justice to that poor child.

"Brother, here's a piece of chocolate for you!" Jayla arched her eyebrows and placed the chocolate in front of Jaden, "Keep up the good work and keep helping Mommy and Uncle Freddie clear their name!"

"Keep the chocolate yourself."

Jaden put the chocolates back into Jayla's hands. He spoiled her sister, but he always likes to give his own sister all kinds of disgusting faces.

"I don't want to be like you and become a big fat girl! I'm afraid I won't be able to get married in the future!"

“I’m not afraid of not being able to get married, I have my brother! Even if I can’t get married, you will still buy me good food!”

Jayla thought of something, she smiled like a little fox and said to Jaden, “Brother, you don’t eat chocolate, is it because you are afraid that you will become fat and no young girl will want to marry you in the future?”

Staring at Jaden’s flawlessly handsome face, Jayla thought outside the box and imagined what he would look like if he turned into a big fat man.

Thinking of the inflatable Jaden, Jayla couldn’t help but giggle out loud, “Brother, you’d better not eat chocolate in the future, if you become big and fat, you won’t be as handsome as Daddy when you grow up!”

Although Jayla thinks that her fleshy brother is quite cute, the little girls in the kindergarten nowadays all like a leaner little boy.

Lennon, for example, is getting fatter and fatter, and the little girls at the kindergarten don’t like him, but his brother, on the contrary, receives delicious food from the little girls every day, and even the teachers at the kindergarten like him more.

She also gets a lot of benefits because of her brother’s handsome face.

Her brother never ate the goodies that the little girl gave him, and in the end, they all went inside her belly.

Only if her brother stays handsome can she keep eating the goodies the little girl gives him!

“Brother, I wish you’d always be this handsome!” Jayla said as she swallowed at the thought of the big handful of delicious food.

“Why?” Jaden responded rather facetiously to Jayla.

Jayla said incomparably serious, “Only brother is handsome, I can collect delicious gifts for you every day! Oh, Chloe told me this afternoon that she will also give you a box of chocolate lollipops tomorrow, I will help you eat them then!”

Jaden couldn’t stand it, “Jayla, you big eater! You’ll definitely be too fat to marry in the future!”

“No!” Jayla cocked her little head and said to Jaden in a serious manner, “A boy said today he will marry me when I grow up!”

Chapter 798

“Which one has bad eyes?”

Jaden said gritting his teeth.

How dare someone try to abduct his baby sister right under his nose? Oh, let’s see how he’ll hack him so much that he can’t even cry!

“Lennon!” Jayla couldn’t help but frown at the thought of Lennon’s meaty little belly, but she smiled again when she thought of what he had said.

“Lennon said that when he grows up, he’ll give me a mountain of chocolate as a bride price!”

“Brother, if we had a chocolate mountain, I would be able to eat chocolate every day! Lennon also said that he would also plant chocolate trees all over the chocolate mountain, and the chocolate trees would bear chocolate, so much chocolate that we can eat it all in several lifetimes!”

Jaden really didn’t want to pay attention to this super foodie sister anymore, he couldn’t help but roll his eyes, “Jayla, can you have some pursuit? A few chocolates and you’ve been abducted!”

“Brother, I have pursuit!” Disliked by Jaden for her lack of pursuit, Jayla was incomparably aggrieved, “A few chocolates won’t abduct me! At least it would have to be a chocolate mountain with chocolate trees on top before I would consider being abducted.”

Jaden, “.....”

Well, Jayla won, and Jaden had nothing more to say to this supUncle Simon eater.

Originally, after Jaden posted the video of the hospital ward, netizens began to bash Douglas like crazy. After he posted the video of neighbours in Fern’s neighborhood testifying against Douglas’ abuse of Fern, netizens were even more eager to tear their hands off the evil adoptive father.

Of course, netizens have also apologised to Freya and Freddie, saying that they should not have listened to one side of the story and were maliciously led to help the enemy.

The two children also knew that this incident was a deliberate attempt by Regina and Robin to smear Freya and Freddie, and when they thought of their own mommy being called out so badly, Jayla was unhappy.

She glanced at her brother who was hacking something again and spoke coolly, “Brother, do you think we should teach Regina some lessons? She’s always bullying Mummy and I’m so angry!”

“Well, we should indeed give her a gift!”

Jaden said this very softly, but Jayla felt that the cold hairs on her back stood up.

Her brother doesn’t do it easily, but when he does, someone is bound to get hurt!

She was so looking forward to seeing how miserable Regina looked when she couldn’t even cry!

When the video of Douglas abusing Fern in the hospital room reached the internet, he was holding a new press conference with Fern, tearfully accusing Freya and Freddie of their evil deeds.

Fern sat numbly in her wheelchair, her eyes, which should be full of vitality, are devoid of life.

Lia was convinced by Douglas’ words and could no longer restrain her grief and anger when she thought of the grievances Fern suffered when she was bullied by Freddie and Freya, and the despair and helplessness of her daughter when she was abused by the devil.

She grabbed the microphone from the reporter in front of her, "Please help, we must give justice to Fern! All demons should be punished! They should pay the heaviest price for hurting our daughter so much!"

"Yes, they should pay the price!" Douglas chimed in, "Freddie and Freya still have to participate in some design finals, right? Such brutes are not even worthy of being human, they are not qualified to participate in the competition at all!"

"Their actions have left a lifelong psychological shadow on Fern, they owe Fern an apology! They should now voluntarily withdraw from the finals and apologise to Fern!"

"I approached them and asked them to apologise to Fern, but they said that she deserved to die! How can my beloved daughter be trampled on and hurt like this!"

Douglas thought that after his tearful accusation, the media should help him in his crusade against Freya and Freddie, but surprisingly, the reporters were all looking down at their phones, listening to him somewhat distractedly.

Being so neglected, Douglas could not help but want to get angry, but for fear of damaging his image in front of the public, he suppressed the anger in his heart.

He took a breath and continued to speak with tears in his eyes, "Those two demons even said they would kill our whole family! They're rich and powerful, they won't let us go! Who will save us, save Fern?!"

"Mr. Knight, the ones who hurt your daughter are really Freya and Freddie?" Douglas was in the middle of his performance, while a young female reporter couldn't help but open her mouth and ask.

"The evidence is overwhelming, of course they are the ones who hurt my daughter! Can it be that the one who hurt my daughter is me?"

"I really think that it was you who hurt Fern!" The female reporter said with a clear look of disgust in her eyes.

"What do you mean?!" In the past few days, Douglas had gotten used to the feeling of being helped by reporters, and now that he was suddenly questioned like this, the displeasure in his heart could no longer be suppressed.

He pointed at the reporter's nose and scolded, "You are the one Freya and Freddie paid to clean them, aren't you? Do you have no conscience? You can turn right and wrong upside down just because you've got black money? I think your conscience has been eaten by dogs!"

Douglas took a step back as he walked up to Fern and violently pulled up her cuffs, "Look at this, you guys! This is the demon that hit Fern!"

"My Fern is still a child! What gives them the right to hit her like that! These wounds are going to leave scars! In such a hot day, my Fern doesn't even dare to wear long sleeves!"

"The wounds on the body will one day still be scabbed over, but the wounds in our Fern's heart will never heal, and what they left behind for Fern is a lifetime of indelible damage!"

When Douglas grabbed Fern's arm, Fern's face was pale and her tiny body was shaking like a leaf falling in the wind.

Douglas was quite pleased with her performance and he looked like a victim, "Who will save Fern! Who can help us punish the devil? Why is it that in this world, instead of speaking up for the victims, the devil has become the good guy?! It's not fair!"

A young male reporter could no longer watch Douglas acting like this, he raised the phone in his hand to him, "Douglas, we've been misled by you to bash Freddie and Freya over and over again, this is unfair!"

"Look carefully, the person who really abused your daughter is not Freddie and Freya, but you!"

"No, a demon like you is not worthy to be called a father at all; there is no father in heaven who would drive his own daughter to despair!"

"Douglas, you are obviously maliciously framing Freddie and Freya. We know that you owe a lot of gambling debts, say it, who exactly gave you the benefit to frame innocent people?!"

Chapter 799

"I"

Douglas did not expect the situation to suddenly take such a turn for the worse. He looked at his mobile phone screen in a daze and could not come back to his senses for a long time.

He had briefly watched the online videos and the latest news to sort of get a general idea of what was going on lately, and he couldn't figure out how he had gone from being the victim of everyone's sympathy to the perverted adoptive father that everyone was shouting at!

Also, how could the images of him abusing Fern inside the ward have been filmed?

At that moment, Douglas had only one thought in his mind, "It's over, it's completely over!"

Douglas' face was blue, but he was a typical man who would not shed a tear, and before he was completely cornered, his gambler's mentality was not willing to let him admit defeat just like that!

He quickly stuffed his phone into his pocket as he shouted at the reporters with red eyes, "Don't talk nonsense! You're just taking advantage of Freya and Freddie and trying to set me up on purpose!"

"A few videos don't mean anything! Who knows if these videos, are they deliberately faked by Freya and Freddie and the others to clear their name?!"

The reporters were directly stunned by Douglas' level of shamelessness, these videos were exposed and could already be said to be solid, but he still had the nerve to say that others had set him up.

Could it be that someone in the video forced him to slam the phone onto Fern's face?

"Douglas, you pushed Fern down the stairs, right?!"

An old reporter held up the microphone in his hand and questioned Douglas, "Douglas, Fern is still just a child! How can you push her down the stairs with your own hands?"

“You’re talking nonsense!” Douglas shouted, and if it weren’t for the fear that he would be even more unable to clear his name if the reporters caught his ugly face on camera, he would want to swing his fist and punch the reporter.

“You’ve all been bribed by Freya and Freddie! You really don’t have any moral ground left!”

“I always thought that reporters would speak up for bottom people like us, but I never thought that you could only see money in your eyes! You are all the same as Freya and Freddie’s kind of demons!”

“Fern is my daughter, how could I do such a thing to my daughter?! It was clearly Freya who forced my Fern to jump to her death!”

“She forced our Fern to jump off a building and she’s still not satisfied. Does she have to force our whole family to death before she can be satisfied? How can there be such a vicious woman like her in the world! I curse you all for speaking up for such a vicious woman!”

“Douglas, only those who have done something wrong will be retributed! We have not done anything wrong, we are not afraid of your curse!”

The old reporter’s words were resounding, “Fern is not even your own daughter! A social scum like you is not worthy of being Fern’s father!”

“Douglas, you hurt Fern so much, you led public opinion to attack Freddie and Freya, you owe them an apology!”

“Douglas, you shouldn’t be posing as a victim and gaining sympathy now, you should realise your mistake and apologise to them!”

After hearing that old reporter’s words, many of them started to chime in “Yes, Douglas, you should apologize!”

“Apologize!”

Listening to the rising voices telling him to apologise, Douglas’ face turned into a pout of anger.

He gritted his teeth and stared hatefully at the reporters. He was quite eloquent, but the reporters were even more vUncle Simonose, and he simply could not gain the upper hand in front of so many of them.

Thinking of something, he suddenly pushed Fern in front of him.

He pointed at Fern in her wheelchair, looking at her with a clear threat in his eyes.

“Fern, tell them, who really bullied you?! Who was the one who forced you to jump off the building?!”

“Good girl, don’t be afraid, tell them what’s in your heart, I will get justice for you!”

Douglas knew that the situation was now completely against him, and the only means he had to turn the situation around was to continue to use Fern.

As long as Fern bites the bullet that it was Freddie who tried to violate her and that it was Freya who forced her to jump off the building, those few videos on the internet are not enough to be feared at all.

Fern lifted her face and there was a clear fear in her eyes as she looked at Douglas.

She moved her lips, the obedience she had developed over the years making her almost subconsciously want to repeat the words Douglas had taught her.

Suddenly, she thought of Jayla's innocent and cute, yet determined face written all over it.

Yes, when Douglas was away, Jayla quietly came over to see her.

Jayla said that Freya was her mother and she knew that the lies Fern told had a bad effect on her mother, but Jayla did not blame her because she knew in her heart that Fern had been forced by bad people to lie and had no choice.

She could forgive Fern for telling a lie once, but she did not want Fern to keep lying. Lying would only let the bad guys get away with it, but it would make the good guys suffer a lifetime of injustice.

When Jayla left her ward, she clutched her hand hard. The little girl didn't have much strength in her body, but the moment she clutched her hand, Fern instantly felt her body was full of strength.

Jayla's black eyes shone with indestructible determination, she said, Fern, only with strength and integrity can it give us a fair and just world.

Suddenly, Fern didn't want to continue to cower, she wanted to be like Jayla, to hold her chin up proudly, to live up to this journey in the world.

"Fern, say something! It's Freya and Freddie who have been bullying you, right?!"

After waiting for Fern to speak, Douglas couldn't help but be impatient, he pinched Fern's arm and said with a wry smile, "Fern, all the devils who bullied you should get their comeuppance, tell these people, what Freddie and Freya really did to you?!"

"Yes, the demons who bullied me deserve their comeuppance."

Overnight, Fern seems to have changed into a different person, as if she has finally broken through the heavy wrapping around her body and become a butterfly.

When he met Fern's clear eyes, Douglas' heart thumped. He didn't know if it was just his illusion, but he felt that this little brat who had always obeyed him suddenly seemed to have a soul.

In a flash, Douglas felt at ease, for such a little kid could do nothing to against him.

"Fern, say it, who is the person who bullied you?!"

Chapter 800

"The people who bullied me were not Freya and Freddie, but him!"

Fern suddenly stretched out her hand and pointed at Douglas in front of her, her hand still shaking uncontrollably, but the determined light in her eyes did not diminish.

"He hit me! Every time he gets drunk, he likes to hit me!"

Fern pulled up her trouser leg, revealing the scary bruises on her calf, "The bruises on my body weren't left by Freddie, but by him when he beat me."

“I’ve only seen Freddie on TV and in pictures, Freddie is my idol, he’s never bullied me. It was him, he owed a lot of money, he beat me when he lost a bet, he beat me when he was drunk, he beat me whenever my mum was not at home!”

“I didn’t want to hurt Uncle Freddie and Auntie Freya, I knew they were good people, but he said that if I didn’t set them up, he would beat my mum! I didn’t want to be without my mum, so I had to lie and say that Uncle Freddie and Auntie Freya were bad people!”

“He did it to set up Auntie Freya, and he he threw me out the window!”

“Shut up!”

Douglas slapped Fern’s face, he was so angry that he had lost his senses, “What nonsense! You want to get me killed, don’t you!”

“I worked so hard to bring you up and this is how you repay me?!”

In his anger, Douglas tried to hit Fern again, only this time, before his slap could land on her face, he was stopped by a reporter on the side.

Instead, it was Lia, with red eyes, who threw a hard slap at Douglas’ face.

Tears slipped uncontrollably from the corners of Lia’s eyes, her lips trembled uncontrollably from anger and heartache.

She had never imagined that her daughter, when she was out of sight, would be living a life worse than death!

Lia will never forget that it was Douglas who held her tightly in his arms after she had been cheated out of her feelings.

He said that he would treat the child in her womb as if it were his own and that he would shield her from the storms of her life.

At that time, she was really touched by him, so she gave him her building, her money, without reservation, just to repay his deep love for her.

His mother was so ill that she could not get out of bed, and it was she who nursed her to death with her big belly.

She asked herself if she had a clear conscience towards Douglas, but to her surprise, her daughter was just a bastard for him to abuse in his eyes!

She had done right to Douglas, but she had done wrong to her own daughter!

Lia regretted it, the thing she regretted most in her life was her habit of being dependent on men, always feeling that a family, with a man, was complete.

How many single mothers are there in our society now!

She is an independent woman in the new era, she has the ability to earn money and raise a family, even if she doesn’t go to Douglas for warmth, she can still raise Fern properly!

She is not a competent mother!

She was so blind that she didn't even see whether her man was a beast!

"Lia"

Douglas did not expect Lia to hit him, he was directly dumbfounded. Lia made much more money than he did, usually he used to obey her in order to get money from her, she usually was polite and gentle, but now she hit him.

Douglas didn't want to get into a complete standoff with Lia, so he covered his face and hastily explained to her, "Lia, don't be angry! Just now I was really angry with Fern! Lia, please hit me! I was wrong, just beat me to death!"

"But even if you beat me to death, I still have to say, I love you and Fern, I love our family, don't leave me okay?!"

"Don't leave you?!" Lia sneered, she was already so angry that she felt that a slap could not express her anger at all, she took off her high heels directly and smashed them fiercely on his face.

"Douglas, do you really think that I am stupid? Don't leave you? Stay with you and let you continue to torture my daughter? Douglas, I was blind to believe that you would truly be good to me and my daughter!"

"Divorce! Douglas, not only am I going to divorce you, I'm going to sue you! You abused my daughter, you pushed my daughter down the stairs, this is deliberate murder! I will make you pay!"

"Lia, it's not like that, listen to me, listen to me"

Douglas covered his face, which was sore from being hit by Lia, and he grabbed her hand to explain to her, but she looked at him with nothing but disgust from the marrow of her bones.

"Douglas, I don't believe a word you say, I only believe in my Fern!"

Lia half squatted down, she trembled and hugged Fern in her arms, "Fern, silly child, you have suffered so much, why didn't you tell me earlier? Silly child"

"Mum"

Fern's tears snapped down, "Mom, I'm scared, I'm afraid he'll kill you, I don't dare say"

Hearing these words from Fern, Lia's tears flowed harder. Her Fern, who would suffer so much, was all for her protection.

She is always busy making money and pays too little attention to her Fern. In future, she wants to be the best mother.

She gently stroked Fern's back, "Fern, from now on, I won't let anyone bully you again, no one will ever bully you again!"

When Douglas saw Lia's appearance, he knew that she had made up her mind and was determined to divorce him.

He was already in a very bad mood today, and now, not only did he fail to kill Freya and Freddie according to his employer's instructions, he also caused his wife to be separated from him, and he hated them so much.

He knew that what he had done had been revealed and that he would not be able to escape this jail sentence. Naturally, he was not willing to be the only one unlucky, and he wanted, before he went to jail, to teach this child who had made him lose everything.

But before Douglas could take action, several police officers rushed over and had handcuffed him to his wrists.

"Comrade police, I've been wrongly accused! Let me go! You let me go! You can't accuse good people!"

Douglas struggled desperately, "I was forced! I was really forced!"

Seeing Regina walking towards him, Douglas shouted at the top of his lungs, "Miss Wells, help me!"

Hearing Douglas' voice, all the people at the scene turned in unison and looked in Regina's direction.

From Douglas' cry for help, the reporters at the scene had keenly caught a lot of gossip, and now that they saw Kieran beside Regina, they felt they had found a big news story, and frantically pressed the shutter and took a frenzy of shots at them.