Chapter 881

“Just now, I did yank Regina’s hair.”

Without waiting for Regina to speak, Freya had already said softly.

“Did you hear that? Did you all hear that? Freya admitted that she was the one who pulled our Regina’s hair and that she tried to get our Regina killed!”

“However, it’s a bit different from what Olivia said. I pulled Regina’s hair, not because I wanted to kill her, but because I wanted to save her. I saw her fall into the water just now, so I jumped in in a hurry. I had just learned to swim, and I’m not very good at water, plus I’ve been a bit unwell lately, so I couldn’t exert much strength in the water, I could only grab something haphazardly and drag her towards the edge. I didn’t think that what I grabbed was her hair.”

Freya’s words were so sensible and reasonable that it was impossible to doubt them.

Plus, as we all know, some time ago, Freya was injured and stayed in hospital for most of the month, it was only natural that she was indeed not feeling well lately and could not exert too much strength.

She had just recovered from a serious injury, and it was hard enough for her to jump into the water to save Regina.

When she saw how Freya had turned right and wrong upside down like that, Olivia was so furious that she almost glared out of her eyes as she pointed her finger at Freya and cursed, “Freya, don’t try to deceive people here! You’re so mean-spirited that you want to get Regina killed! No matter how much you say, it doesn’t change the fact that you have a snake heart!”

“A vicious woman like you marrying into the Fitzgerald family is simply a disgrace to Mr. Fitzgerald, simply a disgrace to the entire Fitzgerald family!”

After scolding Freya, she turned her face to the onlookers and said, “Don’t be fooled by Freya! She was the one who pushed Regina into the water, how could she have saved Regina! Believe me, Freya is no good, she is the most vicious woman under the sun!”

“Olivia, shut up!”

In response to Olivia’s scolding, Freya did not speak up, but it was Rosie with violent temper could not bear it.

She yelled at Olivia, “Olivia, what’s wrong with you? How can Freya be so mean-spirited? Regina’s life is precious, but isn’t Freya’s precious? Freya is still pregnant with her baby, if anything happens to her, who will be responsible?”

“Freya, are you stupid! Regina fell into the water, you should have asked someone else to come and save her, you’re a pregnant woman! If anything happens to you or the baby inside you at my birthday party, you’ll make me feel guilty for the rest of my life!”

Hearing Olivia’s words, the crowd was stunned.

Freya is pregnant too!

They all knew about her reunion with Mr. Fitzgerald and her hospitalization, but not that she was pregnant.

Freya is the apple in Mr. Fitzgerald's eyes, the child inside her belly is as valuable as you can imagine, and now, when Regina fell into the water, she, a pregnant woman, took the initiative to jump into the water to save Regina despite her own safety, how kind she must be!

What's more, she had obviously risked so much to save Regina, but now she was still scolded so harshly by Olivia, how much she should be holding back in her heart!

Freya is actually trying to stifle her laughter, influenced by Jayla a little drama queen, her acting skills have been refined quite a bit.

She half lowered her eyelids, her face with a hidden aggravation, "Rosie, don't say anything, I'm fine. There's nothing serious wrong with Regina's body now, but my stomach is a bit uncomfortable, I want to go and rest first."

Freya pitifully extended her hand at Rosie, "Rosie, please help me, my feet are numb and I can't stand up."

Hearing that from Freya, Rosie hurriedly went forward and helped her up from the ground.

Seeing her in drench, Rosie was heartbroken and angry, "Freya, if you ever make such a fool of yourself again, I'll unfriend you!"

"Forget it, I won't bother with you this time, look what you've gotten yourself into! I'll take you to change clothes first!"

Olivia froze for several seconds before she came back to her senses from Freya's words, she was really stunned by the extent of her shamelessness. It was obvious that she was causing harm to people, and now she could still pretend to be a good person?

Especially when everyone looked at her with contempt, as if they were looking at a rabid dog, Olivia could not swallow this anger.

She knew in her heart that if she could not show Freya's ugly face to everyone tonight, she would be the only one to lose her reputation!

Therefore, she must completely expose Freya's evil deeds!

Olivia, the messenger of justice, could not just let her go, as she had not yet done justice for Regina and exposed Freya's evil deeds.

She stopped in front of her and Rosie with a quick step, "Freya, stop right there! If you don't tell everyone today exactly what you did to Regina, you're not leaving here!"

"Olivia, please give way, I'm really uncomfortable right now, I don't want to argue with you." Freya put on a weak look, she stroked her forehead.

Olivia was already furious, and when she saw that Freya was still pretending, she was even more furious.

She gritted her teeth and yelled at her, “Freya, don’t pretend! You were so strong when you tortured Regina just now, and now you’re pretending to be sick and weak? Freya, why are you so shameless!”

“Tell everyone that it was you who pushed Regina, that it was you who tried to kill her! Freya, God is watching, you’ll get what’s coming to you if you hurt Regina like that!”

“Olivia, shut up! If you dare to talk nonsense here again, I’ll tear your mouth apart!” Rosie was no gentle girl, she defended Freya and was close to going up and fighting for her life with Olivia.

When Rosie was so biased towards Freya, Olivia was furious, but she believed that the eyes of the masses were discerning and she looked at the crowd rather sincerely and said, “I’m really telling the truth! You guys can’t be fooled by Freya! You have to do justice for me and Regina!”

Olivia was so unreasonable that even the few celebrities who had just accused Freya could not bear it anymore, although they were on good terms with Regina, they had a sense of justice.

Seeing Freya working so hard to save Regina and having to be blamed by Olivia, they couldn’t help but want to feel sorry for her.

“Is this Olivia crazy in the head? Why does she keep blaming Freya? She’s a pregnant woman, is it easy for her to jump into the water to save Regina?”

“That’s right, just now Freya was obviously so uncomfortable herself, but she was still holding on to save Regina, how difficult it was!”

“Olivia used to look quite normal, how come she’s becoming more and more brain-dead!”

“Alas, it’s not easy for Freya, she took half her life to save Regina and had to be vilified by brain damage, in this world nowadays, it’s really hard to be a good person!”

Olivia did not expect the situation to turn so quickly, she could not expect anyone else to do it for her and could only focus all her hopes on Regina.

“Regina, you’d better hurry up and say something! You tell everyone, was it Freya who almost killed you?!”

Chapter 882

Naturally, Regina is not as brainless as Olivia; on the contrary, she is far, far more astute than most people.

She couldn’t swallow her anger at being tossed around like this by Freya today, but she was a person who could see the situation clearly.

On the pool, there were no cameras and she could not produce hard evidence to prove what Freya had done to her.

Moreover, now that everyone has tilted towards Freya, even if she, the victim, bites the bullet and says it was Freya who deliberately harmed her, no one will believe it.

Not only that, she would be treated like a brain-dead mad dog like Olivia, no, people would despise her even more, not only would they think she was a mad dog, they would think she was ungrateful.

That would have ruined her reputation.

Regina's mind was spinning, and she knew that the best thing for her to do now was to thank Freya, but she couldn't really do that.

What's more, if she did so, she would certainly chill the heart of Olivia who was bent on her.

So, she chose to remain silent.

Anyway, now she appeared to everyone to be in extreme shock and nearly drowned, and when she didn't speak, people wouldn't think she was deliberately avoiding the question, they would just think that she was in a difficult state and didn't even hear Olivia's voice.

"Regina, say something!"

Olivia stepped forward and grabbed Regina's hand hard, with an anxious look on her face. If Regina didn't speak up, she would really be wronged.

Regina coughed hard, her face flushed red with a look of inability to speak.

Seeing Regina in this state, Olivia felt that it should be because she was having too much physical difficulty to make any sound.

Since Regina couldn't prove what she said was right, Olivia had to fight alone!

She stared angrily at Freya, and then spoke word for word, "Freya, you're disgusting to me if you don't want to admit that you've done something shameful!"

"Olivia, I have not done anything shameful!"

Freya's face was pale, but her eyes were clear and firm, and everyone couldn't help but believe what she said, thinking that Olivia was really unreasonable!

Seeing that Freya had done such a vicious thing, but still had the nerve to say that she had done nothing wrong, Olivia could not bear it anymore, but exerted all her strength and threw a slap at Freya's face.

At this moment, Olivia could no longer care too much, she just wanted to express her anger to her heart's content.

This slap from Olivia still did not land on Freya's face, and a large hand like an iron pincer clamped her wrist in a deadly grip, causing cold sweat to break out on her forehead in an instant.

She raised her head tremblingly, and when she saw the handsome and cold face before her, she was so embarrassed and aggrieved that tears almost rolled down her face.

Yes, Olivia is secretly in love with Jacob, otherwise, she wouldn't have been so kind to Regina with her heart and soul.

Her intention is simple: to please her future sister-in-law first, and eventually succeed in marrying into the Wells family.

She hates Freya so much, so she sticks up for Regina, but more importantly, it was still because Jacob liked Freya, so she was jealous, she was indignant.

Last time at the banquet, Jacob had defended Freya without hesitation, those images were still fresh in her mind, but Olivia believed that this time, there was no way he would continue to defend her.

After all, last time at the banquet, Freya didn't really hurt Regina, but tonight, she almost killed Regina, his sister, and Olivia didn't believe that he would protect a murderer who almost killed her sister!

And, tonight, she wanted to kill two birds with one stone, to show Jacob the true nature of Freya's viciousness and make him hate her deeply!

With this in mind, Olivia was instantly filled with fighting spirit, she blinked at Jacob and then spoke pitifully, "Mr. Wells, will you let go of me? I'm really in pain!"

"Tonight, I really have something very important to say to you! Do you know that Regina was almost killed just now, and Freya is the culprit who caused her misery!"

"Freya is the best at pretending to be pitiful and innocent, in fact, she has the most vicious heart, you can't be fooled by her!"

"Look at Regina, look how badly she's been victimized by Freya! She's still carrying a baby inside her belly! Freya pushed her into the cold water, and she was bullied by Freya in the water, how upset she should be!"

"Mr. Wells, you must speak up for your sister!"

Olivia thought that if she said this, Jacob would definitely help her, but Jacob grabbed her wrist tighter, and suddenly her wrist hurt fiercely, and he had actually broken her wrist directly.

Olivia was in so much pain that she couldn't even scream, she looked at Jacob incredulously. She had never expected that he would not even help his sister for the sake of Freya.

It was as if a century had passed before Olivia regained her voice. She wanted to ask him at the top of her lungs why he was so cruel to her, why he was so partial to Freya, but she was in too much pain, she could not even utter a word.

Her lips were trembling, as if she was suffering from some great grievance, but her so-called grievance could not get the slightest bit of pity from Jacob, all he could give her was the coldness from his heart.

"Not to mention that it wasn't Freya who pushed Regina, even if it was, Regina deserved it!"

Olivia's eyes widened abruptly, could not believe that Jacob would say such words.

Equally shocked was Regina, who also dared not think that she was so worthless in her elder brother's mind compared to Freya.

She was so eager for her brother's affection, she was so in awe of her brother who was so powerful!

But for all her admiration and attachment to her brother, all she got in return was his disgust and disdain.

And the person who put her in such a miserable position was Freya!

Fucking Freya!

Seeing how wet Freya was, and thinking that she had also fallen into the water, Jacob dared not delay any longer and hastily picked her up in his arms, intending to take her to the hospital for a proper check-up once she had changed her clothes.

She's only been out of hospital for a few days and she's still pregnant!

The crowd was also stunned! Mr. Wells had even abandoned his sister for Freya!

Before Jacob could carry Freya upstairs to Rosie's bedroom, a voice as cold as ice rang out in the air, "Let her go!"

Chapter 883

Freya froze at Mr. Fitzgerald's voice!

In fact, she really didn't intend to let Jacob carry her, but before she could break away from his arms, Mr. Fitzgerald came over! This time, she really couldn't clear her name!

In a flash of lightning, Kieran had already walked up to them, and when he saw Freya in this soaked state, he couldn't help but frown.

He had planned to wait for Freya to have enough fun before coming over to pick her up, but there were friends of his at the birthday party today, and when he saw that Freya had also fallen into the water, his friend called him.

He didn't expect her to be soaked to the skin.

Why should she save Regina when Regina fell into the water?

He was so angry that he wanted to break the disobedient woman's legs, and seeing that she was now still being held in Jacob's arms made him even angrier in his mind, and he snatched her over.

Feeling the tightness in his body, Freya knew that he was angry.

She thought that he was angry with her for being carried by Jacob, she curtly pinched his face, "Mr. Fitzgerald, don't misunderstand, I really didn't mean to let Mr. Wells carry me, he thought I wasn't feeling well and wanted to take me to the hospital."

When Freya finished saying this, Kieran's face became even darker. So his woman still hadn't figured out what the main reason was that he would be so angry!

"Freya, if you dare to save people without regard to your life again, I'll break your legs!"

This time, the person in black face turned out to be Jacob.

In the past few days, Jacob has been investigating some of Gracie's old affairs, he has not yet fully investigated Regina's birth, by mistake, he has accidentally found out Freya's birth.

Freya is his sister.

He knew that in Walter's heart, there was a woman, and that woman's name was Bernice Turner.

All of them thought that Bernice had died more than twenty years ago, until a few days ago, when he inadvertently learned that Freya's mother's name was Bernice Turner.

He thought at the time that it was the same name, but he was always strict in his work and he still asked his men to get him a picture of Bernice.

The woman in the photo looks exactly like the woman in the photo in Walter's study!

Bernice and Freya do not look very much alike, but her face can be considered a combination of Bernice and Walter, she has inherited the most perfect parts of both of them.

Previously, he had heard Freya say that he looked particularly similar to her brother, Josiah, and now, he finally understood why he resembled Josiah that much, because they were family.

Jacob was almost certain that Freya was his real sister, however, he did not tell Walter about this. He took the hair that Walter had stored there from inside the Wells family's gene bank and intended to share the good news with him when the paternity test results came out.

Jacob has been close to Jaden and Jayla for a while now, and Jaden dotes on Jayla in every way.

He is particularly eager for family love, and he actually would like to dote on his sister, but, when faced with Regina, his sister who is severely psychologically distorted, he just can't dote on her.

But if his sister could be as cute as Freya, he thought he would love to dote on her.

Jacob is very fond of Freya, and even, he has thought before of taking her by force or something to keep her with him.

But after knowing that she was his sister, he suddenly had an uncontrollable good feeling, because they were blood-related siblings!

He is not a psychologically twisted demon who would be crazy to dominate even his sister, and since he is a family, he should, well, behave the way of a family.

He would be happy to dote on his sister, for his sister was so cute!

Jacob listened to Kieran's cold and threatening words to Freya, and his heart grew with displeasure.

Break his sister's leg?

Can his sister's legs be broken just because someone else wants to?

He still wants to break the legs of this ungrateful man!

"Kieran, what did you say?! Dare you say it again!" Jacob narrowed his eyes dangerously, and in his eyes was an undisguised threat.

Kieran was also upset, he was talking to his wife, and there was always someone watching!

He hugged Freya tighter, "Mr. Wells, it seems that I don't need to report to you what I say to my wife!"

The two equally good men were at odds with each other, and the tension instantly filled the hall.

Even Rosie, who was standing on the side, was tragically affected, and she asked timidly, “Mr. Fitzgerald, Mr. Wells, can you two talk later? Freya’s clothes are all wet, let her go change first, okay?”

After hearing Rosie’s words, Kieran and Jacob did not fight on the spot. Kieran coldly swept a glance at Jacob, then carried Freya and walked quickly upstairs.

Even if she was his sister, when she changed clothes, of course, he could not be there.

Naturally, Jacob knew this and he wouldn’t be psychologically twisted enough to follow to watch Freya change, but he was worried about his sister.

The man his sister had found was so vicious, he would break her legs or something, and he was really uneasy about letting the two of them be together.

What if his lovely sister’s legs were really broken! He’d be sad for life!

So, after a few moments of dithering, Jacob followed upstairs and stood guard outside the door, where he waited for the first sign of trouble and rushed in to ruthlessly abuse the demon who dared to bully his sister.

Fortunately, he waited for a long time without hearing anyone’s leg being broken, but instead Rosie suddenly pushed the door open and came out.

When Rosie saw Jacob, she couldn’t help but be taken aback, “Mr. Wells, why are you here?”

Rosie later learned what happened between Jacob, Kieran and Freya, and in her opinion, Mr. Wells can’t get over Freya, even when she and her husband get back together, he still silently keeps watch, ready to, at any time, steal Freya away.

After Rosie walked out, Kieran was about to hug his wife, but he heard her talking outside the door.

Jacob is here too?

Kieran smiled coldly.

It seemed that he had to deal with his rampant love viral!

Chapter 884

“Mr. Wells, you really are haunting!” Kieran gently hooked the corners of his lips, and the coldness in his eyes was chilling.

Jacob’s face was even colder than Kieran’s.

‘Calling your future brother-in-law haunting, you’re a real piece of work!’

The fierce aura poured out of his body. Jacob thought of how Kieran usually spoke to his sister in this same tone, the fierce aura that raged in his body became even more of a disaster.

Rosie clearly felt the tense air between the two men. Tonight was her birthday party, and those who came were guests, and she didn’t want any conflict here.

She hurriedly stepped forward to be a peacemaker, “Mr. Fitzgerald, Mr. Wells, it’s all a misunderstanding, how about we go and have a drink together? No matter what misunderstandings you had in the past, drink together and from now on, you can forget your grudges, okay?”

Jacob and Kieran laughed out coolly at the same time.

How can that be?

Jacob felt that it was impossible for him forget grudges with Kieran, for a man who scares his sister at every turn and tries to break her legs, he would only hold grudges!

Kieran can’t just laugh off his grudges with Jacob. For a man who is waiting to steal his woman, he is already mercy enough now!

Jacob had provoked him again and again tonight. If it was in normal times, Kieran would have fought him, but tonight Freya had fallen into the water and he was worried about her health, he wanted to take her to the hospital for a check-up.

With a sight like an ice blade sweeping past Jacob’s face, Kieran hugged Freya in his arms tightly, “Freya, let’s go to the hospital!”

“Mr. Fitzgerald, there’s no need to go to the hospital! I’m really fine.” Freya didn’t want to smell the sterile hospital water again and hurriedly refused.

She knew that Kieran would have the doctor do a full range of tests on her, and she would have to eat Rosie’s birthday cake in the middle of the night, rather than go to the hospital with those cold instruments.

“Freya, do as you’re told!” Kieran ordered coldly, “I’ll break your legs if you don’t!”

Kieran’s cold and threatening words were warm in Freya’s ears, for she knew that Mr. Fitzgerald was concerned about her health and that the threatening words were actually the sweetest words of love.

Kieran is cold, but after spending time with him, she knew that sometimes his cold words are a different kind of care.

Men who don’t like to say sweet words use such hard words to express their concern and anxiety.

It was just that these words had completely changed its meaning in the ears of Jacob.

A dangerous chill erupted from his eyes. It had only been a few minutes, and this man had said twice that he was going to break his sister’s legs!

He doesn’t know how he will bully his sweet sister when he is absent!

“Mr. Fitzgerald, I’m really fine! I’m not lying to you! I’m a doctor, I know my own body better than anyone!” Freya pitifully hugged Kieran’s arm and pouted, “I haven’t eaten Rosie’s birthday cake yet, let’s not go to the hospital, let’s go eat Rosie’s birthday cake together, okay?”

Seeing Freya in this vivid and lively manner, it indeed did not look like there would be any physical problems, but Kieran was still a bit uneasy, “Let’s go to the hospital for a check-up before coming back for the cake!”

“No!” Freya pouted, “I really want to eat cake!”

However, Freya’s tactics didn’t work at all this time, and she was eventually carried to the hospital by him by force.

Looking at Freya had been snatched by a bully, Jacob’s eyes were cold, and he felt his sister was so weak in front of Kieran!

Is it possible that she has become so used to being bullied for so long that it has become natural?

This is not a good sign!

How can his sister always be bullied?! He must help his precious sister!

Seeing that Kieran had even carried Freya downstairs, and Jacob was still staring deathly at their backs, Rosie couldn’t help but feel worried, “Mr. Wells, are you okay?”

The worry in Rosie’s heart got heavier when Jacob didn’t say anything, she felt that Mr. Wells was really scary at this moment, she was afraid that he would tear her house down on an impulse, so she hurriedly tried to comfort him.

“Mr. Wells, I know that you are sad that Freya has rejected you, but Freya and Kieran are truly in love with each other! Moreover, they are husband and wife, you cannot break them up! Mr. Wells, you’d better let go of Freya and go after your own happiness!”

Jacob was already in a bad enough mood seeing his sister always being bullied, but now hearing this from Rosie made his mood even worse.

‘I’m not jealous of a love interest, I’m worried about my lovely sister being bullied by a vicious wolf!’

Freya made struggles on the way, but still did not escape being given a full body check.

After doing a full body check-up and making sure that Freya was now in good health, it was already midnight, so late that Rosie’s birthday party had long been over.

Not getting to eat Rosie’s birthday cake, Freya was in an unhappy mood.

If it was in the past, Freya might not have been so angry, but pregnant women are just prone to tantrums and she’s been in a particularly craving for cake lately, so she was in a bad mood.

Seeing Freya’s depression, Kieran couldn’t help but smile, this woman always said Jayla was a foodie, now she is also a foodie.

“Freya, let’s go and buy a cake.”

There are a number of cake shops in the city that are open twenty-four hours a day and they can still get a delicious cake when they go to the cake shop now.

Hearing this from Kieran, the corners of Freya’s lips could not be controlled to raise brilliantly.

Well, she’s still easily satisfied, give her some cake and all her bad temper is gone.

Thinking that he was going to take her to buy a cake, and she still had a cold war with him for most of the night, Freya couldn't help but feel guilty, "Mr. Fitzgerald, am I going too far? You brought me to the hospital for a check-up for my own good, yet I still was angry with you, I seem quite unreasonable."

"Yes." Kieran responded indifferently.

Yes?

Freya was so angry that her face puffed up.

Freya puffed out her cheeks and was just about to get angry, but Kieran's voice ran into her ears, "Freya, no matter how unreasonable you are, I like you."

Chapter 885

Freya's mood instantly lit up, however, before she could be smug for three seconds, she heard him say again coldly, "Freya, who told you to be so kind as to jump into the water to save Regina?!"

"Mr. Fitzgerald, I didn't save Regina."

She doesn't regret what she did to Regina this evening, but it's true that deliberately pushing someone into the water and torturing her in the water isn't exactly an honourable thing.

She didn't want others to know that there was such a dark side to her, but she didn't want to deceive Kieran even more, so she thought about it and spoke, "Mr. Fitzgerald, it was me who pushed Regina into the water."

"Olivia wasn't lying, when I was in the water, I deliberately grabbed Regina's hair and pressed her into the water, deliberately torturing her."

Seeing that Kieran didn't say anything, Freya couldn't help but ask, "Mr. Fitzgerald, do you think that what I did tonight was very vicious?"

"Freya, I believe you wouldn't torture Regina for no reason." Kieran gave a slight pause and then said, "Besides, even if you were more vicious, I still like you."

How can his cold words be so touching!

With him around, the world is really warm. Even if she wants to tear the sky down, he will quietly support her and will not leave her alone.

"Mr. Fitzgerald, don't you think I've gone too far? Regina is still pregnant with Simon's child after all."

"Freya, I want that child to be well. But there is nothing in this world more important than you, so whatever you do to Regina, I support you."

"Freya, my woman has no need to cower no matter if you do good or bad, let alone blame yourself, as long as you are happy, even if you kill a man and set fire to the place, I will help you."

Freya's heart fluttered, if not for the fact that Kieran was still driving and she was afraid it would affect his driving, she really wanted to use all her strength to hug him.

This man was so good to her!

This was unconditional pampering and support!

Wasn't he afraid that he would spoil her into an unforgivable demoness who would eventually bully him?

"Mr. Fitzgerald, you've been so good to me, I'm afraid I'll become more and more lawless, then what if you don't like me anymore?"

A woman's psyche was really subtle, occasionally likes to self-censor, but wants the man she loves to say to her, "Honey, no matter what you become, I will grow to love you."

When Freya said this, what she was waiting for with bated breath was also Kieran saying a heartfelt word to her, but he did not follow the usual rules at all.

There was silence for about half a minute before he spoke, "I will like the woman I spoiled, even if I bear with it with tears."

Freya, "....."

Why did she feel that Mr. Fitzgerald was putting up with her so much!

Freya haughtily turned her face to the side, it was impossible to have a pleasant conversation. She didn't want to talk to Mr. Fitzgerald anymore, not at all!

"Mr. Fitzgerald, liking me makes it so difficult for you, you can dislike me!" Freya grunted.

Seeing Freya's cute look in the rearview mirror, Kieran couldn't help but smile, "But I'm happy to reluctantly like you."

Reluctantly? Freya is even more furious!

"Mr. Fitzgerald, you can do without the reluctance!"

"Freya, liking you is reluctant, loving you is instinctive." After a long, long time, Kieran's melodious voice flowed into Freya's ears like a trickling stream, sweeping away all the anger in her heart.

Love her, it's instinctive!

Freya smiled and arched her eyebrows.

In fact, she loves him, and it's instinctive!

Freya was afraid that Kieran would be worried, so she did not tell him what had happened at the lotus pond tonight.

She knew that if Regina didn't get her killed tonight, Regina wouldn't give up, so she had been extra careful wherever she went lately.

After the last attack on the hospital, Kieran sent more bodyguards to follow her around to protect her.

Wherever she went, she was followed by a group of bodyguards. If it was in the past, Freya would have been uncomfortable or something, but now, she had to think about the safety of the baby inside her belly, and for the sake of both her and the baby inside her belly, she did not object to having bodyguards follow her.

After a few more days of recuperation at Kelsington Bay, Freya really felt that she was so idle, and finally, after her persuasion, Kieran finally agreed to let her go back to work at the hospital.

Returning to her familiar working environment, Freya was in a beautiful mood.

Cindy and Stephanie were both thrilled to see her. In their opinion, Freya was simply more legendary than the heroine in a TV drama, her husband lost his memory and became someone else, and eventually the truth came out and he was back in her arms.

Although they always like to tease Freya, they are all happy for her from the bottom of their hearts when they see her and Kieran reunite, and Cindy even happily wipes her tears, saying something about how Freya has finally come to the end of her suffering.

Freya hopes that, from now on, she will always be together with Mr. Fitzgerald, with no more suffering or ups and downs.

Freya went to work and the bodyguard sent by Kieran was dutifully guarding the corridor.

However, these bodyguards, who are all men, can follow Freya from a distance, but they can't really accompany her every step of the way when she goes to the bathroom or whatever.

It was because Walter's men had seen this that they intended to make a move on Freya in the bathroom.

When Freya went to the washroom, an old lady was cleaning. There used to be cleaning inside every day, so even if this lady's face was a bit unfamiliar today, Freya didn't think much of it.

Just as she walked out of the cubicle, the old lady came up behind her, "Dr. Stahler, you have something on your back, let me take it off for you."

Freya didn't doubt it and stood still, waiting to let the old lady help her bring it down.

The hospital is a public place, people come and go, and it's really embarrassing to get something dirty on her back, so Freya was graceful about that the old lady help her.

The old lady looked just plain and ordinary, but when her hand landed on Freya's back, her eyes were instantly tinted with a layer of creepy ruthlessness, she changed direction violently, her hand suddenly exerted a force. Freya only felt a heavy pain at the back of her neck, and fainted.

Chapter 886

After the old lady did this nimbly, she quickly put Freya into the huge blue bin she had pushed in, on top of which she had placed a layer of sanitary utensils, leaving no one the thought that underneath those sanitary utensils, there was a living human being hidden.

The bodyguards who were guarding a short distance outside the restroom did not expect that there was a person hidden inside the bin, that old lady walked past them, and pushed Freya directly into the lift.

When Freya woke up, she found herself in a dank and dark dungeon.

Her hands and feet were tied in knots with rope and she could not move.

She twisted around with difficulty, trying to find her phone, which was inside her pocket, but, she couldn't reach it.

The door to the dungeon was suddenly opened, and Freya's nerves suddenly tightened. Before she could get a clear look at the person who walked in, a spiteful laugh had already reached her ears.

Regina.

Freya surveyed her surroundings warily, she knew better than anyone how twisted Regina's psyche was, and she definitely wouldn't let her off the hook if she fell into her hands today!

Death was her ultimate end, before she died, Regina would put her through extremely terrible pain.

Even if there were lights in this dungeon, it was still dark and dreary. Freya did not know exactly where she was now, but she knew in her heart that this place must be extremely hidden, and even if Mr. Fitzgerald knew that she had been robbed, he would not be able to find her within a short time.

By the time he found her, she would have already died a horrible death at the hands of Regina.

Even if she were dead, he would not be able to find her, and Regina would still be at large, using unseemly means to harm people and achieve her own ends.

"Freya, it's a surprise to fall into my hands, isn't it?"

"Regina, let me out of here!"

Freya's heart was panicking badly, but she knew in her heart that the more such a moment came, the more she could not disrupt herself.

In the hands of Regina, a psychologically twisted woman, her chances of survival are, indeed, slim, but as long as there is a glimmer of hope, she will try to fight for her child.

"Freya, are you joking with me? I've worked so hard to get you here, and I haven't treated you well yet, how would I let you go?"

At this moment, Regina no longer had the elegant and noble look she normally put on, her face was like a poisonous snake crawling on it, her face was so hideous and disgusting.

"Freya, what do you think I should do to entertain you today?!"

"Regina, let me out of here!" Freya said word for word, "If I die here today, you won't be able to live either!"

"Kieran won't spare you, and the law will spare you even less! Regina, let me go!"

Regina laughed coldly, "Freya, who are you bluffing? Even if my hands were stained with blood, I wouldn't be the one to get what's coming to me!"

"As for Kieran .....! Freya, do you think I would be stupid enough to let Kieran know that the person who got you killed was me?!"

“Oh, Freya, you don’t have to worry about Kieran, when you die, I will take good care of Kieran, I will, grow old with Kieran, and by the way, get rid of your two children!”

When she thought of Jaden and Jayla, Regina hated them with a passion. Those two little brats, although they are only five years old or so, are even more difficult to deal with than adults.

She has lost almost every encounter with them!

But she won’t keep failing, sooner or later, she’ll send those two brats to hell!

“Freya, look how kind I am. I was worried about you being alone underground and kindly sent Jaden and Jayla down to keep you company!”

“Regina, don’t you dream here! Jaden and Jayla are not so easily destroyed by your hands!”

An urgent mobile phone ringing in the air, Regina saw that it was Freya’s phone, she half crouched down and slowly pulled out the phone in her pocket.

She took the phone and waved it in front of Freya, “Freya, it’s Kieran’s phone! You really want to talk to Kieran now, don’t you? You want to tell Kieran to come to your rescue and kill me, don’t you? Unfortunately, you don’t have a chance!”

Having said this, Regina placed the phone in the hands of the man who had been standing respectfully behind her.

“Throw her phone away to distract Kieran!”

Regina knew that Kieran would definitely locate Freya’s phone, and if she deliberately threw it somewhere else, no one would be able to find Freya!

“Regina, give me back my phone!” Freya was trying to snatch her phone, but unfortunately, with all her strength, she couldn’t move her wrist much.

Regina paid no more attention to Freya, she just surveyed her in a condescending manner.

She really hated Freya’s face, it was her face that had seduced Kieran’s heart!

What happened at Rosie’s birthday party has strengthened her determination to get Freya killed soon.

No one else believed that Freya had tried to kill her, but Walter did.

Walter couldn’t bear to see his daughter’s life threatened by Freya. He punished his men who had acted badly and sent his best men to kill Freya, he wanted to make sure nothing happened!

And today, she definitely won’t miss!

The more she thought about it, the smuggler she became, and the light in Regina’s eyes could not be concealed. In her hand, a cold, shiny knife appeared as if by magic, “Freya, do you know what I hate the most?”

Without waiting for Freya to speak, Regina continued sorrowfully, “I hate your face and the child inside your belly the most!”

“Do you think I should scratch your face or pluck out the child inside your belly first? Would it be particularly exciting to pluck out your child and then let you eat it?”

Freya’s heart pounded with a bad chill. She could not have ever imagined that Regina would be so twisted as to do such a thing to her?

“Regina, you’re crazy!”

“Yes, I’m crazy! Freya, I’m driven crazy by you!” Regina’s face was sickly and twisted as she shook the knife in her hand, “I’d better dig out the child inside your belly first! After all, compared to your face, I hate the child inside your belly even more!”

“For it was Kieran’s child!”

Footsteps suddenly sounded in the corridor of the dungeon, and Freya’s heart was instantly lit up with hope, but when she looked clearly at the person who had entered, all the light in her eyes was extinguished in an instant.

The person who came was not Mr. Fitzgerald, but Walter.

Chapter 887

Although both Walter and Jacob are members of the Wells family, Jacob and he are different. Jacob will not hurt her, but he is Regina’s real father, and he will definitely help Regina to torture her.

Freya’s head hurt badly, but her brain was still spinning fast. Most likely, the person who helped Regina to harm her again and again was actually Walter.

The man who got her into the water that night was very good in skill. The punks Regina paid off couldn’t have been that good, so that man should have been one of Walter’s men!

Originally, being tied up like this to face the psychologically twisted Regina, Freya was already uneasy enough, and now that Walter had come over, her heart was even more anxious to the extreme.

If Regina is so twisted, Walter must be even worse! Who knows how he wants to torture her again!

Although her heart was panicked to the extreme, Freya’s face still managed to maintain a calm appearance, she raised her face and looked at Walter coldly, “Let me out of here!”

“If anything happens to me in your hands, Kieran won’t let it go! Walter, you have a lot of cooperation with Fitzgerald’s, if you piss off Kieran, he will definitely not have any more cooperation with you!”

“Although your Wells’ is rich and powerful, if you are unable to cooperate with the Fitzgerald’s, the loss will still be incalculable! Walter, let me go!”

Freya knew that when it came to business matters, Regina would definitely not care, but Walter was different, not only was he Regina’s father, he also carried the weight of the Wells, there was no way he would let it suffer such a huge loss because of his own selfishness.

“Freya, you do have guts, but this little threat of yours really won’t work on me!” Walter’s face was not half warm. He was not related to Jacob in any way, but his and Jacob’s looks and aura were more like father and son than he and Josiah.

Walter came over today to see what Freya, who had bullied his daughter time and again and almost killed her twice, was.

Seeing Freya, involuntarily, he remembered the woman who was imprinted in the deepest part of his heart, Bernice.

Freya's eyes resemble Bernice's, but the rest of her face, there is not much resemblance.

What was inside Bernice's belly at the beginning was twins, if their daughter was still alive, she would have been at this age.

But even in Freya, he vaguely saw the shadow of Bernice, and he knew in his heart that she could not be his and Bernice's child.

Their child, long ago, had been buried with Bernice in the belly more than twenty years ago.

Now, Regina is his Walter's only daughter.

"Dad, what do you think should we do with Freya?"

Regina clenched the knife in her hand, she really wanted to skin Freya, but in order to maintain her good and kind appearance in front of Walter, she resisted the urge to do it to her herself.

She really, really wanted to dig out the baby inside Freya's belly, but with Walter here, she definitely couldn't do something as crazy as that.

However, she believed that with the ruthlessness of Walter's methods, he would make Freya's death even more miserable!

"I won't let her live!" Walter's voice was soft, but it was so bitter that it made people's souls shiver uncontrollably.

With these words, he had clearly sentenced Freya to death.

Freya's face turned white as she tried not to look panicked as she spoke without condescension, "Walter, I repeat, let me out of here! Kieran will find me! If he finds out that I'm dead by your hands, you won't live either!"

"Besides, it's always been Regina who has been harming me, I'm the victim, so who are you guys to be qualified to hurt my life!"

"Freya, you really know how to turn things upside down! It's obvious that you've harmed me time and again! You almost killed me and the baby inside my belly many times! The other day at Rosie's birthday party, Olivia saw it was you who pushed me into the pool and pressed my head into the water, trying to suffocate me to death!"

Speaking of this, Regina's eyes were tinged with filling tears, "Dad, that night, I was really scared and frightened, and I still can't control my panic when I think of the thrill of that night."

"That night ..... that night if it wasn't for Olivia's resourcefulness as she quickly ran down the hall to call for help, I would have been dead by Freya's hand!"

“Dad, I’m not a ruthless person, but Freya’s existence does threaten my life and the life of the child inside my belly! Dad, I don’t want to be harmed by her in any way, so she has to die!”

“Regina, you’re the one who likes to turn things upside down! If you hadn’t had me pushed off the lotus pond, if you hadn’t tried to kill me over and over again, would I have pushed you off the pool? Regina, even if I die here, you will not end up well!”

After saying this, Freya turned her face to look at Walter again and smiled coldly, and as she smiled, she inexplicably had an urge to cry.

A child who has a father to protect him can really be emboldened even if he makes a big mistake.

Maximus Stahler was not her real father, so he would have tried to put her to death again and again. She thought that if her real father was still alive, if he would have known about her existence as a daughter, he would have gone out of his way to stand up for her.

It’s a pity, she’s dying and she doesn’t even know who her real father is.

Her eyes were sore, but Freya would not shed tears in front of Walter and Regina, she smiled even more mockingly and disdainfully, “Walter, it’s a pity I don’t have a father, if my father knows that you had harmed me, he would have made you pay!”

“This world is ridiculous, for it is you who have been harming me, and now you are on the side of justice and have put me on trial! On what basis? Even if I were to die by your hands today, on what grounds! You have done nothing but evil!”

“Freya, you don’t have to feel resentful, and you don’t have to feel aggrieved. Because even if Regina is at fault, you are the one who deserves to die! My daughter can hurt anyone, can kill anyone and set fire to them, but if anyone dares to hurt my daughter even a little, I will make her pay the most grievous price!”

Walter’s eyes, cruelly, fell on Freya’s hand, “Did you push Regina with that hand?!”

Without waiting for Freya to speak, Regina said in a rush, “Dad, she used both hands.”

Walter faintly swept aside his men, “Then chop off both hands!”

Chapter 888

Freya had already prepared herself to be abused by Walter and Regina, but when she heard Walter’s expressionless face, her heart still jumped uncontrollably.

Faced with pain and death, people are more or less timid, and Freya was afraid to see the bloody image of her hands being brutally chopped off.

She subconsciously tried to pull her hands back, but her hands were tied so firmly that she was almost exerting all her strength, and she still couldn’t move her arms and legs a bit.

Instead, Walter’s men had already raised their cold, glittering knives and aimed them at Freya’s right wrist.

Freya could clearly see that the corners of Regina's lips were curled in a cruel and smug smile, and the smugger she was, the more helpless and wretched she was at the moment.

Freya closed her eyes heavily and slowly opened them again, her face, which had been in a state of panic, slowly became calm and awe-inspiring as she went to her death with ease.

"Freya, don't blame me and Dad, blame it on the fact that you've done too many bad things and finally got your comeuppance!" Regina gently stroked her belly, "Freya, I won't let you have the chance to hurt the baby inside my belly again!"

When Regina finished saying this, the knife under Walter's hand ruthlessly charged at Freya's wrist and chopped it up.

Freya wanted to remain calm and collected, but at the moment the knife fell, she couldn't help but close her eyes.

The expected pain, however, did not come, but rather the sound of a knife clanging to the ground.

The next second, the ropes around her body were cut and her body fell into a warm embrace.

Feeling the faint scent lingering around her, Freya knew that the person who was holding her tightly in his arms at this moment was Kieran.

"Kieran?!"

Regina abruptly rounded her eyes, her men had already thrown away Freya's phone elsewhere, but Kieran was still be able to find Freya.

Kieran was still holding the person in his arms hard, fortunately, the positioning device Jaden had installed on her body had never been removed, otherwise, even if she was tortured to the point of bleeding, tonight, he wouldn't be able to find her.

Fortunately, Jacob was cooperative enough. After he found out Freya's location, he knew that this was the Wells family's territory, so he called Jacob, and Jacob brought him here, avoiding wasting unnecessary time.

"Walter, I think that you should give me an explanation for what happened today!"

There was no longer any respect in his voice, only a biting coldness and anger.

His eyes fell on Walter's face, "Walter, why is my wife in your dungeon, and why did your men chop off her hands?!"

Walter did not expect Kieran to come, but he was after all a man who had experienced great storms, and when faced with Kieran's questioning, his face, without a trace of panic, was still the same immovable and calm look.

"Freya has hurt Regina time and time again, and last time at Rosie's birthday party, she even tried to kill Regina and the baby inside her belly, she deserves to die!"

"Freya hurt Regina?" Kieran laughed coldly, "Walter, no wonder Regina is so good at turning right and wrong upside down, so, it's because she learnt it from you!"

“If she wasn’t carrying my brother’s child in her belly, just because she had hurt Freya over and over again, I would have already cut her to pieces.”

“Kieran, Freya has really harmed me many times, last time I fell into the water, it was really her who pushed me down!” Regina was afraid that Walter would see through her malicious true colours, so she explained anxiously.

“Regina, I’m really angry with Freya for being merciful and keeping your life so you can continue to harm her!” Kieran’s eyes were sharp, “Regina, if you want the child in your belly, behave well, if you really want to die, I don’t mind giving you a hand!”

Regina stumbled so violently that she would have fallen to the ground if Walter’s men had not held her up.

She dared not think that she was still carrying Simon’s child in her belly, and for the sake of Freya, he had tried to hurt her!

On what ground?

Freya is no match for her! Why should she be able to win the undying love of Kieran?

She doesn’t deserve it!

“Kieran, you’re going too far! The child inside Regina’s belly is your Fitzgerald family!”

Walter’s face was unpleasant, “Even if Simon is dead, Regina is carrying his child, you should still give her the respect she deserves!”

“Respect?! Why should anyone respect a person if she doesn’t respect others?!”

Kieran’s eyes, austere, fell on Regina’s body, “If I had come one step later, shouldn’t Freya’s hand have been broken?!”

In the middle of speaking, Kieran had already rushed to Regina with Freya in his arms, his movements were so fast that before anyone could react, Regina’s hands had already been broken by him.

“Ahhhhhhh!!!”

The pain was so intense that Regina could no longer maintain the grace of a famous lady. She screamed hysterically, she wanted to hold her wrists to ease the intense pain, but her hands were broken and she was too afraid to move.

Seeing Regina’s painful appearance, Kieran’s face had no half-hearted pity, only disgust and coldness from the marrow of his bones, “Regina, breaking one hand will not delay you from giving birth to Simon’s child, if you dare to hurt Freya again, I don’t mind cutting off your legs!”

When Kieran said he would break Freya’s legs, it was a little love talks between lovers, but when he said he would break Regina’s legs, he was really breaking them without mercy.

Regina gave birth and kept her belly, and that was enough. Kieran felt that even if she had her arms and legs removed, it would not matter.

Seeing that Kieran had dared to do this to Regina right in front of him, Walter's face turned pale as he quickly rushed to Regina and checked her injuries.

This time, Kieran was particularly cruel. Even if her wrist is attached, in the future, she will be crippled and will not be able to exert much strength.

And when Kieran said he would break Regina's legs, he was definitely not joking. When Walter thought that his daughter's legs would also be broken by him in such a cruel manner, Walter's face was even darker.

Looking at Regina's half-mutilated hands, Jacob's face did not look good either.

It's not that he's upset about Regina, it's really because Kieran is so fierce and he is worried about his sister.

He said he would break his sister's leg at the drop of a hat. If Freya's arms and legs were broken with such force, she would be even worse off than Regina!

Jacob felt that he should help his sister choose a gentler husband.

Just as he was lost in his own thoughts, Walter had rushed to Kieran.

Kieran had broken Regina's hands in front of him, if he didn't break Freya's hands, how could he live up to his reputation for ferocity and bloodlust!

Chapter 889

Walter's skills were on a par with Kieran's.

Moreover, now that Kieran was still holding Freya in his arms, he had to protect her and Walter had the upper hand for the time being.

Each of Walter's strokes was aimed at Freya, and his look was fierce as if he wanted to make blood flow in this dungeon.

"Dad, stop it!"

Fearing that he might hurt Freya, Jacob rushed forward and pulled him aside.

Walter never strikes easily, but when he does, there are bound to be casualties, and if he hurts Freya, he will surely regret it for the rest of his life.

"Jacob, get out of the way!"

Walter's voice was full of an irresistible majesty. If he had scolded Jacob like that in normal times, Jacob would have obeyed him, but now he had to disobey his orders.

"Dad, you can't hurt Freya!"

Jacob had always respected Walter and when he saw him strike, he could only dodge, he quickly shielded himself in front of Freya and Kieran, "Dad, Freya is Bernice's daughter! If you hurt her, you will definitely regret it!"

Walter's hand that had landed on Jacob's shoulder abruptly slipped away, and his body and expression, for a moment, froze, as if struck by lightning.

After a brief daze, his body began to tremble, "Bernice?! Which Bernice?!"

"Bernice Turner!" Jacob quickly put the paternity test report he had just gotten into Walter's hands, "Dad, you can't hurt Freya!"

Listening to Jacob's words, Freya couldn't help but wrinkle her eyebrows. She wasn't stupid, she could naturally hear that Walter and her mother had an unusual relationship, however, she hated him and Regina too much now, she didn't want her own mother to have anything to do with him, let alone listen to it.

"Mr. Fitzgerald, shall we go home?"

Kieran knew that Walter had deeply loved a woman with the surname Turner, he vaguely sensed something, but nothing was more important than Freya right now, and he hugged her tightly before walking quickly towards the outside of the dungeon.

The paternity report that Jacob took was from Walter and Josiah. It was a bit strange if he somehow went to ask for Freya's hair, so he simply went to Josiah's ward and pulled out a few of his hairs.

Josiah and Freya are twins, and the paternity test results show that he and Walter are the real father and son, so naturally Freya is Walter's daughter!

Looking at the paternity report in his hands, Walter felt his hands shaking more and more, especially when he saw the results.

He spoke in a hoarse voice, "Who is Josiah?!"

"Josiah is Freya's real brother." After a pause, Jacob continued, "Dad, Freya and Josiah are twins, they are both Bernice's children."

"They are Bernice's children!"

"Where's Bernice?! She's still alive, isn't she?!" Walter anxiously grabbed Jacob's hand, "Jacob, you found out everything, didn't you? Tell me, where is Bernice? Where is she?"

If he had known that Bernice was still alive, with Walter's power, even if she had gone into hiding, it would have been easy for him to find her.

It was only twenty years ago that he really thought she was dead and that's why he didn't even continue to look for her.

He had never imagined that in this world, there really were miracles that the only woman he had ever loved in his life would still be alive after falling into the deep sea, though her blood staining a large part of the water red!

Jacob moved his lips, he really didn't know what to say to Walter about Bernice.

Now, in Walter's heart, a burning hope had just risen, and if he had just said that Bernice was dead, he would have been very disappointed.

But, he couldn't lie to Walter, he thought about it and still spoke softly, "Dad, Bernice should have passed away five years ago."

After learning that Freya was Bernice's daughter, Jacob investigated Bernice.

He found that there was something strange about Bernice's death.

She had, at the time, been viciously stabbed. At the time, when she was found in a pool of blood, it was also said that she had been dead.

It was decided that she was dead, and the Stahler family naturally had to cremate her, but the Stahler family discovered that her body had disappeared.

The murder of Bernice was so strange that the Stahler family felt that her body must have been destroyed by the person who had harmed her. Fearing that they would be implicated by her and suffer reprisals, they did not pursue the matter of the body, so they burned a few of her favorite clothes and buried them in the grave.

It was indeed an unbelievable thing that the body had disappeared, and it crossed Jacob's mind that Bernice might still be alive, that she might have been rescued.

He dared not tell Walter his suspicions, lest his hopes should be followed by even greater disappointment.

"She's still gone."

Walter murmured, "She still left me behind and went away alone. She must be blaming me, blaming me for having an affair with Gracie."

"How did she die?"

"Bernice was murdered and the killer is still at large."

"What?!"

Walter couldn't control his cry of pain, "Who killed her? Who the hell killed her! Let me find out and I will bury that person to the ground!"

This was an understatement from Jacob, but Walter could imagine how desperate she was and how much it hurt when she was killed.

She is gentle and graceful, but most afraid of pain, who on earth hurt her so cruelly?

Walter's fists clenched, he hated himself for assuming she was dead in the first place! If he had gotten her back to protect her, she would not have suffered so much!

But he had married Gracie, so how could she be willing to accept him!

"Bernice, I was wrong, I was wrong."

"Bernice, I'm sorry."

He was sorry for Bernice, he should not have let his guard down with Gracie and let her succeed in drugging him and climbing into his bed.

He should never have left her alone in Europe and let her be forced by his family to jump into the deep end.

He should not, moreover, not even recognize their daughter and almost put her to death.

“Dad, who is Bernice?! Even if Freya is her daughter, so what?! Dad, you can’t spare Freya, you absolutely can’t spare her!”

Regina’s face was so distorted with pain, but in order to let Walter kill Freya, she still gritted her teeth and said, “Dad, I’m your real daughter! How can you stand by and watch others bully your own daughter!”

Chapter 890

The words that Walter murmured just now were not heard by Regina, so she did not know how important Bernice was in his heart.

The intense pain in her hand made her hate Freya even more, and she continued, “Dad, you can’t be fooled by that bad woman Bernice! Like mother, Like daughter, Freya is shameless, and Bernice will definitely not be good either!”

“Yes, Bernice must be a fox, otherwise, she wouldn’t have a shameless daughter!”

Regina disparaged Freya in order to elevate herself, and as for disparaging Bernice, she was afraid that Walter would be confused by her.

Regina had deep feelings for Gracie, of course she had to firmly defend her mother’s interests, “Dad, you don’t know how disgusting what Freya did was! Her mother must be even more despicable, disgusting and shameless than she is!”

A slap was fiercely thrown at Regina’s face, and Walter’ stared at her coldly, his sharp eyes no longer half warm, only bitterly cold.

Regina looked at Walter incredulously, she couldn’t even imagine that he would slap her.

He was not as kind to her as other fathers were to their children, but he had not hit her since she was a child.

Today, he beat her up for Bernice and Freya!

The hatred in her heart for Freya went to a new level, and even, along with it, even Bernice, whom she had never met before.

Regina tried to cover her face, but her hands hurt even more, she couldn’t move, she could only cry with teary eyes, “Dad, you hit me! You hit me for Freya and Bernice! Dad, you’ve really been captivated by that shameless mother and daughter .....

Before Regina could finish her sentence, Walter threw another hard slap at her face.

Walter looked at her from above, his aura was already superior to others because he had been in a position of power for so long, and now his eyes were extraordinarily cold and frightening.

“Regina, apologize to Bernice! No one has the right to say anything bad about Bernice!”

“Why?! Why do you care so much about that woman?! Mum is your wife! You’re not being fair to mum!”

“And have you forgotten that Freya tried to kill me over and over again! And now you’re beating me up for their sake!”

“What kind of compulsion did she put on you to make you help her so much! Dad, you’re my father! How can you be so helpful to an outsider!”

Regina was aggrieved from the bottom of her heart. One moment ago, Walter was helping her and wanted to abuse Freya, but in the blink of an eye, he was on the opposite side of her and hit her, this was unacceptable to her!

“Regina, Freya is a bitch, he is my daughter!”

“Dad, what did you say?!”

Regina was so shocked that her eyes almost glazed over, and she was unable to accept the news.

She couldn’t understand how Freya, whom she had always despised, had become the daughter of the Wells family!

What she was most proud of in her life was her status as a daughter of the Wells family, and it was this pride that made her feel, whether in the Fitzgerald family or elsewhere, that she was nobler than Freya.

Even Joanna looked at her differently because of this.

And now, the identity she was most proud of was also possessed by Freya, she could not stand it!

“Dad, you’re lying to me, aren’t you?!”

Regina shook her head vigorously, she didn’t want to believe that Freya was her real sister, “Dad, you’re lying to me! You must be lying to me! Freya is the daughter of the Stahler family, how can she be your real daughter! Dad, you can’t lie to me, it’ll make me feel bad!”

“Regina, Freya is indeed my daughter, it’s true! I don’t care what your beefs are, from now on, I won’t allow you to make a mess!”

Regina looked at Walter with a hurt look on her face, the thoughts she had instilled in him were all about Freya bullying and hurting her in every way, meaning that even though he thought Freya was almost going to get her killed, he still chose to protect Freya!

Even if Freya was his daughter, she was only born to an unworthy mistress and fox, who was Freya to compete with her for her father’s favours!

Regina has always been calm and steady, but at this moment, her heart was too hard to bear, and there were some words she really could not bear.

“Dad, Bernice is Maximus Stahler’s wife! How can her daughter be your child? If Freya is really your daughter, that means that Bernice has a husband, she has a family, and she shamelessly interfered in your marriage with mum! Dad, how can you be so protective of a mistress and her daughter!”

Hearing Regina’s words, Walter’s face became paler.

He hadn’t investigated Bernice, he really didn’t know that she had started a family with another man.

There was pain, disbelief and hate in his heart. She had said that in this life, she would only love him, how could she, in the blink of an eye, accept another man?

No!

He couldn’t believe she was in love with someone else! There must be something else going on here!

He believed in his beloved girl’s feelings for him, but what on earth was it that made her marry someone else?!

He must get to the bottom of these things!

“Dad, a mistress is shameful and disgraceful! You can’t protect a shameless mistress and her daughter!”

“Regina, Bernice is not a mistress! She was never a mistress!” If Regina wasn’t his daughter, and she dared to say that about Bernice, he would have killed her!

“Regina, it was your mother who interfered with me and Bernice! So, from now on, I won’t allow anyone to say another word against Bernice!”

Regina was so uncomfortable that her whole heart cowered, so her mother, Gracie, was the real mistress!

How is it possible!

How could she, such a noble and elegant mother, be someone else’s mistress!

It must have been Bernice who compelled her father so that he couldn’t even tell right from wrong! It was as if Freya had shamelessly compelled Kieran’s heart so that he couldn’t see that she Regina was the best.

Regina was not happy that Walter was so deceived by Freya and her mother. She racked her brain for something to say to spoil their image, and before she could think of anything to say, Jacob’s cold voice rang out in the air.

“Dad, as far as I know, the feud between Freya and Regina is a lot different from what Regina has told you. The one who has been causing harm all along is not Freya, it’s Regina!”
