Chapter 115: The Taste of Power

Fearless because of reliance?

People around exchanged glances, their eyes on Su Fan carrying a complexity to the extreme.

Because Su Fan had already slapped their faces more than once.

Yet Liu Feng, as if clutching at a life-saving straw, shouted loudly,

"Yes, yes, yes, let's check, let's do a check first. The previous two times it was his good luck, I don't believe that this kid can create miracles every single time."

"I guarantee that this time he's just bluffing and putting on a show."

Sun Zhigang chimed in as well.

"Yes, yes, yes, Director Nalan, you hold a prestigious status. Since you're here, you should go through a comprehensive check. Who knows if this kid has treated you with any side effects? It's better to be sure."

Nalan Xue glanced at Su Fan, who looked confident, and then nodded her head.

"Alright then."

Nalan Xue went to the examination room led by several female doctors.

Soon, the results came out.

"It's miraculous."

An elderly female doctor with reading glasses held the examination report, her face filled with shock as she spoke,

"The blocked fallopian tube has been cleared up by more than half, and some inflammation in the uterus has also dissipated considerably. Especially the uterine environment for pregnancy, it's now no less conducive than that of a twenty-something girl."

What?

Upon hearing this, everyone was startled.

Everyone here was an expert and of course knew what the senior doctor's words meant.

Su Fan didn't just help Nalan Xue cure her infertility, but he also made her uterus healthier and younger.

"How can this be? It's unbelievable."

"What kind of medical skill is this? I've never heard of infertility being cured with just acupuncture, this is too outrageous."

The eyes of the people were filled with shock.

A group of experts and professors stared at Su Fan as though he were a rare specimen.

Su Fan just smiled faintly.

"You know nothing about traditional Chinese medicine."

The faces of the crowd turned red, but they were unable to refute.

After the surprise, Nalan Xue quickly came to Su Fan's defense.

"You quacks made me take so much medicine to no avail, constantly slandering my good brother Su Fan. In reality, it's you who are inferior, not understanding his expertise."

"Now, immediately apologize to my brother."

Nalan Xue's expression was cold and haughty, bearing a bit of a queenly manner.

Such a woman beneath one would definitely be a sensation.

And these doctors were scared out of their wits.

After all, Nalan Xue's status was clear for all to see.

Just one phone call could ruin the career of everyone there.

"Divine Doctor Su, we are ashamed, we were blind to not recognize you."

"I am convinced, thoroughly convinced."

One by one, they all apologized to Su Fan, their faces flushed.

Su Fan chuckled.

Of course, he knew these people weren't sincerely apologizing or genuinely admiring his medical skills; everything stemmed from their fear of Nalan Xue. Such is the power of authority.

Although he hadn't been in the city long, Su Fan had already encountered the significance of power numerous times.

His uncle simply pulled some strings and got him a flawless degree from a prestigious medical university.

For a mere junior title, Liu Feng was enslaved by Bai Man like a dog.

Zhang Haitao casually helped him obtain the intermediate title that many doctors dream of.

Power drives people mad.

Su Fan felt even more that he must cling tight to Nalan Xue's influence.

He didn't bother to hold a grudge against these people.

Instead, his gaze fell on Liu Feng.

"Liu Feng, you can take off your clothes and leave now. If you resign yourself, you can keep some dignity," Su Fan said coldly.

"It's over, completely over,"

Liu Feng collapsed to the ground, his face ashen and his heart filled with despair.
