

The Divorced Billionaire Heiress Chapter 2034

Chapter 2034

Clayton took Nicole's hand and looked at her with concern: "It's okay Right?"

Nicole shook her head and sighed: "What can I do? Zach is really here?"

Wasn't it a nonsense made up by Clayton to calm things down?

Clayton raised his eyebrows, "Of course, he's not the only one here."

Nicole was slightly startled.

At the door, Tina stumbled out and watched Zach get out of a newly bought luxury car.

Maybe it was because Tina was too embarrassed and didn't act like his usual style, so Zach didn't even see that it was his wife.

Although most of the people in the venue were embarrassed to go out to watch. But there were also a few, who couldn't stand their curiosity and ran to the door to see.

For example, Nicole and Clayton.

Nicole was puzzled by what Clayton was following. She looked around and saw that all the people who came over to look were women.

Only Clayton is a man. And many people around him have their eyes on him.

Nicole whispered: "If you have something to do, go and do it."

Clayton smiled and shook his hand: "I'm fine, I'm here to accompany you."

Nicole turned her head helplessly.

The woman next to her was so envious, her envious gaze almost drowned Nicole.

Next second.

Looking outside from Zach's car, a tall and slender beauty with long hair and slightly curly hair, long waist and thin legs, is sexy and beautiful.

It's completely different from Tina, who dresses up casually on weekdays.

Tina was completely compared.

This person, Nicole, looked very familiar.

Isn't this Kirsi?

She squinted, it was Kirsi.

Zach's mistress is Kirsi?

A woman like Kirsi who was used to being held by Samuel could actually see Zach?

Although Zach looked decent, he was also slightly blessed.

It seems that she was really not doing well recently.

But the two embraced each other, Kirsi snuggled on Zach's body, and the two were sweet as if they were a couple.

Zach also unceremoniously wrapped his arms around Kirsi's waist and patted her h-i-p.

The two people looked at each other, and the ambiguous feeling came up all of a sudden.

Just the next second, Tina couldn't bear to rush over, and slapped Kirsi's face with a slap.

"Ah—" Kirsi leaned back on the car in fright.

Zach's face turned red and white, and he looked at her in surprise: "Why are you here? Didn't I tell you that you don't need to come?"

Tina looked at him with red eyes and gritted teeth: "I didn't come because I wanted to make room for your fox spirit? You said you wouldn't bring people out to hit me in the face, what are you doing?"

"What are you making a fool of? I'm too lazy to tell you more!"

Zach Looking at the glass at the door, there are several figures standing inside.

Although he couldn't tell who was standing there, it was definitely not an ordinary waiter who could blatantly watch.

His face changed slightly, this scene really embarrassed him too much.

Tina took a deep breath, opened her eyes, and looked at him coldly and indifferently: "I've had enough, Zach, we have known each other since elementary school. We started dating in high school and now, today, it's over."

Zach's face changed. He frowned and looked at her: "What do you want to do? I've already said that I'm just playing on the scene. You are the forever Mrs. Gelinias, why are you making a fuss? There's no money to spend? Or someone else said something to you?"

Zach took a deep breath and took a step forward: "Okay, what happened today is my fault, I'll let her go, and there won't be such a thing in the future, I'll be careful."

Except for his first The cheating was caught by Tina for the first time, and Tina made trouble to the point of getting a divorce.

It took a lot of effort to make her endure it.

Tina knew that Zach was fluttering with colorful flags outside, but opening one eye and closing one eye increased his arrogance.

So Zach had no fear. But today, he could see that Tina was really angry.

So he quickly relaxed.

But Tina doesn't eat this set anymore. She looked at him coldly: "I always thought I could endure it, but Zach, you lied to my company for running out of money. I'll save you money and find resources for you. But when you take out the jewelry you bought for other women and put it up for auction. I didn't expect that the pair of earrings I took a fancy to tonight, is it someone else's leftovers?"

She shouted hysterically, as if she didn't care about maintaining the decency for so many years.

Those grievances, sadness, resentment, all of a sudden found a reason to pour out. The image she had always established among the noble ladies in the circle collapsed instantly.

Zach also froze in place.

"I didn't know you liked..."

He just bought it to make the women outside happy. But the woman didn't like it, so he just donated it.

Who knows...

Tina gritted her teeth and took a deep breath. She wiped her face and wiped away her tears. She looked at Zach and took a step forward.

Zach thought that the most important thing right now was to coax her, and he had figured out her temper in the past 20 years.

Just as he was about to come forward and hug her, Tina pushed him away.

She slapped her heavily, and then slapped again...

Zach was still confused at first. But after being beaten a lot, he reacted.

Besides, it's still in such a decent public place.

His face became ugly and cold, and finally when Tina raised her hand again, he pushed her away.

Looking at her fiercely: "Are you crazy?"

Tina didn't fight, she gave a cold smile: "Zach, I have all the evidence of your cheating, wait for my lawyer's letter."

After Tina finished speaking, she took her skirt and left.

Put Zach and the upper-class circle behind him.

The back looks very light.

Zach was still there at first.

Just the next second, suddenly panic. He raised his foot to catch up, but was stopped by Kirsi: "Mr. Gelin, didn't you say that you hate this yellow-faced woman from your family the most? You said that you would file for divorce after the transfer of the property. Anyway, it's almost the same, simply take this opportunity to leave. You said that you will marry me as soon as you get divorced..."

Zach was confused by the annoyance, he shook off Kirsi and lowered his eyes: "What do you know? If she proposes a temporary divorce, she will notice the transfer of property, what will we spend if we get divorced?"

Kirsi was slightly taken aback.

Zach hurriedly chased and all he had to do now was to appease Tina.

The rest will be discussed later.

Nicole saw all of this in her eyes. The heart also followed up and down, and Tina's decision was undoubtedly a delight.

But this is a moment of excitement, or a painful decision, there are two endings.

Clayton stood there frowning, sloppy but cold.

Looking at the scene just now, it was as if watching an uninteresting play.

Nicole paused, lowered her eyes slightly, looked at Clayton handsome profile, and asked in a low voice, "What do you think Zach can do now to get out?"

The Divorced Billionaire Heiress Chapter 2035

Chapter 2035

Clayton face sank slightly.

He looked at her.

He wasn't so stupid, he always felt that there was something in her words.

After pondering for half a second, Clayton said lightly: "I don't know."

Nicole smiled and rubbed her shoulder: "You said what would you do if it were you?"

Tina wanted a divorce, there was evidence. Gelinas Most of the time went out of the house. The company in his hands was not strong. Once there was a financial problem, it would very likely to declare bankruptcy.

Divorce now will not benefit him at all, he will not understand.

He instantly fell into Dilemma."

She was curious, what if it was Clayton?

Clayton seemed to know what she was thinking, and smiled helplessly. He sighed, somewhat regretting coming here to stand.

It's simply a disaster.

"Baby, I will never become such a scmbag. There is no if in this world. If you insist on telling me, I fully support his wife's divorce. Only by divorce can the scmbag know how powerful it is!"

Nicole lowered her eyes slightly, smiled.

Still satisfied and never mind.

She didn't embarrass him about this kind of death. She thought for a while, "Tina didn't even have the money to buy jewelry. It's very likely that there is an economic problem, but Zach has changed to a new car, and he can't see the economic problem. It can only mean that Zach is transferring property and deceiving Tina."

Clayton was silent: "Well, you are still smart."

Clayton had already seen it, but he couldn't say it.

Nicole sighed and stretched.

Zach outside had already driven away and left Kirsi behind.

There was a good show without entering the door, and everyone was more enjoyable to watch.

Nicole turned around and looked at the glittering hall inside: "Let's go, the auction is about to start."

Clayton took his hand with a smile, and became more interested: "There is a rough diamond, it's pink and blue, for Can you make a brooch?"

Nicole smiled, the two entered the exhibition hall, and the auction had just started.

She don't know if the organizer did this on purpose.

Opposite the positions of Nicole and Clayton are Eric and his female companion.

Nicole hadn't looked at his female companion carefully, and she hadn't paid much attention. But she also looked like a lady from an aristocratic family, dressed delicately, and when she looked at Eric, the admiration in her eyes was too easy to see through her mind.

Nicole looked familiar, but couldn't name her. However, she didn't pay much attention to his female companion, and was quickly attracted by the auction item.

Perhaps because of Tina's trouble, everyone knew that the pair of earrings would be of no value, so they temporarily changed the auction order and placed the earrings in the front.

As a result, only a few people made bids several times, and they couldn't call any high prices.

The original value of the earrings may be very high, but the helpless people present are very face-saving people, and this auction is not anonymous, so until the end, the earrings have not been sold.

The organizer had to remove the earrings and replace them with the next one.

Clayton was optimistic about a set of tea sets, and whispered in Nicole's ear with great interest: "Just now, Dad wants a new set, give him a surprise."

Nicole thought about the tea set in her cupboard, Use it according to the sunny day, rainy day, cloudy day and his mood.

She don't know what her hobbies are. She smiled and looked at Clayton: "Well, that's fine."

Nicole only thought about diamonds, diamonds, big diamonds. She was eager to see.

Because the rough diamonds are precious, they are not displayed here, so everyone has not seen them.

The two whispered a few whispers, with a few tacit smiles on their faces.

He didn't notice the fiery gaze of the person on the other side watching them all the time.

Since entering here, Eric had not said a word. Maybe it's because He didn't know what to say.

Nicole can still stand here alive and kicking. she should be happy.

But inexplicably, there was always an indescribable loss in Eric heart. He would speculate privately, if there were not so many twists and turns, the one standing beside Nicole now would be himself.

How good would that be. But this was the ending he could never dream of. He was even a little worried that Nicole would know about his plan.

From the bottom of his heart, He thought that he was a despicable and shameless person. But he felt that every step he took, there was a legitimate reason to cover up his selfishness.

She will never know.

The girl next to him was Clarissa.

She had already heard of Eric's name, but she had no chance to contact him.

Although Eric and Gerard have always had a good relationship, they are not his friends.

So Clarissa's mind, Gerard let her hide it tightly, don't ask for trouble.

Gerard knew the person in Eric's heart. If he wanted to find a replacement, most of them are not Clarissa.

But before this auction, Eric and Gerard were talking about something, and Clarissa happened to be looking for Gerard when they met.

She really wanted to come over to see but Gerard had something to do and couldn't get away, so he could only ask Eric.

Eric didn't think too much about it, and things went smoothly.

So, in everyone's eyes, Clarissa became Eric's female companion.

Clarissa returned from studying abroad for a few months, and she only saw Eric for a few seconds. She only knew everything on Bing Encyclopedia about Eric.

Clarissa looked at the rough diamond, the light seemed to be a light blue, subtle and mysterious. She couldn't help but exclaimed: "It's so beautiful!"

The host: "Okay, this diamond is in the hands of a collector from Italy. If you are interested, you can start the auction. The starting price is $9 million..."

Starting auction The price is $9 million, which is for nine figures.

Clarissa dismissed the idea in an instant.

The opposite Clayton's voice reverberated in the exhibition hall: "$20 million."

Everyone sighed.

Although the people present are not bad, but people like Clayton who started with $20 million in one shot, everyone also has a new insight into his net worth.

Nicole stood there calmly, beautiful and slim, bright and lustrous, standing there, the facial features under the light seemed to be extraordinarily delicate and beautiful.

She seemed to be completely out of the way, her eyes fixed on the diamond in front of her.

Cold and noble, just like her.

Eric stared at her for a few seconds, and immediately said:

"$30 million..."

"$50 million..."

“$60 million...”

At first, there were people in the exhibition hall eager to try want to bid.

But when she heard the two people’s bidding as if vindictive, she lost her mood in an instant.

As for Clarissa, who was standing beside Eric, she couldn’t help but look at Eric shyly in surprise and joy.

Could it be because of the sentence she sighed: “It’s so beautiful!”

Eric wanted to take a photo of it and give it to himself?

She heard from Gerard that Eric has always been generous to women.

Clayton didn’t seem to be angry, nor did he have any opinion because of Eric’s bid.
