The Divorced Billionaire Heiress chapter 2517-Selena sat there and showed off her relationship with Eric's ex-marriage partner.

It was ridiculous.

Under the scorching midsummer sun, Selena was covered in a cold sweat.

Her emotions fluctuated more violently than before when she was abused by Derek Norton.

Her heart was beating with difficulty.

Selena could not tell what it felt like. She just felt a twitching pain that made her face pale. 4

Cindy gave Selena enough time to settle down or torment her.

Seeing Selena's reaction, Cindy showed a confident smile.

Finally, Cindy spoke.

"This was recorded yesterday. Everyone present heard it. I wanted to post it online, but I thought about your feelings and didn't want to hurt innocent people. So, I came to you personally."

Selena's dark eyes finally moved slightly and turned to Cindy's face.

She remained silent and waited for Cindy to continue speaking.

Cindy smiled kindly.

"I know you're in love with him. Who wouldn't like him? I liked him back then because of his family background, and I admired his status. That's why I can't forget about him. Otherwise, I wouldn't have been so humble. You can also see that he's not a sympathetic person and that he could easily manipulate anyone. He doesn't deserve your affection." 1

"What are you trying to do?" 1

Selena lifted her chin slightly and regained her senses.

She did not believe that Cindy told her this out of kindness.

This was a truth that the world knew.

Cindy must have her own purpose.

Cindy's smile deepened when she heard this.

"You're a smart person. Your last marriage wasn't great, so you should understand that feelings are unnecessary, like icing on the cake. After all, men are unreliable. Someone like Eric will only give you ten percent of the affection you give him. He would only bow to his first wife. In fact, I don't think he likes Nicole that much. If he really liked her, then they wouldn't have had a failed marriage that ended in divorce. He's just unreconciled that someone who liked him so much suddenly doesn't like him anymore. It's like a chess piece in his hand ran into the opponent's camp and sided with the opponent. He didn't get Nicole back because he didn't dare to force Nicole due to her family background. That's why he never forgot her. Otherwise, we wouldn't have gotten a chance to be near Eric." 2

The first time Cindy said "we" made Selena suddenly realize something.

It was as if a bucket of cold water was poured over her head, completely waking her up.

What was the difference between Selena and Cindy?

Selena managed to climb into Eric's bed while Cindy did not.

Eric could only choose between them.

Selena suddenly remembered Eric's aggressive attitude toward her in her bedroom at the bar.

At that time, his condescending attitude and his confidence broke down her psychological defenses for a moment.

Selena felt intimidated by the pressure exerted by someone from the top of the pyramid.

Eric said something similar to Cindy, that Nicole could withstand all his pressure.

However, Selena could not.

Selena did not have Nicole's family background, so she could not fight against Eric.

If she did not take the initiative to agree, she would only be forced to agree.

Perhaps Selena was just deceiving herself that she had freedom.

Selena clenched her fists to calm herself down.

“So? It’s a well-known fact that Eric likes Nicole and I’m her stand-in. You told me this long ago. Why would you still need to call me over with such a big fanfare and announce this again?”

“You’re a lot stronger than I thought you would be, Ms. Nelson. I didn’t come here to say that you’re inferior to Nicole. There are barely a few people in this world who are as lucky as her. I just want to ask you to do me a favor.”

Selena paused, lowered her eyes, and drank the iced coffee.

She swallowed the bitter and cold coffee.

In an instant, the restlessness in her heart was suppressed.

“Help? You want me to help you deal with Eric?”

“Ms. Nelson, you’re really smart.”

Cindy glanced at her appreciatively.

Selena twitched the corner of her mouth.

She felt as if she had fallen into a glacier, and the cold wind was ripping into her body. At this moment, she had to sit there as if nothing had happened and listen to Cindy.

Cindy said softly, “Eric set a trap for my company, so he definitely left some evidence. I want to ask you to help me find the original contract for the project in the neighboring city. That’s all.”

Selena raised her eyes slightly and looked at her deeply.

“Stealing is illegal, Ms. Yeager. Why don’t you do it by yourself?”

Cindy smiled, took out a bank card from her bag, and handed it over.

“Now, the only person who can come and go freely by Eric’s side without him guarding against is you, Ms. Nelson. If you have the opportunity, please find it for me. There is half a million dollars in this card. Isn’t money better than men? If I can tide over the difficulties this time, I will never betray you. I will secretly set up a stock fund in Yeager Corporation for you, and no one will ever know about it. You’ll just get the dividends every year.”

Selena was taken aback. She did not expect Cindy to be so generous by offering her shares.

Indeed, it was very attractive.

Seeing that Selena was silent, Cindy was secretly relieved.

She felt that her plan succeeded.

Thus, she struck while the iron was hot and found Selena's weakness.

"Sooner or later, Eric will get tired of you. Then, he will just kick you aside. He won't marry you. He will never marry someone outside his social class unless it's true love. If he marries you, it means that he is declaring that he has forgotten about Nicole. How could he allow himself to forget his true love? He will only get married for a marriage alliance, where he would be forced to get married. Never mind losing a few years of youth in vain. If you get your feelings hurt, is it really worth it? Ms. Nelson, cooperate with me, and I can give you more than he can."

Cindy's words seemed to have opened a huge invisible net in front of Selena.

Cindy was waiting for Selena to step in. Then, Selena could no longer escape.

Selena's gaze became cold and distant.

Slowly, she showed a subtle smile.

Cindy's heart skipped a beat like it was being pinched.

Cindy thought about what she said wrong.

Selena said in a gentle voice, "Ms. Yeager, you will never get to use me. I never planned to have a future with Eric. Your appearance today quelled all the feelings I had for him just in time. Indeed, Eric and I don't love each other, and you're right. Money is more reliable than men. But if I stay with Eric, won't I get more money from him than I can from you? Yeager Corporation is at the end of its rope, so why are you still talking about shares? I'm afraid that the beautiful big picture you painted for me can't come true, right?"

The Divorced Billionaire Heiress chapter 2518-Cindy's face gradually became stiff.

"Selena!"

Selena smiled slowly. Her temples relaxed slightly.

“Do you dare to spread this recording? You’re not afraid of hurting me. You’re afraid of Eric and Nicole’s retaliation, right?”

Cindy’s expression suddenly changed.

She stared at Selena fiercely.

Selena was much smarter than she thought.

“What benefit can I get from helping you? Eric will kill me, and you’re not the kind of person who will repay one’s kindness. If that’s the case, I would’ve run into a dead end. Ms. Yeager, you’re right. I was married once, so I should be more sensible than others. A wise person doesn’t fall in love. Since I’m with Eric, what’s the point of catching feelings? It’s best to just think about money. I have his credit card now. It’ll be a waste if I don’t spend it.”

After Selena finished speaking, she let out a long sigh of relief and stood up.

She looked down at the pale Cindy and smiled.

“Ms. Yeager, let me teach you a way which may make him show mercy.”

Cindy raised her eyes, which were filled with tears.

However, she still did not want to admit defeat.

Selena said, “Surrender. Use your freedom in exchange for Yeager Corporation’s safety. I think he will be lenient. He’s not a bad person.” Cindy was shocked. “Why should I...”

Before she finished speaking, she suddenly thought of something and looked at Selena in disbelief.

“You... He...”

If Selena knew, Eric must have known it too.

It turned out that Eric already knew that Cindy was involved in that car accident.

Cindy suddenly felt chills running down her back.

Her body trembled involuntarily.

Selena walked out without saying a word.

She stood at the door. The sun shone warmly on her body and wrapped her in a gentle embrace.

However, Selena lost the good mood she was in when she first went inside. She felt like she had just escaped from the ice cellar. She was so cold that even the scorching sun could not melt her frozen body.

On the opposite side was Ferguson Corporation. The high-rise building shot into the sky.

At this moment, the concrete forest that enveloped her made her feel suffocatingly cold.

Selena wanted to turn around and leave. She wanted to go back to her bar and the room that truly belonged to her.

She had no right to ask Eric why he said that, let alone ask if he liked her a little bit.

She would have no dignity if she did.

Thus, Selena could not do it.

Selena took a deep breath. The heavy burden on her chest could kill her.

Without hesitation, she turned around, took a taxi, and left.

In her current state, she could not and did not want to drive.

Back at the bar, it was probably time for lunch, so Chaz was eating boxed lunches with the workers.

Everyone wore hard hats as they talked and laughed while eating.

Chaz was not as clean-cut as usual. He was sitting down on the steps with an old newspaper under him while he devoured his lunch.

He did not raise his head until Selena came to him.

He grinned excitedly.

“Oh my god! Mr. Ferguson is really willing to spend money on you. He bought you a six-figure dress just like that! Boss, don’t forget me when you’re rich!”

Selena could not help but chuckle.

“I should really give you a raise. You’re a manager, but you have to sit here and eat lunch. How pitiful.”

Chaz said excitedly, "Of course, you must give me a raise! I can't eat this lunch for nothing."

Selena sighed.

"I can't give you a raise... We have to tighten our belts and live with what we have. My wallet will be empty after the renovation is done."

"How come? Don't you have Mr. Ferguson? Did you quarrel with him?" 1

"No." Selena pursed her lips and had mixed feelings.

The loss and disappointment lingered in her heart and gradually festered into a kind of bitterness.

In the end, Selena had nothing but her bar.

Chaz wanted to ask her more questions, but the workers had already started construction.

Thus, he hurried over to take a look and looked back at Selena before he left.

"Wear a hard hat if you want to go in. Don't worry. I have remodeled your room perfectly!"

He winked and left her quite a surprise.

Selena laughed, sat in her original seat, looked at an unopened lunch box in the corner next to her, and took it over.

She got tired of eating too much good food. She should be eating ordinary things anyway.

Selena picked up the disposable fork and began to eat with gusto.

She did not care about her image at all.

Selena did not even care about whether the expensive dress she was wearing would get dirty.

What did it matter?

Eric had plenty of money.

The workers inside were stunned when they saw this scene at the door.

“What’s wrong with your boss? She didn’t eat?”

Chaz turned his head. His expression changed slightly, but he quickly came to his senses.

“Leave her alone. She’s weird at times.”

The workers laughed. They were used to Chaz complaining about his beautiful boss, but Chaz was also protective of her.

After a while, Chaz went out, sat beside her, and sighed.

“Did you guys really quarrel? Or did something happen? If you’re really unhappy around Eric, then come back. We don’t owe him anything, so you don’t have to suffer!”

Selena glanced at him sideways. Her heart was soft and fuzzy.

“Shouldn’t you ask me to endure it?”

“What for? It’s not that you’re desperate for a living. You’re my boss. The most important thing is that you’re happy.”

Chaz looked at her and smiled. “I just hope that you can walk out of your last marriage. Eric happens to be the most suitable person as your rebound. I didn’t say that you should compromise and sell your body to him.”

Selena lowered her head and finished the lunch box. She put the lunch box aside and sighed.

“It’s not really a compromise. I just feel that I need to be more sober.”

After she finished speaking, the phone rang. Seeing that it was Eric’s number, Selena picked it up in front of Chaz and said with a lazy voice, “What?”

Eric was silent for a few seconds and felt a little helpless.

“Can you be more civilized?”

“I didn’t say sh*t...”

Selena rolled her eyes and retorted without any scruples.

Eric chuckled lightly on the phone. He was very tolerant toward her. To others, it sounded like he was doting on her.

“I heard from the servant that you went out without eating. Do you want to come over? I’ll buy you lunch.”

Selena calmly refused.

“No need. I just finished eating.”

“Just finished eating? Who did you eat with?”

Selena looked at the people on the side. “More than a dozen handsome guys.”

Eric was silent for a few seconds. He immediately noticed a loophole in her words and laughed in a hoarse voice.

‘You went to the bar? There’s a reception tonight. Do you want to accompany me?’

This was the first time Eric invited her to his circle.

Selena held the phone and paused. Chaz, who was next to her, did not get to persuade her and was forced to hear their conversation instead. At this moment, Chaz did not want to listen anymore, so he left.

She smiled. “We’ll see if I have the time.”

The Divorced Billionaire Heiress chapter 2519-“Okay. I’ll send someone to pick you up later. Why didn’t you drive?”

“What?”

“The car you drove was parked in the office parking lot downstairs, so I thought you were nearby. What are you doing here? Why didn’t you drive to the bar?”

Eric seemed to be asking casually like he was looking for something to say.

Selena recalled what happened and became extremely quiet.

It took her more than ten seconds to answer slowly.

“Ah, I went to see someone. Then I forgot that I drove.”

Eric could not help but laugh. His voice was soft as he asked, “Who made you so distracted?”

“Cindy.”

There was a moment of silence on the phone.

Eric’s smile faded, and his voice sank.

“Why did you meet her? She didn’t hurt you, did she?”

“Of course not. She wanted me to be her spy and steal the original contract of the neighboring city project for her. She said she would give me shares in Yeager Corporation so that I can get dividends every year. Oh, she also gave me a $500,000 bank card.” 1

Selena said everything in one go. She did not need to keep Cindy’s secret.

Eric was silent for a full minute.

His breathing became a little rough as he said mockingly, “She’s really generous. She’s about to go bankrupt, but she still mentions shares?”

“Right? That’s why I refused without hesitation.”

“At least you’re not stupid.” Eric nodded with satisfaction. “It’s commendable.”

Selena twitched her lips. ‘Then how will you reward me?’

Eric said, ‘Tsk, are you asking me for a gift?’

“Yes. Why not?”

‘The reception tonight is an auction. If there’s something you like, I will buy it for you. How’s that?’

Eric’s voice was gentle and delighted.

Selena laughed loudly. “Eric, just wait for your bank to be emptied!”

With that said, she hung up the phone.

Eric was not the slightest bit angry when he looked at the blacked-out phone screen. Instead, he felt a sense of accomplishment.

He even had some anticipation for tonight’s event.

How could he not look forward to it?

Selena hung up the phone, stood up, and walked in.

“Chaz, I’m leaving. Keep up the good work!”

“Boss, you came here for a meal and left just like that?”

At this moment, Chaz did not think Selena suffered any grievances with Eric.

Eric’s voice and tone were completely dotting.

“If not? Should I help you guys with the construction?”

The renovation reached the final stage. It would be completed in a few days. It was still amazing to see the prototype, but Selena was not in the mood to appreciate it now.

However, she trusted Chaz.

Selena smiled, turned around, and left leisurely with some kind of determination.

She went back to the villa and changed into a more expensive dress. Then, she waited for Eric’s people to pick her up.

Selena did not expect that the person who came to pick her up was Mitchell.

Mitchell took the initiative to speak.

“Ms. Nelson, I took the initiative to pick you up. Mr. Ferguson was afraid that you would be nervous, so he told me to tell you not to be scared. If you see anything you like later, just bid for it. You don’t need to be afraid of saying the wrong thing at the reception either. Just be casual.”

Although no one dared to offend Eric’s female companion, Eric was still worried that Selena would be nervous when attending such an occasion for the first time.

Thus, he asked Mitchell to put aside the work at hand and take her there.

This showed that Eric cared more about Selena than Mitchell initially thought.

Selena sat in the passenger seat and smiled indifferently.

“Don’t worry. Although I don’t know how to make money, I definitely know how to spend it.”

Mitchell also smiled.

“Mr. Ferguson is just worrying blindly, but he means well. It’s rare that he’s so meticulous. Ms. Nelson, don’t be shy with him and take a good cut!”

The corners of Selena’s mouth curled up slightly.

“Of course! I won’t be shy.”

The two were chatting and laughing, and Mitchell said a lot of good things about Eric.

When they arrived at the entrance of the hotel, Eric was already waiting there.

The guests who arrived looked like they wanted to go over to say hello, but Eric’s eyes were just focused on the road from time to time, as if he was waiting for Selena’s car.

Mitchell stopped the car and saw the person at the door.

Mitchell smiled. “Mr. Ferguson is specially waiting for you, right?”

He still wanted to joke, but Selena suddenly turned to look at Mitchell and asked, “Did Cindy go to Ferguson Corporation yesterday?”

Mitchell was startled and nodded.

“Yeah, how do you know?”

Selena replied, “I heard it.”

After speaking, Selena pushed the door open and got out of the car without dragging her feet.

Mitchell’s heart shook slightly. He suddenly thought of something and opened his mouth, but he could not speak, i

That was because Selena was already walking toward Eric with a smile.

Eric stretched out his hand, and Selena took Eric’s arm. The two had a tacit understanding like they had been married for many years.

Eric even stretched out his hand to fix Selena’s hair which was blown by the wind.

Everything looked so natural and beautiful.

However, Mitchell felt apprehensive. He had a feeling that something was wrong.

He felt uneasy for Eric.

Mitchell took a deep breath and hurried into the venue.

The venue was magnificent. Many of society's dignitaries attended. Selena just had to keep smiling and accept compliments from others.

With Eric's status, he did not need to rush to greet others. He dealt with a few people, then looked sideways at the woman next to him. He stretched out his hand to squeeze her hand, then turned to her and whispered.

"Are you bored? Do you want to eat something? The auction will start in a while."

Selena let go of his arm and said, "Then I'll grab something to eat. Come find me when you're done here."

She was about to walk to the opposite dining area when Eric suddenly stretched out his hand to hold her arm. He was a little displeased with her attitude of leaving so quickly.

"Are you angry? It's not that I don't want to accompany you. Why don't I accompany you to eat?"

Eric thought that Selena was upset because he was greeting others and left Selena on the side.

He bowed his head to coax her.

Women liked to throw tantrums, which was quite cute.

That was how Eric felt.

Selena turned to glance at him. A smile immediately appeared on her face.

"I don't need you to accompany me. I don't want to be the focus of the room. That way, I can eat secretly without anyone noticing."

After that, she reached out to poke his chest flirtatiously.

"Don't follow me!"

Then, she went to the dining area with a graceful figure.

Eric's eyes were smiling as he watched her walk to the dining area to select her food. He smiled slightly and turned to talk to others.

When Mitchell came over, he wanted to find an opportunity to talk to Eric, but he was always surrounded by people. Thus, Mitchell had no chance to talk to Eric privately.

Finally, Mitchell found an opportunity to squeeze in and said, "Mr. Ferguson, Ms. Nelson knows that Ms. Yeager came to the office yesterday."

Eric nodded as if he did not care.

"Cindy probably mentioned it when they met at noon."

Mitchell opened his mouth in shock.

So, Eric knew?

How could Eric still be so calm?
