Chapter 911

As Joanna uttered these words, the eyes of Regina, as well as that old man, Master Zachary, fell on Freya.

Freya had a dumbfounded face, she really didn't understand why all these people were saluting her in unison.

Joanna was an elder, but after the incident at the ancestral hall, Freya couldn't respect her in any way.

Sometimes, she really wanted to take Kieran back to Kelsington Bay, but Joanna was too stubborn, plus she couldn't fight Joanna now, so she had to stay over here.

However, no matter how much she couldn't stand Joanna's old fogginess as well as her self-righteousness, she had come face-to-face with her.

"Grandma, I'll go upstairs first." Freya said politely, and walked quickly upstairs.

"Stand still!"

After being shouted at by Joanna, Freya stiffened and she stood still.

She slowly turned her face and met Joanna's eyes, which were full of discontent.

Even if Joanna was unreasonable and did not apologize to her, Joanna should at least be a little nicer to her in the future.

But Joanna was still not polite to her.

"Grandma, what do you want to see me about?" Freya suppressed the dissatisfaction in her heart and spoke without being condescending.

"Freya, go and wait in my study, I have something to say to you."

Freya knew that when Joanna asked her to go to her study, it would definitely not be a good thing, but as a junior, she still obeyed and went to her study.

But this time she had called Winnie in advance, asking her to come over to save her if Joanna didn't let her out in half an hour.

Master Zachary kept his eyes on Freya's back. He was a profit-oriented person, but he also had some real skills, otherwise, Joanna could not have trusted him so much.

Back then, the death of Joanna's husband, as well as the several great calamities he encountered in his life, were all predicted accurately by Master Zachary, and naturally, Joanna was convinced by some of the things he said.

When one is young, one dares to fight against fate, but when one is older, on the contrary, one believes more and more in fate.

Whenever Joanna encountered something unpleasant, she would seek advice from him.

“Master, when you say calamity, you mean her, right?”

“Yes!” Master Zachary nodded, “A family with a calamity will have bad luck in the house. This calamity looks mean, grating on her father, mother, brother, husband and her own son. If she continues to stay in the Fitzgerald family, I am only afraid that

Master Zachary pulled a long tone and said slowly, “I’m only afraid that there will be a bloodbath!”

This is pure nonsense from Master Zachary behind his conscience.

He did know how to read faces, and he was particularly accurate. As soon as he saw Freya, he knew that she would definitely not be any kind of calamity.

On the contrary, she had rich bones and sparkling eyes, a look of great wealth and prosperity, a prosperous husband, a prosperous son and a prosperous family, but he still chose to turn his back on his conscience for the large sum of money Regina gave him.

“Master, is this true?!”

When Joanna saw Master Zachary nod gently, her face instantly turned unpleasant.

After she had thought about it, she felt more and more that Master Zachary’s words made sense.

She had previously sent someone to investigate Freya. Her father was nominally Maximus Stahler, but in fact, even she herself did not know who her real father really was, only that her father was no longer alive before her mother brought her to marry into the Stahler family.

Bernice Turner had a tragic death!

And Josiah is still in a coma after his car accident!

Joanna clenched the cane in her hand, her voice trembling as she asked, “Master, are you saying that it’s all Freya’s fault that Kieran has become like this?!”

“This woman did not directly cause your grandson to become like this, but everything is because of her. If she continues to stay in the Fitzgerald family, I am afraid that your grandson will not live more than two months.”

“Master, do you mean that as long as Freya divorces Kieran and she leaves the Fitzgerald family, Kieran will get better?” Joanna asked anxiously.

Master Zachary made an inexplicable and profound calculation, “Not necessarily. It is true that your grandson’s health will improve if she leaves the Fitzgerald family, but it will be difficult to turn the evil into good fortune when the decay begins. Unless there is someone with an extremely noble destiny to help him through the tribulation, he will be able to come back from the dead.”

“A person with an extremely noble destiny? Joanna asked excitedly, “But Master, where do I find someone to help Kieran with his tribulation?”

“Close at hand.” After Master Zachary said this, he put on that inscrutable smile again, “Madam, farewell.”

After saying this, his grey sleeves flicked up, as if he was really an immortal Taoist master, without any semblance of philistinism on him.

“Close at hand.”

Master Zachary had been gone for a while, but Joanna still kept murmuring these words, and when she noticed Regina in front of her, her eyes suddenly lit up.

Joanna is most concerned about the family’s reputation, and since Regina is pregnant with Simon’s child, she naturally does not want Regina to be with Kieran anymore.

But now, in her mind, nothing was more important than keeping Kieran alive, and if Regina was really his savior, she could care less about the so-called family reputation and the gossip.

If it was Freya, who was having an affair with Simon and was with Kieran, Joanna would find it incestuous.

But if it was Regina, she thought, it was good.

Such a good girl can stay in their Fitzgerald family, no matter who she marries, it is good.

The more Joanna looked at Regina, the more satisfied she was, but she also knew that now was not the time to be busy making arrangements for her and Kieran, the most urgent task was to get Freya to sign the divorce papers first and get out of the house.

That day at the ancestral hall, Bradley’s words had reminded her that if anything happened to Kieran, Freya was his legal wife and all his assets would have to fall into Freya’s hands!

If that much property had fallen into the hands of the two kids, she wouldn’t have been so distressed, but Freya was still so young, if Kieran had gone, she would definitely remarry and she might even give birth to someone else, then the property of their Fitzgerald family would fall into the hands of someone else!

She wanted Kieran to live well, but now that he was in a bad way, she had to plan ahead!

Chapter 912

Freya waited inside the study for a while before Joanna came up slowly.

Freya had already thought that when Joanna asked her to come to the study, it would definitely not be good, but she still had not thought that Joanna had asked her to come here in order to get her to sign that divorce agreement and net her out of the house.

Looking at the divorce agreement that Joanna had coldly thrown on the table in front of her, Freya was truly exasperated.

As they say, children and grandchildren have their own blessings, and the older generation should not interfere in the affairs of their offspring, but this Joanna really wants to interfere in everything!

“Grandma, what do you mean?” It took a great deal of effort for Freya to maintain a calm and unruffled appearance.

She was really getting speechless with Joanna, who forced her to sign an agreement to give up the custody of the two little ones before, and now divorce agreement.

Oh yes, she had just taken a general glance at the divorce agreement, which also required her to relinquish custody of the two little ones.

“Freya, sign it!” Joanna did not like Freya from the bottom of her heart, so she did not bother to talk nonsense to her, but said this bluntly.

Joanna has always looked down on Freya’s family background, so she disliked Freya. She did give Freya a high regard when their World’s team won the finals of the fashion design competition.

But the slightest hint of goodwill was no match for the deep-rooted contempt.

In addition, she liked Regina too much, and Regina is always talking badly about Freya in front of her, so even though she knows she has misunderstood Freya, she still can’t have a good impression of her.

“Grandma, I won’t sign it.” Freya coolly put the divorce agreement back on the table in front of her and spoke without humility, “Kieran and I truly love each other, we will grow old together, there is no way I will divorce him!”

“Freya, don’t you know what’s going on with Kieran’s body now? He can’t even wake up now, how can you grow old with him?!”

Joanna became more and more agitated as she spoke, “Freya, you must divorce Kieran! Master Zachary has said that you are an inauspicious person, you are the calamity of our Fitzgerald family, if you continue to be with Kieran, you will definitely kill him!”

This time, Freya was really furious.

Joanna is not only old and confused, but now, even had a mind of feudal superstition.

Was she a calamity to the Fitzgerald family?

Freya really didn’t think she was some kind of calamity, she and Kieran had been fine and dandy together, if it wasn’t for Regina, they wouldn’t have had to go through all these ups and downs.

Regina was the real calamity!

Freya’s face remained unchanged as she curled her lips, “Grandma, then who do you think is not the calamity of the Fitzgerald family?”

“Freya, you don’t have to care about that!” Joanna spoke coldly, “As long as you divorce Kieran, he will definitely have a smooth life and live a long life!”

“Grandma, what is your plan? You want me to divorce Kieran, what about after we divorce? Is it that you still plan to let Regina stay with him?”

Seeing that Joanna did not say anything, Freya knew that she had guessed correctly.

In this world, there are some people who, no matter what kind of lessons they have been taught, are still unable to distinguish between right and wrong, good and evil.

Joanna is stupid. She has been shrewd for so many years and now, she is so stupid that she wants to push Kieran to Regina, the culprit who caused him so much trouble!

Meeting the sarcasm in Freya's eyes, Joanna had a moment of wretchedness, but the anger in her heart grew more exuberant.

"Yes, I want Kieran to be with Regina! Regina is Kieran's savior, only when they are together can Kieran turn good fortune into good fortune and have a trouble-free life!"

Yes, it was Regina and Steven who drugged Kieran. She had the antidote in her hand, and after she gave him the antidote, she could naturally restore him to health.

But that doesn't mean that Regina is his savior, she's the real villain in his life!

Freya couldn't say these words directly to Joanna, she just spoke with a cool smile, "Grandma, forgive me if I can't agree with what you said! Regina is now pregnant with Simon's child, and she is still coveting my husband, I really don't see anything noble about her, I only see her shamelessness!"

"You!" Joanna did not expect Freya to dare to contradict her, and she gasped in anger.

"Freya, you have to sign this divorce agreement!"

"You have given birth to two children for our Fitzgerald family, I want to save some dignity for you, but if you are really insensitive, I don't mind taking special measures!"

Freya did not speak immediately, she just smiled coldly, special means?

What special means?

Putting a knife to her neck and forcing her to sign?

Joanna is truly lawless!

"Grandma, no matter what you say, I still say the same thing, I will not sign this divorce agreement. I will go back first, Kieran still needs my care."

Having said that, Freya turned around, and headed outside the study.

Joanna was so angry that her heart rose and fell violently, and when she saw that Freya really dared to walk out of the study door, she sternly shouted at the door, "Stop her!"

As Joanna's voice fell, several bodyguards blocked in front of Freya.

With such a solid wall of people suddenly appearing in front of her, Freya couldn't really walk away.

Her face became pale, she would not be able to defeat these bodyguards, and not only that, she would also hurt the baby inside her belly.

She sneered and grunted, still behaving herself as she headed inside the study.

"Freya, sign it!" Joanna ordered again.

When those bodyguards saw that Freya did not react, they quickly stepped forward, forced Freya's hand and made her sign the divorce agreement.

Freya heavily smashed the signing pen that the bodyguard had shoved into her hand on the ground, raised her face and stared coldly at Joanna, "Grandma, I won't sign it! Even if you force me to sign the divorce agreement today, Kieran will not sign it!"

"He won't divorce me, he'll never divorce me! You want him to marry Regina, you've got it all wrong!"

"Freya!"

Joanna looked at the smashed pen on the floor, her face was red with anger. She was used to being overbearing, she could not stand to have people acting so recklessly in front of her.

"Freya, you really think that if you don't want to sign, there's nothing I can do, right?!"

Joanna's face was cold and ruthless, "Today, even if I break her hand, I will make her sign this divorce agreement!"

Originally, the bodyguards were still somewhat restrained, after all, Freya was Kieran's wife and they did not dare to be too tough in front of her.

Now, at the behest of Joanna, they didn't have to think too much about it.

They pressed Freya's finger hard on the seal clay and made her put her handprint directly on the divorce papers

Chapter 913

Freya gritted her teeth to prevent the bodyguards from getting their way, but the disparity in strength between men and women was so great that, in the end, she was forced to press her handprint on the divorce papers.

Joanna looked at the red handprints on the divorce agreement and her lips could not help but smile with satisfaction.

After the fingerprints were pressed, the bodyguards started to force Freya to sign again. A new signature pen was forced into her hand, and she tried hard not to let the pen fall on the divorce agreement, but the bodyguards broke her hand so much that it hurt, and it was obvious that her wrist would be broken if she did not sign.

Bead of sweat broke out on Freya's forehead, she was angry and anxious, but at the same time she felt ridiculous.

What an era it is now? She was forced to sign and pledge, was she experiencing a feudal dictatorship?

"Grandma, tell them to let go of me! I won't sign it! If Kieran knew you were pushing me like this, he would never forgive you!"

"And Jaden and Jayla, they will never forgive you! Grandma, I know you love Regina and even want her to marry Kieran even though she is pregnant with Simon's child, but believe it or not, I have to say that Regina is not as good as you think she is!"

“Sign it!” Thinking of Jaden and Jayla, Joanna’s eyes flashed, she truly loved those two kids, she didn’t want them to hate her, but she believed that one day, they would understand that she was doing all this for their own good. So, she still just coldly ordered Freya.

Just when Freya thought her wrist was about to be broken, the door to the study was violently kicked open.

Freya turned her face, she thought the person who came in was Winnie who had received her text message, but she didn’t expect that the one who walked in was Kieran.

Looking at the man standing in front of her, Freya’s eyes could not help but moisten.

He’s awake!

Before she went to the hospital this morning, she fed him a pill she had prepared in the past few days, a pill that could not completely solve the deadly silence, but had a certain suppressive effect on it.

It was the first time she had prepared that kind of medicine, she wasn’t really too sure about it. She didn’t expect him to open his eyes and to walk such a long way to stand in front of her.

Freya cried with joy, the medicine she had prepared had some effect. Was it possible that given a certain amount of time, she could prepare a medicine that would completely cure the withering silence?!

She can save him, for sure!

“Mr. Fitzgerald.”

Those few bodyguards looked at Kieran, who appeared in the study, and were so frightened that for a moment, they forgot to continue pressing Freya.

Freya’s body was freed and, like a small whirlwind, she rushed into his arms.

Holding him tighter, harder, listening to the strong, powerful heartbeat of his heart, she shed tears.

“Mr. Fitzgerald, you’re finally awake! Do you know, for the past few days, you’ve ignored me, and it’s really hard for me inside?”

“Freya, I’m sorry, I’m sorry

Kieran hugged Freya tightly, he knew that during the time he was unconscious, she must have suffered many grievances. He wanted to protect her for a lifetime, but he always let her suffer around him, he felt guilty and more heartbroken.

Joanna did not expect Kieran to wake up suddenly, she was shocked, after all, when the doctors examined him, they all asserted that he might not be able to wake up until he died of his illness.

She soon turned into indescribable ecstasy, she couldn’t help but recall Master Zachary’s words again.

Close at hand.

Regina was really a savior to Kieran!

Before Freya came back from outside, Regina went to their room to have a look at Kieran. She didn't expect that he would wake up as soon as she went to see him.

Joanna folded her hands and decided in her heart that she must hurry up and get Regina and Kieran settled, so that Kieran's life would be smooth and their family would continue to flourish.

Of course Freya did not know about Joanna's mental activities. If she knew that Joanna gave Regina all the credit for Kieran's waking up, she would definitely have to reward her with a big blank stare.

"Kieran, you're finally awake!"

Joanna, leaning on her crutches, walked excitedly to Kieran.

Her hands were shaking uncontrollably because she was so excited.

Thinking of her purpose tonight, she turned to him and said, "Kieran, you've woken up just in time! You've woken up just in time to sign the divorce papers! Kieran, you and Freya can sign it together!"

Hearing Joanna's words, Kieran's eyebrows couldn't help but wrinkle up.

He was already carrying coldness, and at that moment, the temperature around him was dripping into ice.

He did not speak immediately, but carefully let go of Freya, took a few steps forward and picked up the two divorce papers on the desk.

Although Joanna opened her mouth and said that she would let Kieran sign on it as well, in fact, she was a little apprehensive in her heart, after all, she knew that he liked Freya very much and he did not compromise that easily.

Seeing that he had taken the initiative to pick up the two divorce papers, Joanna's heart could not help but rejoice.

He is willing to sign?

"Kieran, sign it, as soon as you sign it, Freya will be able to"

Seeing Kieran's movement, Joanna's words instantly froze on the edge of her mouth.

He picked up the divorce papers, not to sign it, but to tear it to pieces.

"Kieran, you can't tear it! You must divorce Freya!" Joanna was anxious and angry as she gasped.

Kieran ignored Joanna until he had completely shredded the divorce agreement, and the handprints Freya had pressed on it, in pieces, before he lifted his eyes coolly and faintly.

"Kieran, you're just being ridiculous! You"

"Grandma, I won't divorce Freya!" Kieran said in a cold voice, only when he pronounced Freya's name, there was a bit of warmth in his voice.

"Even if I die, I won't divorce her!"

Joanna pressed her heart hard, "Kieran, you're trying to piss me off, aren't you!"

“Grandma, I respect you, but please, show me respect!”

Kieran did not have any intention of backing down, he clutched Freya’s hand, without much of vows, but every word he said made Freya’s heart pound.

“Grandma, even if you were my grandmother, I wouldn’t allow you to bully Freya! I can’t even bully my woman myself, let alone you!”

“Kieran, you you

Joanna shivered in anger as she planned to repeat her trick.

“Kieran, if you don’t divorce Freya, I’ll hit that wall until I die! I’d like to see how you’ll explain to your grandfather!” With that, Joanna gritted her teeth and ruthlessly slammed into the wall.

Chapter 914

Kieran moved faster than her. After holding her, he gestured to the maids to help keep an eye on her.

Seeing that Joanna was about to bang her head against the wall, Kieran said in a resounding manner, “Grandma, it’s you who should think about how to explain to Grandpa! Don’t forget, Freya is grandpa’s grand-daughter-in-law!”

After saying this, Kieran ignored Joanna who was blocked from breathing, clutched Freya’s hand and walked quickly towards the outside of the study.

“Freya, let’s go home!”

Jayla and Jaden glanced at each other, well, daddy and mommy paid no attention to them.

However, they had no intention of following Freya and Kieran back to Kelsington Bay. After all, Regina was still living in the Fitzgerald’s and it was a great deal of fun to fight with Regina.

Regina has been bullying their mommy time and time again, and they can’t get over it!

Joanna was so angry that her body was still shaking uncontrollably, and several servants held her up so hard that she could not even stand up.

At this time, she saw Jaden and Jayla standing at the entrance of the study, and looking at these two cute little babies, her heart was relieved.

“Jaden, Jayla, come here.”

Joanna reached out her hand, just to rub their little heads.

Jaden and Jayla were good enough to stay by her side, but both had a clear look of resignation on their faces.

When Joanna saw their expressions, she naturally knew what they were feeling.

“You guys are blaming me for forcing them to divorce too, aren’t you?!”

“Great Grandma, my brother and I are not blaming you, I just feel sorry for Mummy.” Jayla spoke up in a good and understanding manner, “Mummy is so good, why do you always dislike her?”

“Jayla, it’s not that I don’t like your mummy, I just want to make our Fitzgerald family, and your daddy, and you and your brother better off.”

Joanna rubbed Jayla’s fluffy hair, her face wrinkled with folds and written with love, “Jayla, I am doing this for your own good!”

“Great Grandma, I don’t understand!” Jayla deliberately put on a confused look, “Great Grandma, I don’t understand why daddy and mummy divorced for our own good! I also don’t understand even more why a child without Mummy would be better off!”

Jayla looked like she was weeping, “Great Grandma, how can a child without a mummy live well? I want to be with my mummy”

When Jaden received Jayla’s look, he put on a pitiful look, “Great Grandma, I want to be with mummy too! Is it for our own good that you have left Jaden and Jayla without a family?”

When she met Jaden’s and Jayla’s eyes, which were filled with doubt and confusion, Joanna lost her voice for a moment, and her heart was suddenly short of breath.

She knew that what she had done was a bit too much, but, Freya was a calamity!

Regina is the lucky star of their Fitzgerald family, no matter how difficult it is, she wants the lucky star to shine high and the calamity to disappear completely!

Kieran took Freya straight back to Kelsington Bay.

When the two of them went over, Fabian, Bradley and Winnie had already been waiting inside the living room.

The injury on Bradley’s back still hurts so badly that he can’t lie down, but he still sprawls out on the sofa in a dedicated manner, looking at the computer and tinkering with something.

Winnie was pestering him, “Bradley, why don’t you say something? You have already kissed me of your own accord, I am not pure anymore, when are you going to be responsible for me?”

Freya only couldn’t hold back and wanted to laugh.

Well, Winnie is still quite persistent, not forgetting to force Bradley to marry her every day.

She was glad that Winnie was a girl, if she was a boy, with her family background, she would have been a domineering president who liked to take things by force.

Fabian laughed even harder than Freya, “Haha! Bradley, just give in to Winnie! She’s been made impure by you, if you still shirk your responsibility, that’s so unmanly!”

With Fabian’s support, Winnie got more energy, “Hey, Bradley, did you hear that? Fabian has also asked you to be responsible for me! Don’t play dumb, speak up! When exactly are you going to be responsible for me?”

“Winnie, don’t be unreasonable, it’s obvious that you took the initiative first!” Bradley refused to admit it, “Me and you will not work out!”

“Bradley!” Winnie was so angry that she wanted to slap him away, but when she thought of the bloody wound on his back, she could hold it back.

Thinking of what Fabian had just said, she couldn’t help but open her mouth and ask, “Bradley, if you dare to do something, why don’t you dare to admit it?!”

Winnie thought that since she had threatened him with such words of great importance to a man’s dignity, Bradley would have to compromise.

It was Fabian who laughed, “Bradley, you finally admit that you’re not a man! Haha, Bradley is not a man!”

Winnie was so angry that she gritted her teeth as she grabbed Bradley’s ear, “Bradley, even if you’re not a man, you still have to be responsible for me!”

“Winnie, you’d better not sticking to a man! Why do you have to find a eunuch? Haha!”

“Fabian, shut up! If you give me any more weird shouting, do you believe that I will beat you into a eunuch right now?!” With that, Winnie rolled up her sleeves and was about to fight with Fabian.

When he saw Winnie acting like a tomboy, Bradley couldn’t stand it anymore, he couldn’t help but speak up, “Winnie, behave like a girl!”

“Behave my ass!”

“No swearing!” Bradley frowned!

Winnie was still very angry, but when she met Bradley’s tightly knitted brow, the flame of anger in her body instantly subsided.

She hugged Bradley’s arm, meekly, “Bradley, you like me too, don’t you? Why else would you care if I swear or not?”

Bradley’s ears reddened, he didn’t want to answer her question and hurriedly changed the subject, “Miss Stahler, please sign it.”

With that, he took the pile of agreements and brought them to Freya.

Chapter 916

Hearing Kieran’s words, Freya broke into tears and laughed, “Mr. Fitzgerald, you really think I’m a loser, don’t you? You’ve made so much money, if I spend it all, then I’ll really be the number one loser in history!”

“Freya, I earn money just to support you, how can you be considered a loser when you spend my money!” Kieran wrinkled his eyebrows, incomparably disagreed with Freya’s viewpoint.

The woman he likes deserves the best in the world, and what’s the point of him making money if she doesn’t spend it!

Kieran suddenly felt that he had to train Freya to be more extravagant, otherwise he would have no incentive to make money!

Thinking about it this way, Kieran felt that he had done a bad job.

Fabian gave gift to his girlfriend everything, while Freya had been with him for so long, and he hadn't given her much of anything.

Yes, from tomorrow he will have to give jewellery, sports cars, watches.

Noticing that Freya's neck was wearing nothing, Kieran turned his face to Bradley and ordered, "Have someone send all of Mystery's latest jewellery to Kelsington Bay tomorrow!"

After thinking about it, Kieran hastily vetoed it again, "No! Send it tonight!"

Seeing that Freya's wrist was also empty, he frowned, "Also, the latest ladies' watches, send them all to Kelsington Bay too!"

Thinking that the car Freya was driving was a Beetle, Kieran went on to instruct Bradley, "The global limited edition sports cars launched by Phantom are all delivered to Kelsington Bay as well!"

It's not that he despised the Beetle, it's just that Fabian could send that Rebecca a multi-million dollar sports car, so his woman should have a better car!

Well, from now on, all the limited edition sports cars will be sent to her side, so that she can drive whichever one she wants!

Freya looked at Kieran with dumbfounded eyes, what the hell was Mr. Fitzgerald doing today!

It was so easy to stop talking about the property transfer agreement, and now suddenly he wants all kinds of things to be given to her.

Any piece of jewellery from Mystery would cost over millions, how much would it cost for him to give her all the season's new products?

She couldn't recall the name of Fitzgerald's watch brand, but she knew that Fitzgerald's watch brand had always been ranked among the top ten in the world, and it was known for its luxury, any piece of it would cost more than millions.

Even if he had money, he could not spend it like that.

Besides, she doesn't like to wear any jewellery.

And the limited edition global sports car launched by Phantom is expensive.

Kieran is still ordering Bradley, like bags, shoes, and clothes.

All sorts of things were moving towards the Kelsington Bay, Freya looked at the man in front of her.

Freya moved her lips, she was just about to tell him that there was no need to send her so many things, but Fabian had already spoken anxiously.

"Kieran, you promised me before that you'd give me one of those five sports cars that Phantom Global launched in limited numbers! You can't give them all to Freya! I've already promised Rebecca that I'll give it to her! If I don't give it to her, how humiliating it would be for me!"

Fabian looked at Freya pitifully, "Freya, I'm not trying to steal from you, I really want a limited edition Phantom. For the sake of the fact that I have been single for so many years and it's hard for me to find a girlfriend, please have pity on me and reward me with one!"

That whatsoever Rebecca that Fabian found is not really a very good girl.

See, he even offered to ask him for a gift, and she was a lover of vanity.

Freya did not approve of Fabian being with Rebecca, however, she did not want to hurt Fabian's heart, she hugged Kieran's arm and pouted, "Mr. Fitzgerald, you're giving me so many things at once, it's too much!"

"I really don't need the sports car or anything, let's give it to Fabian first! I don't need the jewellery either. If I wear jewellery all over my body, I'll hurt you when you hug me!"

Having been rejected for giving someone something so seriously, Kieran felt hurt, but after thinking about Freya's words, he felt she had the point.

If Freya had been wearing jewellery all over her neck, hands and arms, it would indeed have been uncomfortable to hug her.

"Freya, you may not wear what I give you, but you can't stop me from giving it to you!"

Freya, "....."

Well, why did she think what he said made so much sense?

Never mind, in order not to hurt his heart, she'd better stop refusing.

Mr. Fitzgerald is so rich, it doesn't matter if he spend so much money occasionally, what's more, what he gives away are Fitzgerald's things.

"Mr. Fitzgerald, you're so good to me." Freya nestled in Kieran's arms and softly pouted, "But I've heard others say that men don't know how to cherish when they get it. I'm about to give birth to your third child, will you not like me so much in the future?"

"No"

Freya tilted her face up and directly blocked Kieran's words with her mouth, "Mr. Fitzgerald, you have to treat me better and better in the future, you have to love me more, if you don't, I'll take my three children to find a gigolo and leave you alone!"

Looking for gigolo again?

She really pissed him off!

However, for the sake of her being so understanding and taking the initiative to throw herself at him, tonight, he would not break her legs.

"Oh! Rebecca, come back soon! I don't want to be alone!" Fabian pressed his heart and said exaggeratedly.

Noticing Bradley next to him, he grabbed his hand, "Bradley, it's good that you soothe my heart! Bradley, this evening"

Winnie grabbed the pillow on the sofa and smashed it directly onto Fabian's face, "Fabian, don't come to Bradley! If you dare to bully my Bradley one more time, I'll chop off your hand!"

When Fabian saw how fierce Winnie was, his body shook so hard that he hurriedly let go of Bradley's hand.

When Winnie saw Kieran and Freya, she felt that they should not be here.

She smashed the pillow at Fabian, "What are you staring at?"

To Fabian, she was a typical tiger, but to Bradley, she was gentle, "Bradley, your back still hurts, doesn't it? Let me help you back!"

Fabian was upset about that. He was just about to go to Kieran for some comfort, but Kieran's eyes swept coldly towards him.

With that look, he was clearly saying, "What, you're not leaving yet? Want me to kiss you?"

Fabian was so frightened by his thoughts that he got goose bumps, and he couldn't be bothered to fight with Winnie, so he rushed outside the living room like a gust of wind.

Although Bradley's back hurt so much, he preferred not to be a third party, and when he met Kieran's disgusted eyes, he resisted Winnie while he could only be forcibly helped away by her.

Freya thought that after the three of them left, the world would be clear, but to his surprise, another uninvited guest had arrived.

Chapter 917

Ever since he found out that Jacob was his brother-in-law, Kieran had instructed the maids at Kelsington Bay that when he came over, just open the door and let him in.

So, when Jacob came in, Kieran was sitting on the sofa with Freya in his arms.

Jacob looked at Kieran, and his face sank.

When he thought that his sister was a pregnant woman, Jacob's face grew darker and darker.

Although they're not doing anything now, they can cuddle and kiss in the living room. Who knows what he'll do to his sister when no one's around!

"Ahem."

Jacob coughed coldly before Kieran and Freya snapped out of their world.

Kieran's eyes were deeper because of the interruption, but thinking that the person coming was his brother-in-law, he reluctantly let go of Freya and sat upright.

Freya heard Jacob's voice, and her face flushed at the thought of their intimacy being bumped into.

When she thought about it, Freya's thoughts were a bit out of control, and it suddenly occurred to her that she and Mr. Fitzgerald had done a lot of very carnal things just now before Bradley, Fabian and Winnie seemed to have left.

Freya's face turned blushing, it was so humiliating!

She doesn't understand, she is quite a sensible and arrogant girl, how come in front of Mr. Fitzgerald, she is like a big nymphomaniac!

Freya was about to say something to ease the embarrassment in his heart when he saw the large bag in Jacob's hand.

Jacob she remembered was always a fierce, unapproachable person, and because of his status, he rarely took anything for himself, at best he would get a few boxes of chocolates for Jayla.

It was the first time she said Jacob carrying a large bag, it was a bit funny.

And maternity formula.

Freya looked at the things in Jacob's hand and twitched the corners of her lips, all these things weren't all meant for her, were they?

Two days ago, Jacob had approached her and talked to her, saying that he would be her real brother from now on.

Freya was happy that Jacob was able to let go of the obsession in his heart, it was quite good to have such a brother.

But Kieran would be jealous!

If he misunderstood, she would be in trouble tonight!

"Mr. Wells, why did you come over?" Freya gave a dry laugh, subconsciously wanting to explain something to Kieran, not wanting him to misunderstand.

"Delivering something to you." Jacob said matter-of-factly, "You're too thin, and you're still pregnant, you need to take more supplements."

Freya gave another glance at what Jacob was holding.

Jacob's strength is really big enough, there must be seven or eight buckets of maternal milk powder, and those the expensive nutrition products. Was he trying to make her supplement into a pig?

"Mr. Wells, there's actually no need to buy so many things, I'm quite healthy now, you don't need to break the bank so much."

Freya wanted Jacob to take all these things back, but then she felt that it seemed a little too out of the ordinary for her to say that, so she was silent for a moment and finally did not speak again.

She glanced at Kieran with some concern, she thought Kieran would be jealous and black-faced when he saw such things from Jacob, but surprisingly, his face did not show any displeasure.

Without even waiting for her to say anything, he said to Jacob, "Since Mr. Wells is so kind, leave the stuff there!"

Freya froze. How could Mr. Fitzgerald be willing to let her receive something from Jacob?

What shocked her even more was that Kieran had said rather politely to Jacob, "Have a seat!"

Seeing Kieran's attitude so good, Jacob was quite pleased with himself, it was good to be his brother-in-law!

In the past, when Kieran met him, he was always arrogant, but now that he has been promoted to be his brother-in-law, he has to behave respectfully!

However, Jacob's good mood did not last three seconds before he suddenly noticed that Freya was so thin.

Jacob frowned involuntarily. Although he had not married and had children, he knew some basic common sense.

When other women get pregnant, they usually gain a lot of weight, but how come his sister not only didn't gain any weight, but also lost a lot of weight?

Kieran had promised in front of him that he would treat Freya well, but letting her sister lose weight like this is treating her well?

He guessed she wasn't given any maternity formula or anything!

Kieran earns so much money and doesn't bother to spend it on his sister, is he planning to keep the money for another woman?

At this thought, Jacob felt unwell.

If Kieran doesn't want to spend money on his sister, he takes her home!

The Wells family can't afford to feed a pregnant woman!

"Freya, does he bully you every day?!" Jacob spoke with a cold face.

Freya had a dumbfounded face, was Jacob talking about Mr. Fitzgerald? It seemed like she was the one bullying Mr. Fitzgerald every day.

Not waiting for Freya to speak, Jacob spoke coldly, "He won't spend money on you, can he? Look at you, what has he done to you?"

She didn't understand the meaning of his words.

Moreover, she really felt from the bottom of her heart that Mr. Fitzgerald was wronged!

Mr. Fitzgerald is definitely the most generous man under the sun in spending money on his wife!

He was willing to transfer all his possessions to her and work for her to earn money for the rest of his life, so how could he possibly not be able to spend money on her!

“Mr. Wells, you misunderstand, Mr. Fitzgerald treats me very well and he is generous to me.” Freya couldn’t let Kieran be so misunderstood and couldn’t help but speak up in his defence.

What Freya said was the truth, but it sounded different to Jacob’s ears.

Why did he feel, when Freya said that Kieran had been generous to her, that there was a feeling of being bullying and being pressured?!

Jacob’s face became increasingly chilly, especially when he heard Freya’s stomach suddenly rumbling, his face was even darker.

Generous to her?

Heh!

He’s starving his sister, and he’s being generous?

Unbearable!

Chapter 918

Freya didn’t expect her stomach to growl so indisputably in front of Kieran and Jacob, and couldn’t help but feel embarrassed.

When she was pregnant, she still ate very little, but she couldn’t stand to be hungry at all. When she was a little hungry, her stomach would rumble, as if the baby inside her was protesting.

“He was generous to you?”

“What?”

Not waiting for Freya to react, Jacob added coolly, “Letting you go hungry is being generous to you?!”

Seeing that Jacob had misunderstood Kieran again, Freya subconsciously defended him, “I have just eaten, but I just more easily become hungry. Mr. Wells, you misunderstood, how could Mr. Fitzgerald possibly let me go hungry!”

Freya felt quite strange too, ever since that day when Jacob said to her that he would be her elder brother, inexplicably, she had a kind of awe for him.

Maybe it’s because he looks so much like Josiah, seeing him is really like seeing her brother.

Jacob was very dissatisfied with Freya’s answer, and he just stared at Kieran sorrowfully.

Kieran felt the extremely displeased gaze from his brother-in-law, but he had no time to pay attention to others now, he only wanted to care for the girl beside him.

“Freya, you’re hungry, aren’t you?” Kieran glanced at her still flat belly, “I’ll go and make you some food.”

Seeing two men talking all around her stomach, even if Freya was thick-skinned, she was a bit embarrassed.

She slapped her stomach, why did it growl in front of others?

Seeing that Kieran had so sensibly gone to cook something for Freya, Jacob felt less angry.

Freya couldn't let him cook, she clutched Kieran's hand, "Mr. Fitzgerald, I will cook and we'll eat together."

Kieran's health condition is kept secret from the public, except for the Fitzgerald family, as well as Fabian and Bradley, people outside really don't know that he has been struck by Silence.

When Jacob saw that his sister was pregnant and still had to serve this man dinner, his face turned pale.

What a man! He wants to break his sister's legs at the drop of a hat, he doesn't know how to show mercy, and now, he wants a pregnant woman to cook for him!

Jacob is so angry that he wants to beat Kieran!

As Jacob was just about to do it, Kieran held Freya's hand, "Freya, I'm fine, I can still cook a meal for you!"

Saying that, Kieran carried her back to the sofa, tied on his apron and went into the kitchen.

In fact, the meals could have been made by the maids at Kelsington Bay, but Freya preferred his home-cooked food and he was happy to cook for her.

Seeing that Kieran had the sense to behave, Jacob's face did not continue to darken.

He glanced at Freya who was fidgeting on the sofa, "Freya, just let him cook from now on! Cooking is a man's business, you're a woman, what's the point of getting involved!"

Freya glanced at Jacob, she felt that his words seemed to make sense, but then she felt that something was not quite right.

Not wanting to disprove Jacob, she nodded gently, but she was still uneasy about Kieran's health, and with a glance at him, she walked quickly towards the kitchen.

"Mr. Fitzgerald, I'm idle outside, how about I help you cook together?"

"No!" Kieran didn't give Freya the slightest chance to cook, "Get out and wait!"

Freya really didn't want to let Kieran, who was sick, do the housework, but his attitude was too firm, so she could only go out and wait for dinner.

Jacob was happy when Kieran took the initiative to cook, but in the blink of an eye, Freya went to help in the kitchen.

Seeing his sister spoiled Kieran, he was upset to the extreme.

Seeing Freya come out from inside the kitchen, Jacob's heart was not so upset anymore.

For the sake of his sister not to be bullied in the future, Jacob decided to teach her a good lesson.

"Freya, no more cooking! I just said, cooking is a man's business, not yours!"

"And don't spoil men! No man is good, the more you spoil them, the more lawless they become!"

Freya lifted her face and looked at Jacob. She really didn't expect that Mr. Wells would say that.

She actually wanted to say, "Mr. Wells, you say that no man is good, is it possible that you are not a man?"

But she was afraid that if she said that, it would make him annoyed, so she said politely, "Mr. Wells, what you said is not all right, there are indeed many bad men, but Kieran is the best one. Mr. Wells, I know you genuinely treat me like a sister now and want me to be good, but you really don't have to worry that Kieran will bully me, he really treats me very, very well."

Jacob had a sullen face at this.

Wasn't she supposed to say that no man under the sun was good except for her brother?

How come now her brother and father are no good, and only the man who abducted her is the best?

Jacob's face was still dark until Kieran had prepared four dishes and brought them to the table.

Freya did not intend to invite Jacob to join her for dinner, and she thought that Kieran would give him an expulsion order, but when she was preparing the dishes, Kieran would help him get a set.

Jacob accepted Kieran's service with a straight face as he picked up his chopsticks and took a piece of fish.

He was going to pick on his brother-in-law, but he didn't expect his cooking to be so good and impeccable.

Forget it, for the sake of his good cooking skills, he will not pick on him tonight!

But if he ever bullies his sister in the future, he'll settle scores with him!

After eating, Jacob explained a lot more about Freya's pregnancy before he fondly left.

Freya was dumbfounded and confused when she heard him say the notes, how come she had never realized that the so cold and arrogant Mr. Wells had a side that was even more nagging than a mother?

So scary!

However, it warms the heart.

As soon as Jacob left, Freya ran to Kieran and took his pulse.

Chapter 919

Freya was really afraid that Kieran's health would deteriorate rapidly, and every time she took his pulse, her heart hung in the air.

Luckily, this time, Kieran's condition did not continue to deteriorate.

Although his body is still very weak, the fact that he has been struck by the withering silence and has not been deteriorating rapidly is a very good sign.

It seems that the set of acupuncture she had created, and the medication she had formulated to relieve it, was still working.

After taking his pulse, Freya clutched his hand and her eyes were wet. Kieran couldn't stand to see her cry, so he hurriedly wiped away the wetness from the corners of her eyes, "Freya, don't cry! I will be fine! I will always be with you."

Hearing these words from Kieran, Freya could no longer control her emotions, she flung herself into his arms and hugged him with all her strength, "Mr. Fitzgerald, I will definitely develop the antidote for the withering silence!"

"Well, Freya, I believe in you."

Whether she could concoct an antidote or not, he was willing to put his life in her hands.

"But Mr. Fitzgerald, I still get scared, I'm afraid"

She was afraid that she would fail, she was afraid that he would leave her.

No matter how much panic there was in her heart, she would not give up lightly until the last moment.

Kieran did not speak, he just held the girl in his arms fondly.

In fact, he was afraid.

He was not afraid of death, he was just afraid that when he was gone, there would be no one to smooth the sorrow on her brow.

Kieran leaned down his face, his lips sliding over her forehead, "Freya, I won't leave you, ever."

Even if I die, my heart, my soul, will still be with you forever.

So, no one in this world can separate us from each other.

"Mr. Fitzgerald, in fact, Regina has the antidote in her hand, she said that she would give me the antidote as long as I carry Jaden and Jayla's heads to her, but I refused."

After a moment of silence, Freya continued, "Mr. Fitzgerald, in fact, I understand in my heart that Regina has done so many things just to be with you, and as long as I let go and leave you, perhaps, she will give you the antidote, but I am not willing to let go. Mr. Fitzgerald, am I being selfish?"

Kieran didn't say anything, he just held her even harder, telling her with his soul, with his whole heart, that no matter what she did, he supported her.

Freya pressed her head gently against his heart, feeling the beating of his heart.

If she hurts herself and disappears from this world forever, Regina will save Kieran, but at that time, he will be worse than dead and he will not forgive her.

So she would not do such a foolish thing, killing herself and killing his heart.

She will work harder to prepare the antidote, fight against Regina, fight against fate!

Freya had thought of many ways to take the antidote from Regina, but without exception, they were all too risky, in case Regina really ended up destroying the antidote in a heartless manner.

In fact, Regina really deserved to die for all the bad things she had done, just because she was carrying Simon's child inside her belly, even a cold-hearted person like Kieran did not hurt her life.

But how long can Regina be proud?

This child can be her talisman for a while, but not for the rest of her life!

Regina, one day, is going to pay the most grievous price!

After Kieran left home with Freya, Joanna stayed in the study for a while longer before she eased up.

She told the two kids to go first and asked someone to get Regina over.

As soon as Regina saw her, she greeted her worriedly, "Grandma, you look very pale, are you not feeling well somewhere? I'm sending the doctor over."

"Regina, no need!" Joanna took Regina's hand, "I'm fine, I'm just pissed off, I'll be fine after a rest."

"Grandma"

Regina lifted her face and looked at Joanna with understanding and good manners.

The more Joanna looked at Regina, the more satisfied she felt. She was not really good at reading faces, but Regina's face was exquisite and beautiful.

Noticing that Regina's hand was bandaged, she asked with concern, "Regina, what's wrong with your hand?"

Regina looked like she wanted to say something, "That day, that day after Freya left, she came to see me"

Regina said this in a veiled manner, as if she didn't want to say anything, but in fact, her words made Joanna feel that the injury to her wrist must have been caused by Freya!

"Freya! It's Freya again! She's gone too far!"

In the matter of ancestral hall, Joanna had wronged Freya, she would not feel guilty, she just felt that she did not want such a calamitous granddaughter-in-law.

"Grandma, don't say that, she didn't mean it either!"

Regina put on an anxious look to speak up for Freya, "Grandma, don't blame Freya, okay? I don't want to make things too difficult with her."

Speaking of this, Regina became indescribably aggrieved again, "Grandma, in fact, Freya hates me, and it's only right. It was really all my fault for what happened at the ancestral hall that day."

"It's all my fault, I shouldn't have given you those photos and made you think that there was something between Bradley and Freya. But Grandma, I got those photos unintentionally, I was really worried that Freya would harm Kieran. Grandma, I really didn't mean to harm Freya."

"I understand, I understand everything! I know that everything you do is for the good of Kieran and for the good of our Fitzgerald family."

Joanna's expression suddenly turned serious, "Regina, do you have Kieran in your heart or not?"

Regina naturally knew what Joanna was asking her about.

She did not speak immediately, but first shed several tears of resignation.

"Grandma, I'm sorry, I'm sorry for you and I'm sorry for Simon. I I fell in love with Kieran."

The more Regina said, the more tears flowed, "Grandma, I was really true to Simon, but then, during the time when Kieran lost his memory, I always thought he was Simon, I was with him for so long and did intimate things so many times. Even if the child in my stomach was conceived through surgery, I had my heart set on Kieran."

"Grandma, do you think I'm shameless? I think I'm shameless too. But, I simply couldn't control my own heart. When I loved and treated him with all my heart, I really thought he was Simon!"

"But I give him my whole heart and he'd turn out to be Kieran, someone else's husband! Grandma, what should I do?"

Hearing Regina's words, Joanna could not help but nod in satisfaction. Since Regina liked Kieran, the next matter would be much easier to handle.

She clutched Regina's hand and asked solemnly, "Regina, are you willing to marry Kieran?"

Chapter 920

"What?!"

Regina pretended to look at Joanna with disbelief, and after a short daze, she shook her head vigorously.

"No! Grandma, how can I marry Kieran! Now that Kieran has Freya by his side and I have Simon's child inside my belly, it would be immoral and incestuous for me to be with him!"

"There is no immorality! Even less incestuous!" Joanna said with unparalleled certainty to Regina, "Regina, Master Zachary has just said that Freya is the calamity of our Fitzgerald family, while you are the blessed star of our Fitzgerald family!"

"You're with Kieran for his own good, for the good of our Fitzgerald family, where's the immorality in that?!"

"You're still young and you can't be widow of Simon for the rest of your life. If you can marry Kieran, you and he will take care of this child together."

Regina's heart was bubbling with joy, but on the surface she still put on a look of incomparable difficulty, "But"

"No buts!" Joanna interrupted Regina's words, "Regina, do you love Kieran? Are you willing to marry him? As long as you nod your head, I will make sure you get what you want!"

Regina lifted her watery eyes to look at Joanna, then dropped her eyelids in disbelief, "Grandma, naturally I want to be with Kieran."

With Regina's affirmative answer, Joanna could not help but breathe a long sigh of relief.

Seeing this look on Joanna's face, the corners of Regina's lips couldn't help but rise.

Joanna, what a superbly well used old fool!

However, although she is an old fool, her prestige in the Fitzgerald family is high enough, and with such a big help from her to help, Freya can only be defeated in one fell swoop!

Even though Joanna had already made quite a few perfect plans for the rest of the day, she was really angry with Freya and Kieran today, and she did not follow Regina downstairs for dinner, but first had to be alone in her study for a while.

When Regina went to the table, Jaden and Jayla were already sitting there long ago.

As soon as she saw them, she couldn't help but think of the night she couldn't keep her diarrhoea.

Although Joanna had given an order and none of the servants here dared to talk nonsense, the shame was still something that could not be removed in any way.

Especially when she thought of how cruel Kieran had been to her, she hated it with a passion.

If it weren't for Freya, if it weren't for this pair of repulsive brats appearing in her and Kieran's lives, they wouldn't be in the state they are in now!

Walter hired the best doctor from abroad to treat Regina's broken hand. The doctor was really good, everyone thought her hand was half crippled, but he was sure that he could cure it.

Now, her hand doesn't hurt as much as it did when it was first broken, but the bandages still make it particularly uncomfortable with the slightest pressure.

Regina sat down in front of the table, she swept a resentful glance at Jaden and Jayla and waited for Joanna to come down and eat with her.

Jaden and Jayla were still indifferent, but when they saw Regina, who had come to their door to be fooled by them, their eyes instantly lit up.

"Brother, it stinks!"

Jayla scrunched up her face pitifully as she fussily covered her nose, "Brother, do you smell a stinky smell?"

"Yes." Jaden responded in a cooperative manner.

Jayla looked confused beyond belief, "How come we didn't smell this stench just now, and as soon as Regina came over, this side became so stinky and smelly?"

Hearing Jayla's words, which were obviously directed at her, Regina's face was instantly tinted with a solemn chill.

As if not seeing Regina's ugly face, Jayla then covered her nose and said, "Regina, it couldn't be that you pooped your trousers again, could it?"

"Jayla!"

The most humiliating thing in her life was again mentioned by these two culprits, Regina had the heart to kill them. She stared at Jayla viciously.

At this moment, Regina was really moved to kill the two kids, but, now that she was in the Fitzgerald's, she could not openly make a move against them, and she had to hold back even with the greatest anger.

"Me?" Jayla pointed at her nose with a dumbfounded expression, "Regina, you're not saying that the person who poops is me, are you? Although I'm a little kid, I haven't pooped my trousers for years, but it's you likes to poop your trousers, we all know about it!"

"Regina, actually, there's no shame in having this particular hobby, but to come out and scare people is really a bit of a shame!"

Regina is such a dignified person! Jayla was saying about her shitting her trousers, and she couldn't stand it!

She slammed the table hard and yelled viciously at Jayla, "Jayla, shut up! Otherwise, I'll tear your mouth apart!"

"Regina is furious! I'm so scared!" Jayla said she was afraid, but her expression, however, did not look half afraid.

She exaggeratedly burrowed behind Jaden, "Brother, I'm really scared! You have to protect me! I'm so scared that Regina will shit her trousers again and get it on me!"

Jaden ignored Regina and spoke unhurriedly, "I'm afraid too, it stinks!"

Being dissed by these two little kids, Regina was outright furious.

She took several ragged breaths, her heart still aching from the anger of these two little brats.

She wanted to pick up the plate of soup in front of her and smash it all over the heads of these two little kids.

But she still had her senses, and she knew in her heart that if she did so, the good image she had managed to put up in front of Joanna would be completely ruined.

She couldn't put hot soup on the heads of these two little kids, she could only, with this sizzling soup, pour it over herself.

Joanna already disliked Freya, so if she saw the vicious faces of these two brats again, she would be completely disgusted with even these two brats!

She gritted her teeth and, with some effort, picked up the bone broth in front of her and poured some over her arm.

Jaden and Jayla stared dumbfounded at Regina in front of them, the two of them quite tacitly remembering that time when Penny poured fish soup on herself.

How wicked women all with a tendency to self-abuse!

Since she likes to play, they might as well give her a hand!

Jaden gave Regina a cold and disgusted sweeping glance, then suddenly his hand slammed, and a large bowl full of still-hot bone broth was poured over Regina.
