

Temptation 119

Chapter 119: Stay Inside

Finally, after twenty minutes had passed.

Su Fan was about to climax.

He hastily tried to withdraw.

"Don't."

Wang Fei sensed Su Fan's intention and reached out a hand, circling around to hold onto Su Fan.

At the same time, she turned her head, gazing at Su Fan with a hazy look in her eyes.

"Stay inside," she said.

"I'm on the pill."

Su Fan's eyes reddened.

It was an internal release.

And it was his first time.

He was ecstatic.

He thrust his hips and then collapsed onto Wang Fei's back.

He gave everything to Wang Fei.

"Ah."

Wang Fei, too, lacked the strength, and they both fell together.

"Fei, you're so good to me," Su Fan said as he looked at Wang Fei, growing fonder of her by the second.

This woman was truly captivating.

"Hehe, you're my dear brother, of course I would be good to you," she said.

"However, there's a little favor I need from you."

"What can I help you with, treating an illness?" he asked.

"I'm good at that."

Su Fan got excited.

Feeling indebted to Wang Fei for the phone, the money, and her favors, he had been looking for an opportunity to repay her.

"I'm not sick, unless you count longing for you as an illness. Just see me more often and satisfy me a few more times, and my illness will naturally cure itself," she said with increasing boldness in her words.

"I will definitely satisfy you, but I want to help you in other ways too. Apart from treating illnesses, I don't think I have any other skills, do I?"

"No."

Wang Fei's eyes sparkled as she spoke.

"You have a good body."

"I want you to help me take down another woman."

"Ah, are you running a brothel or something?" Su Fan exclaimed, shocked.

"Giggle, what's the matter, are you scared? With your stamina, you could service over ten clients a day, giggle..."

Wang Fei smirked mischievously.

Su Fan was speechless.

"But I can't just do it with anyone. Sis, I'm not that kind of person... My heart is only for you, and I won't mess around with other women..."

Men know women love sweet nothings, and Su Fan was no fool.

No matter how good Wang Fei was to him, he wouldn't tell her about his affairs with other women.

After all, a woman's heart is unfathomable, and you never know when she might turn her face against you.

"Giggle, what a sweet talker you are. Although I'm not sure if you mean it, it sure makes me happy," she said.

"But I wouldn't go so far as to hand you over to another woman."

"Let's get dressed first. It wouldn't be good if someone saw us. Once we're dressed, I'll explain in detail."

Five minutes later, the two, now dressed, sat in the front seats of the car.

"What do you think of this woman?" Wang Fei asked as she handed her phone to Su Fan.

Su Fan took a glance

The screen displayed a photo of a woman.

The woman in the photo was very beautiful.

She appeared to be in her late twenties, young and attractive, wearing yoga attire, doing a high-leg lift, exercising. Her figure was exquisite, with a slender frame I'd estimate around five foot seven, legs perfectly shaped, and a distinct, icy allure, like a princess.

Wang Fei scrolled through a few more pictures.

It was the same woman, from different angles, wearing various outfits.

There was even one of her driving a Ferrari.

"Is she some rich family's daughter?" Su Fan asked curiously.

After all, the woman was too beautiful, and naturally, Su Fan was interested.

"What, are you interested?" Wang Fei teased as she looked at Su Fan.

Su Fan denied it flatly.

"How could I be? My heart belongs to you, Fei. Besides, she's not as beautiful as you; having you is more than enough for me."

"Hmph, a man's mouth is a lying ghost," Wang Fei snorted dismissively.

"Don't think I'm a little girl who can be swayed by a few sweet words. I know my own charm, and while it's not bad, I fall short compared to her, especially since she's young and comes from a good family. How could I compete with her?"

"But I won't get mad if you're interested. After all, I was planning to introduce her to you."

"It'd be best if you could sleep with her."

"What, is she your friend or something?" Su Fan asked incredulously.

"No, we are enemies!" Wang Fei said through gritted teeth.
