Chapter 861

Freya stretched out her arm, just wanting to coax the pitiful looking man properly, but before her hand could touch him, she realised a very serious problem.

She's still acting out selective amnesia!

If she had hugged him, all her disguise would have been ruined!

Mr. Fitzgerald was playing a trick, she absolutely had to hand on, or it was really too humiliating for a woman!

With this in mind, Freya sat upright, her eyes clear and cold, as if, completely unaware of how upset he was.

"Mr. Fitzgerald, what's there to be upset about?"

When Freya saw that Kieran was still pretending, she couldn't help but feel uncomfortable!

Did he not know that she had never had any resistance to his beauty?!

To pretend to be pathetic when he was so good looking is clearly an improper way to force her to commit a crime!

Freya raised her chin arrogantly, she kept telling herself that she must have a backbone, she must never be charmed by Mr. Fitzgerald's gorgeous face and lose her soul.

To prove that she was a girl with a backbone, Freya coldly hooked her lips and also followed Kieran's frightening pattern of a cold smile, "Mr. Fitzgerald, has anyone ever told you? It's really disgusting when you pretend to be sad!"

Disgusting?

Kieran's expression stiffened and the veins on his forehead jutted out, how dare she call him disgusting?

What's so girly about him?

Although Kieran is very good-looking, his looks are not even remotely similar to those of a woman.

Not only that, but his body is filled with a strong masculine aura, and his years of military service have made him very manly and hormonal.

He was indeed pretending to be sad just now, because before he came to the hospital, he quickly flipped through the "Secret Book of Wife Chasing" that Bradley had compiled for him.

One of the most important tips in "Secret Book of Wife Chasing" is that men should show proper weakness in order to inspire more compassion from women.

He is such a proud man, he is not really used to showing weakness and pretending to be pitiful or anything, but in order to get Freya's pity, he did it.

He didn't expect him to play the pity game so hard, but instead of getting pity, he was disgusted!

This woman did not play out of rules!

Being disliked as a sissy by the woman he loved, Kieran was really upset, and as it was a matter of a man's dignity, he couldn't pretend he didn't know anything.

When Kieran is sad, he does not like to shout, but sits quietly where he is. Those dark eyes are as deep as the sea, and every drop of water in the sea carries a heavy sorrow and sadness, that look is simply more pitiful than an abandoned puppy, so people cannot help but want to soothe the sadness between his brows.

After a long time, he finally spoke, "Freya, do you really think I'm a pussy?"

His voice was very soft and light, but it seemed to be tinged with a layer of the heaviest watery mist, which, with one push, was all capable of turning into refreshingly cool raindrops.

Listening to Kieran's words, Freya suddenly felt that she had sinned deeply, she felt that she was going to hurt Mr. Fitzgerald to the point of tears!

How can a man as reserved and unparalleled as Mr. Fitzgerald cry!

She just called him a pussy, what a sin!

Freya could no longer control the motherly love that was flooding her heart, she reached out her hand and patted Kieran's shoulder like a puppy, "Mr. Fitzgerald, don't feel bad, in fact, you're not girly at all, you're very manly! Yes, you're really manly!"

"Freya, what did you just call me?!"

Freya was just about to withdraw her hand, but it was already clutched tightly by Kieran. Reflecting on what she had just said, she realised that in her haste, she had shouted out her mouth.

"Freya, just now you called me Mr. Fitzgerald."

Kieran's eyes were burning as he stared at Freya, he didn't give her any chance to dodge at all before he tightly embraced her into his arms and sealed her mouth with force.

"Freya, stop being angry with me, and stop pretending to forget about me, it makes me feel bad inside."

Freya protested with round eyes!

But she knew in her heart that even if she said that, he wouldn't believe her.

Both Jaden and Jayla could see that this so-called selective memory loss of hers was faked, and as smart as he was, how could he not see it!

She couldn't push away this warm embrace, but Freya was still so angry in her heart.

She glared at him like an angry little beast, "Mr. Fitzgerald, I hate you! You've forgotten about me and you always bully me!"

She was so sad that he had forgotten her, and she wanted to give him a taste of the sadness of being forgotten, but unfortunately she was so bad at acting that she hadn't even done her best.

“Freya, I’m sorry, it’s my fault, I shouldn’t have forgotten about you, let alone bullied you and made you sad.”

“Mr. Fitzgerald, you’re really bad! You don’t believe you’re my man, and you break up with me at every turn!”

“You still don’t want our children! You said that even if I were pregnant with the child in my belly, you would only send him to hell! Mr. Fitzgerald, you’re so bad, so bad, you make it really hard for me!”

“And you’re going to father the child in Regina’s belly! You’re going to marry Regina! If you like Regina so much, why are you still here? Go to her!”

The more she said, the angrier she became, the more aggrieved she became, and her eyes couldn’t help but get wet.

“Mr. Fitzgerald, do you know how sad I felt inside when you and Regina got married and you didn’t want me anymore!”

“Freya, I’m sorry, I’m sorry, it’s all my fault, I was blind not to recognise you, in future, I will never let you shed tears again.”

Kieran lovingly wiped away the tears at the corner of Freya’s eyes, he was cold by nature, not to mention other people’s tears, even if they were bleeding, he wouldn’t frown.

But Freya was different. Her tears made his heart ache so much that he could not breathe.

It made him hate that he could not, give her his heart and his life to show her how much he liked her.

“Freya, I know that I broke up with you and I’m going to marry Regina, which broke your heart. But I would break up with you so decisively just because I like you too much. Even if I thought I was Simon, I couldn’t control myself and fell in love with you.”

“Because I like you so much that I’m that jealous with myself.”

“Freya, I really love you so much!”

The words of Mr. Fitzgerald were really moving, Freya was not angry anymore.

But thinking of something, she still coldly pushed him away, “Mr. Fitzgerald, you seem to have broken up with me, so in future, don’t hug me!”

Chapter 862

Freya’s head was proudly raised high, the man who loves to break up should bear the consequences of breaking up!

She’s easy to be coaxed, but not easy to be chased, and for a man who has broken up with her, she should not go back to him!

She thought that if she said that, Kieran would have to be very anxious, and used all means to chase her back.

But he was not the least bit self-conscious about being disliked, and he tightened his arms around her.

“Freya, I prefer to be married to you. Freya, you are my wife, in this life, I will never let go of you again!”

Freya, “.....” Could this man be any more shameless? He was determined not to admit that they were husband and wife before, but now he’s taking this advantage!

She still wanted to dislike Kieran , but this shameless man was so cute that she couldn’t afford to push him away.

She nestled in his arms like a kitten, her heart sweet, “Mr. Fitzgerald, you’ve recovered your memory, I feel so happy, it’s like a dream.”

“Mr. Fitzgerald, pinch me and let me see if I’m dreaming or not.”

Being held in his arms like this, Freya really had a particularly surreal feeling, she was really afraid that everything was just a clear dream for her.

After waking up from the dream, he still broke up with her decisively and wanted to marry Regina, saying something like, “Freya, I think you’re dirty!”

She was truly terrified that she would go back to the time that had caused her heart to ache to the point of despair.

Freya’s words made Kieran’s heart ache. How could he not understand what was in her mind? She had forgiven him easily, but that did not mean that he had brought her too little harm.

On the contrary, he had brought her so much hurt.

From the initial reunion, he trampled her dignity underfoot, he called her dirty, and even, he smashed a pile of notes hard in her face.

He had lost count of the number of mean and cruel words he had said to her, and now, each one, like a knife, had stabbed him hard in the heart.

She had said he would regret it if he treated her so badly.

At the time, his words were contemptuous and dismissive, and he said he would not regret it.

But now, he regretted it, but unfortunately, there is every medicine under the sky, but no medicine for regret.

He had kissed Regina in front of her, he had spoken of his intimacy with Regina in front of her, he had used Regina to hurt her feeling again and again, at that time, when he saw her miserable white face, his heart was more or less happy with revenge, now, he only felt his heart was aching.

In his life, his greatest dream was to give his beloved girl a long life of peace and happiness. But he had hurt her feelings so badly.

He had also, cruelly, forced her to take morning pills!

Although he didn’t know about her pregnancy at the time, he did say that if she was pregnant, he would send that baby to heel!

He was a jerk.

Kieran hugged Freya tighter, and offered his most devout soul to her.

“Mr. Fitzgerald, pinch me!”

Kieran couldn't pinch Freya, so he pinched himself hard, “Freya, I pinched myself and it hurts, so, it's not a dream now.”

“Mr. Fitzgerald, I'm not dreaming! I'm really not dreaming!” Freya smiled with arched eyebrows, “Great, I'm not dreaming! Mr. Fitzgerald, you've really recovered your memory!”

Freya also hugged him hard, the smile on her face brighter than the brightest sunshine, “Mr. Fitzgerald, you recovered your memory, it is so good.”

From then on, she no longer had to bear his cold face again and again, let alone hide in a corner, helpless and lonely, after he had broken up with her in a decisive manner.

She needn't worry even more that he will take Regina in his arms with deep affection and say to her, Freya, you make me sick!

Freya felt that just hugging him hard like this was not enough to express her inner joy, she also wanted to kiss him.

However, thinking of her mummified appearance, she finally suppressed such thoughts.

Just now she had been disgusted with his ugliness, in fact, now she was even uglier, and who could kiss a mummy!

Unless, of course, that person really does have an uncanny taste.

The next second, Kieran kissed on her lips.

Well, even with Kieran's strange taste, she really likes him so much.

Freya really wanted to let this kiss last forever. As she was immersed in this loving reunion, Kieran's low, husky voice rang out in the air.

“Freya, don't ever joke with your body again! Even if I die, you will not let yourself be hurt even a little bit!”

“Freya, from now on you must not have another man in your heart! You must not go on a blind date with another man! Never accept another man's proposal of marriage again!”

“Otherwise, I'll break your legs!”

Freya, “.....”

Well, Mr. Fitzgerald is really not a romantic man, when they were kissing, he said he would break her legs, how can he be so cruel!

But no matter how cruel he was, she loved him, with her soul.

Kieran was happy the Freya chose to accept her. He really wanted to hug his wife every day.

Freya's body recovered quite well, Kieran's cooking skills are improving by leaps and bounds, and now he's even starting to compete with Kiki for favor, afraid that Kiki will charm her precious wife's heart away and take the initiative to snatch back the heavy responsibility of cooking.

It is said in Secret Book of Wife Chasing that to capture a woman's heart, one must first capture her stomach. His goal is to charm his wife into a frenzy with his cooking skills.

Freya was not charmed by his cooking skills, but she was actually fattened up by him.

Freya was too thin before, so it was just right to gain some weight.

Kieran is very happy with her current appearance, but Freya is always worried that she will become a fat ball, so she dislikes all kinds of his cooking, but in the end, she cannot resist the compulsion of delicious food and eats all kinds of food.

After feeding Freya dinner, Kieran was just about to deal with some papers, but his mobile phone rang.

The person who called him over was Bradley, who said that Regina had been bailed back from the police station by the Wells family.

Kieran's eyes were awe-inspiring. His brother had died a tragic death, and he had to take revenge! Even Regina had the protection of the Wells family, tonight, he must make Regina pay the price!

Chapter 863

Fabian had also heard about Regina being taken back by the Wells family, so he dragged Bradley with him and rushed to the Wells family's villa.

It was quite a coincidence that when Fabian went over there, Kieran arrived just in time. The three of them looked at each other and headed inside the Wells family villa together.

The Fitzgerald's and the Well's have a lot of business dealings, and between the Wells and the Pryce's, there are inextricable ties. When a few of them come over, the Wells family's maids naturally cannot stop them.

Fabian was really angry, although he grew up with Regina, when he thought that Simon was about to wake up but died a tragic death at her hands, he wished to kill Regina.

He had no siblings, he was close to Kieran and treated his brother as his own, how could he allow Simon's murderer to go unpunished!

When Kieran and the others went over, Walter, Gracie, Jacob, Regina and Steven were all inside the living room.

The moment she saw Kieran, Regina's eyes could not control the mist of water, and her face was filled with indescribable aggression, but she did not have the courage to meet the bone-chilling coldness in his eyes after all.

Gracie's face was full of dissatisfaction, she stepped forward and stared at Kieran in anger, "Kieran, right? Even if you are not Simon, Regina is carrying the child of your Fitzgerald family in her belly, you should not bully her like this!"

“Kieran, what you have done this time is indeed excessive!” Walter had always admired Kieran, but this time, the Fitzgerald family had really pissed him off.

People are protective, even now they all know that the person who is alive is Kieran, in Walter’s opinion, his daughter would not do that kind of unseemly thing.

He believed that there was something else going on in this matter, and he was afraid that his Regina, who was also kept in the dark, had ended up being wrongly accused of being the real culprit in Simon’s death.

Moreover, after Regina returned from the police station, she explained to him that she had not harmed anyone, that she liked Simon and wanted to be with him, even going so far as to use artificial insemination to conceive his child.

She thought that now that she was pregnant with their child, they would finally be able to have a good outcome, but to her surprise, she had only just found out that Simon had died and the person who was alive was Kieran.

She was devastated to learn of Simon’s death, so how could she have harmed him and made herself so sad!

She also very subtly mentioned to Walter that her mobile phone had once been snatched, and those messages must have been sent to Vanessa on her mobile phone at that time. .

She was being made as a scapegoat.

As for transferring money to Vanessa, she was also forced to do so, but no matter how much Walter asked, she was not willing to say who the person who forced her to transfer money to Vanessa was. However, when she was saying this, her eyes fell on Steven.

Walter was naturally convinced his own daughter. Although he thought it was really ridiculous for Regina to use that method to conceive Simon’s child, he did not criticise her harshly after all when he thought of the heartfelt love he had felt when he was young.

Who can escape the spell of love in this world!

He was mad about it, and even, until now, he still couldn’t pull himself out of that love affair, because of the unforgettable thoughts of that person. After so many years of marriage, except for the time when he was drugged, he had never touched Gracie, so how could he ask his daughter in love not to make any mistakes!

His daughter’s tactics were a bit silly, but her suffering was even more heartbreaking to him.

Walter’s eyes drifting away, he couldn’t help but think again of the woman who made his heart flutter, who later made him fall in love to the point of being unable to stop himself, and who, in the end, broke his heart completely.

That woman, when she died in the sea, was pregnant with twins, and if there hadn’t been that play, she and the children would still be alive and well, and his children would have been the same age as Regina.

Sadly, the woman he loved most and the children were buried in the belly of a fish.

Walter sternly snapped at Kieran, “Your Fitzgerald family must give Regina an explanation!”

“Explanation?” Kieran’s lips sneered, “I’ll give Regina an explanation, who’ll give my brother an explanation!”

“Regina, you made Vanessa drug me, and you had something to do with my brother’s tragic death! Murder pays for life, you must pay for what you have done!”

“Kieran, you can’t say that without solid evidence!”

Seeing that Kieran was still pressing hard, Walter’s face could not help but look angry, “If Regina had hurt Simon, how could she have willingly carried his child! Kieran, I will find out about this matter and give justice to Regina!”

“Walter, you’re being unreasonable with that! Regina even had someone drug Kieran and set up that car accident, how could she be innocent! The text message she sent to Vanessa, and the five million she transferred is proof of guilt!”

When Fabian saw Walter protecting Regina, he couldn’t hold back any longer, “Regina is pregnant because she likes Simon? Walter, she’s just lying to you! Regina is pregnant with Simon’s child because she wants to give it to Kieran! Unfortunately, Kieran has regained his memory, so her plan has been completely foiled!”

“Fabian, don’t talk nonsense here and slander Regina!” Gracie was afraid that Fabian’s words would be too harsh and ruin Walter’s impression of Regina, so she hurriedly said, “Regina didn’t even know about all this! From the beginning, she didn’t even know that the person who survived was Kieran!”

“It’s not easy for our Regina! She’s pregnant and the man she loves is gone, and you’re still bullying her, do you have any conscience? If you really care about Simon, you shouldn’t bully Regina, the child in her belly is Simon’s child!”

“Regina, I was more or less conscious during the time I was unconscious.”

Kieran ignored Gracie, but said word for word to Regina, “When I was hypnotized, I could hear voices from outside.”

“I heard you and Steven’s voices! That means that you and Steven were right next to me when I was deeply hypnotized!”

“Steven, did you say something like, start now?”

Hearing Kieran’s words, Steven and Regina’s faces changed greatly at the same time; neither of them had expected that he could still hear their conversation even though he was unconscious at that time.

Kieran saw their panic, he stepped forward, his voice stern, “Regina, what else do you want to say now?!”

Chapter 864

“I .....

Being questioned by Kieran like this, Regina didn’t really know what to say for a while.

She knew Kieran that once he was determined to do something, he could not change his mind easily, and since he was determined that he had heard her voice while he was unconscious, he would not believe her unless she found a convincing explanation.

Hearing this from Kieran, Walter's face did not look good.

Whether in the business world or in private, he has had a lot of dealings with the Fitzgerald family, he and Samuel are still close friends, he has kind of watched Kieran grow up, and he still trusts his character.

He looked at Regina with a colder look, "Regina, what the hell is going on here? Why would Kieran say that he heard your voice when he was hypnotized? You were really there, weren't you?!"

Walter's rebuke made Regina's face even paler. Now, Walter's support was her biggest reliance, if he no longer helped her, she was afraid that she would end up in a miserable situation.

Regina knew that her father had never loved her mother and he didn't really have too deep feelings for her, it was only because of his guilt for neglecting her for too long that he agreed to help her against Freya.

She could not afford to lose Walter as her biggest backer!

"Dad, I was indeed at the scene, but I really didn't know that the person lying in the hospital bed at that time was no longer Simon. Dad, I really haven't hurt anyone, why is everyone unwilling to believe me? I'm your daughter, aren't you willing to believe me too?!"

With that, Regina's tears rolled down in big drops, "Dad, no matter how people slander me, I have to say I did nothing wrong!"

"Regina, don't you dare say to my brother that you did nothing wrong!"

With that, Kieran took a picture from Bradley's hand.

In the photo is a photo of Simon. In the photo, the corners of his lips are slightly curved, and his face is almost identical to Kieran's, with the warmest of smiles. But now he had been buried under ground.

Kieran put this picture into Regina's hands, saying, "Regina, say to my brother that you did nothing wrong!"

Looking at the picture of Simon, Regina's hand shook and the picture almost fell to the ground.

Simon was smiling, but perhaps it was just a photo, there was no half-heartedness in his dark eyes, only a sullen dead silence.

Meeting his eyes, Regina couldn't help but think again of the moment she had ordered him to be killed.

Those eyes of his, at that time, were not like this.

At that moment, his eyes were streaked with red blood and raging with hatred!

The photo in front of her slowly began to flow, and Regina saw that there was a blinding red light that coalesced on the photo, and eventually, it all converged into Simon's eyes.

Like countless midnight dreams, she saw Simon's bloodshot eyes.

He held her by the throat and questioned her, "Regina, why are you trying to kill me! Why! Don't you know that it hurts me to have my head smashed in bit by bit?! It really hurts me!"

"Ahhhhhhh!!!"

Regina couldn't control her scream, she wanted to hold her head away from Simon's photo, away from the nightmare, but thinking about her current situation, she finally forced all the panic down.

She trembled as she gripped the photo, her screams gradually turning into low whimpers as she fondled the eyes that struck fear in her heart and murmured over and over again, "Simon, will you come back?"

"Simon, it's really hard for me! Simon, you can't leave me and our baby behind, please, don't leave me, okay?!"

Bradley and Fabian were both stunned, they had never imagined that Regina would be so mentally strong.

The way she acted was so real that if she wasn't such a good actress, the only possibility was that she really had a clear conscience.

After all, it was his daughter, and seeing Regina's crying face, Walter's heart felt unbearable.

His eyes were tinged with obvious reproach as he looked at Kieran, "Kieran, seeing Regina in distress like this, aren't you satisfied?!"

"Regina, don't pretend!"

Regina's sycophantic look really made Kieran sick to his stomach.

His eyes swept over her face in disgust, "Regina, I don't believe you're really innocent! My brother was always treated by the Wells family, but in the end, he died for no apparent reason, I don't believe you really know nothing about this!"

If Kieran didn't say this, everyone almost forgot that Simon had been in Steven's lab.

A vegetative had been left to the Wells family for treatment, and when he suddenly died, the Wells family naturally had something to do with it!

"Regina, I'll give you one last chance, how exactly did my brother die? If you continue to sophistry, I will make you pay the price even if I pour out the strength of my Fitzgerald family!"

Kieran continued to move forward, he did not choke Regina, but she had a very strong feeling of being out of breath.

Her mind was spinning fast, she never forgot her goal in this life was to stand beside Kieran.

If he had decided that she was the murderer of Simon, he could not really accept her.

So she had to convince everyone that Simon's death really had nothing to do with her.

Regina's eyes fell on Steven's face, and there was a silent begging in her eyes.

Steven turned his face just in time to meet Regina's eyes that were full of pleading.

Steven's heart suddenly chilled uncontrollably.

Indeed, no matter how much they shrugged it off, Simon was treated by the Wells family, and the Wells family could not shirk its responsibility for his death, therefore, one person had to stand up and take the blame for it all.

But what is the result of taking it all on?

Steven closed his eyes heavily.

It is death.

Once he came forward and confessed to killing Simon, the Fitzgerald family would not spare him, the Wells family would not spare him, and the law would not spare him, and he would only die!

Maybe because his heart was cold, Steven's body could not control the chill, for Regina wanted him to die!

Who wants to die when he can live well!

"Steven, help me ....."

Chapter 865

Regina did not make a sound, but Steven was able to read the shape of her lips as she asked him to help her.

To help her with his life.

Steven couldn't help but recall the scene from last night.

The first thing Regina did after leaving the police station was to come over to him.

He loved her from the bottom of his heart, and he was really happy that she thought of him and came to him on her own initiative.

But she sought him out, not because she missed him, but simply because she had a problem, she didn't want to bear the stigma of being a murderer, she wanted to live radiantly.

At that time, she looked at him with pity and said to him, "Steven, help me.

He said at the time that even if he died, he would protect her for the rest of her life.

That was his promise to her, and today, it was time for him to keep it.

Steven stepped forward, his gentle face with an irrevocable determination, "Simon's death has nothing to do with Regina! It was me who planned all this, I killed Simon!"

The crowd was astonished.

Steven is a doctor, who saves lives and helps the injured, and he is usually so gentle that no one would dare to think that such a humble and gentle doctor would do something that would take someone's life.

“Steven, what are you talking about?” The person who was most shocked had to be Walter.

His elder brother had died early and he truly loved Steven as his own son.

The head of the Wells family needs to have blood on his hands, and Steven loves the art of healing and saving lives, so he cannot bear to have his clean hands stained with blood, he fulfils his dream and goes to great lengths to find Jacob.

He could not imagine that Steven, whose dream was to heal the sick and save people, would also kill.

“Uncle Walter, you heard me right, I killed Simon!”

Steven hooked his lips in a cold smile as he tried to make his placid face look twisted and evil,

“Originally, I had no intention of admitting to all this, I had already found a scapegoat, so why should I drag myself into this sewage!”

“Yes, Hope was my scapegoat. I thought that one day my crime would be found out, but I still wanted to live well, so I found Regina in advance to be my scapegoat!”

“Steven, what do you mean by that?!” Walter couldn’t help but ask, even if Steven himself admitted that he had killed the man, he still didn’t want to believe it.

“Uncle Walter, I’m sorry for failing to live up to your expectations of me. And even, to have hurt your beloved daughter, Regina.”

“Uncle Walter, I know that killing Simon will drag our Wells family down with it, but I hate him so much that I can’t let him live! He hurt the woman I love the most, he raped her and caused a lifetime of psychological shadows, I have to kill this devil!”

“Kyra is the woman I love the most, she is the best girl in this world, but since she met Simon, her life is completely ruined. I have always wanted to avenge Kyra, so when Simon became a vegetable, I am happy, if he had stayed a vegetable, I wouldn’t have killed him, but, he is waking up.”

“I absolutely could not let this demon wake up, so I engineered that car accident so that he would sleep forever in the ground!”

“I grabbed Regina at the time, I thought I was doing all this seamlessly, there was no way anyone would find out, and I grabbed Regina to be more foolproof, even if one day my plan fell through, she would be able to take the blame for me.”

Ignoring everyone’s shocked, sorrowful or pitying gazes, Steven took out a flash drive and connected it to the smart TV in the living room.

Steven gracefully switched on the television and the video was so pixelated that all of them could clearly see the face of the heroine in the video.

There it is Regina’s face.

Regina was tied up inside Steven’s lab, Steven stood in front of her with a fierce smile, “Regina, give me your phone.”

“Steven, let go of me! What the hell are you going to do to me?!” Regina struggled desperately, but the ropes tied around her were too strong for her to break free.

“Regina, be good, give me your phone.” Steven repeated what he had just said, thinking of something, he then said, “Oh, you should transfer a sum of money to Vanessa first, five million.”

“Steven, what’s wrong with you? Why are you doing all these strange things to me and asking me to transfer money to Vanessa?! Steven, are you not feeling well? Will you wake up?!”

In the video, Regina’s lack of cooperation caused Steven to completely run out of patience, his face was as fierce as a demon as he gritted his teeth and threatened at her, “Regina, listen to my words and transfer money to Vanessa, otherwise, I guarantee that tomorrow, the headlines of major media will be such photos and videos of you!”

“No! No!” Regina shook her head vigorously, “I’ll transfer money to Vanessa and I’m willing to give you my phone, Steven, please don’t post these photos and videos on the internet, okay?! If dad finds out, he’ll kill me for sure!”

After Regina transferred the money to Vanessa, Steven grabbed her phone again and started to send text messages to Vanessa. It was obvious that the text messages he sent were for her to drug Kieran.

The scene changed rapidly as Regina was tied up in a corner, shivering, while a master hypnotist was hypnotising Kieran.

Regina shouted at the doctor, “What are you doing to Simon?!” She was then struck unconscious by a hand slash from Steven.

The video shows that Regina was indeed present, just not as Kieran thought she was conspiring with Steven, but, rather, she was forcibly confined by him.

“Don’t let go! Don’t let go!” Regina cried and shook her head, as if she would not be able to live if she continued to play this unpleasant video.

Steven ignored everyone’s shock as he turned off the TV and then sneered, “Do you know why, after I had chosen to let Regina take the blame, now I suddenly have to admit that I killed Simon? Because Kyra couldn’t stand the torture of endless nightmares, she killed herself! What’s the point of me living alone when she’s dead?”

The smile on Steven’s lips was pale to the extreme, “Regina, congratulations, you don’t have to take the blame for me anymore, you can go free!”

Steven’s words are, in fact, half-truths. In this world, there is indeed a girl called Kyra, only that unlike what he said, Kyra has been deeply in love with Simon since the beginning, and after Simon became a vegetable, she was retaliated and hurt by Mike’s people and became disabled.

Chapter 866

She did not want to show her most wretched side in front of the man she loved, so even when she thought Simon had woken up, she did not drag herself in this tattered body to find him. In her opinion, she was satisfied as long as he lived well.

But she had not imagined that Simon had actually died a long time ago.

After seeing the news that the person who actually died in that car accident was Simon, Kyra's only support to live completely disappeared and she chose to commit suicide.

It was because Steven's words were laced with truth that they became more and more believable.

Plus they had the foresight to act and film this video of him coercing Regina ahead of time, and Regina really could be out of it!

The women of a powerful family value their reputation above all else, and everyone would think that if they hadn't been forced by Steven, how could Regina have been filmed in a video like that!

Besides, in the video, Regina was forced by Steven to transfer money to Vanessa, only that what the money she transferred to Vanessa was used for was unknown!

No one will think that Regina is the murderer anymore, everyone will only think that she is actually a victim as well, that she was fooled around by Steven and kept in the dark, never knowing that Simon had actually died long ago.

"Steven, how could you do such a thing to Regina?! Regina is your sister!" Gracie was the first to come back to her senses, she rushed up and went to tussle with Steven, "Steven, you shoot this, let your sister be a scapegoat for you, you are inhuman!"

"Aunt, I'm sorry, I was really blinded by hatred at that time, I hated Simon too much, yet Regina liked him so much, so I hated Regina's blindness!"

"I want revenge, I want to avenge Kyra, but I have to take good care of Kyra, I can't die! So, I have to find someone to take the blame for me!"

After saying this, Steven turned his face again, his eyes looked deeply at Regina, "Regina, I'm sorry that I dragged you into the abyss of hell, I am sorry to you!"

"Steven, why?! Why did you release this video!"

Obviously, this was the way Regina came up with to turn the tide, but now, she still put on an innocent look and questioned Steven, "Steven, you asked me to transfer money, I did, you asked me to give you my phone, I gave it to you! You promised me that you wouldn't let anyone see this video, so why did you release it?"

"Steven, do you know that by doing this, you'll ruin me! Steven, you've ruined me, I hate you!"

The release of this video today was the perfect response that he and Regina had discussed in advance, he knew that she would have to act hard, but he did not expect that she would roar out vocally that she hated him.

He knew that her words were half-truths, but his heart still ached uncontrollably, like a dull knife being used to torture him, one by one, so that he could not breathe.

Suddenly, he was confused as to whether it was right or wrong for him to have his hands stained with blood, and for him to take on all his sins for her.

But right or wrong, having come this far, there was no turning back.

He only hoped that, after he had paved the way ahead with her blood, his beloved girl would be free of sorrow again.

“Regina, I’m sorry.”

I’m sorry I can’t help you or, in future, take care of you anymore.

Regina, take care.

“Steven, I won’t spare you!”

Gracie’s voice continued, “Steven, do you know how upset Regina feels? The man she loved most is gone, and she has been framed as a murderer. She is still pregnant, how do you want her to do?!”

“I’m sorry.”

Steven continued to give Gracie a bow of apology, then, he slowly walked up to Kieran and bowed deeply, “Mr. Fitzgerald, I’m sorry for making you all sad for the loss of your loved ones, but I have no regrets, I avenged the woman I loved, I have no regrets!”

“Damn you, Steven!”

Kieran fiercely strangled Steven’s neck. He would be so relieved to give Simon to him for treatment because he trusted him, they were good friends. How could he have never imagined that it was him who had pushed his brother into the clutches of the devil.

“Mr. Fitzgerald, sorry .....

The sound of a gunshot, suddenly ringing in the air, splattered blood on Steven’s temple, and in the last moments of his life, his eyes, with difficulty, fell on Regina’s face.

He tried to find something like dismay or sadness in her face.

But he failed.

What he found was only indescribable relief, and she breathed a long sigh of relief.

A tear of blood rolled down from the corner of Steven’s eye. He was willing to go to hell for her, never imagining that in the end, his suicide to preserve her would only make her feel relieved by not getting a single ounce of pity from her.

What a cruel woman he loved!

But until the last second of his life, he was humbly pleased that he had done one more thing for her, besides clearing her name.

One that will help her achieve what she wants once and for all.

During the time that Kieran was unconscious, he injected a drug that he had developed into his body, a drug that had a latency period of about six months.

And he left the only antidote in the world to Regina.

Once he fell ill, his internal organs, within a month, would fail rapidly, and if he could not take the antidote within a month, in the second month, his body, from the inside out, would begin to rot, and eventually, covered in maggots, he would die a horrible death.

No one wants to die so tragically, and Regina holds his life in her hands, in the end, he will have to give up Freya and stand beside her!

“Steven!”

As he watched Steven’s body slowly fall to the ground, Walter could not control his cry of pain.

He quickly stepped forward and held him tightly in his arms, “Steven, wake up! Wake up!”

No matter how much he had tears in his eyes, no matter how loudly he called his name, Steven would not open his eyes again.

Looking at Steven, who had fallen motionless in Walter’s arms, Regina breathed a long sigh of relief as the shackles that had been holding her captive were finally removed.

It was the best move she could have made.

From now on, all people will only think that Steven killed Simon, no one will think of her as a murderer anymore, she can rely on the child in her belly, enter the Fitzgerald family, and with the pill in her hand to squeeze out Freya and become the mistress of the Fitzgerald family!

Chapter 867

Kieran had always believed that it was Regina who killed Simon, but Steven had just admitted on the spot that he was the murderer and even played the video, so even if he hated Regina, he couldn’t continue to assume that she was the murderer.

There are things in this world that cannot be based on mere likes and dislikes, but more importantly on evidence.

He was not really a brutal tyrant.

Bradley and Fabian had the same thoughts as Kieran, they did not expect Steven to shoot himself after confessing his guilt.

Even though they wanted to kill Simon’s murderer, they could not press the Wells family any further now that Steven was dead.

The pain of losing a loved one can never be healed, but the Wells family has already paid the price, and the Fitzgerald family and the Wells family are no longer indebted to each other.

None of them knew of Steven’s deep love for Regina, after all, they all thought that the two of them were cousins, they never thought that such a close relative would have an intense love that would not risk his life!

Because they didn’t know that Steven loved Regina, they believed Steven’s words and Regina’s innocence in this matter, plus the fact that Regina was still carrying Simon’s child in her belly, so they naturally wouldn’t push her to the brink.

No matter how annoying Regina is, the child in her belly is Simon's only bloodline in this world. Since she is not a murderer, Kieran and the others all hope that the child in her belly will survive.

The only person who did not believe the so-called truth from Steven's mouth was Jacob, because he had the best relationship with Steven, he knew him too well, and he could see the depth of his feelings for Regina.

Looking at Steven's blood-stained corpse, Jacob's fists were clenched and the veins on the back of his hands were rippling, he kept asking him in his mind, "Steven, was it worth it?"

It's not worth it!

But when he dies, everything is gone, and even if it is not worth it, there is no chance of regret.

Looking at Regina's relieved look, what little affection Jacob had left for her vanished.

He had never dared to think that he would be so disgusted with his own sister.

He had overheard something earlier and he thought that there was something that he should go and find out properly.

If Regina was not the daughter of the Wells family, then he would not have had to spare her life for the sake of Walter!

Patricia and Joanna also knew about what had happened at the Wells family villa today.

In fact, it was a relief for both of them to hear about today's events.

After all, Regina was carrying Simon's child inside her belly, and no one wanted her to be the culprit who killed him.

Now that she has been cleared of any wrongdoing, they can finally look forward to the arrival of the child in her belly.

That was Simon's only bloodline, a treasure of their Fitzgerald family, and they were willing to give him the best of everything in the world.

Regina is pregnant while Simon is dead, which naturally attracts a lot of gossip. In order to show how much the Fitzgerald family values her, Joanna personally intervenes and brings her to their house.

Even if Simon is no longer alive, Regina is still the daughter-in-law of the Fitzgerald family and the mother of Simon's child, and the Fitzgerald family will never treat her badly!

Joanna took Regina's hand and wiped her tears.

"Regina, it's all my fault, I didn't stand firm by you and got you taken to the police station."

"Grandma, I'm fine, Besides, I don't feel aggrieved, I'm pregnant with Simon's baby now, I feel like I'm the happiest person in the world."

Regina gently stroked her belly, with the tenderness of a soon-to-be mother.

“Grandma, I’m really glad that I capriciously underwent that ridiculous surgery and got pregnant with Simon’s child. There may be many people who don’t understand me, but I’m really looking forward to this child, it’s the continuation of Simon’s life, and even if he’s no longer around, having this child with me makes me feel as if he’s right by my side.”

The older people get, the more emotional they become. When Regina mentions Simon’s name, Joanna’s eyes can’t control the sourness.

“Regina, it’s lucky that you have this child, so that I feel that I haven’t lost my Simon completely! Regina, I am really grateful to you for leaving behind the bloodline for my Simon. Regina, you are a great benefactor to our Fitzgerald family!”

No matter what Joanna said, Regina carried modesty and gentleness on her face, but hearing her words, her heart had been so joyful that it soared.

She didn’t expect that she, a murderer, could turn out to be a great benefactor to the Fitzgerald family!

In the future, she will not only be the so-called great benefactor of the Fitzgerald family in the eyes of Joanna, but also the best daughter-in-law of the Fitzgerald family, the only mistress of the Fitzgerald family!

She will, little by little, clear the obstacles before her, so that the road ahead of her will be completely unobstructed!

The biggest obstacle in front of her is Freya and the two little ones, and the baby in her belly. Walter has promised to get rid of Freya. Some time ago, when she was injured in the earthquake and everyone thought she would not wake up, Walter’s men did not strike at her again.

Now that she’s awake, it’s time to send her to hell!

Joanna was tired of talking to her for a while, so she went back upstairs to rest.

Regina rushed back to her room and dialed Walter’s men to make sure they would move today, and the corners of her lips rose uncontrollably.

Recently, Kieran had been guarding Freya’s ward almost every day, and the Wells family had no chance to make a move on Freya.

They originally wanted to bribe the doctors to add something to Freya’s drip, but the doctors were all Kieran’s men, so it would not be easy to turn them around, and not only that, they would also alert Kieran

Today was their best chance to take Freya’s life.

Simon was re-buried with a new monument, and Kieran would attend. After the last time when Joanna made a fuss about the ward, he had sent many bodyguards to guard outside the door to protect Freya.

Going in through the door would easily alert the bodyguards, but they could have gone in through the window!

She had already snooped ahead of time, there was only Kiki in Freya's room, so two weak women couldn't compete with Walter's well-trained assassins!

Regina poured a glass of red wine, and then, spilled all the wine in the glass on the floor.

Freya, farewell!

Freya is recovering well, the bandages have been removed from her body and she feels lighter now that she no longer has to be a mummy.

She uses the best herbs, which are available for pregnant women, and have no effect on the child inside her belly, which will grow up healthy.

"Kiki, I want to drink porridge, will you cook it for me?"

Freya was just about to tell Kiki that she also wanted to eat chicken wings, but she heard the sound of something falling on the floor.

She followed the sound and found Kiki fallen to the ground, motionless.

Chapter 868

Freya was worried about Kiki's condition and she was desperate to check how she was doing.

But she knew better than to go over to see Kiki, but to call for help from the bodyguards outside the door.

She was about to open her mouth and scream for help, but a black shadow rushed up to her like a ghost and covered her mouth and nose so tightly that nothing came out except a whimper.

The cold, gleaming knife, pulled out violently from the man's waist, went viciously towards Freya's neck.

Freya was frightened by the situation, but not so much that she was completely discombobulated.

She took out a silver needle that she had already prepared and stabbed it unceremoniously into the man's hand.

He could not have expected that Freya would have a weapon like a needle in her hands. He was unprepared and was viciously stabbed by her.

He felt the pain and his oncoming attack instantly weakened considerably, and Freya saw the right moment to bite him hard on the wrist.

Her mouth and nose got instantly free, she practically yelled at the top of her lungs, "Help!"

The bodyguards sent by Kieran were all quite agile, and when they heard Freya's cry for help, they pushed open the door and rushed in.

The man's hand was still faintly painful. Tonight, he was really determined to finish his mission, after all, he had never put Freya in his eyes, with his skills, it was really extraordinarily easy to kill her with a single stab.

But he had never thought that she, a patient, would be so alert.

The man was reluctant to let Freya go, but with so many bodyguards rushing in, not only could he not kill Freya, but he might have to implicate Walter as well. So he leapt down from the window.

The bodyguards did not go after the man, and, fearing that it might be some kind of diversionary scheme, they dared not leave Freya's ward even for a moment.

After the man left, Freya finally breathed a long sigh of relief.

She knew in her heart that this man, for sure, had nothing to do with Regina.

She is the only one in the world who can't wait for Freya to die.

However, without proof, she can't do anything to Regina, but sooner or later, she will make Regina completely unable to turn over!

Freya rushed to Kiki and checked her. Fortunately, the man's target was only her and he did not give Kiki a heartless stab, she only received a hand slash from the man on the back of her neck.

Freya gently patted Kiki's face, she opened her eyes in a daze, hurriedly grabbed Freya's hand and asked with concern, "Freya, how are you? Are you hurt?"

"Kiki, I'm fine, the bad guys have been chased away." Freya's eyes were hot, obviously, the person who was hurt today was Kiki, she was still worried that she would be hurt, her Kiki was really the kindest girl in the world.

Although Kiki had no stab wounds on her body, Freya was still uneasy about her body and carefully took her pulse, and while doing so, she suddenly discovered something that surprised her greatly.

Kiki had two miscarriages, plus her body had been seriously injured, she almost had no possibility of getting pregnant again. Freya had been helping her to regulate her body, but she was not completely sure, now, she found that Kiki's body was much better and it was possible for her to get pregnant!

"Freya, what's wrong with you?" Seeing that Freya had been holding onto her wrist in agitation, Kiki couldn't help but ask in confusion.

"Kiki, you'll be able to get pregnant!"

"What?!" Kiki exclaimed in disbelief, "Freya, what did you just say?!"

"Kiki, you can give your Quinn a bunch of children!"

Hearing Freya's words, Kiki was at first so shocked that she was almost petrified, and then the corners of her lips rose uncontrollably.

After losing her two children, she thought she would never be able to have children in her life, but to her surprise, God saw mercy and she was able to give birth to a child for Quinn.

Quinn was really good to her. She had also had low self-esteem and lost her mind because she could not have children, but he had told her more than once that all he wanted was her, and that even if he never had children in his life, as long as he had her in his life, he would be satisfied enough.

Quinn's words touched Kiki, but she was clear that he actually loved children, and every time he saw Jaden and Jayla, he couldn't bring all the good things to them.

Fortunately, Quinn still has the chance to become a father.

However, Kiki did not intend to tell Quinn the good news now; she would give him a big surprise when she was pregnant.

While the hospital has experienced a thrilling experience, the Fitzgerald's house is not quiet.

Joanna is fond of hilarity. Not only has she allowed Regina to move to the Fitzgerald's house, but she has also been letting the two kids live over here recently.

Not long after dinner had been served, a harsh scream suddenly sounded from the second floor.

It was Regina's voice.

At that time, the two kids were chattering with Joanna, and when they heard the scream, they were all startled.

Thinking that Regina was still carrying Simon's child inside her belly, Joanna did not dare to delay in the slightest, and with her crutch, she quickly headed upstairs.

"It hurts, it hurts ....."

Regina covered her stomach and rolled on the ground in pain. On her forehead, fine beads of sweat kept seeping out, like she was in great pain.

"Regina, what's wrong with you? Don't you scare me!"

Joanna quickly stepped forward, she carefully held Regina, "Regina, don't be afraid, I am sending the doctor over."

With that, Joanna hastily glanced at the maid, who understood and hastily called the personal doctor.

"Grandma, I ..... have a tummy ache, my tummy hurts ....."

Regina pitifully covered her stomach.

Joanna's face became pale. She had given birth to so many children, so she naturally knew that a pregnant woman's stomach pain was definitely not a good sign.

Soon the private doctor arrived and after she had examined Regina, she couldn't help but frown.

"You're pregnant, how can you take laxatives? Do you not want the baby in your belly?"

"What?" Regina deliberately put on a shocked look, "Doctor, I didn't take laxatives! I was so looking forward to this baby, how could I possibly take laxatives and deliberately hurt my baby?!"

"You're lucky that you didn't miscarry after taking such a large portion of laxatives." The doctor gave Regina a look and continued, "You should be careful about your food!"

“Laxatives?!” Joanna was startled, then she understood something, turned her face coldly and barked at the servants, “What the hell is going on here? How did you serve Regina? How could she have taken laxatives?”

Chapter 869

“Madam, we really don’t know what’s going on.”

The servants looked at each other, all with a confused and trembling look.

They all live on the salary paid by the Fitzgerald family, and the child inside Regina’s belly is the treasure that Joanna cares most about, how could they dare to give her something like laxatives?

“Jessie, you’ve been following Regina around lately, what do you think is going on here!”

Being swept by Joanna’s cold and stern eyes, Jessie’s body jerked, she panicked and opened her mouth to explain, “Madam, I really didn’t know what was going on! I brought the dinner to Miss Wells’ room, it was all the stuff the cook made every day, I really didn’t think there would be laxatives in it!”

“Madam, Miss Wells has never been fussy and doesn’t like to eat snacks, all she eats are things made by our Fitzgerald family cooks. This afternoon, she was fine, and after she ate dinner, she started yelling about her stomach hurting.”

Jessie paused and then said, “Could it be that someone deliberately added laxatives to Miss Wells’ meal? If that’s the case, that person’s heart is too malicious!”

“Miss Wells is carrying a baby in her belly, such a large dose of laxative is simply killing the baby inside Miss Wells’ belly!”

The old lady’s face was already pale enough, after hearing Jessie’s words, she became angrier

The child inside Regina’s belly was important to Joanna, and now, under her nose, someone was trying to harm this child, so how could she be in a comfortable mood!

“Get the cook over here! I don’t believe that I can’t find the culprit who wants to harm my precious great grandson!”

“Madam, I just saw .....

Margaret, an old maid suddenly spoke up, but she was halfway through her sentence when she shut her mouth.

Although she didn’t say anything useful, everyone’s attention, however, was drawn to her.

Joanna’s eyes gleamed as she stared at her face, “Margaret, you know I hate it when people only say half of what they say! What did you see just now? You saw who was trying to harm the child inside Regina’s belly, didn’t you?”

“I .....

Seeing Margaret in such a difficult situation, Joanna could also guess that the person who drugged Regina was not an ordinary servant, and her eyes became more and more stern, "Margaret, you don't need to be afraid! No matter who is trying to harm my precious grandson, I will never forgive him lightly!"

"It's Jaden and Jayla!"

Margaret said, directly flopping down on her knees, "Madam, just now I went to the kitchen and saw Jaden and Jayla standing next to Miss Wells' meal, and they poured something into it."

"I didn't think much about it at the time, I just thought that Jaden and Jayla had kindly added some seasoning to Miss Wells' meals, but I didn't expect that Miss Wells would start having abdominal pain after eating those meals."

"I know Jaden and Jayla are childish and naughty, but if the child inside Miss Wells' belly is in trouble ....."

"Jaden and Jayla?" Joanna obviously had doubts about Margaret's words, after all, she genuinely loved these two children, and she did not want to believe that the children she loved could have such a malevolent mind.

"Margaret, did you really see Jaden and Jayla?" Joanna asked again with a cold face.

"It's true!" Margaret raised her face warily, "Jaden and Jayla are both treasures of the Fitzgerald family, and I wouldn't dare offend them, but I saw it all, and if I didn't speak up, I wouldn't be able to live with my conscience."

"Madam, I ..... I saw it too." Another servant Jorgie also spoke up.

Jorgie glanced at Jaden and Jayla with complicated eyes, and then went on to say to Joanna, "Moreover, I heard the conversation between Jaden and Jayla that day."

"They said that they hated Miss Wells and the child inside Miss Wells' belly. They said that the child inside Miss Wells' belly was born to compete with them for the family fortune of the Fitzgerald family, and they really hoped that Miss Wells would not be able to give birth to this child."

"What?!" Joanna's face sank, and her eyes gazed deeply at Jaden and Jayla.

These two children are only five years old, but they have minds that are better than those of teenagers. They really could have said something like that.

The old lady's heart sank, she had known how cruel the internal strife of the gentry was, in order to fight for this so-called family fortune, the happy family could be made into a bloody mess.

For example, Mike and Kieran, and before that, Tomas and Samuel.

"Don't you talk nonsense! How could Jaden and Jayla possibly harm the child in my belly! The child in my belly is their relative!" Regina didn't believe what Jorgie was saying, and she coldly scolded her, "If you dare to talk nonsense again, I will definitely sue you for slander!"

“Miss Wells, I’m really not making this up, I really heard Jaden and Jayla say something like that! Not only that, I also heard that they wanted to find a way to drive you out of the Fitzgerald family!” Jorgie looked anxious, “Miss Wells, I’m telling the truth!”

“Miss Wells, you’re kind, Jaden and Jayla simply can’t see you well, they harmed you, but you still speak for them!”

“Stop it! No matter what you say, I don’t believe that Jaden and Jayla would do such a thing!” As if she was afraid that Joanna would believe what Jorgie and Margaret said, Regina hurriedly grabbed her hand, “Grandma, don’t listen to the nonsense! They are trying to divide us from Jaden and Jayla, I don’t believe the two children would do such a vicious thing!”

“Madam, I really didn’t lie, it’s actually not the first time that Jaden and Jayla have harmed Miss Wells, they even deliberately spilled beads in Miss Wells’ room a few days ago, just to make her fall! When I saw that, I didn’t want to make a big deal out of it and quietly asked Jessie to clean up the beads.”

Receiving Jorgie’s look, Jessie hurriedly said, “Madam, I can testify for Jorgie that Jaden and Jayla did do such things the other day!”

If only one person had said that the two kids were responsible for the bad deeds, Joanna might not have believed her, but now that several people had testified against them, she was convinced.

Her face was written with disappointment, she spoke somewhat wearily, “Jaden, Jayla, what do you want to say?!”

Chapter 870

Knowing that the two kids were clever and cunning, Joanna quietly asked the maid to go to their room to find the remnants of the laxative so that they would be completely speechless.

Jaden and Jayla looked at each other, their eyes were full of disappointment. They were respectful of Joanna, they did not expect that their beloved great-grandmother would not even have the most basic trust in them.

Are they, in the eyes of their grandmother, the bad kind of children?

No one can be completely free from the love of money, but Jaden and Jayla have never really coveted the Fitzgerald family’s money.

They have been taught well by Freya since they were small and are more than happy to earn money on their own, inheriting the family business or whatever is simply not part of their life plan.

Moreover, they were expecting this child inside Regina’s belly.

They even said that they would treat this child very well, as if it were their own sibling.

It was true that they did not like Regina, but they knew that the child was innocent and, moreover, it was their Uncle Simon’s child, who was good to his daddy, so naturally they would be good to his child.

They dared not think that these people, together, would set them up like this.

“Great Grandma, we didn’t hurt the little baby inside Regina’s belly.” Jayla was the first to speak up, her cute face filled with aggression, “Great Grandma, in your heart, are my brother and I the kind of bad children who would harm our loved ones? You have wronged me and my brother so much, I feel so bad!”

Seeing Jayla’s aggrieved look, Joanna’s heart could not help but ache, but thinking of Regina’s near miscarriage, her face, again, was shrouded in a layer of coldness.

“Jaden, Jayla, I want to hear the truth from you.”

Jaden’s face, which resembled Kieran’s, was also ice-cold. He could naturally hear that this so-called request by Joanna to hear the truth from him was to ask him to admit that he had hurt Regina.

They say that children are unreasonable, but in fact, adults are the most unreasonable.

They are always self-righteously throwing all sorts of labels at others, without understanding that they are not in a position to throw labels at others at will.

“Great Grandma, Jayla and I haven’t done anything bad.” Jaden said word for word, “Rather, it’s Regina, you are an adult who is dozens of years older than Jayla and I, and you still bought off so many people to target our two children. Doesn’t your conscience hurt?!”

Being gazed at by Jaden’s cold and austere eyes, Regina seemed to see Kieran’s dark and deep eyes, and a chill ran through her heart.

But almost immediately, she regained her composure. It would be better if these two kids were rude to her in front of Joanna! In that way, Joanna would feel she was aggrieved and would stand firm on her side!

Thinking this way, Regina hurriedly put on an appearance of enduring humiliation and said to Jaden, “Jaden, I never wanted to target you and Jayla, I truly love you guys as my own children. I won’t believe other people’s nonsense about today’s incident, I believe you are good children, don’t be upset anymore.”

“Regina, don’t pretend! You’ve even found someone to set us up, I don’t believe you haven’t targeted us!” This hypocritical look of Regina really disgusted Jayla, and she couldn’t help but speak up.

“Jayla, I really didn’t! How can you say that?” Regina was so aggrieved that tears almost fell down her face, she took a deep breath and still said graciously, “Jayla, I will do better in the future and I hope you will like me one day.”

“Regina, if you want me and my brother to like you, in another life!” Jayla raised her face arrogantly, it was really too diabolical to face Regina, whose acting of faking pity was creeping her out.

The corners of Regina’s lips couldn’t be controlled to rise, the harder Jayla and Jaden spoke, the better the situation was for her, today, their image in Joanna’s mind was completely ruined!

Although Kieran is now in control of the Fitzgerald family and has become the new head of the Fitzgerald’s, Joanna’s position in the Fitzgerald family is still untouchable by anyone.

And, in her hands, she holds a staggering amount of wealth.

If Joanna completely abandons these two kids and is determined to pave the way for her, who will dare to despise her in the future of the Fitzgerald family?

“Jayla, I .....” Regina lowered her eyes pitifully, obviously, she was hurt by Jayla’s words.

“Jaden, Jayla, I’m sorry, it’s all my fault, I apologize to you guys. You guys don’t hate me anymore in the future, okay?”

“Regina, don’t apologise to them!” When Joanna saw that Regina was already aggrieved enough, she even apologized to those two little kids, Joanna had better impression on her.

“Grandma, don’t be angry, it’s really my fault for what happened tonight! I shouldn’t have .....”

“Regina, it was Jaden and Jayla who caused you to suffer, you didn’t do anything wrong!” Joanna stared coldly at Jaden and Jayla and ordered word for word, “Admit your mistake! Apologise to Regina!”

“Great Grandma, we will not apologise to Regina!” Jaden’s eyes were firm as he said.

Jayla pouted and said, “Yes, we’re not wrong, so why should we apologize! It’s Regina who should apologise!”

Joanna was already angry enough, and now she was even more furious when she heard Jaden and Jayla’s unrepentant words.

What little patience she had left was completely exhausted.

If she did not teach the two kids a lesson, they would never know they had made a big mistake!

Joanna was about to have a fit, but a servant hurried in, he respectfully put a packet of laxatives into Joanna’s hands, “Madam, this was found in Jaden’s room.”

Looking at the packet of laxatives, Joanna’s expression was unprecedentedly serious, “Jaden, Jayla, what else do you have to say?!”

Without waiting for Jaden and Jayla to speak, she ordered in a cold voice to the servant at the side, “Get ready to punish the two kids!”
