

Chapter 0007

"What is Emmy short for?" Jasper asked

"Emily."

"What a beautiful name." Jasper ran his finger down her cheek.

I leaned over to Alec, "is he always like this?"

"No, he is being weird."

"Do you think they are mates?"

"We will find out here soon." Alec showed me his watch. Fifteen minutes.

"Lets go dance!" Candy yelled. Jacob got up and let her drag him away.

"Ace!" He gave me a look and I shook my head no. Frowning, he got up and went after them.

"Don't want to dance?" Colt asked me.

"I do but I want to see what happens." I said nodding towards them. 1

"Me too!" Kara was giddy with excitement. "What if we are mates? We will know soon!"

Alec and I both felt Colt's discomfort. He pulled at his collar.

Alec leaned in. "Does he not want her as a mate?"

"She isn't exactly Luna material." Alec nodded.

"Miss Kris. I'm so sorry to bother you but we have a situation." A bartender came up to me, looking nervous. 2

"What's wrong?"

"It's the tap. We can't figure it out."

"Damn. Okay. Give me a minute and I'll be right there." I said. She sighed in relief and walked off.

"Is there anything you don't do?" Alec asked.

"Kill a mockingbird"

"Are you ever serious?" He frowned at me.

"Occasionally." Taking the cherry out of my drink, I seductively put it between my teeth and pulled the toothpick out. Licking my lip clean, I got the satisfaction of watching his eyes fall to my lips.

A primal growl brought us out of our thoughts as Jasper looked at Emmy. "Mate."

"Mate." She whispered as they finally kissed. The tension was high but they managed to hold off. 2

"Okay then." I said. I started scooted out of the booth.

"Where are you going?" Colt asked. 1

"Fixing the bar?" I said confused.

"I'll go with you." Colt sighed. 1

"No! I want to dance!" Kara whined.

Colt's face looked pissed. "I'll go with her. You have my word, I'll protect her." Alec said, easing the tension.

"I don't need to be saved." I muttered as I walked away angrily.

"Which kind of saving are you referring to?" Alec whispered in my ear.

His sexy voice made my panties wet. "All kinds."

"It seems to me you could use at least one kind or does my nose lie to me?" The twinkle in his eye caught me off guard as his eyes went to my lips.

"I-" I couldn't form a sentence as my body moved closer to his.

"Alec! There you are!" I heard her voice from behind him. Quickly taking a step back, I gathered myself as

Angela came around the bar. It was the perfect moment for me to slip behind it as she jumped on him. 1

His eyes found mine as she kissed his lips. Not sure why it stung so much but it did. Taking a deep breath, I focused on the issue.

"Here. We put a new keg on and now its not working."

Walking to the back, I noticed they didn't reset it. "You have to turn the machine off. Hook it up and then reset it." I showed her how to do it before waling back to the front and testing it.

"Oh jeez. Thank you!" She said.

"Of course!"

Truthfully, I was ready to go home but I wouldn't do that to Emmy. I'll leave when she is ready to. Alec was standing there. One eye on me and the other on Angela.

"All done." I said out loud.

"Great. If you excuse us. We are going to-" Angela started.
