No one spoke for a moment so I kept going. "Their lives were over regardless. I gave them an option. Either I could kill them now or they could earn their lives back. They chose to earn their lives back and go under cover. Their sacrificed helped us gather information and ultimately eliminate Vin. There was a point that they were caught and Gunther was beaten almost to death. He made it through, however." "Con out." I mind-linked Kara.

Kara and Gunther slowly cout from the tent. Once people saw them, they gasped and instantly got angry. "Traitor!" "Loser!" "Should have died!" Holding up my hand, Kara and Gunther walked up behind me. They were holding hands but Kara had her head lowered in shame. Part offelt bad for them but not all of me.

"Since they completely their assignment, they can start to earn their lives back. They will hold jobs and start working on earning your trust back.... and mine. I offered the deal and now I need to be a man of my word and see to it that they try to get their lives back. I know this decision isn't a popular one but it is morally correct. They understand that earning back your trust and forgiveness will be very difficult but that is their purpose for even being here. I will not tolerate unjust hazing. My pack will still hold their heads high and not stoop that low." "A-alpha? C-can I s-say something?" Kara's voice stoppedfrom speaking.

Deciding she had nothing to lose, I handed her the microphone and stepped back. "I'm sorry." Kara couldn't stop the tears that ran down her face. "After Colt... I mean, after Alpha Colt found Alpha Penny, I was hurt. However, I found my mate. Gunther is my mate. He hasn't made great choices but he was working against the only family he knew to save not onlybut Alpha Penny as well. I accept the fact that my actions were wrong. I did them out of love for my mate. I wanted to help him get free." She had to wipe her tears on her shirt. "I grew up with all of you. You know what kind of person I am, which made my betrayal that much worse but I am begging you find it in your hearts to understand why I did it and hopefully to forgive me." Kara turned and handed the microphone back to me. Gunther accepted Kara in his arms. Looking around, the packs were torn. Shad a sympathetic look on and swere still filled with rage. I wasn't even sure how I felt. Maybe indifferent? I guess you have to have respect for something for them to disappoint you.

"I'm not asked for you to forgive them. I'm asked you to stick to the values we hold dear to our hearts. Anyone with questions or concerns can speak toprivately." I paused before looking at Kara and Gunther and nodding. They walked off the podium and sat down at an empty table.

"This party is to celebrate our packs coming together. Mate bonds were formed, friendships grew and our families expanded. Remember why we are here. Remember that sense of community that a pack provides. Cherish everyone you love. Lastly, have fun and dance your tails off!" The crowd cheered as the music turned back on. Handing the microphone back, I went over to Penny, Kristen and Alec. "Why didn't you tell me?" Kristen looked like I betrayed her.

Not wanting to toss Alec under the buss, I just took it. "I'm sorry but this was a spare of the moment thing. He had been in a coma and I've been a little more worried about my triplets." That seemed to do the trick as she turned and walked off. Penny followed and they headed to get food. "Thanks." "You owe me." I said to Alec with a smirk.

"Whatever." Alec just rolled his eyes and looked on. "Do you really think they will be forgiven?" "Nope but nothing like facing the consequences of your own actions." "Death was too simple." Alec stated. It wasn't a question but a statement.

I saw Lars and Jace walk up to me. "Someone likes ." Jace said.

"I like being fair." "Your dad would have been proud." I heard Carson's voice from behind me.

"Thanks." I said, shaking his head. "I have seen all the alphas except Anthony." "I saw him a little bit ago? Why?" Carson looked around, like he was trying to remember when he saw him last and scanned the crowd.

"No reason. Just wanted to know if he showed. He's been acting weird." "He is always weird." Jace muttered. "I have seriously though about cutting ties with him." "So, has anyone had anyone ask to join their packs?" Lars changed the subject. "I've had a few, however, I think it was because of my beta's mate." "They probably felt more comfortable that way." Jace said.

"Let's go get sfood." Carson said. His eyes have been watching the line and it finally seemed to get shorter.

"Sounds good!" Jace didn't need telling twice as he took off. Penny and Kristen were making their way back to our table. Chapter 0531 1 "I did. It all looked so good." "The fried okra looks the best." Penny laughed as she popped one in her mouth.

"It's better with ranch." Kristen teased Penny.

Chapter 0531 2 Chapter 0531 3 "What?" I asked, suddenly in a better mood.

"Where did you go?" She asked.

"Just trying to decide what tattoo I want to get." I gave Ice a genuine smile. Yeah, everything was back to normal.

Kristen POV Huge white snowflakes fell out of the dark sky and onto the grass below. These last six months have been as peaceful as it is when you watch the snow cover the trees. There hasn't been any threat on our lives and my shop was growing larger than I ever expected.

Currently, Alec was giving Adalynn a bath so I had a few moments to myself. Colt and Penny were going to cover for dinner. Wanting to relax a little, I grabbed the bottle of Jack and poured myself a glass. Now, I was standing by the balcony windows, watching the white bullshit collect on my precious grass.

"All done, mommy!" Alec cup behind with our daughter. She looked just like but had her dad's piercing green eyes. Adalynn was such a daddy's girl that if he was in the room, she didn't want me. Though, nothing melts your heart faster than watching your mate bond with your children.

"You look so pretty!" I said with a big smile. She was all dressed in a zip up onesie, ready for bed. "I got a bottle for you!" Holding the bottle out, she reached out and grabbed it, greedily.

"She has a little tooth coming through." Alec said as he tried to help her put the bottle in her mouth. Her eyes instantly rolled back and closed so Alec cradled her in his arms.

"She isn't acting like it hurts her." I said watching them.

The door bell rang, interrupting trying to get a look. "Can you get that? It's probably Vivian." Vivian was our personal nanny. Since I was a little jealous of Colt getting our mother's house, Alec built one. We have only been in it for a little over a week now but I loved it.

It was like a ranch style meets barndominium. When you walk in, the foyer was large with an office on one side and a closet on the other. When you kept walking, it opened up to a massive room that included the livingroom, kitchen and informal diningroom. Stairs were off to the side that lead to a loft. The balcony looked over the entire room but only a bathroom and closet was up there. Stairs went down into a man's cave area. Complete with a groom and bedrooms. The master bedroom was on the other side of the livingroom. We had a huge walk in closet and bathroom. There were two other bedrooms on the main floor, each had their own bathrooms. With a three car garage, you can either enter the house through the pantry or through the mudroom, depends on your needs. All the trim was treated dark stained oak. The flooring was grey with brown hues but a matted finish so whatever the kids did to it was going to be well hidden. The walls were either a gray, sage or a shade of blues. It was my safe place.

The wall to vaulted ceiling windows made great views when I was stuck inside. Although, I hated the snow, it was very pretty to watch. Alec had lit a fire and we turned the lights down low for a romantic quiet evening.

"Hey!" It was Vivian at the door. Since Colt requested a dinner, I decided to have Vivian change out with Adalynn since it wasn't quite her bedtime and I wasn't sure what Colt was going to tell us.

"It's getting wet out there! The snow is really accumulating!" Ugh! Don't say that! I joked as she took off her boots and hung up her coat. "I think Alec took Adalynn up to the loft." Currently, the loft was Adalynn's play room. It was the triplets and her up there with the baby gates I had installed. The T.V. was wall mounted and the cords ran behind the walls so there was nothing up there to hurt them. The bathroom and closet were locked shut so I was confident in them being safe. Not to mention an adult is always with them. Content enough to myself "Perfect!" Vivian was getting up there in age but didn't have any grandkids of her own. Her own kids hadn't found their mates yet so she was getting her fixes with Adalynn and the triplets. How she managed to care for four babies at once... I have no idea.

Following Vivian, she walked up the stairs and I went to the kitchen to get the food out. They should be here any minute so I was ready. Using one of my mother's recipes, I made a roasted salmon with steamed broccoli. The salmon was about done so I put the salad out on the table. "Need any help?" Alec's voice startled me. The fork I was putting down went flying across the table.

"Shit!" Alec chuckled at my distress.

"So jumpy." Picking up the fork, he tossed it back across the table and looked around.

"I was thinking." Giving him a glare, he just shook his head and smiled.

"What do you think Penny and Colt want to tell us?" Alec asked as he walked over to the refrigerator and grabbed a beer.

"Who knows. Maybe he finally decided to stop arguing with me about the Winter Ball." I was still bitter. Ever since the whole fiasco with me and Joe, Colt has decided to have a party of any sorts. However, I put my foot down and said we are doing this. The other alphas wanted to get together more and there are so many more teens that are over eighteen. These parties help find their mates. "Never thought I would see the day that Kristen Anderson would want to put a dress on." Alec was leaning against the island. He was smirking as he brought up the beer can to his lips.

"Kiss my ass." Tossing the spoon I had in my hand, he easily dodged it. Which just annoyed more.

Tattooed Luna

"Do we need to revisit last night?" Alec asked quietly.

My body froze. Last night, Alec wanted to see how much I would submit to him. In the end, I absolutely refused to submit but I teased him so bad that he man handled me. It was honestly the most amazing night of sex we have had in months.

"You can try Mr. Alpha." I said sweetly as I walked up to him. Alec didn't move a muscle other than his eyebrow raising. Licking my lips, I got to my tippy toes and whispered in his ear. "I don't think you know how to make submit." My tongue grazed his ear as a low growl rumbled his chest.

Alec set his beer down and his hands firmly grabbed my hips. "I don't?" He asked in an amused voice. His hand moved under my shirt as he lowered his head. His teeth gently bit on a sensitive spot I had on the back of my neck, along my hair line. It was just behind my ear but damn if it didn't make my knees give out.

Instantly, my breathing got heavy. Bringing up my leg, I wrapped it around his and pulled him leg forward so it was firmly pressed between my legs. "You can try but I-" The door bell rang, telling us Colt and Penny were here.

"Fuck." Alec groaned as he pushed off of him. He had to adjust himself as I laughed the whole way to open the door.

"This looks amazing!" Penny said as they let themselves in.

"Cin! I said with a smile. "Closet is right there for your coats. No babies?" "Nope. We left them at home with a nanny." Penny looked half relieved.

"Needing adult time?" Colt took Penny's coat and sighed. "You have no idea. Where's Alec?" "In the kitchen. Con, food is done!" Alec had downed his beer and was pulling out two when we walked into the room. "How was the roads?" He asked as he handed Colt a beer.

"Not too bad. The snow is pretty wet so it's just melting on the roads." "Do you care if I snoop?" Penny asked. I didn't realized she wasn't with us.

"Of course!" I said. I probably should give her a tour but the oven bell rang out forto get the salmon out.

"What did you cook?" Colt took a seat on a bar stool.

"Salmon and broccoli." I said as I hit the microwave for the broccoli. "It's from the cookbook and I wanted to try it." "Sounds good to me!" Colt looked a little worn down but nothing crazy.

"What's wrong?" I asked as I studied him.

"We had a rogue attack the other day." Colt took a chug as I pulled the salmon out.

"Everything okay?" I asked, my stomach dropped.

"Yeah. We are find but they got into the cells." Colt looked at me, like he was unsure how I was going to take the news. "...and?" I looked between Colt and Alec. Alec had his arms crossed and was staring at me, trying to gage my reaction. "You are telling her now?" Penny's voice cup the stairs before her head popped up. She had just been down stairs when we started talking.

"Might as well." Colt sighed and sat up straight.

"Tellwhat?" "The rogues were able to get into a couple cells and a few people died. One of them was Ann." The news shockedso much that I stopped everything and looked at him. "Ann is dead?" I couldn't believe it. "Are you sure?" "She was unrecognizable but it was her. She was in her cell and is the sheight and weight." Colt shrugged but didn't take his eyes off of me.

"Why are you acting like I am going to loose my shit?" "I just wasn't sure how you were going to react." "What did you do with the body?" Slowly, my hands started moving again as I dished up the salmon. The microwave dinged, tellingthe broccoli was done.

"We burned it. I didn't think of seeing if you wanted to cover for it, I'm sorry." Colt didn't have an expression on his face but his eyes toldhe felt like shit.

t's not that I would want to pay my ast respects but the hatred I felt owards her ran to my core.

Watching her burn would have been plifting to all the pain I went through. "Oh." WPenny leaned forward after a moment, "Kris?" Plastering on a smile, I was done talking about it. "Supper's ready! Let's eat before it gets cold." Grabbing two plates, I walked around to put them on the table. No one moved as I cback for seconds. "Serious. Go to the table." Giving them a look, they att grudgingly went to the table. "If you feel like you need to visit her..." Penny started.

Looking at Colt, I pleaded with him through our twin connection to get him to change the subject. "How has Adalynn been sleeping lately?" He asked.

Relaxing a little, I stabbed the broccoli and ate it. Looking up at the balcony, I couldn't see a thing. Alec's and Colt's voice trailed off as flashbacks of Ann hit me. If Colt said she was dead, then she was dead but just wanted to have seen for myself. I always assumed there would be a trial that I would vent all my frustration out. I've been holding onto this hatred for so long that maybe now I could let it go. "Ice?" Colt's voice broughtback.

"I'm sorry, what did you say?" "The salmon is really good. The buttery garlic goes really great with it." I watched him take a bit and eat it.

"Thanks. I'm glad it turned out good." "So, Kris and Alec. There is something else we wanted to tell you guys!" Penny looked really happy as she reached her hand out and took Colt's.

Alec and I glanced at each other before looking back at them. "Well?" I asked, the silence was killing me.

"We decided to open a girls camp with that land!" Penny's voice raised a few octaves.

That wasn't what I was expecting but that was still a good idea. "A girls' camp?" Alec asked.

"I haven't worked out all the details but we decided to use it to help the youth. We might add straining camps for future warriors but yeah!" Penny was looking around, wanting a big reaction.

"That's awesome!" I said, snapping out of my funk. Colt was looking atbut I tried as best as I could to fake being happy. It wasn't that I was unhappy, I hadn't even thought about that land for months. I was still stuck on Ann dying. "I think that is a great use for the land. What other options did you guys think of?" Alec asked. His hand reached over and gripped my thigh.

"Golf course for the casino. Which, we finally got the paperwork finalized. The casino is officially under the Blue Fang pack name!" "Oh, wow! That's exciting!" A genuine smile to my face.

"I know. We will have to clean house and go through it all. I'll need help with the books and everything." Penny looked at me, pleading with me to agree.

"Of course! Whatever you need." Everyone had finished their meals at this point. Wanting to put some distance between myself and them, I got up and started clearing the dishes. They were talking about the possibilities the casino offered. Pulling out the cheesecake, I cut three slices and put them in front of them.

"That would be ideal!" Penny smiled and dug into her desert.

"Not eating, Ice?" "Not feeling like cheesecake." Standing up, I went over to the alcohol cabinet, poured myself a jack and went back to the table.

"I meant to ask, did you have a dress for the Winter ball?" Penny asked me.

"I actually don't. I need to go find one." "Good. Can we go tomorrow? I have an opening and was hoping you could help me." "I don't think I have anything impressing I have to do." I said as I took a sip.

"I think we better head out." Colt said as he took the empty cheesecake dishes and put them in the kitchen.

Penny's phone started ringing. "Oh, shoot. I need to take this." She said and walked away as she answered the phone.

"Con, Ice." Colt walked around the island and stood beside me.

"What?" I was washing the dishes and he put his hand on top of mine.

"What's up?" Alec sat on a bar stool in front of me. Colt pulled my hands off the dishes and turned my body to face him. "Tell the truth. Are you mad I didn't let you see Ann?" "I'm not mad." I tried to turn back to the sink but Colt didn't let me. "If you wanted to dance, we can at the ball. I have dishes to do." "Ice, don't do that." "Colt! Are you ready?" Penny walked around but paused when she realized she interrupted something. "Is everything okay?" "Yes. Everything is perfect." I said as I was able to slip out of Colt's grasp. "I need to check on Adalynn. Thank you both for coming." Smiling, I darted out of the room and up the loft.

"She's sleeping." Vivian was reading a book as I walked up.

"Thank you! I'll put her to bed." "Sounds good. I'll see you tomorrow!" Waving at Vivian, she walked down the loft and out the front door.

Adalynn was sleeping so peacefully that I hated to move her but she needed to sleep in her crib. As gently as I could, I picked her up and started walking down the stairs. Alec was standing at the bottom, waiting for me. "Is she sleeping?" He asked.

Reaching the bottom, he looked at her and smiled. "Sound asleep." Alec went to finish the dishes as I laid her down. She was so precious that it physically hurt to not hold her. Sighing, I decided I couldn't stand here forever and walked out, closing the door behind me.

Alec had a towel slung over his shoulder as he was loading the dishwasher. "That's a good look on you." I whispered as I took my recently filled drink and sat down on a bar stool.

"I aim to please." Alec lifted an eyebrow but kept working.

"That was great news about the casino and the land. I've been wondering what they were going to do with it." "Come by the fire with me." Alec said as he wiped the counter top down and picked up his own drink.

We had bought an oversized recliner, big enough for us to sit together. It was positioned in its own area off to the side. The fireplace was beside it and it was facing a massive window. Since the snow was still falling, it was an incredible sight. Alec sat down and opened his arm for me to crawl in next to him. Not wanting to hold my drink, I just shot it all down and set it on the floor. "I've always enjoyed the snow." Alec muttered as I stopped fidgeting.

"I always hated the snow." I responded.

"How long do you want to sit here before you tell me what you are feeling. I can't even figure it out." Alec put his hand under my chin and pulled my face up to his. "Talk to me." His thumb traced my cheek and his eyes begged me to open up. "I don't honestly know what I am feeling." Sighing, if he was going to force me to talk, I wanted to be able to look at him. Leaning away, I draped my legs over him but put my back against the arm rest. He twisted his body so we were looking partly at each other and partly at the window. The fireplace was giving off warmth but show, I still felt like I needed a blanket. "Try."

Tattooed Luna

"I'm not... sad she is dead. It's like I wanted to see her body. See for myself she was dead. I wanted to watch her body burn for all the pain she caused and my family. I guess I feel almost robbed I wasn't there to see it. There is still so much hatred...." I wasn't sure what I wanted.

"That's reasonable." Alec nodded. His hand rested on my thigh.

"I should put a thorn tree on top of her ashes." "Is that it? Is something else bothering you?" Alec asked.

"I just.... that pack has been attacked by rogues so many times. Never once did they find the cells." I looked at him and tried to get him to understand what I was saying. "Have you ever heard of a rogue going into the cells?" "No." Alec took a deep breath and sighed. "If they weren't rabid enough, I could see it I guess but usually they do just for the warriors." "I don't know. I just don't like the whole thing." Looking out the window, I felt Alec's hand snake its way up my thigh.

"Nothing is going to happen. She was literally the last person alive. Everyone is dead. Let's just focus on this." Rubbing on a sensitive spot on my inner thigh, I started feeling my body respond.

Being as stubborn as I was, I tried to act like it wasn't getting to me. "That does nothing for me." Rolling my eyes, I tried to stand up but Alec was quicker.

He had pinned between his legs before I could run off. Since he was on the edge of the chair, I was standing, facing the windows. "This doesn't bother you?" Alec lifted my shirt and nibbled on another spot on my side.

"Nope. Nothing." The physical pain I felt from trying not to reach was worse than anything I've put myself through recently. "Hmm. What about this?" His strong hands flipped around so fast that I almost fell over. Moving my pants down, he licked another spot, just over my ovary.

"Nope." My voice betrayed with showing the restraint I was trying to keep up.

"Your body said otherwise." Alec moaned as he switched sides.

"My mind and my body are two different things." Crossing my arms over my chest, I wasn't prepared for Alec to basically tackle onto the floor. My arms reached out to grab him out of pure reflex.

"Wha-" I tried to ask but he was back on my neck.

"Remember when we first mated and I made you orgasm without touching you?" Alec whispered.

The memories flashed in front of my eyes. He literally had begging for him, just from touching my sensitive spots. "I was young and inexperienced." Alec looked into my eyes and accepted the challenge. "By the time I am done with you, you will be begging for me." He said and his hand lifted up my shirt.

"I'm so confident that I will even help you out." Grabbing my shirt, I took it off and even unhooked my bra.

"Good luck, Mr. Alpha." Giving him whatever look, I just put my hands behind my head.

"You're going to regret that." Alec's eyes flashed black before going back to their dazzling green. Starting out at my neck, his tongue massaged my sensitive spot like he knew everything to make me feel it. The goosebumps ran down my body but I refused to move.

As he moved down, he stopped at my mark. His teeth nibbled to the point that it pinched a little but he didn't break skin. For a moment, I thought he was going to cheat and bite down but he did. He moved to my breast. Sucking under the left one, he pinched my right one.

I couldn't stop my eyes closing but it took all my training to keep my breathing level. Alec didn't seem phased as he moved to my side again. Taking his sweet time, he traced every inch, making sure he didn't miss on.

He was on the opposite side on where my sensitive spot was when he started nibbling my side. A sudden rush of pleasure shot through so fast that I couldn't control the intake of air or stop my back from arching.

"Hmm." Alec moaned as he kept doing it.

was so surprised that I wasn't even able to make a sound. My hands threaded through his hair and my brain went fuzzy. As he kept his assault up, his hands pushed my legs apart. Massaging right next to my opening he was teasing worse than he ever had. Juices were flowing as the pressure was building faster and faster. "Cum for me." Alec moaned in my head. With one last pinch, I exploded.

"Alec!" I yelled as my orgasm hit hard. Stars danced in front of my numb face and the world went dark.

"That's it, love." He growled out loud. His fingers still didn't enter as he moved down to my thigh. My breathing was heavy and he just sucked on my inner thigh.

I wanted him in but I refused to beg. Biting my lip, I had to force myself from calling out. Instead, my head rolled back as my back arched. The fire was making us sweat. Moving my hands, I had to grab my own hair to keep from moving his head where I truly wanted it. His breath hovered above the most sensitive spot. "Had enough?" He asked as his tongue barely touched my clit.

"I'm good." I said through gritted teeth.

"Oh? You're good?" Alec said and sat up.

The physical ache was painful. I wanted his touch so bad. "I mean, whatever you want to do is fine." I shrugged, looking at him.

"I guess we can go to bed then." Alec moved to get up.

Damn. He was playing the game. He walked over and started putting the fire out, leaving me alone and naked. Fine, two can play this game. Getting up, I walked to the kitchen. The feeling of his eyes bent never left as I went over as I opened the fridge. Pulling out the chocolate cake, I cut a big slice and put it on a plate before seductively licking the knife clean. After putting the cake back, I picked up my piece and a fork and walked past Alec. "Where are you going?" He asked.

"To bed. I just wanted something a little sweet to taste."

Tattooed Luna

Chapter 0537 "Seriously?" Alec followed me into the bedroom. Sitting on the edge of the bed, I watched as Alec started getting undressed. His dick was slightly limp but not exactly standing at attention either.

“Want a bite?” I held out the fork to him. He took a pair of shorts and walked up to me. Deciding I needed to play harder, as he leaned down to take the cake, I accidentally touched his dick with the big slice.

Chocolate frosting got stuck on his tip.

“Oh, I'm sorry! Let me help.” Setting the cake down, I took his dick and licked the frosting off before letting it go again. By this time, his dick was rock hard.

Smiling up at him, he cleaned off my lips before picking up the cake again and taking another bite. Alec stood there for a moment and didn't move.

Feeling a little frustrated, I stood up and allowed my breast to graze him.

Turning around, I purposely bent over and pulled back the covers. After climbing into bed, I kept the covers at my feet and took another bite.

“You coming to bed?” I asked.

Alec dropped his shorts and went to crawl over me. His elbow knocked on the plate just enough that the cake fell over on my chest. “Oh, I'm sorry. Let me help.” Alec muttered as he moved my legs apart. Putting his knee firmly against me, he took the plate and put it on the night stand. «» Anything I was going to say was caught of BEN id Ae ie in my throat as he started cleaning up the chocolate with his tongue. His knee moved, rubbing my clit as he cleaned the chocolate off my tits. I couldn't stop my hands from threading through his hair.

The pressure was building against as he went to bite my newly found spot.

The bite wasn't firm enough to send me off the edge but I was so close that it was maddening.

“All done!” Alec said as he rolled over.

“That's it?” I asked, still laying completely exposed.

“Yeah. I made you orgasm without touching you so I win. You are pretty sticking, you might need to take a shower.” Alec shrugged and rolled over. &9 |

I was fucking pissed. Getting up, I stomped to the bathroom and shut the door. Turning the shower on, the steam instantly filled the room as I got in. My body still ached in need.

A slow smile spread across my face as I used my own fingers to satisfy my needs. "Oh." I moaned in the mind- link as I worked my clit.

"What are you doing?" Alec asked in a husky voice.

"Satisfying myself since you were done." I answered in a moan. "I'm SO wet." "Stop that. Just wash your body and get back here." Alec demanded.

"I'm almost there!" [let all the arousal filled me up and pushed it over to Alec.

"OH!" OH! OH!" I moaned out loud as | got myself off. &» Alec growled. His footsteps pounded as he almost broke down the bathroom door. "Get out." He was pissed as he shut off the water.

"Not sure why you are so mad? You said you were done so I just took care of it myself." Shrugging, I grabbed the towel and started drying myself off.

Feeling rather proud of myself, Alec grabbed my arm and pulled me back to bed. "You are going to pay for that." He said. My eyes landed on the ropes that have never been there before.

"What are those?" I asked as he tossed me in bed. He had one hand tied down before I could even protest. Moving to the other hand, I was trying to fight but he was sitting on my stomach, pinning me down.

"I am going to force you to scream my name and then, only then will I fuck you." Alec's eyes flashed back before he went straight for my tits.

He didn't even hesitate as he started massaging my already swollen clit. My body tensed under him as he worked.

As hard as I tried to fight it, I couldn't.

The pressure was building instantly before he would stop and let go of me.

He laid on top of me so his dick was grazing me and he moved to my mark.

“Say the words love and all your pain will go away.” He muttered.

I opened my mouth to speak but nothing was coming out. My breathing was so rapid that I was struggling to even moisten my mouth. With little pressure, his dick moved. Barely grazing me to the point it was maddening. He Alec grabbed my neck and pulled my hair as I was looking up at him. I knew my cheeks were flushed and the tension in me was so thick that I couldn’t even form a word.

“Can’t speak?” He asked, amused. He kept gently moving his dick as my eyes rolled back in my head. I even tried willing my orgasm to hit and moved my hips to try to make it harder.

Alec moved his other hand down to my leg. Grabbing my thigh, he pulled my leg up so it was a different pressure on me. With his hand firmly squeezing my ass, his dick barely touching my clit and his other hand pulling my hair, I was completely lost. €»

Alec’s lips pressed firmly against mine as he kissed me hard. “Say the words and I’ll fuck you so hard that you forget who you are.” He whispered in my mouth. Leaning back, he raised an eyebrow at me and waited.

Closing my mouth, I tried to gather enough mental awareness to mutter a word. “Please.” “What was that?” He asked. Turning his head, he acted like he didn’t hear me.

“Fuck me, Daddy.” That did the trick. Alec shoved his dick into me so fast and ripped my head back even further, Holding onto the ropes for my life, Alec pounded away.

The pressure instantly exposed as I screamed out. Alec instantly covered my mouth with his, As I orgasmed, his body shuddered and emptied everything he had.

"How are you feeling this morning?" Alec asked as I was getting dressed. Alec kept true to his word and I think I got maybe two hours of sleep last night.

"Well rested." I wasn't happy he won but damn if it wasn't enjoyable.

The humor that cfrom Alec maderoll my eyes at him. "If you say so." "Where did the rope cfrom?" I asked. Since we were going shopping, I didn't want to wear anything too much but the snow was still falling. I would need to wear my boots so I opted for skinny jeans and a nice fitted long sleeve shirt. There was a thin layer of make up on and my hair was left down and straight.

"Been saving it for the right time." Alec muttered as my phone rang.

"You're up early." I said as I answered the call.

"Yeah, Jasper needed to do something so I got up. What are you doing today?" Emmy asked.

"Going shopping for a dress with Penny. Want to come?" "Oh! Could I?" Emmy sounded excited.

"Of course you can. Get dressed and get over here." "Okay!" Emmy hung up onas Adalynn started crying.

"The roads are going to be slick so be careful." Alec stood up and started buckling his pants.

"I'm going to take the jeep. What are you doing to do today?" I asked as I walked out of our room and into Adalynn's room. She was sitting up, looking at the door. "Good morning!" I said in a sweet voice. Adalynn raised her hands up to me.

Picking her up, she laid her head on my shoulder for a few seconds until she heard her dad. "Someone is happy this morning." Adalynn sat up and reached for her dad. "Seriously?" Rolling my eyes, I handed her over to a very happy dad.

"Daddy loves you." Alec whispered in her ear as went to the closet.

"Then daddy can change her and get her dressed." I said slightly annoyed and with a melted happy heart.

"Mommy is just sad she is second in daddy's life now." Alec said in a baby voice.

"Can you say that again so I can record your baby voice for the warriors you have to go work with today?" I pulled out my phone and took a picture.

"Only if I can record all the sounds you made last night... oh wait! I had you too numb to speak." Alec smirked atas he finished dressing Adalynn.

As I opened my mouth to respond, the door bell rang. "Ass." I muttered as I walked off. Alec's laughed echoed across the halls. "Hey!" I said as I let Vivian inside.

"It's slick out there!" Vivian was dressed head to toe in so much gear that I even wondered if she was a wolf.

"I bet! Glad you made it here okay. I'm not sure what kids you will have today." "That's fine!" "She hasn't had breakfast yet but Alec is changing her and getting her dressed." I said as he walked around the corner.

"She's ready." Alec said as he carried her in front of him. Adalynn got a huge smile on her face as she saw Vivian. Clapping her hands together, she reached for her.

"Someone is happy this morning!" Vivian laughed as she took her and headed to the kitchen.

"Do you need anything before we head to the garage?" I asked.

"Nope. We are good!" Vivian put Adalynn in her highchair and started cutting up a banana.

"Love you!" I said and kissed Adalynn on the forehead. Alec did the same and we headed to the garage.

"Don't you think it's time for another one?" Alec asked as I grabbed my coat. Alec was putting on his gloves and bat before he grabbed the shovel. "It's not like you have been preventing one." I frowned at him. "I would still like a little more time between." Hitting the button to open the garage, Alec walked up behind me.

As I turned, he grabbed my hair and pulled my head back so I was looking at him. My eyes instantly rolled back on their own. "I want them to be as close as you are with Colt. We need to have an army close together." Alec pressed his lips against mine. "I don't want triplets!" I laughed as I kissed him back.

Unfortunately, a honking sound interrupted us. Alec was annoyed as he walked away from me and got the shovel. "Let me clear some snow for you." "Hey!" Emmy smiled at Alec as he started shoveling. Alec just tilted his head in response but Emmy didn't seem to care. "Ready to go?" "Almost. Alec is clearing some snow and Penny should be here soon. I wanted to make sure I had an emergency kit in the jeep." There was jumper cables next to a tote. "What's in there?" Emmy asked as I picked it up.

"Blanket, water, granola bar and other stuff like that." Another car caround as I put it in my trunk. "Penny's here!" "Great! Let's go!" Emmy got in the passenger seat.

"Emmy? Are you coming with us?" Penny asked with a smile.

"Is that okay? I need a dress too." "Of course!" Penny walked up to Alec. She muttered something I didn't hear and walked back to us. Alec nodded and walked back into the garage.

"It should be okay for you but it has started snowing more. Try not to drag this out and make it hsafely." Penny got in the jeep to give us sprivacy. "Will do." I stood by the driver's side door as he walked up to me.

"I mean it. Be safe, Kristen. I don't want a phone call saying you are in a ditch.

lec looked atwith more emotion than I'm used to. "Like you said, you could be pregnant now." "So, you are worried about any potential baby, not the incubator?" Folding my arms, I popped out my hip.

Alec rolled his eyes at me. "Just be safe." He kissed my forehead and turned to leave.

"Bye!" I yelled as I got in.

"Can we do doughnuts?" Emmy asked, making Alec freeze. He turned his head and glared at her.

Emmy blew a kiss at Alec as I pulled out of the garage. "Do you have a death wish?" Penny asked, trying to hind her uncomfortableness.

Chapter 539

"No, why?" Emmy looked back at Penny.

"Alec doesn't scare you?"

"Alec scares you?" | asked.

Penny shrugged. "I don't exactly get a warm fuzzy feeling around him. At least Jasper jokes and smiles. Alec stands there with his arms crossed, just staring."

"Like a sexy mysterious man." Dancing my shoulders, I looked back at her and smiled. "He smiles plenty."

"If you say so." Penny looked out the window as Emmy looked at and tried to hide her laughter.

"Emmy, get songs going!"

Grabbing my phone since it was connected via bluetooth, she pulled out my playlist. "Let's do this one."

All-American Rejects con. Dirty little Secret was one of my favorite songs on this play list. The whole playlist had different artist like Foo Fighters, Shaggy, Puddle of Mudd, Fountains of Wayne and Smash Mouth. We jammed out the whole way to the store without slipping once.

"Shit it's cold!" Emmy whined as we made our way into the store.

"I like it. The snow is so relaxing!" Penny said a little too sweetly.

"White bullshit is what it is." Emmy and I fist bumped as Penny laughed.

"What style are you guys looking for?" Penny had looked over at the ball gowns.

"I am going for sex appeal all the way. I'm going to make Alec suffer like he did last night."

"What?" Emmy looked at with her eyebrows raised.

Waving her off, I looked at Penny. "Are you wanting a ball gown?"

Penny looked around, she seemed a little confused. "I'm not sure what I want."

"Can I help you ladies?" A female voice came to my right.

"Yes. We have a winter ball to go to and she needs help finding the right dress." Pointing at Penny, I made her blush.

"I love dressing women. Do you girls need help?" She asked Emmy and me.

"Nope. We know what we like."

"Perfect. Dressing rooms are in the far corner. I am going to take..." She looked at Penny, looking for a name.

"Penny." I said for her.

"I'm going to take Penny and look around."

"Perfect! See you soon!"

Penny looked down right scared as the worker took her arm and lead her away. After looking around, Emmy and I both had a hand full of dresses. Penny hadn't made it to the dressing room yet so we went head and started trying them on.

The first one was a Emerald green with tones of sparkle and shimmers. It was completely suctioned to my body the whole way down. The top collected at one shoulder and looped around the back to make a sleeve for the opposite arm. Otherwise, the back was completely open to the top of my ass. I wasn't a huge fan of the green but it would look so great with Alec's eyes. Plus, he was used to wearing black or red that this would be a shock factor.

Coming out, I looked at Emmy. Her dress was a dark midnight blue, almost black to the point that I had to really look. It was also completely fitted with long sleeves. However, the top of the dress was lined with a silver band of sparkles that dipped on the left, just at her armpit. As she turned, each other went down and met at her left hip, making her back mostly open. The opening was lined with a thick strap of sparkles the entire way. After her hips, it fell to the ground where mine hugged my legs.

"That looks amazing on you!" I made her do a little twirl.

I can't believe you picked green! It its you like a glove. Alec will defiantly have a hard time keeping his hands off you." Emmy nodded in approval. I was

"That is the hope!"

"You girls look amazing!" Penny's voice brought out attention over to them.

"Did you find some?" I asked.

"We did!" The sales lady helped Penny into a room.

"I think we have that one in white." The sales lady looked at my dress.

"Oh, white would really make you stand out!" Emmy nodded.

"I would need to get a self tanner."

"I'll go get it for you to try on." She smiled and walked away.

“Holy shit, Penny!” Turning around,
Penny was tearing a deep purple dress with lace see-through sleeves.
The shallow V-neck line had a lace padded at the top her upper waist. The whole dress dropped down in a silk skirt but there was a slit to her upper thigh.

‘Damn girl’ Penny always had a Oo figure but she was more reserved on what she wanted to show. This was so far out of the box that I could read the hesitancy on her face.

“Is it too much?” Penny asked as she looked at herself in the mirror.

The sales woman came back with the white dress for me. “That looks amazing on you!”

Penny took a deep breath and straightened her back. “I am a grown woman and I want to look sexy for my mate. I can do this!” With new conviction, she turned and looked at us. “This is my dress.”

“Whoo!” I cheered as I took the white dress.

Going back to the changing room, | switched the green for the all white version. It would defiantly stick out.

“Which color? Green or white?” | asked as | stepped out.

“Definitely white.” Penny nodded.

“Good! Just need to buy sself tanner and I'll be set. | have swhite heel that will work perfectly for this dress.”

“Awesome! I'll meet you girls at the register!” The sales lady clapped her hands together and walked away.

“You can try on more if you want to.” | told Penny.

“Nope. | am stepping out of my comfort zone and going to be rocking this.”

Emmy walked towards her. “If | may, wear your hair in a low messy bun with whispies.”

“How about you just do my hair.” Penny looked at her.

Laughing, “How about we just get ready at my house?”

“Sounds good. Can Sherry ctoo?”

“Of course she can!” After one last look in the mirror, | went to take off my dress. Alec was going to be hurting soon!

Chapter 0540 Emmy laid our dresses down in the back as we piled back into my jeep.

“That was so much fun!” Penny was extra excited for her dress.

“I can’t wait! This ball will be so much fun.” Emmy started dancing as I put the car in drive. The snow was really coming down to the point that it felt more like a blizzard than just regular SNOW.

“Ice, you're getting a call.” Emmy said as she handed me back my phone.

“Hey, love. What’s up?” “It’s getting pretty bad out. Where are you girls?” Alec seemed a little worried.

“Headed home. I'm driving slow and just got on the highway.” “Good. Did you guys find dresses?” Alec seemed distracted but he would have hung up if he didn’t want to make sure we made it okay.

“We did. I'm really excited fo-” “KRISTEN! WATCH OUT!” Emmy screamed. She pointed to the tree line and four rogues came charging out.

“What's happening?” I heard Alec asked as I had only a second before they slammed into my jeep.

“ALEC!” I screamed as my phone went flying out of my hands. End over end, my jeep rolled down the side of the bank and landed in a small frozen stream. The stream emptied into a small pond below.

It took me a second to focus but as 2/0

| soon as reality came shooting back, so did the noise. The snarls of the rogues trying to get into my jeep were.

something else but it was Penny crying that caught my attention.

The jeep was on the side and Penny’s arm was stuck between the jeep and the frozen ground. I was laying on top of Emmy who was trying to move.

“Ice!” She said weakly. Looking at her, she pointed at the windshield. It was completely shattered but what I could see was a rogue, looking at me... yet he wasn’t dirty or even foaming at the mouth.

“Emmy, does that look like a rogue to you?” I asked as the snarls stopped. I could see them circle the jeep, trying to find a way in. The issue was, Alec had this jeep reinforced. Penny had to have had her window cracked for it to shattered like it was.

“No. They don’t.” Bl Suddenly, the jeep started to lift up and fall back down. “AWWW” Penny screamed as it came crashing down on her arm again.

“Shit, they are trying to flip us over.

Where is my phone?” “Here.” Emmy held up a completely busted phone. “Alec heard us though.

He will come, right?” Looking at Emmy, I could see the fear in her eyes. “Yes but until then, Emmy, we are going to have to fight. Put your fear away and pull our that inner warrior.” “What about Penny?” Emmy nodded and I could see the shift in her wolf.

“Penny can’t fight. We are going to have to hold them off till help gets here.” As soon as I said this, the jeep flipped around and landed back on it’s wheels.

“Ready?” Emmy asked as she looked back at Penny.

“AARRGG!” Penny moved to the other side of the jeep. A rogue had put his head in the window, trying to get her.

Climbing over the center console, I tried to kick the rogue as hard as I could in the nose. It worked enough that I could use the door and slam it into his head. “NOW!” I yelled. Emmy and I jumped out and shifted into our wolves. Within seconds, we stood between four rogues and Penny.

“Ice, these aren’t rogues.” Emmy said in the mind-link.

“I know but I am a fucking alpha and you are my beta. Use your strength and take these fuckers down.” I said as Sierra snapped at one that was getting too close. One of them jumped and she met them in the air.

Using her hind legs, she kicked it back and landed on one trying to get to Penny. Biting down on his shoulder, it reared back trying to throw me.

Sierra used it to toss the rogue off to the side as the first one came back.

Dodging the lunge, she kicked in the head. Right as she went in for the kill, a sharp pain erupted on her thigh.

As much as it hurt, it only pissed her off more. Using her claws, she grabbed his neck and dug them in. His teeth instantly leg go but she pulled her other hand around and dug her claws in. Pulling it apart, his neck split wide open, almost completely decapitating him.

The original wolf came barreling into Sierra, sending her into another wolf that was trying to get Emmy. The three of us rolled down the hill a bit more before our wolves broke the ice.

Sierra was not a swimmer and instantly changed back into our human form. Since I had the lead, I tried my best to grab ahold of the ice.

Something sharp dug into my ankle and pulled me under.

Looking down, the rogues had shifted and the guy was trying to use my body to pull himself back up. The water was pressing down on us, making it hard to kick him loose but somehow I managed.

My lungs cried for air as I reached the surface. “KRISTEN!” I heard Emmy as I struggled to grip something. The ice was slippery with the water.

“EMMY!” I screamed. “BEHIND YOU!” All I saw was more wolves coming down the hill. My body was giving out and I was struggling to stay above the water.

Something brown got tossed into the water. I wasn’t sure what it was but I grabbed it. Pulling me up, I didn’t have the strength to grip it enough and I fell back in.

Pictures of Alec holding Adalynn flashed before my eyes as my lungs filled up with water. The cold stopped feeling cold and a warmth surrounded me. More pictures of Adalynn smiling, laughing and then pictures of Alec holding me, telling me he loved me. It was all I could do but smile as the surface of the water got further and further away.
