The Divorced Billionaire Heiress chapter 2478-He's Not a Good Person

Chance bit his lower lip and felt even more bewildered.

Eric spoke impatiently.

“That Zachary guy isn't a good person. Do you want Selena to be with that kind of scumbag? He's a two-faced person. Do you know why Selena's bar was closed some time ago? It was all because of that Zachary guy!”

After Eric finished what he said, Chance's eyes widened in shock, and he was speechless.

Eric looked at him seriously. His voice was deep.

“Now, do you still think they're a good match? Do you want to watch as Selena falls into his trap and gets cheated on? Do you want her to be bullied like she was in her previous marriage?”

Chance's face turned pale in an instant. He stood there anxiously, and his eyes suddenly turned red.

Seeing this, Eric lowered his eyes slightly, squatted down on one knee, and met Chance's gaze.

His tone was solemn, and he seemed to be coaxing Chance.

“So, I think by letting her be your mommy, we can at least protect her, right? I've helped her so many times, so I certainly won't bully her. Since you like her too, we shouldn't let them be together.”

Eric's words were clear and cold as he brainwashed Chance.

Chance's small face was slightly stunned. He immediately lowered his eyes.

He seemed to be deliberating whether what Eric said was reasonable.

After a long time, he nodded solemnly.

“Daddy, I know where they went. Let's go!”

It was rare for Eric to finally show a smile on his icy face. He touched Chance's curly hair for the first time.

“What a good boy!”

Chance was flattered.

However, he believed what Eric said. 1

If Uncle Zach was a bad person, Chance would not sit idly by. Aunt Selena might as well marry his father, so when he grows up, he could give her a lot of money.

Chance thought other men were unreliable, and only he could protect Aunt Selena.

Soon after, the black Bentley drove through the night and arrived at a private cinema at Central Square.

Although Zachary had an ordinary job, he still had bourgeois taste and hobbies.

He did not want to go to ordinary movie theaters because of the crowd.

What he wanted was a romantic atmosphere.

This would also make women feel more valued, and there was nothing wrong with it.

From Eric’s point of view, this was childish and disgusting.

He was rendered speechless.

Eric got out of the car. Chance also climbed down.

He looked at Eric and said, “Daddy, let me go. Aunt Selena will believe me if I tell her.”

What Chance implied was that Selena might not believe what Eric said.

It might be a little annoying to hear, but it was true.

Eric pursed his lips. He did not say much and nodded lightly.

However, he followed Chance.

There were not many movies showing, and the most recent one was twenty minutes ago. The other movies had not started yet.

Eric followed behind. “What are they watching?”

He just asked casually.

However, he did not expect Chance to know this. “Midnight Horror.”

Eric frowned in shock and disgust.

Zachary was really lame, i

The movie that started 20 minutes ago was Midnight Horror.

Only ten people were allowed to go in and watch each time.

Of course, if conditions permit, the hall could also be reserved.

However, this film was not great, so almost no one watched it.

Only Zachary, who had ulterior motives, would watch this movie.

The waiter suggested that Eric bring Chance to watch “Children’s Paradise”, but Eric sternly rejected that idea.

Even if they were 20 minutes late, they still wanted to watch “Midnight Horror”.

Most importantly, Little Chance was also very firm on this decision.

Thus, the two of them went to the hall one after the other.

Chance walked in front and glanced around. The hall was empty, and there was suspense music playing on the surround sound as a scary scene appeared on the big screen.

As soon as he walked in, he saw Zachary watching the screen intently.

Zachary looked serious and frowned as he watched, but Selena, who was next to him, had already fallen asleep with her head tilted.

Chance’s eyes lit up, and he happily ran over.

When Zachary saw Chance, he was taken aback.

“Little Chance?”

Chance’s smile faded slightly. Although he had a good impression of Zachary at first, after hearing what Eric said, Chance had a prejudice against Zachary.

Anyone who deceived Aunt Selena was not a good person.

Thus, Chance no longer looked at Zachary with such a warm and kind gaze. Instead, he walked over to Selena and gently nudged her.

Selena squinted her eyes for a while, but the sound of this horror movie was a good lullaby.

She planned to go home and download a special horror film lullaby to help with her insomnia. That way, she could even save on melatonin in the future.

“Oh, Chance! Why are you here?”

Selena was a little shocked.

Chance looked back and did not see Eric.

Thus, he pursed his lips and said in a low voice, “Auntie, I want to watch a movie too. That’s why I came here. But I got lost. Can you take me back?”

Selena’s eyes widened in shock.

This reason was a bit far-fetched.

Chance stood there and looked at her sincerely and seriously.

“Daddy just left me at the entrance of the movie theater because he was angry with me. He left with the driver. My teacher said that children should only take taxis with the company of adults, so I can’t take a taxi back alone.”

Selena nodded instantly.

There was nothing wrong with that.

It also sounded something like what that b*stard Eric would do.

How could he leave such a cute child at the entrance of the cinema?

Was he not afraid of human traffickers?

Selena felt angry when she thought about it.

Suddenly, her sleepiness dissipated.

She immediately sat up straight and looked at Zachary apologetically.

“Um...”

Zachary nodded in understanding.

"I understand. Of course, Chance is more important. We have plenty of time anyway. Why don't we send him back together?"

Selena thought it made sense. Just as she was about to nod her head in agreement, Chance immediately said, "Auntie, don't send me back. I don't want to go home. Daddy will scold me when he's angry. Can I stay with you? I promise I'll be good!"

He sincerely promised them, so Selena could not refuse him.

Zachary squinted his eyes and had a playful look on his face.

He wanted to say something, but he did not.

He only looked at Selena with a gentle expression and nodded in agreement.

Zachary was no longer in the mood to continue watching the movie.

Initially, Zachary did not expect the effect of the horror film to be completely opposite to what he thought.

Selena did not tremble in fear.

Instead, she slept very soundly.

He watched it with trepidation, but luckily, Selena did not expose his purpose in watching this movie.
