

Taming Faye by Laurieen Chapter 5

Meeting The Boss

Taming Faye:::

Faye already prepared the clothes she would put on the next day being the first day to work at Sage Company.

6:00am she woke up and started preparing quickly for work, she doesn't want to give a bad impression about her on the first day of her new job as a secretary. She made breakfast, quickly ate and left the house.

Coming out of the cab, she straighten her suit and entered the building, she looked around the classic hall everyone was busy in their beautiful demarcated offices.

She was greeted by one of the HR people.

"Hi' my name is Ameerah, you must be Faye right?"

"Yes' I am Faye Smith at your service ma" she replied giving Ameerah her million dollar smile.

She returned the smile.

"No need of calling me ma, we are workmate and I guess age mate too" She grinned.

"Okay ameerah, where do I start work?" Faye asked looking around

"Go to the 20th floor, Mr Sage assistant will be waiting for you to brief you regarding everything you need to know about the company"

"Thanks, and I hope to see you soon so we can go out for lunch" Faye said walking towards the elevator.

"Yeah sure, Do have a great day Faye" Ameerah waved with a smile walking towards her office.

On getting to the 20th floor she greeted the tall handsome man she met there, she noticed for some minutes the man became frozen. She chuckled, waved her hands across his face to get him out of that state, yet he didn't move.

She had to stretch out her hand to tug him and the frozen man finally moved.

"Hi' I'm Faye Smith, a new worker here", she introduced herself while giving him her million dollar smile exposing my perfect white teeth.

He blinked.

“Uhm.. Hhhhiii..... .... Iam Anthony” he stuttered with a sexy voice.

“What’s wrong with him?” She wondered Smiling.

“Okay Anthony, I met with Ameerah downstairs and she told me to come to you, that you’re the one to show me around.”

“Yeah! Yeah, come with me please” Anthony led the way.

Anthony showed her everywhere and later her beautiful office.

“This is your office, where you will do everything”

“Thank you’ Faye smiled.

“Now, before you get started, Mr sage told me to send you to his office for a brief meeting.”

“Okay, give me a minute to compose myself”, she said nervously while preparing to meet the big boss.

Anthony smiled at her, ‘He’s the nicest and most gentle person you will ever meet”, he gave her the reassurance which actually worked.

She took a deep breath and said, “okay let’s go!”

They entered the elevator and anthony punched to the 21st floor, “So the boss work a floor above mine? She thought, with a smile on her face.

On getting out they walked to a door written boldly on it DAYLAN SAGE CEO.

Anthony softly knocked and a ‘come in’ was heard, this voice sounds familiar her head told her. getting to the room Faye met the same mesmerizing brown eyes that hunted her mind all day and night. looking at each other with shock written boldly on their faces, the realization Hit them!

she was shocked looking at the man she thought she would never see again as he did the same.

I SLEPT WITH DAYLAN SAGE THE BOSS!

Daylan was speechless as ‘I slept with Faye smith my new secretary“ kept ringing in his head, none of them moved or say a word, the atmosphere was awkwardly silent, and

Anthony who knew something was wrong excused himself, trying to search for the file he gave to Daylan the other day.

Daylan could not believe his eyes, that the lady he had one night stand with who he thought he will never see again is not just standing in front of him but is also his fucking new secretary!

“Goodness!!” He groaned, massaging his forehead, trying to ease the growing headache he was having.

Silence....

They just stood there starring at each other, no word was spoken out, no movement made by anyone.

More awkward silence.....

Playing it cool Daylan cleared his throat and brief her about the company and things she has to do as his secretary while the thoughts of what happened last night kept replaying, he couldn't forget the sound of her moans, how tight she was when his dick was buried deep inside her.

Faye left after the meeting leaving a tortured Daylan in his office.

Sighing for the hundredth time, she entered her office noticing Anthony wasn't in his, she immediately started her work rereading every business proposal and of course still thinking about her last escapade and the shock of her life when she realized she had sex with her new boss.

“I wish I can just think of something else”, she sighed softly.

Her mind kept wandering to how Daylan pinned her to the wall and kissed her passionately grabbing her hip to stay put, how he made her feel when his hot mouth finds its way to her breast.

She groaned when she felt something wet between her legs.
