Chapter 321

“Okay, what word?” That was a huge relief. “How about Onyx?” Colt asked. “You can use that in a sentence, easy to figure out.” “When would I need to use it in a sentence?” I asked confused as I slipped off Colt’s dick. “Are you showering?” Colt ignored my question and asked his own. “We don’t have time. I am going to clean up and then get dressed.” “Okay.” Colt slapped my ass as I walked to the bathroom. After cleaning up, redoing some curls, I fixed my makeup before walking my naked ass to the closet. The black lacy bra was the only undergarments I could wear. As I slipped on the pencil skirt, my desire spiked up again. Never once have I not worn underwear. With as swollen as my belly looked, this would be the last time I wore this skirt. Colt came into the closet as I was tying my strappy heels. “I don’t know about this skirt.” I said standing up. “I know I’m pregnant but this makes me just look fat.” “You look beautiful and sexy.” Colt said and slipped his hand around me. In his hand was a black velvet box. He was holding it up. so it was impossible for me to miss it.

“What’s this?” “This was my mother’s.” Colt said as I opened the box. “It’s worth a fortune but Ice was reading the description on each piece and this has been passed down to the first born child for generations. So, she gave it to me. I want you to have it. You are the most selfless person I know. You have nothing but love in your heart and from what I know of you, just trust me. It was a simple silver chain with a single black onyx stone in the middle. Colt took it out and gently put it around my neck. It sat perfectly between my collarbones at the base of my neck. The black silk blouse was perfect with it as the V neck allowed it to be shown off. “This is beautiful.” I said in awe. “That was sweet of Kris to give that to you.” Some people never understood their bond but since I grew up with it, I never questioned them, nor has it ever bothered me. “She is still going through it all but she left it was only right that I had it. We can keep passing it in to this child when we die if not before.” “We probably need to start making a Will like your dad did. With description of our wishes.” I said as I turned around. “I love it. Thank you for trusting me with it.” “Only person I’d ever trust.” Colt said and kissed me. “Is that why you chose Onyx for our safe word?” I asked as Colt let me go and walked towards the door. He was in his usual all black outfit but did out in a red tie to match me. “It was.” “Very sly, Alpha Colt.” “We never did address if you wanted to be called Alpha or Luna.” Colt said as we walked down to the car. “I guess I really don’t think of myself as an Alpha. We joined packs. and we just kept taking on the same roles. It’s not like we don’t run things as a team.” “You’re okay being called Luna?” “I have just as much authority as you do even being a Luna. Unless it comes to the pack, I’ll call me Alpha Penny. Mainly because I enjoyed my role in the pack and didn’t want some of the decision making choices Colt has to.” “Alpha!” A warrior’s voice boomed over everyone’s as the doors flew open. We had just reached the bottom step when two warriors brought in someone covered in a blanket. “What’s this?” Colt instantly pulled me behind me as the room went

"A car stopped a few hundred yards from the gate, tossed her out and sped off. She hasn't uttered a single word other than your name." They put her down and stepped back. "What's going on?" Jacob and Sherry were walking down the stairs as Colt walked up to the girl. Her hair was tangled with leaves and dirt in it. "A-alpha Colt?" She raised her head slightly. One eye was swollen shut, she had track marks on her arm and dirt covered every inch of her face. "Yes?" Colt knelt down but kept his distance. "Eleanor?" Sherry walked around and stood behind Colt.

"Sher?" "Holy f uck! Eleanor!" Sherry ran forward and wrapped her arms around the girl. "I need to tell you something in private, Alpha Colt." Eleanor pushed Sherry away so she could see Colt. "Sherry, help her to my office." Colt said and stood up. Sherry helped her and why the look on Colt's face, he wasn't happy. Slowly, they made their way to our office and took a seat on the couch. "Eleanor? What happened to you?" I asked as the door shut behind Jacob. "Zac got me out. He told me to tell you that he wants to meet at Sunday at 2am at the only hospital southeast of town. Colt said and walked to me. Quickly opened the door, we walked out of the office and to the car. "Well, he isn't dead." I said awkwardly as Colt peeled out of the driveway. He gave me a sideways glance before turning back to the rode. "Were you concerned?" Colt had white knuckles on the steering wheel. "Yes...no. I guess I was more worried he was captured." "He spend 19 years under the radar. He is too smart to get caught." Colt tried to relax as he shifted and put his hand on my thigh. "Everything will be okay." I said as I leaned over. Getting up on my knees,y tongue grazed his ear...

"Are you trying to make us later?" Colt asked as he squeezed my as s. "Just trying to make you in a good mood." "I'm in some kind of mood. I might have to keep you pregnant if this is what I get." Ignoring that comment, I whispered in his ear as we turned the corner. There was a large crowd gathered in front already. "I'm not wearing panties." Sitting back in my seat, Colt fought with himself to keep his eyes from turning black as he pulled up. We were already so late. My door opened as a warrior held out his hand for me. "Luna." He nodded.

Feeling rather flirty and proud of myself, I held my head high with confidence as I walked up to the rest of the gang. "Cutting it close, aren't we?" Kristen looked disapproving at he ch before looking at Colt. "Not the time, Kristen." Apparently, I was unsuccessful in getting in a good mood. Kristen raised an eyebrow at her. Her face was said all it needed to about how she felt about that answer. Alec put a hand on her back, keeping her from speaking again. "Colt! Are you ready to proceed? I can only stall for so long." The new reporter came over. She was fluffing her hair and smiling too big for my liking. "Yes, we are ready to get started." I said as I walked in front of him. She looked me up and down before smirking. "Good. Get in line. Colt 13 "She will stand beside me." Colt said and pulled me beside him. Kristen was thoroughly enjoying the show and Alec walked up behind her. Jasper and Emmy stood slightly behind Kristen and Jacob and Sherry stood slightly behind us. "Little crowded but hey, if you want it to look weird..." She turned her back around and the camera man held up his fingers..

3.2.1. Go! "Good evening. We are here for the grand re-opening of Fang Licks. We have owners, Colt Jeffrey and Kristen Andrews. After closing due to unknown causes, they have decided to reopen!" She turned and looked at Colt. "Can you tell us why you decided to close the club? It was rumored there was structural issues." "Actually, we had a death in the family and even though the new reports false information, we are where to open things back up. Family is everything to us. We appreciate all the support we have received and will continue to only provide high quality services." didn't wait for the reporter to say another word before he grabbed th scissors and cut the red ribbon. A round of applause echoed down the street. "I think we are done here. Thanks for coming." Kristen said firmly and a little b itchy. The reporter opened her mouth to say something but Kristen got their first. "Goodbye." Turning, Kristen walked into the club. Jasper and Jacob were holding the doors at this point for us to slip in. As soon as we were in, they allowed the staff to come in and then firmly closed the doors again. "Thank you all for coming. As you can see, we have renovated it. Please get accustom to the changes. Doors open to the public in a few hours." Colt said with a big fake smile on his face. All this The staff all went off into their separate directions and we headed to the office area. I hung back a little and checked all the decor. The dance floor was a polished wood but I had a scuffed wood flooring. placed everywhere else. Part of me wanted to put carpet down but with all the spilled drinks, I wanted to avoid any smells, stains or growth of bacteria. Plus, men peed everywhere. This way, it was easier for them to get mopped everything night. The employee room. was looking amazing with their own fridge and tables. Lockers with locks and there was a list of cleaning duties out for people to do. Part of me left like this wasn't my place. Colt and Kristen always handled all this, mainly Colt but seeing as he has been too occupied, I took it over. Life still goes on, even if you are fighting to save your sister. I think that is why Kristen and I always made such a great team. She worried about the big pictures and I remembered all the small details that needed to not get forgotten.

The bar was sparkling clean. The bartenders were washing glasses and cutting the fruit for different drinks. Filling the salt and syrups so they were prepared for it all. I even ran into a few employees labeling everything with dates. No one can ever tell me that we don't have the best pack members around. The D.J. was turning on all the lights and testing out the equipment to make sure it was working correctly. The bathrooms were getting one last look over and the tables were getting situated. Everything was looking perfect, so when I made my way into the office, I was surprised to see it a mess. "What happened here?" Papers were scattered everywhere, chair was flipped over and Colt looked ready to kill someone. "My dear brother needs to calm down." Kristen had her hands on her hips, standing in front of Colt. Colt was looking down at her with annoyance. Alec and everyone else was just sitting on the couch watching the show between the twins. "How are you not more upset?" Colt said with a forced calmness. "I am not calm but I am not throwing shit around, destroying our office!" Kristen held out her hands as she gestured to the room. Colt looked up at Alec. Alec instantly stood up and walked out of the office and Colt followed, without saying a single word. "Where are they going?" I asked, confused.

"To fight." Kristen sighed as she picked up the chair. "Let me." Jacob jumped up and picked up the chair for Kristen so she wasn't doing any heavy lifting. 1/3 "To fight?" My anxiety flared as "Don't worry." Kristen waved me off. "They did this when things were getting hairy with me. Alec needed to let some tension out and him. and Colt went at it for awhile. They will avoid the face and will not cause any real harm. This will allow Colt to get some of his aggression out." She started picking up the papers and stacking them. on the desk. "He did this before?" "Yeah, we were both sleeping so I assume you didn't realize it either." Kristen seemed really unbothered by this. "I could have fought him." Jacob said, slightly annoyed. "No, you couldn't have." Kristen gave him a look. "He needed someone to match him." Kristen left out a few things I think she wanted to put in there but Jacob must have understood what she meant. "Is there any change I can head home now?" Sherry looked at Jacob "Not yet. Wait for them to come back. I know you want to get back to her." I said, unsure of what to say. Sherry didn't argue but nodded and just crossed her arms over her chest. Jacob sat down beside her and pulled her into a hug. Kristen and I started going through the paperwork and signing. different forms. Some of it was for the club, others were for our events like prom, luna ceremonies and even the Halloween bash. Kristen had designed some amazing invitations that she showed me. "Do you still have all the addresses?" "I do. They are at home on my computer. Do you want to ship these to my house or do you want me to email you the list? It is in a printing format so all you have to do is put in the labels and hit print." "I'll do it as you got your hands full with Colt," Kristen widened her eyes as if to say she was lucky it wasn't her anymore. "Gee, thanks." I said as the office door opened and the guys walked in. They each had a light layer of sweat on them but I didn't see a drop of blood. Alec stood by the door and just looked at Kristen. Colt came up to us. Giving me a kiss on the cheek, he tried to put his hands on my shoulders that I pushed off. "How are things going here?" He asked. I felt the hurt when I pushed him away but in this moment, I didn't care. 379

"We finished everything as you threw your temper tantrum. If you excuse me, I am going to check the shipping order and then we are good to open the doors. You need to make sure the security is where they need to be and ready." Standing up, I didn't even look at him as I slipped around the desk and walked towards Alec. He had a rather amused look to his face but stepped aside and allowed me to leave. No one said a word as I walked out. I wasn't sure why I was so annoyed at him at this moment but I was. There hasn't actually been a threat on my life. Just some stupid girl saying some stupid words. Colt is acting like my life has been threatened like Kristen's was. Just because I am pregnant, he is going to lose his shit. Going to the back room, there was boxes on top of boxes. Three different people were unboxing everything and putting it away. "Did someone check the shipping when it came in?" I asked as I looked around.

"Yes, Luna. I did. Here is my list of what we got. It matched the shipping label which is right here." A girl around my age that I didn't recognize handed me two separate pieces of paper. "Perfect. Thank you." I said as I took them from her. She was skinnier with long black hair. It looked damaged but she was wearing new clothes and had her hair pulled back. She just smiled and got back to work. She was either from Alec's pack or was one of our new members. "Everything good in here?" Jasper came into the doorway. After all this time, I think I have maybe spoken to Jasper twice. Defiantly not a full conversation either. 1/2 "Yeah, we are good. Is the security ready to go?" I asked as I walked past him and out into the main area. I saw Alec talking to someone in all black and Sherry standing beside the door. Something about her was just bothering me. "Yeah, they are all set." Jasper looked at me and looked over at Sherry. "Is something wrong?" "I don't know." Jasper grabbed my elbow and led me to the corner of the room. "What is it?" "It's Sherry. Ever since this girl showed up today, something has been bugging me about Sherry and how she is acting." Jasper folded his arms over his chest and leaned against the wall. If anyone looked over at us, it would appear we are having a normal conversation. "Talk it out. Sometimes it helps to just voice it." "I don't know really. Sherry said Vin was mated to Tanya, her sister Their brother was Gunther. I could be remembering wrong and I wasn't in all the conversations but didn't Darin introduce his Gamma as Cash? I swear Colt told me that Darin came into Kristen's shop and introduced Steven as his beta and Cash as his gamma. Sherry is so urgently trying to get back to Eleanor that it just feels weird. I assumed that I misheard or I don't know. Everyone was so focused on Darin and Kristen that they might not have known who the beta and gamma were. It might not even matter." I rambled as I watched Sherry look at her watch and look around the building. Jasper didn't say anything but stared at me. "Have you told Colt this?" He said finally. "What? You mean between his level head and carefree attitude? I don't know I even am right or if that is what is bothering me." 2/2

"Come on, we need to tell them. Even if he is a little emotional right now." Jasper said as he took my elbow and forced me to move. "I thought I was suppose to be the emotional one? He is just being dramatic." I grumbled. This wasn't like me but I couldn't help but be annoyed. Jasper snorted but didn't comment. Alec watched us approach him and followed us as we went up to the office. "Jacob, why don't you stay." Jasper said as we walked in. Jacob was walking out as we passed. "Jasper?" Alec asked as he closed the door. I was the only other female in this room. Where Kristen went, I have no idea. Colt was sitting behind his desk. He was leaning back with his hand keeping his chin propped up. Only half his mouth was visible but he was clearly interested and upset. "Penny has something she wishes to share." Jasper moved me in front of Colt and stepped back. "I do?" I said as I turned to glare at him. "You do." Jasper sat on the edge of the couch.

"Why do I need to stay?" Jacob asked. "Just stay there by Alec." Jasper nodded towards Alec. Alec must have gotten the message because he dropped his hands and was much more alert. "Penny, what's going on?" Colt asked. I felt like I was in the damn principles office, snitching on some friends. The phrase, snitches get stitches echoed in my head. "I don't know it is really anything." I said as I moved to the side so my guys. "Just say it." Jasper pushed. "Fine. This will be the last time I tell you s hit." I said as I glared at him. He just raised the corner of his mouth in amusement. "Penny, what is it?" Jacob looked around, confused. "So, I could be remembering very wrong. I wasn't part of the conversations and I only came in later after Colt and I mated. Even then, he didn't include me in decisions or discussions." I looked at Colt. "I only know what you told me in private." "But...?" Colt said threw his fingers. "I swear you told me when Darin came into Kristen's tattoo shop, he introduced Steven as his Beta and Cash as his Ga mma. Sherry told us that her brother, Gunther was ga mma. I don't know if Cash died and Gunther got promoted or if they lied and Cash was never the ga mma. I just know that it is bothering me how insistent Sherry is to get to Eleanor. She has never been one to provide emotional support or accept any form of it. Even now, she didn't even want to ask me for a job." I looked at Jacob with pleading eyes. No one moved when I stopped speaking. Jacob looked pis sed and confused. He opened his mouth a few times and closed it again, unsure of what to say. "So, you are saying Sherry is hiding something?" Jacob finally said. and took a step towards me. Alec instantly put a hand over Jacob's chest to stop him from advancing. Jasper stood up and walked across the room to Jacob's other side. "Seriously? You you think I am going to attack my own Luna?" He was getting pis sed off. "I'm sorry, Jacob. Like I said, it could be nothing at all!" My heart dropped to the pit of my stomach. "Jacob, calm down. You were in the tattoo shop when Darin introduced everyone. Penny isn't wrong there." Colt didn't move but kept speaking through his fingers. "Colt, do you honestly think Sherry is capable of this?" Jacob pleaded at Colt. Alec had to keep his hand firmly on his chest.. "I think there is a logical explanation of what is going on. I'm not saying Penny is wrong or right. I am saying that what she told us does need to get addressed. Why don't you take Sherry home and have a relaxing evening together. I'm sorry but I am commanding you to not say a single word to her about this. Tomorrow, we will bring her into the office and discuss this rationally. She might have a very real answer for this. Sherry cannot see Eleanor either until we have an answer."

Jacob opened his mouth to speak but shut it quickly. Instead, he glared at him before turning and leaving, slamming the door behind him. "I got it." Jasper said and left after Jacob. "This might be nothing at all." I said to no one in particular as I looked up at the ceiling. There were little sparkles painted on to make it look more like a night sky. "I don't think Sherry has it in her to be a spy." Alec said as he sat down on the couch. "I don't either but I have to admit, I have been feeling off about everything since Tanya came into the picture. Sherry never did tell us her brother couldn't have been the galpha until now. She just kept saying she didn't know anything." Colt said as he kept looking at the door. "She might really not know anything." Alec muttered. "Fuck, for all we know, Vin and Gunther could just be little shits that don't even hold a rank. They could have lied and told Tanya and Sherry he was galpha. Sherry told us her dad was dead and her mother was a warrior but then women were nothing but maids. If she mother moved from one pack to another to be with her mate, she could have been used too."

"There is much more to Sherry's story that we are not sure of." Colt concluded. "I'm going to go check on everything. The doors open in five minutes." Alec said as he stood up and walked out of the office. "Why didn't you tell me about this?" Colt said as soon as the door was shut. "Because you have been so emotionally available to me? Because I don't bring me to meetings, you don't tell me half the shit that is going on and you want me to be the good little mate and handle things while you are away. I did it because Kristen's life was in danger and I know how important she is to you. Hell, she is like a sister to me, she saved me but this time it isn't about her. It's about me." I didn't make a move to get closer to him. "Penny... I..." Colt took a deep breath. "Save it. We have to put on a happy face and greet our guest. Let's go." Setting down the shipping information, I walked out of the office, unsure if Colt was following me or not. The DJ had the music bumping loudly as I walked towards the front door. Jacob was gone and the rest of the gang was standing around. "Where is Colt?" Kristen asked. I opened my mouth to respond but his voice came up behind me. Right here. Open the doors." He said and put his arm around my waist, firmly. Alec watched me clench my jaw but didn't comment. Instead, he moved Kristen out of the way as Jasper opened the doors. Emmy was sitting on a stool against the wall, out of the way of any potential stampede. "Welcome!" Kristen said with a huge smile as people piled in. It wasn't so fast as the guards at the door were checking IDs and looking for any potential weapons but it still filled up fast. Before I knew it, the bar was loaded with people and it was crowded. "Let's go sit down at our table." Jasper yelled. Emmy put her hands on her back, supporting her belly. Following them, we sat down at a U-shaped booth. "This is where we were when we found out we were mates." Emmy said as she looked at Jasper. "Same booth but you look a little different." Jasper put his hand on her stomach as we all watched them. Kristen and I just looked bloated. "Not too much longer and you will be giving birth!" Kristen shrieked. "I'm ready to not be pregnant anymore." Emmy agreed. "I bet, you don't look like your comfortable." I gave her an empathetic look.

"I'm not. My back is killing me." "Why don't we get someone to drive you home?" Kristen looked at her friend concerned. "As much as I want to be here, I might take you up on that." Emmy rubbed her belly and looked at Jasper. "I'll take you home and I'll be right back." Jasper looked at Alec. Alec nodded in approval. "Good night! Congratulation on the opening!" Emmy inched her way out before she stood up. Jasper basically helped her stand before they made their way out. "Colt, are you going to pull the stick out of your ass?" Kristen rounded on him. "Come on, Penny. I need to show you something." Colt rolled his eye at his sister. "We will be right back." He pulled me out of the booth and down the stairs. I wasn't sure exactly where he was going but he opened a door in the back of the club. It was a storage room that was used for overflow and there wasn't a lock on the door.

"Wha-" I about to asked before Colt grabbed my neck and kissed me hard. "I know I've been a jerk." He said as he kissed down my neck. My brain was getting fuzzy as I looked at the door. "Someone might walk in..." I said as my breathing got heavy. "You said be spontaneous..." Colt's hand moved down to cup my ass. "You want to have sex? Here?" This wasn't exactly what I meant but I still mad at you." "I know but I need this right now. I need to feel you." Colt groaned. "But there is no bed..." I said as his hand started to raise my skirt. I had no panties on so my juices dripped to my thigh. "So?" Colt backed us up until my back was against the wall. I could hear voices on the other side of the wall as laughter got closer and moved away.

"I... um..." Colt pulled my shirt out of my skirt, pulling it over my head, he unclipped my bra. "Damn you are so fucking sexy." He muttered as he got on his knee. His tongue licked my folds as I looked at the door. Part of me was panicking, the other part of needing him to fuck me. As if my leg moved on its own, it rested on Colt's shoulder, giving him access to me. Licking my juices off my leg, he sucked hard as two fingers entered me. "Oh fuck." I moaned and my fingers threaded through his hair. His other hand came up and squeezed my tits as he kept working my clit. The pressure was building up as. "Come for me, princess." Colt groaned as my pressure toppled over. Princess was a rare nickname he gave me and only used it in times that he wanted to show me his love. My body shook as I rode his face. As hard as I tried to not moan loudly, I couldn't help it. My body was craving his touch. Grabbing his face, I pulled him up, kissing him hard. Colt undid his own pants as he freed himself. Grabbing my leg, he hiked it up before putting his dick at my entrance. "Look at me." He growled. As soon as my eyes opened and met his, his dick slipped right into me. Quickly but softly he moved in and out and she best luffy but

After one more look at me, he filled my request. My face was flushed but the overwhelming amount of pleasure I felt was unlike anything else. I loved the slow, romantic love making. I loved Colt touching every inch of me but this was primal. This was deeper need that I never realized I wanted. After one more look at me, he filled my request. My face was flushed but the overwhelming amount of pleasure I felt was unlike anything else. I loved the slow, romantic love making. I loved Colt touching every inch of me but this was primal. This was deeper need that I never realized I wanted. I was just about to climax again when the door handle shook. Colt reached out and held it firmly but never stopped pumping in me. Slapping my hand over my mouth, I looked at Colt with wide eyes. He was watching my tits bounce with each thrust into me. The pressure won between my internal struggle it hit hard. My fangs descended as I bit down into my mark on Colt's shoulders. Maybe a little harder than needed. My body shook as I pulled my teeth out. Colt didn't allow me to lick it clean as he grabbed my hair and pulled my head back, exposing my neck. He bit down without hesitation as his own climax hit. The door was still shaking as someone was pounding on it. Colt let out a deep growl and the pounding stopped. However, he didn't pull out of me but kept me pressed against the wall. "I'm sorry, princess. I'll do better." Colt whispered into my ear.

"Good." Was all I could say. My entire face was tingling. Finally, Colt set me down. He looking around and found some paper towels for us to use to clean up with. "You should go without panties more often." Colt smirked as he "What if it is windy and my dress flies up?" I challenged as I put my shirt back on. Pulling my shirt down, I wasn't able to see what my hair looked like. "Hmm..." Colt finished getting dressed and he walked up to me. Running his fingers through my hair, he must have been satisfied with how it looked before he took my head in his hands. "I just can't fathom anything happening to you." He was feeling lost and loving at the same time. Showing me how hurt he is at the thought of losing me. "Let's go dance." I said as I kissed him gently. Thankfully, no one was standing outside the door as we left. Colt had gathered the paper towels and tossed them into a trash can on our way out. Most everyone here was wolves and would be able to smell what we just did. "I hope that put you in better mood." Kristen said as we joined them on the dance floor. I wasn't sure it was possible for my face to get more red but I think it happened. "By the looks of your hair, you don't have room to talk." Colt tossed back as his hands wrapped around me. He held me close as he kissed my neck. "At least we aren't emotional like Emmy." Kristen grumbled. Alec and Colt both agreed. "S hit." Alec shook his head as he grabbed her hands. Kristen was rubbing her ass against him and he was watching it. "Yeah, I'm thankful you just want this dick more." Colt joked as he turned me around. Pulling my arms over his neck, he held me close to him as we grinded. His forehead was against mine as we got lost in each other.

I wasn't sure how long we danced but the music changed and the D.J came over the speaker. "Last song of the night! You don't have to go home but you cannot stay here!" He started playing Closing time, by Semisonic and the lights came back on. Colt stepped away but there was still a fire in his eyes that told me I wasn't going to be getting much sleep tonight. "I need to shut down the computer in the office." I heard Kristen tell Alec as Colt pulled me towards him and kissed me. He wasn't ready to stop dancing but the law was the law. "Come on. There are some final things we need to do too." I whispered to him. Grabbing his hand, we followed Kristen and Alec up to the office. "What do we need to finish?" Colt asked as he shut the door.

"I need your signature on these forms." Kristen put a stack of papers on corner of the desk. "Seriously? What is all this?" Colt sat down and flipped through it. "Shipping things. I got it set up on auto shipping so if we get caught up, nothing will be missed. The payroll has been set up so we can access it remotely just in case and I also got the security loaded on your phone.” I said, trying to remember it all. “Kristen has signed it and now I need your signature.” “When did you do all this?” Colt looked impressed. “Last week or so. You have been so focused on everything else but pack stuff that I just didn’t without asking.” I was a little annoyed he was questioning it. 1/3 “Have you guys actually had time to get to know each other or spend any quality time together?” Kristen asked. “I mean, no but that’s okay.” “How is that okay?” Kristen asked. “When we found out we were mates, he was so focused on saving you that I was just kind of there. Don’t get me wrong, that is where his focus should have been. I’m not the least upset about it but since

I was never really part of your group and we didn’t hang out before hand like you guys. Nothing has really changed. He treats me similar to how he treated Kara. I mean, you were a good boyfriend, I’m sure but he hasn’t included me in any decisions. So, I just am doing what I do best, staying in the background and doing what I hope you like.” The word vomit just kept coming. I didn’t mean to say half of it but it came out. Colt and Kristen were staring at me with open mouths and Alec just was nodding to himself. Feeling incredibly embarrassed, I just put my head down and walked out of the office. Closing the door behind me, tears threatened to fall. Not wanting to give in, I started walking around. Everyone was working like they should. The D.J. kept music playing so everyone. was signing or softly dancing as they cleaned. As I walked down to the dance floor, I stepped into something hard. The crunch was more violent than I imagined and it caused me to lose my balance. “Whoa! Luna, are you okay?” A female worker was sweeping when I tripped. “Penny!” Looking up, Colt, Kristen and Alec were walking towards me. They must have saw me trip. Looking down, there was a little yellow and black thing with something oozing from it. “Don’t touch it!” Kristen screamed and took a few steps back. I was half way down when she yelled, scaring me to the point the pack “What’s wrong?” Colt asked. He walked up to me and pulled me into him arms. “Alec, that is one of those bees.” Kristen said. Her face went pale. “The one that blew up knocked me out. The same ones Rip had hundreds of? The same ones we thought he smashed them all?” I saw him anger grow with each sentence.
