Chapter 961

Ignoring everyone's shock, Kieran said again, "Let Freya heal her! If anything happens to her, I, Kieran, will pay for her life!"

Although many people were puzzled by Kieran's behaviour, no one at the scene dared to question him, even Nico, for a moment, did not know how to continue to make things difficult for Freya.

Dolcie's Grandma knew Kieran, she had not had much interaction with him, but looking at the cold and silent man in front of her, she was inexplicably convinced in her heart.

It always seemed that the words of such a towering, untouchable man were to be believed.

Such a proud man was willing to vouch for Freya with his life, and suddenly Dolcie's Grandma felt that Freya should not be any worse.

What if, indeed, there was a misunderstanding?

If Freya really used such poisonous fabrics to make children's clothing in order to make money, it would be like taking risk.

"Freya, I'll trust you for once!" Dolcie's Grandma said, and led Freya towards Dolcie's hospital bed.

Dolcie's grandmother had agreed to Freya's treatment of Dolcie, so Dolcie's father and Dolcie's mother could not stop her, and moreover, they were willing to trust Kieran for once.

The crowd automatically made a way for Dolcie's Grandma and Freya. Freya walked fast, she quickly took out a pill and stuffed it into Dolcie's mouth, then took out her acupuncture kit and started to give Dolcie acupuncture.

Freya's movements were particularly nimble and it was only when she stuffed the pills into Dolcie's mouth that Dolcie's dad and Dolcie's mum came back to their senses.

They didn't trust Freya enough and subconsciously tried to pick the medicine out of Dolcie's mouth, but the pill melted in their mouths and they simply couldn't change the fact that Dolcie had taken the pill.

They could only stare nervously at Freya's movements, fearing that she might do something bad to their daughter.

They stared at Freya unblinkingly for a long time, and only when they saw that she was only concentrating on giving Dolcie acupuncture and not doing anything else too much did they dare to blink.

"Freya, what did you give Dolcie to eat?! You gave her poison, didn't you?!" Nico squeezed in front of Dolcie and pointed at Freya with anger.

Seeing that Freya still kept on giving Dolcie acupuncture, Nico was afraid that she would cure Dolcie. He went forward and tried to stop Freya from continuing the acupuncture, but before he could touch Freya, he was directly thrown to the ground by Kieran.

Nico got up from the ground with difficulty and pointed at Freya and said to Kieran, "Mr. Fitzgerald, you can't be confused just because of this vicious woman! She's trying to get Dolcie killed! You can't help the enemy to do evil!"

Nico still wanted to reprimand Kieran, but when he met Kierans' dark, deep black eyes, he couldn't help but feel short of breath.

He felt that the weakness of one person had led to his lack of momentum, and he desperately wanted to get everyone's approval so that together they could stop Freya from continuing to save people.

He turned his face and shouted to the volunteers and media aside, "Everyone, come and save the child! We absolutely cannot let Freya continue to harm her!"

Hearing Nico's words, a few volunteers tried to step forward to stop Freya, and Nico was delighted, but when that volunteer met Kieran's cold, austere gaze, he hurriedly took another step back, not daring to continue.

Nico was not willing to give up just like that. He organized his words and was just about to motivate the crowd to make things difficult for Freya, but one of the reporters on the scene was already the first to speak up.

"Maybe Freya can really save these kids! I remember she's quite good at healing, that time when Talia was bitten by a poisonous snake, it was Freya who saved her!"

As soon as this reporter spoke up, a number of people instantly opened their mouths as well, "Yeah, let Freya try! No matter what bad things she's done to make money, the most important thing now is to keep the baby alive!"

"I don't know if Freya is good or bad, but her medical skills are really good! My grandfather went to visit her, and after taking the medicine she prescribed, my grandfather's health has improved a lot!"

Nico, "..."

How come these people don't follow the usual rules at all! Isn't it time to condemn Freya for her evil deeds?!

Each one of them has a problem with their minds!

Dolcie was young, plus Regina had poured quite a lot of drug on her to achieve the desired effect, so even if Freya had the antidote, it was quite tricky to make her well.

Fearing that the situation of the other children would also continue to deteriorate, Freya hurriedly asked Kieran to distribute the antidote to the other children first.

This bottle of antidote was a modified version of the one she had just received from Sebastian two days ago.

Back then, after being exposed to several cases of Bloom, Sebastian had been working on improving the antidote for it. His latest antidote was developed so that once taken, the level of skin ulceration would not continue to worsen.

None of the six children, except Dolcie, have had any facial ulcers yet and none of them have had to worry about disfigurement.

On Freya's forehead, beads of sweat had appeared.

In films and dramas, doctors administer needles to their patients, looking relaxed and dashing, yet quite magical.

In fact, administering needles to a patient is a really tiring task, and the slightest mistake can have irreversible consequences.

Especially as Dolcie was a young child, she had particularly bad skin ulcers on her body and finding the right points was not that easy.

Seeing the beads of sweat oozing from Freya's forehead, Kieran felt his heart ached, but he knew in his heart that no matter how much he worried about her now, he could not stop her from healing and saving people.

He could only carefully wipe away the beads of sweat from her forehead with such a gentle and doting look that many people's jaws dropped.

Even Nico's jaw almost dropped, was this really the cold and ascetic Mr. Fitzgerald who Miss Wells had said?

Originally, Dolcie was just lying motionless on the hospital bed, and as Freya applied the needle to her face, her miserable pale face suddenly twisted up in pain.

"It hurts, it hurts so much ..."

Dolcie's mother's tears began to roll down her face again. She wanted to do something to ease the pain in her baby girl's body, but when she saw her body covered in silver needles, she dared not do anything rashly, and could only keep on shedding tears.

Seeing Dolcie's painful appearance, Nico was instantly energized, and he glared at Freya in anger, "Freya, what exactly do you want to do to Dolcie? Can't you see that she is already being tortured by you?"

"Save Dolcie! Hurry up and save Dolcie! She's in so much pain, if she continues to let Freya torture her, she won't be able to bear it!"

Chapter 962

"It hurts ... mommy, it hurts me ..."

Dolcie couldn't open her eyes, but the tiny child, with her unconscious wailing, became more and more heartbreaking. Looking at the poor little girl in front of her, Freya was also heartbroken.

But she knew in her heart that Dolcie would be in so much pain at this moment, not because of the acupuncture she had given her, but because of the ulcerated skin on her body.

The pain was too much for an adult to bear, but how could girl with such delicate skin stand it?

The more she saw Dolcie's painful look, the more disgusted Freya became with Regina and the more she felt that she was heartless.

She didn't understand how in this world, there could be such a vicious person like Regina! She was so vicious that she would do anything to get what she wanted!

Regina had gone to such lengths to ruin the world and destroy Freya. Freya wouldn't let her have her way!

"Freya, hurry up and let go of Dolcie!" Nico yelled anxiously, "Didn't you hear Dolcie say she was in pain? Freya, how can you be so cruel to a child?!"

Nico was really too noisy and disturbed Freya from placing the needles. She knew that it was impossible to reason with him, so she didn't bother wasting her energy with him, she just pinched up a silver needle and stabbed it into his body without ceremony.

Freya's deft stabbing of the needle caused him to wince in pain, and coupled with the pain in his wrist, for a moment, Nico really didn't have the strength to continue his nonsense in front of Freya.

Dolcie's father was already worried enough, and hearing Nico's words made him even more uneasy. He wanted to believe Freya for once and seek a silver lining for Dolcie, but seeing his daughter's pained face, he couldn't bear to look at it after all.

"Freya, what exactly have you done to my daughter? Why is she having such a hard time?!"

He was a famous businessman in Arkpool City and had done a lot of good deeds, but when it came to his own daughter, he really could not communicate with Freya in a calm manner.

"Freya, I forbid you to touch my daughter!"

Seeing the fine beads of sweat also seeping out of Dolcie's forehead, Dolcie's father could not stand it any longer, and he stepped forward, and tried to stop Freya from continuing to administer needles to Dolcie.

Freya's eyes were aghast, if Dolcie's father had objected strongly, she would have lost everything tonight.

Nico was quite satisfied with the reaction of Dolcie's dad, he knew how poisonous Bloom were, he also knew that Freya could save Dolcie by applying the needle, and now Dolcie's dad stopped it, just as he wanted.

Nico was waiting for Dolcie's father to stop Freya, but Dolcie's mother took Dolcie's father's hand and told him not to disturb Freya to save Dolcie.

Dolcie's dad looked at Dolcie's mum in disbelief, "Honey, don't stop me, I won't let anyone hurt our Dolcie again!"

“Honey, Freya is saving our Dolcie!” Dolcie’s mother said with unparalleled certainty to Dolcie’s dad, meeting Dolcie’s dad’s puzzled eyes as she pointed to Dolcie’s face.

“Honey, can’t you see that our Dolcie is looking much better?”

It was only then that Dolcie’s dad noticed that Dolcie’s pale face from a moment ago was tinged with a light, healthy flush.

Because of this, her body, no longer just entangled in a dreary deadness, was enveloped in a new layer of life.

Dolcie’s father looked at Dolcie’s face in surprise. He couldn’t believe that the person he saw as the culprit who had caused Dolcie’s misery could actually save his daughter!

“There, there! No more pus on my Hayden!” A parent on the sidelines suddenly exclaimed in surprise.

Another parent’s face was also full of joy, “Our Dolcie’s body doesn’t continue to rot anymore either! Our Dolcie will definitely get better! She is going to get better!”

With several parents exclaiming with relief, Freya dropped the last pin on Dolcie’s face.

At first, Dolcie’s face was wrinkled as if she was in great pain, but gradually, her face stretched and her eyes slowly opened.

Dolcie’s family could not have been happier to see their daughter, who they had assumed was certain to die, suddenly open her eyes.

Dolcie’s Grandma grasped Freya’s hand, her pale hand, with its visible bruises, trembling incessantly.

“Thank you, thank you, if it wasn’t for you, our Dolcie would really be hopeless! Thank you!”

Dolcie’s mother also thanked Freya with red eyes, “Freya, thank you for saving our Dolcie.”

Dolcie’s family was really happy that Dolcie had survived, but when they saw Dolcie’s face, which had festered, her family’s faces were instantly filled with heartache and bitterness again.

Even if a scar is left on the skin of the body, it is not a big deal, but if such a big scar is left on the face, it will completely ruin the face.

An adult with a large scar on her face can still have a facelift or something to keep the scar from being this obvious, and how can they give a child this young a facelift?!

With such a ruined face, Dolcie’s family naturally did not mind her, but they were worried that Dolcie would be ridiculed and become inferior and sensitive.

Another instant teardrop tumbled from Dolcie’s grandmother’s cloudy eyes, “Our Dolcie’s face ... what should she do in the future!”

“Dolcie, my poor Dolcie ...”

Dolcie’s mother was also a woman who loved beauty and naturally knew how important this face was to a woman. She wiped her tears hard and her mouth opened slightly, as if she wanted to say something.

Only in the end nothing came out of her mouth but a silent whimper.

As parents, they try hard to give their children the best, but with a face like that, what can they do to make their daughter, like other children, grow up with a happy and carefree life?

“Mummy, my face hurts.” Dolcie lifted her hand and tried to touch her face, but her hand was too sore for her to do so.

At four years old, children don’t know too much, but they do have a basic idea of beauty and ugliness.

Seeing the gruesome bruises on her hands and thinking of the burning pain on her face, Dolcie’s eyes instantly filled with tears.

“Mummy, I’ve become ugly, haven’t I? Mummy, I don’t want to become ugly ...”

Dolcie’s father hastily looked away, tears rolling silently down his face.

He was willing to give everything he had in exchange for a peaceful and carefree childhood for Dolcie, but even if he gave everything he had, he could not exchange it for a perfect and flawless face for Dolcie.

Dolcie’s mother held back her tears and tried to squeeze out a smile, “My Dolcie won’t turn out to be ugly, my Dolcie will be fine! My Dolcie is the cutest little girl.”

After saying this, Dolcie’s mother could no longer restrain herself, covering her face and letting the tears flood her eyes.

What the hell can she do to save her baby girl? Someone please save her baby girl!

Chapter 963

While Dolcie’s family was at a loss, Bradley hurriedly ran in from outside, and without taking a breath, he carefully placed a lavender jade bottle into Dolcie’s father’s hands.

“Use this on your child, it won’t leave a scar.”

After putting this medicine bottle into Dolcie’s father’s hand, Bradley felt reluctant. This kind of medicine is hard to get, he didn’t expect that Boss would be willing to give away such a valuable medicine in order to solve the trouble for Miss Stahler today.

However, as far as Boss doted on Miss Stahler, he was still willing to offer it!

Moreover, this little girl was really pitiful and it was a good deed to help her.

Dolcie’s father knew Bradley, and he knew that he had always been a safe and sound person, so when he said that this medicine would not leave a scar, it naturally meant that it would not leave a scar.

Dolcie’s face was so badly ulcerated, and to be able to leave no scars, this kind of medicine is really rare.

He was grateful.

As he was about to thank Kieran, Nico's voice with obvious mockery sounded in the air, "Freya, what are you doing? Let's not forget that it's all because of the black-hearted Freya that Dolcie and the others have become like this! Freya, this little favour of yours won't wash away your sins!"

When Freya saved Dolcie just now, everyone was momentarily shocked by her superior medical skills and almost forgot for a moment that she was the one responsible for the misery of these children.

Now that Nico had reminded, everyone's eyes instantly changed to Freya, even Dolcie's relatives who had been grateful to her earlier had a distinct coldness in their eyes.

It's true that Freya had now saved the children, but if it weren't for her, these poor children wouldn't have needed to suffer like this!

Seeing the situation reversing to his side once again, Nico's broken wrist didn't even seem to feel the pain anymore.

He lifted his chin high and shouted coldly at Freya in an unassailable manner, "Freya, making money against your conscience and harming so many innocent children, you are simply guilty of the worst! Not only should you apologise to all the children's families today, you should also shut down World and turn yourself in to the police!"

And she was asked to turn off World? What a thought!

Freya turned her face, her eyes clear and cold as she looked at Nico, "New Life didn't use poisonous fabrics! These few children have been poisoned with a very horrible poison, Bloom."

"Bloom is so mischievous, I wouldn't be stupid enough to make children's clothes to deliberately poison them even if I was brain-damaged!"

Freya's words made quite a lot of sense and many people at the scene kept nodding their heads.

It is true that many people nowadays are trying to make money by selling second best. Those things that are second best may also be somewhat harmful to one's health, but it will not show that obviously.

The poison in these children was so obvious that one would really have to be a fool to use such an obvious poison on fabric.

"Freya, having done such an evil deed, but you still have to nerve to weasel your way out of here!"

Nico tried to ignore the powerful pressure from Kieran's body and said to Freya with a cold smile, "Freya, the poisonous fabric doesn't make every child's body fester, the fact that these children's condition would be so unlucky must have something to do with their physique as well."

"Of course, there may be other children who have more or less damaged their bodies after wearing the clothes you made, they just haven't been exposed to the media! Freya are guilty of the most heinous of crimes and deserve the harshest punishment!"

After Nico said this, the parents of those children all spoke up, "Yes, we spent money to buy clothes for our children, and we have made them suffer so much, it's really a sin!"

“Freya, even if you brought the medicine and saved our children, our children’s suffering is because of you, you should give us an explanation!”

“I bought clothes for my child with 30,000, which is more than the living expenses of many families for a year, but what did I get for spending so much money but scars on my child’s body? Freya, you made our child suffer so much, why don’t you take any responsibility for anything?”

“Freya, you’ve put our children through so much, you must pay the price!”

The corners of Nico’s lips curved with pleasure as he listened to the parents’ irritated words, and he was about to continue his criticism of Freya, but Kieran, who had been silent for a long time, suddenly spoke up coolly.

“Freya hasn’t done anything wrong, so why should she pay the price?!”

The crowd was afraid of Kieran’s might and did not dare to offend him, so a few people who were a bit more daring could only direct all the battle to Freya.

“Mr. Fitzgerald, you can’t be fooled by Freya! If she was really any good person, she would not have used such unscrupulous poisonous fabrics for profit?!”

“Yes, Mr. Fitzgerald, Freya has really gone too far this time, even if she is your wife, you can’t just take her side!”

“If she did something wrong, she should pay the price! Mr. Fitzgerald, not only did Freya harm these poor children, she also cheated you out of your feelings, you absolutely cannot spare her so easily!”

.....

Listening to the crowd’s denigration of Freya, Kieran’s lips could not help but purse, his profound eyes flooded with a morbidly cold.

This was the sign of a storm.

These people spoke so badly of his beloved girl, and Kieran was upset in his heart, but he knew in his heart that if he lashed out here, he would only embarrass his beloved girl more, and he had to, holding his beloved girl’s hand, turn the situation around once and for all.

“I said, Freya didn’t do anything wrong, and the one who should pay the price is not her, but the person who set her up!” Kieran clutched Freya’s hand and spoke up.

“Yes, this time, it was indeed someone who deliberately set me up! As I said just now, these few children were poisoned by Bloom, I couldn’t have been stupid enough to put poison on my clothes. It was someone who deliberately put poison on these children’s clothes, trying to set me up!”

Freya paused, then said with unparalleled certainty, “I will find out the truth about this matter and give you all an explanation! I have not made any mistakes, so I am not afraid of people slandering me!”

Nico laughed with a sneer, “The truth? The truth is clear now, it’s that you, Freya, used poisonous fabrics to make children’s clothes for profiteering, and almost killed these children!”

“If the fabric of the clothes wasn’t poisoned, how come these children are showing the same symptoms! I can’t believe it could be such a coincidence that it just so happened that they were poisoned when they wore clothes of World, and, so many children were all poisoned the same way!”

“Well, you really don’t see any tears.” Kieran spoke coolly and lightly, “I will, right now, give you the truth!”

Chapter 964

Kieran gave a look at Bradley. Bradley took out a flash drive from his suit pocket and walked towards the LCD player not far in front of him.

At the end of the corridor of this hospital, there are LCD players, which are usually used for the promotion of the hospital, and now, it is just convenient for Bradley to play a video.

After inserting the flash drive into the USB port underneath the LCD monitor, Bradley leisurely retreated to the side.

And at this point, everyone was able to clearly see what was displayed on the LCD screen.

Obviously, these videos were taken from the surveillance cameras, which did not look that clear, but they can still see that in the picture, Dolcie is holding her mother’s hand and walking out from KFC, a man wearing a black suit and a mask is holding a small bottle in his hand, and when he passes Dolcie, he raises his hand and several drops of liquid from the bottle spill onto Dolcie’s exposed arm.

It was just a few drops of liquid splashed on her arm, Dolcie didn’t notice, and in the blink of an eye, the man with the mask had disappeared around a corner.

The second video features Dolcie, who must have just gotten out of tutoring class. On her back, she is still carrying the guzheng, she takes her mother’s hand and bounces around, her face brimming with the vibrant energy.

While passing in front of a shop, a man in a black suit and mask rushed up to her, and from the video, they can able to roughly see that he too had a small glass bottle in his hand.

As he bumped into Dolcie, he quickly raised the glass bottle in his hand and a few drops of liquid spilled precisely onto her clothes.

He hung his head and kept apologising to Dolcie, who was more understanding, plus it didn’t hurt from the bump, so she didn’t look deeper and just laughed it off.

The next several videos show, without exception, men dressed in black and wearing masks deliberately spilling the liquid from the bottles in their hands on the children, who are all wearing clothes of New Life and are now, all lying on beds in the corridors of this hospital.

Looking at the video in front of him, Nico stared round in disbelief as he muttered, “Impossible, impossible! Such a short period of time, it’s impossible ...”

The crowd at the scene was no fools, and seeing the videos made them understand quite a few things.

“These children who have skin ulcers, this evening, were all splashed with that unknown liquid, could that be whatever Bloom Freya is talking about?”

“It must be! Didn’t you guys see that the kids who got splashed with that liquid were brought to the hospital?!”

“So it seems that Freya was really framed by someone! The person who framed Freya is really ruthless, to frame her, he would not hesitate to hurt these innocent children, how vicious!”

“Yes, it’s so vicious! We’ve been saying that Freya is vicious, but in fact, the one who set her up is the real snake hearted,!”

“Who in the world is trying to frame Freya and not even spare these innocent children? We must find that person out, that kind of social tumour should be shot!”

“I don’t know if I should say this, but I really think Freya is quite nice. Look at tonight, we all misunderstood her, and she risked being torn apart by all of us to come and save these kids! She’s not just a businesswoman, she’s also a healer!”

.....

As he listened to the chatter of the crowd, Nico became anxious.

He was afraid that they were completely in Freya’s side, and he spoke up, “Don’t be fooled by Freya! She’s a treacherous businesswoman who uses poisonous fabrics to harm people in order to make money! Have you forgotten how much pain Dolcie and the others have suffered?”

“And these videos must have been faked by Freya! She just wants to use these faked videos to clear her name!”

Bradley sneered as he looked at Nico as if he was brain dead, “Fake? Do you mean to say that these kids have just cooperated with me in faking the video? Everyone saw it clearly, these kids have been in the hospital since the accident.0”

“Or, do you think everyone was blind and they didn’t even notice when these kids left the hospital?”

“I ...” Bradley’s words blocked Nico’s speech for a moment. He gritted his teeth and continued to speak after a while, “These videos are faked anyway! I don’t believe that this matter has nothing to do with Freya!”

Dolcie’s grandmother let go of Dolcie’s hand and walked step by step to Nico, “Young man, what do you mean by that? Is it that our Dolcie cooperated with Freya and the others to fake this video together?! Or is it that our Dolcie is injured like this and it’s a fake, and she still has the strength to cooperate with Freya to make a video like this?!”

“I ...”

Nico once again stuttered, he was not willing to let everything he had carefully designed go down the drain, he gasped hard, “Old lady, you must not be fooled by Freya, she is evil minded, she ...”

“I don’t see that Freya is evil-minded, I only see that you have been misleading us about Freya!” Dolcie’s Grandma’s eyes were stern as she said, “Young man, Freya has no grudge against you, why do you have to go against her?”

“I don’t!” Nico hastily denied, “Old lady, I’m a volunteer tonight, I just can’t see Freya using such shameful methods to harm people! I don’t want her to take other people’s lives just to make money! I can’t see her causing the children to suffer so much!”

Dolcie’s Grandma scoffed at Nico’s words, “The one who really used the unseemly means is the one who framed Freya! The one who doesn’t care other people’s lives and almost killed my Dolcie!”

After a moment of silence, Dolcie’s Grandma continued, “Young man, you are so irritated tonight, so desperate to frame Freya, this will make us all misunderstand that you and the mastermind behind the frame of Freya are very close!”

Nico’s face turned white as he scrambled to deny it, “How is this possible! Old lady, don’t be ridiculous! I’m just a volunteer for tonight, how could I possibly know anyone behind the frame-up of Freya!”

Nico was afraid that others would also believe Dolcie’s Grandma’s words, so he hurriedly turned his face towards everyone and explained, “Don’t misunderstand, I really don’t mean anything else tonight, I just want to make the treacherous merchants pay the price and get justice for these innocent children who are suffering!”

“Look guys!” Dolcie’s father, who had been staring intently at the LCD screen not far in front of him, suddenly spoke up, “The man who threw something on our Dolcie has a black mole on his head!”

Chapter 965

A black mole?

Nico was so shocked that he hurriedly went to cover his mole, but Dolcie’s father was quicker than him, he grabbed Nico’s arm and pushed him forward so that everyone could clearly see the black mole growing on her forehead.

The man in the video who threw something on Dolcie, wearing a mask, was well disguised, except that he had neglected the black mole on his head.

The man who threw something on the six children in the video is not the same man, and everyone now has no idea who the remaining five men are, but looking at the black mole on Nico’s head, everyone is beyond sure that the man who did this to Dolcie is him!

“It’s you, isn’t it?!” Dolcie’s father was particularly strong, and he lifted Nico’s arm with such force that he almost dislodged his arm.

“Say it! Why did you throw something on our Dolcie? What you threw on our Dolcie was Bloom, wasn’t it? Say it! Why did you harm our Dolcie!”

Nico was ashen, but he still tried to make a dying struggle, he lifted his face with difficulty and defended himself, “It wasn’t me! The man in the video is not me!”

“Yes, I have a black mole on my head, but a black mole really doesn’t mean anything! There are plenty of people with black moles under the sky, so it’s unfair for you to conclude that I’m the one doing evil based on a black mole!”

Dolcie’s father snorted coldly and yanked Nico’s hair straight up, revealing her forehead.

“A black mole doesn’t mean anything! Yes, there are many people with black moles under the sky, but I don’t believe that two people would have such a large black mole in the same place!”

Dolcie’s father glanced at Nico’s eyes and suddenly let out a cool laugh, “I suggest that next time you do something bad, cover this rat eye of yours as well, otherwise, it’s useless even if you wear ten masks on your face!”

After hearing what Dolcie’s father said, everyone rather heartily took a look at Nico’s eyes, and when they did, it was true, with the same ratty eyes as the man in the video, plus the identical black mole on his head, even a brain-damaged person could tell that it was the same person.

“It’s really him! So he’s the one who did harm to these poor kids, no wonder he’s been misleading us just now, telling us to attack Freya!”

“This guy is so horrible, he’s obviously the culprit, and he’s still mixing in with us and pretending to be a volunteer, it’s creepy to think about it!”

“We almost listened to him just now and went up together to tear Freya apart, but fortunately Mr. Fitzgerald appeared in time, otherwise we would really have made a big mistake!”

“It’s not Freya who should really go to jail, it’s him! No, it’s too mercy to just let him go to jail, he should be cut into pieces and cut to death!”

“You are so cruel, Bro! But that’s a nice touch, I like it!”

.....

As he listened to the chatter around him, Nico knew he was completely finished this time, cold sweat was pouring off his forehead. He wanted to make a call to Regina, but before that, his phone rang.

Dolcie’s father was a shrewd businessman, hearing the phone, he guessed it could be Nico’s partner, so he let go of his arm.

Nico got his body free and hurriedly grabbed the phone with his uninjured hand.

He took one look at the screen of his mobile phone and knew that the person who called him was Regina, but he was always cautious in his work and he had given Regina’s mobile phone number as 10086 as a note.

Subconsciously, he wanted to pick up the phone and ask Regina for help, but thought that now that everyone was watching, if he picked up the phone, he would only drag Regina into it.

When that happens, she won’t be able to help him get out of it.

Nico hung up the phone in a hurry, “This 10086 is really getting boring! It calls me every day!”

Dolcie's father noticed the caller ID on the phone screen and couldn't help but be disappointed as well. The big men, with one hand, knocked Nico to the ground.

"Say it, who the hell ordered you to harm my Dolcie and deliberately set up Freya!"

"I didn't! I really didn't! I was wrongly accused!" Nico gritted his teeth and continued to deny it to death.

Dolcie's father was never a civilized young man, he preferred to use violence to counter violence, he punched Nico hard in the stomach, "Don't tell me you're innocent again! You're the reason why Dolcie has suffered so much! If you don't say it, I'll take off one of your legs today!"

Nico was frightened by Dolcie's father's fierce look, especially when he met Kieran's cold eyes, he was even more frightened and trembled.

He subconsciously tried to continue to defend himself, but before he could speak, the angry roar of the children's families at the scene had reached his ears.

Everyone didn't want to leave him alone.

He stiffly wiped away the beads of sweat on his forehead and tried to continue his sophistry, but before he could say anything, Kieran's chilling voice was already ringing in his ears.

"Say it! Was it Regina who instructed you to set up Freya?!"

Nico's eyelids jumped, and he hurriedly lowered his head, not daring to look into Kieran's eyes that seemed to be able to see everything.

He was thinking he had no way out, but he suddenly had an idea and spoke up in a loud voice, "No! I'm doing this because I hate Freya and I want to get back at her!"

Nico ground his teeth and continued, "Mr. Fitzgerald, I'm not going to lie to you, I'm the toy boy that Freya keeps! She spent a lot of money on me, but recently, she had a new love and didn't want to continue to spend money on me, I hate her, I hate her for moving on, and I hate her even more for not giving me the benefit, that's why I took revenge on her!"

"I've had a bad time, and I won't let her have a good time! Doesn't she care about World and her reputation? Then I will destroy World and her reputation, and show her the consequences of her turning her back on me!"

Nico had some talent for acting, the more he said, the more excited he became, "Mr. Fitzgerald, you mustn't be fooled by Freya's innocent face! She's not some innocent woman, besides me, she still have many toy boys!"

"Mr. Fitzgerald, you have been cuckolded! Even the child in her belly now is not yours! Yes, the child in her belly is mine! It's mine!"

Nico wiped his tears in a sincere manner, "Mr. Fitzgerald, you are so outstanding, your reputation absolutely cannot be ruined by this slut! She has so many men outside, she betrayed you. You should divorce her and kick her out of the house!"

“As for the child inside her belly, I beg you to give it a way out. In my family, I am the only male, even if I hate her to the core, I want this child!”

Chapter 966

“Mr. Fitzgerald, Freya and I deserve to die for our sins, but the child is innocent, please, let our child go!”

The child is Nico’s?

Hearing Nico’s words, Freya was directly confused, especially after she took a look at his ratty eyes and big black mole, she felt disgusting.

She loves handsome man, definitely not this ugly man!

Freya knew that Kieran would not misunderstand her because of Nico’s inexplicable words, but she was still slightly nervous in her heart.

Nico said in front of so many people that she had cuckolded Mr. Fitzgerald, which was humiliating!

Freya gently clutched Kieran’s hand, she wanted to tell him that Nico was talking nonsense.

Kieran did not say anything, but just silently held her hand in his palm, proving to her with his actions that he believed in her.

“Mr. Fitzgerald, I really was forced to harm these kids today by Freya! Mr. Fitzgerald, you must be clear about this!”

“You’re saying that you’re Freya’s toy boy?”

Nico waited for a long time and finally waited for Kieran’s questioning, he nodded his head, “Mr. Fitzgerald, Freya has got a lot of toy boys.”

Kieran sneered out, the curvature of his lips clearly upturned, but Nico only felt the coldness of an iceberg enveloping him.

His thin lips moved slightly, and a voice cooler than frost spilled out of his mouth, “You are so confident!”

Kieran has always been shy of words, but his words made everyone at the scene understand what he meant, that Mr. Fitzgerald believed in Freya, and that he was saying this because he thought Nico was ugly!

Someone puffed out a laugh, and then, many people couldn’t contain their snickers, laughing at Nico’s face.

Dolcie’s father was grumpy, and he kicked Nico directly in the mouth, “Toy boy? How dare you want to be toy boy with this face?!”

“That’s right, don’t take a piss and look at yourself into it before you speak. Freya has Mr. Fitzgerald, can she be fond of you? I don’t even believe that Freya will have an affair with you!” Dolcie’s mother could not help but say.

Dolcie's Grandma even patted the back of Freya's hand, "Freya, don't be angry. He's just a mad dog biting people now that his scandal has been exposed!"

Dolcie's Grandma looked at Mr. Fitzgerald with a smile, "Mr. Fitzgerald is so handsome, Freya wouldn't be foolish to go out to find someone else! Especially an ugly one!"

"Thank you for being willing to believe in me." Freya said to Dolcie's Grandma.

Having experienced being questioned and misunderstood too many times, Freya was touched that everyone chose to believe her.

She let go of Dolcie's Grandma's hand and looked at Nico with a sarcastic smile on her lips, "Do you need me to send you a mirror?"

Nico, "..."

Seeing that Nico did not speak, Freya's eyes grew colder and more austere, "If you don't need to, just tell me the truth, who exactly told you to set me up!"

"Freya, don't disown me when you are off bed! You didn't say you were going to give me a mirror in bed, you only said you were going to give me the villa and send me ..."

Dolcie's father kicked Nico straight away, "You really are disgusting!"

Nico wanted to bite Freya to the bone, but Dolcie's father was too strong and he was kicked so hard that his mouth was full of blood and he lost two teeth, so for a while, he couldn't really say anything.

Nico was too hard-lipped to spill his guts about who was behind it, no matter how much everyone asked him.

Both Freya and Kieran knew in their hearts that Nico had been instructed by Regina to do this, but without conclusive evidence, they could not send Regina to prison.

Soon after, Nico was taken away by the police, and after the crowd of media had watched this scene in the hospital, they sent out articles to restore the truth of this incident and clear Freya's name.

Of course, even if the media explain the matter all the time, there are still many people who have doubts about World's fabric, which to a certain extent can affect the sales.

After all, the consequences of festering, septicemia and disfigurement are terrible.

In order to eliminate the negative impact of this incident on World, Freya took the initiative to request the quality inspection department to test the fabrics of World, the test results proved that all the fabrics of World, including the fabrics of its children's clothing brand New Life, the quality is completely qualified, poisonous fabrics and so on is completely non-existent.

That night, because of the shortage of time, Bradley only had his men quickly find out the whereabouts of those kids that night and pull out the video that could be used so that he could quickly clear Freya's name, he didn't rush to find out the identity of the remaining men.

Only after the crisis on Freya's body was lifted did he have more videos of the incident pulled up, and those videos had footage of the men without masks, and the remaining five men had been arrested by the police.

Nico served Regina directly, and the men, who were all Nico's men, did not know about Nico's relationship with Regina, so even if some of them had soft mouths, they would not be able to get the culprit Regina out of them.

However, after World's sales slowly returned to their previous glory, Court of Regina ran into a big problem.

When Freya requested the relevant quality inspection department to check the fabrics of World, Kieran told them to check the materials of Court too.

Sure enough, there was a big problem.

Court did not initially go high-end, but after being taken over by Regina, she built up Court's clothes in the direction of luxury.

The clothes of Court were now much more expensive than those of World. It was reasonable to assume that the fabrics used for such flamboyant garments should be the best, but the quality control department found that the fabrics of Court clothes were seriously substandard after inspection.

The costumes of Court, with their colouring and everything, are particularly beautiful, with a kind of elegance, but what they advocate for environmentally friendly dyes and edible dyes are in fact not environmentally friendly at all, and are even worse than the dyes used by some small, nameless manufacturers.

There are a few expensive clothes that the quality control department has found carcinogenic substances from.

The quality inspection department naturally will not tolerate such treacherous businessmen who use poor quality carcinogenic fabrics as luxury goods, immediately revealed the truth about the presence of carcinogenic substances in Court garments on its official microblog.

Consumers who had bought Court's clothing were asking for their return and Regina was left anxious.

While she was busy, she received another call from Sabrina, asking her to come back to the Wells' villa.

Also receiving a call from Sabrina was Freya.

Chapter 967

When Freya and Kieran went to the Wells' villa together, Regina had already been waiting in the living room for a long time.

The recent spate of blows had given Regina no time to take a breather, and now that she saw Freya, her heart was full of anger.

Regina wanted to tear Freya apart more than anyone else, but Kieran was clutching Freya's hand, and with him protecting her, Regina couldn't get an advantage from her, so she could only force all the anger in her heart down.

Only after the maids informed Freya to come over did Sabrina walk slowly down the stairs with the help of the maids.

When she looked at Freya, her eyes were always loving, but when her eyes fell on Regina, they became only cold and stern.

Sabrina didn't want to talk nonsense to Regina, she got straight to the point, "Regina, I've heard all about the recent events at Court! Substandard products? The fabric contains carcinogenic substances? You have disgraced our Wells family!"

"Our Wells family values honesty above all else, but you don't have it in your eyes!"

"Grandma, you've misunderstood me!" Regina defended herself, "I admit that Court has indeed had a lot of problems recently, but Grandma, please believe me, the matter of the fabric causing cancer really has nothing to do with me!"

"It's the company's purchasing department deliberately source inferior fabrics in order to get more kickbacks! Grandma, I really didn't know they were so profit-minded that they would do such things to make money!"

"Regina, it is you who is profit-minded!" Sabrina did not show any mercy to Regina and coldly exposed her lies.

"You are the president of Court, all those important fabrics eventually have to pass through your eyes. I don't believe that after so many years of being in charge of Court, you won't even be able to distinguish between good and bad fabrics!"

"Grandma, I really didn't! I just trusted my men too much, I didn't look careful enough. I didn't expect they would use that poor quality fabric, to top off the expensive fabric!"

"Regina, you really disappoint me!" When Sabrina saw how unrepentant Regina was, she couldn't help but rub her temples tiredly.

"Regina, I am not here today to listen to your sophistry, let alone to you shirking your responsibilities, but to hope that you can come up with practical countermeasures in resolving the crisis at Court! Although Court has now become independent from the Wells', the fact that such a shameful thing has happened at Court still hurts the reputation of our Wells! Do you know how much the Well's stock has fallen as a result of this incident at Court? Can you afford to lose that much?!"

Without waiting for Regina to speak, Sabrina bellowed again, "You can't afford it!"

"Grandma, I have already had my men to carry out public relations. Grandma, believe me, I will not let Court be ruined in my hands, I will lead Court to be better and better!"

"How do you plan to conduct public relations?" Sabrina spoke coldly with a serious look on her face.

“We will clarify to the media that this quality control was a misunderstanding and I will prepare good fabrics and have the quality control department come back over for inspection!”

The more Regina said, the more confident she became, “Grandma, please believe me, I will fight this battle and make our Court’s reputation completely reversed!”

“Then what are you going to do with those inferior fabrics and dyes?” Sabrina wrinkled her brows, clearly not very satisfied with Regina’s response.

“Grandma, to be honest, the quality control department is really exaggerating when they say that our fabrics and dyes contain carcinogenic substances! Those fabrics are not top quality, but they still cost a lot of money. After the quality control department has passed the inspection of the fabrics we provided, the ones we originally had can still be used! Grandma, you’ve taught me and my brother to be frugal since we were kids, don’t worry, I will never waste that fabric and dye!”

“Nonsense!” Sabrina heaved her cane, “I did teach you and Jacob to be frugal, but I never taught you to do things that would harm people!”

“Is it a trivial matter that the fabric contains carcinogenic substances? In case someone does get cancer from the fabrics of Court, can you bear the sickness for the consumers?! You can’t bear the sickness for the consumer, you are the culprit who ruined their life, you are creating a sin!”

Regina was just about to speak but she was already interrupted by Sabrina, “Freya, if it were you, how would you handle this matter?”

“Grandma, if it were me, I would destroy the fabric and dyes to completely reassure the consumers. Grandma, I know that destroying so much will cost Court a loss, but we have to look at the long term.”

“A momentary loss can always be made up, but if we lose the trust of our consumers, we gain nothing. Besides, there are many things in this world that are more important than making money, and we can’t lose our conscience by making money.”

The old lady kept nodding her head after hearing Freya’s words. Indeed, businessmen value profit, but in life, one should not lose one’s heart.

Seeing that Sabrina agreed with Freya, Regina’s face became more and more unpleasant as she coldly looked at Freya, “Freya, don’t pretend to be noble in front of Grandma! Court is not your property, so of course you don’t care about losses! If something went wrong with the fabrics of World, I don’t believe you would be willing to destroy fabrics worth a lot of money!”

“That’s enough!” Sabrina was full of boredom, “Regina, I came over today to ask you to reflect properly, not for you to pick on Freya!”

“Regina, I know you may think that I am good to Freya and you think that I am unfair, but you really think that I would not know about all the things you did? Why did something happen on World just after I announced the transfer of my shares to Freya?! I don’t believe you didn’t know anything!”

“Grandma, I really don’t know anything, Grandma, you can’t accuse me so wrongly ...” Regina wept and defended herself with aggravation.

“Regina, you know better than I do in your heart whether I am wronging you or not!”

Sabrina paused and then said, “Regina, let’s leave this matter aside. Let’s talk about how Freya handled the crisis she encountered on World.”

“World was falsely accused of using poisonous fabrics in order to make money, Freya was accused and shouted at by everyone, but when faced with the seriously ill children, Freya did not cower, she did not even consider her own pregnant body and risked being scolded by the children’s parents to go to the hospital to treat those children!”

“Regina, ask your conscience, if it were you, would you be able to do what Freya did and meet everyone’s misunderstanding to save the lives of those children!”

Without waiting for Regina to speak, Sabrina continued, “Regina, if you are really incompetent, I don’t mind giving Court to Freya!”

Chapter 968

“Grandma, what did you say?!” Regina stared round in disbelief, tears welling up in her eyes.

She was most proud of the fact that she had the blood of the Wells family in her veins, and she was certain that, as the daughter of the Wells family, she would have a lifetime of unending wealth and glory, but now?

Not only would she not get the shares of Wells’, but even Court, for which she had worked so hard for so long, was about to fall into Freya’s hands!

How could she resign herself to it!

“Grandma, you can’t give Court to Freya! It’s not fair to me! I’ve worked so hard to run Court, I’ve worked so hard to reach the goals grandpa set for me, even though I’m pregnant, I still work overtime every day, and you’re dismissing all my efforts with just one sentence. This is really unfair to me!”

“Regina, you should behave yourself!” Regina was her granddaughter, even if she had made a mistake, Sabrina could not bear to really do too much, and after reprimanding Regina, she did not take back the management of Court after all.

Freya actually did not want to get Court, she was very passionate about fashion design, but her main profession was still a doctor, she was not that ambitious, and wanted to take Court for herself as well.

She was already relieved to have Freddie running World. She wanted to spend more time on saving lives and helping the injured, and she believed that Freddie was capable of leading World to greater heights.

Sabrina’s main purpose in calling Freya over was to get her to sign the share transfer letter as well as the property transfer letter.

Having taken so many shares of Wells’ for nothing, Freya still had an uneasy feeling, but if she didn’t sign, Sabrina would be very angry, and she finally signed on it.

Moreover, looking at Regina, who was standing at the side, staring at the contract on the table with such hatred that her whole face was twisted, Freya was really happy inside.

After signing the papers, Sabrina was still reluctant to let Freya go and had her stay at the Wells' villa to have dinner and talk to her before she reluctantly let Freya go.

As soon as she left the Wells' villa, Freya ordered the driver to drive to the mall.

Kieran was puzzled by Freya's decision to go shopping in the mall at night, and after parking the car, he couldn't help but ask, "What do you want to buy?"

"A gift for you!" Meeting Kieran's confused eyes, Freya smiled brightly, "Mr. Fitzgerald, I just took a cursory look at the agreement Grandma made me sign, and I found out that I now have so much money! I've become a rich woman, so of course I have to give you a present!"

"Are you going to raise me?" Kieran's voice couldn't help but become hoarse.

She could not afford!

She was indeed quite rich now, but compared to Mr. Fitzgerald, she was still a far cry from him.

However, she would not deny it, she smiled like a fox and asked, "Yes, but I am worried that you wouldn't agree to be raised by me!"

"I'm not a picky eater, I'm easy to be raised." Kieran's eyes were so deep that they could almost suck one's soul in.

Freya was so mesmerised that it took her a while to come back to her senses.

Mr. Fitzgerald wanted her to raise him?

For the sake of his sincerity, she would agree!

She grabbed his big hand, "I'm a generous person and love to give gifts to the toy boys I have. What would you like as a gift tonight, Mr. Fitzgerald?"

Kieran thought seriously for a moment. After he and Freya had been together, he had studied a lot about the way men and women fall in love with each other.

He knew that many women, for example, would give their men watches, clothes, shoes and things like that.

He had someone to take care of his clothes and shoes and watches and accessories and all that, and he really was short of them.

But when he thought of Fabian wearing a pink suit to show off in front of him the other day, saying that it was given by his Rebecca, so he suddenly wanted something to brag about.

Well, if Freya also gave him some clothes, he would wear them every day to show off in front of Fabian!

Kieran's face did not change, "Clothes, well, and shoes, ties and cufflinks, too."

Freya, "... " Mr. Fitzgerald really has the self-awareness of being kept!

Well, since he had asked for it, she was definitely going to spend a lot of money tonight. She took out her bank card from her bag and dragged Kieran to an expensive men's luxury shop.

Freya only went in and spotted a pair of black jewelled cufflinks.

It had an inscrutable profundity, like the aura on Kieran.

Freya thought gleefully that it would be especially appropriate for her toy boy to wear it.

She was just about to ask Kieran to try it, but his mobile rang, and with a gesture to her, he went to pick up outside the luxury shop.

The clerks knew Freya, especially as she had come with Kieran, so they treated her with extra respect.

This luxury shop was really expensive.

In the blink of an eye, Freya had already eyed on several items.

This pair of black gemstone cufflinks particularly matched Kieran's temperament, but she also liked the pair of ruby cufflinks next to her. Well, Mr. Fitzgerald was definitely more charming when he wore red ones.

And the pink tie ...

Freya only always thought that men with pink things would be a bit girly, but the other day Fabian in a pink suit really looked extra special.

Youthful and energetic, and cute...

Mr. Fitzgerald was not worse than Fabian, and he must look better with something pink.

Freya picked out a pair of pink cufflinks and asked the clerks to pack a pink tie, secretly thinking that it would be perfect if she bought a pink suit for Mr. Fitzgerald.

Freya was having a good time choosing something, but a warm voice rang in her ears, "Freya, what a coincidence."

It was Joshua.

Freya did not expect to meet Joshua in such a place and could not help but be surprised, "Mr. Jenkins, why did you come over?"

"It's my birthday, I am here to choose a birthday present for myself."

The corners of Joshua's lips were slightly hooked, and his smile was as warm as ever like the spring breeze, but the despondency in his eyes could not be concealed in any way.

He looked like no one had given him a present for his birthday, so he had to come over and choose a present himself.

Seeing the pair of sapphire cufflinks that Freya had just picked up, Joshua's eyes couldn't help but light up.

He had once told Freya that he loved blue, and that he almost exclusively chose blue for his accessories, ties and cufflinks.

With this in mind, Joshua took one of the sapphire cufflinks in Freya's hand with a smile on his face, "Freya, thank you, I understand all your feelings for me."

No sooner had Joshua's words fallen than a cold voice rang through the air, "What do you mean?!"

Chapter 969

Freya was dumbfounded, she wanted to know what she had in mind for Mr. Jenkins.

In fact, it really wasn't Mr. Jenkins's fault for being self-absorbed and self-righteous. After Kieran frequently expressed his love for Freya in public, he really believed somewhat that Freya was not forced to stay by Kieran's side.

But last night, he met Regina.

He had met Regina a few times before, and last night she was in a bad mood and she dragged him for a talk.

From Regina, he knew that Freya was her real sister, and she also told him that Freya and Kieran had a bad relationship with each other, and that the so-called love was all pretend in front of the public.

In front of people, Kieran is a loving and domineering boss, but behind the scenes, he beats and scolds Freya, and even when she is pregnant, he often tortures her both mentally and physically.

Moreover, Regina also leaked an extremely important piece of information to him, that the person Freya really liked was him, only that she could only hide it desperately due to Kieran's might, because she was afraid that the devil would notice and bring his anger to him.

Joshua looked at Freya's clear, soulful and bewildered eyes, his heart was softly. His beloved girl was protecting him in her own way!

He understands his beloved girl's fear of Kieran, but he wants to protect his beloved girl, not hide behind her and be blessed by her.

The more Joshua of thinking about the heroic feelings in his heart, the more bursting with emotion, Freya does not love him, he may still try to let go, although it is extremely difficult.

But Freya has him in her heart, and even if he has to pull out the thorns in front of him one by one with his own hands, rooting himself to blood, he will still walk to her and take her to escape the devil's palm.

Being stared by Joshua, Freya felt uncomfortable. When she saw that he had taken the sapphire cufflinks she had been eyeing, she subconsciously wanted to take them over.

"Mr. Jenkins, I picked out this pair of cufflinks first." Freya's meaning was clear, she took it first and Joshua should not take it.

The embarrassment in Freya's eyes turned into the bitterness of being forced by the devil.

He did not return the sapphire cufflinks to Freya, but turned his face to meet Kieran's cold, austere gaze without humbling himself.

Kieran's aura was cold, while Joshua was as warm as ever, but, today, his warmth was tinged with a touch of determination that Freya could not understand.

"Mr. Fitzgerald, is it fun to force a woman who doesn't love you to stay by your side?!"

Freya silently rolled her eyes. She seemed to have made it particularly clear, how could Joshua still think that she did not love Mr. Fitzgerald?

Seeing Kieran's handsome face instantly darken, in order to avoid a battle, Freya hurriedly smiled at Joshua, "Mr. Jenkins, you misunderstood, I really like Mr. Fitzgerald."

"Mr. Jenkins, it's your birthday today, happy birthday to you! Take your time to choose your gift, I'll pay the bill and go back first."

Freya fondly glanced at the sapphire cufflinks that Joshua was holding. The colour of this pair of sapphire cufflinks was really good.

She remembered that Kieran had once worn a navy blue suit, and that suit must have looked particularly good with these cufflinks.

Unfortunately, Joshua hogged the pair of cufflinks, so she would have to give them up.

This fond look from Freya was really given to the cufflinks in Joshua's hand, but Joshua had completely misunderstood it and took all her fondness as being for him.

Joshua was overjoyed, so Regina really did not deceive him. Freya was really not in love with Kieran.

Seeing Freya about to turn away, Joshua reached out and grabbed her wrist.

"Freya, since you have me in your heart, don't continue to hide from me!"

Freya was just about to open her mouth, but Joshua blocked out her words, "Freya, I know you are afraid of Mr. Fitzgerald. He has tormented you time and time again, how can you not be afraid of him! But Freya, please trust me, I will definitely protect you and give you a better future!"

"Mr. Jenkins, you've really misunderstood!" Freya had a helpless face, "I don't even know how to explain to you, I'm a loving couple with Mr. Fitzgerald, how could he possibly torture me!"

When Joshua was haunting, Kieran's face was already dark, now that he heard his words, his face sullen.

"Freya, you don't have to continue to speak for him, I know all about the situation between you!"

Joshua clutched Freya's hand, "Regina has already told me that she is your real sister, she said that the person in your heart is me, if not for the fact that Mr. Fitzgerald has been forcing you, you would have already made your feelings known to me! Freya, if I can't protect you, I'm a man in vain! Will you come to me? Even if I have to risk my life, I will never let evil people bully you again!"

Freya's eyes chilled. Regina's ability to talk nonsense was really getting better and better!

She didn't hate Joshua, but he kept saying that Kieran was evil made her feel uncomfortable.

How could Mr. Fitzgerald be the evil person!

The clerk was dumbfounded to see this scene, were two men fighting over a woman?

A clerk secretly took out her mobile phone, wanting to record a video and upload it to the internet, but, she didn't have the guts to do so as she met Kieran's cold eyes.

"Mr. Jenkins, Mr. Fitzgerald is not an evil man! He is the best man in this world and the one I love the most!"

Freya tightly clutched Kieran's hand, she really wasn't trying to show her love in public, she was worried that Mr. Fitzgerald would ferociously break Mr. Jenkins' legs.

Originally, Kieran's body was tense and his face was sunken, but after hearing Freya's words, his brow stretched.

Well, it feels so good to be protected by his wife!

"Freya, I don't believe it! You were forced by him!" Glancing at the sapphire cufflinks in his hand, Joshua spoke up, "Freya, if you don't have me in your heart, how could you have quietly picked out a present for me on my birthday? My favourite is sapphire cufflink!"

"Freya, I said my favourite colour is blue, you always remember what I said, you care about me so much, how can you not have me in your heart!"

Freya was confused, she really didn't remember what colour Mr. Jenkins liked.

Without waiting for her to say anything, Joshua stepped forward and grabbed her hand excitedly, "Freya, don't be afraid of the evil man who stand in the way! As long as you are willing, I will marry you immediately after your divorce!"

Chapter 970

The misunderstanding was really getting bigger and bigger!

Freya did not want to embarrass Joshua, but if she did not make things clear today, it would only make things more awkward between them.

Clearing her throat, Freya spoke, "Mr. Jenkins, if you hadn't said it just now, I really wouldn't have known that today was your birthday. I wanted to give this pair of sapphire cufflinks to Mr. Fitzgerald, but I didn't expect you to fancy them too."

"Mr. Jenkins, to be honest, I'm a bit reluctant to let you have this pair of sapphire cufflinks, but if you like them, I can help Mr. Fitzgerald choose another pair."

"As for divorce ..."

When Freya said the word "divorce", she noticed that Kieran's eyes clearly sank, and he looked as if he was saying, "Freya, if you dare to divorce, I will break your legs!"

Well, she didn't have the guts to divorce Mr. Fitzgerald.

Freya was desperate to show her loyalty to Mr. Fitzgerald, and she continued, quite sincerely, "As for divorce, I really haven't thought about it! As long as Mr. Fitzgerald has me in his heart, I won't divorce him in my next life!"

"Mr. Jenkins, Regina and I don't have a good relationship, we are tit-for-tat, how could I possibly reveal to her what's in my heart! Mr. Jenkins, what Regina said to you cannot be believed, I really don't have any half-hearted feelings for you!"

Joshua did not speak immediately, he stared at Freya as if he was scrutinising.

He tried to see in Freya's expression of being pushed or not meaning what she said, but he didn't.

Freya's appearance at this moment did not look like she was lying at all.

She nestled beside Kieran, smiling, not to mention a half-hearted look of reluctance.

Joshua felt his heart bitter. Could it be that he has made a fool of himself, and Freya did not have him in her heart?

Strong pride made Joshua of believing this possibility, but he couldn't do anything to continue to deceive himself. Freya's eyes were full of Kieran', and he couldn't see himself from her eyes.

In his heart was the unprecedented wretchedness, Joshua is not a small-minded man, not so much as to be rejected by someone and turn against her.

He had always been good at concealing his emotions, even his grandfather had praised him for being so calm and steady as if he could see through the truth, but at this moment it took almost all his strength not to let himself break down.

After his heart slowly calmed down, he took a sign of relief.

He did want to keep his beloved girl by his side and protect her for a lifetime, but if it was her husband not his, he would set her free.

With a smile, he looked gentle, except for the touch of bitter despondency in his eyes which could not be concealed in any way.

"Freya, it is true that I have made a fool of myself."

Joshua put the sapphire button into Freya's hand, "If being with Mr. Fitzgerald makes you feel happy, then you have my blessing."

Freya was stunned, she did not expect that not only did Joshua not get angry, but also sent her sincere blessings.

Joshua's temperament was indeed worthy of his name.

"Thank you for your blessing, Mr. Jenkins!" Freya also said to Joshua from the bottom of her heart.

Joshua gave a faint smile, as response to Freya's thanks. And then he looked Kieran coldly.

"Mr. Fitzgerald, Freya has you in her heart, and I can't bear to upset her, so I'll quit. But if you dare to bully Freya, I will still do whatever I can to snatch her to my side!"

“Don’t worry, you’ll never have a chance in your life.” Kieran spoke coolly.

Joshua hid the despondency in his eyes, and instead, he was open-minded. No chance proves that Freya will always be happy.

He wanted her to have the most innocent and happy smile for the rest of her life.

After Joshua left, Freya chose several more things before leaving the mall with Kieran.

She knew that given his character, he would not approve of her buying him a pink suit. Luckily, when she wandered into the suit shop, he took another phone call and she took the opportunity to ask the clerks to wrap up a pink suit that she had her eye on.

Freya was already in a good mood this evening, and thinking about the pink suit she had bought made her mood even brighter.

What should she do to trick Mr. Fitzgerald into trying it out when she went back to Kelsington Bay later?

She really wanted to see Mr. Fitzgerald in a pink suit!

“Freya, I like black.” After returning to his room, Kieran held Freya in his arms and suddenly spoke.

“What?”

“I like black.”

Listening to Kieran’s voice, Freya suddenly remembered that just now in that luxury shop, Joshua said that he liked blue.

Mr. Fitzgerald was jealous!

Freya was really speechless, Mr. Jenkins had said that he would let go, what kind of jealousy was he having?

There was some helplessness in her heart, but more than that, it was still sweet. Between husband and wife, this occasional act of jealousy actually quite enhanced the relationship.

Freya took out the pair of black jeweled cufflinks from her bag, “Mr. Fitzgerald, I’ve prepared black cufflinks for you! Don’t you like them a lot? Since it is something I give you, you have to like it.”

“I like it a lot.” Kieran said truthfully.

He’s not really fussy about cufflinks or anything, but because it’s a gift from Freya, he likes it extraordinarily.

Seeing that he was in a good mood, Freya wanted to carry out her pink plan.

She wrapped her arms around him and pampered him like cat, “Mr. Fitzgerald, I think you must look especially good in pink!”

Pink?

Kieran wrinkled his brow, he was willing to satisfy her, but pink was such a girly colour, he really couldn’t wear it.

“Mr. Fitzgerald, I’d love to see you in a pink suit!”

“Freya, I haven’t worn pink.”

Is this a rejection?

But Freya didn’t get discouraged, she pretended to look like a nymphomaniac and continued, “Men look really good in pink! The pink suit that Fabian wore today was really handsome!”

Freya’s eyes were bright, “Fabian is so handsome!”

Kieran’s brow wrinkled. His woman actually thought that Fabian was good looking?

He was so so upset!

Kieran knew that as a mature man, it was really quite childish to just want his woman to think he was handsome, but looking at Freya’s look, his heart was sour.

So, he put on the pink suit he hated most in his life, hoping that Freya would think he looked better.

Freya had thought that Kieran was handsome in pink, but his handsomeness in that suit was still beyond her imagination.

Freya touched her nose, fortunately there was no nosebleed, otherwise it would have been a shame.

In pink suit, Mr. Fitzgerald would catch eyes of all women.

Suddenly, Freya didn’t want Mr. Fitzgerald to wear pink.

He’s already attractive enough, what if he charmed a whole bunch of girls!

Freya was about to make out with Mr. Fitzgerald, but her mobile phone rang sharply.

After receiving this call, Freya was down.

Kiki is dead and Quinn is mad.
