

The Divorced Billionaire Heiress chapter 2337 –

Chapter 2337 Show Affection

Nicole's set of jewelry was also carefully selected.

She wore a matching watch with Clayton, and the two looked like the perfect pair.

Clayton was dapper in his suit. He looked relaxed with his sleeves rolled up to his elbows.

He was cool and handsome with gentle eyes.

If it were not for the cane he placed next to him, he did not seem any different from before.

Clayton looked at the watch on his wrist, touched it, and chuckled in Nicole's ear.

"I now know why you want to be interviewed. No one can match your dedication to your company!"

Nicole let out a muffled laugh. The corners of her mouth curled up. She looked energetic and spirited. Her long dark hair was let down, and her smile was bright and eye-catching. At this time, she lowered her voice and said, "I'm glad you know. This jewelry collection will definitely be popular, and I don't even need a spokesperson. I'll earn so much that I'll be able to give you anything you want then!" 1

Clayton raised his eyebrows. His eyes darkened, and he could not help but rub his fingers. At that moment, he did not notice that his microphone was turned on.

He chuckled lightly. His voice was mellow and clear like a spring breeze that was pleasant to the ear.

"Are you willing to give me what I'm thinking about?"

These words clearly reached the crew.

Everyone froze for a moment.

Everyone's faces were flushed, and they could not help but look at Nicole, who was blushing shyly and angrily.

She stretched out her hand and secretly pinched Clayton's waist. His muscles were tense as if he had predicted what Nicole would do.

The couple looked at each other and laughed.

Everyone watched them flirt with each other and suddenly felt envious.

They were not acting. It was clear that their relationship was strong, and there was no room for anyone else to come between them.

Clayton seemed to realize that his headset was turned on. He looked at Nicole and pointed at his ears. Nicole's expression changed dramatically, and the smile on her face faded.

The host also glanced at them awkwardly.

As the director counted down in the background, everyone on the stage became solemn.

The host was skillful and asked all the relevant business-related questions. Both Clayton and Nicole answered fluently.

At the very end, the host did not say the closing remarks as usual. Instead, he looked at the couple in front of him, smiled, and asked something off- topic.

"Ms. Stanton, do you regret that Mr. Sloan's leg is injured? Will you miss his previous physical condition?"

Nicole looked slightly startled. She seemed to feel the man next to her getting tense for a moment.

The host of the financial news got straight to the point.

Nicole smiled calmly and glanced at Clayton's side profile, which was handsome and smooth as if it was meticulously carved.

"No, I'm just glad that he came back alive. Even if he lost his limbs, I'll just be grateful for him being alive. He was great before, but he's even better now. I value him a lot more now."

Clayton's tense body suddenly relaxed. The moment he turned his head to look at her, his dark eyes were deep and magnetic as if he wanted to pull her in.

The host smiled and nodded before he asked the next question.

"I have one last question. The netizens are very concerned about your relationship. Has there been any change in your relationship after you got back together?"

In fact, this question was a bit repetitive.

Nicole's words touched everyone.

However, the couple did not look impatient. Clayton smiled and replied in a gentle voice, "Getting back together isn't the right term since we have never given up on each other in the first place. We reunited after a long time and we're closer than ever now. We love each other more than life itself. If I had to say what changed, I would say that I just feel blessed every second that I'm with Nicole. We cherish each other even more now. I also hope that all couples will have a happy ending."

As soon as he said this, the studio fell silent.

The next second, the host came to his senses and applauded before he continued with the closing remarks.

As soon as this interview was over, the couple stood up and shook hands with the host.

The interview went well.

Once this interview aired, it was regarded as an explanation to the netizens because the unbelievably beautiful photo that Ian Carter posted led to a debate about whether Clayton was dead or not.

Thus, this interview reassured everyone that Clayton was not dead and that Nicole and Clayton were still very much in love with each other.

The last two questions were simply the best finishing touch for the netizens.

The netizens did not understand the financial questions in the beginning of the interview but understood the question and answer segment.

[Ahhh, I love them! No matter how I look at them, they're the perfect pair! Her jewelry and his watch are so matching too!]

[OMG! Look at the way Mr. Sloan is looking at Ms. Stanton! He looks like he's restraining his emotions. He's so smitten with her!]

[Goddess Nicole is glowing! Her smile took my soul away!]

[I haven't seen that set of jewelry before. Is it Stanton Corporation's new product? It's so beautiful!]

[I don't understand what they talked about in the beginning, but I can see the love in their eyes! It's definitely not fake.]

[This is what I call a perfect ending! I believe in love again!]

The netizens were in a heated discussion again.

Due to Nicole and Clayton's appearance, this episode of the program gained such a high viewership and rating that it crushed the major entertainment programs of the same period.

It was just unbelievable.

Ferguson Corporation.

Eric naturally also watched this episode.

He felt that what Clayton said was utter bullsh*t because Clayton answered such a childish question to fool the layman.

However, Eric just wanted to see Nicole. Her eyes would curve when she spoke, and she looked so gentle and sweet.

After she finished speaking, she would subconsciously look at Clayton, who was next to her, for approval.

This trivial action was not noticed by others, but Eric saw it clearly, and his heart was tormented by it.

Eric knew that he was torturing himself for watching her. How long would he have to torture himself like this?

His chest hurt badly.

Nicole and Clayton had a happy ending, but all Eric had was pain.

After Mitchell finished dealing with the matter at hand, he naturally saw that Nicole and Clayton's interview was on the hot topic again.

This time, the system engineer was well-prepared, and the platform did not crash.

Mitchell did not know how Eric felt when he saw it, but since Eric did not ask him to withdraw this hot topic, Eric must have accepted reality, right?

Mitchell waited apprehensively until the end of the day. He remembered that the set of jewelry was still with him, so he had to find a chance to give it to Nicole as soon as possible.

Otherwise, if he lost it, he would not be able to afford to pay Eric back.

There were no sounds from Eric's office, so Mitchell thought that Eric was probably wallowing in sadness.

Mitchell greeted his colleagues and left, but before he arrived at Stanton Corporation, he received a call from the hospital.

It was the caregiver who took care of Selena Nelson.

“Mr. Crawford, come over quickly! We bumped into Ms. Nelson’s husband when I was pushing Ms. Nelson to go for an examination just now, and the two started fighting. He beat up Ms. Nelson, and she’s in the emergency room now!”
