Chapter 671

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 671-Jezebelle's expression darkened in that instant. "She's been dead for decades. Why did you bring her up?" She expressed her annoyance upon hearing about Roland's ex-wife, who was also Selena's mother.

"Mom, would you please stop interrupting for a moment? I have some serious business to discuss with Dad!" Meredith glared at her mother in frustration and turned her attention to her father. "Dad, as far as I can recall, Selena doesn't really associate with any of her maternal relatives, does she?"

Roland pondered for a while and replied, "Yeah, I think so. When I first met her, she was all by herself. Back then, I wanted to meet her parents, but she always told me she was all by herself. So, I thought she was perhaps an orphan or something. Furthermore, your grandma reckoned that was also a good thing since we could save our bride token without any in-laws. After that, nobody ever talked about that matter again."

"Did her mom ever mention anything about her own family? Do you still remember her bracelets, Dad? The bracelets that were worth a billion during the auction..." Meredith suddenly recalled the bracelets. Although she initially had doubts about the existence of that pair of jewelry, she was too distracted to look into it because of her infatuation with Pierre.

"Those bracelets were extremely valuable, but our company was suffering from a cash flow problem, so she sold them off for thirty million!" Roland stuck up three of his fingers. "If it hadn't been for that thirty million, we would have gone bankrupt long ago!"

Jezebelle glared at Roland angrily and berated him. "Then why did you cheat on her with me?!"

"Well, you were the one who seduced me!"

"You!"

The old couple began to bicker with each other again. In fact, both of them still liked to rake up the past despite their current miserable condition. As they grew older, they tended to get even grumpier and touchier in a heated argument, sometimes even resorting to throwing items to vent their frustration.

“Alright, let’s get down to business!” Meredith massaged her temples and asked, “Dad, have you not had a single doubt about why she’d have something so valuable, even though she was all alone by herself?”

“She said it was her heirloom.”

“But a valuable heirloom like those bracelets is only passed down through generations in a wealthy family. How could a modest average household afford to own something so valuable like that?”

As soon as they heard that, Roland and Jezebelle exchanged gazes, thinking they might have underestimated Selena’s mother all this while. “Meredith, are you trying to say…”

“If I’m not mistaken, Selena’s mother might have been from a rich family!”

“What?!” Jezebelle gave Roland an evil stare. “What’s wrong?! What does it concern you even if she was from a rich family? Are you going to meet up with your wealthy father-in-law? Go! I dare you!”

Roland helplessly sighed and answered, “Whatever it was, it was many years back, plus she passed away long ago. So, let’s just put that behind us.” He seemed unwilling to reveal more about Selena’s late mother.

At the same time, Meredith had also decided to stop pressing on with her question. She then said, “Now that I’m a celebrity, I need you both to be really discreet about my identity. I’ll be sure to get you both a gift each the next time, and if you’re in need of money, you could also come to me. But remember, your lips are sealed about who I am! Can you do that?”

“Alright, loud and clear!” Both of them answered at the same time. Desperate to change their life, they would surely behave themselves, especially when there was a chance to turn things around for the better.

Jezebelle stammered and asked, “Meredith, how is Megan? Why didn’t she come back?”

“Megan? She is probably enjoying her life as Mrs. Astley, so I doubt she is going to have time for you both. Alright, I should get going now.” Meredith put on her sunglasses and left.

Soon, Jezebelles sarcastically mocked her elder daughter. “Well, I guess we never really knew our daughter well until this adversity. On the other hand, Meredith is the one who’s really repaid our love in a practical manner. Look at Megan! Where is she after she became Mrs. Astley? She didn’t even seem to bother coming back to visit us!”

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 672-Selena Is Back Home

Roland sighed and said, “Well, things change, and so do people.” At the same time, Meredith returned to her personal residence that her agency company had prepared her upon visiting her parents.

She then started browsing through the internet to learn more about the Murray Family and found out that they had a daughter who subsequently went missing. While her fate was left unknown, Meredith’s suspicion was further confirmed by the mystery.

No wonder Linda’s looks seemed a little strange the last time we met. That was all because she underwent plastic surgery to look exactly like Selena. Yes, that explains why she wants Selena dead so badly. Since she knows the bracelets’ secret, it also makes sense to say that she wants to take Selena’s place to become the Murray Family’s daughter.

After learning the news, Meredith could barely contain her joy, knowing that she could finally work with Linda like a partner instead of working for her like a servant.

As soon as Megan left, her parents instantly looked through the items she got for them. Food, drinks, and daily necessities... Their daughter had brought them a little of everything, and on top of that, there were some new clothes.

For someone who puts a lot of attention on physical appearance like Jezebelles, these clothes were enough to make her excited. Grabbing a few apparel and putting them in front of herself, she was more than delighted, especially since they were nowhere as rich as they used to be.

“Enough! You’re too old for this stuff!” Roland sarcastically mocked his wife. Jezebelle glared at him and talked back. “What do you know?!”

At that moment, Roland suddenly saw a group of people entering the courtyard just when Jezebelle also heard the noises. When Selena showed up, Roland quickly turned his attention to Jezebelle and said, “Don’t forget what Meredith told us!”

“Worry about yourself!” Jezebelle haughtily glared at Roland as she still remembered her daughter’s words.

Soon, Selena walked into the living, while her bodyguards remained outside.

In the meantime, Roland was seen sitting on the couch with his legs crossed as usual. “Oh, look who we have here! My lovely daughter is back! Did you have to bring along so many people coming home? I almost thought this was a robbery.”

“Exactly! To what do we owe you the pleasure, Mrs. Fowler? Poor relatives like us are only going to embarrass you, Mrs. Fowler!” Jezebelle spoke meanly as she always did.

Nevertheless, Selena wasn’t expecting any kind of polite pleasantries from them either. After all, she knew a leopard couldn’t change its spots. “There is nothing worth robbing here! Bring it in!”

Soon, the bodyguards began to carry the boxes into the house as Jezebelle watched with her eyes brightening up. This stuff from Selena is definitely top-notch!

At the same time, Selena scanned around her surroundings and quickly spotted a shirt right underneath Jezebelle’s bottom. While the shirt looked brand new, the price tag hadn’t even been torn. A moment later, Selena noticed the two boxes in the corner and walked closer to them. “Who dropped by for a visit just now?” She then took a closer look inside the box and saw some supplements and clothes. Although they weren’t worth much, they weren’t exactly cheap either. Therefore, it was hard for Selena to tell who had bought those items for them.

“What’s wrong? You don’t even care about visiting us, so who are you to stop the others from visiting us?” Roland widened his eyes and stared at Selena furiously.

“We don’t really have any relatives either, so who just came to visit?” Selena pressed on with her question.

In fact, Selena knew the Yard Family barely had any relatives, indeed. Even though they might have a few of them, she didn’t think they would keep in touch with Roland either. After all, he didn’t really bother to associate with them when he was rich back then and even tried to draw a boundary between himself and his poor relatives. Therefore, when he hit rock bottom, no one actually cared to find how he was.

Unhappy with Selena’s attitude, Roland refuted her in an ironic manner. “Everyone we’ve ever known is more than happy to visit us! You’re the only one who doesn’t bother visiting us!”

Read Novel Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 673

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 673-“I’d very much like to know who would be interested in visiting you.” Selena provoked Roland, wishing her father could sober up and realize his past mistake. When will he ever learn? He is already bankrupt, yet he still can’t change his insolent attitude! As usual, he is always so full of himself!

Roland and Jezebelle winked at each other, whereupon the latter said, “It’s my beloved daughter, Megan! She is now Mrs. Astley, so is there anything wrong for her to buy us some stuff?”

“Megan?” Well, if it was Megan who visited, everything makes sense now. In fact, she made a deal with Megan back then that she would only help her get out of prison on the condition that she behaved and changed, which Selena reckoned she did before she regained her freedom.

It seems that Megan has really learned from her mistake. Otherwise, I would have made a bad call to help her get out of prison. Anyway, I suppose there should be nothing suspicious about Megan visiting her parents. After all, she is still their daughter.

“Look at my girl, Megan, now! She has married a rich man who runs a real estate business! So, is there anything wrong for her to buy a little something for her parents?” Jezebel gazed at Selena haughtily and added, “Yet, there is someone who is rich but won’t even think about her father!”

Needless to say, Selena knew that Jezebel was ridiculing her. Nonetheless, she couldn’t care less about the woman’s unkind remarks, as she had long grown used to it. She is miserable enough! So, I might as well save my breath and let her bark all she wants.

“If you need anything else, feel free to contact me.” Selena began to grow impatient with Roland and decided to leave the place. Nevertheless, she couldn’t bring herself to just stand by and watch as her father starved from poverty.

“Oh, we wouldn’t dare to! We’re just your poor relatives, so who are we to ask for help from you, Mrs. Fowler?” Jezebel continued to mock Selena in a sarcastic manner.

Selena smiled and said, “Oh, I see! Then, I guess I can rest assured since there is someone else who can take care of both of you. However, that also means all these supplies that I just brought are unnecessary. Very well! I’ll take them back since you won’t need them anyway!”

Upon hearing Selena’s words, Jezebel anxiously replied, “Well, you’ve already brought them here! So, how could you take them back? If you’re really so stingy, why did you come all the way with so many things? To gloat?”

“Selena Yard! I raised you! So, don’t you think I deserve a little something in return?! How dare you take them back?!”

Despite the arrogant look on the couple’s faces, Selena couldn’t help but feel amused about how they kept mocking her, yet shamelessly wanted the supplies she brought them. Soon, she left without saying a word, leaving the supplies that she brought them behind for the couple. In fact, she would continue aiding Roland and Jezebel through their struggles in the future. After all, she felt the urge to fulfill the obligation of helping her father.”

After Selena left, Jezebel rubbed her chest and thankfully prayed to God. “Phew! She is finally gone! We did it! She didn’t notice anything strange, did she?” Jezebel could still feel her heart fluttering like crazy.

“I don’t think so. She is not that scheming,” Roland answered in a frank manner.

“She is not that scheming? If she isn’t, how do you think she managed to marry Pierre? How did she take Pierre away from Meredith?” Jezebelle glared at Roland and continued to say, “If it weren’t for her, Meredith would be Mrs. Fowler! It seems to me that your daughter is just like her mother. They’re both the same cunning type!”

“Oh, really?! Your beloved daughter is not so different either, so get off your high horse!” Roland growled at his wife.

“Let’s see what she got us!” Jezebelle squinted with a smile and stood up to see what Selena had brought them

Meanwhile, Selena got into the car while Niall sat on the front passenger seat and asked, “Was everything alright, President Yard?”

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 674-“Everything seems fine. They’re still broke and don’t look different from before. As for that item, I think it should be Megan who brought it over. I took a look at the address on the box, and it’s definitely where she lives.”

Selena was aware of Megan’s situation. Her letting Megan go previously proved that she was sure the latter would no longer cause harm. In order to be sure, she even sent someone to follow Megan and came to know that Megan had married Jimmy Astley, a man more than ten years older than her, becoming a stepmother to his children. But Megan had also settled down a lot after getting married, so Selena did not bother to keep track of her.

“Send someone to stay on guard here. If there are any suspicious people, remember to notify me,” Selena said.

“Okay, President Yard.”

At this time, Selena received a message from her fitness instructor. ‘Miss Yard, let’s go for a morning run tomorrow, okay? You haven’t been to the gym for a few days, so it should do you good to get some fresh air and exercise.’

Looking at this message, Selena was startled for a moment. Well, I suppose there's no harm in getting some exercise in.

The other party immediately replied with 'I'll send you the address then. See you tomorrow!'

After Jude returned to Digton City, she rested for a couple of days before dealing with her matters. She was never one to freeload others, so she couldn't live a life where Wyatt completely took care of her. At least she needed to finish what she had promised her father.

As she had gone missing for a period of time, she did not accept the contract for the movie that she was slated to shoot, so the company had officially terminated her contract. The good thing was that she had made a lot of money for the company, so the cooperation was pleasant, and the termination was cordial. Thus, there was no breach of contract.

Jude did not have the habit of saving money, so she was penniless since she had not taken up any acting roles for a long time. She wanted to set up her own studio, but she did not even have the minimum capital to start. For a moment, Jude really didn't know what to do.

After a while, she began to scroll through some information on the internet. It was at that time when her phone started ringing.

"Hello."

"Hello, is this Miss Jude Knight?"

"Yes, who is this?"

"My name is Kenneth Jeeves, and I'm the director of Stardom Entertainment. Is it a convenient time for you to talk now? Is it possible for us to make an appointment and discuss a collaboration?"

Jude held the phone for a long time, stunned. After that, she immediately went to Stardom Entertainment and met Kenneth, who was a gentleman.

Even though Stardom Entertainment was not the biggest company in the entertainment industry, it was still one of the top dogs. The company's artists compete fiercely with each other to remain in it, and there was never a shortage of artists. Besides, they had cultivated many of the hottest celebrities in showbiz.

However, Stardom Entertainment also had a slight complication. Most of their celebrities relied on online popularity, and some could maintain that while others quickly lost their following.

“You’re here, Miss Knight. We shouldn’t be considered strangers, right?” Kenneth smiled and extended his hand.

Jude also extended her hand to shake Kenneth’s. “Yeah.”

They were both in the entertainment industry, so naturally, they had met before. However, they had not interacted much in the past, merely aware of each other’s existence. When they met before, they only knew about each other’s identities in a superficial way.

“Well, I’ve prepared a contract on my side. If you sign with us, we have a movie that we can arrange for you to star at once. Nevertheless, you will not be the female lead. After all, you have not been acting for so long, so I’m afraid it is not appropriate for you to take on the role of the female lead. However, there are many scenes containing the daughter of the female lead, and the character is also a likable one. Won’t you consider it?”

This came as a surprise to Jude. Is stardom Entertainment actually offering me a contract? Moreover, it seems like they have planned it for a long time.

Read Novel Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 675

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 675-Jude was no longer a budding starlet, so she did not believe that it was simply a stroke of good luck. “May I ask why Stardom Entertainment wants to sign me? As far as I know, you prefer to sign male and female groups, as well as artists who can sing and dance.

Although there are actors, they aren’t your core focus. Besides, I haven’t shown my face around for so long, and there was even an incident where I breached an acting contract when I disappeared after being booked for a role. Thus, may I know the reason Stardom Entertainment wants to sign me?”

Jude felt extremely strange about the whole matter. Firstly, she was not Stardom Entertainment's preferred type of artist at all. Secondly, she had lost much of her previous popularity, so it was strange that the company wanted to spend money on her since the loss was not worth the gain.

It was better to sign a newcomer, as it was much easier for a newcomer to become popular. In addition, the company had always signed celebrities who relied on online popularity. In fact, most of the artists under them were influencers, and the company was also the best at producing such celebrities.

What was more, Stardom Entertainment started from a talent show, and so far, there was no other company that could top them when it came to talent shows.

Kenneth also did not shy away from the topic and replied, "Miss Knight, in fact, we have always wanted to transform Stardom Entertainment into something different.

I'm sure you know that no company will permanently be at the top in the entertainment industry, so we want to expand the company to do some other types of business and try to sign some better actors. I'll be straight with you. It will be very profitable for us to sign you on. Now that you've terminated the contract with your former company, you probably could not find a suitable company to join.

Due to the previous matter, you're no longer popular, so our price to sign you on won't be high too. However, your acting skills are top-class, so this will be very cost-effective for us."

What he said was the truth, so it was very convincing to Jude's ears.

Celebrities in entertainment were also valued for how cost-effective they were to their companies. For example, she had excellent acting skills, but since she was an outdated actress, her price was not that high, and thus she was considered relatively cost-effective. If she became popular again, the company would certainly make a lot of money.

Kenneth passed the contract to Jude and said, "We will do our best to get you a good role. We also hope that you won't turn down our sincere offer."

Jude looked at the contract and smiled to herself. The agency contracts were all much the same, so she only needed to look at the final distribution of earnings.

“We will provide an assistant and agent for you. Besides, the daily expenses are clearly stated in the contract. As for the distribution of earnings, I’m sure you won’t be satisfied with it at first, but if you are able to become popular again, we will modify the figure to suit.”

“Okay, I’ll go back and think about it.” Jude took the contract and got up. “Looking forward to having you onboard.” Jude shook hands with Kenneth and left.

After leaving Kenneth’s office, Jude wanted to go to the restroom, so she sought it out. Just as she reached the door, she heard someone inside saying her name.

“I heard that our company is going to sign Jude Knight on?”

“Yes, Mr. Jeeves personally came to discuss with her. That’s a lot of respect for an outdated actress.”

“I heard that she can’t even get any role now. Moreover, her original company also terminated her contract. I think our company is crazy to sign her on?”

The staff was very confused because Jude was clearly not the company’s preferred celebrity type. “Don’t you understand? There is someone supporting this from behind the scenes.”

“You mean someone is backing Jude?”

“Yes. I heard that this individual invested a lot in Stardom Entertainment and became a new shareholder. Furthermore, the new shareholder issued the instruction that we must take Jude.”

“Are you serious? This is such a huge piece of gossip!” The employee was obviously very curious. “Keep it down. This is a secret, and within our industry, the most important thing is to keep secrets. You must not tell anyone about this.”

Chapter 676

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 676-After learning about the rumor, Jude hurriedly left. No wonder Stardom Entertainment insists on signing me on! Is someone backing me behind the scenes?

Jude smiled to herself, for the only person who would be so considerate was Selena. On the one hand, Selena wanted to get her friend back into the game and help her, and on the other hand, she didn't want to let her know about it. Besides, Selena even helped Kenneth think of such a convincing reason. If Jude hadn't heard these two people talking here, she would have really believed Kenneth's words.

"Alas..." Jude sighed deeply. Since Selena has spent so much thought on it, she could only accept it and pretend not to know anything. Her best friend had really put in a lot of effort to help her out.

Coming out from the restroom, Jude walked along the corridor of Stardom Entertainment with the contract in her hands when a woman came toward her. She instantly stopped in her tracks in astonishment. Isn't this—

Meredith was walking toward her with her hips swaying seductively, and when she passed by Jude, she did not even look at the latter! Jude turned around and stared at Meredith, who disappeared from sight in just a few seconds. For a long time, she was shocked and couldn't come back to her senses.

A staff member came up next to her and said, "Are you shell-shocked by the sight?"

"That's—"

"That's Mia. Look at her! Doesn't she look like the previous superstar Meredith Yard?"

She doesn't just look like her; she's practically her doppelganger!

Jude was so surprised that she couldn't speak.

"Well, her name is Mia, and she's biracial. Her baby blue eyes are breathtakingly beautiful! Oh, and she dances especially well in a super sexy way. They say she is a beauty." The staff member introduced the woman with a proud look.

She continued, "I guess after a short while, she will become the face of Stardom Entertainment. Her rise to popularity is unstoppable! Even the company is now promoting her."

Jude didn't regain her senses for a long time. How can two people look so similar?

She quickly drove to the Fowler Residence. "Selena, Selena!"

"What's the matter? Why are you in such a hurry?" Selena had just reached home and hadn't even had time to drink water when she heard Jude calling her.

"I went to Stardom Entertainment today, and guess who I saw?" Even until now, Jude could not believe her eyes.

"Who?"

"Meredith! No, no, no, they all said she isn't Meredith. She's called Mia. I was shocked to death!" Jude clutched her chest with a shocked expression.

Selena shrugged. "I already know about this; I've sent people to investigate it before."

"Is she really Meredith? They look too much alike, right?"

The two women were so similar to each other that it had thrown the usually unruffled Jude into such a shaken state.

"I'm not sure, but what I found out so far is that Mia is a mixed-race woman, and their styles are too different from each other. But the investigation is still ongoing."

Jude sat on the sofa and took a sip of water to suppress her shock. "She did not react when she saw me just now, so it should not be Meredith."

"No reaction at all?"

"Yes. In the past, Meredith had seen me as her strongest opponent, and she always treated me with the greatest hostility. But she seemed to not recognize me at all just now. She did not even look at me."

"It couldn't be that she didn't notice you, could it?"

“I’m so beautiful; how could she not notice me?” Jude rolled her eyes at Selena.

Selena could only roll her eyes back at Jude. “Okay, okay. You’re beautiful, and whatever you say goes.”

Jude looked at Selena, her lips curving upward. “Thank you, Selena.”

“What are you thanking me for?” Selena was confused.

“Nothing!” Jude stood up.

“Be careful with Mia. I’m going back first! I’m going to get back into the game!”

“Go for it!”

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 677-Before going to bed at night, Selena once again received a message from Rick. ‘Miss Yard, don’t forget tomorrow’s morning jog.’ It was followed by a heart emoji. Selena pursed her lips and smiled, then replied with an ‘okay’.

The next morning, she got up very early, then drove to the place where she agreed to meet Rick. It was really a good place for a morning jog; there was an artificial lake planted with a lot of exotic lotus flowers. It was just a pity that during this season, the lotus flowers had not yet bloomed. Nevertheless, it was also quite lovely to see the lotus leaves floating around on the lake in tranquility.

That day, Rick looked especially cheery and handsome in a set of sportswear appropriate for early spring. “Miss Yard, you are quite punctual.” “Of course I have to be. Well, let’s start,” Selena said after stretching her arms.

Rick hurriedly said, “There’s no hurry. To run well, we must first do some warmup and stretch our limbs. This is your first morning jog, so we must prepare well so as not to be uncomfortable later.”

As he spoke, he began to teach Selena how to warm up, and then they did some simple stretching actions.

“Since we are outdoors, we don’t need to be too reserved in our actions.” Rick began to guide Selena, his hand constantly moving back and forth on Selena’s body in a suggestive manner, but Selena did not mind.

“Okay, now we’ve got the body warmed up, right? Let’s go!” Rick was full of energy and started to take Selena for a morning jog. It was a great experience facing the sunrise as they jogged around the lake, so the two of them chatted while jogging.

“Miss Yard, have you never jogged in the morning before?”

“Then I am really honored about it. This is your first morning jog, so it is my honor to experience your first time.” Rick joked.

Selena smiled a little but did not respond much.

As the two of them chatted while they jogged, the time passed quickly, and after a moment, Selena could not continue anymore. “No, I’m exhausted. I can’t run anymore!”

Bending down, she took several deep breaths.

“No, you need to continue walking slowly. You cannot stop all of a sudden,” Rick said while helping Selena straighten up and then led her to walk on slowly. Selena was a little tired, so she did not care so much. After walking around, Rick found that Selena’s shoelaces were loose. “Miss Yard, your shoelaces have come loose. I’ll help you tie them.”

He then squatted down to tie her shoelaces and then raised his head toward her with a bright smile.

“Thanks.” Selena smiled slightly shyly.

“I don’t seem to have experienced many people tying my shoelaces in my life.”

“Is that so? Then I’m really honored. If you don’t mind, then I can help you tie your shoelaces in the future.”

“Hahahaha, is that so? Then how much would it cost if I hire someone specifically to tie my shoelaces?” Selena looked at Rick jokingly.

“It’s free. It costs just one kiss.” Rick winked teasingly at Selena; this trick worked all the time on girls.

However, Selena only took it as a joke and laughed out loud. Unfortunately, she was not a young girl anymore.

“Miss Yard, look at your body covered with sweat. Why don’t we go to my house for you to wash it off? It must be very uncomfortable for your clothes to stick to your body like this.”

Selena sniffed her body and replied, “Hmm, I do smell sweaty. Okay, we’ll do as you suggest then.”

“My house is very close by. It’s right next to this lake.” Rick pointed to the building next to the lake.

“Wow, you make quite a lot of money as a fitness instructor, huh? The price of housing here should be sky-high, right?”

The two of them walked and talked at the same time.

“I’m not from here, and I’ve always wanted to settle down in Digton City, so naturally, I have to do well. This house was bought with a mortgage though, and I have to pay back the loan.”

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 678-The two of them came to Rick’s home on foot, and once inside, Rick brought out slippers for Selena and personally squatted down to help her change the slippers.

“This is a small place, and there is only one bathroom. You go on first. I’ll wait for you outside.” Then, he handed Selena a towel. “Smell it. It smells good, right? Do you like the smell?”

His words were followed by a cheeky wink. From his experience, it was highly probable for a woman who was willing to go home with him to agree to sleep with him.

“It really is quite fragrant. Why do you have such fragrant towels? You don’t often bring back girls, do you?”

“Of course not! You are the first!” “It seems you have countless firsts!” “I swear, I really don’t!”

Selena grabbed the towel and then walked directly into the bathroom, not forgetting to smile brightly back at Rick. At that moment, Rick felt like his soul was going to be stolen away by her. After a while, the sound of water coming from the bathroom caused Rick’s little heart to surge with emotion. Good Lord! I’ve been waiting for this moment forever!

Selena was indeed the most beautiful woman he had ever seen, and when he thought of her gentle and lovely appearance, he itched to take her.

What was more, someone had promised him that if he could get Selena in bed with him, he would be given a large sum of money. With the handsome compensation, his house mortgage would be completely paid off. Naturally, he had to go all out to do such a great task.

Listening to the sound of water inside, Rick came to the water pipes, and with an evil smile, he cut off the water supply. Thus, the sound of water inside immediately stopped.

“Hey, why is there no water?” Selena’s voice came from inside at once.

“There’s no water? I’m going to see if it’s time to recharge my meter. Please wait for a moment!”

Rick falsely went to take a look, then stood outside the bathroom and shouted, “The water supply is fine!”

“Then what’s the problem? Anyway, there’s no water at all.”

“Can you check to see if you touched the switch somewhere?”

Carefully, Selena double-checked and replied, “No, I’m sure there is no switch here. But there’s just no water. Oh no, my head is full of foam. What can we do?”

“Don’t worry, I’ll think of something right away. I’ll go in and take a look!” Rick then directly opened the door of the bathroom.

Suddenly, he felt someone kick him from behind. Next, he fell onto the toilet facing the door in the bathroom and was stunned. How did someone break in?

Before he could get up, someone grabbed his collar and punched him in the eye, causing him to scream in pain.

Inside, Selena was scared witless.

“Who the hell are you? How dare you break into my house? I’m gonna call the police!” Rick covered one of his eyes and looked at the tall, magnificent man in front of him, howling.

The man simply ignored Rick but once again grabbed him up and punched him a few times, causing the poor man’s eyes to glaze over. Then, he was thrown onto the living room floor while he tried to gasp for air.

“My good man, please spare my life! Spare my life!” He was really no match for his opponent and could only beg for mercy.

“Okay, okay, don’t fight! Be careful of beating him to death!” Selena rushed out. At this time, Rick looked at her and saw that she was still properly dressed! Everything about her head full of foam was all fake!

“How are you still feeling sorry for him?” The man looked at Selena grumpily.

“I’m not! It’s just that there are still important questions to ask him,” Selena retorted. Why should I feel sorry for Rick? This man’s heart is not in the right place. He’s having the same old jealousy issues again!

The man picked up Rick and punched him, causing Rick to pass out. Then, Selena sat aside, and her anger dissipated.

“Selena, you’ve got a lot of nerve! I’ve only been gone for a few days!”

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 679-Other than Pierre, who would have such strong jealousy?

Selena looked at Pierre aggrievedly. “62 days.” Taking a peek at the time, she added, “8 hours and 15 minutes.”

“What?” Pierre did not manage to react in time.

“Didn’t you ask me how many days you’ve been gone? 62 days, 8 hours, and 15 minutes!” Selena blurted out. She counted every day he was gone.

Pierre froze for a moment, not expecting that Selena remembered so clearly down to the minutes. At this moment, his fury dissipated too. The air was filled with an awkward atmosphere as Selena sat aside and sulked. She did not know how Pierre suddenly came back and even followed them to this place. When she saw him, she was also surprised and happy. But who knew that Pierre misunderstood her being together with that young coach?

Pierre sat next to Selena and wrapped his arm around her shoulder, but she hurriedly broke away from him. “Stay away!”

“It’s hard for me to come back, so of course I’ve got to be a little closer to you. I would prefer to be so close that the distance is negative.”

Selena’s face instantly reddened. “Get out of here, you rascal!”

“Are you smiling? What’s wrong with you today?” Pierre then took Selena into his arms.

“What do you mean? This brat in the gym has been giving me suggestive hints all the time. I wanted to see what he really wanted to do, so I deliberately pretended to fall into his trap. Have you ever seen anyone shower with clothes on?”

Selena pulled at her clothes; she didn’t even take them off as it was all just an act.

“You are too distrustful of me. Am I that kind of person?”

Selena punched Pierre in the chest and continued, “As a couple, you don’t even have the basic trust in me! Let’s just get a divorce!”

“Bullsh*t!” Pierre kissed Selena’s face.

For the past months, he could only kiss her in his dreams, and now it felt like a dream. When Rick woke up, he found the kissing couple and wanted to crawl to the door to call for help, but Pierre stepped on his back without even pausing the kiss for a second.

“Buddy, you should pay more attention to your kiss.” Rick coughed a few times.

Hearing that, Selena hurriedly pushed Pierre away.

“Shut up!” Pierre gave Rick a hard kick, who fainted once again.

“Again, again, again.” Pierre made to kiss Selena again, but she blushed and pushed him away.

“What do you want to do again?”

Pierre was a bit grumpy. “This brat is in the way!”

“Pierre, how did you suddenly appear?” Selena spoke with doubt. “When did you come back? Why didn’t you tell me either?”

His return really gave her a big surprise, as she had been waiting and hoping for this many days ago. However, there was no news from him at all, and she was even about to lose the enthusiasm to welcome him back. Nevertheless, he suddenly appeared in front of her today. Since the last time she received that phone call from him with the poor signal, they had not been in contact with each other.

“I came back the day before yesterday.”

“The day before yesterday?” Selena hurriedly interjected. “If you came back the day before yesterday, why didn’t you go home? Pierre, you’re too much! Don’t you know that the children and I miss you very much? You said that we should cherish time, but you came back and didn’t even go home!”

This man is simply too much.

“If you didn’t go home, where did you go?”

“Wait, just let me finish, okay?” Pierre felt aggrieved.

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 680-“If you can’t come up with any reason that can convince me, I won’t forgive you, ever!” Selena turned her head to the side angrily. He had returned earlier, but he didn't bother to come back home?! What the hell does this man have in mind? Does he no longer want me? And poor me! I've missed him so much all this time!

"I wanted to surprise you with my return, of course. That's my main objective." Pierre playfully hugged Selena, who twisted her body to get away from him.

"You're lying!" However, her heart surged with happiness.

"But then I found out that someone was following you."

"Following me?" Selena became attentive all of a sudden. "You mean, someone was following me?"

"That's right. The other party was very stealthy, and even the people I sent out to protect you didn't notice them. I thought I shouldn't alert them unnecessarily, so I had been stealthily following them, and this is what had happened today!"

Pierre kicked Rick again, who was lying on the floor. How dare this brat try to covet my woman! He's seeking death!

"Actually, a lot of strange things have happened recently. I went to the kindergarten the other day..." Selena stopped speaking halfway.

Pierre immediately sensed something was wrong. "Continue!"

So, Selena had no choice but to tell him everything. "Thankfully, your bodyguards came in time and nothing bad happened. Nevertheless, after their interrogation of those men, they couldn't get anything from them. Later, this fitness instructor kept trying to flirt with me, so I decided to play along to see if I could find something out. I keep thinking that someone is after me."

Frowning, Pierre thought that it was unexpected that so many things had happened during his absence.

"Luckily, you're back, and I'm safe." Selena nestled in Pierre's arms; she had long forgotten that she was upset with him just a moment ago.

"Safe? We don't even know who the other party is." Pierre secretly clenched his fists. He had to take advantage of his return to hurry up and clear these obstacles; otherwise, Selena might be in danger at any time in the future.

Later, Pierre called someone to take Rick away. This man was a pivotal character and seemed to be useful for interrogation.

Then, he took Selena back home. At this time, the house was quiet and peaceful, and Pierre looked around to find no sign of the children.

“They went to kindergarten?”

“Yes, they would have left long ago at this hour.” Selena looked at the time. “Do you want me to go and pick them up?”

“No!” Pierre said and carried Selena upstairs.

“Why should we pick them up?”

“Put me down!”

“No!”

Pierre then carried back the lady into the bedroom, and after a moment, sweet moans soon came out of the room.

After a long time, the couple finally separated from each other. Selena lay by Pierre’s side, staring at him with happiness. Life is good as he’s back now. My man is back.

Pierre glanced at Selena. “Look more. Otherwise, I might disappear later.”

“Bah! Who cares to look at you!” Even though Selena said so, she leaned into his arms. “How are you doing these days?” She knew there were many things that could not be asked, so she could only ask him if he was doing well.

“As good as can be.” Pierre stretched out his arms to encircle her.

“Are there any injuries?” Selena had just thought of this question. Immediately, she got up and began to check Pierre’s body, not letting go of any part of him. In fact, she was afraid to see even the slightest wound.

Pierre laughed at her. “Look at me. Didn’t I look alive and all well just now? Do I look like I’m injured?”

Selena punched him playfully on the back and retorted, “Behave!”

Then, Pierre put his forehead against hers before asking, “Did you miss me?”

“Yeah. I miss you very, very much...”
