

Temptation 111

Chapter 111: Unleash to the Fullest

Although he had only been in the city for a few days, Su Fan's interactions with a series of women had given him a new understanding of the relationship between men and women.

Especially in the case of Luo Ya, he increasingly realized that women are an indescribable creature.

Nalan Xue was the mayor's wife, true, but she was, more importantly, a woman.

Interaction between men and women could indeed revert to the primal.

At this moment, he wasn't very afraid of Nalan Xue.

Because once all titles were stripped away, Su Fan believed that any woman, when faced with her "precious one," couldn't hold back.

"Nonsense."

Seeing that Su Fan still dared to argue with her made Nalan Xue even more interested in him.

After all, with the aura of being the mayor's wife, all men in front of her were extremely respectful and submissive; Su Fan was a rare exception.

"Even, even if you need to examine the illness, you, you don't need to stare at that place, do you?"

"Clearly behaving like a hooligan, yet not admitting it."

Nalan Xue complained, but her tone was not very angry, rather it seemed like flirtatious banter, casual talk.

Su Fan smiled.

"I was not behaving like a hooligan, if you don't believe me, I'll explain it to you!"

"Then explain it."

"If I'm not wrong, besides having a temper, you often suffer from insomnia, not sleeping more than five hours each day, and you frequently feel thirsty, drinking at least ten liters of water daily."

"How do you know?"

Nalan Xue's beautiful eyes suddenly widened, her gorgeous face showing deep shock.

Clearly, Su Fan was correct.

Su Fan continued speaking.

"Everyone thinks your fiery temper is due to your personality, but actually, it's because your body is unwell."

"In terms of Chinese medicine, your condition is called 'excess liver fire' and 'imbalance of yin and yang.'

"Your infertility is also related to this."

"Because the imbalance of yin and yang in your body, and excessive fire energy, has caused changes in your fallopian tubes, making it hard for you to conceive."

"You, you really have a way to treat it?"

Nalan Xue's emotions completely surged as she sat up excitedly and grasped Su Fan's hand.

Su Fan slightly lowered his head; from this angle, he could see the cleavage at Nalan Xue's chest—still quite impressive.

Su Fan reined in his thoughts and countered Nalan Xue.

"If I'm not mistaken, the intimate life between you and your husband is very sparse now, right?"

Nalan Xue blushed and embarrassedly lowered her head.

"You're right, he's busy with work, rarely comes home, and since I've been unable to conceive, he is even less willing to touch me. Actually, it's been over half a year since we've been intimate."

Su Fan inwardly clicked his tongue.

To think such a beautiful woman like Nalan Xue had been deprived of affection for half a year; it truly was a waste of natural beauty.

Such a pity.

"That's exactly it."

He explained to Nalan Xue.

"Because your husband is unwilling to be intimate, the fire inside you keeps building up with no outlet, thus leading to infertility."

"The simplest way to treat this is to have a good few times with a man, fully releasing the internal flames, and you will be healed."

"A man? Where do I find a man?"

Nalan Xue hesitated for a moment, then suddenly raised her head, her eyes misty as she looked at Su Fan.

"Doctor Su, you said you'd help treat me, so now, I'm giving you that opportunity."

Saying so, Nalan Xue then reached behind her back, intending to unfasten the bindings on her chest protector.
