Serena's POV:

"Serena, what are you staring at? Come on, the hairdresser is waiting. Let's make you the most beautiful Luna in the world." Anita motioned me to walk faster.

When we got inside, Tessa and Patricia, who had their dresses on already, were there waiting for me.

I think it must have taken around two hours for me to be finished with my hair and makeup.

I saw myself in the mirror and gasped audibly.

I almost did not recognize the woman staring back at me, but I looked amazing.

"Serena, your hair is styled so beautifully!"

Patricia and Tessa swooned.

"Yes, you look just like a princess!"

Anita then moved on to brief me about some do's and don'ts during a Luna Ceremony.

I tried my best to pay attention, but my mind kept wandering off to Kate's devious smile a while ago.

Even until later that afternoon, I still could not figure out what those girls were planning.

I hoped to see Kate on the way back so that I could read more of her thoughts, but neither she nor her friends were anywhere to be found.

Night had fallen.

Dinner had just finished, and everyone was now awaiting for the Luna Ceremony to begin.

Peter's Alpha Ceremony took place earlier today, and Alvin had also officially become his Beta.

Peter and I had not seen each other the whole day.

It was apparently a tradition of the Luna Ceremony to do so.

Like me, Peter was accompanied by his team of men throughout the day.

Only until the Luna Ceremony began would we be able to see each other again.

"Let's get you into the dressing room. It's time to change now."

Anita held out her hand and carefully directed me to the changing room.

In order to make things convenient and lessen the travel, my dress had already been brought to the salon beforehand.

The moment my eyes fell on my extravagant white dress, something finally clicked.

"Damn those bitches! I knew they were up to no good."

"What were you saying, Serena? What do you mean?" Anita raised her eyebrows.

About half an hour later, the Luna Ceremony finally began.

Elder Steve, the host for tonight, had already gotten up on the stage to get the program and crowd started.

I heard his voice echo from the booming speakers.

I gave myself one last glance at the mirror, in awe of everything I looked like. If only my parents were here to see me today, they would have been crying tears of joy.

"You look divine, Serena. I cannot even explain in words how beautiful you look. Everyone who sees you will be stunned."

Anita held my hand and squeezed it.

"Ugh, I can't wait to turn eighteen. I can't wait to get married, too!"

Patricia held my other hand and shook it with excitement.

"Serena, my dear. Are you ready?"

Peter's mother, Vicky, came forward with eyes full of warmth.

"Yes, ready as I'll ever be," I nodded.

Together, I walked to one side of the stage with Vicky, Anita, Patricia, and Tessa.

"And now...The moment we've all been waiting for...Let us all give a warm round of applause to our very own Alpha Peter and his beautiful Luna Serena!"

Steve stretched out his arms, gesturing to the sides of the stage.

The crowd burst into a loud applause.

I bent down to slightly lift the hem of my dress so that I could climb up the stage.

And then, I saw my Peter coming towards me from the opposite side.He was dressed in a perfectly fitted white suit with his hair neatly combed into a formal style.

I had always seen him in casual clothes, but never in a full tuxedo suit.

He stood tall and proud, like some Hollywood actor off of an action movie.He was definitely the type of guy that would attract people's attention on the streets.

Everyone would turn their heads just to get a good look at him.

That man was looking at me right now with eyes full of love.

The applause did not stop until Peter reached me.He took my hand in his and pulled me in for a gentle kiss.

"You look absolutely stunning, my love.How are you? Feeling nervous?"

"Yes, a little."I giggled shyly.

"Well, you can relax already.I'm here now with you.Peter led me to the front and center of the stage.I scanned my surroundings and saw over a thousand people at the grandstand.Many even waved bright glow sticks in the air, making the crowd look like a sea of stars.Above the stage was a huge LED screen that broadcasted live for those at the very back."

Finally, ladies and gentlemen.Today, we are here to celebrate the arrival of our Luna, Serena Meester.

Now, she will become the Luna of the Red Maple Pack from here on out!"Steve declared into the microphone.

Some guests might have heard this information for the first time and started whispering, but most of the crowd erupted in applause once again.

"Perhaps some of you did not know who Serena was and thought she was just an ordinary she- wolf.But Serena's life has had a very deep connection to our pack for many years now.Now, we will all get to know our new Luna through this short movie that we have prepared."

The screen then started to show a movie about my life.

In it, I saved Peter in the forest.

Along with that were also the recreations of me and Peter's reunion, some I have already seen from Peter's proposal.

The last part was an epic fight scene, showing how I captured Henry and saved Patricia.

I noticed that the revelation of my hybrid identity was deliberately omitted.

Even if a lot of people in the pack already knew, I understood that it was still better to keep my identity on the down low.

Once the movie had finished and faded to black, the crowd started to discuss more amongst themselves, creating a loud murmuring sound.

With the wave of his hand, Steve had gotten everyone to be quiet again.

"It is now time for Peter's father, James, to give his speech on stage. Let's all give him a round of applause!"

James excitedly wiped off some tears of joy before climbing up on the stage.

"Many of you probably know about Serena's family background. I myself used to have some prejudice against it, but in the past few days, Serena has already proved that we were all wrong. She deserves our respect and love. It brings me pleasure to announce that from now on, Serena Meester is officially the Luna of the Red Maple Pack."

James ended in a triumphant tone, encouraging the audience to burst in a joyous uproar.

Everyone cheered at the top of their lungs, "Luna! Luna! Luna! With that, Steve now announced the formal beginning of the Luna Ceremony. On one side of the stage stood a tall scepter made of maple wood with the pack's emblem perched on top of it.

Steve took it in his hand and raised it into the air.

Suddenly, a ray of warm golden light started to come from the top of the scepter.

The light shined brightly, casting a soft glow onto everyone.

He then picked up a maple branch with leaves from the table and handed it to me, instructing me to place it across my chest for the pledge.

"Luna Serena Meester, do you solemnly swear to abide by the laws of the Red Maple pack and to bravely embrace the responsibility of being our Luna?"

"Yes. I solemnly swear to abide by the laws of the Red Maple pack and to bravely embrace the responsibility of being your Luna."

"And do you vow to protect, love, lead, and defend each member of this pack?"

"Yes. I vow to protect, love, lead, and defend each member of this pack."

"Now, do you accept this man, Alpha Peter Westwick, to be your mate and vow to love him until death do you part?"

"I do. I accept this man, Alpha Peter Westwick, to be my mate and vow to love him until death do us part."

After I finished taking the oath, Steve gently tapped my head with the scepter.

Above my head, a glowing halo appeared. Then he turned to Peter and gave him a maple branch to place across his chest as well.

"Alpha Peter Westwick, do you accept Serena Meester as your mate and vow to love and cherish her until death do you part?"

"I do. I accept Serena Meester as my mate and vow to love and cherish her until death do us part."

He then placed the scepter back on its stand and picked up the ceremonial knife.

He took each of our palms and cut a small incision.

With the sacred goblet, he caught a drop of both our blood. This signaled the end of the Luna Ceremony.

Everyone broke out in cheers and whistles.

"Alpha, Alpha, Alpha! Luna, Luna, Luna!" Their voices echoed all throughout the valley.

Fireworks then launched themselves into the air, filling the sky with various colors and bringing everyone joy.

Serena's POV:

The Luna Ceremony was capped off with a night of dancing.

People of all ages danced together on the square.

Peter and I were dancing, too, with others who climbed up on stage with us.

I saw Alvin invite Tessa to dance with him, but she declined.

A small, bitter smile appeared on my lips. Quite frankly, I thought Alvin deserved it.

He still had a lot to prove to Tessa.

A waitress holding a tray of beverages suddenly walked past me.

Of all the people on the stage, she stuck close to me, which was very suspicious.

Then, I felt an unfamiliar hand on my waist.

All of a sudden, the waitress had her hand at the bowknot of my dress.

It was a good thing that Peter's reflexes got him to catch her hand before she could do anything.

"What do you think you're doing?" Peter asked in a low voice, careful not to make a scene.

He then pretended to order the waitress to serve the guests at the grandstand, but actually he was just getting her away from me.

Alvin also sensed this trouble and reacted quickly.

He caught the tray of the waitress and escorted her off the stage.

It suddenly dawned on me that the waitress was one of the she-wolves who also attacked me and Tessa the other day.

"Don't worry, Peter." I smiled gratefully at Peter who looked a little flustered from panic, but soon recovered.

We continued on with the night, singing and dancing our hearts away.

"Serena, just imagine what would have happened, if that waitress had really got a hold of that bowknot. You'd be exposed in your underwear onstage. And all the cameras will be able to capture and broadcast it live!"

"Well, what's so wrong with that? I think it's a good opportunity for the pack to know how sexy their Luna is!" I giggled, teasing Peter.

"Are you nuts? No! That is for my eyes only. Let me guess, Kate was the one behind that dirty trick, right?"

"Yes, yes it is. No one else," I sighed and looked into Peter's concerned eyes.

"If she doesn't stop with all this, I might just have to expel her from the pack..."

"Hey, why don't you try pulling the bowknot, my Alpha?" I put Peter's hand on the bowknot of my dress.

"Wait, what?" Peter looked at me as if I was crazy.

"I'm your Luna, Peter. I knew what Kate was planning all along. In fact, I came prepared."

"Serena, are you sure of what you're asking me to do?"

"Yes, yes. Now hurry up, it's actually pretty warm in this dress. Get ready for a surprise." I turned to the DJ and gave him a nod. We had already agreed on this beforehand.

The regular dancing music was smoothly transitioned into the passionate sound of the tango.

I let go of Peter's arms and signaled him to do it. He obediently did as told and pulled the bowknot on my waist.

As the extravagant dress slipped off of me, I spun around to make the reveal more dramatic. I smiled, knowing it had all been caught on the big screen.

Everyone was horrified initially at the sight of the Luna slipping out of her dress in public.

But then they all saw that I was still completely clothed, now wearing a wine-colored strapless dress perfect for the dance.

The crowd cheered and then changed their dance.

"What a pleasant surprise, honey. That was brilliant! And you look completely ravishing in this red dress." Peter looked me up and down with lust.

As he pulled me closer to his body, I felt the hard bulge that was poking me through my dress.

"Watch your step now, Alpha. Follow my lead."

"Wow, so it seems you know how to tango. Where did you learn to dance, honey?" Peter was shocked.

"I danced a lot when I was a child. Later on, I learned more dances on YouTube. I learned all by myself, sometimes with a chair as my partner."

"Honey, you are truly a genius."

~Flashback~

Back in the changing room of the beauty salon...

"Damn those bitches! I knew they were up to no good."

"What were you saying, Serena? What do you mean?" Anita raised her eyebrows.

"I was talking about this wedding dress. Now I know why Kate was so firm on recommending this dress to me that day. Just a while ago when I passed by her, I was able to read her mind and discovered that she and her friends were planning to play a trick on me."

"Wait, what trick, Serena?" Patricia's curiosity led her to ask.

I then pointed to the bowknot of the dress.

"Are you saying that...they wanted you to make a complete fool of yourself during the Luna Ceremony?" Patricia's eyes widened in disbelief.

"Exactly. I'm just not sure who's going to do it. But as long as I wear this dress, they will definitely push through on their trick tonight."

"That bitch Kate! I'm going to teach her a lesson. Ugh, we should have bought the other wedding dress, too! Now what are we going to do?"

Patricia's shoulders slumped.

I thought for a while and eventually decided to let Kate continue on with her plan.

"I have an idea. Anita, could you go to my room and bring me that wine red strapless dress in my closet?"

"Sure, Serena. What are you thinking? Is that what you're going to wear to the ceremony instead?"

"Not exactly. I plan to wear that dress under the big wedding dress just in case they try anything. That dress is very form-fitting. It will be unnoticeable under the white gown."

"That's a great idea. You're so smart, Serena!"

~End of flashback~

Peter's POV:

Serena always gave me a lot of pleasant surprises.

She looked so sexy in that red dress, and dancing so close to her did not help with my sexual desires at all.

I just wanted to carry her back to our room and have sex until we fell asleep.

But there was still one last part of the Luna Ceremony that needed to be completed.

It was the transformation.

We briefly headed back to our room to change into some loose robes, which would make our transformation more convenient.

As expected, Serena turned into a white wolf on the stage, and the crowd burst out in cheers once again.

Molly took a powerful stance and howled at the moon.

It was quite a compelling howl, which got everyone excited.

I then transformed into Nate and joined Serena before others had also followed suit.

We got in formation and began to run together around the territory.

"Pet, come on. Hurry up!" I didn't expect Molly to be such a fast runner.

She was already ahead of the pack.

Perhaps speed was also part of her super powers.

"Coming, baby. Wait for me."

I urged Nate to run faster.

But Nate was big and bulky, agility was not his strongest suit.

Soon enough, I lagged behind Serena and she was getting too far from me.

I immediately asked Tessa to catch up with her just in case.

The wolves behind also followed in our track.

The sight of more than a thousand wolves running together in unison was spectacular indeed.

However, a strong wind started to blow from the mountain, and soon the entire valley was covered in fog.

Werewolves naturally had great night vision, but this fog kept getting thicker by the second.

A few moments later, it was almost zero visibility. A bad feeling started to sit in my gut.

I tried to mind link Serena, telling her to stop. But I got no response. The Alpha's Mysterious Mate by Audrey W Chapter 40se.

I came to a halt and roared, commanding everyone to head back and rest along with Alvin, David, and Anita, continued to look for Serena and Tessa through the fog.

My parents insisted on searching with us, but I refused for the sake of their safety and sent Patricia back with them.

"Serena! Are you out there?" I shouted into nothingness.

The Alpha's Mysterious Mate by Audrey W Chapter 41

Peter's POV:

The four of us decided to split up to look for Tessa and Serena. It was quite strange that fog had appeared today, since the weather was predicted to be clear. Nate kept his nose on high alert for Molly's scent.

He caught a whiff of Molly's scent and followed it until it grew stronger.

Suddenly, the scent of blood also filled his nose.

My heart felt like it was beating out of my chest. No, please...

"Serena is fine. She is fine,"

I repeated to myself.

"Get your hands off of her, you bastard!" Alvin roared from a distance, and I heard the sound of punching and kicking.

I ran in Alvin's direction.

Serena and Tessa finally came into sight, but they were lying on the ground.

I immediately came to Serena's side and scooped her up.

She groaned in pain and slowly opened her eyes to look at me.

"I won, Pet."

She coughed before falling back into unconsciousness.

"Serena, you did a good job. I'm so sorry we couldn't find you sooner."

I suddenly noticed about eight corpses lying around us. My sense of smell told me that they weren't werewolves at all. They all had a smell of blood that made me want to throw up.

"Alvin, how's Tessa? Is she okay?"

"She's still breathing. We need to go back immediately. Soon, David and Anita arrived, too."

"Alpha, Beta, I checked on the bodies. No one is alive. They're all dead now." David stood among the corpses.

"Alpha, Beta, you both go ahead and take the girls to the hospital. I will arrange for someone to deal with these bodies. After that, I'll wait for your further instruction." I admired Anita for keeping a level head during critical situations.

She knew just what to say. As soon as we arrived at the hospital of the pack, Serena and Tessa were immediately taken in for emergency treatment.

"Don't worry, Alpha, Beta. They're going to be okay. It looks like Luna just fainted from exhaustion. Tessa suffered some more serious injuries, but they have all been treated already."

The doctor recommended that Tessa and Serena be confined for the night. Once my parents and the elders heard about the news, they immediately rushed over. Anita and David followed as well.

"How did this happen? And on the day of the Luna Ceremony itself! Whoever was behind this didn't seem to respect our traditional event at all!" Steve said, burning with anger.

"Anita, what information do you have on the bodies?"

"They were all wizards." A collective gasp came from everyone in the room.

Wizards again?

Serena's POV:

When we all transformed into wolves and ran together, I was exhilarated.

It was my first time to run with the pack, and I was so impressed that I was taking the lead.

Speed was my natural advantage.

Tessa was the only one who was able to catch up to me, and we raced each other for fun.

But the next moment, the whole mountain was suddenly covered in fog.

We got lost from the pack.

Tessa and I decided to go back and look for Peter, but all of a sudden I heard a voice.

"Our teacher ordered us to catch that white wolf, leading the run. Henry said that she was a werewolf- vampire hybrid." A creepy voice came from the fog.

Hearing Henry's name made the hair on my arms stand.

They were wizards! I needed to get closer so that I could read their minds, so Tessa and I hid behind a tree.

I transformed back into my human form and wrapped myself in a robe.

But Tessa remained in her wolf form just in case.

Their thoughts poured into my mind.

It turned out that Henry told his teacher that I was a hybrid, and now Alexander sent these wizards to capture me.

"Oh, look she's hiding right here. Ha!"

Shit, we'd been discovered. Soon, I found myself surrounded by several wizards. Immediately, Tessa rushed to my side. Around six wizards surrounded her, too.

All were big, burly men. It was not a fair fight. Tessa was in danger.

I had to protect her! I had a little practice with controlling things with my mind beforehand. I usually failed, but it wasn't like I had any other option.

Raising my hands in front of me, I focused my energy and thought of controlling the wizards. Suddenly, something that felt like invisible ropes now connected my hands to one of the wizards.

He was now under my control.

“Ah! What’s going on?!”

I raised my hands higher, and the wizard became suspended in air, sending him in panic. I raised him all the way as high as the treetops before throwing him down violently to the ground.

His body fell limp on the ground with a thud.

The other wizards then looked at me with a mix of fear and confusion.

Quickly, they surrounded me this time.

But they had already hurt Tessa.

With the last of her strength, she ran to my side just on time before fainting.

“We need to gang up on her. This bitch has powers.”

All the wizards waved their wands in my direction.

I roared with all my might and willed the rest of the wizards to also get suspended in the air.

It felt like lifting a huge boulder with my hands.

But I knew that I had to lift them higher off the ground, so that their fall would kill them.

However, my vision was starting to turn black.

I was about to faint, but I couldn’t pass out before finishing this or else Tessa and I would get killed.

With all that was left of my strength, I lifted them high above the treetops before pulling them down at a deadly speed.

They hit the ground like sharp arrows, immediately falling lifeless the next second.

I, too, collapsed to the ground.

Moments before I passed out, I vaguely heard Peter call my name. By the time I opened my eyes again, I was already in a hospital bed.

"How is Tessa now?"

"She's in the next room. Alvin is staying there with her, "

Peter got up and immediately poured me a glass of water.

After downing a glass of water for my parched throat, I finally told Peter everything I had heard.

"So, with your super powers, you were able to defend yourself against all those wizards?"

"Yes," I nodded.

"But I still can't control it that well."

"And you mentioned Alexander?"

"Yes, it seemed that their target was me. Henry went back to Alexander and told him that I was a hybrid. Now, Alexander wants me captured, too." Peter frowned.

"Clearly, someone from the Maple House is plotting against you. That night, we found the guards with Kate, and they all passed out from drinking too much. Someone must have stolen the key from the guards and let Henry go on purpose."

"Do you think Kate could be the one? You know how much she hates that I'm Luna."

"For now, Kate is a suspect, but she keeps saying that she only drank with the guards to drown her sorrows. She was drunk the whole night and knew nothing. We have no other evidence to convict her. It could still be someone else. After all, she is not the only one who is hostile to you in the pack."

"Let's interrogate her later. I can read her mind to see what really happened. Then, we'll know whether or not she really is the mastermind behind all of this."

Tessa's POV:

Luna and I were racing each other ahead of the pack. Everything was going well, until we ran into a group of intruders. To be honest, I was sure that we were doomed this time.

When the wizards formed a circle around us, there was nothing left I could do. I felt helpless and was close to saying goodbye to my life.

Suddenly, they all ran towards Luna. I couldn't let them hurt Luna! I did my best to run to her side.

But right when I landed, I fainted. I thought this was how I was going to die.

Before I completely passed out, my last thought was about that playboy Alvin.

I realized I had something to tell him all this time, but now I might no longer have that chance. Regret filled my heart.

"Ooh, look at this she-wolf. Maybe I can take her with me, too." A disgusting voice got closer to me.

I tried to open my eyes and saw Luna herself lying motionless next to me. But not only that, the other men were also on the ground, seeming to be dead.

However, there was one last man who limped towards me. He reached his dirty hand in my direction. But all of a sudden, I heard a familiar voice.

"Get your hands off of her, you bastard!" It was Alvin.

He was my hero! Seeing him gave me a sense of security.

I knew now that Luna and I were safe.

Vaguely, I heard the groans and shouts of the last intruder.

"Tessa? Can you hear me? Are you okay?" I felt Alvin scoop me up into his strong arms.

With my remaining strength, I opened my eyes and caught a glimpse of his handsome face, his eyes full of concern and guilt.

"Tessa, I'm so sorry I couldn't protect you earlier..."

I placed my hand on his cheek and kissed him.

Finally, I fainted. That was my first ever kiss. Pain had woken me up. I felt it all over my body.

"You're awake! But don't move too much, Tessa."

I looked to the side and saw the person I truly wanted to see, Alvin.

"Serena? How is Luna?"

"She's in the next ward. She's fine, just exhausted."

My head started to spin a little, and I put my hand on my forehead.

I was still dizzy. I suddenly remembered the last memory I had before passing out.

Of course I did, it was my first kiss.

My cheeks blushed at the thought of this.

I actually thought I was about to die then, which was why I had a lot of courage. I felt my face burn up from embarrassment.

"Ivy, you saw what happened. What do you think of Alvin?" I asked my wolf in my head.

"You don't need me to answer that for you. You already know it in your heart."

"I just think that Alvin isn't the bad guy everyone thinks he is. He seems to really care about me, too. Besides, he saved us yesterday, Ivy."

"He was a little late in my opinion. But if you like him a lot, then I won't object, Tessa."

"Thank you for respecting that, Ivy."

Perhaps I could try and see how things would work out with Alvin.

"Tessa, what's got you so deep in thought, huh? Oh, are you hungry? Tell me what you want, I'll get it for you."

"Hmm... I just want some vanilla ice cream, if that's okay."

Vanilla ice cream was a sentimental comfort food to me when I was a child. I always wanted to eat it when I would get sick.

Of course, my mother didn't allow it every time.

"Alright, I'll get you some right away."

"Wait, but it's so early in the morning. Aren't the shops still closed at this time? Where will you get it?"

"Don't worry about it. All you need to do is wait for your ice cream right here."

Alvin walked to the door. Right before exiting, he turned back to me.

"I'll be back as soon as I can. If you need anything at all, just call me." I smiled and nodded.

Alvin was getting more and more attractive to me.

He wasn't as tall as Alpha, but our height difference was already quite large, which was fine.

He also wasn't the fittest wolf in the pack, but it was nothing more exercise couldn't fix.

For me, my favorite part of him was his handsome face.

I once again replayed my first kiss in my head, admiring how much courage I was able to muster up in that moment.

It was just a simple kiss, a peck on the lips.

It wasn't supposed to affect me too much, but I caught myself repeating it over and over again in my mind.

Alvin's POV:

I had never expected that the day would come when I would suffer for the sake of love. It was only five o'clock in the morning. But Tessa wanted vanilla ice cream, so I was going to get it for her.

The shops and cafes along the street had not even opened yet.

Normally, I would not even get up this early, but this was the request of my mate.

It was up to me to satisfy her craving and make it up to her! I knocked on the doors of several shops, but the owner of each shop said that their stock of ice creams for the day had yet to arrive.

I was too early.

After all, yesterday was quite a large event with a lot of hungry children.

The ice creams of the shops had all been sold out by last night.

Quite far away from the hospital, I knew of a Haagen- Dazs store.

The saleswoman there was one of my...past sex partners.

Back when I was trying to get her, I always dropped by and bought an ice cream as an excuse to see her. If my memory served me right, her name was Nancy.

I took out my phone and searched for Nancy in my phone book, only to find that I had a lot of contacts named Nancy! Apparently, this name was quite popular.

I had no other choice but to call them one by one to find the woman I was looking for.

"Hi, good morning. Nancy? It's Alvin. Do you still work at Haagen-Dazs?"

"Which Alvin is this? And why are you calling me so early in the morning?!"

Admittedly, Alvin was also a popular name. Her reaction was warranted. I had to introduce myself in another way.

"Yeah, good morning. It's Beta"

She hung up on me before I could even finish my words.

"Hi, Nancy? It's Beta Alvin. How are things at work?"

"What do you mean work? Don't fucking talk to me about work. I was just fired the other day."

I felt bad for her, but I also hoped it wasn't the Nancy who worked in Haagen-Dazs.

"Good morning, Nancy."

"Beta Alvin, it's been a while since you last called. Why haven't you dropped by for some ice cream lately?"

Thank goodness, I found her! This was the Nancy I was looking for! "Well, I've just been busy, so... By the way, are you home?"

"No, I'm working in the shop right now. I'm on night shift duty this week."

It seemed Lady Luck favored me! "Okay, I'll be right there, Nancy. Wait for me, okay?"

"Alright, no problem. But why are you in such a hurry, anyway?" I dropped the call and started the car.

At this early in the morning, there wouldn't be any heavy traffic.

I floored the gas and rushed over to the Haagen-Dazs store.

Nancy was waiting for me by the entrance.

Her face was lightly made up and she wore a small T-shirt that revealed her belly button, with a pair of short shorts.

"Hello, Beta. What kind of ice cream would you like today?"

"Give me a few tubs of vanilla ice cream, please."

My bluntness stunned her at first, but she continued to talk to me seductively.

"Well, come on in, baby. Let me feed it to you."

She took me by my collar and pulled me in the shop, locking the door behind her.

We liked to do fun things during our dates in the past. Sometimes we would make love while licking ice cream off of each other's bodies. Seeing that I came here for ice cream, she must have wrongly assumed my intentions.

"I'm kind of in a hurry, Nancy. I just need two tubs of vanilla ice cream now."

"Oh, you will get your ice cream soon. Don't worry, baby."

She brought out a cone and swirled ice cream onto it.

Then, she turned to me and licked it up and down while looking straight into my eyes.

"No, I don't want the cone. It melts easily. I'll get the one from the freezer." I pointed in the other direction.

"We've talked about this before, baby. The ice cream from the freezer is too hard for us to spread it all over our bodies."

Nancy then slipped her shirt off and unclasped her bra, exposing her huge breasts in front of me.

God damn it! All I wanted was some ice cream! Why did I have to go through so many difficulties just for ice cream? Nancy never broke her seductive gaze away from me.

She smashed the ice cream onto her breasts and massaged them with her hands.

Biting her lip, she moaned sexily and loudly. She was very aggressive.

My dick had gotten hard.

Admittedly, I started to feel hot and thirsty at this sight, too.

The old Alvin would immediately take off his clothes and join Nancy in this sweet escapade.

But that was no longer who I was.

“Nancy, I’m sorry.I didn’t mean... that.”

I quickly walked to the freezer and picked out a tub of vanilla ice cream before heading for the door.

“Wait, what are you doing?”

“Thanks for the ice cream!”

I reached into my pocket and grabbed a handful of cash, hurriedly leaving it on the table without even counting.

“You bastard! You must be crazy!” Nancy called after me.

I rushed back to the hospital and showed Tessa the ice cream I had gotten her.

She stared at the huge tub in disbelief.

She would never have to know the suffering I had been through just to get a hold of that ice cream.

Peter’s POV:

By the time I had arrived back at the room, Serena was already well-rested.She might not have been injured, but using her powers had consumed a lot of her energy.She was also still reeling from depression.

“Hey, honey.How are you feeling?”

“Peter, I’m just not sure if I did the right thing.I feel like a horrible person.I...killed people! I’m only eighteen, but I’m already a murderer.And it seems like I’m even good at it!”

“No, no, honey.Listen to me.You did the right thing by protecting you and Tessa.Those wizards came uninvited and attacked you and Tessa.If you hadn’t used your powers to defend yourselves, I don’t even want to imagine what they could have done to you.”

"Thank you, Pet. That makes me feel a little better."

"Honey, don't blame yourself, okay? You are Luna now. Your responsibility is to protect the entire pack. And since you were the target of those wizards, it's only right to protect yourself, too."

"Oh, Peter. Thank you..."

Serena looked at me with gratitude and kissed me. I kissed back, of course.

This would surely help comfort her. Wrapping my arms around her, I pulled her closer and hugged her tight.

I almost forgot that last night was the official day that Serena had become my Luna.

We should have had a wonderful night. But it was not too late to make up for it now...

"Baby, can you put on that red dress again?"

"Why, baby?"

"You might laugh at me, but you in that color really turns me on."

"Wow, I learned something new about you today!"

"If only you knew how hard I got from dancing with you last night."

"Alright, wait a minute."

Serena chuckled and held out her hand in the direction of her closet.

Suddenly, the closet door opened and the red dress flew directly into her hand.

"Wow, you're amazing! Have you mastered that power already?"

"Well, it doesn't always work when I want it to. Okay, I'll change into it now. Close your eyes, Pet."

"Don't know why I have to, but okay."

I lightly laughed and closed my eyes.

The sound of rustling fabric filled the room.

"Alright, open your eyes now. Go!"

I opened my eyes and was immediately stunned by the view of Serena in that red dress.

Her hair fell perfectly around her shoulders, and the dim lighting from our lamp was perfect to set the mood.

Maybe I understood now why women wanted to buy so many different clothes.

Serena looked completely different in this dress.

She bit her lip seductively.

With one movement of her finger, she beckoned me to come to her.

My feet were lifted off the floor and I glided towards her.

Serena used her powers on me! Our bodies collided into each other and our faces were only inches apart.

Suddenly, Serena gently pushed me off of her and turned around so that her ass rubbed on my dick, which was already hard.

I excitedly unbuckled my belt and pulled down my underwear.

My erect penis sprung out and caressed Serena's inner thighs through her dress.

I reached out my hand to grab her breast and massaged it passionately.

With my other hand, I slipped under her underwear and felt that she was already very wet.

"Pet, fuck me. Now!"

Serena pleaded.

I slipped off her underwear with my hand and was pleasantly surprised to find that it was a red G-string.

Just knowing that Serena was wearing that for me was a bonus treat.

I then lifted up Serena's dress from behind.

I lifted my penis to slide inside her vagina.

I had been waiting for this since yesterday.

Even though we had sex a few times already, Serena was still very tight and her wetness made it so easy to glide in and out.

With one powerful thrust, I reached the deepest part of her vagina.

I didn't wear condoms this time.

Feeling my flesh against hers was a sensation I could not get enough of.

"Yes, baby. That's it. Go deeper! Faster!"

Serena screamed and moaned.

I used my hips to thrust myself back and forth.

My penis slid smoothly in and out.

Serena and I held hands.

We were having sex while standing up.

I hadn't even taken off my shirt.

Serena had only her underwear removed.

Despite being almost fully clothed, our sexual desire for each other was through the roof.

We wanted more of each other.

"Oh, Pet. My legs are getting weak. Stop!"

"Hold on, baby. I'm close, too."

I felt my orgasm quickly approaching. I sped up my thrusts and finally came inside of her.

With one last gasp, Serena collapsed onto the bed with much pleasure.

Serena's POV:

The next day, Peter and I arrived at the dining hall, and everyone thanked me.

The pack had been in so much chaos the past few days, but we were able to rise above it with my help.

I humbly received all their gratitude, but the only thing that mattered to me was that everyone was safe.

Now, the topic at the table had shifted to me and Peter having kids soon.

"Peter and Serena just got married, but they still haven't gone on a honeymoon yet."

"Yes, Alpha seems to be busy with the pack. He doesn't have time to make a baby with Serena."

Hearing this, I couldn't help but chuckle and blush.

Peter and I had sex for a long time last night, all because I wore that sexy red dress.

No matter how busy Peter was, I knew that he would always make time to make love to me.

For now, we agreed to let nature take its course.

Besides, Peter mentioned that he didn't want me to get pregnant too early.

Going on a honeymoon seemed like a great idea, though.

A part of me also wanted to make a quick visit to my hometown.

"I agree. Both of you need time to relax and be alone, where no one can disturb you. Your honeymoon is something you absolutely cannot miss. I remember being on Bali Island while I was pregnant with Peter," Vicky said.

"How about going back to my hometown?"

"You mean the forest? But it will bring up a lot of memories... I am afraid you may not want to go back," Peter asked in a low voice.

"Don't worry. I wanted to visit my parents in the cemetery and tell them that we had married. Even though they had passed away many years ago, I still liked to visit the place we used to call home."

"Okay. Let's go there,"

Peter said and held my by the shoulders.
