

Temptation 124

Chapter 124 - 124 Assistance

The man in the white mask was clearly also a master, as he lifted his saber to guard his chest.

"Bang."

In the next instant, Su Fan's fist smashed onto the blade of the saber.

The saber, over an inch thick and made of stainless steel, broke into two pieces in an instant, and Su Fan's fist heavily hit the masked man's chest.

"Ah."

A scream echoed as blood spurted from the man's mouth. He flew back several meters, crashing into the bushes.

"Brother Ma."

One of his companions quickly followed to check on him.

It wasn't that Su Fan had always been dodging; it was because, although his eyes were special and his physical fitness was strong, he didn't know any martial arts moves. He could only dodge and look for opportunities, applying raw force in a decisive blow to ensure victory.

The man in the white mask was probably hanging onto his life by a thread if he wasn't dead.

"Kid, you, I'll kill you."

The remaining companion raised his handgun to shoot Su Fan.

Su Fan's eyes moved faster than the man could raise his gun.

The barrel had only been lifted halfway, and the finger had not yet managed to pull the trigger.

Su Fan flicked his wrist.

"Whoosh."

A silver needle flew out.

Fine as a strand of cow hair.

But, under the odd energy flow within Su Fan, it was like the sharpest dart.

"Ah."

The silver needle harshly pierced the man's wrist, penetrating it completely. The handgun dropped to the ground in an instant, and at the same time, half of the man's body went numb.

"Ah, my hand, my hand."

The thug screamed.

Su Fan spoke in a cold voice.

"I've pierced your central nervous system. You'd better not move too violently or you will become completely paralyzed and die."

"What?"

The man immediately trembled with fear.

"Big brother, have mercy, I, I'm just a lackey, please spare me."

"Disappear from my sight."

Su Fan walked up to the man and retrieved the silver needle.

"Brother Ma is crippled, his ribs are all broken, this kid is ruthless, we're no match for him, let's get out of here."

The companion who had gone to check on the man in the white mask in the bushes shouted in panic.

The man in front of Su Fan immediately ran off without looking back.

He was truly scared.

"Phew."

Seeing the three men leave, Su Fan let out a long sigh of relief.

It was unexpected that he had become so capable, but he had no idea what the strange energy inside him was.

"You, are you really just a doctor?"

While Su Fan was lost in thought, the woman lying on the ground spoke up.

Her tone was filled with suspicion and disbelief.

Clearly, Su Fan's performance had been no simple feat.

Su Fan turned back to look at the woman.

"Of course."

But the woman's gaze became even more wary.

Her grip on the dagger tightened even more.

"A doctor has skills like yours? Besides, you tore open my clothes as soon as you arrived, how can I believe you?"

Su Fan was speechless.

"I did that to check your wounds, not to take advantage. But if you insist on thinking that way, there's nothing I can do about it."

"Besides, if I were a bad guy, would I have saved you?"

The woman was left speechless.

"Forget it, I can't be bothered to argue with you, I should call the police first."

Su Fan took out his phone to report to the police.

The woman became anxious.

"Don't, don't call the police, I can handle this myself."

Su Fan hesitated for a moment, then put his phone back in his pocket.

Matters of the jianghu should be settled by the jianghu, just like in the movies.

"Although I've stopped the bleeding, the bullet is still in your bone, shall I take you to the hospital?"

"No need, if I go to the hospital with a gunshot, the hospital would definitely call the police. My people should find me soon, I have a private doctor who will take care of me."

"What's your name?"

The woman asked Su Fan.

Su Fan remained silent, not responding.

Revealing his name to a woman of the jianghu could bring fortune or disaster, it was hard to say.

"What, worried I'll kill you to silence you?"

The woman looked at Su Fan with a detached smile, then spoke with a hint of arrogance.

"You underestimate me, Lin Qianjiao. I am not the kind of person who repays kindness with malice; I want to repay you."

Su Fan waved his hand dismissively.

"Forget it, like I said, I'm a doctor, saving people is what I should do, let's leave repayment out of this."

As they were speaking, bright car lights appeared in the distance. Several cars headed towards their location, crushing over the greenery with brute force.

Clearly, the people arriving were in a hurry.

On the hoods of all the vehicles were various floral patterns.

"My people have arrived, we are completely safe now."

The woman, seeing the approaching cars, took a deep breath in relief.
