

Talented 951

Chapter 951

As soon as Regina's words fell, everyone's eyes fell on the brocade box in Sabrina's hand.

Regina was not sure if it was her illusion, but she always felt that someone was looking at her with mock

Regina's brow furrowed slightly, and she wondered why someone looked at her with such a look.

Freya made a fool of herself in public, giving her grandmother a birthday present valued only 88,000.

Regina calmed herself down. Even if someone carried that look, it was definitely for Freya.

Since she wanted Freya to make a fool of herself, she naturally wanted to make her so humiliated that she couldn't turn around. She stepped forward and looked at the jade bracelet steadily, "Grandma, I believe Freya is sincere in wishing you a happy birthday, but you should not wear such a defective product, it will lower your status and make people laugh at you!"

After saying this, she then assumed the posture of a good sister and said to Freya, "Freya, you've really gone too far this time, even if you're shock of money, you can't fool grandma with this kind of cheap bracelet! Your World's women's clothing cost more than six figures for just one piece, yet you are now giving this kind of 88,000 bracelet to grandma, what do you take grandma for?!"

When Regina spoke, it was a righteous speech, as if Freya was someone who was used to being extravagant and wasteful, but was extraordinarily petty to Sabrina.

Hearing Regina's words, Sabrina could not help but purse her lips, displeasure written all over that loving face.

Seeing this look on Sabrina's face, Regina became more and more energized.

See, Grandma is really angry!

She knew that Sabrina was not the kind of person who resented the poor, but as an elder, she still cared about her offspring's feelings towards her.

She now let Sabrina know that the women's clothing brand under Freya's name was making a lot of money, with random clothes costing hundreds or hundreds of thousands, but the gift she gave Sabrina was less than the price of a single dress, it would be strange if she wouldn't be angry!

Freya just looked down upon Sabrina!

Regina felt that the time had come for her to behave.

She meekly and deftly hugged Sabrina's arm, "Grandma, you really need to stop being angry with Freya! I'm sure Freya really didn't mean it, she's probably just being more frugal."

Angry?

Sabrina's eyes, chillingly, fell on Regina's face, she was indeed angry now, but she was angry, not at Freya, but at Regina.

She is eighty years old this year. Those matters of intriguing against each other are really the child's play.

Regina's words were clearly meant to belittle Freya and make her hate Freya.

She had never liked Regina. Before, she just thought that Regina was scheming, but now, she found that she was stupid.

She was stupid to describe glass imperial green as a defective and cheap product!

Martin looked at Regina with a rather complicated look. It was said that Regina was elegant and generous, intelligent, but today, it seemed that that was not the case.

How could an intelligent woman ostracise her half-sister in front of so many people?

And how could it be that she can't even tell the difference between a defective item and a rare treasure?

Freya naturally heard the deliberate targeting in Regina's words. She admitted that the price of her gift was indeed a bit cheap in the eyes of Sabrina, but she really liked this bracelet, and she had carefully prepared it for Sabrina.

She had been really busy lately, she had almost made the laboratory her home in order to formulate the antidote for the withering silence, and she had taken the time to choose a gift for Sabrina.

When Freya saw Sabrina pull a long face, she thought it was because Sabrina had listened to what Regina had said and despised the gift too.

Not wanting Sabrina to misunderstand that she was just being perfunctory, she spoke rather sincerely, "Grandma, the gift I gave you may not be quite to your liking, but I really like this bracelet. The first time I saw it, I felt that it was the one. Grandma, this bracelet is not a defective product, it's a gift that I chose for you with all my heart."

When Sabrina saw Freya's face with a seemingly aggrieved look on it, she was heartbroken.

She already felt indebted to Freya and Josiah.

Not to mention that Freya gave her a valuable birthday present, even if she gave her a random leaf, her heart would still rejoice, how could she not like the bracelet she gave her!

Sabrina was just about to tell her that she liked the bracelet, but Regina said, "The first time you saw it, you thought it was the one? Do you think Grandma can only match a cheap item of 88,000? Freya, even if you are my sister, today, I have to say that you are really going too far!"

"Regina, shut up!" Jacob couldn't stand it anymore, looking at Freya's somewhat white face. He would have already thrown Regina out if not for the sake it was a public place.

Walter's face was unpleasant. Freya already didn't like him, and with Regina acting like that, Freya would hate him even more!

Walter was desperate to win favours in front of Freya, "Regina, get out of here!"

Originally, Regina already hated Freya, and now that she saw that her father and brother were helping Freya, she was even more eager to tear Freya apart.

Especially when she saw Kieran gently embrace Freya into his arms, with doting in his eyes, which devastated her.

She burst into tears, “Dad, brother, I’m your family too, why do you always help Freya?!”

“Freya despised Grandma, she gave her a defective product, she deliberately humiliated Grandma, she humiliated our Wells family, what’s wrong with me so say that?!”

Meeting the same shady eyes of Walter and Jacob, Regina couldn’t help but feel panic in her heart as she leaned towards Sabrina for leverage.

“Grandma, I’m sorry, I just lost my temper and upset you. But you are my most beloved grandmother, the person I clung to since I was a child, and I just can’t see Freya humiliating you with such rubbish good! Grandma, I ...”

“Enough!” Sabrina interrupted Regina’s words coldly, looked at Regina like she was brain dead, “You said this bracelet is rubbish good?”

Chapter 952

This bracelet was already rubbish!

Regina had wanted to tell Sabrina this with a straight face, but when she met her cold, stern eyes, she could not say it.

Why was Grandma suddenly looking at her in that way?

Is it possible that even if Freya gave her this kind of cheap bracelet, she still wants to protect Freya?

No!

She doesn’t believe it!

The more dignified a person is, the more they want dignity. Sabrina has been noble for most of her life, how could she accept such an unworthy gift!

After a long silence, she said softly to Sabrina, “Yes! Grandma, this bracelet is really an insult to your status!”

Sabrina saw that Regina was so brain-dead and hopeless that she didn’t even bother to continue wasting words with her.

Her eyes, lovingly, fell on Freya’s body, “Freya, thank you.”

Regina’s eyelids jumped!

It’s not fair!

She was just about to say something else but she heard Freya say in that unassuming tone, “Grandma, as long as you don’t mind.”

“You gave me such a nice thing, how could I possibly dislike it! Freya, I am happy that you came to my birthday, no need to go through all this expense!”

A nice thing?

With this comment from Sabrina, Regina really couldn't listen to it anymore, “Grandma, how can this 88,000 cheap item be considered a nice thing! Grandma, do you know how much this evening gown she's wearing costs? Nirvana's latest model, designed by Phillip himself, it costs seven figures!”

Freya only froze. She knew that Nirvana's clothes were expensive, but she still didn't expect Kieran to give her a random dress that was so expensive.

Thinking of her large cloakroom in Kelsington Bay, she secretly calculated how much it would cost!

She had to talk to Kieran when she got back, he couldn't spend money like that! Even if he's rich, he can't spend money like a lump of dirt!

She hastily tried to explain to Sabrina to save any misunderstanding.

Before Freya could say anything, Martin, who had been sitting silently on the side, could not hold his tongue.

“Cheap stuff?! This is the first time I've heard someone say that this imperial green is a cheap stuff! Your granddaughter has really impressed me!”

Martin said that he was impressed with Regina, but there was no half-measure of compliment.

Sabrina wanted to save face in front of her old friend. Regina's stupidity was revealed, making her look so humiliated in front of her old friend.

At this point, Regina was completely stunned.

How is it possible!

This is clearly a cheap stuff that Freya paid 88,000 for!

Thinking that the person she had sent to follow Freya had even taken pictures of the packaging box of the bracelet she had bought, so there could be no mistake.

“Martin, you're joking, how can this be imperial green! This is clearly a cheap bracelet that Freya bought for eighty-eight thousand!”

Regina turned her face sideways and looked at Freya with a smile, “Freya, you're quite impressive! You can't want to spend money on good things for grandmother, but use defective products as imperial green!”

“Regina!” Sabrina stood up from her chair, carrying clear anger. She stared coldly at Regina, full of dissatisfaction.

“Grandma, I'm not wrong! I'm really saying all this for your own good! Don't be fooled by Freya! She's so stingy with you, how could she possibly be willing to buy you an imperial green bracelet? It's so expensive! If she spent that much money on you, she'd be heartbroken!”

“Regina, you’ve gone too far today!” Sabrina slammed her cane heavily, “Regina, go out, I don’t want to see you tonight!”

Regina’s pupils suddenly shrank. Grandma had actually given her an eviction order?

Because of this fake imperial green bracelet that Freya gave her, Grandma gave her an expulsion order?

If word got out that she had been kicked out of the birthday party by Sabrina, she would be ashamed of herself!

Regina looked at Sabrina with red eyes, “Grandma, you’re so biased! I just pointed out what Freya did, why are you kicking me out?”

“Grandma, I know you like jade ornaments, I specially searched for the best Hetian jade bracelet to you. Could it be that the jade bracelet I spent six million on is not as good as the eighty-eight thousand fake that Freya gave you? If the bracelet Freya gave you was imperial green, I’ll kowtow to her right now and admit my mistake!”

Even if she disliked Regina, Regina was her granddaughter, Sabrina did not want to make too much of a scene.

But tonight, Regina had gone too far, targeting Freya at every turn, and if she didn’t teach Regina a good lesson, she would feel sorry for Freya.

Regina was so scheming, and Sabrina thought she should give Regina a lesson

“Martin, do you think this bracelet that Freya gave me is imperial green, or is it a counterfeit item?!”

Martin did not speak immediately as he walked over to Sabrina and carefully picked up the brocade box.

The more he looked at the bracelet inside the box, the more obvious the amazement in his eyes became. He had a lifelong love of jade and had quite a few collections, but he had never seen such a fine imperial green in his life.

If he was not mistaken, this should have been the grand finale of that charity dinner auction a few years ago, when it was auctioned off by Kieran.

Rumour has it that Kieran loves Freya with all his heart. He is willing to take out such a valuable item and let her give it to Sabrina as a birthday present, which proves his heart.

“Sabrina, this is a fine glass imperial green, it is priceless!” Martin said, “In the auction, this imperial green bracelet was auctioned off by Kieran for several hundred million, but now, even if it was a billion, someone would still rush to get it!”

Regina was shocked.

One billion?

This is clearly an inferior jade bracelet at 88,000, how can it be worth a billion!

Martin must have misread it!

Thinking this way, Regina asked urgently towards Martin, "Martin, are you really sure this is imperial green and not inferior jade?!"

"Martin, you have to look carefully. How can Freya buy a glass imperial green bracelet with 88,000?! Martin, you must have misread it!"

Chapter 953

After Regina said this, not only did Martin's face look unpleasant, the people in the main hall felt weird.

The large main hall was silent, and the atmosphere became indescribably awkward for a moment.

Martin was the premier jade master in the country, and Regina was clearly saying that he had made a mistake. She was humiliating him.

It was Sabrina who was the first to react, and she hurriedly said to Martin, "Martin, my granddaughter is talking nonsense, don't take it to your heart."

Regina was angry, and now that her grandmother, whom she had always respected, was calling her nonsense in front of so many people, she couldn't stand it even more.

She turned to Martin with some aggressiveness and said, "Martin, you know in your own heart whether I am talking nonsense or not! This is a counterfeit product, yet you still say it's imperial green! How much did Freya give you to help her? Martin, I respect you, but your behaviour today really disappoints me!"

"And you, Freya! You have the money to please Martin, why can't you spare some more money and buy Grandma a decent birthday present?! Admit it, you have no grandmother in your heart, no one from the Wells family in your heart!"

"Shut up!" Sabrina was so angry that she coughed. She really wanted to smash her cane on Regina's head to see what was wrong with her brain.

"Regina, apologise to Martin!"

"Grandma, I'm not apologizing! He helped Freya lie to you, and I won't apologise to her!" Regina said stubbornly with her chin held high.

Martin was an accomplished scholar and had always been respected, so he had never met a junior as unreasonable as Regina!

He was so angry that his face turned red, he stroked his white beard and looked coldly at Regina in front of him, suddenly he sneered, "I have lived for eighty-five years, and I have never made a mistake on jade! However, I often made mistake on judging people!"

"Sabrina, I have always your granddaughter is stable and generous, but now it seems that I really had made a mistake before!"

With these words, Martin did not give Regina any respect at all, and without waiting for her to speak, he added with a sneer, "I didn't want to bother with the younger generation, but this is your granddaughter, treating the imperial jade as a counterfeit product, if word gets out, I'm afraid it will bring shame to you!"

It was only when she met Martin's face, which had suddenly turned cold, that Regina realised that she had offended the highly respected Martin today.

The status of Martin in the city is not inferior to that of Joanna, so she has really gotten herself into a big trouble by offending him today, and she is only afraid that her reputation will have to be affected in a significant way.

Just now, she was really pissed off and dared to even contradict Martin.

After coming back to her senses, Regina couldn't help but try to remedy the situation, "Martin, I'm sorry, I really didn't mean to go against you just now, I was just worried that you might have been deceived by someone with bad intentions!"

"Humph!" Martin coldly snorted in disdain, "I can't really afford this apology from you! If you want to talk about bad intention, who in this whole house can compare to you! Freya is so intent on celebrating Sabrina's birthday, yet you are targeting her at every turn, you really think we are all blind and can't see that?"

"I ..."

Martin had always been generous and calm, not bothering with the younger generation. Regina really didn't expect him to dislike her so much, and for a moment she didn't really know what to say.

Completely ignoring her embarrassment, Martin continued, "Sabrina, you used to praise your this granddaughter to me, but now I don't agree with you!"

Regina was so angry that her face turned pale.

Regina knew that she had offended Martin today, and no matter what she said, she could not save the situation.

Now that it came this far, if she can't make a fool out of Freya, she would really be throwing away all her achievements!

"Grandma, I really didn't mean to make Martin angry, you have to believe me! I just can't stand the thought of Freya deceiving you by give you a defective product as imperial green! Grandma, I just don't want you to be deceived!"

"Regina, do you think I am blind?!" Sabrina looked at Regina indifferently, "Although my eyes are not good, I still recognise imperial green. If I am not mistaken, this imperial green bracelet once appeared in an auction a few years ago."

Sabrina took the bracelet out and placed it in Martin's hands, "Martin, take a good look, is this the bracelet from that auction?"

Martin thought that tonight he would only be able to look at the bracelet from inside the brocade box, but he never expected to be able to touch it with his hands, and his fingertips trembled with excitement.

He looked at the bracelet in his hand and nodded repeatedly, then asked Kieran, “Kieran, how many billions did you spend on this bracelet when you auctioned it?”

“I forgot.” Kieran said truthfully, the auction of the bracelet was just a whim, he really forgot how much it cost.

Regina’s eyes were rounded as she looked at Kieran incredulously. Had he actually auctioned this bracelet off from the auction?

Didn’t it cost 88,000?

Not having the original auction price, Martin didn’t get angry, he just kept sighing, “Sabrina, Freya is really devoted to you!”

Freya was even more shocked than Regina, what was going on here?

The bracelet she gave to Sabrina was clearly an 88,000 bracelet, so why did it suddenly become a very expensive imperial green bracelet?

Before the doubts in her mind could be lifted, Kieran clutched her hand tightly and pulled her along with him as he took a step forward.

“Grandma, after Freya found out about your birthday, she always wanted to give you a surprise, and she thought this bracelet I had auctioned was particularly suitable for you, so she came to me for it. Grandma, Freya knew that you didn’t care if the birthday present was expensive, she just wanted to make you happy with great care.”

Freya looked at Kieran with a shocked face, it was rare to hear him say so much, but he was talking nonsense. When did she ask him for this bracelet?

Regina was right, it really was a gift she had bought for 88,000!

Hearing Kieran’s words, Sabrina and Martin kept nodding, especially Sabrina, whose eyes were so loving.

“Freya, thank you for being so attentive to me, I have a gift for you. I have twenty percent share of the Well’s in my name, as well as quite a lot of real estate. I have already asked someone to sort out the properties, and in three days, I will have the lawyer prepare an agreement to give the property equally between you and Josiah!”

Chapter 954

“What?!” Regina couldn’t control her shocked voice, her body shaking uncontrollably because of too much anger and shock.

Grandma actually wanted to divide all the properties under her to Freya and Josiah!

What about her?

If her grandmother had given all her assets in her name to Freya and Josiah, what would Regina have?

Twenty percent of Wells’ shares!

That’s a lot of money!

Although her grandfather was stubborn about Walter's marriage some twenty years ago, he was doting her wife fiend in his life.

The property in his hands is written in the name of Sabrina, who has forty percent of Well' shares. When Jacob turned eighteen, she transferred twenty percent of the shares to him as a gift for his coming of age.

Regina had always thought that the remaining twenty percent of the shares belonged to her, and as long as she worked hard to run Court and achieve the goal her grandfather had set for her before he died, her grandmother would transfer that twenty percent to her, but now, her grandmother was giving all of those shares to someone else!

It's ridiculous that she spent six million to please Sabrina and bought her a Hetian jade bracelet of such good colour!

If, within two years, she cannot get Court's sales to grow to 200% and be among the top ten international fashion brands, is she not even going to have Court in her hands?!

No!

She would never allow that to happen!

She would not let Sabrina give all of her assets to Freya and Josiah!

Twenty percent of share was a lot. Sabrina had several villas worth billions in the capital, as well as other properties overseas. If Freya got that much property, Regina would be a nobody!

Ignoring Regina's shock, Sabrina continued to say to Freya with a smile on her face, "Freya, I owe you too much, the Wells family owes you too much, in the future, I will give you the best!"

Sabrina liked Freya a lot and was satisfied with Kieran.

The fact that he was willing to give her such a valuable imperial green bracelet for her birthday shows that he loves her granddaughter. Whether he is rich and powerful or not, it is nothing compared to his love for Freya that makes her happy.

Sabrina knew that Kieran loved Freya and naturally did not care whether she was poor or rich, but she knew Joanna had strong class perception.

In her eyes, Freya had no a strong background, and Joanna would think Freya was not good enough for her grandson.

Sabrina would never allow her granddaughter to be belittled by anyone!

Now Freya had not accepted Walter. The Wells family would not disclose Freya's identity for the time being, but even so, she would never allow anyone else to give her granddaughter a look of disgrace!

She would give her granddaughter enough wealth and power to make her worthy of the best man in the world!

When she thought of Joanna's superior and bossy look, Sabrina couldn't help but snort. If she knew that Joanna would dare to bully her precious granddaughter again, she would personally come to her door and reason with her!

Freya did not expect that Sabrina would transfer to her the shares of the Wells family, as well as other properties in her name, and she was stunned.

She wanted to be good to Sabrina, it really wasn't that she coveted the Wells family's possessions, but craved the warmth of having her family around.

Money, not too much, just enough to spend, she is not short of money now, she does not want Sabrina to think that she is a greedy person.

"Grandma, you don't have to transfer the shares to me, I can make my own money now, and I can use the money I make myself to raise you."

Hearing Freya's words, Sabrina put on a smile, "These fortunes are originally meant to be left to you and Josiah. If you don't take them, I won't feel at ease."

"Grandma, don't say that, you're in such good health, you'll definitely live a long life." Freya stepped forward, hugged Sabrina's arm and said softly.

Sabrina patted the back of her hand lovingly, "Yes, I will live a long time, and I want to see Jaden and Jayla get married in the future. Freya, don't refuse me. If you don't accept, I will be sad!"

Saying that, Sabrina really made a sad face.

It would really seem a bit pretentious if Freya continued to refuse

She said with a smile, "Thank you, Grandma."

Freya turned her face, and out of the corner of her eye, she saw Regina's angry face. The curve of her lips turned upward. She did not care about if she could get the shares of the Wells family, but it was good that it pissed off Regina.

Regina knew that if she opened her mouth at this time, it would only make Sabrina hate her more, but at this moment, she really couldn't bear it.

She gritted her teeth and spoke out, "Grandma, you can't transfer all the shares in your name to Freya and Josiah! It's not fair to me! Grandma, I'm also your own granddaughter, why can I get nothing though I work hard, while Freya and Josiah can get it? Grandma, you are too biased!"

Sabrina's expression suddenly turned serious, "Regina, you know clearly in your own heart whether I am biased or not!"

She had once loved Regina from the bottom of her heart, but later, Regina had done too many black-hearted things, and even tried to put Freya to death several times, so her disappointment in this granddaughter gradually turned into despair.

The Wells family had been stained with blood, but all for self-preservation. They do not want such black-hearted people who brutalize their own sisters for their own selfish desires!

“Grandma ...”

Regina wanted to fight for herself, but before she could say the next words, she was interrupted by Sabrina, “Regina, I’m tired, you can go back first!”

Sabrina once again gave the order to expel her, and even if she had a thick skin, she could not stand here.

She was just about to turn and leave, but Jaden and Jayla walked in, hand in hand.

“Happy Birthday, Great Grandma!”

Seeing these two cute little kids, Sabrina put on a smile, “Jaden, Jayla, come over here and let me look at you! You look much alike Freya! Well, my Freya is beautiful, and so are kids!”

Regina’s fists were clenched. Sabrina said she was tired just now, but seeing the two kids, she was in good spirit.

Freya was speechless. It was reasonable that Jayla was much like her, but Jaden was like Mr. Fitzgerald.

Jaden and Jayla talked sweet, coaxing Sabrina into a good mood. When she glanced at Regina standing by the side, Jayla suddenly shook uncontrollably, followed by tears in her eyes, as if she was in some great shock.

Chapter 955

At this moment, all of Sabrina’s attention was focused on Jaden and Jayla, and the sudden change in Jayla’s mood naturally could not escape her eyes.

She looked at Jayla and then at Regina, and suddenly remembered something she had heard Keegan say the other day.

Keegan said that he had gone over to the Fitzgerald’s that day when something happened, and he felt that Regina’s attitude towards Jaden and Jayla was particularly strange.

Regina said she cared for Jaden and Jayla, but in front of so many of them, she made things difficult for them. Moreover, based on his keen intuition from years of solving cases, he felt that the mad dog bite that day was definitely related to Regina.

Most likely, Regina’s target was the two little ones, but the two little ones were more resourceful and escaped.

After Sabrina knew about Freya’s birth, she secretly sent someone to the Fitzgerald’s just to protect the two kids.

The person she sent was a capable maid. In just a few days, she had already made friends with the servants at the Fitzgerald’s, and from their mouths, she had obtained a lot of secret information about the Fitzgerald family.

Regina and the two kids are superficially harmonious, but in reality, their relationship with each other is bad.

On several occasions, Regina had deliberately led Joanna on and almost misunderstood the two little ones, and even, in her anger, Joanna almost beat the two kids.

After hearing Keegan's words and the reports from her maid, Sabrina can naturally guess how many things Regina has done to the two little ones!

Jayla's body was cowering more and more, Sabrina looked at her teary eyes and her heart ached.

What a deep psychological shadow Regina has cast over this sweet baby!

She hugged Jayla tightly, "Jayla, don't cry, with me around, no one will try to bully you!"

After saying this, Sabrina gave Regina a warning look.

When she received the stern look from Sabrina, Regina was dumbfounded. It was obvious that these two kids had abused her, but now, how could they look like poor kids?

"Great Grandma, I'm afraid ..." Jayla wiped her tears pitifully, and the soft voice made Sabrina's heart grow softer and softer.

When she thought that the originally lively little cutie suddenly became so timid and coward because of Regina, Sabrina's disgust towards her became more and more obvious, "Regina, what are you still standing here for? Didn't I tell you to go back first?!"

When she thought of Gracie's face, Regina already hated it so much, and now that Sabrina had once again scolded her, she was even more furious. She was so eager to uncover Jayla's true face, to show everything how cunning she was.

"Grandma, you can't be fooled by Jayla! She's not at all as pathetic as she appears, she's just pretending on purpose! She wants to harm me! Grandma, do you know that my mother ..."

Regina was so irritated that she almost revealed the fact Gracie got her disfigurement, but when she thought that Gracie had told her not to reveal her disfigurement, she held back the words that were coming out of her mouth.

"Grandma, in short, you can't trust this little brat, she's full of evil! I've given them my heart and soul, and they've framed me over and over again! Grandma, they are nowhere near as sweet and innocent as you think!"

"Regina, you've gone too far!" Sabrina was so angry that she kept coughing, she slammed her cane down hard, still unable to express her anger, "I think you are the one who is full of evil!"

"Grandma, I ..."

"Regina, I know you've always been competitive and can't tolerate people to be better than you, but Jaden and Jayla are just two children, how can you think of two children with such a vicious mind!" Sabrina rubbed her temples tiredly, "Regina, go back, I don't want to see you tonight!"

Regina was so aggrieved that tears almost rolled down her face. Just now she had only been told to go back first, and now, Sabrina was saying outright that she didn't want to see her anymore!

"Grandma, you misunderstand me, I really don't ..."

“Walter, tell her to go back!” Sabrina was really so bored that she didn’t even want to hear Regina’s voice, and she waved her hand at Walter, signalling him to mind his daughter so that she could have her ears quiet.

“Regina, stop fooling around here! Get back!” Walter ordered coldly to Regina with a dark and sullen face.

Seeing that the family members who were originally on her side were all firmly on Freya’s side, Regina’s eyes were filled with hatred.

When she turned her face, she just saw Kieran, who was standing aside like an iceberg.

She couldn’t help but think that if this man, for one moment, had shown her the slightest bit of warmth, she wouldn’t have lost so badly to Freya.

For example, at Sabrina’s birthday party tonight, if he hadn’t been so generous to Freya, taking out an imperial green bracelet worth hundreds of millions for Sabrina to celebrate her birthday, she would not lose.

She was resentful!

Because the resentment in her heart was so strong that all her patience and restraint fell apart in an instant, “Kieran, why! Why did you give Freya such an expensive bracelet! Do you know that this is imperial green! It’s imperial green that’s worth a fortune!”

Kieran’s heart was full of Freya, and only after hearing Regina’s roar did he lazily lift his eyelids.

It is only when he looks at Freya that his eyes were warm, when facing others, he was cold.

He looked at Regina as if she were a retard, “If I don’t give it to my wife, should I give it to you?!”

Regina, “...”

When Sabrina and Walter were both on the attack, Regina was barely able to hold on, but Kieran’s words broke her down completely.

She couldn’t stay in this suffocating hall any longer, so she gave Freya a hateful look before she stormed out of the door in a frenzy.

Regina really hated Freya.

She ran wildly for a long time before stopping with her hands on her stomach.

After several hard breaths, her heart continued to rise and fall violently.

Freya, after getting Kieran’s heart, you still presume to get the property in Grandma’s hands, you think you are the winner in life, right?

Freya, you’re dreaming! You won’t get a single penny of Grandma’s property! Because, I have a plan!

I will make you completely disgusted by Grandma and have you kicked out from the Wells family!

Chapter 956

Sabrina chatted with Freya for a long time before she let her go.

The two little kids are very sweet and Sabrina is very fond of them.

The birthday party is over and Sabrina is still reluctant to part with the two little ones, who also love her so much that they both volunteered to stay with her for a few days. In the delight, Sabrina was always wearing a smile.

The two kids were willing to stay at the Wells family's villa for a few days, and apart from Sabrina, Walter was happy.

His daughter doesn't want to talk to him, but he can please his grandchildren first. When they accept him as a grandfather, his daughter may change her mind about him.

Even after Walter blocked that for her at the cemetery, Freya was still unwilling to take him up on it. She ignored his kindness and after the birthday party was over, she put her arms around Kieran and headed outside to the car park.

Freya was happy that Sabrina liked her birthday present, but she still had a lot of doubts in her mind.

She had clearly just spent 88,000 on a birthday present for Sabrina, so how did it end up being an imperial green worth a fortune?

After returning to Kelsington Bay, Freya couldn't help but ask the question in her mind, "Mr. Fitzgerald, what's up with that bracelet? I really only paid 88,000 for it! I think it's still the same bracelet, and you didn't seem to change it for me! How did an 88,000 bracelet suddenly become so expensive?"

"Freya, Treasure Collection is owned by me." Kieran had no intention of hiding it from Freya and told her truthfully.

"Oh!" Freya suddenly understood. No wonder the manager only charged her 88,000 for such an expensive item! Needless to say, this must have been at Kieran's behest.

Thinking of something, Freya asked Kieran again, "Mr. Fitzgerald, how did you know that I would just go to Treasure Collection? There are so many shops on Ten Miles Street, what if I go to a different shop?"

Kieran took Freya's hand with a gentle and doting smile, "Freya, Ten Miles Street is my property, and yours too."

"What?!" Freya was so shocked that she stared in awe. Ten Miles Street was actually all Kieran's properties?!

Freya had always known that Kieran was rich, but she had never dared to think that he was this rich!

With his control of Fitzgerald's, his wealth is enough to make people envious. With Ten Miles Street, his fortune could not be imaged.

Ten Miles Street filled with all kinds of precious jade, jewellery and handicraft shops, plus those famous antique shops in Arkpool City. What a fortune that must be!

She had once heard people talk about the antique shops on Ten Miles Street, where several antique shops were famous in Arkpool City and even in the whole country because they had good things in town.

Some antique shops will take a lot of defective or fake items to fool their customers, but the antique shops in Ten Miles Street are all first-class goodies, and any item taken out is ready for direct auction, not to mention the shop's town treasures.

Freya didn't know much about antiques, but she knew that there was an antique shop on Ten Miles Street whose town treasure was an heirloom jade seal, and it was said that its value, nowadays, couldn't even be estimated in terms of money.

Ten Miles Street is not a property owned by Fitzgerald's, but is the personal property of Kieran.

Freya is so proud of him!

But while pride was in the air, there was an indescribable loss in her heart.

She thought that with her hard work, one day she would be able to match Mr. Fitzgerald and become truly worthy of him, but now it seems that even if she worked harder for hundreds of lifetimes, she wouldn't be as rich as him!

"Freya, Ten Miles Street is ours, so whatever you want, you can take it." Kieran gently embraced Freya into his arms, his voice involuntarily tinged with a bit of huskiness, "Freya, I'm yours too."

With that, his lips went towards Freya's lips.

Freya's face flushed, in front of outsiders, this man always looked like an ascetic and cool iceberg, but how come in front of her, he was so impudent?!

He always throws himself at her, doesn't he know that she could not refuse him?

As she was just about to hug Kieran's neck and become a reckless bully, her mobile phone rang.

Freya took out her mobile phone and when she saw that the caller ID was an unfamiliar number, she picked it up anyway.

"Miss Stahler, I'm a reporter for the Golden Sea Evening News, can I take a few minutes of your time to interview you about the poisonous fabric of World?"

Freya wrinkled her eyebrows, whether it was fashion or children's clothing, World was taking the high-end material, and the fabrics used were all strictly controlled, how could it be possible to use poisonous fabrics?

Her intuition told Freya that this was not a simple matter, and she was desperate to find out what was going on. She uttered, "I am sorry, I am not available now." And then she hung up the phone.

When she received this call, Freya was not in the mood to be a bully. World was the brainchild of her, Freddie and Kiki, and she absolutely could not let others wantonly slander on them.

Freya opened her mobile browser and, as she expected, a number of circulars about the poisonous fabric on earth had already appeared online.

This time, something went wrong on World with its children's clothing brand, New Life.

From the reports on the internet, Freya was able to roughly understand what this poisonous fabric was all about.

Several children had severe skin irritations after wearing earthly children's clothing, and one of them had a severe skin ulcer that looked truly miserable.

Children are the future hope of the country, and in this society, once something bad happens to them, it will certainly cause widespread concern, and the culprit will be spurned by the public.

Looking at the picture of that child's skin ulcer on the mobile phone screen, Freya frowned tightly, even if such a serious ulcer is cured, the body will still leave scars that cannot be removed for a lifetime.

If she were a relative of this child, she would want to kill the culprit who had made her child miserable, but now, the whole world has decided that the one who made this child this way is the New Life poisonous fabric, the crooked businessman who makes money, Freya!

This time, if she can't prove that there's nothing wrong with their fabric, the whole world won't let her go!

She even has to accept the punishment of the law!

Chapter 957

Freya knew how serious it was this time and she panicked inside, but soon she forced herself to calm down.

All of New Life's clothing, aimed at children, is made of the best fabrics, so even if children's skin is more delicate, there will never be any allergies!

Especially in cases like skin ulcers!

Freya calmly looked at the phone in her hand, her fingertips gently sliding on the phone screen, countless unpleasant comments rushed into her eyes.

"Freya is so vicious! She knows that all the clothes are for children, and she still uses this poisonous fabric! People nowadays don't even care about other people's lives in order to make black-hearted money!"

"I used to really like Freya, but this time I have to say that she's gone too far! She's so crazy about getting rich that she would use poisonous fabrics to make children's clothes! How bad it is to spend tens of thousands to buy clothes for your child, only to get a skin ulcer in return!"

"Yeah, it's awful! It's like paying for suffering! Such crooked businessmen deserve to die!"

"A child's skin is so delicate. Freya is just heartless enough to use poisonous fabrics for children's clothing! It's heartbreaking to see this child's skin festering like this! Freya has children too, if she has the guts, let her child wear clothes made of this poisonous fabric!"

"Freya is already married to Mr. Fitzgerald, and she's not short of money! Not lacking in money but still desperately trying to amass money, she is really bad in nature!"

“That’s right! How could Mr. Fitzgerald be fond of such a vicious woman? Mr. Fitzgerald should divorce Freya! Mr. Fitzgerald’s reputation should never be ruined by such a bad person!”

“Mr. Fitzgerald should divorce Freya!”

The overwhelming tirade against Freya on the internet eventually turned into calls for Kieran to divorce her.

Freya knew that the netizens spoke so harshly only because they were misled and misunderstood her, but she was still sad when she watched those people hurling abuse indiscriminately.

Obviously, she has been trying very hard to make life better and better, and has the ability to help more people to live a better life as well, but she has been misunderstood and denied time and time again, her heart will be cold.

Initially, only three children were exposed online as being allergic to wearing clothes of New Life, but now, six children have developed allergies as a result of wearing clothes of New Life.

The children all had skin ulcers of varying degrees, the most serious one was a four-year-old girl Dolcie, whose face had developed skin ulcers. Judging from the photos alone, it was already disastrous.

Dolcie’s parents were grief-stricken to the core to see their daughter in this state.

Dolcie was their beloved daughter. How could they, as parents, bear it when their once cute daughter had become dying and her body was still festering!

The parents of these children had taken their children to hospital, but the doctors could do nothing about it.

After laboratory tests, they were all wearing clothes that had more or less toxins on them, but they simply could not think of a good way to detoxify these children.

The hospital couldn’t even cure them, and these parents were completely devastated, and their initial anxiety and heartache transformed into resentment towards World and towards Freya.

The situation of these children continues to deteriorate and the parents are distraught. After the situation of these children was exposed online, many volunteers rushed to the hospital to help, but the volunteers could not improve the situation on these children, and the only role they could play was to frantically help the parents to crusade for justice against Freya online.

Although the World was opened by Freya, Kiki and Freddie together, the legal representative was Freya, and coupled with the fact that someone was deliberately directing public opinion, everyone’s anger was wildly poured on Freya.

Demons, poisonous women, snakes and perverts ...

More and more unpleasant words rushed into Freya’s eyes, her fingertips shaking uncontrollably, and her heart trembling with pain.

She never intended to create World just to raise money.

She did want to work hard to earn money, more than that, to fulfil the dream Freddie once had.

She never squandered the money she earned recklessly, she took the vast majority of it to the orphanage she and Kiki founded.

Recently she has also been planning a new Hope Primary School. Children in the city are chasing a better education and parents are desperately trying to buy school houses, but the fact that children in the mountains can go to school was hard to reach.

Freya has no noble sentiments to save the world, but she hopes that there will be more and more children thrive in the sunshine.

Her heart was so wretched that even as she tried to keep her composure, her hand shook so much that she nearly lost her grip on the phone, and just as she thought it was about to slip from her hand, a large, warm hand clutched hers tightly.

“Freya, I am with you.”

Freya’s eyes were sore, she could no longer control the aggression in her heart, she jumped hard into Kieran’s arms, “Mr. Fitzgerald, I’m very sad.”

It’s really hard to be misunderstood, and she doesn’t like to be slandered.

“Freya, I won’t let anyone bully you.”

Kieran is as tall as a tree, able to shield her from all storms.

Freya did not say anything, just nestled quietly in Kieran’s arms.

She felt that this world is really quite amazing. Obviously, just now, her heart was so hard and full of wretchedness, but now, being embraced by him, she suddenly felt that she was not afraid of anything anymore.

Ahead, even if there are thorns, she is not afraid.

She knew that if Kieran stepped in, he could help her solve all her problems, but she didn’t want to reply on him, she wanted to become a better person, and she wanted to hear everyone say it pertinently, that she, Freya, could be worthy of Mr. Fitzgerald.

A hug gave Freya endless strength as she burst out of Kieran’s arms and clicked on Dolcie’s photo to scrutinise the pus-filled wounds on her body.

When she got a good look at the wounds on her body, Freya’s heart couldn’t help but stutter.

Dolcie’s symptoms at this moment looked like the same kind of medicine that was poured on her body that day at the cemetery when Regina had someone pour it on her!

The name of that medicine is called Bloom. The skin opens up, the rotting skin slowly dripping pus, as if a flower had bloomed on the body, without the beauty of a thousand flowers in full bloom, only the pain and despair of life withering.

Regina!

The one who started it all was Regina!

Chapter 958

After looking at the photos of the skin condition on several other children, Freya was completely sure that they had turned into this state because of Bloom.

Dolcie is really a cute little girl, and to highlight Freya's viciousness, photos of Dolcie's former life have been posted online.

In the photo, Dolcie stands amidst flowers, smiling, with big watery eyes.

So lovely Dolcie, in stark contrast to the pale and desperate she was at the moment, looked more and more frail and pitiful, and more and more inhumane to Freya.

Freya's brain was spinning fast, and after a few moments, she had already figured out the cause and effect of the incident.

Regina hated her, and tonight, Sabrina was nice to her Freya and wanted to transfer her property to Freya and Josiah, so Regina must have hated her even more and wanted to bash her to pieces.

So, Regina had resorted to such a vicious method to ruin World and her reputation, so that Sabrina will be completely disappointed in her and she Regina can inherit Sabrina's fortune!

It's really inevitable that there are some rivalries. In the adult world, there can't be only sunshine.

If Regina wanted to fight her, she didn't mind, she would take all her traps, but she couldn't stand the fact that Regina had harmed so many innocent children in order to trap her.

It's a lot of work for one night, and Regina is really trying hard to hurt her.

Not daring to delay, Freya fished out a small bright green bottle from inside the bedside table and rushed outside Kelsington Bay.

Naturally, Kieran would not let Freya go there alone. After calling Bradley and explaining a few things to him, he picked up his car keys and went after Freya.

Freya clutched the bottle in her hand tightly, her mind tense to the extreme along the way.

She knew that the parents of the children were angry, and if she went there now, they would want to tear her apart, but even so, she could not ignore the children.

The hospital does not have the antidote for Bloom, and the children's bodies are far more fragile than those of adults. If she continues to delay, these children will be in grave danger.

She is a mother and she can imagine how it hurts to lose a child. She wants these children to be well, so that in this world, there are fewer broken families.

Even if she sent the antidote for Bloom now, she was only afraid that these children would be left with scars that could not be removed for a lifetime, but it was always better to be left with scars than to lose even their lives.

Looking at the few new pictures posted by the volunteers on her phone screen, Freya really wanted to rush to the Wells family and tear up Regina's face.

The condition of those children was getting worse and worse, and Dolcie even fell into a coma from the desperate scratching herself earlier.

There was a photo online of Dolcie being held in her mother's arms. In the photo, the left side of Dolcie's face, almost unrecognisable as it was, is shown, her mother holding her hard, whimpering silently with despair in her eyes.

Tears almost rolled down Freya's face as her throat tightened.

After her pregnancy, her heart was much warmer and softer than before, and she really couldn't see her child suffering so much.

Wiping the wetness from the corners of her eyes, once she reached the underground car park of the hospital, Freya pushed open the car door and quickly got out, heading for the floor where the children were.

The children's inpatient unit was surrounded by volunteers, as well as journalists rushing to cover the event. Freya had just got off the lift and she heard the desperate cries of Dolcie's mother.

She fell to her knees, clutching Dolcie's tiny body with fragility and desperation on her face, "Doctor, please, please save Dolcie! Save my Dolcie!"

"I only have one child, she's my life! Without her, my husband and I couldn't live!"

As she said this, Dolcie's mother crouched down and heavily kowtowed to the doctor, her forehead bleeding profusely.

"Save Dolcie, please, save my Dolcie, please, save her ..."

The doctors' faces were also full of intolerance, but they really couldn't think of anything to do about the situation of Dolcie and the others, so they could only stand by and sigh incessantly.

The parents of other children, too, fell to their knees with their children in their arms. Cries, despair, filled the large corridor, and even the journalists, who were used to seeing the coldness of the world, could not help but shed tears.

"It's all Freya's fault! If it wasn't for Freya, these children wouldn't have to suffer like this! Freya makes so much black money, doesn't she have nightmares at night?!" A young man dressed in a black tracksuit, Nico, suddenly shouted out.

Hearing his words, the crowd in the corridor became agitated, yelling to seek justice from Freya, and if anything happened to Dolcie and the others, she would have to pay with her life!

"Damn this black-hearted woman Freya! I wish she could just be shot!"

"It's mercy for a vicious woman like her to be shot outright! She deserves death by a thousand cuts!"

"It's disgusting! To make money she has no bottom line at all! How dare she use this kind of fabric?"

"Mr. Fitzgerald is so unlucky to have married such a vicious woman and to have had children with her! In my opinion, it's her two children who deserve to die the most! She has harmed other people's children, and her children should also pay for their lives!"

“Yes, we must find a way to make that bad woman pay the heaviest price!”

.....

Listening to the curses hurled at her from the crowd in the corridor, Freya couldn't help but become stiff, but seeing those few dying children, she still clutched the medicine bottle in her hand and walked forward.

Nico noticed Freya keenly, and the corners of his lips couldn't help but curl into an impish smile.

He was hired by Regina, he came here today to lead the public opinion, to make everyone hate Freya, so that she can no longer turn over a new leaf. At such a sensitive moment, Freya came here, she would never go out of this hospital door!

Nico suppressed the smile on his lips as he put on an expression of righteous indignation and shouted sternly, “Freya, how dare you come after what you have done! Freya, look what you've done to these children! You're not even sparing these innocent children in order to make money, you are really heartless!”

“Freya?!”

Many people cried out in shock as countless sight swept towards Freya in unison, and the moment they established her identity, the sight that had been tinged with doubt became sharp.

Nico knew that everyone now wanted to tear Freya apart. If he could get everyone to come together to take on Freya, today, without paying any price, they would be able to bring her down!

Glancing at Freya's flat belly, Nico continued to put on a righteous face as he waved his fist and lunged at Freya.

“Freya, I will seek justice for these children today!”

Chapter 959

Nico thought very well, as he was leading the way, the indignant crowd would definitely treat Freya with some punches and kicks, even if they couldn't kill her, it would be good to get rid of the baby inside her belly.

Seeing Nico, who was gritting his teeth with a fierce face in front of her, Freya could not help but have chill in her eyes.

This man, instead of seeking justice for the children, had taken advantage of Regina and deliberately targeted her.

She had no particular penchant for masochism, so naturally she wasn't going to be foolish enough to take a punch from this man, and with a firm hand she tried to grab his wrist so he wouldn't get away with it.

Kieran moved even faster than her, before her hand could touch Nico's body, he had already coldly strangled his wrist. She only heard a click and Nico instantly let out a hysterical scream.

Nico was in pain and cold sweat was breaking out on his forehead. He wanted to get back what he had suffered.

“Brat, how dare you hit me? I will teach you a lesson.”

When he looked clearly at Kieran’s handsome face, Nico’s voice stopped abruptly, and after a long time, he stammered, “Mr. Fitzgerald ... ”

Today, Nico is determined to make Freya’s life miserable, but Kieran’s prestige in Arkpool City is so strong that no matter how desperate he is to get Freya killed, he does not dare to be too reckless in front of him.

Thinking of the overwhelming reports on the internet about poisonous fabrics on World, Nico instantly gained a lot more strength.

“Mr. Fitzgerald, it is a misunderstanding!”

Nico smiled at Kieran, “Mr. Fitzgerald, I know that you struck at me because I wanted to teach Freya a lesson, but Freya is not worthy of your protection at all!”

“Mr. Fitzgerald, Freya is your wife, but I’m sure you don’t know what kind of person she really is! Mr. Fitzgerald, Freya is not as good as you think she is, she is heartless, she will do anything to make money! Mr. Fitzgerald, look at these poor children, look at what they’ve become because of Freya!”

Nico turned his face and pointed at Dolcie and a few other children lying in the corridor beds, “Now the doctors can’t do anything about the injuries they’re carrying! They’re all now infected with a life-threatening poison, Freya is ruining their lives!”

“I’m not against businessmen making money, Freya can make money, but she can’t give away her conscience! She used poisonous fabrics for children’s clothing, she’s committing a sin!”

“Freya wouldn’t do such a thing.” Kieran was in no mood to listen to Nico’s long-winded speech, he cut him off with a sullen face, “I believe her!”

Hearing that, Nico was stunned. The biggest reliance they had in doing all this was that Mr. Fitzgerald would loathe Freya, but now, he was firmly on her side, and this matter seemed to be a bit difficult.

However, when he thought that public opinion was already completely against Freya, and that most of the netizens were vocally denouncing Freya, the apprehension in Nico’s heart was removed.

The power of public opinion is so powerful that it is almost frightening. Even if Freya could get Kieran’s support, with so many righteous people crusading against her, Freya would have to pay a heavy price!

When Freya heard Kieran’s words, her heart was warm and fuzzy. She knew that no matter what happened, he would stand by her side unwaveringly.

She can’t betray his trust in her, so she can’t lose in this battle!

Seeing that Nico was still blocking her, Freya spoke indifferently, “Please move aside! I’ll go and heal the children!”

Originally, Nico was still racking his brains on how he could ruthlessly abuse Freya without offending Kieran, but now when he saw that Freya even wanted to go and treat those children, he couldn't help but smile coldly.

Freya was seeking for her troubles!

He endured the pain on his wrist and blocked Freya even more stubbornly, "Freya, don't you dare touch these children! You've already harmed them, and you're still not going to let them go, are you? Do you have to get these children killed before you'll be happy?"

"Get out of the way!" Freya was really quite speechless at Nico, and her voice couldn't help but get colder, "You're the one trying to get them killed by stopping me from treating them!"

"Treating them?! Freya, if you really had good intentions, you wouldn't have harmed these children! I don't believe you can cure a disease that even a specialist can't cure! I'm afraid you're trying to kill and silence them, aren't you?"

As a matter of fact, after Nico said the words, the crowd at the scene became even more agitated, and several volunteers rushed to Freya in anger, and if not for Kieran being here, they would have already torn her apart.

"Freya, you've gone too far! These children have been victimized by you. How would you let them go?!"

"Freya, don't you dare touch these children again! We will definitely not stand by and watch them get killed by you!"

"That's right, you don't think these kids are bad enough! Children are so precious nowadays, if anything really happens to them, a good family will be ruined by you!"

.....

These people were accusing her indiscriminately, and it was really hard for Freya, but she could understand them, after all, they were all misled and thought that she was the bad person who had done these children harm.

Suppressing all the sadness in her heart, Freya said with unparalleled certainty, "Whether you want to believe it or not, I have to say that New Life never used poisonous fabrics. I did not harm these children, we are innocent! It was someone who deliberately harmed these children, and all they wanted to do was to set up New Life!"

"Freya, shut the hell up!" Nico yelled at her angrily, "If New Life hadn't used poisonous fabrics, would these children have turned to this state? Freya, admit it, you're just an inhumane businesswoman. A vicious woman like you deserves to die!"

Nico raised his arms to the volunteers beside him, "Let's get this vicious woman out! We absolutely will not allow her to continue to brutalise poor children!"

The volunteers all hated Freya with a passion. Hearing Nico's words, they all rushed towards Freya, wishing to throw her straight out of the window.

“Who dares to touch her?” Kieran tightly shielded Freya in his arms, his eyes swept over these people’s faces like an ice blade, “Whoever dares to touch her, I will not spare his life!”

Chapter 960

Those volunteers who had tried to throw Freya out instantly froze in place. Freya was not enough to be feared, plus she had done such a vicious thing, so naturally they were not afraid of offending her.

But they didn’t dare to offend Kieran. Who dared to offend this famous living hell in the Arkpool City?

Unless they did not want to live!

Seeing that none of the volunteers at the scene had any intention to go on, Nico couldn’t help but feel anxious. He felt that even God was helping him, and as he was burning with anxiety, Dolcie’s mother suddenly cried out, “Dolcie, my Dolcie!”

“Dolcie, wake up! Don’t you scare me! Dolcie, wake up!” Dolcie’s father burst into tears, “Dolcie, don’t leave me and your mother! Don’t leave us!”

“Dolcie, my Dolcie, don’t leave me, don’t leave me ...” Dolcie’s mother’s voice was hoarse, “Dolcie, I can’t live without you ... ”

Hearing the voices of Dolcie’s mother and Dolcie’s father, everyone’s attention was drawn to them in the scene.

The doctor rushed forward to check Dolcie’s condition. Dolcie was already in shock. Her body was already weak and if she continued to be tortured by the poison of Bloom, she would die soon.

Dolcie’s Grandma was in tears as she trembled and held her face in sorrow.

“What a sin! What a sin! Why did you make my granddaughter suffer like this?”

Glancing at Freya standing in the corridor, Dolcie’s Grandma became even more agitated as she walked step by step in Freya’s direction with red eyes, “What have you done to my Dolcie? Give me back my Dolcie!”

Dolcie’s mother was not in very good health and it was difficult to conceive. She had such a precious daughter as Dolcie in her forties, and the loss of Dolcie was devastation to this warm and happy family.

Looking at the girl lying motionless on the hospital bed, Freya felt her eyes sore. She pushed aside the volunteer who was in front of her and went in the direction of Dolcie’s grandmother.

She grabbed Dolcie’s grandmother’s arm with all her might, “Let me save Dolcie! Believe me, I’m a doctor, I can definitely save her!”

Dolcie’s Grandma obviously didn’t believe Freya’s words, shook off her hand with force and a look of disgust and defensiveness, “I don’t believe you! I don’t believe a word you say!”

“If it weren’t for you, my granddaughter wouldn’t have become like this! You have harmed my granddaughter, and I will make you pay!”

“Freya, you’ve gone too far! Dolcie is in shock and you’re still here talking big. Why do you dare to come to the hospital?” Nico roared at Freya in anger.

Dolcie’s condition was so distressing that many of the volunteers shed tears of worry.

Looking at Dolcie, who was still unresponsive on the hospital bed, even though everyone was scornful of Kieran, the flame of anger in their hearts still could not be controlled and burned.

They could not live up to their conscience if they did not give justice to these poor children!

“Freya, get out of the hospital! You’re not welcome here!”

“Get out! Get the hell out of here! ...”

The scene was so loud that Freya couldn’t care less about being upset, she just wanted to save Dolcie quickly.

Dolcie was not far in front of her, her situation was more serious than she thought, if she didn’t do something, Dolcie really wouldn’t survive.

“Dolcie and other kids have been poisoned with Bloom, a very deadly poison, and I have the antidote in my hand! If they don’t take the antidote, they will definitely be in a bad way!”

Freya anxiously regripped Dolcie’s grandmother’s arm, “I know you have many misunderstandings about me, and even if I explain to you now, you won’t believe me! But no matter what, now I must go and save Dolcie, or she will die!”

Dolcie’s grandmother shivered at this word. Of course she didn’t want her precious granddaughter to die, but she was even more afraid that Freya, a heartless and treacherous businessman, would cause secondary harm to her granddaughter.

“The doctors can’t do anything about Dolcie’s condition, if I don’t try, Dolcie won’t make it through the night! If you let me try, Dolcie will still have a chance of survival, if you don’t let me try, Dolcie will only die!”

Dolcie’s grandmother’s eyelids fluttered violently. She hated Freya, but she had to admit that if she didn’t think of other methods, Dolcie really wouldn’t last much longer.

Seeing that Dolcie’s grandmother was already swayed, Freya quickly took out the small pill bottle inside her handbag, “This is the antidote! Take the antidote, and with my acupuncture, Dolcie will soon be well!”

Dolcie’s Grandma struggled violently in her heart, what if, indeed, Freya could make her Dolcie get better?

As she was about to ask Freya to try it, Nico rushed over.

“Freya, what the hell do you want to do? Dolcie has already suffered so much, she’s about to die, and you still don’t let her go? You’re trying to destroy her body so you can cover up your crime, aren’t you?!”

Dolcie’s Grandma’s eyes were round with shock. Freya actually wanted to destroy Dolcie’s body?!

“Shut up!” Freya was really sick of this man who was addicted to turning right and wrong upside down, and she didn’t bother to continue talking to him, she said to Dolcie’s grandmother with immense earnestness, “Dolcie’s situation is really bad now! She can’t afford to wait any longer! I promise you with my life that I will cure her! Please give me a chance and give Dolcie a chance to live!”

Dolcie’s Grandma’s eyes were hazy with tears, and for a moment, she really didn’t know whether she should believe Freya or Nico.

Just as she was hesitating, the man in black suddenly spoke, “Let her heal! If she can’t cure Dolcie, I, Kieran, will pay for Dolcie’s life!”

The crowd was astonished.

Everyone had heard that Kieran and Freya were in love with each other, but in most people’s eyes, the love story of a rich boss and a Cinderella was more about a man doting on a woman, it would not definitely about death!

Even, many people felt that Kieran was only infatuated with Freya for a moment caused by her appearance, or based on the existence of two children, to start his family, and it wouldn’t be long before he would get sick of Freya. Who dared to take the risk?!

Kieran had always been a man of his word, when he said he would pay for her life, he was definitely meaning it! Besides, there were quite a few media at the scene, and the situation was being broadcast live at this moment, so afterwards, he simply couldn’t renege!

Now people could see that Dolcie was dying. Wasn’t he afraid that if Freya could not save Dolcie, he would have to leave his life here?