

Temptation 130

Chapter 130: Blood Wolf Gang's Zhao Wei

The old man hurriedly supported the old lady.

"My dear, are you alright?" he asked.

"I, I'll manage," the old lady said with a pained expression.

Being quite advanced in age, the fall had been hard on her.

The old man immediately became upset.

"How can you hit someone like that?"

"Exactly, we've been queuing for so long, what are you doing?"

The queue of people also began to show their dissatisfaction.

The bald leader stripped off his short-sleeve shirt, revealing a fierce Blood Wolf tattoo.

"Are they from the Blood Wolf Gang?"

Suddenly, everyone turned pale with fear, no one daring to speak any longer.

"Hmph, a bunch of poor wretches also dare to provoke our Brother Wei, are you tired of living?" a lackey said with a cold laugh.

"So, you're Zhao Wei from the Blood Wolf Gang?"

Liu Ye looked at the bald man and frowned.

"Hehehe, does this beautiful lady also know of my fame? Heh heh, it seems that I'm still doing quite well," Zhao Wei said.

Looking at Liu Ye's beautiful face, he was drooling with desire.

At that moment, Su Fan spoke up coldly.

"I don't care who you are, you shouldn't be disturbing the peace and hitting people at will."

"Oh boy, you've got quite the temper. Do you want me to teach you how to behave?" Zhao Wei said as he started flexing his wrists.

"Sure, if you really have the ability to teach me, then I ought to thank you," Su Fan said, eyes full of chill as he stared at Zhao Wei.

Liu Ye whispered to Su Fan.

"Don't be impulsive. The Blood Wolf Gang is the largest gang in the southern district of Yang City, notoriously infamous. This Zhao Wei is the third boss of the Blood Wolf Gang. It's problematic to provoke them, let it be."

Su Fan furrowed his brow.

Looking at the faces of the surrounding civilians, Su Fan could guess that the Blood Wolf Gang's influence in the area was not small.

Liu Ye spoke to Zhao Wei again, neither servile nor overbearing.

"Sir, we are hospital staff here for a free clinic, so please leave."

Zhao Wei chuckled.

"Yeah, you're offering free medical consulting, and I'm here to see a doctor—nothing wrong with that," he said, sitting in the chair.

Liu Ye and Su Fan exchanged a glance.

They didn't move.

Zhao Wei snorted with a cold laugh.

"What's up, the sign over there says free consultations for everyone regardless of age or gender. Is it all a lie?"

"Or is it that you simply don't take me seriously?"

"Since that's the case, then I'm not going anywhere."

Saying that, Zhao Wei crossed his legs, looking completely at ease.

Su Fan was annoyed.

What the hell, this punk is so audacious?

"Alright, let me give you a good treatment," Su Fan said, about to take action.

To give this jerk a lesson.

But Zhao Wei had already pulled his hand back.

"Who wants your treatment? I want this beautiful director to personally check on me," he demanded.

"You..." Su Fan wanted to give Zhao Wei an electric punch

"Su Fan, don't..."

Liu Ye, fearing the situation would escalate, quickly grabbed Su Fan's sleeve.

Then she walked up to Zhao Wei herself.

Suppressing her dislike for Zhao Wei, she inquired.

"Sir, could you tell me what's troubling you?"

Zhao Wei immediately said with a playfully sly grin,

"Recently, I've been unable to sleep, night after night, and there's a terrible tightness in my chest. I heard this is called lovesickness—big director, can you cure me?"

As he spoke, he grabbed Liu Ye's arm and pulled her towards him.

"Ah, let go of me..."

Startled by Zhao Wei's sudden rude behavior, Liu Ye turned pale with shock.