

Read Novel Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO

Chapter 751

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 751-A sad look flashed across Selena's face because her mother was someone she was most unwilling to talk to others about. Therefore, she was bewildered when Jerry asked about her mother the moment he arrived. Nonetheless, out of respect for the old man, she politely replied, "My mother passed away many years ago. I'm sorry, Mr. Murray, but I wish not to talk about her anymore."

Jerry's eyes soon darkened as they were filled with tears. Upon thinking Linda was an imposter, he assumed she was perhaps lying and that there might still be a chance his daughter was still alive. Nonetheless, his last glimmer of hope was shattered when he heard Selena's reply. Then, when he looked down, his eyes fell upon the bracelet that Selena was wearing.

After everything that happened recently, Selena didn't feel comfortable and only found peace within herself when she wore the bracelet on her wrist because that made her feel as if her mother was by her side.

With his eyes on the bracelet, Jerry asked, "May I have a look at the bracelet?"

Selena raised her hand while peeking at Pierre, but the man somehow avoided her gaze. Then, she gently rubbed her bracelet and said, "Please forgive me, Mr. Murray. This bracelet is from my mother, and I'd prefer to keep it to myself." For some reason, Selena was simply wary in front of Jerry.

In response, the old man sighed and told his men to bring a box to them. Then, he opened it with his blistered hands and revealed another bracelet inside. In fact, the bracelet was initially with Linda, but since she left with Jocelyn in a hurry, she left it behind in her room.

It wasn't until Admiral Evan Moody paid a visit that he found out Linda was actually an imposter. When Jerry learned that Admiral Evan Moody's daughter-in-law was searching for the bracelet, he became even more convinced that his suspicion was true.

Just as I thought!

When Selena saw the bracelet in Jerry's hand, she was instantly stunned. "Mr. Murray, are you selling the bracelet?" Selena happily said, "To be honest, this pair of bracelets used to be my mother's favorite when she was alive, but my father subsequently sold them off. I have one with me, and you have no idea how long I've been searching for the other one, which is the one in your hands. So can you sell it to me? We can negotiate the price."

Looking at Selena's expression, Jerry broke into tears and left Selena wondering. She then turned her attention to Pierre, but her husband simply wouldn't meet her gaze.

In fact, Pierre was guilty of his rudeness toward Jerry back in the hospital when he found out that he was actually Selena's grandfather. While everyone was aware of the truth, Jocelyn was the only one who still hadn't figured out what was going on.

"Don't tell me you're here to buy my bracelet, Mr. Murray, and if that's the case, I'd have to apologize because I will not sell my mother's favorite bracelet. At the same time, I hope you could grant my wish and help me honor my mother."

"My granddaughter, I'm so sorry..." Jerry felt a lump in his throat.

Selena cut him short when she heard the word granddaughter. "Granddaughter?" Selena was puzzled. "Is there some sort of misunderstanding? My mother's last name was Davis, not Murray."

In the meantime, Jerry couldn't stop shedding his tears. Despite his intimidating reputation over the years, he couldn't believe he would cry in front of his granddaughter like a child.

At the same time, Selena turned her attention to Pierre and noticed the man seemed like he had something to say.

"Jerry had a wife whose name was Cecilia Davis, and they had a daughter whose name was Jessica Murray. Cecilia's nickname was Ceci," Pierre replied.

Upon hearing her husband, Selena looked at him in disbelief shortly before she shifted her gaze to Jerry. If that's true, then everything adds up. So, Mother was really...

“My granddaughter, I’m sorry. I owe you and your mother my life...”

Jerry expressed his remorse, guilty of nearly killing his own biological granddaughter by misplacing his faith in an imposter.

Read Novel Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 752

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 752-At that moment, Selena had no idea what to say, while Pierre only remained silent. After all, he couldn’t shake the thought of being rude to Jocelyn in the hospital. More importantly, he was ashamed of himself for publicly calling Jerry an old man. Therefore, he didn’t know how he could face Selena’s family members.

“Are you really my grandfather?”

Jerry shook his head and answered, “I don’t deserve to be your grandfather. I was too old and dumb to see through that wicked imposter and even nearly got you killed. Because of that, I’m ashamed of myself, and I don’t know how I would face your mother if she’s still...”

At that moment, Selena finally understood why Linda kept trying to kill her. No wonder she’s been trying to dispose of me. That was all because she knew my identity and wanted to silence me so that she could replace me.

Jerry then calmed himself down and told Selena the whole story.

In fact, Linda had been devising her ruse when she was in Yucaria back then. She bought the bracelet there but was discovered by Jason in the process. Nevertheless, Linda turned the situation to her advantage by going with the flow as she made full use of her knowledge regarding Selena, leading to the subsequent chaotic events.

“It’s alright, Grandpa. What’s done is done.” Selena took a piece of tissue paper and wiped off Jerry’s tears.

In that instant, Jerry looked at Selena as if he was looking at his daughter. “No wonder you look so much like Ceci. Ceci was a good girl but was somewhat headstrong. Despite being raised in a decent family, she always acted like a boy. I should have known you’re Ceci’s daughter.”

Selena pursed her lips and smiled. “My mom used to tell me that I didn’t have her looks, but I still think she was prettier and more gorgeous.” No wonder many have said that my mother looked so glamorous and graceful in the way she acted. I didn’t know she was from the Murray Family.

“Alright, I need to go now. Your cousin is just done with his operation, so I’m going to check on him.”

“Cousin...” Selena paused for a while before she finally realized Jerry was referring to Jason. “You mean Jason is just done with his operation?”

Pierre then faked a cough, leaving Jerry in confusion about what they were trying to imply to each other. Soon, the old man answered, “Yeah, he was caught in a traffic accident that injured his leg and is now just done with his operation. But don’t worry, his operation was a success. After all, we hired the most famous surgeon in town—Wyatt Spencer.”

“Oh...” Selena ambiguously responded with a slight hum while shooting a gaze at Pierre.

“I’m flying soon after visiting your cousin. As for your grandma... Alas, she is now suffering from a stroke, and I have to tell her this because... her days are numbered.”

“I’ll pay Grandma a visit when I have time.”

Jerry happily nodded his head in response. After he left, Selena returned to the living room just when Pierre desperately tried to explain himself before she could even say something. “I didn’t mean to keep this from you, but how was I supposed to know that Jason is your cousin? Before the truth was revealed, he was just a nobody to me. So it didn’t really occur to me to tell you whether he was dead or alive.”

Soon, Selena folded her arms and looked at Pierre. “Why are you so desperate to explain everything? I haven’t even started saying anything.”

Nevertheless, Pierre was seen with his mouth wide agape, seemingly guilty of what he just did.

Ugh! It’s pointless to blame him anyway. He is jealous, but he is my husband, so who can I blame? “I want to see Linda.”

“Why do you want to see her? Just let me handle everything. I don’t think it’s a wise choice for you to see her.” Pierre responded with a glacial look.

“Are you hiding something?”

“No!”

“Then let me see her!”

Feeling helpless, Pierre reluctantly let Selena see Linda in the basement. At that moment, Linda was screaming at the top of her lungs, “Let me out of here! Let me out of here!”

Read Novel Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 753

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 753-“I’m the daughter of the Murray Family. You dare to lay a finger on me?!” Linda growled so hard that her voice became hoarse until she saw Selena. Then, she swallowed her words, seemingly guilty of what she did as she didn’t dare to look Selena in the eye.

“What’s wrong? Why don’t you dare to look me in the eye? Are you guilty?” Selena coldly grunted.

Linda looked away and said, “You got me, and I have nothing but my own luck to blame!”

“You have your luck to blame? The way I see it, you have your luck to thank instead.”

Linda quickly looked back and glared at Selena.

“You misused my identity and stayed with the Murray Family undetected for so long. For that, you should consider yourself lucky. Otherwise, you would have probably starved to death long ago.”

“So you knew everything?” Linda glared at Selena in an intimidating manner.

“Yup, I knew everything!” Selena then showed the pair of bracelets around her wrists and said, “Now, they can finally be together.”

Linda then let out a sigh and said, "Fine, since you knew everything, I suppose there is nothing else I can say. Indeed, you were right that I misused your identity, but why are you so fortunate? You're already a company's president with a fortune worth billions. Furthermore, you have a powerful and influential man like Pierre as your husband, so the Murray Family is probably just a bonus to you, but to me, it's all the help I needed."

"That's absurd! What's yours will always be yours, and the same goes the other way round. You can never own something that doesn't belong to you! When Hades spared your life, you should have lived a good life with your skills and knowledge, yet you wouldn't realize your mistakes as you continued to go astray!"

Deep down, Selena couldn't help but feel disappointed with Linda. After all, she used to have high hopes for her, which was why she had been dedicating her time to training her. In fact, she was even thinking of putting Linda in charge of one of her subsidiary companies a few years down the road, only to be dismayed when she realized her former assistant was a pawn sent by Hades to spy on her back then.

"Linda, when I first saw you, I saw a lot of things in common between the two of us. Because of that, I chose you, although you were not the most outstanding candidate among all. In fact, I spent so much training you because I was planning to let you run Juniper Fragrances one day, but you disappointed me. First of all, you're whom I trusted the most, yet you repaid my faith with betrayal; secondly, you pinned the blame on me when Hades wanted to kill you; thirdly, you misused my identity and hurt my family; last but not least, you took advantage of Juniper and even tried to kill her, although that little girl treated you as a part of her family!"

Linda was rendered tongue-tied upon hearing Selena's words.

"We're done here, and I hope you'll be reborn into a happy family in your next life." Selena stood up and turned around.

"Mercy, President Yard! Please don't kill me! I have honestly learned from my mistake! Please don't kill me! Please!"

Selena stopped in her tracks, recalling how Linda used to address her as President Yard but called her Selena in private. There were only a handful of people I had treasured dearly in life, and Linda was one of them. I treated you like a sister, but you let me down in the end. It's too late to turn back now anyway. She stopped in her tracks and walked away.

"Selena, I'm sorry! I've learned from my mistake! Please don't kill! Have mercy!" Linda's voice slowly faded out as Selena left the basement and was greeted by the glaring sunlight. Finally, everything is over, but what's next? Well, I guess I'll do everything I can to get myself prepared no matter what happens.

...

In the meantime, Jason was out of action despite his operation's success. Thus, he could only rest in Astoria. Since it was Sunday, Selena decided to visit Jason along with her children, but Pierre didn't seem to agree with her plan.

When Selena was done changing her clothes, she looked at Pierre, who was still in his pajamas, and asked, "Are you coming with us or not?"

Read Novel Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 754

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 754-Pierre only responded with a haughty look and said, "Nope, I'm not." As he originally saw Jason as his love rival, he now felt awkward to learn that he was, in fact, his cousin-in-law. Therefore, that no longer put him in any position to interfere with whatever Selena wanted to do with Jason. Because of that, he didn't know how to face Jason. Ugh! It's going to be awkward if we meet.

"Alright, I'll take the kids along in that case while you stay home then." Selena turned around and walked away. "Wait!" Pierre quickly stood in front of Selena. "It wouldn't seem appropriate if the whole family shows up without me." "So?"

"So that means I'm going with you guys. After all, they're still my in-laws." Selena rolled her eyes at Pierre, knowing what he wasn't happy about. "That's right. They're your in-laws, my family, which means if you dare to bully me..."

Needless to say, Selena's words didn't sit well with Pierre. What's wrong with her? Is she trying to show her backbone now that she thinks the Murray Family has her back? Although Jocelyn never really took Roland and his family seriously due to the way he had treated her, the same could not be said for the Murray Family, which was why Pierre felt especially stressed out. Thus, he quickly changed into a decent suit and put on a necktie before he set out with his family.

On their way there, Selena explained to her children that she would be reunited with her long-lost family, whom she would introduce the kids to.

Upon arrival, Selena saw Jason lying in bed with a rather pale face, thinking he was still recovering after his operation. Meanwhile, Jason was already aware of Selena's origin as Selena went on and said, "Children, please allow me to introduce my cousin, Jason Murray. You all should call him Uncle Jason, and this is my aunt. So you all should address her as Grandaunt Jocelyn."

"Uncle James, Grandaunt Jocelyn!" The kids greeted the adults.

Jocelyn walked closer and held Selena's hands. "It's good to see you back with us. I didn't know you already had a family."

For some reason, Selena felt estranged about how it felt to interact with her long-lost family. But she quickly dismissed the thought.

"Listen. I'm sorry about what happened during the dance last time. Your grandma... must have been fooled by Linda's lies, which was why she treated you so harshly. So please don't take it to heart."

"No, Aunt Jocelyn. You're too kind. Please just be yourself."

At that moment, Pierre faked a cough as Selena sighed helplessly. This guy here is always seeking attention.

"Jason, Aunt Jocelyn, this is my husband, Pierre. I believe you have met each other before."

Pierre forced a brittle smile and nodded apologetically, thinking he must mend his relationship with the Murray Family since they were now his in-laws.

Although Jason couldn't take his eyes off Selena, Pierre somehow felt happy and gleeful about that. There may be more chances for him to get in touch with Selena, but I guess it's safe to say that he will never be with her now that they're cousins.

“It was fate that brought us back together. No wonder you looked especially amiable to me when I first saw you. ”

Upon hearing Jason’s words, Pierre secretly rolled his eyes, finding it funny. Nicely put, indeed! You’re good with words, Jason.

“That’s right. I never thought you would turn out to be my cousin. For some reason, it feels weird now that I have a cousin. Haha.” Selena and Jason intentionally kept their distance from each other.

Before they left, Pierre suddenly instructed his men to bring in many different gifts and presents. “This is a little something from us, and I hope you like them.”

When they were on their way home, Selena looked at Pierre, trying to keep a straight face.

“Are you laughing? Why are you staring at me like that?” Pierre couldn’t stand watching Selena’s smile as his patience finally wore thin.

Read Novel Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 755

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 755-In the end, Selena sniggered and burst into laughter as she gave up on keeping a straight face. “You’re out of your mind!” Pierre looked askance at her before he simply just looked away.

When the night set in, Selena exited the bathroom after her shower and saw Pierre absorbed in scrolling his phone. The moment he saw her, he quickly opened a new tab and put away his phone in a panicky manner, like he had done something wrong.

Soon, Selena buried herself in the blanket and switched off the lights on her headboard before she hugged Pierre. “Is there something you want to say to me?”

“What do you think I have to say to you?” Pierre looked askance at Selena, finding her strange as the lady kept smiling for no reason he could think of. What’s wrong with her?

“Are you sure you don’t know what you want to say to me?”

Pierre rolled his eyes and said, "Are you waiting for me to congratulate you for reuniting with your wealthy and powerful family? Because of that, you're not alone anymore as your family will have your back. Is that what you want me to say?"

Selena looked at Pierre without blinking, knowing her husband was feeling somewhat bitter. "Finally, I got to hear the words from the bottom of your heart. Hmph! Shouldn't you be happy for me that I found my own family, Pierre Fowler? I can't believe that's how you feel instead." Selena rolled her eyes and lay back down.

"How do you think I feel?" Pierre sounded as if Selena had just read his mind.

"You should know better than I do." Selena intentionally played hard to get.

Fed up with Selena's haughty attitude, Pierre lost interest in finding out how she thought. "Enough talking. Let's get down to business." He then tried to undress her shirt, but the lady held onto it tightly without letting it go.

"What's wrong? I can't touch you now that you've reunited with your family?" Pierre sounded frustrated.

"You're still the most important person." Selena gazed at Pierre in a loving manner. Although she was initially thinking of messing with Pierre for a little while more, she subsequently gave up the idea because she reckoned both of them had too little time to spare for each other.

"What?" Pierre couldn't believe his ears.

"I'm going to tell you what I think right now. Regardless of my family and how well they treat me, you're always the most important person in my life."

Upon hearing Selena's sincere words, Pierre couldn't help but feel touched, staring at the lady with his eyes widened, as he didn't know what else he could say.

"We have three children, and I know you've always thought that I neglected you because of the kids. Now that I've reunited with my family, you're probably thinking that I'm going to be distracted even more. But don't you worry because you're still the most important person in my life."

The most important person? Pierre was flattered when he heard Selena's reply.

"I've never told you about this before, but everyone has a different place in my heart. I am the first in my heart. I'm sorry to say that, Pierre, but after everything I've been through, I realize I need to take care of myself first before I can take care of anyone else, which is why I place myself in the first place. Otherwise, I can never make that happen. Then, you come as the second. After all, you're the person who spends the most time with me. As for our kids, they will eventually grow up, and when they do, I'll learn how to let go. After that, the kids take the third place in my heart, followed by Jude because ever since my parents passed away, she became my family."

Selena smiled calmly and said, "Therefore, you can rest assured knowing that no one can replace you in my heart."

After hearing Selena's words, Pierre couldn't help but feel guilty.

"Am I a little too selfish, Selena? Did you know? I was caught in a dilemma because I hope you'd have a family so that you can have more people who love you. Nevertheless, I'm also jealous at the same time because you're my only one, and I want to be your only one too."

Read Novel Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 756

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 756-Sometimes, men can be more sensitive than women, but unfortunately, they don't know how to express themselves most of the time. Pierre and Selena then hugged each other and went on with their intimate moment in the long night.

Soon, everyone carried on with their life like the good old days, while Jason took a few days of rest upon his operation. After Wyatt checked on him, he was finally permitted to leave the hospital and return to his country.

On the day Jason was discharged, Selena came and saw Wyatt, somehow finding him mature and a little worn out. Nonetheless, she went ahead and greeted him as usual. "How are you?"

"Pretty good. Just a little busy with my job. There are quite a lot of operations to handle lately," Wyatt replied with a smile.

Selena noticed the bright smile she used to see on Wyatt's face was long gone. At the sight of that, she couldn't help but feel bitter about it.

In the meantime, Wyatt stammered speechlessly, which Selena understood why he was reacting that way. "She is doing well and busy with filming lately, and... they're together." Initially hesitant to reveal that matter to Wyatt, she eventually decided to go ahead and tell him about it.

"Oh, that's good news. At least they're finally together. I bet she must be really happy." Wyatt's genuine smile was somewhat filled with a little bit of bitterness. After all, he was happy to see Jude living the life she wanted but was pained by a sting of regret that he was not the man who gave that to her.

"Dr. Spencer, I-I'm regrettably sorry about what happened. You're a good and kind man, but Jude... She fell for Satan a long time ago. She didn't mean to hurt you because she really wanted to live a normal life and forget about Satan, but somehow..."

Wyatt smiled and looked down. "It's okay, Miss Yard. You don't have to explain so much to me. I understand, and I don't blame her. Instead, I'm grateful that she entered my life and gave me something memorable to reminisce about."

Upon hearing Wyatt's response, Selena gladly nodded, thinking he would need time to get over the unpleasant ending of his relationship with Jude. Time will heal any pain, so I guess my job is done here.

Meanwhile, Jude never contacted Wyatt ever since she left him. In fact, she even hardened her heart and refrained herself from showing her concern even when she knew he was upset and heartbroken. After all, she didn't think there was anything she could do to make it up to him. Thus, she decided to just stay out of his life and leave him.

Soon, Jude's crew finally finished filming their new movie. Thus, they held a feast, during which everyone celebrated the completion of their filmmaking. In the meantime, Jude remained in the hotel while every other crew member was out there enjoying themselves. At that moment, she couldn't help but feel lonely as she looked outside the window and set her eyes on the streetlights. Deep down, she was beginning to miss Satan, so she took a picture and sent it to him. 'I miss you.'

Nonetheless, Jude was dismayed and sad when Satan didn't reply to her message. Although she knew the man would sometimes be too busy to check out his phone, she couldn't think of any other way to contact Satan, who was hundreds of miles away, besides calling and chatting on WhatsApp. If he won't even reply to my message, how are we going to continue this long-distance relationship? While Jude was long used to her lonely days without Satan, she still couldn't help but feel bitter in her lover's absence.

The director then walked closer and said, "You have some impressive acting skills, Jude, considering the fact that this is our first time working together. Good job!"

Jude smiled and answered, "That's so kind of you, director. This is all because of your good guidance."

"I'm currently looking for a female lead for my new movie. May I know whether you're interested in taking on the role?"

"Yes, of course."

"The filming will take place in Springvale, so I'd like to know more about your schedule..."

"No problem." Jude could barely contain her enjoyment.

"We'll keep in touch then."

Jude was over the moon about going to Springvale because that would mean she could be with Satan. When it was time to leave, she stepped out of the restaurant and saw a familiar car with a man who was smoking and leaning on it. Then, she was seen happily scampering toward the man like a little child.

Read Novel Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 757

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 757-Jude ran up to Satan and buried her head in his arms. "I want a kiss and a big hug! Then, carry me up now!"

Satan smiled in amusement and said, "Watch out for paparazzi." He then opened the car door and urged her to get inside. Although Jude was still not a famous public figure, Satan was afraid that any unwanted attention could jeopardize her career.

Meanwhile, the lady pouted and looked outside the window. “Why are you so afraid of the paparazzi? Am I embarrassing you?” At that moment, her pent-up frustrations were magnified as her rational mind succumbed to her emotions. Why am I so worked up? Well, I guess capriciousness just runs in all women’s genes.

“Is there something wrong with the filming?” Satan changed the subject. Deep down, he thought she was bothered by her work, since even his presence failed to lighten up her mood.

“Nothing wrong. Everything’s been smooth sailing!” Jude reacted haughtily, although she was still happy that he showed up. Well, that still means he knows how to surprise me.

When they got back to Jude’s house, Satan came over and carried Jude. He then planted a kiss on her lips, clamping his hands under her shoulders and lifting her up in the air like a kid. Wow, he did everything I just said, from kissing to carrying me and then lifting me. When the man put her down, she thumped his chest and said, “You’re a naughty boy!” Soon, she chuckled in mischief and added, “But that’s what makes me love you so much. Haha...”

Satan remained silent, as he was already used to Jude’s mouthy attitude. He then cupped her face and pressed his lips against hers. While they continued to kiss, their intimate interaction slowly escalated into foreplay.

Jude pushed the man away and gasped for breath. “Don’t tell me you came all the way here just to sleep with me.”

Satan took off his jacket and asked, “What else do you think I came here for?”

Upon hearing that, Jude suddenly laughed and grabbed Satan by his collar. “It seems that my hot body is quite an evil temptation to you!”

Soon, they took off their clothes one by one, kissing each other while making their way from the living room to the stairs and finally to their bedroom. After a passionate, intimate moment, Satan sat and leaned on the headboard as he was about to light up his cigarette. Nonetheless, he later resisted his temptation and gave up the idea.

Jude poked Satan's chest with her finger and said, "Old but strong. Not bad at all."

"What are you talking about?" I don't like the way you describe me, Jude.

"I was complimenting you because you're indeed old but strong!" Jude rested her head on Satan's chest.

At the same time, the man was rendered speechless because there was no way for him to argue about their huge age gap. While Jude was merely just 26 years old, he was already reaching his forties. How was I not bothered by our huge age gap back then?

"But I'm still in love with you." Jude looked up and kissed Satan's lips.

"Jude, would you come back to Springvale with me?"

Without her by his side, Satan could barely focus recently, feeling as if something was missing in his life. After all, he didn't like the feeling of missing Jude in her absence. Besides that, the bigger reason to keep Jude by his side was that he wanted to ensure her safety. After all, he had a feeling that something big was about to go down, which was why he insisted on taking Jude with him.

Jude rolled her eyes and replied, "Well, I don't think I can be away because of my work. I may need to film a new movie, and my target is to win the best actress award."

Satan pinched Jude's cheek and said, "Alright."

Although the man didn't tell her what was about to happen, Jude sensed something strange with his expression. Satan is a man who doesn't really know how to express himself, but if there isn't something big going down, he won't ask me to leave with him. Despite the thought of that, she didn't ask Satan what it was. The following few days, Satan surprisingly remained by Jude's side and kept her company.

...

Meanwhile, the family of five made a trip to Yucaria once again as Selena finally got to see her grandmother.

Read Novel Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO

Chapter 758

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 758-Lindsay was seen to be bedridden, unable to move or speak. Soon, Jerry dragged Selena to the bedside and said, “Honey, look who is here—our granddaughter! You both have met before, and her name is Selena Yard.”

At that moment, Lindsay started to murmur gibberish, seemingly agitated as Jerry made Selena sit in front of Lindsay.

Selena held Lindsay’s hand and said, “It’s me, Grandma. We’ve met before.” Deep down, she couldn’t believe the old lady who humiliated her earlier was, in fact, her own grandmother. How dramatic this is!

Lindsay’s face was covered in tears while she struggled to speak, yet no sound came out, even though her mouth was open with saliva drooling from her lips.

Jerry quickly explained, “Your grandma has been this way ever since she had a stroke. I’m sorry you have to see her like that, Selena.”

“It’s alright.” Selena took a piece of tissue paper and helped wipe the saliva dripping from Lindsay’s mouth.

In response, Lindsay only looked at Selena tearfully as she struggled to utter the few words out of her mouth. “I-I’m... sorry.” She used up all her energy and breath to speak her mind, shocking everyone around her.

Selena then quickly said, “What’s done is done, Grandma. I won’t blame you for that. Right now, all you need to do is recover.” She soon told her kids to come closer to Lindsay and said, “These are my kids, and they are triplets.”

With her eyes on the three children, Lindsay happily smiled while shedding tears of joy.

Approximately a week later, the family of five decided to leave Yucaria after Selena explained their situation to Jerry. Before they departed, she and Pierre also brought their children to meet up with Admiral Evan Moody for dinner. In fact, the credit was his for reuniting Selena and her family.

When Admiral Evan Moody visited the Murray Family the last time, he saw a photo of Jessica Murray, in which her bracelet caught his eye. He was about to ask and find out more, only to be interrupted by Lindsay when something happened to her. Therefore, he was forced to let go of the chance and try another time. Nonetheless, he was beginning to suspect something until he investigated the matter further and discovered the truth.

On their way back to Astoria, Selena appeared to be wearing her earphones on the plane while looking at the clouds outside the window. Deep down, she felt optimistic and hopeful, wishing she could live the rest of her life in peace and harmony.

All of a sudden, Selena felt one of her earphones unplugged from her ear as Pierre expressed his frustration toward the lady's indifference. "What're you listening to? I'm talking to you!"

"There is recently a new singer whose name is Douglas Cloude. His songs are truly music to ears."

Nonetheless, Pierre didn't seem to be interested. "Oh, a male singer, I see."

Selena snatched her earphones back. "Don't tell me you're jealous."

"Who says I'm jealous?" Pierre sounded unhappy.

Selena directly took off her earphone and said, "Hey, this is my favorite singer, and I like a lot of his songs that I found on the internet. Since you're so influential, do you think you can help me get his autograph?"

Pierre knitted his eyebrows and looked at Selena. "Come on, you're not a kid anymore. So stop acting like a childish fangirl."

Selena darted a haughty look at Pierre and said, "I'm not a kid, but I'm only 27 years old! 27 years old, Mr. Fowler! There are a lot of people out there who are still enjoying their life or just getting married at the age of 27, but me? I'm already a mother of three kids!"

Pierre was tongue-tied, thinking he owed it to Selena because of that.

In fact, Selena intentionally put her words that way to make Pierre speechless. "Come on, just get me his autograph. He is a mysterious singer, and it seems that he's never been on any commercial TV shows before, which is why I find him special.” She then passed her earphone to the man and said, “Check his song out. You’re going to fall in love with his voice, but it somehow sounds familiar to me.”

Pierre looked away and said, “No thanks because I’m not going to listen.”

Read Novel Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 759

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 759-“Fine, it’s your loss then.” Selena shot a glance at Pierre. “You don’t have the good taste to appreciate this good music anyway.” “You...” Pierre was rendered angrily speechless.

“Well, I’m a company’s president who has a fortune worth billions, so I don’t think I’ll have any trouble getting his autograph myself either. I was going to give you a chance to make your beautiful wife, which is me, happy, but it seems that you’re not keen on seizing the opportunity.”

In response, Pierre only stared at Selena speechlessly without knowing what he could say to refute his wife. It looks like this woman is starting to misbehave!

As they returned to Digton City, they resumed their peaceful life and went on with their days. Now that Pierre was back, Selena was much more relaxed at work but was rather ‘busy’ at night.

Meanwhile, Jude didn’t take on any new jobs, but since her company’s management reckoned there was someone else powerful backing her up behind her, they decided to close both eyes. Therefore, Jude had plenty of leisure time to spare until her next shooting.

At the same time, Selena was alone at home, with Pierre and her kids off to work and school. Thus, she went for a facial treatment with Jude to kill time. When Jude noticed the hickey on Selena’s neck, she covered her eyes and said, “Tsk! Tsk! Tsk! I’m so envious of you.”

Selena used to feel embarrassed about her hickeys, but now that she had gotten used to it, she directly seized Jude’s collar and revealed her neck. “Come on, you have one too, so there is nothing to feel envious of me.”

Jude smiled complacently. “My man, Satan, is good at making me happy.”

Selena darted a haughtily mischievous look at Jude. "As if my man, Pierre, isn't."

"Well, then let's have a competition."

Both ladies exchanged gazes with each other and laughed together. At that moment, they were both lying on the facial bed while the beauticians gave them a facial massage.

"By the way, Jude, do you know a singer whose name is Douglas Cloude? I love his songs, so can you get me his autograph?"

"Come on, you're not a kid anymore, so why are you acting like a little fangirl?"

Selena was rendered speechless upon hearing that, as she didn't expect Jude would think that she was too old to be a little fan like Pierre did. "I'm around your age, okay?" She then refuted her friend. "The only difference is that I have kids."

"Alright. Alright, young teenage girl, but I don't know who Douglas is. He doesn't belong to our company, but I've been listening to his songs lately too, and they're quite good."

"Exactly. Anyway, please keep an eye out for me. I've never been so crazy over a celebrity in a while. It makes me feel young again."

Soon, the beautician, who overheard their conversation, said, "Douglas Cloude is quite a popular singer recently. From what I know, when he first got into the industry, nobody really knew him, but he continued to write more songs and even form a band. Now, he's become a superstar."

"Are you his fan too?" Selena asked.

"Yeah, I am. I heard he is having a concert soon in Digton City."

Selena's passion was fired up while she was reminded of those crazy days as a student. Aw! Those good old days! I remember attending almost every concert of the singer whom I used to like the most, but now, I almost forgot how it feels like to be at a concert.

"Jude. Jude, let's go to the concert together. What do you think?"

"I doubt you two are going to make it. The tickets were all sold out for this concert as soon as they were released. That's just simply crazy," the beautician added.

"Are you planning not to get Pierre to tag along?"

"Why? He doesn't appreciate this kind of stuff anyway."

"Alright, I'll go with you!"

Just when both of them were excitedly discussing the concert, Selena's enthusiasm was suddenly dampened by the news that Pierre was leaving. At that moment, she felt as if she was splashed with a bucket of cold water because she couldn't help but feel strangely different about his departure this time.

Read Novel Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO

Chapter 760

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 760-Pierre hasn't been home for long, but now he has to leave again. The night before Pierre left home, Selena pulled herself together and made a table full of delicious dishes. In the meantime, the children seemed to have grown used to Pierre's absence for a month or two. While Juniper pouted and kept asking for hugs from Pierre, her brothers didn't seem to show their feelings.

After dinner, Pierre summoned his two sons into the study. Then, the two boys were told to stand in the middle of the room, thinking they had just done something wrong that angered their father without themselves knowing it. Are we now getting punished for something wrong we did? Dad seems like he is going to punish us.

Time flies. Pierre looked at his sons, feeling glad to see both of them growing so much taller than they were. "Come here, both of you."

Nonetheless, the two boys stood in place and looked at each other, wondering what their father was up to. "Now, you both won't listen to me, will you?" Pierre glared at the kids, feeling frustrated that his words seemingly fell on deaf ears. How dare they disobey me! I'm their father, so they'd better show me some respect.

Soon, Joaquin slowly walked closer to Pierre, with Jameson following right behind his brother.

Then, Pierre hugged the boys and carried them, sitting one of them on the desk and the other on his lap. Since the man rarely had any intimate touch with his sons like that, Jameson was especially uncomfortable, whereas Joaquin seemed unconcerned.

“What are you going to do, Dad?” Jameson timidly asked.

“What am I going to do? I’m going to punish you!” Pierre gently knuckled the boy’s head. “You’re the naughtiest child of all!”

Jameson quickly kept his mouth shut, as he didn’t dare to say a single word more. At the same time, he was stuck with Pierre, who wouldn’t let him move, only obediently sitting on his father’s lap.

“I’m leaving home tomorrow, which means both of you will be the men in the house. Therefore, the two of you will have to protect your mother and sister. Can you do that?”

“Yes.” The boys nodded their heads.

“When I’m away, both of you will have to take good care of your mom. Make sure not to break her heart. When she is sad, do your best to make her happy, okay?”

“Okay.”

After that, Pierre ran out of things to tell the boys. Although he wasn’t sure what he just told his sons was going to be useful, he still reckoned it was the right thing to speak his mind rather than keep his thoughts to himself.

Noticing his father’s silence, Jameson said, “Dad, do you have anything else to say? If you don’t, I’m going to play right now.”

“You can go now, but you will stay.” Pierre put Jameson to the ground as the boy turned around and gloated at Joaquin before he left. Awesome! I can finally leave now! Man, I don’t want to stay with Dad any longer. It’s just terrifying!

A moment later, Pierre reached for Joaquin's head and gently rubbed it. "Jojo, I have a favor I'd like to ask from you."

For the first time, Joaquin realized how important he was to his father when he heard Pierre mention the word 'favor'.

Meanwhile, Selena was alone in her room, battling against her depression and sadness about Pierre's departure. Deep down, she wondered how much longer she would have to suffer after so many times of separation between her and her husband.

When Pierre returned, Selena already calmed herself down and was packing his luggage for him.

"I don't know what the climate over there is like, so I packed a few different clothes and sweaters in your luggage. You may think it's troublesome to bring them along, but I believe they'll come in handy when you need them," Selena explained the items that she placed in the luggage as her tears slowly rolled down her cheeks.

The man then took Selena to the bed and sat her down, hugging her in his arms. "I'm so sorry, Selena."

"It's okay. I knew this would be inevitable the moment I married you." Selena couldn't help but feel upset despite her reassurance.

"I promise. I'll end this as soon as I can."

"What do you mean?" Selena looked up and met Pierre's gaze.

Read Novel Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 761

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 761-"I mean, I'm going to apply to the organization and step down as soon as I put an end to this matter."

Selena looked at Pierre in surprise. He is in his prime, so how could he just step down and abandon his position like that? "Pierre, I'm actually not..."

Knowing Pierre as a responsible man, Selena was aware that her husband initially had no intention of getting married until she entered his life and disrupted his plan. Thus, she didn't want him to give up on his responsibility and persistence.

"I know what you're trying to say, but everyone who works in this line of work usually stays until their early thirties, which is a safety concern from the organization. Therefore, this is a rule from our organization, and it has nothing to do with you. So please don't beat yourself up." Pierre's words somehow eased Selena's mind a little.

"When I step down, I'll have more time to spend with you and the kids. After all, I owe you all way more than it seems," Pierre added while gently rubbing Selena's back.

Selena looked up and met Pierre's gaze as the man's eyes somehow looked like they were filled with confusion and bewilderment. His sorrowful expression seems to be telling me something. He's never looked this down before. Although both of them parted with a heavy heart like they usually did when Pierre had to leave every time, Selena couldn't help but have a strange feeling about his departure this time.

"Promise me, Selena. No matter what happens, you must stay at home and... wait for my return." Pierre paused his speech mid-sentence and especially emphasized the last few words.

Selena nodded. "Alright, I will. The children and I will be waiting for you to return with a remarkable triumph."

Pierre reacted with a smile, but his eyes seemed to be filled with emotions that no one could fathom. "Remember what you just promised me. Wait for my return. I'll be back."

Selena wrapped her arms around Pierre's neck and said, "I trust you that you will return safely, so you'd better not let me down, or I'm going to make you regret it!"

"Sure, that's a deal!" Pierre then planted a kiss on Selena's lips.

The night felt as if it was shorter than it usually was. When Pierre left at midnight, Selena was still sleeping like a log. He then kissed her hair and gently rubbed her cheeks with his fingertips. I wish I didn't have to leave you, darling.

“Don’t forget what you promised me, Selena. Wait for my return,” Pierre murmured.

Selena soon closed her eyes and slept soundly, while Pierre steeled his heart against his pain and reluctantly left.

The next day when Selena woke up, she habitually reached out her hand to feel Pierre beside her, only to realize he was gone. As she stared at the empty space next to her, tears rolled down her cheeks from her eyes.

After Pierre left, Selena was down in the dumps. Therefore, when Jude paid her a visit, she pulled her leg and said, “Tsk. Tsk. Tsk, look at you, my friend. You really can’t live without your man, can you?”

Selena glared at Jude and refuted her. “You should try leaving Satan and ask yourself how you feel about it.”

“Well... I guess I would feel the same as you do right now...” Jude smiled brightly and asked, “You must have had an unforgettable night. Aren’t I right?”

Selena was annoyed by her friend as she quickly fixed her shirt and covered her chest. Man, what’s this lady thinking? “That’s none of your concern!” Soon, she sighed and said, “Jude, I have a bad feeling about this.”

Nonetheless, Jude didn’t reply to Selena’s words even though she did notice there were more bodyguards with her lately. Although it seemed to her like a foreboding that was going to happen anytime soon, she didn’t speak her mind. Instead, she said, “Alright. Alright, you’ve grown used to it anyway, so you might as well check this out!” Jude then flashed two tickets right in front of Selena.

“The tickets for the concert?!”

“Exactly! See? I’m your bestie, aren’t I? These tickets are hard to get, man. So you and I are going to make the tickets worth the money by enjoying ourselves to the fullest!”

Read Novel Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 762

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 762-On the day the concert was held, Selena and Jude rummaged through their wardrobe at home and specially dressed themselves up with jeans and baseball uniforms, as well as a cap.

Besides, Jude even prepared different merchandise for the concert, including some deer antler hairpins and some red ribbons. At that moment, both of them felt as if they were back to their schooling days.

Nonetheless, Jude had never really been to school before because she ended up with the Zephyr Organization in order to exact her revenge. It was only until she left the organization that she started learning new things, although she didn't learn them in school. As for Selena, she was planning to further her studies in the university, only to be thwarted by her unexpected pregnancy when she was 18 years old. Thus, both of them had never really been students in their life.

Although the two of them arrived at the stadium early, the place was already crowded with people. Meanwhile, Douglas had always been writing new songs but never showed himself to the public. With his impressive musical talents, he swiftly made his presence felt by many music lovers, and the mystery that revolved around him because he hadn't been seen before only added to his charm. Therefore, the stadium was full of people as many of them came for the concert.

Amidst the crowd, Jude and Selena were sandwiched by the cramped space, but fortunately, the tickets that Jude got were VIP tickets. Thus, they were given the privilege of accessing the stadium through the VIP passage. When they finally weaved through the crowd, they were panting and exhausted.

"Man, young people nowadays are simply just crazy. I guess I'm really getting old after all." Selena gasped for breath and took off her cap as she sat down. Then, she noticed that her clothes and bags were out of shape because they squeezed with the crowd.

"Come on, put it on! We're going to take a selfie." Jude held her phone and took a picture of herself and Selena in excitement. After all, ladies were always happy when it came to taking selfies.

Upon taking the picture, Jude uploaded the photo onto Twitter. When Selena subsequently browsed her news feed on Twitter, she saw her face covered by stickers in the picture.

“Hey Jude, that’s not very nice. Why are you covering my face with stickers? Look at this one. You’re covering my face with a poop sticker!” Selena agitatedly questioned Jude.

“I can’t risk exposing my rich bestie to the public, or your name is going to appear on the headline tomorrow. As for the poop sticker... it’s because you’re like a poop that no one intends to keep!”

“What?! You’re the poop here!” Both of them continued with their bicker.

Nonetheless, Selena understood that Jude didn’t want to bask in her glory and make herself famous like that. After all, she was the president’s wife of Fowler Corporation and Empire Group, as well as the director of JNS Corporation. With her status and power, her name could easily appear among the top searches on the internet. In fact, she was snapped by someone who saw her picking up her children from school earlier. Before the pictures could go viral online, she quickly instructed people to delete the post and undo the mess.

Although Selena couldn’t have helped Jude get famous with all the power and influence she had, her friend seemed to instantly reject her kind offer.

A few moments later, more and more people came into the stadium as the environment became much noisier than before. Although Selena might be sitting next to Jude, both of them had to communicate with each other by shouting.

“Do you think Douglas looks ugly? Is that why he doesn’t dare to show his face?” The fans began to murmur discussions and speculations. “Well, I guess I’ll just save my energy for the screaming later.”

Soon, the concert began with everyone looking forward to the beginning. As the curtains were drawn, Douglas’ first song was played. At the same time, he slowly came into view, standing on the platform that ascended to the surface from underneath the stage. While the lights were too dim for anyone to make out his face, the screen helped show Douglas’ looks to his audience. Thus, as soon as the platform rose to the surface, Douglas looked up and instantly spiced up the atmosphere with everyone screaming and losing their minds.

“Douglas! Douglas! Douglas!” The fans enthusiastically called out to their idol, filling the vibe with excitement and thrill.

Jude joined the crowd, shouting in exhilaration, “Look, it’s Douglas Cloude! Oh, my God! He is so good-looking! Prince charming! Prince charming! Prince charming!”

Nevertheless, Selena only kept her eyes on the person on the stage without saying a single word.

Read Novel Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 763

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 763-Selena continued to fix her gaze on the person onstage, feeling as if something had changed so much.

In the meantime, Jude agitatedly seized Selena’s hand and said, “Look, Selena! He is so handsome! Oh my gosh! He is my prince charming!” At the same time, she kept whistling at Douglas, only to be drowned out by the roaring crowd in the stadium.

With her eyes on Douglas, Selena only looked at the singer in a trance. Wait a second! That’s not Douglas! That’s Chris!

Ever since Helen’s evil scheme failed, Chris went missing. After that, Pierre exhausted all of his resources to search for his brother but subsequently gave it up as he reckoned it would be a wild goose chase if Chris was intentionally avoiding him. Thus, Pierre discontinued his search effort but still told his men to keep an eye out for Chris.

It’s been so long since the last time we saw each other, yet he is now a singer. At that moment, Selena understood why the voice she heard when she was listening to Douglas’ song sounded so familiar. It’s him...

As Selena couldn’t take her eyes off the singer on the stage, Jude quickly nudged her and said, “What’s wrong with you? Now that Pierre is away, your eyes look like they’re beginning to wonder.”

“The one up there is Chris!” Selena shouted at Jude.

“What?”

Due to the overwhelming crowd, neither of them could hear what they were saying, so Selena decided to wait until the concert was over. Alright, maybe I should wait until the concert ends.

While Chris radiated his charm onstage, Selena could tell that his eyes were filled with sadness from the past. Eventually, the concert came to an end as Douglas was starting to lose his voice. He then bowed down and thanked the audience. "Thank you very much, ladies and gentlemen. I'm grateful for every bit of support that you showed to my music career. This is my first concert, and I know that my crew and I still have a lot to learn. Thus, your understanding is greatly appreciated. Thank you once again!"

Since Douglas was a man of few words, the director had to step in and help spice up the atmosphere. Nonetheless, his talented music work was enough to make it up for his shortcomings.

After the event ended, both of the ladies exited via the VIP exit.

Meanwhile, Jude was still caught up in the hype in the concert. "That was awesome! I didn't know it was so amazing to be in a concert. It looks like we're going to have to attend more events like this to stay young!"

Jude went on and on for a while until she realized Selena was silently in a trance. "Hey, what's wrong with you? Don't tell me you fell in love with the handsome prince charming? You've been acting this way since we were inside. No way! You need to control yourself. Just because Pierre is gone doesn't mean your eyes can start wandering around."

Selena darted a disgusted look at Jude. Come on, you're the one who needs to control yourself here. You've been shouting, 'I love you', all along like a crazy woman.

"Jude, do you know who Douglas Cloude is?"

"Who else could Douglas Cloude is beside himself? Anyway, speaking of that, he does look familiar to me, but I somehow can't seem to place his face." Jude tried her best to jog her memory.

"Chris Fowler."

When Selena mentioned that name, Jude appeared to be taken aback. "Seriously? That means he is Pierre's..."

“Yes, you’re right. Ever since Helen’s plan was foiled, he went missing. After that, we searched for him everywhere, yet no one knew where he was until now. I can’t believe he is a singer now.”

Poor Chris! His youth was full of surprising turns of events.

In fact, Chris was a victim of a stressful upbringing due to his mother, Helen, but because he was her illegitimate son, she decided to send him abroad. While Helen didn’t want Chris’ presence to compromise her chances in securing the fortune, her poor son, who had gotten used to a comfortable life, was forced to live independently just because of her selfish decision.

The next day, Douglas’ concert appeared on every news headline as fans across the city were excited to see him reveal himself for the first time. At the same time, he was complimented for his good looks that helped steal the hearts of many fangirls, and he gained quite a number of followers. Thanks to that, Selena was able to find more details about Douglas.

Read Novel Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 764

Task NO 1 How To Pursue Miss CEO Chapter 764-According to what Selena found, Douglas, who was currently 28 years old, started learning music at a very young age. After graduating from music school, he worked as a bar singer at multiple pubs and was a rather popular performer. At the age of 18 years old, he started making his own music.

From what I can see in Douglas’ resume, it seems that it has nothing to do with Chris at all. At the very least, Selena knew Chris was sent abroad for studies at a very young age, and he studied Finance, which was Helen’s idea.

Soon, Selena found Douglas’ agency company and contacted his manager as someone who wanted to work with them. In fact, Phoebe Ginger was a well-known agent who had made countless singers in the industry famous.

In the meantime, Douglas was seen to be holding a guitar in his music studio, where he appeared to be composing a new song. On the other hand, Phoebe was impressed by his extraordinary talent in music, thinking he was a rare genius in the entertainment world. With his good looks, she reckoned he would shine and become a superstar one day.

It seems that I made the right choice to take him with me when I ran into him at the bar back then. At that time, Douglas hit rock bottom in his life, but no one was willing to help him until he met Phoebe, who was willing to take him in. After signing the contract, they helped him launch his first album and rebuild his purpose in life. Needless to say, Douglas was also grateful for the opportunity that Phoebe gave him.

At the same time, Phoebe was sitting afar while admiring his good looks. What a charming man! Wherever he goes, he'll be the idol whom everyone is crazy over. She then collected her thoughts and said, "Douglas, get changed right now. I need you to come with me to meet up with a client."

While Douglas didn't like to be involved in any commercial performance, Phoebe usually closed both eyes and let him have it his way. Nonetheless, celebrities who worked in the entertainment world hardly ever got to decide for their jobs.

"Phoebe, I told you I'm not interested in any commercials."

In fact, Douglas was initially reluctant to perform for the concert because he had a checkered past and was unwilling to face so many people. While he enjoyed composing songs and music in solitude, he didn't want to put Phoebe in a tight spot.

After all, album launches cost a lot of money but generated little revenue in return. Due to the unpromising market in the entertainment industry, many singers had to perform commercially, attend guest shows and even frequently take up advertisement shooting contracts.

Unwilling to put Phoebe in a difficult position, he agreed to perform at the concert. Other than that, the concert's tickets were sold out pretty quickly, so the management had nothing to say about it.

"Douglas, I know you're not interested in performing commercially, but you need to admit that you're a celebrity. After your successful concert, you're expected to be approached by people who want to work with you. In fact, the number of jobs I've turned down for you is even higher than the number of jobs that any other celebrity can get in a year. So if you insist on sticking to your ways, I'm afraid your future is going to be bleak." Deep down, Phoebe sincerely wanted more people to witness Douglas' talent.

“Moreover, we can’t afford to get on the wrong side of this client. In order to show that you’re unique, I specially picked this company for you. If your partnership proves sustainable, we’ll stick to working with them and only them. In that case, the management won’t have anything to complain about you. What do you think?”

Douglas helplessly said, “Okay, I’ll go along with you then. Remember. Them and only them.”

“Alright, no problem.”

Phoebe then picked a decent suit for Douglas before he changed into it. After that, they made their way to JNS Corporation, but when Douglas saw the building’s name, he appeared hesitant and asked, “Phoebe, you...”

“Surprised, right? I was surprised when I got a call from JNS Corporation. I heard that this company’s director, Selena Yard, even attended your concert. It looks like she is your fan.”

Upon hearing that, Douglas had his face darkened even though he unwillingly entered the building with Phoebe. Ushered by the employees, they finally arrived in Selena’s office.