

The Divorced Billionaire Heiress chapter 2336 –

Chapter 2336 Threaten

Mitchell took the initiative to talk since he felt guilty.

“Ms. Nelson, I’ll get a caregiver to take care of you this afternoon. This is my contact information. If you need anything, you can contact me anytime.”

Selena looked at his business card and looked away.

‘You don’t have a say in this. Give me Eric’s number.’

The corner of Mitchell’s mouth twitched.

“Sorry. I can’t give out Mr. Ferguson’s phone number to just anyone.”

“Okay, then. I’ll just contact the police and ask about how one should be sentenced for hitting someone with a car.”

Selena hit the nail on the head with that sentence.

Mitchell took a deep breath.

Finally, he realized that Selena was not a simple woman.

Was she planning to take advantage of this incident to extort them?

Mitchell had a bad premonition.

Eric had really bumped into big trouble.

It was a good thing that Selena was married. Otherwise, she might set her sights on Eric.

Mitchell believed that Eric was still stuck in his failed relationship and might not be able to get over it for a while.

Maybe he was thinking too much.

He took out Eric’s business card and handed it over.

‘This is Mr. Ferguson’s business card. He’s usually busy, so he may not be able to answer the phone in time.’

Mitchell reminded her. 1

Selena sneered and put away Mitchell's and Eric's business cards.

Mitchell felt that Selena was not a simple person.

The caregiver arrived soon, so Mitchell did not need to stay longer.

Selena was definitely going to take this opportunity to ruthlessly extort Eric.

Thus, she had to consider it carefully.

When Mitchell left, he gave some instructions to the caregiver and left.

Ferguson Corporation.

Mitchell left the hospital, went home, and got dressed before he went to the office.

Unexpectedly, he saw Logan from Stanton Corporation in the rest area downstairs.

Mitchell was stunned for a moment and hurried over. 1

"Logan?"

Logan stood up and smiled. "President Crawford, long time no see."

Mitchell waved his hand in embarrassment.

Although Mitchell had a big position in Ferguson Corporation, the real boss was still Eric.

"What are you doing here? Shall I contact Mr. Ferguson for you?"

Logan smiled. "No, no. I came here to see you."

Mitchell was surprised for a moment.

Logan took out a gift box from the bag next to him and handed it over to Mitchell.

Mitchell's face changed slightly.

Logan coughed. 1

"Levi and Chance are good friends, and both families have never stopped them from being friends. They're still kids, so it's really inappropriate to offer such an expensive gift. Our president said that it's the thought that counts, so Mr. Ferguson can keep the gift. Not to mention, this gift isn't suitable for Kenji. Mrs. Stanton isn't close to Mr. Ferguson either, so she doesn't want to accept such an expensive gift."

Mitchell's face froze for a moment and felt that Logan was really trying not to embarrass Eric.

Thus, Logan came here to wait for Mitchell.

If Logan went upstairs and returned this to Eric, Eric might be pissed off. 1

Mitchell smiled and looked at Logan.

"Which president are you referring to?"

Logan smiled and did not hide anything.

"Ms. Stanton has been busy dating Mr. Sloan for the past few days and hasn't been to the office for a while. The president I was referring to was Mr. Grant Stanton."

Mitchell paused and felt uneasy for a moment.

Eric's gift was intended for Nicole, but Mitchell did not know why the gift was sent in Chance's name.

However, everyone knew what Eric was doing.

Nicole did not even get the chance to look at it before Grant returned it.

They could not give it to Nicole directly. After all, the party was to celebrate Kenji's 100th day, not Nicole's.

Now, Mitchell was in a dilemma.

Mitchell did not know what to do for a while.

Logan left the box behind and said, "Mitchell, please return this to Chance.

I'll get going now, goodbye."

Mitchell chased after Logan for a few steps, but Logan was afraid of being held back and fled so fast that he disappeared in a blink of an eye.

Mitchell was speechless.

When he went upstairs with the box that felt like a hot potato, he was still struggling with how to convey this message to Eric.

Eric was in a meeting in the conference room, which just ended when

Mitchell arrived.

A group of people came out from the conference room, so Mitchell subconsciously hid the box behind him.

When Eric came over, his eyes swept over the box in Mitchell's hand. His face instantly darkened as he asked, "Who sent it back?"

Mitchell's face was tense. "It was Logan, Ms. Stanton's assistant. Mr. Stanton said this gift is too expensive for his son, so he sent it back."

Eric's expression was gloomy, and there was a chill in his eyes.

Mitchell sighed inwardly. Although it was Eric's intention, it was indeed inappropriate to hand it over to two children.

After all, Chance gave it to Levi, who in turn gave it to Aida. How would Aida hand it over to Nicole?

There was a moment of silence in the air.

Eric walked toward his office.

'Then give it directly to Nicole.'

Mitchell stood there in a pickle. 'Great, I can't give out such a precious thing now...'

He pursed his lips and put the box down. He thought of finding an opportunity to give it to Nicole later.

Roland was overjoyed when he found out that Clayton had agreed to be interviewed.

After all, this was Clayton's first appearance in Medianian media. 1

This interview was also done by a reputable financial magazine at home and abroad.

More importantly, Clayton and Nicole would both make an appearance this time. They were bigwigs in the business world, and neither of them liked to be interviewed.

Nicole made a lot of appearances in public before, but after the hype passed, she simply stopped.

How capricious.

Thus, everyone was looking forward to this interview.

This was the first time a financial magazine received so much attention.

It was rare that both Nicole and Clayton spared time for the interview.

After arranging the time, the news anchor took out a script to familiarize himself. 1

This kind of program was generally more solemn as it was not an entertainment channel.

However, due to the couple's large following, the host nervously asked, "At the end of the show, may I ask two personal questions? Of course, I won't go overboard. Everyone is concerned about your relationship. The comments section of our social media platform is flooded because the netizens found out that you two are going to be interviewed. Everyone is interested in you two."

Clayton and Nicole looked at each other. Nicole raised her eyebrows.

"Okay, as long as you don't go overboard."

If the host went overboard, they would walk out of there.

Of course, Nicole did not say it out loud for fear of scaring them.

The host nodded happily.

When it was time to record the program, everyone became serious.

Since it was a live broadcast, it was treated with care.

Both Nicole and Clayton were in business attire.

However, Nicole was wearing a women's suit and a beige skirt. Even though she did not deliberately highlight anything, she had a slender figure and appeared flawless. 1

Most of the readers are now reading this novels:-