

Talented 871

Chapter 871

Joanna's eyes were cold. If the two little ones had added this big bag of laxatives to Regina's meal, the baby in her belly would have been dead!

The Fitzgerald family has a very strict family law that corresponds to both adults and children.

The adults were usually beaten with a board with a fine needle, and the skin had to be faded after a family spanking.

There are also different family laws for different ages of young children.

The family law used on children as old as Jaden and Jayla is usually a ruler on the palm of the hand.

A child's skin is delicate, so after a family law, both hands will be swollen.

Hearing Joanna's words, the crowd at the scene was astonished, they did not expect that Joanna would use the family law on these two children.

A heavy ruler on their hands would make these two children cry!

"Grandma, don't do this! Jaden and Jayla are still just kids!" Regina hypocritically put in a good word for them, "Grandma, will you spare them this time?!"

"They made mistake!" Joanna's voice was stern to the extreme, "Such a young child is not right-minded, if I don't teach them strictly, what will happen when he grows up!"

Joanna took the ruler handed to her by the maid, she had wanted to give these two kids.

But in the end, she could not bear to do it herself, and as she felt that she was too old and had limited strength to teach a hard enough lesson, she gave the ruler to Jorgie, who was standing by.

"Beat them hard!" Joanna ordered through clenched teeth, and after saying this, she twisted her face to the side.

Regina gave a wink to Jorgie, signalling that she must strike hard.

The ruler can be light or heavy, and if it is light, at most it will make the palm swell and hurt a little.

But if she hits it hard enough, she can just make those hands ruined.

Anyway, it was an order from Joanna, so even if it was a heavy blow, no one could blame her.

She actually knew in her heart that Joanna did not intend to beat Jaden and Jayla really as hard as she did, but they were not roundworms inside Joanna's stomach, so what if she had beaten them hard and crippled them!

Jaden and Jayla are indeed rare prodigies, but two prodigies with ruined hands are still crippled even if they are powerful!

How can two cripples compete with the child inside her belly for this million dollar fortune!

“Grandma, please, please spare Jaden and Jayla! They’re still so young, they won’t be able to take it if this ruler falls on them! Grandma, I know you actually love them the most, if they really get beaten up, you’ll be the one who’ll be heartbroken in the end!”

“My Fitzgerald family does not have such vicious descendants! They have done bad things and deserve to be punished! Beat them! Even if they are killed or maimed, they deserve it!”

It took a lot of effort for Regina to hold back her laughter.

She was waiting for these words from Joanna.

It’s good to kill and maim them! In that way, Jorgie can beat them boldly!

Jorgie raised the ruler and struck it hard at Jaden’s hand.

Jaden, who had no particular penchant for being abused, dodged quickly and snatched the ruler from Jorgie’s hand.

Jaden has been studying sparring lately. He is already smart and his academic achievements have skyrocketed, so it is not that hard to snatch things from grown woman.

Joanna did not expect Jaden to hide, and even, to snatch the ruler out of Jorgie’s hand.

How could the Fitzgerald family have such unworthy grandsons who did not repent for their mistakes and openly defied the authority of the Fitzgerald family law?

“Jaden, you’re trying to rebel, aren’t you?!” Joanna was so angry that her heart rose and fell violently, and she gasped hard for a while before she felt better.

Her eyes were tinged with a heavy disgust as she looked at Jaden, “Give me the ruler!”

“Great Grandma, I told you, we were framed, the Fitzgerald family law beats those who are not right-minded, but Jayla and I did not make a mistake, so why should we willingly accept the family law?!”

Jaden’s eyes were like knives sweeping across the faces of Jorgie, Margaret and Jessie, “You say I framed Regina, what tangible evidence can you produce? Don’t say that the packet of medicine found in my room is evidence! Who knows if you put it in my room on purpose?!”

“We ……” met Jaden’s pair of cool Kieran’s eyes, several of them could not help but feel timid.

But thinking of the high reward Regina offered them, they carried this frame-up to the end.

Margaret was the first to speak up, “Jaden, how could we deliberately put the medicine in your room to frame you? We didn’t want what happened today! Admit your mistake, apologize to your great grandma, and don’t make her angry again! If you’re willing to correct your mistakes, you’ll still be a good boy to us all!”

“Margaret, how much money did Regina give you to frame me and Jayla?!”

Margaret’s heart flinched, her face couldn’t help but look pale, she did not expect that Jaden would know about Regina transferring money to her.

Margaret had lived for fifty to sixty years and had experienced great storms, she quickly calmed down, "Jaden, I don't know what you're talking about, it's the Fitzgerald family that pays my salary, how could Miss Wells pay me!"

Jaden didn't bother to argue with Margaret anymore, he turned his face and stared coldly at Jessie, "Jessie, it was my mommy who cured you of your infertility. My mommy is kind to you, and this is how you treat your benefactor's child?!"

"I"

Jessie didn't know what to say for a moment.

It is true that Freya had done her a great favour, and it was unjustifiable for her to help Regina harm her child, but the money that Regina gave her was really too tempting, it was something that she could not earn in her lifetime, and she simply could not refuse it.

Fearing that it might reveal itself, Jessie hurriedly steadied her mind, "Jaden, Freya did help me a lot and I will be grateful to her for the rest of my life, so there is no way I could help someone else to frame you, I am telling the truth."

"Well, it's not up to you to say whether you're telling the truth or not, and we'll all find out soon enough whether you're lying or telling the truth!"

After saying this, Jaden's eyes fell back to Jorgie's face, "Jorgie, you've been shopping online a lot lately! I have a doubt, how did the laxative you bought online get inside my room? Jorgie, can you help me with my confusion?!"

Chapter 872

Hearing Jaden's words, Jorgie was shocked.

He never expected that a little kid of more than five years old could have such a terrifying aura and, he had known that he had purchased laxatives online!

It was a hot summer day in the city, even at night, but all over Jorgie's body wrapped in a piercing coolness. He looked at Jaden with a frightened expression, his tongue tied before he regained his voice.

"Jaden, I don't know what you mean by that. It was clearly you who gave Miss Wells the laxative, don't you dare try to accuse me falsely!"

"I falsely accused you?!" Jaden laughed coldly, that face was terrifyingly cold, "Jorgie, I am giving you a chance."

"Jorgie, confess truthfully! Why do you think you framed me and my brother? Who ordered you to do it?" Jayla puts her hands on her waist, "If you dare to continue lying, my brother will abuse you so much that you can't even cry!"

Joanna listened to Jaden and Jorgie's conversation and also realised that something was wrong with this matter, she frowned and asked, "What online shopping? What is this all about?"

“Great Grandma, the other day I accidentally saw Jorgie sneaking around picking up a delivery, and by coincidence, I heard him discussing with Margaret and Jessie about harming Jayla and me. Jayla and I are not fools, we can’t just wait meekly to be framed”

“So I hacked his phone, and to my surprise I found out that he had recently purchased several packs of laxatives online. I didn’t know exactly what he was up to and didn’t want to spook him, but I didn’t expect him to start making bad moves so quickly and to give Regina such a heavy dose of laxatives!”

“If anything really happens to the little baby inside Regina’s belly, then he’s really guilty!”

“Don’t talk nonsense!” Jorgie’s face turned red as he anxiously defended himself, “Madam, don’t listen to Jaden’s nonsense! I really didn’t buy any laxatives, he deliberately set me up! I’m really innocent!”

After saying this, he turned his face again and questioned in a stern voice towards Jaden, “Jaden, you’ve made such a bad mistake and you still don’t know how to repent, you’ve simply disgraced the Fitzgerald family!”

“Jorgie, the one who made the mistake is you!” Jayla couldn’t see others cursing her most admired brother, she glared at Jorgie with round eyes and looked at him with anger, “Jorgie, you’re really bad! My brother has given you a chance to correct yourself, but you still keep making mistakes!”

Jaden took out his mobile phone from his pocket and handed it to Joanna, “Great Grandma, this is Jorgie’s online purchase record, the laxative he bought online is exactly the same as the laxative retrieved from my room! Great Grandma, Jayla and I were really set up by him!”

Seeing the screenshot on Jaden’s phone, Joanna’s face was unpleasant. The recipient of that laxative was Jorgie.

Her hand that was holding Jaden’s mobile phone trembled uncontrollably, obviously, she didn’t expect her trusted henchman for so many years to do such a thing under her nose.

“Jorgie, I think you owe me an explanation!”

“Madam, I’ve really been wrongly accused!”

Jorgie was still trying to make a desperate struggle, “I really didn’t harm the child inside Miss Wells’ belly! It was Jaden and Jayla who deliberately set me up!”

“Yes, they set me up on purpose! They could hack my phone, so naturally they could fake my shopping records, they just wanted me to take the blame for them!”

“I’m setting you up?” For Jorgie’s sophistry, there was not the slightest panic on Jaden’s face, “Jorgie, do we have to confront the courier company before you are willing to admit that you have received such a courier?!”

“Yes, I did receive a courier recently! But the courier wasn’t a laxative!” Jorgie thought that even if he went to confront the courier company, he might not be able to find out what his courier was, and he instantly gained a lot more confidence.

“Jorgie, you’re not too confident!” Jaden’s lips were slightly hooked, but, his smile did not make people feel the slightest bit of warmth.

“Jorgie, do you think that even if we confront the courier company, we won’t be able to find out what’s inside your courier?! I’m telling you, it can really be found out! The online shop where you bought the laxatives only sells one item, do you think you can get away with it if we confront them?”

The courier delivery showed the name of the shop, if that shop only sold laxatives, he indeed could not continue to sophistry!

Jaden’s voice continued, “Oh, Jorgie, I seem to have forgotten to remind you of something very important. Inside my room, there is a camera!”

“Although I am young, I have seen too many people with bad intentions, and I have installed a camera in my room in order for someone to deliberately cause mischief. Jorgie, how did the laxative inside my room get in there?”

“I’m really curious if it grew wings and flew into my room. Let’s go to my room and watch the video together and enjoy the winged laxative flying into my room, OK?!”

Jorgie collapsed to the ground in dismay, not daring to think that a child of over five could have such a meticulous mind.

He is already so terrifying now, when he grows up, he will definitely be even more terrifying than Mr. Fitzgerald!

Jorgie knew that he was completely finished this time!

Joanna was not stupid, seeing Jorgie in this state, she naturally knew that the matter of the laxative had something to do with Jorgie.

She stared sharply at him and asked, word for word, “Jorgie, say it! What the hell is going on here?! Did you really deliberately set up Jaden and Jayla?!”

“Jorgie, say something!” Seeing that Jorgie didn’t open his mouth, Jayla couldn’t help but feel anxious, “Do you have to go watch the video together before you’re willing to admit it?!”

“I say it!”

Jorgie clenched his teeth, and suddenly, he prostrated himself directly on the ground and heavily kowtowed to Joanan, “Madam, it was me who gave Miss Wells the laxative! I am sorry!”

Seeing Jorgie’s confession, Margaret and Jessie’s faces paled. They knew they couldn’t escape, so they followed him and knelt on the ground, admitting their mistakes over and over again.

“Jorgie, my Fitzgerald family has treated you well, why do you want to harm our Fitzgerald family so much?!”

Chapter 873

“Madam, I am sorry, you have indeed treated me well, but I am villainous. When Simon was alive, he once chastised me for stealing, I have always harboured a grudge and wanted to take revenge on him. Now that I know that Miss Wells is pregnant with his child, I feel that killing this child is the greatest revenge against him!”

“I didn’t think this child was too lucky to have survived! Margaret and Jessie are usually close to me, they were not involved in harming Miss Wells, it was me who coerced them into helping me frame Jaden and Jayla.”

“Because I knew this matter would definitely be exposed, and the only way I could rest easy was to find a scapegoat! It’s just that I never imagined that Jaden and Jayla were clever, not only did I fail to get them to take the blame for me, they even revealed my crime!”

“Madam, I’m sorry! Miss Wells, I’m sorry for what I have done, please spare me this time!”

Joanna was so tired in her heart that she didn’t want to deal with the matter herself, so she directly had someone call the police and send Jorgie, Margaret and Jessie to the police station.

Jorgie, Margaret and Jessie were quite righteous, they took Regina’s money and even though they had to report to the police, they did not betray Regina.

Jaden and Jayla did not continue to pursue Regina any further, not because they were merciful, but because Regina’s methods were getting more and more sophisticated.

Perhaps it was because she had been exposed to several transfer screenshots before and she had learned her lesson. This time, when she bribed Jorgie, Jessie and Margaret, she did not transfer money to them but gave them huge amounts of cash, so the evidence was not really easy to be found.

Joanna is particularly fond of Regina right now, and they have no tangible evidence to show her true face.

However, they would wait, they were sure that Regina would do it again, and once they caught the evidence, Regina would not be able to turn around!

When she thought that she had misunderstood two kids and almost beat them, Joanna felt guilty and heartbroken.

She grabbed Jaden and Jayla’s hands, “Jaden, Jayla, I’m sorry, I misunderstood you guys! I apologize to you, from now on, I will definitely not casually trust outsiders and wrong you!”

Although the ruler just now did not hit Jaden and Jayla’s hands, Joanna still felt that they might be in pain somewhere.

She heartily surveyed their faces, “Jaden, Jayla, I am sorry!”

Jayla hugged Joanna’s arm, “Great Grandma, don’t be sad, it’s the bad guys who are too rampant and deliberately set me and my brother up! Great Grandma, you are the best great grandma in the world, my brother and I love you the most!”

Jaden also hugged Joanna’s other arm and said softly, “Great Grandma, don’t blame yourself, Jayla and I know you love us the most, we don’t blame you!”

Joanna was already distressed enough, but now that she saw the two little ones being so understanding, she was even more distressed.

How could she have believed someone else's words and said something about their hearts being wrong?
How sad they must be to hear that!

Joanna gently stroked the two heads and said in her heart that she would have to be kinder to them in the future.

After tossing and turning for so long, Joanna was really tired.

Jaden and Jayla wanted to talk to Regina. Joanna was happy to see that they were so close to Regina, so she reassured them before she went back to her room with the help of the maids.

When facing Joanna, Jaden and Jayla both had light smiles on their faces, but when facing Regina, the smiles on their faces instantly froze.

Jaden sat gracefully on the sofa in the room, "Regina, how does it feel to take laxatives? Does it feel good?"

"Brother, what kind of retarded question are you asking! How can taking laxatives feel good?!"

Jayla had a wry smile, "Regina, am I right? Let me guess, how many times did you squat on the toilet tonight? One, two, three, four, five, Regina, you don't ruin our toilet, or you have to pay for it!"

She had suffered so much this evening but had not succeeded in trapping the two little ones, Regina was already devastated enough inside, and now that she was being taunted by Jaden and Jayla, she was furious.

She won't let them off the hook! Absolutely not!

Tonight, she didn't make them crippled, but one day sooner or later, she would make them cry! No, she would get them killed.

Seeing Regina's face twisted in anger, unable to even speak, Jaden and Jayla were in a somewhat brighter mood.

They were probably also slightly twisted psychologically, seeing Regina get defeated really made them feel indescribably good!

Jayla smiled heatedly at Regina, "Regina, does your stomach still hurt now? Do you want to go to the toilet to squat and poo?!"

Laxatives are really quite difficult to deal with, and even with the medication prescribed by the doctor, she is unlikely to get better immediately.

Originally, Regina hadn't felt much, but after hearing Jayla's words, she just felt her stomach twitch and wanted to go to the bathroom again.

Jayla was the best at reading people's opinions, and when she saw Regina's expression of trying to hold it in, she knew that Regina could not hold it anymore.

With her and Jaden still here, Regina would definitely not go to the bathroom, so Jayla sat down on the couch as well, intending to wait until she broke down.

Regina was really devastated, going to the bathroom with laxatives would create a lot of discordant noises, and if these two kids heard those noises, they would laugh at her!

But if she didn't go, she was really worried that she wouldn't be able to hold it together and would just use the bed as a toilet.

So, at this moment, she is tormented.

"Regina, I've got a great idea for you!"

Jayla spoke slowly, looking as if she planned to spend the night in this room, "In the future, if you set me and my brother up, don't ever use such a clumsy trick! Eating laxatives is really clumsy!"

"Regina, do you know what you can do to really trap me and my brother?"

Chapter 874

Without waiting for Regina to say anything, Jayla added with a smirk, "Eat poison!"

"You poisoned yourself, and maybe, if Great Grandma took pity on you, she'd even beat me and my brother! Regina, remember? Next time you set me and my brother up, make sure you take poison! When you poison yourself to death, my brother and I will be kind enough to offer you incense!"

"Jayla!"

Regina could no longer maintain her gentle and ladylike demeanour, she could not control her voice and shouted out at Jayla.

Jayla was not intimidated, and she did not panic in the slightest at this annoyed look on her face.

She held out a finger and shook her head fervently, "No? No! Regina, you can't call my name so grumpily! Don't you like to pretend to be pure and virtuous? You should say, "Jayla, you're so good, even if you poisoned me, I'd still smile at you!"

"Regina, give me a smile!"

Regina gasped hard, she was such a proud and reserved person, she never thought that one day she would almost be angered by a little kid.

"Jayla, you've gone too far!" Regina, who had been silent, suddenly spoke up, her face carried obvious dissatisfaction.

Regina really disliked Jaden, but at this moment, she suddenly felt that compared to Jayla, Jaden was simply a little angel!

However, Jaden hadn't been a little angel for three seconds, and the next second, he completely turned into a little devil.

Regina heard him say, "Jayla, how can you bully the disabled elderly!"

Regina was so angry, she was in her prime and beautiful, how could she be a disabled elderly person?

Jayla thoughtfully asked the question in her mind for Regina, "Brother, it seems that Regina is not disabled! How can you say she's a disabled elderly person?!"

"She is brain-dead, would you say she's a disabled elderly?!"

Hearing Jaden's words, Regina was completely devastated, she wished to cut these two little brats to pieces, but she didn't have a knife now, not only that, she was on the verge of treating the bed as a toilet.

Regina could no longer manage to sit motionless on the bed, and with some difficulty she got out of bed and made her way to the bathroom.

She was in a hurry, she really wanted to rush into the washroom with a stride, but she was about to lose her nerve. She was afraid that if she moved faster, it would pour out all at once, so she could only walk slowly towards the washroom in a strange position.

Jayla didn't miss any opportunity to mock Regina, she pointed at her and laughed so hard that she couldn't catch her breath, "Brother, Regina is so kind! She knows we're bored tonight, so she deliberately performed a bear walking for us."

She is so beautiful, she naturally walks with a lot of grace and style, how can she walk like a bear!

There is no need to endure any more.

Regina was just about to throw away her ladylike manner and swear at Jayla, but when she opened her mouth, she couldn't hold it together and was incontinent!

At once, the inside of the room was filled with discordant sounds, Jaden and Jayla were afraid that if there were too few people to appreciate Regina at such a humiliating time, she would be too lonely, and the two of them rushed quickly to the door, shouting at the top of their voices, "Someone come quickly! Regina is not feeling well again!"

"Somebody, please! Save Regina!"

That night, Regina's most wretched side was seen by almost all the people of the Fitzgerald's house, she could never forget in her next life how humiliated she was.

Freya's serious injury was to her head, with a severe concussion, but her body was not heavily injured. Although the bleeding looked quite frightening, in fact her body was mostly superficial injuries, and did not hurt the bones, let alone internal organs.

After she woke up, her body recovered well, and after the bandages were removed, she felt that she would have no problem even if she was discharged from the hospital immediately, but Kieran was always uneasy and insisted that she continue to stay in the hospital.

Inside the hospital, unable to go anywhere, Freya was so bored.

If Kieran hadn't been there with her all day, she would have been bored out of her mind.

After Kieran regained his memory, he really was nice to her.

She hardly had to do anything except open her mouth at meal times.

He is obviously so indifferent, but in front of her, he always turns into a sweet and caring person.

The only thing that leaves Freya speechless is that he is still as jealous as ever after he regains his memory.

During the time he lost his memory, he was jealous of himself, and now that he has regained his memory, he is still all kinds of addicted to be jealousy.

Now it has gone so far that he is even jealous of Jaden, Jayla and even the child inside her belly.

Freya sometimes really felt that she was full of maternal glory, and for the increasingly childish Mr. Fitzgerald, she sometimes felt that she had raised one more child.

After spending most of the month in the hospital, Freya finally received permission from Kieran to be discharged.

It was evening when she was discharged from the hospital, and she thought Kieran would take her straight back to Kelsington Bay with him.

However, he actually drove her to the back of the mountain behind the Fitzgerald's house.

If someone else took her to this kind of place at this night, she really felt like she was going to be slaughtered and split up, but when Mr. Fitzgerald took her there, she had an endless sense of security in her heart.

But even though she felt quite safe, Freya was still dumbfounded, what was Mr. Fitzgerald doing taking her up the mountain this late at night?

Mr. Fitzgerald's psyche was already twisted enough, but after recovering his memory, his psychological twist has gone to a new level!

"Mr. Fitzgerald, aren't we going home? Isn't it a bit inappropriate for us to go up the mountain in the dark this late at night?" Freya asked, speaking rather politely.

Although she really wasn't sleepy right now, she really didn't want go to the mountain and bask in the moonlight with Mr. Fitzgerald!

"Freya, I want to see the stars, can't you go with me?"

Freya, "....."

Well, how can she refuse to be pampered again with such a pathetic tone! Forget it, just feed herself to the mosquitoes, as long as Mr. Fitzgerald is happy!

But this preference of Mr. Fitzgerald is really odd that he has to go to the top of the mountain to see the stars.

Thinking of the beautiful view from the top of the mountain, Kieran is already a little impatient.

He stepped on the accelerator. He felt blackness in front of him and the landscape, in an instant, became a blur.

Chapter 875

However, it was momentary, and in the blink of an eye, the feeling of intense discomfort was gone.

Kieran's vision gradually regained its clarity, and the surrounding landscape, illuminated by the light, was as charming as it was at first.

This feeling came and went so quickly, and because he had always been in good health, Kieran didn't think much of it.

He stepped on the accelerator and the sports car drove even faster, and before long he was taking his beloved girl to the top of the mountain.

Freya opened the car door and was just about to get out, but she fell into a warm embrace. She was really speechless at Kieran's cautiousness.

It's not like she's crippled or anything, she's just been hospitalized and she's recovered, why did he have to carry her when she walked?

Mr. Fitzgerald is determined to raise her as a cripple!

Although she thought so, but Freya's heart is full of sweetness, to be able to get Mr. Fitzgerald's devoted love, she was joyful.

"Mr. Fitzgerald, there are indeed quite a lot of stars in the sky this evening." Freya cocked her head and looked at the sky full of stars, standing on the top of the mountain. There was an illusion of being particularly close to the stars, as if, she could pick the stars with hands.

Kieran replied softly, and without another word, he carried Freya and walked ahead.

"Mr. Fitzgerald, the starry sky is quite beautiful tonight, I didn't expect you to be quite romantic and enjoy looking at the stars."

In fact, she likes to see the stars too, with her beloved one.

Kieran faintly replied, Freya flattened her mouth. Well, this man is good at everything, just too shy of words.

In front of her, there was a large expanse of green grass, and in the middle of it, there were all kinds of unknown flowers.

It must be especially romantic to lie with Mr. Fitzgerald among the flowers and grass, listening to the insects and birds and watching the starry sky.

Freya thought that Kieran was going to carry her and lie down together on the grass in front of her to watch the stars, but unexpectedly, he carried her and continued to walk ahead.

He did not stop until he reached a glass flower room outside.

Seeing the huge glass flower house in front of her, Freya could not help but stare in disbelief.

Not long ago, she had been to the top of this mountain. At that time, there was no such glass flower house on the top of this mountain. So when did it build up?

Thinking of something, Freya's heart could not help but softly tremble, this could not be the glass flower room that Mr. Fitzgerald had specially built for her, right?

Without waiting for Freya to ask the question in her mind, Kieran had already carried her into the glass flower room.

Inside the flower room, flowers are everywhere and the scent of flowers lingers beautifully.

Women, to a greater or lesser extent, are fond of all kinds of beautiful flowers, and naturally, Freya is no exception, having a feeling of being dazzled by the chaotic flowers.

"Freya, do you like it?"

As she was lost in her own thoughts, Kieran's voice brushed past her ears like a fresh breeze.

Freya was stunned as she suddenly remembered something she had said to him before he lost his memory.

She said that the most romantic thing she had ever wanted to do in her life was to lie with the man she loved most and look at the stars from inside a glass flower room.

She was surrounded by the mesmerising scent of flowers, and overhead was a gloriously starry sky.

At the time, she only said it casually and she didn't even take it to heart herself, but she never thought he would always remember and make her dream come true.

"I like it!" Freya smiled with arched eyebrows, how could she not like it! As long as it was something given to her by Mr. Fitzgerald, she would like it! What's more, this glass flower room was so much to her liking.

In front of her, there was a large field of light pink flowers, soft and beautiful. Freya jumped down from Kieran's arms, she took his hand and wanted to lie with him on this flower-strewn ground, to count stars for one night.

As she was just about to ask Kieran to lie down, she suddenly thought of something very serious – Mr. Fitzgerald was allergic to pollen!

Lying in the middle of a million flowers and looking at the stars is indeed a very romantic thing to do, but with all that pollen, for those with pollen allergies, it's not romantic, it's risking life!

"Mr. Fitzgerald, let's get out of here! There are too many flowers here! You're allergic to pollen, you'll be uncomfortable!"

As she said that, Freya clutched his hand and pulled him out, "Mr. Fitzgerald, do you feel uncomfortable anywhere? Is your nose uncomfortable? Is your face itchy?"

Kieran did not have the slightest intention of going out, he stood still and suddenly, he leaned down and gave a kiss on the back of Freya's hand, "Freya, I want to kiss you."

Freya's face was flushed, this man was so shameless. She was discussing with him about pollen allergy, okay! Who wants to discuss kiss with him!

“Mr. Fitzgerald, behave yourself! You’re allergic to pollen! You can’t risk your life!”

“Freya, I’m fine, I’ve taken anti-allergy medicine before I came. I can watch the stars with you.”

After saying that, Kieran leaned back and laid down in the middle of the patch of flowers in front of him.

Making sure he would not be allergic, Freya also lay down in the flowers aside.

There is indeed something special about lying among the flowers and looking at the stars through the glass roof.

It was like, a hazy dream, so beautiful as to be almost impractical.

For the first time in his life, Freya felt that the starry sky was so beautiful.

She thought that the biggest reason why the starry sky would be so beautiful would be that the person who was watching the stars with her was Mr. Fitzgerald.

Freya really thinks that children who count stars are quite childish, there are so many stars in the sky, even if they count them until their hair turns grey, they will not be able to count them.

But this evening, she childishly counted the stars one by one, and in the end, she forgot how many she had counted.

Freya turned her face, wanted to ask the man beside her if the starry sky was beautiful, but before she could say anything, she saw a shooting star streak across the sky.

She excitedly pointed at the shooting stars in the sky, “Mr. Fitzgerald, look! There’s a shooting star!”

Kieran put on a dotting smile, he had known for a long time that there would be a shooting star tonight, so he had brought her here, in fact, the most important purpose was to see the shooting star.

It was said in Secret Book of Wife Chasing that if a man wants a woman to love him more, he should take her to see shooting star.

He believes in Freya’s feelings for him, but he just wants her to like him a little more, so he wants to do more of the things on Secret Book of Wife Chasing.

Accompany her in fulfilling her most beautiful wishes, chasing all the heart-stopping romance with her, and giving her a world of love that he will never regret.

“Mr. Fitzgerald, did you make a wish?” When Freya saw Kieran nod, she excitedly pursued, “Mr. Fitzgerald, what did you wish for?”

Chapter 876

Freya had just made a wish, and her wish was that there would be no more parting for the rest of her life, and that their family would grow old happily ever after.

She had Mr. Fitzgerald in her wish, and she greedily wished that she was also in Mr. Fitzgerald’s wish.

Kieran lovingly rubbed Freya’s head, “It can’t be fulfilled if I say it out.”

Freya’s face was slightly lost, Mr. Fitzgerald was not going to tell her about his wish.

However, she knew that she was in his wish, he liked her so much, how could the wish he made have nothing to do with her!

It is true that among Kieran's wishes is Freya, to be precise, only Freya, and his wish is that she will grow old safely and happily.

Freya really wanted to lie in the flowers all night tonight, but she was now pregnant and Kieran forbade her to lie on the floor for too long, so she could only be carried by him mournfully to the bedroom upstairs.

In her dream, the breeze was warm, the birds were singing and the flowers were fragrant, and under the stars, she, Jaden, Jayla and Kieran were talking and laughing joyfully, as if, the beauty would never end.

In her sleep, the corners of Freya's lips could not be controlled to rise, in her opinion, all those sufferings have passed and the future is getting better and better.

However, she never expected that the deepest calamity of her life had just begun.

The situation of World is now getting better and better. Since the exposure of Robin's plagiarism in the finals, Court is at an unprecedented low, and for a while, has no power to continue competing with World.

Naturally, World cannot compete with big brands like Nirvana right now, but it does stand alone among these emerging brands.

Not only is Freddie talented in design, but he also has good management skills, so there is little need for Freya to worry about it. Kieran asked for leave for her from the hospital, so she did not have to go to work recently.

Staying at the hospital, Freya feels bored, and when she is always staying at Kelsington Bay, she is also bored. Tonight, Rosie has a birthday party at her family's villa, so Freya could finally get out.

Rosie is particularly fond of that tone of extreme luxury, so her birthday party was luxury.

Kiki was originally planning to come over with Freya tonight, but two days ago Quinn insisted on taking her to Hawaii for her honeymoon, and she was so pestered by him that she had no choice but to go on her honeymoon again.

It was okay to go on a honeymoon, but Quinn wants to go on a honeymoon with her twice a day.

Although she was quite helpless at this clingy behaviour of Quinn, Kiki's heart was inextricably sweet.

For the first half of her life, she had longed for nothing more than the quiet of the years, and now, at last, her dream had come true.

Rosie, who is outgoing and loves to call on friends, had an extraordinarily busy birthday party, and almost everyone she knew a little had received an invitation to the party.

Regina is on good terms with her and she will naturally attend her birthday party.

Freya hated Regina from the bottom of her heart, and even though Joanna had told her many times that they should get along well, she still didn't bother to exchange pleasantries with her.

Regina has tried to hurt her many times, but she's not a saint, so she can't get along with Regina!

Moreover, Freya always felt that Simon's death was not as simple as Steven had said, but it could have been related to Regina.

However, now she had no evidence and couldn't do anything to Regina.

Besides, Regina is carrying Simon's child in her belly, so she also wants that child to be born.

Kieran once told her that no matter if Regina had anything to do with Simon's death or not, just because she had bullied Freya time and again, he would never let her go!

When Regina gives birth to her child, he will make her pay the heaviest price!

Sometimes, Freya really thinks that Regina is quite boring. Every time she attends a party, she is too lazy to talk to her, but Regina always likes to seek some presence in front of her.

In the midst of the banquet hall where light was strewn, Regina saw Freya at a glance.

She gracefully got up from her seat before coming towards Freya.

"Freya, you've recovered well, congratulations." The corners of Regina's lips carried an impeccable smile, as if, she and Freya were really old friends.

"Kieran took such good care of me, so naturally I recovered well." Freya casually took a cup of juice from the side and spoke faintly.

When she heard Kieran's name, Regina's expression, for a moment, stiffed, and in her eyes, there was an uncontrollable jealousy, but her self-control was really strong enough, and in the blink of an eye, she was back to that elegant and noble look, as if, the hideous twist on her face just now was only Freya's illusion.

"Kieran is so kind to you." Regina smiled sincerely, but her voice sounded unspeakably creepy, "Freya, I really hope that he can be good to you for the rest of his life!"

Hearing Regina's words, a bad feeling inexplicably arose in Freya's heart, and she shook her head hard to stop herself from thinking about it.

Regina is not nice, she says some inexplicable things to make her feel uncomfortable, she can't fall into Regina's trap.

"Regina, there's really no need for you to worry about that, Kieran will always be good to me all the time."

Freya's eyes swept coolly over Regina's belly, her eyes were undisguised mockery, "Regina, you should worry more about yourself, in case you accidentally take diarrhea pills again and make it known to the world, it's you who will be humiliated!"

"Freya!" Regina's face instantly turned pale at this.

What happened that night was a shame she couldn't get past for the rest of her life, and although no one on the outside knew about that incident, the thought that Freya knew about it made her shiver with hatred!

Seeing the people around her, Regina did not want to ruin her precious and beautiful image, she forced herself to pull her lips, "Freya, thank you for your concern, you are so kind to me!"

"Freya, for the sake of you being so kind to me, let me also kindly remind you of one thing."

Regina smiled more and more gently and affectionately, "Freya, cherish the good times you have with Kieran, because soon, you will take the initiative to send him to my arms! Freya, that's all I have to say!"

"Freya, I'm waiting for you to send Kieran to my arms!" After saying this, Regina raised the cup in her hand at Freya and drank the juice inside in one go.

Chapter 877

Meeting Regina's provocative eyes, that feeling of unease in Freya's heart grew stronger.

However, she calmed down in a flash.

She was to grow old with Mr. Fitzgerald, no matter what happened, she could not give him up to Regina, even if she died, she thought, Mr. Fitzgerald liked her so much, he could not accept the disgusting Regina!

With this thought, Freya's heart felt a lot more comfortable as she unhurriedly took a sip of the juice in front of her, "Regina, have a nice dream!"

Regina was so sure of herself that she didn't continue to argue with Freya, she took another glass of juice and turned around to walk in the direction of the swimming pool.

She is now, in fact, a bit disdainful to fight with Freya, after all, Freya will soon become a dead person, so there is nothing to fight for!

Tonight, everything has been set up, just waiting for Freya to meekly be killed!

In the past, when attending such parties, Freya was basically in a state where no one paid attention to her, but now, all the people knew that Mr. Fitzgerald was back and Freya was his real wife, many people came over to talk with her.

Freya was speechless at the enthusiasm of these people, but she was a person who knew how to respect others, and even if she did not see the tendency of some people to be subservient, she would not make those people too embarrassed.

Later, unable to stand the enthusiasm of these people, Freya planned to go to the less crowded corridor to take a break.

Just as she reached the corridor, one of the maids hurried over, "Miss Freya, isn't it? Our Miss is waiting for you in the garden, she wants to see you."

Freya knew that Rosie, had a lot of ideas, so she might want to do something weird at the birthday party. Rosie called her to go over, so Rosie probably asked her to cooperate with her plan.

On such occasions, Freya would naturally not think in terms of danger, and with a nod to the servant, she headed in the direction of the garden.

Regina had been watching every move on Freya's side, and when she saw Freya walk out through the side door of the hall, the corners of her lips uncontrollably rose.

Goodbye, Freya!

Next year today, I will go to your grave and offer you incense!

The house was brightly lit this evening, and Freya thought that the garden would also be bright and shining, but unexpectedly, it was dimly lit.

Freya called Rosie to ask her what the hell she was up to, but she called several times in quick succession, but no one answered.

Recently Freya has encountered several dangers one after another, she is much more alert, and she always feels insecure in such shady places.

She was carrying a baby inside her now, and even if Rosie was the birthday girl tonight, she didn't want to go along with Rosie's shenanigans in a situation that made her visibly uneasy.

Freya stopped walking forward and she turned around and walked in the direction she had come from.

However, just as she took a step, a large hand tightened around her hand.

Freya's heart fluttered, and she tried with all her might to break the man's grip, but his strength was too great that she failed to do so.

"Let go of me! Who are you?! What do you want to do?!"

Freya raised her foot, she tried to attack the man but he dodged nimbly.

As the light sparkled behind her, Freya knew that at this moment she was behind a lotus pond. Seeing the man dragging her backwards with force, a very bad feeling arose in her heart.

Her sense of taste was particularly acute, and although she could not see the man before her in the darkness, she could smell him.

The smell of blood.

That was the smell on the man who tried to kill her last time in the ward!

Probably because he was worried that cutting her neck here would leave any clues, this time, the man did not move his knife on Freya.

With a sudden force in his hand, he dropped Freya directly into the lotus pond.

Freya did not shout for help, because this place was too far from the banquet hall, even if she shouted her throat, no one could come to her rescue, she was only putting herself in an even worse situation by shouting.

After Freya fell into the lotus pond, the man did not leave immediately, but tugged her long hair with a deadly grip, and suddenly, with the force of his hand, he pressed her head down heavily.

He was clearly trying to suffocate her.

“Let go of me! Let go of me!”

Freya struggled hard, jerked her face up to the surface, but the next moment her head was pinned back down by this man.

He used more and more force, and Freya could no longer lift her head, and on the surface of the water, only a few strands of her long hair could be revealed.

Her arms and legs, still flailing, were nothing more than a dying struggle, and the man didn't give her struggles a second thought.

The moonlight hit the man's face, his cold, rigid face, without a trace of expression, was like a walking corpse without a soul, without feelings.

He looked at Freya's eyes without a trace of pity, as if, at this moment, the person he was fiercely pressing into the water was not a living person, but just a dead thing.

After about two or three minutes, Freya's arms and legs stopped flapping and she lay motionless in the water, as if her whole body had frozen.

He knew that Freya must have choked or suffocated to death. He had gotten her information before and knew that she couldn't swim and since she had been in the water for so long with him holding her head down, she would have been dead!

If he had cut Freya's neck with a knife, when everyone found her body, it would naturally be positioned as a homicide case and the Fitzgerald family would not take it lying down easily.

But it was different when she died in the water. It was dark over here, and it was perfectly normal to accidentally step out of the way and fall into the water or something, so he didn't have to worry about being found out.

Seeing someone coming out of the banquet hall, he was afraid someone would see him, he stopped wasting time on Freya, so he sneered at the woman who was almost completely buried in the water, turned and walked quickly towards the back door of the house.

An insolent woman, who dares to provoke even their Wells family, is simply seeking her own death!

The back door of the villa was locked, but the man did not have the slightest difficulty in holding onto the wall, and with a body as agile as a cheetah, he leapt out of the nearly two-metre fence in a single bound.

After leaving the villa, he was the first to dial Walter's mobile phone to report on the situation.

After hanging up the phone, he called Regina again.

Regina was already in a good mood tonight, and after hearing his report, the corners of her lips could not be controlled to rise.

Freya is finally dead!

She did not expect that Freya would die so soon, and Regina had wanted to torture her a little longer!

But she can't wait to see Freya's corpse now!

Chapter 878

Freya climbed out of the lotus pond unhurriedly after the man had left.

If anyone had been there to see it, they would have thought it was a corpse coming to life.

After all, she had just been on the verge of sinking into the water without moving, and now she was climbing out of the water again, which was bizarre.

However, Freya is still alive and well.

She used to, indeed, not be able to swim, and was almost killed by Remy Byrne because of this shortcoming, and later, almost by Elisa Johnson and the girls.

But, having learned from her mistakes, with so many people wanted her to die in the water, if she didn't learn to swim, she would really be stupid.

She quietly asked Kieran to teach her how to swim.

A famous teacher makes a good pupil. Kieran is such a good swimmer, and under his personal tutelage, Freya's skills are naturally not bad.

And, in the process of learning to swim, Freya has discovered a new skill from herself.

She found that she was surprisingly gifted in the area of holding breath.

Kieran is also quite talented at holding breath, he is not comparable to those on the Guinness Book of Records for nearly twenty minutes, but he has no great problem holding on for nearly ten minutes.

Freya wasn't bad either, getting the hang of it and holding on for a maximum of six minutes.

Little did she know that the skills she had worked so hard to master would actually save her life.

Although she didn't choke to death, Freya was a pregnant woman and it was really hard on her body after being pressed in the water for so long.

However, her recovery was always first class, and after climbing up from the lotus pond and taking a few hard breaths, she felt well again.

The feeling of being wet all over her body was quite unbearable. Freya especially wanted to change into a dry dress, but she wanted to show her face in front of Regina.

She knew that Regina must have had something to do with her almost losing her life tonight.

She guessed Regina is now dancing with excitement at the news of her "death" and she is looking forward to the horror of seeing her alive and well in front of Regina.

Moreover, Freya can't bear with it when Regina already tried to get her killed.

When Freya came out just now, she saw Regina over by the swimming pool, and instead of going to the banquet hall, she went straight to the swimming pool to look for Regina.

Over at the pool, it was quite quiet, with only Regina and Olivia sitting on the loungers chatting.

At this moment, Regina's face was all sunshine. Normally, when she smiled, it was graceful, but because now, she was in such a soothing mood, she smiled from ear to ear.

Freya is finally dead, for sure she is happy!

"Regina, you look so happy tonight! Did something good happen to you?" It was rare for Olivia to see Regina smiling so freely, so she couldn't help but ask.

"Nothing, it's just that the thought of the baby in my belly makes me extra happy."

Naturally, Regina was not foolish enough to tell Olivia about her having Freya killed. She gently stroked her belly.

Olivia didn't doubt it.

Although Simon is dead, countless women in high society, including her, still envy and admire Regina.

After all, Regina had the strong approval of Joanna and Patricia, and the child in her belly was the most precious treasure of the Fitzgerald family. Even if Simon had gone, the Fitzgerald family could not possibly treat her badly.

If the child in her belly becomes the heir to the Fitzgerald family, Regina will be the heiress of the Fitzgerald family!

So what if she doesn't have a husband! This monstrous wealth makes her nobler than everyone else!

With this thought, Olivia said to Regina with a smile, "Regina, you don't have pregnancy reaction. My mother said that this kind of child, who doesn't let his mother suffer, is here to repay your kindness. This child will love you a lot in the future."

"I just hope that he can live a peaceful and happy life." Regina said somewhat uncharacteristically.

Regina really didn't agree with Olivia's words at all, this child was not here to pay for her kindness, but to take revenge and claim her life!

More than once she dreamed of Simon's blood-soaked face, which, later on, became younger and younger and smaller and, eventually, less than the size of her palm, turning into a wailing infant.

The infant, in her arms, giggled, and blood seeped from the corners of his eyes and mouth.

He said, "Regina, I'm here taking you to hell with me!"

Countless times, Regina woke up screaming from her sleep, clutching her belly so hard she felt a demon was being birthed in it.

She wanted to kill this demon in her belly every day, but now, this demon was her biggest leverage for her to stay in the Fitzgerald family and get close to Kieran, she could only try to suppress her great fear and let him thrive inside her belly.

“Regina, you’re so modest! There are no ordinary children in the Fitzgerald family! I think the child in your belly must be even more powerful than Simon and Kieran, and he will definitely take Fitzgerald’s to unprecedented heights in the future!”

The scarlet in her eyes was getting thicker and thicker, Regina didn’t want to continue this topic of the so-called child, she turned her face to look at Olivia, “Olivia, everyone is buzzing in the banquet hall, let’s go over there too!”

Regina got up after saying this, and as soon as she raised her face, she saw Freya standing in front of her.

At first sight, Regina thought she had been blinded, after all, she had just received a call that Freya was dead, so how could Freya be standing in front of her?!

Regina rubbed her eyes hard and Freya was still standing in front of her in her soaking wet clothes and smiling, and it was then that she was sure that it wasn’t her eyes that were mistaken, but that Freya wasn’t dead at all.

Regina knew that Walter’s men were all top-notch and capable, and she couldn’t figure out how that man could have blundered like that, not even being able to tell whether Freya was dead or alive.

“Freya?” Olivia was the first to speak up, “Freya, why did you come to Rosie’s birthday party dressed like this? Are you here to celebrate Rosie’s birthday, or are you here to crash the party?!”

“Regina, it’s a surprise, isn’t it?” Freya didn’t bother to pay attention to Olivia, but said to Regina with a smirk.

“Freya, you

Regina wanted to say, “Freya, how come you’re not dead!” But before she could finish her sentence, Freya pushed her into the pool with a fierce force.

Chapter 879

Regina often goes by the pool and is used to lying on a lounge and gossiping with her best friend, but she can’t really swim.

After being pushed into the water by Freya, she was scared.

Even though she was calm and collected, she could not maintain her graceful and elegant appearance.

She lost her voice and screamed, “Help! Help me!”

Olivia was dumbfounded by the unexpected situation. She didn’t want Regina to die, but she couldn’t swim either, and no matter how much she wanted to befriend Regina, she didn’t dare to jump in desperately.

“Freya, you’re crazy, aren’t you! How can you do this to me!”

Regina opened her mouth in anger, and as she did so, she choked on a large mouthful of water, and immediately, she felt her lungs were about to explode.

There was no hint of guilt on Freya's face as she quickly jumped into the water. Noticing her movement, Regina's eyes lit up, she jumped down to save her, but Freya grabbed her long hair and dragged her by it, before taking her towards the middle of the pool.

"Freya, you're crazy! You let go of me!" Regina screamed hysterically, "Help! Help!"

"Regina, you're looking forward to my death, aren't you? In fact, I hope you'll die sooner!"

With that, Freya gave a hard push and she pressed Regina's head into the water.

Regina didn't have much strength, plus she couldn't swim and couldn't exert much strength in the water at all, so she could only let Freya torture her as she pleased.

Freya really wanted to send Regina to hell so that she could never harm anyone again, but now she was still carrying Simon's child, and she couldn't let anything happen to Regina yet.

She can only, with the promise of not killing her and hurting the baby inside her belly, give Regina her a hard time.

Just when Regina thought she was about to die, Freya grabbed her long hair and lifted her head right out from under the surface of the water.

Regina opened her mouth wide, like a dying fish, sucking in a huge breath, and she was just about to open her mouth to yell at Freya, but Freya once again pushed her head under the surface of the water.

"Freya, let go of Regina! Let go of Regina!"

Olivia was dumbfounded by Freya's manipulation. She had never imagined that she would be so bold as to abuse Regina at Rosie's birthday party.

"Freya, even if Regina had odds with you in the past, she is now a member of your Fitzgerald family! Please spare her! Freya, please spare Regina!"

Spare Regina?

Freya sneered in her heart, she had spared Regina, but who had spared her?

In the lotus pond just now, if she hadn't been so skilled in her own right, she would have died at that man's hands!

And the last time at the hospital, if she hadn't habitually had silver needles on her, she would have been left for dead!

Regina had tried to kill her time and time again, and she was brain-dead to spare Regina.

People always have inexhaustible energy when they are doing something they love, and Freya found herself tugging at Regina's hair with unprecedented strength.

Especially when pressing her head into the water, she had an almost inexhaustible energy.

Again and again, each time when Regina thought she was dying, Freya yanked her head up again, and after she managed to get a few breaths of fresh air, her head, again, was pressed into the water, struggling with the fear of imminent death.

Olivia knew that no matter how much she begged Freya, she would never be able to let Regina go, so she could only run to the banquet hall to ask for help.

When Freya saw that someone had come to this side of the pool, she grabbed Regina's hair and dragged her hard towards the edge of the pool.

At this moment, Regina was like a puddle of meat and could only be slaughtered by Freya.

Freya went ashore first, then tugged hard on Regina's hair, but did not drag her ashore.

In fact, she could have dragged her to shore, but she just liked to see Regina struggle in agony for a little longer.

After Olivia went inside the banquet hall earlier and shouted for help, almost everyone was drawn to this side of the pool.

With so many people coming over to help, Olivia suddenly had a lot more to lean on.

She stretched out her finger and pointed at Freya, her eyes were unconcealed with resentment, "It's her! She pushed Regina down the pool, she tried to drown her!"

"Look at what she's done to Regina! Regina has suffered so much, all of you must do her justice!"

As if she hadn't heard Olivia's accusations, Freya put on an anxious face and shouted to the people at the side, "Come and help! I can't use much strength to pull her up because my stomach is in pain!"

Hearing Freya's words, two men stepped forward and pulled Regina up.

Regina slumped helplessly to the floor, having just walked through hell, she was really so uncomfortable that she couldn't even speak.

Olivia anxiously jumped in front of Regina, "Regina, how are you? I'll take you to the hospital!"

With that, Olivia took out her mobile phone and started calling the emergency number.

After making the call, Olivia stared viciously at Freya, "Freya, you're so vicious! Regina is still carrying a baby in her belly! You pushed her into the water and tortured her, you want her to die!"

"Freya, if anything happens to Regina and the child inside her belly, you are the murderer and you should pay for their lives!"

Hearing Olivia's words, the surrounding crowd could not help but murmur.

"What? Could it be true that Freya pushed Regina into the water? If that's true, Freya is too vicious! Regina is still carrying a baby in her belly!"

"That's right, it's a bit unjustified to bully a pregnant woman like that, Freya is really going too far tonight!"

"I can't see it! How can Freya be so vicious! If anything really happened to Regina, two lives would die!"

"What kind of hatred is it that she has to put a pregnant woman to death? This is simply deliberate murder on Freya's part!"

.....

Seeing so many people accusing Freya, Olivia's face was instantly written with the smugness.

She continued to shout at Freya in a hoarse voice, "Freya, Regina has been so good to you, she has helped you time and time again and yet you do this to her, you are simply inhuman!"

"I know that you are afraid of the child in Regina's belly will compete with your children for the Fitzgerald family's assets, but even if that is the case, you can't commit murder like this!"

"Freya, how can you be so ruthless! You are simply the devil!"

Chapter 880

"Yes, it's too much! Even the child inside Regina's belly is not spared, you have a snake's heart!"

"Regina is so pathetic, without a man to back her up, does she deserve to be bullied like this?!"

"If anything really happened to Regina and the baby in her belly, Freya really deserves death!"

.....

Among the crowd at the scene, there were quite a few people who were quite close to Regina, and after hearing Olivia's words, several ladies spoke up and accused Freya of wrongdoings.

Freya didn't defend herself, she just said with a serious face to Olivia who was in front of her, "Olivia, please move out of the way!"

"Freya, what are you trying to do again? You haven't harmed our Regina enough, have you? I'm telling you, with me here, you won't be able to hurt Regina again!"

Olivia was protecting Regina.

Freya still didn't argue with her, she just said to the two men who had just pulled Regina up, "Please help me pull Miss Olivia away, I'm a doctor, I need to see Regina's current condition!"

Many people at the scene knew that Freya was a doctor. Moreover, she was quite famous in the city, and many old people from rich and noble families had sought medical treatment from her, and his grandfather of one of the two men had sought medical treatment from Freya.

Freya's excellent medical skills had saved him a lot of suffering and the old man was always full of praise whenever he mentioned her.

The two of them didn't dare to delay in the slightest and hurriedly stepped forward, about to pull Olivia away.

While being touched by the two men, Olivia became instantly agitated and she waved her fists like crazy, "Don't touch me! Don't you touch me! Freya is not a good person, she is trying to kill Regina and the baby inside her!"

"She won't save Regina! She won't save Regina! I saw it clearly just now, it was Freya who pushed Regina into the water, she grabbed Regina's hair, she pressed Regina's head desperately into the water, she tried to choke Regina to death!"

“Let go of me! Let go of me!”

Although Olivia desperately resisted, her strength was no match for the strength of the two men, and soon she was forcibly dragged aside.

Freya covered her mouth and deliberately put on a soft look and coughed, before she then took the small-sized acupuncture kit she carried with her from inside her handbag and gave Regina a medical treatment.

She had just been holding onto her handbag when she was pushed off the lotus pond, but the acupuncture bag still worked.

After she pressed Regina’s chest a few times with deft pressure, Regina instantly spurted out a large mouthful of water and she coughed several times in quick succession before Freya began to give her acupuncture.

Regina’s face was as pale as paper.

After Freya had stuck many needles in her body one after another, her face looked much better, with a light red tinge on both cheeks.

Seeing the change in Regina, even the few ladies who had just scolded Freya the most could not help but marvel at her medical skills.

There is a certain amount of time for an ambulance to come over, plus at this time of the day, the traffic is particularly heavy, so if they wait here for some ambulance, Regina will be in big trouble by then!

In everyone’s opinion, it was Freya’s superior medical skills that saved Regina’s life!

“Freya, what are you going to do to Regina?! You want to stab our Regina to death, don’t you?!”

Seeing that Freya was still sticking needles into Regina’s body, Olivia was so anxious that she almost went crazy.

In her opinion, Freya was literally a demon, and how Freya had just tortured Regina was something she could never forget for the rest of her life. She would not believe that the devil could be so kind as to save the dead and help the wounded.

As if she couldn’t take this kind of noise anymore, after Freya stuck another needle in Regina’s body, she lifted her face and looked at her coolly, “Olivia, I’m not harming Regina, I’m saving her now!”

“You’re nonsense! You just can’t stand Regina! You’re trying to get Regina killed!”

Olivia was as mad as a demon, and she pushed away the two men who were stopping her, and she was about to beat Freya.

“Freya, you bullied Regina, you caused her so much misery, I want to avenge her!”

Olivia’s slap did not land on Freya’s face. Rosie who had just rushed over clutched her wrist fiercely and spoke with an unhappy face, “Olivia, what are you trying to do? How dare you hit Freya!”

“Rosie, you’re still helping this vicious woman, aren’t you? Do you know that she almost killed Regina!”

“Olivia, what’s wrong with you?” Rosie looked at Olivia like she was a psychopath, “If Freya really wanted to get Regina killed, how could she have gone out of her way to save her?!”

She rolled her eyes and pointed at Freya who was squatting on the ground and was saving Regina, “Olivia, you’re brain-damaged, you’re talking nonsense, I won’t bother with you! But even if you’re brain-dead, you can still see that Freya is saving Regina now!”

“You, on the other hand, are biting like a mad dog and trying to stop Freya from saving Regina. I think you are the one who really wants to kill Regina!”

“I

Rosie’s words blocked Olivia from speaking, but when she thought that Freya caused Regina into this stage, she had more nerve.

“Rosie, don’t let Freya fool you! She is now seeing that all of you have come over and is deliberately pretending to be a good person! Rosie, I’m not lying to you, I really just saw with my own eyes that it was Freya who pushed Regina into the water!”

“You don’t know how horrible Freya was just now, she grabbed Regina’s hair and pressed her to death! If it wasn’t for everyone rushing over from inside the hall in time, she would still be torturing Regina with impunity!”

“Yes, you all saw it when you came over just now, Freya was tugging on Regina’s hair!”

Regina’s long hair, which was originally coiled up high, was now indeed scattered in a disastrous manner. Seeing everyone’s eyes falling on her hair, Olivia became even more agitated, “Did you see that?! Regina’s hair is the proof! Freya had just been tugging on Regina’s hair! She’s screwing Regina to death!”

Seeing Regina slowly open her eyes, Olivia became even more dejected, “Regina, tell everyone, was it Freya who pushed you into the water and she tried to kill you?!”
