

Taming Faye by Laurieen Chapter 12

Opening Up To Faye

"I am sorry, I should not have yelled at you on the phone". He apologized truthfully.

Faye nodded," Good night' she mumbled removing her hand from his grip.

Daylan watched her with unfamiliar heaviness In his chest, he knew he had been so mean to her.

What kind of uncaring man will drag a lady out of her bed in the middle of the night?

He stood at his door eyes trained on the way she walked back to her car seemingly not in hurry.

He longed to call her back, to hug her and apologize.

To tell her to sleep over.

The moment Faye left Daylan house, she pulled over cover her face with her palm and sobbed hard. So he was eagerly expecting his lover? So they would make love all night?

Her shoulder shook with the intensity of how hurt she was, she looked for tissue in her car to clean her nose.

Why is she even crying?

As if she didn't know he has a lover. Of course they will spend the night together making love as if it is any of her business.

"I need to find a boyfriend before I go crazy"

Faye did not feel like having breakfast the next morning, she dressed getting ready for work even though she is an hour late already she could have call in sick but she doesn't. She made herself tea and some toast, forced it down her throat to her belly.

She was very late when she arrived work and quickly switch on her PC to check her mails, she had ten mails all from her boss. She checked the important ones and quickly starts typing on her computer.

She was busy typing when she heard the private elevator lift opened.

Faye held her breath and continued typing with her head bent low not wanting to look at him, she sensed his presence before he entered her office.

“Good morning Faye’

She stilled, mumbled a greeting still typing on her computer, while waiting for his next move.

“These are for you Faye’ his voice was soft and warm.

She raise her head and there he was holding a bunch of roses looking at her.

She was drawn to how beautiful the flowers were when her eyes met his, there were few bags underneath his eyes, no doubt his lover kept him up all night.

Her eyes fell on the flowers again, she stood up.

“Iam sorry about last night, I should not have allowed you come out that late at night. Daylan apologize again.

“Thanks for the flowers, I should put them in a vase, she hurriedly escape so he won’t come closer to her because her body will betray her.

She entered the other room heaving a heavy sigh.

The flowers were gorgeous just like the man that brought them, she lifted the roses to her nose closing her eyes she sniffed the delicate flowers so soft and fruity.

She gently dropped it in the vase straighten her skirt and walk out.

Daylan was gone!

Faye knocked and walked into his office, he was not on his seat. His back was at the door he was gazing through his window that gives him a spectacular view of the city.

“Here is the document I retyped sir, she gently put the documents on his table.

He turned and walked towards Faye, I won’t need it since you have made the corrections and send it to the divisions.

She nodded slowly.

She looked up to him and noticed he seems distracted.

“Uhm, Jamie and I are no longer together, we broke up last night”